Verf. 6. be shall] the Greeke translateth, they shall 6 slay; it is meat of the Priests and Levities which were to assist the Priests in offering all burnt sacrifices, 1 Chron. 23. 31. as before they helped to kill, verse 5. and as appeareth, by 2 Chronic. 29. 34. where the Priests were too few, and not able to slay all the burnt-offerings; therefore their brethren the Levites helped them. The Priest also had the skinn of the burnt-offring which he offered, Leviticus 7. 8. They slayed not untill the blood was sprinkled: saith Maimony, treat. of offering the sacrifices, ch. 5. sect. 18. This slaying signified also the afflictions of Christ and his people, Mic. 3. 3. Matth. 27. 28. and the opening and making bare of the mystery of Christ by the Gospel, Galat. 3. 1. the pieces thereof] the naturall pieces, or members (as the Greeke translateth it,) as head, brest, legges, &c. it might not bee a confused or disordered mangling. The manner of it, Maimony sheweth particularly, in his said treat. of offering sacrifices, chap. 6. where he mentioneth the cutting off of the head first, then of the legges or thighes, of the fore feet, and of the hinder feet, of the brest, of the sides, of the necke; of the Cane (or chanell bone) of the shoulder, of the Chine (or backe bone,) and of the Rump. The Liver was left hanging on the right side; the heart and the lunges, on the channell bone; the milt, on the left side; and the kidneyes on the rump. And to this question, why the greater members were not cut into small pieces? he answereth, because it is written, he shall cut it into the pieces thereof, and not, shall cut it into pieces. The Chaldee also here translateth, bee shall divide it by the members thereof. From this custome of dividing the sacrifices, it seemeth the Greeke interpreters thus translated and expounded the words of God to Kain; If thou offer aright, and dividest not aright, hast thou not sinned? Genesis 4. 7. It figured the worke of the Ministry in the Church, rightly dividing the word of truth, 2 Tim. 2. 15. and so preaching the Gospell, that before mens eyes Iesus Christ may be evidently set forth, and as it were crucified among them, Galat. 3. 1. Etsay 66. 21. It also signified the effect of Gods word in us, piercing even to the dividing-asunder of the soule and spirit, of the joynts and marrow, and a discorner of the thoughts and intents of the heart. Heb. 4. 12.

Verf. 7. put fire] Hebrew, give fire. This may be understood of making and ordering the fire, which was continually nourished upon the Altar, Levit. 6. 12, 13. and which at first came downe from heaven, Levit. 9. 24. But the Hebrew Doctors, from these words say, although that fire came downe from heaven, it is here commanded to bring common fire. Maimony, treat. of the Daily oblations, Chap. 2. Sect. 1. It figured the continuall ministrations of the Spirit, by Christ and his ministers preaching of the Gospell, Matth. 3. 11. Gal. 3. 5. Ier. 23. 29. and especially the preaching of the Crosse, and afflictions of Christ and his people, Gal.

Gal. 6. 12. 14. 1 Pet. 4. 12. 13. 14. lay the wood] of this ordering, see the notes on Levit. 6. 12. Moreover, the wood (as also the salt) for all sacrifices, was to be the Congregations publike: and no particular person, might bring salt or wood for his oblation, from his owne house: saith Maimony, in treat. of things forbidden to come on the Altar, chap. 5. sect. 13. Hereupon publike order was taken in Nehem. 10. 34. and 13. 31. for the Wood-offring, (or Korban) to have it brought into the house of God, at times appointed. The Hebrew Doctors say, that in the moneth Ab (the fift moneth, which we call Iuly) they hewed wood for the Korban (or offering) Isakob ben Afer, in Oraeb chajim.

8 Vers. 8. the pieces] When they had cut in pieces, the Burnt-offring, they brought all the pieces to the foot-stall (of the Altar) and salted them there, (as is commanded, Levit. 2. 13. Ezek. 43. 24.) Afterwards, they laid all the pieces on the top of the Altar. Then taking away the sinew that shanke, (whereof see Gen. 32. 32.) on the top of the Altar, they threw it upon the ashes which were in the midst of the Altar. Then sprinkled (or strowed) they all the pieces upon the fire, as it is written (in Deut. 12. 17.) OF THE FLESH, AND OF THE BLOOD: even as the blood was sprinkled, so all the flesh was sprinkled. And after they were sprinkled, they laid them in order againe upon the fire, as it is written, (Levit. 1. 12.) And the Priest shall lay them in order. Maimony, treat. of offering the Sacrifices, ch. 6. sect. 4. This dividing and laying by pieces on the Altar, was observed in all Burnt-offrings; see Exod. 29. 17, 18. 1 King. 18. 23. 33. Levit. 8. 20, 21. and 9. 13. the fat] The Hebrew Peder, is used onely here, and in ver. 12. and in Levit. 8. 20. and is thought to be the fat-cause, or midriffe, that parteth the intrailles. The Greeke and Chaldee both translate it, fat.

9 Vers. 9. in water] not in wine, nor in any mixture, or other liquor. And the inward they washed not lesse then three times: saith Maimony, in treat. of offering the sacrif. chap. 6. sect. 6. The washing of the inward, and of the legs (or the feet, as the Greeke translateth) signified our purification by the spirit of Christ, sprinkled in our hearts from an evil conscience, and washed in our bodies with pure water, Ezek. 36. 25. Heb. 10. 22. He that is washed, needeth not, save to wash his feet, John 13. 10. the Priest] Michael, (that is, Christ, Revel. 12. 7.) he is the great Priest that is on high; and he offereth the soules of the just, like the daily offrings made by fire: saith R. Menachem on Levit. 6. shall burne] to weet, as perfume, as the word implyeth. It burned upon the Altar, all night, untill the morning, Levit. 6. 9. Howbeit, they offered no offrings, but by day; as it is written, (Levit. 7. 38.) In the day that he commanded the fames of Israel to offer, &c. in the day, and not in the night. Therefore they slay no sacrifice, but by day, nor sprinkle any blood, but in the day of the killing: but the sacrifices whose blood is sprinkled by day, they burne their fat, &c. all the night; and so the members of the Burnt-offring, they burne them in the night, &c. Maimony, treat. of offering the sacrif. chap. 4. sect. 1, 2. This burning of sacrifices, signified the consecrating of Christ through afflictions and sufferings; and the like fiery trials which his people must undergoe: Hebrews 2. 10. and 13. 11, 12. 1 Pet. 4. 1. 12. Zachar. 13. 9. For every one shall be salted with fire; and every sacrifice shall be salted with salt, Mark. 9. 49. It figured also the worke of Gods spirit, Matth. 3. 11. it is] or it shall be: these words, it is, are added also in the Greeke version, and rightly from the 13. and 17. verses following. of rest] that is, of sweet savour, as the Greeke translateth. The Chaldee expoundeth it, which shall be received with favourable acceptation before the Lord. See the notes on Genesis 8. 21. It figured the sweet savour of Christs sacrifice, (and of ours in him) unto God, Ephesians 5. 2. Romans 12. 1. 1 Pet. 2. 5. For as a sweet smell refresheth and quieteth the senses, so Christs oblation appeaseth Gods spirit. Therefore the Priest also prayed for the offering, (figuring Christs mediation) and so by prayer and oblation pacified Gods wrath, as appeareth by Job 42. 8. where God said, Go to my servant Job, and offer up for your selves a Burnt-offring, and my servant Job shall pray for you, for I will accept his face: lest I deale with you after your folly. So Darius ordained that bealts should be given the Jewes, for the Burnt-offrings of the God of heaven, that they might offer Sacrifices of rest, unto the God of heaven, and pray for the life of the King, and of his sonnes, Ezra 6. 9, 10.

Vers. 10. sheepe] or, yong-rammes; which the Greeke here translateth, lambes. They were of the first yeere, Exod. 29. 38. For the Hebrew Chefeb, (called also Chebes, Levit. 4. 32. whereupon the Dutch Schaep, and English Sheepe, by transplacing the letters, is derived;) wherefoever these are spoken of in the Law, are sheepe of the first yeere. And wherefoever Ajil or Elin (Rammes) are mentioned: they are males of the second yeere: saith Maimony, treat. of offering the Sacrifices, ch. 1. f. 14. These also figured Christ the Lambe of God, Esa. 53. 7. John 1. 29. or of the goats] the law expreseth severall kinds by themselves: hereupon the Hebrewes gather, it may not be a beast of divers kinds, part like a sheepe, and part like a goat: nor borne of such mixture, no nor like another kind, as if a sheepe bring forth her yong like a goat, or a goat like a sheepe, it is not lawfull to bring such a beast upon the Altar: Maimony, in Issurei Mizbeach, chap. 3. sect. 4, 5. &c.

Vers. 11. the side] or, the thigh of the Altar; and so upon the ground, as the Altar standeth: whereupon the Hebrew canons say, That if a Beast be hanged up, and killed in the ayre of the Court, it is polluted. Maimony, treat. of buythings polluted, chap. 1. sect. 16. In killing the daily Burnt-offrings of the Church (mentioned in Numbers 28. 3.) they bound the Lambe, and laid his head to the South, his face to the West; the slayer stood on the East side, with his face to the West. The morning sacrifice bee killed by the North-west borne of the Altar; the evening sacrifice, by the North-east borne. Thalmud Bab. in Tamidin, chapter 4. Northward] on the North side of the Altar; which is also to be understood of the yong.

young Bull forementioned, and of other the most holy sacrifices, as of the Sin-offring, Lev. 6. 25. and the Trespasse-offring, Leviticus 7. 1, 2. Of all sacrifices, they receive the blood in a vessel of ministration, by the hand of a Priest: but the place of killing them, and the place of receiving the blood, is not alike in them all. For the holy of holies, they kill not them, nor receive their blood, but on the Northside of the Altar: but the light holy things, them they kill, and receive their blood, in any place of the Courtyard: saith Maimony, treat. of offring the sacrific. ch. 5. sect. 1, 2. The most holy things that are killed on the Southside, or whose blood is received on the South side, are polluted; Maimony, treat. of holy things polluted, chap. 1. sect. 7. The Hebrew Doctors gather a myserie here; that as it is said in Jer. 1. 14. Out of the North, an evil should breake forth, &c. therefore to restraîne the evils, or judgments of God, the Burnt-offrings and Sinne-offrings were slain on the Northside of the Altar. R. Menachem: and Baal Hatturim, on Levit. 1.

12 Ver. 12. the Priest shall lay] Chazkuni observeth, that of the bullock, which was a great beast, it was said, in ver. 8. they (the Priests) shall lay: but of the sheepe, which was a small beast, it is written, he (the Priests) shall lay.

13 Ver. 13. offer all] or, bring neere all, and burne it: see ver. 9. The wooll that was on the sheepes head, and the haire on the goats beard, and the bones and the sinewes, and the humes and the hooves: whiles they cleaved to the members, they burned all: saith Maimony treat. of offring the sacrific. chap. 6. sect. 2. It signified all Christ, and whatsoever he hath suffered and done, to be ours by faith, Gal. 1. 20. and that we also give our selves wholly unto God by him, 1 Thessalonians, 5. 23.

14 Ver. 14. Turtle doves] of the Hebrew Tor, the Latine Turtur, & English Turtle are derived: and the voice of this fowle, agreeth with the name. Here is no difference put of male or female, of perfect or blemished: howbeit, the Hebrew Doctors gather by proportion from the former lawes, that although lesser blemishes disable not doves from sacrifices, yet the greater doe, as if they want an eye, or a foot, &c. it is not lawfull to bring them upon the Altar. Also they say, Young Turtles are unlawfull, and old Doves are unlawfull. Young Pigeons are allowable, so long as if one plucke the wing, the place whereon he plucketh, fill up with blood. And Turtles are allowable, after that they were golden coloured, [as Psa. 68. 14.] Mai. tom. 3. in Issuri Mizbeach, ch. 3. f. 1, 2. young pigeons] Hebr. sones of the dove. The holy Ghost in Greeke translateth these sones, young ones, Luke 2. 24. from Levit. 12. The Turtle doves were to be old, not young: the Pigeons, young, not old: saith also R. Sol. Iarchi, on Levit. 1. These were sacrifices for the poorer sort, that were not able to bring a Lambe, Lev. 5. 7. and 12. 8. Therefore the daily Burnt-offring of the Church of Israel, was two Lamber, Num. 28. 3. and by the Hebrew canons, The Congregation never offered fowle, Maimony, treat. of offring sacrific. ch. 1. sect. 4. The Dove is a creature sociable, innocent, chaste, mournfull, quiet, fearfull, given to meditation: and unto such, Gods people are often likened; see Song 2. 14. and 4. 1. Mat. 10. 16. Esa. 38. 14. and 59. 11. and 60. 8. Ezekiel 7. 18. Hosea 11. 11. Psal. 74. 19.

Ver. 15. bring-it-neere] or, offer it at the Altar. cut-with-his-naile] The Hebrew Malak, is found onely here, and in Leviticus 5. 8. which the Greeke interpreteth Apokniso, to cut with the naile of ones finger. By this meanes the blood came out, but the head was not thereby parted from the body, Leviticus 5. 8. The manner (as the Hebrew Doctors have recorded) was thus: The Priest went up on the footstall (of the Altar) and turned in compasse, and came to the South-east borne, and there he tooke the head from the necke, and divided them asunder: [and herein the Burnt-offring differed from the Sinne-offring, which might not be divided, Leviticus 5. 8.] and if he divided it not, it was unlawfull. Then turning he cut the blood of the head, and the blood of the body, upon the side of the Altar, &c. and he tooke the head, and returning to that place of the Altar where he cut it with his naile, he rubbed it with salt, and sprinkled it upon the fire-offrings. And he came to the body, and plucked away with his hand, the crop and skine that was upon it, with the meat, and the entrails that came out therewith, and threw them into the place of the ashes. And he cleave it with the wings thereof with his hand, without a knife, and divided it not asunder: then he rubbed it with salt, and sprinkled it upon the fire-offrings. He that cut the necke with a knife, or (did cut it) on the sides, it was not Melichah [the cutting with the naile here commanded;] but as if it had beene strangled, or had bled at the nose: [which was an unlawfull way of killing.] Maimony, treat. of Offring sacrific. chap. 6. sect. 20, 21, 22, 23.

Ver. 16. feathers of the same] or, filth of the same: to weet, of the crop, for thereunto (by the gender) it hath reference: and is therefore by Onkelos the Chaldee paraphrast translated, the meat of the same, which was in the crop; and the Chaldee called Imathans, expoundeth it, the dung (or, filth) thereof: but the Greeke translateth it, feathers, as elsewhere the Hebrew word signifieth. Eastward] that was neere the doore, and furthest from the Sanctuarie, ready to be carried out, Lev. 6. 10, 11. to teach that all uncleanness was to be removed out of Gods sight: for holinesse becometh his house; Psalm. 93. 5. And so it figured the holinesse that was in Christ our sacrifice, who without all sinne or uncleanness, offered himselfe unto God for us; by which also hee cleansed and purified his people, and their service of God, Heb. 9. 14.

Ver. 17. with the wings] that is, having them on. And the not dividing it asunder, might foreshadow the manner of Christs death, of whom a bone was not broken: John 19. 33, 36. And how wee should give up our selves wholly unto God by him, 1 Thes. 5. 23. So in Levit. 5. 8. of rest] Greeke, of sweet-smell: see ver. 9. God comforteth the poore, by promising the like acceptance of, and delight in his small sacrifice; as in the Bulls, Rammes, Goats, of the richer sort: For if there there be first a willing minde, it is accepted according to that a man hath, and not according to that he hath not, 2 Cor. 8. 12. These Burnt-offrings pleased God, and were a sweet savour unto him, not in themselves, but in Christ, in whose faith the godly offered them, till the time of reformation. As for the outward sacrifices, God testifieth, I desired mercie, and not sacrifice: and the knowledge of God, more then Burnt-offrings, Hos. 6. 6. and David saying that the Lord delighted not in sacrifice, nor would accept of a Burnt-offring, addeth, The sacrifices of God, are a broken spirit, &c. Psal. 51. 18, 19. And the wisest of the Scribes of old, could say, that to love (God) with all the heart, and with all the understanding, and with all the soule, and with all the strength; and to love his neighbour as himselfe: is more then all Burnt-offrings and Sacrifices. Mark. 12. 33.

CHAP. II.

1, The meat-offring of flowre, with oile and incense. 4, The Meat-offring baked in the oven; Cakes, or Wafers. 5, The Meat-offring baked on a plate, 7, or in a frying-pan: 11. all without Leaven. 12. 14. The Meat-offring of the first fruits in the eare. 13, The salt of the offrings.

- 1 AND a soule, when it will offer an oblation of Meat-offring, unto Jehovah; his oblation shall be, of fine-flowre: and he shall powre oile upon it, and put frankincense upon it. And he shall bring it, unto the sonnes of Aaron, the Priests: and hee shall take thereout his handfull, of the flowre thereof, and of the oile thereof; with all the frankincense thereof: and the Priest shall burne the memoriall thereof, on the Altar; a Fire-offring, of a savour of rest, unto Jehovah. And the remnant of the Meat-offring, shall be Aarons, and his sonnes: it is Holy of holies, of Jehovahs Fire-offrings.
- 4 And when thou shalt offer an oblation of a Meat-offring, baked in the oven: it shall be of fine flowre, unleavened cakes mingled with oile; or unleavened cakes anointed with oile.
- 5 And if thy oblation, be a Meat-offring on a pan: it shall be of fine-flowre, mingled with oile, unleavened Thou shalt part it in pieces, and powre oile thereon: it is a Meat-offring.
- 7 And if thy oblation, be a Meat-offring of the frying-pan: it shall bee made of fine-flowre, with oile. And thou shalt bring the Meat-offring, which shall be made of these things, unto Jehovah: and he shall offer it unto the Priest, and hee shall bring it unto the Altar. And the Priest shall take-up from the Meat-offring, a memoriall thereof, and shall burne it upon the Altar: a Fyre-offring, of a savour of rest, unto Jehovah. And the remnant of the Meat-offring, shall be Aarons and his sonnes: it is Holy of holies, of Jehovahs Fyre-offrings. No Meat-offring, which ye shall offer unto Jehovah, shall be made with leaven: for ye shall not burne any old-leaven, nor any honey, in a Fyre-offring unto Jehovah. In the oblation of the first-fruits, ye shall offer them unto Jehovah: but they shall not ascend on the Altar, for a savour of rest. And every oblation of thy Meat-offring, thou shalt salt with salt: and thou shalt not let cease, the salt of the covenant of thy God, from on thy meat-offring: with every oblation of thine, thou shalt offer salt.

And if thou shalt offer, a Meat-offring of first fruits, to Jehovah: thou shalt offer for the Meat-offring of thy first fruits, greene-eares of corne parched in the fire, ground-corne ~~of~~ of the full-eare. And thou shalt put oile upon it, and lay frankincense upon it: it is a Meat-offring. And the Priest shall burne the memoriall of it, of the ground-corne thereof, and of the oile thereof, with all the frankincense thereof: a Fyre-offring unto Jehovah.

Annotations.

A Soule] that is, a person; or man, as the Chaldee translates it. Therefore in the next words he saith, his oblation, and he shall poure: as shewing a man to be meant. See the notes on Gen. 12. 5. and 14. 21. when it] or, if he will offer, to wit, voluntarily. A particular person might bring a voluntary meat-offring, though he were the anointed Priest: but the Congregation brought no voluntary Meat-offring; saith Chuzkuni, on this place. an oblation of Meat-offring:] Hebr. korban Minchah; that is, the offering (or gift,) called Minchah: which was of things without life, as flowre, cakes, wafers, &c. Minchah was generally any solenne gift or Present, unto God or man, 1 Sam. 10. 27. in speciall a present or sacrifice unto God, Gen. 4. 3, 4. more specially, an offering of the fruits of the earth, of us now called a Meat-offring: we might call it a Wheat-offring, for it was for the most part, of the flowre of wheat: Ezek. 45. 13, 15. 1 Chr. 21. 23. Exo. 29. 2. The Greeke sometime keepeth the Hebrew name Manaa, Ezek. 46. 5, 7, 11. &c. in this place and often elsewhere, Thusia, a sacrifice; and in Psa. 40. 7. prophora, an offering: and this the Apostle followeth, Hebr. 10. 5, 8, 10. and the former Thusia, is approved in Mark. 9. 49. from Levit. 2. 13. and in Act. 7. 42. from Amos 5. 25. Of these, some were Meat-offrings of the Congregation, some of particular persons.

persons. The congregations offerings were three; the waved sheaf, (Levit. 23. 10, 11.) the two wave-loaves, (Levit. 23. 17.) and the Shew-bread made every weeke, (Levit. 24. 5.) This (Shew-bread) came not on the Altar, but was all eaten by the Priests. The particular persons Meat-offerings were nine: and all of them came to the Altar; 1. The poore mans Meat-offering for sinne, (Levit. 5. 11.) 2. The Jealousie-offering, (Num. 5. 15.)
3. The Meat-offering of Initiation, which every Priest offred when he first entred into his service, (Leviticus 8.
26, 28.) 4. The Meat-offering which the high Priest offred every day, (Levit. 6. 20.) 5. The Meat-offering of fine-floure; 6. The Meat-offering baked on a plate;
7. in a frying-pan; 8. in an oven; 9. or wafers; (all mentioned in Levit. 2.) and all these five kindes came for vowes, or for voluntary-offerings; Maimony, treat. of Offring the Sacrifices, chap. 12. sect. 1, 3, 4.
The Minchah or Meat-offring was primarily a figure of Christ his oblation, who gave himselfe for us, an Oblation and a sacrifice to God, for a sweet-smelling savour, Ephes. 5. 2. So the Apostle openeth it, in Heb. 10. from the 40. Psalm; Sacrifice and Oblation (Minchah) thou wouldest not, but a body hast thou prepared me, &c. Above when he said, Sacrifice and Oblation, and Burnt-offrings, and offrings for sin thou wouldest not, &c. then said he, Loe I come to do thy will,
O God, &c. By the which will, we are sanctified, through the offring of the body of Iesus Christ once; Hebr. 10. 5, 8, 9, 10. So that in the Oblation of Christs body,
this legall sacrifice was accomplished and ended:
for it served also to expiate sinnes; as the Lord swore that the iniquitie of Elies house should not be purged with Sacrifice or Minchah (Meat-offring) for ever, 1 Sam. 3. 14. and as David sheweth, saying, If the Lord have stirred thee up against me, let him smell (that is, favourably accept) a Minchah, (or Meat-offring) 1 Sam. 26. 19. Therefore when Christ himselfe was come, this Meat-offring ceased, as was foretold in Dan. 9. 27. he shall cause the Sacrifice, and the Minchah to cease. Secondly, it figured the persons of Christians, who through him are cleansed and sanctified, to be pure oblations unto God; as it was prophesied, They shall bring all your brethren for a Minchah (a Meat-offring) unto the Lord, out of all the Gentiles, &c. as the sonnes of Israel bring a Meat-offring (Minchah) in a cleane vessel, into the house of the LORD, Esa. 66. 20. The accomplishment whereof the Apostle sheweth to have beene by his ministrat[i]on of the Gospel of God, unto the Gentiles; that the Oblation (Prosphora) of the Gentiles might be acceptable, being sanctified by the holy Ghost, Rom. 15. 16. Thirdly, it figured the fruits of grace, and good works that Christians are to performe both towards God and men. Towards God, by prayer and thanksgiving; as David saith, Let my prayer be directed as incense before thee; the lifting up of my hands, as the evening Minchah (or Oblation) Psal. 141. 2. So when the Lord told the Jewes, I will not accept a Minchah (or Meat-offring) at your hand; he addeth, For from the rising of the Sunne, even unto the going downe of the same, my name shall be great among the Gentiles; and in every place, incense shall be offered unto my name, and a pure Meat-offring, Malach.
1. 10, 11. which is fulfilled, when men pray every where, lifting up holy hands, as the Apostle teacheth, 1 Tim. 2. 8. Towards men also, good workes are as sacrifices unto God, as it is written, To doe good and to communicate, forget not, for with such sacrifices

God is well pleased, Heb. 13. 16. so the benevolence sent from the Church of Philippi, to the Apostle, was an odour of a sweet smell, a sacrifice acceptable, well-pleasing unto God, Phil. 4. 18. Now because the Meat-offrings here prescribed, had oile and frankincense with them, whereas the Meat-offrings which the poore man brought for his Sin, was to have neither of both, Leviticus 5. 11. it seemeth the chiefe thing here figured, was the new creature, and holy citate which we have in Christ: that as our reconciliation unto God in Christ, was signified by the Burnt-offring, Lev. 1. so the sanctification of our persons and actions, and the acceptation of them before God, through his grace in Christ, was signified by this Meat-offring. fine-floure
of wheat, Exod. 29. 2. Ezra 6. 9. 1 Chron. 21. 23.
All the Meat-offrings were of beaten floure, except the jealousie-offring, and the waved sheaf, (Numb. 5.
Lev. 23.) which were of barley. And for the quantitie, All Meat-offrings that were brought upon the Altar, not any of them was lesse then the tenth part (of an Ephah, as Levit. 5. 11. and 6. 20. that is, an Omer, as Exod. 16. 36.) The five Meat-offrings (mentioned in this chapter) that are brought for vow and voluntarie sacrifice, he may bring of them so much as he please, though 1000. tenth parts: but the Meat-offrings of the sheaf, and of the sinner, and of jealousie, and of Initiation, and the high Priests Meat-offring, every one of them is but one tenth part, neither lesse nor more, saith Maimony, in treat. of Offring the Sacrifice, ch. 12.
sect. 2, 5. Also for the qualitie, as all things offred to God, were to be of the best, and without corruption, so the Meat-offrings. The floure might not be such as wherein wormes bred, or made of worm-eaten wheat; nor mixt with oile that had a ranke smell, or ill taste, &c. Maimony, in Issurei mizbeach, c. 6. f. 1. pure-oile Sol. Iarchi noteth, that the oile was poured upon all of it; the frankincense was put upon part of it, on the one side. Other of the Hebrews also say; Every Meat-offring that is offred upon the Altar, must have oile and frankincense; a Log of oile (that is, halfe a pinte of oile, whereof see Lev.
14. 10.) for every tenth deale, and a handfull of frankincense, for every Meat-offring, whether it be of one tenth deale, or of sixtie; for they bring not more then 60.
tenth deales in one vessell. Except the jealousie-offring, and the sin-offring, (Numb. 5. 15. Levit. 5. 11.) for they have no oile nor incense; Maimony, treat. of offring the sacrifice, c. 12. f. 7. The floure of wheat, signified the perfect and pure estate of Christ, and of all Christians (with their service) in him; purged
from the branne of naturall corruption, Heb. 10.
5. Esa. 66. 20. The oile signified the graces and comforts of the holy Ghost, whereby wee serve God with gladnesse, Psal. 45. 7. Luke 4. 18. 1 Joh. 2. 20.
27. The frankincense, figured the sweet odour wher-by they are acceptable to the Lord, Song 3. 6.
Jer. 6. 20. Ephes. 5. 2. Romans 12. 1. The manner of making the Meat-offring of floure, is recorded to be thus; He that brought a tenth-deale of floure

or many tenth deales, or according as he hath vowed,) and oile meet for the same: the flowre was measured by the tenth-deale measure of the Sanctuarie, and oile was put into a vessell, and afterwards the flowre was put upon it. After that againe, other oile was put upon the flowre, and the flowre was mingled with it. After this, they put it into a ministring vessell, and then poured oile into it. And the oile which first they put, and the oile which they mingled it with; and the oile which they poured on it, all was a Log (or halfe-pinte) for a tenth deale (of flowre.) And then they put the frankincense upon it. Maimony, treat. of Offring the sacrifices, chapter 13. section 5.

2 Verſ. 2. the ſonnes] that is, one of the ſons, as the words following do manifeſt; when it is ſaid, and he ſhall take, meaning the Prieſt. ſhall take] or, ſhall gather-up-with-the hand, as the word properly ſignifieth. The flowre was put into a ministring veſſell, and ſanctified therein, (Eſa. 66. 20.) The Prieſt carried it to the Altar, and brought it to the Southweſt borne thereof, and removing all the frankincense unto the one ſide, he tooke up a handfull of the flowre and oile mixed, and put that handfull into a ministring veſſell, and ſanctified it therein. Then gathering up all the frankincense, he put it upon the handfull in the veſſell, and ſet it upon the Altar, and ſalted it; and put it out of the ministring veſſell, upon the fire. Maimony, treat. of offring the ſacrif. chap. 13. ſect. 12. burne] reſolve into fume or vapour, as the word ſignifieth: ſo Levit. 1. 9. and after often. the memoriall thereof] that is, that handfull with the incenſe, named a memoriall, becauſe it called unto Gods remembrance, (this is ſpoken after the manner of men) his covenant to accept the ſervice of faith, which his people offer to him by Chriſt. Hereupon it is ſaid, He remember all thy Meat-offrings, Pſal. 20. 4. and, Thy prayers and thine almes, are come-up for a Memoriall before God, Acts 10. 4. So Nehemiah prayed, Remember me, O my God, concerning this; and wipe not out my kindneſſes, that I have done for the houſe of my God, &c. and ſpare me, according to the greatneſſe of thy mercie, Nehem. 13. 14. 22. On the contrary, the ſinne and jealousie offrings, had no oile nor incenſe becauſe they were no offrings of memoriall, but ſuch as brought iniquitie to remembrance; which was not gracious, nor ſweet ſmelling before the Lord, Numb. 5. 15. Levit. 5. 11. of reſt] the Greeke ſaith, of ſweet ſmell; and conſequently acceptable: as the Chaldee explaineth it, an Oblation that ſhall be accepted with favour before the Lord. See Leviticus 1. 9.

3 Verſ. 3. Aarons] to eat the ſame, in the Sanctuarie, Levit. 6. 16. This is to be underſtood of the Meat-offrings brought alone: but the meat and drink offrings added to other ſacrifices, were not to be eaten, but burnt, and poured all upon the Altar; ſee the Annotations on Levit. 23. 13. holy of holies] Hebr. holineſſe of holineſſes; that is, moſt holy things. By this they are diſtinguiſhed from other things, which the Hebrew Doctors call therefore, leight holy, and which might be eaten out of the Sanctuarie, but within the hoſt, and (in ages following) within Ieruſalem. Maim. treat. of offring ſacrifices, ch. 10. ſect. 5. and ch. 11. ſect. 5.

Thus the Meat-offrings were in part for the maintenance and livelyhood of Gods Prieſts, Num. 18. 9, 10. and being given unto God, were moſt holy things, and figured the graces & good workes wherewith we honour Chriſt, and relieve his poore Saints, which are holy and acceptable ſacrifices unto the Lord, Phil. 4. 18. Heb. 13. 16. And being referred to Chriſt himſelfe, as he by the oblation of his owne body was by our Meat-offring, Pſal. 40. Hebr. 10. it figured our communion with him, and participation of his death and reſurrection, by faith; whereby hee becometh unto us, the bread of God, the bread of life, that giveth us life for ever; Joh. 6. 32. 35. &c. And of him, his whole Church, (which are a royall Prieſthood, 1 Pet. 2. 9.) are made partakers.

Verſ. 4. baked in] Hebr. of baking (or batche) of the oven. They kneaded and baked it within the Sanctuarie, (though the wheat was ground and ſifted without,) as Maimony in the foreſaid Treatiſe ſheweth: which is confirmed by Ezek. 46. 20. This is the place where the Prieſt ſhall boile the Treſpaſs-offring, and the Sinne-offring, where they ſhall bake the Meat-offring, &c. See alſo 1 Chron. 23. 28, 29. where the Levites were aſſiſtants to the Prieſts, in preparing the Meat-offrings. unleavened] Heb. cakes of unleavenings; that is, altogether unleavened; ſignifying ſinceritie and truth, 1 Cor. 5. 8. ſee the notes on Exod. 12. mingled] The cakes were thus ordered: The flowre was mingled with oile, and kneaded with warme water: and baked, and broken in pieces, and put into a ministring veſſell: then frankincense was put upon it, but no oile poured on it, becauſe it is written, mingled with oile. Of every tenth part (of an Ephah) they made ten cakes: ſaith Maimony, treat. of offring the ſacrif. chap. 13. ſect. 8, 10. or unleavened] Hebr. and wafers of unleavenings, anointed, &c. Of this, Maimony in the foreſaid place, ſaith; And if they were wafers, the flowre was kneaded with warme water, and the wafers anointed with oile. And it ſeemes unto me (ſaith he) that they were anointed after the baking. There was brought a Log (or halfe-pinte) of oile, for every tenth deale (of flowre) and they were anointed and anointed againe, till all the oile in the Log was ended. This anointing with oile, ſignified the graces of Gods ſpirit, as before is ſhewed; which the children of God ſhould have within and without, ſo being both tempered and anointed with the ſame: of which the Apoſtle ſaith, The anointing which yee have received of (the Holy one) abideth in you, &c. 1 Joh. 2. 27. and, He that eſtabliſheth us with you, in Chriſt, and hath anointed us, is God, 2 Corinth. 1. 21.

Verſ. 5. on a pan] or, on a plate, or ſlice, flat and ſmoother. Hereof Maimony (treat. of offring ſacrif. chap. 13. ſect. 7.) ſaith, what differeth (Machabath) the Pan, from (Marcheſketh) the Frying-pan? The Frying-pan hath a lip (or edge) and the Paſſie that is baked thereon is ſoft, and for that it hath a lip, it runneth not. But the Pan hath no lip, and the Paſſie that is baked thereon is hard, ſo that it runs not off. Moreover, the Pan and the Frying-pan were in the Courtyard, and both of them veſſels of miniſtration, and of the holy things: and the Oven of the Sanctuarie was of metall. Maimony ibid.

ib'd. chap. 12. Sect. 23. They signified vessels of Christian hearts, as, My heart bath fryed (or boyled a good matter, &c. Psal. 45. 2. See the annotations on that Psalme.

6 Ver. 6. pieces] or, parts, They baked it in the sanctuary, and cut it in pieces, and put the pieces into a ministring vessell, and then put upon it oile and frankincense, and caried it to the Priest, and the Priest caried it to the altar, and brought it to the southwest borne, and did as is before noted on ver. 2. And for the manner of cutting; he doubled the cake into two, and the two into foure; and divided it. And all the pieces were as big as olives: and if they were greater or lesser, they would serue, Maimony, idem, chap. 13. Sect. 12. 10. This cutting in pieces is to be understood also of the cakes baked in the oven, verse 4. and in the Frying-pan, verse 7, 8. and signified the same thing that the cutting in pieces of the Burnt-offring, Leviticus 1. 6. 12.

8 Ver. 8. he shall offer] that is, the man that brings the gift, shall present or offer it to the Priest: so Sol. Iarchi expoundeth it, the owner thereof shall offer it to the Priest, and the Priest shall bring it unto the Altar. Or, it shall be offered, to weet, by thee: as, he imputed, Gen. 15. 6. is translated, it was imputed, Rom. 4. 3. See also the notes on Gen. 2. 20. and 16. 14.

9 Ver. 9. take up] or, lift up; which the Chaldee translatheth separate; the Greeke, take-away. a memoriall] that is, an handfull of the pieces thereof: see before, on verse 6. and 2. All Meat-offrings that are offered upon the Altar, he taketh an handfull thereof, and burneth it all upon the Altar: and the rest is eaten by the Priests. Maimony ibidem, chap. 12. Sect. 9. See an Exception, in Lev. 6. 23. of rest] Greek, of sweet smell, The Chaldee translatheth, an offering that shall be received with favour before the Lord.

11 Ver. 11. with leuen] except some thank-offrings, which were brought with leavened bread, Levit. 7. 13. Leuen and honey are unlawfull to be burnt upon the altar, and they are unlawfull every whit of them, Levit. 2. 11. But he is not guilty, except he burne them for an offering, or with an offering, and whether he offer them by themselves, or burne them mixed, he is to be beaten for each of them by themselves. Maimony in Issurei mizbeach, chap. 5. Sect. 1. old leuen] see the annotations on Exod. 12. 15. Leuen figured Sin of all sorts, inward and outward, in doctrine and manners, Luk. 12. 1. Matth. 16. 6. 12. 1 Cor. 5. 8. honey] which for sweetnesse of taste, is contrary to sowre leuen; yet being eaten much, breedeth lothsonnes, and is not good, Prov. 25. 16. 27. but turneth to choler and bitterness. And being put into the fire, it boileth up in froth; wherupon some of the Hebrews take it to signifie pride, and therefore it was not to be burned in any Fire-offring. R. Elias, in Reshuib Chomah treat. of Humilitie, chap. 3. Both these forbidden in this oblation, signified the perfection of Christ, & of us in him. Among the heathens they used honey, in their sacrifices for the dead: Euripid, in Iphigen. in Tauris.

Baal Hatturim (on this scripture) noteth, that the evil concupiscence (the corruption of nature in man,) is like to old-leuen; and this is the reason why honey is forbidden, because the evil concupiscence is sweet unto a man as honey. And Sol. Iarchi saith, All sweet fruit is called honey. Sometime Leuen is used to denote griefe and affliction, as in Psal. 73. 21. my heart was leavened: which may have use here, that neither extremitie of griefe as Leaven, nor of pleasures, as Honey, be in the Meat-offring of the saints, but a temperature and mediocritie. See 2 Cor. 1. 3, 4. 9. and 12. 7. 10.

Ver. 12. In the oblation] the word In or With, is to be understood as in the former verse; or, Of, as the Greeke version hath. them] leuen and honey though they might not come on the altar, yet came with the first fruits: Leuen is mentioned with the first fruits, Levit. 23. 17. and with thank-offrings, Lev. 7. 13. Honey is also among the first fruits, in 2 Chro. 31. 5. though there the Hebrew Doctors understand Dates which are sweet as honey: which may also be implied in the prohibition here, verse 11. So Sol. Iarchi here expoundeth it saying, first fruits of honey, as the first-fruits of figges and dates. Otherwise by them, may be meant the one of them, to weet, Leuen: (for Bees honey was not brought for first-fruits:) as the theeves, Mat. 27. 44. that is, one of them, Luke 23. 39. so, in his disciples, Matth. 24. 1. that is, one of his disciples, Mark. 13. 1. Chazkuni here expoundeth it, ye shall offer them to the Lord for a wave-offring: but not for an oblation on the altar. for a favour of rest] in Greeke, for a favour of sweet-smell to the Lord: which the Chaldee expoundeth, to be accepted in favour. This the Hebrewes understand strictly, and therefore say, for a favour of rest thou must not make them ascend, but thou must make them ascend (to burne) as wood. But to mingle them with any oblation, as sin-offring, trespass-offring, meat-offring, &c. was unlawfull: and who so did it, was to be beaten. Maimony in Issurei mizbeach, chap. 5. Sect. 3, 4.

Ver. 13. shalt salt] or, shalt season. This the Priest was to doe, calling salt upon it, when it was brought to the altar, as is noted on verse 2. Salt is of a fierie nature, savoureth all meates, and preserveth from corruption, by the sharpnesse thereof: and is therefore applied to the wholesome doctrine of the Gospel, reprooves, and wise seasoned words of grace, Matth. 5. 13. Col. 4. 6. and here to the salt of the covenant, which on our part is faith in midst of afflictions: wherefore our unregenerate estate, is likened to a childe new borne, and not salted, Ezek. 16. 4. of the covenant] which is a signe of the covenant of thy God: for thy salt, the covenant of grace was signified in Christ, which we by faith apprehend unto incorruption. We are therefore admonished, Have salt in your selves, and have peace one with another: Mark. 9. 50. Hereupon a covenant of salt, is used for an inviolable, incorruptible, and perpetuall covenant, Num. 18. 19. 2 Chr. 13. 5. Therefore in this sacrifice, the Hebrew doctors held salt so necessary, that if it were offered without salt, it was polluted

every oblation] not the Meat-offerings onely, but the Burnt-offerings, Eze. 43.24. and all other; as Christ saith, Every one shall be salted with fire, and every sacrifice shall be salted with salt, Mark. 9.49. The Hebrew doctors say, It is commanded to salt all offerings, before they ascend on the Altar, (Levit. 2.13.) and thou hast nothing which cometh on the Altar without salt, except the wine of the drinke-offerings, and the blood, and the wood. And it is commanded to salt the flesh very faire, as one would salt flesh to roast, that he turne the piece and salt it. The salt which they season all offerings with, is the Congregations, as the Word also is: and no particular man brings salt or wood for his offering, from his owne house. And they laid on the salt in three places; in the salt chamber, and on the foot-banke (of the altar,) and on the top of the Altar. In the salt chamber they salted the skins of the holy things. Upon the foot-banke, they salted the members (or pieces of the sacrifices,) and on the top of the Altar, they salted the handfull, and the frankincense, and the Meat-offerings that were burned, and the Burnt-offerings of fowles. Maimony, in Issurei Mizbeach, chap. 5. Sect. 11. 12. 13. Therefore (saith Baalhatturim) salt is three times mentioned in this verse, because they put on salt in three places (forementioned.) The heathens retained a memoriall of this service, offering with their sacrifices, meale or flowre salted. Homer Ilia. 1.

14 Ver. 14. Meat-offering of first fruits] This seemeth to be meant of the sheafe (or Omer) of barley, whereof he speaketh againe in Lev. 23.10. See the annotations there. So R. Manabem, and Sol. Iarchi here saith, the scripture speaketh of the Meat-offering of the Omer (in Levit. 23.) green-ears-of-corne] in Hebrew Abib, by which name the first moneth is called, Exod. 13.4. for then barley was eared, and began to be ripe; as is shewed on Lev. 23.10. The Greek translateth it New fruits. parched] for they dreyed them with the fire, in the green-ears, because else they would not be ground in the mill, for that they were moist, saith Sol. Iarchi on Lev. 2. ground-corne] or small-broken-corne: Hebr. Geres, that is, breaking or grinding; which the Greek translateth corne or grain: The Chaldee, broken-graines: and Sol. Iarchi expoundeth it, broken whiles it is moist. Geres (saith he) meaneth breaking and grinding; broken with the mill. of the full-ear] or, of the green-ear; called in Hebrew Carmel which, here, and in Levit. 23.14. and in 2 King. 1.42. is used for full-green-ears of corne; which the Chaldee expoundeth tender: elsewhere it is the name of a mountaine, which was fruitfull with corne, 1 Kings 18.42. and generally a fruitfull place is called Carmel, Eley 32.15, 16. and 29.17. The First-fruits chiefly figured Christ, by whom all the rest of the revenue is sanctified, 1 Cor. 15.20. Rom. 11.16. Ioh. 12.24. the parching, breaking, grinding, &c. figured his suffering for us, being bruised for our iniquities, Esa. 53.5. Whereby he was offered for a sweet savour unto God. And with him we are partakers in our measure, Rom. 8.17. Col. 1.24.

15 Ver. 15. shalt put] Heb. shalt give (which the Greeke translateth shalt poure) oile; which was according to other meat-offerings, a log of oile, & an handfull of frankincense; signifying the graces of God in Christ and his members, and the sweet odour of his oblation for us. See more in the notes on Levit. 23.10. touching this manner of service.

CHAP. III.

1, The Peace-offerings, of the herd; 6, and of the flocke; 7, either Sheepe, 12, or Goat.

1 And if his oblation be, a sacrifice of Peace-offerings: if he offer it of the herd, whether it be male or female; 2 he shall offer it perfect, before Iehovah. And he shall lay his hand, upon the head of his oblation: and he shall kill it, at the doore of the Tent of the Congregation: and Aarons sonnes the Priests, shall sprinkle the blood, upon the Altar, round-about. And he shall 3 offer of the sacrifice of the Peace-offerings, a Fire-offring unto Iehovah: the fat that covereth the inwards, and all the fat that is upon the inwards. And the two kidneyes, and the 4 fat which is upon them, which is upon the flanks: & the caule above the liver, with the kidneyes, he shall take-away it. And Aarons 5 sonnes shall burne it on the Altar, with the Burnt-offring, which is upon the wood, that is on the fire; it is a Fire-offring, of a favour of rest, unto Iehovah.

6 And if his oblation, for a sacrifice of Peace-offerings unto Iehovah, be of the flocke: male or female, he shall offer it perfect. If he 7 offer a Lamb, for his oblation: then shall he offer it before Iehovah. And he shall lay his 8 hand, upon the head of his oblation; and he shall kill it, before the Tent of the congregation: and Aarons sonnes, shall sprinkle the blood thereof, upon the Altar, round-about. And he shall offer, of the sacrifice of the 9 Peace-offerings, a Fire-offring unto Iehovah: the fat thereof, and the whole rumpe, it shall he take-off hard by the backbone: and the fat that covereth the inwards, and all the fat that is upon the inwards. And the two kid- 10 neyes, and the fat that is upon them, which is upon the flanks: and the caule above the liver, with the kidneyes, he shall take-away it. And the Priest shall burne it, upon the Al- 11 tar: it is the bread of the Fire-offring unto Iehovah.

12 And if his oblation, be a Goat: then he shall offer it, before Iehovah. And he shall lay his 13 hand, upon the head of it; and he shall kill it, before the Tent of the congregation: and Aarons sonnes, shall sprinkle the blood thereof, upon the Altar, round-about.

Bbb And

- 14 And he shall offer thereof, his oblation; a Fire-offring, unto Jehovah: the fat that covereth the inwards, and all the fat, that 15 is upon the inwards. And the two kidneyes and the fat that is upon them, which is upon the flanks: and the caule above the liver,
 16 with the kidneyes, he shall take away it. And the Priest shall burne them, upon the Altar: it is the bread of the Fire-offring for a savour
 17 of rest; all the fat, is Jehovahs. It shall be an eternal statute, for your generations, throughout all your dwellings: any fat or any blood, ye shall not eat.

Annotations.

His oblation] his korban, which the Greeke tranflateth his gift unto the Lord: so korban is by the Evangelist expounded a gift, Mar. 7. 11.
 Peace-offrings] or, Pay-offrings: Hebr. a sacrifice of Payments, or of pacifications, or of perfections, whereby men paid unto God Confession and thanks for their peace and prosperitie, and for his performing of mercies, and pacification, and paid their vows; as is written, Thy vows are upon me, O God: I will pay confessions unto thee, Psal. 56. 13. and Peace-offrings, are upon me; this day have I paid my vows, Proverbs 7. 14. These sacrifices were of sundry sorts, either for Confession (or Thanksgiving) Lev. 7. 11. 12. or for a Vow; or for a Voluntary offering; Levit. 7. 16. Here, and usually in the law, the word is Sbelamin, as of many payments or thanks, du: unto God for his many benefits, as David professeth, Psalme 116. 12. 14. 17. 18. but in Amos 5. 22. it is used figurally Shelem. The Greeke often tranflateth it Eirenikē, that is, a Pacifying (or Peace) offering; but here and most commonly Soterion, a sacrifice of salvation, (offred unto God for his salvation of men.) The Chaldee hath, the sacrifice of sanctities (or sanctifications:) whether because none but clean & sanctified persons might eat of it? Levit 7. 19. 20. or for sanctifying the name of God by it. Sil. Iarchi saith they are called Peace-offrings, because they bring peace into the world: as also because by them there is peace to the Altar, to the Priests, and to the owners: that is, every of these have a part in the Peace-offrings. R. Menachem saith, it is of like meaning as that in Elay 44. 28. He shall performe all my pleasure. The mysterie of this sacrifice is opened in Hosea 14. 2. Take-away (Lord) all iniquity, and receive (or give) good: and we will pay, the bullockes of our lips; which the Greeke there tranflateth, the fruits of our lips: and the Apostle likewise saith, By him (that is, by Jesu) let us offer the sacrifice of praise to God continually: that is, the fruit of the lippes, confessing to his name; Heb 13. 15. These Peace-offrings, were also given when men in their troubles prayed unto God for peace and salvation, Iudges 20. 26 and 21. 4.
 1 Chronicles 21. 26. That as the Burnt-offring (in Lev. 1.) figured our reconciliation to God by the death of Christ; and the Meat-offring (in Lev. 2.)

our sanctification in him before God: so this Peace-offring signified both Christs oblation of himselfe, whereby he became our Peace and salvation, Ephes. 2. 14. 15. 16. Acts 13. 47. Heb. 5. 9. & 9. 28. and our oblation of praise, thanksgiving, and prayer unto God; in the midst of troubles, tentations, and spirituall combats, which we fight by faith in this life: so that we come boldly unto the throne of grace, that we may receive mercy, and finde grace to helpe in time of need; Heb 4. 16. or female] herein it differeth from the Burnt-offring, which was to be of the males onely, Lev. 1. 3. By this distinction of sexes, the Hebrewes gather, that the beast which was neither perfect male nor female, or both male and female, though it had no other blemish, was not fit for sacrifice: Maimony in Issurei Mizbeach, chap. 3. Sect. 3. Spiritually we may apply this to the state of the Church in Christ, in whom there is neither male nor female, but all are one in him, Gal. 3. 28. And that God accepteth not only the sacrifice of Christ, but ours also in him, Heb. 13. 15. perfect] in Greeke, without blemish: See Exod. 12. 5. and Lev. 1. 3.

Verf. 2. lay] or, impose his hand, (in Greeke, his hands;) to testifie by this signe his faith in God through Christ: see the notes on Levit. 1. 4. The difference there and here, the Hebrew doctors thinke to be this, that over the Peace-offring, there was no confession (of sinnes,) but speaking words of Praise (unto God) and that hands might be laid on, in any place of the courtyard where he would, in the place where it was killed. Maimony treat. of offering sacrifices, ch. 3. Sect. 14. 15. he] that is, the Priest or some other Levite shal kil it: see Lev. 1. 5. It might be killed in any place of the Court; (Maimony ibi chap. 5. Sect. 4.) and was not restrained to the Northside of the Altar, as the Burnt-offring, Lev. 1. 11. For these Peace-offrings the Hebrews call the lighter holy things; to distinguish them from the Holy of holies, Levit. 2. 10. sprinkle] according to the manner observed on Levit. 1. 5. For the Burnt-offring, Trespass-offring and Peace-offring; the sprinkling of the blood of these three upon the Altar, was ever alike: Maimony, treat. of Offering sacrifices, c. 5. §. 6. It figured the sprinkling of Christs blood, whereby wee, our words and workes are sanctified before God, 1 Pet. 1. 2. Heb. 12. 14.

Verf. 3. unto Jehovah] wholly burnt upon the Altar unto the Lord. There were besides, of every Peace-offring, the Brest and the right shoulder, which were waved and heaved before the Lord, and given the Priests to eat: wherof see Lev. 7. 30. 32. &c. the other flesh of the Peace-offring, was eaten by the owner that brought it, and his family and friends, Lev. 7. 15, 16. the fat] or, the suet. This sometime signifieth the best of all things (as is shewed upon Gen. 4. 4.) and so teacheth to offer the best unto the Lord: sometime it signifieth un-believe, dulnesse, and hardnesse of heart, (as fat is without sense,) Psal. 119. 70. Act. 28. 27. so the fat consumed in the fire, signified the taking away of our corruption by the spirit of Christ. And the kidneyes, (which are the seat of lust) not the heart or braines (which are are the seat of wisdom and understanding) were likewise burned; to teach mortification of our members which are on earth, fornication, uncleanness, inordinate affection, &c. Colos. 3. 5. See the notes on Exod. 29. 13.

4 Ver. 4. which is] underitand againe, the fat which is upon the flanks, or (as the Greeke and Chaldee interpret it) upon the thighs: so the Hebrew doctors expound it as a distinct fat from the former, and say it was the fat which is in the roots of the thighs, on the forepart. Maimony, treat of forbidden meats, ch. 7. lect. 6.

5 Ver. 5. shall burne it] The order of offering this sacrifice was, the Priest killed it, and sprinkled the blood, and flayed it, and took out the inwards. Afterwards he cut in pieces the flesh, and separated the breast and the right shoulder, (Levit. 7. 30. 32.) and put the inwards with the breast and shoulder, into the owners hands. And the Priest put his hand under the owners hands and waved all before the Lord, on the East side. And if it were a Thank-offring (Levit. 7. 12. 14.) he took of the bread that was brought therewith, one cake of ten, and laid it with the breast, shoulder, and inwards, and waved all upon the owners hands. First he laid the fat upon the owners hands, then the breast, and the shoulder above. And the two kidneys and the caule of the liver, above them. And if there were any bread, he laid it above, and so waved all. After that, he salted the inwards, and burned all upon the Altar: but the breast and the shoulder, were eaten by the Priests; and the remnant of the Peace-offring was eaten by the owners. But the Priests might not have the breast and shoulder, till the inwards were burned. Likewise the bread waved with the Thank-offring, was eaten by the Priests; and the rest of the bread, by the owners. If two brought a peace offering in partnership; the one of them waved it, by leave of his fellow: and if they were 100. one waved for them all. If the owner of the sacrifice were a woman, she waved it not, but the Priest. A woman never waved, save onely in the offering of jealousy, (Numbers 5.) and of a Naz. wife, (Num. 6.) Maimony, in treat. of offering sacrif. chap. 9. Sect. 6. 7. &c.

upon the Burnt offering] that is, laying it on the altar after the Burnt-offring; for that alwaies had the first place. Sol. Iarchi here saith; this teacheth us, that the daily Burnt-offring, was before any other oblation. It signified, that we are first to be reconciled unto God by the death of Christ, apprehended of us by faith, before any oblation of ours can be acceptable to God. of rest] Greeke, of sweet smell: in the Chaldee, an offering which shall be received with favour, before the Lord. See Levit. 1. 9. Hereby Gods acceptance of us, and of our service, prayers, thanksgiving, &c. in Christ, was signified. Heb. 13. 15. 16.

6 Ver. 6. of the flocke] sheepe or goats, as after is explained: but here is no mention of fowles, as was for the Burnt-offring, Levit. 1. 14. The Hebrews say, Peace-offrings are brought of sheepe, and of goats, and of beeves, of males or of females, of great or of small: but no fowle is brought for Peace-offrings. Small (beasts) are from eight daies old, untill a complete yeere, from day to day: and great (beasts) of the herd, till they be full three yeeres old, from day to day; and of the flocke, till they be full two yeeres old, from day to day; if they be more then thus, they are too old, and may not be offered. Maimony, treat. of Offring the sacrifice, chap. 1. Sect. 11.

Ver. 7. a Lamb] or sheepe; of the first yeere, as is noted on Lev. 1. implying also a sheepe of the second yeere, which was lawfull to be offered, as is before shewed.

Ver. 8. he] that is, the Priest or Levite, shall kill it, so in verse 13. see Levit. 1. 5. before] the Greeke translateth, at the doore of the Tent, (as Moses said in verse 2.) so after in verse 13. and these phrases explaine one another.

Ver. 9. whole rumpe] the perfect (or entire) taylor; which in some kinde of sheepe is very great and fat; especially in those parts of the world, and namely in Syria, as Plinie mentioneth, Hist. b. 8. c. 48. Therefore it is here commanded to be burnt upon the altar, with the other fat and inwards.

Ver. 11. the bread] or, the food, meaning the flesh which the fire on the altar was to eat up and consume. The Greeke translateth it, a savour of sweet smell: so in verse 16. And because these things were burnt unto God, therefore God calleth them also his bread, Num. 28. 2. Ezek. 44. 7. and the Priests which burned them, are said to offer the bread of their God. Levit. 21. 6. 8. 17. and the holy things which the Priests did eat, are called by the like name, Levit. 21. 22.

Ver. 12. a Goat] this is here handled in a section apart, (not together with the sheepe, as was in the law of the burnt-offring, Leviticus 1. 10.) because of some difference in the oblation; as Sol. Iarchi observeth, there is in the fat of the sheepe, that which is not in the fat of the goat, for the rumpe of the sheepe was offered with the fat, verse 9.

Ver. 17. any fat] to wheet, any such fat, and of such beasts as are here forespoken of, of beeves, sheepe, or goats, as the law after explaineth it, Leviticus 7. 23. and a man was not guilty, save for these three sorts of cleane beasts onely: of other tame or wilde beasts, whether cleane or uncleane, the fat was as the flesh: saith Maimony, in tom. 3. treat. of Forbidden meats, chapter 7. Section 1. Moreover there were three sorts of fat, for eating whereof, men deserved to be cut off, (as in Leviticus 7. 25.) the fat which is upon the inwards, and which is upon the two kidneys, and which is upon the flanks: but the rumpe was lawfull to be eaten, it was not called fat, but in the case of sacrifice onely: even as the kidneys and the caule above the liver, are called fat, in the case of sacrifice. The fat which was covered over with flesh, was lawfull: the fat upon the kidneys was forbidden, not that which was within the kidneys. The fat of the beaver, &c. was lawfull. Maimony ibidem Sect. 5. 7. 9.

any blood] to wheet of fowles, or of beasts absolutely, as is explained, Lev. 7. 26. But blood of fishes, Locusts, and other such things, was not within this prohibition: therefore it was lawfull to eat or to drinke the blood of such fishes, locusts, &c. as were cleane for food: saith Maimony ibidem, chap. 6. S. 1. See the annotations on Gen. 9. 4. Lev. 7. 26. & 17. 14. As eating & drinke signifieth communion, 1 Cor. 11. 24. and 10. 16. 17. and the forbidding to eat, signifieth a forbidding of communion, Act. 10. 13. 14. 15. 28. Heb. 13. 10. so this prohibition of eating blood (which was given upon the altar to make atonement for mens soules. Levit. 17. 11.) and of fat, (which was given upon the Altar to be consumed there with fire, and so was the Lords. Levit. 3. 16.) seemeth to forbid figuratively, al ascribing unto our selues of the work of our redemption, which is only by the blood of Christ, Eph. 1. 7. and of the worke of our sanctification, which Christ by his spirit performeth in us; 1 Cor. 1. 30. 31. Eph. 5. 26. Heb. 10. 10. 1 Pet. 1. 2.

CHAP. IV.

1. The sin-offerings for the ignorances of the anoynted Priest: 13, of the Congregation; 22, of the Ruler, 27, or of any of the people.

1 AND Jehovah spake unto Moses, say-
2 ing, Speake unto the sonnes of Israel,
saying: A soule, when it shall sinne
through ignorance, of all the commandements of Jehovah, which should not be done:
3 and shall do, of any one of them. If the Priest that is anoynted, shall sinne to the guiltie sin
of the people: then he shall offer for his sin
with he hath sinned, a bullocke a yongling 4 of the herd, perfect, unto Jehovah for a Sin-offring. And he shall bring the bullock, unto the doore of the Tent of the congregation, before Jehovah; and shall lay his hand, upon the head of the bullocke, and hee shall kill 5 the bullocke, before Jehovah. And the Priest, that is anoynted, shall take of the bullockes blood: and shall bring it, into the 6 Tent of the congregation. And the Priest shall dip his finger, in the blood: and shall sprinkle of the blood, seven times before Jehovah; before the veile of the Holy place.
7 And the Priest shall put some of the blood,
upon the hornes of the Altar, of the incense of sweet-spices, before Jehovah; which is in the Tent of the congregation: and all the blood of the bullocke, he shall poure at the 8 bottome of the altar of the Burnt-offring, which is at the doore of the Tent of the congregation. And all the fat, of the bullock of the Sin-offring, he shall take off from it: the 9 fat that couereth the inwards, and all the fat, which is upon the inwards. And the two kidneyes, and the fat which is upon them, which is upon the the flanks: and the caule:
10 about the liver; with the kidneyes, hee shall take away it. As it was taken off, from the bullocke of the sacrifice of Peace-offrings:
and the Priest shall burne them, upon the altar of the Burnt-offring. And the skinn of the bullocke, and all his flesh, with his head;

and with his legs: and his inward, and his dounge. Even all the bullocke shall he cary-12 forth, to without the campe, unto a cleane place, at the pouring out of the ashes; and shall burne him on wood, with fire: at the pouring-out of the ashes, shall he be burne.

And if all the Congregation of Israel, sin ignorantly; and the thing bee hid, from the eyes of the Church: and they have done any one of all the commandements of Jehovah, which should not bee done, and are guilty.
When the sinne is knowne, which they have sinned against it: then the Church shall offer
a bullocke a yongling of the herd, for a Sin-offring; and shall bring him, before the Tent of the congregation. And the Elders of the 15 Congregation, shall lay their hands, upon the head of the bullocke, before Jehovah:
and hee shall kill the bullocke, before Jehovah. And the Priest that is anoynted, shall 16 bring of the blood of the bullocke: into the Tent of the Congregation. And the Priest shall dip his finger, in some of the blood: and shall sprinkle seven times, before Jehovah;
before the veile. And he shall put some of the 18 blood, upon the hornes of the Altar, which is before Jehovah, which is in the Tent of the Congregation: and all the blood, hee shall poure at the bottome of the Altar of the Burnt-offring; which is at the doore of the Tent of the congregation. And all his 19 fat, he shall take-off from him: and burne it, upon the Altar. And hee shall doe with the 20 bullocke, as he did with the bullocke of the Sin-offring; so shall he doe with it: and the Priest shall make-an-atonement for them,
and it shall bee mercifully-forgiven them.
And hee shall cary-foorth the bullocke, to 21 without the campe; and shall burne him, as he burned the first bullocke: it is the Sin-offring of the Church.

When the Ruler, hath sinned, and done
any one of all the Commandements of Jehovah his God, which should not bee done, through ignorance, and is guilty. Or if his sinne, bee made-knowne unto him, that wherein he hath sinned: then he shall bring his oblation, a goat-bucke of the goats, a male perfect. And he shall lay his hand, upon 24 the head of the goat-bucke, and he shall kill him, in the place, where he killeth the Burntoffring, before Jehovah: it is a Sin-offring.
And the Priest shall take, of the blood of the 25 Sin-offring, with his finger; and put it, upon the 26 the hornes of the altar of Burnt-offering: and shall poure his blood, at the bottome of the altar of Burnt-offering. And all his fat, he shall burne upon the altar, as the fat of the sacrifice of Peace-offrings: and the Priest, shall make-an-atonement for him, concerning his sinne, and it shall be mercifully-forgiven him.

27 And if one soule, sin through ignorance, of the people of the land: while it doth any one of the Commandements of Jehovah, which should not be done, and be guilty.
28 Or if his sinne be made knowne unto him, which he hath sinned: then hee shall bring his oblation, a she-goat of the goats, perfect, a female; for his sinne, which he hath sinned.
29 And he shall lay his hand, upon the head of the Sin-offring: and he shall kill the Sin-offring, in the place of the Burnt-offring. And the Priest shall take of the blood thereof, with his finger; and put it, upon the hornes of the altar of Burnt-offring: and all the blood thereof, he shall poure, at the bottome of the altar.
30 And he shall take away all the fat thereof, as the fat is taken away, from off the sacrifice of Peace-offrings: and the Priest shall burne it upon the altar, for a savour of rest, unto Jehovah: and the Priest shall make an atonement for him, and it shall be mercifully forgiven him.

32 And if he bring a Lambe for his oblation, for a Sinne-offring: he shall bring it, a female perfect. And he shall lay his hand, upon the head of the Sin-offring; and he shall kill it for a Sinne-offring, in the place where he killeth the Burnt-offering. And the Priest shall take the blood of the Sin-offring, with his finger; and put it upon the hornes of the altar of Burnt-offring: and shall poure all the blood thereof, at the bottome of the altar.
33 And he shall take away all the fat thereof, as the fat of the lamb is taken away, from the sacrifice of the Peace-offrings: and the Priest shall burne them upon the altar, according to Jehovahs Fire-offrings: and the Priest shall make-an-atonement for him, for his sin which he hath sinned; and it shall be mercifully-forgiven him.

Annotations.

2 A Soule] that is, a person or man, as the Chaldee translateth it. when it shall sin] or, if it sin. Whereas he had taught the justification and sanctification of the Church, by the former sacrifices, and how men ought to walke in newnesse of life: now, because there is not a just man upon earth that doth good and sinneth not. Eccles. 7. 20. but in many things we offend all, Iam. 3. 2. the Lord appointed means for the cleansing of his Church and all the members thereof, from the infirmities, errors and ignorant sins which they fall into. But if we sin wilfully, after that we have received the knowledge of the truth; there remaineth no more sacrifice for sinnes, but a certaine fearefull looking for of judgement, and fiery indignation, which shall devour the adversaries, (or enemies of the Lord,) Heb. 10. 26. 27. Esay 26. 10. 11.

through ignorance] or, in error, unawares, by unadvisednesse. Sbegagah the word here used, signifieth error or going astray out of the right way, through ignorance or forgetfulness, or unadvisednesse, or by being deceived, or the like. The Greek sometime turneth it, Agnosia Ignorance, but here and often translateth it, Aconsios, unwittingly: which is contrary to that which the Apostle calleth Heconsios, willingly or wilfully, Heb. 10. 26. contrary also to that which the law calleth sinning with an high hand, or presumptuously, Num. 15. 27. - 30. We may see the meaning openly by Moses in Numb. 35. 11. where he speaketh of killing a person, by error, or unawares, which in Deut. 19. 4. is said to be ignorantly, or without knowledge; and both are joyned together in Ios. 20. 3. unawares, (or by error) and without knowledge, (or unwittingly): wherto is opposed a lying in wait, that is, a purpose and willingness to kill him, Deut. 19. 11. Exod. 21. 13. The Apostle likewise calleth such sinnes, Aguemata, Errors-done-of-ignorance, in Heb. 9. 7. and more fully openeth it by two words, in Heb. 5. 3. shewing the Priests dutie to have compassion on the ignorant, and on them that erre. So that these ignorances or errors, were misdeeds arising from error of the mind, or of the affections; when men did either not know or understand the Law aright, or not remember or take heed thereto as they ought, when thew knew not the nature of sinne, or considered not how loathsome it was unto God; but were overtaken and miscaried by their errors or lusts, such are to be restored in the spirit of meeknesse, Gal. 6. 1. for such God appointed sacrifices; but for presumptuous wilful & malicious sins, men were to be cut off: Num. 15. 27. 30. These Errors or Ignorances are such and so many as no man can understand, Psal. 19. 13. and God both cleanseth us of them by the sacrifice of Christ, Hebr. 10. 10. 12. and restraineth us from them by afflictions, Psal. 119. 67. and warneth us to take heed of them, lest he be angry, and destroy the worke of our hands, Eccles. 5. 6. And whereas there followeth a law in Lev. 5. 17. for sinnes not knowne, the Hebrewes put this difference: Sbegagah (an error or sinne through ignorance) is when he knoweth certainly: that he hath done the thing, but he did it in error (or unadvisedly:) but he that knoweth not, is he that is uncertaine whether he did the thing or no, Talmud Bab. in Cheeribogh (and Maimony in his explanations on the same.) ch. 1. of all] understand, by doing any one of all the commandements. So Moses himselfe explaineth it in the words here following, and in v. 13. 22. 27. commandements] or, charges: meaning prohibitions, bitious, or forbodes. For God commandeth both to eschew evill, and to doe good: and most of the ten commandments (Exo 1.20.) are forbiddings of sinne. And thus the holy Ghost useth the word, both wayes; as Take heed &c. lest ye make you the likeness of any thing, which Iehovah thy God hath commanded (that is forbidden) thee: Deut. 4.23. And contrariwise in Deut. 17.3. hath served other Gods, &c. which I have not commanded; to wit, to be done. Hereupon the Hebrew Doctors (Maimony and others) divide the lawes into Commandements to be done, and Commandements which should not be done. The Commandements given by Moses, they have summed up in all to be six hundred and thirteene: of them, they make affirmative precepts of things to be done, two hundred forty and eight; so many as (they say) there are bones in a mans body; and of negative precepts or prohibitions, three hundred sixty & five so many as there are dayes in the year.

Should not] the Greeke translateth it, ought not. To these prohibitions, the Hebrew doctors doe restraine this law, saying, They bring no Sinne-offring, but for ignorance (in doing) that which should not be done, as it is written (Levit. 4.13.27.) any one of all the commandements which should not be done. Maimony, treat. Shegagoth (or of Ignorance) c. 1. f. 2. These which are counted the greater finnes, the Lord appointed for them the greater sacrifices, according also to the estate of the persons that did them, differing one from another. For some sins also which the poorer sort should commit, there were lesser sacrifices prescribed, Le. 5.7.11. Other sins in omitting things to be done, were expiated by Burnt-offrings, which were offered daily for the whole Church, or by particular persons, as they would bring them, as is shewed on Levit. 1. Also by the sacrifices offered on Atonement day, whereof see Lev. 16. The Hebr. account some sins more heavy, and some more light. The heavy transgressions (they say) are those for which men deserve death (by the Magistrate) or cutting off (by the hand of God,) also vaine and false oathes. Other, for which cutting off is not threatned, they hold the light. Maimony, tom. 1. treat. of repentance, ch. 1. f. 2.

shall doe] this also they restraine unto deeds or facts, saying: Every transgression, for the presumptuous doing whereof, men deserve cutting off, (as Num. 15.30.) they are bound for the ignorant doing thereof to bring a sinne-offring; except for three transgressions; 1. blasphemie, 2. neglect of circumcision, 3. and of the Passover. The passover, and circumcision, because they are commandements to be done; and they bring no Sin-offring, but for ignorant doing of that which should not be done, Lev. 4.2. And the blasphemer, because in him there is no deed: and it is sayd. FOR HIM THAT DOETH THROUGH IGNORANCE Numbers 15. 29. Therefore he that receiveth an idol-trous opinion of God, although he deserve to be cut off, if he doe it presumptuously, he is to be stoned, and if he receive it in ignorance, he is not bound to bring the sacrifice, because he hath not done any deed; and it is written, when he doth any one, &c. Maimony in Shegagoth, ch. 1. f. 2. Neither if a man were accused to have done any sinne, and he denyed it, was he bound to bring a sacrifice: If witnesses say, we saw thee, that thou didst worke on the Sabbath, or eat fat; and he say, I know certainly that I did not this thing: he is not bound (to bring) a Sinne-offring. Maimony, ibidem, c. 3. f. 1.

V. 3. anointed] that is, the High Priest; (as both Greek and Chaldee doe expound it:) for the high Priest onely, in the ages following was anointed; Lev. 21.10. and 16.32. Exod. 29.29. And this law concerneth his sin committed after his anointing onely: that which he doth before, is counted but as of a private man. The anointed Priest or the King, which sin before they be put into office, although it be not knowne unto them, till after they are in office; so they are as a private man. Maimony in Shegagoth, ch. 15. f. 10. Thus the Law (as the Apostle observeth) made men High Priests, which had infirmitie, who needed daily to offer up sacrifices, first for their owne sins, and then for the peoples: but our High Priest, Christ Iesus, was holy, harmlesse, undefiled, separate from sinners, and made higher then the heavens, Heb. 5. 2.3. and 7.26,27,28. Therefore the legall priesthood could not be perpetuall; but was a figure for the time, till the coming of our Lord Iesus. to the guiltie sin] here may be understood, according to the sin of the people, that is, he sinning like them. It may also be meant, that by his teaching, or practice, the people were caused to sin; as David was a guilty sin, that is, a cause of sin, to Israel, 1 Chron. 21.3. And this latter the Greeke version followeth, saying, so that the people sinne: and the old Latine expoundeth it, making the people to offend: and the Hebrewes, as Chazkuni, here openeth it, to make the people guiltie, in that he hath taught, and permitted them to doe a thing forbidden. Of this the Hebrew canons say, *If he that ignorantly erreth, in one of these &c. be a private man, he must bring a she goat, or an ewe lambe: and if it be the anointed Priest, he must bring a bullocke for a Sinne-offring. Whereby is meant, he is to bring a bullocke for his unadvisednesse, when he erreth by teaching himselfe, and doth a deed through unadvisednesse of his teaching onely; and is withall a very wise man, as is written, If the anointed Priest sin, to the guilty sinne of the people. Loe the Priest is as the Congregation. As the Congregation, that is, the Judges, are not bound to bring a sacrifice, unlesse they be wise men meet to teach, and do erre in teaching, and the doers doe it at their mouth, &c. so is the Priest, in all these things. If he erre in fact onely, without teaching, whether it be in idolatry or other finnes, he bringeth not the oblation. If the anointed Priest teach with the Synedrion, and both he and they erre in teaching, although they doe according to this teaching wherein they goe a stray: for as much as he relyed not in the time of the fact, upon his teaching onely, but upon the Synedrion also; he is discharged, and needs not bring a bullocke for himselfe, but when the Synedrion bringeth an oblation, atonement is made for him, with the congregation in generall. If he teach with the Synedrion, in error, and they sinne of ignorance, they in (eating) blood, and he in (eating) fat: then atonement is not made for him with the congregation, but he must bring a Bullocke for himselfe. Maimony, treat. of Ignorance, ch. 1. f. 4. and ch. 15. f. 1.3.*

4. 5. See after in the notes upon ver. 13, 14. a bullock] a greater sacrifice then the common persons, ver. 28. or then the Rulers, v. 12 and equall to the Congregation, v. 14. yongling] Hebr. son of the herd: see Lev. 1. 5. so after in ver. 14. perfect] without blemish, as Levit. 1. 3. therein figuring the perfection of Christ. a Sinne-offring] Hebrew, a Sinne: so called, because the sinne was confessed, and laid on the head of this sacrifice, offred for the sinner. Figuring Christ, whom God made sin for us, though he knew no sin, 2 Cor. 5. 21. The Apostle in Greeke tranlateth it, For sin, (Heb. 10. 6. from Psal. 40.) that is, an offring for sin. So after in this chapter and otherwhere, Exod. 29. 14.

4 Ver. 4. lay his hand] and confesse his sin which he hath sinned; as is noted on Levit. 1. 4.) so putting it upon the head of the beaft, Lev. 16. 21. and this should also be with repentance, and forsaking of the sin, Pro. 28. 13. and drawing neere with a true heart in assurance of faith in Christ, whom that sacrifice figured, Heb. 10. 4. 10. 22. Neither Reconciliation day, (Levit. 16.) nor Sin-offring, nor Trespass-offring, doe make atonement; saving for them that repent, and beleeve in their Atonement; saith Maimony, treat. of Ignorances, c. 3. l. 10. kill the bullocke] a figure of the death of Christ, Heb. 20. 5, 6, 8, 10. See the notes on Levit. 1. 5.

5 Ver. 5. anointed] in Greeke, Christ; in Hebrew, Messias: so named, as a type of our great high Priest Christ Jesus, who entred, not into the holy places made with hands, but into very heaven, not with the blood of goats or bullockes, but with his owne blood, and obtained eternall redemption, Heb. 9. 24. 11, 12. This anointed Priest, was the sinner himselfe, (for he offred up sacrifice for his owne finnes, Hebr. 7. 27.) The anointed Priests bullocke brought for any of the Commandements; the anointed Priest himselfe tooke the blood, and sprinkled thereof, &c. Maimony, treat. of offring the sacrifices, chap. 5. sect. 15.

6 Ver. 6. seven times] a mysticall number, signifying the full and perfect cleansing of sinne, by the sprinkling of the blood of Jesus, Hebr. 9. 13, 14. 1 Pet. 1. 2. 1 Joh. 1. 7. and that our sins need much purgation, Psal. 51. 2, 3. Seven is a complete number, used for the perfect finishing of a worke; as was in the seven daies of the Creation, Gen. 3. 2. 3. and is used for many, 1 Sam. 2. 5. Pro. 26. 25. and 24. 16. and in mysteries throughout the Scriptures, as the like seven times sprinkling of blood on atonement day, Lev. 16. 14. seven times sprinkling of oile upon the altar, when it was consecrated, Lev. 8. 11. seven times sprinkling of the leper, and seven daies for his cleansing, Lev. 14. 7, 9. seven daies for consecrating the Priests, Lev. 8. 35. and for purifying the unclean, Lev. 12. 2. Num. 19. 19. seven times Naaman washed him in Jordan, 2 King. 5. 10, 14. Seven daies was Iericho besieged, & seven Priests with seven trumpets blew, and the wals fell downe, Jos. 6. seven Priests blew trumpets before the Arke, when David brought it home, 1 Chro. 15. 24. The lambe (Christ) hath seven hornes, and seven eies, which are the 7 spirits of God, Rev. 5.

6. there also are seven seales on Gods Book, Rev. 5. 1. seven Angels with trumpets, Rev. 8. 2. and seven with vials, Rev. 15. 7. Every seventh day was a Sabbath, Exod. 20. 10. and the seventh yeare, a yeare of rest; & seven times seven yeares brought the Jubilee, Lev. 25. 3, 4, 8. Seven bullocks & seven rams were sanctified by David, 1 Chro. 15. 26. by Ezekias, 2 Chro. 29. 21. by Iob for his friends, Job 42. 8. & by Balaam, for K. Balak, upon seven altars, Num. 23. 1. 14. with many the like, as may be observed throughout the Bible, Ezek. 43. 25. and 39. 9, 12. Dan. 9. 24. And the mysterie of this number seven was observed also among other of the Heathens. To purifie my selfe, I wash me in the sea, dipping my head seven times in the waves; for the divine Pythagoras hath taught, that that number is most fit, especially in religion. L. Apuleij, de Asin. aur. l. 11. the veile of the holy place] Hebr. of holiness: which the Greek tranlateth, the holy veile. It was that which parted the holy place and the most holy, called the second veile, Heb. 9. 3. This figured the preparation of the way for us into the holy heavens, by the blood of Christ shed and sprinkled, to remission of sins: for, By the blood of Iesus, we may be bold to enter into the holy place, by the new and living way, which hee hath prepared for us, through the veile; that is, his flesh, Heb. 10. 19, 20. Moreover, these rites thus described in the Law, were exactly to be observed, as the Hebr. Doctors say, All the bloods that were to be bestowed within the Sanctuarie, if the e wanted any one of them, there was no atonement made: but all of them were of the foundation of the atonement: for soe the Scripture is careful of the very number, saying seven times. Blood which is commanded to be bestowed before the Lord, in the Sanctuarie, and they bestow it on the Altar that is without: or, that which should be on the Altar without, they bestow it before the Lord, within the Sanctuarie, &c. behold the flesh of the sacrifice is polluted; Maimony, treat. of holy things polluted, c. 2. l. 3, 10.

Ver. 7. of sweet spices] the Greeke tranlateth, of composition; it was the golden Altar, on which the sweet confection was burned, Exod. 30. 1, 34. &c. The bullockes that were burnt, &c. the blood of every one of them, was sprinkled seven times, upon the veile that divided betweene the holy place, and the most holy: and foure times, upon the foure hornes of the golden Altar. And all the bloods that were put upon the golden Altar, when (the Priest) entred in, he stood betweene the Altar and the Candlesticke, and the Altar before him. And he put (the blood) on the hornes of the Altar, on the outside: beginning at the North-east horne, and so to the North-west, and to the South-west, and to the South-east: Maimony, treat. of Offring the sacrifices, c. 5. l. 13, 14. This was done, to cleanse and sanctifie the Altar, from the uncleanness of the sinner; Levit. 16. 19. And the Altar of Incense, figuring Christs mediation for us when wee pray in his name, (as is shewed on Exo. 30. 6.) this rite here signified, how by faith in the blood of Christ, our prayers are acceptable unto God, and our infirmities forgiven and purged. It may also prefigure his bloody sweat, when hee prayed in the garden, Luke 22. 44. the bottome] or, foundation; in Greeke, the base. And the Sinne-offrings that that were burned, be brought in their blood before (the Lord) into the sanctuary, and sprinkled thereof, as is expressed in the Law: and the rest of the blood, be poured at the west bottom of the Altar that stood without: for that [west bottom] was the first that came to hand, after he came out of the Sanctuary, Maim. ibidem, chap. 5. sect. 11. It is recorded, that in the Temple at Jerusalem, there were at the south west horns of the Altar, two holes, like two nostrills, that the bloods which were poured there might passe away, into the brooke Kedron: Talmud Bab. in Midrash (or treat. of the measures of the Temple, chap. 3.

8 Ver[8. the fat] or, fat: see Levit. 3. 3-4. After the killing and sprinkling of the blood, they cut open (the Sinne-offrings,) and took out the fat and inwards, and put them in a vessell, and salted them, and strowed them on the fire, upon the Altar, Maimony, treat. of Offring the Sacrifices, chapter 7. sect. 2. Hereby it became a sweet savour unto the Lord, as after is said, in verse 31. For the burning of these fats and inwards upon the altar (which sanctified the oblations, Mat. 23. 19.) figured the purifying of our affections by Christ, through the Spirit, and by our communion with his afflictions: Coloss. 2. 12, 13. and 3. 15. Rom. 6. 4, 5, 6. 10, 11, 12. Psal. 16. 7.

11 Ver[11. the skin] to weat, cleaving to the flesh: for the sinne-offrings that were burned, were not stayed at all. But after they were caried out of the campe, they there cut them in peeces, like the peeces of the Burnt-offring, Levit. 1. 6. with their skin; and burned them there, in the place of the ashes, Maimony, treat. of Offring the sacrifices, c. 5. f. 18. and c. 7. f. 2.

12 Ver[12. he shall carry] in Greeke, they shall carie forth; so after, and they shall burne. without the campe] and after that they were seated in Canaan, and the Temple was in Jerusalem, they caried them out of the citie: (Maim. ibid. The like is after, for the sin-offring of the Church, v. 21. and upon expiation day, Lev. 16. 27. The mysterie hereof, both touching Christ the sacrifice, and us the sinners, Paul openeth thus: the bodies of those beasts, whose blood is brought into the sanctuary by the high priest for sin, are burnt without the campe, wherefore Iesus also, that he might sanctifie the people with his owne blood, suffered without the gate. Let us go forth therefore unto him, without the campe, bearing his reproach: for here have we no continuing citie, but we seeke one to come. Heb. 13. 11, 14. See after in the notes upon Lev. 6. 30.

at the pouring out] that is, as the Greeke explaineth it, where the ashes are poured out. So Christ was sacrificed at the place of skulls, or dead mens ashes, Ioh. 19. 17. and that was part of his reproach, (Heb. 13. 13.) which he suffered to take away our sins.

on wood] all that were burned without the court (of the sanctuary) any wood might serve for the burning of them: saith Maim. in treat. of Offring sacrifices. 7. f. 5. Compare herewith the notes on Lev. 1. 7.

burne] Hereby Christs suffering without Jerusalem gates was signified, and so the abolishing of sin, and reconciliation of the sinner unto God. Hebrewes 13. 12. and 10. 10. Rom. 5. 10. Therefore in the sacrifices here following, ver[20. 26. 31. forgiveness of sinnes is promised, which is also to be understood in this place. Howbeit the Hebrew Doctors observe the differences thus, that of this bullocke, and the goat for the Ruler, ver[26] it is not said, for a sweet savour, &c. because of the bullockes, a part is without (the sanctuary) for to remove away the unclean spirit: and in the sinne-offring of the anointed Priest, it is not mentioned that it shall be mercifully forgiven him; for he hath not yet full pardon, untill he make supplication unto his God, for he is the Angell of the Lord of hosts (Malac. 2. 7.) and he ought to be innocent and pure of hands, R. Menachem on Levit. 4. It is also here noted by Baal Hatturim, how the Law commandeth the Anointed Priest's oblation to be burnt openly without, at the pouring out of the ashes, that no man should be ashamed to confesse his sinne: for loe the high priest sinneth, and confesseth, and bringeth an oblation for his sinne.

13 Ver[13. all the congregation] This sheweth that the Church may erre. The Hebrew Doctors have here sundry observations, touching the Judges or Magistrates, which taught error, and the people that practised the same: saying, Every thing, for the ignorant sinne whereof men are bound to bring the sinne-offring appointed; if the great Session of Judges ignorantly sinne in the teaching thereof, and teach that it is lawfull; and the people sinne of ignorance by their teaching, and the people doe the thing, and reche upon their teaching. And afterward it is knowne to the Judges, that they have erred; loe the Judges are bound to bring the sinne-offring, for their ignorance in teaching, although they themselves have not done the thing, &c. and the rest of the people are discharged of the sinne-offring, although they were the doers of the thing, because they relyed on the Judges. Provided, that they which teach, be the great Senate of 72. Judges, and that the Chiefe of the Senate be with them when they teach it, and that they be all of them meet to teach, and that they all, or the most of them, erre in the thing which they teach; and that they teach it expressly, and say to the people, it is lawfull for you to doe it. Likewise if they which heare it from the mouth of the Judges, say unto others, it is lawfull for you to doe it, and all the Church, or most part thereof, doe it at their speech, and doe it ignorantly at their speech, thinking that the thing which they teach is according to law. And they teach to infringe some part, and to confirme some part, and not to abrogate the whole body (of the commandment,) and when it is knowne unto them, they know the body (or substance) of the thing whereof they taught through ignorance. When all these concur, the Judges are bound to bring the sinne-offring and be that doth the thing at their speech is discharged. But if there want any one of these things, then the Judges are discharged of the offring; and whosoever have sinned of ignorance, and done the deed, he brings the sinne-offring appointed for his ignorance. As for example. If the Judges say, this thing is lawfull: but teach it not to the people, nor say unto them, it is lawfull for you to doe it. And some man beareth, when they determine the thing to be lawfull, and doth and doth according as he hath heard: now who so doth it, is bound to bring the sinne-

sinne offering; and the Judges are free, because they say for them not expressly to do it. Likewise if they teach it, and the lesser part of the Church doe it at their word, and the error be knowne: now the Judges are discharged, and they that doe the thing are bound, and every one brings his sinne-offering, &c. If the Judges teach an unlawfull thing to be lawfull, presumptuously; and the Church doeth it at their mouth ignorantly, the Judges are discharged of the sacrifice, because they sinne presumptuously, and every one that did it at their mouth, is bound to bring a sacrifice for himselfe, because he sinned ignorantly. If the Judges teach it ignorantly, and the Church know that they erre, and that it is not meet to receive it of them, and yet the Church doe it at their mouth: now both of them are discharged of the sacrifice; the Judges are discharged, for the Church did it not because of their teaching which caused them to erre: and all the doers are discharged of the sacrifice, because they sinned presumptuously, for they knew that they erred, and that it was not meet so to doe. Maimony, treat. of Ignorances, ch. 12. and 13. sinne ignorantly] or, erre, of ignorance and inadvertence, not presumptuously; as ver. 2. So the Greeke here translateth it, be ignorant, or, doe ignorantly. the thing] Hebrew, the word be hid. This the Hebrewes understand of some part of a commandement, not of the whole, which cannot be hidden from the eyes of the Church. The Judges that sinne ignorantly, and teach to abrogate a substantiall-precept (or, body of a precept) of the substantiall-precepts of the law, and all the people doe it at their saying; the Judges are discharged; and every one of them that doe it, is bound to bring the sinne-offering appointed: as it is written, AND THE THING BE HID, and not the whole body of the precept. The Judges are never bound (to bring the sacrifice) till they teach to abolish a part, and to confirm a part of the things which are not expressed in the law, and explained. Afterwards, the Judges are bound to bring the sacrifice; and they that doe it at their saying, are discharged. As, if they teach that it is lawfull to worship idols, &c. loe it is as if they should say, there is no idolatry (forbidden) in the law; which abrogateth the whole body (of the commandement;) and this and the like is not ignorance in teaching, but forgetfulness. Therefore they are discharged of the sacrifice; and who so doeth it at their saying, he is bound to bring the sacrifice for himselfe. But if they erre, and teach, saying, be that prostrate himselfe to idols, &c. is guilty, for it is said thereof, thou shalt not prostrate thy selfe to another God; but be that bendeth towards the ground, and prostrateth not, that is lawfull; now they are bound (to bring the sacrifice) And so in all the like cases, if they teach, and the most part of the Church doe it at their saying, these are discharged, and the Judges bring the sacrifice for their ignorance. Maimony in Stegagoib. c. 14. are guilty] or, doe offend, sinne, trespasse unto guiltinesse. See Levit. 5. 3. 6.

14 Ver. 14. against it] or, as the Greeke translateth, in it. So the Hebrew word ghal sometime signifieth, as in Exod. 29. 3. Esay 38. 20. the church] or, the assembly: in Hebrew, kahal; whence the Greeke word ekklēsia, (a church) is derived. This the Hebrew Doctors understand, not onely for the twelve tribes of Israel, but for every tribe, which is called (kahal) a Church, as it is written, (in 2 Chron. 20. 5.) Iehoshaphat stood in the Church (or assembly) of Iudah. And from this law they say, Every Tribe was to bring a Bullocke for a sinne-offering; in all twelve Bullockes. And, whether all the Israelites in the land, did the thing, at the saying of the Judges teaching them; or the most of Israel did it, though they were the least number of the Tribes; or, the most of the Tribes did it, though they were the least of all Israel; they brought according to the number of all the Tribes, a bullocke for every Tribe. As, if the Inhabitants of the Land of Israel were 600000 and one, and they that did (the sin) by the teaching of the Judges, were 300000 and one; and all of them of the Tribe of Iudah only: Or, if they that did it, were all of them the children of seven Tribes, though they were but 300000. the Judges were bound (to bring the sacrifice, &c. And the Tribe of Manasses and of Ephraim, were not counted as two Tribes, in this business, but both for one Tribe. Maimony treat. of Ignor. chap. 12. sect. 1. and chap. 13. sect. 2. It is also observed by them, that All the sacrifices of the Church, were either Burnt-offerings, or Sinne-offerings: and among the sacrifices of the Congregation there were no Peace-offerings, save the two Lambs that were brought with the moved loaves, at the solemn assembly, (Levit. 23. 19.) and they were called the Peace-offerings of the Congregation. And the Church never offered a trespass-offering, nor any Bird. Maimony treat. of offering sacrifices, chap. 1. sect. 4. a Bullocke] In 15. Num. 15. 24. the law appointeth a Bullocke for a burnt-offering, and an bee Goat for a sinne-offering, when the Congregation ignorantly sinneth: and here, it commandeth a Bullocke for a sinne-offering onely. The Hebrewes reconcile these Lawes thus: What is the offering they bring for this ignorance? If it be concerning Idolatry that they (the Judges) ignorantly sinne and teach it; they bring a Bullocke for a Burnt-offering, and an bee-goat for a sinne-offering, for every Tribe; and this is the offering spoken of in Num. 15. 24. which by word of mouth hath become rite, to be spoken of ignorantly sinning by Idolatry. But if it be concerning any other transgressions that they ignorantly offend and teach, for the ignorant doing whereof they are bound to bring the appointed sacrifice; then every Tribe bringeth a Bullocke for a sinne-offering; and this is that spoken of in Levit. 4. 13. 14. Maimony treat. of ignorances, chap. 12. sect. 1. Others doe accord these Lawes thus, that this here is meant of the sinne of all Israel joyntly; and that in Num. 15. is meant of particular assemblies or synagogues, as they were distinct by their dwellings in Canaan. But I observe another difference, how this in Levit. 4. 13. speaketh of doing some one of all the commandements which should not be done: that, in Num. 15. 22. speaketh of not doing all the commandements, which the Lord had spoken by Moses.

Ver. 15. lay their hands] There is no laying on of hands, upon the offerings of the Congregation, but upon two; viz. upon the scape Goat, (Levit. 16. 21.) and upon the Bullocke for the thing bid from the eyes of the Church, (Lev. 4. 13. 15.) Upon is three of the Synedion, doe lay their hands. Maimony treat. of offering sacrifices, chap. 3. sect. 10. See also the Notes on Levit. 1. 4. It figured their faith in Christ, upon whom God would would lay the iniquitie of us all, Esay 53.6. and so would not impute their trespasser unto them, 2 Cor. 5.19. he that is, the Priest, or Levite shall kill: he: Levit. 1.5.

16 Ver. 16. anointed] that is, as the Chaldee expoundeth it, the chiefe Priest: in Greeke, Christ, that is, Anointed: a figure of our Lord Christ.

17 Ver. 17. seventimes] signifying a full purgation: see the notes on ver. 6. &c. For, the things done to the sacrifice of the high Priest, the same were done to the Congregations.

20 Ver. 20. the sinne-offring] in Greeke, the Sinne: meaning the sacrifice which was for the high Priests sinne, ver. 8. &c. the first Bullocke, as it is called in ver. 21. it shall] that is, as the Gr. translateth, the sinne shall be forgiven them.

21 Ver. 21. he shall carry] in Greeke, they shall carry out the whole Bullocke: as ver. 12.

22 Ver. 22. the Ruler] or, the Prince; in Hebrew, Nesi, that is, one Preferred, or Advanced above others; or one that lifteth up and easeth the burdens of the people, by governing them; as Num. 11.17. Exod. 18.22. It is a common name, both to inferiour Rulers Num. 16.2. Exod. 16.22. and to the chiefe, as the King, Ezek. 34.24. and 38.2. and 45.7. The Hebrew Doctors understand this law, of the later, saying, Who is the Ruler spoken of in the Law? It is the King, over whom, no man of Israel hath power; neither is any about him in his kingdom, but the Lord his God. Whether he be of Davids house, or of the other Tribes of Israel. And if there bee many Kings, and one of them doe not serve another, every one of them brings an Hee Goat for his sinne of Ignorance. Maimony treat. of Ignorances, chap. 15. sect. 6. So in Ezek. 46.2.4. &c. the offerings of the Prince are distinct from those of the people of the Land.

through Ignorance] or, by error: in Greeke, unwillingly: as in ver. 2.

23 Ver. 23. Or if] the Greeke translateth it, And his sinne be knowne, &c. so in ver. 28. But though Or, bee sometimes used for And, or If: yet here it may be used properly, meaning, if his sinne be knowne of himselfe, or bee made knowne to him by others. So Chazkuni explaineth it, And is guilty, that he knoweth it of himselfe: or it be made knowne unto him, by the means of others. This is for his own particular sinne, which he doth when he is a Ruler. For, the Ruler that doeth with the Congregation, by the teaching of the Judges, atonement is made for him, as for the pe ple generally. If the Judges bee they that offer for their Ignorances, all the people and the King are discharged from bringing the Sacrifice as is before shewed. And if they that doe it at the saying of the Judges, bee bound to bring the sacrifice, and the King be one of the doers, then hee brings an Hee Goat: for the Ruler's Hee Goat, is in place of the Ewe Lambe, or Shee Goat of the common person. Maimony treat. of Ignorances, ch. 15. sect. 8. his oblation] in Greeke, his gift.

24 Ver. 24. killeth the burnt offering] that is, on the north side of the Altar: see Levit. 1. 11. The Greeke translateth, where they kill (that is, use to kill) the Burnt-offerings.

25 Ver. 25. of burnt-offering] herein it differed from the former of the high Priest, and Church, whose blood was carried into the Sanctuarie, and put on the horns of the altar of Incense, ver. 7. 18. The Sin-offrings that were eaten (as they were, whose blood was not carried into the Sanctuarie, Levit. 6. 26. 30.) their blood was to be put on the foure hornes of the Altar that stood without, from the midst of the Altar and upward. When the Priest tooke the blood in a bason, hee carried it to the Altar, and dipped the fore finger of his right hand in the blood, and put it upon the borne: and so hee did to every borne. And hee was bound to dip his finger at every borne. And when hee had made an end of putting it upon the borne, hee wiped his finger on the edge of the bason; and after that, hee dipped the second time: for the blood that remained upon his finger, it was not lawfull to put thereof upon another borne. Of all the sacrifices, not any ones blood was to be sprinkled with the finger, but of the Sinne-offring onely. And thus hee began; hee went up on the foot-banke, and turned on his right hand and went round about; and put upon the South-east borne first: after that, upon the next borne, which was the North-east; then upon the North-west; and after that, upon the South-west. And at the bottome of that borne, where hee made an end of striking on the blood, hee poured out the residue of the blood, which was at the Southerne bottome. Maimony, treat. of offering the sacrifices, ch. 5. sect. 7, 8, 9, 10. pours his blood] in Greeke, pours all his blood: meaning all which remaineth after the sprinkling. So in ver. 30. Moses saith, All the blood, likewise in ver. 34. which is to be understood here.

Ver. 27. one soule] in Chaldee, one man: meaning man or woman, as Numb. 5. 6. people of the Land] that is, of the common people, except onely the high Priest, and Prince fore-mentioned: any either Israelite, common Priest, or Levite: as Aben Ezra explaineth it. one] The sacrifice here following, is for any one sinne: if many finnes be committed at once, there must, by proportion, so many Sin-offrings be brought: as likewise the Hebrew Doctors explaine, in the foresaid Treat. of Ignorances, chap. 4. where also they say, for example; Hee that killeth a beast of the holy things, out of the court-yard of the Sanctuarie, on the Sabbath day, in the service of a false god, he is bound to bring three sacrifices; because hee killed the holy things out of the Court: and because hee profaned the Sabbath; and because hee committed idolatry: for here three unlawfull things are done in one.

Ver. 28. a shee-goat] This is the sacrifice appointed of God, which therefore the sinner might not alter, or bring any other in stead thereof: though for some other sins, if he were poore, and not able, he might bring a lesser sacrifice, Lev. 5. 7, 11. The Hebrews have this rule; All sins that deserve cutting off by the Law; except those three before-mentioned, [and shewed in the notes on ver. 2.] if a particular person transgresse in any of them, through ignorance, he is to bring the Sin-offring appointed: except the unclean person that eateth of the holy thing; and the unclean person that cometh into the Sanctuarie; both of them doe not bring the Sinne-offring appointed, but the oblation mentioned in Levit. 5. 7, 11. a shee-beast, if he be rich; and two doves, or flowre, if he be

perfect] without blemish: see Levit. 1. 3.

which he hath sinned] and not for any other of his finnes: as, he that separateth a Sinne offering for fat which he hath eaten, may not bring the same for the Sabbath which he hath polluted, or for blood which he hath eaten, &c. for then it is unlawfull. Yea more then this (they say) he that separateth his Sinne offering for fat which he did eat yester day, may not bring it for fat which he did eat this day: and if he bring so, it makes no atonement for him. Maimony treat. of Ignorances, chap. 3. sect. 3. If he bring two Sinne-offerings for two finnes: the one is to be killed in the name of the first sinne; and the other, in the name of the second sinne. Ibid. f. 6.

39 Ver. 29 his hand] with confession of his sinne:
see Levit. 1. 4. the Sinne-offring] in Greeke, the head of his sinne: that is, his sacrifice. he shall] that is, the Priest or Levite shall kill: Greeke, they shall kill the Goat of sinne, that is, the goat to be sacrificed for sin. See Levit. 1. 5.

30 Ver. 30. the hornes] the foure hornes of the Altar, after the manner before described on v. 25.

31 Ver. 31. of rest] Greeke, of sweet smell: the Chaldee explaineth it, to be accepted with favour: see the notes on Lev. 1. 9.

32 Ver. 32. a Lambe] or, sleepe. This sacrifice is spoken of, apart from the former of the goat, because of the difference in the fat which was burned; as is shewed in the annotations on Lev. 3. 12.

33 Ver. 33. he shall kill] in Greeke, they shall kill it for sinne, that is, for a sinne-offring: which Sol.
La. chi expoundeth, that the killing be by the name of a sinne-offring. All these perfect unblemished sacrifices, for the finnes of the people, figured Christ
the lambe without blemish and without spot, 1 Pet. 1. 19.
the Lambe of God, which taketh away the sinne of the world, John 1. 29. who once suffered for finnes, the just for the unjust that he might bring us to God, 1 Peter 3. 18. For he made him who knew no sinne, to be sinne for us, that we might be made the righteousness of God in him, 2 Cor. 5. 21.

35 Ver. 35. according to] or, upon, or with Jehovahs Fire-offerings: which the Greeke translateth, upon the Lords Burnt-offring. For the daily Burnt-offring was first offred to the Lord; and other sacrifices after, and as it were upon the same. But it may be referred to the fat of the Peace-offrings, Levit. 3.
according to which, the fat of the sinne-offring was to be burnt. As for the flesh or bodies of this and the former Sinne-offring of the Prince, they were not burnt without the host, (as the High Priests and Churches were) but eaten by the Priests; as is commanded in Lev. 6. 26. - 30.

CHAP. V.

1, He that sinneth, in concealing his knowledge, when he heareth an adjuration: 2, When he hath touched an uncleane thing, or person, 4, or in making an oath:
6, His Trespasse-offring, of the flocke, 7, or of fowles, 11, or of fowle. 14, The Trespasse-offring in sacri-
leges, 17, and in finnes of ignorance not knowne.

AND a soule when it shall sin, and heare 1
the voice of an adjuration; and he is a witaesse; whether he hath seene, or knowne of it: if he doe not utter it, then he shall beare his iniquitie. Or a soule, that shall 2 touch, any uncleane thing; either the carkasse of an uncleane wild-beast; or the carkasse of unclean cattell, or the carkasse of an unclean creeping-thing: and it be hidden from him;
and he is uncleane, and is guiltie. Or when 3
he shall touch, the uncleanness of man; according to all his uncleanness, that he shall be uncleane withall: and it be hidden from him; and he knoweth of it, and is guiltie.
Or a soule, when it shall sweare, pronoun- 4
cing with the lips to doe evill, or to doe
good; according to all that a man shall pronounce, with an oath, and it be hidden from him: and he knoweth of it, and is guiltie, in one of these. Then it shall be, when hee is 5
guiltie in one of these: that he shall confesse, that he hath sinned, concerning it. And he 6 shall bring his Trespasse-offring unto Jehovah, for his sin which he hath sinned; a female from the flock, a lambe, or a she-goat of the goats, for a sin-offring: & the Priest shall make an atonement for him, concerning his sin.

And if his hand reach not to the sufficien- 7
cie of a lambe; then he shall bring for his trespasse which he hath sinned, two turtle-doves, or two yong pigeons, unto Jehovah:
one for a Sin-offring, and one for a Burnt- 8 offring. And he shall bring them unto the Priest; and he shall offer, that which is for the Sin-offring, first: and he shall cut-with-his-naile the head thereof, over-against the neck thereof, and shall not divide it asunder.
And he shall sprinkle of the blood of the 9 Sin-offring, upon the side of the Altar; and the rest of the blood, shall be wrung-out, at the bottome of the Altar: it is a Sin-offring.
And the second, he shall make a burnt-of- 10
fring, according to the manner: and the Priest shall make an atonement for him, for his sinne which he hath sinned, and it shall be mercifully forgiven him.

And if his hand attaine not to two turtle- 11
doves, or to two yong pigeons; then he that sinned, shall bring for his oblation, the tenth-part of an Ephah, of fine-flowre, for a sin offring: he shall not put upon it, oile; neither shall he give upon it, frankincense; for it, is a 12 Sinne-offring. And hee shall bring it, unto the Priest; and the Priest shall take his hand full of it, a memoriall thereof, and shall burne
it on the Altar, according to Jehovahs Fireofferings:

- 13 offerings: it is a Sinne-offring. And the Priest shall make-an-atonement for him, for his sin which he hath sinned, in one of these; and it shall be mercifully-forgiven him: and it shall be the Priests, as the Meat-offring.
- 14 And Iehovah spake unto Moses, saying.
- 15 A soule, when it shall transgresse a transgression; and sinne through ignorance, in the holy things of Iehovah: then he shall bring his trespasse unto Iehovah, a Ram perfect out of the flocke, with thy estimation, of silver shekels, after the shekell of the Sanctuary, for a Trespasse-offring. And that which he hath sinned, concerning the holy-thing, he shall pay; and the fifth part thereof he shall adde thereunto, and give it unto the Priest: and the Priest shall make-atonement for him, with the Ram of the Trespasse-offring; and it shall be mercifully-forgiven him.
- 17 And a soule, when it shall sinne; and doe any one of all the commandements of Iehovah, which should not be done: though he know it not, yet is he guilty, and shall beare his iniquity. And he shall bring a ram perfect out of the flocke, with thy estimation for a Trespasse-offring, unto the Priest: and the Priest shall make-an-atonement for him, for his ignorance which he ignorantly committed, and he knew it not; and it shall be mercifully-forgiven him. It is a Trespasse-offring: trespassing he hath trespassed, against Iehovah.

1 A Soule] that is, any person, or a man, as the Chaldee translateth it. And Moses in v. 15. and 17. saying, when a soule sinneth, he shall bring, &c. sheweth a man to be meant hereby. Though under the man the woman also is comprehended, as in Num. 5. 6. touching which the Hebrew Canons say, All sacrifices that a woman is bound to offer, her husband bringeth them by her hand: if he be poore, he brings the poore mans oblation, and if he be rich, he brings by her hand, the rich mans oblation. Maimony, treat. of Ignorances, c. 10. sect. 6. These Trespasse-offerings here following, were for sinnes of lesse importance; as omission of some duties, and not observing the legall washings and purifications, &c. whereas the sinne-offrings in chapter 4. were for greater offences, in doing things forbidden of God. Therefore the oblations for these trespasses, were made lesse, if the sinner were poore, Lev. 5. 7. 11. which in the former Sinne-offrings were never lessened, Levit. 4. an adjuration] or, execration, oath, or curse; of which word, see the notes of Gen. 24. 41. The Greeke here also translateth it, adjuration (or execution of an oath:) when one by oath or curse is charged to speake if he know; as Iudg. 17. 2. Prov. 29. 24. 1 King. 8. 31. An example of such adjuration we have in Matt. 26. 63. where the high Priest said unto Iesus, I adjure thee by the living God, that thou tell us, whether thou be the Christ the sonne of God. Unto that adjuration Iesus gave an answer. and confessed it; whereas before, he held his peace. So the Apostle saith, I adjure you by the Lord, that this Epistle be read unto all the holy brethren, 1 Thess. 5. 27. And by the Hebrew Canons, *whether a man sweare by his owne mouth, or be adjured by the mouth of others, and he answer Amen, though he that adjured him were an infidell, or a child, he is bound. For who so answereth Amen after an oath, is as if he uttered the oath with his owne mouth. And whether he answer Amen, or speake a word of like meaning, as if he say yes, or I am bound, or doe take upon me this oath; or any the like, in any language: he is as a sworne man for any matter, whether he be (for sinning therein) to be beaten, or to bring an oblation. Whether he sweare or be adjured by Gods proper name, or by any of his titles: as that he sweare by him whose name is Gracious, or Mercifull, or Long-suffering, or any the like, in any tongue: it is a full oath. And so an execration, and a curse, is an oath. Maimony, tom. 3. in Shebuth (or treat. of Oathes,) chap. 2. sect. 1. 2. Accordingly the Evangelists set downe these two as one, the Sonne of God; Matth. 26. 63. and, the Sonne of the Blessed, Marke 14. 61.*

witnesse] The Hebrewes say, there are severall kinds of oaths; the oath of pronouncing a thing, [whereof see verse 4.] and vaine (or rash) oaths [forbidden in Exod. 20. 7.] the oath concerning that which was delivered to keepe, [whereof see Levit. 6. 2. 3.] and the oath of witnesse; here spoken of. Which they explaine thus; as when witnesse can give testimony concerning goods, and the owner requireth them to witnesse, and they deny that they can give testimony, and sweare that they cannot, &c. for such an oath, they are bound to bring the sacrifice, here appointed, verse 6. &c. Maimony treat. of Oathes, ch. 1. sect. 1. 12. not utter] or, not sweare, declare, tell it. And this may be, though a man be not particularly called forth to witnesse: as the Hebrewes say, if the party that requireth testimony, doe say; I adjure all that stand here, if they can witnesse for me, that they come and beare witnesse: if there be any witnesses among them all, and they deny (or dissemble) it, they are guilty of the oath of testimony. Maimony, treat. of oathes, chap. 9. sect. 9. his iniquity] that is, the punishment of his iniquity, if he repent not, and be reconciled by sacrifice; as the like is said in Lev. 19. 8. and 20. 17. where such as beare their iniquity, are threatned to be cut off. It may also be englished thus, if he utter, (or shew) it not, and beareth his iniquity, that is, is subject to the wrath of God. So in ver. 16.

Ver. 2. carcase] which who so touched, was by the law uncleane, Levit. 11. 8. 31. it be hidden] that is, the uncleanness be hidden from him, as Sol. Iarchi expoundeth it. is uncleane] that is, afterward knoweth himselfe to be uncleane; as the explanation in ver. 3. seemeth to manifest. is guilty] or, trespasseth, sinneth; for of this Hebrew word Aschem, the sacrifice appointed for it, is called Aschem, Asham, in v. 6. that is, a Trespass-offring, or Guilt-offring. But what sin or guiltinesse was upon a man, for touching an uncleane carcase? And seeing the Law maketh such uncleane but till evening, Lev. 11. 24, 31. when washing themselves and their clothes, they were cleane, and for uncleannesse by a dead man, the sprinkling water cleansed them, Numb. 19. 16, 17, 18, 19. wherefore is here confessing of sin, and a trespass-offring required, in v. 5, 6. The Hebrew doctors say, this is meant, for an uncleane person, who when he was uncleane, came into the Sanctuary, or did eat of an holy thing, ignorantly. For it is expressly said, (in Lev. 7. 20, 21.) If any eat of the flesh of the Peace-offrings of the Lord, having his uncleannesse upon him, the same person shall be cut off, &c. And of comming into the Sanctuary, it is said, (in Num. 19. 20.) that soule shall be cut off from among the Church, because he hath defiled the Sanctuary of the Lord. And when the Law condemneth men to be cut off, for defiling the Sanctuary, and holy things thereof, [to wett presumptuously] it implieth the sacrifice which they are to bring, for the ignorant doing thereof. Maim. treat. of Ignorances, c. 10. f. 1, 5. And thus Sol. Jarchi also expoundeth it; is guiltie, for eating of the holy thing, or for comming into the Sanctuary. These things figured the pollutions which men have, not only by sins proceeding originally from themselves, but by partaking also with other mens sins, 1 Tim. 5. 22. 2 Cor. 6. 17. from which we are to be cleansed by the sacrifice and death of Christ.

3 V. 3. according to all] or, as the Gr. translateth it, of all (or of any) his uncleannesse: which might be sundry waies, as the Law after sheweth, in the 12, 13, 14, and 15. chap. of this book. shall be unclean withall] by touching it, as the Gr. explaineth it, which when he toucheth he is defiled. and he knoweth] to wett, if afterward by some means it be manifested. This the Gr. version plainly sheweth, saying, and after this he knoweth of it. And herein it differeth from another case, following v. 17. which he knew not: whereupon two sorts of trespass-offrings are appointed: for this which he knew, a female lambe, or a lesser sacrifice, if he were poore, v. 6, 7. &c. for that which he knew not, a ram, v. 18. Of which difference, more is spoken hereafter. It may also be translated, whether it be hidden from him, or he know of it. Howbeit, of this matter of uncleannesse, the Hebr. canons say; The case of ignorance, about defiling the Sanctuary and holy things, differeth from the case of other sins that deserve cutting off. For all such sins, when one hath ignorantly done them, and it be knowne unto him in the end, that he hath sinned; although he had no knowledge of it in the beginning, yet he is bound to bring a Sin-offring: but for defiling the Sanctuary and holy things, he brings not the offering which is lesse, if the man be poore, (Lev. 5. 7, 11.) unlesse he have knowledge of the uncleannesse, and knowledge of the holy thing, or of the Sanctuary, in the beginning. And the knowledge of the uncleannesse, and knowledge of the holy thing, or of the Sanctuary, in the end; and it be hid from him betwene both. As, a man is uncleane, and eateth of a holy thing, &c. and afterwards it is knowne unto him that he is uncleane, and was uncleane when he did eat; and that it was a holy thing which he did eat. Lo, he is not bound to bring a sacrifice, unlesse he knew that he was uncleane, and that the thing was holy, before he did eat. As a man is uncleane, and knows that he is uncleane, and knows that the thing is holy. And afterwards the uncleannesse is hidden from him, and he forgets that he is uncleane, and eateth of the holy thing, and knows that it is a holy thing; or he erreth, and forgetteth that the thing is holy, but knows himselfe to be uncleane, and eateth. Or if he erre, or forget, both that he is uncleane, and that the thing is holy, and so eateth: afterwards the things are knowne to him, which were hidden from him: loe now he must bring the sacrifice here appointed; which is lessened if the man be poore. The reason of this exposition, is, for that concerning other ignorances, it is said, (in Lev. 4. 27, 28.) while he doth some one of the commandments of the Lord, which should not be done, and be guilty; or if his sin be made knowne unto him, which he hath sinned. When he knoweth it in the end, although he knew it not in the beginning. But concerning the uncleannesse of the Sanctuary and holy things, it is said, and it be hidden from him, and he knoweth of it, and is guiltie. (Lev. 5. 3.) &c. Maim. treat. of Ignorances, c. 11. f. 1. &c. So in the Chaldee paraphrase called Jonathans, this Scripture is thus interpreted, and it be hid from him, and he touch any holy thing, and afterwards it be revealed unto him, and he knoweth it, &c. is guiltie] or, is a trespasser, sinneth: as Sol. Jarchi againe saith, by eating of the holy things, or comming into the Sanctuary.

V. 4. a soule] in Chaldee, a man when he shall sweare, pronouncing] distinctly uttering. This is that which the Jewes call the oath of Pronunciation, (as is noted before on ver. 1.) and of it they make foure particulars, two of things to come, and two of things past: as when one sweares of a thing past, that it was done, or it was not done; and of a thing to come, that he will do it, or he will not do it. And no oath of Pronunciation is to be used, but for things possible for him to do, whether to come or past. He that sweareth any of these foure oaths, and the thing be otherwise; as, he that sweareth that hee will not eat, and he eateth; or that he will eat, and he eateth not; or that he hath eaten, when he eateth not; or hath not eaten, when he hath; loe, this is a false oath; and of this and such like, it is said, ye shall not sweare by my name falsely, (Lev. 19. 12.) And if he sweare falsely, of presumption, he is to be beaten: if of ignorance, then hee brings the sacrifices here appointed. Maimony, treat. of Oathes, chap. 1. sect. 1, 2, 3. to doe evil, &c.] This the Hebrew Doctors understand of thing in a mans power, to doe if hee will, or to leave undone if hee will. Therefore, hee that sweareth to doe evil to others, (as to smite his neighbour, &c.) this is not an oath of Pronunciation, because hee is commanded not to doe it; but it seemeth to be a vaine (or rash) oath. If he sweare to his owne evil and hurt, though hee should not so doe, his oath remaines upon him: and if he doe it not, he is guiltie of the oath of Pronunciation. If he sweare to doe good to others, the good which is in his power to doe, the oath remaines upon him, if he doe it not, he is guiltie of this oath. And, whosoever sweareth to break a commandment, and breaks it not, he is not guiltie of this oath of Pronunciation, but is to be beaten as for a vaine (or rash) oath, &c. is to observe the commandment which he sware to break. If one sweare that he will not sleepe or eat for 7. daies, or the like vaine oath, they must not bid him watch, or fast so long as he is able to indure, and afterward to sleepe or eat: but he is to be bea-

13 offerings: it is a Sinne-offring. And the Priest shall make-an-atonement for him, for his sin which he hath sinned, in one of these; and it shall be mercifully-forgiven him: and it shall be the Priests, as the Meat-offring.

15 A soule, when it shall transgresse a transgression; and sinne through ignorance, in the holy things of Iehovah: then he shall bring his trespass unto Iehovah, a Ram perfect out of the flocke, with thy estimation, of silver shekels, after the shekell of the Sanctuary, for a Trespasse-offring. And that which he hath sinned, concerning the holy-thing, he shall pay; and the fifth part thereof he shall adde thereunto, and give it unto the Priest: and the Priest shall make-atonement for him, with the Ram of the Trespasse-offring; and it shall be mercifully-forgiven him.

This is that which the Jewes call the oath of Pronunciation, (as is noted before on ver. 1.) and of it they make foure particulars, two of things to come, and two of things past: as when one sweares of a thing past, that it was done, or it was not done; and of a thing to come, that he will doe it, or he will not doe it. And no oath of Pronunciation is to be used, but for things possible for him to doe, whether to come or past. He that sweareth any of these foure oaths, and the thing be otherwise; as, hee that sweareth that hee will not eat, and he eateth; or that he will eat, and he eateth not; or that he hath eaten, when he eateth not; or hath not eaten, when he hath; lo, this is a false oath; and of this and such like, it is said, ye shall not sweare by my name falsly, (Lev. 19. 12.) And if he sweare falsly, of presumption, he is to be beaten: if of ignorance, then hee brings the sacrifices here appointed. Maimony, treat. of Oathes, chap. 1. sect. 1, 2, 3. to doe evill, &c.] This the Hebrew Doctors understand of thing in a mans power, to doe if hee will, or to leave undone if hee will. Therefore, hee that sweareth to doe evill to others, (as to smite his neighbour, &c.) it is not an oath of Pronunciation, because hee is commanded not to doe it; but it seemeth to be a vaine (or rash) oath. If he sweare to his owne evill and hurt, though hee should not so doe, his oath remaines upon him: and if he doe it not, he is guiltie of the oath of Pronunciation. If he sweare to doe good to others, the good which is in his power to doe; the oath remaines upon him, if he doe it not, he is guiltie of this oath. And, whosoever sweareth to break a commandment, and breaks it not, he is not guiltie of this oath of Pronunciation, but is to be beaten as for a vaine (or rash) oath, & is to observe the commandment which he sweare to breake. If one sweare that he will not sleepe or eat for 7. daies, or the like vaine oath, they must not bid him watch, or fast so long as he is able to indure, and afterward to sleepe or eat: but he is to be be-ten out of hand for his rash oath; and so may sleepe or eate when he pleaseth. Maimony, treat. of Oathes, chap. 5. sect. 14. &c. Compare herewith, Psa. 15. 4. He that sweareth to doe evil, (that is, to his owne hurt) and changeeth not, &c. it be hidden from him] that he hath transgressed against his oath, saith Sol. Iarchi, on Levit. 5. And Targum Jonathan explaineth it, and he hath falsified (his oath) and it be hidden from him, and after that he hath transgressed, it be revealed unto him, and he know that he hath falsified it, &c. is guiltie] or, trespasseth: in Greek, sinneith, to weete, in breaking or falsifying ignorantly, that oath which he hath pronounced; or in any of the other three cases fore-propounded.

5 Ver. 5. in one of these] in one of these foure, saith Targum Jonathan; meaning the foure sins mentioned in the 1, 2, 3, 4. verses before. shall confesse] laying his hands on the head of the sacrifice, and confessing the iniquitie of his trespass; as is noted on Levit. 1. 4. And so other rites were performed according to the manner of the linne-offring in chap. 4. The trespass-offrings, &c. were killed, and their blood sprinkled, as is before declared. Then they were flayed, the fat and inward taken out, and salted, and strewed on the fire (upon the Altar.) And the residue of their flesh, was eaten by the males of the Priests, in the court, like the sin-offrings. Maimony, treat. of Offring the sacrifices, chap. 9. sect. 1. And touching this confession, they say; The owners of the sinne or trespass-offrings, when they bring their sacrifices, &c. Atonement is not made for them thereby, untill they repent, and confesse with word of mouth, &c. And so hee that is in his neighbours danger, and hath done him damage in his goods; although he payeth him all that he oweth him: Atonement there is none, untill he confesse, and turne away from doing the like again for ever. Mai. tom. 1. treat. of Repentance, c. 1. f. 1. See the notes on Num. 5. 7.

6 Ver. 6. Trespass-offring] or, Guilt-offring: in Hebrew, Asham, that is, Guiltinesse or Trespass; as the Sin-offring, in ch. 4. was for sin (as the words here following manifest) and is likewise called a Sin-offring. And as the former, so this figured out the sacrifice of Christ for our sins; of whom it is prophesied, that his soule should be made an Asham, an offering for trespass, (or, for sin, as the Greek translateth it) Esa. 53. 10. which he hath sinned] and respect must be had in the sacrificing, unto that particular sin which was committed, that atonement might be made for it. Hee that killeth a Sin-offring, or a Trespass-offring, it is necessarie that his cogitation be on that Sinne by name, which (the sacrifice) is brought for. Maim. treat. of Offring the sacrifices, ch. 4. sect. 21. These things taught a speciall care that men should have of their waies, an examination of their owne sins, a particular repentance, sorrow, and sacrifice of a contrite heart, with faith in Christ (whom the trespass-offring figured) even for their least transgressions; that so judging themselves, they may not be judged of the Lord, 1 Cor. 11. 31. Ezek. 20. 43. Lam. 3. 40. 2 Cor. 7. 11.

7 Ver. 7. his hand reach not] that is, he be not able enough to bring a lambe: thus God provided for the poorer sort. This is that sacrifice which the Hebrewes call Gnoleh vajored: that is, Ascending and descending, (Talmud. Bab. in Cerethorb, ch. 2.) because it ascendeth, or is greater, if the sinner be rich; and descendeth, or is lesser, if he be poore. And they observe, that Sixe are commanded to offer the oblation Gnoleh vajored (greater or lesser:) The Leper at his cleansing, (Levit. 14. 21. &c.) The woman after child-birth, (Levit. 12. 8.) Hee that sweareth the oath of testimonie, (Lev. 5. 1.) Hee that sweareth the oath of pronunciation, falsely through ignorance, Levit. 5. 4.) The unclean person that eateth of the holy things ignorantly; and the unclean that cometh into the Sanctuary ignorantly, (Levit. 5. 2, 3.) Maimony, treat. of Ignorances, ch. 1. sect. 1. In these kinde of sacrifices, the High Priest, or the King, was not charged to bring a greater, as they were in the Sin-offring, Levit. 4. 3. 23. but the offering fell lower for the poore, even to a pottle of flowre, v. 11. The King and the anointed Priest, brought their offering for the oath of witness, or for the oath of pronunciation, or for defiling the Sanctuary and holy things thereof, as other private persons. For the Scripture puts no difference betwene the offering of the King, Priest or private man, save in the sin-offrings, appointed for their Ignorances, (Levit. 4.) Maimony, treat. of Ignorances, chap. 10. sect. 7.

turtle-doves] see the notes on Levit. 1. 14. If a poore man brought the oblation of the richer sort, hee was discharged: but a rich man that brought the oblation of the poore, was not discharged. Maimony, treat. of Ignorances, ch. 10. sect. 13. In that God would have men be at such charges for the expiating of their smallest sins and overlooks; it was to teach them the ugliness of their sins in his sight, and with how great price by the blood of Christ, they were to be redeemed, 1 Pet. 1. 18, 19. and how they should shew by such cost, their thankfulness to God for his grace, 1 Chronic. 21. 24. and towards his Priests (the Ministers of his grace) which had their livelihood in part by such sacrifices, Num. 18. 9. 1 Cor. 9. 13, 14. And in that he lessened the charge for the poorer sort; it was to shew the riches of his grace, who freely forgiveth the poore as well as the rich, not in respect of their expences, but of his mercie, which is without respect of persons, Jam. 2. 5. Esa. 55. 1. &c. Rom. 3. 24, 25. &c.

8 Ver. 8. first] that atonement might be made for his sin; after which was the Burnt-offring, a figure of a new and holy life. For Christ (whom the Sin-offring typed out) bare our sins, in his body, on the tree: that we being delivered from sin, should live in righteousness, 1 Pet. 2. 24. Albeit, the Burnt-offring also was to make reconciliation for sin; as is noted on Levit. 1. 4. cut-with-his-naile] see Levit. 1. 5. where the like is for the Burnt-offring. This here (by the Hebr. canons) was to be done, at the South-west borne of the Altar. The Priest held the two feet (of the fowle) betwene his two fingers, and the two wings, betwene his two fingers; and stretched out the necke thereof unto the breadth of his two fingers, and cut it with his naile. And this was one of the hardest services that were in the Sanctuary. Maim. treat. of Offring the sacrifices, c. 7. f. 6, 8. Thus the Priests greatest cunning was to be shewed in offering the sacrifices of the poore. not divide] hee might not divide the

the head from the body: and if he did divide it, hee did unlawfully, and was beaten. Maimony ibidem. sect. 6. See the notes on Levit. 1. 17.

9 Ver. 9. the side] Hebr. the wall. He sprinkled of the blood, upon the wall of the Altar, beneath the middest thereof, and the rest of the blood, he wrung-out at the bottome. It is a generall rule, that which was put up in the wall, the residue thereof was wrung-out at the bottome: and this was the neiber wall. Maim. ibidem. This rite might fore-shew the manner of Christs suffering, both his sweating drops of blood, Luke 22. 44. and the shedding of his blood on the crosse: which oblation was sanctified by his deity, as the blood of the sacrifice by the Altar, Joh. 17. 19. Heb. 9. 14. Matth. 23. 19.

10 Ver. 10. the manner] or ordinance: Hebr. the judgement; which word is here, and often used for the manner, or rite of doing a thing, and it hath reference to the Law in Lev. 1. 15. &c. The Greek and Chaldee translate it, as is fit, (or convenient.) The Hebrews give this reason why the doves were, one a Sin-offring, the other a Burnt-offring; Because the Altar had nothing in the bird that was the Sin-offring, save the blood thereof, which is not food, [as Lev. 3. 11.] therefore it was needfull to bring two, one for a Sin-offring to be meat for the Priest, [Levit. 6. 26.] the other for a Burnt-offring, to be meat for the Altar. Chazkuni on Lev. 5. for his sin] or, from his sin; that is, cleansing him from it.

11 Ver. 11. attaine not] in Greeke, finde not: that is, if he be not able: as in ver. 7. hee used another word of like meaning, reach not. So in Lev. 14. 21, 22. and 25. 26. 47. Numb. 6. 21. an Ephab] that is, a Busbell: the tenth part whereof was called an Omer: about our Pottle: the Chaldee here for an Ephab, translateth three Seib (or pecks;) see the notes on Exod. 16. 36. oile] because sin proceedeth from us, for want of grace, which oile figured; and the memoriall thereof is not sweet or gratefull unto God, which frankincense did signifie: therefore neither oile nor frankincense might bee given with the Sin-offring, nor with the jealousie-offring, which brought iniquitie to remembrance, Num. 5. 15. but with the Meat-offrings, both were given, Lev. 2. 1. &c. In the common Meat-offring, (Lev. 2.) the want of oile made it unlawfull for sacrifice. The sinners Meat-offring, if oile were upon it, or upon the handfull thereof, it was made unlawfull. Maimony, treat. of unlawfull (or polluted) sacrifices, ch. 11. sect. 8, 10.

12 Ver. 12. shall take] or, shall gripe; shall gather up with the hand: see Lev. 2. 2. This was the manner of all Meat-offrings, that a handfull was burned on the Altar, and the residue eaten by the Priests; except the Priests owne Meat-offrings, for sin or otherwise; they were not eaten, but all burnt, Lev. 6. 16. 22, 23. according to] or, upon Iehovahs Fire-offrings: which the Gr. translateth, upon the Burnt-offrings to the Lord: see the notes on Lev. 4. 35.

13 Ver. 13. shall be the Priests] the residue which is not burnt on the Altar, shall be for the Priests to eat, the males among the Priests, were to eat it in the holy place, as the Meat-offring: see Lev. 2. 3. and 6. 25. 29. and 7. 6, 7.

Ver. 15. transgresse] or, sacrilegiously-trespass, defraud. The Hebrew Magbhal, though it be generally used for all transgression & disloyalty that the inferiour committeth against the superior, as the wife against her husband, Num. 5. 12. and the like: yet for the most part, it is applied to evils committed against the Lord and his covenant, service and holy things, whereof this Law in speciall is: and so differeth from all the other lawes. The Hebrew Doctors thus explaine it. It is unlawfull for a private man to make profit (or use) of the holy things of the Lord: whether they be things that are offered upon the Altar, or things sanctified for the reparation (or maintenance) of the Sanctuary. And whosoever maketh profit (or use) to the value of a mite, of the holy things of the Lord, he transgresseth, Maim. in Megbilah, (or, treat. of Transgression) chap. 1. sect. 1. through ignorance] or unadvisedly, by error: see Lev. 4. 2. If hee did it presumptuously, and God only knew it, he was in danger to be cut off by his hand: if his presumption were knowne to men, the Magistrate punished him. The sacrifice was for ignorance onely. Whosoever sacrilegiously-transgresseth presumptuously, is to be beaten; and must pay for the detriment, &c. Maim. in Megbilah, chap. 1. 1. 3.

the holy things] these were many, and manifold waies men might transgresse in them. As for a man to eat within his (private) gates, the tithe of his corne, wine, oile, &c. Deut. 12. 17, 18. to doe worke with his first-borne bullocke, or sheere his first-borne sheepe, Deut. 15. 19. to eate the first fruits of his land, Exod. 34. 26. Jer. 2. 3. to keepe-backe ought of the price of things dedicated to holy use; as did Ananias and Saphira, Act. 5. 1, 2. &c. and many like things. All the most holy things, men might sacrilegiously-transgresse concerning them, (by making profit or use of them) from the time they were sanctified, untill their blood was sprinkled. When the blood was sprinkled, they might transgresse concerning them, in any thing that was wholly for the pre, untill it was burnt and carried out to the place of ashes. As the Burnt-offring, whether beast or fowle; and the handfull (of the Meat-offring) and the frankincense, the Meat-offring of the Priests, &c. they might transgresse concerning them, from the houre they were sanctified, untill they were carried out after their burning upon the Altar, unto the place of ashes. So for bullocks and goats that were burnt (without the campe:) So for the red Cow, (Num. 19.) from the sanctifying thereof, till it were made ashes: for though it were of the holy things for the maintenance of the Sanctuary, yet he it is said thereof, it is a Sin-offring (Num. 19. 9.) The Sin-offring beast, and Trespass-offring, and Peace-offrings of the congregation; they might transgress in them all, from their sanctifying, till the sprinkling of their blood. When the blood was sprinkled, they might transgresse in the fat and inward parts till they were carried out to the place of ashes, &c. In the Meat-offrings, they might transgresse from the sanctifying of them, (yea though they were not as yet sanctified in a ministring vessel) untill the handfull was burnt on the Altar, &c. The shew-bread, they might transgresse therein, from the sanctifying of it, (yea though it were not as yet baken) untill the incense upon it was burned. The drinke-offrings, men might transgress in them after they were sanctified. The bones, sinewes, hornes and hoofs

of the most holy sacrifices, which were separated, before the sprinkling of the blood, they might transgresse in them. The ashes of the Altar in the courtyard, before they were taken from upon it, or after: they might transgresse in them. Any beast of the most holy things, that had a blemish, &c. they might transgresse therein from the sanctifying of it, till it was redeemed. He that separateth man, for (to buy) his Sin-offring, Burnt-offring, or Trespasse-offring, or for Turtle-doves, or Pigeons: they might transgresse therein, from the house of the separating thereof. A man sanctifieth for the maintenance of the Sanctuary, a thing meet to repaire the same, as stone or timber; or a thing meet for the Altar, as lambs or doves: or he sanctifieth for the Altar, a thing meet to repaire the Sanctuary, as stone or timber. Or sanctifieth for one thing, that which is not meet for it, but for another; or which is not meet for either of both, as bens, lands, &c. yea though it be but dust or ashes: they might transgresse in any of these, from the house they were sanctified, untill such things were redeemed, as were meet to be redeemed. These and many the like cases, are shewed by Maimony in Meghilah, c. 2. &c. of which hee saith in the end, (c. 8. l. 8.) It is meet for a man to set himselfe to understand the ordinances of the holy Law, and to know the end of matters, according as he is able. And the thing whereof he can find no reason, nor know any worth thereof, let it not be light in his eyes. And let him not breake through, to goe up unto the Lord, lest he breake forth upon him, (Exod. 19. 14.) Neither let him thinke of this, as he thinketh of other common things. Behold how great weight there is, in the Law touching sacrilegious transgression. And what though they be wood, and stone, and dust, and ashes? when the name of the Lord of all the world, is called onely upon things, they are sanctified. And who so useth them to common use he transgresseth therein; and though he doe it through ignorance, hee must needs bring an atonement. How much more, concerning the commandments which the holy blessed God hath prescribed unto us; that a man should not tread them under foot, because hee knowes not the reason of them, &c. Behold it is said in the Law, (Levit. 19. 37. & 20. 22.) ye shall keepe all my Statutes, and all my judgements, and doe them. Our wise men have said, that keeping and doing, must be applied unto the statutes, as unto the judgements, &c. Now the judgements, they are commandments, the reason (or meaning) whereof is manifest, and the good that cometh by doing them, is knowne in this world; as the forbidding to rob, and to shed blood; the commandment to honour father and mother. But the statutes (or ordinance) are commandments, the reason whereof is not knowne, &c. And all the sacrifices every one generally, are statutes (or ordinances:) and our wise men have said, for the service of the sacrifices, the world doth continue: for by doing the statutes and the judgements, righteous men are made worthy of life in the world to come. And the Law setteth the commandment of the statutes first, saying, And ye shall keepe my statutes and my judgements, which if a man doe, he shall live by them, Levit. 18. 3. In which last words of the Rabbins, it appeareth, how the Jewes (as Paul telleth us) have a zeale of God, but not according to knowledge; being ignorant of Gods righteousness, and going about to establish their own righteousness. For Moses describeth the righteousness which is of the Law, when he saith, the man which doth these things, shall live by them: but the righteousness which is of faith, speaketh otherwise; That if thou confesse with thy mouth, that Iesus is the LORD, and beleve in thy heart, that God hath raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved, Rom. 10. 2, 3, 5, 6, 9. his trespass] that is, his trespass-offring: or, for his trespass it selfe, a ram perfect] without blemish. The ram was to be of the second yeare: see the notes on Lev. 1. 10. with thy estimation] or, by thy valuation. This is spoken to the Priest, who was to esteeme and value all holy things, as is expressed in Levit. 27. 8, 12. &c. of silver shekels] Hebr. silver of shekels: see the like transplacing of words in Lev. 6. 21. and 7. 21. and so the Gr. translateth, a ram without blemish out of the sheepe, of price of silver of shekels: This some understand, of the thing wherein the transgression is committed, which the Priest should value, as is explained in the next verse: others understand it of the ram brought for sacrifice, that it should be worth shekels of silver, that is, two at the least, and besides that he should pay the principall, and the fift part. Thus Sol. Iarobi expoundeth it, Which is worth two shekels: and R. Levi giveth this reason, Because multiplication in numbers, is first made by two; therefore he saith, shekels, for two shekels. Maimony in Meghilah, c. 1. l. 1. saith, He that transgresseth through ignorance, payeth for that which he hath made use of to himselfe, and addeth a fift part thereto; and bringeth a ram of two shekels (that is, worth so much) and offereth it for a trespass-offring, and makes atonement for himselfe. Of the shekel, see Gen. 20. 16.) Again in another place he saith: All Trespasse-offrings in the Law, are brought bring of the second yeare, and worth two shekels, except the Trespasse-offring of the Leper, and of the Nazarite, for they are of the first yeare, and there is no price of them set. The doubtfull Trespasse-offring, is brought of little or of great: and by tradition we have learned, that it comes not but worth silver shekels. If rams be cheape, that he find not a ram worth two shekels; let him not buy, but tarry till they be dearer, and bring one of two shekels, For loe, the Law provideth concerning the price, and determineth it; Maim. in Pesulei hamukdashin, c. 4. l. 22, 23. Ver. 16. holy thing] Hebr. holiness, which the Gr. translateth, holies, that is, holy things. The worth of it, or of them, must be paid. fift-part] so much was also added to holy things redeemed, Lev. 27. 13, 15, 19. The payment of the principall; with the addition of the fift part, is commanded to be done together, with the bringing of the sacrifice. The payment of the principall, and bringing of the trespass, binder the atonement, (to weete, if they be not brought together;) but the fift part bindeth not; for it is said (after) he shall make atonement with the ram of the Trespasse: the ram and the trespass binder, but the fift part bindeth not. [Meaning it may remaine as a debt, to be payed afterward:] Maim. in Meghilah, c. 1. l. 3, 4. By the Trespasse (Asham) the Scripture sometime meaneth the principall thing wherein the trespass is committed, which is to be recompensed, besides the sacrifice, Numb. 5. 8. the Priest shall make atonement] Though restitution was made by the transgressor, yet atonement could not be made, but by the Priest and sacrifice appointed; both which figured gured Christ, by whose blood, sins of all sorts, which men through infirmitie doe commit, are forgiven and purged, 1 Joh. 1.7.

17 Verſ. 17. though he know it not] this may alſo be tranſlated thus; and he know it not, and is guilty, and beareth his iniquitie: This differeth from the former caſes, in verſ. 4. and 15. where there was knowledge of the ſin, at leaſt, in the end: but this Law was for ſins, though never known certainly, but in doubt or ſuſpence; ſo that David ſaid not without cauſe, Ignorances, (or, Unadviſed ſins) who can underſtand? cleaſe thou me from ſecret ſins, Pſ. 19. 13.

18 Verſ. 18. a ram perfect] that is, without blemiſh. Of this the Hebrew canons ſay; Every ſin, for the ignorant-doing whereof, they are bound to bring the Sin-offring appointed, (Levit. 4.) they are bound, when it is not knowne, to bring the doubtfull Trespasse-offring: (Levit. 5. 17, 18.) And what meaneth this, if it be not knowne? If it be doubtfull unto him, whether he hath ignorantly ſinned in the thing, or no. And this ſacrifice is called Aſham talui, (a doubtfull Trespasse-offring) becauſe it makes atonement for that which is uncertaine and doubtfull unto him, &c. As for example; there is a Sabbath day, and a working day; and a man doth worke in one of them, and knowes not in which he did it. Hee eateth of a diſh of meat, and one witneſſe ſaith unto him, this which thou haſt eaten, is the fat (forbidden in the Law, Levit. 3. 17.) another witneſſe ſaith, thou haſt not eaten fat: now he bringeth a doubtfull Trespasse-offring; and ſo in like caſes. Maim. treat. of Ignorances, c. 8. f. 1, 2. On the other hand for ſome caſes knowne, they bring another ſort of ſacrifice, called, Aſham Vaddai, that is, a certaine, (or manifeſt Trespasse-offring, concerning which in the ſame Booke, ch. 9. it is ſaid; For five tranſgreſſions, men bring the ſacrifice Aſham, and it is called a manifeſt Aſham; becauſe there is not any doubt therein. And theſe are they: For lying with a bond-maid, (Levit. 19. 20, 21.) For things taken-by-violence, &c. (Levit. 6. 2, 6.) For ſacrilegious tranſgreſſion, (Levit. 5. 15.) For the uncleannesse of a Nazarite, (Num. 6. 12.) And for leproſie, when a man is cleaſed from the ſame, (Levit. 14. 12.) eſtimation] or valuation. The Greeke tranſlated it, of price of ſilver: ſee before in verſ. 15.

19 Verſ. 19. trespaſſing he hath trespaſſed] that is, Hee hath certainly trespaſſed; or, hee is ſurely guilty. The Chaldee tranſlateth, It is a trespasse-offring for his ſin which he hath ſinned: hee ſhall offer a trespasse-offring before the Lord. The rites about this ſacrifice, were the ſame with the former: Whether it were a manifeſt trespasse-offring, or a doubtfull trespasse-offring, it was killed, and the blood ſprinkled; then it was flayed, the fat taken-out, and ſalted, and put on the fire (of the Altar) and the fleſh was eaten by the Priests, in the court: Mat-mony, treat. of offering the ſacrifices, c. 9. f. 1. The ſignification hereof, was alſo like the former, that by the death and blood of Chriſt, we are cleaſed from all ſinne, 1 Joh. 1. 7. Heb. 10. 10, 11, 12.

CHAP. VI.

1, The Trespasse-offring for ſins done againſt the Lord, and a mans neighbour; 8, The Law of the Burnt-offring, 14, and of the Meat-offring. 19, The offering at the conſecration of a Prielt. 24, The law of the Sin-offring.

AND Jehovah ſpake unto Moſes, ſaying; A ſoule, when it ſhall ſinne and tranſgreſſe a tranſgreſſion, againſt Jehovah: and falſly deny unto his neighbour in a thing-delivered-him-to-keepe, or in the putting of the hand, or in a thing-taken-away-by-violence; or, hath deceitfully-oppreſſed his neighbour. Or have found a thing loſt, and falſly-denieſt concerning it, and ſweareth with falſhood: for any one, of all that a man ſhall do, ſinning in theſe. Then it ſhall be, when he hath ſinned and is guiltie: that he ſhall reſtore the thing-taken-by-violence, which he violently tooke away; or, the thing-deceitfully-gotten, which he hath got-deceitfully; or, the thing-delivered him-to-keep, which was delivered unto him to keep; or the loſt thing, which he found. Or, all that about which he hath ſworne, with falſhood: and he ſhall pay it, in the principall thereof; and ſhall adde thereto, the fifth-parts thereof: unto him to whom it appertaineth, ſhall hee give it, in the day of his Trespasse. And hee ſhall bring his Trespasse-offring, unto Jehovah: a ram perfect, out of the flock with thy eſtimation for a Trespasse-offring, unto the Prielt. And the Prielt ſhall make atonement for him, before Jehovah, and it ſhall be mercifully-forgiven-him: for any one, of all that he hath done, in trespawning therein.

And Jehovah ſpake unto Moſes, ſaying; Command Aaron and his ſons, ſaying; This is the law of the burnt-offring: it is the burnt-offring becauſe of the burning, upon the altar all night, unto the morning; & the fire of the altar, ſhall be burning in it. And the Prielt ſhall put on, his linnen rayment; and linnen breeches, ſhall he put upon his fleſh: and he ſhall take-up, the aſhes, which the fire hath conſumed, with the burnt-offring, on the altar: & he ſhall put the, beſides the altar. And he ſhall put-off his garments, & put on other garments: and ſhall carry forth the aſhes, to without the camp; unto a cleane place. And the fire upon the altar ſhall be burning in it, it ſhall not be put out; and the Prielt ſhall burn wood upon it, every morning; and ſhall lay-in-order upon it, the burnt-offring; and ſhall burne upon it, the fats of the Peace-offrings. Fire, continually ſhall be burning upon the altar, it ſhall not be put-out.

And this is the law, of the Meat-offring: the ſonnes of Aaron ſhall offer it, before Jehovah;

- 15 Jehovah; before the altar. And he shall take-up of it, his handfull, of the flowre of the Meat-offring, and of the oile thereof; and all the frankincense, which is upon the Meat-offring: and he shall burne upon the altar, for a favour of rest, the memoriall of it, unto Jehovah. And the remainder thereof, shall Aaron and his sons eat: in unleavened-cakes, shall it be eaten; in the holy place; in the court of the Tent of the congregation, they shall eat it. It shall not be baken with leaven; I have given it for their portion, of my Fire-offrings: it is holy of holies; as the sin-offring and as the Trespasse-offring. Every male, among the sons of Aaron, shall eat of it; it shall be a statute for ever, in your generations; concerning Jehovahs Fire-offrings: all that toucheth them, shall be holy.
- 19 And Jehovah spake unto Moses, saying;
20 This is the oblation of Aaron, and of his sons, which they shall offer unto Jehovah, in the day that he is anointed; the tenth part of an Ephah of fine-flowre, for a continuall Meat-offring: halfe of it in the morning, and halfe of it in the evening. On a pan, it shall be made with oile, hastily-fryed shalt thou bring it: the baken pieces of the Meat-offring, thou shalt offer for a favour of rest, unto Jehovah. And the Priest that is anointed in his stead, of his sons, shall doe it: it is a statute for ever, unto Jehovah, it shall be burnt for a Whole-burnt-offring. And every Meat-offring of the Priest, shall be a Whole-burnt-offring: it shall not be eaten.
- 24 And Jehovah spake unto Moses, saying;
25 Speake unto Aaron, and unto his sons, saying; This is the law, of the Sin-offring: in the place where the Burnt-offring is killed, shall the Sin-offring be killed, before Jehovah: it is holy of holies. The Priest that offereth-it-for-sin, shall eat it: in the holy place, shall it be eaten; in the court, of the Tent of the congregation. All that shall touch the flesh thereof, shall be holy: and when there is sprinkled of the blood thereof, upon a garment; that whereon it is sprinkled, thou shalt wash, in the holy place. And the earthen vessel, wherein it is sodden, shall be broken: and if it be sodden, in a brazen vessel; it shall be both scowred and rinsed, in water. Every male among the Priests, shall eat thereof, it is holy of holies. And no Sin-offring, wherof any of the blood thereof, is brought into the Tent of the congregation, to make-atonement with in the holy-place, shall be eaten: it shall be burnt, in the fire.

Annotations.

A Sou'e] that is, man or woman, as God explaineth it, in Num. 5. 6. so the Chaldee expoundeth it, a man. transgresse] it is the word before used, in Levit. 5. 15. The Greeke here translateth, despising, despise the commandments of the Lord: (or, neglect them.) falsly deny] or he, as the Greeke translateth: but the word meaneth lying, by deniall of a thing, as Gen. 18. 15. This sinne, God generally forbiddeth, Levit. 19. 11. And this law here, concerneth sins, both against God, by swearing; and against our neighbour, by injuring him. a thing-delivered-him-to-keepe] a thing-committed-to one; which shall againe be required; called in Hebr. Pikkadon, of incommending a thing, and requiring it: in Greeke, Parabeke, of committing it to ones fidelity, (which word, Paul useth in 2 Tim. 1. 12. of God; I am perswaded that he is able to keepe that which I have committed unto him;) in Latine, a Depositum. So in 1 Tim. 6. 20. and 2 Tim. 1. 14. In Gen. 41. 36. the word is used for store or provision laid up. See the judicall lawes for these cases, in Exod. 22. 7, 10. &c. the putting of the hand] This phrase (here onely used) seemeth to meane fellowship, or partnership, when men deale, and put their hands as it were together in a matter: so the Greeke translateth it, communio (or societie;) and the Chaldee, the communion (or fellowship) of the hand; that is, commerce. Or, wee may take it, for putting into the hand, that is, committing of a thing to ones care and fidelitie, to use or imploy for him. It may also imply, the lending of a thing, or borrowing. Thus Sol. Iarchi expoundeth it, that he hath put money into his hand to occupy: or hath lent it him. a thing-taken-by-violence] or, a robbery, rapine. It implyeth force, as the next doth fraud. 2 Sam. 23. 21. Judg. 9. 25. This God hateth, though it be for Burnt-offring: Esa. 61. 8. deceitfully oppressed] or, defrauded, by cavillation, calumny, false accusation, or other like unjust means. Of this sinne Zacharias cleared himselfe by fourefold restitution, Luk. 19. 8. The Hebrew doctors thus distinguish these. Who is a taker by violence, (or robber?) He that taketh a mans goods by force, as by plucking it out of his hand, &c. or, that forcibly-taketh ones servant or beast, and useth them for his owne worke; or goeth into ones field, and eateth the fruit thereof, and the like. Who is a deceitfull oppressor? Hee that hath his neighbours goods in his hand, with the owners consent; and when they are demanded againe, he keepes the goods in his hands by force, and restores them not; and the like, Maimony, treat. of Robbery and lost things, chap. 1. Sect. 3. 4.

Verf. 3. a thing lost] Hebr. a losse: which the law bindeth him to reitore to the owner: See Deut. 22. 2. Exod. 23. 4. in the annotations. with falshood] that is, falsly; and as the Greeke translateth it, unjustly. Of this kinde of oath, the Hebrew Canons say; Who so hath his neighbours goods in his hand, whether they be delivered him to keepe, or lent lent him, or he hath taken them by violence, or by fraud; or hath found a thing lost, and restoreth it not, or the like; and the goods which hee hath in his hand, bee demanded of him, and he denieth them, loe he is a transgressor against this law, ye shall not falsly deny, (Lev. 19. 11.) And if hee sweare unto himselfe falsly, concerning the goods which he denied; now he transgresseth another law, ye shall not deale falsly, Lev. 19. 11. And this oath is called, the oath concerning a thing delivered to keepe. And for this false oath, he is bound to pay the principall, which hee denied, and to adde the fift part more thereto, and to offer a manifest Trespasse-offring, &c. Maim. treat. of Oathes, c. 1. f. 8, 9. finning] or, as the Gr. translateth, so that he finne in these.

4 Ver. 4. he shall restore] in Num. 5. 7. God requireth also to confesse the sin; which is to be understood here, and in all like sins and trespasses. About this restitution, the Hebrews have these observations; Whether he be a violent robber, or a fraudulent-appressor, or a stealer, or a borrower, or that hath by him, a thing delivered to keepe, or hath found a thing lost, and falsly denieth it, or that there was partnership betwene him and his neighbour, and some of the goods remaine in his hand, or that he hath done worke for him, and he hath not given him his wages. It is a generall rule for every thing such as these, bee that confesseth, is bound to pay by sentence (of the Judges;) and he that denieth and sweareth, must pay the principall and the fift part, Levit. 6. 2. &c. This is meant, when a man is bound to pay for himselfe, but if he be bound to pay for his father, he payes not the fift part. As, when his father robbeth, or stealeth, or is indebted to others, and the son knoweth it, and denieth it, and sweareth, and afterwards confesseth it; he payeth but the principall onely; for it is written, (Levit. 6. 4.) which he violently tooke away; for his owne violent-taking-away, hee addeth the fift part more, but not for his fathers. This is meant, when the thing violently-taken-away, is not remaining then present; but if his father did violence, and died, and the thing-taken-away remaineth there, and the heire denieth it, and sweareth, and afterwards confesseth; hee payeth the principall and the fift part. If the father rob, and sweare, and confesse it, and afterward dye: now the heire payeth the principall, and the fift part. If he rob, and sweare, and so die: and the heire confesseth it, hee payeth but the principall onely, but in both these cases, the heire is discharged of the Trespasse-offring. Maim. treat. of Robbery, and lost things, c. 7. f. 2, 3. &c.

5 V. 5. all] or of any thing: so implying other particulars besides these mentioned; as some are before noted. principall] or, summe; Hebr. head: which Sol. Iarchi expoundeth the principall, (the thing it selfe.) Head sometime is used for beginning or first: and so Chazkuni here noteth, that the meaning may be, Before he bring his oblation, he shall put out of his hand, the thing got by rapine, &c. the fift-parts] the Gr. translateth, the fift part, as the Hebr. also was in Lev. 5. 16. And it may be put for every fift part, the fift part of every thing defrauded, as in Ezek. 16. 55. thy sisters, meaneth each of thy sisters. But the Hebrew Doctors insist upon the number; thus; He that restoreth the principall to the owners, and denieth at the second time, the fift part, and sweareth about it; that fift part is made as the principall in every respect, and he must pay for it another fift part, as it is written, hee shall adde thereto the fift parts thereof teaching that hee must adde a fift part for a fift part, untill the fift part which he denieth, and sweareth for, be become lesse then the worth of a mite. Who so hath by him a thing delivered to keepe, and be pleadeth that it is lost, and sweareth; and returneth, and confesseth that hee hath it by him: And cometh againe, and pleadeth that it is lost, and sweareth, and againe returneth, and confesseth that he hath it by him; he must pay a fift part for every oath, with that one principall; as it is written, He shall adde thereto the fift part thereof, teaching that he may pay many fifts for one principall. Maim. treat. of Robbery, &c. c. 7. f. 12, 13. Now what the fift-part is, he there sheweth in Lev. 7. one of foure, with the principall: as if he robbed the value of foure, and sweareth; he payeth five. And if the stolne thing be remaining, he must restore it, and give the price of the fourth part thereof. to whom it pertaineth] or, whose it is, by right, whether the owners, or the heires: to him against whom he is guiltie, Numb. 5. 7. He that robbeth his neighbour, if he that is robbed, dieth: must restore the robbery unto the heires. and if it be lost, or changed, he must give them the price of it. And if he sweare unto him, and afterward be died; he must give to the heires, the principall and the fift part. Hee that robbeth his father, and sweareth unto him, and the father dieth; if the thing taken by robbery, doe not remaine, or if it be changed, he must make an account with his brethren, for the principall and for the fift part. If the thing taken by robbery, remaineth, he is bound to bring forth the thing it selfe, from under his hand. Therefore he is to give the thing taken by robbery, and the fift part also to his brethren, and make an account with them, &c. Maim. treat. of Robbery, c. 2. f. 1, 2. &c. But if the man have no kinsman to recompense the trespass unto, it must be recompensed unto the Lord, even unto the Priest, Numb. 5. 8. of his trespass] or, of his guiltinesse, that is, the day wherein he is found a trespasser: which the Gr. interpreteth, the day wherein he is convicted: (or reprehended) Or we may understand it, the day wherein he offreth for his trespass: so Chazkuni explaineth it, The robber shall give the goods unto him that is robbed, in the day that he brings his trespass-offring: turning from his sin, that his oblation may be accepted with favour.

Ver. 6. perfect without blemish. This oblation was performed with such rites, as the other before mentioned; in ch. 5. see the notes there; and on Num. 5. 8. in trespassing] or, by guilty-trespass, or, with guiltinesse therein: the Gr. translateth, and hath trespassed therein. These sacrifices could not by themselves make atonement, or procure forgiveness of finnes: but they signified the atonement made by the sacrifice of Christ, Heb. 10. 1, 4, 10, 14. and taught men mortification, and dying unto sin, as David saith, Thou delightest not sacrifice, that I should give it, &c. The sacrifices of God, are a broken spirit, a broken and contrite heart, &c. Pl. 51. 18, 19. And where true repentance, faith in Christ, and amendment of life is found in the sinner; there is promise of grace, and of forgiveness of sins; though they be as scarlet, they shall be as white as snow; though they be red like crimson, they shall be as wool, Esay 1. 16, 18.

Here beginneth the 25. Section of the Law; see Gen. 6.9. Hitherto in this booke, God hath shewed what sacrifices men should offer: now he declareth the manner and rites about those sacrifices, more particularly.

9 Verſ. 9. because of the burning] or, it is that which ascendeth by the burning. Here is the reason of the name: for the Burnt-offring, is in Hebrew Gnolab, that is, an Ascension; because by burning all in fire, it went up in smoke and vapour. Therefore the Holy Ghost translateth it in Greeke, Holocaustoma, that is, a whole Burnt-offring, Heb. 10. 6. from Psal. 40. The use of this sacrifice is shewed on Leviticus 1. Here the Targum called Jonabans, saith, It was to make atonement for the imaginations of the heart. all night] though the time of the Evening sacrifice began about mid afternoone (as is shewed on Exod. 12. 6.) yet the burning might continue all night, till breake of the day. No sacrifices were offered, but by day: therefore they killed no sacrifice, but by day, nor sprinkled any blood, but in the day that it was killed; for when the Sun was set, the blood became unlawfull (to be sprinkled.) Sacrifices whose blood was sprinkled by day, their fat was burned by night, till the pillar of the morning ascended (that is, till breake of the day.) And so the pieces of the Burnt-offrings, were burned by night, till breake of the day. But for to keepe men farre from trespassing, our Wise men have said, that they should not burne the fats, or pieces of the Burnt-offring, but untill midnight. Although it was lawfull to burne them by night, yet they did not defer them purposely, but indeavoured to burne all by day. Gratefull is a commendement (done) in the houre of the same, Maimony, treat. of offering the sacrific. chap. 4. sect. 1, 2, 3. This Law here given, seemes specially to intend the daily Burnt-offring of the Church, which was offered first in the morning, and last in the evening, as the Hebr. Doctors say, It is unlawfull to offer any sacrifice at all before the daily sacrifice of the morning: neither kill they any sacrifice (to weet, for particular persons) after the daily evening sacrifice, except the sacrifice of the Passover onely. Maimony, treat. of the daily sacrifice, ch. 1. f. 3. shall be burning] or, shall be made to burne, that is, nourished continually; so verſ. 12.

10 Verſ. 10. his linnen raiment] or, the linnen robe; as the Greeke translateth, a linnen coat. Such were made for the inferiour Priests to minister in, Ex. 28. 40, 41. The originall word Middo, signifieth a large garment, proportionable to the body. It is the Coat (as Sol. Iarchi observeth) and the Scripture calleth it Middo, because it was like [Middatho] his measure that wore it. Hence the Greekes borrowed their word Mandue, which is a coat, or mantle. And the Heb. Bad, signifieth finer linnen then that of common flaxe, (which is called by another name,) therefore the Chaldee here translateth it, garments of byss: see the notes on Exod. 25. 4. The linnen raiment (saith Chazkuni on this place) is the Coat, the Miter, and the Girdle, which all are of linnen; and the Scripture speaketh of them as of one, because they all are as one garment, for he is as clothed with one without the other, his flesh] in Greeke, his body; meaning his secret parts; which for honestie, and re-

hath consumed] or, hath eaten: ashes are said to be consumed, when the wood and sacrifices are consumed and turned to ashes. So Meale is said to be ground, Esa. 47. 2. when the corne by grinding, is turned to meale. besides the Altar] on the East-side, furthest from the Sanctuarie, Levit. 1. 16. The taking up of the ashes from on the Altar, is commanded to be done every day, and it is one of the Priests services, Leviticus 6. 10. They did it, when the pillar of the morning ascended [that is, at breake of the day.] And at the feasts, (they did it) at the beginning of the third part of the night; and on Reconciliation day, at midnight. Hee whose duty it was to take them up, washed himselfe, and put on the clothes in which he was to take them up, and sanctified (that is, washed) his hands and his feet: and took a fire-pan, and went up to the Altar, &c. Maimony, treat. of the daily sacrific. ch. 2. S. 10, 11. &c. The taking up of the ashes, is the first of all the services in the day; and the meaning and mystrie of it is, to remove away the spirit of uncleannesse, that remaineth after the digestion of the members and fat intrails, that lyeth on them. And therefore it is not done, but in white garments onely, because by mercie, iniquitie is purged, (Prov. 16. 6.) R. Menachem, on Levit. 6.

Ve. 11. other garments] Unto the Altar, no Priest might come, but in the holy garments appointed of God; and those garments they used not, but in the Sanctuarie. Hereupon it is written, when the Priests goe forth into the outer court to the people, they shall put off the garments wherein they ministered, and lay them in the holy chambers: and they shall put on other garments, and they shall not sanctifie the people with their garments, Ezek. 44. 19. Yet forasmuch as the carrying away of the ashes, belonged to the Priests, by other garments, the Hebrewes understand, not common clothes, but other holy garments. The Priests garments, wherein he tooke away the ashes, were lesse then those wherein he ministered in other services; as it is written (in Leviticus 6.) hee shall put on other garments, and carry forth the ashes: hee saith not other, for that they were common garments, but for that they were lesse then the former; Maimony in Tamidin (or treat. of the daily sacrifices) chap. 2. sect. 10. without the campe] As the turning of the Burnt-offring to ashes, was a signe of Gods acceptation thereof, Psal. 20. 4. so the carrying out of the campe, into a clean place, signified his regard of the very Reliques of that holy thing: which had accomplishment in Christ his death and buriall, without the gates of Ierusalem, in Golgotha, and in a garden, Heb. 13. 11, 12, 13. Joh. 19. 16, 17, 18. 41, 42. the memorie whereof is blessed. Of these ashes, the Hebrew canons say, They were to be left in a place, where the wind did not blow strongly. And it was not lawfull for strangers to gather them up: neither might they be scattered there, but laid downe: and it was unlawfull for men to make profit (or use) of them. Maimony, treat. of the daily sacrifices, chap. 2. f. 15. a cleane place] the contrary is said touching the stones and dust of a leprous house, that they should be poured out into an unclean place, Levit.

Lev. 14. 40, 41. for they came from a polluted house; but their albes came from the Lords holy house, therefore were to be laid in a cleane place, where no dead carcases, dung, or other filth was laid.

12 Ver. 12. shall be burning] or, shall be kindled (or made burne) on it. From hence the Hebrews gather, that the fire might not be kindled beneath, and then laid upon the Altar, but was to be kindled on the Altar itself; Maimony, treat. of the daily sacrifice, c. 2. f. 9. And Baal Hatturim noteth, how from hence they have said, Although fire came downe from heaven, yet they were commanded to bring of common fire. be put out] or, quenched. The Hebrew canons say, Hee that quencheth the fire of the Altar, is to be beaten, for it is said, It shall not be put out, (Lev. 6. 12.) though it be but one coale, and though it be downe from upon the Altar, he that putteth it out, is to be beaten; Maimony, ibid. c. 2. f. 6.

wood] no other fuell was allowable for the Altar, and it was to be the wood of the publike Congregation, (as is observed on Lev. 1. 7.) And as all things about Gods service, were to be of the best: so this the Hebrewes say, the wood was to be none but choise, such as had no wormes in it. And that, Timber of buildings pulled downe, was ever unlawfull; they might bring none but new wood; Maimony, in Issurei Mizbeah, c. 6. f. 2.

every morning] Hebr. in the morning in the morning. Of this service, it is recorded; In the morning they laid the wood in order, and they made upon the top of the Altar, a great fire, &c. likewise towards evening. Three fires were orderly made upon the top of the Altar, every day: the first was the great fire, on which they offered the daily sacrifice with the other oblations; the second was a little fire in the side, from which they tooke fire in a censer, to burne incense with every day; the third was not for other use, but to confirme the commandement concerning the fire; which is written, FIRE CONTINUALLY SHALL BE BURNING, Levit. 6. 13. Wee have bene taught that that which is said, BECAUSE OF THE BURNING UPON THE ALTAR, Levit. 6. 9. is meant of the great fire: and this, THE FIRE OF THE ALTAR SHALL BE BURNING IN IT, Lev. 6. 9. is the second (fire) for the Incense: and this, THE FIRE UPON THE ALTAR SHALL BE BURNING IN IT, Leviticus 6. 12. is the third, for keeping of the fire, Maimony, in treat. of daily sacrifices, chap. 2. sect. 2, 4, 5.

13 Ver. 13. Fire continually] This commandement for nourishing the fire alwaies, being so oft repeated, sheweth it to be of weight, and carefully to be observed: and signified, how by Christ our Altar, wee should have continually through his Spirit, meanes ready for the purging and taking away of our sins, and access to offer unto God the sacrifices of praise, 1 Joh. 1. 9. Heb. 13. 10, 15. likewise the dutie of God Ministers, by daily preaching of the Word (which is likened unto fire, Jer. 23. 29.) to kindle and stir up the grates of the spirit in men, which may never be quenched, Matth. 3. 11. 1 Thes. 5. 19. It fore-shadowed also the worke of Christ, who came to send fire on the earth, and earnestly desired to have it kindled, Luke 12. 49. likewise the afflictions of Christ and his Church, which are continuall in this world, and through which we must enter into the Kingdom of God, Mark. 9. 49. Heb. 2. 10. 1 Pet. 4. 12. The Hebrews say of the fire on the Altar, that it was as a ladder for the Angels to ascend by: as (in Judg. 13. 20.) the Angell of the Lord ascended in the flame of the Altar; and in Ezek. 9. 2. six men stood beside the brazen Altar: Baal-Hatturim on Levit. 6.

14 Ver. 14. Meat-offering] the Mizbeah, whereof see Levit. 2. and the Annotations there. before the Altar: that is, saith Sol. Iarchi, the South, for that was the face (or fore-part) of the Altar; for the foot banke was set on that side.

15 Ver. 15. of rest] of sweet smell: see Lev. 2. 2. The Jerusalemic Thargum translateth it, of favourable acceptation: and Onkelos, to be received with favourable acceptation.

16 Ver. 16. unleavened cakes] that is, made into unleavened cakes, as the next verse sheweth. This, and the like that follow, shew, how they that wrought about the holy things of the Sanctuary; and they which waited at the Altar, were partakers with the Altar: so the Lord proportionably ordained also under the Gospel, 1 Cor. 9. 13, 14. Ezek. 44. 29. See Deut. 18. 1, 2. &c. What leaven and unleavened cakes signified, is noted on Exo. 12.

holy place] meaning the Court of the Sanctuary, in Numb. 18. 10. it is called the Holy of holies, that is, the most holy place; yet hereby was meant, neither the most holy within the Tabernacle, (into which none went but the high Priest, once a yeare, Levit. 16. 2. &c.) neither the holy place there: but the court of the sanctuary, where all the most holy things were boiled, baken, dressed, and eaten by holy persons: as is explained after, ver. 26. and Lev. 8. 31. See the notes on Leviticus 24. 9.

17 Ver. 17. with leaven] or, leavened; as the Greeke translateth it. holy of holies] that is, most holy: Hebrew, holiness of holinesses. The like is said after, touching the Sin-offrings, &c. Levit. 6. 25. and 7. 1, 6. &c. Other things were called holy, as the Pascheover, Tithes, First-fruits, &c. Such the Hebrews call lights holy things, to distinguish them from the most holy: and the Lawes concerning them differ. The Sin-offring, Trespas-offring, and remainder of the Peace-offrings, were not eaten but by the males among the Priests; within the court. Other offrings, Tithes, first-fruits, shoulder and breast of the peoples Peace-offrings, and the like, were for the Priests, their sons, daughters, &c. that were cleane, Numb. 18. 9, 10, 11, 19. Again, the most holy things are here limited to be eaten within the court: the light holy things were to be eaten in the place which the Lord should chuse, &c. Deut. 12. 5, 6, 7. & 16. 5, 6. which after, was Jerusalem; whereupon the Hebrew canons say, Who so eateth a bit of the flesh of the most holy things, without the court, is to be beaten, &c. The same judgement is for him that eateth the light holy things, out of Jerusalem. For Jerusalem walls, are for the light holy things; as the walls of the court for the most holy. Flesh of the most holy things, that is carried out of the walls of the court; and the flesh of the light holy things, things, carried out of the walls of Jerusalem, is polluted and unlawfull for ever. And although it be brought backe againe to his place, yet it is unlawfull to be eaten; Maim. in treat. of offering the sacrific. c. 11. f. 5, 6. Hereupon Jerusalem is called the holy Citie: Nehem. 11. 1. Esa. 48. 2. and 52. 1. Matth. 4. 5.

18 V. 18. Every male] although he be a blemished Priest, saith Sol. Larchi. all that toucheth] or, whosoever toucheth: whether person or thing, as any vessell of ministerie, and the like: meaning, that no uncleane person, or common vessell, might touch them. The Greeke translateth, Whosoever toucheth them, shall be sanctified: and so Chazkuni, adding this, and he shall purifie him selfe, before he touch them. See after, in ver. 27. and Exod. 29. 37.

20 Ver. 20. in the day] and so, from that day forward, every day. Chazkuni saith, that In here is in stead of From. And that it is used for After, is noted on Exod. 2. 23. the day that he] that is, Aaron himselfe, (as Lev. 8.) or any of his sons after him. The Chaldee called Ionathans, saith, In the day that they anoint him to possesse the high Priests office. The Priethood was by naturall succession to Aarons sons, such as were meet for the same, having no blemishes, or other impediments; which the Magistrates of the highest Court judged of, and put him in place. None doe constitute an high Priest, but the Senate of 71. Judges: and they doe not anoint him, but by day, as it is written, (Lev. 6. 20.) In the day that hee is anointed, &c. and they set not up two high Priests at once. The high Priest, he is the head of all the Priests: and they doe anoint him with the anointing oile, (Exod. 30.) and clothe him with the garments of the high Priesthood, (Exod. 28.) They clothe him with the eight garments, and when he puts them off, they clothe him againe on the morrow, so seven daies, day after day, as it is written, (Exod. 29. 30.) the same that shall be Priest in his stead, shall put them on seven daies. And as they away him with the clothes, seven daies, so they anoint him with oile seven daies, one after another. Maimony, in treat. of the Implements of the Sanctuary, c. 4. f. 15. 12, 13. This high Priest was a figure of Christ, clothed with the garments of justice and salvation, offering himselfe to God for us, and us unto God through himselfe; making us and our service, acceptable unto his Father, Heb. 8. 1. and 7. 25, 28. and 10. 10. 22. and 13. 15. Ephah] or Bushel: the tenth part whereof, was an Omer: see Exod. 36. continuall] or thus, a Meat-offring, continually. The ordinarie Priests offered their Minchah, but at their Initiation, or entring upon their office: the high Priest, continually, every day. See the notes on Lev. 2. 1.

21 Ver. 21. a pan] to wheet, a flat-pan, plate or slice: whereof see Lev. 2. 5. Such being baken dry, without liquor, were the more subject to the heat and parching of the fire. And as the high Priest was in speciall manner a figure of Christ, so his daily Meat-offring being of this kinde, figured out the sufferings of Christ, who was so parched with the fire of afflictions for our sins. hastily-fried] or, baken-with-bubbles: that is, so fried, that it may be hoven as with bubbles: so in Lev. 7. 12. The manner of making these cakes, is said to be thus. The high Priest brought a whole tenth-deale (of flowre) and sanctified it, and divided it by the halfe tenth-deale measure which was in the Sanctuary: for although the oblation was halfe at once, yet was it not sanctified by the halfe. And hee brought therewith, three logs of oile, as it is written, it shall be made with oile, to adde oile therunto, like the Meat-offrings of the lambe. Then he mingled the flowre with oile, and hastily-baked it with bubbles. And he kneaded of each halfe tenth part, six cakes. And they were made one by one thus, he divided the three logs (of oile) by the quarter measure that was in the Sanctuary: a fourth part for every cake. And he baken the cake a little, and after that, fried it upon the pan, with the other fourth part of oile which belonged to it. And he did not bake it much, as it is written, I spurne nei [i. Bakings, Lev. 6. 21.] betwene baken and raw. And afterwards he divided every cake into two, by measure; that hee might offer the halfe at morning, and the halfe at evening. And hee tooke the halves, and doubled them every one, into two; and brake them in pieces, till he found every piece doubled into two. And hee offered the one halfe, with halfe the handfull of frankincense, in the morning; and the other halfe, with halfe the handfull of frankincense at evening. And if it were the Meat-offring of Initiation, (or first entring upon his office) he divided it not, but offered all at once, with the handfull of frankincense: and both of them were a whole Burnt-offring, for offerings made by fire. Maimony, in treat. of offering the sacrifices, ch. 13. sect. 2, 3, 4. baken pieces] Hebrew, bakings of the Meat-offring of pieces, that is, which was broken into pieces. See the like phrase in Levitic. 5. 15. thou shalt] meaning, thou Priest, whosoever; as the next verse sheweth: therefore the Greeke explaineth it, he shall offer. of rest] that is, of sweet smell, as the Greeke translateth: in Chaldee, to be accepted with favour before the Lord.

Ver. 22. the Priest that is anointed] Thargum Ionathan explaineth it, the high Priest that is anointed with oile. a whole Burnt-offring] Hebr. a Calil: that is, whole, or altogether; in Greeke it is translated here, Hapan, All; in the verse following, Holocaustos, that is, wholly-burnt. The peoples Meat-offring was eaten by the Priests, that made atonement for them, ver. 15, 16. Lev. 7. 7. but because no Priest being a sinner, could make atonement for himselfe; therefore his Meat-offring might not be eaten, but all burnt on the Altar; to teach him to expect salvation, not by himselfe, nor by his legall service or works, but by Christ. For the eating of the Sin-offring, figured the bearing of the sinners iniquitie, Lev. 10. 17.

Ver. 25. be killed] that was, on the North-side of the Altar: see Lev. 1. 11. Hereby was figured, that Christ our Sin-offring, should be killed by the Priests in Ierusalem and Mount Sion, which was on the sides of the North, Psal. 48. 2. crucified on Mount Calvarie, which was on the North-west side of Ierusalem: as by the Jewes tradition, the morning sacrifice was killed at the North-west borne of the Altar.

Ver. 26. offeth] or, expieth-by-it; as the Chaldee translateth, that maketh atonement by the blood thereof: in Greeke, that offeth it. The Priest did did eat it, and so bare the iniquitie of the sinner: (Lev. 10. 17.) and in type abolished the same. It was also a part of their livelihood, Ezek. 44. 28, 29. which covetous Priests abused, eating the sinne of Gods people; and lifting up their soule unto their iniquitie, Hol. 4. 8. It further figured our communion with Christ our sacrifice, eating his flesh by faith, John 6. 56. as hee hath made us an holy Priesthood, even Kings and Priests unto God his father, 1 Pet. 2. 5. Rev. 1. 6. in the holy place] within the courtyard of the Sanctuarie, not without the same. Seven other things were also to be eaten there, noted on Levit. 24. 9.

27 Ver. 27. blood thereof] of the Sin-offring; whether it were that which was to be eaten, or that which was to be burnt. And this rite was peculiar to the Sin-offring, above all the other most holy things; Maim. treat. of Offring the sacrific. ch. 8. f. 1, 2. As the Sin-offring in speciall sort figured Christ (who was made sin for us, 2 Cor. 5. 21) so this ordinance for all that touched the flesh of the Sin-offring to be holy; the garments sprinkled with the blood, to be washed; the vessels wherein the flesh was boyled, to be broken, or scoured and rinsed: taught an holy use of this mysterie of our redemption, wherof they that are made partakers, ought to be washed, cleansed and sanctified, by the Spirit of God; that we possesse our vessels in holinesse and honour, and yeeld not our members as instruments of unrighteousnesse unto sin any more, 1 Thes. 4. 4. Rom. 6. 13. wash] This washing was for casuall sprinkling, as when any blood sprung out of the bason, upon a garment; or the like. As the Hebrew canons say, Nothing was charged to be washed, but the bloody place onely: and that which was upon an instrument apt to receive uncleannesse, and apt to be washed. But if it were sprinkled on an instrument of wood, or of metall, it was not to be washed, because they are things not fit to be washed, but they are onely scraped. If it be sprinkled on the skin of a fish: it is not required to be washed, because that is not a thing apt to receive uncleannesse. If on the skin of a beast, before it be slayed, it is not charged to be washed: if it be after it is slayed, then must it be washed: for though it receiveth no uncleannesse now, yet loe it is apt to receive uncleannesse, after it is dressed for use. If it spring out of the necke, upon a garment, or from upon a borne of the Altar, or after that it is shed on the ground, it be gathered up, and any of it put on a garment, they are not charged to wash it, for it is written, And when there is sprinkled of the blood, &c. It is not meant, but of blood received in a ministring vessell, and fit for to sprinkle; and that there be enough for that use. If hee hath put the blood on the foure hornes of the Altar, and afterward some of the blood left in the bason, be put on a garment, it is not required to be washed, &c. When they wash the bloody place, they must wash it very faire, till there be left no marke of the blood, &c. Maimony, in offring sacrifice: chap. 8. f. 4. - 10. These ordinances shadowed the contagion of sin; (as did all the like in other cases, Levit. 11. 32, 33. &c.) and the care that we should have to cleanse our selves by repentance & faith, 2 Cor. 7. 1. Heb. 10. 19, 22. The ancient Hebrew Doctors had some knowledge of these mysteries; for spea- king of this washing of garments, they give a reason, Because it was necessary to doe away uncleannesse, by the waters that are on high: R. Menachem on Levit. 6. These are the spirituall waters, mentioned in Heb. 10. 22. John 7. 38, 39. Revel. 1. 5. and 22. 1. Zach. 13. 1. Esay 4. 4.

Ver. 28. scoured] as the washing was to be in the holy place, or Court, ver. 27. so it was required that the earthen vessell should be broken in the court; and the vessell of metall, should be scoured and rinsed with water in the court. The scouring, was with hot water, and the rinsing, with cold. With water, not with wine, or any mixture, or other liquor. Maimony, ibidem, ch. 8. f. 11, 12. Of breaking the earthen vessels, see the notes on Levit. 11. 33.

Ver. 29. boly of bolies] Hebr. holinesse of holinesses, that is, most holy; and the Greeke addeth, unto the Lord.

Ver. 30. into the Tem] as was the blood of the Sin-offrings for the high Priest; and for the Church: see Lev. 4. 5, 16. The signification of this law, for the burning of such sacrifices, and that the Priests might not eate of them, was to shew the inability of that legall Priesthood, to reconcile men to God: and that men cleaving thereto, and not seeking for the better Priesthood of Christ, could not be saved. For such Sin-offrings as those Priests did eate, so typically bearing the peoples iniquitie, Lev. 10. 17. and taking it away, the blood of them came not into the Sanctuarie before God; which argued their unworthinesse. But Christ with his blood (shed for our sins) entered into the holy place, (not that which was made with hands, but into very heaven) and hath obtained eternall redemption, Heb. 9. 11, 12, 24. And in that the legall Priests, might not eate the flesh of that Sin-offring, whose blood was carried into the holy place, but the body was all burnt without the camp: the Apostle from hence saith; We have an Altar (meaning Christ) wherof they have no right to eate, which serve the Tabernacle: so excluding from Christ, all that cleaved to the rudiments of Moses. Which he proveth thus;) For the bodies of beasts, whose blood is brought into the Sanctuarie by the high Priest for sin, (wherein Christs sacrifice was most lively figured) are burnt without the campe; (so that the Priest had no meat, or livelihood thereby:) Wherefore Iesus also, that he might sanctifie the people with his owne blood, suffred without the gate; (so accomplishing the type; and shewing withall, that such as would still serve the worldly Sanctuarie, had no right to eat of him, and live by him.) Let us goe forth therefore unto him, without the campe, bearing his reproach, &c. Heb. 13. 10, 13. Teaching us hereby, to have communion with Christ, both by faith, in applying to our selves his death and sufferings, 1 Pet. 3. 18. Gal. 2. 20. and in partaking of his afflictions; going out from our earthly habitations, and seeking the things that are above, 1 Pet. 4. 1. Colos. 2. 12, 13. and 3. 2. 1. Knowing this, that our old man is crucified with him, that the body of sin might be destroyed, that henceforth we should not serve sin, Rom. 6. 6.

CHAP. VII.

1, The Law of the Trespasse-offring, 11, and of the Peace-offrings; 12, Whether they were for Thanksgiving, 16, or a vow, or a voluntary-offring. 23, The fat, 26, and the blood are forbidden to be eaten. 28, The Priests portion in the Peace-offrings.

1 AND this is the law of the Trespasse-2 offring: it is, holy of holies. In the place, where they kill the Burnt-offring, shall they kill the Trespasse-offring:
3 and the blood thereof, shall he sprinkle upon the Altar, round about. And he shall offer of 4 it, all the fat thereof: the rump, and the fat that covereth the inwards. And the two 5 kidneys, and the fat which is upon them, which is upon the flanks: and the caule, above the liver; with the kidneys, hee shall 6 take away it. And the Priest shall burne them, upon the Altar, for a Fire-offring unto 7 Jehovah: it is a Trespasse-offring. Every male among the Priests, shall eat thereof:
8 in the holy place shall it be eaten, it is holy of holies. As is the Sin-offring, so is the tresp-9 passe-offring; there is one law for them: the Priest, that shall make atonement therewith, 10 his shall it be. And the Priest, that offreth
a mans Burnt-offring: the skin of the Burntoffring, which he hath offred; it shall be, for 11 the Priest himselfe. And every meat-offring, that is baken in the oven; and all that is made in the frying-pan, and on the pan, shall be 12 for the Priest himselfe that offreth it. And every Meat-offring mingled with oyle, and dry: shall be, for all the sons of Aaron, one as much as another.

11 And this is the law, of the sacrifice of 12 Peace-offrings: which he shall offer unto Jehovah. If he offer it, for Confession; then he shall offer with the sacrifice of Confession, unleavened cakes, mingled with oile; and unleavened wafers, anointed with oile: and 13 of fine flowre hastily-fried, cakes mingled with oile. With the cakes, leavened cakes of bread, shall he offer for his oblation: with 14 the sacrifice of Confession of his Peace-of-frings. And he shall offer, one of them, out of the whole oblation; for an Heave-offring, unto Jehovah: it shall be of the Priests, even 15 his, that sprinkleth the blood of the Peaceoffrings. And the flesh of the sacrifice, of Confession of his Peace-offrings; shall be 16 eaten, in the day of the offering of it: he shall not leave of it, untill the morning. And if the sacrifice of his oblation, be a vow or a voluntary-offring; it shall be eaten, in the day that he offreth his sacrifice: and on the morrow, the remainder also of it shall be eaten. But the remainder of the flesh of the sacrifice: in the third day, shall be burnt with 17 fire. And if any of the flesh of the sacrifice of 18 his Peace-offrings be eaten at all, in the third day; it shall not be favourably-accepted: he that offreth it, it shall not be imputed, unto him, it shall be a polluted-thing: and the soule that eateth of it, shall beare his iniquity.

And the flesh, that toucheth any uncleane-19 thing, shall not be eaten; it shall be burnt with fire: and the flesh; every one that is cleane, shall eat the flesh. But the soule that 20 eateth the flesh, of the sacrifice of Peace-of-frings which pertain unto Jehovah, and hath his uncleanness upon him: even that soule shall be cut-off, from his peoples. And the 21 soule that shall touch any uncleane-thing;
the uncleannes of man, or an unclean beast,
or any abomination that is uncleane; and eat
of the flesh of the sacrifice of Peace-offrings, which pertain unto Jehovah: even that soule
shall be cut-off, from his peoples.

And Jehovah spake unto Moses, saying; 22
23 Speake unto the sons of Israel, saying: yee shall not eat any fat, of ox, or of sheepe, or of goat. And the fat of a carcase, and the 24 fat of that which is torne in pieces; shall be used for any worke: but eating ye shall not eat of it. For whosoever eateth the fat, of the 25 beast, of which he offreth a Fire-offring, unto Jehovah: even the soule that eateth it, shall be cut off from his peoples. And yee 26 shall not eat, any blood, in any of your dwellings: of fowle, or of beast. Any soule that 27 eateth any blood: even that soule shall be cut-off, from his peoples.

And Jehovah spake unto Moses, saying; 28
29 Speake unto the sons of Israel, saying; Hee that offreth the sacrifice of his Peace-of-frings, unto Jehovah, shall bring his oblation unto Jehovah, of the sacrifice of his Peace-30 offrings. His hands shall bring, Jehovahs Fire-offrings: the fat with the breast, it shall he bring; the breast, to wave it for a Wave-31 offering, before Jehovah. And the Priest shall burne the fat, upon the Altar: and the breast 32 shall be Aarons and his sons. And the right shoulder, shall ye give for a Heave-offring, 33 unto the Priest: of the sacrifices of your Peace-offrings. Hee of the sons of Aaron, that offreth the blood of the Peace-offrings,
and the fat; his shall the right shoulder be, 34 for a portion. For the wave breast, and the heave

heave shoulder, have I taken of the sons of Israel, from off the sacrifices of their Peace-offerings: and have given them, unto Aaron the Priest, and unto his sons, by a statute for ever, from among the sons of Israel.

- 35 This is the anointing of Aaron, and the anointing of his sons; out-off Jehovahs Fire-offerings: in the day when he presented them, to minister-in-the-Priests-office, unto Jehovah. Which Jehovah commanded to give 36 unto them, in the day that he anointed them, from among the sons of Israel: by a statute
37 for ever, throughout their generations. This is the law, of the Burnt-offring, of the Meat-offring, and of the Sin-offring, and of the Trespass-offring: and of the fillings (of the hand) and of the sacrifice of the Peace-offerings. Which Jehovah commanded Moses, 38 in Mount-Sinai: in the day that he commanded the sons of Israel, to offer their oblations unto Jehovah, in the wilderness of Sinai.

Annotations.

- 1 Trespass-offring] Hebr. Asham; that is, trespass, or guiltiness: in Greeke, the Ram for trespass. This is an explanation of things commanded in Lev. 5. holy] Hebr. holiness of holinesses; that is, a most holy thing, so in vers. 16.
- 2 Ver. 2. the place] the Northside of the Altar, Lev. 1. 11. figuring the place where Christ, our Sin and Trespass-offring should be killed for us; as is noted on Lev. 6. 25. he sprinkle] meaning the Priest, as he sprinkled the blood of the Burnt-offrings, and of the Peace-offrings. See the notes on Lev. 1. 5. and 3. 2, 8.
- 3 Ver. 3. the rampe, &c.] Of these rites, see the notes on Levitic. 3. 4, 9. &c. for the same order in most things, was for all these sacrifices. Whether it were a manifest Trespass-offring, or a doubtful Trespass-offring, he killed it, and sprinkled the blood, as is before declared. And flayed it, and tooke out the inwards, and salted them, and sired them on the fire upon the Altar. And if he would bring them in a vessel, he might: and the residue of the flesh, was eaten by the males of the Priests, in the court, as the sin-offring. Maim. treat. of offering the sacr. c. 9. l. 1.
- 4 V. 4. which is upon] or, and that which is upon the flanks: in Gr. upon the thighs, it was a distinct thing from the former: see the notes on Lev. 3. 4. A like phrase is in Psal. 133. 3. the dew of Hermon, which descendeth, that is, and the dew which descendeth upon the mountains of Zion.
- 5 Ver. 5. Fire-offring] in Chaldee, an oblation, and the Greeke addeth, a small of sweet savour.
- 8 Ver. 8. skin of the Burnt-offring] and so of other like offerings. Touching this point, the Hebr. canons say; All the skins of the most holy things, were the Priests: whether they were sacrifices of the congregation, or sacrifices of particular persons. But the skins of the leight holy things, were the owners. And every Burnt-offring, whose flesh was not met to be offered on the Altar; the Priest had no right to the skin thereof. All the most holy things, unto which pollution hapneth, before they be flayed, their skins belong not to the Priest: if after they be flayed, the Priests have their skins. And all the skins, the men of custodie (which serve in their court) doe divide them among them, from Sabbath evening, to Sabbath evening. He that taketh his Burnt-offring, for the maintenance of the Sanctuary: likewise, he that sanctifieth his goods, if there be males among them, whose right it is to be offered for Burnt-offrings: the Priests have not their skins; for it is written, THE PRIEST THAT OFFERETH A MANS BURNT-OFFRING; particularly distinguishing it from the Burnt-offrings of the Sanctuary. But those skins are sold, and fall to the reparation of the Sanctuary. Whether it be man or woman, stranger or servant; the skins of their sacrifices are the Priests: he saith not, A mans Burnt-offring, but to except the Sanctuaries. Maim. treat. of Offering the sacrif. c. 5. l. 19, 20, 21. This ordinance, compared with the coats of skin, wherewith God clothed our naked first parents, Gen. 3. 21. and with the goats skins, wherewith Jacobs hands were covered when hee got the blessing, Gen. 27. 16. may lead to the gift of God, in bestowing upon us Christ and his righteousness, to be clothed with him by faith, and sanctification, partaking of his death and sufferings, Rom. 13. 13, 14. Phil. 3. 9, 10.

Ver. 9. the pan] or, the flat plate. Of these, see the notes on Lev. 2. 5, 6, 7. for the Priest] or, the Priests, even he that offereth it. The Scripture thus speaketh (as the Hebrew Doctors observe) of this and the other sacrifices, to teach that the Priest who is meet for to serve, he hath his part in them to eat the same. And he that is not fit at the house of the offering; as, one that is unclean, he hath no part to eat, although he be purified at evening. But in this manner of parting, all is for those that offer in the same day. And they all have their parts, in all the holy things of the Sanctuary, one as much as another. Maimony treat. of offering the sacrifice, c. 10. l. 14. This figured our thankfulness unto God for his graces, which we should use and imploy unto his honour: communicating unto them that teach us the word, in all good things, Gal. 6. 6. 1 Cor. 9. 7, -11.

Ver. 10. dry] that is, not mingled with oile, as the Greeke translateth. Such were the Meat-offrings of the sinner, and the like: see Levit. 5. 11. one as another] Hebr. man as his brother: that is, every man alike; as the Greeke explaineth it. From this word, Man, the Hebrew Doctors say; A child hath not a share, no not in the light holy things, although it be lawfull for him to eat, even of the most holy things. Likewise a woman, or one that is both man and woman, have no share in the holy things of the Sanctuary at all, for it is said, MAN AS HIS BROTHER. But he that hath a blemish, whether continuall or transitory; whether he be borne with his blemish, or is unblemished, and yet disabled; he hath a share and eateb, as it is written, The bread of his God, even of the most holy, and of the holy, shall be eat, (Lev. 21. 22.) He also that is meet to eat. But if he be unclean, he hath no portion to eat at evening. And the high Priest eateb, not by share but taketh what he pleaseth; Maimony, treat. of offering the sacrifice, chap. 10. sect. 17. &c.

12 Verf. 12. for Confession] or, for Thanksgiving: the Greeke translateth it, for Praise: and the sacrifice of praise, with confessing to Gods name, is mentioned by the Apostle, Heb. 13. 15. alluding to this law. See before in Levit. 3. This Confession, the Hebrews (as Sol. Iarchi on this place) say, was for mercies and deliverances received from God; as by them that goe down into the Sea, or that travell through the d. parts, or have bene prisoners, or sicke and recovered; for such are bound to make confession, as it is written, Let them confesse unto the LORD his mercie, &c. and let them sacrifice the sacrifice of Confession, Psal. 107. 4. 10, 17, 21, 22, 23 &c. If for any of these, a man hath vowed Peace-offerings, with these Peace-offerings of Confession he is bound to bring the bread here spoken of, and they are not to be eaten, but that day and that night. with the sacrifice] Maim. in treat. of offering the sacrifices, c. 9. f. 3. &c. sheweth, that there were foure sorts of Peace-offerings: One, the Peace-offerings of the congregation: and three, the Peace-offerings of particular persons. The Peace-offerings of the congregation, they were killed, & their blood sprinkled, as is before declared. Then they were stayed, their inwards taken out with the fat, and salted, and burnt on the Altar. And the remainder was eaten by the males of the Priests, in the court, as the Sin-offering, and as the Trespass-offering: for they were most holy. The Peace-offerings of particular men were of three sorts. The one was Peace-offerings brought without bread, as the peace-offerings of the Chagigah (or Passover, Deut. 16.) and Pentecost (or feast of weekes:) these are called simply, Peace-offerings. The second sort was brought with bread, for a vow, or for a voluntary-offering; this is called Confession (or Thanksgiving) and the bread thereof is called, the bread of the Confession. The third sort, was that which the Nazarite offered, in the day of the accomplishment of his Nazariteship, this was also brought with bread; and it was called, the Nazarites ram, (Numb. 6. 13, 14, 15. &c.) These three sorts were killed, their blood sprinkled, they stayed, their fat and inwards taken out. Afterwards, the flesh was cut-up, the brest and right shoulder separated: and the inwards, with the brest and shoulder, were put in the hands of the owners of the sacrifices: and the Priest put his hand under the owners hand, and waved all before the Lord. See further touching this in the Annotations on Levit. 3. 5. unleavened] see the notes on Levit. 2. 4. hastily fried] see Levit. 6. 21.

13 Verf. 13. With the cakes] namely, with the unleavened cakes aforesaid, he shall also bring leavened cakes. So the Greeke translateth, with the unleavened breads. leavened cakes of bread] The Hebrew Lechem, (that is, bread,) is sometime used for many loaves, or cakes; as in Levit. 23. 17. wave-bread, two: meaning, two wave cakes, or loaves. So in this place: for, the bread brought with the sacrifice of Confession, was thus prepared. Hee tooke 20. tembs, (or pottles) of fine flower, and made of them ten pottles leavened, and ten unleavened. The ten that were leavened, he made of them, ten cakes. And the ten that were unleavened, he made of them, 30. cakes equally; ten cakes of every sort; to wheet, ten cakes baken in the oven, and ten cakes wafers, and ten cakes hastily-fried. These 30. cakes were made with the quantitie of halfe a log of oile; a fourth part thereof, for the cakes hastily fried: an eight part for the baken cakes; and an eight part for the wafers, &c. And the Priest tooke one of all foure cakes, one of every sort. Maim. treat. of offering the sacrific. c. 9. f. 17. &c. Leaven (figuring corruption of nature and actions, 1 Cor. 5. 8.) is usually forbidden in all sacrifices: here, with the sacrifice of Confession or Thanks, God accepteth of it; either to teach us due preparation of our prayers and thanks unto him, (for leavening sometime is used in the good part, denoting the secret working of things in time, Matth. 13. 33.) or to teach us to temper our joyes with sorrow and affliction in this life, (as the Prophets beari was leavened, Pl. 73. 21.) or, to signifie, that he would graciously accept of our thanks and service, though mixed with our infirmities, which of his mercie in Christ he forgiveth unto us, 1 Joh. 1. 8, 9, 10.

Verf. 14. one of them] to wheet, one of the cakes afore-mentioned, of each sort one, as is above noted. The Hebr. is, one of it, to wheet, of the bread, (that is, the cakes) spoken of in verf. 13. the whole oblation] or, all the oblation: the Greeke translateth it, all his gifts. The Priest had but one cake of every sort the rest were eaten by the owners: so in the sacrifice, the Priest had the brest and shoulder; the other flesh was eaten by the owners. Yea, (notwithstanding that law in Lev. 6. 23.) if the owner of the sacrifice of Confession were a Priest, yet the residue of the bread, was eaten by the owners, as the sacrifice of another Israelite: for the bread that cometh with the sacrifice of Confession, or with the Nazarites ram, is not called a Meat-offering. Maimmy, treat. of offering the sacrifices, c. 9. f. 11, 12, 14. an Heave-offering] so called, because it was heaved or lifted up: the Chaldee and Greeke expoundeth it, a separation, or separated thing.

V. 15. eaten in the day] the eating of the Peace-offerings was a religious feast, wherein they rejoiced before the Lord, and gave him thanks, Deut. 12. 6, 7. The eating of it the same day it was offered, taught them to hasten, and not to delay to keepe Gods Commandements; and with speed, whiles it is called to day, to be made partakers of Christ by eating his flesh in faith; and to be thankfull unto God for his grace, Psalm. 119. 60. Psalme 95. 7, 8. Hebr. 3. 12, 13, 15. See also the notes on Exodus 12. 10. And at the time of (eating) the flesh, so was the time for (eating) the bread, as Sol. Iarchi here observeth.

Verf. 16. a vow, or a voluntary-offering] which he bringeth not for Confession for deliverance, as before is noted on verf. 12. then hee is not bound to bring bread with them, and they may be eaten two daies: saith Solomon Iarchi. The difference between these two is declared in the Hebrew canons, thus; He that saith, Loe upon me be a Burnt-offering; or, Loe upon me be a Meat-offering; or, Loe, the price of this beast be upon me for a Burnt-offering; or a Peace-offering; this is a Vow. But he that saith; Loe, this beast, or the price of this beast, be a Burnt-offering or Peace-offering; or this temb-deale of flower be a Meat-offering: loe, this is a Voluntary-offering. What difference is there betwene vowed, and voluntary-offerings? Hee that voweth, if hee have separated his offering, and

and it be lost or stol'n, he is bound for the worth of it afterwards, till he offer one like that which he hath vowed. But hee that voluntarily promiseth; if the thing die, or be stol'n; he is not bound to bring another for it. Hee that sayeth, the price of this Ox be upon me a Burnt-offering; or, the price of this house be upon me an oblation: if the Ox die, or the house fall, he is bound to pay, &c. Sinne-offerings and Trespasse-offerings, they are not brought, but for sin: they come in by Vow or by voluntary-offering. He that sayeth, Loe, upon me be a Sinne-offering, &c. or, Loe this be a Sin or Trespasse-offering: he sayeth nothing. If he be indebted to bring a Sin or Trespasse-offering; and say, Loe this be for my sin, or for my Trespasse-offering; or, this money be for my Sin or Trespasse-offering: his words must be performed. He that voweth, or voluntarily-promiseth, is not bound, till his mouth and his heart accord. As he that intends to say, upon me be a Burnt-offering: and saith, a Peace-offering: he sayeth nothing. If he intend to vow a Burnt-offering, and sayeth (generally) an offering; his words must stand: for the Burnt-offering is an offering; and so in all like cases. In vows and voluntaries, it is not necessary that a man pronounce ought with his lips: but if he have fully determined in his heart, though he hath uttered nothing with his lips, he is indebted. Maim. in treat. of Offring the sacrif. chap. 14. sect. 1. 5. &c.

17 Ver. 17. in the third day, shall be burnt] as being unlawfull to be eaten: see the notes on Exod. 12. 10. So the longest time for eating the flesh of any sacrifice, was but the second day; in the third, none might ever be eaten. Which ordinance was given, partly that the holy flesh might be eaten while it was pure and sweet, for by the third day, it might easily in those hot Countries putrifie; partly to teach men diligence to apply and make use to themselves, of the signes of grace in due time, as before is noted. But chiefly it seemeth to fore-shadow the time of Christ, who rising from death the third day, abolished all legall offerings: see the Annotations on Gen. 22. 4. And the Scripture useth to day, and to morrow for a short time, set and limited, as Behold I cast out Devils, and doe cures to day and to morrow, and the third day I shall be perfected, Luke 13. 32.

18 Ver. 18. eaten at all] Hebrew, eating be eaten. The rules for this, are thus explained; The Peace-offrings are eaten, the day that they are killed, and all that night, and all the next day, untill Sun-setting, Leviticus 7. 16, 17, 18. so they are eaten two daies, and one night; whether it be the portion of the Priests, or the portion of the owners. The same Law is for the first-borne, and for the Tithes, for they are leight holy things, like the Peace-offrings. But the (sacrifice of) Confession, though it be of the leight holy things, is not eaten, save in the day that it is killed, with the night, Leviticus 7. 15. Likewise the Nazaries Rammes, and the bread that came with it, are like unto them, whether the portion of the Priests; or the portion of the owners. And the same Law is for the Sin-offring, and for the Trespasse-offring, and for Peace-offrings of the Congregation; and the residue of the Meas-offrings, for all are eaten that day and that night, Levit. 7. 15. All the offerings are thus to be eaten; save the Peace-offrings which the Scripture expresseth, and the first-borne, and Tithes, which are like unto them. All these which are to be eaten that day, and that night, they may be eaten by the Law, untill the break of the day: but for to keepe men far from transgression, our wise men have said, they are not to be eaten, but untill midnight. Maim. treat. of Offring the sacrif. ch. 10. sect. 6, 7, 8. By this we may see the reason why the Paschall Lamb, being eaten in the night before, the Jewes on the morrow would not goe into the judgement Hall, lest they should be defiled; but that they might eat the Paschever: Mark. 14. 12. Joh. 13. & 18. 28. For the Paschall Lamb was eaten the night before, and nothing of it might be eaten on the morrow, Exodus 12. 10. but the voluntarie Peace-offrings sacrificed therewith, (which are also called the Paschever, in Deuteronomy 16. 2.) might be eaten also the day following, but not on the third day; as this Law sheweth. not be imputed] or, not reckoned, counted, or thought: to weet, by the Lord, as a pleasing service, or acceptable sacrifice. So this phrase is used, in Numb. 18. 27, 30. But the Hebrew Doctors gather from hence, another thing somewhat strangely; they say, There are three thoughts (purposes or intendments) that make the offerings unallowable; which are, the thought (or purpose) of changing the name, and the purpose of the place, and the purpose of the time. Of changing the name: as he that killeth the sacrifice, and not by the name thereof; but reputeth the Burnt-offring, that it is a Peace-offring, or the Peace-offring, a Burnt-offring, and the like. The purpose of the place; as he that killeth a sacrifice by the right name, upon condition to sprinkle the blood thereof, or burne that which is to be burnt, without the court, or to eat that which is to be eaten, out of the place where it ought to be eaten, &c. The purpose of the time, as hee that killeth a sacrifice by the right name, upon condition to sprinkle the blood thereof after the Sun setting, which is not the time for sprinkling of it, or to burne that which is to be burned thereof, on the morrow after day light, which is not the time for burning of it; or to eat that which is to be eaten thereof, after the time appointed for the eating of it, &c. These are called sacrifices killed out of their due time, and they are called Pigul (that is, polluted) in every place, and this is the polluted thing spoken of in the Law. By word of mouth we have bene taught, that that which is said in the Law, (Levitic. 7. 18,) If any of the flesh of the sacrifice of his Peace-offrings be eaten, &c. is spoken but of him that purposeth in the house of offering it, that he will eat thereof in the third day. And the same Law is for every offering, concerning which, he purposeth, in the house of offering it, to eat thereof after the due time. And so if he purpose to burne thereof on the Altar, the thing which is fit to be burned: whether it be that which is eaten by man, or eaten (that is, consumed) by the Altar, if the purpose concerning it, for after the time, the oblation is polluted. But the offering which is not corrupted with his purpose, but the blood thereof is sprinkled on the Altar in due manner, and there remaineth thereof till after the time that it should be eaten: that which remaineth, it is called Nothar (the Remainder, Levit. 7. 17.) and it is unlawful to eat it. But the oblation now is favourably accepted, and hath made atonement. Behold he saith of the blood, I have given it to you upon the Altar, to make an atonement, (Levit. 17. 11.) when the blood is applied to the Altar in due manner, the owners (of the sacrifices) have atonement made for them, and the offering is accepted, &c. In such services, the sacrifice is polluted by the purpose: in the killing, and in the receiving of the blood, and in the carrying of it (to the Altar) and in the sprinkling of it upon the Altar. And the (sacrifice of) fowles, is two things: in the cutting of the neck with the knife, and in the wringing-out of the blood. And the Meat-offerings, out of which the handfull is taken, in four: in the taking of the handfull; and in the putting of the handfull into a ministring vessel; and in the carrying of it to the Altar; and in the sprinkling of it upon the fire. But if the purpose, in other things, except these: as in the house of slaying, or of cutting in pieces, or in the house when the fat is carried to the Altar, or when the Meat-offering is mingled, and the like: those purposes effect not any thing at all; whether it be the purpose of changing the name, or the place, or the time. And so be that purpose in any of these four services, or in them all, any other purpose, (or thou be) then these three, that purpose causeth no corruption at all: as if the purpose in the time of killing, carrying the blood, or sprinkling, to have of the blood of the sacrifice; or of the fat, till the morrow, or to carry them out of the court, &c. or to put the blood on the golden Altar, which should be put on the brazen Altar, or purpose, that they which are unclean, shall eat the sacrifice, or to mixe the blood of the sacrifice, with the blood of unallowable things; or to break the bones of the Paschall lambe, or to ease of it raw, or any the like; in all such thoughts (or purposes) the sacrifice continueth good, &c. No thought (or purpose) goeth, save after him that serveth: but the purpose of the owner of the sacrifice, availeth nothing: if the purpose of him that serveth, be right, the sacrifice is good. Neither doth the purpose availe, save of him that is fit to serve, and in the thing that is fit for service, and in the place that is fit for service. Maim. in Pesukei hamukdashim, c. 13. f. 1. &c. &c. 13. f. 1. 2. To the like effect they write in Talm. Bab. in Zebachim c. 2. but this exposition hath no firm ground: for though such thoughts or purposes were unlawfull, yet it is not manifest that they made the sacrifice a polluted thing; besides that, the Law saith, If it be eaten at all in the third day, it is a polluted thing, Lev. 19. 7. a polluted thing] or abominable, a thing to be refused, for the corruption of it: in Hebrew it is called Pigul; and properly it is meant, of a thing polluted by passing the time of eating, offering, or the like; as in the Annotations before going, is shewed. The word is used here, and againe in Levit. 19. 7. Esay 65. 4. and Ezek. 4. 14. and not elsewhere. The Greek translaterh it sundry waies, a thing polluted, unsacrificeable, and profane. The Apostle useth a word Apobleton, (that is, a thing to be refused, or rejected) speaking of meats; in 1 Tim. 4. 4. which may be the interpretation of this word: and so Aquila, one of the exactest Translators of the Bible into Greeke, turneth this Pigul, Apobleton, Levitic. 19. 7. the soule] in Chaldee, the man: so in vers. 20. his iniquitie] that is, the punishment of his iniquitie; see the notes on Genes. 19. 15. Any oblation that is become polluted through purpose of the time, as is before declared: whosoever eateth so much as an olive thereof, presumptuously, is guilty of cutting off, as it is written, the soule that eateth thereof, shall beare his iniquitie. And if he eat thereof, ignorantly, he is to bring the S. offering appointed. Maimony in Pesukei hamukdashim, chap. 8. sect. 6. The Lord himselfe expoundeth it thus; Because hee hath profaned the hallowed thing of Iehovah, even that soule shall be cut-off from among his people: Levit. 19. 8. In the Babylonian Talm. in Zebachim chap. 2. they have these canons; He that killeth a sacrifice, so sprinkle the blood thereof without (the court-yard) or some of the blood thereof without; so burne the fat thereof, or some of the fat thereof without; so eat the flesh thereof, or so much as an olive of the flesh thereof without; it is an unallowable thing, but there is no cutting off for it. If (with purpose) to sprinkle the blood, or some of the blood thereof on the morrow; to eat the flesh, or so much as an olive of the flesh thereof on the morrow, it is a Pigul, (a polluted thing) and they are guilty of cutting off for it.

Ver. 19. the flesh] that is, as the Chaldee explaineth it, the holy flesh; which Sol Iarchi expoundeth, the holy flesh of the Peace-offerings. burnt with fire] The like Law was for the remainders of things the second or third day, v. 15. 17. And generally, that which remained and was polluted, and all the holy things, that became unallowable, were all burned. An oblation that became polluted or unallowable; was burnt in the Sanctuary, out of hand. Flesh of the most holy things, if they were made unclean within (the Sanctuary) they burned it within: and if it were made unclean without, they burned it without. If any of the leight holy things remained, the owners thereof burnt it in their houses. Who so went out of Jerusalem, and remembered that there was holy flesh in his hand; if he were past the spies, [such as used to watch upon the wals, 2 Kin. 9. 17.] he burned it in his place: and if not, if he had a morfell with him, or more, he went backe, and burned it in Jerusalem. All the bones of the holy things, which had no marrow in them: they were not bound to burne them, except the bones of the Passover. These are the things that were burned: Holy flesh that was made unclean, or that remained; or was made disallowable. Likewise the Meat-offering, that was made such. And the doubtfull trespass-offering, when it was knowne to a man, before the blood of it was sprinkled, that he had not sinned; and the Sin-offerings of fowles that were brought upon doubt. And the haire of the cleane Nazarite, (Numb. 6. 18.) And the superfluous and mixture of the vineyard, (Lev. 19. 23. Deut. 22. 9.) And the thing which was not accustomed to be burnt, was buried. Such were the holy things that died, and that had unrightly virities: the Ox that was stoned, (Exod. 21. 28.) the Heifer that was beheaded, (Deut. 21. 4.) the Sparrow of the Leper, (Lev. 14.) the haire of the unclean Nazarite, (Numb. 6. 9.) the first-borne asse (Exod. 13. 13.) flesh in milke: and profane things killed in the court of the Sanctuary. All these were buried, the dust of them was unallowable: and all that were burnt, of the holy things, the dust of them was lawfull, except the ashes of the outward and inward Altar, and of the Candlestick. Whatsoever was to be burned, might not be buried; and whatsoever was to be buried, might not be burned. Maim. in Pesukei hamukdashim, ch. 9. sect. 1, 2, 6, 7, 14. and the flesh] that which abideth abideth cleane, and fit to be eaten; the holy flesh; as the Chaldee expoundeth it: the flesh of the peace-offerings, vers. 21. that is cleane, shall eat the flesh in Chaldee, shall eat the holy flesh. Here Sol. Iarchi noteth, that whereas it is said (in Deut. 12. 27.) and thou shalt eat the flesh, lest any should say, perhaps none may eat of the Peace-offerings but the owners (that bring it) therefore it is said, every one that is cleane, shall eat (or may eat) the flesh.

20 Vers. 20. uncleanesse upon him] The Hebrews expound this of an unclean person that eateth of an holy thing before he is washed. He that eateth of it after he is washed, before his Sun be set, or before he hath brought his atonement, is to be beaten. But he is not guiltie of cutting off; because it is said, AND HIS UNCLEANESSE UPON HIM, whiles all his uncleanesse is upon him: Maimony in Pesule hamukdashin, ch. 18. sect. 14. that soule shall be cut off] the Chaldee expoundeth it, that man shall be destroyed; in Greek, shall perish; meaning, by the hand of God. See Levit. 22. 3. 9.

21 Vers. 21. of man] that is, of an unclean man: such as had leprosie, running issue, or the like, Lev. 13. and 15. See also Levit. 22. 2, 3, 4. &c. Uncleanesse of man, is put for man of uncleanesse: see the like in Lev. 5. 15. In the Hebrew canons, it is thus explained: Any man that is made unclean with such uncleanesse, as if he come into the sanctuary, he is guiltie of cutting off; if he eat so much as an olive of the holy things, whether it be of the cleane holy thing, or of the unclean holy thing, doing it presumptuously, he is guiltie of cutting off, Lev. 7. 20. and if he eat ignorantly, he must bring the sacrifice appointed (in Levit. 5. 2. 11. Maim. in Pesulei hamukdashin, chap. 18. sect. 13. of Peace-offerings] and so by proportion, of other sacrifices: for, the same Law is for other holy things of the Altar, saith Maimony ibidem. The flesh of these sacrifices, being a figure of the flesh of Christ, to be eaten of the Saints by faith: this law signified, that all unbelievers, hypocrites and wicked ones that professe the Gospel, and partake of the signes and seales of grace unworthily, doe eat and drinke judgement to themselves. 1 Corin. 11. 27, 28, 29.

23 Vers. 23. fat of oxen] This explaineth and limiteth the law before given, in Levit. 3. 17. to the fat of these three kindes of beasts: see the annotations there.

24 Vers. 24. of a carcase] to weete, that which dieth of it selfe, or otherwise, after an unlawfull manner. To eat the flesh of carcasses, or of things that were torne; was unlawfull, Exod. 22. 31. Levit. 17. 15. and 22. 8. Deut. 14. 21. Ezek. 4. 14. and 44. 31. to eat the fat of such, was a double trespass. He that eateth the fat of a dead or torne beast, is guiltie both for eating the fat, and for eating the dead or torne beast, &c. Maim. tom. 2. treat. of Forbidden meats, c. 7. f. 2.

25 Vers. 25. shall be cut-off] the Greeke translateth, shall perish; to weete, if he doe it with a high hand. He that eateth so much as an olive of fat, presumptuously, is in danger to be cut-off: if he doe it ignorantly, he is to bring the Sin-offering appointed. Maim. treat. of Forbidden meats, chap. 7. sect. 1. So for the next case, of eating blood, vers. 27.

V. 26. or of beast] This also is a limitation: whereupon the Jews hold no prohibition of the blood of fishes, locusts, creeping things, and the like: see the notes on Lev. 3. 17. and 17. 10. 14. and Gen. 9. 4. So Sol. Iarchi here noteth, of fowle, or of beasts, to except the blood of fishes, locusts, &c.

Ver. 29. his oblation] in Gr. his gift, meaning those things which were given out of the Peace-offerings, to the Lord and to the Priest.

V. 30. his hands] he might not do it by another person: but the Priest put the parts of the sacrifices into the owners hands, and received them of him. See the notes on Levit. 3. 5. and 7. 12.

fat with the breast] of which, the fat was the Lords, burnt on the altar; but the breast was the Priests, to eat, vers. 21. wave it] the manner of doing this, and the signification of it, see in Lev. 3. 5. and Exod. 29. 24. It figured the giving of our breast, that is, of the heart and affections, unto Christ, in newnesse of life; in the fellowship of his afflictions, Prov. 23. 26. 1 Chron. 28. 9. Rom. 6. 3, 4, 5, 6. Phil. 3. 10.

Ver. 32. Heave-offring] in Greeke and Chaldee, a separation, or separated thing; because it was separated from the rest of the body, heaved up towards heaven, and after given to the Lord Priest. It signified an acknowledgement that all good things came downe from God, and an indeavour that all the waies of his people should tend upward unto God, that so their conversation might be heavenly, Jam. 1. 17. Phil. 2. 20. Prov. 15. 24.

Ver. 34. statute for ever] or, an eternall ordinance, to continue so long as the law of sacrificing should continue, that is, till Christs coming: and after that, the equitie of it to remaine still; for as they which waited at the Altar, were partakers with the Altar: even so hath the Lord ordained, that they which preach the Gospel, should live of the Gospel, 1 Cor. 9. 13, 14.

Ver. 35. the anointing] that is, the portion, or reward of the Anointing; meaning, of the anointed Priests. For that hee speaketh of their portion, the words before and after manifest; and in verse 36. it is that which Iehovah commanded to give unto them. And Anointing, is figuratively put for the Priest anointed, as Oyle is used for Christ, which had the oyle of grace without measure on him, Eley 10. 27. So Dreames, are put for Dreamers, Ierem. 27. 9. Spirits, for spirituall gifts, 1 Cor. 14. 12. Thanksgivings, for companies of Thanksgivers, Nehem. 12. 31. Circumcision, for persons circumcised, Rom. 2. 26. and many the like. In like manner, Divination is used for the rewards of Divination, sent unto Balaam, Numb. 22. 7. iniquitie, for the punishment or desert of iniquitie, Levit. 7. 18. Job 11. 6. So Chazkuni here expoundeth, the anointing, to be the reward of their anointing. presented] or, offered them, and here in the day, meaneth from that day forward, for ever, as appeareth by vers. 36.

Ver. 37. fillings of the hand] that is, as the Greeke explaineth it, Perfection, or Consecration: when the hand was filled with parts of the sacrifices: see Exodus 29. 9. &c. in the Annotations.

2 The manner of the LEVITICUS VIII. Priests consecration.

That sacrifice is here reckoned among the rest; because it was commanded at Mount Sinai, Exodus 29. and is after to be shewed in practise, Leviticus 8.

- 38 Verf. 38. in the wilderness of Sinai] named of Sinai the mountaine in Arabia, where the Law was given, which is Agar, gendering to bondage, Gal. 4. 24, 25. Before they came thither, they offered no sacrifice; there God gave them these Lawes, (described from the beginning of Leviticus hitherto) as shadows of good things to come, Heb. 10. 1. till the Lambe (Christ) on mount Sin, should by the sacrifice of himselfe, when he made his soule a Trespass-offring, Esa. 53. 10. cause the Sacrifice and Oblation to cease, Dan. 9. 27. who hath by one offering, perfected for ever them that are sanctified, Hebr. 10. 14. so that now among the Gentiles, in every place, Incense is offered unto the name of God, and a pure Meat-offring, Mal. 1. 11. By him therefore let us offer the sacrifice of praise to God continually, Heb. 13. 15.

CHAP. VIII.

1, Moses consecrateth Aaron and his sons, to the Priests office. 14, Their Sin-offring. 18, Their Burnt-offring. 22, The Ram of the filling of the hands. 31, The place and time of their consecration.

- 1 AND Jehovah spake unto Moses, say-
2 ing; Take Aaron, and his sons with him; and the garments, and the anoint-3 ing oile: and a Bullocke for a Sin-offring, and two rams, and a basket of unleavened 4 cakes. And gather thou together, all the congregation: unto the doore, of the Tent of the congregation. And Moses did as Je-5 hovah commanded him: and the congregation was gathered together, unto the doore, of the Tent of the congregation.
6 And Moses said unto the congregation,
This is the thing which Jehovah commanded
7 to be done. And Moses brought-neere Aaron and his sons; and washed them with 8 water. And he put upon him the Coat, and girded him with the girdle, and clothed him with the Robe, and put the Ephod upon 9 him: and girded him with the curious girdle of the Ephod, and fitly-girded him 10 therewith. And he put the Brest-plate upon him, and hee put in the Brest plate, the Vrim and Thummim. And he put the Miter upon his head; and hee put upon the Miter, even upon his forefront, the plate of gold,
the crowne of holinesse; as Jehovah com-11 manded Moses. And Moses took the anointing oile, and anointed the Tabernacle, and all that was therein; and sanctified them.

ven times: and anointed the Altar, and all the vessels thereof; and the Laver, and the foot thereof, to sanctifie them. And he poured of the anointing oile, upon Aarons head:
and anointed him, to sanctifie him. And Moses brought-neere, Aarons sons; and clothed them with coats, and girded them with girdles, and bound bonnets upon them: as Jehovah commanded Moses. And he broughtnigh the bullocke for the Sin-offring: and Aaron and his sons, layed their hands upon the head of the bullocke, for the Sin-offring.
And he killed it, and Moses tooke the blood and put it upon the horns of the altar, roundabout, with his finger; and purified the altar:
and the blood, he poured at the bottome of the altar, and sanctified it, to make atonement upon it. And he tooke all the fat that was upon the inwards; and the caule of the liver; and the two kidneys, and their fat: and Moses burned them upon the altar. And the bullocke, and his skin, and his flesh; and his dung, he burnt with fire, without the campe:
as Jehovah commanded Moses. And hee brought-neere, the ram for the Burnt-offring:
and Aaron & his sons, laid their hands upon the head of the ram. And he killed it; and Moses sprinkled the blood, upon the altar, round about. And hee cut the ram, into his pieces: and Moses burnt the head, and the pieces, and the fat. And he washed the inwards & the legs in water: and Moses burnt all the ram, upon the altar; it was a Burntoffring, for a savour of rest; it was a Fire-offring unto Jehovah, as Jehovah commanded Moses. And he brought-neere the second ram, the ram of the fillings of the hand: and Aaron and his sonnes, laid their hands upon the head of the ram. And he killed it, and Moses tooke of the blood of it, and put it upon the tip of Aarons right eare: and upon the thumbe of his right hand, and upon the great-toe of his right foot. And he brought-neere Aarons sonnes; and Moses put of the blood upon the tip of their right eare, and upon the thumbe of their right hand, and upon the great-toe of the right foot: and Moses sprinkled the blood upon the altar, round-about. And he tooke the fat and the rumpe, and all the fat that was upon the inwards; and the caule of the liver; and the two kidneys, and their fat: and the right shoulder.
And out of the basket of unleavened cakes,
that was before Jehovah, he took one unleavened cake, and one cake of oiled bread, and one wafer: and put them on the fats, and on
the

27 the right shoulder. And he put all, on the 28 palmes-of-the-hands of Aaron, and on the 29 palmes-of-the-hands of his sonnes: and waved them for a Wave-offring, before Jeho-30 vah. And Moses tooke them from off the palms-of their hands, and burnt them on the altar, upon the Burnt-offring: they were the Fillings of the hand, for a favour of rest; it 31 was a Fire-offring unto Jehovah. And Moses tooke the brest, and waved it for a Waveoffring before Jehovah: of the ram of the 32 Filling of the hand, it was Moses part, as Jehovah commanded Moses. And Moses took of the anointing oile, and of the blood,
 which was upon the Altar; and sprinkled it upon Aaron, upon his garments; and upon his sons, and upon his sons garments with him; and sanctified Aaron, his garments;
 and his sons, and his sons garments, with 33 him. And Moses said unto Aaron, and to his sons, Boile the flesh, at the doore of the Tent of the congregation: and there eat it, and the bread, which is in the basket of the 34 Fillings of the hand; as I commanded, saying; Aaron and his sons shall eat it. And the remainder of the flesh, and of the bread: ye 35 shall burne with fire. And ye shall not goe-out of the doore of the Tent of the congregation, seven daies: untill the day of fulfilling, the daies of your Filling-of the hand: 36 for, seven daies shall he fill your hand. As he hath done, in this day: Jehovah hath commanded to doe, to make-atonement for you. And ye shall abide, at the doore of the Tent of the congregation, day and night, seven daies; and shall keepe the charge of Jehovah, that ye die not: for so, I am commanded. And Aaron and his sons did, all the things which Jehovah commanded, by the hand of Moses.

Ver. 3. of the congregation] in Greeke, of testimonie:
 see Levit. 1. 1. Thus the presence of God, and of the Church, is here at the consecration of the Priests. And by the doore of the Tent, is meant the court-yard of the same, which was before the doore; and all the Court was so called, as Sol. Iarchi noted on Exod. 29.

Verf. 5. the thing] Hebr. the word: of this commandement, see Exod. 29. 4.

 own clothes, signified the taking away of his iniquitie, Zach. 3. 4. and these other garments signified the gifts of justice and salvation, Psal. 132. 9.
 16. See the particulars observed on Ex. 29. 5. &c.

 ments of the high Priest, figured the perfection of all graces in Christ, whom the legall Priests typed, Heb. 5. 1, 5. &c.

Verf. 9. crowne of holinesse] the holy Diademe, on which these words, Holinesse to Jehovah, were graved: whereof see Exod. 28. 36, 38. and 29. 6. It was a signe of the holinesse and excellencie of his calling; by the gifts of Gods spirit upon him:
 and figured Christs mediation for his Church;
 for now Aaron did beare the iniquity of the holy things, which the sons of Israel should bellow, in all the gifts of their holy things, &c. Exod. 28. 38.

Verf. 10. the anointing oile] called, the oile of holy anointing; it was made of Mirrbe, Cinamon, Cal- amus, Cassia, and oile olive, Exod. 28. 23, 24, 25. and it figured the graces of the Spirit, upon Christ and his Church, Esa. 61. 1. 1 Joh. 2. 20, 27.

Ver. 11. seven times] to signifie a full sanctification: see the notes on Levit. 4. 6.

Ver. 12. beard] and it ran down upon his beard, and on the collar of his garments, Psal. 133. 2. This anointing signified the graces of Gods spirit, whereby their ministrations of Gods word, became a sweet savour unto God, in them that heard it, 2 Cor. 2. 15, 16. He anointed him after that he had clothed

- cloathed him, as is said in Targ. Ionathan: and first he poured it upon his head, and afterwards put it between his eye browes, and drew it with his finger from the one to the other, saith Sol. Iarchi on Levit. 8.
- 14 Ver. 14. sin-offring] Hebr. the sin-bullocke: see Exod. 29. 10. &c. laid] or, imposed their hands: so renouncing and disburthening themselves of their sins, which now were imputed to the sacrifice, a figure of Christ. See the notes on Exo. 29. 10. and Levit. 1. 4.
- 15 Ver. 15. killed it] wherby Christ's death for sin was shadowed; for, without shedding of blood, is no remission, Heb. 9. 22. 28. bornes] of this rite, see Lev. 4. 7. 25. and Exo. 29. 12. purified] or cleansed from sinne: see the notes on Exo. 29. 36. the blood] that which remained. sanctified it] the Altar was by these rites sanctified, that from thenceforth, atonement might be made for the finnes of the people, by the sacrifices that should daily be offered thereon: for after this, the Altar sanctified the gifts and oblations upon it, Matth. 23. 19.
- 16 Ver. 16. fat] or, suet: see Lev. 3. 3, 4, 5. and 4. 8. Exod. 29. 13. caule of the liver] said in Lev. 3. 4. 10. to be the caule above the liver. And they used to take a little of the liver with the caule: as the Hebrews doe record. Maimony, treat. of Offring the sacrific. chap. 1. Sect. 18.
- 17 Ver. 17. without the campe] a figure of Christ, suffering without the gate of Jerusalem, Heb. 13. 12. See the Annotations on Exod. 29. 14. Levit. 4. 12. and 6. 30.
- 18 Ver. 18. Burnt-offring] the law, and signification hereof, see in Levit. 1. and Exod. 29. 15. &c. Here for the Priests, as the former Sin-offring taught them to have Christ for their justification, and atonement, for the forgiveness of their sins: so this Burnt-offring taught them to expect by Christ, their transformation by the renewing of their minde, to present their reasonable service, even their bodies for a living sacrifice, holy and acceptable unto God, Rom. 12. 1, 2.
- 21 Ver. 21. of rest] in Greek, of sweet odour, in Chaldee, to be accepted with favour. See Gen. 8. 21. Ex. 29. 18. so after in ver. 28.
- 22 Ver. 22. fillings of the hand] that is, as the Greek saith, of perfection, or of consecration: see Exod. 29. 9. 19. This Ram was a kinde of Peace-offring, as Sol. Iarchi here saith, The Ram of filling (the hand) is the Ram of Peace-offring (or of perfections) for they filled and perfected the Priests in their Priesthood. It signified a sanctification of their calling, office, administration, by the sacrifice of Christ; whom Paul calleth the Consecrator, Heb. 12. 2. through whom they should with thankfulness and joy, performe the worke of their ministerie.
- 24 Ver. 24. foot] these rites signified, both the sufferings of Christ, whose hands & feet were pierced; and how the Priests should in Christ be sanctified, to heare and receive the word from God, to administer the same unto others, and to walke themselves accordingly: see Exod. 29. 20. 1 Cor. 11. 23. & 9. 27. sprinkled the blood] that is, all the residue of the blood, as in Targum Ionathan is explained: which being sprinkled on the Altar, figured the perfection of their consecration to be in Christ.
- V. 25. the rumpe] or taile, whereof see Levit. 3. 9. 25
- Ver. 26. oiled] Hebr. bread of oile; meaning, tempered with oile: as Exod. 29. 2. wafer] which also was unleavened, and anointed with oile, Exo. 29. 2. 26
- These Meat-offrings of the Priest, signified how they and their service of God, should be without leaven of hypocrisie, error, wickednesse; & with sincerity & truth, & with the gracious oile of his spirit, given up unto God, acceptably in Christ, Esa. 66. 20. Psal. 141. 2. 1 Cor. 5. 8. 1 Joh. 2. 20. 27. See the Annotations on Leviticus 2.
- Ver. 27. moved] that is, moved to and fro: of these and their signification, see the notes on Exod. 29. 24. 27. 27
- Ver. 28. upon the Burnt-offring] this Sol. Iarchi expoundeth, after the Burnt-offring; adding withall, and we finde not that the shoulder of the Peace-offrings was offered in any place, saving in this. For usually the shoulder, as well as the breast, was given to the Priest, Lev. 7. 32, 33, 34. Here Moses (who was Priest extraordinarily) hath the breast onely, v. 29.
- Ver. 29. part] or, to Moses for a part (or portion): see Exod. 29. 26. 29
- Ver. 30. upon the Altar] which sanctified the things upon it, and figured Christ; from whom they were to receive blood for atonement and justification, and oile of grace for sanctification: that both their persons, office and administration might be acceptable unto God his Father.
- Ver. 31. at the doore] which the Greeke explaineth, in the court: see before on ver. 3. In Exo. 29. 31. it is called the holy place: and in v. 32. the doore of the Tent. I commanded] Moses speaketh this in the person of God, whose commandment it was, Ex. 29. 32. The Greeke, for more plainnesse, translateth, as it was commanded mee. Elsewhere, the holy Ghost translateth an active, passively; see Gen. 15. 6. Exod. 9. 16. and 20. 12.
- Ver. 32. the remainder] which cannot be eaten that night, but remaineth till the morning, Exod. 29. 34. 32
- Ver. 33. day of fulfilling] that is, the day, that the daies of your consecration be fulfilled: which the Chaldee translateth thus, till the day that the daies of your offering be fulfilled; for seven daies shall your offering be offered. seven daies shall he fill] that is, the Lord shall fill, or consecrate. In Ex. 29. 35. God said to Moses, thou shalt fill their hand: so the same thing is attributed unto the Lord, and unto Moses. These seven daies, signified their whole life, which should be consecrated to the service of God: see ver. 11. and Levit. 4. 6. From hence also the Hebrews gathered (as Sol. Iarchi here noteth) that the high Priest was to be separated from his house, seven daies before Atonement day every yeare. Of which point, see the Annotations on Lev. 16.
- Ver. 34. he hath done] or, is done. As, be told, 2 Sam. 15. 31. that is, it was told. And they brought, Mar. 10. 3. or, Then were brought, Matth. 19. 13. 34
- Ver. 35. abide] Hebr. fit; which word is often used for abiding, or continuing, as Lev. 12. 4. Jos. 5. 8. 1 Sam. 22. 5. Exod. 16. 29. Act. 18. 11. charge] 35 or watch : ward, Hebr. keepe the keeping or, observe the observation; in Greeke, the observations. The Chaldee translateth it, the charge (or observation) of the word of the Lord. This phrase is used in Luke 2. 8. of the Shepherds, observing the observations (or keeping the watches) of the night, over their flocks. So in Numb. 9. 19.
- OR

36 Ver. 36. things] Hebr. words. Thus the covenant of the Priesthood, was confirmed unto the tribe of Levi, in Aaron and his sons, which covenant was, Life and Peace, Mal. 2. 5. But these are made Priests without an oath: also they were many Priests, because they were not suffered to continue, by reason of death, and they served unto the example and shadow of heavenly things, offering gifts and sacrifices, which could not make him that did the service, perfect, as pertaining to the conscience; for they were carnall ordinances, imposed on them, till the time of reformation, that is, untill the coming of Christ, who now is sprung out of the tribe of Judah, and was made Priest of God, with an oath, and suretie of a better testamentall-covenant, established upon better promises. And because he continueth for ever, he hath a Priesthood that passeth not from him to another; and is a Minister of the Holies, and of the true Tabernack, which the Lord pitched, and not man, and not by the blood of Goats and Bulls, but by his owne blood, he entered in once into the Holy place, (into Heaven it selfe) having found eternall redemption; and is able to save fully and wholly, them that come unto God by him, as the Apostle largely manifesteth, in Heb. 7. 8. 9. and 10. chapters.

1 AND it was, on the eight day, Moses 2 called Aaron and his sons; and the Elders of Israel. And hee said unto Aaron, Take thee a calfe, a yongling of the herd, for a Sin-offring; and a ram for a Burntoffring, both perfect: and offer before Je-3 hovah. And unto the sons of Israel, thou shalt speak, saying; Take ye a goat-bucke of the goat, for a Sin-offring; and a calfe, and a lambe, both of the first yeare, perfect, for a 4 Burnt-offring. And a Bull and a Ram, for Peace-offrings; to sacrifice before Jehovah;

and a Meat-offring, mingled with oile : for to day, Jehovah appeareth unto you. And they tooke, that which Moses commanded, before the Tent of the Congregation : and all the Congregation drew-neere, and stood before Jehovah. And Moses said; this is the thing, which Jehovah hath commanded that ye should doe : and the glorie of Jehovah, shall appeare unto you.

And Moses said unto Aaron ; Goe neere unto the Altar, and make a Sin-offring ; and thy Burnt-offring; and make-atonement for thy selfe, and for the people : and make the oblation of the people, and make-atonement for them, as Jehovah commanded. And Aaron went-neere , unto the Altar : and killed the calfe of the Sin-offring , which was for himselfe. And the sons of Aaron brought neere the blood unto him ; and he dipt his finger , in the blood ; and put it upon the hornes of the Altar : and poured out the blood, at the bottome of the Altar. And the fat, and the kidneys, and the caule of the liver of the Sin-offring, he burnt upon the Altar ; as Jehovah commanded Moses. And the flesh, and the skin, he burnt with fire, without the campe. And he killed , the Burnt-offring : and Aarons sons, presented unto him, the blood ; and he sprinkled it upon the Altar , round-about. And they presented unto him, the Burnt-offring, by the pieces thereof, and the head : and he burnt them, upon the Altar. And he washed the inwards, and the legges : and burnt them upon the Burnt-offring, on the Altar.

And he brought-neere, the peoples oblation: and tooke the goat-bucke of Sinne, which was for the people; and killed it, and offred-it-for-sinne, as the first. And hee brought-neere, the Burnt-offring: and made it, according to the manner. And hee brought-neere, the Meat-offring: and filled his hand out of it, and burnt it, upon the Altar; beside the Burnt-offring of the morning. And he killed the Bull, and the Ram; the sacrifice of Peace-offrings, which was for the people: and Aarons sonnes presented the blood, unto him; and hee sprinkled it upon the Altar, round-about. And the fat of the bull, and of the ram; the rumpe, and that which covereth the inwards, and the kidneys; and the caule of the liver. And they put the fat, upon the breasts: and he burnt the fat, upon the Altar. And the breast, and the right shoulder; Aaron waved, for a wave-offring, before Jehovah; as Moses com-

22 commanded. And Aaron lift-up his hand, towards the people, and blessed them: and came-downe, from making the Sin-offring, and the Burnt-offring, and the Peace-offrings. And Moses and Aaron, went into the Tent of the congregation, and came-out; and they blessed the people: and the glorie of Jehovah appeared, unto all the people. And there came out a fire, from before Jehovah; and consumed upon the Altar, the Burnt-offring, and the fat: and all the people saw it, and shouted; and they fell on their faces.

Annotations.

DDD Here beginneth the 26. Section, or Lecture of the Law: see Gen. 6. 9.

1 THe eight day] which was the first day after the Priests consecration, Lev. 8. 33. All creatures for the most part, were in their uncleanness and imperfection seven daies, and perfected in the eight; as children, by circumcision, Lev. 12. 2, 3. yong beasts, for sacrifice, Lev. 22. 27. persons that were uncleane by Leprosies, Issues, and the like, Levit. 14. 8, 9, 10. & 15. 13, 14. Num. 6. 9, 10. so here the Priests untill the eight day, were not admitted to minister in their office. Whereby the day of Christ was fore-shadowed, who by his resurrection the day after the Sabbath, hath sanctified his Church and Ministerie, and all their actions; and made us an holy Priesthood, to offer up spirituall sacrifice, acceptable to God, 1 Pet. 2. 5. see the Annotations on Gen. 17. 12. and Exod. 22. 30. So in Ezek. 43. 26, 27. it is said, Seven daies shall they purge the Altar, and purifie it; and they shall fill their hands: and when these daies are expired, it shall be, on the eight day, and so forward, the Priests shall make your Burnt-offrings upon your Altar, and your Peace-offrings, and I will accept you, saith the Lord God. the Elders] in Greeke, the Senate: who together with the people, (ver. 23, 24.) were now assembled; the Elders being in speciall, to impose hands on the Sinne-offring of the Congregation, Lev. 4. 15.

2 Ver. 2. a Calf] a beast of the first yeere, as is observed on Exod. 29. 1. In the former chapter, the sacrifices and rites for the Priests consecration to their office; in this, their first administration for themselves and the people, are declared. This Calf for Aarons Sin-offring, is by Targum Jonathan the Zohar, and other Hebrews, said to be in respect of his sin which hee had committed, in making the golden calfe, Exod. 32. But whether it were for that, or for other sins, God teacheth, that without remission of sins (by Christ, who was made sin for us, 2 Cor. 5. 21.) there can be no acceptance of any mans person, or service. yongling] Hebr. Son of the Herd; that is, a yong Bull: see Gen. 18. 7. Levit. 1. 5. a Ram] a beast of the second yeere: see the notes on Levit. 8. 2. perfect] in Greeke, unblemished: see Lev. 1. 3. offer] in Greeke, offer them: these were, to make atonement for himselfe, and for the people, v. 7.

Verf. 3. the Sons of Israel] in Greeke, the Senate (the Elders) of Israel; as verf. 1. a goat-bucke] a goat of the second yeere; for the Hebrew Sagbir so signifieth alwaies, as Maimony sheweth in treat. of Offring the sacrif. chap. 1. Sect. 14. where also he saith (in f. 15.) that All the oblations of the congregation were males, and the Sin-offrings of the congregation, were of goats, or bulls, and none of lambs. of the first yeere] Heb. Sons of a yeere: of which phrase, see Ex. 12. 5. Gen. 5. 32. And hence the Hebrews gather, that Chnegel (a Calf) and Cheber (a Lambe) where-soever they are spoken of in the Law, meane yonglings of the first yeere.

Verf. 4. a Meat-offring] of fine flowre or wheat, as Exod. 29. 2. Levit. 2. 1. with oile] and frankincense upon it, according to the Law, Lev. 2. 1.

Jehovah appeareth] that is, the glorie of Jehovah will appeare, as in verf. 6. 23. and so the Chaldee tranlateth it, The glorie of the LORD is revealed. And because of this appearance, the people were to prepare and sanctifie themselves with all kinds of sacrifice, that they might with joy be made partakers of his grace and blessing: which was a shadow of a more glorious appearance, whereof it is said, We know that when he shall appeare, we shall be like him; for we shall see him as he is. And every man that hath this hope in him, purifieth himselfe, even as he is pure, 1 Joh. 3. 2, 3. The presence and assistance of God in Christ, is alwaies necessarie unto his Church, and therefore promised here and other-where, both unto it and all the Ministers thereof, Ezek. 48. 35. Revel. 22. 3, 4, 5. Matth. 28. 20. And of this it is prophesied, When Jehovah shall build up Zion, shall appear in his glory, shall turne unto the prayer of the lowly, and not despise their prayer. This shall be written for the generation after; and the people created, shall praise Iah. Psalm. 10. 17, 18, 19.

Ver. 5. they tooke] all they fore-mentioned; as in Targum Jonathan it is explained, Aaron and his sons, and all the sons of Israel tooke. before Jehovah] before the Sanctuary, in the court-yard.

Verf. 7. Goe neere] before this time, Aaron offred not, but Moses for him, Levit. 8. 14, 15. now Moses from the Lord authorizeth him to goe neere himselfe and offer; for no man taketh this honour to himselfe, but he that is called of God, as was Aaron: so also Christ glorified not himselfe, to be made an high Priest, &c. Heb. 5. 4, 5. make] or doe; that is, make-ready, and offer: see the notes on Exod. 10. 25. Thus the legal Priests were to offer for themselves and their owne sinnes first, otherwise then Christ needed: For such an high Priest became us, who is holy, harmlesse, undefiled, separate from sinners, and made higher then the Heavens, Heb. 5. 3. and 7. 26, 27, 28.

Verf. 9. the Altar] of Burnt-offring, at the bottom whereof, the rest of the blood was poured. And herein this first sin-offring seemeth to differ from the rest that followed after, whose blood was to be carried into the Sanctuary, Lev. 4. 4, 5, 6, 7. because Aaron as yet, had not access into the Holy

Holy place, till hee had prepared a way by this first sacrifice in the court. The like is to be observed in the peoples Sin-offring, ver. 15. compared with Levit. 4. 13, 17, 18. Of this dipping his finger in the blood, see the notes on Levit. 4. 25.

10 Ver. 10. commanded] of these rites, see the Annotations on Levit. 4. 8, 9, 10. They figured the purging away of all corruption, by the sufferings & spirit of Christ, likened unto fire: and the giving up of all our inward parts, to serve the Lord, 1 Pet. 3. 18. Esa. 4. 4. 1 Thes. 5. 23. Psal. 103. 1.

11 Ver. 11. skin] with all other parts, even the whole beast: see Levit. 4. 11. 12. Sol. Iarchi here observeth, that We find no Sin-offring whose blood is sprinkled on the Altar without to be burned without the campe, but this, and that for Consecration, (Levit. 8.)

12 Ver. 12. the Burnt-offring] the ram, which was also for himselfe, ver. 2. presented] or, reached, brought, as the Gr. translateth, Hebr. made-to-finde: so in verse 13. 18. The former oblation, was to purge from sin: this Burnt-offring, was also to make the Priests acceptable to God in Christ, by communication of his grace. See the notes on Levit. 1. 3. &c.

13 Ver. 13. pieces] or, members, as the Greek translateth. See Levit. 1. 6, 8.

14 Ver. 14. washed] in water, see Levit. 1. 9. upon the Burnt-offring] that is, upon (or with) the other part of the Burnt-offring. The Gr. translateth, and he put the Burnt-offring upon the Altar.

15 Ver. 15. offring] which was for the sinne of the people; faith the Greeke version. offred-it-for-sin] The Greeke translateth, purified it; so the word sometime meaneth: but it figured also a purifying of others from sinne thereby, as Levit. 6. 26. and so the Chaldee here expoundeth, and he made atonement by the blood thereof. as the first] spoken of in ver. 8. and he burnt it without the campe, as the other was, in ver. 11. for which he was reproved by Moses, Levit. 10. 16, 17.

16 Ver. 16. the manner] or, the ordinance; Hebr. the judgement: the Greeke saith, as was meet. It respecteth the Law, in Levit. 1.

17 Ver. 17. filled] that is, took his handfull out of it: see Levit. 2. 2. of the morne] that is, which was daily to be offred every morning, as God commanded, Exod. 29. 38, 39, 40. This therefore was extraordinary; that as the daily Meat-offring, was to testify their thankfulness, for Gods ordinarie and daily mercies: so this, for his speciall grace now manifested. Chazkuni explaineth it thus; It teacheth, that there were two Meat-offrings, one with the Burnt-offring, and one by it selfe. Sol. Iarchi saith, All this he did after the daily Burnt-offring.

18 Ver. 18. sprinkled] according to the Law in Lev. 3. 2. The Greeke translateth, he poured it.

19 Ver. 19. fat] Hebr. sats: so in ver. 20. rump] or, taile, to weet, of the ram: see Lev. 3. 9. that which covereth] in Greeke, the fat which covereth the inwards; and so the text explaineth it, in Levit. 3. 9.

20 Ver. 20. they put the fat] Hebr. the fats. Sol. Iarchi saith, After the waving, the Priest that waved gave them to another Priest to burne them.

Ver. 21. waved] as was commanded, Lev. 7. 30. &c. By these sacrifices the sanctification of the people was signified; by the sin-offring and burnt-offring they had remission and justification from their sins, and reconciliation unto God; by the Meat-offring, their renovation by the spirit; and by the Peace-offrings, their thankfulness unto God, whom they honour with the fruits of his owne graces: all these obtained by faith in Christ, and in his death; for he of God is made unto us, wisdom and righteousness, and sanctification, and redemption, 1 Cor. 1. 30.

Ver. 22. lift-up his hand] or, his hands, as the Hebrew vowel, and reading in the margin, both shew: so the Greeke translateth, hands. See Exod. 32. 19. R. Menachem giveth this reason, why it is written Hand; to signifie the right hand, because that was lifted up higher then the left. The lifting up of the hand, was a gesture used in speaking or signifying of any weighty thing, Esa. 49. 22. and particularly, in swearing, Gen. 14. 22. praying, Psal. 28. 2. and blessing, either of God, Psal. 134. 2. or of men, as in this place. So Paul, speaking of prayer, useth the phrase of lifting up holy hands, 1 Tim. 2. 8. and David, let the lifting up of my hands, be as the evening sacrifice, Psal. 141. 2. blessed them] This appertained to the Priests office, to blesse the people in the name of the Lord for ever, Deut. 10. 8. 1 Chron. 23. 13. and was accomplished by our high Priest Christ Jesus, when having finished his ministerie on earth, he lift up his hands, and blessed his disciples, Luke 24. 50. The forme of Aarons blessing is prescribed in Numb. 6. 23, -27. see the Annotations there. And this being done in the Lords name; by his Priests, (a figure of Christ, whom God hath sent to blesse us, Act. 3. 26.) without all contradiction, the lesse is blessed of the greater, Heb. 7. 7.

came downe] from the banke, or hilly place of the Altar, which was higher then the other ground: see Exod. 20. 26. So in Targum Jonathan it is explained, he came downe from the Altar with joy, after that he had finished the making of the Sin-offring, &c. On the contrary, Christ when he had blessed, went up into heaven, Luke 24. 51. from making] or doing, that is, offring, as ver. 7. After that he had done; as before is shewed.

Ver. 23. went into the Tem] the Priest went in (according to the Law, in Exod. 30. 7, 8.) to burne incense on the golden Altar; Moses went in with him, in likely hood, to direct him how to doe the service: so Sol. Iarchi here explaineth it. But hee addeth withall, another exposition thus; When Aaron saw that they had offred all the oblations, and done all the workes, and the Majestie of God came not downe to Israel, he was grieved; and said, I know that the holy blessed (God) is angry with me, and for my sake, the Majestie of God cometh not downe to Israel, &c. Immediately Moses went in with him, and prayed for mercie; and the divine Majestie came downe unto Israel. After this manner Targum Jonathan also expoundeth it. they blessed.] This was a second blessing by Moses and Aaron, when the people were dismissed. Unto which (and the like at other times, espe-especially on Atonement day, Levit. 16. David, prophesying of Christs daies, seemeth to have reference, in Psal. 118. 26. Wee blesse you, out of the house of Jehovah. glorie] the visible signe of Gods glorie, and favour, out of his holy place: either by the fire, mentioned in the next verse; or, by a cloud, as was in Exod. 16. 10. and 40. 34. or by them both. It was a token of his gracious acceptance of them and of their service, as after in 1 King. 8. 10, 11, 12.

- 24 Veri. 24. from before Jehovah] the Greeke translateth, from the Lord. And it was, either from heaven, as after in Solomons daies, Fire came downe from heaven, and consumed the Burnt-offring and Sacrifices, 2 Chron. 7. 1. or, out of the Tabernacle. By this miracle, God confirmed the people, touching the doctrine and ordinances given by Moses, and the Priesthood now committed to Aaron and his sons, as appeareth by the prayer of Elias, (when the like miracle was shewed from heaven;) Let it be knowne this day, that thou art God in Israel, and that I am thy servant, and that I have done all these things at thy word, 1 King. 18. 36. consumed] or, ate up: by which signe, the Church was assured that their sacrifices were accepted: see Psal. 20. 4. The like was, at the dedicating of Solomons Temple, 2 Chron. 7. 1, 2, 3. and at Elias sacrifice, 1 King. 18. 38, 39. This fire which now came from God, was nourished on the Altar, (as the Hebrews say) unto Solomons time. Chazkuni here writeth thus; *The fire which came out (from the Lord) in the daies of Moses, went not up from the brazen Altar, untill he came into the eternall House [that is, into Solomons Temple, so called because of that promise, in 2 Chron. 7. 16. that Gods name should be there for ever.] And that fire which came downe, in the daies of Solomon, went not up from the Altar of Burnt-offring, untill it went up in the daies of Manasseh. Of the departing of that fire in Manasseh daies, wee finde no mention in the Scriptures. But after Solomons Temple was destroyed, and the second builded, the Hebrewes testifie, (in Talmud Bab. in Ioma, c. 1.) that they had not the Fire from heaven any more. See the Annotations on Exod. 28. 30. stomed] with astonishment and joy, humbly thanking God for this signe of grace towards them: as the Greeke translateth, they were astonished; and the Chaldee, They gave thanks. So in 2 Chronicles, 7. 3. *When all the sons of Israel saw how the fire came downe, and the glorie of Jehovah upon the house: they bowed themselves with their faces to the ground, upon the pavement, and worshipped; and confessed to Jehovah, (saying) For he is good, for his mercie endureth for ever.

CHAP. X.

1, Nadab and Abihu, for offering of strange fire, are burnt by fire. 6, Aaron and his sons, are forbidden to mourne for them. 8, The Priests are forbidden wine, when they are to goe into the Tabernacle. 12, The Law of eating the holy things. 16, Moses blameb the Priests for not eating the Sin-offring. 19, Aaron excuseth the transgression.

AND Nadab and Abihu, the sons of Aaron, tooke each man his Censer; and they put fire in them, and put incense thereon: and offered before Jehovah, strange fire; which he had not commanded them. And there went out fire, from before Jehovah, and devoured them; and they died, before Jehovah. And Moses said unto Aaron; This is it that Jehovah spake, saying, I will be sanctified in them that come nigh me; and before all the people, I will be glorified: and Aaron, held his peace. And Moses called Mifael and Elzaphan; the sons of Vzziel, the uncle of Aaron: and said unto them; Come neere, carry your brethren, from before the Sanctuarie; out of the camp. And they went neere, and carried them in their coats, out of the campe: as Moses had spoken. And Moses said unto Aaron, and unto Eleazar, and unto Ithamar, his sons; Make not bare your heads, neither rend your clothes, that you die not; and wrath come, upon all the congregation: but your brethren, all the house of Israel, shall weep for the burning, which Jehovah hath burned. And ye shall not goe out, from the doore of the Tent of the Congregation, lest you die; for the oile, of the anointing of Jehovah, is upon you: and they did, according to the word of Moses.

And Jehovah spake, unto Aaron, saying; Doe not drinke wine or strong-drinke, thou, or thy sons with thee; when ye goe in, to the Tent of the Congregation, that yee die not: it shall be a statute for ever, through-out your generations. And that ye may separate, between holy and prophane: and between uncleane and cleane. And that ye may teach, the sons of Israel: all the statutes, which Jehovah hath spoken unto them, by the hand of Moses.

And Moses spake unto Aaron, and unto Eleazar, and unto Ithamar his sons, that were left: Take ye the Meat-offring, that is left, of the Fire-offrings of Jehovah, and eat it in unleavened cakes, beside the Altar: for it, is holy of holies. And ye shall eat it, in the holy place; for it is thy due, and thy sons due, of the Fire-offrings of Jehovah: for so, I was commanded. And the wave brest, and the heave shoulder, ye shall eat in a cleane place; thou, and thy sons and thy daughters, with thee: for they are given, as thy due 15 due and thy sonnes due, out of the sacrifices of the Peace-offrings, of the sonnes of Israel. The heave shoulder, and the wave brest, with the Fire-offrings of the fat, shall they bring; to wave for a wave-offring, before Iehovah; and it shall be for thee, and for thy sonnes with thee, by a statute for ever; as, Iehovah hath commanded.

16 And Moses, seeking sought the goat-buck of the Sin-offring; and behold it was burnt: and he was wroth with Eleazar and with Ithamar, the sonnes of Aaron, that were left, saying. Wherefore, have ye not eaten the Sin-offring, in the holy place? for it is holy of holies; and it, hee hath given to you; to beare, the iniquitie of the Congregation; to make attonement for them, before Iehovah.

17 Behold, the blood of it was not brought-in, to the Holy-place, within: ye should eating have eaten it, in the Holy-place, as I commanded. And Aaron spake unto Moses; Behold this day, they have offred their Sin-offring and their Burnt-offring, before Iehovah; and such things, have befallen me: and if I had eaten the Sin-offring, to day; should it have beene good, in the eyes of Iehovah?

18 And Moses heard it; and it was good, in his eyes.

Annotations.

1 Censer] or, fire-pan, a vessell wherein coales of fire were put; see Exod. 27. 3. ibidem upon the fire. How the incense was burned, see the notes on Exod. 30. 8. strange fire that is, other fire the God had sanctified on his altar. As strange incense was expressly forbidden, Exod. 30. 9. so strange fire was not commanded, but implicitly forbidden by Lev. 1. 7. & 6. 12. as afterward God plainly sheweth, in Lev. 16. 12. Hereupon it is said in Rev. 8. 5. the Angell took the censer, and filled it with fire of the Altar. This transgression of the Priests, in the beginning of their administration; sheweth the weakenesse and imperfection of that Priesthood; and for the weakenesse and unprofitablenesse thereof, it was afterwards discontinued; and a better Priesthood of Christ, (who was holy, harmlesse, undefiled, and separated from sinners;) is come in place thereof: for the Law made nothing perfect: Heb. 7. 18. 19. 26. So in the practise of the Moral law, the people even at the first, fell into open impiety, Exod. 32.

2 Ver. 2. from before] or, from the face of the Lord. As a fire of merke came from thence to consume the sacrifices for sinne, offered according to the Law, Levit. 9. 24. so now a fire of judgement consumeth, to consume the sinners. Chazkuni here observeth, Measure for measure; by fire they sinned; and by fire they were plagued. This is an example of Gods jealousy, for the ordinances of the Law, teaching the same; much more for the Gospel: Heb. 1. 2. 3. and 10.

28. 29. So he shewed an example of judgement upon two sinners, at the beginning of the Christian Church, whereby great feare came upon all; Acts 5. 1. 11. devoured] or ate them; that is, killed them; for neither their bodies, nor their cloathes were burnt to ashes, as appeareth by v. 5. And in Targ. Jonathan it is thus explained, It burned their soules, but their bodies were not burnt. Hereupon our God is said to be a devouring fire; Heb. 12. 29. Deut. 1. 24. See a like judgement, in Num. 16. 35. before Iehovah] that is, with sudden death, before the Tabernacle, wherein the Lords glory dwelt. So Vzzai for his error, in putting his hand to the Arke, died before God, 1 Chron. 13. 10. which is expounded, by the Arke of God, 2 Sam. 6. 7. And it is observed, that these two Priests, died childlesse, Num. 3. 4. 1 Chron. 24. 2.

Verf. 3. spake] but where spake he this? It may have reference to Lev. 8. 35. Or it might be spoken but not written before: as Ioh. 20. 30. Chazkuni referreth it to Exo. 29. 43. others unto Ex. 19. 20.

sanctified] God is said to be sanctified, both when he graciously accepteth, & doth good unto them that serve him aright, Ezek. 20. 41. and when hee punisheth them that transgresse; as, I will be glorified in the midst of thee (Sidon) and they shall know; that I am Iehovah; when I shall have executed judgements in her, and shall be sanctified in her; Ezek. 28. 22. So in this place, and in Ezek. 38. 16. 23. Likewise God is sanctified of men, when they carry themselves holily and uprightly in his sight; as, Sanctifie the Lord God in your hearts, &c. 1 Pet. 3. 15. that come nigh] or, my neighbours; that is, the Priests and Levites; as in Ezek. 42. 13. the Priests which are nigh unto Iehovah. See also Levit. 9. 7. Numb. 16. 9. So judgement beginneth at the house of God, 1 Pet. 4. 17. at his Sanctuary, Ezek. 9. 6. before] that is, openly; the Gr: translateth, in at the congregation; as if the like danger were unto them also for transgression: see Ios. 22. 18. 20. glorified] or, honoured; which is also not in shewing mercies onely, as 2 Thes. 1. 10 but in executing judgements; as Exod. 14. 4. Ezek 28. 22. And hee is glorified of men; when their thoughts, words and actions, are according to his will; and to his praise; Act. 4. 21. Rom. 1. 21. 1 Pet. 4. 11. 16. held his peace] or, was silent; that is, rested patiently without murmuring against the worke of God, who had killed his Sonnes. So David saith, I am dumbe, I will not open my mouth; because thou hast done it; Psal. 39. 10. And God said to Ezekiel the Priest, Be silent, that is, Forbear to cry, make no mourning for the dead, Ezek. 24. 17. Or, hee mourned in silence for his sons death; for so the scripture expresseth great sorrow & unutterable, by keeping silence; as Lam. 2. 10. Esa. 47. 5. Thus the Greeke translateth, he was pricked; and Aarons answer in ver. 19. implieth so much. So the heathens haue said, Cura letes, loquuntur; ingenuis, stupens. See in Hippolito.

Verf. 4. uncle] in Greek, the sonnes of the brother of Aarons Father: for Vzzai was brother to Aniram, Aarons father; see Exod. 6. 18. 26. 22. carry] or, take up: this duty of buriall was laid upon their cousins the Levites, not upon their next

out of] or, to (a place) without the campe: so they used to bury without their cities, Luk. 7. 12.

6 Verſ. 6. Make not bare] or, Make not free; that is, let not the haire of your heads grow long. The Hebrew Pharagh, signifieth two things, to make bare, or uncover the head; as Numb. 5. 18. so the Greeke translateth here, ye shall not put off the miter from your heads. Secondly, to make free for the haire to grow; as the Chaldee here translateth, ye shall not let your lockes growe. For this also was a signe of mourning, 2 Sam. 19. 24. See the notes on Gen. 41. 14. It is testified of humane Writers, that the Egyptians at their friends funerals, did let the haire of their head grow long, but shaved their beards; whereas other Nations, at funerals did shave their heads; Herodot. in Enterpe. And that shaving of the beard, was a signe of sorrow in Israel, appeareth by Ieremie, 41. 5. Hereupon is that Law, in Ezek. 44. 20. the Priests shall not shave their heads, nor suffer their lockes to grow long; they shall onely poll their heads: Where both extremities are forbidden. The latter sense may also well bee implied here, as likewise after in Levit. 13. 45. and 21. 10. And concerning this, the Hebrewes haue these rules. A Priest that letteth his haire grow long, it is unlawfull for him to come into (the Sanctuary,) from the Altar forward: and if he doe go in and serve, he is guilty of death by the hand of God, as he that drinketh wine and serveth; as it is written, Neither shall any Priest drinke wine, &c. Ezek. 44. 21. And againe, Neither shall they shave their heads, nor suffer their lockes to grow long, Ezekiel 44. 20. As hee that drinketh wine is guilty of death, Lev. 10. 9. so he that letteth his haire grow long, is guilty of death. Yet profaneth hee not his service hereby; though he be guilty of death, his service is allowable [that is, standeth in force, and is not disannulled by it.] As Priests are not forbidden wine, save in the time of their going into the Sanctuary, so it is not unlawfull for them to let their haire grow, save at the time of their going into the Sanctuary; understanding this of the common Priest. But the high Priest, may never let his haire grow long, nor rend his clothes at any time, Levit. 21. 10. because hee is to be continually in the Sanctuary. How long may a (Priest) let his haire grow? Thirtie dayes as a Nazarite; of whom it is said, Hee shall let the locke of his head grow, Numb. 6. 5. and there is no Nazariteship lesse then thirtie dayes. Therefore the common Priest that serveth, shaveth himselfe every thirtie dayes. The judgement of them that rend their garments, and the judgement of them that make free (or bare) their head, is one; Levit. 10. 6. If he serve with his clothes rent, hee is guilty of death by the hand of God, although his Service is allowable, and not profaned. Maimony in Biath bimikdash, (or, Of entering into the Sanct.) chap. 1. Sect. 8. 14. rend] an other signe of sorrow, Levit. 13. 45. and 21. 10. See Gen. 37. 34. From hence the Hebrews gather, that they which mourned for the dead, were bound to rend their clothes, because the Priests heere being forbidden to mourne, were forbidden to rend; so that an other was bound to rend. And they were not to rend, but standing; as (in 2 Sam. 13.

31.) the King rose up, and rent his garments. And they were to rend the forepart, not behinde, or in the sides, nor beneath, save the high Priest, he rendeth beneath. The measure of rending, was an hand-bredth; and this on the upper garment onely. They rend for the death of the Prince, or of the Father of the Synedrion, or of the multitude of the Congregation, as David and the men with him, did for Saul, and for Jonathan, and for the people of the Lord, 2 Sam. 1. 11. 12. Also when they heare the name of God blasphemed, as in Esay, 36. 22. and for the burning of the book of the Law, as Jeremy 36. 23. 24. and for the Cities of Judah, and for Jerusalem, and for the Sanctuary destroyed, as Jere. 41. 5. Maimony, treat. of Mourning, chap. 8. and 9. rend] or, bee (that is, God) be wroth, as at other times, for the sinne of one, or of few, the whole Congregation was afflicted, Josh. 7. 1. 2. &c. and 22. 20. 2 Sam. 24. 1. 15. 17. The Priests dutie also was, to stand in their administration, betweene Gods wrath and the people, Num. 16. 46. 48. And their public duty might not bee interrupted, by private passion or affection.

Verſ. 7. not goe out] that is, not leave off your ministration for grief of this which is befallen you. See the annotations on Levit. 21. 12. the oyle, &c.] which signifieth the Anointing, that is, the graces of the Spirit, wherof Ioyfulness was one speciall, Psal. 45. 8. 1 Theſ. 1. 6. Therefore it was sin for the Priests to mourne, when they administred before the Lord; compare Levit. 21. 10. 11. 12.

9 Verſ. 9. wine or strong drinke] The Hebrewes, (as Basilbaturim and others) thinke that Aarons sons had sinned in drinking too much wine, whe they offered strange fire; and that thereupon this law was given. Whether that were so or not, the Lord by his precept required sobrietie in the Priests, and carefulnesse to administer justly; lest they should drinke and forget the Law; as Prov. 31. 5. should erre through wine, and be out of the way through strong drinke, as Esay 28. 7. Accordingly the Ministers of the Gospell must be sober, and not given to wine, 1 Tim. 3. 2. 3. It is likely, that all wine was forbidden the Priests, when they went to serve: yet the Hebrewes have their limitations; as that they might not drinke above the fourth part (of a Log, or of an halfe pint) of wine, and that more wine, and at one time, and of wine that was foure dayes old at the least. But if he drinke lesse then a fourth part (of a Log) of wine, or drinke a fourth part with pause of time betwene, or if it bee mixed with water, or if hee drinke wine from the presse within foure dayes, though more then a fourth part; he is discharged, and profaneth not his service. If he drinke more then a fourth part of wine, though it be mixed, and though he pause betwene, and drinke a little and a little: hee is guilty of death, and his service is disallowable. Maimony in Biath bimikdash, cap. 1. S. 1. But the Law forbiddeth wine absolutely, as here, so in Ezek. 44. 21. Neither shall any Priest drinke wine, when they enter into the inner court.

strong drinke] in Hebrew, Shacar, of which the Greekes borrow the word Sikera, in Luke 1. 15. and it meaneth all whatsoever maketh maketh drunken, whether drink made of Mault, or of the juyce of fruits, as Pearrie, Sider and the like.

When ye go into the Tent] meaning the courtyard of the Tent, to serve therein; as it is opened by the Prophet, When they enter into the inner court, Ezek. 44. 21. The Hebrewes understand it of the court, between the Tent and the Altar that stood in the court. Every Priest that is fit for service, if he drink wine, it is unlawfull for him to go into (the Sanctuary) from the Altar forward: and if he do go in and serve, his service is disallowed, and he is guilty of death by the hand of God, as it is written, That ye die not, Leviticus 10. 9. And as it is unlawfull for a Priest to go into the Sanctuary, for drunkenness: so it is unlawfull for any man, whether Priest or Israelite, to teach when he is drunk. Though he have but eaten Dates, &c. if his senses be troubled a little, let him not teach; as it is written, And that ye may teach the Sons of Israel; Leviticus 10. 11. Maimony in Biath hamikdash, chap. 1. Sect. 1, 3.

10 Ver. 10. that ye may separate] or, to make difference; and this is meant not only for themselves, but others, as in Ezek. 44. 23. They shall teach my people (the difference) between holy and profane, and cause them to discern, between unclean and clean. And for not doing this, the Priests are blamed, Ezek. 22. 26. See also Levit. 20. 25. holy] Hebr. holiness: meaning of persons, and things. In Gr. between the holy ones, and the profane.

11 Ver. 11. all the Statutes] a part of the Priests office was to teach the people, as here, and in Deut. 33. 10. therefore it is said, The Priests lips should preserve knowledge, and they should seek the Law at his mouth, for he is the Angell (or Messenger) of the Lord of hosts, Mal. 2. 7. And as they were to teach, so the things to be taught, should be all Gods Statutes; as the Apostle saith, I have kept nothing back, but have shewed you, all the counsell of God, Act. 20. 27.

12 Ver. 12. the Meat-offering] that before mentioned in Levit. 9. 17. unleavened] or, eat it, made into unleavened cakes. See Lev. 6. 16. and 2. 10. where this law was before given; which Moses here repeateth, lest through trouble of mind, for the judgment now befallen them, the Priests should forget, or neglect any of Gods ordinances.

13 V. 13. the holy place] the court of the Sanctuary: as Levit. 6. 16. due] or, statute, ordinance. The Chaldee expounds it, thy portion. So in v. 14.

14 V. 14. wave-breast] of the peoples Peace-offerings before mentioned, Levit. 9. 18-21. in a clean place] in Greek, an holy place, meaning the camp of Israel, and in ages following, the citie Jerusalem, where the light holy things were eaten: see the notes on Levit. 6. 17. Sol. Iarchi here saith, The former things (in ver. 13.) were not eaten in an unclean place, but they being most holy, were to be eaten in the holy place: and these needed not be eaten within the curtains (of the court-yard) but must be eaten within the camp of Israel, for that was clean, that Lepers might not come into it, (Numb. 5. 6.) so the light holy things might be eaten in all the citie.

15 Ver. 15. by a statute] or, for an everlasting due. Of this statute, see before, Levit. 7. 34.

16 Ver. 16. seeking sought] that is, diligently sought the Goat; that spoken of in Lev. 9. 15. with Eleazar] and why not with Aaron? seeing he should have eaten of it, ver. 19. Sol. Iarchi saith, For honour of Aaron, he turned his face towards his Sons, and was angry.

Ver. 17. He] that is, God hath given it you; by the law fore-given in Levit. 6. 26-30. to bear] or, to take away; as the Greek translateth, that ye should take away. To bear iniquitie, often signifieth punishment, without forgiveness; Ezod. 28. 43. Levit. 20. 19. & 5. 1. 17. &c. The same word is also used for bearing-away; whereupon God forgiveth the sinner; Exod. 28. 38. So the Priests bare, that is, took away the peoples sins, by eating their Sin-offerings: wherein they figured Christ, Joh. 1. 29. Sol. Iarchi saith, The Priests were they that did eat, and the owners, they that had the atonement.

Ver. 18. within] into the Tabernacle, for if it had, then it should not be eaten, but burnt, Lev. 6. 30. seeing it was not, ye should have eaten it in the holy place without; that is, in the courtyard, Levit. 6. 26.

Ver. 19. they] the Targ. called Ionathans; explaineth it, the Sons of Israel have offered. such things] that is, as the Chaldee expoundeth it, such tribulations: which the Jerusalemie Thargum explaineth thus, And great sorrows hath befallen me this day, for that my two Sons, Nadab and Abihu are dead, and I mourn for them. good in the eyes] that is, pleasing, and acceptable: see Gen. 16. 6. Thargum Jerusalemie expoundeth it, Loe, if I had eaten the Sin-offering to day, were it possible that it could be pleasing, and right before the Lord? meaning, it could not be. So Aaron excuseth himself, by reason of his sorrow, which made him unfit, and unworthy to eat of those holy things. The law requireth them that eat before the Lord, to rejoice, Deut. 12. 7. And when they brought their sanctified things, they were to say, I have not eaten of it in my mourning, Deut. 26. 14. When God would refuse the Sacrifices of sinners, he saith, they shall be unto them as the bread of mourners; all that eat thereof, shall be polluted, Hof. 9. 4. In the Hebrew canons it is also said, An inferior Priest, which is in the Sanctuary, at his service; if he hear that he hath a friend dead, whom he ought to bewail, although he go not out of the Sanctuary, he may not serve, because he is a mourner: and if he serve when he mourneth, according to the law, he polluteth his service, whether it be the offering of one man alone, or the offering of the Congregation. But the High Priest serveth when he is a mourner, as it is written, (Leviticus 21. 12.) HE SHALL NOT GO OUT OF THE SANCTUARY, AND HE SHALL NOT PROFANE, &c. as if he should say, he shall abide, and serve the service that he hath in hand, and it is not profaned. But though the High Priest serve mourning, it is unlawfull for him to eat of the holy things, as it is written, (Leviticus 10. 19.) AND IF I HAD EATEN THE SIN-OFFERING TO DAY, SHOULD IT HAVE BEEN GOOD IN THE EYES OF THE LORD? And so he hath no portion to eat (with the rest) at evening, Maim. treat. of Entering into the Sanctuary, c. 2. f. 6. 8. See for the Priests mourning, more on Levit. 21.

Ver. 20. it was good] the Greek translateth, it pleased pleased him. So Moses admitteth of the answer, as reasonable. For oftentimes, the letter of the law giveth place to great necessities; as David in his hunger, did eat the Shew-bread, which was not lawfull for him; Mat. 12. 3, 4. Ezekiel admitted to the Paschever, some that were not cleansed according to the Law, but healed by the Lord; 2 Chron. 30. 18, 19, 20. Here now, all Israel saw, and Moses and Aaron themselves acknowledged, the impossibility of the Law, and of the Priesthood thereof; to bring them unto God: in that so great imperfections were manifested, at the very first administration; and alwaies after. For the Law maketh men high Priests, which have infirmity: but the word of the oath, which was since the Law, (maketh) the Son, who is perfected for evermore. Heb. 7. 28.

CHAP. XI.

1. A law teaching what beasts may, 4. and what may not be eaten. 9. What fishes, 13. and what fowls. 24. How carcases do pollute. 29. The creeping things which are unclean; 32. How their carcases do defile things. 39. Clean beasts that die of themselves, become unclean. 43. An Exhortation unto holiness, in observing this Law.

1 AND Jehovah spake unto Moses and 2 unto Aaron, saying unto them; Speak ye unto the sonnes of Israel, saying:
3 These are the beasts, which ye shall eat; of all the beasts, which are on the earth. All that parteth the hoof, and cleaveth asunder the cleft of the hoofs; and cheweth the cud, a-4 mong the beasts: that, shall ye eat. But this,
ye shall not eat; of them that chew the cud,
or of them that part the hoof: the Camel;
because he cheweth the cud, and he parteth
not the hoof: he shall be unclean unto you.
5 And the Conie; because he cheweth the cud, and parteth not the hoof: he shall be 6 unclean unto you. And the Hare; because he cheweth the cud, and parteth not the 7 hoof: he shall be unclean unto you. And the Swine; because he parteth the hoof, and cleaveth asunder the cleft of the hoof; and he, cheweth not the cud: he, shall be unclean 8 unto you. Of their flesh shall ye not eat; and their carcases, shall ye not touch: they, shall be unclean unto you.
9 These ye shall eat, of all that are in the waters: all that hath fin and scale in the waters,
in the seas, and in the rivers, them shall ye 10 eat. And all that hath not fin and scale, in the seas, & in the rivers: of every moving-thing of the waters, and of every living soul, that is 11 in the waters: they, shall be an abomination unto you. Even an abomination, shall they be unto you: of their flesh, ye shall not eat; & their carcases, ye shall have in abominati-

on. All that hath not fin and scale, in the waters: that, shall be an abomination unto you.

And these, ye shall have in abomination
among the fowls; they shall not be eaten, they shall be an abomination: the Eagle, and the Ossifrage, & the Osprey. And the Vulture, and the Kite, after her kind. Every Raven, after his kind. And the Owl, and the Night-hawk, & the Sea-gull: and the Hawk, after his kind. And the Great-owl, and the Cormorant, and the Little-owl. And the Redshank, and the Pelecan, and the Giereagle. And the Stork; the Heron, after her kind: and the Lap-wing, and the Bat. Every creeping-thing that flieth, that goeth upon all four: that shall be an abomination unto
you. Yet these ye shall eat, of every creeping-thing that flieth, that goeth upon all four: which hath not legs, above his feet;
to leap with them, upon the earth. These of them, ye shall eat; the common-Locust, after his kind; and the Locust-Soleam, after his kind; and the Locust-Chargol, after his kind; and the Locust-Chagab, after his kind.
And every creeping-thing that flieth, which hath four feet; that, shall be an abomination unto you.

And for these, ye shall be unclean: whosoever toucheth the carcase of them, shall be unclean untill the evening. And whoever beareth, ought of the carcase of them:
shall wash his clothes, and be unclean untill
the evening. Of every beast, which doth part the hoof, and it cleaveth not the cleftasunder, and it cheweth not the cud; they,
shall be unclean unto you: whosoever toucheth them, shall be unclean. And whatsoever goeth upon his paws, of any beast, that goeth upon four feet; they, shall be unclean unto you: whosoever toucheth the carcase of them, shall be unclean untill the evening. And he that beareth the carcase of them; shall wash his clothes, and be unclean untill the evening: they, shall be unclean unto you.

And these shall be unclean unto you, among the creeping-things, that creep upon the earth: the weasel, & the mouse, and the tor-toys, after his kind. And the ferret, and the chamæleon, and the lyzard, and the snail, and the moll. These shall be unclean to you among all that creep: whosoever toucheth them, when they are dead, shall be unclean untill the evening. And upon whatsoever ought of them when they are dead, doth fall, it shall be unclean; of any vessell of wood,

wood, or of cloth, or of skin, or of sackcloth; any vessel, with which work is done: it shall be put into water, and be unclean untill the evening, and it shall be cleansed. And every earthen vessel, whereinto any of them falleth: whatsoever is within it, shall be unclean, and ye shall break it. Of all meat which may be eaten, that on which water commeth, shall be unclean: and all drink, which may be drunk, in every vessel shall be unclean. And every thing, whereupon ought of their carcases falleth, shall be unclean: oven, and pots, they shall be broken down, unclean they are; and unclean shall they be unto you. But fountain and pit, and a gathering-together of waters, shall be clean: but that which toucheth the carcass of them, shall be unclean. And if ought of their carcasses fall upon any sowing seed, which shall be sown; it shall be clean. But if water be put upon the seed, and ought of their carcasses fall thereon: it shall be unclean unto you.

And if any beast die, which is unto you for meat: he that toucheth the carcass thereof, shall be unclean untill the evening. And he that eateth of the carcass thereof; shall wash his cloaths, and be unclean untill the evening: and he that beareth the carcass thereof; shall wash his cloaths, and be unclean untill the evening. And every creeping-thing, that creepeth upon the earth; it shall be an abomination, it shall not be eaten. Whatsoever goeth upon the belly, and whatsoever goeth upon all foure, or whatsoever hath many feet, of any creeping-thing that creepeth upon the earth: ye shall not eat them, for they are an abomination. Make not your souls abominable, by any creeping-thing that creepeth: and make not your selves unclean by them, that ye should be defiled by them. For I am Jehovah, your God; and ye shall make your selves holy, and ye shall be holy, for I am holy: and ye shall not make your souls unclean, by any creeping-thing, that moveth upon the earth. For I am Jehovah, that bringeth you up out of the land of Egypt, to be a God unto you: and ye shall be holy, for I am holy. This is the law of the beasts, and of the fowl, and of every living soul, that moveth in the waters: and of every soul, that creepeth upon the earth. To make a difference, between the unclean and the clean: and between the beast that may be eaten; and the beast that may not be eaten.

Annotations.

Speak ye] As before he gave speciall laws, for the sanctification of the Priests: so now he giveth generall, for all the people: which both Moses the Magistrate, and Aaron the Minister, must speak, and teach, and see carefully practised: as afterward there is example of the Magistrates, in 2 Chr. 29. 5. and 30. 18. of the Priests, in Ezek. 44. 23. and of both jointly, in Num. 9. 6. where men that were unclean, came for judgement before Moses, and before Aaron. And here the first kind of uncleanness, which commeth from things without the man, is described. the sons of Israel] to them only, & the Proselytes with them, was this law of unclean meats given; not at all to other nations, as Sol. Iarchi, here saith. the beasts] Heb. Chajah, the wild-beast, or, the living-thing: differing from Behemah, beasts, or cattell, the word which next followeth: but the Greek also translateth them both alike. By the beasts, are spiritually signified, people of sundry sorts; and by eating, or not eating, is meant communion with, or abstaining from them, as by the vision shewed unto Peter, the holy Ghost expoundeth this Law, Act. 10. 12, 13, 15, 28. and 11. 6, 7. &c. Likewise the Hebrew Doctors applied the unclean beasts following in vers. 4, 5. &c. to the Babylonians, Medes, Persians, Greeks, Romans, &c. R. Menachem, on Levit. 11.

Vers. 3. and cleaveth asunder] namely, into two hoofs, or claws, Deut. 14. 6. and so the Greek here translateth it. The former word, parteth, may be when it is divided above, but not beneath, as appeareth after in verse 26. such parting is in the feet of dogs, and the like, which have many claws sundred above, and joyned under with a skin. This second word meaneth a cleaving, quite through, as in the feet of sheep, oxen, &c. So by Sol. Iarchi it is expounded, That divideth above and beneath into two claws. A third sort of hoofs are solid and unparted, as in horses, &c. The first and last sort, were unclean. and cheweth] or, chewing again: the Greek also addeth the word and: for both these properties were requisite, to divide the hoof, and to chew again. Chewing the Cud, in the originall, signifieth the bringing up the meat into the mouth, to chew it again. These two signes, must be in every beast, or else it was unclean. In Deuteronomie 14. 4, 5. the clean beasts are reckoned by their names, ten in number: and the Hebrew Doctors say, Thou hast not of all the beasts that are in the world, any that it is lawfull to eat of, except those ten sorts mentioned in the Law; three of cattell, the Ox, the Sheep, and the Goat: and seven sorts of wild beasts, the Hart, &c. those, and the kinds of them, Maimon in Misneh, tom. 2. treat. of Forbidden meats, c. 1. f. 8. among the beasts] to weat, bred of them according to their kind, as God ordained in the first creation, Gen. 1. 24. For, as it was not lawfull to let the cattell ingender with a divers kind, Levit. 19. 19. so by the Hebr. canons, If an unclean beast brought forth her young, after the kind of a clean beast, although it did both part the hoof

and clean the cud, and were in all respects like an ox or sheep, yet it was unlawfull to be eaten; for that which was bred of an unclean beast, was unclean; and that of a cleane beast, was cleane. So that if a cleane fish, were found in the belly of an unclean fish, it was lawfull, because it bred in not, but had swallowed it. Likewise if in a beast there were found (a creature) like a fowle, though it were a cleane fowle, yet it was unlawfull to be eaten. Maimony, treat. of forbidden meats, chap. 1. Sect. 5, 7. shall ye eat] or, ye may eat. Hereby communion was signified; as when God called Peter by a vision, to communicate the Gospell with the Gentiles, he said, Rise Peter, kill and eat; Act. 10. 13, 17, 20, 28. So our communion with Christ, is taught under this figure, of eating his flesh, Joh. 6. 51, 53. The beast, figured men, Act. 10. 12, 28. (as often in the Scriptures, Esa. 11. 6, 7, 8. Ezek. 34. 31. Zeph. 3. 3. Matth. 7. 15.) The parting of the hoof in two, signified the right discerning of the word and will of God, of the difference between the Law and the Gospell; and the walking in obedience to the word, with a right foot, Rom. 2. 18. and 3. 20, 21, 22. and 10. 4, 8. Gal. 2. 12, 14. The chewing of the cud, signified the meditating in the law of God, which the godly man doth day and night, Psal. 1. 2. for that is the food of the soule, Amos 8. 11. which all ought to remember, Mal. 4. 4. 1 Cor. 11. 2. and having heard it, to search the Scriptures daily, whether the things be so, Acts 17. 11. and having tried it, to keep that which is good, 1 Thes. 5. 21. and remember the commandments of God, for to doe them, Psal. 103. 18. And as that which was born of an unclean beast, was unclean, and on the contrary: so the children of unbelievers are unclean, and the children of believers holy, 1 Cor. 7. 14. Ezra 9. 1, 2.

4 Vers. 4. not eat] to weete ordinarily, but in case of necessity they might be eaten. Soldiers that come into the Heathens countrey, and subdue them, it is lawfull for them to eat carcases, or to the beasts, or swines flesh, or the like, if they be hungry and finde not what to eat, save these forbidden meats: and so they may drinke wine offered to Idols: saith Maimony in tom. 4. treat. of Kings. ch. 8. f. 1. or of them] Heb. and of them.

Camel] named of the Hebrew Gamal, from which the Greeks also derived the name Kamelos, the Arabians, Gemal; the Chaldeans, Gamla. It is a beast that hath a long necke, and a hump on the backe, upon which men lay burdens, Esay 30. 6. by reason of this shape, it is not easie for a camel to enter in a strait place; whereupon is that proverbe of a camel to goe thorough the eye of a needle: Matth. 19. 24. Camels are of common use in other countries, both for service of warre and of peace, for men to ride upon, to use in charretts, or to lade with burdens, Gen. 24. 10. Judg. 6. 5. 1 Sam. 30. 17. Esay 21. 7. and 30. 6. But for to eat of, the camel was unclean, because it parted not the hoofe, Deut. 14. 7.

5 Vers. 5. conie] in Hebrew Shaphan; which hath the name of hiding in holes; as it is said, The conies are but a feeble folke, yet make they their houses in the Rocks; Prov. 30. 26. and, The Rocks are a shelter for the conies, Psal. 104. 18. In Chal-

dee, it is called Taphsa, of skipping.

Vers. 6. hare] in Hebrew, arnebeth; mentioned onely here, and in Deut. 14. 7.

Vers. 7. swine] in Hebrew, chazir; so named of returning: for this beast returneth after it is washed, wallowing in the mire, 2 Pet. 2. 22. It is also given to wait and spoile, Plal. 80. 14. To feed on it, or offer it for sacrifice, is counted most abominable, Esa. 65. 4. and 66. 3. 17.

Vers. 8. not eat] to weete, any whit of it at any time. The Hebrew canons say: All meats forbidden by the Law, the quantity of them is as much as a common olive; whether (the punishment) be beating, or cutting off, or death by the hand of God. This measure or quantity, we have learned by tradition. And it is forbidden by the Law, to eat any whit at all, of the thing that is forbidden: notwithstanding a man is not beaten, save for the quantity of an olive: yet if he eat any lesse, he is chastised with stripes. Maimony, treat. of forbidden meats, chap. 14. Sect. 1, 2. carcase] The originall word, is used for that which dieth of it selfe, Lev. 22. 8. The Greeke here translateth carcases, or carions. A carcase is one of the principall unclean things; as an olive of the flesh thereof, maketh men and vessels unclean by touching, and an earthen vessel by the ayre; and maketh men unclean by bearing. Maimony, in Alloth hatumoth, ch. 1. Sect. 1. See after in the notes on vers. 40.

As eating, so touching signifieth communion and fellowship, and is forbidden, to teach us to refraine from all fellowship in evil, Esa. 52. 11. 2 Cor. 6. 17. for dead carcases, figured such as are dead in finnes, Ephes. 2. 1.

Vers. 9. fin and scale] or, as the Chaldee and Greeke translate, finis and scales, one being put for many. The Jewes Canons open it thus: For fishes there are two signes, the fin and the scale: the fin, is that which groweth out of it; the scale, is that which cleaveth unto all the body; and whatsoever hath scales, hath fins also, &c. If it hath not scales to cover it all over it is lawfull nevertheless; though it hath but one fin and one scale, yet it is lawfull. Maimony, treat. of forbidden meats, ch. 1. Sect. 24. The fin of the fish, serveth as wings to guide her way: the scale is to cover, protect and adorne the body. These two figured in men, faith in Gods word, whereby all religion is guided and directed: and good works the fruits of faith, by which it is manifested and adorned.

Vers. 10. every moving] or, any creeping thing. of the waters] which the waters bring forth: see Gen. 1. 20. and the notes thereon. The Greeke translateth, of all things which the waters bring forth. The Hebrew Doctors say; what is this moving thing of the waters? They be the lesser creatures, as worms and horseleeches, which are in the water; and the greater creatures, which are the wilde beasts of the sea. And generally whatsoever hath not the forme of fishes, &c. as sea-dogs, frogs, and the like. Maimony, treat. of forbidden meats, ch. 2. Sect. 12. foule] that is, fowling creature: see the notes on Gen. 1. 20. an abominable] that is, unclean; as Deut. 14. 10. But from this word Chazkoni teacheth, that it was not lawfull to make merchandize of them.

Vers. 11. their flesh] so Paul mentioneth the flesh of fishes, 1 Cor. 15. 39.

Verse

13 Ver. 13. Have in abomination [or, abhor of the fowle.] There are no signs of cleane fowles explained in the Law: but it is reckoned the sorts of unclean fowles onely; and other sorts of fowles are lawfull: saith Maimony in treat. of forbidden meats, c. 1. f. 14. [eagle] in Hebrew, Nesher: it is the chiefe of fowles, flieth most high and swiftly, sucketh blood, and feedeth on carcases, Deut. 28. 49. Job 39. 27, 30. used to signifie violent persecutors, Lam. 4. 19. Jer. 4. 13. and 48. 40. Hos. 1. 8. [offspring] the Greek translateth it, Gryphen: in Hebrew Pteris, so named of breaking, for with strength of beake and talons, she breaketh her prey. The Offspring (by interpretation, the breaker) is bigger then the Eagle, and much of the same kind: It is mentioned only here, and in Deut. 14. 12. The Chaldee of Onkelos nameth it Ar, and Jonathan U. 223. [offspring] in Hebrew, Omniah, in Chaldee, Azja: (called so of strength in her sight and flying) in Greek, Haliaetus, that is, a sea-eagle, or Osprey: which is a bird with a great neck and broad taile, strong sighted, and can look on the Sun, and from on high espieth fishes in the sea, and lakes, and falleth violently upon the waters, and taketh them.

14 Ver. 14. vulture [called in old English, a gyr, in Hebr. here, dak, of spring, and in Deut. 14. 13. rash, of spring: (for the Hebrew letters, D. and R. be one like another, and often put one for another, as is noted on Gen. 4. 18.) for the vulture espieth & smelleth her prey from far, & flieth with violence, being an heave fowle, feedeth on carcases, & buildeth her nest on high Rocks. The Gr. also translateth it, gyps, (that is, a gyr or vulture) both here and in Deut. 14. The Chaldee here followeth the Hebrew Dak, but in Deut. 14. 13. it hath Bah capphas, that is, daughter of wing. [kite] a known ravenous bird, called also a glede, and a puttock. In Hebrew it is named Ajal, of her manner of flying, which is as if she did swim; and by the bowing of her taile, seemeth to have taught how to governe ships by a rudder, as Plin. noteth in hist. b. 10. c. 10. The Scripture elsewhere mentioneth her sharpe eye-light in Job 28. 7. The Chaldee here translateth Taraphubs, of staring and ravering her prey.

[after her kind] This is spoken, because of kites there be two kinds; the greater, of a ruddy colour, common in England: the lesser, of a more black colour, known in Germany: both sorts (& if there be any other) are unclean. In Deut. 14. 13. there is another named, which is not here, the kite (Ajal) and the glede (Dajab) after her kind. That Dajab (or glede) is a fowle that haunteth ruinous places, Esay 34. 15. The kite (Ajal) is the glede (Dajab) spoken of in Deuteronomie: saith Maimony, in treat. of Forbidden meats, c. 1. f. 14.

15 Ver. 15. owls [a known bird, named in Hebrew Oreb, in Chaldee Urba, of her dark, or black colour; Song 5. 11. It is ravenous, and of unkind nature to her yong, Prov. 30. 17. Esay 34. 11. Job 38. 41. [her kind] as owls, caddow, pies, and the like. Pro. 30. 17. after his kind, to imply the Zarzar (the pie) saith Maimony, ibidem.

16 Ver. 16. the owl [or, as in Greek, the ostrich; the Hebrew bath ha jagnanah, properly is, the daughter of the owl (or ostrich) that is, the kind of that bird, or the yong thereof. But by this word bath, the Hebrew Doctors understand, the eggs of this bird, and so of all other unclean fowls, to be unclean also. Maimony, ibidem. c. 3. f. 1. But Chazkuni here expoundeth it, the Estrich; and by the daughter understandeth, the yong: because the flesh of the fowle when it is old, is (he saith) as hard as a stick, and so there was no need to forbid the eating thereof. This bird liveth in desarts and solitarie places, Job 30. 29. Esay 43. 20. and 34. 13. and (as the name also implieth) makes a dolefull noise, Mich. 1. 8. and is of a cruell nature, Lam. 4. 3. The ostrich, spoken of in Job 39. 13, 14. hath another name. The Chaldee here translateth, Bath haamitha, of pleasantness, spoken by the contrary; for her unpleasant cry; so in Deut. 14. [night-hawke] or, night-owl, as the Greek translateth it. The Hebrew name Tachma, signifieth rapine and violence, which argueth the nature of this bird. Some think it to be the Night-raven, others the Harpie. The Night-hawke feedeth better by night then by day; and hath deadly war with the Eagle, saith Plinie, hist. b. 10. c. 8. It is mentioned in Scripture, onely here and in Deut. 14. The Chaldee of her wing or flying, calleth her Tusfa; but Jonathan, Chaphtha; that is, the Snatcher, or Harpie. [sea-gull] or sea-cob: in Hebrew Shacaph, and in Chaldee, Shachpha: mentioned but here and in Deut. 14. The Greeke translateth it Laros, that is, a sea-gull, a bird of a greedy and ravenous kind, it nestleth on rocks by the sea: Aristot. hist. Animal. lib. 5. cap. 9. Some thinke it to be the cuckoo, others a kind of Hawke, called the Martin. [Hawke] called in Hebrew Neis, in Chaldee Nusa, in Greeke Hierax; in all, she is named of her swift flying and fighting: and of Neis, the Latine word Nisus is derived. Of it, God saith, Doth the hawke see by thy wisdom? Job 39. 26. [his kind] as there are sundry sorts of hawks, (Arist. hist. Animal. l. 9. c. 36.) all which are by this law unclean: so the Hebrew Doctors understand this of a second kind, which they call Sardaka: Maimony, treat. of Forbidden meats, chap. 1. Sect. 14.

17 Ver. 17. great owl [called in Latine, Bubo, Aristot. writes, that it is of the bignesse of an Eagle; and Plinie, that it dwelleth in desarts, maketh a dolefull noise, and flieth not right forth, but thwart-wise. So the Prophet complaineth, I am like the great owl of the desarts, Psal. 102. 7. In Hebrew it is named Cos, of covering or hiding; and Chazkuni saith, It hideth it selfe from the eyes of men, and dwelleth in places not inhabited: the Greeke translateth it here, the Night-raven: and in Deut. 14. the Heron. The Chaldee by Onkelos calleth it Kadja, and Jonathan, Tajra. [cormorant] in Hebrew Shalac, or casting it selfe downe into the water: the Chaldee nameth it Shalenoma, that is, the Fish burner; and Jonathan addeth, The burner of the Fish of the sea. [little owl] or, Bu: in Hebrew Yanshuph, so named of flying in the twi-light or dark evening, which Owls and Bats both doe. It dwelleth also in desolate places. Esay 34. 11. The Chaldee name is Kipphoa.

Verf. 18. the Red-shank] so the Greeke translateth it here Porphyryon, which is either that, or like that which wee call the Red-shank. Hieron translateth it, the Swan. Some of the Hebrew Doctors, the Bat: which is more likely, because the Hebrew Tinkemeib, which here is a bird, after in verf. 30. is the name also of a creeping thing, called the Moll. Sol. Iarchi saith, It is like a Mouse, flieth in the night, and is so called, because it is like that creeping thing which lacketh eyes, called Talpa (a Moll.) The Chaldee here calleth it Cavib: and in Deut. 14. 16. Batha. Pelean] or, Shovelard: a fowl that dwelleth in the wilderness, Psal. 102. and in desolate places, Esay 34. 11. Zeph. 2. 14. In Hebrew named Kaath, in Chaldee Kaaba, of Vomiting. So Aristotle and Plinie shew the nature of the Pelean, or Shovelard, that it vomiteth up shel-fishes, which it before devoured. And Chazkuni saith hereof, Kaath, the name differeth not from the custome thereof; which is, to vomit up the meat. gier-eagle] or, Swan as the Greek here translateth it, but in Deut. 14. 17. the Greek is the Porphyryon. The Hebrew Racham, hath the signification of dear-love, which it beareth to the yong, as Chazkuni saith. The Chaldee translateth it Ierakrea, which implieth a greenish coloured fowl, such as the Greeks call Chlorion, a Witwol.

V. 19. Stork] in Hebrew Chafidab, which signifieth kindness, such as the yong Storks are said to shew unto their dams, whom they feed in their age: or, as Sol. Iarchi here saith, because it sheweth kindness unto her fellows, in food. The Greek translateth it diversly. The Scripture noteth this bird for her wings and flying, Job 39. 13. Zach. 5. 9. it is a fowl much like a Crane, white, but her wings partly black; she buildeth on high firr-trees, Psal. 104. 17. and upon tops of houses, and chimnies in cities, as all Germanie knoweth. It keepeth much about waters, and feedeth on fishes, snakes, frogs, and the like. Therefore in Thessalia (as Plinie reporteth) men might not kill them, upon pain of death, because they devoured the Serpents. The Stork depart out of the countrie towards the end of the summer, no man knoweth whither, and come again at the Spring; whereupon the Prophet saith, The Stork in the heaven knoweth her appointed times Ier. 8. 7. No man seeth them either going or coming, but when they are come; & that is a signe that winter is past. Of them Plinie writeth, hist. b. 10. c. 23. The Chaldee calleth her Charvariba, of her white feathers. So the Latin Poet; Cum Vere rubenti Candida venit avis longis inuisa colubris, Vir. Geor. 2. that is, When in the rose Spring, the white fowl comes, Which unto Snakes is a most hateful thing.

the Heron] in Greek, and the Heron, so in Deut. 14. 18. The Heron is in Hebrew Anaphab, so named of anger: the Greek turneth it Charadrias: so in Deut. 14. 18. The Chaldee translateth it Ibba, and Aibba, which name implieth enmitie. Chazkuni writeth, Anapha; commonly called Heron, it is soon angry: and Sol. Iarchi saith, It is a furious fowl, and seemeth unto me, to be that which they call the Heron.

Lapwing] so also the Greek translateth it: the Hebrew name is Duchipath, mentioned only here and in Deut. 14. 18. The Chaldee, Nagar tira: the Cock of the mountain. But in Hebrew Ataleph, in Chaldee Atalpa, in Greek Nucteris: it flieth in the night, and cannot behold the daylight, but keepeth in holes; whereto the Prophet alludeth in Esay 2. 20. they shall cast their Idols to the Molls, and to the Bats. Chazkuni saith, Ataleph is a little bird that flieth in the night, and hath no eyes. Thus there be twentie severall fowls named, as unclean; to which if we adde those words, After his kind, four times repeated, there are 24. and so many particular sorts do the Hebrew Doctors say are forbidden. And whosoever hath certain knowledge of these kinds, and of their names, he may eat any fowl that is none of them, and he need make no inquisition. Who so knoweth them not, nor knoweth their names; must make inquisition, by the signes which the wise men have given. Every fowl that treadeth on the meat, and eateth, [as is the manner of ravenous fowls that tear their prey,] it is evident that it is of those kinds, and unclean: saith Maimony in treat. of Forbidden meats, c. 1. f. 15, 16. And, The signes of beasts, are spoken of in the Law; the signes of fowls are not spoken of: but our wise men have said, Every fowl that treadeth (on his prey) is unclean: Talmud Bab. in Cholin, c. 3. These figured the ravenous, and unclean conditions of ungodly people: as Babylon is called, the cage of every unclean and hateful bird, Revel. 18. 2.

Verf. 20. that flieth] or, of the flying-fowl; as the Greek translateth, All creeping-things of fowls: that is, all fowls (or flying things) that creep. Under this prohibition, the Jews understand also, Flies, Bees, Hornets, Ants, and the like; as Targum Jonathan, and others here explain it. upon all four] or, upon four feet: which word is expressed after, in verf. 23.

Ver. 21. hath not legs] or, as the Hebrew readeth in the Margin, hath legs. Both Greek and Chaldee do translate as in the Margin, hath legs: but because the legs of the Locusts following, are bowed backward, and they go not with them as other creatures, therefore after a sort, they have not legs above their feet. Or rather, because the yong Locusts are born without legs (as Plinie sheweth in hist. b. 11. c. 29.) and afterwards their legs do grow. So the Hebrew canons say, Whatsoever hath not now wings or legs, but they will grow upon them after a time when they are bigger: they are lawfull (to be eaten) presently. Maimony, treat. of Forbidden meats, c. 1. f. 23. Thus both readings were written by Mos: see the like in Exodus 21. 8. The holy Ghost sometime plainly confirmeth these divers readings to be of God; as in 1 Chron. 11. 20. * Lo, Not, is in the Margin to be read, Lo, To him, and another Prophet, writing of the same person, hath only Lo, To him, 2 Sam. 23. 18.

Verf. 22. common Locust] or, Grasshoppers, in Hebrew Arbeh, so named of their multitude: see the notes on Exod. 10. 4, 5, 14. Such in the Eastern countries are used for meat; so Iohn the Baptist fed on Locusts, Mat. 3. 4. and humane stories tell, how some in Aethiopia used to eat them salted and dried in smoke, Plinie, hist. b. 6. c. 30. Locust-Soleam] which which hath the name, (as Chazkuni saith) of Solomon the Rocks, on which they keep: the Greek calleth it Atakes: the Chaldees Rashons, and Rashuns; it is not mentioned in scripture, but in this place.

Locust-Chargol] this word also is not found any other where: the Gr. translateth it Ophiomachus, that is, the Serpent fighter: & that there are locusts which kill Serpents, Pliny mentioneth, in b. 11. c. 29. Chazkuni interpreteth the name Chargol, as striving with the feet: to ship with them.

Locust-Chagab] or Grasshopper; which the Greek nameth Akris, that is, a Locust, so in Num. 13. 33. Esay 40. 22. Eccles. 12. 5. after his kind] this being spoken foure times, the Hebrews think it implieth four other sorts of Locusts, which they call Zipporeth cramin, and Iothan; Ierusalemish, and Gnarsubja, and Rabmish; all which are also clean for to eat; Talmud Bab. in Cholin. ch. 3. So Maimony in Forb. meats, c. 1. f. 21. where he calleth the two latter by other names, Gnarsaraja, and Ducanish: and so maketh eight sorts of Locusts, which the Law permitte to be eaten.

24 Ver. 24. for these] or, by these; meaning as Solom. Iarchi explaineth it, these which follow, that not only by eating, but by touching of them dead, they should be defiled. See before on v. 8. The uncleanness by touching, spoken of in any place, whether it be of a dead man, or of other unclean things; is, when a man with his flesh toucheth the unclean thing it self; whether it be with his hand, or with his foot, or with any other part of his flesh; though it be with his tongue, he is unclean. And it seems to me, he is defiled if he touch with his nails, or with his teeth, whiles they are joyned to the body, they are as the body; saith Maimony in treat. of Poll. by the dead, c. 1. f. 3. till the evening] that is, till the end of that day, and beginning of a new: for the Jews day began at evening, as is noted on Gen. 1. 5. And so it figured mans pollution by sins, till he come to the new day of salvation by Christ, and become a new creature, 2 Cor. 5. 17. & 6. 2. It signified also, those legall pollutions to continue but during the day (or time) of the law: which in the day of Christ should be abolished, Coloss. 2. 16, 17, 20, 21.

25 Ver. 25. beareth] the Hebr. canons say, Although he touch it not, though there be a stone between him and it, forasmuch as he hath born it, he is unclean, whether he bear it on his head, or on his hand, or on any other part of his body. Whether he hath taken it up himself, or another hath laid it on him; yea, though the unclean thing hang by a thread, or hair, and that thread hang on his hand; he beareth it, and is unclean; Maim. treat. of Poll. by the dead, c. 1. f. 6. wash his clothes] that is, all the clothes that are upon him. Solom. Iarchi noteth, that uncleanness by bearing, is more then the uncleanness by touching; for a man is charged for this, to wash his clothes. This washing was a signe of sanctification, as in Exodus 19. 10. for, sin defileth men, and all that is about them: but by repentance and faith, our clothes are washed, and made white in the blood of the Lamb (Christ) Revel. 7. 14. The Hebrew Doctors say, Every place where it is said in the Law, of the unclean, that he shall wash his clothes: it is not to teach us, that only the clothes which are upon him, are unclean: but to teach, that every cloth or vessell, which that unclean person toucheth, in the time whiles he is joyned to the thing that makes him unclean, is unclean also. Maim. treat. of the Red beiffer, ch. 5. sect. 2.

Ver. 26. them] that is, their dead carcases, as the Gr. here expresseth, and rightly from ver. 24.

Ver. 27. paws, or palms; which the Gr. translateth, hands. And to explain this, Sol. Iarchi instanteth, the Dog, and the Bear, and the Cat.

Ver. 29. upon the earth] this is spoken, as Chazkuni saith, to except those that are in the sea. Weasell] named in Hebrew, Choled; in Chaldee, Chulda; of running hastily from place to place. Iarchi explaineth it by the Latin name Mustela: in Gr. it is called Galea. Mouse] in Hebrew, Gnachar; of troubling, gnawing, and rooting things in the house & fields. With such, God marred the Philistians land, 1 Sam. 6. 5. and the eating of such, is expressly condemned, in Esay 66. 17. Tortois] or, as the Greek translateth, the land Crocodile; in Hebrew Tsab, so called of the shell that covereth it; for Tsab is also used for a coach, or covered wagon, Numb. 7. 3. Of this creature, Sol. Iarchi saith, It is like a Frog. after his kind] the Greek translateth, and things like unto it.

Ver. 30. Ferret] or weasell-mouse, as the Greek translateth it Mugalee, which the Latins call, Mus araneus, (the Shrew, as Gaza saith in bist. anim. 18. c. 24. It is of the colour of a Weasell, and bignes of a Mouse, saith Erasmus, in L. 13. c. 14. The Hebrew name is Anakeb, which signifieth growling; and the Chaldee, Iela, of yelling. The Scripture mentioneth it not elsewhere. Chameleon] so the Gr. translateth it; others, the Lizard. In Hebr. it is named Coach, of Strength. Lizard] or, stellio, which is like a Lizard, spotted on the back, as with stars: and to this later, the Greek Askalabotes agreeth. In Hebrew, Letaab, which Sol. Iarchi expoundeth Lizard. Snail] or Lizard, in Hebrew Chomet; in Greek Saura, that is the Lizard: others think this to be the Chameleon. These creatures names are not elsewhere found in Scripture. The Rabbins say, There are eight creeping things spoken of in the Law, the Weasell, &c. who so eateth of their flesh, the quantite of a Lentell, (or little Pease) is to be beaten; Maim. in Forb. meats, c. 2. f. 7. Moll] in Hebr. Tinsbemet, in Chaldee Ashshutba; which Iarchi explaineth by the Latin name Talpa; but Targum Ionathan calleth it Sallamandra.

Ver. 31. toucheth] Creeping things (as the Hebrew Doctors observe) do defile men and vessels, when they are touched, and earthen vessels by the aire, but defile not when they are carried, (as other creatures do, ver. 25.) & the measure of their uncleanness, is by (touching) so much as a Lentell. Maim. in Aboth batramoth, c. 4. f. 2. are dead] There is no kind of living creature that is defiled whiles it is alive, or that defileth whiles it is alive, save man only, saith Maimony, in treat. of Pollution by the dead, c. 1. f. 14. The creeping thing defileth not until it be dead. All other abominable creeping things, as Frogs, Serpents, Scorpions, and the like, though they are unlawfull to be eaten, &c. (Lev. 11. 41, 42.) yet hast thou none of all the creeping things, that defileth (by touching it) when it is dead, save the eight sorts that are expressed in the Law; Maimony, in Aboth batumoth, c. 4. f. 14.

32 Verſ. 32. ought of them] to weat, of their fleſh. For as of beaſts, the Hebrew Doctours ſay, The bones, horns, hoofs, griſtles, ſinews, &c. of their carcaſſes, do not defile; to weat, when they are ſeparated from the carcaſſe; though who ſo toucheth any of theſe things, while they are joyned with the fleſh, he is unclean; ſo they ſay, The bones, ſinews, nails of creeping things, are clean. Maim. in Aboth batumoth, c. 1. f. 7. and c. 4. f. 8. veſſell] or, inſtrument; any thing made for uſe or ſervice. The Hebr. ſay, There are ſeven ſorts of veſſels (or inſtruments) that by the Law do receive uncleanness; which are clothes, things made of ſkin, and Sacks, and things made of bone, and of metall, and of wood, and of Potters earth. Five of theſe they gather from this verſe and the next; for metals, from Num. 31. 22, 23. and for bones, from Num. 31. 20. all work of Goats, &c. which by tradition they learned to underſtand, of veſſels made of the horns, or hoofs, or bones of Goats, and conſequently of other beaſts: Maim. in Celim, c. 1. f. 1. of wood] under this, they underſtand alſo, veſſels made of Bulruſhes (as Elay 18. 2.) and of Reed, of Wicker, of ſhells of Nuts, barks of Trees, and other the like; of things which grow out of the earth like wood. All things made of wood, for the ſervice and uſe of man onely, as Ladders, are clean, and receive no pollution at all. And all things made of wood, for the ſervice of veſſels, and of men, as Tables, Cupboards, Beds, and the like, do receive pollution: (for theſe ſerve both for mans uſe, and for Diſhes, Cups, Plate &c. to be ſet upon.) Things made of wood, for the ſervice of veſſels (or inſtruments) onely, becauſe they ſerve unto thoſe things which ſerve unto man, if they ſerve unto thoſe veſſels, but in the hour of employment onely, then are they clean, and receive no pollution; as a wooden candleſtick, which ſerveth for the candle, in the time that it burneth: and ſo all other the like. But if they ſerve unto the veſſell or inſtrument, in the time of the uſe of it, and in the time when it is not uſed, then it receiveth pollution, as Sheathes, Scabbards, caſes of knives, Swords, and other the like. Maim. in Celim, c. 1. f. 13. and c. 4. f. 1. cloth] whatſoever is woven, be it of Wool, or of Flax, or of Hemp, or of any other thing that groweth out of the dry land; is called cloth, in this caſe of uncleanness. Maim. in Celim, c. 1. f. 11. But cloth woven of Wool that groweth in the Sea, receives no uncleanness. Ibidem, f. 3. ſkin] to weat, of beaſts of the earth; but ſuch as breed in the Sea, their ſkins receive no uncleanness, Maim. in Celim, c. 1. f. 3. Sackcloth] it was made of threads of hair, braided like a chain, or woven as cloth, and made either of Goats hair, or Camels hair, or Horſe tails, or the like. Maim. in Celim, c. 1. f. 12. Hence we may obſerve, that John Baptiſts garment of Camels hair, was ſackcloth oppoſed to ſoft and princely clothing, Mat. 3. 4. & 11. 8. and ſuch the Prophets of old, uſed for to wear, as Eliſa, (in whoſe habit, and ſpirit and power, John Baptiſt came, Luk. 1. 17.) 2 King. 1. 8. & Eſay. Elay 20. 2. and others, Zach. 13. 4. any veſſell] or tool, inſtrument, fit for, and uſed unto any work. Therefore, A ſkin which had not upon it, the form of a veſſell (or inſtrument) received no uncleanness. Veſſels of metall, received no uncleanness, till the work of them was all finiſhed: imperfect ſtapes were not capable of pollution. Neither any other veſſels whatſoever, till they were wholly finiſhed. And if a clean veſſell were broken, the pieces of it, were not capable of uncleanness: as Maim. ſheweth in Celim, c. 7. f. 2. & c. 8. f. 8. & c. 1. f. 1. & c. 6. f. 1. put] or brought, made come: the Greek tranſlateth, dipped into water. And by the Hebrew canons, All that are unclean, whether men or veſſels, are not cleaned, but by dipping (or baptiſing) in water: And whereſoever the Law ſpeaketh of waſhing a mans fleſh, or waſhing of clothes for uncleanness, it is not but by dipping the whole body therein. And whether they be men or veſſels, there may not be any thing between them and the water, to keep them aſunder, as clay, pitch, or the like, that cleaveth to the body or veſſell: if there be, then they are unclean as they were before, and their waſhing profiteth them not. Maim. in Mikvaot (or Water-places) c. 1. f. 1, 2, 12. and it ſhall] or, then it ſhall be cleaned: which the Greek tranſlateth, and afterwards it ſhall be clean. Before the evening, that the Sun be ſet, it abideth unclean, though in a leſſe degree. And ſo for men, of whom it is ſaid, They ſhall waſh, and be unclean untill the even: as verſ. 25. 28. and Leviticus 15. 5. &c. Hereupon the Hebrews deſcribe the degrees of uncleanness; as, All that are unclean with any principall uncleanness, whether men or veſſels, they are the firſt (or chiefſt) in uncleanness, till they be baptiſed. When he is baptiſed, then is he as the ſecond in uncleanness, untill his Sun be ſet. And he that is ſo baptiſed, (and his Sun not ſet) may not eat or drink of the Trumah (or holy offerings) or of any meat or drink that is holy. If ſuch a baptiſed perſon touch the Trumah, he maketh the third in uncleanness, becauſe himſelf is the ſecond. If he touch the holy meats or drinks, he maketh them the fourth in uncleanness. But if he touch common meats, they are clean. Maim. in Aboth batumoth, c. 10. f. 1, 2, 3.

33 Verſ. 33. earthen] or, veſſels of Pot-bakers earth. For there is a difference between this, and another veſſell of earth, or of ſtone. Any veſſell made of any mould of the earth, and afterward burned in the Kill; that is, the veſſell (Cheres) of earth, here ſpoken of, Maimony, in Celim, c. 1. f. 13. See alſo Lev. 15. 12. whereinto] or, into the miſt whereof. The Hebrews ſcanning this word, ſay, that an earthen veſſell is not made unclean, but in the aire thereof. All other veſſels, if uncleanness touch them, they are unclean: and if an unclean thing come into the aire of them, but toucheth them not, they continue clean. And they count that an earthen veſſell is not made unclean, but in the aire of it, as it is written, Into the miſt whereof any of them falleth, (Leviticus 11. 23.) into the miſt (or inſide) thereof it is made unclean, not in the outer parts. And as it is made unclean in the aire of it, ſo it maketh meats and drinks unclean by the aire of it. As an unclean earthen veſſell, if meat or drink come into the aire of it, though they touch it not, yet are they made unclean, as it is written, Whatſoever is in the miſt of it, ſhall be unclean. But other unclean veſſels make not meat or drinks unclean, till they touch them. Maimony

Maimony, in Celim. c. 13. f. 1. 2. break it] so in Lev. 6. 28. and 15. 12. All vessels that are defiled, are made cleane againe by water, except vessels of earth, and of glasse. Of the earthen vessell it is said, and ye shall breake it, (Levit. 11. 33.) and it is not cleansed, but by breaking. Maim. in Mikvaoth, c. 1. f. 3. This seemeth to be in respect of the vileneſſe of earthen vessels, more then of wood or of metall; so that the losse was not great, though they were broken. For otherwise, the Hebrew Doctors say, that vessels also of wood, and of skin, and of bone, and of metall, when they are broken, are cleansed from their uncleanness; Maim. in Celim, c. 12. f. 1. Of this point Chazkuni here saith, An earthen vessell is not defiled, but by the aire of it, and the reason is, for as much as it cannot be cleansed, but is to be broken; the Law is sparing from having it marred, so that it is not defiled on the outside, as it is written, and every open vessell, which hath no covering bound upon it, is unclean, Numb. 19. 15. Loe, if it have a covering bound upon it, it is cleane, for it is not defiled on the outside of it. As waters signified the blood and spirit of Christ, wherewith we are sanctified, Exek. 36. 25. Heb. 9. 13, 14. and 10. 22. so the breaking of the vessell signified the abolishing of sinne and uncleanness by death. We are compared to earthen vessels, 2 Cor. 4. 7. and the breaking of such is death, Jerem. 19. 11. and 48. 38. See the notes on Levit. 15. 12.

34 Ver. 34. Of all meat which may be eaten] Hebrew, which shall be eaten, that is, which usually is eaten of men. The Greeke translateth, And all meat which is eaten on which water commeth] This is understood by some, of such water as whereinto an unclean thing was put to cleanse the same, mentioned before in verse 32. that that water defileth all meats. But the Hebrews understand it of all water generally, which when it commeth upon any thing that is mans meat, it maketh the meat apt to receive uncleanness, by such things as are before mentioned: whereas unlesse water came upon it, it received no uncleanness by the touch of any unclean thing; according to that which followeth in verse 37, 38. where sowing seed is not defiled by any carcase, unlesse water be put upon the seed. So Iarchi explaineth it, Hence wee learne (saith he) that meat is not apt, and prepared to receive uncleanness, untill water come upon it; but after water is once come upon it, it receiveth uncleanness for ever, though it bee dry againe. And wine and oyle, and whatsoever is called Mafsheh (drinke or liquor) maketh seeds apt to take uncleanness, as water doth. The like is holden by others of them, and they give these rules; All meat that is properly mans meat, as bread, and fesse, and grapes, and olives, and the like, receiveth uncleanness; and whatsoever is not properly mans meat, is cleane, and receiveth not uncleanness, unlesse there be an intent concerning it, and it be determined to be mans meat. And both the one and the other receiveth not uncleanness, untill it be mixed first with one of the seven liquors: as it is said, But if water be put upon the seed, Levit. 11. 38. The seven liquors that make meats apt for uncleanness, are these; water, and dew, and oyle, and wine, and milke, and blood, and honey. And they make not (meats) apt (for uncleanness) untill they fall upon the meats by the owners will; and are not putrified: for liquor that is putrified, maketh not apt (for uncleanness.) And when meat is made apt (to receive uncleanness) although it be waxen dry againe, yet it receiveth uncleanness. Meat that is mixed with water of fruits, as with water of Mulberries, or of Pomegranets, although it be mixed, and one that hath a running Issue, or if the flesh of the dead doe touch it: yet it is cleane, because it was not made apt (to take uncleanness) by one of the seven liquors. There is not any liquor that receiveth uncleanness, save onely the seven liquors forementioned; but other water of fruits, as they make not apt, so neither receive they uncleanness at all. Some things receive no uncleanness, though they be eaten by men; because they are not eaten, save to give relish unto meats, or for odour, or for sight; as spices, ginger, pepper, and all such like. All meats that grow out of the ground, receive no uncleanness till they be plucked up: but so long as they sticke in the ground, though it be but by a little root, whereby they may live, they receive no uncleanness. All meats that are of living things, receive no uncleanness, untill they be dead: so soone as a beast or fowle is killed, they may receive uncleanness. Fishes also receive uncleanness, when they are dead. All meat that is corrupt and putrified, so that it is not fit for mans meat, receiveth no uncleanness. So liquor putrified and corrupt, that it is not fit for man to drinke, receiveth no uncleanness. Maim. in Tumath. Ochlin (or Uncleanness of meats) c. 1. and 2. all drinke] or, all liquor. This generall, the Hebrews restraine to seven particulars forementioned; water, dew, wine, oyle, milke, blood, and honey, and such things as are of their kind. Which must be judiciously weighed; for they had many traditions, which agreed, not with the lawes of God, Marke 7. 3, 4, 13. Moreover they say concerning these things, Whatsoever is written in the Law, touching things unclean and cleane, it concerneth not ought save the Sanctuary and the holy things thereof, and the Hebrew-offerings and the second tithe onely. For loe the unclean are warned not to come into the Sanctuary, or to eat of the holy thing, or of the Heave-offring, or of the tithe, in uncleanness: (Levit. 12. 4. and 15. 31. Num. 19. 13, 20. Levit. 7. 20, 21. Num. 18. 11, 13.) But of common things, there is no prohibition at all; but it is lawfull to eat common things that are unclean, and to drinke liquors that are unclean. Loe it is said in the Law, and the flesh that toucheth any unclean thing, shall not be eaten, Levit. 7. 19. Wherefore common things are lawfull, for bee speake not save of the flesh of the holy things. And so it is lawfull for a man to touch all unclean things, and to defile himselfe by them: for loe, the Scripture warneth the sons of Aaron, and the Nazariite, not to defile themselves by the dead, (Lev. 21. 1. Num. 6. 6.) intimating that all the people may. Tea, and the Priests and Nazariites might defile themselves with other uncleanness, save the uncleanness of the dead. All Israel are admonished to be cleane at every solemn feast; for then they are to be fitted to come into the Sanctuary, and to eat the holy things. And this which is said in the Law, Their carcase shall ye not touch, (Lev. 11. 8.) is meant at the solemn feast onely: but for other daies of the year, he is not forbidden. The unclean and the cleane person together, Deut. 15. 22. we have been taught, that the unclean and the cleane may eat in one dish. But the husband may not eat in the dish with his wife that is separated for her uncleanness, (Lev. 15. 19.) &c. Although it be lawfull to eat uncleane meates, and drinke uncleane drinks, the holy men in former times used to eat common meates in their cleanness, and shunned all uncleane meates all their dayes. Maimony in Tumab Oclm, c. 16. f. 8. 9. 10. 11. 12. These things are to be understood of cleane meates made uncleane by touching other things: and not of swine and such beasts, fowles and fishes, as are forbidden before: for they might never be eaten by the people, except in case of necessitie.

35 Ver. 35. oven] in Greeke ovens: wherein bread is baked, Levit. 26. 26. unto which the heart of man is sometime likened, Hof. 7. 6. pots] so the Gr. Chytropades also signifieth pots with feet. Chazkuni saith the oven was for bread; the pots, for flesh; to be baked and boyled in: and Sol. Iarchi saith, they were vessels (or instruments) moveable, and were of potters earth. they shall] Hebrew, it shall, that is, every of them shall be broken downe. Because as Sol. Iarchi saith, an earthen vessell is not made cleane by washing. Therefore were they to be broken as other earthen vessels, v. 33.

36 Ver. 36. and a gathering] The Greeke addeth the word and, whereby this is distinguished from pit & fontaine; implying all other places, ditches, ponds, pooles, lakes, rivers, and the like; where many waters are gathered together (not in vessels, but) upon the ground. Such when the uncleane thing, and water that touched it were taken out, remained cleane.

37 Ver. 37. sowing] or sown seed, which useth to be sowne which shall be sowne] Chazkuni expoundeth it, which shall be rooted in the ground: reaching even of uncleane seeds, that when they are sowne and have taken root, they are cleane.

38 Ver. 38. water is put] Hebrew, is given, meaning willingly: the Greeke saith, is poured. Hereby is meant the fitting of it for man to eat: as by the Hebrew canons is before shewed. Where also it is said; By word of mouth we have beene taught that this which is said, But if water be put upon the seed, (Levit. 11. 38.) is meant either of water, or of any other of the seven liquors: so that it be put thereon by the owners will, and after that it is pulled from the ground: for it is not spoken of putting water on, save after the meates are plucked up, and the liquors pulled off from where they growe: whatsoever liquor falleth on meates without the owners will, it maketh them not apt (to receive uncleanness.) As if it be mixed with his fruits for feare or danger, or for necessity, and he be not otherwise willing that they should be mixed: it maketh them not apt (for uncleanness) as bee that bidth his fruits in water, because of the heat. &c. Maimony in Tumab Oclm, c. 12. f. 1. 2. of their carcase] Chazkuni explaineth it thus; of their carcase, and not of the bones, or of the teeth, or of the nailes, or of the haine of them: for these things made it not uncleane. Iarchi teacheth, that this is not onely whiles the seed is wet with water, but also after it is dry from the water.

39 Ver. 39. any beast dye] to weet, of it selfe; and is not orderly slaine. for meat] that is, any cleane beast, such as the Law permitteth to be eaten. And uncleane beasts much more. touched the carcase] Sol. Iarchi expoundeth this; the carcase, and not the bones (or sinewes, nor the hornes, or hoofes, neither the skin: for that these defiled not him that touched them.

Ver. 40. that beareth the carcase] see the notes on ver. 25. The Hebrewes say, A carcase is one of the chiefest uncleane things; so much as an olive of the flesh thereof, defileth men, and vessels, by touching, and earthen vessels by the aire, and defileth men by bearing it. Whether it be cattell or beast, lawfull to be eaten or unlawful; if they dye, the flesh of them all, so much as an olive, maketh one uncleane. The killing of a cleane beast, maketh it cleane every where: an uncleane beast, the killing thereof avayleth it not: and whether it be killed, or strangled, or dye of it selfe, it is a carcase, and all carcasses are alike in the case of uncleannes. The marrow is as the flesh; but the blood of the carcase defileth not as the carcase, but is like uncleane liquors, which defile not men or vessels by the Law. The fat of a cleane beast that dyeth, is cleane, as it is written, And the fat of a carcase, and the fat of that which is torne in peeces, shall be used for any worke, but eating, ye shall not eat of it (Lev. 7. 24.) Maimony in Aboth hatumoth, c. 1. f. 1. 5. wash his clothes] the Greeke addeth, and wash himselfe in water.

Ver. 41. every creeping thing] besides those eight forementioned in v. 29. 30. which defiled men by touching them dead; all other defile men by eating them; but not by touching their carcasses. See the notes on ver. 31. Who so eateth so much as an Olive, of any creeping thing on the earth, is to be beaten: saith Maimon. in treat. of Forbidden meates, c. 2. f. 6. Touching this quantitie, observe another rule which they give; This which we have said, of eating so much as an Olive, is when he eateth that quantitie of any great creature, or if bee joyned together a little of one creature, and a little of another of that kind, till hee eat so much as an olive. But he that eateth an uncleane creature by it selfe all of it; he is to be beaten by the Law, although it be lesse then a graine of Mustard seed; whether he eat it dead, or eat it alive, Maimony ibidem, cap. 2. f. 21.

Ver. 42. upon the belly] as serpents and the like, Ge. 3. 14. upon all foure] or, upon foure feet. This is the Scorpion, saith Sol. Iarchi. or whatsoever] Hebr. unto whatsoever hath many feet. Iarchi saith, this is the Nadah, (the many-foot) a creeping thing which hath feet from the head thereof to the taile thereof on each side; and they call it (in Latine) Centipoda.

Ver. 43. any thing that creepeth] This implieth all other besides the things spoken of, as creeping things in waters, and the like. Hee that eateth so much as an olive of the creeping things in the waters, is to be beaten by the Law, Levit. 11. 43. Lo in this prohibition, are comprehended creeping things of the earth, and creeping things that flye, and creeping things of the waters. Maimony, in Forbidden meates, c. 2. f. 12. What the creeping things of the waters are, is shewed on ver. 40.

Ver. 44. make holy] or sanctifie your selves. This is the spirituall use of all these carnall rites: for Meat commendeth us not to God, 1 Cor. 8. 8. neither is any thing uncleane of it selfe, Rom. 14. 14. and, there there is nothing from without a man, that entering into him, can defile him, Mar. 7. 15. and these ordinances of meats and drinks, and divers washings, were carnall ordinances, imposed on (the Jews) untill the time of reformation (or bettering) Heb. 9. 10. all which are by Christ now done away, Col. 2. 14, 16, 17, 20, 21. who calleth us from our former lusts in our ignorance, to be holy in all manner of conversation, because it is written, be ye holy, for I am holy, 1 Pet. 1. 14, 15, 16. and to cleanse our selves from all filthinesse of the flesh and spirit, perfecting holinesse in the feare of God, 2 Cor. 7. 1. The Jewes also themselves saw, that theiſe outward things were figures of heavenly, and to be abolished by Christ, as their owne words noted on Gen. 9. 3. manifest: and R. Menachem on Levit. 11. sheweth how thing beneath, are all answerable to things above; and those above, have their figures here beneath, and that by unclean beasts, the beaſtens of the world were meant, (according to that vision in Act. 10. 12, 18.) and that the eating of unclean beasts here forbidden, signified the going in unto (or unlawfull marriages with) such infidels, according to the phrase in Prov. 30. 20. she eateth, and wipeſh her mouth: and the saying in Gen. 2. 24. They shall be one flesh. Also, that the cleansing with water, signified the water that is above, which is the water of mercie, &c. And Maimon concludeth his Treatise of the Uncleanesse of meats, thus; The cleanness of the body, bringeth one unto the holinesse of the soule, from evill thoughts; and the holinesse of the soule, is a meane to make us like unto the Majestie (of God) as it is written, And ye shall make your selves holy, and shall be holy, for I the Lord I have made you holy, am holy. your selves] that is, your selves; the soule is often put for ones selfe, for the whole person, soule and body. So in v. 43. that moveth] or, that creepeth upon the earth; but the Gr. also translateth, moveſh: and it is of more large signification. Wherefore the Hebr. canons say; These kinds that breed in dungbills, and in bodies of carcases, as Wormes, Maggots, and the like, which are not procreated of male and female, but of rotten dung, and the like, they are called, The things that move upon the earth: and who so eateth so much as an olive of them, is to be beaten, &c. although they doe not increase and multiply (by generation.) But the creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth (Levit. 11. 29.) is that which increaseth and multiplieth of male and female. Those kinds that breed in fruits and in meats; if they be separated, and go forth upon the earth, although they returne againe into the meat; who so eateth so much as an olive of them, is to be beaten; but if they be not separated, it is lawfull to eat the fruit, and the worme that is within it. Provided that the food breed wormes after it is plucked up from growing on the earth: for if it breed wormes while it groweth; those wormes are unlawfull, as those that are separated upon the earth, because they are created upon the earth. And if the case be doubtfull, they are also unlawfull. Therefore all kind of fruits which are wont to breed wormes while they grow, are not to be eaten, untill they search into the fruite, lest any worme be in it. But if the fruit last a twelve-month after it is gathered, it may be eaten without any searching into it: for there is no worm which can live twelve months in it. Maim. treat. of Forbidden meats, c. 2. f. 13, 14, 15.

V. 45. that bringeth you] upon that condition you should receive my commendements, have I brought you up from the land of Egypt: as Iarchi explaineth it. for I am holy] Hence doth the Apostle frame his Exhortation, as he which hath called you in holy, so be ye holy, in all manner of conversation, because it is written, Be ye holy, for I am holy, 1 Pet. 1. 15, 16.

V. 47. To make a difference] or, to separate; and in the next sentence the Gr. addeth, To teach the Sons of Israel, between the living thing, &c. as having reference to v. 1, 2. (where this law is spoken to Moses and Aaron) and to the former Precept, in Lev. 10. 10, 11. the beast] or, the living thing: which the Gr. calleth Zoogonimion, that gender living things. And as wee have heard of the creatures, so for those that come of the creatures; the Hebr. have these rules: All meat that cometh out of any of the kinds of creatures forbidden, for the eating whereof men are beaten: he that meat is by the Law, forbidden to be eaten, as the milke of any unclean beast, and egges of unclean fowles or fishes. Womans milke is lawfull to be eaten, though the flesh of mankind is unlawfull to be eaten. Honey of Bees, or of Hornets is lawfull, &c. Though it be unlawfull to eat the milke or egges of unclean beasts and birds, yet are not men beaten for eating them; for it is said, Of their flesh shall ye not eat, Levit. 11. 8.) for eating the flesh they are beaten, not for eating the egges or milke: yet for eating such, they are chastised with stripes, Maim. in Forbidden meats, chap. 3. sect. 1. &c.

CHAP. XII.

1, The Law for a womans separation, and purification after childbirth; 6, with the offering for her purifying.

And Jehovah spake unto Moses, saying; 1
Speak unto the sons of Israel, saying; 2
A woman, when she hath conceived seed, and born a man-child: then she shall be unclean, seven daies; according to the daies of the separation for her infirmities, shall she be unclean. And in the eighth day, the flesh of his superfluous fore-skin shall be circumcised. 3
And she shall continue in the bloods of her cleansing, thirty daies & three daies: she shall not touch any holy thing, nor come into the Sanctuary, untill the daies of her cleansing be fulfilled. And if she beare a maid-child, 4 then she shall be unclean two-weeks, as in her separation: and she shall continue in the bloods of her cleansing, sixty daies and six daies. And when the daies of her cleansing are fulfilled; for a son, or for a daughter: she shall bring a Lambe of his first yeare, for a Burnt-offering: and a young Pigeon or a Turtle dove, for a Sin-offering; unto the doore of the tent of the Congregation, unto the Priest. And he shall offer it before Jehovah, 7 and make atonement for her; and she shall be cleansed.

F f f

cleaned from the fountaine of her bloods:
 8 This is the law of the childbearing-woman; for a male, or for a female. And if her hand find not enough for a lambe; then she shall take two turtles, or two yong pigeons; one for a Burnt-offring, and one for a Sinne-offring: and the Priest shall make atonement for her, and she shall be cleane.

Annotations.

DDD Here beginneth the seven and twentieth Section of the Law. See Gen. 6. 9.

2 C Onceived seed] or yeeldeed seed; Hebrew, seeded: which in Genesis 1. 11. signifieth the bearing, or yeelding of seed. Here also it meaneth the womans yeelding or giving of seed unto conception (as Aben Ezra explaineth it) and the word born, following, signifies the bringing forth thereof into the world. The Chaldees translateth it, conceived. From these words, yeeldeed seed, and borne a male; the Hebrew Doctors gathered, that the woman which yeeldeth seed first, beareth a male, (and if the man yeeldeth it first, a female) R. Menachem on Levit. 12. and R. Solomon, on Gen. 46. 15. As the former laws concerned uncleanness, which proceeded from without, so this, and the rest that follow, concerne uncleanness which commeth from within; and the cleansing of the same by the grace of God in Christ. And Sol. Iarobi noteth, from a former Author, that as man was formed after all cattell, and beasts and fowles, in the worke of the creation, (Genesis 1.) so his Law is set downe after the Law of beasts, fowles, &c. (Leviticus 11.) a man-childe] or, a male: so after, a maid-childe, or female; as in v. 7. And this law the Hebrews say, taketh place, whether the birth be timely or untimely; living or dead, so that it hath the perfect shape; which they limit to be after fortie daies from the conception. If within fortie daies, they hold no uncleanness of childbirth thereby, Maimony in Issurei biab, chap. 10. sect. 1, 2. separation] or, removal. The Hebrew Niddab, though it be sometimes generally used for any uncleanness, separated or removed away, Ezra 9. 11. 2 Chron. 29. 5. yet commonly it is used for a womans separation for a monthly flours; whereof see Levit. 15. 19. &c. infirmity] or, her menstruall-sickness; for unto that is the originall word appropriated: that as at such a time, she was separated from all communion with others, and from her husbands bed, and defiled whatsoever shee did lie, sit upon, or touch, Leviticus 15. 20, 21. so at her child-birth, shee should be unclean seven daies for a male, and fourteen daies for a female; with as contagious a pollution as the other. And this is in respect of her child-birth, though no other accident should appeare: as the Hebrew cannons say, Every woman in child-birth is unclean, as a menstruous-woman; yea, although there be no blood seene: Maimony, in Issurei biab, ch. 10. §. 1. Now the uncleanness of a woman in her menstruallsickness, was for the time, as great as hers that had an issue: and defiled also by her spittle and urine; as is after noted on Levit. 15. 8. 20. &c. This uncleanness of a woman by child-birth, argueth the corruption of nature, whereby wee all are children of wrath, Ephes. 2. 3. For by one mans disobedience, many are made sinners: and, by the offence of one, judgement is come upon all men to condemnation, Romans 5. 19, 18. that every man should confesse with David, In sin my mother conceived me, Psal. 51. 7. Among the Gentiles, this law of uncleanness was also kept, as appeareth by Iphigenia in the Poet, saying; I mislike the sophisme of the Goddess (Diana) who, if any man touch a staine person, or a woman in childbed, or a dead corps; she driveth him from her Altars, counting him as unclean: yet she her selfe delighteth to have men killed in sacrifice unto her, Euripid. Iphigenia in Tauris.

V. 3. the flesh] that is, the secret-part, which hath a superfluous-foreskin upon it. So by the flesh of the foreskin, is meant, the foreskin of the flesh: as by silver of shekels, Lev. 5. 15. is meant, shekels of silver, and uncleanness of man, Lev. 7. 21. is, for a man of uncleanness; and many the like. Of this foreskin, and the circumcision thereof, see the notes on Gen. 17. 11. It figured the taking away of mans hereditary sin, and originall uncleanness, in putting off the body of the sins of the flesh, by the circumcision of Christ, Col. 2. 11. Psal. 51. 7. And this circumcision of the child in the eighth day, agreed also with the law for all other yong creatures, which were not fit to be offered unto the Lord, before the eighth day from the birth, Exod. 22. 30. See Gen. 17. 12.

Ver. 4. shall continue] Heb. shall sit: that is, abide at home, and not come into Gods sanctuary. So sitting is for abiding or continuing, in Lev. 8. 35. and often. in the bloods] or for the bloods: which word, in the plurall number, usually signifieth uncleanness, or guiltiness, either for murder, as in Gen. 4. 10. or for naturall pollution by originall sinne that dwelleth in all, as in this place, and after in Lev. 15. Wherefore they that are regenerate, and new creatures in Christ, are said to be borne, not of bloods, Joh. 1. 13. of her cleansing] or, purification: or, of cleanness. The originall word signifieth, both cleansing or purification, as it is interpreted by the holy Ghost in Luk. 2. 22. and also cleanness or purity: in which sense, bloods of cleanness, is by the Greek interpreters here translated, her cleane (or pure) blood: and in Targum Jonathan it is expounded, and the 33. daies next following, all her blood shall be cleane: for, her greatest uncleanness had an end at 7. daies, v. 22. 33. daies] to which adde the seven daies forementioned, and there are fortie daies: all which time shee was debarred from the holy things of the Lord. Which number of fortie daies, is often used for the time of humiliation before God, as in the fast of Moses, Elias, and Christ our Lord: see the notes on Genesis 7. 4. So this Law taught mortification and humiliation, in respect of that hereditary sin, which by the parents is conveyed to the children, Psal. 51. 3. whereby they naturally are unclean, 1 Cor. 7. 14. and children of wrath, Eph. 2. 3. For

For, who can bring a clean thing out of an unclean? not one, Job 14.4. To shew the contagion hereof, not onely, the child was circumcised from the impuritie of it; but the mother also, cleansed by sacrifice for sin, as after in v.6. And this the Hebr. Doctors observed, saying, No Sin-offring is brought, but onely for sin, &c. and it seemeth unto me, that there is a mystere in this matter, concerning the sin of the old Serpent, (Gen. 3.) saith R. Mejachem, on Levit. 12. holy thing, but for common things, and all evill affairs, she was clean, after the seven daies first spoken of. The Hebrews say, All blood that appeareth of a woman in child-birth, within the 33. daies for a Male, and the 66. for a Female, is called the blood of cleanness, (or of purification:) and there is no prohibition of a woman from her husband, if she be baptised (or washed) after 7. daies for a man-child, and after 14. for a woman-child, &c. But if he lye with her that beareth a Male, within any of the 7. daies: or with her that beareth a Female, in any of the 14. daies: he is guilty of cutting off. Maim. in Issurei biab, c. 4. l. 5, 2. unwill, &c.] This law was observed by the Virgin Mary, the mother of our Lord; who, though he was born without sin, (Luke 1. 35.) yet being born under the Law, (Gal. 4. 4.) & for that it became them to fulfill all righteousness, (Mat. 3. 15.) both himself was circumcised the eighth day; and his mother, when the daies of her cleansing, according to the Law of Moses, were fulfilled, brought him to Jerusalem, to present him to the Lord, in the Sanctuary, Luke 2. 21, 22.

V. 5. two weeks] The time of her uncleanness, and so for the daies of her cleansing, are doubled for a female child; which continued in all, 80. daies; the ground of which law, partly ariseth from nature, which causeth more superfluities, and so requireth longer time for cleansing about the female, then the male. Who so brought forth a male and female, twins, she continued [in the blood of her cleansing] for a female [that is, 66. daies:] If she brought forth a child neither male nor female, or a child both male and female, she continued [in her cleansing] for a male & for a female both. So if she brought forth twins, the one a male, the other of neither kind, or of both kinds, she continued both for a male and a female. If the one were a female, and the other of neither kind, or of both: she continued for a female only. Maim. in Issurei biab, c. 10. l. 18.

Ver. 6. fulfilled] The woman after child-birth, brings not her offering in the 40. day for a male, or in the 80. day for a female; but on the morrow, which is the 41. or the 81. and that is the day spoken of in Leviticus 12. 6. If these daies pass over, and she bring not her atonement, she may not all that while eat of the holy things; as Maimony sheweth, in Mechofres capporah, c. 1. l. 5.

of his first year] Hebr. son of his year: of which phrase, see the notes on Gen. 5. 32. & Exod. 12. 5. And of these two sacrifices, the Burnt-offring, and Sin-offring, see Lev. 1. & 4. There were 4. sorts of unclean persons, bound to bring sacrifices for their atonement, as the law sheweth, and the Hebr. Doctors have noted: The woman that hath an issue, & the man that hath an issue, (Levit. 15.) and the woman in child-bed, and the Lepet (Levit. 14.) Every one of these, although they be cleansed, and baptised, and their Sin be set, yet are they wanting, and their cleansing is not fulfilled, so as that they may eat of the holy things, until they have brought their oblation. Maim. in Mechofres capporah, c. 1. l. 1. a young Pigeon] Hebrew, son of a Dove. Basil baturim here noteth, that in every place he mentioneth the Turtles before the Pigeons, save here: the reason wherof he saith is this, Because she brought but one. And if she could find a Dove, she should not take a Turtle; because the fellow (of a Turtle) would mourn for her mate, and would not couple her self with another. a Sin-offring] By these two sacrifices, her full atonement was made with God; the Sin-offring being an expiation for her sins; the Burnt-offring, both for that, and for her transformatiō by the renewing of her mind; that her body might be presented a living sacrifice unto God; which graces she received by faith in Christ, 2 Cor. 5. 21. Rom. 12. 1, 2. See the Annotations on Lev. 1. and 4. chapters.

Ver. 7. atonement for her] So these sacrifices were in respect of the womans uncleanness, not of the child, which had circumcision, the signe of purification upon it, the eighth day. And whereas pains in child-birth, are unto woman-kind a chastisement of their sin, Gen. 3. 16. God by this law, gave a means to strengthen their faith, by making atonement for their sins in Christ, whom these sacrifices, Priest, and Sanctuary figured. That as the marriage bed is undefiled, Heb. 13. 4. & that state of life is without sin, 1 Cor. 7. 28. so the children which they bring forth, are a holy seed, Ezra 9. 2. 1 Cor. 7. 14. and a seed of God, Mat. 2. 15. and women shall be saved in child-bearing; if they continue in faith, and love, and holiness, with sobriety, 1 Tim. 2. 15.

fontain] that is, flux, or issue, as the fontain of her blood, in Mar. 5. 29. is expounded, the issue of her blood, in Luke 8. 44. The Chaldee translateth, the uncleanness of her blood: See the notes on Lev. 20. 18. Under this, all like accidents to women within that time, are comprehended: as the Hebrew canons say, Whether she bring forth one or many, yet bringeth she but one offering for them all; and this is, if she bring them forth all within the daies of accomplishment, [that is, the 40. or 80. daies.] As, if she bear a female, all untimely births that fall from the birth day, to the end of the 80. daies, are counted with the first birth: if she bring forth twins, one after another, yet bringeth she but one oblation. Maimony, in Mechofres capporah, chap. 1. sect. 8.

Ver. 8. find not enough] that is, she be poor, and not able to buy, or bring a Lamb; then she shall bring two Doves. See the Annotations on Levit. 5. 7. Thus God regarded the estate of his poor, and accepteth according to that a man hath, and not according to that he hath not, 2 Corinth. 8. 12. And the mother of our Lord, offering at her cleansing this poor womans sacrifice, (Luke 2. 22, 24.) it sheweth us both the humilitie, and the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, that though he was rich, yet for our sakes he became poor, that we through his poverty, might be rich, 2 Corin. 8. 9.

One for a Burnt-offring] When Burnt-offrings and Sin-offrings were brought together, the Sin-offrings were first offered, Exod. 29. 14, 18.

Lev. 8. 14. 18. & 9. 7. 8. 12. 15. 16. So in this place Sol. Tarchi observeth from the Talmud, that howsoever the Scripture nameth the Burnt-offring first, yet for Offring, the Sin-offring was before the Burnt-offring.

CHAP. XIII.

1. The Laws and tokens whereby the Priest is to be guided in discerning and judging the plagues of Leprosie, arising of a swelling, or of a scab, or of a bright-spot; 18, or of a Bile; 24. or of a Burning. 29. Of the Leprosie in the head, or beard; 38. Of the freckled spot. 40. Of the Leprosie in the bald head, or forehead. 45. How the Lepers are to be arrayed, and put out of the camp. 47. The Law for discerning the Leprosie in garments and skins; and burning them that were unclean.

1 AND Jehovah spake, unto Moses and 2 unto Aaron, saying; A man, when there shall be in the skin of his flesh,
a swelling, or a scab, or a bright-spot; and it be in the skin of his flesh, like to the plague of Leprosie: then he shall be brought unto 3 Aaron the Priest, or unto one of his sons, the Priests. And the Priest shall see the plague in the skin of the flesh; and if the hair in the plague be turned white; and the sight of the plague, be deeper than the skin of his flesh; it is the plague of Leprosie: and the Priest shall see him, and pronounce him un-4 clean. And if the bright-spot be white, in the skin of his flesh; and the sight thereof, be not deeper than the skin; and the hair thereof, be not turned white: then the Priest, 5 shall shut up the plague, seven daies. And the Priest shall see him, in the seventh day:
and behold, if the plague standeth in his eyes;
and the plague spread not, in the skin; then the Priest shall shut him up, seven daies, the 6 second time. And the Priest shall see him, in the seventh day, the second time: and behold, if the plague be somewhat dark; and the plague spread not, in the skin: then the Priest shall pronounce him clean, it is a scab;
and he shall wash his clothes, and be clean.
7 But if the scab spreading, spread abroad in the skin; after that he hath bin seen of the Priest, for his cleansing: then he shall be seen the 8 second time, of the Priest. And if the Priest see, that behold the scab spreadeth, in the skin: then the Priest shall pronounce him unclean, it is a Leprosie.

9 The plague of Leprosie, when it shall be in a man: then he shall be brought unto the 10 Priest. And the Priest shall see; and behold, if a white swelling be in the skin; and it hath turned the hair white: and liveliness of living flesh, be in the swelling. It is an old Leprosie, in the skin of his flesh; and the Priest shall pronounce him unclean: he shall not shut him up, for he is unclean. And if the 12 Leprosie break out abroad, in the skin; and the Leprosie cover, all the skin of the plague;

from his head, even to his feet: to all the sight, of the eyes of the Priest. Then the Priest shall 13 see; and behold, if the Leprosie hath covered all his flesh; then he shall pronounce the plague clean: all of it, is turned white, he is clean. But in the day, that living flesh is seen 14 in him; he shall be unclean. And the Priest 15 shall see the living flesh, and pronounce him unclean: the living flesh, it is unclean, it is a Leprosie. Or when the living flesh, turn again, and is changed into white: then he shall come unto the Priest. And the Priest shall see 17 him; and behold, if the plague be turned unto white: then the Priest, shall pronounce the plague clean, he is clean.

And flesh, when there shall be in it in the skin thereof, a bile: and it is healed. And there be in the place of the bile, a white swelling,
or a bright-spot, white, somewhat reddish:
then it shall be shewed, to the Priest. And if 20 the Priest see it; & behold the sight thereof,
is lower than the skin; and the hair thereof,
is turned white: then the Priest shall pronounce him unclean, it is the plague of Leprosie, it is broken out in the bile. But if the 21 Priest see it, and behold there is no white hair therein; and it is not lower, than the skin, and it is somewhat dark: then the Priest shall shut him up, seven daies. And if it spread-22 ing spread abroad, in the skin: then the Priest shall pronounce him unclean, it is the plague. But if the bright-spot stand in his 23 place, and spread not; it is an inflammation of the bile: and the Priest, shall pronounce him clean.

Or flesh, when there shall be in the skin thereof, a burning of fire: and the liveliness
of the burning be, a bright-spot, white som-what reddish, or white. Then the Priest shall 25 see it, & behold if the hair be turned white, in the bright-spot; and the sight thereof, be deeper than the skin; it is a Leprosie; it is broken out, in the burning: and the Priest shall pronounce him unclean; it is the plague of Leprosie. But if the Priest see it, & behold 26 here is no white hair in the bright-spot; and it is no lower than the skin, and it is somewhat dark: then the Priest shall shut him up, seven daies. And the Priest shall see him, in 27 the seventh day: if spreading, it be spread-abroad

abroad in the skin; then the Priest shall pronounce him unclean; it is the plague of leprosie. And if the bright-spot stand in his place, and spread not in the skin, & it be somewhat darke; it is a swelling of the burning: and the Priest shall pronounce him cleane; for it is an inflammation of the burning. And man, or woman; when there shall be in him, a plague: on the head, or on the beard. Then the Priest shall see the plague: and behold, if the sight thereof be deeper than the skin; and there be in it, yellow thin haire: then the Priest shall pronounce him unclean; it is a skall; it is a leprosie of the head, or of the beard. And if the Priest see, the plague of the skall; & behold the sight of it, is no deeper than the skin; and there is no black haire in it: then the Priest shall shut-up, the plague of the skall, seven daies. And the Priest shall see the plague, in the seventh day: and behold if the skall spread not; and there be in it, no yellow haire; and the sight of the skall, be no deeper than the skin. Then he shall shave himselfe; but the skall shall he not shave: and the Priest, shall shut up the skall, seven daies, the second time. And the Priest shall see the skall, in the seventh day, and behold, if the skall be not spread in the skin; and the sight thereof, be no deeper than the skin: then the Priest shall pronounce him cleane; and he shall wash his clothes, and be cleane.

But if the skall, spreading spread abroad, in the skin, after his cleansing: Then the Priest shall see him; & behold if the skall be spread, in the skin: the Priest shall not seek for yellow haire, he is unclean. But if the skall stand in his eyes, and blacke haire be growne-up therin; the skall is healed, he is clean: and the Priest shall pronounce him cleane.

And man, or woman; when there shall be in the skin of their flesh, bright-spots: white bright-spots. Then the Priest shall see: and behold if in the skin of their flesh, be bright-spots, darkish white: it is a freckled-spot, that groweth in the skin, he is cleane.

And a man, when his head hath the haire fallen off; he is bald, he is cleane. And if his head hath the haire fallen off, from the part towards his face: he is forehead-bald, he is cleane. And if there be in the bald-head, or in the bald-forehead; a plague; white somewhat reddish: it is a leprosie sprung up; in his bald-head, or in his bald-forehead. And the Priest shall see it; and behold if the swelling of the plague, be white somewhat reddish; in his bald-head, or in his bald-forehead: as the sight of leprosie, in the skin of the flesh. Hee is a leprous man, hee is unclean: the Priest shall pronounce him utterly unclean; his plague is in his head. And the leper, in whom the plague is, his clothes, shall be rent; and his head shall be bare; and he shall put-a-covering upon his upper-lip: and he shall cry unclean, unclean. All the daies, that the plague shall be in him; he shall be unclean, he is unclean: he shall dwell alone; without the camp, shall his dwelling be.

And a garment, when there shall be in it, the plague of leprosie: in a wollen garment, or in a linnen garment. Either in the warp, or in the woofe; of linnen, or of wollen: or in a skin, or in any worke of skin. And if the plague be greenish, or redish; in the garment, or in the skin, or in the warp, or in the woof, or in any vessell of skin; it is a plague of leprosie: and shall be seen of the Priest. And the Priest shall see the plague: and shall shut-up the plague, seven daies. And he shall see the plague, on the seventh day; if the plague be spread in the garment, either in the warpe, or in the woofe, or in the skin: of all that is made of skin, for a worke: the plague is a fretting leprosie, it is unclean. And hee shall burne the garment, or the warpe, or the woofe; in woollen, or in linnen; or any vessell of skin, wherein the plague shall be: for it, is a fretting leprosie, it shall be burnt in fire.

And if the Priest shall see; and behold, the plague is not spread; in the garment, or in the warpe, or in the woofe: or, in any vessell of skin. Then the Priest shall command, that they wash, that wherein the plague is: and he shall shut it up, seven daies, the second time. And the Priest shall see, after the plague is washed; and behold, if the plague hath not changed his colour, and the plague be not spread; it is unclean; thou shalt burne it in fire: it is a fret inward; in the bare in-side thereof, or in the bare-out-side thereof. And if the Priest see; and behold, the plague is somewhat darke, after it is washed: then hee shall rend it out of the garment, or out of the skin; or out of the warpe, or out of the woofe. And if it be seene still, in the garment, or in the warpe, or in the woofe, or in any vessell of skin; it is a plague breaking out-abroad: in fire thou shalt burne it; that wherein the plague is. And the garment, or the warpe, or the woofe, or any vessell of skin, which thou shalt wash; and the plague be departed 59 from them: then it shall be washed the second-time, and it shall be cleane. This is the law of the plague of Leprosie, in a garment of woollen, or of linnen; or in the warp, or the woof, or any vessel of skin: to pronounce it clean, or to pronounce it uncleane.

Annotations.

A Man] or Woman; Hebr. Adam, used for all mankind: as in ver. 29. meaning all Israelites and Proselytes; to whom the law following doth pertain. So the Hebrew Doctors explain it; All are defiled by the plague (of Leprosie) though it be a child of a day old, and servants. But not Infidels, nor strangers that sojourn (among the Israelites): Maim. treat. of Leprosie, c. 9. §. 1. Here the law is given for the third sort of uncleanness, which proceedeth outwardly from the bodies, garments, or houses of men, chastised for their sins by the hand of God: for so Leprosie was often laid upon men for sin; as the examples of Mary, Moses sister, Num. 12. of K. Uzziab, 2 Chron. 26. and of Gebazi, 2 King. 5. doe manifest. See the notes on Levit. 11. 2. and 12. 1.

a swelling] or rising; in Hebrew, Seib; in Greeke, Ouke; that is, a skar. Of this he treateth in ver. 9, 10, &c. and of the third and last, the Bright-spot, (with the Seib which is neere unto it) Moses speaketh in the first place.

a scab] or scurf, named in Hebr. Sapachath, that is, a clearing-thing: in Greeke, Semasia, a signification. This the Hebr. Doctors say, is of two sorts, the one neere unto the foresaid Swelling; the other, neere to the Bright-spot after mentioned: between which two, it is therefore here placed, as an adjoynt to them both. So Chazkuni here saith, Sapachath is an adjoynt to the Swelling, and an adjoynt to the Bright-spot: it breedeth of the one, and of the other. Bright-spot] or sore, wheale, pimple, which is white and glittering; and both the Hebrew, Greek and Chaldee words signifie. Unto which the Hebrew Doctors adde againe, the scab before mentioned, which groweth of the bright-spot, as the other did of the swelling: so making two principall the Bright-spot, and the Swelling; and two secundarie, the scabs arising of the former; foure in all. They say, There are foure appearances (or sorts) of Leprosie in the skin of the flesh, which are these: first, an exceeding whitenesse, then which there is no greater, which appeareth in the skin of the flesh like snow, and it is called [baheareth] a bright-spot. Secondly, a whitenesse which is a little inferiour to that, which appeareth like the cleare wool of a lambe the first day it is borne; and it is called [Seib] a swelling. Thirdly, a whitenesse little inferiour to the swelling, which appeareth like the plaster of the wall of an house; it groweth of a bright-spot, and is called [Sapachath] a scab. Fourthly, a whitenesse little inferiour to the plaster of a wall, which is like the film of an egge, and groweth of a swelling, and it is also called a scab: Maimon, in treat. of Leprosie, chap. 1. sect. 2. and Talmud Bab. (in Negaim, chap. 1. sect. 1.) accordeth hereunto. These sundry sorts of Leprie in the body, figured the many sins which infect and defile mans soule: and for which God plagueth him, till his stripes stinke, and are putrified, because of his foolishnesse: Marke 7. 21, 22, 23. Psal. 38. 6.

the skin] Hereupon they say, the places within the eye, and within the eare, and the nostrils, and the mouth, and the wrinkles of the belly, and of the necke, and under the brest; also the arme-boles, and soles of the feet, and the nailes, and the head and beard which have haire upon them; these places in a man, are not defiled with a bright-spot neither doth the plague spread within them. &c. for these are not the open skin, but some of them have no skin; other some have a skin, but covered, not open. Maim. treat. of Leprosie, chap. 6. sect. 1. to the plague] that is, like to, or according to the plague: meaning white. The Greeke saith absolutely, the plague.

Leprosie] or Leprie; which word we borrow from the Greeke Lepra: so called of scales like fish scales, which grow upon leprous bodies: in Hebrew it is named Tsarath, which is a fretting-soreness, or piercing-infection-scabbednesse, and in colour white, as is noted on Exo. 4. 6. So the Syriack Grab, signifieth scabbednesse: but the Chaldee Seginuth, is so named of flourishing up, because the disease caused men to be secluded. The Hebrews say, The Leprosie of the skin of the flesh, is that which makes the place whiter then the (other) skin, and the whitenesse is as the film of an egge, or any thing superiour unto it: but if the whitenesse be inferiour to the film of an egge, it is not the Leprosie, but a freckled spot (or morpheus, Levit. 13. 39.) Maimon, in treat. of Leprosie, ch. 1. sect. 1. And if there be, with any of the foure sorts of whitenesse fore-mentioned, a red colour also mixed: that is likewise a Leprosie; as is after observed, on ver. 19, 20.

Ver. 3. the Priest shall see] or, looke upon, and consider it; teaching a care to discern and judge rightly. The plagued man is sent to the Priest of God, (not to the Physitian of the body) that he might acknowledge his chastisement to be of God for sin, (the knowledge whereof is by the Law, Rom. 3. 20. and 7. 7.) and might by repentance, and faith in Christ, be forgiven and healed. Deuteronomie 28. 22. Job 33. 27, 28. Psalme 39. 11, 12. Numb. 12. 10, 13. Of this the Hebrew canons say, All men may lawfully see the plagues, save hee himselfe that hath the plague: but though all may see them, yet the pronouncing uncleane or cleane, depends upon the Priest. As, when a Priest knowes not to discern it; a Wise man may see it, and say unto him, pronounce him uncleane; and the Priest pronounceth, uncleane: say cleane; and the Priest saith, cleane: Stand him up, then the Priest shutteth him up: as it is written (in Deuteronomie 21. 5.) by their mouth, shall every controversie, and every plague be. And though the Priest be a child, or a fool; the Wise man speaketh unto him, and hee either maketh him absolutely uncleane, or freeh him as cleane, or shutteth him up. This is meant, when the Priest resteth upon the words of the Wise man: but if the Priest looke on it, and relie upon himselfe; it is unlawfull for him to looke on any plague; nor will a master have taught him, and hee be expert in all plagues (or sores) and in the names of them; in all plagues that are on men, and on garments, and on houses. Maim. treat. of of Leprie, chap. 9. Sect. 1, 2. and Talmud Bab. in Negazin, chap. 7. Sect. 1. white] this is the certaine colour to discern the Leprie. But the white hair, which is the signe of uncleanness by Leprosie, is not less than two haire. And they must be white at the root. And must be in the body of the bright spot. And turned white by the sore, vers. 10. (not white before naturally.) If the whitenesse of the haire maketh uncleane in any of the (four) sorts, whether it be white as snow, or white in an inferiour degree. Maim. treat. of Lepr. ch. 2. The whitenesse of the haire (as Chazkuni on this place, faith) was a signe that the flesh was weakened, the naturall vigour thereof decayed: for the plague mortifieth the flesh. And so, old men when they grow weake, their haire turne white. But if the haire be white, before the plague cometh, it is no signe of uncleanness. It figured the decay of spirituall strength in the soule, by the power of sin reigning therein, Hos. 7. 9. Ezek. 16. 30. Rom. 7. 5, 9, 13. signe of the plague] that is, the plague to see to, (or in sight.) deeper] in Greeke, lower. Sol. Lxxi. expresseth it by a similitude, at the appearance of the Sun, is deeper then the shadow. The nature of the Leprie, is to fret, eat and consume the flesh, as the originall name implieth, and as may be seene by Marie, who was smitten with this plague, Num. 12. 12. Let her not be as one dead, of whom the flesh is halfe consumed. And when Naaman was cured of his Leprosie, his flesh is said to come againe, 2 King. 5. 10. 14. This signified the nature of sin, in speciall, of Heresie, which eateth as a canker, 2 Tim. 2. 17. pronounce him uncleane] or, declare him uncleane: the Hebrew phrase, (as also the Greeke and Chaldee) is, make him unclean, or, pollute him; and in vers. 6. cleane him: which is meant of pronouncing or manifesting him to be, with power: as Lxxi. expoundeth it, hee shall say unto him, Thou art unclean. So Ezekiel is said to destroy the citie when he pronounced, or prophesied the assured destruction of it, Ezek. 43. 3. And the Ministers of Christ are said to binde and to loose, to remit sins, and to retaine them; when they certainly declare them to be, by the Word of God, Matth. 16. 19. and 18. 18. Joh. 20. 23. So here, before the Priest may make him unclean; God (by these signes) faith, It is the plague of Leprosie; and so often in this chapter. Accordingly, the Hebrew Doctors say, A Priest that maketh unclean, him that is cleane; or maketh cleane, him that is unclean, doth not any thing: for it is said, He is unclean, and the Priest shall make him unclean, (Lev. 13. 44.) he is cleane, and the Priest shall make him cleane. Maim. treat. of Lepr. chap. 9. Sect. 3.

4 Vers. 4. deeper] Any appearance of Leprosie in the skin of the flesh, is not called the plague (of Leprosie) neither deserveth it a man, untill the appearance of the plague, be deeper then the skin of the flesh, &c. Maimony, treat. of Lepr. chap. 1. Sect. 6. shut up the plague] in Greeke, separate the plague: that is, him that hath the plague; or, the plagued man. A figurative speech, often used in the Scriptures, as charge, Ezek. 44. 11. is for such as have charge: and thou proud, Jer. 50. 31. for, thou proud man. If the uncircumcision keep the righteousness of the Law, Rom. 2. 26.

that is, the uncircumcised man. So Dreames, for Dreamers, Jer. 27. 9. and, wickednesse perverteth sin, that is, the sinner, Prov. 13. 6. and (undry the like.) And that such is the meaning here, appeareth plainly by the 12. vers. This shutting up of the suspected Leper, taught a care of righteous judgement according to Gods law, upon certaine knowledge; that nothing be judged before the time, 1 Cor. 4. 5. but to expect till God reveale sins, of which, some are open before hand, going before unto judgement, and some follow after 1 Tim. 5. 24.

5 Vers. 5. the Priest] This is meant of the same Priest that saw him before; because he must consider, whether the plague be as it was before, or changed. So by the Hebrew canons, The Priest that saw the plague at the first; he is to see it at the end of the first seven daies, and at the end of the second seven, &c. If the Priest that saw him at the first, be dead, or sick; another Priest may looke on him; but this second, may not pronounce him unclean by the spreading (of the sore) because he knoweth not whether it be spread or no. Maimony, in Lepr. chap. 9. Sect. 4. in the seventh day] except it be the Sabbath: for so they write; On any day they looke on them that have the plague, except on the Sabbath, and festivall day. If the seventh day fall out to be the Sabbath or feast, they put him off till the day following. Maimony, treat. of Lepr. c. 9. § 7. And he saith, in the seventh day: whereupon Chazkuni noteth, He doth not make him tarry seven full daies, to teach thee, that a part of the day is on the whole. standeth in his eyes] that is, in the Priests eyes; as the Greeke translateth, abideth before him: or standeth in his colours, as after in v. 55. the eye is used for the colour of the plague: & thus the Chaldee expoundeth it, standeth as it was. By standeth, meaning, keeps at a stay: being neither whiter, nor spread wider. Therefore the man thus plagued, must doe nothing to the sore, whereby to change the naturall state of it. So the Hebrew canons say, Hee that pulleth off the signes of uncleanness, either all or some; or that seareth the quicke flesh, all or part of it; or that cutteth out all the spot out of his flesh, or out of his garment, or out of his house: whether it be before he come to the Priest, or in the time of his shutting up, or when he is pronounced unclean, or when he is freed: loe he transgresseth the commandement, which saith, (in Deut. 24. 8.) I have been in the plague of Leprosie, that thou observe diligently, to doe all that the Priests, the Levites, shall teach you: as I commanded them, so shall ye observe to doe: that he pull nothing off, nor cut it out. Maim. in Lepr. chap. 10. Sect. 1.

6 Vers. 6. the seventh day the second time] This the Hebrewes expound to be the thirteenth day, from the first: because the seventh day goeth to the count of the first weeke, and to the count of the second weeke, in all plagues, whether they be upon men, or on houses, or on garments. In the daies betweene, what signes soever fell out, they might doe nothing. Maim. in Lepr. c. 9. sect. 9, 10. And in two weekes, the case was fully tried; for pronouncing him cleane or unclean, he was to be shut up no longer: so the Talmud (in Negag. chap. 3. Sect. 3.) faith, The skin of the flesh, is made unclean in two weekes, and by three signes; by white-haire, (Levit. 13. 3.) by quicke

quicke flesh (Lev. 13. 14.) and by spreading, (Lev. 13. 8.) somewhat darke] or dimme, obscure; namely of a more darke colour, then any of those foure sorts of whitenesse, which make it leprosie. The Hebrews explaine it thus. There are three signes of uncleannesse, in the leproie of the skin of the flesh, white haire, and quicke flesh, and the spreading (of the sore) and these three are expressed in the Law. As, who so hath a bright-spot grow upon him, and in it white haire, or quicke flesh, when the Priest looketh on him, hee shall pronounce him absolutely uncleane. If there be no white haire in it, nor quicke flesh: hee shall shut him up seven daies, and in the seventh day shall looke upon him, whether any white haire be growne in the bright-spot, or any quicke flesh, or that it be spread: if there be, then he is to be pronounced uncleane: If no quicke flesh, nor white haire be growne upon it, neither is he spread in the skin, he shall shut him up the second weeke. If any of these three grow upon him in that time, he shall pronounce him uncleane; if not, then he is cleane; and he shall set him free; for there is no shutting up, for plaques in the skin of the flesh, more then two weekes. And if after he is freed and cleansed, the plague doe spread, or there grow on it white haire, or quicke flesh; then he is absolutely pronounced uncleane. The bright-spot, that is, very white as snow, and after the shutting up, becometh somewhat darke, like the filme of an egge; or, that which was at first like the filme of an egge, and is made like snow; for this is as it was (before:) for the greater brightnesse of the appearance, is no signe of uncleannesse: neither is the darknesse thereof a signe of cleannesse; except it be become lesser then the foure sorts (fore-mentioned) and be made somewhat darker then the filme of an egge; so that it be made a freckled spot, and therefore cleane, (Levit. 13. 39.) If it be so, what is that which is said in the Law, (Levit. 13. 6.) if the plague be somewhat darke? &c. It is, that if it be somewhat darker then the foure sorts (of white) he is cleane. Likewise, if it be not somewhat darker, neither be spread, nor have white haire grow on it, nor quicke flesh, behold he is cleane. Maim. treat. of Leprie, ch. 1. Sect. 10, 11. a scab] in Hebrew, Missachath, that is, a thing adjoyning, or cleaving: Iarchi saith, it is the name of a cleane plague, (or sore.) wash his clothes] and how much more his bodie, (saith Chazkuni) forasmuch as he stood suspected of uncleannesse: and as Iarchi saith, Because he was bound to be shut up, he is called uncleane, and needeth to be washed. This signified, that even upon lesser chastisements for sin, men should reforme their waies; and by the spirit of sanctification from God, (figured by the waters, Ezek. 36. 25, 26, 27.) should indeavour to perfect holinesse in his feare, 2 Cor. 7. 1. Hebr. 10. 22. For though the man was pronounced cleane, (namely from Leprosie) yet was hee to wash, and be cleane: teaching, that the righteous man is not wholly cleane, but needeth still to be washed; repenting, acknowledging, and asking mercie of God in Christ, and amending his life; Prov. 20. 9. 1 Joh. 1. 8, 9, 10. And herewith wee may compare that speech of Christ; He that is washed, needeth not, save to wash his feet; but is cleane every whit, Joh. 30. 10.

8 Ver. 8. spreadeth] The spreading maketh uncleane, wherefoever it is, if it be in any of the appearances (or sorts) of the plague (of leprosie mentioned in Levit. 13. 2.) but if it be in a freckled spot, (Levit. 13. 39.) it is no spreading. Also, the spreading is no signe of uncleannesse, untill it be after the shutting up: but if at his first coming, the Priest seeth the plague, that it spreadeth and goeth on, hee shall not pronounce him uncleane, but shut him up till the weekes end, and then looke upon him againe. Maimony, treat. of Leprie, chap. 4. Sect. 1, 2. The change of naturall colour, the deepnesse of the sore, (ver. 3.) and the spreading of the same, being the chiefe signes of Leprosie: signified the malignitie and contagion of sin, which eateth as the Gangrene, 2 Tim. 2. 17. causeth no soundnesse in the flesh, nor peace in the bones, Psal. 38. 4. but changeth the state of man: Lam. 4. 1, 7, 8. pronounce him uncleane] for the spreading signified, that more corruption was still within the body, and the inward parts were not sound. And it figured the dominion of sin in our mortall bodies; which maketh men uncleane in Gods sight; for such are free from righteousness, and not under grace, Rom. 6. 12, 14, 20.

Ver. 9. The plague] to weet, the other principall plague, that cometh of a swelling, first mentioned in ver. 2. but handled here in the second place.

V. 10. and liveness of living flesh] or, quickness (reviving) of quicke flesh; by liveness meaning soundnesse, or recovery; as after in v. 24. & as the Gr. here expoundeth it; and in v. 15. living flesh, is in Greeke sound flesh: and in other Scriptures, when men were healed of their wounds or sores, they are said in Hebrew, to live; that is, to recover health, as in Jos. 5. 8. 2 King. 20. 7. So the Hebrews, as Sol. Iarchi here saith, liveness in Sanimens (that is, soundnesse) in other language, when some of the whitenesse, which is within the swelling, is turned like the flesh, that also is a signe of uncleannesse. The Chaldee translateth it, a marke (or signe) of living flesh. The reason hereof was, that leprosie did mortifie, or make the flesh dead, Numb. 12. 12. The Hebrews also here take and, for or; saying, It is not necessary that there be them both, the haire, and the living flesh, but either of them is a signe of uncleannesse: and it is not written, white haire, with the liveness of living flesh, &c. Maim. in treat. of Lepr. ch. 3. Sect. 4.

Ver. 11. It is an old leprosie] or, The leprosie, is waxt-old, in the skin. he is uncleane] The Hebrew Doctors say; The liveness (or, quicknesse of flesh) is no signe of uncleannesse, untill it be as big as a lentile (or small vetch) square, or bigger then so. If it be scattered abroad, so that the living flesh be as the graine of mustard-seed in one place, and as much in another place, though all be within the bright-spot, they are not to be counted together so big as a lentile, untill it be in one place, in the midst of the bright-spot, as big, square, or bigger then a lentile. Living flesh defileth, in any appearance (or colour) whether it be red or blacke, or white; yea, though it be not of those foure sorts of white fore-mentioned. Neither is living flesh a signe of uncleannesse, till it be within the body of the bright-spot, &c. Maimony, treat. of Lepr. ch. 3. Sect. 1, 2, 3.

Ver. 12. of the plague] that is, of him that hath the plague: as in ver. 4. So ver. 13, 17, &c. to all the sight of the eyes] that is, wherefoever the Priest looketh, looketh, with all his heed and diligence. From these words the Hebrew doctors gather, that although a Priest that had blemishes, might look on a leper; yet he that was blind, though his eye be, or that was dim sighted, might not look on him that had the sore. Moreover they say, They looked not on the sores, but in the day time, &c. for in all this business, (the Scripture saith) IN THE DAY, and, IN THE DAY. They looked not on them in the morning, nor in the evening, nor within any house, nor in a chudy day, neither at noon day, &c. but in the fourth and fifth hour, (that is, at 10, and at 11, of the clock before noon) and in the 8, and 9, hour (that is, at two and three of the clock in the afternoon) whether the plague were on men, on garments, or on houses. Maimon, in treat. of Lepr. chap. 9. sect. 5, 6. and Talmud in Negaim, chap. 2. sect. 2. This they observed, because in the morning and evening, the light is not clear, and at noon, the brightness dazeleth, and may cause to mistake the colour.

13 Ver. 13. pronounce the plague clean] Hebr. make clean the plague, that is, pronounce him clean that hath the plague. Hereupon they say, Every unclean person when the Leprosie breaketh out abroad over all (his body) is clean. If there appear upon him, quick flesh, so much as a lentil, he is unclean, if again he be all covered with Leprosie, he is clean. If quick flesh appear again, he is unclean, though the quick flesh begin to appear 100 times) &c. Maimon, treat. of Lepr. chap. 7. sect. 5. This is explained by Moses himself, in the verses following: and the naturall reason hereof, seemeth to be, that when the disease is all driven out, it argueth strength and soundness in the inward parts.

15 Ver. 15. living flesh] the Greek translateth it, sound (or whole) flesh: see verse 10. it is Leprosie. This is one of the most remarkable things in all this Law, that quick or sound flesh in the sore, should be judged Leprosie, and the man unclean: whereas, if the Leprosie covered all his flesh, he was pronounced clean, ver. 13. And hereby the holy Ghost seemeth to teach, that we would judge our selves, we should not be judged of the Lord, 1 Cor. 11. 31. If we confess our sins, he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness. 1 Joh. 1. 9. But if any quick or sound flesh, any part of health or life be pretended in our sinful nature, or any whit of righteousness by the works of the Law (by which, no flesh shall be justified, Galat. 2. 16.) then God pronounceth us unclean; for we cannot be justified but by the faith of Jesus Christ, Gal. 2. 16. And by grace we are saved, Eph. 2. 5. so then it is not more of works, but of grace is no more grace, Rom. 11. 6. And, whosoever are justified by the Law, are fallen from grace, Gal. 5. 4. Wherefore David, that he might find grace in the eyes of God, acknowledged there was no soundness in his flesh, Psal. 38. 14, 8. on brow.

18 Ver. 18. flesh] the Chaldee translateth it, man: and so the word, flesh often signifieth, as is noted on Gen. 6. 12. though here it may be taken properly. So in ver. 24. a Bile] in Hebrew Shekin, which signifieth an inflammation, or push, which is with inflammation, yet differing from the burning after mentioned in v. 24. for that is with fire properly; but this may proceed outwardly of a stroke with a stone, or with rod, and the like; or from inward diseases, inflammations, burning-fevers, and the like, which break out and corrupt the skin: as the Hebr. Doctors do distinguish them, Maim. treat. of Lepr. c. 5. f. 1. Such Biles figured sins, and punishments for them, Exod. 9. 9, 10. Deut. 28. 27. Rev. 16. 2. is healed] A Bile, or a burning, all the while they are matterie sores, make not a man unclean at all. But if they have been fully healed, though the place have a scar, and be not like the rest of the skin, yet it is as the skin of the flesh for any thing, and they become unclean by three signes, and are to be shut up, as is before declared. Maim. ibid. chap. 5. sect. 3. The healing of the Bile, figured the forgiveness of sin, and release of punishment for the same: Exod. 15. 26. Matth. 13. 15. with Mark 4. 12. Psal. 41. 5.

Ver. 19. or a bright spot] the same equitie is, for the scab of the bright spot, and the scab of the white swelling, fore-mentioned; as the Hebrews affirm, Maimon, in Lepr. chap. 1. sect. 4. some what reddish] that hath any red colour, little or much mingled with it. Which mixed appearance the Hebrew Doctors distinguish, and compare with the four appearances (or sorts) of white before mentioned, by this similitude, of four cups full of milk; and in the first cup there are mixed two drops of blood; in the second, four drops; in the third, eight drops; and in the fourth, sixteen drops. The mixture in the bright spot, hath the appearance of (the milk in) the fourth cup: and the mixture in the swelling, is as the appearance of the third cup. The mixture in the scab of the bright spot, is as the appearance of the second cup: and the mixture in the scab of the swelling, is as the appearance of the first cup. All these mixed appearances are accounted as one. Maim. treat. of Lepr. chap. 1. sect. 4, 5. The Greek translateth, white, or somewhat reddish, as if they were distinct. So after in ver. 42.

Ver. 20. plague of Leprosie] This sore, arising of a Bile after it was healed, ver. 18. and now turned to a worse, even to a Leprosie, sheweth how sins, after we are healed of them, when they return, do make us worse then before: as the Apostle saith, If after they have escaped the pollutions of the world, through the knowledge of the Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, they are again intangled therein, and overcome, the latter end is worse with them then the beginning, 2 Pet. 2. 20. Wherefore our Saviour also said, Behold, thou art made whole, sin no more, lest a worse thing come unto thee, Joh. 5. 14.

Ver. 21. seven daies] for the former, they might be shut up twice seven daies, ver. 5. Moses, for this and the next sort, mentioneth but once. So the Hebrew Doctors say, The Bile, and the Burning do make one unclean, in one week; and by two signes; by white hairs, and by the spreading. [And there is for them, no shutting up, but one week.] Talmud in Negaim, c. 3. f. 4. Maim. treat. of Lepr. c. 5. f. 4.

Ver. 22. it is the plague] to weet, of Leprosie, as the Greek version addeth.

Ver. 23. an inflammation] or, a shar, a prim, as the

the Greek and Chaldee do translate it: so in vers. 28. The Hebrews explain it thus; If the Bile and the Burning begin to be quick, and to heal; and there come upon them a rinde like the rinde of Garlick; that is, the T sareth (or inflammation) of the Bile, spoken of in the Law; and the Michjath (or cured-skin) of the Burning spoken of there, &c. Maimony, treat. of Lepr. chap. 5. sect. 4. pronounce him clean to weat, from the contagion of Leprosie. By this was figured, that though the signes and marks of our former sins (which God hath healed by forgiveness) do remain in us; yet if they spread not, that is, reigne not in our mortall body, they shal not be imputed unto us, but forgiven; for we are not under the Law, but under Grace, Rom. 6. 12, 14. 1 Joh. 1. 9, 10. 2 Cor. 12. 9.

24 Vers. 24. flesh in Chaldee, a man: as vers. 18. burning of fire The Hebrews understand this properly, to be done with coals, embers, red-hot iron, or the like: Maimony, in Lepr. c. 5. §. 1. This also figured sin; as, Can one go upon hot-coals, and his feet not be burnt? So, he that goeth in to his neighbours wife; whosoever toucheth her, shall not be innocent, Prov. 6. 28, 29. Livingness that is, living, or quick flesh; meaning soundness, or the cured-skin. This seemeth to answer unto the word healed, in vers. 18. and so the Greek here translateth it (bugiasthen) a healed-place; and the Chaldee (roschem) a skin, or print; and to these, the old Latin version agreeth; and the Hebrew Doctors, as is before noted on vers. 23. The Hebrew also, which properly signifieth Living, is used for healing or recovery, as is shewed on vers. 10. be that is, become, or, have in it a bright-spot. or white that is, only white, without any red mixed: see the notes on vers. 19.

25 Vers. 25. Leprosie The reason and signification hereof, was the same before noted on vers. 20.

26 Vers. 26. somewhat dark not so white as any sort of Leprosie; see ver. 6. seven daies to weat, one seven, not moe; as is before noted on ver. 21.

28 Ver. 28. an inflammation or, skin, print, character: as the Greek and Chaldee translate: see ver. 23. where also the meaning hereof is shewed.

29 Vers. 29. plague the Greek addeth, the plague of Leprosie.

30 Vers. 30. a skull in Hebrew Netbek, which is a name peculiar to the Leprie on the head or beard, not on other places; and it hath the name of breaking, or plucking-up. And so the Greek also nameth it Thrausina, a broken sore. The Hebrews describe it thus; The plague of the head or beard, is, when the hair that is on them, falleth off by the roots, and the place of the hair remaineth bare; and this is that which is called Netbek. Maimony, treat. of Lepr. chap. 8. sect. 1. or of the beard this teacheth, that they are counted two severall, saith Maimony, ibid. l. 14. Hair is both an ornament to the body, and a signe of naturall strength, as proceeding from kindly heat and moisture: which when they fail, and corrupt humors come in place, there breedeth a Leprosie in the body: whereby God figured a like estate in the soul, destitute of the heat of his spirit, and moisture of grace, and replenished with sinful corruption.

Ver. 31. no black hair for black hair is a signe of healing, ver. 37, as in nature it signifieth health, and strength of body, wherefore Christs locks are in myserie, said to be black as a Raven, Song 5. 11. Yellow hair, and thin (or small) is a signe here of the Leprie, ver. 30. as arguing decay, and corruption of nature. And the yellow hair, spoken of in this business (as the Hebrews say) is that which is of the colour of gold; and that which is called thin (or small) is that which is short: but if it be long, though it be yellow as gold, it is no signe of uncleanness. Two yellow small hairs, are a signe of uncleanness; whether they be one hard by another, or one far from another; whether they be in the midst of the skull, or in the edge of it; whether they be there before the skull, or the skull be there before the yellow hair; it is a signe of uncleanness: Maim. in treat. of Lepr. ch. 8. sect. 4, 5. the plague that is, both that him the plague: as vers. 4. So in vers. 33.

Ver. 33. shave himself The manner hereof, they say, was this; He shaved (the hair that grew) without the skull, and left two hairs close by it, that they might discern whether it spread or no. Maimony, in Lepr. chap. 8. sect. 3. the second time and no more. There is no shouting up for the skull, more then two weeks: and if after he be released, there grow yellow hair therein, or it spread; he shall then be pronounced unclean. Maimony, in Lepr. chap. 8. sect. 2. See before on vers. 6.

Ver. 37. stand in his eyes in Chaldee, stand as it war; to weat, at a stay, without spreading: see v. 5. So the Greek saith, if before him is abide in the place.

black hair See the notes on vers. 31. The black hair freeth not a man in skulls, unless there be at least two hairs: neither do they free a man, till their length be such, as the top of them may bow towards the root of them, &c. If two hairs grow up, one black, and another white or yellow; one long, and another short; they free not a man. The skull that is pronounced unclean, for the yellow hair, or for the spreading; if there grow black hair in it, and he be pronounced clean: although the black hair go away; yet is he clean; untill other yellow hair grow in it, or it spread further again, after the black hair is gone: for it is said, The skull is healed, he is clean. When it is healed, he is clean; although signes of uncleanness be in the place. Maimony, treat. of Lepr. chap. 8. sect. 6, 7, 8. he is clean, and the Priest, &c.

Hereupon Sol. Iarchi noteth; Loe the unclean whom the Priest pronounceth clean, is not clean. Teaching, that the truth of a mans estate, discerned by the Law and Word of God, (which is the truth, Joh. 17. 17.) made the man clean or unclean; and not the sentence of the Priest, if it swerved from the Law.

Ver. 39. darkish or somewhat-dark, as in v. 6. So that their whiteness (saith Sol. Iarchi) is not strong, but somewhat-dark. a freckled-spot or white-morphew: in Hebrew bobak, a word not used; but in this one place; and it hath the signification of cleanness or whiteness: and is not a Leprosie, but a foregoer of it, and near thereunto. The Greek calleth it Alphos, which is a kind of white-spot defiling the skin: for as Corn. Celsus (in l. 5. c. ult.) saith, though though it bring no danger with it, yet it is filthy, and cometh of an evil habit of the body. hee is cleane] to weet, from leprosie: for though it spotted the skin, yet it fretted not the flesh. God sheweth himselfe hereby, mercifull to the infirmities of his people; not esteeming every spot or deformitie in them, as malignant sin. So in the case following, ver. 40, 41.

40 Ver. 40. haib the haire fallen-off] or, is pilled bald] to weet, behinde; from the crowne towards the necke; which baldnesse the Hebrew calleth Karachath; and it is distinguished from the forehead-baldnesse called gabbathath, ver. 41, 42. which is, from the crowne of the head, towards the face. And so the Hebrew doctors do explain them, as two sorts: Maimony, treat. of Lepric, ch. 5. sect. 8, 10. The Greeke also translateth them by two divers words; Phalacroma, the baldnesse-behinde; and Anaphalanoma, the baldnesse-before.

43 Ver. 43. swelling] by naming this one, he comprehendeth also the other, as the bright-spot, the bile, and the burning, spoken of before in ver. 2. 18. 24. all which might be upon the bald head, as well as upon the other skin of the body: and discerned as the former, saving by the haire. leprosie in the skin] or, the leprosie of the skin of the flesh. From these words, the Hebrew Doctors gather the signes of this kinde of leprosie, according to those fore-mentioned; saying: *The bald-head, and the bald-forehead, desile by two signes, the quicke flesh, and by spreading. And they are shut up for them two weekes: for it is said of them, As the sight of leprosie in the kin of the flesh. And because in them there is no haire, the white haire is no signe of uncleannesse in them. They make one. uncleane by two signes, and in two weekes, thus: If there be a bright-spot in the bald-head, or bald-forehead, And there be a quicke flesh therein, he is pronounced uncleane: if there be no quicke flesh, he shutteth him up, and seeth him at the seven daies end; if there be growne any quicke flesh on it, or if it be spread, hee is pronounced uncleane: if not, hee shutteth him up seven daies more. If then it be spread, or have quicke flesh growne on it, hee is pronounced uncleane: if not, hee is set free. If after he is freed it spread, or quicke flesh grow up, he is pronounced uncleane. The bald-head, or bald-forehead, or the beard whose haire is fallen off; if there be upon them a bile, or a burning; they make a man uncleane, as doe the bile and the burning, upon the skin of the flesh: for the head, or beard whose haire is fallen off, is in the skin of the flesh for every thing, save that they make not uncleane by the white haire, &c. Maim. treat. of Lepr. c. 5. l. 9, 11. Of these two signes, the quicke flesh, and the spreading; see the notes on v. 8, 10.*

44 Ver. 44. utterly uncleane] Hebr. making-uncleane, he shall make him uncleane; or, as the Greeke saith, shall pollute him with pollution. This signified; that if unto infirmities, be added malignitie, or presumption; it maketh the sinner a spiritual leper in the sight of God.

Ver. 45. the plague is] to weet, so pronounced by the Priest, as ver. 4. rem] in signe of sorrow: see Gen. 37. 29. Levit. 10. 6. Chazkeni expoundeth it, He shall mourne for his deeds: for because of his evil deeds, the plague is come upon him. bare] or free, to weet, from cutting, that is, it shall be unshorn: for to let the haire grow, was another signe of sorrow: see the notes on Gen. 41, 24. & Lev. 10. 6. Or free, from cap or bonnet, that is, as the Greeke translateth, uncovered; so the word also signifieth, Numb. 5. 18. yet not bare altogether, but covered with a cloth, after the manner of the mourners, 2 Sam. 15. 30. The Hebrew canons say, It is commanded, that the Leper pronounced uncleane, doe cover his head all the daies that he is excluded; and put a covering on his upper-lip, as a mourner; and rend his clothes; and make it knowne to those that passe by him, that he is uncleane, Levit. 13. 45. Although it be the High-Priest that is a Leper, he makes his head free, and rends his clothes: for an affirmative precept puts away a prohibitive. A leprous woman makes not her head free, neither rendeth her clothes, nor covereth her upper-lip: but she sitteth without the citie, and makes it knowne to others, that she is uncleane. Maimony, treat. of Lepr. chap. 10. sect. 6, 8. put a covering] or, cover, wrap over; the Chaldee addeth, cover as a mourner: for as the covering of the head, so of the mouth or lip, was a signe of sorrow and shame: as is said, The Seers shall be ashamed, &c. they shall all cover the upper-lip, for there is no answer of God, Mich. 3. 7. So in Ezek. 24. 17. when he had said, make no mourning, &c. he addeth, binde the tire of thy head upon thee, and put on thy shoes upon thy feet, and cover not the upper-lip. Hereby also was implied, as the Hebrews say, that he might not salute any man, all the daies of his uncleannesse, as being a mourner, Maimony, treat. of Lepr. chap. 10. sect. 6. the upper-lip] or, the beard of the upper-lip, as Sol. Iarchi interpreteth it, the haire of the lips: the Greeke translateth it, his mouth.

uncleane, uncleane] understand, I am, or, here is one uncleane: so confessing and proclaiming his miserie, and giving others warning, lest they be defiled by touching him. Therefore, Onkelos the Chaldee Paraphrast translateth it, Be not ye made uncleane, be not ye made uncleane: and Jonathan, Avoid, avoid from the uncleane. This is opened in Lament. 4. 15. They cried unto them, Depart, (I am) uncleane: depart, depart, touch not. Likewise in Esa. 52. 11. Depart, depart, goe out from thence; uncleane (it is) touch it not. The Hebrew doctors say, The Leper is the chiefe of all things that are most uncleane, he defileth men and vessels by touching him; and earthen vessels by the ayre: and defileth men by carrying of him, and defileth his bed and his seat, &c. Maimony, in Lepr. chap. 10. sect. 11. These Rites figured our mortification, confession of sins, and suffering of miseries for the same; James 4. 8, 9, 10. For, we are all as an uncleane person, Esa. 64. 6. and David acknowledged himselfe to be a Leprous sinner, in Psalm. 51. where he maketh confession of his misdeeds, and desireth to be purged with bysop, as were the Lepers, Levit. 14. 4. And from Solomons words in 2 Chron. 6. 29. when every one shall know his owne plague, and his owne griefe: Baal hatturim inferreth, inferreth, that at first it is needfull that a man know his plague, and be cleansed from it by repentance, before hee pray.

Verf. 46. dwell] or sit alone, as the Greeke translates, separated from other cleane mens societie. So King Azarias being a Leper, dwell in a severall house, 2 King. 15. 5. And Mary stricken with leprosie, was shut out of the campe, Num. 12. 14. as all Lepers were to be, Num. 5. 2. So that dwelling alone, debarreth him not from conversing with other Lepers, but with the cleane onely. By the Hebr. canons, If a Leper came into any house, all that was in the house, was unclean, both men and vessels, although he touched them not. If he were standing under a tree, and a cleane person passed under that tree, he became unclean. If he came into a Synagogue, they made for him a distinct roome apart, ten handbreadths high, and foure cubits broad, and he came in first, and went out last; that his situation might be by himselfe alone, and he might not sit among the people, and defile them. Maim. treat. of Leprie, c. 10. l. 12. The Lepers were thus to be secluded, that they defiled not their campes in the midst whereof, the Lord dwelled, Num. 5. 3. figuring the putting of polluted sinners out of the Church, lest others by them be leavened and defiled, 1 Cor. 5. 6, 7, 13. Heb. 12. 15. and the abstaining from familiaritie with them; 1 Cor. 5. 11. that they might be ashamed, and humbled for their offences, 2 Thes. 3. 14. Lam. 1. 1, 8. and 3. 1, 28. &c. The Hebrew doctors also, have thus understood these figures; they say, When a man considereth this thing, he will be abashed and ashamed for his iniquitie: for every iniquitie is a plague, and a blemish in his soule, &c. And as it is written of the Leper, His clothes shall be rent, and he shall put a covering upon his upper lip, and shall cry unclean, unclean: and it is said, He shall dwell alone, without the campe shall his dwelling be: so the pollution which is in the soule, and removeth far from the holinesse that is on high, that causeth the body beneath, to be likewise removed far from the camp of Israel. And if a man turne by repentance, to cleanse his spots, by receiving chastisements upon him; so he is cleansed from his leprosie; otherwise, his Leprosie cleaveth to his soule; and in this world, and in the world to come, he is removed far from all the Campe that is on high, untill he be made cleane. R. Elias, in Sepher Reshith chochmah, treat. of the Feare of God, c. 9. These ordinances for Lepers, shewed also the effect of the law in sinners; which driveth them from the communion of God and his people: till by repentance and faith, they come unto Christ, who then will touch and heale them, as Matth. 8. 2, 3. & 11. 28. As for the Law, it leaveth them in their uncleannesse, & to mourn for the same: but meanes to heale them, it sheweth none; that grace was reserved for Christ to give, Matth. 11. 5. and 8. 16, 17.

Verf. 47. woollen garments] Hebr. in a garment of wooll, or in a garment of flax. These things the Hebrew doctors understand strictly, of the wooll of sheepe, and of flax only, not of hempe or the like: saying, No garments are made unclean by plagues (or spots) but garments of wooll, and of flax onely; and all vessels (or instruments) of skin, &c. Camels haire and sheepes wooll, that are spun (or twisted) one with another, if the most part be of Camels haire, it is not made unclean by plagues; but if the most part be of sheepes wooll, it is made unclean: or if halfe to halfe, it is made unclean. And the same law is for flax and hempe, one with another. And if the warpe be flax, and the woofe hempe; or the warpe hempe, and the woofe flax: it is not made unclean by plagues. Likewise if the warpe, or the woofe be flax, or wooll, and the residue, Goats haire, or the like, it is not made unclean. Maimony, treat. of Leprie, chap. 13. sect. 1, 3. and Talmud Bab. in Negagim, chap. 10. sect. 2. The Law, which shewed no way to cure the Leper, but left him in his uncleannes, sorrow, and solitarie estate; proceedeth here, to shew the contagion of this sickness, how it defileth not onely the bodies of men, and separateth them from the campe of God and his people; but polluteth also their garments and instruments, so making them unfit for any use, save for the fire, verf. 52. Hereby the nature of sin was signified, and the increase of the strength thereof by the Law.

Verf. 48. woofe] so named of weaving in: the Hebrew word properly signifieth mixture; because the woofe is mixed with, and woven into the warp or threads that run along. These are thus distinguished, because, if the plague appeare in the warp only, the woofe is cleane: or if it appeare in the woofe only, the warpe is cleane. Maimony, in Lepr. chap. 13. sect. 9. Moreover they say, Garments that are dyed (or coloured) are not defiled by plagues; whether they be dyed by the hand of man, or by the hand of God; unlesse they be white. If the warpe of a garment be dyed, and the woofe white; or the woofe dyed, and the warpe white: the whole goeth after that which appeareth. A garment that hath many pieces sowed on; some dyed, and some white: if there appeare a plague in the white, they shut it up: if it abide two weeks, it is all unclean, and to be burnt. If it be all dyed, and there be but one small white piece in it, and there appeare a plague thereon, he shutteth it up: if it continue so two weeks, it shall be burnt. Ibid. c. 12. l. 10, 13.

of linen] Hebr. of flax, and of wooll. worke of skin] that is, any vessel, or instrument made of skin, for any work or use; as is after explained in v. 51, 52. Here the Hebrew doctors except the skins of the creatures in the sea, that they receive no uncleannesse by plagues. But if any thing that liveth on, or groweth out of the land, be joyned unto them, though it be but a thread of wooll, or of flax, or of other skin of beasts, and so any vessel be made of them, they are made unclean by plagues. Talmud in Negagim: chap. 10. sect. 1. Maim. in Lepr. chap. 13. sect. 5.

Verf. 49. greenish] or, very Greene: and so after, very red. The Hebrews say, Three signes of uncleannesse are in garments; greenesse, rednesse, and spreading. Greenesse, is such a colour as is in Greene herbs, which is very much Greene. And the red, is very much red, like fair-crimson. And for both these colours, they shut up the garment: and if it abide in this colour two weeks, they pronounce it unclean, and burne it. Likewise, if it spread, they pronounce it unclean, and burne it. As, if in a garment there appeare a Greene spot, or a red, they shut it up 7. daies: and in the seventh, he looketh on it; if it be spread, he pronounceth it unclean, and burneth all the garment. And if it abide in the colour, but but spread; or if it be spread, but be dimmer then the two colours wherein it was shut up: or if the colour be grown more red, or more green, but not spread; they wash the spotted place, and shut it up seven daies more. And in the end of those 7. daies, which is the 13. day, he looketh if it be dimmer in colour the third time, then is he bound to wash it, and it is clean. And if the colour be changed from that it was; as if it was green, and is become red, or was red, and is become green, he rendeth out the spotted place, and burneth that which is rent out; and seweth a piece into the rent place: and the residue of the garment is free, and washed all over the second time; and is clean. But if it abide in the colour wherein it was shut up at the first; he pronounceth it unclean, and burneth it all. A garment out of which the spot is rent, at the end of the second week; if any spot come again into it, it is burnt. Likewise if the spot spread in a garment, after it is freed; it is burnt. Maim. treat. of Leprosie, chap. 12. sect. 1. 2. 4.

50 Ver. 50. shall shut up] in Greek, shall separate the plague; meaning the thing that hath the plague of leprosie on it: see ver. 4.

51 Ver. 51. fretting] or rancid: this word is not used, but in this case of leprosie, and in Ezek. 28. 24. where it is applyed to a pricking or rancid brier. The Greeke tranlateth it a continuing leprosie, the Chaldees a diminishing; because that which fretteth, both continueth long, and waltereth the thing wherein it is. So in chap. 14. 44. it is unclean] it is one of the maine unclean things, and as the Hebrewes write, it maketh unclean by touching it, or by bearing it, or by coming in where it is. As, a leprous garment, or warp, or woofe, or any vessell of skin plagued (with leprosie:) if but so much as an olive of them come into a clean house; all that is in the house, is made unclean, both men and vessels, and are all made principall unclean things, &c. The leprous thing is like unto the dead, as it is said. Let her not be as one dead. Num. 12. 12. How doth the dead (defile?) by so much as an olive: so these things also, by so much as an olive. Maim. in Lepr. chap. 13. sect. 13. 14.

5 Ver. 52. in wooll] Heb. in wooll, or in flax; that is, made of wooll or of flax. This burning of leprous garments, signified the abomination which all should have of sinne; for the consuming and abolishing of it, and of all instruments and monuments thereof; as by comparing scriptures for some particular evils, may be gathered. See Deut. 7. 25. Eia. 33. 22. Jude verse 23. Act. 19. 19.

54 Ver. 54. command, that they wash] the commandment, is by the Priest; the washing, by any man: as Baal hatzim here observeth.

55 Ver. 55. his colour] Hebrew, his eye: the colour is so called, because it is discerned by the eye: so in Num. 11. 7. Ezek. 1. 16. and 8. 2. fret-inward] or, a deep-fret, that diminisheth and consumeth it: the Chaldees tranlateth it, a breaking: the Greek thus, it is confirmed, (or fast-fetted) in the garment, or in the warp, or in the woofe. bare-inside] Hebrew, the fore-baldnesse thereof, or in the binder-baldnesse thereof. The words before used in verse 42. for the baldnesse of the head before or behind, are here applyed to the garment; which when the wooll or stuffe is eaten off in the out side or in the inner, with the fretting leprosie, is thereupon called bald. The Greek tranlateth them the warp and the woofe; as before is noted: the Chaldees, in the worne (or old) part thereof, or in the new part thereof: and so other the Hebrew doctors explain it, saying, Kirabath, is the old-worne places: and gabbachath is the new. Maim. treat. of Lepr. c. 12. f. 9.

Ver. 56. rend it] rend the place of the plague, out of the garment, and burn it. saith Sol. Iarchi. But if it were still seen in the garment after this, then the whole garment was burnt; v. 57.

Ver. 57. a plague breaking out abroad] or, a spreading (as the Chaldees saith an increasing) leprosie. In Greek, a flourishing leprosie.

Ver. 58. washed the second time] Chazkuni explaineth it, the second time, for to cleanse it, and the first time, for to put away the plague of it. These legall washings were carnall ordinances, imposed on them, until the time of reformation, Hebrew. 9. 10. but our washing is by the blood and spirit of Christ, whereby he hath washed us from our sins, Revel. 1. 5. so that we draw neer unto God, with a true heart, and full assurance of faith; having our hearts sprinkled from an evil conscience, and our bodies washed with pure water, Heb. 13. 22. and clenfing our selves from all filthinesse of the flesh and spirit, perfecting holinesse in the feare of God, (2 Corinth. 7. 1.) in us may be fulfilled that which is written, These are they which came out of great tribulation, and have washed their robes, and made them white, in the blood of the Lamb. Rev. 7. 14.

CHAP. XIV.

1, The rites and sacrifices, in clenfing of the Leper: with two birds, cedar wood, scarlet, eyzop, and living water. 10, with lambs, flowre, and oile. 21, Lesser sacrifices for the poor leper. 33, The signes of leprosie in an house: 40, the pulling out of the stones thereof, and putting in new. 45, The breaking down of the leprous house. 49, The clenfing of it, if the plague be healed; with birds, cedar, scarlet, eyzop, and living water.

1 AND Iehovah spake, unto Moses saying. This shall be, the law of the Leper; in the day, of his clenfing: that he shall be brought, unto the Priest. And the Priest shall go forth, out of the campe: and the Priest shall see; and behold, if the plague of leprosie be healed, in the leper. Then the Priest shall command, and he shall take for him that is to be clenfed, two birds alive, and cleane: and Cedar wood, and scarlet, and eyzop. And the Priest shall command; & he shall kil one of the birds: in an earthen vessel, over living water. As for the living bird, he shall take it; and the Cedar wood, and the scarlet, and the eyzop: and shall dip them, and the living bird, in the blood of the bird that was killed; over the living water.

G g g And

7 And he shall sprinkle, upon him that is to be cleansed from the leprosie, seven times : and shall make him clean ; and shall let go the 8 living bird, upon the face of the field. And he that is to be cleansed, shall wash his clothes, and shave off all his hair ; and wash himselfe in water, that he may be clean ; and after, he shall come into the campe : and shall tary ; abroad out of his tent, seven dayes.
9 And it shall be, in the seventh day, he shall shave off all his hair ; his head and his beard, and his eye-brows ; even all his hair, he shall shave off : and he shall wash his clothes ; and he shall wash his flesh in water, and he shall 10 be clean. And in the eight day, he shall take two he-lambs, perfect ; and one ewe-lambe, of the first yeer, perfect : and three tenth-deals, of fine-flowre for a Meat-offring, mingled with oile ; and one Log of oile. And the 11 Priest that maketh him clean, shall present the man that is to be made-clean, and those things : before Iehovah ; at the doore, of the 12 Tent of the congregation. And the Priest shall take, one he-lambe ; and offer him, for a Trespasse-offring, and the Log of oile : and he shall wave them, for a Wave-offring, be-13 fore Iehovah. And he shall kill the he-lamb, in the place where he shall kill the sin-offring,
and the Burnt-offring, in the place of holi-nesse : for as the Sin-offring, so the Trespasse-14 offring is the Priests ; it is holy of holies. And the Priest shall take, of the blood of the Trespasse-offring ; and the Priest shall put it, upon the tip of the right eare, of him that is to be cleansed : and upon the thumb, of his right hand ; and upon the great toe, of his 15 right foot. And the Priest shall take, of the Log of oile : and poure it, upon the Priests 16 palm of the left hand. And the Priest shall dip, his right finger ; in the oile, that is on the palme of his left hand : and shall sprinkle of the oile with his finger, seven times before 17 Iehovah. And of the rest of the oile, that is on the palme of his hand ; shall the Priest put,
upon the tip of the right ear of him that is to be cleansed ; and upon the thumb, of his right hand ; and upon the great-toe, of his right foot : upon, the blood of the Trespasse-18 offring. And the remnant, of the oile that is on the Priests palm of the hand ; he shall put,
upon the head of him that is to be cleansed :
and the Priest, shall make-atonement for him, 19 before Iehovah. And the Priest shall make, the Sin-offring ; and make-atonement, for him that is to be cleansed, from his uncleanness :
and after, he shall kill the Burnt-offering. And the Priest shall offer-up, the Burnt-offring and the Meat-offring, upon the Altar : and the Priest, shall make-atonement for him, and he shall be clean.

And if he be poor ; and his hand attaine
it not : then he shall take one he-lambe for a Trespasse-offring, for a waving, to make-atonement for him : and one tenth-deale of fine-flowre, mingled with oile for a Meatoffring, and a Log of oile. And two turtle-22 doves, or two yong pigeons ; which his hand can attaine : and the one shall be a Sin-offring ; and the other, a Burnt-offring. And he shall bring them, in the eight day, for his cleansing, unto the Priest : unto the door, of the Tent of the congregation, before Iehovah. And the Priest shall take, the he-24 lambe of the Trespasse-offring, and the Log of oile : and the Priest shall wave them, for a wave-offring before Iehovah. And he shall 25 kill, the he-lambe of the Trespasse-offring,
and the Priest shall take, of the blood of the Trespasse-offring : and put it, upon the tip of the right ear, of him that is to be cleansed :
and upon the thumb, of his right hand ; and upon the great toe, of his right foot. And 26 of the oile, shall the Priest pour ; upon the Priests palme of the left hand. And the 27 Priest shall sprinkle, with his right finger ; of the oile, that is in his left hand : seven times, before Iehovah. And the Priest shall put, of 28 the oile, that is on the palme of his hand :
upon the tip of the right ear, of him that is to be cleansed ; and upon the thumb, of his right hand ; and upon the great toe, of his right foot : upon the place, of the blood of the Trespasse-offring. And the remnant, 29 of the oile, which is on the Priests palme of the hand ; he shall put, upon the head of him that is to be cleansed : to make-atonement for him, before Iehovah. And he shall make 30 the one, of the Turtle-doves ; or of the yong pigeons : of that which his hand can attaine.
That which his hand can attaine, the one for 31 a Sin-offring, and the other for a Burnt-off-ring, with the Meat-offring ; and the Priest shall make-atonement, for him that is to be cleansed, before Iehovah. This is the law, of 32 him in whom is the plague of leprosie : whose hand cannot attaine, to his cleansing.

And Iehovah spake, unto Moses and unto 33 Aaron, saying. When ye be come, into the 34 land of Canaan ; which I give unto you, for a possession : and I put, the plague of leprosie ; in a house, of the land of your possession. Then he shall come, whose 35 the

the house is; and tell the Priest, saying: as it were the plague, appeareth to me in the house. And the Priest shall command, and they shall empty the house; before the Priest goe-in, to see the plague; that all which is in the house, be not made unclean: and afterward, the Priest shall goe in, to see the house.

37 And he shall see the plague; & behold if the plague, be in the walls of the house; with hollow-strakes, greenish; or reddish; and the sight of them, be lower then the wall. Then the Priest, shall goe out of the house, to the door of the house: and shut-up the house,

39 seven dayes. And the Priest shall return, in the seventh day: and shall see, and behold, if the plague be spread, in the walles of the house. Then the Priest, shall command; and they shall take-away, the stones; in which, the plague is: and cast them, into (a place) without the citie; into an unclean place.

41 And he shall cause the house, to be scraped within, round-about: and they shall poure-out, the dust which they have scraped off, in (a place) without the citie; in an unclean place.

42 And they shall take, other stones; and put them in the place of those stones: and he shall take, other dust, and shall plaister the house. And if the plague returne, and break-out in the house; after, that he hath taken-away the stones: and after he hath scraped the house, and after it is plaistered. Then the Priest, shall come; and shall see, and behold, if the plague be spread, in the house: it is, a fretting leprosie in the house, it is unclean. And he shall break-down the house; the stones of it, and the timber of it; and all the dust of the house: and he shall cary them forth, to (a place) without the citie; to an unclean place. And he that commeth, into the house; all the dayes, that he hath shut it up: he shall be unclean, untill the evening.

47 And he that lieth in the house; shall wash his clothes: and he that eateth in the house, shall wash his clothes. And if the Priest, coming, shall come in; and see, and behold the plague hath not spread, in the house; after, the house was plaistered: then the Priest, shall pronounce the house cleane; because, the plague is healed. And he shall take, to purifie the house, two birds: and Cedar wood, and scarlet, & hysope. And he shall kill, the one bird: in an earthen vessell, over living water. And he shall take the Cedar wood, and the hysope, and the scarlet, and the living bird: and dip them, in the blood of the killed bird: and in the living water: and he shall sprinkle the house, seven times. And he shall purifie the house, with the blood of the bird; and with the living water: and with the living bird, and with the Cedar wood, and with the hysope, and with the scarlet. And he shall let-go the living bird, out of the citie, upon the face of the field: and shall make atonement for the house, and it shall be cleane. This is the law; for every plague of leprosie, and skall. And for the leprosie of a garment, and of an house. And for a swelling, and for a scab; and for a bright-spot. To teach, in the day of the unclean; & in the day of the clean: this is the law, of Leprosie.

Annotations.

Here beginneth the 28. section or lecture of the Law, called in Hebrew Meisarah, that is, the Leper, See Gen. 6. 9.

That he shall be brought] The leper dwelt without the host, and in the day of his cleansing, he was brought to the utmost part of the host, (and in ages following to the gates of Jerusalem,) and the Priest went out thither to meet him, and performed certaine rites for him, and after that, he came into the host or citie, and so by degrees into the Sanctuary, as after is explained. And this coming to the Priest, was requisite for every leper, though he were never so well healed: wherefore Christ said to him whom he had cured, Goe shew thy selfe to the Priest, and offer the gift that Moses commanded: Matth. 8. 4.

Verf. 3. be healed] The Priest healed it not, but looked upon it when it was healed, and directed and assisted the patient in duties of thankfulness to God, who is both the striker and the healer, Deut. 32. 39. Exod. 15. 26. Neither doth the Law, send the Leper to the Physicia, or prescribe salves or medicines to cure him; but leaveth him unto the worke of Gods grace, which should after be fully manifested in Christ, who himselfe tooke our infirmities, and bare our sicknesses, Matth. 8. 16. 17. And the rites and sacrifices following, which were a profession of thanks unto God in Christ, closely taught them this: but the Gospel declar-eth the way of curing to be by faith, as unto the Samaritane that was healed of his leprosie, Christ said, Thy faith hath made thee whole, Luk. 17. 19. which faith, causeth Lepers, though they stand a farre off, to lift up their voices, and cry unto Iesus for mercy, Luke 17. 12. 13. who sendeth his word, and healeth them, and delivereth them from their corruptions, Psal. 107. 20. Matth. 10. 7. 8. For, being moved with compassion, he putteth forth his hand, toucheth and speaketh; and immediately the leprosie departeth, Mark 1. 41. 42. and so healeth he the soules of sinners, that come unto him. The Heb. say, Leprosie is the finger of God, therefore it is unlawfull to endeavour to heale it, &c. the only healing of it, is by the hand of the Priest that maketh atonement; for by mercy, atonement is made for iniquity; (Prov. 16.6.) even as uncleanness, which is not done away but by water. R. Menachem on Levit. 13. This being the judgment of the Jewes themselves, the Lepers whom Christ healed, were a good testimonie against them, that he was the son of God; Matt. 8.4. and by that and other like workes, he declared himselfe to be he that should come, Matth. 11.3.4.5. And he is the Priest, who cleanseth us all leprous sinners, and bringeth us into the true Sanctuary, being washed, sanctified, and justified in the name of the Lord Jesus, and by the Spirit of our God; 1 Cor. 6.11.

4 Ver. 4. and he shall take] the Greeke saith, and they shall take, speaking indefinitely, of the leper or any of his friends, that might procure these things for his cleansing. birds] whether doves or turtles, commonly used in sacrifices (which are called birds in Gen. 15.9.10.) or any other cleane fowls; for the scripture determineth them not otherwise, then that they must be clean; such as all are, save those excepted, in Lev. 11.13.13.&c. & all that are clean for meat, are called birds, in Deut. 14.11. The Hebrew canons say of these, they must be free birds, that is, such as are not tame, or any mans owne, but at libertie to flie from place to place: and as God saith, he shall take them for him; so they expound it, they must be taken in the name of cleansing of leprosie, that is, designed for that purpose onely. Maimony, in treat. of Lepr. chap. 11. sect. 1. These two birds, of which one was killed, the other let goe alive; were to figure out Christ, who should be killed for our offences, and rise againe for our justification, Rom. 4.25. The like was figured by the two goats, on expiation day, Levit. 16. Cedar wood] or, a Cedar sticke; which the Hebrewes say was to be a cubit (that is, a foot and an halfe) long, and so thicke as the square foot of a bed. Maimony, ibidem: and Talmud. Bab. in Negagim, chap. 14. sect. 6. Cedar wood rotteth not; the pitch that runneth out of it, is said to keepe dead bodie: from corrupting, but corrupteth living bodies: and it is good against the Leprosie, and other foule ulcers: Plinie hist. lib. 24. cap. 5. and Dioscorides, lib. 1. cap. 89.

scarlet] this the Jewes say was wooll died in scarlet or crimson colour: (and so the Apostle in an other like case, calleth it scarlet wooll, Heb. 9.19.) and there was to be of it a shekel weight: (which weighed 320. graines of barley:) Maimony ibidem. This scarlet colour resembled Christs blood; and the efficacie therof in the soul, restoring the naturall lively colour & vigour; which the pale white leprosie of sinne had done away. hyssope] or, hyssope: whereof see the notes on Exod. 12. 22. This was for length, not to be lesse then an hand-bredib; and (they say) it might not be Greeke hyssope, nor Roman hyssope, nor wilde hyssope, nor any other sort that was surnamed by the place, but the common hyssope that grew in gardens. Talmud in Negagim, chap. 14. sect. 6. These two plants, were the greatest and the smallest that grew: and so the Cedar is opposed to the hyssope, 1 King. 4.33. The Cedar that will not rot, figured incorruption & immortalitye; and the Cedar is used to signifie Christ himselfe, in Ezek. 17.22.23. The hyssope, of sweet savour, was used to sprinkle with and cleanse from sin: see Psal. 51.9. And the Cedar wood, or the hyssope, that had the barke pilled off, was unlawfull: saith Maimony, treat. of Lepr. chap. 11. sect. 1.

Verle 5. and he shall kill] in Greeke, and they shall kill; meaning some man. Chazkuni saith, The commandment was by the Priest, and the killing, by any man. earthen vessell] the Hebrew doctors say, by tradition, it was to be a new earthen cup. It figured the basenesse and infirmities of the Ministers of the Gospel, 2 Cor. 4.7. See further in Nu. 5.17. living water] that is, spring water, as the Chaldee translateth it; called living, because of the continuall motio. See the notes on Ge. 26.19. And thus Christ expoundeth living water, to be a well of water springing up unto eternall life, John 4.10.14. The Rabbines here say, it might not be water that had beene used about any businesse, nor salt water, nor water that had beene melted (or warmed) nor of waters that lie [or faile, as in Ieremie 15.18. that is, whose course or spring doth cease at any time;] nor raine water, but living water, which aboaves springeth and ceaseth not: R. Sampson, comment. in Talmud. in Negagim. c. 14. And that of this water, there was a quarter of a Log, put into a new earthen vessell. That quarter was as much as an egge and a halfe: see the notes on Exo. 30.24. They killed the fairest of the two birds, (though they were as much as might be, of equall bignesse and price) over the water in the earthen vessell, and turning it so that the blood might be discerned in the water: and then they digged and buried the bird there before them. Maim. treat. of Lepr. chap. 11. sect. 1. And Chazkuni noteth, that the living water was mixed with the blood, because the blood of it selfe was not enough to dip the cedar, scarlet and hyssope in.

6 Ver. 6. dip them, and the living bird] He bound together the hyssope and the cedar, with the scarlet (wooll) wound up lengthwise, and about them he put the tops of the wings and tip of the taile of the living bird, and dipped them foure, in the water and blood that was in the vessell, and sprinkled seven times upon the head of the Leper, [and some say, on his forehead] and so let the bird loose. Maimony ibidem. This manner of cleansing the leper figured the cleansing of us sinners by Christ, who (as the killed bird) was put to death in the flesh, but (as the living bird,) quickned by the spirit, 1 Pet. 3.18. For though he was crucified through weaknesse, yet he liveth by the power of God, 2 Cor. 13.4. who came, not by water onely, but by water and blood, 1 John. 5.6. whose blood (sprinkled) purgeth our conscience from dead workes to serve the living God, Heb. 9.14. and 12.24. But we have this treasure in earthen vessels: that the excellencie of the power, may be of God, and not of us, 2 Cor. 4.7. By the Hebrew doctors opinion the mixing of the blood of the bird, and of living water, signified judgment and mercy joyned together. R. Menachem on Levit. 14.

7 Ver. 7. seven times] signifying hereby a full cleansing; for seven is a perfect number, see the notes on Lev. 4.6. So Naanian the Leper, washed himselfe seven times in Jordan, 2 King. 5.10.14. And David praying to be cleas'd of his spirituall leprosie, leprosie, saith, wash me thoroughly from mine iniquitie, Psal. 51. make him cleave] that is, promove him cleave; or by these rites cleanseth him: the Greeke translateth, and he shall be cleane. let goe] or, let loose, and send away. The like was done with the two goats on atonement day; the one was killed, the other let goe into the wilderness; Levit. 16.

7.-10. These figured the deliverance of Christ from death, and of all such as are cleansed from their sinnes by his blood: for he bare our griefes, and carried our sorrowes (or sicknesses:) Esa. 53.4. Matth. 8.17. And Solomon liketh the escaping of the curse, to the flying away of a bird, Prov. 26.2. Chazkuni maketh this comparison; that the Leper had sitten as a bird solitarie on the house top, and was bound and restrained from conversing with other men; but now was permitted to come among his fellows; even as the bird had been bound in the hands of men; but now was let goe, and set free to goe among her fellows. the face of the field] that is, the open field: like that phrase in Genes. 1.20. on the face of the firmament. The Greeke translateth it, into the field. Hence the Hebrew doctors say, he that letteth the bird loose, may not turne his face towards the sea, nor to the cite, nor to the wilderness: for it is said (in Levit. 14.53) out of the cite, into the face of the field. If when he lets it goe, it comes againe: he shall let it goe againe, though it be an hundred times. Moreover they say; the Cedar wood, and hysope, and scarlet, with which one leper was cleansed; he may with them cleanse other lepers: and so the bird that is let goe, he may cleanse other lepers with it, after it hath bene sent away; and it is lawfull to be eaten. But the bird that was killed, is unlawfull to be used for any thing; and who so eateth ought thereof transgresseth. Maimon. treat. of Lepr. chap. 11. sect. 1.7. These legall ordinances, led the people unto Christ; for, if the blood of birds; and water, with cedar, hysope and scarlet, sprinkling the uncleane, sanctifieth to the purifying of the flesh: how much more shall the blood of Christ, who through the eternall Spirit offered himselfe without spot unto God, purge the conscience from dead works, to serve the living God? Heb. 9.13.14.

8 Ver. 8. all his haire] on every part of his bodie: so the Hebrewes say, he must cause the razor to passe over all his flesh that is seene, even his secret parts, and the haire all over his body: Maimon. ibid. The haire naturally springeth of hot and grosse matter or fume, and argueth strength of nature: so in the Leprous and unclean, the haire signified the strength of uncleanness; which was to be cut off: for it is needfull to beat downe the power of uncleanness, which abounded in him; saith R. Menachem, on Levit. 14. So at the consecration of the Levites, they were to cause a razor to passe over all their flesh, Numb. 8.7. and Sampson when he lost his haire, lost his strength, Iudg. 16.17. And God threatning to weaken the state of his people, useth this similitude of shaving them with a razor; Esa. 7.20. Contrariwise, the Nazarite, whiles he was to be holy unto the Lord, by his vow, no razor might come upon his head: Numb. 6.5. that he may be cleane] or, and he shall be cleane; to weete, in part, or in the end, after the performing of these and the rites following; for he was not cleane all at once, but by degrees; and was to be shaven againe seven daies after, verse 9. Therefore the Iewes explaine it thus, he shall be cleane from polluting by coming in, and from polluting his bed and seat. Maim. treat. of Lepr. chap. 11. sect. 1. This figured the endeavour which Gods people should have to cleanse themselves, that they may be againe received of the Lord, when they have perfected holiness in his feare; 2 Cor. 7.1. And every man that hath this hope in him, purifieth himselfe, even as he is pure: 1 Ioh. 3.3. out of his tent] and so as the Greeke translateth, out of his house; for Tents are often used for houses, or dwelling places, Ios. 22.4. Deut. 33.18. 1 Sam. 13.2. 1 King. 8.66. and from these words the Hebrewes gather, that it was unlawfull for him to company with his wife in bed, these 7. daies, Maim. ibid. and Talmud in Negaim. chap. 14. sect. 2.

9 Ver. 9. all his haire] In the seventh day, the Priest shall shave him the second time, as at the first. Both times when he shaveth him, it must not be but with a razor; if he shave him not with a razor, and if he leave him two haire, he hath not done anything. And none may shave him, but a Priest. And if there be left but two haire, at the first shaving, and he shave them off the second time; it serveth him but for one shaving onely, and that is, for the first. The killing of the bird, and the shaving, and the sprinkling; are to be done by day: and all his other works, either by day or by night, These are to be done by men; and all the other works; either by men or by women. These, by Priests, and all other works, either by Priests or (other) Israelites. Maim. treat. of Lepr. chap. 11. sect. 2.3.5. wash his clothes] as being yet uncleane: whereupon the Hebrews gather, All these seven daies (to weete, from his first shaving,) he is yet one of the chiefe unclean persons, defiling men, and vessels by touching, not by bearing; for it is said, in the seventh day he shall wash his clothes, &c. to teach that he had made his clothes unclean, &c. and whatsoever defileth clothes, defileth men. Maim. ibid. The washing of the Lepers garments was to signifie that the spirit of uncleanness should be put away from him: saith R. Menachem, on Levit. 14.

14. shall be cleane] from defiling other men: and he is as other unclean in the day they are washed, and may eat of the timber; and when his sun is set, he may eat of the heave-offring; and when he brings his atonement, he may eat of the holy things. Maim. ibidem. And Talmud in Negaim. chap. 14. sect. 3. where this is added, there are found three cleannings of the Leper, and three of the women in childbed.

10 Ver. 10. two be-lambs] one for a Trespass-offring, ver. 13.14. & the other for a Burnt-offring: v. 19.20. For both these sacrifices must be males: see the notes on Lev. 1.3. and 5.18. perfect] that is, as the Greeke translateth unblemished. See the notes on Exod. 12.5. and Lev. 1.3. of the first yeere] Hebr. daughter of her yeere: which the Greeke translateth a yeerling: but it must not be more then a yeere old: see the notes on Exo. 12.5. and Genesis 32. This ewe-lambe was for a Sin-offring, verse 19. Levit. 4.32. three tenth deales] to weete, of an Ephah or Bushell; (as is expressed in Numb. 28.5.) that is, three Omers or Potikes:

an Omer for every of the three sacrifices forementioned. log for half pinte: the log is an Hebrew measure, containing so much as six hennes eggs; as is noted on Excd. 30. 24. The Greeke calleth it conyk, which was a measure of about nine ounces. This Log of oile figured the measure of grace, & joy of the Spirit, bestowed upon us in our sanctification. Esa. 61. 1. Pla. 45. 8. 2 Cor. 1. 21. 22. It was, to sprinkle 7. times before the Lord, to sanctifie the eare, hand, foot and head of the Leper, and for the Priests to eat the remainder.

11 Ver. 11. of the congregation] the Greeke translateth it, the Tent of the testimonie. Herein the worke of Christ our Priest, was figured: who hath sanctified and cleansed us leprous sinners, with the washing of water, by the word; that he might present us to himselfe glorious. Eph. 5. 26. 27.

12 Ver. 12. Trespasse-offring] or, guilt-offring. whereof see the notes on Levit. 5. 6. &c. It was to teach, that their atonement was to be made by the sacrifice of Christ, whose soule was made a Trespasse-offring, Esa. 53. 10. ware] that is, move to and fro: see the notes on Exod. 29. 24. This ram was to be waved alive, as Sol. Iarchi here noteth.

13 Ver. 13. where he shall kill] that is, where he useth to kill: which was on the north side of the Altar: see Levit. 1. 11. place of holinesse] in Greeke, the holy place, meaning the court-yard of the Sanctuary.

14 Ver. 14. tip of the right eare] These rites were to signifie how by the blood of Christ, the ear should be sanctified to obey, the hand to worke, the foot to walke in the commandements of God; and so the whole man to be renewed: 2 Cor. 7. 1. 1 Pet. 1. 14. 15. The like was done at the consecration of the Priests, whereof see Exodus 29. 20. Leviticus 8. 24. If the leper had no thumbe on his right hand, or toe on his right foot, or no right eare: he was never cleansed; saith Maimony, in Mecchofrei capporah, chap. 5. sect. 1.

15 Ver. 15. the Priests palme] meaning either into his owne, or another Priests; for by the Hebrew canons, both were allowable: they describe the order of his cleansing thus. When a Leper is healed of his leprosie, after they have cleansed him with cedar wood, and isope, and scarlet, and the two birds, and shaved all his flesh, and baptised him; after all this, he cometh into Jerusalem, and reckoneth seven dayes. And in the 7. day he is shaved the second time, as at the first, and baptised, &c. And on the morrow, in the 8. day, he is baptised the second time, and afterwards they offer his offerings. And he is baptised in the womens court, in the lepers chamber that is there. If he be not shaven in the 7. day, but in the 8. or some dayes after; in the day that he is shaven, he is to be baptised; and when his Sun is set, on the morrow he brings his offerings, after he is baptised the second time, as is before said. Then unto the leper, they doe thus. He standeth without the court of Israel, (that is, the mens court) over against the easterne doore, in the porch of the gate of Nicanor, with his face to the west. And there stand all they that want their atonement, in the time of their cleansing, and there they give the suspected women, the bitter waters to drinke, (Numb. 5.) And the Priest takes the Lepers

*Trespasse-offring, whies it is alive, and wavereth it, with the Log of oile, towards the east, as all wave-offrings, &c. After this, he brings the Lepers Trespasse-offring unto the doore, and he brings in both his hands into the court, and layeth them upon the (offring) and they kill it out of hand. And two Priests take the blood of it: the one takes it in a vessell, and sprinkleth it upon the top of the altar; and the other in his right hand, and poureth it into his left hand, and sprinkleth with the finger of his right hand: and if he doe otherwise, and take it with his left hand, it is unlawfull. The Priest that takes some of the blood in a vessell, carrieth and sprinkleth it upon the altar first. Afterwards the Priest that took the blood in the palme of his hand, cometh unto the leper, the Priest standing within, and the leper without. And the leper putteth in his head, and the Priest putteth of the blood that is in his hand, upon the tip of his right eare: afterward he putteth in his right hand, and he putteth of it upon the thumbe of his hand; and after that, he setteth in his right foot, and he putteth of it upon his toe. And if he put it upon the left, it availeth not. And afterwards he offereth his sin-offring, and his burn-offring. After that he bath put of the blood, upon his thumbe and toe; the Priest taketh of the logge of oile, and poureth into the left hand of his fellow (Priest,) and if he poure it into his owne hand, it will serve. And he dippeh the finger of his right hand into the oile that is in his hand, and sprinkleth seven times towards the most holy place; every time that he sprinkleth, he dippeh his finger in the oile. Then he cometh to the leper, and putteth of the oile, upon the place of the blood of the trespasse-offring, to wete, on the tip of his eare, and on his thumbe and toe. And the residue of the oile in his hand, he putteth on the head of him that is to be cleansed, and if he put it not, atonement is not made: and the remnant of the log of oile, is divided among the Priests. And that remnant of the log of oile, is not eaten but in the court, by the males of the Priests, as other the most holy things: and it is unlawfull to eat thereof, untill he hath sprinkled of it 7. times, and put of it upon the thumbe and toe, &c. Maimony, in Mecchofrei capporah, chap. 4. and Talmud Bab. in Negagim, ch. 14. f. 7. &c. The gate of Nicanor forementioned (whereof see the annotations on Num. 2. 27.) was the East gate betweene the womens court, and the court of Israel, (the mens court:) and into Israels court, none might enter, that wanted his atonement, and the blood of the Trespasse-offring, might not be carried out of the courtyard; therefore the leper stood without, in the gate, and put in his head, hand, and foot into the court of Israel, that the blood might be laid upon them.*

Ver. 16. in the oile] or, of the oile; that is, taking some of it. But of is here in stead of in, as Chazkuni also noteth. before Teborah] that is, towards the Sanctuary, as before is shewed.

Ver. 17. upon the blood] that is, the same place, where the blood was put; as is explained in ver. 28. and so the Greeke translateth here: wherefore the Hebrewes say, whether he put the oile upon the blood it selfe, above; or put it by the bloods side; and although the blood be wiped off, it will serve the turne. Maimony, in Mecchofrei capp. chap. 5. sect. 1.

Ver. 18. shall make atonement] but without this

this rite in speciall, no atonement was made, by the Hebrew canons, as is before noted. This putting of oile upon all these parts of the body, figured the graces of the spirit of Christ, for the sanctifying of such as are redeemed from their sins by his blood, 1 Iohn 2.20. 2 Corin. 1.21. See the notes on Exodus 30.26.

19 Ver. 19. make the Sin-offring] or, doe, that is, offer the Sin-offring; a figure of Christ, made sinne for us sinners, 2 Cor. 5.21. the Burnt-offring] which figured also Christs oblation of himself, Heb. 10. 8.9.10. and the reasonable service of a sanctified person, acceptable to God, Rom. 12.1. therefore before it, the Sin-offring was made (or offred,) because reconciliation for sin, must be before any service be accepted.

20 Ver. 20. the Meat-offring] that of three tenth-deales of floure, ver. 10. which served both for expiation of sinne, and to be signe of sanctification, and a new creature: see the notes on Lev. 2.1. The Heb. doctors write (from the Law in Num. 15.5.) that with every tenth deale of floure, there was also the fourth part of an Hin of wine; and that no sinne or trespasse offring save this of the Lepers, had the Meat-offring and Drink offring added unto them. Maimony in Magnaseh hakorbaneth, ch. 2. sect. 5.6. See the annotations on Num. 15.

21 Ver. 21. attaine it not] or, reach, get it not; the Gr. expounds it, find it not: it meaneth, want of ability. So after ver. 22.30.31. & Lev. 27.8. a waving] or, wave-offring, to be waved a live, as before, in ver. 12. and after, in v. 24.25. tenth-deale] of an Ephah; as verse 10. In this and the rest which follow, there was the same order, and rites to be used, as in the former.

29 Ver. 29. to make atonement] the Greeke explaineth it, and the Priest shall make atonement: so Moses wrot before, in ver. 18. See the like, noted on Gen. 2.3. Exod. 17.10. and otherwhere.

30 Ver. 30. shall make] or doe; that is, shall offer. hand can attaine] in Greeke, as his hand hath found.

32 V. 32. to his cleansing] that is, to the greater sacrifices, foreordained for the cleansing of lepers; none of which might be omitted, or changed, but for meere povertie. Wherefore the Hebrewes write, The poore man that brings the offring of the rich; it may passe: but the rich that brings the offring of the poore, it passeth not, Talmud in Negagn. ch. 14. sect. 12. Also they say; If a rich man vow and say, the oblation of this leper be upon me; and the leper be poore: yet must he bring the offerings of the rich; because the hand of him that voweth, can reach unto it. And if a poore man say, the oblation of this leper be upon me; and the leper be rich: he also must bring the offerings of the rich; because he that voweth is bound for the offerings of the rich. Maimony in Mechosiri capporab, ch. 5. sect. 11. By all these rites about the cleansing of a Leper, after he was healed; God taught his people thankfulness unto himselfe in Christ, for whose sake, by whose death, resurrection & mediation, their sin (which was the cause of their plague,) was forgiven and purged; and by whose grace and spirit, the corruption of nature is done away, and the man made a new creature, to serve the Lord in holines. Wherefore when Christ had healed tenne lepers, and but one of them turned backe, and with a lowd voice glorified God, and fell down on his face as (Iesus) feet, giving him thanks: then Iesus answering said; were there not ten cleansed: but where are the nine? There are not found that returned to give glory to God, save this stranger, Luk. 17.15.-18.

Ver. 34. and I put &c.] by mentioning before the Land of Canaan, and now saying I put (or give) he teacheth this to be an extraordinary and supernaturall plague, peculiar to that land and people; unknowne in any other place: and so the Hebrew doctors doe confesse, that the Leprosie of garments, and of houses, is not wont to be in the world, but was a signe and miracle in Israel, to give them warning of an evil tongue, &c. Maimony treat. of Leprie, cha. 16. sect. 10. From Maries example in Num. 12. they gather that leprosie is a punishment for an evil tongue. of your possession] or tenement: firm-bold. Hence the Hebrewes gather, that Ierusalem, and (houses) without the land, were not defiled with plagues; for Ierusalem was not parted unto the tribes (of Israel): the houses also of heathens which were in the land of Israel, were not defiled with plagues. Maimony treat. of Leprie, ch. 14. sect. 11.

Ver. 35. as it were the plague] to weet, of leprosie: the speech is doubtfull, because the sentence was to come from the Priest. Although he be a wise man, and knoweth certainly that it is the plague, he may not determine and say, The plague appeareth to me in the house; but he shall say, As it were the plague &c. saith Maim. in treat. of Leprie ch. 14. sect. 4. and Sol. Iarchi on Lev. 14.35.

Ver. 36. and they shall empty] or, that they empty: which phrases are shewed to be one, on Gen. 27.4. The word empty properly signifieth to prepare, by removing all things out of sight. that all &c.] because the leprous house, was one of the most contagious things; defiling all things, as after shall appeare: therefore all things were to be taken out, though stacks of wood, or of reed, as the Hebrew doctors observe, Maimony in Lepr. ch. 14. sect. 4. And God in mercy, would thus preserve the stuffe from pollution, by being removed in time.

V. 37. bollow-strakes] or deep-strakes: concavities, as the Greeke translateth the word, which is never found, but in this one place. Hence the Hebrewes say; no plagues in houses doe make them uncleane, till the appearance of the plague be lower then the wall; as it is said, bollow strakes, that they be deepe in the walls; Maimony in Lepr. chap. 14. sect. 3. or reddish] these two colours, and the spreading ver. 39. are the three signes of leproy in houses. By the Hebrew canons, if the house were darke, they opened not the windows, to see the plague; but if the plague appeared not in it, it was cleane. Maimony ibidem, ch. 14. sect. 5.

Ver. 38. to the doore] there without the house, by the post of the doore, the priest was to shut it up, (that is, command it to be shut up) or pronounce it uncleane, or cleane; and not in any other place. Maimony ibidem, chap. 14. sect. 5. seven dayes] though he see the plague to be deepe, greenish or reddish, & so find it all at the first, yet he shutteth it

Ver. 39. be spread] then the things after commanded must be done: but if not, and the plague be dim, and I need not say, if it be gone away; he scrapeth the place of the plague onely, and the house is cleane. If he find that it standeth as a stay in his eyes, and is not spread, he shuts it up seven daies more, and looketh on it the thirteenth day; if the plague be dim, or gone away, he scrapeth the place of the plague, and maketh the house cleane with the birds. And if he finde that the plague is spread, at the end of the second seven dayes, or that it standeth as a stay in his eyes; then he pulleth out the stones, wherein the plague is, and some of the dust, carrying them out of the citie, and plaistereth all the house, and shutteth it up the third seven dayes, and in the nineteenth day he looketh on it; if the plague come againe into it, this is spreading after the plaistering, and he pulleth downe all the house. If the plague returne not into it, he maketh it cleane with the birds. Maimony treat. of Leprie, cha 15. sect. 2. Thus there were three weekes for the shutting up of houses, whereas for men, or garments, there were but two weekes, and in some cases but one, as is noted on Lev. 13. 21. And so the Hebrews say, Plagues of houses, there is for them a shutting up three weekes, which are 19. dayes; for the seventh day is reckoned for the last of the first weeke, and first of the second weeke; and the thirteenth day is reckoned for the last of the second weeke, and first of the third weeke, ibidem. chap. 15. sect. 1. As the plague was greater, and Gods judgement more severe upon an house, then on a person or garment: so the Law requireth more care in the discerning, and longer respite before it was pronounced uncleane and destroyed.

Ver. 40. and they shall take away] or, and they shall (or that they) pull out the stones. As the law speaketh here of stones, and after of wood, and dust: so the Hebrewes understand these strictly, saying that No house is polluted with plagues, unlesse it hath foure walls, and be builded on the land, of stone and dust (or earth) and of wood. And bricks, and marble are not counted for stones. Maimony in Leprie c. 14. sect. 6. 7.

uncleane place] or, place that is uncleane: because of the pollution that commeth hereby: For, A house plagued with leprosie, is one of the principall uncleane things; whosoever toucheth it, is made uncleane. Like wise the stones pulled out of it, after it is shut up, or the stones, timber and dust of the house that is pulled downe; all of them are of the principall uncleane things; and so much as an olive of them defileth a man by touching, and by carrying, and by coming in where it is. As, if so much as an olive of them be brought into a cleane house; all that is in the house, is made uncleane, both men and vessels: for they all are defiled by the bringing of it in, as by a leprous man: and they are all unlawfull for any use. And if they be burnt, and lime made of them, even that is unlawfull to be used, &c. and must all be carried out of the citie, though it be a citie without a wall. Maimony treat. of Leprie, ch. 16. c. 1. On the contray, the ashes caried out of the Sanctuary, were laid in a cleane place, Lev. 6. 11.

Ver. 42. other stones] He may not bring one stone, in stead of two that be pulled out; nor two in stead of one: but must bring two for two &c. Maim. ibid. c. 15. c. 3.

Ver. 44. be spread] though it be but so much as two graines of barley, (for so much spreading the Hebrews hold enough to make it uncleane) Maimony in Leprie. ch. 15. sect. 2. a fretting leprosie] the Greeke translateth it a continuing, the Chaldee a diminishing leprosie: see Lev. 13. 51.

Ver. 45. he shall breake] in Greeke, they shall breake (or pull) downe; that is, it shall be broken downe.

the timber] or, the stickes: all wood works. he shall carie] in Greeke, they shall carie, meaning some men. The Hebrews (as Chazkuni on Lev. 14.) apply the meaning of this Law, against the idolatrous houses of the Canaanites, which were commanded to be destroyed, Deut. 12. and were manifested to be such, by the plague of leprosie on them. But God speaketh of them also, after the Israelites were come in to dwell there, verse 34. so that for the idolatries and other finnes of Israel, God would not onely plague their bodies and garments, but their houses also, to their utter destruction. And by this severe judgment, taught men to shun all sinne, and in speciall idolatry; and to abolish all instruments and monuments thereof, Eia. 30. 22. Maimony in Leprie. ch. 16. maketh Leprosies to be a judgement of God against an evill tongue, and in speciall for speaking against the Prophets as did the Israelites, 2 Chron. 36. 16. which he confirmeth by the example of Marie, who for speaking against Moses the Prophet of the Lord, was smitten with this plague of leprosie, Numb. 12.

V. 46. into the house] An house shut up, defileth not but (that which commeth) within the same, Lev. 14. 46. all the dayes that (the Priest) hath shut it up, it maketh a man uncleane untill the evening. But that which is pronounced uncleane, defileth both within it and without it; for who so toucheth it on the out parts of it, is uncleane; as it is written. It is a fretting leprosie in the house, it is uncleane, Lev. 14. 44. Maimony, in Leprie. ch. 16. sect. 2. untill the evening] then at evening, after that he hath washed himselfe, he is cleane againe: so Chazkuni here saith, after that he hath washed his flesh, according to the Law.

Ver. 47. wash his clothes] The lying in the house (as Chazkuni noteth) is more weightie, for he that doth so, is bound to wash his clothes, and to wash his flesh: for whosoever is bound to wash his clothes, is bound to wash himselfe also, and it was not needfull to repeat, he shall be uncleane till evening; for who so eateth or lyeth in the house, he commeth into the same, for which he was uncleane till evening, ver. 46.

47

Ver. 48. pronounce cleane] Hebrew make cleane, in Greeke, purifie; to weet, by his words: see Lev. 13. 3.

48

Ver. 49. to purifie] to weet, from sinne: as the word properly signifyeth. For as persons were plagued with leprosie for sinne, Numb. 12. 1. 19. 2 Chron. 26. 19. 26. so for the same, their garments and houses were likewise plagued: even as the Lords house was made uncleane by the finnes of the people, Lev. 16. 16. See the notes on Exod. 29. 36. birds] whereof see ver. 4. &c. For the cleansing of the house, was like the cleansing of the man. The Hebrewes say: T hey cleanse the house, as they cleanse the man foretold of, in every point. Save that in the man, they sprinkle 7. times upon his hand; but in the house they sprinkle seven times upon the upper doore post of the house, without all other actions are alike. Maimony, treat. of Leprie. c. 15. l. 8. This is to be understood of the cleansing with birds, cedar wood, hyssop, scarlet, and living water: but not of the other sacrifices, which the leprous man brought afterward, for the house was cleansed, & atonement made for it, without those sacrifices, ver. 53.

Ver. 54. for every plague.] From hence the Hebrewes say of him that judged leprosie, that he might not view the plagues: until he were expert in them all, and in all their names were written. Chazkuni on Lev. 14. 54.

Ver. 57. in the day] that is, concerning the day: meaning, as the Greeke translateth, what day he shall be uncleane, and what day he shall be made cleane.

CHAP. XV.

1, The law concerning uncleanness of men, in their issues: 4, and how they make other things and persons uncleane. 13, The cleansing of them with sacrificing of doves. 18, Uncleanness by seed going from a man. 19, The uncleanness of women, in their issues. 28, Their cleansing by sacrifices. 31, The cause of these lawes.

1 AND Iehovah spake, unto Moses & unto Aaron, saying. Speake ye, unto the sonnes of Israel; and say, unto them: Any man, when he shall have, an issue out of his flesh; his issue, it is uncleane. And this shall be his uncleannes, in his issue: whether his flesh run, with his issue; or his flesh be stopped, from his issue; it is his uncleannes. 2 Every bed, which he shall lye upon, that hath the issue, shall be uncleane: and every vessell, which he shall sit up on, shall be uncleane. And the man, that shall touch his bed, shall wash his clothes, and bathe himselfe in water, and be uncleane untill the evening. 3 And he that sitteth, upon the vessell; which he sate upon, that hath the issue: shall wash his clothes, and bathe himselfe in water, and be uncleane untill the evening. And he that toucheth, the flesh of him that hath the issue, shall wash his clothes, and bathe himselfe in water, and be uncleane untill the evening. 4 And if he that hath the issue, spit upon him that is cleane; then he shall wash his clothes, and bathe himselfe in water, and be uncleane untill the evening. And every saddle, which he shall ride upon, that hath the issue; shall be uncleane. And every-one that toucheth, anything that shall be under him; shall be uncleane, untill the evening: and he that beareth them; shall wash his clothes, and bathe himselfe in water, & be uncleane untill the evening. And every-one, whom he shall touch, that hath the issue; and he hath not rinsed his hands in water: he shall wash his clothes, and bathe himselfe in water, and be uncleane untill the evening. And the vessell of earth, which he shall touch, that hath the issue, shall be broken: and every vessell of wood; shall be rinsed in water. And when he that hath an issue, shall be cleansed of his issue: then he shall number to him selfe, seven dayes, for his cleansing; and wash his clothes: and shall bathe his flesh, in living water, and shall be cleane. And in the eight day, he shall take to him, two turtle doves; or two yong pigeons: and he shall come before Iehovah, unto the doore of the Tent of the congregation; and shall give them, unto the Priest. And the Priest, shall make them; the one a Sin-offring; and the other, a Burnt-offring: and the Priest, shall make atonement for him, before Iehovah; for his issue.

And a man, when seed of copulation, shall goe-out from him: then he shall bathe in water, all his flesh, and shall be uncleane untill the evening. And every garment, and every skin: whereupon shall be the seed of copulation: it also shall be washed in water, & be uncleane untill the evening. And the woman, with whom man shall lie, with seed of copulation: they shall also bathe themselves in water; and be uncleane, untill the evening.

And a woman when she shall have an issue; and her issue in her flesh, be blood: she shall be in her separation, seven daies; and every-one that toucheth her shall be uncleane untill the evening. And every-thing, which she shall lie upon, in her separation, shall be uncleane: and every-thing, which she shall sit upon, shall be uncleane. And every-one, that toucheth her bed: shall wash his clothes, and bathe himselfe in water, and be uncleane untill the evening. And every-one that toucheth, any vessell, which she shall sit upon: shall wash his clothes, and bathe himselfe in water, and be uncleane untill the evening. And if it be on the bed, or on the vessell which she sitteth upon, when he toucheth it: he shall be uncleane, untill the evening. And if a man lying shall lye with her, and her fluors be upon him; then he shall be uncleane, seven dayes: and every bed, which he shall lye upon, shall be uncleane.

And a woman, when the issue of her blood blood shall flow many dayes; out of the time of her separation; or when it shall flow, over her separation: all the dayes of the issue of her uncleannesse, as in the dayes of her separation, she shall be uncleane. Every bed, which she shall lye upon, all the daies of her issue; it shall be unto her, as the bed of her separation: and every vessell, which she shall sit upon; shall be uncleane; as the uncleannesse, of her separation. And everyone that toucheth them, shall be uncleane: and shall wash his clothes, and bathe himselfe in water, and be uncleane untill the evening. And if she be cleansed, of her issue: then she shall number to her selfe seven dayes; and after that she shall be cleane. And in the eight day, she shall take unto her two turtle-doves; or two yong pigeons: and shall bring them, unto the Priest; unto the doore, of the Tent of the Congregation. And the Priest shall make, the one a Sinne-offring, and the other a Burnt-offering: and the Priest, shall make atonement for her, before Iehovah; for the issue, of her uncleannesse. And ye shall separate the sonnes of Israel, from their uncleannesse: that they dye not, in their uncleannesse; when they make uncleane my Tabernacle, which is among them. This is the law, of him that hath an issue: and of him whose seed of copulation shall goe-out from him, to make him uncleane therewith. And of her that is sicke of her flowers; and of him that hath his issue running; of the male, and of the female: and of the man, which shall lye with her which is uncleane.

Annotations.

1 And to Aaron] the reason why he is ioyned with Moses, was because both of them in their places, were to looke unto the sanctification of Israel: as is noted on Lev. 11.1. And here followeth the Law touching the fourth and last sort of ordinary uncleannesse, which proceedeth from within the man secretly: see the annotations on Lev. 11.2. and 12.2. and 13.2.

2 Ver. 2. sonnes of Israel] to whom this law peculiarly did belong, for they onely, their servants and all profelytes were unclean and made others uncleane by running issues. So the Hebrewes say; Servants doe make uncleane by issues, by mensuall-flowers, and by childbirth, as Israelites: but the heathens make not uncleane, either by issue, flowers, or childbirth, (Lev. 15.2.) Maimony, in Mitamei Mishcab &c. chap. 2. sect. 10. Any man] or, Every man Hebrew, man man; which Thargum Ionathan expoundeth yong man or old man. So berd berd, for every berd, Gen. 32.16. have an issue] Hebrew, when he shall be flowing (or issuing) namely with seed, out of his flesh, that is, his secret parts; for so the flesh sometime signifieth, as is noted on Gen. 17.13. The Greeke translateth, to whom there shall be a flowing (to weet, of seed,) out of the body. This disease the Greekes call Gonorrhois, we in English, the running of the reines: when through infirmity of the inward parts, seed issueth against the mans will. This differeth from that seed of copulation in v. 16. So the Hebrewes say, The issue spoken of in the law, is the seed that cometh by infirmity of the concavities (the spermaticall parts) wherem it is gathered, and cometh not with difficulty, as the seed of copulation, nor with desire nor with pleasure, &c. Maimony in Mechosrei capporah, ch. 2. sect. 1. his issue, it is uncleane] and so the man, because of his issue, he is uncleane. But the Greeke and Chaldee follow the propriety of the Hebrew, saying his issue is uncleane. So the Hebrew doctors, from these words conclude, The issue of him that hath an issue, is a most uncleane thing, as the man (himselfe) that hath the issue; for it is said, his issue is uncleane: and it maketh one uncleane by touching, or by hearing any of it. Maimony in Meamei mishcab &c. ch. 1. sect. 12. The like is after for his spittle, in ver. 8. As leprosie was oftentimes a punishment for sin, Num. 12.10. 2 Chr. 26.19. so the running issue, as David laid this imprecation on Iob for his murder, Let there not faile from the house of Iob, one that hath an issue, or that is a Leper &c. 2 Sam. 3.29. And as the disease is fowl by nature, so it was a figure of sin, issuing from the corrupt nature of man, whereby we are unclean in the sight of God. And it signified in speciall manner, errors, heresies, false doctrines, and idolatries flowing from them, Ezek. 23.20. and 36.17.18. Lam. 1.9.17. opposite to the true faith, religion and service of God; which proceedeth from the incorruptible seed of the word of God, and ministerie of the same, Jam. 1.18. 1 Pet. 2.23. 25. 1 Cor. 4.15.

Ver. 3. his uncleannes] namely, the mans that hath the issue. The Greeke addeth, And this is the law his uncleannesse. his flesh] his secret parts. run] or distill, to weet, thin, and continually. In Hebrew Rar, of which Rir, that is spittle, is derived 1 Sam. 21.13. Here the Greeke translateth it, Gonon, seed. be stopped from his issue] or be stopped because of his issue; or, both made a stoppage (or obstruction), and by this reason of the thicknesse, as Sol. Iarchi explaineth it: so signifying two sorts of this disease. Or, if it have begun, and after a while be stopped, yet he is uncleane. The Hebr. gather from hence, that there is no measure (or quantity) of the issue limited, but every whit thereof, that is discerned, maketh one uncleane: Maim. in Mechosrei capporah, c. 2. f. 9. Howbeit, they make a difference in respect of the times, saying He that seeth one appearance of an issue, he is like him that hath an accident of uncleannesse, (wherof see Deut. 23.10.11.) If he see two, he hath the issue; and must count 7. daies, and go into living water, but is not bound to bring an oblation. If he see three; he hath the issue complete, and is bound to bring an oblation. And there is no difference difference between the second appearance, and the third, but the obligation. Maimon ibidem sect. 6. it is his uncleanness: the Greek explaineth it, his uncleanness is in him.

4 Ver. 4. bed] He that hath an issue, defileth his bed (and so his seat and saddle) five ways; standing, sitting, lying, hanging, leaning: and the bed defileth men seven ways: by standing, sitting, lying, hanging, leaning, touching, bearing. Talmud. Bz. in Zabim. ch. 2. f. 4. Which is explained thus; A thing that is made for a bed, or a seat, or saddle, though it be under a stone; if one of them that defile the seat, stand upon the stone, or sit, or lie, or lean, or hang upon it, he is defiled. Maim. in Metamei mishcab c. 7. f. 1. vessel] or instrument: any thing whatsoever. So in v. 6. and after. The Hebrewes have for these things a limitation, they say, He that hath an issue defileth not the thing, till the most part of him be upon the bed, or the seat, or the saddle. Yet, if he stand upon two beds; with one foot upon one bed, and his other foot on the other; they are both of them unclean. Maim. in Metamei mishcab. c. 7. f. 3. 4. This figured the contagion of sin, which defileth men, and all the good creatures and benefits which God giveth us in this life: unto the pure, all things are pure: but unto them that are defiled and unbelieving, is nothing pure. Tit. 1. 15.

5 V. 5. and bathe] or wash, baptise, to wet himself, or his flesh, as is expressed in ver. 13. 16. meaning his whole body: and so the Greek translateth, shall wash his body. The Hebrews say, Every place where it is said in the Law, of bathing the flesh, and washing the clothes of the unclean: it is not meant, but of baptizing the whole body in water. Maim. in Mikvaoth, c. 1. f. 2. See after on v. 11. It figured our sanctification by Christ and his spirit, by whom we draw near to God, having hearts sprinkled from an evil conscience, and bodies washed with pure water, Heb. 10. 22. See also Levit. 11. 25. till the evening] that is, till that day be ended, and a new begin: till then he is not clean. See the notes on Leviticus 11. 24. 32.

8 Ver. 8. shall spit] The spittle of him that hath an issue is unclean, and defileth even as the issue it self, v. 2. Hereby was figured the pollution that cometh to the souls of men, by the impure doctrine which false Prophets and hereticks spit out of their mouths; 2 Pet. 2. 1. 2. 3. 1 Tim. 4. 1. 2. Tit. 1. 9. 10. 11. as may be gathered by the contrary, when Christ by spitting on men, opened and loosed the eyes, ears and tongues of the blinde, deafe, and dumb; Mark 8. 23. and 7. 33. Ioh. 9. 6. whereby the power and efficacie of the word out of the mouth of Christ was signified. And here under the name of spittle, all excrements of the mouth and nose (except blood) are comprehended: as the Hebrew canons say; The man and woman that hath an issue, and the menstruous, and the woman in childbirth: every one of these four, are of the principall sorts of things; defiling vessels by touching, and men by touching and bearing them; and defile bed, and seat, and saddle, and all under them, and makes them most unclean. The spittle of him that hath an issue, and his seed, and his urine, every of them three are most unclean by the law; and do every whit of them defile

by touching and by bearing. For it is said of the spittle, and if he spit upon him that is clean, (Lev. 15. 8.) and his urine, and his seed, it is impossible that there should not be some of the issue in them. Both man and woman that hath an issue, and the menstruous, and the woman in childbed, the spittle and urine of every of them is most unclean. And so every place where it is said in these passages, He that hath an issue, it implieth both him and the residue of the source. The thicke spittle, excrements and matter of the nose, these are as the spittle in every respect, and are generally reckoned as the spittle. Maimony in Metamei mishcab c. 1. f. 1. 14. 15. 16. So in Talmud Bab. (in Zabim. c. 5. f. 7.) it is said, Who so toucheth the issue of him that hath an issue, or his spittle or his seed, or his urine, or the blood of the menstruous; he is defiled.

Ver. 9. saddle] or, thing to ride with, as the word 9 generally signifieth.

Ver. 10. under him] wherefore they say, If he 10 that hath an issue, and a clean person sit in a boat, or on a peece of timber, or ride on a beast together; though their clothes touch not: yet they are unclean. Talmud. Bab. in Zabim, ch. 3. f. 1. Likewise if it be not immediately under him, but a stone or other thing between; yet it is unclean; as is before noted, on verse 4. beareth] hereupon is that which sundry times is before mentioned, of pollution by bearing, although they touch them not. The contagion of heresie, idolatry, and other sins, was hereby shadowed: that all might be warned to keep themselves pure, or by repentance and faith in Christ to purge themselves, if they have been defiled. Matthew 7. 15. 1 Ioh. 5. 21. 1 Tim. 5. 22. 2 Cor. 6. 17.

Ver. 11. rinsed his hands] or, washed them. Al- 11 though in other cases sometimes the hands onely and feet were washed, as Exod. 30. 21. yet in this case of uncleanties, as the whole man was defiled, so the whole was to be washed; and the hands here are put, the part for the whole. So the Hebrewes explaine it, saying; that which is said of him that hath an issue, (in Lev. 15. 11.) and hath not rinsed his hands, is as if he should say, that he should baptise his whole body: and the same ordinance is for other unclean persons; so that if a man baptise himselfe all over, saving the tip of his little finger, he is yet in his uncleanness, &c. Be- hold it is said (in Levit. 11. 32.) it shall be put (or brought) into the water: so all the principall unclean persons, must be put into water. Whosoever is baptised (or washed) he must baptise all his body, when he is naked, in one place: and if he have locke of hair, he must wash all the hair of his head, for by sentence of the law, it is as his body, and any unclean that are baptised in their clothes, it will serve the turn, because the water passeth through them, and they part is not from the body: and so the menstruous woman that is baptised in her clothes, it is lawfull for her to company with her husband. If there be any thing that part between the body or vessel, and the water, as if clay or any like thing cleave to the flesh of man, or to a vessel, it is unclean still as it was, and the baptising profiteth them nothing. Maimony in Mikvaoth. ch. 1. f. 2. 7. 12. This rinsing and washing of the hands in water, figured the cleansing of the body and spirit, from all filthinesse,

2 Cor. 7. 1. Heb. 10. 22. So the Apostle saith, Cleanse your hands, ye sumers, and purifie your hearts, ye double minded, Lam. 4. 8.

Verf. 12. of earth] or of potters earth, such as pot-bakers burne in the kil: see the notes on Lev. 11. 33. All vessels that are unclean, are made clean by water save vessels of potters-earth, and vessels of glasse: such have no cleanness but breaking. Maim. in Mikvaoth, ch. 1. f. 3. Earthen vessels sometime signify reprobate persons, Pla. 2. 9. Jer. 19. 11. so the breaking of these might figure the destruction of ungodly men; the rinsing and scouring of other vessels, signifying the purging of repentant believing sinners, by the blood of Christ, and waters of his word and spirit. Or, if it be applied generally, as all men are earthen vessels, it figured the utter abolishing of sin & uncleannes, by death; as is shewed on Lev. 11. 33. of wood] or of other strong matter, as of silver, brasse, copper, and the like. About the washing of vessels, the Jewes have these rules; that nothing must part the vessell, or any part of it, and the water, as pitch, clay, or the like that cleaveth to the vessell: that if a vessell be turned the mouth downward and baptised, it is as if it were not baptised, because the water so comes not to all parts of it. Likewise a vessell full of any liquor (except water,) and baptised, it is as if it were not baptised. Maimony in Mikvaoth, c. 3. f. 1. 12. 18. Vnto the ordinances of the Lord for washing men and vessels that were unclean; the Pharisees after added traditions of their owne, washing when they were not unclean, for, except they washed their hands oft, they did not eat; and when they came from the market, except they were baptised, they did not eat: and many other things they had received to hold, the baptising of cups, and of pots, and of brazen vessels, and of beds. For these, Christ blamed them, that they layd aside the commandment of God, and held the tradition of men: Mark. 7. 4-8. yea so farre proceeded they in their superstition, that they said; whosoever eateth without washing of his hands, he is as one that lyeth with a harlot: abusing for this, that scripture in Prov. 6. 28. as R. Menachem on Deut. 8. alledged from the Talmud in Sotah.

Verf. 13. shall be cleansed] that is, healed; but the means of healing are not declared, save that by the rites & sacrifices following, God would teach the, that his grace in Christ maketh them whole; & by the Prophet he saith, I will save you from all your uncleanneses, Ezek. 36. 29. and, from all your subtilties, and from all your idols, will I cleanse you, Ezek. 36. 25. which cleansing is shewed to be, by pardoning iniquities, Jer. 33. 8. and by creating a clean heart in sinners, Psal. 51. 12. so that they come unto Christ in faith; as the woman that had an issue of blood, and had spent all her living on Physicians, but could not be healed of any; when she touched the border of Christs garment, her issue stanchd; and Christ said unto her, Thy faith hath made thee whole; Luke 8. 43. 44. 48. seven daies for his cleansing] to try whether he be perfectly cured and clean; and to lead him in mystery unto the day of Christ, and Sabbath or rest from sin under him: for so the number seven signified; as is noted on Ex. 12. 15.

Levit. 4. 7. And from hence the Hebrewes gather, he must count seven clean daies, and be baptised in the seventh, and bring his offering in the eight. If he see any appearance of his issue, though it be at the end of the seventh day, after he is baptised; all that he hath done is nothing, but he must begin again to reckon seven clean daies, after the day of the last appearance of his issue. Maimony in Mechofroi capparab, ch. 3. sect. 1. baibe] or, wash his flesh, wch the Greek translateth, wash his bodie. See verf. 5. living water] that is, as the Chaldee expoundeth it, spring (or fountain) water: whereof see the notes on Levit. 14. 5. The Hebrewes explain this law thus. The man that hath an issue, is not cleansed but in a fountain, for he is in said of him, In living water: but the woman that hath an issue, and other unclean either men or vessels, are baptised though in a gathering of waters. Maimony in Mikvaoth, c. 1. f. 5. The Pond, or gathering of waters (called in Hebrew Mikveh whereof see Levit. 11. 36.) was requisite for the cleansing of other unclean persons that needed baptising. All unclean either men or vessels, &c. were not cleansed but by baptising in waters gathered together upon the ground. By the law they might baptise in all waters gathered together, into one place; so many as would suffice to baptise the whole body of a man. The quantitie, their wise men determined to be fortie Seabs of water: (the Seab was more then our English peeke, as is noted on Gen. 18. 6.) Such a pond or bath, they say, became unlawfull to wash in, by change of the colour of the water onely; not by change of taste, or change of smell. Running waters that flow from a spring; are as the spring it selfe, for any matter. Standing water is not allowable for men that have the issue, nor for the Lepers, nor for the water of purification, (Numb. 19. 17.) These things and sundry the like, Maimony hath recorded in Mikvaoth, ch. 1. f. 1. and c. 4. f. 1. and c. 7. f. 1. and ch. 19. f. 13. Among the Latines, spring and running waters, were called also living; as, Attrectare nefas, donec me flumine vivo Abluero. Virgil, Aeneid. 2. This living water, figured the blood and spirit of Christ: for he hath washed us from our sins in his own blood, Rev. 1. 5. from his throne proceedeth a pure river of water of life, into his Church, Rev. 22. 1. his mouth and Law, is a well of (water of) life, Prov. 10. 11. and 13. 14. John 4. 10. and the Spirit which they that believe in him doe receive, is as rivers of living water, John 7. 38. 39. These clean waters, when God sprinkleth upon sinners, they shall be clean, Ezek. 36. 25. 27. and shall be clean] if then he washed not, he could not be clean: as by the Hebrew canons, The man or woman that hath an issue, and the menstruous, and the woman in childbed; they are unclean for ever, and doe defile men and vessels, and seat and saddle, untill they be baptised. Although they tary many yeers, and have no appearance of their uncleannesse: yet if they be not baptised, they are still in their uncleannesse. Maim. in Meamei mishcab, e. 5. f. 1. So sinnes that men have committed, though they doe them not every day, yet the guilt of them remaineth as uncleannesse upon them, till by repentance and faith they wash themselves in the blood of Christ, 2 Cor. 12. 21. 1 Joh 1. 9. 10.

But the woman in childbed, brought for her offering, a Lambe for a burnt-offring, (or a dove if ſhe were poore) and a dove for a ſin-offring, Lev. 12. 6, 8. The Leper brought for his offering, three beaſts; one he-Lambe for a trefpaſſe offering, one ewe Lambe for a ſin-offring, and one he-Lambe for a burnt-offring, (and for poverties ſake, the two later were doves) Levit. 14. 10. &c. All theſe, and onely theſe ſorts of uncleane perſons, brought offerings after their waſhing: others were cleane by waſhing and ſprinkling. For as the pollutions were greater, ſo were the expiations: to teach that our repentance, humiliation, and returning to the Lord with thanks after we have ſinned, and are forgiven, ſhould be in a ſort, proportionable to our iniquitie. ſhall come] ſo teſtifying his faith and thankfulneſſe; with expectation of full cleaſing by Chriſt, from all ſinne.

15 Verſ. 15. for his iſſue] or, from his iſſue: that is, from the uncleanneſſe which he was in by reaſon of his iſſue. For as the iſſue was a diſeaſe, with which God ſometime plagued finners, 2 Sam. 3. 29. and for which they were to be put out of the hoſt of Iſrael, Numb. 5. 2. and ſignified the contagious ſins, which coming from within the man, doe defile him, Mark. 7. 20, -23. ſo this Prieſt, and theſe ſacrifices, ſignified Chriſt, (as in the beginning of this booke is ſhewed) by whom we have atonement made by his blood for all ſin, 1 Joh. 7. and from whom veritas proceedeth, to heale us by his ſpirit; as it healed the woman that had a bobbily iſſue of blood twelve yeare; when no Phyſicians could cure her, Marke 5. 25, -30. See the notes on verſ. 5. untill the evening] notwithstanding his waſhing, he continueth uncleane, till his Sun be ſet, and a new day begin. See the notes on Lev. 11. 24, 32. The Hebrewes ſay, The ſeed of copulation, is a principall uncleane thing, defiling men and veſſels (or other things) by touching: and earthen veſſels by the ayre, but it defileth not by bearing; neither doth he which is defiled therewith, defile garments, when hee hath touched it. Maimon in Aboth batumoth, chap. 5. ſect. 1. Verſ. 18. they alſo ſhall bathe] or, and they ſhall waſh, to weet, both of them. By this we may ſee the reaſon, why the people which were to be ſanctified at the giving of the Law, were to abſtaine from their wives, Exod. 19. 15. and why the Prieſt put this caution to David, If the young men have kept themſelves at leaſt from women, 1 Samuel, 21. 4. For this law ſeemeth to imply a pollution, even in ordinary carnall copulation, which in it ſelfe was lawfull, as being the ordinance of God, Gen. 2. 24. But by reaſon of ſin, nature is ſo corrupted, that there is no act of generation, where-to ſome legall pollution cleaved not; as there was alſo no procreation of children, but brought much more uncleanneſſe with it, Lev. 12. both of them figuring that originall and hereditarie ſin, whereby wee all have ſinned in one man; and wherein our mothers do conceive us, Rom. 5. 19. Pſal. 51. 7. The Hebrew doctors ſay; The man and the woman that doe the act of generation, both of them are uncleane by the ſentence of the Law. And the woman is not uncleane, by reaſon of touching the ſeed of copulation, (for that is not the touching which the law ſpeaketh of) but he that doth the act, is as he that ſeeth an accident (of uncleanneſſe, Deut. 23. 10.) &c. Among the Heathens, there remained monuments of this religion; as appeareth by that ſaying of the Poet: Discedat ab aris. Cui tuſtis beſterna gaudia nocte Venus Al. Tibull. l. 2. Eleg. 1. And another ſaith, Ille petit veniam, quoties non abſtinet uxor Concubitu, ſacris obſervandiſque diebus. Juvenal Sat. 6. Some refer this to the former caſe, as being ſpoken of the man, that had an accident of uncleanneſſe in the night, and before he was cleaſed, ſhould companie with his wife.

Verſ. 19. in her fleſh] the Greeke ſaith, in her body: ſleſh is here meant, as in verſ. 2. and blood is meant of her monethly cuſtomes. It may alſo be read thus, (when) blood, ſhall be her iſſue, in her fleſh. Hereupon the Hebrewes ſay, that no other thing maketh her uncleane, but blood onely; (as not that which made the man uncleane, ver. 2. or any ſuch like;) and that all blood maketh her uncleane, though it be not come forth to the exterior parts: becauſe it is ſaid, in her fleſh. Alſo, that the blood of virgins is cleane, and is neither the blood of ſeparation, nor the blood of iſſue; becauſe it is not from the fountain, (whereof ſee Levit. 20. 18.) Maim. in Iſſurei biab, c. 5. ſect. 6. 18. in her ſeparation] or, in her removall, to weet, for the uncleanneſſe of her menſtrues: during which time, ſhee was not onely ſeparated from the holy things as all other uncleane perſons; but ſeparated alſo from her husband, Lev. 18. 19. and if they companied together, during that time, preſumptuouſly, they were to be cut off, Lev. 20. 18. This uncleannes, was (as the reſt) a figure of ſinne, proceeding from the fleſhly and corrupt heart of man; as God himſelfe teacheth, saying, When the house of Israel dwelt in their own land; they defiled it by their own way, and by their doings: their way was before me, as the uncleanness of a removed (or menstruous) woman, Ezek. 36. 17. And this was the sin of idolatry, Jer. 2. 23, 34. seven daies] this was the limited time for the separation, or menstrues: during which space, shee was uncleane as a separated woman, though there had but one drop of blood appeared. (Maimony in Issurei biash, c. 6. f. 2. if any appeared after this time, it was not called her separation, but her issue; whereof he speaketh after in v. 25. that toucheth her] the pollution of the menstruous, extendeth as far, as of the man that had an issue, (spoken of before, v. 2. &c.) and as of the woman that hath an issue, (spoken of after, v. 25. &c.) even the spittle, and the urine of every one of them, is unclean, (as is before noted on v. 8.) Maimony in Metamei misheab, c. 1. f. 15. And these things figured the pollution of sinne, Ezek. 36. 17. and taught to avoid all communion therewith, 2 Cor. 6. 17. And unto a menstruous woman, Ierusalem was likened; when for her sins she was wasted, and her people captived by the Babylonians, Lam. 1. 17. Her uncleanness was upon her skirts; and she had sinned a sinne: therefore she was removed, Lam. 1. 8, 9.

24 V. 24. lying shall lye] that is, shall at all, or by any occasion lye with her, to weet, ignorantly: for if he did it presumptuously, not onely pollution, but cutting off was his punishment, Lev. 20. 18. Therefore the Prophets complaine of this sin, Ezek. 22. 10. her flows] or (as before) her separation, which the Greeke here translateth, her uncleanness.

25 Ver. 25. many daies] Here he passeth from the menstrues, which were naturall purgations, and healthfull for the body (though legally unclean) unto the issues, which were diseases that decayed naturall strength, if they continued long; as the woman, which had it twelve yeares, and suffered many things of many Physicians, but all in vaine, till shee came to Christ, Marke 5. 25, 26. These many daies, must also be, out of the time of her separation, or menstrues, that is, out of the seven daies forementioned; and by many, the Hebrew doctors understand, from three upward. They say, When shee seeth blood first, in the due time of her customes, then is shee in her separation, all the seven daies. If shee see it in the eight day, then this is the blood of issue, because it is out of the time of her separation. And so all the blood that is seene in the daies that are betwene the times of her customes, is the blood of issue. [And the space between (they say) was eleven daies onely.] When a woman seeth blood in the daies of her issue, but one day onely, or two daies one after another, shee is said to have the lesser issue; if shee see it three daies one after another, shee is said to have the greater issue, or issue absolutely; as it is written, when the issue of her blood shall run many daies, (Levit. 15. 25.) a few, are two daies; many, are three. There is no difference betwene her that hath the greater issue, and her that hath the lesse, but the numbering of seven daies, and the bringing of a sacrifice, (Levit. 15. 28, 29.) For she that hath the greater issue, is bound to number seven cleane daies: but she that hath the lesser, numbereth but one onely. And she which hath the greater, bringeth a sacrifice when she is cleansed. Otherwise as touching uncleanness, and restraint from companying with her husband, they are both alike. Maimony in Issurei biash, ch. 6. sect. 2. &c. over] to weet, over the time, or after her separation, as the Greeke translateth: which the Hebrews explaine thus; that if shee see it three daies next after her separation (or menstrues:) then it is an issue. As, if shee see it in the eighth day of her separation, and in the ninth, and in the tenth; for they are the first, second, and third of the eleven daies, which are the daies of the issue. Maimony in Issurei biash, chap. 6. sect. 17. These things taught the care and diligence, that all should have in looking to their life and conversation; both for the judging of themselves, and purging by repentance, 1 Cor. 11. 31. 2 Cor. 7. 11.

Verf. 26. every vessell] any thing for the use and service of man, is called a vessell or instrument. The particulars of these pollutions, are noted before. Observe here, that whereas the woman thus diseased, made every thing uncleane that she touched: onely Christ, when he was touched by such a one, was not by her defiled; but she by him, and the vertue that proceeded from him, was cleansed. For he was undefiled, and separated from sinners; Heb. 7. 26. and though he bare our infirmities, Esay 53. 4. yet continued he the Lambe without blemish, and without spot, 1 Pet. 1. 19.

Verf. 27. in water] ordinary cleane water: not being restrained to living water onely, which was peculiarly appointed for the man that had an issue verf. 13. and for the Leper, Levit. 14. 5. and for the water of sprinkling, Num. 19. 17.

Ver. 28. seven daies] as the man also did, see before on ver. 13. she shall be cleane] having performed the rites fore-mentioned of washing and bathing in water. And this time, and the manner of cleansing, figured the time of grace in Christ, and our cleansing from sin by his blood and spirit, whereof it is prophesied, In that day there shall be a fountain opened to the house of David, and to the inhabitants of Ierusalem for sin, and for separation for uncleanness, Zach. 13. 1.

Verf. 30. make atonement] for her sin-offring was a figure of Christ, to be offered for the forgiveness of sins, Matt. 26. 28. 2 Cor. 5. 21. and her burnt-offring, figured the same Christ, offered to make us acceptable unto God; by whom also we present our bodies and soules as holy and acceptable sacrifices, Heb. 9. 9. 12. 14. Rom. 12. 1. He is the Lord, that hath washed away the filth (or excrements) of the daughters of Sion; and purged the bloods of Ierusalem, from the midst thereof: by the spirit of judgement, and by the spirit of burning, Esay 4. 4.

V. 31. shall separate] or, shall religiously separate, and holyly exempt and sever them; by teaching them to understand & carefully to keepe these ordinances. Le. 11. 47. The G. translateth, ye shall make the wary (or, religiously careful:) the original word is of Nazar, whereupon the Nazarites had their name, who were separated and sanctified unto the Lord: Numbers 6. that they dye not] or, and let them not dye, in their uncleanness, that is, (as Chazkuni expoundeth it,) for their their uncleanness: meaning both these figurative pollutions, of issues, leprosy, and the like; as also their sins, especially Idolatry, and corruptions of Religion; for which, the Prophets often reproved the people, under this name of pollution or uncleanness, and making the Lords Sanctuary unclean: Jer. 2. 23. & 7. 30. Ezek. 5. 11. & 14. 11. & 22. 3, 4. & 37. 23.

CHAP. XVI.

1, Moses is taught how to direct the high Priest for to doe his service on Atonement day; 3, with what sacrifices hee must come into the Holy-place; 4, and with what garments. 6, The bullocke for the Sin of the Priest himselfe. 7, The two goats for the people, on which lots were cast, for the one to be killed, and the other sent away. 11, The killing of the high Priests bullocke. 12, The burning of incense in the most holy. 15, The killing of the goat for the people, and sprinkling of his blood. 16, The cleansing of the most holy place, 18, and of the holy. 20, The sending away of the scape-goat. 29, The yearly Fast on Expiation day, the tenth of the seventh month.

1 AND Jehovah spake unto Moses, after the death of the two sons of Aaron: when they offered before Jehovah, and dyed. And Jehovah said unto Moses; 2 Speak unto Aaron thy brother, that he come not at all time, into the Holy-place, within the veile; before the Covering mercie-seat, which is upon the Arke, that hee die not; for in the cloud I will appeare, upon the 3 Covering-mercies-seat. With this, shall Aaron come, into the holy-place: with a bullock a yongling of the herd, for a sin-offring, 4 and a ram for a Burnt-offring. He shall put on an holy linnen coat; and linnen breeches, shall be upon his flesh; and with a linnen girdle, shall he be girded; and with a linnen Miter, shall he be attired: they are garments of holiness; and he shall wash his flesh in water, and put them on. And he shall take, of the Congregation of the sons of Israel, two goat-bucks, of the goats, for a Sin-offring: 5 and one ram, for a Burnt-offring. And Aaron shall offer, the bullocke of the Sin-offring, which is for himselfe: and shall make-atonement for himselfe, and for his house. And he shall take the two goat-bucks, and present them before Jehovah; at the doore of the 6 Tent of the congregation. And Aaron shall give lots, upon the two goat-bucks: one lot for Jehovah, and one lot for the scape-goat. 7 And Aaron shall bring neere the goat-buck; that, upon which the lot for Jehovah did ascend; and he shall make him a Sin-offring.

But the goat-buck; that, upon which the lot for the Scape-goat, did ascend; shall be presented alive, before Jehovah, to make-atonement with him: to send away him for a Scape-goat, into the wilderness. And Aaron shall bring neere the bullock of the Sin-offring, which is for himselfe; & shall make-atonement for himselfe, and for his house: and shall kill the bullocke of the Sin-offring, which is for himselfe. And he shall take a Censer full of coales of fire, from off the Altar, before Jehovah; and his hands full of incense of sweet spices, beaten-small: and he shall bring it within the veile. And hee shall put the incense upon the fire, before Jehovah: that the cloud of the incense, may cover the Covering-mercies-seat, which is upon the testimonie, that hee dye not. And he shall take of the blood of the bullock, and shall sprinkle with his finger, upon the Covering Mercies-seat, Eastward: and before the Covering-mercies-seat, he shall sprinkle of the blood with his finger, seven times. And he shall kill the goat-bucke of the Sin-offring, which is for the people; and bring his blood within the veile: and shall doe with his blood, as he did with the blood of the bullock; and sprinkle it upon the Covering-mercies-seat, and before the covering-mercies-seat. And he shall make atonement for the Holy place, because of the uncleannesses of the sons of Israel; and because of their trespasses, and all their sins: and so shall he doe for the tent of the congregation, that dwelleth with them, in the midst of their uncleannesses. And there shall not be any man, in the tent of the congregation; when he goeth in, to make atonement in the Holy place, untill he come out: and he have made atonement for himselfe, and for his house, and for all the Church of Israel. And hee shall goe out, unto the Altar which is before Jehovah, and make-atonement for it: and shall take of the blood of the bullocke, and of the blood of the goat-bucke; and put it upon the hornes of the Altar, round about. And he shall sprinkle of the blood upon it, with his finger, seven times: and shall cleanse it, and sanctifie it, from the uncleannesses of the sonnes of Israel. And hee shall make an end of making-atonement for the Holy place; and the Tent of the Congregation, and the Altar: and hee shall bring neere the goat-bucke that is alive. And Aaron shall impose both his hands, upon the head of the live goat-bucke; 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 and shall confesse over him, all the iniquities of the sons of Israel; and all their trespasses, and all their sins: and shall put them upon the head of the Goat-bucke, and shall send him away, by the hand of a fit man into the wilderness. And the Goat-buck shall beare upon him, all their iniquities, unto a land of separation; and he shall send away the Goat-buck, into the wilderness. And Aaron shall come into the Tent of the congregation; and shall put off the linnen garments, which he did put on, whē he went into the holy-place; and shall leave them there. And he shall wash his flesh with water, in the holy-place; and shall put on his garments; and he shall come forth, and shall make his Burnt-offring, and the Burnt-offring of the people; and make atonement for himselfe, and for the people. And the fat of the Sin-offring, he shall burne upon the Altar. And he that sent away the Goat-bucke, for the Scape-goat; shall wash his clothes, and bathe his flesh in water: and afterward, he shall come into the campe. And the Bullock for the Sin-offring, and the Goat-buck for the Sin-offring; whose blood was brought in, to make atonement in the Holy-place, he shall cary-forth without the campe: and they shall burn it with fire, their skins, and their flesh, and their dung. And he that burneth them, shall wash his clothes, and bathe his flesh in water: and afterward, he shall come into the campe. And this shall be to you, a statute for ever: in the seventh moneth, in the tenth (day) of the moneth, ye shall afflict your soules; and shall not doe any worke, the home borne, or the stranger that sojourneth among you. For in this day, he shall make atonement for you, to cleanse you from all your sins: before Jehovah shall ye be cleansed. A Sabbath of Sabbathisme shall it be unto you; and ye shall afflict your soules: (it is) a statute for ever. And the Priest whom hee shall anoint, and whose hand he shall fill, to administer the Priests-office in his fathers stead; he shall make the atonement, and shall put on the linnen garments, the garments of holinesse. And hee shall make atonement for the Sanctuarie of holinesse, and for the Tent of the congregation; and for the Altar shall he make atonement: and for the Priests, & for all the people of the Church, shall he make atonement. And this shall be to you, a statute for ever; to make atonement for the sons of Israel, for all their sins, once in a yeare: And he did, as Jehovah commanded Moses.

Annotations.

DDD Here beginneth the nine and twentieth Section or Lecture of the Law: see Gen. 6. 9.

THe two sons] Nadab and Abihu, Lev. 10. 1. after whose death, for transgressing Gods ordinances, this Law is here given, for the purging and reconciliation of the Church unto God, one day in the yeere. they offered] to weat, strange fire, as the Gr. and Chaldee versions here annex; and as Moses shewed before, Lev. 10. 1.

V. 2. speake unto Aaron] God appointeth Moses to informe the Priest of his duty, and to see that he performed this service aright: so in ages following, there were appointed with the High-Priest, Elders, of the Elders of the Synagron, which did read before him, and taught him the service of this day, and the order of it: as Maim. recordeth in Misneh, in Iom. hakippurim (or Day of atonement) ch. 1. sect. 5.

that he come not] or, as the Greek translateth it, and let him not come. Of this the Apostle saith, The Priests went alwaies into the first Tabernacle, accomplishing the services: but into the second, (went) the High Priest alone, once in the yeare, &c. The holy Ghost this signifying, that the way into the Holies was not yet manifested, while at the first Tabernacle had yet a standing. Which was a figure, for the time then present, in which were offered both gifts and sacrifices, that could not make him that did the service, perfect, as pertaining to the conscience, &c. But Christ being come, an High-Priest of the good things to come; by a greater and more perfect Tabernacle, not made with hands, that is, not of this creation (or building,) neither by the blood of Goats and Bullocks, but by his owne blood he entered in once into the Holies, bringing forth an eternall redemption, Heb. 9. 6, 7, 8, 9, 11, 12. But now we have libertie to enter into the Holies, by the blood of Jesus; by a new and living way, which he hath consecrated for us, through the veile, that is, his flesh: Heb. 10. 19, 20. the Holy-place] Hebr. the holinesse: which the Greek translateth, the Holy: meaning the Holy of holies, or most holy place; which the Apostle therefore calleth, Holies: and sheweth it to be a figure of Heaven it selfe, into which Christ our High-Priest entred for us, Heb. 9. 12. 24.

that he die not] for presuming to do that which he is not commanded, as his sonnes, Levit. 10.

I will appeare] Targum Jonathan expoundeth it, The glorie of my Majestie (or presence) shall be revealed, upon the Covering-mercie-seat] Compare this with Exod. 25. 22. Because Gods Majestie dwelled there, between the Cherubims; therefore the Priest might not come there, but by leave from God, and with reverence. And by this cloud, he meaneth the cloud of glorie which should be upon the Mercie-seat, saith R. Menachem, on Levitic. 16. It may be understood of the cloud (the smoke) of the incense, whereof see vers. 13.

Vers. 3. With this] in Greeke, Thus. a youngling] Hebrew, a son of the herd: this was to be of the second yeere, or a two yeerling Bullock, as is noted on Exod. 29. 1. And of that age was the Ram, after mentioned. Observe, that on this day, hee offered also the two Lambes, for the daily sacrifice, fice, Numb. 28. 3. and one bullocke and seven lambs, for a Burnt-offring; and an he-goat for a Sin-offring, (besides that goat after mentioned, in vers. 5.) as is expressed in Numb. 29. 7, 8, 11. all which (with other services) the high Priest himselfe offered this day; which on other daies, might be done by other Priests. The Hebrew canons lay them downe thus: In the day of the Fast, they offer the daily sacrifice in the morning and evening, according to the order of every day. And they offer more for that day, a bullocke, and a ramme, and seven lambs; all of them Burnt-offrings. And a goat for a Sin-offring, which is eaten at evening. Over and besides this, they offer a Bullocke for a Sin-offring, and that is burnt, and a Ram for a Burnt-offring: and these both, are for the high Priest. And the Ram which is for the Congregation, is spoken of in Levitic. 16. and it is the Ram spoken of in the generall addition, Numb. 29. and it is called, the peoples Ram. And further, they bring for the Congregation, two goat bucks, the one is offered for sinne, and is burnt: the other is the goat sent away. So all the beasts that are offered this day, are found to be fiftene: the two daily sacrifices, and a bullocke, and two rammes, and seven lambs; all of them Burnt-offrings: and two goats, for sinne: the one done without, and eaten at even; the other done within, and burnt: and the high Priests bullocke for sinne, and that is burnt. The service of all these fiftene beasts, offered this day, is not (performed) but by the high Priest onely. And if it fall out to be the Sabbath day, the sacrifice added for the Sabbath (in Numb. 28. 9.) none doe offer it, but the high Priest. And so the other services of this day, as the burning of the daily Incense, and the trimming of the lampes; all is done by the high Priest, &c. Maimony in Iom. hakippurim, c. 1. f. 1. 2. The high Priest, and his worke this day, figured Christ, and his worke of reconciling the Church unto God, Heb. 9. 7, 8, 11, 12. and in that the high Priest performed all the services himselfe, it signified how Christ should by himselfe purge our sins, Heb. 1. 3. and shewed the weaknesse of the legall Priesthood, which served but untill the time of reformation, and then should be abolished, Heb. 9. 10. & 8. 4, 5, 6. a burnt-offring] these both, were for the Priest himselfe, as after in vers. 11. 24. Therefore the other sacrifices are not here mentioned.

4 Vers. 4. holy] Heb. of holinesse, the Gr. calleth it, a sanctified linnen coat. This and the rest were peculiar for this day, and for the service of this day; that is, for making atonement: the other service which was ordinary, hee performed this day in his other priestly garments; as appeareth by v. 23, 24. What the high Priests eight ornaments were, which he usually ware, are noted on Ex. 28. 4. &c. and the foure that were for this day, are here expressed. These the Hebr. call, his white garments, the other, his golden garments, because some were made with gold thread woven in them. These 4. were made of sixe double twisted ibread; and they were of flaxe onely, saith Maim. in the Implements of the Sanctuarie, c. 8. f. 3. It figured the base estate of Christ here on earth, and how he should without worldly glory perform the work of our redemption, Esa. 53. 2, 3. &c. but with puritie, innocencie and holinesse. Putting on Iustice, and it clothed him: his judgement, was as a Robe and a Miser, Job 29. 14. his flesh] in Greeke, his skin: the secret parts are hereby meant: see Exod. 28. 42. Compare herewith, Ezekiel 44. 17, 18. there theire foure linnen garments are mentioned, and no other: and that is a mysticall prophesie of the state of the Church under the Gospel: where the Priests have no other attire, then for atonement, or expiation day; which mysterie is opened, in 2 Cor. 5. 19. garments of holinesse] in Greeke, holy garments. wash his flesh] that is, as the Greeke translateth, wash all his bodie. Sol. Iarchi here noteth, that hee was charged to wash himselfe everie time that he changed (his garments;) and he changed them five times, &c. This washing signified his cleaning or sanctification, by repentance and faith in Christ, Hebr. 10. 22. the garments figured the justice and salvation, wherewith, by faith in Christ, hee should be clothed, Psal. 132. 9, 16. which they onely that are sanctified, doe put on. When the Priest put off these garments, and put on other, he washed againe, v. 24. It figured also the holinesse and puritie that should be in Christ himselfe, in whom was no sinne, 1 Joh. 3. 5.

and put them on] This was after the performance of his other morning services, which were due every day, and to be done in other garments. The order whereof is said to be this: About midnight (for the high Priest might not sleepe all that night, lest any accident of uncleannesse, such as is spoken of in Deut. 23. 10. should befall him) they went about the taking away of the ashes, (from the Altar) and ordered the wood, &c. untill at breake of the day, they began to kill the daily sacrifice; then they hanged a fine-linnen cloib, betwene the high Priest and the people. And he put off his common clothes, and washed himselfe, and put on the golden clothes, (those eight mentioned in Exodus 28.) and sanctified (that is, washed) his hands and his feet, and killed the daily sacrifice, and tooke the blood and sprinkled it on the Altar. After that, he went into the holy place, and burnt the Incense of the morning; and trimmed the Lampes, and burned the fesh of the daily sacrifice, and the meat offering and drinke offering of the same, as was done every day. After the daily sacrifice, hee offered the bullocke and the seven lambs, which were appointed more for that day, (Numb. 29. 8.) Afterwards, he sanctified his hands and his feet, and put off his golden garments; and washed himselfe, and put on his white garments, and sanctified his hands and his feet, and came to his bullocke, (spoken of in v. 6.) &c. Maimony in Iom. hakippurim, ch. 1. sect. 6. and ch. 4. sect. 1. and Talmud Bab. in Ioma, ch. 3.

V. 5. a Sin-offring] figuring Christ, who should be a Sin-offring for his Church, 2 Cor. 5. 19. 21. & these goats, the one was killed, v. 15. the other sent away alive, v. 21. to signifie, how Christ suffering for our sinnes, should be put to death in the flesh, but quickned by the Spirit, 1 Pet. 3. 18. The Hebrews write, that these two goats were to be alike to see to, of equall stature, and price; and to be taken both at one time. Maimony in Iom. hakipp. ch. 5. sect. 14.

Burnt-offring] which was offered after H h h 3 the

the former Sin-offring, and in other garments, ver. 24. and signified (besides reconciliation) a new and holy life, through the grace of Christ; after the purging us from our sins, Rom. 12. 1. See the notes on Levit. 1.

- 6 Ver. 6. for himselfe] or, which shall be his owne: and so Sol. Iarchi hence teacheth, that it was to be of his owne, and not of the congregations: and Targum Ionnathan expoundeth it, of his owne goods. This was the first sacrifice which was peculiar for this day, and for the worke of Reconciliation: which beginning with the Priest himselfe, sheweth the imperfection of that legall Priesthood; and the impossibility therof to bring men to God. So the Apostle teacheth, that every high Priest, was himselfe also compassed with infirmitie; by reason wherof he ought as for the people, so for himselfe to offer for sinnes. Thus the Law made men high Priests, which had infirmitie; but the word of the oath, which was since the Law, maketh the Son (of God) who is perfected for ever, Heb. 5. 1, 2, 3. and 7. 28.

and for his house] in Chaldee, for the men of his house. And hereby the Hebrewes understand, all the Priests: see after on ver. 11. As in all sinne-offrings, they laid their hands on the head of the sacrifice, confessed their sins, and then killed it, Lev. 4. so was the order of this: which the Hebrewes have declared thus. After that the Priest had washed his body, put on his white garments, and sanctified his hands and his feet; he came to his bullocke, which (afterward in Solomons Temple) stood betwene the porch and the Altar, with the head thereof to the South, and the face to the West; and the Priest stood Eastward, with his face to the West; & laid both his hands on the head of the bullocke, and confessed, saying; O God I have sinned, done iniquitie, and trespassed before thee, I and my house: I beseech thee, O Lord, make atonement now, for my sins, iniquities and trespasses which I have committed before thee, I and my house; as it is written in the Law of Moses thy servant. For in this day he shall make atonement for you, &c. (Lev. 16. 30.) Maim. in Iom. bakipp. c. 4. f. 1. and Talmud in Ioma, c. 3.

- 7 Ver. 7. present them] Hebrew, make them to stand: After the slaying of his own sin-offring, the Priest came to the North-side of the altar, and two with him, the one called Sagan [who was the second chiefe Priest, next in order to the high Priest] on his right hand; and the other called Rosb beth ab, [that is, the chiefe of the house of the father, or principall household, as 1 Chron. 24. 6.] on his left hand; and there the two goats were presented, with their faces to the West, and their backe parts to the East, Talmud in Ioma, c. 3. Maim. in Iom. bakipp. c. 3. f. 2. at the doore] that is, within the court-yard: see the notes on Levit. 8. 3.

- 8 Ver. 8. give lots] that is, cast lots; the Greeke translateth, impose (or put lots;) The manner is said to be thus. The two lots, the one had written upon it, FOR JEHOVAH; and on the other was written, FOR A SCAPE-GOAT: and they might be of any matter, either of wood, or of stone, or of metall: but the one might not be great, and the other little; the one of silver, and the other of gold; but both alike. And they were of wood: But in the second Temple they made them of gold. And they put the two lots in one vessell, which was a common vessell, and of wood; and it was called Kalphi. On the East part of the court, on the North-side of the Altar, there they set the Kalphi. The goats were set with their faces towards the West, and their hind parts to the East. The high Priest came, with the Sagan (or second Priest) at his right hand, and Rosb beth ab at his left: and the two goats stood before him, the one on his right hand, and the other on his left. Hee shaked the Kalphi, and tooke out of it the two lots, with his two hands, in the name of the two goats: and opened his hand. If the Lords lot were in the right hand, the Sagan said to the high Priest, hold up thy right hand on high: if it were in his left, then Rosb beth ab said unto him, hold up thy left hand; and he laid the two lots on the two goats; the right, on that which was at his right hand; and the left, on that which was at his left, Maim. in Iom. bakippurim, chap. 3. sect. 1, 2, 3. This casting of lots, was, that the Lord (of whom the whole disposition of the lot is, Prov. 16. 33.) might shew which of the two goats he would have to dye, and which to live: and it figured, how the sufferings of Christ, (who was to be put to death in the flesh, but quickned by the Spirit, 1 Pet. 3. 13.) should be no other, then whatsoever Gods hand, and his counsell determined before to be done, Act. 4. 28. for Iehovah] in Chaldee, for the name of the LORD: so after. the Scape goat] called in Hebrew, Azazel, that is, the Goat-gone-away; which the Greeke translateth, Apompation, Sent-away: the Chaldee, and many Interpreters keepe the Hebrew name untranslated; and it is thought to be the name both of the Goat, and of the place whereinto he was sent in the wilderness, as ver. 10. so by Sol. Iarchi it is expounded, a strong and hard mountaine, &c.

Ver. 9. did ascend] that is, did light, or fall: 9 which is said here, to ascend or come up, because it was first taken up out of the vessell, and after was laid upon the beast. So in ver. 10. and elsewhere, lots are said to ascend or come up, as in Josh. 18. 11. sometimes to come forth (as out of the vessell,) Num. 33. 54. Josh. 19. 1. and sometimes to fall, as Jon. 1. 7. 1 Chro. 26. 14. Act. 1. 26. make him] that is, as the Gr. explaineth it, offer him, for sin: the manner is after shewed in ver. 15. by killing him; to figure out the death of Christ, according to the flesh. Sol. Iarchi expoundeth it thus, When hee layeth the Lot upon him, he shall call him by this name, saying, A Sin-offring for the Lord.

Ver. 10. presented alive] after that the Priest hath 10 killed his owne bullocke, and the other Goat, whose lot was to die: v. 11. 15, 20. In the meane time, after the casting of these lots; the Hebrews say, that the Priest bound a long piece (they call it a tongue) of scarlet, of two shekels weight, upon the head of the Scape-goat, and set him before the place of his sending away; and the other which was to be killed, before the place of his killing, and then he killed the Sin-offring bullocke, which was for himselfe. Maimony in Iom. bakip. ch. 3. sect. 4. and Talm. in Ioma, c. 4. to make atonement] as the Goat which was slaine, was for atonement or expiation, v. 16, 17. so was the live goat goat, as here, and in vers. 21, 22. so that both of them were figures of Christ, who is the atonement (or propitiation) for our sins, 1 Joh. 2.2. & 4.10. for a scape-goat] or, to Azazel, which is by some, thought here to meane the place in the wilderness, where this goat was let goe.

11 Vers. 11. shall make atonement] laying his hands on the head of the beast, confessing and asking pardon of God for his iniquities, trespasses and sins, as is before noted on v.6. This he was to doe for himselfe first, and for his house: that being reconciled to God, he might be fit (as a figure of Christ) to make atonement for the people. Of this the Hebr. doctors say (speaking of the practise in the ages following:) Hee came to his bullocke the second time, and laid both his hands on the head thereof, and confessed a second confession, for himselfe, and his house, and for the sins of Aaron, (all the Priests) and asked mercie of God, and then killed the bullocke. Maimony, in Iom. hakipp. c.4. f.1. So elsewhere (in the same Treatise, c.2. f.6.) he mentioneth three confessions which the Priest made this day. One which hee made for himselfe at the first, a second, which hee made for himselfe with the other Priests, and both these were upon the bullocke of Sinne-offring which was for himselfe. And the third confession was for all Israel, upon the Scape-goat. for his house] that is, saith Sol. Larchi, for his brethren the Priests, for they all are called his house, as it is written, O house of Aaron, blesse yee the Lord, Psal. 135. 19. And all their atonement was not, save for the uncleannesse of the Sanctuarie, and holy things thereof, as in vers. 16. That he made atonement for the Priests, is expressly mentioned, in v.33.

12 Ver. 12. shall take a censur] after the bullock was killed, before the blood was sprinkled, this service of burning incense, came between, as to prepare the way into the holy place, by the cloud (the smoke of the incense upon the Mercie-seat) v.13, 14. So Christ before he entred with his own blood into the most holy place of heaven (Heb. 9. 11, 12, 24.) prepared and sanctified himselfe and his way, by prayer, (which was figured by incense, Rev. 8.3, 4.) Joh. 17. Mat. 26.36. &c. This Censer or Fire-pan (as the word is Englished in Exod. 27.3.) is called in Greeke Pureion, that is, a Fire-vessel, in the new Testament never so named, but Libanotos, an Incense vessell or Censer, Rev. 8.3, 5. where mention is made of a golden Censer. Of this here, the Hebrews say; Every (other) day, he whose duty it is to use the Censer, putteth coales in a Censer of silver, &c. but this day the high Priest putteth coales in a Censer of gold. Maimony in Iom. hakipp. c. 2. sect. 5.

before Iehovah] this was the burnt-offring altar, in the court-yard, where fire alwaies burned: but from this manner of speech, the Hebrews say, they tooke the fire from that part of the Altar, which was next to the West; (that is, towards the Sanctuarie:) Maimony, ibidem. chap. 4. sect. 1. So Larchi expoundeth it, from that side (of the outer-altar) which is before the doore, and that is the West side. of Incense] the making, and signification hereof, is shewed on Exodus 30.34. &c. It figured the prayers and mediation of Christ, Psa. 141.2.

beaten-small] it was beaten the evening before this day: see the notes on Exodus 30. 34, 36. This beating of the Incense, figured the agonie of Christ in his prayers before his death, which hee offred up with strong crying and teares, Luke 22. 44. Heb. 5. 7. within the veile] meaning the second veile, (as the Apostle calleth it, Heb. 9. 3.) and so into the most holy place: a figure of Heaven it selfe, into which the Incense of Christs prayer and mediation should come before God, for his Church, Heb. 9.24. Rev. 8.3, 4. Maim. (in Iom. hakippur. c. 1. f. 7.) telleth how the Sadduces, which were in the daies of the second Temple, said that the Incense for atonement day, was to be put upon the fire in the Temple, without the veile; and when the smoke thereof ascended, it went into the Holy of holies; and their reason was this, because it is written, in Levit. 16. 2.) I will appeare in the cloud upon the Mercie-seat; they said that was the cloud of the Incense: but our Wise men (saith he) have taught, that the Incense was not burnt, but in the Holy of holies before the Arke; as it is written, (Levit. 16. 13.) upon the fire before the Lord. And forasmuch as they were carefull, in the second Temple, lest the high Priest should incline to the Sadduces side; they did sweare him, in the evening of Atonement day: the Messengers of the Synedriou, saying unto him; We adjure thee by him that hath caused his name to dwell in this house, that thou shalt not change (or alter) any thing of all that wee doe say unto thee.

13 Vers. 13. the cloud of the Incense] that is, as the Greeke translateth it, the vapour of the Incense. This cloud covering the Mercie-seat, figured the mediation of Christ, by which Gods wrath is turned from his Church; as is after said, that he die not. Compare Rev. 8.3, 4. The manner of doing this service, they say was thus; the high Priest tooke the Censer with fire in his right hand, and the Cup with Incense in his left, &c. and went within the veile, till hee came at the Arke: there he put the Censer betweene the two barres. And in the second Temple, where there was no Arke, he put it upon a stone there set, &c. And he filled the palme of his hand with Incense, and put it upon the coales in the Censer: and stayed there till the house was full of smoke, and went out. And he went out backward by little and little, with his face to the holy place, and his backe to the Temple, untill he came without the veile. Then prayed he there in the Temple, after he was come out, but a short prayer: that the people might not be afraid, and lest they should say, he is dead in the Temple. Maimony in Iom. hakippurim, chap. 4. sect. 1. Chazkuni here saith, It is said before (in vers. 2.) In the cloud I will appeare, &c. and to the end that he might not beheld the Majestie of God, as it is written, No man shall see me and live, (Exod. 23. 20.) it was necessary, that he should first darken the house with Incense, and after that, he brought the blood in thither. upon] or, over the Testimanie, that is, over the Tables of the Law, which were in the Arke: see Exod. 25. 16. and 31. 18.

14 Vers. 14. blood of the bullocke] which was killed for his owne finnes, vers. 6. 11. and which had beene given (as the Hebrew Doctors write) unto one to stirre the same. Hence the Apostle obser-

veth how the high Priest went in, not without blood, which be offered for himselfe, &c. wherein he figured Christ, who should enter heaven, not by the blood of Goats and Bulls, but by his owne blood, Heb. 9.7.11, 12. though his blood was shed, not for himselfe, (in whom was no sinne) but for our iniquities.

sprinkle with his finger] this was one sprinkling, as Sol. Iarchi, and others doe note; and besides this, he after sprinkled seven times. upon] Hebrew, on the face, that is, the upper part; which the Greeke tranlateth, but upon: and so the Hebrew it selfe, as in vers. 15. and before] Hebrew, and to the face: so in vers. 15. seven times] a number oft used in the legall services; it signified a full and perfect applying, and purging by the blood of Christ: see Lev. 4.6. and compare Heb. 9. 14, -23. 1 Pet. 1. 2. The Hebrews understand these seven times, to be besides the former, and so to be eight in all: they relate the order of it thus: He killed the bullocke of the Sin-offring, which was for himselfe, and the goat on the which the Lot fell for the Lord. And he carried their blood into the Temple, and he sprinkled of the blood of them both, in this day, three and fortie sprinklings. First he sprinkled of the blood of the bullocke, eight sprinklings, in the most holy place, betwene the barres of the Arke; neere the Mercie-seat, within an hand-bredth: as it is said, AND BEFORE THE MERCI-SEAT, HE SHALL SPRINKLE, &c. (vers. 14.) And he sprinkled there, one above, and seven beneath. By word of mouth wee have beene taught, that this which is said, SEVEN TIMES, is more then the first sprinkling: And he counted them one, two, three, &c. lest he should forget. And afterwards, he sprinkled of the goats blood, betwene the barres of the Arke, eight times; one above and seven beneath; and counted them, as the former. And he turned and sprinkled in the Temple, upon the veile, of the bullockes blood, eight times, one above and seven beneath; for so it is said, OF THE BLOOD OF THE BULLOCKE, UPON THE MERCI-SEAT, AND BEFORE THE MERCI-SEAT. And he turned and sprinkled of the goats blood likewise, upon the veile, eight times, one above and seven beneath; (vers. 15.) and counted them as the former. And afterwards, he mixed together the two bloods, the bullockes blood, and the goats blood. And sprinkled of them both foure times, upon the foure corners of the golden Altar, which was in the Temple, (vers. 18.) and seven times on the midst of the same Altar, (vers. 19.) And at all these three and fortie sprinklings, he dipped his finger in the blood, one dipping for every sprinkling; and sprinkled not twice with one dipping. And the rest of the blood, he poured at the Westerne bottom of the (brazen) Altar that was without. Maim. in Iom. hakipp. c.3. f.4.5.

15 V.15. he shall kill the goat] after he had sprinkled of the bullockes blood, for himselfe, he left it in the Temple, upon a base of gold that was there; and afterwards went out of the Temple, and killed the goat: saith Maimon ibidem, ch.4. sect.2. for the people] that as he had offered for himselfe, so he might doe, for the ignorances of the people, as the Apostle saith, Heb. 9. 7. within the veile] into the most holy place, a figure of heaven, whither Christ, the forerunner cured for us; and whither also our hope, the sure Anker of our soules, entreth by him, Heb. 6. 19. 20. and 10. 19, -23.

16 Vers. 16. because of] or, from the uncleannesse, that is, purging it from them. Hereby appeareth the horror of sin: for though the people never went into the Holy place, much lesse into the Most holy; yet such was the power of their iniquities, that the holy Altar, Arke and Sanctuarie it selfe was defiled in the sight of God; and could not be cleansed without blood: so our sins doe defile Gods Church, & his most holy ordinances therein, and doe come up into heaven it selfe; wherinto we can have no entrance, but by the blood of Christ, cleansing us and our way, and purging our consciences from dead workes, to serve the living God, Heb. 9. 7, 11. 14. &c. and all] or, in all their sins: see after, on vers. 21. that dwelleth] that is, is placed, and remaineth; the Greeke tranlateth builded: unto which phrase, Paul hath reference, speaking of Christs greater and more perfect Tabernacle, not made with hands, that is, not of this building, Heb. 9. 11. The Temple of his bodie, (Joh. 2. 21.) and veile of his flesh, (Heb. 10. 20.) were by imputation of our sins, made as uncleane, and sprinkled with his owne precious blood; that he might reconcile us unto God, Esa. 53. 2 Cor. 5. 19. 21. It was necessary that (Moses Tabernacle, and Solomons Temple) the paternes of things in the heavens, should be purified with these (sacrifices fore-mentioned:) but the heavenly things themselves, with better sacrifices then these, Heb. 9. 23.

17 Vers. 17. not be any man] neither of the people, nor of the Priests: onely the high Priest himselfe performed this service in the sight of God. Figuring herein, our high Priest Christ Jesus, on whom God laid the iniquitie of us all, Esa. 53. 6. who his owne selfe, bare our sins in his owne body on the tree, 1 Pet. 2. 24. who hath by himselfe purged our finnes, Heb. 1. 3. and God by him, hath reconciled all things unto himselfe, even by him; whether they be things in earth, or things in heaven, Colos. 1. 20. no creature helping, no nor comprehending the riches of his grace, Wherein he hath abounded towards us, in all wisdom and prudence, and hath gathered together in one, all things in Christ, both which are in the heavens, and which are on earth, even in him, Ephes. 1. 8, 10. These things, the Angels desire to look into, 1 Pet. 1. 12. and now unto the Principalities and powers in heavenly places, is made knowne by the Church, the manifold wisdom of God, Ephes. 3. 10.

18 V. 18. shall go out] from the most holy place. to the altar] of incense which stood in the holy place. and of the blood of the goat] both bloods mixed together in a bason; as before is noted. and put] Hebr. and give: so this was a striking of his finger with the blood upon the hornes. And he began (they say) at the Northeast borne; so to the Northwest: then to the Southwest, and so to the Southeast: Maim. in Iom. hakipp. c.4. sect.2. And of this, when God first appointed the Altar to be made, he said, Aaron shall make atonement upon the hornes of it, once in the yeare; with the blood of the Sin-offring of atonements, Exod. 30. 10. This Altar being for incense, which figured prayers, (Psal. 141. 2.) and the hornes signi-

signifying the power of Christs mediation, (as from which voices, or answers to the prayers of the Saints were heard, Revel. 9. 13.) the cleansing of them by the blood of the Sin-offring, shewed how the infirmities in the faith and prayers of the Saints, are to be holpen and purified by the death and blood of Christ.

19 Ver. 19. blood upon it] After the Priest had put blood upon the foure hornes, He removed the coals and ashes which were on the golden Altar, so that the gold appeared: then he sprinkled of the mixed blood, on the cleane place of the Altar, seven times: by the south side, by the place where he had finished the putting there-of upon the hornes. And he went out, and poured the residue of the blood, at the Westerne bottome of the (brazen) Altar that was without; Maim. in Iom. hakipp. chap. 4. sect. 2. seven times] for a full and perfect purification, as in ver. 14. from the uncleannes] the imperfections and sinnes, which the people fell into, in their most holy service and prayers.

21 Ver. 21. shall impose] or, shall lay both his hands; which he now did in the name of the people, by this signe discharging them, and laying the burthen of all their sinnes upon the beast, a figure of Christ. See the notes on Levit. 1. 4. and all their sinnes] or, in, or, with all their sinnes: But the Greeke translateth it, and: and so the Hebr. often signifieth, as is noted on Gen. 2. 3. and on Exod. 17. 10. These three, comprehend sin of all sorts, which the Priest confessed in generall, with the three names here used, (as in the ages following is recorded) and asked mercie also for them all; saying, O Lord, thy people the house of Israel, have sinned, and done iniquitie, and trespassed before thee: O Lord make atonement now for the sinnes, and for the iniquities, and for the trespasses that thy people, the house of Israel, have sinned, and unrighteously done, and trespassed before thee: as it is written in the Law of Moses, Thy servants, that in this day, bee shall make atonement for you, &c. Maimony in Iom hakipp. chap. 4. sect. 2.

shall put] Heb. shall give, that is, affixe or fasten them upon the head of the Goat; which being also a figure of Christ, shewed how our sinnes should be imputed unto him, and God would lay upon him the iniquitie of us all; that he which knew no sinne, should be made sinne for us, Esa. 53. 6. 2 Cor. 5. 21. a fit man] or, a man appointed and prepared: Hebr. an opportune (a timely) man: which the Greeke translateth, a ready man; the Chaldee, a man that is prepared (or appointed) to go: and Sol. Larchi expoundeth it, appointed for it from the day before. Of this, the Hebrews write, that (in the ages after) the live Goat was led away by one of the Priests thereto appointed, unto a rocke in the wilderness, twelve miles (that is, nineteen furlongs) distant from Ierusalem. Every mile (they say) was seven furlongs and an halfe. They made ten booties between Ierusalem and that rocke in the wilderness, between every bootie, there was a miles space: and in every bootie, one man or more, that some might accompany him that led the Goat, from one bootie to the next: So there being a mile (that is, two thousand and cubits) between bootie and bootie, that was a Sabbath daies journey: and so farre they might accompanie him. And there remained between the last bootie and the rocke in the wilderness, two miles. At every bootie, they said unto the man, Loe here is meat, and here is water, if his strength failed him, and hee had need to eat, hee might eat: but there never was man (they say) that needed so to doe. [And without necessitie, no man might eat, for it was their most solenne Fast.] From the last bootie, they went not with him to the rock, but halfe way (one mile, their Sabbath daies journey) and stood a far off, to see what he did with the Goat. When he had put the Goat downe the rocke, they (at the booties aforesaid) waved with linen clothes (or white flags) to the end that they in Ierusalem, might know that the Goat was come to the wilderness. Talmud in Ioma, chap. 6. and Maimony in his Comment thereon, and in his Mischna, in Iom. hakippurim, chap. 3. sect. 7. &c. Of their Sabbath daies journey, see the notes on Exod. 16. 29.

Ver. 22. all their iniquities] by this it appeareth, that as the killed Goat figured Christ killed for the sins of his people: so this living Goat figured him also, who bare our griefes, and carried our sorrowes; and on whom God laid the iniquitie of us all: Esa. 53. 4, 6. And because Christ was not onely to die for our offences, but also to rise againe for our justification, Rom. 4. 25. to be crucified through weakness, yet to live by the power of God, 2 Cor. 13. 4. to be put to death in the flesh, but quickned by the Spirit, 1 Pet. 3. 13. and for that these two things could not fitly be shadowed by any one beast, which the Priest having killed, could not make alive againe; therefore God appointed two, that in the flaine beast, Christs death, in the live beast, his life and victorie might be fore-shadowed, Heb. 9. 23, 24, 28. See the like myserie in the two birds, for the cleansing of the Leper, Levit. 14. 6, 7. Or, the sending of this Goat into the wilderness (as the former was sacrificed in the Sanctuarie) might figure out the salvation of Christ, communicated with the Gentiles and people of the world, as Esa. 42. 1, 4, 11. & 49. 6. For the wilderness is sometime used to signifie peoples, Ezek. 20. 35. The Heb. say, The scape Goat made atonement for all the transgressions of the Law, both the lighter, and the more heauie transgressions, whether done presumptuously, or ignorantly, whether they were knowne unto a man, or unknowne; all are expiated by the Scape-goat, if so be the partie doe repent. Maimony in treat. of Repentance, chap. 1. sect. 2. This Goat was but a shadow of Christ: and unto Repentance, must be added Faith: for God hath set him forth, to be a propitiation through faith in his blood, Rom. 3. 25. land of separation] or, a land cut-off, a land separated, to weet, from other lands, or from all people: that is, as the Chaldee translateth it, a land that is not inhabited; which the Greeke calleth Abaton, waylesse, or inaccessible; where no man goeth: afterward Moses calleth it a wilderness. Or it may meane, a place decreed of, & determined whither to send him: for the Hebrew word sometime signifieth a decree, Job 22. 28. Dan. 4. 17. Hereby was figured, the utter ter abolishing of our sinnes by Christ; both from the face of God, that they should not appeare against us before him, to be imputed unto us: and also from us, that sin should have no more dominion over us, nor we serve it any longer; but having our consciences purged from dead workes, should serve the living God, 2 Cor. 5. 19. Heb. 9. 26. 1. Rom. 6. 6. 12. So the Prophet speaking of the like grace, saith unto God, Thou wilt cast all their sins into the depths of the sea, Mich. 7. 19. And this word which Moses here useth, is not elsewhere used in like sort for a land, but for cutting off of other things, and in particular is applied to Christ, working our redemption, that he was cut-off out of the land of the living, Esa. 53. 8. which the holy Ghost expoundeth thus; His life was taken from the earth, Act. 8. 33. and wherof himselfe speaking, said, Whither I goe, ye cannot come, Joh. 13. 33. That eternall Spirit, through which Christ offered himselfe without spot unto God, (Heb. 9. 14.) and by which he was made alive after death, (1 Pet. 3. 18.) inabled his flesh or manhood, to suffer such things as no other creature could come neere unto: and thereby Sin is put away, and the body of sin abolished, Heb. 9. 26. Rom. 6. 6. The Hebrews say, of this goat sent away, that the man which carried it, threw it downe the rocke, and so it died: Talmud in Ioma, chap. 6.

23 Ver. 23. Avim shall come] whiles the goat afore-said was going to the wilderness, these services following began, and other after them in this order, as the Hebrews have recorded; After he hath sent away the goat, by the hand of him that led him, he returneth to the bullocke and goat, whose blood he had sprinkled within the (Sanctuarie) and openeth them, and taketh out their fat, which he putteth in a vessel, to burne them upon the Altar. And he cutteth the rest of their flesh into great pieces, but one cleaving to another, and not parted asunder: and then he sendeth by the hand of others, to be carried out to the place of burning (without the campe, Levit. 16. 27.) When the (Scape-) goat is come to the wilderness, the high Priest goeth out into the womens Court to reade the Law. And while he is reading, they burne the bullocke and the goat in the place of the ashes (without the citie:) therefore he that seeth the high Priest when he readeth, seeth not the bullocke and the goat burne. When he readeth, all the people stand before him: and the minister of the Congregation taketh up the booke of the Law, and giveth it to the Chief of the Congregation, and he to the Sagan (or second chiefe Priest) and the Sagan giveth it to the high Priest, who standeth up when he receiveth it, and standeth and readeth the 16. of Leviticus, and Levit. 23. 27. - 32. &c. And when he readeth, he blesseth (God) before and after, &c. After this, he putteth off his white garments, and washeth himselfe, and putteth on his golden garments, and sanctifieth his hands and his feet, and offereth the goat, which is for the generall addition to this daies service, (Num. 29. 11.) and offereth his owne ram, and the peoples ram; as it is said, AND HE SHALL COME FORTH, AND SHALL MAKE HIS BURNT-OFFERING, AND THE BURNT-OFFERING OF THE PEOPLE: Levit. 16. 24. And he burneth (on the Altar) the fat of the bullocke, and of the goat that were burnt (without the Campe) And he offereth the daily evening sacrifice, [the Lambe, Numbers 28. 3.] and trimmeth the Lampes, as on other daies, (Exodus 27. 21.) After this, he sanctifieth his hands and his feet, and putteth off the golden garments, and putteth on his owne (common) garments, and goeth to his house; and all the people doe accompanie him to his house; and he keepes a feast, for that he is come out in peace, out of the Sanctuarie. Maimony in Im. hakippurim, chap. 7. sect. 7. - 11. and chap. 4. sect. 2. leave them there] to weete, (as in the ages following) they left them in some of the holy chambers which were about the Sanctuary, Ezek. 44. 19. Of this, the Hebrewes write, The white garments, wherein he served on the fasting day, he never served in them the second time; but they were laid up in the place where he put them off; as it is said, HE SHALL LEAVE THEM THERE; and they might not be put to any use, Maim. in Kilei hamikdash (or, Implements of the Sanctuarie) chap. 8. sect. 5.

24 Ver. 24. wash his flesh] that is, as the Greeke translateth, his body: so he washed before he put on the linnen garment, ver. 4. and this was an usuall rite, so oft as he shifted his clothes; as from this place the Hebrews teach, saying; Every time that he changeth garments, and putteth off garments, and putteth on other garments, he is charged to wash (or baptize.) And the high Priest washed five times, and sanctified, that is, washed his hands and feet) ten times this day. As, at first he put off his common garments which he wore, and washed (or baptised his whole body) and came-up and wiped himselfe, and put on the golden garments, and sanctified his hands and his feet. And he killed the daily sacrifice, and trimmed the Lampes, &c. and offered the bullocke and seven lambes. And after that he sanctified his hands and his feet, and put off the golden garments, and washed and wiped himselfe, and put on the white garments: and sanctified his hands and his feet, and served the service of the day, [as is before shewed.] Afterwards, he sanctified his hands and his feet, and put off the white garments, and washed himselfe and wiped, and put on the golden garments, and sanctified his hands and his feet; and offered the Goat for sinne, which was added to this daies service, and his owne Ram, and the peoples Ram, which were burnt-offerings: and burnt on the Altar the fat of the bullocke, and goat that were burnt without, and offered the daily evening sacrifice. And after that, he sanctified his hands and feet, and put off the golden garments, and washed and wiped himselfe, and put on the white garments, and sanctified his hands and feet; and went into the most holy place, and brought out from thence the incense-cup and the censur; and after that, sanctified his hands and his feet, and put off the white garments: and washed and wiped himselfe, and put on the golden garments, and sanctified his hands and feet, and burnt the evening incense due for every day, and trimmed the Lampes; and sanctified his hands and feet; and put-off the golden garments, and put on his common garments, and went out. All these washings and sanctifications were in the Sanctuary, except the first washing, which he might doe without, &c. If the high Priest were an old man, or sicke: they tooke off the cold from the water by irons made hot in the fire, or by mixing hot water with the cold.

eld. All other daies, the high Priest sanctifieth his hands and feet from the Laver [of brasse] as the other Priests doe: but this day, for honours sake, he sanctifieth from a golden vessell. Maimony in Iom. bakipp. chap. 2. sect. 2, 3, 4, 5. Of these and the like, the Apostle saith, their services stood only in meats and drinkes, and divers baptismes (or washings) and carnall ordinances imposed on them, untill the time of reformation (or bettering:) Heb. 9. 10. which spiritually taught them and us, to draw neare with a true heart, and full-assurance of faith, having our hearts sprinkled from an evil conscience; and our bodies washed with pure water, Heb. 10. 22. See the notes on Exod. 30. 19, 20. his garments] his ordinarie high Priests garments, appointed in Exod. 28. wherein he was to performe his daily service in the Sanctuarie. Sol. Iarchi expoundeth it, the eight garments wherein he serveth all daies of the yeare. shall make] or, shall doe, that is, shall offer his burnt-offring, that was the Ram, in ver. 3. and the peoples ram, ver. 5. which figured the accomplishment of their atonement, Levit. 1. 4. and the presenting of themselves unto God, as new creatures, to performe unto him their reasonable service, Rom. 12. 1.

25 Ver. 25. shall burne] or shall perfume: for the burning of the fat upon the Altar, and the burning of the body without the campe, ver. 27. Moses expresseth here, and usually by two divers words. What the fat signified, is noted on Ex. 29. 13. Lev. 3.

upon the altar] the braze altar in the courtyard; for on the golde altar it might not be burnt, Ex. 30. 9. 26 Ver. 26. be that sent away] that is, as the Chaldee explaineth it, be that led (or carried) away: that fit man fore-mentioned in ver. 21. for the scape-goat] Heb. for (or to Azazel,) which some take here to be the place in the wilderness. The Greeke translate it, that which was sent away unto dismission.

his flesh] in Greeke, his body: which was a signe that he was uncleane, as Levit. 15. 5. The like is said of the man that burned the red beiffer, of whose ashes, the water of sprinkling the unclean, was made, Num. 19. 8. afterward] at evening, for till then he was uncleane, Levit. 15. 5. After he had bene with the goat, at the rocke, he came and remained under the last boote, (of the ten before noted on v. 21.) untill it was darke: saith Maimony in Iom bakipp. c. 3. f. 7.

27 Ver. 27. without the campe] So the blood of this sacrifice was carried into the holy and most holy place; the fat was burned on the Altar in the court-yard; the body was burned without the camp. The mysterie is opened by the Apostle, that Christ our Sin-offring & sacrifice of atonement, and also our high Priest, entered into the holy place of heaven, not with the blood of others, but by his own blood, and obtained eternall redemption: Heb. 9. 11, 12, 13. And as the bodies of these beasts, were burnt without the campe: so, Iesus, that he might sanctifie the people with his own blood, suffered without the gate (of Jerusalem:) Let us goe forth therefore unto him, without the campe, bearing his reproach; for here have we no continuing citie, but we seeke one to come, Heb. 13. 11, -14. See the notes on Levit. 4. 12. and 6. 30.

28 Ver. 28. his flesh] in Greeke, his bodie: for the cause fore-shewed on ver. 26.

Ver. 29. a statute for ever] Hebr. for a statute of eternitie: that is, an everlasting ordinance. Meaning from yeare to yeare: till the yeare of Jubilee (as the Jewes use to speake) that is, till Christ should come, in whom all these figures have an end. So ever is ended at the Jubilee, as is noted on Exod. 21. 6.

tenth day] This service being done upon this day, every yeare; shewed the inability both of this Priesthood, and of these sacrifices, to make atonement in deed for the people; as it is written; For the Law having a shadow of good things to come, and not the very image of the things, can never with those sacrifices which they offered yeare by yeare continually, make the commers thereunto perfect. For then would they not have ceased to be offered, because that the worshippers once purged, should have had no more conscience of finnes: But in those, (there is) a remembrance againe of finnes every yeare. For it is not possible that the blood of bulls and of goats, should take away finnes. Wherefore, when [Christ] cometh into the world, he saith; Sacrifice and offring thou wouldest not; but a body hast thou prepared me, Heb. 10. 1, -5. The commandement of fasting, and sanctifying this tenth day, is againe repeated in Levit. 23. -27. -32. the sacrifices which it should have, more then other daies, are expressed in Numb. 29. 7, -11. And the Jubilee (which was every fiftieth yeare) began, and was solemnly proclaimed with trumpet, upon this tenth day, Lev. 25. 8, 9. a shadow of that acceptable yeare of the Lord, the yeare of freedome, which Christ hath proclaimed by the trumpet of his Gospel, Luke 4. 18, 19, 21. 2 Cor. 6. 2. afflict your soules] the Greeke translate, humble your soules; by the soule, the body also is comprehended, even the whole person, as is noted on Levit. 2. 1. Gen. 12. 5. Affliction or humiliation, is inwardly by godly sorrow for sinne, which worketh repentance, carefulnesse, indignation, feare, vehement desire, zeale and revenge, 2 Cor. 7. 10, 11. and a judging of our selves, 1 Cor. 11. 31. and washing our selves for the evils which we have committed, Ezek. 6. 9. Outwardly by fasting, and abstinence from all fleshly delights. By the Hebrew canons, they were to abstain this day from five things; from meat & drink; from washing themselves, from anointing, from putting on the shoes (and all fine apparell) and from carnall copulation. Maimony in treat. of the Rest of the tenth day, c. 1. f. 4, 5. The Scriptures confirm these; as David afflicted his soule with fasting, Psal. 35. 13. Daniel, by it, and by not anointing, Dan. 10. 3. 12. Israel, by putting of their ornaments Exod. 33. 4, 6. David, by going barefoot, 2 Sam. 15. 30. and wearing sackcloth, Psal. 35. 13. and not washing nor anointing. 2 Sam. 12. 20, 21. Uriah, by not lying with his wife, 2 Sam. 11. 11. But the chiefest of these was fasting, and the day is called the Fast, in Act. 27. 9. & the time by the Law, is from evening to evening, beginning the ninth day of the moneth at even, Levit. 23. 32. by which words the Hebrewes gather, that they were to begin to fast, and to afflict themselves in the evening of the ninth day, next before to the tenth, and so in the end of it, to tarry in their affliction, a litle of the night after the tenth day; and therefore, that it was

was necessary to adde somewhat of the working day, unto the holy day, both before and after. But they exempted from this Fast, such as were sicke, and all children under nine yeares of age. Maimony in treat. of the Rest of the tenth day, chap. 1. sect. 6. and chap. 2. sect. 8, 10. Moreover, under this name of afflicting themselves, and fasting, the Lord required the putting away of all sin; and amendment of life; as, To loose the bands of wickednesse; to undoe the heauie burthens, and to let the oppressed goe free, and to breake every yoke; to deale bread to the hungry, to cover the naked, and the like, Esa. 58. 6, 7. And so it figured our mortification with Christ; that as in the sacrifices killed, his humiliation unto the death, was fore-shadowed, Phil. 2. 8. so by the humiliation of the Church, our sufferings with him were signified; our baptising into his death and buriall, and our walking in newnesse of life, our old man being crucified with him; that the body of sin might be destroyed, Rom. 6. 3, 4, 6. 1 Pet. 2. 21. Unless we doe this, we may fast, but the Lord seeth it not; and afflict our soules, but hee taketh no knowledge, neither can wee make our voice to be heard on high, Esa. 58. 3, 4.

any worke] for this was a solemne Sabbath, vers. 31. and by ceasing from worke, figured that they which would have expiation and atonement by Christs day, must cease from their owne workes, to doe the workes of God; beleeving in him whom hee hath sent, Heb. 4. 10. Joh. 6. 29. stranger] in Greeke, Proselyte: by the homeborne, are meant, Israelites borne in that land: the stranger, was of the heathens, joynd to the Faith and Church of Israel: such were bound to all Israels ordinances. See Exod. 12. 19. 48, 49.

30 Ver. 30. he shall] that is, God by the Priest (as ver. 32. shall make atonement (or expiation) to cleanse (or purifie) you. Herein was figured, the power and efficacie of Christs Priesthood, and sacrifice: that he expiateth and maketh atonement for our sins with God, 1 Joh. 2. 1, 2. and cleanseth us by his blood and spirit from all sinne, 1 Joh. 1. 7. Romans 8, 9, 10, 11.

31 Ver. 31. sabbathisme] or rest: this word the Apostle keepeth in Heb. 4. 9. and being joynd to the word Sabbath, it noteth an exact and carefull rest: therefore God threatneth to destroy them that did any worke this day, Levit. 23. 30. See also the notes on Exod. 16. 23.

Ver. 32. whom he] that is, whom God shall anoint; or, which shall be anointed, as the Greek translateth, whom they shall anoint. Such words are often used without designing any person; as is noted on Gen. 16. 14. By this anointed, the high Priest is meant, Levit. 21. 10. shall fill] that is, shall consecrate, see Exod. 29. 9. The Greeke translateth, shall perfect (or consecrate) his hands. Herein he also figured the Sonne of God, who is our high Priest perfected (or consecrated) for evermore, Heb. 7. 28.

32 garments of holinesse] the foure fore-mentioned, ver. 4. called in Greeke, a holy stole (or robe:) which word is used in Revel. 6. 11. and 7, 9, 13, 14. where the Saints that came out of their tribulation, are arrayed in white stoles (or robes) which they have washed, and made white in the blood of the Lambe

Christ. The mysterie of these garments is there touched: and by it we may learne, why the high Priest, in the worke of Expiation, might have none but white garments this day.

Ver. 33. the Sanctuarie of holinesse] that is, as the Greeke translateth, the holy of the holy, meaning the most holy place: into which hee went first with incense and blood: vers. 12, 13, 14, 15, 16.

the Tent] the Holy place, or first Tabernacle, which he secondly expiated, ver. 16. &c. all the people] in Greeke, all the congregation. Because the expiation of the whole Church dependeth thus on the high Priest; so that if he were uncleane, or erred in his ministrations, he was in danger of death by the hand of God, (Lev. 10. 1, 2, 3. & 16. 2.) and so the Church should want atonement for their sins: therefore the high Councell or Magistrates, looked carefully unto him, both for his puritie, and for information of him in his duty this day.

It is said, that Seven daies before the day of atonement, they separated the high Priest from his owne house, to his chamber which was in the Sanctuarie: and kept him from his wife all those seven daies, lest his wife should be in her disease, and so he become uncleane seven daies, [as Levit. 15. 24.] and might not serve. And they appointed with him, another high Priest; that if any pollution happened unto him, the other might serve in his stead. Whether the pollution happened unto him before the daily morning sacrifice, or after he had offered the oblations; this (other) that was taken in his stead, needed no institution (or consecration) but began his administration where the first did leave off, &c. During these seven daies, they sprinkled him with the ashes of the heiffer, in the third day after his separation, and in the seventh, [according to Num. 19. 10, 12.] which was the evening of Expiation day; lest he should be defiled by any dead, and not know of it, &c. All the seven daies, they incured him with the services. Hee sprinkled the blood, and burned the incense, and trimmed the lampes; and burned the daily sacrifices on the Altar, that hee might be acquainted with the service on Expiation day.

And they appointed unto him some Elders, of the Elders of the Synedrion (or Councell) which did reade before him, and teach him the service of the day, and the order of it. And they spake to the high Priest to reade himselfe, lest he should have forgotten; or lest he should not have learned this thing. And on the even of the Atonement day, in the morning early, they set him at the East gate, and brought before him, Bulls, and Rammes, and Sheepe, that he might be acquainted, and incured with the service. All the seven daies, they restrained him not from meat or drinke: but in the even of Atonement day, they suffered him not to eat much, because meat bringeth sleepe; and they would not suffer him to sleepe, lest any accident (of the night, as Deut. 23. 10.) should be seene, &c. Maimony in Iam. bakip. chap. 1. sect. 3, -6. and Talmud. Bab. in Ioma, chap. 1. How ever it were for all these rites, the Lord who required sanctitie and cleannesse in all his Priests, at all times of their service, Lev. 22. 3. required it most carefully of the high Priest on this day; wherein he most solemnly figured Christ in his office and worke; of whom it is said, that In all things it becomed him to be made like unto his brethren, that hee might might be a mercifull and faithfull high Priest, in things pertaining to God, to make atonement for the sinnes of the people. For such an high Priest became us, who is holy, blamelesse, undefiled, separate from sinners, and made higher then the heavens; Heb. 2. 17. and 7. 26.

CHAPTER XVII.

Alaw that all sacrifices must be killed and offered in the Sanctuary, and no other where; 7, that they might no more sacrifice unto Devils. 18, They that did othe wife, should be cut off. 10, All eating of blood is forbidden upon like penalty. 13, A law for covering the blood of beasts and birds that were slain. 15, Against eating the flesh of any carcase, or of any torne thing, and how they that did it should cleanse themselves.

1 AND Jehovah said unto Moses, saying.
2 Speake unto Aaron, and unto his
3 sonnes, and unto all the sonnes of Isra-
4 el; and say unto them: This is the thing,
5 which Jehovah hath commanded, saying.
6 Every man of the house of Israel; that killeth 7 an Oxe, or Lamb, or Goat, in the Camp; or 8 that killeth it out of the Camp: And bring-9 eth it not, unto the doore of the Tent of the 10 congregation; to offer an oblation to Jeho-11 vah, before the tabernacle of Jehovah: blood shall be imputed unto that man, he hath shed blood; and that man, shall be cut off, from among his people. To the end that the sonnes of Israel may bring, their sacrifices, which they sacrifice, on the face of the field; even that they may bring them unto Jehovah, unto the doore of the Tent of the congregation, unto the Priest; and sacrifice them for sacrifices of Peace-offrings, unto Jehovah.
And the Priest shall sprinkle the blood, upon the Altar of Jehovah; at the doore, of the Tent of the congregation: and burn the fat, for a savour of rest, unto Jehovah. And they shall not sacrifice any more, their sacrifices, unto Devils; after whom, they have gone awhoring: This shall be unto them, a statute for ever, throughout their generations. And thou shalt say unto them; Every man, of the house of Israel; or of the stranger which sojourneth among you: that shall offer a burntoffring, or a sacrifice: And shall not bring it, unto the doore of the Tent of the congregation; to doe it, unto Jehovah: even that man,
shall be cut off, from his peoples.

10 And every man, of the house of Israel; or 11 of the stranger, that sojourneth among them; that shall eat, any blood: I will even set my face, against the soule that eateth blood; and will cut it off, from among the people thereof. For the soule of the fleh, it is in the blood: and I have given it to you, upon the Altar to make atonement, for your soules: for it is the blood, that maketh atonement for the soule. Therefore have I said, unto the sons of Israel; no soule of you, shall eat blood: and the stranger, that sojourneth

among you, shall not eat blood.

13 And every man, of the sonnes of Israel; 14 or of the stranger, that sojourneth among them; which shall hunt a hunting of wilde-beast, or of fowle, that may be eaten: he shall even pour out, the blood thereof; and cover it, with dust. For it is the soule of all fleh; the blood thereof it is for the soule thereof: and I have said unto the sonnes of Israel; ye shall not eat, the blood of any fleh: for the soule
of all fleh, it is the blood thereof; whosoever eateth it, shall be cut off.

15 And every soule, that shall eat a carcase,
and a torne thing; whether it be an home-borne person, or a stranger: he shall both wash his clothes, and bathe (his fleh) in water, and be uncleane untill the evening, and then he shall be cleane. And if he wash them not, and bathe not his fleh: then he shall beare, his iniquitie.

Annotations.

2 His sonnes] the Priests; for they were the sacri-ficers for the people; therefore this law is first directed unto them, then unto all the people. And as the extraordinary sanctification of the Church was appointed in chap. 16. so the ordinary and daily sanctification of all and every one is here taught; and how after their purification from all their sinnes, they should be carefull to serve the Lord in newnesse of life, in that place, and after that manner which he prescribed. the thing] Hebr. the word. Every man] or, Any man, whosoever. Hebrew, man, man, of the house of Israel;
whereunto the Greeke addeth, or of the Proselytes
that are adjoynd unto you: and so Moses addeth in verse 8. Targum Jonathan explaineth it, young man or old: and so in verse 10. and 13. killeth an Oxe] or Bull, meaning for sacrifice to God, verse
4. 5. for this law concerneth holy things, sanctified, and meet for the Altar, which might not be killed, nor offered (as v. 8.) out in the Lords Court.
This is often and instantly commanded, Deut. 12
5. 6. 13. 14. 26. 27. & 14. 23. 26. & 15. 19. 20. The Hebrew canons say, He that killeth holy things out of the court (of the Sanctuary) although he offer them not; if he doe it presumptuously, is guilty of eating-off, Lev. 17. 3. 4. If he kill in ignorance, he is to bring the Sin-offering appointed, Maim in Mignash bakrba- noth (or treat. of offering Lev. c. 18. l. 3. Hebr. Israel was taught to serve God in Christ only; for he is the true Tabernacle, Heb. 9. 11. in whom God
dwelleth among men, & by who all our service &

sacrifices are sanctified and made acceptable unto God in his church: so that none can come unto the Father but by him: Ioh. 14. 6. and he is the doore of the sheepe, Ioh. 10. 7. 9. The Tabernacle also figured the Church, where God requireth his worship to be performed by all his people: 1 Tim. 3. 15. Rev. 21. 3. Eph. 2. 20, 21, 22. Act. 2. 47. And so it is written, For in me the holy mountaine, in the mountaine of the height of Israel, saith the Lord God, there shall all the house of Israel, all of them in the land serve me: there will I accept them, and there will I require your offerings, and the first fruits of your oblations, with all your holy things. Ezek. 20. 40. in the Camp which is described in Numb. 2. answerable whereto the city Jerusalem was, in the ages following: as is noted on Exod. 40. 33.

4 Ver. 4. blood that is, murder: for such corruption of Gods worship, is hatefull unto him as blood-shed. So in Esa. 66. 3. he saith, He that killeth an ox, is as if he slew a man. So the Hebrews, as Sol. Iarchi here saith, As if he shed the blood of man, for which he is guilty of his life. he hath shed blood Targum Ionathan explaineth it thus, And it shall be to him, as if he had shed innocent blood. cut-off in Chaldee, destroyed: so the Greeke, that soule shall be destroyed.

5 Ver. 5. the face of the field that is, the open field: see the notes on Levit. 14. 7. As the heathens, so the Israelites (before the making of the Sanctuary,) sacrificed every where in the fields, high places and mountaines. The Hebrewes say, Before the Tabernacle was set up, the high places were lawfull; and the service was by the Firstborne: after the Tabernacle was erected, high places were unlawfull, and the service (was performed) by the Priests. Talmud Bab. in Zebachim, chap. 14. Here Israel is restrained to the Tabernacle, but the other nations were not so but might sacrifice other where, as did Iob and his friends, Iob 1. 5. and 42. 8. 9. And in the Hebrew canons it is said, He that killeth the holy things of the heathens, without (the Sanctuary,) is guilty: likewise he that offereth them without. But it is lawfull for the heathens to offer burnt offerings unto God, in every place; and he himselfe may offer in an high place which he hath builded. But it is unlawfull (for a Jew) to helpe him, &c. for loe we are forbidden to offer without (the Court.) And it is lawfull to teach them, and to learne them how they may offer unto the name of the Blessed (God.) Maim. in Maaseh hakorbanoth, ch. 19. sect. 16. The same liberty which the nations had before the Law, we have now againe spiritually under the Gospel, Ioh. 4. 21. - 24. which God foretold, saying, My name shall be great among the nations, and in every place incense shall be offered unto my name, and a pure offering. Mal. 1. 11. unto the doore that is, into the courtyard: see the notes on Levit. 3. 3.

of the congregation or, of assemblie: in Greeke, of the testimonie: so in verse 9.

Verse 6. a favour of rest in Greeke, a favour of sweet-smell: which the Chaldee expoundeth, to be accepted with favour before the Lord. Of these words and rites, see Levit. 1. 9.

7 Ver. 7. unto devils as all Jewes and Gentiles did, which sacrificed not by faith in Christ, and in such sort and place, as God approved of. Deut. 32. 17. 1 Cor. 10. 20. and as they had done when they made the golden calfe, Exod. 32. at which time, they sacrificed unto the idol, Act. 7. 41. and so unto the divell; as Ieroboams idols are also called Devils, 2 Chron. 11. 15. and Antichrists likewise. Revel. 9. 20. Devils are in Hebrew named here Sagmim, that is, rough and ragged as hairy goats; because in such shape they sometime appeared, like Satyres: Esa. 34. 14. or of their horror and terror which they cause unto men: for so the word originally signifieth. The Chaldee calleth them Shedin of their wasting and destroying the creatures: which name Moses after giveth them in Deut. 32. 17. The Greeke translateth unto Vaine things.

gone a whoring the Chaldee expoundeth it, or committed idolatrie: which sin is often called whoredome or fornication: (see the notes on Exodus 20. 5. and 34. 15. Levit. 20. 5. 6. Deut. 31. 16.) because it violateth the covenant betwene God and his people, which is called marriage, Hosea 2. 2. 19, 20, and 3. 1.

Ver. 8. stranger or sojourner, in Greeke a prophete: meaning a heathen joyned to the Jewes religion and church: so after in vers. 10. and 13. shall offer as the sacrifice might not be killed, ver. 3. so neither might it be offered out of the Sanctuary, though it were killed therein. Whereupon the Hebrewes say, He that killeth the holy things, and offereth them out of (the Sanctuary,) is twice guilty: once for killing, and once for offering. If he kill within, and offer without, he is guilty for offering: likewise if he kill without, and offer within, he is guilty for killing. Maimony in Maaseh hakorbanoth, chap. 18. sect. 5. And Sol. Iarchi (on Levit. 17.) saith, the Law speaketh of offering a Burnt-offering, to shew that a man is guilty for burning the pieces (of the Sacrifice) without the campe, as is he that killeth it without: that if one kill, and another offer, both of them are guilty. a sacrifice to weat, of Peace-offerings, as the Chaldee explaineth it. As by the doctrine of our Saviour, in Matth. 23. 19. the Altar sanctified the gift: so the Hebrewes understand this Law, for sacrifices offered by fire, and upon an altar without, saying: He that offereth without, is not guilty, till he offer upon an altar which he hath made without: but if he offer on a Rocke or on a stone, he is free, [to weat,] from the judgement of death; for it is not called Korban (an offering) except it be on an Altar, yea though it be without: as it is written. (in Gen 8. 20.) And Noe built an altar. Maim. in Maaseh hakorbanoth, chap. 19. sect. 1.

Ver. 9. doore of Tent and so in ages following, to the doore of the House or Temple, that is, in the courtyard. And if the Tabernacle or Temple should haply be burnt, (as it was by the Babylonians, 2 King. 25. 9.) yet was it lawfull to offer in the courtyard upon the altar, as Ezra did after their returne, Ezr. 3. 3. 4. 5. 6. So the Hebrewes say, Who so killeth holy things at this time, and offereth them out of the Court, is guilty: because it is meet he should offer within. For loe it is lawfull to offer, although there be no house. Because the first bullesse sanctifieth for that time present, and for the time to come. Maimony in Maaseh hakorb. chap. 19. sect. 25. It figured, that that our service unto God, must be by faith in Christ, and is the communion of his Church; as before is shewed on verse 2.

to do it, that is, to offer it; see the notes on Exod. 10. 25. See also off] in Greeke, that soule shall be destroyed; as in v. 14.

10 Verse 10. every man] Hebr. man man; which Jonathan expoundeth young man or old man: as in vers. 3. and 13. the stranger in Greeke, of the people admitted unto you. This Law therefore seemeth not to binde the heathens, any more then the former of sacrificing. vers. 5. so in v. 12. & 13.

say blood] so weet, of soule or beast; as is explained in Leviticus 7. 26. and this at his common table; for as the former lawes were for sanctifying the people in their holy things; so these which follow are for their civill conversation.

is said it maketh atonement for the soule; (verse 11.) let any should think he is not guilty save for the blood of holy things, the scripture saith any blood. Chazkuni on Leviticus 17.

will fit] Hebr. will give my face, which the Chaldee expoundeth my anger; and so face is often used for anger; which appeareth in the countenance; as, I will appease his face, Gen. 32. 20. and, the face of the Lord hath divided them, Lam. 4. 16. and, I will not cause my face to fall upon you, Jer. 3. 12. and the face of the Lord, is upon them that do evil, 1 Pet. 3. 12. and many the like.

the soule] which the Chaldee expoundeth the man. See the notes on Gen. 12. 5.

cut it off] that is, destroy him, as the Chaldee and Greeke translate. The Hebrewes say, He that eateth so much as an olive of blood, presumptuously, is guilty of cutting-off: if ignorantly, he is to bring the sin-offering appointed. And the thing is plain by the law, that he is not guilty, but for all blood of cattell, beasts and birds only; whether they be unclean or cleane, Leviticus 7. 26. But the blood of fishes, and of locusts, and of creeping things, and the blood of man, they are not guilty for them, by the name of blood. The blood therefore of cleane fishes, and locusts, is lawfull to be eaten or drunke. And the blood of unclean locusts and fishes is unlawfull, because it is the juice of their bodies. Man's blood is unlawfull, by the doctrine of the scribes, if it be separated (from the body): but one may swallow downe the blood of his teeth, without prohibition. Maimony in treat. of Forbidden meats, chap. 6. sect. 1. 2.

11 Verse 11. the soule] that is, the life: see Gen. 9. 4. So in Targum Jonathan it is expounded here, and in verse 13. the life of the soule.

of the flesh] the Gr. addeth of all flesh; & so Moses speaketh in v. 14. is in the blood the Greeke saith, is the blood thereof; as in verse 14. which blood is figuratively called the life, because the seat thereof is in the blood, as Moses here sheweth: so that if the blood be gone, the life is gone with it, as daily experience confirmeth. Hereupon David saith, What profit is in my blood? Psal. 30. 10. that is, in my life: and the shedding of blood, is the taking away of ones life, Gen. 9. 6. Chazkuni explaineth it thus, For the soule of the flesh, i. of every creature, is hanged in the blood; and therefore I have given it to make atonement for the soule of man: the soule commeth and maketh atonement for the soule. have given it] to weet, the blood, and so the life or soule of the beast, to make atonement for your soules, that is, to be the expiation and rancome for your life or soule: in figure of Christ, whose blood was to be shed for the remission of finnes, Matth. 26. 28. through which he should make peace, Coloss. 1. 20. and men have redemption, Ephes. 1. 7. who was to give his soule (or life) for a rancome for many, Matth. 20. 28. And this is the cause why God forbiddeth all blood, that men might be kept in faith and reverend expectation of the blood of Christ, which being once shed, should spiritually be given unto his people for to drinke by faith, unto the life and salvation of their soules, Joh. 6. 53. 54. 55. And to teach the people not to ascribe the work of their salvation unto themselves, or their owne workes, but unto Christ onely, was this prohibition of blood: and the like was for the fat of all such beasts, as had the fat burned on the Altar, which therefore might not be eaten of men. See the notes on Levit. 3. 17. and 7. 25. 26.

it is the blood] not of bulls and goats (save onely in shadow) for it is impossible that such blood should take away sin, Heb. 10. 4. but the blood of Christ is it that maketh atonement, and cleanseth from all sin, Heb. 9. 12. and 10. 19. 1 Joh. 1. 7. And as the Apostle saith, Without shedding of blood is no remission, Heb. 9. 22. so the Hebrew doctors, from these words of Moses, say, There is no remission of sins, but by blood; as it is written, For it is blood that maketh atonement for the soule. Talmud in Ioma. c. 1.

12 Verse 12. Therefore] in Greeke, For this cause. Although other reasons may be rendered of the forbidding of blood, as to restrain men from cruelty, or from communion with Idolaters, (for the Idols, or wise men of Chaldea, used to eat blood, when they conversed with devils, and by them, fore-told things to come, whereas otherwise, the Chaldeans eschewed blood as an unclean thing, as Maimony sheweth in Morah nebuchim;) yet the maine, if not the only cause, is given here of God, to be the use of blood upon the Altar, for their atonement; which was moerly figurative, and which had the end & accomplishment in Christ, Coloss. 2. 16, 17. And besides the former signification, as the not eating of the flesh of such sacrifices, as had their blood carried into the holy place, signified that they which cleaved to the rudiments of Moses law, should have no portion in Christ, (as is shewed on Lev. 6. 30: sic Heb. 13. 10, 13.) so the not eating of blood, which made atonement for the soules of men, seemeth also to signify, that they which cleaved unto the legall sacrifices, should not eat, that is, not have communion, benefit or nourishment to their soules: but they which come unto Christ by faith, do eat the flesh, and drinke the blood (in spirit and truth) by which their atonement is made with God, Joh. 6. Matth. 26. compared with Heb. 13. 10. &c. And as the way into the Holiest of all, was not yet made manifest, while the first Tabernacle was yet standing, Heb. 9. 8. so the communion with that blood, whereby atonement for sins was made, was not yet fully manifested, while as the outward Tabernacle, and figurative sacrifices therein, were in use.

Verse 13, thou shalt kill and so take it by hunting. This law for wild-beasts caught by hunting, concerneth tame beasts also, as touching the slaying of them; as is said Deut. 12. 21. thou shalt kill of thy herd and of thy focke, &c. and thou shalt eat. And as it is said in Deut. 15. 22. of the blemished firstlings, which were to be eaten in their cities, as the Roe-bucke, and as the Hart, From which words the Hebrewes say, Here thou art taught, that the wild-beast and the tame, are alike in his business of killing, &c. Maimony in Schechitah (or treat. of killing beasts:) chap. 1. sect. 1. that may be eaten for which is usually eaten: which Targum Jonathan expoundeth that is lawfull to be eaten. thou shalt not eat the flesh of any beast which is slain by itself, or, when shall be shed the blood thereof: so that no flesh of beast or bird might be eaten in Israel, unless the blood were orderly let out, and the flesh cleansed of it. And when the people in a warre, flying upon the spoile, slew cattell on the ground, and did eat the flesh not purified from the blood, they sinned against the Lord: till Saul tooke order for the more lawfull killing of them, 1 Sam. 14. 32. 33. 34. Of this point, the Hebrewes have these rules. It is commanded, that who so will eat the flesh of any cattell, wild beast, or fowle; it be slain, and afterwards eaten. He that slayeth, bleaseth God first, who sanctifieth us by his commandments, and hath given a charge concerning the slaying. And it is unlawfull to eat of that which is slain, all the while that it doth tremble. And who so eateth thereof, before the soule (the life) be gone out, transgresseth. Fishes and Locusts, there is no need to slay them: but the catching of them, maketh them lawfull. Behold he saith (in Numb. 11. 22.) Shall the flocks and the herds be slain for them to suffice them? or shall all the fishes of the sea be gathered for them? The gathering of the fish, is as the slaying of the beasts. So of the Locusts, there is mentioned their gathering, ovely, Esa. 33. 4. that if any of them dye in the water, they may be eaten, yet it is lawfull to eat them alive. The place where the beast must be slain, is the necke. The instrument to slay it with, may be any knife of metall, or of stone, or of glasse and the like cutting things, which are sharpe, and have no gap in them. It is lawfull to slay in all places without the court (of the Sanctuary,) for within the court, they slay but the holy things of the altar onely: common beasts or fowles, may not be slain within the court: Deut. 12. 14. 15. So that which is slain out of the place (which God hath chosen) is lawfull to be eaten in any of the gates: but he that slayeth common things within the court, that flesh is unlawfull to be used; but they bury it. Any man may slay, as the deafe, or the foole, or the childe, &c. if others looke that it be slain lawfully: but if a knife fall of it selfe, and slay, though it be after the manner of slaying, yet it is unlawfull; for it is said THOU SHALT KILL, (Deut. 12. 21.) so it must be slain by mankinde. He that slayeth a beast in the name of a sacrifice for a vow, or a sin-offering which he oweth; it is unlawfull to be eaten: &c. Maim. in Schechitah ch. 1. and 2. &c. The taking of beasts and birds by hunting, may signifie the converting of sinners by the preaching of the Gospell; as the catching of fishes, is applied to the catching of men, Luk. 5. 9. 10. And as Peter when he was called to preach the word unto, and communicate with the Gentiles, was bidden in a vision to kill beasts, and eat, Act. 10. 12, 13. 28. so this law for killing of beasts and burying their blood, seemeth to figure out the mortifying of sinners by the word of God, and burying of the old man and naturall sinfull life; after which, communion with them is lawfull. Rom. 6. 2, 3, 4. or it is with dust The Greeke translath, earth shall cover it. The covering of blood is in use (they say) both within the land of Israel, and without the land: of common beasts, but not of the sanctified. Talmud in Cholin, c. 6. This taught a reverend regard which they should have of the soule or life of the beast, which was in the blood: that it should be buried with a kinde of honour: for buriall is honourable. Eccles. 6. 3. It also shewed the lawfulness of killing these creatures for food; that their blood being covered, should not be imputed unto them of God: as appeareth by the contrary, Iob 16. 18. O earth, cover not thou my blood; and Ezek. 14. 7, 8. Her blood is in the midst of her; she set it upon the top of a Rocke, she poured it not upon the ground, so cover it with dust: that it might cause honour to come up to take vengeance, &c. where blood not covered, signifieth a crying to God for vengeance. The Hebrewes performed this charge carefully; for in their canons it is said, We are commanded to cover the blood of the cleane beast or cleane fowle that is slain, Leviticus 17. 13. Therefore we are bound to blesse before the covering of it. Blessed art thou O Lord our God, King eternal, which hath sanctified us by his commandments, and given us a charge to cover the blood. He that killeth fowles and many sorts of wild-beasts in one place: bleaseth with one blessing for them all; and maketh one covering of all (their blood.) If the blood be mixt with water, if there be in it the appearance of blood, it ought to be covered: otherwise, it is free: &c. If the blood be suncke into the ground, yet if the signe (or marke) thereof may be discerned; it ought to be covered. We are not bound to cover any blood, but of the slain beast which is lawfull to be eaten; as is said (in Levit. 17. 13.) THAT MAY BE EATEN: &c. Wherewith must it be covered? With any kinde of dust, or earth, lime, chaffe, sand, or other like rubbish that is small as powder: but not with a basket, or a stone, or thicke dung &c. which are no kinde of dust. It may be covered with embers, or ashes of any sort. He that slayeth must lay dust underneath, and after that slay, and after that cover it with dust: and he that slayeth, he must cover it. And if he have not covered it, and see it afterward, he is bound to cover it: for this is a commandment by it selfe, and dependeth not upon the slaying onely. And he may not cover it with his foot, but with his hand, or with the knife, or with an instrument (or vessel,) lest this rite grow into a contempt, and so the commandment concerning it be contemned. For the honour is not to the commandment it selfe, but to the blessed (God) which commanded it; who hath delivered us from groping in darknes, and hath ordained us a Lampe, to make straight the things that are crooked, and a Light to teach the pathes of righteousness: and so it is said, (in Psa. 119. 105.) Thy word is a Lampe unto my foot, and a light unto my path. Maimony in Schechitah, chap. 14. sect. 1. &c.

Verse

Verf. 14, the soule] that is the life: as Jonathan expounds it, the life of the soule. for the soule] Heb. in the soule. It is often in stead of For: but some here keepe the usuall signification, and change the order; as Chazkuni interprets it, in the blood thereof is the soule thereof. But Iarchi thus, the blood is to it in stead of the soule; for the soule hangeth in it. the blood of any flesh] to wit, of beasts or birds, not any of their blood. Lev. 7. 26. So not onely that which commeth out in the slaying of the beast, but that remaineth within in the heart or other parts, is unlawfull to be eaten. The blood which is the iuyce (of of the beast) and the blood of the members, as the blood of the milke, and the blood of the kidneies, and the blood of the stones, and the blood that is gathered in the heart, and the blood that is found in the liver; who so eateth of them is not to be cut off, but is beaten: for it is said, ye shall not eat, any blood. Of that for which a man is to be cut off, he saith, FOR THE SOULE OF THE FLESH IS IN THE BLOOD: he is not guilty of cutting off, but for the blood wherein the soule (or life) goeth out. Maimony in treat. of Forbidden meates, chap. 6. sect. 4. is the blood] figuratively spoken, for it is in the blood, as verse 11.

Verf. 15, every soule] that is, as the Chaldee translath, every man: as verse 10. a carcase] to wit, that which died of it selfe, or is killed by an other thing, and is not orderly slaine: see Lev. 7. 24. Of this the Hebrewes say, He that eateth (presumptuously) so much as an olive of the flesh of any cattell that is dead, or wilde beast that is dead, or foule that is dead, is to be beaten. And whatsoever is not killed so as is meet, loe that is a dead-carasse. Nothing is forbidden by the name of a carasse, but the sorts of cleane things onely; because they are fit to be slaine, and if they be slaine, after a lawfull manner, they are lawfull to be eaten. But uncleane things, whose slaying availeth them not, whether they be duly slaine, or dye alone, or the flesh be cut off from them alive; who so eateth of them is not beaten as for a carasse, or a torne thing; but as for eating of uncleane flesh. Who so eateth a cleane bird alive all of it; is beaten as for eating a carasse. Who so eateth of the flesh of an untimely-birth of a cleane beast, is beaten as for eating of a carasse. And it is unlawfull to eat of any beast that is borne, untill the eight night (after,) Exodus 22. 30. for who so varieth not eight dayes for a beast, it is as an untimely-birth: though he is not beaten for that. The law forbiddeth a dead thing, and that is a carasse: and forbiddeth that which inclineth to dye, though it be not already dead, and that is the torne thing. There is no difference in the death, whether it dye of it selfe alone, or whether it fall and dye, or whether it be strangled untill it dye, or that a wilde beast hath rent and killed it. Maimony in treat. of Forbidden meates, chap. 4. sect. 1, 2, 3, 4, 8. As the forbidding of uncleane meates. Levit. 11. spiritually forbad communion with wicked persons, Acts 10. 12-28. So this prohibition of things not duly slaine, forbiddeth in myserie, to have religious communion with such as are dead in their trespasses & sins, and which are not mortified by the works of Gods word and spirit, Ephes. 2. 1, 2, 3, 2 Cor. 6. 16, 17. Colos. 2. 13. and 3. 5. By the former explanation out of Maimony it appeareth that the strangled thing forbidden by the Apostles unto the Gentiles together with blood, in Acts 15. 20, 29. was the carasse or dead thing here spoken of, for the Law otherwise mentioneth not the strangled. And this compared with Deuteronomy 14. 21. where the Gentiles are permitted to eat such things; giveth light to the true meaning of that decree in Acts 15. and a torne thing] and is here for or, distinguishing and disjoyning it from the carasse aforesaid. Any cleane beast or bird, which by other beast or fowle, or any other way, was torne or maimed, but not fully dead, is here meant: as is noted upon Exodus 22. 31. where this law is first given, and shewed to tend also unto sanctification. If it be torne and dead, it is a carasse (forementioned,) but this is a different precept, and so meaneth torne things yet living: as the Hebrewes observe. Maimony in Forbidden meates, chap. 4. sect. 6. Again, The torne thing spoken of in the Law, is that which is inclining to die. And it is not called torne, but that the scripture speaketh by an instance; as that a Lion or the like, hath torne it and broken it, and it is not yet dead. And there are other sicknesses (or diseases) which if they happen unto it, it is accounted torne. Maimony in Shechitah, chap. 5. sect. 1, 2. These beasts torne, or inclining to death, figured such persons as the Apostle liketh unto naturall brut beasts made to be taken [for a prey] and destroyed, which shall be corrupted (or utterly-perish) in their owne corruption: 2 Pet. 2. 12. Where the Greeke words eis balosin, that is, for a prey, or to be taken: seeme to expresse the Hebrew zerephab, the torne thing here mentioned: as in Job 24. 5. the Hebrew lat areph, for a prey; is turned in Greeke eis balosin, by Aquila an ancient interpreter. So that the eating of such, that is the communion with them, is by this law forbidden: such flesh was to be cast unto the dogge: Exodus 22. 31. borne borne] the naturall Israelite. or a stranger] of the Profelytes, as the Greeke translath: that is, heathens converted to the faith & Church of Israel. For if they were not joyned Profelytes, the strangers in Israel might eat these things; as Moses sheweth in Deuteronomie 14. 21. laying of the dead thing (or carasse,) thou shalt give it unto the stranger that is in thy gates, (which the Chaldee there expoundeth the uncircumcised inhabitant,) that he may eat it. For the scripture mentioneth three sorts of strangers, open Idolaters, which might not dwell in the land of Israel: others that practised not Idolatrie, but yeilded to some chief grounds of true religion, and such might dwell in the gates or cities of Israel: and the third sort converts or profelytes, which were bound to all the Law, as the Jewes themselves; and such are spoken of throughout this chapter. Of all these three sorts, see the annotations on Exodus 12. 43, 45, 48. his flesh] or, as the Greeke translath, his body: which supply is here added from the next verse, where Moses expresseth it. the evening] the end of the day, and beginning of a new. This washing and bathing, figured a renewing by repentance and faith in Christ to remission of sinnes, with sanctification by the spirit, 1 Cor. 6. 11. Rev. 1. 5. Heb. 10. 22. See the notes on Levit. 15.

- 16 Ver. 16. his flesh] his body with water, saith the Greeke version: so Paul speaketh of our bodies washed with pure water, Heb. 10. 22. It figured their cleansing by repentance, as Iohn said, I baptise you with water unto repentance, Matth. 3. 11. his iniquitie] that is, his guiltinesse, and his punishment. See the notes on Gen. 19. 15.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 God forbideth his people to doe after the manner of the heathens. 6, Unlawfull mariages and copulations, with neere kindred. 19, Other unlawfull lusts. 21, Idolatrie. 23, and beastinesse; 24, wherewith the Canaanites were defiled, and for which the land should spue them out. 26, By whose example Israel is warned to keepe Gods statutes and judgments, lest the like evils came upon them also.

- 1 AND Jehovah spake unto Moses, saying. Speake unto the sonnes of Israel; and say unto them: I, am Jehovah
2 your God. After the doing of the land Egypt, wherein he dwelt, shall ye not do: and 3 after the doing of the land of Canaan, whither I bring you, shall ye not doe: and in 4 their statutes, ye shall not walke. My judgements shall ye doe, and my statutes shall ye 5 keepe, to walke in them: I, am Jehovah your God. And yee shall keepe my statutes, and 6 my judgements, which a man shall doe, and shall live by them: I, am Jehovah.
7 None of you shall approach, unto any neere-kinne of his flesh, to uncover (their)
8 nakednesse: I, am Jehovah.
9 The nakednesse of thy father, and the nakednesse of thy mother, shalt thou not uncover: she is thy mother, thou shalt not uncover her nakednesse.
10 The nakednesse of thy fathers wife, shalt thou not uncover: it, is thy fathers nakednes.
11 The nakednesse of thy sister, the daughter of thy father, or the daughter of thy mother; whether she be borne at home, or born abroad: thou shalt not uncover their nakednesse.
12 The nakednesse of thy sonnes daughter, or of thy daughters daughter; thou shalt not uncover their nakednesse: for they, are thy nakednesse.
13 The nakednesse of thy fathers wives daughter, begotten of thy father; she is thy sister: thou shalt not uncover her nakednesse.
14 The nakednesse of thy fathers sister, thou shalt not uncover: she, is thy fathers neere-kin.

The nakednesse of thy mothers sister, thou shalt not uncover: for she, is thy mothers neere-kinne. 13

The nakednesse of thy fathers brother, thou shalt not uncover: unto his wife. thou shalt not approach; she, is thine aunt. 14

The nakednesse of thy daughter-in-law, thou shalt not uncover: she, is thy sonnes wife; thou shalt not uncover her nakednesse. 15

The nakednesse of thy brothers wife, thou shalt not uncover: it, is thy brothers nakednesse. 16

The nakednesse of a woman, and of her daughter, thou shalt not uncover: her sonnes daughter, or her daughters daughter, thou shalt not take, to uncover her nakednes; they are neere-kinne, it is wickednesse. 17

And a woman unto her sister, thou shalt not take; to vexe (her), to uncover her nakednesse upon her, in her life. 18

And unto a woman, in the separation of her uncleannesse: thou shalt not approach, to uncover her nakednesse. 19

And unto thy neighbours wife, thou shalt not give thy copulation, for seed, to defile thy selfe with her. 20

And of thy seed shalt thou not give, to cause-to passe-through (the fire) unto Molech: and thou shalt not profane, the name of thy God; I, am Jehovah. 21

With a male; thou shalt not lye, like copulation with a woman: it, is abomination. 22

Neither shalt thou give thy copulation, with any beast, to defile thy selfe therewith: neither shall a woman, stand before a beast, to lye downe thereto; it, is confusion. 23

Be not ye defiled, in any of these (things): for in all these, the nations are defiled; which I cast-out, from your faces. And the land is defiled; and I doe visit the iniquity thereof, upon it: and the land spueth out, the inhabitants thereof. 24

You shall therefore keep my statutes, and my judgements; and shall not doe, any of these abominations; neither the homeborne, nor the stranger that sojourneth among you. For all these abominations, have the men of the land done, which were before you: and the land, is defiled. That the land 25

spue not out, you also; when ye defile it: as it spued out, the nation, which was before you. For whosoever shall doe, any of these abominations: even the soules that doe 26

them, shall be cut-off, from among their people. Therefore, ye shall keepe my charge; not to doe, any of the statutes of abominations, 27

tions, which were done before you; and ye shall not be defiled in them: I am Iehovah your God.

Annotations.

3 Doing] that is, doings or actions, as the Greek and Chaldee translate: the singular number impheth all and everie one of their unlawfull practices. Land] which the Chaldee explaineth, the people of the land. Of Egypt, the scripture testifieth, that it was an Idolatrous land, and there Israel had beene defiled, Eze. 20. 7. 8. and 23. 8. Likewise of Canaan, Levit. 20. 23. therefore these two are expressly named, and all other implied. statutes] or, decrees, ordinances described by their lawes; either for religion or otherwise if they were superstitious. The Hebrew doctors explaine it thus; We may not walke in the statutes of the beathens, nor be like unto them, either in apparell, or in haire [Lev. 19. 27.] or any the like, Lev. 18. 3. But Israel must be separated from them and knowne by their apparell and their other workes, as they are separated from them in their knowledge and opinions: and so he saith (Lev. 20. 26.) I have separated you from (other) peoples. A man must not apparell himselfe with the apparell that is peculiar unto them, nor let the locks of his head grow, like the lockes of their heads, nor shave off the sides, and leave the haire in the midst, as they doe; &c. nor build places, as they build temples for idolatrie, &c. Maimony treat. of Idolatrie, chap. 11. sect. 1.

4 Verf. 4. my statutes] that is, mine only; as, him thou shalt serve, Deut. 6. 13. is expounded by our Saviour, him only thou shalt serve: Matt. 4. 10. It meaneth also all my statutes, Deuter. 12. 32. and so The words of this law, Deut. 27. 26. is explained by the Apostle, all things which are written in the booke of the law, Ga. 3. 10. therefore in the next verse here, the Greeke version addeth, And ye shall keepe all my statutes. Of this it is said; Iehovah who brought you up out of the land of Egypt, with great power, and a stretched out arme, him shall ye feare, and him shall ye worship, and to him shall ye doe sacrifice, and the Statutes, and the judgements, and the Law, and commandments which he wrote for you, ye shall observe to doe for evermore, and ye shall not feare other Gods; and the Covenant which I have made with you, ye shall not forget, &c. 2 King. 17. 36, 37, 38. By this therefore God forbiddeth them all mens inventions, Eccles. 7. 29. the works of their owne hands, Ier. 25. 6. and the statutes of the Kings of Israel, which they after made without the commandment of the Lord, 2 King. 17. 8. Mat. 6. 16.

5 Verf. 5. shall live by them] or, in them: that is, shall have eternall life of God, for doing them; and so the Chaldee paraphraseth, he shall live by them to life eternall: and as Solomon Iarchi saith, in the world that is to come. This and the like promises elsewhere, as in Eze. 20. 13. are legall, and differ from the promises of the Gospell; as the Apostle observeth saying; The just shall live by faith: and the Law is not of faith, but the man that doth them, shall live by them, Gal. 3. 11. 12. and againe, For Moses describeth the justice which is of the Law, that the man which doth them, shall live by them, (allegding the very words of this text, according to the Greeke version:) but the justice which is of faith, speaketh on this wise; Say not in thine heart, who shall goe up to heaven, &c. That, if thou shalt confesse with thy mouth, that Iesus is the LORD; and shalt beleve in thine heart, that God hath raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved: Rom. 10. 5. - 9.

Verf. 6. None of you] Heb. Man man ye shall not approach: that is, not any man. To approach or (come neere) is used for carnall copulation, as in Gen. 20. 4. Abimelech had not come neere unto her. So in Ezek. 18. 6. and Esa. 8. 3. I approached unto the Prophetesse, and she conceived, &c. Moreover from this word approach, the Hebrewes (comparing herewith the 30. v.) doe say, Who so cometh to any of these nakednesse (the unlawfull copulations following,) either by way of copulation, or that embraceth or kisseth by way of lust, any of his kinne, is to be beaten by the Law. For the meaning is, ye shall not approach unto the things which may bring you unto the uncovering of their nakednesse. And it is unlawfull for a man to make signes with hand foot or eye (as Prov. 6. 13.) to any of these, or to sport with her, or to gaze on her beautie, &c. Maimony in Issurei biah, chap. 21. sect. 1. 2.

neere-kin] The Hebrew Sheer signifieth flesh, Psal. 73. 26. Prov. 5. 11. and 11. 17. And as Basar, flesh, is sometime used for kindred, Gen. 29. 14. so is Sheer, in this case of mariage & copulation; and so by the Chaldee and Greek it is translated neer, and neere-of kinne. nakednesse] that is, the secrets, or shamefull part of the body, whereof since sin came on mankind, we are most ashamed: therefore the Greeke translateth it shame or uncomeliness; which also the holy Ghost alloweth in Re. 16. 15. and in Rev. 3. 18. it is called the shame of nakednesse. To uncover nakednesse here, meaneth carnall copulation, and incest; not onely out of married estate, but also unlawfull and incestuous mariages. The Hebrewes say, Whatsoever copulation is forbidden in the Law, for which one is guilty of cutting off, and which are spoken of in Levit. 18. they are called Nakednesse; and every one of them is called incest (or nakednesse,) as with mother, or sister, or daughter and the like. Maimony, treat. of Wives, chap. 1. sect. 5.

Verf. 7. of thy father, and the nakednesse of thy mother] This is one fact but a double sinne: for by uncovering the fathers nakednesse, is meant the lying with his wife; as Lev. 20. 11. and as after in verse 8. and in verse 14. the uncovering of the uncles nakednesse, is expounded the approaching unto his wife, The Hebrewes say, He that lieth with his mother, and she his fathers wife, is double guilty; (whether it be while his father is living, or after his death;) once for that she is his mother, and againe for that she is his fathers wife. Maimony in Issurei biah, chap. 2. sect. 2. It may also be thus spoken, to imply the woman with her father, as the man with his mother: and so Jonathan in his Targum here paraphraseth, The woman shall not lie with her father, and the man shall not lie with his mother.

Ver. 8. thy fathers wife] though she be not thine owne owne mother, but mother in law. This was Reubens sinne; who lay with Bilhah his fathers concubine, Gen. 35. 22. It was a sinne infamous among the heathens, 1 Cor. 5. 1. The Hebrew canons say; A mans fathers wife, and his finnes wife, and his brothers wife, and his fathers brothers wife, these foure are a nakednesse unto him [that is, unlawfull for him] for ever: whether they be of the betrothed, or of the married, be they divorced or not divorced, be their husbands alive or dead; except it be his brothers wife who hath left no child (at his death, Deut. 25. 5.) And if he lye with any one of them, whiles her husband is alive, he is double guilty: in respect that she is of his neere kinne, and againe for that she is another mans wife. Maimony in Issurei biab, chap. 2. sect. 1. it is thy fathers nakednesse that is, it belongeth to him onely to uncover the same.

9 Ver. 9. whether she be borne at home, &c. Hebr. of the birth (or kindred) of the house (or home; or of the birth abroad: which the Chaldee expoundeth thus, which is begotten by the father, of an other woman; or of thy mother, by an other man. The Hebrew canons further explaine it, thus; whether she be his sister by his father, or by his mother, either in married estate, or by fornication; as if his mother or his father have committed whoredome with others, and he hath a sister from fornication; for this is a nakednesse [that is forbidden] unto him; as it is written. Borne at home, or borne abroad, Maimony in Issurei biab, chap. 2. sect. 2. So in Targum Jonathan it is expounded, whom thy father hath begotten of an other woman, or of thy mother; or whom thy mother hath borne by thy father, or by an other man.

10 Ver. 10. daughters daughter] and so other of further descent: how much more then his next daughter, though she be not named. The Hebrewes say; Who so committeth with a woman by way of fornication, and begetteth a daughter of her, that daughter is a nakednesse (forbidden) him, in the name of his daughter. And although it be not said in the Law, Thou shalt not uncover thy daughters nakednesse: for as much as it forbiddeth the daughters daughter, it keepeth silence concerning the daughter, which yet is forbidden by the Law, and not by the Scribes onely, Maimony in Issurei biab chap. 2. sect. 6. thy nakednesse that is, borne of thy nakednesse.

11 Ver. 11. begotten] or, the generation, or kin of thy father. This some doe understand, a kin to thy father by marriage with her mother, and not begotten of his body: but the Greeke translateth it Homo patris, begotten of the same father; and the Chaldee expoundeth it likewise. The Hebrew doctors also explaine it, The daughter of his fathers wife, which is his sister by his father: she is a nakednesse (unlawfull) for him. But if his father marry a wife, and she hath a daughter by an other man, that daughter is lawfull for him, for she is not (Molested) begotten of his father. But is he not guilty concerning her, by the name of his sister? And why is it said, the daughter of thy fathers wife? to make him guilty concerning her, in this respect also. Therefore he that committeth with his sister, which is his fathers daughter in marriage, is double guilty; once by the name of Thy sisters nakednesse; and againe by the name of The nakednesse of thy fathers wives daughter,

But if his father have forced a woman, or inticed her, and begotten a daughter of her, and (the same) committeth with her, he is not guilty but by the name of his sister onely: for the daughter of a forced woman, is not the daughter of his fathers wife. Maimony in Issurei biab, chap. 2. sect. 3. 4.

V. 12. fathers sister] thy aunt, by thy fathers side. 12
Ver. 13. mothers sister] thy aunt, by the mothers 13 side. Of these the Hebrewes say; His mothers sister, whether it be her sister by her father, or her sister by her mother; whether in married estate, or in fornication; for she is a nakednesse (forbidden) unto him, by the name of his mothers sister. And so the fathers sister, whether by mother or father, in marriage or in fornication; she is forbidden him by the name of his fathers sister. Maimony in Issurei biab, chap. 2. sect. 5.

Ver. 14. fathers brother] meaning his wife (as the 14 next words shew,) called his nakednesse, because man and wife are one flesh, Matth. 19. 6. So in verse 16. So the notes on verse 8. not approach in Greeke, not goe in: that is, not lye with her: see the notes on verse 6. thyne aunt the Chaldee explaineth it, thy fathers brothers wife.

Ver. 15. daughter-in-law] that is, thy finnes wife 15
as it is after explained. The Hebrew name Callah, elsewhere signifieth a spouse or bride: here it is, the finnes wife; touching whom, see what is noted on verse 8.

Ver. 16. brothers wife] except when the brother 16
deceaseth without children; then the next brother marieth her, Deut. 25. 5. See the notes on v 8.

Ver. 17. or her] Hebr. and her: but and is often 17 used for or; as is noted on Gen. 13. 8. Of these lawes, the Hebrewes write thus; When a man marieth a woman, there are sixe women of her kinne, unlawful for him for ever, whether his wife live with him, or be divorced, whether she be alive or after her death: and they are these; her mother, and her mothers mother, and her fathers mother, and her daughter, and her daughters daughter, and her finnes daughter. And if he lye with any one of them, whiles his wife liveth, both of them are to be burned, (Levit. 10. 14.) Maimony in Issurei biab, chap. 2. sect. 7. wickednesse in Hebrew Zimmah, which properly signifieth a wicked thought or purpose; but is applied also to wicked acts, and particularly to unlawfull copulations; the Chaldee here translateth it consell (or purpose) of finnes: the Greeke, an impietie (or impious-act,) and in Levit. 20. 14. an unlawfull-act.

Ver. 18. a woman] or, a wife unto her sister, which 18
the Chaldee translateth with her sister. Which word sister, may be understood of any other woman, (as brother is often used for any other man, (Gen. 26. 31. and 19. 7.) & then the law here forbiddeth to take any more wives then one; which the reason following seemeth to confirme. The Hebrewes understand it of her next sister in blood, whether she be her sister by the mother, or her sister by the father; whether in way of marriage, or in fornication. Maimony in Issurei biab, chap. 2. sect. 9. to vex her or, vexing her, or for an adversarie, as Penimah is called the adversarie (or vexer) of Anna, the other wife of Elkanah, 1 Sam. 1. 6. whereby it is probable, that the sister forementioned, is any other wife; and the Greeke

Greeke here and there translateth a like Anizelos an emulator or envier. For when one man hath two wives, they are ready to envie and vex one another: see Gen. 4. 23. and 30. 15.

in her life or, while she is alive, as the Greeke explaineth it.

Verf. 19. a woman [or, a wife] even from his own wife, every mā was to abtain, during this her uncleanness. See Levit. 12. and 15. chapters.

separation that is, so long as she is separated for the uncleanness of her monthly fluors; whereof, see Lev. 15. 19. They that transgressed this Law presumptuously, were to be cut-off, Levit. 20. 18. and for transgression thereof in Israel, the prophet proclaimeth, Ezek. 22. 10. And by the Hebrew Doctors, this uncleanness was as the residue of all the nakednesses forementioned; who so uncover her nakedness so, deserveth to be cut off. Maimony in Issurei biab, ch. 4. sect. 1.

Verf. 20. not give thy copulation, for seed [or, of seed]; that is, not lie fleshly with her; not commit adultery: which the Hebrew expresseth here by the ying (or bed) unto seed: and in Leviticus 19. 20. the ying (or bed) of seed; and so the Greeke translateth it here. The phrase meaneth carnall copulation: and not only when it is unto effusion of seed, but any other uncleanness. The Hebrew cannons distinguish between the beginning of this act (which they call the uncovering of nakedness) and the accomplishment thereof. And in all these copulations spoken of, whether he hath uncovered her nakedness (beginning the act with his body,) or hath accomplished it; yet though it be not to the effusion of seed, &c. when he hath begun the act with his body, they are both of them guilty of death by the Magistrate, or of cutting off, or of beating, or of chastisement. Maimony in Issurei biab, ch. 1. sect. 10.

Verf. 21. of thy seed that is, of any of thy children, thy son or thy daughter, as Moses expoundeth it in Deut. 18. 10. See also Lev. 20. 2. through the fire] this word fire, is after expressed in Deut. 18. 10. and in 2 Kings 11. 3 which another Prophet expoundeth, burne in the fire, 2 Chron. 28. 3. which was the abominable custome of the heathens, so dedicating their children unto idols and devils: and the like abomination, the Israelites committed in a valley neer to Jerusalem, 2 Chron. 33. 6. Jer. 32. 35. which King Iosias abolished, when he defiled Tophet, which was in the valley of the sonnes of Hinnom; that no man might make his sonne or his daughter, to passe through the fire to Molech, 2 Kings 23. 10. This sin is here forbidden amongst whoredomes and incests, because even it is spirituall whoredome; as in Lev. 20. 5. it is called a going a whoring after Molech. The manner of doing this wickedness, is not now certainly known: but is thought to be done two wayes, some being burned to death, other some made to passe onely betweene two fires, for a signe of consecration. So of Achaz King of Judah, it is said, he burnt his sons in the fire, 2 Chron. 28. 3. and of the Jewes, that they burnt their sonnes and their daughters in the fire, Jerem. 7. 31. and that they burnt their sonnes with fire, for burnt offerings unto Baal, Jerem. 19. 5. yet they sacrificed their sons and their daughters unto Devils; and feed innecent blood, the blood of their sonnes and of their daughters; whom they sacrificed unto the idols of Canaan.

Psal. 106. 37, 38. R. Bechisi (on Lev. 18.) saith that the parents were perswaded, that by this sacrifice the rest of their children shold be delivered from death, & that they themselves should prosper for it, all dayes of their life. Of the manner of consecrating and not killing their children, the Hebrewes write thus;

*There was a great fire kindled, and (the father) took some of his seed, to deliver the same unto the Priests that served the fire: and the same Priests gave the same unto his father; after that he was delivered into their hand, to cause him to passe through the fire, by his leave: and the father of the sonne, was he that made his sonne passe through the fire, by the leave of the Priests, and he led him through on his feet, from one side to another in the midst of the flame; but burned him not to Molech, after the manner that they burned their sonnes and their daughters to other Idols; but this service named Molech, was by passing through onely. Maimony treat. of Idolatry, ch. 6. sect. 3. And for the manner of killing their children, in the honor of Molech, it is thus recorded in an Hebrew Commentary called Liklut, upon Jerem. 7. fol. 61. col. 4.*

Through all (other) houses of Idolatry were in Jerusalem, yet Molechs house was without the city, in a place apart. How was Molech made? It was an Image having the face of a Bullock, and hands spread abroad like a man that openeth his hands, to receive somewhat within, it was hollow: and for it there was seven Chappels builded, before which this image was set. Who so offered a soule or dove, went into the first Chappell; if he brought a Lambe, he went into the second; if a Ramme into the third; if a calfe, into the fourth; if a bullocke into the fifth; if an Oxe, into the sixth; and if he offered his sonne he went into the seventh. He kissed Molech, as (in Hof. 13. 2.) Let the sacrificers of men, kisse the calves. The sonne was set before Molech, and Molech having fire put under it, was made burning hot. Then the Priests taking the child, put him into Molechs burning hands: and to the end that the father might not heare the cry of the child, they did beat upon Tabers: thereupon was the place called Tophet; of Toph, which is a Taber. But of these things, we have no certainty, save that the Scriptures witness such impiety to have been in Israel.

Molech the name of an Idol, or Starre, which the Ammonites and other heathens worshipped, called also Molech Amos 5. 26. and Milcom, 1 King. 11. 5, 7. and was so named, as being Melech, King; wherefore the Greeke translateth it Archon a Prince: and is thought of some to be the star Saturne, the highest of all the Planets, unto which the Carthaginians are said to have sacrificed the best of their sonnes, Diodor. Sicul. l. 20. and likewise the Phoenicians, Euseb. prep. Evang. lib. 4. Others thinke it was the Sunne, which is as King and chiefe of all the Planets, and whom the Phoenicians worshipped by the name of Beel-samen, that is, Lord of heaven, as Sanchonjath testifieth, in Euseb. Evang. prep. lib. 1. called in the holy Scriptures Baal. And this seemeth probable, for whereas in Tophet in the valley of the sons of Hinnom, they used to make their children passe through the fire to Molech, 2 King. 23. 10. Jeremy saith saith they offered them unto Baal, Jer. 19. 5. compared with Jer. 7. 31. and Jer. 32. 35. So either it was a starre, as the Prophet saith, the starre of your God; Amos 5. 26. or, the multitude of itars, as Stephen saith, God gave them up to worship the host of heaven, Act. 7. 42. which another Prophet confirmeth, saying, They shall spread them before the Sun, and the Moone, and all the host of heaven, whom they have loved, and whom they have served: Jer. 8. 2. Of like sort were Adram-melech, and Anan-melech the Gods of Sepharvaim, unto whom that people, burnt their children in fire, 2 King 17. 31. Of this Idoll Molech, R. Solomon (on Jerem. 7. 31.) saith; there was an Image of brasse, set up in the valley of Hinnom nere Jerusalem, after the forme before noted out of Iakub not profane or, not pollute, not profane: it is contrary to hallowing or sanctifying, Lev. 22. 32. And as Gods name is profaned sundry wayes, Lev. 21. 6. and 19. 12. so in speciall by idolatry; as when they applyed Gods name or word, to the service of Molech forementioned, or the like. The Hebrew doctors among other things, doe apply this unto the giving of ones life for the truth and religion of God; saying: Who so ever ought rather to be killed, then to transgresse (Gods law) if he be killed, for that he will not transgresse, he sanctifieth the name (of God;) and if it be before ten men of Israel, he sanctifieth the Name publicly, as did Daniel, Ananias, Misael, Azarias &c. Dan. 3. and 6. And of such it is said (in Psa. 44.) for thy sake we are killed all the day, &c. But who so ever ought to be killed rather then to transgresse; and he transgresseth rather then he will be killed, he profaneth the Name (of God) and if it be before ten of Israel, he profaneth it publicly, and he disannulleth the affirmative precept, for sanctifying Gods name; and transgresseth against the prohibition of profaning his name. Maimony, tom. 1. in Iesudei halorah, ch. 5. sect. 4.

22 Ver. 22. with a male or, with man kinde: this was the sin of Sodom, Gen. 19. 5. and of other heathens, Rom. 1. 27. called the going after other flesh, Jude ver. 7. They that thus sinned, were by Moses Law to be stoned to death, Lev. 20. 13. by the law of Christ, they shall be shut out of the kingdom of God, 1 Cor. 6. 9. 10. like copulation with a woman] Hebrew, with the hyings (or copulations) of a woman.

23 Ver. 23. to lye downe thereto or, that it may lye with her, which sense the Greeke version also affordeth. So in Lev. 20. 16. where such beastlinesse is punished with death. And whether it be tame-beast, or wild-beast, or fowle, all are to be stoned to death, Maimony in Iesrei biab. ch. 1. sect. 16. confusion in Greeke, a detestable thing.

24 Ver. 24. in any of these or, in all these, which Targum Jonathan expoundeth, in any-one of all these; every of which, the Hebrewes call Nakednes, after the scripture phrase; and they say, There are also other women, which are forbidden by tradition, and the doctrine of the Scribes; these they call Secondaries, as being second (or next) to the foresaid nakedneses; and of them there be 20. women, and they are these.

1 The mother, mother, and this is infinite, as the mothers mothers mothers mother, and so all upward, are unlawfull,

2 The mother of his mothers father, only: and no further are forbidden.

3 His fathers mother infinite: as the fathers mothers, mothers mother, and all upward, are unlawfull.

4 The mother of his fathers father, and no further.

5 The wife of his fathers father, infinite. Though she were the wife of our father Iakob [or Noe] she is unlawfull for every of us.

6 The wife of his mothers father, and no further.

7 The wife of his fathers brother by the mother.

8 The wife of his mothers brother, whether by the mother or by the father.

9 His sons daughter in law [that is, his sons sons wife] infinite: though it should be his sons sons sons wife, even to the worlds end. So that Noe if he were now living, might never marry with any widow, that had been wife to any of his sons.

10 His daughters daughter in law (or sons wife) and no further.

11 The daughter of his sons daughter, and no further.

12 The daughter of his sons son, and no further.

13 The daughter of his daughters daughter, only.

14 The daughter of his daughters son, only.

15 The daughter of his wives sons son, only.

16 The daughter of his wives daughters daughter, only.

17 The mother of his wives fathers mother, only.

18 The mother of his wives mothers fathers mother, only.

19 The mother of his wives mothers mothers mother, only.

20 The mother of his wives fathers father, only. So there are found of those which are secundarily unlawfull, foure which are infinite. The mothers mother, and all upward. The fathers mother, and all upward. The grandfathers wife, and all upward. The sons sons wife, and all downward. Maimony in Iesrei biab. ch. 1. sect. 6.

Ver. 25. doe visit or, have visited, that is, punished, or, (as the Greeke translateth) recompensed: the time past being used for the more certainty, as if the thing were already done. spue or, vomit out, with lothsomnesse and indignation, as the Greeke explaineth it. So after, & in Lev. 20. 22.

Ver. 26. any of these or, any of all these abominations. So in ver. 29. stranger or sojourner, in Greeke, prophete.

Ver. 28. the nation in Greeke, the nations, in Chaldee, the peoples.

Ver. 29. the soules that is, the persons. cut-off rooted out, or destroyed, as the Greeke and Chaldee explaine it. Of this judgement, see Lev. 20. 7 Gen. 17. 14.

Ver. 30. my charge Hebrew my keeping (or custody) that is, which I command to be kept. In Greeke my ordinances: in Chaldee, the custody of my word. statutes of abominations that is, most abominable statutes: meaning their finfull practices, which thorough custome grew to be as a Law amongst them.

1 AND Jehovah spake unto Moses, say-
2 ing. Speake unto all the Congregation of the sonnes of Israel, and say unto them, Ye shall be holy: for I Jehovah your God, am holy.

3 Ye shall feare, every-man his mother and his father; and keepe my Sabbaths: I am Jehovah your God.

4 Turne ye not unto Idols; and make not to your-selves, token gods: I, am Jehovah Your God.

5 And when ye sacrifice, a sacrifice of Peace
offring, unto Jehovah: ye shall sacrifice it, 6 for your favourable acceptation. In the day that ye sacrifice it, it shall be eaten, and on the morrow: and that which remaineth, untill the third day; shall be burnt in the fire.

7 And if, it be eaten at all, in the third day: it is a polluted thing, it shall not be favourably-8 accepted. And they that eat it, every one shall beare his iniquity; because he hath profaned, the holy thing of Jehovah: and that soule shall be cut-off from his peoples.

9 And when ye reape, the harvest of your land; thou shalt not wholly-rid, the corner of thy field, in reaping: neither shalt thou 10 glean, the gleaning of thy harvest. And thou shalt not gather-the-single-grapes, of thy vineyard; nor g'eane, the grapes that are broken off of thy vineyard: thou shalt leave them, for the poore and for the stranger; I, am Jehovah your God.

11 Ye shall not steale: neither falsly-deny, nor deale-falsly, any-man with his neighbour.

12 And ye shall not swear by my name, to falshood: and thou shalt not profane, the name of thy God, I am Jehovah.

13 Thou shalt not fraudulently-oppresse thy neighbour, neither rob him: the worke of him that is hired, shall not abide-all-night with thee, untill the morning.

14 Thou shalt not curse the deafe; and before the blinde, thou shalt not put a stumbling-block: but thou shalt feare thy God; I am Jehovah.

15 Ye shall not do unrighteousnesse, in judgement; thou shalt not respect the person of the poore; nor honor, the person of the great man: in justice shalt thou judge thy neighbor.

16 Thou shalt not walke a tale-bearer, among thy people; thou shalt not stand, against the blood of thy neighbour: I, am Jehovah.

17 Thou shalt not hate thy brother, in thine heart: rebuking thou shalt rebuke thy neighbour; and not beare sin, for him.

18 Thou shalt not avenge: nor keepe grudge against the sons of thy people; but thou shalt love thy neighbor, as thy self: I am Jehovah.

19 Ye shall keepe my statutes; Thou shalt not let thy cattell gender, with divers-kindes:
Thou shalt not sow thy field, with divers-kinds: and a garment of divers-kindes, of linse-woolse; shall not come upon thee.

20 And a man, when he shall lye with a woman, to copulation of seed; and she a bond-woman, betrothed to a man; and redeeming she is not redeemed; or freedome, is not given her: a scourging shall be, they shall not be put to death, because she was not free.

21 And he shall bring his Trespass-offring, unto Jehovah; unto the doore of the Tent of the congregation: a ram for a Trespass-offring.

22 And the Priest shall make atonement, for him, with the ram of the Trespass-offring, before Jehovah; for his sinne, which he hath sinned: and the sin, which he hath sinned, shall be forgiven him.

23 And when ye shall come into the land, and shall have planted any tree for food; then ye shall count-as-uncircumcised the uncircumcision thereof, the fruit thereof: three yeares, shall it be unto you, as uncircumcised, it shall not be eaten. And in the fourth yeere, all the 24 fruit thereof shall be, holinesse of praises, unto Jehovah. And in the fifth yeare, ye shall 25 eat the fruit thereof; to adde unto you, the revenue thereof: I, am Jehovah your God.

26 Ye shall not eat, with the blood: ye shall not observe-fortunes, nor observe-times. Ye 27 shall not round, the corner of your head: neither shalt thou marre, a corner of thy beard.
And ye shall not make in your flesh, any cutting for a soule; neither shall ye make upon you, the print of any marke; I am Jehovah.

28 Profane not thy daughter, to cause herto be an-whore: that the land fall not to whor-dome; and the land become full, of wickednesse.

29 Ye shall keep my Sabbaths; and reverence my Sanctuary; I, am Jehovah.

30 Turne not unto them that have familiar-spirits, and unto wizards; seek not, to be defied by them: I, am Jehovah your God.

Thou

32 Thou shalt rise-up before the hoary-head; and honour, the face of the old-man: and feare thy God, I am Jehovah.

33 And when a stranger, shall sojourne with thee, in your land: ye shall not vex him.

34 The stranger, that sojourneth with you, shall be unto you, as one homeborne amongst you; and thou shalt love him, as thy selfe; for ye were strangers, in the land of Egypt: I am Jehovah your God.

35 Ye shall not doe unrighteousnesse, in judgement: in meteyard, in weight, or in measure.

36 Just ballances, just stones, a just Ephah, and a just Hin, shall ye have: I am Jehovah your God, which brought you out, 37 from the land of Egypt. And ye shall keep all my statutes, and all my judgements; and shall doe them: I am Jehovah.

Annotations.

DDD Here beginneth the thirtieth section, or lecture of the Law. See Gen. 6. 9.

2 BE holy] that is, separated from sin, & dedicated unto God, and his obedience; which is the sum of the first Table, yea of all the Law. The Apostle openeth it thus; As obedient children, not fashioning your selves, according to the former lusts in your ignorance: but as he which hath called you is holy, so be ye holy in all manner of conversation: because it is written, Be ye holy, for I am holy, 1 Pet. 1. 14. 15. 16. See also Lev. 11. 44.

3 Ver. 3. feare] or reverence. This openeth the fift commandement, Honour &c. Exod. 20. 12. shewing that it implyeth inward reverence, as all the Law is spirituall, Rom. 7. 14. And here the mother is named before the father, which is not usall. See the notes on Exod. 20. 12. The Hebrewes say, It is written, Honour thy father and thy mother, Exod. 20. 12. it is also written, Honour the Lord with thy substance, Prov. 3. 9. Again it is written, Ye shall feare every man his mother and his father, Lev. 19. 3. it is also written, Thou shalt feare the Lord thy God, Deut. 6. 13. as he commandeth the honour of Gods great name and his feare, so he commandeth the honour and feare of parents. He that curseth his father or mother, is stoned: and he that blasphemeth (God) is stoned: he be makeib them equall in punishment. For honour, the father is set before the mother; and for feare, the mother before the father: to teach that they are both alike for honour or for feare. What is this Feare? It is not to stand in his place, nor sit in his place, nor to oppose his words, nor to carpe at his words, nor to call him by his name either living or dead; but to say Sir, or my Lord, my Father, Maimony in Misneh. tom. 4. treat. of Rebels, chap. 6. sect. 1. &c. Sabbaths] in Chaldee Sabbath dayes: both the seventh day, and all other dayes of rest, which were likewise called Sabbaths, Lev. 23. 32. See the annotations on Exod. 20. 8.

11. I am Jehovah] This is a ground and reason of these, and almost all the other precepts following; as it was prefixed before the ten Commandements: see Exod. 20. 2.

Verf. 4. Turne ye not] to weete, your faces: or Look not, Regard not: in Greeke, Follow not. It implyeth also the turning-away of the heart, Deut. 30. 17. and 29. 18. But from this word, the Hebrewes say, that it is forbidden even to looke attentively, on the similitude of an image. Maimony treat. of Idolatry, ch. 2. sect. 2. Idols] called in Hebrew Elilim, which properly signifieth things of nought, nothing, vaine, and nought worth; according to the nature of which name, Paul saith, we know that an Idoll is nothing in the world, and that there is none other God but one, 1 Cor. 8. 4. Elilim signifieth, Gods; Elilim, no-Gods; which the Greeke here nameth Eidola, whereof our English Idols is derived: in the Chaldee they are called Errours, or Aberrations. And Elilim is applied to other things also, which are of no value, as in Job 13. 4. Physicians Elil, that is, vaine, or of no value & in Jer. 14. 14. false prophets prophesied Elil, a thing of nought. And as Images, are the same that Idols, in signification, so Images of silver and gold, are called Elilim Idols, Elay 2. 20. So that hereby God forbiddeth the transgression of the first and second commandements. And the Hebrew Doctors say, It is not Idolatry, inely which a man is forbidden to turne after it in his thought; but every thought which occasioneth a man to deny any of the fundamentall points of the Law, we are warned that it come not into our heart, &c. Maimony treat. of Idolatry, ch. 2. f. 3. molten Gods] Hebrew, gods of melting: meaning Images, Gods of silver and of gold, as Exodus 20. 23. such as was the molten calfe, Exod. 32. 8. 31. The Prophet calleth them teachers of lies, Habak. 2. 18. yet unto such, Idolaters said, ye are our Gods, Elay 42. 37.

Verf. 5. of Peace offerings] or of payments, whereof see Lev. 3. 1. for your favourable acceptation] that it may be acceptable to God for you: see the notes on Lev. 1. 3. This sense Sol. Iarchi giveth of these words here. Some doe understand it, at your owne will, such as you like best to offer: but the 7 verse following, sheweth the former interpretation rather to be meant. Though this latter also is good, and may be implied; and is so expounded by Chazkuni, that they should give their good will therein, and not grudge or have an evill eye in that which they offered before the Lord. For some men (saith he) do not offer with the heart, but because they see other men do so, and it were a shame for them, if they should not doe likewise. But another meaning (saith he) may be this, Doe the thing that may be for your favourable acceptation, as that it be eaten in that day, or on the morrow.

Verf. 6. burnt] as being polluted by overlong keeping it. See these things opened in Leviticus 7. 18. 19.

Verf. 7. eaten at all] or, any of it eaten: Hebrew, eating eaten. a polluted thing] or, abominable, in Greeke, unsacrificable; but Aquila turneth it here in Greeke Apobleten, a thing to be rejected, which word Paul useth, in 1 Tim. 4. 4. See the notes on Lev. 7. 18.

Verf

8 Verſ. 8. his iniquitie] in Greeke, ſinne, meaning puniſhment for his iniquitie: ſee the notes on Lev. 7. 18. the holy thing] Hebr. the holineſſe; in Gr. the holy things. that ſoule] that is, as the Chaldee tranſlateth, that it man ſhall be deſtroyed: ſee Lev. 7. 18. In Greeke, the ſoules that eat it, ſhall be deſtroyed out of their people.

9 Verſ. 9. not wholly-rid] or, not make a full-end; not make-cleane-riddance of the corner of thy field, to reape the ſame. The like is after, in Levit. 23. 22. corner] that is, the out-side, or utmoſt-part: the corner may alſo be underſtood for many corners. The Hebrew canons declare it thus; Hee that reapeſh his field, muſt not reape all the field wholly; but muſt leave a little ſtanding-corne for the poore, in the end of the field, (Levit. 23. 22.) whether he cut it, or plucke it up: and that which is left; is called the Corner [Peah.] And as hee muſt leave of the field, ſo of the trees, when he gathereth their fruit, he muſt leave a little for the poore. If he tranſgreſſe, and doe reape all the field, or gather all the fruit of the trees; he muſt take a little of that which he hath reaped, or of that which he hath gathered, and give it to the poore; for the giving of it, is a commandement. Yea, though he have ground it, or baked it into bread, yet he muſt give thereof, a corner to the poore. If all which he hath reaped, be loſt or burnt, before he hath given the corner, then he is to be beaten: becauſe he hath tranſgreſſed a prohibition, and cannot confirme the commandement thereof, which unto him is broken off. Maimony in Miſneh, tom. 3. in Mattanoth gnanijim, chap. 1. ſect. 1, 2, 3. What is the meaſure of the Corner? By the Law, there is no meaſure ſet for it; if he leave but one eare of corne, he is diſcharged. But by the words of the Scribes, it muſt be no leſſe then one of ſixtie. And a man may adde more then one of ſixtie, according to the greatneſſe of the field, or multitude of the poore, or bleſſing of the ſeed. As if the field be very ſmall, ſo that if he leave thereof the ſixtieth part, it will not benefit a poore man; then is he to adde unto the meaſure: and ſo if there be many poore, he addeth. And if he did ſow little, and reapeſh much, becauſe it is bleſſed: he addeth according to the bleſſing. And who ſo addeth more unto the corner, he ſhall have his reward increaſed, and there is no meaſure limited of this addition. They leave no corner, but in the end of the field; to the end that the poore may know the place whither to come, &c. At three times in the day, they part the corner for the poore; at morning, and at midday, and at the evening ſacrifice, [that is, three of the clocke in the afternoon] and the poore that comes not at one of theſe times, they ſuffer him not to take any away; that there may be a ſet time for the poore to come together all of them, to take it. If a man have two fields, he may not reape the one wholly, and leave in the other a corner meet for them both; for it is written, the corner OF THY FIELD: but he muſt leave in every one, a corner meet for the ſame. He that ſoweth his field with one kind (of ſeed,) though he make therein two threshing-floores, he leaveth but one corner. If he ſow two kinds of ſeed, though he make but one floore; hee muſt give a corner for the one ſort, by it ſelfe; and a corner for the other ſort, by it ſelfe. If he ſow it with two kinds of wheat, or two kinds of barley; then, if he make but one floore, he giveth but one corner; if two floores, he giveth two corners. Maimony in Mattanoth gnanijim, (or treat. of Gifts to the poore;) c. 1. ſect. 1, 2, 3. 11. and ch. 2. ſ. 12. 17. and c. 3. ſ. 1. 14. in reaping] or, to reape the ſame: which in Lev. 23. 22. Moſes explaineth thus, when thou reapeſt. gleane] or gather. the glean- ing] or gathering, that is, the eares of corne which fall off, as the Greek verſion explaineth it. So the Hebrews ſay, The gleaning is that which falleth out of the ſickle in the time of reaping, or that falleth out of the hand when he gathereth the eares, and reapeſh; if ſo be that which falleth be but an eare, or two. But if there fall three together, thoſe three are the owners of the field. And that which falleth from after the ſickle, or from after the hand, though it be but one eare, is not for glean- ing. He that plucketh up things which are to be plucked, that which falleth from under his hand, is for glean- ing. If he reape, and there be left an eare unreaped; if the top of it reach to the other ſtanding corne which is thereby, ſo that he may reape it with the other ſtanding corne, it is the owners of the field; if not, it is for the poore. If the wind ſcatter the corne, ſo that the harveſt of the owner of the field, is mixed with that which is to be gleaned, then they mea- ſure the field, how much glean- ing it is meet for to afford, and they give (ſo much) to the poore. If (the owner) have tranſgreſſed, and gathered the gleanings, though he have ground it, and baked it, he muſt give it to the poore. If it be loſt or burnt, after it is gathered, before it be given to the poore; he is to be beaten; Maim. in Mattanoth gnanijim, ch. 4. ſ. 1, 5. and ch. 1. ſ. 4.

Verſ. 10. not gather-the-single-grapes] that is, the grapes which grow ſingle, and not in cluſters; ſuch the owner of the vineyard might not gather, but leave them for the poore. Gnoleth are ſingle-grapes, Eſa. 24. 13. Hobad, ver. 5. differing from the cluſters of grapes, Mich. 7. 1. So the Hebrews explaine this Law, ſaying, Gnoleth are little cluſters which are not thicke, as cluſters which are not compaſſed together, and whoſe grapes are not joynd one upon another, but diſſepered. And it is called Gnoleth, becauſe it is to the other cluſters, as (Gnoleth that is) a child to a man, &c. and ſingle berries, they are Gnoleth. A branch whereon there is a cluſter, and ſingle grapes on the twig of the branch, if the ſingle grapes be cut off with the cluſter, they are the owners of the vine- yard; if not, they are for the poore. If a vineyard have all ſingle grapes, it is for the poore; as it is written, THOU SHALT NOT GATHER THE SINGLE GRAPES OF THY VINE- YARD, although it be all ſingle grapes. And no ſingle grapes, or particular berries, are due (to the poore) but in the vineyard only. Maimony in Mattanoth gnan. ch. 4. ſect. 17. &c. the grapes-that-are-broken-off] or, the particular berries. The Hebrew Peret, which hath the ſignification of parting, breaking, and fall- ing off, meaneth here, ſuch particular grapes as are broken, and fall off from the cluſters in the Vin- tage. That as in the field, the corner was that which was left growing, and the glean- ing was of the eares that fell away in the reaping: ſo the ſingle grapes, were ſuch as grew not in cluſters; and the Peret, are grapes broken, and fallen off in the gathering. So the Greeke tranſlateth it, Rhoas, that is, berries-broken-off; and the Chaldee Nibra, is of like meaning; and the Hebrews expound it to be particular berries, one or two, that are broken off off from the cluster, in the time of the grape-gathering: but if there be three berries together, or more; they are not Peret, nor left for gleaning, but are the owners. Yet that which is throwne to the earth, in the grape-gathering, they count for Peret, though it be halfe a cluster, or an whole one: so that bee that putteth a basket under the vine, in the time when he gathereth grapes, (to save for himselfe those which so fall off) he robbeth the poore: Maimony in Mattanuth gnan, chap. 4. sect. 15, 16. Besides the fruit of the vine, other fruits that are for food, are implied in this law; therefore in Deut. 24. 20. Moses mentioneth the like of the Olive-tree: and there in the vers. 19. he addeth another branch of this law, touching a sheaf forgotten in the field, which must not be fetched againe, but left for the poore. So the Hebr. Doctors understand this precept largely; for by harvest and reaping, they say is implied, whatsoever is like unto harvest, that it is bound to yeeld a corner for the poore; as all kinde of graine in the field, and all pulse; as Rice, Millet, Lentils, also Nuts, Almonds, Pomegranats, Grapes, Olives, Dates, and all such like; whatsoever is for meat, and groweth out of the earth, and is gathered as an harvest. Therefore herbs are free from paying this duty, because they are not gathered and laid up for mens livelyhood, but Garlicke and Onions, must pay the corner, because they are dried, and brought into the house for provision. So they say, There are foure gifts for the poore, in the vineyard, the Grapes that are broken off, and the single grapes, and the corner, and that which is forgotten. Three gifts, are from the revenues of the field, the gleaning, and that which is forgotten, and the corner. And two, from trees; that which is forgotten, and the corner; Maimony in Mattanuth gnanijim, chap. 2. sect. 1, 2. and ch. 1. sect. 7. thou shalt leave them] Hence the Hebrews gather, that the poore hath nothing to doe with these gifts, untill the good-man of the house hath separated them purposely. Therefore a poore man, that seeth a corner in the end of a field, may not touch the same, (upon paine of robbery) untill hee know that the master of the house knoweth thereof. After they are thus left, the master of the house hath no right in them, but the poore may come and take them, yea though it be against the masters will; Maimony, ibidem, ch. 2. sect. 14. and ch. 1. sect. 8. And whereas the master of the family was to give the first-fruits to the Priests, Num. 18. 12. and the Tithes to the Levite, Numb. 18. 24. and a second Tithe, for him and his to eate before the Lord, Deut. 12. 17, 18. these gifts, were to be left for the poore, before any of the other: and every third yeere, that second Tithe was also given to the poore, Deut. 14. 28, 29. besides other reliefe, Deut. 7. 8. so mercifull was God, to the poore of his people. Neither might they be defrauded of these gifts, under colour of Religion; if a man sanctified his vineyard, (to the Lord) after single-grapes were known to be in it: the poore had those single-grapes notwithstanding: and if the Tithe were given to a Levite, and single-grapes were found therein, he was to give them to the poore. Maimony in Mat. gnan, ch. 4. sect. 23, 26. Now, who those poore were, to whom these glea-

nings, single grapes, corners, &c. did belong, the Hebrew canons declare thus; Who so hath two hundred Zuzims, [that is, fifty shekels of silver, for a zuz is the fourth part of a shekel; and what the shekel is, see the notes on Gen. 20. 16.] let him not take of the gleaning, or of that which is forgot, or of the corner, or of the Tithe of the poore. If he have 200. lacking one, he may take. If they be pawned to his creditor, or be for his wives dowrie, then also he taketh. And they cannot binde him to sell his house, or stuffe. Talmud Bab. in Peah, ch. 1. f. 8. for the stranger] and for the fatherlesse, and for the widow, Deut. 24. 19. By the stranger is chiefly meant the Proselyte (as the Greek here translateth) converted to the faith, though others are not forbidden, because in these gifts, was no holinesse, at all, as in other things that were sanctified. The Hebrews say, Every stranger spoken of, in the gifts to the poore, is not meant, but of the righteous stranger. For loe hee saith of the second Tithe; And the Levite shall come, and the stranger, (Deut. 14. 19.) the Levite is within the covenant, so the stranger is within the covenant. Notwithstanding, they withhold not the poore Heathens from these gifts. It is said, thou shalt leave them for the poore, &c. all the while that there are poore men to require them. If the poore cease to seeke or come againe for them, that which is left, is free for any man to take. And he is not bound to give (the poore) the price of them; for it is not said, hee shall give them to the poore, but hee shall leave them. And it is not meet to leave them for beasts and birds, but for the poore: and loe there are no poore. After that the poore are gone into a vineyard, and come away; the grapes which remaine afterward, are free for any man, &c. Maim. in Mattanuth gnan, chap. 1. sect. 9. 10, 11. I am Iebvab] by whose commandement, this law was stablished in Israel, to the end that they might remember their owne povertie, and bondage which they indured in Aegypt; and that by doing these workes of mercie, the Lord might blesse them, in all the worke of their hands. Which reasons, Moses rendreth of this precept, in Deut. 24. 19. 22.

Ver. 11. not steale] see the notes on Exo. 20. 15. In that he speaketh as to many ye shall not, Chazkuni here gathereth, that he that seeth one steale, and boldeth his peace, he also stealeth, as doth the principall in the theft. falsly-deny] in Greeke, not lye; it is a generall word for lying, or denying of things in respect either of God, as Prov. 30. 9. or of men, as Lev. 6. 2. And unto this later, of denying other mens goods that are in their hand, doe the Hebrews referre this prohibition. Maimony, tom. 3. treat. of Oathes, ch. 1. f. 8. deale-falsly] or lye, in violating covenants, as Gen. 21. 23. Psal. 44. 18. or swearing falsly, or any other way.

Ver. 12. to falshood] or falsly; in Greeke, to an unjust thing. The contrary is required, Thou shalt sweare, the Lord liveth, in Truth, in Iudgement, and in Justice. Jer. 4. 2. And Gods Name is of large signification, as is noted on Exod. 20. 7. so that whether one use any of Gods proper names, or describe him by other words, as bee that liveth for ever, bee that created heaven and earth, &c. (as Rev. 10. 6.) or any the like, it is a full oath. And by swearing, is understood curfing alfo, which is of the fame nature; as in Gen. 24. 8. 41. the fame thing, is called an oath, and a curfe, (or execration.) So the Hebrew canons fay: *Whether one fweare by (Gods) proper name, or by any of his firmames; as by him whose name is Gracious, or whose name is Mercifull, or any the like, in any language: loe it is a full oath. And fo an execration, and a curfe, is an oath. As when a man faith, Cursed be he of the Lord, or of him whose name is Gracious, or mercifull, whofoever hath eaten this thing, and himfelf hath eaten it: loe he hath fworne falſly. Likewise he that faith, nay, nay, twiſe, by way of oath; or yea, yea; and mentioneth Gods name, or firmame, loe it is as if he had fworne. And fo bee that promiſeth, I will not do this or that, and mentioneth Gods name, or firmame: it is an oath. Maimony in Miſneh, tom. 3. treat. of Oathes, ch. 2. ſect. 2. &c. not profane] or, pollute, but contrariwiſe ſhall ſanctifie it; as Levit. 22. 32. The word not, in the former branch, is here again neceſſarily underſtood, as often in the Scripture: and ſo the Greek verſion addeth it, ye ſhall not profane: by this, not onely falſe, but raſh, vaine, unadviſed needleſſe oathes, and all other abuſes of Gods name, are forbidden: as is noted on Exod. 20. 7. The Hebrews ſay, *Although be that ſwear-eth vainly or falſly, be beaten (by the Magiſtrate) and bring a ſacrifice (to the Prieſt,) yet is there not atonement made thereby, for all the iniquitie of his oath; for it is written, (in Exodus 20. 7.) the Lord will not hold him innocent: he is not freed from the judgement of (the God of) heaven, untill he have his payment from him, for the great Name which he hath profaned, as it is written, Thou ſhalt not profane the name of the Lord thy God: I am the Lord. Therefore a man muſt beware of this iniquitie, more then of all tranſgreſſions. This is one of the heauiest iniquities; although for it there be no cutting off, nor death, by the Magiſtrates, yet is there in it a profanation of the holy Name, which is greater then all iniquities. It is neceſſary to warne children much, and to teach their tongues the words of truth, without ſwearing; that they fall not into a cuſtome to ſweare continually, as doe the Heathens. And this thing lieth as a dutie upon their parents, and upon Schoolemaſters. And it is a great good thing for a man not to ſweare at all. Maimony, treat. of Oathes, c. 12. ſ. 1, 2, 8, 12. Accordingly are we to underſtand the Doctrine of our Saviour, when hee ſaith, Sweare not at all, Mat. 5. 34. Whereby he forbiddeth not the lawfull uſe of oathes, commanded of God, Deut. 6. 13. but all abuſe in common ſpeech, which was and is accuſtomed moſt finfully, to the high diſhonour of God.

13 Verſ. 13. fraudulently-oppreſſe] in Greeke, doe wrong, or injurie. This word ſignifieth, to oppreſſe by fraud; the next, to oppreſſe-by-violence: ſee the notes on Lev. 6. 2. Both theſe, did Iohn the Baptiſt forbid unto the Southerners, Luke 3. 14. rob] or, violently-oppreſſe, and plucke-by-force, as it is ſaid of Benajah, he plucked the ſpeare out of the Egyptians hand, 2 Sam. 23. 21. For theſe finnes, fraudulent-oppreſſion, and robbery, the Prophets doe often blame Iſrael, Ezek. 22. 29. Jer. 22. 3. Eſay 3. 14. Eccleſ. 4. 1. Pſal. 62. 11. It commeth from covetouſneſſe, as is ſaid; They covet fields, and take them by rapine, Mich. 2. 2. and proceedeth unto murder, as he that is greedy-of-gaine, taketh away the liſe of the owners thereof: Prov. 1. 19. The Hebrews ſay, Who ſo deſireth his neighbours houſe, wife, goods, or any other thing which is poſſible for him to get of him: when he hath thought in his heart how he might get that thing, and his heart is allured with the thing, he tranſgreſſeth this Law, Thou ſhalt not deſire, Deut. 5. 21. and Deſire is not, but in the heart onely. Deſire bringeth a man to Coveting, and Covetize bringeth him to Robbery. For if the owners will not ſell the thing, though he would give a great price, then falleth he to rapine, Mich. 2. 2. And if the owners ſtand up againſt him, to reſcue their goods, or to forbid him to rob, then he falleth to ſhedding of blood. Goe, and learne by the fact of Achab and Naboth. Loe thou muſt learne, that he which Deſireth, tranſgreſſeth one prohibition; and he that getteth the thing which he deſireth, by importuning the owners, or requeſting it of them, tranſgreſſeth two prohibitions; therefore it is written, Thou ſhalt not Covet; and, Thou ſhalt not Deſire. And if he take it by robbery, he tranſgreſſeth three prohibitions. And who ſo robbeth his neighbour of the worth of a ſarthing, is as if he tooke his liſe from him, Prov. 1. 19. Maimony in treat. of Robbery, ch. 1. ſ. 10. &c. If a man finde, and keepe backe a thing which his neighbour hath loſt, he tranſgreſſeth alſo this Law; as is noted on Deut. 22. 1. the worke] that is, the wages for the worke: as the Gr. tranſlateth it, wages. So in Job 7. 2. an hireling looketh for his worke: that is, for the reward of his worke: and in Jer. 22. 13. Woe unto him, &c. that uſeth his neighbours ſervice for nought, and giveth him not his worke; that is, his wages. So Chriſt ſaith, My worke is with my God, Eſay 49. 4. that is, my reward: and theſe two are joyned, as belonging to the ſame, as the Lords reward is with him, and his worke before him, Eſay 40. 10. that is, his recompence for worke. This is a particular inſtance, of the foreſaid oppreſſion; as Moſes after ſheweth, ſaying, Thou ſhalt not fraudulently-oppreſſe an hired ſervant, &c. at his day thou ſhalt give him his hire, Deut. 24. 14, 15. So in Mal. 3. 5. where God threatneth judgement for this ſin. See more, in the notes on Deut. 24.

Ver. 14. not curſe] or, as the Gr. tranſlateth, not ſpeake evill of the deafe: or, not revile; as in Exod. 22. 28. is ſpoken of the Magiſtrates; here it is ſpoken of the deafe, who cannot heare, nor thereat be offended: ſo by proportion, it is meant of all other; even of enemies; as, Bleſſe your perſecutors; bleſſe and curſe not, Rom. 12. 14. By the Hebrew canons, if a man curſed, not a Ruler onely, but any one of Iſrael, hee was to be beaten: which they grounded upon this Law, Thou ſhalt not curſe the deafe: and wherefore mentioneth hee the deafe? For that, though it be one that beareth not, neither is grieved for the curſe, yet is hee to be beaten for his curſing. Hee that curſeth any of Iſrael, man or woman, great or ſmall, he is once beaten: and if he curſe a Iudge, he is twiſe beaten; and if he curſe the Ruler (or Prince) he is thrice beaten. He that curſeth himſelfe, is beaten, as he that curſeth others; for it is written, (in Deuteron. 4. 9.) Take heed to thy ſelfe, and keepe thy ſoule; Maimony in Sanhedrin, ch. 26. ſ. 1, 2, 3. not put] Hebr. not give a ſtumbling stumbling-block, or (as the Greeke translateth it) a scandal: which, as it should not be before the blind, so neither before any, as it is written, let no man put a stumbling block, or a scandal in his brother's way, Rom. 14. 13. and, woe unto the world, because of scandals, Mat. 18. 7. Generally this forbiddeth all occasion of error, or fall unto any, especially to the blinde and ignorant; for, Cursed is he that maketh the blinde to erre out of the way, Deut. 27. 18. And, as the soule is more precious than the body, so the sin is greater, to put a scandal of sin, or stumbling block of iniquitie, before the consciences of the weak or ignorant, Rom. 14. 13. and 16. 17. 1 Cor. 8. 9, 13. Rev. 2. 14. Sol. Iarchi expoundeth Moses thus; Before him that is blinde in a matter, doe not give such counsell as is unmeet for him.

Verf. 15. unrighteousnesse] or, injurious evil: it is a generall word for all injustice, either in heart, as Psa. 58. 3. or with mouth, as Mal. 2. 6. Job 27. 4. Esa. 59. 3. or with hand and aft, Psa. 7. 4. Ezek. 18. 8. and applied sometime in speciall to unrighteousnesse in judgement; as here, and in Psa. 82. 2. All that doe this, are an abomination to the Lord, Deut. 25. 16. respect the person] or, lift-up, (or, accept) the face, which is to shew favour, and to grant ones request: which sometime is taken in the good part, as is noted on Gen. 19. 21. and may be obferved in 2 Kin. 3. 14. Lam. 4. 16. but in cases of judgement, it usually denoteth partiall carriage, & respect of one mans face or person, more than of anothers, which God forbiddeth here, and in Deut. 16. 19. Prov. 18. 5. Job. 13. 10. Psa. 58. 3. Jam. 2. 1. 9. of the poore] though in respect of his povertie he may seeme to be pitied, yet God would have all partiality in judgement to be avoided. honour the person] or, countenance the person (or face) of the great: as in Exod. 23. 3. we are forbidden to countenance (or honour) the poore. The Gr. translateth Thaumases, which properly is to admire, but used for honorable-respect, as is noted on Gen. 19. 21. in justice] or, with righteousness. Of this, see the Annotations on Deut. 16. 18.

Verf. 16. not walke a tale-bearer] or, calumniator, or, not walke with tale-bearing, and crimination. The Hebrew Rakil, properly signifieth, a merchant, or traffiquer up & down with spices, or other things, 1 King. 10. 15. Ezek. 27. 15, 17, 22, 23. Whereupon Rakil (the word here used) is a tale-bearer or accuser, that maketh merchandise as it were of words, uttering them as Wares, going from place to place, to heare, and to spread-abroad criminations of other men. His property is described to be a revealer of secrets, Pro. 11. 13. and 20. 19. his end, to shed blood, Ezek. 22. 9. yet pretending friendship and good neighbourhood, Jerem. 9. 4, 5. Wherefore, the Greeke translateth it here, Thou shalt not walke with guile, and in Prov. 11. 13. and 20. 19. he is called in Gr. double tongued. The holy Ghost in the new Testament seemeth to call him in Gr. Diabolos, that is, a false-accuser, calumniator, or make-bate, 2 Tim. 3. 3. 1 Tim. 3. 11. and so Aquila (an ancient Greeke interpreter) translateth Rakil, Diabolos, in Prov. 11. 23. And to this the Chaldee version agreeth, saying, Thou shalt not divulge accusations,

(or criminations,) among thy people. Which phrase is used in Dan. 6. 24. and of those men which made accusations against Daniel, (there translated in Gr. Diabollantes.) Hereupon Diabolos the Devill hath his name of calumniating and accusing the brethren, Rev. 12. 9, 10. whom the Syriack in Mat. 4. and other places, calleth a Divulger of accusations, or criminations. So that the Hebrew Rakil, is in Greeke Diabolos, in English, a Calumniator, a Make-bate, a Devill, (as Judas is called a Devill, John 6. 70.) Therefore this sin is great, and when it spread in Israel, that they (with their other sins) walked as Tale-bearers: they were called reprobate silver, because the Lord had rejected them, Jer. 6. 28, 30. The Hebrew Doctors explaine it thus; He that backbiteth his neighbour, transgresseth against this Law, Thou shalt not walke a Tale-bearer among thy people, (Levit. 19.) and though they be not beaten for this thing, yet it is a great iniquitie, and occasioned the killing of many soules of Israel; therefore this is joynd next unto it, Thou shalt not stand against the blood of thy neighbour, (Levit. 19. 16.) Goe and learne what befell unto Doeg the Edomite, (Psa. 52. 1 Sam. 22. 9, 19.) Who is a Tale-bearer, (Rakil) He that is laden with words, and goeth from one to another, and saith, Thus said such a one; or, Thus have I heard of such a one: although the thing be true, yet such a man marreth the whole world; Maimony in Mishneh, tom. 1. in Degnoth, chap. 7. sect. 1, 2. And as this Law, immediately followeth the former about the Judges; so the Hebrews apply this precept unto them, saying, It is unlawful for any of the Judges, when he goeth out from the judgement Hall, to say, I am he that doth acquit or condemn; and my fellowes are against mee: but what can I doe, seeing they are more then I. And if he thus speake, he is in the compasse of this, HE THAT WALKETH AS A TALEBEARER, REVEALETH SECRETS, (Pro. 11. 13.) Maim. in Sanbedrin, c. 22. f. 7. Wherto the Greek version of that place agreeth; A double-tongued man, revealeth counsels (or secrets) in the Synedion, (or Council.) And so in Prov. 20. 19. The Jerusalemie Thargum followeth the former Exposition, but with another phrase, expounding this Law thus: My people, the house of Israel, yee shall not follow the third (or the threefold) tongue against your neighbours: meaning hereby, the slanderous, or calumniating tongue. So in Psa. 101. 5. He that slandereth, (or hurteth with the tongue) is translated here by the Chaldee, He that speaketh with a third tongue: and in Psa. 140. 12. A man of tongue, that is, an evill tongued, or evill speaker, the Chaldee expounds it, A man which speaketh with a third tongue. And hence is that phrase of Iesum ben Syrach, in Ecclus. 28. 14. A third tongue hath disquieted many: and in verf. 15. A third tongue, hath cast out vertuous women: meaning, calumniators and backbiters. These are called of the Hebrewes, treble tongued, for the much hurt which they doe to their neighbours, whom they caluminate, and to whom they tell it, and to themselves. Our Wise men have said, the evill tongue killeth three; the speaker, and the receiver, and him that is spoken against; but the receiver more then the speaker. Maimony in Degnoth, chap. 7. sect. 3. not stand stand against the blood] that is, not stand and see thy neighbours blood spilt, and thou withdraw thy helpe from him, either by word or deed. So the Hebrews explaine this Law, saying; He that pursueth his neighbour, to kill him, all Israel are commanded to deliver the pursued, from the hand of the pursuer, yea though it be by the life of the pursuer. As, if he hath been warned to leave off, and yet he pursueth him, &c. hee may be killed. And if they can deliver him, with the losse of some of the pursuers limbes, as by striking off his hand, or breaking his leg, or striking out his eye, let them doe it. Who so can deliver him, by bereaving the pursuer of a limbe, and doth not, but killeth the pursuer: that man sheddeth blood, and is guiltie of death; howbeit, the Magistrates may not put him to death. Who so can deliver, and doth not, transgresseth this Law, Thou shalt not stand against thy neighbours blood. And so hee that seeth his neighbour sinking in the Sea; or thieves, or some wilde beasts comming upon him, and can deliver him, either by himselfe, or by hiring of others to deliver him, and doth not: or that hath heard, that infidels or other wicked, have purposed his evill, or bid a snare for his neighbour, and he discloseth it not unto him, and the like: he that thus doth, breaketh this Law, Thou shalt not stand against the blood of thy neighbour. Maimony, tom. 4. treat. of Murder, ch. 1. l. 6, 7, 13, 14. It implieth also, all other waies whereby a man may keepe himselfe or others from spilling innocent blood, as in case of Judgment, or the like. So Thargum Ierusalem expoundeth it, Thou shalt not keepe silent the blood of thy neighbour, in the time that thou knowest the truth in judgement. And this Law is joyned with the former of tale-bearing, as that which often causeth blood-shed: and the Prophet complaineth, In thee are men that carry tales, to shed blood, Ezek. 22. 9.

17 Verſ. 17. not hate thy brother] by brother, is meant here, any other man: therefore Christ blamed the Pharisees Gloſſe, Thou shalt love thy neighbour, and hate thine enemy; and hath said unto us, Love your enemies, Matth. 5. 43, 44. And this Law followeth the former about blood; because, Whosoever hateth his brother, is a murderer, 1 Joh. 3. 15. And because hatred often riseth of offences, he commandeth to rebuke, and not to hate for such things: which the Hebrewes explaine thus; When one man sinneth against another, he must not inwardly hate him, and keepe silence; as it is said of the wicked, And Absalom spake unto his brother Amnon, neither good nor bad, for Absalom hated Amnon, 2 Sam. 13. 22. but he is commanded to make it knowne unto him, and to say, why hast thou done thus unto me? Maimony in Degnot, chap. 6. sect. 6. in thy heart] the Greek translateth, in thy mind (or thought) which is an effect of the heart, as in Luke 1. 51. there is mentioned the thought (or imagination of their heart. So in Coloss. 1. 21. the Apostle speaketh of enemies in their minde: and, I will write (my Law) in their heart, Jer. 31. 33. is expounded, in their mindes, Heb. 10. 16. rebuking thou shalt rebuke] that is, thou shalt in any wise rebuke, or, freely, plainly, soundly reprove. The originall signifieth, to rebuke with conviction or argument; by words to shew what is right, and to reſell the contrary: as to reason, Job 13. 3. Esa. 1. 18. to convince, Job 32. 12. to reprove, Esa. 1. 18. 4. And it is opposed both unto hatred nourished in silence, as here, and in 2 Sam. 13. 22. and unto flattery, Prov. 28. 23. The same Law is given by Christ, in Luke 17. 3. If thy brother sinne against thee, rebuke him: and if he repent, forgive him. This duty David desired, saying, Let the just smite me, &c. and let him rebuke me, Psalm. 141. 5. and it is the meanes, both to nourish love among the wise, Prov. 9. 8. and to increase knowledge among the prudent, Prov. 19. 25. and to procure a good blessing, Prov. 24. 25. The Hebr. Doctors say, He that seeth his neighbour sin, or walke in a way not good; is commanded to admonish him to doe better, and to certifie him, that he sinneth against himselfe by his evill deeds; as it is written, Rebuking thou shalt rebuke thy neighbour. He that rebuketh his neighbour, whether it be for things betwene him and him, or betwene him and God: he must rebuke him betwene him and himselfe (alone;) and speake unto him gently, and with a soft tongue, and let him know, that he speaketh not unto him but for his good, to bring him to the life of the world to come. If he receive it of him, it is well; if not, let him rebuke him the second and third time: and so continually a man is bound to rebuke him, untill the sinner resist him, and say, I will not heare thee. Maimony in Degnot, chap. 6. sect. 7. not beare sinne for him] This is the usuall and proper meaning of the Hebrew words, as after in Levit. 22. 9. Numb. 18. 32. and the Greeke and Chaldee versions so explaine it: and Chazkuni confirmeth it by the like: Gnalahi (saith hee) for his sake sake; as (in Pl. 44.) for, for thy sake are we killed all the day &c. It teacheth, that he who rebuketh not his brother for sinne, shall beare sinne, (that is, punishment) for his sake, because he seeketh not to save a soule from death, as Jam. 5. 20. therefore God will require his blood at his hand; as Ezek. 3. 18. It may also be englished, suffer not sinne upon him: that is, leave him not in his sinne, unreproved. And as a man may beare sinne for his brother, by leaving him unrebuked; so for not reprovving him in good sort, and in love, but in bitterness, and to his reproach. And thus the Hebrewes apply it, saying, He that rebuketh his neighbour first, let him not speake unto him hard words, to make him ashamed; for it is written, AND BEARE NOT SIN FOR HIM, &c. Hereby a man is forbidden to shame an Israelite, how much more, if it be in publike. Our wise men have said, he that maketh his neighbours face ashamed publiquely, shall have no inheritance in the world to come. Therefore a man must be warned, that he put not his neighbour to shame publiquely, be hee small or great; nor call him by a name, whereof he is ashamed, &c. whereby is meant, in matters that are betwene a man and his neighbour. But in matters of (the God of) heaven, if he convert not in secret, they are to make him ashamed publiquely, and divulge his sin, and put him to reproach openly, and despise and set him at nought, untill he returne unto well doing: as all the Prophets in Israel did (unto such.) Maimony in Degnot, chap. 6. sect. 8.

Verſ. 18. not avenge] The Greek translateth, Let not thy hand revenge. The Apostle openeth it thus, Beloved, avenge not your selves, but give place unto wrath: for it is written, Vengeance is mine, I will repay, Kkk 3 saith the Lord, Rom. 12. 19. Hereupon David said to Saul, The Lord avenge me of thee, but mine hand shall not be upon thee, 1 Sam. 24. 12. so Jerem. 15. 15. And Solomon saith, Say not thou, I will recompence evil; wait on the Lord, and he will save thee, Prov. 20. 22. What vengeance is, is shewed in Jer. 50. 15. Take vengeance on her; as she hath done, doe unto her. The Hebrewes say, He that avengeth himselfe on his neighbour, transgresseth the Law, Levit. 19. 18. and although he is not to be beaten (by the Magistrate) for it, yet it is a very great evil. Avenging is thus; as when a man would borrow an oxe of his neighbour, or the like; and he refuseth to lend it him: on the morrow, his neighbour hath need to borrow an oxe of him, and he saith, I will not lend it thee, because thou wouldest not lend me when I would have borrowed of thee; this is vengeance. But when he cometh to borrow, he should give it him with a perfect heart, and not reward him, as he hath done to him: and so in all like cases. And so David with a good minde, said, (in Psal. 7. 5.) If I have rewarded evil to him that had peace with me; yea I have released my distresser without cause. Maim. in Degmoth, c. 7. l. 7. nor keep] to weete, injurie in minde, that is, not be a grudge; or, not observe the sins of thy people: which is spoken of such as would seeme to forgive, but will not forget wrong, or unkindnesse. The Gr. translateth, thou shalt not be angry, (or, beare irrevocate displeasure,) the Chaldee, thou shalt not keepe enmitie. So God is said to take vengeance on his adversaries, and to keepe (wrath) for his enemies, Nahum 1. 2. but to his people, not so, Jer. 3. 12. Psal. 103. 9. whose example herein, we are to follow, Mat. 5. 48. The Hebrewes explaine it by a similitude, thus; As if Reuben say to Simeon, hire me this house; or lend me this oxe, and Simeon will not. After a time, Simeon cometh to Reuben, to borrow or hire of him; and Reuben saith, Loe I lend it thee, and I will not doe as thou didst, I will not repay thee according to thy deeds. Hee that doth thus, transgresseth this Law, THOU SHALT NOT KEEPE; but he should blot the thing out of his heart, and not keepe it. For all the while that he keepeth the thing, and remembereth it; he is in danger to fall unto revenging. Therefore the Law cutteth off this keeping (in minde;) untill he put the injurie out of his heart, and remember it not at all. Maimony in Degmoth, c. 7. l. 8. Chazkuni also explaineth it thus; Thou shalt not avenge, in worke; thou shalt not keepe, in thought. as thy selfe] This is the second of the two great Commandements, which our Saviour saith, is like unto the first, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God, with all thine heart, &c. and, in these two Commandements hang all the Law and the Prophets, Mat. 22. 37, 40. For this, Thou shalt not commit adulterie, Thou shalt not kill, Thou shalt not steale, Thou shalt not beare false witness, Thou shalt not covet; and if there be any other Commandement, it is briefly comprehended in this word, namely, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thy selfe, Rom. 13. 9. To this we may adde the Hebrewes testimony, LOVE THY NEIGHBOUR AS THY SELF: this is the great universall (precept) in the Law. R. Azai said unto him, IN THE IMAGE OF GOD MADE HE HIM: this is an universall (rule) greater than it: that a man should not say, forasmuch as I am despised, my neighbour shall be despised with me. R. Thancuma answered, if thou dost so, know whom thou despisest; for loe, he that loveth his neighbour, who is made in the Image of God, loveth the blessed God himselfe, and honoureth him. R. Menachem, on Levitic. 19. Another writeth thus; Every man is commanded to love every one of Israel, as his owne body, Lev. 19. 18. Therefore he must speake in his commendation, and spare his goods, as he would spare his owne goods, and as he would his owne honour. And he that honoureth himselfe, by the dishonour of his neighbour, he hath no inheritance in the world to come. Maimony in Degmoth, chap. 6. sect. 3.

Verf. 19. my statutes] in Greeke, my law. This is here repeated, lest the ordinances following, which may seeme to be small, should be neglected. Or, as this word Statute (or, Decree) is sometime used for Gods ordinances in nature, bounding and limiting things, Psal. 148. 6. Job 26. 10. and 38. 33. Prov. 8. 29. so here he may intend the same, that his naturall ordinances, for the distinct kindes of things, should not be violated. let thy cattell] or, cause thy beast, of any sort. The Hebrews say, He that causeth the male to ingender with the female which is not of the same kinde, whether it be of cattell, or wilde-beast, or fowle, yea though it be of the kindes of wilde beasts that are in the Sea; he is to be beaten [of the Magistrates] by the Law, in every place; whether it be within the land [of Israel,] or without the same, Levit. 19. 19. and whether it be a beast or fowle of his owne, or of his neighbours. Who so transgresseth, and causeth his beast to ingender with another kinde, that which is bred of them, is lawfull for use. And if it be one kinde of cleane beast, with another kinde of cleane beast; it is lawfull to be eaten. Two kindes of beasts that are one like another, though they be mixed together, and one like another; yet forasmuch as they are of two kindes, it is unlawfull to cause them to gender together: as a Wolfe, with a Dog; a Roe-bucke, with a Goat; an Horse, with a Mule, &c. Beasts that are bred of divers kindes, if their dammes be of one kinde, it is lawfull to let them gender together; but if they be of two kindes, it is unlawfull. As, a Mule, whose damme is an Ass, it is lawfull to let him gender with a she-Mule, if her damme be an Ass. But if the damme of the Mule, be a Mare; it is unlawfull to let him gender with a she-Mule, whose damme is an Ass; and so in all other like cases. Maimony in Misneh, tom. 3. in Kilajim (or, treat. of divers kindes) chap. 9. sect. 1, 3. &c. The reason of this law may be partly to conserve the nature of things, as God first created them, and blessed them to increase and multiply, every one after his kinde, Gen. 1. 11, 12, 21, 24, 25. and 6. 20. which order he would have his people to keepe, and not in vanitie or curiositie of mind, to alter the shape and nature of the creatures, or seeme to make more then God created. Therefore Anah (one of the wicked,) is noted as the first that found out Mules, by the gendring of divers kinds: see the Annotations on Gen. 36. 24. And partly it might leade Israel to the simplicitie and sinceritie of religion, and to all the parts and doctrines of the Law and Gospel, in their distinct kindes: as Faith is necessarie, Good workes are necessary; but to mingle these together in the cause of our justification before God, is forbidden, Gal.

2. 16. & 3. 9, 10, 11, 12. The same is to be minded for the things of this nature, following. See also Deut. 22. 9, 10, 11. where in repeating this Law, the ploughing with an Oxe and an Ass together, is forbidden. The Hebrew Doctors say, He that causeth growing of two kinds, it is as if he thought that the holy blessed God had not perfected whatsoever is needfull, but himselfe would adde more creatures, and helpe in the creation of the World. And in the mixture of seeds, a man altereth the order of the creation; for it is written concerning them, AFTER HIS KINDE, (Gen. 1. 11.) And this is that which is said (in Levit. 19. 19.) YE SHALL KEEPE MY STATUTES; our Rabbines have said, these statutes [or bounds] are those by which he hath bounded the World, &c. Also they say, wheresoever a STATUTE is spoken of, it is a King's decree, &c. And the intendment is, that a man should not alter the statutes of the Lord most high, for he then doth as one that changeth the Kings coine: he that changeth the kinde; and maketh mixtures of divers sorts in any thing, is as a falsifier of the Kings coine. R. Me-nachem on Levit. 19. fol. 148. with a divers-kinde] The Hebrew Kilajim, is a generall word for all mixed things, as the Chaldee tranlateth it, as in beasts, seeds, garments, and the like. And it hath the name of Restraine or Prohibition, because such mixtures are forbidden. not sow thy field] nor thy vineyard, Deut. 22. 9. and so by proportion, other the like, as trees, &c. The Hebrews explaine it thus, He that soweth two kinds of seeds together, in the land of Israel, is to be beaten, Levit. 19. 19. As be that mixeth Wheat and Barley, or Beanes and Lentils together, and layeth them on the earth, and covereth them with mudd; whether it be with his hand, or with his foot, or with an instrument; he is to be beaten. And it is unlawfull for a man to let divers kinds of seeds grow in his field, but he must pull them up; though if he let them grow, he is not beaten. By tradition we have learned, that it is lawfull for an Israelite to sow divers kinds of seeds, out of the Land, (of Israel. None are forbidden by the name of divers-kinde; but such seeds as are meet for mans meat: bitter beards and other such like, meet for medicine, or like uses; there is in them, no respect of divers-kinds of seeds. Divers-kinds of trees, they are comprehended within this generall rule, THOU SHALT NOT SOW THY FIELD, &c. As be that graffeth one tree in another, as the griffe of an Apple-tree, in a Pome-citron tree, or a Citron in an Apple-tree; Lxx, such are to be beaten by the Law, whether within the Land, or without the Land; and so be that planteth an hearbe in a tree, &c. And it is unlawfull for an Israelite to let an be when graffe trees with divers kinds for him. But it is lawfull to sow seeds of graine, and seeds of trees together; and lawfull likewise to mixe the seeds of trees, and to sow them together; for there is no mixture of divers-kinds in trees, save gaffing onely. Though be that soweth divers-kinds, is to be beaten, yet those fruits are lawfull to be eaten, &c. for the sowing onely is forbidden. And it is lawfull to plant a branch of that tree, which hath bene graffed with divers kinds, and to sow of the seed of that hearbe, which was sown with divers-kinds. One seed that is mixed with another, if it be one of foure and twentie, (that is, the foure and twentieth part,) as one pecke of

Wheat, with three and twentie peckes of Barley, he it is unlawfull to sow this mixture; untill either the Wheat be lesse, or the Barley more: otherwise, be that soweth it, is to be beaten. A field that hath bene sown and reaped, and the roots remaine in the earth; although they spring up but after some yeares: they may not sow other seed in that field, untill the roots be plucked up. In the first day of Adar, (that is, February) they make Proclamation against divers-kinds of seeds: and every man goeth out to his garden and field, and purgeth it of divers-kinds [if they grow there.] And in the fiftenth day thereof, the Magistrates send messengers forth, and they goe about to search. Maimony in Kilajim, chap. 1. sect. 1. &c. and chap. 2. sect. 1, 12, 15. The reason of this Law, is the same with the former; see more on Deut. 22. 9. of linsie-wolfe] in Hebrew, Shagnatz, a word used onely here, and in Deut. 22. 11. where Moses after explaineth it, of fowen and woollen together: but the word it selfe is like to be of some other language, which used (as seemeth) to call such garments by that name. The Chaldee keepeth the Hebrew word, but the Greeke tranlateth it, Kibdelos, which is used of things adulterate, or impurely-mixed. According to which interpretation, it should be a figure of corruption and hypocrisie. Among the Hebrews, R. Menachem (upon this place) applaudeth an exposition of this word which he found in the Doctors of the Kabbala, that it is Satan one of the high Rulers, [he meaneth the Ruler of the power of the aire, spoken of in Ephes. 2. 2.] which is clad with Shagnatz, and is able to doe hurt, and is שַׁגְנָטִיז [Satan the Idolater] by transposition of letters שַׁגְנָטִיז [Shagnatnez] and the Gentiles which knew not the meaning of the word, called him Satanos: [So the Devill is called in the Greek tongue, Rev. 12. 9.] But their Canonists explaine the thing thus; Nothing is forbidden concerning divers-kinds in garments, but wooll and flax onely, Deut. 22. 11. And there is a thing like wooll, that groweth on stones in the salt sea, &c. which is forbidden with flax, because to the eye-sight it is like sheepes wooll. When wooll and flax are mixed together, as when they are tozed together, or spun together, and so woven into a garment; this is the divers-kinds forbidden in the Law. To sow a woollen garment with flaxen thread, or a flaxen garment with woollen thread, &c. is divers-kinds. Of these divers-kinds, there is no stinted-measure; though it be but a thread of wooll in a flaxen garment, or a flaxen thread in a woollen garment, it is unlawfull. If the wooll of sheepe and of camels or the like, be tozed, and spun together; and if the halfe be sheepes wooll, he it is all as sheepes wooll, and being with flax, it is of divers-kinds. But if the most part be of camels wooll, it is lawfull to mixe it with flax; for it hath all the forme of camels wooll. Likewise hempe and flax tozed together, if the most part be hempe, it is lawfull to weave the threads thereof, with the threads of wooll: but if they be halfe to halfe, it is unlawfull. Maimony in Kilajim, chap. 10. sect. 1. &c. So in Thalmud Bab. in Kilajim, chap. 9. they say, Nothing is forbidden by the name of divers-kinds (in garments) but wooll and flax together. not come upon thee] in Greeke, thou shalt not put upon thee: and so Moses explaineth it in Deut. 22. 11. Thou shalt not weare (or clad thy selfe.) And this the Hebrews

Hebrews understand strictly, that nothing is forbidden, but the wearing of it in garments: therefore they say; Garments of divers-kinds, it is lawfull to make them, and to sell them; and nothing is forbidden, but to wear them onely, Deut. 22. 11. It is lawfull to dwell in a Tent made all of linsie-woolfe; and to sit upon carpets, beds, &c. made thereof. Also to make shrowds of such, to wrap the dead in; for unto the dead there is no commandement. Who so weareth linsie-woolfe, or putteth it on, is to be beaten. Who so putteth it upon his neighbour, if he that hath it upon him; doe it presumptuously, then he is beaten that hath it on him; and he that put it upon him, transgresseth this rule, Thou shalt not put a stumbling-bloke before the blinde. But if hee that hath the garment on him, knoweth not that it is linsie-woolfe, but he that put it on him, did it presumptuously, he that put it on him, is beaten, and he that hath it on, is free. Maimony in Kilajim, ch. 10. sect. 12. 25, 30, 31.

20 Ver. 20. a man] in Greeke, if any (man) be with a woman, betrothed] so the Chaldee expoundeth the Hebrew Nekehrepheth, which comming of Caraph, that is, to publish and to reproach, is diversly here understood; of some, for a woman in reproach and publike contempt; of others, publicly betrothed. The Greeke translateth it, kept (or reserved) to a man. The Hebrew Doctors explaine it thus; *The bond-woman (charupbah) betrothed, spoken of in the Law, is one that is halfe a bond-woman, and halfe a free-woman, and betrothed to an Hebrew servan. Thalmud Bab. in Chereitboth, chap. 2. and Maimony in Issurei biab, ch. 3. sect. 13. But this betrothing is not complete; as elsewhere he saith, He that is espoused to a woman that is halfe bond and halfe free, she is not espoused with complete espousals, untill she be made free: and when she is free, they accomplish the espousals, as the espousals of a girle, which is growne great, and he needeth no other espousals. Maimony, treat. of Wives, chap. 4. sect. 16. not redeemed] the Chaldee explaineth it thus, not redeemed with money, or freedome is not given her by a bill of dismissal. a scourging] The Hebrew Bikhereth signifieth, first a carefull-inquisition or visitation, and by consequence, a scourging or beating; and this is meant of her onely, as the Chaldee version sheweth; and the Greeke saith, there shall be a visitation of her: and so the Hebrew Canons explain it, She is to be beaten, and he is to bring a sacrifice: Maimony in Shegagoth, chap. 9. sect. 1. and elsewhere (in Issurei biab, chap. 3. sect. 14.) he saith, The lying with this bond-woman, differeth from all other unlawfull copulations; for loe she is to be beaten, (Levit. 19. 20.) and he is bound to bring a trespass-offring, (Levit. 19. 21.) So in the Thalmud, in Chereitboth, chap. 2. it is said, *In all unlawfull copulations, whether it be man or woman, they are alike in stripes and in sacrifice: but in (the case of) the bond-woman, the man is not like to the woman in stripes, nor the woman to the man in sacrifice. not free] for if shee were free, the punishment of them both should be death, Deut. 22. 24.

23 Ver. 23. into the land] of Canaan: the Greeke addeth, which the Lord your God, giveth unto you. This Law was peculiar for the land of Canaan, not for other countries. tree for food] or, tree of food, that is, whose fruit serveth for mans meat. So this law concerneth not other trees that are for timber: and (as the Hebrews think) not fruit trees which are not intended by the owner for food. They say, He that planteth a tree for food, and he intendeth it to be a fence for a garden, or that he hath planted it for timber, not for fruit: it is free from the (Law of the) uncircumcised (fruits.) If he plant it for fence, and after changeth his minde, and replanteth it for food; or planteth it for food, and after replanteth it for fence: as he shall please to intend, so he is bound concerning it. If he planteth it three yeeres for fence, and thenceforth for food, it is not the fourth yeere sanctified: for whatsoever hath not bene (three yeeres) uncircumcised, cannot be the fourth yeere sanctified. He that planteth, for (to observe) a commandement, as when he planteth a Citron tree, for branches at the feast of Tabernacles; or an Olive tree for (oil for) the Candlesticke (in the Sanctuary,) it is bound to (this law of) the uncircumcision. That which the heathens planted before (Israel) came into the land, was free from it: but after they came into the land, though the heathens planted it, it was bound therunto. Whether a man plant a slip or a branch of a tree, or pull up the whole tree out of his place, and plant it in another place; it is bound to the uncircumcision: and they are to reckon from the house of the planting thereof. Whether he plant it; or slip it, or graffe it; it is bound hereunto. Maimony in Magnafer shevi, (or treat. of the second Tübe) ch. 10. sect. 2, 3, 7, 9, 11, 13. And elsewhere they say, *Our fathers came into the land; whatsoever they found planted, was free (from this law of uncircumcision:) what they themselves planted, though before the land was conquered, was bound hereunto. Thalmud in Gnorlab, chap. 1. sect. 2. count as uncircumcised] or, cut-off the uncircumcision thereof, to weet, the fruit thereof. The Greeke translateth, ye shall purifie the impuritie thereof. three yeeres] By the Hebrew canons, The first (day) of Tisri, (that is, the moneth which we call September) was the beginning of the yeere for uncircumcised fruits, and for the fourth (yeere.) Maim. in Magnafer shevi, chap. 9. sect. 8. as uncircumcised] in Greeke, unpurified (or uncleane:) the Chaldee expounds it, *abhorred (or put-away) unto destruction. not be eaten] nor sold to infidels, nor any use or profit made of them, but beaten off, and destroyed. The fruits that the tree yeeldeth, for three yeeres after the planting, are unlawfull to be eaten, or put to any profitable use: and who so eateth of them, so much as an olive; is to be beaten by the Law. Maimony, treat. of Forbidden meats, chap. 10. sect. 9.

Ver. 24. holinesse of praises] that is, fruit of holinesse, or any holy thing, to be consecrated unto the Lord for his praise, and eaten with mirth before him, as in Judg. 9. 27. they made praises; that is, songs and mirth, and as the Greeke there translateth, dances. This was done, either by giving them to the Priests, as Num. 18. 12, 13. &c. (and so Aben Ezra on Levit. 19. saith, the Priests did eat it,) or the owners did eat them before the Lord, as they did their second tithes, Deut. 12. 17, 17. This latter is the Hebrewes common opinion, who say; The fruits of the fourth (yeere) after the plantation, plantation, are holy, Levit. 19. 24. and their right is, to be eaten in Jerusalem, by the owners of them, as the second tithes. He that would redeem these fruits, may redeem them as the second tithes; and if he redeems them for himselfe, he must adde the fift part, [as Levit. 27. 30, 31.] A vineyard of the fourth (yeere) is not bound to that law [fore-mentioned in Levit. 19. 9, 10.] to leave a corner, or the single-grapes, or the grapes broken off, &c. neither doe they separate out of it first-fruits or tithes, or second tithes: but all the fruits are carried up to Jerusalem, or redeemed, and their price carried up, and eaten in Jerusalem, as the tithes. The grapes of vineyards of the fourth yeere, the Judges ordained, that they should be brought up to Jerusalem, a daies journey on every side, to decke the streets of Jerusalem with the fruits; all other fruits might be redeemed, though (they grew) neere to the walls (of Jerusalem.) Who so had trees planted of the fourth yeere, in the yeere of release [which was every seventh yeere, Levit. 25. 4, 6.] when every mans hand was alike (free to gather them:) he must set up a signe of clods of earth, whereby they might be knowne; that they might not be eaten off, untill they were redeemed. And if it was within the yeeres of the uncircumcised-fruits, he made signes of Potters clay, that they might be kept from (eating of) them; for the prohibition of uncircumcised-fruits, was weighty, for all use of them was forbidden. Maimony in Magnafer Shen, chap. 9. sect. 1, 2, 4, 7. and Talmud Bab. in Magnafer Shen, chap. 1.

25 Verſ. 25. ye shall eat] to weet, as other common meats, freely without redeeming them. And hereupon is that phrase of making a vineyard common, in Deut. 20. 6. which was in the fift yeere from the plantation, when they were free to be eaten. to adde] that is, that the tree may adde, or abundantly yeeld unto you, the revenue (or increase) thereof; whiles you obey these my commandements; for upon obedience, such blessings are promised, Lev. 26. 3, 4. So Targum Ionathan explaineth it, that they may adde unto you from heaven; i. by the blessing of God. By this law the uncircumcised or uncleane fruits, God taught his people the contagion of their sins, since first man did eat of the forbidden tree: for which the earth was cursed, Gen. 3. 17. and men have no right to eat of the increase thereof, (for to them that are defiled & unbelieving, nothing is pure, 1 Tit. 1. 15.) until it be sanctified by the word of God, and prayer, 1 Tim. 4. 5. So by the fourth yeers fruits, which were holy to the Lord, he taught them sanctimonie and thankfulnesse; as by their first-fruits, tithes, &c. which they gave unto the Lord, every yeere; hee taught them to honour him, with their substance, & with the first of all their increase, that so their Barnes might be filled with plenty, and their presses burit-out with new wine, Prov. 3. 9, 10.

26 Verſ. 26. with the blood] that is, any flesh that is not fully dead, or whose blood is not orderly let out, and the flesh purged of the blood; as in 1 Sam. 14. 33. (where this phrase is used) they said, Behold the people sin against the Lord, in that they eat with the blood, &c. See the Annotations on Lev. 17. The Hebrews understand hereby, two things; Not to eat the flesh of holy things, before the blood be sprinkled

(on the Altar;) nor to eat of common beasts, untill their soule (their life) be gone out. Sol. Iarchi on Levit. 19. In Targum Ionathan it is thus explained; ye shall not eat of the flesh of any sacrifice, whiles the blood is in the basin, (unsprinkled.) But Maimony (tom. 2. in Shechitah, chap. 1. sect. 2.) saith, It is unlawfull to eat of a flaine beast, so long as it trembles; and he that eateth thereof, before the soule of it be gone out, transgresseth against a prohibition. And it is comprised in this generall rule, YE SHALL NOT EAT WITH THE BLOOD. Chazkuni also saith, With the blood; i. without slaying it; and so it is written, (in 1 Sam. 14. 34.) and slay them here, and eat, and sin not against the Lord, in eating with the blood. The Greeke translateth, ye shall not eat upon the mountains: (reading Harim, mountaines, for Hadsm, the blood: mistaking *R. for *D. as they doe sundry other times;) meaning it against Idolatry; which, though the thing be true, as Ezek. 18. 6. yet it is not the intendment of this place: and the Chaldee translateth it aright, with the blood. Some of the Hebrews (as Baal hatturim on this place) because in the next words is forbidden observing of fortunes, and of times, &c. which were heathenish customes, think this also to be the like, and understand it, of not eating upon, or over blood of a man flaine; But they should not observe fortunes (or use Inchantment) by eating after the manner of murderers, which eat bread over him that is flaine, that the avengers of blood may not execute vengeance on them. Chazkuni also citeth the like exposition: but the former, by comparing it with 1 Sam. 14. is the best. not observe fortunes] or, not conjecture by signes of good or evill-lucke; an heathenish practise, who marked signes of good or evill, as by seeing of bealts or birds which they counted lucky or unlucky; by the falling of a staffe out of their hands, by stumbling when they went out of doores, and many such like. So that which followeth, not observe times; is to count one day lucky, another unlucky to take a journey in hand, or begin any worke, and the like. Of these, see the Annotations on Deut. 18. 10, 11. where Moses more fully layeth downe this Law, and mentioneth sundry other particulars of this kinde: calling Israel from all false Prophets, Soothsayers, Sorcerers, unto Gods Word, and unto Christ alone, the Prophet whom he promisseth to raise up unto them.

Verſ. 27. not round] not compasse, that is, not enround; which the Greeke translateth, ye shall not make a roundness of the haire of your head. This is likely to be a manner of the heathens, especially in their mourning, as these lawes, compared with Levit. 21. 5. seeme to imply. a corner] or, the corners, (the singular being put for the plurall) which are the forehead, temples, and behinde the eares: these God would not have rounded, or cut as with a dish, like an halfe globe, because Idolaters used that fashion; as appeareth also by Jer. 9. 26. & 25. 23. & 49. 32. And the Arabians used so to poll their heads, as Herodotus in his history, b. 3. testifieth. The Hebrew canons say, None may shave the corners of their head, as the Idolaters have done, Levit. 19. 27. and he (that so doth) is guilty for every corner: therefore fore he that shaveth his two temples, though at once, is to be beaten twice. Maimony in treat. of Idolatrie, ch. 12. sect. 1. marre] or, corrupt a corner of thy beard, that is, any of the corners thereof: which the Greeke translateth, the sight (or fashion) of your beard. This Law is againe repeated for the Priests, Lev. 21. 5. where for marring, he useth the word shaving: and Maimony (in treat. of Idolatrie, chap. 12. sect. 7.) saith, It was the manner of Idolatrous Priests, to marre their beards; therefore the Law forbiddeth to marre th: beard. And he maketh five corners, two on the upper lip, and three beneath; and for marring any one, he was to be beaten, and for marring all five to be beaten as for five transgressions. But this is not (as he saith) meant for trimming them with Scissors, but for shaving them off onely, for it must be such cutting, as is the marring (or corrupting) of them. Such shaving the heathens also used in signe of sorrow; as in Esa. 15. 2. it is said of Moab, on all their heads baldnesse, every beard cut-off. So in Jer. 48. 37.

28 Verſ. 28. not make] Hebr. not give in your flesh: which the Greeke translateth, not make in your body cutting] or incision; in Greeke, intisions; in the Chaldee, hurt, or corruption: so in Levitic. 21. 5. Compare also Deut. 14. 1. Jer. 48. 38. for a soule] meaning, for a dead soule, or person, as Numb. 6. 6. and as in Thargum Jonathan, it is here explained; that is, in sorrow or mourning for a soule departed: which the Chaldee translateth, for the dead, (as Moser himſelfe explaineth it, in Deut. 14. 1.) but the Greeke keepeth the word soule. Among the Latines also, Animas, the soule, was used for a dead body: as in Virgil Aeneid. 3. Animamque ſepulchro Condimus. Hereby God calleth them from the heatheniſh manners, and would have them not to sorrow, as others which have no hope, 1 Theſ. 4. 13. for among the nations, when their friends died, they lamented, and cut themselves, and made themselves bald for them, Jer. 16. 6. By the Hebrew canons, He that did cut one gash for the dead, was to be beaten: and whether he were a Priest, or an (other) Iſraelite, if he cut one gash for five dead persons, or five for one dead person, he was to be beaten five times. Maimony, treat. of Idolatrie, chap. 12. sect. 12. the print of a marke] or, the writing of an impression; which the Chaldee translateth, ingraven marks; the Greeke, Letters printed (or marked). The Hebrews open it thus; The print of a marke, spoken of in the Law, was when one did cut upon his flesh, and filled the cut place with ſtibium, or with inke, or ſome other colour. And this was the cuſtome of the Heathens, that they marked themselves unto Idolatrie, &c. Maimony, treat. of Idolatrie, chap. 12. sect. 11. From all these and other like heatheniſh rites, whereby they spared not, but unnaturally mangled their owne bodies, God would keepe his people, whose bodies should be the members of Chriſt, and the Temple of the holy Ghoſt, 1 Cor. 6. 15, 19. who therefore should beare in their bodie, no other then the markes of the Lord Ieſus, Gal. 6. 17. See the notes on Deut. 14. 1, 2.

29 Verſ. 29. to be an whore] or, to commit fornication: This word is used for carnall whoredome, and ſpiritually, which is Idolatrie, as Ex. 34. 15. and to this later, the Chaldee seemeth to refer it, saying, Prophane not thy daughter, so cause her to erre: where by Idolatry is usually meant. What an whore was in Iſrael, is noted on Levit. 21. 7. the land] that is, the people of the land, following her evill example. wickednesse] or, wicked thoughts: in Chaldee, counsell (or purpose of finnes: but Thargum Jonathan expoundeth it, whoredome. See the notes on Leviticus 18. 17.

Verſ. 30. Sabbaths] in Chaldee, Sabbath daies; as before in verſ. 3. so after in Levit. 26. 2. reverence] or, fear my Sanctuary; unto which they were to come on the Sabbaths, Ezek. 46. 3. which Sanctuary was now the Tabernacle, afterwards the Temple. This fear was for the presence of God therein: whereupon Isaac feared, and said, How fearfull is this place? this is no other, but the house of God, &c. Gen. 28. 16, 17. And Salomon saith, Take heed to thy foot, when thou goest into the house of God, Ecclef. 5. 1. And in Thargum Jonathan this Law is explained thus; Te shall goe to the house of my Sanctuary in feare: From hence the Jewes had many rites, for coming into the Sanctuary, and behaving themselves in it; which Maimony in tom. 3. in Beth habchirah, (or treat. of the Temple) ch. 7. sheweth thus; It is commanded to reverence the Sanctuary, Levitic. 19. 30. and thou reverenceſt not the Sanctuary it ſelfe, but him who commandeth the reverence thereof. And what is this reverence of it? *A man may not come into the mountaine of the house (of God) with his ſtaffe, or with his ſhoes on his feet, or in his working-garments; or with duſt on his feet, or with bags of money about him. And I need not ſpeake, how it is unlawfull to ſpit in any part of the mountaine of the Houſe; but he muſt wrap up his excrements in his handkerchiefe. And he may not make the Mount of the houſe a thorow-fare, to goe in at one doore and out at another, to ſhorten his way: but muſt goe round about, and not come in there, ſave for the thing that is commanded. And all that went in to the Mount of the houſe, went in by the way of the right hand, and turned and went out by the way of the left: except he unto whom ſomething had befallen, for which he turned towards the left hand. Therefore they asked him, what is befallen thee, that thou turneſt towards the left hand? (If he ſaid,) becauſe I am a mourner: (they answered,) Hee that dwelleth in this Houſe, comfort thee. (If he ſaid,) Becauſe I have the Niddus [that is, the leſſer excommunication] upon me: (they answered,) Hee that dwelleth in this Houſe, give into thine heart, that thou maiſt hearken unto the words of thy neighbours. Whoſever had accompliſhed his ſervice, and went his way; did not goe out with his backe to the Temple, but went backward by little and little, and went ſoftly ſide-long, till he was out of the court-yard; and ſo did the men that kept the watch, and their courſes, and the Levites, &c. all this was for reverence of the Sanctuary. And whoſoever aſſembled into the Court-yard, went ſoftly unto the place whither it was lawfull for him to come; and he was to conſider that he ſtood before the Lord; as he hath ſaid, Mine eyes and mine heart ſhall be there, all dayes, (2 Chronic. 7. 16.) And he was to goe with dread, and with feare and trembling. And it was unlawfull for any man to ſit in all the Court-yard: neither was there any ſeat in the Court-yard,*

five for the Kings of Davids house only; as it is written. And King David went in, and sat before the Lord, (2 Sam. 7. 18.) And it is unlawfull for a man to make an house, after the fashion of the Temple, or a porch like the porch thereof, or a court-yard like the court thereof; or Table like the Table there, or a Candlestick like the Candlestick thereof, &c. With these rites which were in Israel, wee may compare the zeale of our Saviour, who for reverence of the Sanctuary, drove out the Merchants from thence, and the sheepe and the oxen, and poured out the changers money, and overthrew the Tables, and said, Make not my fathers house, an house of Merchandize, Joh. 2. 14, 15, 16. And he would not suffer that any man should carry any vessell through the Temple: Mar. 11. 16. And for turning their backs towards the Sanctuarie, see Ezek. 46. 9. and 8. 16. But as the Sanctuarie of God, was chiefly a figure of the body of our Lord Jesus, Joh. 2. 19. 21. Heb. 9. 11. so this Precept hath chiefest respect unto him, whom all ought to reverence, and to honour the Son, even as they honour the Father, Joh. 5. 23. Who, when hee bringeth in the first begotten into the world, hee saith; And let all the Angels of God worship him. Hebr. 1. 6.

31 Verſ. 31. Turne not unto them] the Chaldee saith, after them: and so the Greeke, yet shall not follow. So in Levit. 20. 6. Hereby is forbidden, consulting with or enquiring of them: as Deut. 18. 11. that have familiar spirits] called in Hebrew, Oboth, (of Ob, which is a Bottle, Job 32. 19.) in Greeke, Eggastri-mothoi, as speaking with an hollow voice out of the belly, or as out of a bottle: in Chaldee, Biddin, Pithons. These were spirits of divination, as Act. 16. 16. Of which, see the Annotations on Deut. 18. 11. And Oboth is here for Baale oboth, such as have familiar spirits; as is expressed in 1 Sam. 28. 7. So spirits, are used for spirituall gifts, and men that have them, in 1 Cor. 14. 12. 32. 1 Joh. 4. 1. wizards] or cunning persons, so named of their knowledge, which they pretended to have. These are joyned to the familiar spirits aforesaid, as like unto them in sin; and both of them were to be killed by the Magistrate, Levit. 20. 27. See the notes on Deut. 18. 11. This Precept is added next the former, of reverencing Gods Sanctuarie, which figured Christ: even as in Deut. 18. when God calleth them from all such familiar spirits, wizards, &c. he promiseth the Prophet (Christ) unto his people. So here Chazkuni observeth, Ye shall reverence my Sanctuarie; therefore turne not to them that have familiar spirits, and to wizards; for what have you to doe with such: behold you have a Sanctuarie, wherein is Urin and Thummim.

32 Verſ. 32. rise up] in signe of honour, 1 King. 2. 19. the hoary-head] that is, the man which hath an hoary-head, or gray-haires; which, as it is the honour of old men, Prov. 20. 29. so God would have such to be honoured. The Greeke translateth it, the hoary-headed: the Chaldee, him that is skilfull in the Law. And so it is holden by the Hebrews, that learned men are by this law to be revered, as the aged: and that when such came within foure cubits, the yonger were to rise up, and so soone as they were past, to sit downe againe. of the old-man] or, of the Elder; which was a common name, for aged persons, and for Magistrates, usually called Elders, Deut. 22. 18. and 25. 7. both are to be honoured, the one for their age, the other for their office. But for their sins, the Lord threatned the contrarie, Deut. 28. 50. which Jeremie saw fulfilled; and lamented, that the faces of Elders were not honoured, Lam. 5. 12. By the Hebrews account, a man at sixty yeeres, was Old; and at seventy, Hoary, or gray-headed. The old man here, is in Targum Jonathan expounded, the wise man.

Verſ. 33. a stranger] in Greeke, a Proselite: this Law is here repeated from Ex. 22. 21. see the Annotations there. vex him] in Greeke, afflict him: and Targum Jonathan addeth, with hard words. So it is explained by Sol. Iarchi, vexations of words; as, thou shalt not say unto him, Yesterday thou wast an Idolater, and now thou comest to learne the Law, which was given from the mouth of the Power (of God.)

Verſ. 34. as one homeborne] that is, as a naturall Israelite; for affection towards him, and not communion in the holy things of God: see the notes on Exod. 12. 48, 49. as thy selfe] the same which was commanded before, touching the Israelites; verſ. 18. The Hebrews write hereof, thus: The love of the stranger, which commeth and gathereth himselfe under the wings of the Divine-Majestie, is a twofold commandement, first because he is among our generall neighbours; and againe, because he is a stranger: and the Law saith, YE SHALL LOVE THE STRANGER, (Deut. 10. 19.) He hath commanded the love of the stranger, even as he hath commanded the love of himselfe; for it is written, AND THOU SHALT LOVE THE LORD THY GOD, (Deut. 6. 5.) And the holy blessed God himselfe loveth strangers, (Deut. 10. 18.) Maimony in De-goth, chap. 6. sect. 4.

Verſ. 35. unrighteousnesse] or injurious-evill: see verſ. 15. in mete-yard] the Greeke translateth it, in measures. The Hebrew Middah is properly such measure or dimension, as concerneth the greatnesse of things, or length of them, by the yard, ell, inch, rod, or the like: the next two concerne the multitude of things, by weight, as in skoles; or by measure, as in vessels. Hereof the Hebrews say, He that weigheth to his neighbour, by lesser weights, then the people of that countrie are wont to doe; or meeth by a lesser mete-yard, then they are wont, transgresseth the Law in Lev. 19. 35. Although hee that meeth, or weigheth lesse, is a thiefe, yet he payeth not the double, [as in Exo. 22. 4.] but payeth him his measure or his weight. Neither is he beaten for this trespassse, because he is bound to make restitution. Who so bath in his house, or in his shop, a lesser mete-yard, or weight, transgresseth the Law in Deuteronomie 25. 13, 14. For though he himselfe doe not sell thereby, yet another may come, who knoweth it not, and may measure by it. Whether he buy and sell with an Israelite, or with an Infidell, if hee mete or weigh by too little a weight, he transgresseth, and is bound to restore. And so it is unlawfull to let an infidel erre in account, but he must exactly reckon with him: yea though he be one that is subdued under thy hand; how much more then with others that are not subdued. Maimony, treat. of Theft, chap. 7.

Verſ.

36 Ver. 36. just stones] Hebr. stones of justice, which the Chaldee well explaineth, true weights: and the Greeke, just weights. So stones are often used for weights, Deut. 25. 13. Prov. 11. 1. and 16. 11. and 20. 10. 23. where double and deceitfull weights are shewed to be an abomination to the Lord. The reason of this name is, for that they used weights of stone, rather then of other things. They make no weights either of iron, or of lead, or of other like metall, because they will canker and wax too light; but they make them of the cleare stony-rocke, or of glasse, or the like. Maimony, treat. of Teshi, chap. 8. sect. 4.

Ephah] put for all measures, as the Greek and Chaldee here translate: though the Ephah was one certaine measure, like our Bushell; containing ten Omers: see the Annotations on Exod. 16. 36.

just Him] Hebr. Hin of justice: the Hin was a measure of liquid things, (as the Ephah was for dry) and it contained as much as seventie two Hennes eggs: see the notes on Exod. 30. 24. And under these two names, all other measures are comprehended, which God requirerh to be just and true, condemning all falshood and deceit: as Ezek. 45. 10, 11, 12. Amos 8. 5, -8. In Israel, the Magistrates looked unto these, as in the Hebrew canons it is said, The Judges are bound to appoint Officers in every Citie, and in every Shire, that they may goe about into Shops, and looke that their ballances and measures be just, and determine the stinted-measure of them. And with whomsoever they finde any weight or measure too light or short, or ballances that goe awry; they have authority to smite him, and to mulct him, as the Judges shall see meet, &c. Maimony, treat. of Teshi, ch. 2. sect. 20. These ordinances, as they taught men justice in all their civill affaires, so especially in spirituall that all things pertaining to religion, be faithfully and equally weighed in the ballance of the heart; by the measures and weights of the Lords Sanctuarie: that is, by his lawes, and words of truth, contained in the holy Scriptures, Aēt. 17. 11. 1 Thes. 5. 21. 2 Tim. 3. 16, 17. compared with Hof. 12. 7. As also, that all persons be tried and judged, according to their workes, by the word of God, Mat. 7. 1, 2, 3. Joh. 7. 24. compared with Job 31. 6. Dan. 5. 27. Psal. 58. 2, 3.

CHAP. XX.

1, Lawes for the punishment of him that giveth of his seed to Molech; 6, of him that goeth to Wizards; 6, of him that curseth his parents; 10, of adulterers; 11, 14, 17, 19, of incestuous persons; 13, of them that lye with mankind, 15, or with beasts; 18, or with a woman in her separation. 7, 22, 26, Holinesse and obedience is required: 23, the manners of the Heathens to be avoided: 25, difference to be put between beasts cleane and unclean. 27, Wizards must be stoned to death.

2 ing; And thou shalt say, unto the sons of Israel; Every man of the sons of Israel, or of the stranger that sojourneth in Israel, that giveth of his seed, unto Molech; he shall surely be put to death: the people of the land, shall stone him with stones. And I, will set my face, against that man; and will cut him off, from among his people: because he hath given, of his seed unto Molech; that hee might defile my Sanctuarie; and to prophane, the name of my holinesse. And if the people of the land, hiding shall hide their eyes from that man, when he giveth of his seed unto Molech; that they put him not to death: Then I, will set my face, against that man, and against his family: and will cut off him, and all that goe-a-whoring after him, to goe-a-whoring after Molech, from among their people. And the soule, that turneth unto (them that have) familiar spirits, and unto wizards; to goe-a-whoring after them: I will also set my face, against that soule; and will cut him off, from among his people. And ye shall sanctifie your selves; and be holy: for I am Jehovah, your God. And yee shall keepe, my statutes; and doe them: I am Jehovah, that sanctifieth you. For every man, that curseth his father, or his mother, shall be surely put to death: he hath cursed, his father or his mother, his bloods shall be upon him. And the man, that committeth-adulterie with a mans wife; that committeth-adulterie, with his neighbours wife: the adulterer, and the adulteresse, shall surely be put to death. And the man, that lyeth with his fathers wife, hath uncovered his fathers nakednesse: both of them shall be surely put to death, their bloods shall be upon them. And the man, that lyeth with his daughter-in-law; both of them shall be surely put to death: they have wrought confusion, their bloods shall be upon them. And the man, that lieth with a male, like copulation with a woman; they have done abomination, both of them: they shall be surely put to death, their bloods shall be upon them. And the man that taketh a wife, and her mother, it is wickednesse: they shall burne him and them, with fire: that there be no wickednesse, among you. And the man that giveth his copulation with a beast; hee shall surely be put to death: and ye shall kill the beast. And the woman that approacheth unto any beast, to lie downe thereto; thou shalt even kil the woman, and the beast: they shall surely be put to death, their bloods shall be upon them. And the man that taketh his sister, his fathers daughter, or his mothers daughter, and seeth her nakednesse, and she see

- see his nakednesse, it is impietie; and they shall be cut off, in the eyes of the sonnes of their people; he hath uncovered, his sisters nakednes, he shall beare his iniquity. And the man, that lyeth with a woman having her sicknes, and uncovereth her nakednes, discovereth her fountaine: and she uncovereth the fountaine of her bloods: even both of them shall be cut off, from among their people. And thou shalt not uncover the nakednes of thy mothers sister, or of thy fathers sister: for he discovereth his neere-kinne, they shall beare their iniquity. And the man, that lyeth with his aunt; he hath uncovered, his uncles nakednes: they shall beare their sin, they shall dye childles. And the man, that taketh his brothers wife, it is uncleannes: he hath uncovered his brothers nakednes, they shall be childles. And ye shall keepe all my statutes, and all my judgements, and doe them: that the land spue you not out; which I bring you thither, to dwell therein. And ye shall not walke, in the statutes of the nation; which I send out, from before you: for all these things, have they done; and I am yrked with them. And I have said unto you; you, shall inherit their land; and I, will give it unto you, to inherit it; a land that floweth with milke, and honey: I, am Jehovah your God; which have separated you, from the peoples. And ye shall separate, betweene the cleane beast and the uncleane, and betweene the uncleane fowle, and the cleane: and yee shall not make your soules abominable, by beast or by fowle; or by any thing that creepeth on the ground; which I have separated unto you, for uncleane. And ye shall be holy unto me, for I Jehovah, am holy: and have separated you, from the peoples, to be mine. And man or woman, when there is in them a familiar-spirit, or (that is) a wizard, they shall surely be put to death: they shall stone them with stones, their bloods shall be upon them.

Annotations.

- 2 E Very man] or Any man whosoever, Hebr. man man; Levit. 17. 3. Targum Jonathan explaineth it, young man or old man; the Greeke hath, If any. Here God appointeth punishments for the transgression of such Lawes, as were given in the two former chapters. that sojourneth] or, that is a stranger: in Greeke, prophetes. of his seed] that is, any of his children. Molech] an Idoll to which the heathens offered their children; whereof see Lev. 18. 21. he shall surely be put to death] or, he shall be put to dye the death: Heb. dying he shall be made to dye. So after in verse 9. 10. 11. 12. &c. the peo- ple of the Land] the Chaldee expounds it, the people of the house of Israel. stone him] his sinne being proved before the Iudges by witnesses, the hands of the witnesses were first to be upon him, and afterward the hands of all the people, Deut. 17. 6. 7. Four manner of deaths were in Israel for malefactors, Stoning, Burning, Killing with the sword, and strangling: And the Hebrewes reckon eighteen evill doers which were to be stoned, (and that was the forest death;) sundry of them are mentioned in this chapter: of all the rest, see the notes on Exo. 21. 12. The manner of stoning is said to be thus; when the malefactor came within foure cubits of the place of execution, they stript him out of his clothes, but covered his nakednesse before; and a woman was not stoned naked, but in one linnen garment. The place of stoning was high; unto which the malefactor with his witnesses went up: his hands being tyed: One of the witnesses strooke him behinde upon his loyns; if that kild him not, the other witnesses threw a great stone upon his heart; if he dyed not with it, all Israel threw stones upon him. Talmud Bab. in Sanhedrin, chap. 6. and Maimony in Sanhedrin, chapter 15. section 1.

Verf. And I will set] Heb. will give; that is, will oppose and set firmly: for which in verse 5. Moises useth the word set. This is meant, if the sinne were not knowne, or could not be proved by witnesses sufficiently before men, that God himselfe would cut off the sinner, which the Chaldee and Greeke doe interpret destroy, or make to perish. So Chazkuni expoundeth it; I will set my face, when he transgresseth without witnesses and evident-proofs. The Hebrewes reckon sixe and thirtie which for their sins are threatned by the law to be cut off; and they are these, 1. Hee that lyeth with his mother; 2. or with his fathers wife; 3. or with his daughter-in-law; 4. or with mankind; 5. or with a beast; 6. and the woman that lyeth downe to a beast; 7. he that lyeth with a woman and her daughter; 8. or with another mans wife; 9. or with his sister; 10. or with his fathers sister; 11. or with his mothers sister; 12. or with his wifes sister; 13. or with the wife of his fathers brother; 14. or with the wife of his mothers brother; 15. or with a woman that hath her sicknesse; 16. The blasphemers; 17. the Idol-server; 18. he that giveth of his seed to Molech; 19. he that followeth him that hath a familiar spirit; 20. he that prophaneeth the Sabbath; 21. the uncleane person that eateth the holy thing; 22. the uncleane person that commeth into the Sanctuary. 23. Hee that eateth fat; 24. or blood; 25. or that eateth that which remaineth of the sacrifices, when it is a polluted thing; 26. or that eateth uncleane meats; 27. Hee that slayeth sacrifices without the Sanctuary; 28. and he that offereth them without; 29. He that eateth Leaven at the Passover; 30. he that eateth any thing on Atonement day; 31. or that workeith on that day; 32. He that maketh an Oile, like the holy oile of the Sanctuary; 33. or maketh an incense like the holy incense; 34. or, that anointeth mans flesh with the holy oile of the Sanctuary; 35. He that observeth not the Passover; 36. or that observeth not the Law of circumcision. For these they are guilty to be cut off, if they transgresse presumptuously, if ignorantly, they must bring a sin-offring, offering, &c. Thalmud Bab. in Cheriub. chap. 1. All these are expressed in Moses Law, and yet he that gathered these in the Thalmud, (as Maimon in his Annotations upon the same place observeth,) reckoneth but the generals, and leaveth the particulars. For where he saith, He that hath with a woman and her daughter; he implieth also, a woman with her sister: so a woman and her sons daughter, a woman and her daughters daughter: and his mother, and his mothers mother, and his fathers mother, and his daughters, and his sons daughter, and his daughters daughter. And under the name of the Idol-server, is implied he that poureth out a drink-offering, or that burneth incense, or that boweth downe, or that sacrificeth, and such like. So he speaketh of him that hath a Familiar spirit, and not of the Wizard [who is in the same estate, Lev. 20.6.] Of these forementioned, some are to dye by the hand of the magistrate, some are to be beaten, but not put to death; as elsewhere is observed.

defile my Sanctuary] that is, the Tabernacle, (Exod. 25.8.) or Temple: which was defiled, when God was sacrificed unto other where, or by other wayes then he commanded, (Levit. 17.4,5.) or when they sacrificed to idols, & yet would come into the Sanctuary to serve God also; whereas the Temple of God, hath no agreement with Idols, 2 Cor. 6.16. And thus the Prophet reproveth them, for that they burned incense to Baal, and walked after other gods; and yet came and stood before him in the house whereupon his name was called, Ier. 7.9, 10. and to prophane] that is, as the Greek explaineth it, and that he might prophane. Of prophaning Gods name, see Levit. 18.21.

4 Vers. 4. the people of the land] which the Chaldee expoundeth the people of the house of Israel: and so the Greeke saith, the homeborne of the land [biding shall bide] that is, shall any wayes bide; the Greeke explaineth it, with winking shall wink at; that is, neglect, or not regard to punish. That word Paul useth, in Act. 17.30. the times of this ignorance, God winked at.

5 Vers. 5. my face] the Chaldee expoundeth it, mine anger: and so face often signifieth, Psal. 21.19. and 34.17. Lam. 4.16. See the notes on Gen. 32.20. his familie] in Greeke, his kindred; and so the word familie signifieth, in Gen. 24.38. the Chaldee tranlateth it, his helpers; that is, such as tooke part with him; as the next words do declare. that goe a whoring after him] that is, commit idolatrie, as the Chaldee explaineth it, that erre: so in verse 6. the Greeke tranlateth, all that consent unto him. This judgement God executed upon the Iewes; for this idolatrie, and their other sins: as he signified by his Prophet, that he would give their city Jerusalem into the hand of the Chaldeans, who should set fire upon it, and burne it with the houses, upon whose roofs they had burnt incense unto Baal, &c. Because they, their Kings, their Princes, their Priests, and their Prophets, and the men of Judah, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem, had set their abominations in the house which was called by his Name, to defile it; and built the high places of Baal, to cause their sons and their daughters to passe through (the fire) unto Molech, &c. therefore it should be delivered into the hand of the King of Babylon; by the sword and by the famine, and by the pestilence. Ier. 32.28, 29, 32, 34, 35, 36.

Ver. 6. the soule] that is, as the Chaldee expoundeth, the man. that turneth unto] or, looketh after; in Greek followeth: meaning that consultieth with them, as Deut. 18.11. familiar spirits] Targum Jonathan expoundeth it, them that are of familiar spirits. Of these, and the wizards following (whom the Greeke calleth Enchanters;) see the annotations on Leviticus 19.31. and Deuteronomie 18.11. set my face] Hebr. give my face: in Chaldee, give mine anger against that man, and destroy him. This judgement was executed upon K. Saul, who dyed, for asking counsell of one that had a familiar spirit. 1 Chron. 10.13. 1 Sam. 28.

Ver. 7. And] This may be a reason of the former, I therefore ye shall sanctifie your selves, by abstaining from all evill, and doing good. be holy] or, be saints: for I am Iehovah, to weet, that sanctifieth you, as vers. 8. or, for I am holy, as the Greeke addeth, and as Moses wrote before, in Lev. 19.2.

Ver. 9. For every man] or, any man: Hebr. man, meaning any whosoever, as vers. 2. And this is inferred upon the former precept, be holy: For otherwise judgements abide you. curseth] or revileth; speaketh evill, as the Greeke tranlateth; which the holy Ghost approveth in Acts 23.5. See the notes on Exodus 21.17. or] Hebrew, and, which the Greeke tranlateth; or; and so in Matthew 15.4. For death was his due, if he cursed either of them, and they are distinguished, to make him guilty for the one without the other, as Chazkuni here explaineth it, and as Jarchi addeth, though it be after his parents death. Who so curseth his father, or his mother; his Lamp shall be put out, in obscure darknesse, Prov. 20.20. his bloods shall be upon him] that is, his death shall be upon his owne head; for he hath caused it by his sinne. So the Greeke tranlateth, he shall be guilty: and the Chaldee, he is guilty (or worthy,) to be killed; so after often in this chap. The manner of his death, was stoning; as is noted, upon Exod. 21.10. and as Moses after sheweth for the rebellious sonne, Deut. 21.21. And it is observed as a generall rule, by the Hebrew doctors. Every place where it is said in the Law, they shall be put to death, THEIR BLOODS VPON THEM, it is meant, by stoning. Ma many in Issurei biab, c. 1. f. 6. and Sol. Jarchi on Lev. 20.9.

Ver. 10. that committeth adultery] the Greeke addeth in the second place, or that commits adultery with his neighbours wife. It is expounded in Deut. 22.22. a woman married to an husband. dye the death] the manner of their death, is not set downe, either here, or in Deuter 22.23. unless by that which is before and after, (for other unlawful copulations) we say it is meant stoning to death: as the man that lyeth with a beast, v. 15. is to be stoned, because the women for like beastliness is to be stoned, verse 16. The Pharisees which brought unto Christ a woman taken in adulterie, said, Moses commanded that such should be stoned, Ioh. 8.4,5. but whether that were this very case, is to be considered. Also to lye with a betrothed woman, the punishment was stoning, as for humbling his neighbour's wife, Deut. 22. 24. Howbeit the latter Pharisees, say the adulterers death was Strangling: Maimony in Sambodrin, chap. 15. sect. 13. And in another place, he openeth this and the other like lawes more fully, thus. Who so presumptuously committeth any of all the unlawfull copulations spoken of in the Law, is guilty of cutting off, Levit. 18. 29. and if they do it ignorantly, they are bound to bring the Sin-offering appointed. And there be some of the Nakednesses [that is, the unlawfull copulations] which deserve death by the Judges; more then the cutting-off, which is meet for them all. Of those which are to be put to death by the Judges, some are to die by stoning, and some by burning, and some by strangling. And these are they that are put to death by stoning: He that hath with his mother, or with his fathers wife, or with his sonnes wife, which is called his daughter-in-law; he that hath with mankind, or with a beast; and the woman that hath done to a beast. And these are burnt to death; He that hath with his wives daughter, whiles his wife liveth; or with her daughters daughter; or with her sons daughter; or with his wives mother; or with her mothers mother; or with her fathers mother. He that hath with his daughter; or with his daughters daughter, or with his sons daughter. Thou hast no unlawfull copulation punished with Strangling, but for lying with a mans wife onely, Levit. 20. 10. And the death which the Law speaketh of absolutely, [that is, without naming what kinde of death it shall be,] is strangling. And if she be a Priest's daughter, she is burned, Levit. 21. 9. and he that lay with her is strangled: and if she be a betrothed maid, they are both of them stoned, Deuter. 22. 24. and whosoever the Law saith, Their bloods upon them; that is by stoning. For all other unlawfull copulations, there is cutting-off onely; and not death by the Magistrate. Therefore if there be witnesses and evidence, the Judges are to take them: for all that deserve cutting-off, are to be beaten. Maimony in Issurei biab chap. 1. sect. 1. 7. Thus by their own grant, this case is singular: and there is no other reason of the adulterers strangling, then the commanding of their death absolutely. Among the heathens also, adulterie was punished with death, as the King of Babylon roasted Zedekiah and Ahab in the fire, because they committed adultery with their neighbours wives, &c. Ieremie 29. 22. 23. This sinne is a fire that consumeth to destruction, and will root out all a mans increase; Iob 31. 12. He that doth it destroyeth his own seed, Prov. 6. 32.

Verf. 11. their bloods upon them] that is, they shall be stoned: in Greeke, both of them are guilty; and the Chaldee saith, worthy to be killed. So in the rest that follow.

Verf. 12. wrong] or, done confusion, which the Greeke translateth have done impiously.

Verf. 13. like copulation with a woman] Hebr. with the things (or copulations) of a woman: see Levit. 18. 22.

Verf. 14. iniquities] or, a wicked purpose: in Chaldee counsel of sinne: in Greeke, unlawfull act. See Levit. 18. 17.

Verf. 17. iniquities] or, reproach, ignominy, as the Greeke and Chaldee doe translate it. in Greeke, destroyed before the sinnes of their name:

that is, soone and openly; to weete by the hand of God: and to be beaten by the Magistrate, as the Hebrewes say. See the notes on verse 10. his iniquities] that is, the punishment due thereunto: as Gen. 19. 15.

Verf. 18. having her sickness] her menstrual-infirmitie, for which she was separated as unclean, even from her husband: therefore the Greeke translateth it put apart; and the Chaldee, unclean. See the annotations on Levit. 12. 2. and 15. 19. 24.

the fountain] or, well, figuratively so called, because of the issue; as in Levit. 12. 7. The Greeke here in the first place, keepeth the metaphore, he hath uncovered her fountain, the Chaldee saith, her ignominy: in the second place, the Greeke translateth, she hath uncovered the issue of her blood, where the Chaldee saith, the meanness of her blood. The Holy Ghost also explaineth it so, for where it is said, in Marke 5. 29. the fountain of her blood was dried up: an other Evangelist saith, her issue of blood stancheth, Luke 8. 44. By the Hebrew doctors, the wombe wherein the childe is formed, is called the Fountain, Maimony in Issurei biab, chap. 5. sect. 3. Therefore also they exempt virgins from this pollution; as is noted on Levit. 15. 19.

cut-off] in the Greeke and Chaldee, destroyed; to weete by the hand of God, for presumptuous doing against this Law: Lev. 15. 31. and by the Magistrates, (if it were knowne,) she was beaten. Maimony in Issurei biab, ch. 1. f. 22. And from the Law for washing her in Levit. 15. they teach, that the woman which hath her sickness, or hath an issue, or hath borne a childe, if she wash not her selfe in water; who so hath with any one of them, though it be after many yeeres, is guilty of cutting-off. Maimony Wilem chap. 4. f. 3. But those legal washings, figured our better cleansing by the blood of Christ, Esa. 44. 1. Ioh. 1. 7.

Verf. 20. his wife] which the Chaldee expoundeth his uncles (or fathers-brothers) wife: see Levit. 18. 14.

childless] meaning either that God will give them no children, or soone take them away if he doe give them. For, by the Hebrew canons, the Magistrates might not put them to death, but beat them onely for this sinne. See the notes on verse 10.

Verf. 21. shall be childless] the Greeke translateth, shall dye childless; as verse 20. Sol. Iarchi hereupon noteth; Childless, meaneth, if he have children he shall bury them; if he have no children, he shall dye without children: the sense the scripture differeth, saying (in verse 20.) they shall be childless; and (in verse 21.) they shall be childless. They shall dye childless; if he have any at the time of transgression, he shall have none at his death; for he shall bury them whiles he liveth: they shall be childless; for if he have none when he transgresseth, he shall be all his daies, as he remaineth.

Verf. 22. And] or, Therefore he shall keepe.

spine] or, womans not un; which the Greeke and Chaldee turne, laube, or abhorre you. See Levit. 18. 23. 26. 28.

Verf. 23. in] in Greeke, nations, in Chaldee, peoples.

amonged] or, am grieved with, and consequently do abhorre them, as the Greeke translateth it: and the Chaldee, my Word abhorreth them.

Thus also God was affected with Israel and complained, Fortie yeeres I was yoked with that generation, Psal. 95. 10.

24 Ver[.24. milke and honey] that is, all good and comfortable blessings; which were also figures of heavenly graces: see the notes on Exod. 3. 8. separated in Greeke disparted (or disbanded) you from all the nations. Gods lawes are as a wall and hedge to keepe his people from the statutes and manners of the wicked. So Solomon said, Thou didst separate them to thy selfe for an inheritance; from all peoples of the earth: 1 King. 8. 53.

25 Ver[.25. separate betwene the cleane beast] that is, put difference, by eating the cleane and refraining from the unclean: according to the Law in Lev. 11. which thing is here spoken of upon their separation from the peoples, because their abstinence from unclean beasts, figured their abstaining from the communion of unclean peoples; as Act. 10. 12. - 28. and as is shewed on Lev. 11. The Hebrewes say, this is mentioned after the unlawfull copulations afore said, because who so defileth himselfe with them, degenerateth and is as it were transformed into the nature of unclean beasts, &c. R. Menachem on Lev. fol. 151. for unclean] that is, that you should count them unclean, and abstaine from them. The Greeke translath in uncleannesse.

26 Ver[.26. from the peoples] in Greeke, from all the nations; as in verse 24. to be mine] or, to be unto me: which the Chaldee interpreteth, to serve before me.

27 Ver[.27. familiar spirit] or spirit of divination: see Levit. 19. 31. their bloods upon them] in Greeke, they are guiltie: in Chaldee, worthy to be killed. See before on verse 9.

CHAP. XXI.

1, Lawes concerning the Priests mourning for the dead: 6, Of their holinesse, 7, and marriage. 9, Th Priests daughter that playeth the whore, is to be burnt. 10, Lawes concerning the high Priests mourning, 13, and his marriage. 16, The Priests that have blemishes, must not minister in the Sanctuarie.

1 ANd Jehovah said, unto Moses; Say unto the Priests, the sonnes of Aaron: and say unto them; For a soule he shall
2 not defile himselfe, among his peoples. But, for his neere-kinne, that is nigh unto him: for his mother, and for his father, and for his son, and for his daughter, and for his brother.
3 And for his sister a virgin, that is nigh unto him; which hath not beene, to any man: for her, he shall defile himself. He shall not defile himself being a chief-man amog his peoples:
4 to prophane himselfe. They shall not make baldnesse, upon their head; and the corner of their beard, they shall not shave: and in their flesh, they shall not cut any cutting. They shall be holy, unto their God; and shall not prophane, the name of their God: for the Fire-offrings of Jehovah, the bread of their God, they doe offer, and they shall be holinesse. They shall not take a wife, that is an 7 whore, or prophane; neither shall they take a woman, put-away from her husband: for he is holy, unto his God. And thou shalt 8 sanctifie him; for he offreth, the bread of thy God: he shall be holy unto thee; for I Jehovah which sanctifie you, am holy. And the 9 daughter of any Priest, if she prophane herselfe, to commit-whoredome: she prophaneth her father: she shall be burnt, with fire.

And the Priest that is great among his 10 brethren, upon whose head, the oile of anoynting was poured, and hath filled his hand, to put on the garments: shall not make bare his head, nor rent his garments. Neither shall he goe-in, to any soules of the dead: for his father or for his mother, he shall not defile himselfe. Neither shall he goe-out
12 of the Sanctuarie; nor prophane, the Sanctuarie of his God: for the crowne, the anointing oile of his God, is upon him, I am Jehovah. And he, shall take a wife in her virginities. A widow or one put-away, or prophane, 14 or an whore; these shall he not take: but a virgin of his peoples, shall he take to wife. And he shall not prophane his seed, among his peoples: for I Jehovah, doe sanctifie him.

And Jehovah spake, unto Moses, saying. Speake unto Aaron, saying: Any man of thy seed, in their generations, in whom there shall be a blemish; he shall not approach, to offer the bread of his God. For any man, that hath in him a blemish, shall not approach: a man blinde, or lame, or flat-nosed, or that hath any thing superfluous. Or a man, in whom there shall be, the breaking of a foot, or the breaking of a hand. Or that is crook-backt, or hath a smal-spot, or a confusion in his eye: or scurfe, or scab; or hath is stones broken. No man that hath a blemish in him of the seed of Aaron the Priest, shall come-nigh, to offer the Fire-offrings of Jehovah: a blemish is in him; he shall not come-nigh, to offer the bread of his God. He shall eat, the bread of his God; of the holy of holies & of the holies. But he shall not goe-in unto the Veil, nor come-nigh unto the Altar, because a blemish is in him: & he shall not prophane my Sanctuaries; for I Jehovah, doe sanctifie them. And Moses spake it, unto Aaron, and unto his sons: and unto all the sons of Israel.

Annotations.
DDD Here beginneth (after the Hebrewes account) the one and thirtieth section or Lecture of the Law. See Gen. 6.9.

1 The Priests After the generall rules of holines for all the people, here followeth a special law for the holines of the Priests: their office was to make atonement for the people, and to sanctifie them; therefore must they have a care to sanctifie themselves. And as when God forbiddeth his people to seeke unto such as have familiar spirits, &c. he telleth them of a Prophet, whom he would raise up unto them, by whom they might know his will; Deut. 18. 10, 11, 15. so it is observed here by the Hebrewes, (as Baal hammir, and Chazkuni) that immediately after the Law against familiar spirits, and wizards, Levit. 20. 27. this Law is given for the Priests; that the people might have no occasion to seeke unto the former, but might come unto the Priests, and they should inquire for them by Vrim and Tbummim.

the sonnes of Aaron] Targum Jonathan addeth, the males; and Sol. Iarchi saith, the sonnes and not the daughters of Aaron; because the lawes following concerned not the women. So in the Hebrew canons it is said, Aarons daughters are not forewarned pollution by the dead; but the Priests the sonnes of Aaron. Likewise the prophane (Priests) might defile themselves; for this is but for the sonnes of Aaron that may execute the Priests office. A young Priest is to be warned by the elder (Priests) not to defile himselfe. &c. and his father is to traine him up in holiness. Maimony tom. 4. treat. of Mourning, chap. 3. sect. 11, 12.

for a soule] to weete, of the dead, as is expressed in verse 11. elsewhere called a dead soule, Numbers 6. 6. meaning a dead bodie: for properly at death the soule departeth, Gen. 35. 18. and the dead defileth not till his soule be departed, saith Maimony, tom. 3. in Tumath meib, chap. 1. sect. 15. wherefore the Chaldees here translateth for the dead; and Targum Jonathan, for the soule of man that is dead. But the Greeke retaineth the Hebrew phrase, for soule. So before in Levit. 19. 28.

he shall not] that is, any Priest, shall not defile himselfe: in Greeke, they shall not be defiled. This pollution might be by the funerall of the dead, for who so touched any dead body, or came into a tent (or house) where any dead body lay, or touched a grave; he was unclean seven daies, Numbers 19. 14. 16. so by bearing the dead he was unclean, by proportion from the Law, in Levit. 11. 25. And by the Hebrew canons, if a man came within foure cubits (that is, fixe foot) of the dead, he was unclean. Maimony, treat. of Mourning, chap. 3. sect. 13.

among his peoples] in Greeke, among their nation: that is, as Chazkuni explaineth it, among all Israel, for they are his peoples. So peoples are used for the tribes of Israel, in Deut. 33. 3. Iudg. 5. 14. Act. 4. 27.

2 Verf. 2. his neere-kin] chose of his consanguinity: see this word in Lev. 18. 6. Sol. Iarchi here understandeth the Priests wife by it; as one for whom he might defile himselfe. See the notes on verse 3.

This law is for the inferiour Priests: but the high Priest might not defile himselfe for these, verse 10, 11.

Verf. 3. not beare to any man] which the Greeke explaineth, not given to (or not bestowed on) a man; meaning, which hath had no husband. For such as had husbands, were to be buried and mourned for by them, as Abraham mourned for Sarah, Gen. 23. 2. These fixe, Father, and Mother, and Sonne, and Daughter, and Brother, and Sister that hath had no husband, are againe mentioned in Ezek. 44. 25. &c. that for them the Priests might be defiled, and after their cleansing, & dayes appointed, to bring their Sin-offring. And it seemeth they were to do the like for their wives, because Ezekiel the Priest was commanded as an extraordinary case, not to mourne for his wife when she died, Ezek. 24. 16. 17, 18. So the Hebrew canons say, Every Priest that is defiled for the dead, except for those fixe dead which are expressed in the Law, or for his wife: if it be proved by witnesses, he is to be beaten: Leviticus 21. 1. And whether hee touch the dead, or come into the tent, or leave him; and whether it bee the dead person himselfe, or any other uncleanesse about him: and so if a Priest touch a grave, he is to be beaten. And every Priest that cometh within foure cubits of the dead, is to be chastised with stripes: Maimony treat. of Mourning, chap. 1. sect. 1, 2, 13.

he shall defile himselfe] in Greeke, they shall be defiled, meaning all and every of the Priests. This is understood not as a permission, but a dutie, for them to bury and mourne for these their neere kin. The Hebrewes say; Very weighty is the charge of mourning, for even the Priest is driven to be unclean, for his neere kinne, must busie himselfe about them, and mourne for them, Leviticus 21. 2. It is a commandement; so that if hee would not be defiled, they are to cause him to be defiled against his will. So for his wife, (but this is not but by the doctrine of the Scribes,) because she hath no beire but him. &c. And he is to be defiled for his married wife onely, but not for a betrothed wife. Likewise for others, which are not to be mourned for, as such as are put to death by the Synedrion (or Magistrates,) and such as are Apostate from the wayes of the Church, and untimely births, and such as wittingly kill themselves; the Priest is not to defile himselfe for them. And how long is he commanded to defile himselfe for his neere-kindred? Vntill the cover of the grave be closed upon them: for after that, they are as all other dead persons, that if a Priest be defiled, he is to be beaten. Maimony, treat. of Mourning, chap. 2. sect. 6, 7, 8.

Verf. 4. being a chiefe-man] or, for a chiefe-man, that is, for any other of his house, or out of his house, save for those before specified. So Chazkuni citeth this as a common exposition of this place; A common Priest shall not defile himselfe for a chiefe-man among his peoples; be he the high Priest among his people. Although I permit thee to defile thy selfe for thy neere-kinne, thou shalt not defile thy selfe for the high Priest, who is not of thy neere-kinne. The Hebrew Baal, signifieth a Lord, Master, or chiefe-man, Iudg. 9. 51. Esa. 60. 8. and so the Chaldees translateth it here Rabba; that is, a master, or chiefe-man: (but the Greeke expoundeth it suddenly, as if it were written Bahal.) Baal also signifieth an husband, Exod. 21. 3. 22. which interpretation some keepe in this place.

5 Verf. 5. not make] or, not shave, (as the Greeke translatheth:) Hebr. not bald baldnesse, meaning any way, either by shaving, or pulling off the hayre, or otherwise: and the Greeke addeth for the dead, which is here intended, as is expressed in Deu. 14. 1. And that not the Gentiles onely, but the Israelites also were wont to make themselves bald, in mourning for the dead, appeareth by Ier. 16. 6. Ezek. 7. 18. Amos 8. 10. Also the idolatrous priests of the Gentiles are reported to use these ceremonies for their dead as in the apocriphall writing, Baruch 6. 31. 32, it is said, And the Priests sit in their Temples, having their clothes rent, and their beads and beards shaven, and nothing upon their heads: they roare and cry before their gods, as men doe at the feast when one is dead. the corner] that is, any of the corners; this was the manner of Idolaters, and is forbidden not the Priests onely, but all Israelites: see the annotations on Levit. 19. 27. cut any cutting] or, make any incision: a thing forbidden the people also, Levit. 19. 28. Deuter. 14. 1. So God would have them in their mourning for the dead, not to be immoderate, (as men which have no hope, 1 Thes. 4. 13.) nor to imitate the heathenish customes, which were idolatrous: see the notes on Levit. 19. 28. and Deut. 14. 1.

6 Verse 6. Fire-offerings] in Greeke, sacrifices, in Chaldee, offerings, which were burnt in fire unto God. As all the people were forbidden the foresaid superstitions, because they were holy, & Gods peculiar-treasure, above all peoples, Deuter. 14. 2. so the Priests in speciall, because they were to be holier then other men, in respect of their ministrati-on unto God. Therefore the high Priest, who came yet neerer unto God, is forbidden to mourn for such, as common Priests might mourne for, Levit. 21. 10. 11. the bread] or, the food; which the Greeke interpreteth the gifts, the Chaldee, the offering. See Levit. 3. 11. shall be holinesse] that is, men of holinesse: which the Greeke and Chaldee translate holy-ones.

7 Verf. 7. a wife that is an whore] This is the second law concerning the Priests holinesse; that as they should not defile themselves by the dead: so neither by the living. The whore, (called in Hebrew, Zonah) is by the Hebrewes said to be she that is not a daughter of Israel, or a daughter of Israel, that hath lien with a man unto whom it is not lawfull for her to be married; [such as are forbidden in Levit. 18.] or that hath lien with a prophane man, though she may be married unto him. Whosoever hath lien with a man that hath made her a whore, whether by constraint or willingly, whether presumptuously or ignorantly, after he hath uncovered her nakednesse; she is unlawfull by the name of an whore, [for a Priest to marie her:] Any woman of whom her husband hath bene jealous, and the thing was bidden, and she hath not drinke of the bitter waters, (Numb. 5.) it is unlawfull for a Priest to marie her, because she is a suspected whore. Maimony in Issurei biab, chap. 18. sect. 1. 6. 12. or prophane] Hebr. and prophane, or, prophaned: whereby seemeth not to be meant a common harlot, or one that hath defiled her body, for that was forbidden before under the name of an whore: but as a Priests daughter by her whordome is said to prophane her father, v. 9. so children might againe be prophaned by their fathers, and made unfit for to be married unto Priests. And thus the Hebrewes expound this here, saying; Who is she that is prophane? She that is borne of one that is forbidden the Priests. And so every one of the women which are forbidden the Priests, if she be married to a Priest, she prophaneth her selfe. Maimony in Issurei biab, chap. 19. sect. 1. And Sol. Iarch here expoundeth prophane, one that is borne of such as are unlawfull for the Priests; as the daughter of a widow by the high Priest, (Levit. 21. 14.) or the daughter of a divorced woman by a common Priest, (Levit. 21. 7.) &c. put-away] or, cast out as the Greeke also translatheth it, that is, divorced and not for the cause of adultery; which thing was permitted unto men under Moses law, for the hardnesse of their hearts; Deut. 24. 1. 2. &c. Matth. 19. 8. What Priest soever, married with any of these three, was to be beaten by the Magistrate; as is after shewed, on verse 15. According to the equitie of this Law, the Apostle requireth that the wives of the Ministers of the Church, be grave, not slanderers, sober, faithfull in all things, 1 Tim. 3. 11.

Verf. 8. And thou] or, Therefore thou shalt sanctifie him: speaking to Israel, who were to repute the Priests holy, & not suffer them to mary with such as might defile them: nor any other way to beuncleane, when they ministred before the Lord the bread] in Greeke, the gifts, in Chaldee, the offering, as before in verse 6. holy unto thee] thou shalt reverently esteeme him as an holy person, sanctified unto Gods service. The Hebrewes say, It is commanded to separate the Priests, and to sanctifie them, and to prepare them for the oblation, Levit. 21. 8. And every man of Israel, must give much honour to the Priest, and let them be first, for every thing that is in the Sanctuary: to open the law first, and to blesse first, and to receive a seemely portion first. Maimony in Eki hamikd. chap. 4. sect. 1. 12.

Verse 9. of any Priest] Hebr. of a man a Priest. Which word man, sometime signifieth any one; as Gen. 23. 6. and 24. 16. Levit. 21. 17. sometime a man of dignitie, as Psa. 49. 3. and that may also be respected here. to commit whoredome] or by committing it, to weete, under her husband; as the Hebrew canons explaine it; saying There are ten which are to be burnt, namely the Priests daughter that committeth whoredome under her husband; and he that lyeth with his daughter, &c. Maimony in Sanbedrin, chap. 15. sect. 11. The man that lay with her, they say was to be strangled; as againe they say; There is no unlawfull copulation punished with strangling, but the lying with a mans wife onely: and if she be a Priests daughter, she is burnt, and he that lay with her, is strangled. Maimony in Issurei biab, chap. 1. sect. 6. See the annotations on Levit. 20. 10. prophane her father] the Greeke version saith, she prophaneth her fathers name: the Chaldee, her fathers holinesse. And Iarchi explaineth it, she prophaneth and contemneb his his honor, for that men will say of him, Cursed is hee that begat this (woman,) Cursed is hee that brought her up.

10 Ver. 10. great among his brethren] or, greater then his brethren: that is, the High Priest, who because he more specially figured Christ (called our Arch (or High) priest and great High priest, Heb. 3. 1. and 4. 14.) therefore hee was to haue more speciall care of his sanctitie, both in avoiding pollution by the dead, and in his marriage. And this Law concerned not the high Priest onely, but the second Priest (or Priests of the second order) mentioned in 2 King. 25. 28. and 23. 4. which ministred in the place of the high Priest if by any accident he were polluted, (as is noted on Levit. 16. 33.) and the Priest also that was anointed for the warre, Daut. 20. 2. because these all were greater then their brethren. See the notes following on v. 13.

oile of anointing] an holy oile, wherewith onely the high Priests & Kings in Israel were anointed, and ordained to their office: see Exod. 30. 25. 33. and hath filled his hand] with the sacrifices, to offer them, as the Chaldee paraphrase here explaineth it; which the Greeke calleth perfecting, or consecration. See Exod. 29. 9. Both these were to be done to the high Priest: but if there were no anointing oile, they ordained him with the high Priests garments onely; saith Maimony in Chi hamikdash, ch. 4. sect. 12. and he was bound to these lawes, as well as if he had bene anointed with oile.

the garments] the eight ornaments wherewith the high Priest was to be decked: see Exod. 28.

not make bare] or, make free, which the Greeke translateth, not put the miter off his head; but the Chaldee saith, not let his locks grow, to weete, not more then 30. dayes, as Iarchi explaineth it: meaning that hee should not behave himselfe as a mourner for the dead. See the annotations on Lev. 10. 6. From which place, the Hebrewes gather, that one of the rites which mourners for the dead were to use, was not to poll their heads: Maimony treat. of Mourning, chap. 5. sect. 1. 2. rent his garments] which was an other signe of sorrow, see Lev. 10. 6. and Gen. 37. 34.

11 Ver. 11. goe in] namely into any tent, house or place where any dead is, whereby he should be defiled, Numb. 19. 14. any soules of the dead] in Greeke, any dead soule; meaning a dead corpse; as before in vers. 1. his father, &c.] which was lawfull for any common Priest, vers. 2. but not for the high Priest. The Hebrewes explaine it thus; The high Priest may not be defiled for his neere-kinne, as for his father or his mother, &c. neither may hee come to any tent where the dead is, though his neere-kindeed. Loe thou art taught (in Levit. 21. 11.) that he is bound neither to goe in, nor to be defiled. So that if he touch, or carry (a dead person) hee is to be beaten once; if hee come into a tent, and tarry there whiles one dye by him, &c. he is to be beaten twise; for coming in, and for being defiled. If he be defiled before, and afterward come into the tent, he is to be beaten even for coming in. Maimony treat. of Mourning, ch. 3. sect. 6. 7. How be it, these lawes have exceptions in cases of necessitie; as the Hebrew canons also shew thus.

A Priest that lighteth on a dead body in the way, loe he is to defile himselfe; though it be the high Priest, hee is bound to defile himselfe for him; and to bury him. As if one of Israel be thrown (dead) in the way, and he hath none to bury him. Provided; that the Priest be himselfe alone, and no other with him; and that he call there in the way, and none doe answer him. But if when he call, others doe answer him, this is not a dead, which hee is commanded (to bury) but he must call others to doe it. If a Priest, and a Nazarite walke together in the way, and light upon a dead; the Nazarite must goe about (to bury him,) for his holinesse is not perpetuall; and the Priest may not defile himselfe, though he be but a common priest. If there be the high Priest, and a common priest, then the common priest is to defile himselfe: and whosoever is before his fellow in dignity, is to be after him in pollution. And if the second chiefe priest, with the priest that is anointed for the war, (Deut. 20. 2.) doe light upon a dead: he that was anointed for the warre, must be defiled, and not the Sagan [or second chiefe priest.] Maimony ibidem, ch. 3. sect. 8. 9. Vnto this Law, that the high Priest might not defile himselfe for his parents or children; the words in Moses blessing of the tribe of Levi, seeme to have reference; Who saith of his father and of his mother, I respect him not; and his brethren hee acknowledgeth not; and his sonnes, he knoweth not, &c. Deut. 33. 9. Compare also Lev. 10. 2. 7.

12 Ver. 12. goe out of the Sanctuary] to weete, in the time when he should serve there. And this Law was not for the high Priest only, but for all priests, who if any of their friends there died, or tidings of the death of any came unto their eares, might not therefore depart and leave off their ministration, upon paine of death, Lev. 10. 7. So the Hebrew explaine it; A priest that goeth out of the Sanctuary in the time of service onely, is guilty of death, whether he be the high priest, or a common priest, Lev. 10. 7. So that which is said of the high Priest, (in Lev. 21. 12.) AND HE SHALL NOT GOE OUT, &c. is not but for the time of service onely, that he shall not leave his service and goe out. If it be so, why is this warning repeated for the high Priest? Because a common priest, which is in the Sanctuary, in his service, and he heareth of the death of one for whom he is bound to mourne; though he may not goe out of the Sanctuary, yet he serveth not, because he is sorrowfull, and if he serve when he is sorrowfull, by the law he prophane his service, whether it be about the sacrifice of a particular person, or the sacrifice of the congregation. But the high Priest serveth when he is sorrowfull; for it is said, Neither shall hee goe out of the Sanctuary, nor prophane the Sanctuary; as if he should say, hee shall continue and serve the service that he is imployed in, and it is not prophaned. But though the high Priest serveth when hee is sorrowfull, yet is it unlawfull for him to eate of the holy things; as it is written (in Lev. 10. 19.) Had I eaten the Sin-offring to day, should it have bene good in the eyes of the LORD? So neither hath he a portion to eat at evening. Maimony in Bish hamikdash, chap. 2. section. 5. 6. 8. nor prophane the Sanctuary] the Greeke expoundeth it, nor prophane the sanctified name of his God. the crowne, the anointing oile] This may be understood of two things, of the golden den plate, which is called Nezer, a Crowne, Exodus 29 6. and of the Anointing oile; both which were upon him. Or the later explaineth the former, and the Oile is called Nezer, a Crowne or Separation; because by it he was separated from other men, and other Priests. Thus the Greeke translateth it, the holy oile the anointing of his God is upon him.

13 V. 13. a wife in her virginities] that is, a wife that is a virgin, as the Greeke translateth it. Three women are unlawfull for all Priests, the divorced, the whore, and the prophane: and the high Priest is forbidden sūre, the three forenamed, and the widow. Whether it be the high Priest which is anointed with the anointing oile, or ordained in the (priestly) garments; and whether it be the priest that serveth, or the great Priest that serveth in his place; [in stead of the high Priest when hee is polluted, called the second Priest, 1 King 2. 28.] and likewise the Priest anointed for the warre, (Deut. 20. 2.) they all are commanded to marry virgins, and forbidden to marry widowers. Maimony in Issurei biab, chap. 17. sect. 1. The high Priest was a figure of Christ, Heb. 3. 1. his wife which was to be a virgin, was a figure of the Church, which is to be chaste, pure, holy, as the Apostle writeth to the Church of Corinth, I have espoused you to one husband, that I may present you a chaste virgin to Christ: 2 Cor. 11. 2. See also Rev. 14. 4.

14 V. 14. a widow] whether she be a widow after betrothing or after marriage, she is forbidden him. Maimony in Issurei Biab, chap. 17. sect. 11. a virgin of his peoples] that is, either of the tribe of Levi, or of any other tribe of Israel; as Iehojada the Priest, married Iehoshabeath the daughter of King Iehoram of the tribe of Judah, 2 Chron. 22. 11. So in Ezekiel 44. 22. it is said of the Priests, they shall take maidens of the seed of the house of Israel. And in the Hebrew canons, Priests and Levites and Israelites, may lawfully goe in (that is marry) one with another; and that which is borne, goeth after the male: [that is, if the father be a Priest or Levite, the child is a Priest or Levite, if the father be a common Israelite, the child is a common Israelite, though born of a Priests daughter.] Maimony in Issurei biab, ch. 19. sect. 15.

15 Vers. 15. not prophane his seed] which he should do, by marrying with any of those forbidden him, that his sonnes after him might not execute the priests office, because they were borne of an unlawfull mother. A priest that goeth into a divorced woman, or an whore; and an high priest that goeth in to them, or unto a widow; those are made profane (women) for ever: and if bee beget a sonne of her, that which is borne is prophane. Maimony in Issurei biab, ch. 19. sect. 3. Therefore the magistrates punished the priests, that married and lay with any unlawfull woman. Every priest that marieth any of the three women, (in vers. 7.) and lyeth with her, is to be beaten. An high priest that goeth in to a widow, is to be beaten. If an high priest marry a widow, and lie with her, he is to be beaten twice; once for transgressing this, HE SHALL NOT TAKE A WIDOW; and once for this, HE SHALL NOT PROPHANE. And whether he be an high priest, or a common Priest, that marieth any of those (forbidden women) if he lie not with her; he is not beaten. And in every place where he is to be beaten, she is to be beaten. Every priest that goeth in to an beaten woman, is to be beaten, as for an whore. A woman that hath beene a widow, and hath beene divorced, and hath beene made prophane, and hath beene an whore, and an high priest goeth in afterward unto her: he is to be beaten foure times, for lying with her once. Like judgement is for a common priest, if he goe in to one divorced, which was made prophane, and after that an whore; he is to be beaten thrice, for lying with her once. But if this order be changed, he is to be beaten but once. Maimony in Issurei biab, chap. 17. sect. 2. &c.

17 Vers. 17. of thy seed] that is, as the Chaldee interpreteth, of thy sons. in their generations] that is, they or any of their posteritie, in the ages following. a blemish] in Hebrew Mum; in Gr. Momos, in Chaldee Muma; which signifieth, any thing to be blamed, for deformitie, want or superfluitie; any imperfection of body, in the whole or in any part. to offer the bread] that is, as the Gr. saith, the gifts, in Chaldee, the offering, or sacrifice. The reason hereof was, that the Priests were both in their persons and works, to figure out Christ his person and worke; who was holy, blamelesse, undefiled, separated from sinners; and a Lambe without blemish, and without spot. Heb. 7. 26. 1 Pet. 1. 19.

18 Vers. 18 blind] either in whole or in part, purblind, dim sighted, or that had any blemish in his sight, eye, eyelid, or the like. The Hebrew doctors reckon nineteene blemishes, that might be in the eye of a priest; and seven in the eyelid. Maimony in Biath hamikdash, chap. 8. sect. 17. lame] or halting; on one, or both legs; having any imperfection in his gate, or feet; and in the feet, there might be twentie blemishes, Maimony ibidem. stomped, in Greeke, short-nosed, or having the nose cut-off. It implyeth all manner deformity in the nose, wherein there might be (as the Hebrewes say) nine blemishes. that hath any thing superfluous] or, that is excessive, either in the whole bodie, or any member over long: so in Levit. 22. 23. for the sacrifices. The Greeke translateth it, having the eare cut off.

20 Vers. 20. crooked backe] that hath a bunch or hillocke on his backe or any other place, as Targum Ierusalem referreth it to the eyebrows, that hang over the eyes; and so it agreeth with them which follow. But the Greeke favoureth the former interpretation. hath a small-spot] or, a thin filme: this by the Hebrewes, is referred to Imperfection in the eye. By others to the small or thin stature of the body, as to be a dwarf, or over slender. The Hebrew Dack is generally that which is small or thin. He that hath a white small spot, within the blacke (of the eye) is the Dack spoken of in the Law: saith Maimony in Biath hamikdash, ch. 7. sect. 5. The Greeke translateth it Epbelos; and Epbelos is nothing else but a certaine ruggednesse and hardnesse of an evill colour; saith Cornel, Celsus, l. 6. ch. 5. a confusion] or confusion, fusion, whereby the white and blacke is mixed confusedly together, Teballut (the Confusion) spoken of in the Law, is when the white of the eye is drawn, and some of it gotten into the blacke until the blacke is found mingled with the white: saith Maimony ibidem. scurf] or, dry-scule, maunge called in Hebrew Garab, (whereupon the Latines borrow the name Porrigio,) the Greeke translatheth it Psora and it may be on any part of the body, as the Hebrewes observe: Maimony in Biath hamikdash, ch. 7. f. 10. This is againe mentioned in Lev. 22. 22. and in Deut. 28. 27. as a plague incurable. scab] or tettar; as the Greeke calleth it Leichen, to which the Chaldee version agreeth; for Chaziz, and the Arabik Chaziza, is that which the Greek call Leichen: it is mentioned onely here, and in Lev. 22. 22. Maimony (in Biath hamikdash, c. 7. sect. 10. calleth it an Egyptian scab (or tettar) which is hard and foule: and that is the Tallepheth (the Scab) spoken of in the Law. It may also be on any part of the body of man or beast. stones broken] or a coll (or stone) bruised: the Greeke translatheth, which hath but one stone. These twelve particulars are named, all other of like nature being implied. The Hebrewes say, There are in all, an hundred and fortie blemishes: that doe disable the Priests: eight in the head; two in the necke; nine in the eares; five in the browes; seven in the eye-lids; nineteene in the eyes; nine in the nose; nine in the mouth; three in the belly; three in the backe; seven in the hands; sixteene in the members of generation; twentie in the feet; eight in all (or a my part of) the body, eight in the skin of the flesh; and seven in the strength of the body, and the breath. Maimony in Biath hamikdash, ch. 8. sect. 17. a blemish in him] This generall is added to the former particulars, to teach that any other blemishes though unnamed, did disable a Priest from sacrificing. All blemishes whatsoever, whether they be in him from the beginning of his creation, or grow upon him afterward, whether they be transitorie (blemishes that may be removed,) or not transitorie; he is disabled by them; till they be done away. A fixed blemish, as a broken foot or hand, or a transitorie blemish, as scurf or scab. And not the blemishes onely which are written in the law, doe disable the priests; but all blemishes to be seene in the body, as it is written, WHO SO EVER hath ABIMISH IN HIM, out of any place, and those that are written in the Law, are for an example. Maimony in Biath hamikdash, ch. 6. sect. 3. 4. Further to shew this, they say, An old man that is weare unto trembling and shaking as hee stands; a sicke man, when he trembleth through sickness and febleness of strength; (are as blemished.) If a Priest serverh when he stinks of sweate, or when he hath a stinking breath out of his mouth; or he prophane his service; he doe all other that have blemishes. Maimony ibid. ch. 7. sect. 12, 13. By these God figured the perfection that should be in Christ, Heb. 9. 14. and taught also what graces are requisite in his ministers, 1 Tim. 3. 2, 3. 7. Tit. 1. 7, 8, 9. and in the whole Church, which is unto him a royall priesthood, an holy nation, 1 Pet. 2. 9. which Christ hath sanctified and cleansed, that he might present it unto himselfe glorious, a Church not having spot or wrinkle; or any such thing: but that it should be holy, and without blemish, Eph. 5. 26, 27. So the Saints are said to be without blemish, before the throne of God, Rev. 14. 5. the first-offerings] in Gr. the sacrifices, in Chaldee the offerings. If any priest that have a blemish, do serve in the sanctuary, he prophane his service, and is to be beaten: Maimony in Biath hamikdash, chap. 6. sect. 1. a blemish] in Greeke, because a blemish is in him. Sol. Iarchi explaineth it thus, whiles his blemish is on him, he is rejected: but if his blemish be done away, he is fit (or approveable.) Besides the blemishes torenamed, such Priests as had transgressed in their ministration & served before idols, were no more to serve in the sanctuary, but were reputed as blemished. Therefore K. Iosias put down the priests of the high places, that they came not up to the Altar of the Lord: 2 King. 23. 9. and for such this Law is given in Ezek. 44. 10. 13. The Levites that are gone away farre from me, when Israel went astray away from me after their Idols, they shall even beare their iniquitie, &c. And they shall not come neere unto me, to doe the office of a Priest unto me, nor to come neere to any of my holy things, in the most holy place: but they shall beare their shame, and their abominations which they have committed. And in the Hebrew canons it is said, Every Priest that hath served Idols, whether presumptuously or ignorantly, although he returne with full repentance; yet may he never minister in the sanctuary. And whether he hath beene a priest to the Idol, or but worshipped it, &c. he is disallowable for ever. If he transgresse and doe offer (in the sanctuary) his offering is not of a sweet smelling savour, although he was in ignorance when he ministered, or when he worshipped. Who so transgresseth and maketh an house without the Sanctuary, to offer his offering therein unto God, that is not as an Idols house. Notwithstanding, every priest that ministereth in such an house, may never more minister in the sanctuary. Maimony in Biath hamikdash, ch. 9. f. 13, 14. the bread] in Greeke the gifts, in Chaldee, the offering. Who so found allowable by his genealogie, but had a blemish found upon him: he sate in the wood chamber, and did cleave wood for to lay on the altar; and had a portion in the holy things with the men of his fathers house, and did eat of them. Maimony ibidem, ch. 6. f. 12. So for the priests that fell to Idolatrie, God appointed that they should be ministers in his sanctuary, Bishops at the gates of the house: that they should lay the burnt offering, and the sacrifice for the people, &c. but not come neere to any of his holy things in the most holy place, &c. Ezek. 44. 13, 14. Verse 22. He shall eat.] Herein the blemished priests had a priviledge above the unclean, which might not eate of the holy thing, Lev. 22. 3. 6. Verse 23. unto the veil] of the holy place, whether the priests went in alwaies, accomplishing the service, Heb. 9. 6. unto the Altar] that which was in the courtyard, Exod. 40. 29. Any priest that had a blemish, might not come into the Sanctuary, from the Altar and forward, Lev. 21. 23. and if he transgressed and went in, he was to be beaten, although he served not. And if he served in the Sanctuary, it was unlawful; and he prophaned the service, and was to be beaten also for the service. Maimony in Biath hamikdash, chap. 6. sect. 1. not prophane his sanctuary] the Greeke

Greeke expoundeth it, not prophane the holy name of his God. doe sanctifie them. This Chazkuni referreth to the veile of the altar forementioned, into which time that had blemish might come.

Ver. 24. all the sons of Israel because as it concerned the Priests, to take heed they sinned not in their ministrations: so the people were to sanctifie them, v. 8. and to looke that no disallowable person served in the Sanctuary. Therefore the Hebrewes doe record, that the great Synedrion used to sit in the chamber of beven-stone [by the Sanctuary,] and the principall of their worke continually was to sit and judge concerning the Priesthood; and to examine the priests for their genealogies, and for their blemishes. Every priest that was found disallowable for his genealogie; he put on blacke clothes; and wrapped himselfe over with blacke, and went out of the court. And who-soever was found perfect and lawfull; he put on robes, and went in and ministered with his brethren the priests. Who so was found lawfull for his genealogie, but had a blemish found upon him, he sate in the wood chamber, and bowed wood, &c. Maimony in Birk bamikdash, ch. 6. sect. 11. 12.

CHAP. XXII.

1, The Priests in their uncleanes, must abstaine from the holy things. 6, How they shall be cleansed. 10, Who of the priests house may eat of the holy things. 14, What they must pay that eat of them unlawfully. 17, The sacrifices must be without blemish. 26, The age of the sacrifice. 29, The Law of eating the sacrifice of Consecration.

1 AND Jehovah spake, unto Moses, say-
2 ing. Speake unto Aaron, and unto his sonnes; and let them be separated, from the holy things of the sonnes of Israel;
that they prophane not, the name of my ho-lineffe, in the things which they sanctifie un-3 to me, I am Jehovah. Say unto them;
Throughout your generations every man
which shall come nigh of all your seed; unto the holy things, which the sons of Israel
sanctifie unto Jehovah; and his uncleannesse,
upon him: that soule shall even be cut-off,
4 from my presence, I am, Jehovah. Any man, of the seed of Aaron, which is leprous, or hath an issue; he shall not eat, of the holy-things, untill he be cleane: and he that toucheth any thing that is uncleane by a soule;
or a man, whose seed of copulation goeth 5 from him. Or a man, that toucheth, any creeping-thing, whereby he is made uncleane: or a man, by whom he is made uncleane; according to any uncleannes of him.
6 The soule, which hath touched it; even he shall be uncleane, untill the evening: and he shall not eat, of the holy things; un-lesse he bathe his flesh, with water. And 7 when the Sun is gone downe, then he shall be cleane: and afterward, he shall eat of the holy things; for it is his bread. And a car-8 kasse, and a torne thing, he shall not eat, to make himselfe uncleane therewith: I, am Jehovah. And they shall keepe my charge;

9 that they beare not sinne for it; and dye
therefore, if they prophane it: I Jehovah, do sanctifie them. And any stranger, shall not 10 eat of the holy thing: a foreriner of the Priests, and an hired person, shall not eat of the holy thing. But a priest, if he buy a soule, 11 with the purchase of his money; he, shall eat of it: and he that is borne in his house; they shall eat of his bread. And a priests daugh-12 ter, if she be married to a man that is a stranger: she, shall not eat of the heave-offring of the holy things. But a priests daughter, 13 if she be a widow or put-away, and she have no seed; and is returned unto her fathers house, as in her youth; she shall eat, of her fathers bread: but any stranger, shall not eat thereof. And a man, if he eat of the holy-14 thing, in ignorance: then he shall add the fift part thereof, unto it; and he shall give unto the priest, the holy thing. And they 15 shall not profane, the holy things, of the sonnes of Israel: which they heave-up, unto Jehovah. Or cause them to beare, the in-16 quiry of trespass; when they eat, their holy-things: for I Jehovah, doe sanctifie them.

And Jehovah spake, unto Moses, saying.
17 Speake unto Aaron, and unto his sonnes, and 18 unto all the sonnes of Israel; & say unto them:
Any man, of the house of Israel, or of the stranger in Israel; that will offer his oblation, according to all their vows, and to all their voluntarie-offrings; which they will offer unto Jehovah, for a burnt-offring.
For your favourable-acceptation: a perfect 19 male; of the beeves, of the sheepe, or of the goats. Any, which hath a blemish in it, ye 20 shall not offer: for it shall not be, to favourable-acceptation, for you. And the man, 21 that will offer a sacrifice of Peace-offrings, unto Jehovah; to separate a vow, or for a voluntarie-offring; of the herd, or of the stock it shall be perfect, for favourable-acceptation; there shall not be in it, any blemish.
Blinde, or broken, or maimed, or having a 22 wen; or scurffe, or scabbe; ye shall not offer
these unto Jehovah: nor give of them, a Fireoffring, upon the Altar, unto Jehovah. And 23 bull or lambe, that hath any member superfluous,

fluus, or lacking: thou mayest make it, a voluntary-offering; but for a vow, it shall not bee favourably-accepted. And that which is bruised, or crushed, or broken, or cut; yee shall not offer, unto Jehovah: and in your land, ye shall not doe it. And from the hand of a strangers sonne; ye shall not offer, the bread of your God, of any of these: because their corruption is in them, a blemish is in them; they shall not be favourably-accepted, for you.

26 And Jehovah spake unto Moses, saying.

27 A bull, or a sheep, or a goat, when it shall be brought forth; then it shall bee, seven dayes, under his damme: and from the eight day, and thence forth; it shall be favourably-accepted, for an oblation of a Fire-offring, unto Jehovah. And cow, or theepe: it and the young thereof, ye shall not kill, in one day.

28 And when ye wil sacrifice a sacrifice of confession, unto Jehovah: ye shall sacrifice, for your favourable acceptation. In that day, shall it be eaten; ye shall not leave thereof, untill the morning: I, am Jehovah. And ye shall keepe, my commandements; and doe them: I, am Jehovah. And ye shall not prophane, the name of my holinesse; and I will be sanctified, among the sons of Israel: I Jehovah, doe sanctifie you. That brought you out from the land of Egypt; to be upon you, for a God: I am Jehovah.

Annotations.

2 L Et them be separated in Greeke, Let them take heed of the holy things, meaning, that they defile them not. So that as the former chapter shewed the purity and perfection that should be in the persons that drew neer unto the Lord: this teacheth what puritie and perfection ought to be in the things offered, or to be offered unto him. The Hebrew Nazar here used, signifieth a religious separation in respect of holinesse; as is noted on Lev. 15.31. of my holinesse translated in Greeke, my holy name: which is profaned, when the holy things in the sanctuarie are defiled, being offered or eaten by persons uncleane, and forbidden of God. See after, in ver. 15.32. the things this addition is supplied also in the Greeke, Whosoever things they sanctifie unto me. And this is added, as Sol. Iarchi here saith, to imply also the holy things of the Priests themselves.

3 Ver. 3. your generations either now, or at any time hereafter. shall come nigh namely, to eat, as is expressed in ver. 4. So Iarchi saith, This coming nigh is not meant but of eating. your seed that is, your children: so ver. 4. holy things Hebrew holinesses, meaning things of holinesse, and particularly holy meats; which though the blestished priests might eat of, Lev. 21.22. yet the uncleane might not. Lev. 7.20.21. See the notes on Lev. 7.10. And by the holy things, are meant not only the Sacrifices, but first fruits, and all the heave-offrings of the holy things, which the sons of Israel offered unto the Lord, Numb. 18.8.9.-19 as it is there said, every one that is cleane in thy house, shall eat of it, Numb. 18.13. See after on ver. 9. uncleannesse upon him before he is washed from the same; see the annotations on Lev. 7.20. cut off from my presence in Greeke, destroyed from me: in Chaldee, destroyed from before me. It meaneth death by the hand of God, as v. 9.

Ver. 4. Any man Hebrew Man man: that is, Whosoever: Targum Jonathan saith young man or old man. And this concerneth women also, the daughters of Aaron, who were to eat of some of the holy things; but so as they were cleane when they did eat. Numb. 18.19.11. See after, in ver. 11.12. leprous whereof see Levit. 13. an issue whereof see Lev. 15.2.&c. by a soule the Greeke translateth, any uncleannesse of a soule; whereby the dead is meant, as Lev. 19.28. and 21.1. and what uncleannes that was, see in Num. 19.11.14. seed of copulation or, effusion of seed, whereof see Lev. 15.16.

Ver. 5. creeping thing which when it is dead, defileth him that toucheth it, Lev. 11.31.&c. made uncleane so much as would make a man uncleane, and that was of creeping things the quantitie of a lenile (or little pease) as Iarchi here noteth. See Lev. 11.31. a man to weat, an uncleane man, as a Leper, he that hath an issue, or the like, by touching of whom, men were made uncleane. Lev. 13.45. and 15.5.&c. Or a dead man: and thereto Sol. Iarchi here referreth it, and of a dead man, so much as an olive would defile.

Ver. 6. The soule that is, the man, as the Chaldee expounds it: and Targum Jonathan addeth, the man a priest. untill the evening untill the end of that day, and beginning of a new, See the notes on Lev. 11.24.32. bathe or, wash his flesh, that is, his body, as the Gr. translateth: see Lev. 15.5.13. It figured repentance for sins, as I baptise you with water unto repentance, Mat. 3.11. and sanctification by the blood and spirit of Christ, as ye are washed, ye are sanctified, ye are justified, in the name of the Lord Iesus, and by the Spirit of our God, 1 Cor. 6.11. And this sanctimony, though common to the whole Church, Lev. 11. did specially pertain to the priests and ministers, whom Christ (who is likened to a refiners fire, and to fullers sope) should purifie by his grace, as it is said, He shall purifie the sonnes of Levi, and purge them as gold and silver: that they may offer unto the Lord, an offering in righteousness, Malac. 3.2.3.

Ver. 7. and afterward in Greeke, and then he shall (or may) eat, to weat, when his sunne is gone downe: before then though he were washed, he might not eat. See the notes on Lev. 11.32. his bread his food, allowed him of God for his livelihood: Numb. 18.11.19. Whosoever eateth of the heave-offrings, blesseth with a blessing for the food; and after that, he blesseth him that sanctifieth them them with the sanctification of Aaron, (Numb. 18. 8.) and commanded them to eat of the beave-offrings. Maimony in Trumoth, ch. 15. sect. 22.

8 Ver. 8. a carcase and a torne thing] what these were, is before shewed, on Lev. 17. 15. and 22. 31. They were unlawfull to be eaten of any Israelite, especially of the Priests; as here and Ezek. 44. 31. and figured the sanctitie of their communion; as is noted on Lev. 17. and further appeareth by Ezek. 4. 13, 14.

9 Ver. 9. my charge] or, observe my observation, that is, which I commanded to be kept: in Chaldee, the observation of my word. Here it is specially to bee understood, as Iarchi also saith, of eating the beave-offring, and of uncleannes of body. sinne] that is, the punishment of sinne: So in Lev. 19. 17. Numb. 18. 32. and 9. 13. for it] that is, for the holy thing, forespoken of. and dye] to weete, by the hand of God; as Targum Jonathan explaineth it, by flaming fire. For by men, such were beaten only, as the Hebrew canons shew, saying: An unclean priest is forbidden to eate of the beave-offering, whether it be unclean or cleane, Levit. 22. 4. Every unclean (Priest) that eateth of the beave-offring which is cleane, he is guilty of death by the hand of (the God of) heaven, Levit. 22. 9. and therefore he is to be beaten. But if he eate of the beave-offring which is unclean, though it be forbidden, he is not to be beaten, because it is not holy. The unclean may not eate of the beave-offring, untill their Sun be set, and three starres appeare after the Sunne is gone downe, Levit. 22. 7. Maimony in Trumoth, ch. 7. sect. 1. &c. The like judgement is for the stranger, that is, whosoever is not a priest, or of the priests familie; for if he eate of the holy things presumptuously, he is in danger of death. The stranger that eateth of the beave-offering presumptuously whether he be unclean or cleane, whether he eate of the beave-offring that is cleane or unclean, he is guilty of death by the hand of (the God of) heaven; as it is written, AND DIE THEREFORE, IF THEY PROFANE IT: and he is to be beaten, for eating thereof. And if he eate in ignorance, he is to adde the fift part thereof unto it, (Lev. 22. 14.) Maimony, ibidem, ch. 6. sect. 6.

10 Ver. 10. my stranger] that is, whosoever is not of the priests familie. The Hebrew canons say, The beave-offring, and the beave-offring of the tithes, are to be eaten by the Priests, whether old or young, male or female, by them, and their Cananitish servants, and their cattell: Lev. 22. 11. The stranger is forbidden to eate of the beave-offring, Lev. 22. 10. Maimony in Trumoth, ch. 6. sect. 1. 5. forreiner] or sojourner, in Hebrew Toshab, in Greeke Paroskos, which is a stranger-inhabitant; one that dwelleth in the house continually, but is not of the house: and so differeth from the Slave, which is one of the household; and from the Hireling, which is none of the household, neither abideth therein continually but for a terme. The forreiner, is he that is hired for ever; the Hireling, is he that is hired for yeeres. And an Hebrew servant, hee is as a forreiner and an hireling, (Lev. 25. 39. 40.) And a priests daughter married to a stranger, hee, she is as a stranger: and it is forbidden ANY STRANGER (Lev. 22. 10.) whether it be himselfe or his wife. Maimony in Trumoth, ch. 6. f. 5. By the forreiner or sojourner in this place seemeth to be meant not only an Israelite sojourning; but also an heathen man, uncircumcised; who leaving his open Idolatrie, & yeelding to the Morall law, though not to the ordinances, as circumcision & the like; might dwell among the Israelites, Deut. 14. 21. See the annotations on Exod. 12. 43. 45. 48. And from hence the Hebrewes gather, that an uncircumcised priest, though he had no other uncleannes, might not eate of the holy things. It is unlawfull for an uncircumcised priest to eate of the beave-offring, by the sentence of the Law; for he the forreiner and the Hireling is spoken of concerning the Beave-offring, Levit. 22. 10. and the Forreiner and Hireling is spoken of concerning the Passover, Exod. 12. 45. What is the Forreiner and Hireling spoken of in the Passover? It is an uncircumcised person, to whom it is forbidden & so the Forreiner and Hireling spoken of in the Beave-offring, the uncircumcised person is forbidden it; and if he eate, he is to be beaten by the Law. Maimony in Trumoth, ch. 7. sect. 10. And in another place, they say, All the oblations whether they be the most holy things or the lighter holy, none may eate of them but cleane persons only, that are circumcised. Though his sinne be set, if he have not brought his atonement, he may not eate of the holy things. Maimony in Magnasch hakorbanoth, ch. 10. sect. 9. a hired person] any outlander, or any Israelite; as before is shewed. not eate] neither drinke of, nor anoint himselfe with any of the holy things appointed unto the Priests. For, the beave-offrings were given, for meat, for drinke, and for anointing, because anointing is as drinking, Psal. 109. 18. and drinking is comprehended under eating: they are to eate that which useth to be eaten, and drinke that which useth to be drinke, and to anoint with that which is used for unction, not wine or the like, but they anoint with oile that is cleane, &c. Maim. in Trumoth ch. 11. f. 1. So for this prohibition they say, Whether he eate that which is wont to be eaten, or drinke that which is wont to be drinke, or anoint him with the thing that is used for unction, (it is unlawfull) for it is said THEY SHALL NOT PROFANE THE HOLIE THINGS, Lev. 22. 15. Maimony ibidem, ch. 10. sect. 2.

Ver. 11. buy a soule] that is, a person, to weete, of the heathens; as before is noted; and as Sol. Iarchi here explaineth it, a Cananitish servant. Such by comming to be of the Priests familie might eate, though Israelites might not eate. And, as the Hebrewes say, An uncircumcised Priest, and all that were unclean, although they themselves might not eate of the beave-offring, yet their wives and their servants might eate. Maim. in Trumoth. c. 7. f. 12. with the purchase of his money] Hebrew, the purchase (or bought) of his silver; which the Greeke translateth bought (or purchased) with silver. So that though he bought them not himselfe, if they were bought into his house by a wife whom he married, or were bought by his servants, they might eate. Maim. in Trum. ch. 7. f. 18. he that is borne in his house] or, the child of his house; that is, the homeborne servant; such as were the children of his slave. See the the notes on Gen. 15.3. and 7.12. Those slaves being in the Priests household; if they were cleane, might eat of some of the heave-offerings that were given for the Priests livelihood. See Numb. 18. 11.13.

12 Ver. 12. a stranger] such as were not of the Priests stock; for other Israelites are counted strangers in this case. So a stranger is here expounded by Iarchi, a Levite, or an Israelite. of the heave-offering] which the Chaldee expoundeth the separated thing; the Greeke, the first fruits: it meaneth The sanctified things of the sons of Israel. Num. 18.8. 11-19. The reason hereof was, because by her marriage she went out of her fathers house, into her husbands; as on the contrary, a common Israelitess by marriage with a Priest, became of his house, and might eat. The Hebrewes say, Two things are contained in this prohibition, that if she a priests daughter be defiled, and made an whore or profane (as Lev. 21.7.) it is unlawfull for her to eat of the heave-offerings for ever, according to the judgement of every prophane person: for the prophane is in the stranger in all respects. And if she be married to an Israelite, she may never eat of the Wave-breast and of the Heave-shoulder (Levit. 7.34.) although she be divorced, or (her husband) dye: [whereof the next verse speaketh] Maim. in Trumoth. ch. 6. sect. 7.

13 Ver. 13. no seed] no son, saith the Chaldee version. This is understood also, either if she had no child, or if her children be all dead; as is after shewed. as in her youth] so that though she hath brought forth no seed, yet if she be with child, she may not eat of the holy things. Maim. in Trum. ch. 8. f. 2.

of her fathers bread] The Hebrew doctors say, We have heard this expounded, of the bread, and not all the bread: she returneth to (eat of) the heave-offerings, but not of the wave-breast, and heave-shoulder. Maimony in Trumoth. ch. 6. sect. 9. Hereupon also they inferre, An Israelitess which hath had seed by a Priest, she eateth for her child's sake, be it male or female, though it be seeds seed unto the worlds end; for it is said. AND SHE HAVE NO SEED. As the seed of an Israelite from a Priests daughter disableth her from (eating:) so the seed of a Priest from an Israelitess, inhabiliteth her to eat. An Israelites daughter, that is married to a Priest, and begets, and she have a son by him: if she be married after to an Israelite, she may not eat of the Heave-offerings. If the Israelite dye, and she have a son by him; she may not eat, because of this her son by the Israelite; if that son of hers by the Israelite dye she may eat, for her first sons sake. A priests daughter that is married to an Israelite, and she have a son by him; if she be againe married to a Priest, she may eat of the heave-offerings. If he dye, and she have a son by him, she may eat. If her son dye which she had by the priest, she may not eat, because of her son which she had by the Israelite. If her son dye which she had by the Israelite, she returneth to her fathers house, as in her youth, and eateth of the Heave-offerings, not of the breast or shoulder. An Israelites daughter that is married to an Israelite first, and have a son by him, and after is married to a Priest, eateth of the heave-offering. If he dye, and she have a son by him; she eateth for her last sons sake; for he inhabiliteth her to eat; as his father in which he is eat.

Maimony ibidem. ch. 6. sect. 12, 13, 17, 18, 19.

Ver. 14. a man] that is, any stranger forementioned; which belongeth not to the Priests familie. Targum Jonathan expoundeth it, a man of Israel. in ignorance] or, through unadvised error. But if hee doe it presumptuously, hee is guilty of death, by the hand of God, ver. 9. of beating by the hand of the Magistrate. add the fist] The stranger that eateth of the heave-offerings in ignorance, payeth the principall and the fist (part.) Though he knoweth it to bee the heave-offering, and that it is forbidden him, but knoweth not whether he is guilty of death for it, or no: loe this is ignorance, and he payeth the principall, and the fist part. Whether he eat, or drinke, or anoint himselfe with it; and whether he eat the heave-offering that is cleane, or that is uncleane, in ignorance; he must pay the principall, and the fist. Whosoever payeth the principall and the fist, payeth to the owners, and the fist part to any Priest that he will. And he may payeth, but according to the price that it was worth, at the time when he dedicate it: whether it be cheaper at the time when he payeth for it, or dearer. Maimony in Trumoth. ch. 10. f. 1, 2, 16, 25. See also the annotations on Lev. 5. 15, 16.

Ver. 15. not profane] by suffering the holy things to be eaten of strangers: as before. which they heave-up] that is offer; or (as the Greeke and Chaldee expound it,) separate unto (or before) the Lord.

Ver. 16. Or cause them to beare] or, And they shall not cause them to beare; which may be understood of the Priests, that they should not by their negligence, cause or suffer the people to beare the punishment of their trespasses; and this the Greeke favoureth, saying, And bring upon them iniquity. Or it may be referred to the people, that they should not cause them selves to beare iniquity (that is, the punishment) of trespasses for eating the holy things. The Chaldee translateth, And they receive upon them iniquities and sins, when they eat in uncleanness their holy things. Whereupon some of the Hebrewes (as Sol. Iarchi here observeth) understand this word them, of the Priests themselves. These Lawes for cleannes corporall in all such as partaked of Gods holy things, led them and us to spirituall cleannes in our communion with Christ and his graces: that we should have our hearts purified by faith, Act. 15.9. and sprinkled from an evil conscience, and our bodies washed with pure water, Hebrewes 10.22. that cleansing our selves from all filthinesse of the flesh and spirit, we may perfect our hithnesse in the feare God, 2 Cor. 7.1. For, if we walke in the light, as God is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and the blood of Iesus Christ his sonne, cleanseth us from all sinne, 1 Iohn 1.7. But if wee eat and drinke of his holy things unworthily, we eat and drinke judgment to our selves: 1 Cor. 11.29.

Ver. 18. all the formes] in Greeke, all the congregation of Israel. These lawes following, doe concerne things which were to be offered unto God; in what condition and state they ought to be, before they came upon his altar: therefore the speech is directed both unto Priests and people.

Any man] Hebrew man man, that is, whosoever. Targum Jonathan saith, young man or old man. or of] Heb. and of the stranger; which the Gr. translateth or of the proselytes joyned unto them in Israel: which were heathens converted to the faith of Gods people. So differing from the alien, in ver. 25.

his oblation] in Greeke, gifts, by which name the sacrifices are often called: Mat. 5. 23, 24. and 8. 4. and 23. 18, 19. Heb. 8. 4. and 11. 4.

according to all their vows] in Greeke, according to all their profession (or promise). So in Jerem. 44. 25. Vows are in Greeke called a profession, or confession: and vows were made with promises, and payed with confessions; as David said, Thy vows are upon me O God: I will pay confessions unto thee, Psalme 56. 13.

and to all] in Greeke, or according to all their choice: so voluntarie gifts are called, because they come from the choice and will of the giver. What they differ frō vows is shewed on Le. 7. 16.

19 Verse 19. For your favourable-acceptation] to weet, you shall offer it; so that it may be acceptable and pleasing unto God for you: as v. 20. Lev. 23. 11. The Greeke translateth it Acceptable: See the notes on Levit. 1. 3. Sol. Iarchi here explaineth it, Bring the thing that is meet to make you acceptable before me, that it may be unto you for favourable-acceptation.

a perfect male] in Greeke, unblemished males: such were all the burnt-offerings to be, see Levit. 1. 3. 10.

or of the goats] but the fowles he mentioneth not, because the Law made no difference in them of male or female; and as Iarchi here saith, the fowle was not rejected for a blemish, but for want of a lim. See the annotation on Lev. 1. 14.

20 Ver. 20. to favourable acceptance] that is, favourable-accepted, as Moses speaketh after, in ver. 25. and so the Greeke translateth, acceptable for you. This is opened by the prophet thus: If yee offer the blind for sacrifice, is it not evill? and if yee offer the lame and sicke, is it not evill? Offer it now unto thy governor, will he be pleased with thee, or accept thy person, saith the LORD of hosts? And ye brought that which was torne, and the lame and the sicke: thus yee brought an offering: should I accept of your hand, saith the LORD? But cursed be the deceiver, which hath in his flocke a [perfect] male, and voweth and sacrificeth unto the Lord a corrupt thing: for I am a great King saith the LORD of hosts, and my name is dreadful among the heathen. Mal. 1. 8. 13, 14. These perfect and unblemished sacrifices which were to be offered unto God, figured the perfection of Christ who gave himselfe a sacrifice for us, and whom we apply to our selves and make ours by faith, 1 Pet. 1. 19, 20, 21. Gal. 2. 16, 20. Also the sacrifices of our humble and contrite hearts, & of our bodies, and of our praises and thanksgivings; which through Christ and his Spirit, are made holy and acceptable unto God, Psal. 51. 18, 19. Rom. 12. 1. Heb. 13. 15.

21 Ver. 21. of peace-offerings] or, of payments: in Greeke of salvation, in Chaldee, of sanctification. See the notes on Lev. 3. 1. to separate] or, in separating (in Greeke distinguishing) a vow: which may be understood both of making a figular vow, and of accomplishing it, for both must be unblemished. So in Numb. 15. 3. 8. See also Lev. 27. 2. The Hebrewes say, It is commanded that all oblations be perfect and choise, Levit. 22. 21. and whosoever sanctifieth a beast which hath a blemish for the top of the altar, transgresseth against a prohibition, and is to be beaten for his sanctifying of it, as it is written, (Lev. 22. 20.)

ANY WHICH HATH A BLEMISH IN IT, YE SHALL NOT OFFER. We have bene taught that this is a warning for him that sanctifieth blemished things. Who so thinketh that it is lawfull to sanctifie a blemished thing for the altar, and sanctifieth it: it is holy, and he is not beaten. He that killeth a blemished thing by the name of an offering, is to be beaten: for it is written, (Levit. 22. 22.) YE SHALL NOT OFFER THESE UNTO THE LORD: wee have bene taught, that this is a warning against killing it. Maim. 10m. 3. in Issurei mizbeach, c. 1. f. 1. &c.

of the bird] or, in the bird, so after in the flock, that is, of sheepe or goats. For in such chiefly, blemishes were to bee looked unto, rather then in fowles. See the notes on Lev. 1. 14. perfect] after, it is said without blemish: blemishes, respected the outward parts: perfection, the inward also. If when the sacrifice was killed, it were found torne; it was to be carried out to the place of burning. And so if it were found to want any of the members within, though it were not torne, as if it had but one kidney, or if the spleen were wasted away, for it was unlawfull for the altar, and was to be burnt: not for that it was blemished, for the want of things within, was no blemish; but because they might not offer that which wanted any thing, as it is written (in Numb. 28. 31.) PERFECT SHALL THEY BE UNTO YOU. And all superfluous was as a want; therefore if it had three kidneys, or two spleenes, it was unlawfull. Maimony in Issurei mizbeach: chap. 2. sect. 11. any blemish] any deformity in any lim, whereof the Hebrewes number fifty, besides other things, which did disable them for sacrifice; whereof see the notes on Exod. 12. 5. Hence also they gather, He that maketh a blemish upon the holy things, as to make an eye blinde, or cut off a foot, is to be beaten; as (Levit. 22. 21.) THERE SHALL NOT BE IN IT ANY BLEMISH: wee have bene taught that this is a warning not to make any blemish in it. Maimony in Issurei Mizbeach. chap. 1. section 7.

Ver. 22. Blinde] either wholly, or in part; if it see not with both eyes, or with one of them, and that with a cleare sight, &c. Maimony Biah bamikdash, ch. 5. sect. 7.

a wen] or a wart, as the Greeke expoundeth it. scurfe or scab] of these see Levit. 21. 20.

not offer these] or any other like blemished. By offring, the Hebrewes here understand killing, and sprinkling of the blood on the altar: and by the words following, nor give of them, a fire-offring, they understand a prohibition against burning the fat of such: for every of which actions presumptuously done, a man was to be beaten. So that if one first sanctified a blemished beast, and then killed it, and sprinkled the blood thereof, and turned on the altar the fat thereof, he was to be beaten with foure beatings. Maim. in Issurei mizb. c. 1. f. 4. nor give of them] not of them, but of others bought with the price of them, they might. The Hebrew canons say; He that sanctifieth for the altar a blemished thing, though he is to be beaten, yet the thing is sanctified; and he shall redeem it according to the valuation of the priest, and it shall goe out among the unholy things: and with the price thereof he shall bring an oblation. And the like Law is for the sanctified beast, whereunto a blemish befalleth (after it is sanctified.) And it is commanded to redeem the holy things on which a blemish falleth, and they are to goe out among the common things, and to be eaten; as Deut. 12. 15. which wee have heard expounded, of the holy things disabled (for sacrifice) which are redeemed. And all such holy things which are disabled, when they are redeemed; it is lawfull to kill them in the Butchers shambles, and to sell them there, and weigh out their flesh, as other common meates: except the first borne, and the tithes. Maim. in Issurei Mizb. chap. 1. sect. 10. 12. This redeeming of blemished holy things, is to be understood with a limitation to fixed or perpetuall blemishes onely, not for transitorie. The old beast and the sickle, and that hath foulness on it, are excepted; for though they be not fit to be offered, they are not redeemed, but let live and feed, till some other fixed blemish come upon them, and then they are redeemed. So a sanctified beast, on which a transitorie blemish is come (as scabs or the like,) it is not offered, neither redeemed. Ibidem chapter 2. section 6.

23 Verſ. 23. superfluous] or, overlong; and as Iarchi expoundeth it, a member greater then this fellow: see Levit. 21. 18. lacking] or too short: any member shrunke up: not lacking wholly, (for so it was unlawfull) but lacking in the length or bignesse: the Greeke translateth it curtailed. mayest make] or shalt make. voluntary-offering] which some understand of the peace-offerings, the most inferiour; therefore God permitteth such imperfections in this, but not in the vowed sacrifice, (which was next unto this,) nor in any other. How it differed from a vow, is shewed on Leviticus 7. 16. The Greeke version saith, Thou shalt make them staine (beasts) for thy selfe: the Hebrew doctors understand these not for sacrifice on the altar, (on which no blemished beast might be offered at all,) but for the maintenance of the sanctuary the prices of them were taken as a voluntary gift. It is unlawfull to sanctifie perfect (beasts) to the reparation (or maintenance) of the sanctuary; for it is written, And bull or sheepe, that hath any (member) superfluous or lacking, thou shalt make it a voluntary (offering.) We have been taught that this is a voluntary (offering) for the maintenance of the Sanctuary, &c. for they may offer no blemished thing upon the Altar: For it is said, It, it thou mayest make a voluntary offering, for the maintenance of the house, but thou mayest not make perfect (beasts) a voluntary offering for the maintenance of the House, &c. Maim. tom. 3. in Erubin (or treat. of Estimate and devout things) chap. 5. §. 6.

24 Verſ. 24. bruised] in any part of the body, and particularly in the stones thereof, of which some doe understand this: and so the Greeke Thalmon signifieth that which hath the stones bruised, or is gelt. in your land] that is, any in the land of Israel; opposed to the alien, in the verse following.

not doe it] that is, not offer, or make it a sacrifice; nor suffer it to be done by any in your land: therefore the Greeke translateth, it shall not be done, (or sacrificed.) Or, we may reade it, not make such; and so the Hebrewes understand it to be a prohibition against cutting the members of generation, or gelding of man, beast or bird. Maim. ny in Issurei Mizb. chap. 16. §. 9. See the notes on Deut. 23. 1.

25 Verſ. 25. strangers sonne] or, sonne of an alien, that is, a Gentile or Paynim, not of the seed of the Church of Israel: see Genesis 17. 12. and Exod. 12. 43. The Chaldee translateth it, some of the people: the Greeke, Allogenes, a stranger, or of another stocke: such were the Samaritans to the Iewes. Luk. 17. 16. 18. And these differed from strangers profehytes, mentioned before in verse 18.

the bread] in Greeke, the gift; in Chaldee, the oblation, as in Leviticus 21. 6. of any of these] to wett, these blemished beasts, before prohibited. So the Hebrewes say, Not the oblations of Israel onely; but even the oblations of the heathens, if they offer blemished things (he that offereth them) is to be beaten. Levit. 22. 25. Maim. ny in Issurei Mizb. chap. 1. sect. 6.

their corruption is in them] this may be understood of the strangers themselves, whose infidelitie is their corruption, and as a blemish upon their sacrifice: so it may be translated, their corruption in them, is a blemish in them. The Greeke translateth, their corruptions are in them, a blemish in them. Of the offering of heathens sacrifices, the Hebrewes write this; An heathen that bringeth Peace-offerings, they offer them for burnt-offerings, for the heathens heart is towards heaven. If he vow peace-offerings, and give them to Israel, upon condition to make atonement by them for Israel; the Israelites eat them, with the peace-offerings of Israel; and so if he give them to the Priest, the Priest eateth them. An Israelite which is an Apostate to idolatrie, or a profaner of the Sabbath publicly; they receive of him no offering at all. Though it be a burnt-offering, such as they receive from an heathen, they receive it not from this Apostate. But if he be an Apostate to other transgressions, they receive of him all sacrifices; to the end that he may turne by repentance. The Burnt-offerings of the heathens, they bring not with them meat or drinke-offerings; but their meat and drinke-offerings are of the Congregations. Neither doe they impose hands on them; for there is no imposing of hands but by Israelites, by men, not by women. Maim. ny in Magnaseth hakorbanoth, chap. 3. sect. 3. 5. and Talmud Bab. in Menachoth, chap. 6. and in Cholin chap. 1. Sol. Iarchi also upon this scripture saith: And from the hand of a strangers sonne, that is, a Gentile which shall bring an oblation by the hand of the Priest, to offer it unto (the God of) heaven, ye shall not offer unto him a blemished thing. For although blemished things were not forbidden the sonnes of Noe to offer, except such as lacked a lim; this was in use in the high places in the fields: but upon the Altar that is in the Tabernacle, you shall offer none such, but a perfect (oblation) shall you receive of them. Touching the sacrifices of the heathens, consider that edict of King Darius, who of his owne goods gave sacrifices for the Priests to offer in Ierusalem to the GOD of heaven, and pray for the life of the King, and of his sons, Ezra. 6. 8, 9, 10. See also the annotations on Lev. 17. 5.

Verf. 27. under his dam] Hebrew under his mother. All the seven daies, he is said to bee lacking time. Turtle doves, whose time is not come, are as beasts that lack time: and yong pigeons whose time is past, are all as blemished; but they that offer them are not beaten, although the oblation is disallowed, and not acceptable. Maimony in Issurei Mishbach. ch. 3. f. 8. 9. See the annotations on Exod. 22. 30. and Levit. 1. 14. The Hebrewes say, the reason why it should be seven daies under the dam, was that the Sabbath might passe over it. R. Menachem on Lev. 22.

Verf. 28. Cow] The Hebrew word is the same that was in verse 27. and may imply the male as well as the female, that neither of them might be killed with their yong in one day: but the Greeke and Chaldee versions, apply these things to the female. The Hebrewes say, The prohibition concerning IT AND THE YONG THEREOF, is of force concerning the female, for it may be certainly knowne that it is her yongling: and if it be certainly knowne, that this (beast) was the father of it, they doe not kill them both in one day: but if he kill them, he is not beaten; for the thing is doubtfull whether it be of force concerning the male or not. Maimony tom. 2. in Shechitah, chap. 12. sect. 11. or sheepe] or goat, or any cleane beast which was lawfull to bee eaten for common meat; This prohibition hath not place but concerning cleane beasts only: & it is of force even for mixtures of diverse kinds: as if a Roe engender with a Goat, or a Goat with a Roe, it is unlawfull to kill it and the yong in one day: Maimony in Shechitah ch. 12. sect. 8.

it and the yong] Hebrew, and the son. The Hebrew also speaketh as of the male, him and his son, but the Greeke and Chaldee translate her and her son. not kill] either for sacrifice to God, or for common food. The Hebrewes doe so explaine it, saying; He that killeth it and the yong thereof in one day, the flesh is lawfull to be eaten, but the killer is to be beaten. Levit. 22. 28. And he is not beaten but for the killing of the latter: therefore if he kill the one of the two, and his fellow come and kill the other, his fellow is to be beaten. The prohibition concerning it and the yong thereof, is of force at all times and in all places, for common beasts, and for sanctified, whether they be holy things that are to be eaten, or not to be eaten. Therefore if the first kill in the court (of the sanctuary) and the second without, or the first without, and the second within the court: whether they be both common, or both holy, or one common and the other holy, he that killeth the later, is to be beaten, as for killing IT AND THE YONG THEREOF. The prohibition is not but for the killing onely, as it is said YE SHALL NOT KILL, &c. He that killeth a cow, and afterward killeth two of her yong, is to be beaten with two beatings: if he kill her (two) yong-ones, and afterward killeth her, he is beaten but once. If he kill her, and her yong, and her yonglings yong, he is beaten twice. If two men receive two beasts, the one the damme, and the other the yong, and they come for judgement: he that received the first, killeth first, and the other must stay till the morrow. Maim. in Shechitah. ch. 12. l. 1, 2, 3. 12, 13. Compare herewith the Law in Deut. 22. 6. where the bird with her yong or eggs, may not bee taken together. It shewed Gods mercie to the creatures, in that he would not have the dam and the yong killed in a day: so Targ. Jonathan paraphraseth on this Law thus, My people the sons of Israel, as our father is mercifull in heaven, so be ye mercifull on earth: a cow or an ewe, it and the yong thereof, ye shall not slay in one day.

in one day] of this the Hebrewes say, the day goeth after the night, as, if he kill the first in the beginning of the fourth night, he may not kill the second, till the beginning of the fift night. And so, if he kill the first, in the end of the fourth day, before evening, he may kill the second in the beginning of the fift night: But if he kill the first in the evening of the fift night, he may not kill the second till the sixth night. Maimony in Shechitah, ch. 12. sect. 17.

Verf. 29. of confession] or, of thanksgiving; which was a kind of peace-offering see Lev. 7. 12.

Ver. 30. untill the morning] If it were kept longer then the time appointed of God, it became polluted, was to be consumed with fire, and might not be eaten, upon paine of Gods wrath upon them for such iniquitie, Lev. 7. 18. See the annotations there, as also on Exod. 12. 10.

Verf. 31. I am Iehovah] Targum Jonathan explaineth it thus, I am the Lord, who will give a good reward to them that keepe my precepts and my lawes.

Verf. 32. not prophane] Gods name is prophaned, or polluted, by the wilful & presumptuous breach of any one of all his commandements, as the Hebrew Doctors teach from this and other like places: see the notes on Exod. 20. 7. Levit. 18. 21. and 19. 12. doe sanctifie you] God the sole author of our sanctification, doth this in Christ, by his Spirit, 1 Corinth. 1. 2. and 6. 11. the outward means whereof is his word, and ordinances of the same, Iohn 17. 17. Ephes. 5. 26. And these legall ordinances, which stood in meats and drinks, and divers washings and carnall rites imposed on them untill the time of reformation, sanctified unto the purifying of the flesh, Hebrewes 9. 10. 13. but the blood of Christ, who through the eternall Spirit offered himselfe without blemish unto God, is it which purgeth our conscience from dead workes, to serve the living God: Hebrewes 9. 14. and 10. 10. and by one offering, he hath perfected for ever, them which are sanctified. Heb. 10. 14.

CHAP. XXIII.

1, The feasts of the Lord. 3, The Sabbath. 4, The Passover, and unleavened-cakes. 9, The feast of first-fruits. 15, The feast of Pentecost. 22, Cleanings to be left for the poore. 23, The feast of Trumpets. 26, The day of Atonement. 33, The feast of Tabernacles.

And Iehovah spake unto Moses, saying. Speake unto the sonnes of Israel, and say unto them; The solemne-feasts of Iehovah, those which ye

3 ye shall proclaime, convocations of holines : these are my solemne-feasts. Six dayes, shall worke be done ; but in the seventh day, shall be a Sabbath of sabbatisme, a convocation of holinesse ; ye shall not doe, any worke : it shall be a Sabbath, to Jehovah ; in all your dwellings.

4 These are the solemne-feasts of Jehovah ; convocations, of holinesse : those which ye shall proclaime, in their appointed-season.
5 In the first moneth, in the fourteenth day of the moneth, betweene the two-evenings :
6 shall be the Passeover, to Jehovah. And in the fifteenth day, of the same moneth, shall be the feast of unleavened cakes, unto Jehovah : seven daies, ye shall eat unleavened-cakes. In the first day ye shall have, a convocation of holines :
7 ye shall not doe any servile worke. But ye shall offer a Fire-offring, unto Jehovah, seven daies : in the seventh day, shall be a convocation of holines ; ye shall not doe, any servile worke.

9 And Jehovah spake unto Moses, saying.
10 Speake unto the sonnes of Israel, and say unto them ; When ye be come into the land, which I give unto you, and shall reap, the harvest thereof : then ye shall bring a sheafe, the first-fruit of your harvest, unto the Priest.
11 And he shall wave the sheaf, before Jehovah, for your favourable-acceptation on the morrow after the sabbath, the Priest shall wave it. And yee shall offer, in the day that you wave the sheaf : an he-lambe perfect, of his first yere ; for a Burnt-offring, unto Jehovah.
12 And the Meat-offring thereof, shall be two tenth-deales ; of fine flowre mingled with oile ; a Fire-offring to Jehovah, a savour of rest : and the drink-offering thereof shall be wine, the fourth-part of an Hin. And ye shall not eat bread, or parched-corne, or greencares ; untill this self same day ; untill ye have brought, the oblation of your God : it shall be a statute for ever ; throughout your generations, in all your dwellings.

15 And ye shall number unto you, from the morrow after the sabbath ; from the day that ye brought the sheaf of the wave-offring :
16 seven sabbaths, they shall be complete. Untill on the morrow, after the seventh Sabbath ; ye shall number, fifty dayes : and ye shall offer a new Meat-offring, unto Jehovah. Out of your habitations, ye shall bring bread for a wave-offring ; two loaves, of two tenth-deales ; they shall be of fine flowre ; they shall be baken with leaven : they are the first-fruits, unto Jehovah. And ye shall offer with the bread, seven he-lambs, perfect, of the first yere ; and one bullock, a yongling of the herd and two rams : they shall be a burnt-offring, unto Jehovah ; & their meat-offring, & their drink-offrings ; a Fire-offring of a savour of rest, unto Jehovah. And ye shall offer, one goat-buck of the goats, for a sin-offring : and two he-lambs, of the first yere, for a sacrifice of Peace-offrings. And the Priest shall wave them, with the bread of the first-fruits for a wave-offring ; before Jehovah ; with the two lambs : holines shall they be unto Jehovah, for the Priest. And ye shall proclaime, in this self-same day, a convocation of holines shall it be unto you, ye shall not do, any servile worke : it shall be a statute for ever, in all your dwellings, throughout your generations.

And when you reap the harvest of your land ; thou shalt not wholly-rid, the corner of thy field, when thou reapest ; neither shalt thou glean, the gleaning of thy harvest : thou shalt leave them, for the poore and for the stranger ; I am Jehovah your God.

And Jehovah spake unto Moses, saying.
23 Speak unto the sons of Israel saying : In the seventh moneth, in the first day of the moneth, ye shall have a Sabbatisme ; a memorial of blowing of trumpets, a convocation of holines. Ye shall not do, any servile worke : but ye shall offer a Fire-offring unto Jehovah.

And Jehovah spake unto Moses, saying.
26 Also in the tenth day of this seventh moneth, it shall be a day of Atonements ; a convocation of holines, shall it be unto you ; and ye shall afflict, your soules : & shall offer a fire-offring unto Jehovah. And ye shall not do any work in that same day : for it is a day of atonements ; to make atonement for you, before Jehovah your God. For every soule, that shall not be afflicted, in the seventh day : he shall even be cut off, from his peoples. And every soule that shall do any work, in this self same day : I will even destroy that soule, from among his people. Ye shall not doe, any worke : it shall be a statute for ever, throughout your generations, in all your dwellings. It shall be unto you, a Sabbath of Sabbatisme ; and ye shall afflict your souls : in the ninth day of the moneth, in the evening ; from evening unto evening ; ye shall rest your Sabbath.

33 Speake unto the sons of Israel, saying : In the fifteenth day, of this seventh moneth ; shall be the feast of Bootes, seven dayes, unto Jehovah. In the first day, shall be a convocation of holines : ye shall not doe, any servile

- 36 vile worke. Seven daies, ye shall offer a Fire-offring, unto Jehovah: in the eight day, a convocation of holinesse shall be unto you, and ye shall offer a Fire-offring unto Jehovah, it is a solemn-assembly; yee shall not do, any servile worke. These, are the solemn feasts of Jehovah; those which ye shall proclaim, convocations of holinesse to offer a Fire-offring, unto Jehovah; a Burnt-offring, and a Meat-offring, a sacrifice, and drink-offrings, the thing of a day in his day. Beside, the Sabbathes of Jehovah: and beside your gifts, and beside all your vovues, and beside all your voluntary-offrings; which ye shall give, unto Jehovah. Also, in the fifteenth day, of the seventh moneth; when ye have gathered in, the revenue of the land; ye shall festively-keep the feast of Jehovah, seven daies: in the first day, shall be a sabbatisme; and in the eight day, a sabbatisme. And ye shall take unto you, in the first day; the fruit of goodly trees, boughes of Palme trees, and branches of thick trees, and willowes of the brooke: and ye shall rejoyce, before Jehovah your God, seven daies. And ye shall festively keep it, a feast unto Jehovah; seven daies, in the yeere: it shall be a statute for ever, throughout your generations; in the seventh moneth, shall ye festively-keepe it.
- 42 Ye shall dwell in Boothes, seven daies: every home-borne in Israel, shall dwell in
- 43 Boothes. That, your generations may know; that I made the sons of Israel to dwell, in boothes; when I brought them out, from the
- 44 land of Egypt; I am Jehovah your God. And Moses declared, the solemn-feasts of Jehovah; unto the sons of Israel.

Annotations.

- 2 Solemne feasts] the Hebrew Mogued, is generally a set time, or season, Gen. 1. 14. 1 Sam. 13. 8. but applyed here and often, to the solemn feasts in Israel, which were appointed of God, at their set-times in the yeere. The Greeke here and in many other places translateth it, Heorte, a Feast: sometime Paneguris, a Generall-assembly, both which words Paul useth in Col. 2. 26. Heb. 12. 23. The Lord having given lawes before concerning the sanctity of his Church, doth now give order for the times and manner of publike professing and exercising holy duties, appertaining to sanctification: & of shewing thankfulness & joy, for former benefits; with expectatio of greater to come by Christ.
- shall proclaim] or, shall call. convocations of holinesse] that is, holy convocations, or meetings: to be used for nourishment of faith and godlinesse: all which now have their accomplishment in Christ, Col. 2. 16. 17.

V. 3. shall worke be done] in Gr. thou shalt do worke; that is, all thy worke; that thou hast to do, as Ex. 20. 9. of Sabbatisme] that is, of resting: in Gr. a rest, see the notes on Ex. 16. 23. Thus the weekly Sabbath, are the first of the Lords solemn feasts; and called his holy daies, which should be of us, called a delight and honourable, Esay 58. 13. See Exod. 20. 8, 9, 10.

any worke] for other feasts the prohibition is any servile worke, ver. 7, 8. 21. 25. 35, 36. But for the Sabbath day, and the day of Atonement, v. 28, 30. he forbiddeth all manner of worke: the rest was to be greater; for on other feast daies, they might doe such worke as pertained to the dressing of meat and drink, Exod. 12. 16. but on the Sabbath, and day of Atonement, they might not doe any such, Ex. 16. 23. Lev. 16. 29. See after on v. 7. The Hebrewes say, The ceasing from worke on the seventh day, is commanded, Exod. 34. 21. and who so doth worke therein, disannulleth a commandement, and transgresseth against a prohibition, Exod. 20. 10. And if he doe worke willingly and presumptuously, he is guilty of cutting off: and if there be witnesses and prooffe of it, he is to be stoned. And if he doe it ignorantly, he is bound to bring the Sin-offring appointed (of God. Lev. 4.) Maimon. 1. treat. of the Sabbath. c. 1. f. 1. to Jehovah] to his honour, and service: not to any work, word, or pleasure of our owne, Esay 58. 13. Therefore also moe sacrifices were to be offered on the Sabbath, then on other daies, Num. 28. 3, 9, 10. The Chaldee translateth, before the Lord. your dwellings] the other feasts were especially to be kept before the Sancturie of the Lord, whither all the men of Israel, were to assemble, Ex. 23. 14, 17. Deut. 16. 5, 6, 17. but the Sabbaths were to be sanctified in all places where they dwelt, in the Synagogues with in every citie, Act. 15. 21.

V. 4. convocations of holinesse] the Gr. translateth, Feasts to the Lord, called holy, that is, holy by calling or proclamation. Hereupon the Hebr. say As we are commanded to honour the Sabbath, and delight therein, so all good daies, [that is, festivities,] as it is written (in Esay 58. 13.) THE HOLIE (day) OF THE LORD, HONOURABLE: and of all good daies it is said, a CONVOCATION OF HOLINESSE, Maimon. 1. in Iom. tob. ch. 6. sect. 16.

V. 5. first moneth] called Abib, and Nisan, which was made the first, upon their coming out of Egypt: see Exod. 12. 2. and 13. 3, 4. So in Targum Jonathan it is here said, In the moneth of Nisan, in the 14. day, &c. the two evenings] that is, in the afternoone: as is opened on Exod. 7. 6. So all the forenoone of the fourteenth day of Abib (the day wherein they killed the Paschal lambes,) was lawfull to worke in: at noone they left off, and began their rest, The Hebrew canons say, It is unlawfull to doe worke on the evenings of the festivall daies, from the (time of the) evening sacrifice and forward; even as on the evenings of the Sabbaths, And who so doth worke in them shall never see a signe of blessing. And he is to be rebuked, and made to leave off by force: though he is not for it to bee scourged, or excommunicated: except in the evening of the Passover, after mid-day, for who so doth work therein, after mid-day, is to bee scourged, or excommunicated (with the Passeever] Targum Jonathan explaineth it, the time of killing; the Passeever to the name of the Lord. The Passeever was a yeerely feast in remembrance of their deliverance out of Egypt, when God passed over the houses of Israel, and killed not their first borne: see Exo. 12. It figured our redemption by Christ, who is our Passeever (or Paschal lambe) sacrificed for us: in remembrance whereof we are commanded also spiritually, to keepe the feast, with the unleavened-cakes of sincerity and truth, 1 Cor. 5. 7. 8.

(with the Niddui,) if he be not scourged. For the fourteenth day of Nisan (or Abib,) is not like the other evenings of festivall dayes: because in it, are the feasts, and the killing of the sacrifice. In the 14. of Nisan, it is not unlawfull to doe worke, save after the midst of the day, and forward; for that is the time of killing (the sacrifice.) Maimony in Iom tob. chap. 8. sect. 17. 18.

6 Ver. 6. of unleavened-cakes] a feast adjoynted to the Passeever, Exod. 12. 15. and 13. 6. the rites hereof are opened there: the sacrifices peculiar to this feast are set down in Num. 28. 19. 25. The signification was to teach us holinesse of life, from the time of our redemption, unto the end of our dayes; which seven daies mystically figured; as is shewed on Exod. 12. 15. Chazkuni (on Levit. 23.) saith; The evening of the first good day, and that night, is called the Passeever; according as they imploy themselves about the oblation which is called the Passeever. But the residue of the feast, from the first night and forward, is called the feast of unleavened-cakes.

7 Ver. 7. servile worke] Hebr. worke of service, or of servilenesse: or laborious, as ploughing, sowing, weaving, or any the like: but worke about meat or drinke which they should use the same day, might be done, Exod. 12. 16. And the like law was for all other festivall dayes, ver. 8. 25. 35. 36. save on atonement day, ver. 28 then, no worke might be done. So besides the Sabbath, which was every seventh day, there were seven holy dayes in the yeere; in fixe whereof, they might doe no servile worke, and in the seventh, no worke at all. Those fixe were, the first and the seventh of the feast of unleavened-cakes; the day of Pentecost, or of first fruits, ver. 17. 21. the first day of the seventh moneth, which was the feast of Blowing trumpets, ver. 24. 25. and the first and eight day, of the feast of Bootes, ver. 35. 36. The seventh was Atonement (or expiation) day; where in they might doe no worke at all, ver. 28. Of these, the Hebrewes give these rules. The fixe dayes where in the Scripture forbiddeth worke, which are the first and seventh of the Passeever; the first and eight of the feast of Bootes; the day of the feast of Weekes (or Pentecost,) and the first day of the seventh moneth: are called good dayes: and the Resting is alike in them all; for it is unlawfull to doe any servile worke in them; save the worke which is needfull about food, Exod. 12. 16. Who so resteth from servile worke in them, observeth a commandment; and who so doth in any of them, worke which is not necessary for food, as if he build up, or pull downe, or weave, or the like; he breaketh a commandment, and transgresseth against this prohibition, YE SHALL NOT DOE ANY SERVILE WORKE: and if he doe, and there be witnesses and evident prooffe, hee is by the law, to be beaten. [But for working on the Sabbath, he is to be stoned to death, Num. 15. 32. 35.] All worke needfull about meat is lawfull; as killing (of beasts) and baking (of bread,) and kneading (of dough,) and the like. But such worke as may be done in the evening of a feast day, they doe not on the feast day: as they may not reape, nor thresh, nor winnow, nor grinde the corne, or the like. For all these and such like may be done on the evening of the feast; and there is thereby no corruption, or minishing (of the tast;) But they knead, and bake, and kill, and boile (or rost) on the feast day; because if they doe these on the evening, there is thereby corruption, or minishing of the tast. For warme bread, or meat boiled this day, is not like the bread that was baked, or the meat that was boiled yesterday; nor the meat slaine to day, like that which was slaine yesterday; and so all the like unto these. They may not bake, or dresse on a feast day, that which they will eat on the common working day: no worke is permitted, which is needfull about meat, save about those which are to be used on the feast day. If he have made it to eat on the feast day, and there remaine some; he may eat that which is left, on the working day. Baking and anointing, are contained under the generall of meat and drinke, and may be done on the feast day. Maimony in Iom tob. chap. 1. sect. 1. &c.

8 Ver. 8. a Fire-offring] that is, burnt-offrings, as the Greeke translateth, and so Moses explaineth it in Numb. 28. 19. though it implieth also other sacrifices offered up in fire to the Lord. Targum Jonathan expoundeth it, an oblation to the name of the Lord. seven dayes] all the dayes of the feast, seeme to be called generally convocations of holinesse, ver. 2. and in every of them, an extraordinary number of sacrifices were to be offered, Numb. 28. 24. and 29. 17. 20. 23. 26. &c. though the first and last were the great dayes of the feast, in which they might doe no servile worke. Of these other daies the Hebrewes say; The dayes which are betwene the first and the seventh of the Passeever, and the first and the eight of the feast of bootes; are called the prophane (or common working) dayes of the solemne feast; and they are called the Solemne-feast. And although it is not said of any of them, it shall bee a Sabbath; yet forasmuch as it is called a convocation of holinesse, and it is the time of feasting in the sanctuary, it is unlawfull to doe worke in them; that they be not like other prophane dayes, wherein there is no holinesse at all. And who so doth unlawfull worke in them, he is scourged, because it is forbidden him, by the doctrine of the Scribes. Yet all servile worke is not forbidden: for any worke; which if a man doe it not in the solemne-feast, much hurt (or corruption) followeth, they may doe it. As a man may gather his fruits, and the grapes of his vineyard, in the feast, if they be ripe. But it is unlawfull for a man purposely to deferre such worke untill the feast. If a man have fruits on the ground, and hath nothing to eat in the feast, but of them, though there be no danger of their perishing; they lay no necessity upon him to buy food in the market, till he reape after the feast; but he may reape, and binde, and thresh, and faune, and grinde what him needeth. Also they may judge money matters, and matters of life and death, in the solemne feast; and may write the matters of the judgement hall (or Court,) and all such such like. And they may write private letters to friends, and reckonings, &c. and may doe all things needfull about the dead, [as did they that imbalmed our Saviour, Luk. 23.56. and 24.1.] and may make him a coffin, &c. But they looke not upon plagues (of leprosie, Levit. 13.) in the feast, least he be found unclean, and his feasting be turned into mourning. Neither doe they marrie wives, &c. least the joy of the feast be forgotten through the joy of the wedding. They make no merchandise in the feast, eyther selling or buying. But they may sell fruits, clothes, or instruments, needfull for the feast. It is not lawfull to mourne or fast in these dayes, but a man ought to rejoyce in them, and have a merry heart, he and his children, and his wife, and his childrens children, and all that are joynted unto him, (Deut. 16.14.) Although the rejoycing spoken of there, is the Peace-offerings; yet under it is comprehended, that he and his children and his household should rejoyce, every one as it meet for him: &c. Maimony in Iom toh. chap. 6. sect. 22. and chap. 7. section. 1. &c. and chap. 6. sect. 17. See after on versé 40. and Deut. 16.

Verf. 10. reape the harvest] the original words are the same, reape the reaping, or, harvest the harvest. This law appertained to the Paschever, at what time harvest in Canaan began to be ripe; and was to be done in the feast, namely on the 16. day of Abib, the morrow after the Sabbath, v. 11. that by sanctifying the first fruits unto the Lord, the whole harvest might be sanctified unto them. Rom. 11.16. Pro. 3.9.10. Eze 44.30. ye shall bring] to weete, at the publike charges of the Church: the manner is shewed in the notes upon Lev. 24.8. a sheaf] or an Omer, which is the tenth part of an Ephah (or Bushell) Exod. 16.36. The Hebrew word signifieth both, and for the matter in hand both are true, save that if we English it sheaf, it is put for sheafs, one for many; as the Greek here tranlateth it sheaf: (or handfull.) But Sol. Iarchi expoundeth this Omer the tenth part of an Ephah. This was not to be brought by every particular man, but by the whole congregation, one Omer for all the church: the manner whereof, in the Hebrew records, is said to be thus: In the Paschever they offer an oblation more then the daily sacrifice, from the first day untill the seventh day, according to the addition at the new moones; two bullockes and one ramme, and seven lambs, all burnt-offerings; and a goat-bucke for a sin-offering: which is eaten in the second day of the Paschever, which is the sixteenth day of Nisan, [or March:] Numb. 28. 11. 19. 24. They offer more then on other dayes, a lamb for a burnt offering, with the sheaf (or Omer) of wave-offring; (Levit. 23. 12.) And that is the meat-offring of the congregation. And the time of it is appointed, therefore it driveth away the sabbath, [that is, it is to be done, though it be the sabbath day.] They bring not this Meat-offring, but from the land of Israel, Levit. 23. 10. And it is to be reaped in the night, in the sixteenth night (of Nisan,) whether it be working day, or sabbath. And all the night is lawfull to reape the sheaf in, or, if they reape it by day, it is lawfull. It is to be taken from the standing corne, or (if they finde none standing) of the sheaves. It is to be brought of greene corne, and if they finde none such, of the dry. This sheaf was brought of barley. In the evening of the feast day, the messengers of the Synedrion [the high councell in Ierusalem] went out; and all the cities neere thereabout came together, that it might be reaped with great solemnitie. And they reaped three Seabs of barley [which make an Ephah or Bushell, as is noted on Gen. 18.6.] by three men; when it was darke; &c. When it was reaped, they brought it into the courtyard (of the Sanctuary,) and threshed it, and fanned it, and purged it cleane. And they took a tenth part [that is, an Omer, Exod. 16.36.] and put it in the fire, &c. as it is written (in Levit. 2.14.) Green ears of corne parched in the fire, corne beaten out of the full-eare. We have bene taught that this is spoken of the meat-offring of the sheaf onely. And after that they have parched it, they spread it in the courtyard, and the winde bloweth on it. Then they grinde the three Seabs (or Bushell of barley,) and take out of all, a tenth part (or Omer,) and that is waved: and the residue is redeemed, and may be eaten by any man. But this tenth part of barley flower, they take, and mixe it with a log [an halfe pinte] of oyle, on the sixteenth day of Nisan. And they put upon it an handfull of frankincense, (Levit. 2.15.) as upon other Meat-offrings: and wave it, and burne some of it on the altar, (as Levit. 2.16.) and the residue is eaten by the Priests, as all other Meat-offrings are. Maimony in Tamidin, &c. chap. 7. and Talmud Bab. in Menachoth, chap. 10. The reason why this oblation was of barley, was for that it was first ripe in the land of Canaan, to weete at the feast of the Paschever; but wheat harvest was after, at Pentecost or the feast of Weekes, Exod. 34.22. Therefore in Ruth 2.23. barley harvest, is set before wheat harvest: so in Egypt, the barley was sowed, before the wheat, or rye, Exod. 9.31.32. And in Ruth 1.22. when Ruth came to Bethleem in the beginning of barley harvest, there the Chaldee giveth this paraphrase, in the beginning of the Paschever; and in that day, the sonnes of Israel began to reape the sheaf of the wave-offring, which was of barley: having reference to this Law.

Verf. 11. for your favourable acceptation] in Greeke, acceptable for you: that is, that you and your oblation may be accepted in favour. If you offer it according to this right, it shall be acceptable for you; saith Iarchi, on Levit. 23. the morrow after the sabbath] Hebr. on the morrow of the sabbath; that is, the day after the Sabbath, meaning not the ordinary Sabbath, which was every seventh day of the weeke, but the Sabbath of the Paschever, which was alwaies the fifteenth day of Nisan, (or March,) the first day of unleavened bread, called the Feast, Numb. 28.17. on which dayes were Sabbatimes, Levit. 23.32.39. so the morrow after, was alwaies the sixteenth day of Nisan, as is before noted. And so the Chaldee here tranlateth it, after the good day, that is, the feast: and the Greek saith, On the morrow of the first of the Sabbaths; because the first day, and the seventh day, were both Sabbaths: versé 7.8. And Targum Jonathan explaineth it, After the good day, the first (day) of the Paschever, the Priest shall wave it. wave it] in Greeke, offer it. How this waving was performed, see the notes on Exod. 29.24. Levit. 3.5.

Verf. 12. shall offer] Hebr. and Greeke, shall doe, or or make, meaning for sacrifice. See Exod. 10. 25.

of his first yeere] Hebr. some of his yeere, that is, not above a yeere old: see Exod. 12. 5. This Lambe was to be brought with the sheafe (or Omer) of first fruits, besides all other sacrifices for the feast, mentioned in Numb. 28. 19. 24. So Sol. Iarchi saith, It came as a burden duty with the Omer. And it figured Christ (our perfect unblemished Lamb, 1 Pet. 1. 19.) by whom those first fruits, and in them all the other fruits were sanctified, and made acceptable to God.

13 Vers. 13. two tenth deales] to weete, of an Ephah: that is, two Omers. This was twice so much, as by the Law was appointed for a Lambe, which ordinarily was but one tenth deale, Num. 15. 4. neither was it doubled for any other, save for this Lambe offered with the wave sheafe. See the Annotations on Numb. 15. 12. fine-floure] of wheat, as was for all ordinary meat-offrings, Lev. 2. Ex. 29. 2. oile] to weete, oile olive: and a log (or halfe pinte) of oile, was the stint for every tenth deale (or Omer) of floure, Maimony in Magna Sab hakorham, ch. 12. sect. 7. of rest] in Gr. of sweet-smell: the Chaldee expounds it, to be accepted with favour. of an Hn] a measure containing twelve logs, every log being so much as six egges. See the notes on Exod. 29. 40. and 30. 24. And here the quantity of wine is not doubled, (as was before in the floure) but is a fourth part onely, which was the measure prescribed for the drinke-offring of every ordinary Lambe, Num. 15. 5. So Iarchi here noteth, I thought the meat-offring thereof was doubled, yet the drinke-offring was not doubled.

14 Vers. 14. not eat bread, &c.] God hereby taught them, that they had no right to eate of any of the fruit of the Land (which was his, Levit. 25. 23.) untill by offering the first fruits with a Lambe sacrifice, they had made publike profession both of their faith in Christ to come, and of their thankfulness to God for his mercies. The Hebrewes say, It was unlawful to reape in the Land of Israel any of the five kinds of corne, before they had reaped the sheafe (of wave-offring.) Lev. 23. 10. They brought no meat-offring, drinke-offring, or first-fruits, of new (fruit) before they brought the sheafe; and if they brought any, it was not allowable. Maimony in Tamidin, ch. 7. sect. 13. 17. After the offering of the sheafe, no oblation was lawful (to be eaten) out of it and; and they that doyle stirre off (from Jerusalem) might eat thereof after mid-day (the 16. of Nisan); for they knew that the Synedrion would not be negligent herein [in offering the sheafe.] Talmud Bala. in Menachoth, ch. 10. greene-eares] or, full-eares: see Levit. 2. 24. The Hebrewes say, this is meant of the five kinds of graine onely; which are Wheat, Rye, Oates, and two kinds of Barley: whosoever did eat of any of these five kinds, new, so much as an olive, before the offering of the sheafe in the 16. of Nisan, was by the Law to be beaten. And who so did eat of bread, and of parched-corne, and of greene-eares, of any of those five, he was to be beaten three times: for these are three prohibitions, distinct one from another, bread, and parched-corn, and green-eares. Maim. tom. 2. treat. of Forbidden meats, chap. 2. sect. 23.

the oblation of your God] in Greeke, the gift unto your God. He meaneth those fore-spoken of: for as it was unlawfull for men to eat; so the Hebrewes say, They might bring no meat-offring (to God) of the new-fruits, before the sheafe. Maimony, tom. 3. in Issarei mixteach, chap. 6. sect. 9.

Veri. 15. ye shall number] This commandment is unto every man of Israel, and in every place: but women and servants are free from counting; saith Maimony in Tamidin, chap. 7. sect. 24. from the morrow] or, on the morrow; the Chaldee saith, after the feast day, as in v. 11: and Targ. Ionaibah, saith after the first good day of the Passover. And by the Hebrew canons, They reckon from the beginning of the day: therefore they reckon in the night, from the night of the sixteenth of Nisan. Maimony ibidem, chap. 7. sect. 22. seven Sabbaths] that is, as the Greeke and Chaldee expound it, seven weekes. So in Luke 18. 12. I fast twice in the Sabbath, that is, twice in the weeke: (for the Jewes used, and still doe, to fast on the second, and on the fift day of every weeke, as is testified by R. Judah in Musar, chap. 4.) Likewise in Matth. 28. 1. the first of the Sabbath, that is, the first day of the weeke. And hereupon this was called, the feast of Weekes, because of the exact numbering, Exod. 34. 22. complete] or, perfect, intire: that is, wanting nothing, as the word importeth, James 1. 4. But Sol. Iarchi here saith, It teacheth, that they were to begin to number from the evening (the morrow after the Sabbath,) for else they were not complete.

Veri. 16. the morrow after the seventh Sabbath] the Chaldee saith, till after the seventh weeke; the Greeke, till the morrow of the last weeke, of the seven fiftie daies] Hereupon the Hebrewes observe, that it was commanded to number the daies, with the weekes. And they held it needfull, to blesse God every night, which sanctified them by his commandments, and commanded the numbering of the sheafe; that is, of fifty daies from the waving of the sheafe. Maimony in Tamidin, chap. 7. sect. 22, 25. And of this word fiftie, in Greeke Pentecosta; the feast is called in the new Testament, Pentecoste, Acts 2. 1. 1 Cor. 16. 8. a new meat-offring] of the first fruits of the wheat harvest, as the former was of barley harvest: therefore this was called, the day of the first fruits, Numb. 28. 26.

Veri. 17. your habitations] in the land of Canaan, They bring not the two loaves, but from the land, and of new fruit; saith Maimony in Tamidin, ch. 8. sect. 2. for a wave-offring] Hebr. bread of waving, that is, to be waved before the Lord. This was bought at the Churches charge: the manner is noted on Levit. 24. 8. two loaves] or cakes; which word is added both by the Greeke and Chaldee: the manner of this service, is said to be thus: They brought three Seabs (that is, an Ephah or Bushell) of new wheat: and did beat and tread them after the manner of all meat-offrings, and ground them to floure; and waved of them two tenth deales, (that is, two Omers,) and the residue was redeemed, and might be eaten by any man. These two cakes (or loaves) of new corne, a tenth deale must be taken from each Seab and a halfe. Then they took the two tenth deales, and kneaded them them one by one, and baked them one by one. And the making of them might not be on the feast day, nor on the Sabbath: if the evening of this feast (of Pentecost) were a Sabbath, they baked them in the evening of the Sabbath, and they were eaten in the third day after their baking, which was the feast day. And it is expressed in the Law, that they should be leavened: and thus they did it; they brought leaven from some place, and put it into the measure of the tenth-deale, and filled that tenth-deale with flour, and so leavened it with that leaven. They made the length of each cake seven hand-breadths; and the breadth, four handbreadths; and the height, four fingers. Maim. in T amidin, chap. 8. sect. 3.-10. with leaven] in Greeke, leavened: so Leviticus 2.11. and 7.13.

18 Ver. 18. perfect] in Greeke, unblemished. of the first yeere] Hebr. sames of a yeere: see Exod. 12. 5. one bullocke] in Num. 28.27. there are two bullockes, and one ram; here is one bullocke, and two rammes: those were an addition, in respect of the feast day; these are a further addition, in respect of the two loaves, & therefore to be offered with them, as before he saith. The Hebrewes explaine it thus: In the fiftieth day from the numbring of the sheaf, is the feast of Weekes [Exod. 34.22. or of Pentecost, Act. 2.1.] and it is a Retention [or solemn assemble;] and this day they offer more (than other dayes) two bullockes, and a ram, and seven lambs, all of them burnt offerings; and a goat for a sin-offering, and these are the offerings spoken of in Num. 28.26.27.30. and they are the addition of the day. And yet they bring more for this day, a meat-offering of new (wheat) in two loaves. And they offer with the loaves, a bullocke, and two rammes, and seven lambs, all burnt offerings; and a goat for a sin-offering; and two lambs for Peace-offerings; and these are the oblations spoken of in Levit. 23. So there are to be offered this day, over and beside the two daily-sacrifices, three bullockes, and three rammes, and fourteene lambs, twenty beasts in all, for burnt offerings; and two goats for sinne, which are eaten; and two lambs for peace-offerings, which are eaten. Maimony in T amidin, chap. 8. sect. 1. These sacrifices figured Christ unto them, by whose death their sinnes should be pardoned, their persons sanctified, and their thanksgiving unto God made acceptable: by whom also the fruits of the land were blessed unto them; and as the wheat is better then barley, so their first fruits which they brought in signe of homage to the Lord, was more of the wheat, than of the barley, and with many more sacrifices. drinke-offrings] which were usually given with all sacrifices: the measure of them is set, in Num. 28.5.7.12.13.14. of rest] in Greeke, of sweet-smell: in Chaldee, which shall be accepted with favour.

19 Ver. 19. shall offer] Hebr. shall doe, as verse 12. a Sin-offering] whereby they acknowledged their unworthinesse to appeare before God, or to enjoy the fruits of his land, otherwise then by Christ their sacrifice of Atonement. of Peace-offerings] or of payments, whereby they payed thanks and praises unto God for his mercies; which being done also with sacrifices, shewed that by Christ, we must offer praise to God continually, Heb. 13.15. It is observed by the Hebrews, that the Church (or Congregation) never offered any Peace-offrings, but these. Maimony treat of Offring sacrifices, chap. 1. sect. 4. See the notes on Leviticus 4.14.

Ver. 20. wave them with the loaves] The manner is recorded to be thus; They brought the two lambs (the Peace-offrings) and waved them whiles they were yet alive; and afterward killed them, and flayed them, and tooke the brest and the shoulder of each of them both, (as in Levit. 7.30.32.) and laid them downe by the two loaves, and (the priest) put both his hands under them, and waved them all together, in the east side, the place of all wave-offrings. Afterward, he burned the fats of both the lambs, and the rest of the flesh, was eaten by the Priests. Likewise the two loaves, the high-priest tooke the one of them; and the other was divided to all the custodies (the Priests in their charges) and both of them were eaten the same day, and halfe the night, as the flesh of the most holy things. Maimony in T amidin, chap. 8. sect. 11. holinesse] that is, most holy. The Peace-offrings of particular persons were light holy things, but the peace-offrings of the Congregation, were holy of holies, that is, most holy; as Sol. Iarchi here observeth. for the Priest] that he may eat them, as before is shewed. The Greeke addeth, for the Priest that offereb them. The Law for the Priests to eat these and other holy things, see in Num. 18.8,9,10.&c.

Ver. 21. shall proclaime] or, shall convocate, that is, call together the people: in Greeke, ye shall call this day. this selfe same day] Hebr. the strength (or bodie) of this body: so in verse 14. and 28. and 29. See Gen. 7.13. a convocation of holinesse] an holy convocation, and meeting together of all the people: partly in remembrance of their coming out of Egypt, Deut. 16.12. who came thence to keepe a feast to the Lord in the wilderness, Exo. 5.1.3. which they keepe at mount Sinai, Exo. 24. where also the Law was given at this time of the yeere; Exod. 19.1.11. the memoriall whercof was celebrated by this yeerely feast; and partly to sanctifie the first fruits of their wheat harvest, and to celebrate Gods mercies for the fruitfulnessse of their land; as this place sheweth. The chiefe thing figured hereby, was the solemn giving of the law of Christ, which after was performed in Ierusalem, at this feast of Pentecost, when he sent his Apostles the gifts of his spirit, in fierie tongues, Act. 2. 1,2,3. whereupon they went forth to reape that which the Prophets had sowne, gathering fruit unto life eternall, and bringing the wheat of God into his garner; unto the everlasting praise of the glory of his grace. Ioh. 4.35.-38. Luk. 3.17. Eph. 1. 3.-6. And this Feast we now celebrate, whiles with joy and thankfulnessse unto God, we receive the law of the spirit of life in Christ Iesus, which hath made us free from the law of sinne and death, Rom. 8.2.15. Galath. 3.2.

Ver. 22. not wholly-rid] not cut downe all, but leave some in the corner of thy field for the poor. This law was given before, in Levit. 19.9. in these very words; see the annotations there. God, speaking here of the Feasts which were in harvest, which they celebrated to the honour of him; repeateth repeateth that law concerning the poore, whose reliefe, he joyneth with his own service; as in repeating these feasts, he maketh expresse mention of such also, to be made partakers of their joy, Deut. 16. 11. 14. See also Deut. 24. 19. 22. where this law is enlarged.

Verf. 24. the seventh moneth] called of the Hebrewes Tisri; of us now, September; in scripture it is named Ethanim, 1 King. 8. 2. which the Chaldees there expoundeth the moneth of the Anients; which they called the first moneth, &c. and now it is the seventh moneth. So Targum Jonathan here explaineth it, In Tisri which is the seventh moneth. In this moneth, Solomons Temple was dedicated, the first day] which was at the new moone; for all their moneths in Israel, were counted by the Moone.

a sabbatisme] that is, a rest, or cessation from your labours: Targum Jonathan calleth it a good day.

blowing-of-trumpets] or, of cornets, the Greeke translateth a memoriall of trumpets: the Chaldees, a memoriall of shewing. The Hebrew Trugnab here used, is generally a lowd shewing noise, commonly for joy, as Ezra 3. 11. 12. 1 Chr. 15. 28. sometime for sorrow, as Jer. 20. 16. Mich. 4. 9. and is either with mans voice, or with sound of trumpet, & then it is that broken sound called an alarme, Numb. 10. 5. 7. Againe, Trumpets were of two sorts, some of metall, as the silver trumpets in the Sanctuarie, Numb. 10. 2. some of horne, called cornets, 2 Chron. 15. 14. Psal. 98. 6. That this was with blowing of trumpets and cornets, appeareth by Num. 10. 10. in your solemne dayes, and in the beginnings of your moneths, ye shall blow with the trumpets over your burnt-offrings, &c. and in Psal. 81. 3. Blow up the cornet (or trumpet) in the new moone, &c. At every new-moone they had a solemnitie in Israel, and offred (besides the daily sacrifices) two bullockes, one ram, seven lambs, for burnt-offrings, with their meat and drinke-offrings, and a goat for a sin-offring, Numb. 28. 11. 15. and at this new moone, which was the beginning of the yeere, they offred all the foresaid sacrifices, and over and besides them, one bullocke, one ram, and seven lambs for burnt-offrings, and a goat for a sin-offring, Num. 29. 1. 6. The trumpet which they proclaimed the new yeer with, was the same that they proclaimed the jubilee with, which was a cornet (called in Hebrew Shophar) Lev. 25. 9. The Hebrew doctors write hereof thus; It is commanded by the law to heare the sound of the trumpet (or cornet) in the beginning of the yeere, Numb. 29. 1. and the trumpet which they blew with, either in the beginning of the yeere, or at the Jubilee, was of a rams horne crooked; and all cornets, save of rammes horne, were unlawfull. And although it bee not expressed in the law, that the blowing at the new yeere should be with the cornet (Levit. 23. 24.) yet of the Jubilee it is said, SHOPHAR TRUGNAH (the cornet of loud sound) Levit. 25. 9. whereupon we have beene taught, the sound (or blowing) at the Jubilee was with the cornet (Shophar;) also the sound at the beginning of the yeere, was with the cornet. In the Sanctuarie they did blow in the beginning of the yeere, with one cornet and two trumpets; because it is written (in Psal. 98. 6.) with trumpets and sound of *cornet, shout triumphantly before the LORD the King: but in other places they did not blow in the beginning of the yeere, save with the cornet onely. All are bound to heare the sound of the cornet, Priests, and Levites, and Israelites, and Profelytes, and servants that are made free: but women, and servants, and children, are not bound. The sound Trugnab (or alarme) spoken of in the law, is not certainly knowne of us, by reason of the length of yeeres and our many captivities, so that we know not how it was. Maimony in Shophar, &c. chap. 1. sect. 1. 2. and chap. 2. sect. 1. and chap. 3. sect. 2. Howbeit by the same author, and by Talm. Bab. in Rosh hashanah, chap. 3. and 4. it appeareth, that they used to blow with these cornets, both in Ierusalem and in all other cities in the Synagogues, (for the feasts were proclaimed in all their cities, and not onely in Ierusalem, Nehem. 8. 15.) and with it, they used prayers and blessings, and reading of some scriptures, fitting the matter in hand. This blowing of trumpets by the Priests in the Sanctuarie, and Ministers in the Synagogues, which all the people were bound to heare, (whereupon the Prophet saith, Blessed is the people that know the sound, Psal. 89. 15.) signified the preaching of the word by Gods messengers, who should lift up their voice like a trumpet, and shew his people their transgression, Esa. 58. 1. denouncing Gods judgements for trespassing against his law, Hos. 8. 1. that they may tremble, and repent with fasting and prayer, that they may find mercie with the Lord, Joel 2. 1. 15. 16. 17. that awaking out of sleep, and arising from the dead, Christ might give them light, Ephes. 5. 14. And as trumpets were most solemnly blowne every new yeeres day, and every yeere of Jubilee; so against Christ comming to preach the acceptable yeere of the Lord, (Luk. 4. 19. 21.) John the Baptist blew the trumpet in Israel, preparing the way before him, preaching the baptisme of repentance for remission of sins, Mar. 1. 1. 2. 3. 4. of whose ministry, this feast of blowing of trumpets, seemeth to be a speciall figure. See more on Num. 10. The Hebrewes had a like understanding in this mysterie, for they say that the blowing of trumpets at the beginning of the yeere, had a mysticall signification, as if it had beene said, *Awake ye sleepers, out of your sleepe; and ye deepe sleepers, wake-up out of your deepe sleepe; and make inquirie into your workes, and turne by repentance, and remember your Creator: behold they that forget the truth, through the vanities of the time, and that goe astray all their yeere in vanitie and emptinesse, which will not profit, nor deliver; looke to your soules, and amend your wayes and your actions, and let every one of you forsake his evill way, and his cogitation which is not good. Maimony in treat. of Repentance, chap. 3. sect. 4. And to the end he might the more seriously convert unto the Lord, all the house of Israel, were wont (as he saith) to doe many almshousdeeds, and good workes, and to exercise themselves in the commandements from the beginning of the yeere unto the day of atonement (which was the tenth day of this moneth,) more then all the dayes of the yeere: and they used all, to rise in the night, these ten dayes, and to pray in the Synagogues, with words of supplication for grace, &c. Ibidem, sect. 4.

Verse

27 Verſ. 27. a day of Atonements] or, of expiation and reconciliation to God, that they might have forgiveness of all their finnes. Of this day, and the rites about it, the Law is more largely given before in ch. 16. Betweene this and new yeeres day before, were eight whole dayes, which space they had to prepare themselves, after the sound of the trumpet, unto humillation for their sins, and reconciliation unto God in Christ. afflict your ſoules] humble your selves in fasting, prayer, &c. see the notes on Levit. 16. 29. where five things are shewed to belong unto this affliction of themselves; which things are also mentioned by Targ. Jonathan in this place. a fire-offring] many burnt-offrings and sacrifices, described in Levit. 16. and Numb. 29. 7.-11.

29 Verſ. 29. every ſoule] in the Chaldee, every man: so in ver. 30. cut-off] in the Greeke and Chaldee, destroyed; and Targum Jonathan addeth destroyed by death: meaning if they did it presumptuously. But from this fasting and afflicting of themselves, they exempted sicke folkes and children, as is shewed on Levit. 16. 29.

30 Verſ. 30. I will even destroy that ſoule] or, will make him perish: in Greeke, that ſoule ſhall periſh from the people thereof. The Hebrewes explaine this law thus; It is commanded to reſt from worke, on the tenth of the ſeventh moneth, Levit. 16. 31. and who ſo doth worke there in, omitteth the keeping of a commandement, and tranſgreſſeth againſt a prohibition, Numb. 29. 7. And if he doe it willingly of presumption, he is guilty of cutting off: if ignorantly, hee is to bring the ſin offering appointed for the ſame. All worke for which they are to be ſtoned, if they doe it on the Sabbath; if they doe it on this day, they are to be cut-off. And whatſoever is unlawfull to be done on the ſabbath, which is not worke; is unlawfull to be done on this day; and if he doe it, he is to be ſcourged, as he is to be ſcourged for doing it on the ſabbath. There is no difference betweene the ſabbath, and this day, for theſe matters, ſave this, that for preſumptuous doing it on the ſabbath, he is to be ſtoned, and for doing it on this day, he is to be cut off. Maimony treat. of the Reſt of the tenth day chap. 1. ſect. 1. 2.

32 Verſ. 32. in the ninth] the Greeke tranſlateth from the ninth of the moneth from the evening, untill the tenth of the moneth at evening ye ſhall ſabbatize (or reſt) your ſabbathes. From theſe words the Hebrewes gather, that their faſt began a little before the tenth day began, and continued a little after it was ended. See the notes on Levit. 16. 29.

34 Verſ. 34. of Boothes] or, of Tabernacles, made of boughes of greene trees; as verſ. 40. In the new Teſtament this feaſt is called in Greeke ſkenopegia, that is, the pitching of tents, or ſetting up of boothes, Ioh. 7. 2. and ſo the Lxx. tranſlated it in Deut. 16. 16. This feaſt they kept, in remembrance of Gods favours to them in the wilderneſſe, where they dwelt in boothes, ver. 43. and to ſhew their thankfullnes unto God, for the fruits which in this moneth they reaped; Deut. 16. 13, 14. and to figure out the coming of Chriſt into the world at this time of the yeere, to dwell in the Tabernacle of our fleſh, who was made fleſh, and dwelt (or pitched his tent) among us, Ioh. 1. 14. At this feaſt, Solomons

Temple, (a figure of Chriſts body, Ioh. 2. 19. 21.) was dedicated with great ſolemnitie, and the Ark brought into it, 2 Chr. 5. 2, 3.-7. This feaſt we alſo are to keepe, Zach. 14. 16.-19. which thing we doe, by beliefe in Chriſt, that his grace is ſufficient for us; and that in all our infirmities, the power of Chriſt reſteth upon us (or protecteth us as a Tabernacle) as Paul ſaith 2. Cor. 12. 9. Likewise knowing that when our earthly houſe of Tabernacle, wherein we are, ſhal be diſſolved, we have a building of God eternall in the heavens, with which we deſire to be cloathed; and therefore being ſtrangers and pilgrims on earth, we have our converſation in heaven, untill we put off this our tabernacle, 2 Cor. 5. 1, 2. Heb. 11. 13, 14. Phil. 3. 20. 2 Pet. 1. 13, 14. ſeven dayes] a complete number, figuring our whole life time in this frail tabernacle, to be holy unto the Lord: as did the ſeven daies of unleavened bread; whereof ſee the notes on Exod. 12. 15.

Verſ. 35. convocation of holinneſſe] an holy aſſembly of the people to ſerve God, and learn his law; Deut. 31. 10. 11. Nehem. 8. 18. ſervile worke] Hebr. worke of ſervice: ſee verſe 7.

Verſ. 36. a fire-offring] in Greeke, burnt-offrings. There were many ſacrifices offered all the daies of this feaſt, the chiefſt whereof were burnt offrings: their manner and order is deſcribed at large, in Num. 29. 13.-38. the eighth day] which was the 22. of Tiſri, or September. a ſolemne-aſſembly] or, generall-aſſembly; called in Hebrew Gnaſereſh, (or Aſereſh) which hath the ſignification of reſtraining or reſtaining becauſe this day, the people were reſtrained from worke, and retained together in a publike aſſembly. The Chaldee tranſlateth it, ye ſhall be aſſembled together: and ſo the word is in other caſes uſed for an aſſembly, Ier. 9. 2. The Greeke here and often turneth it Exodion, as being the day of the Outgoing or end of the feaſt: and it is called the laſt and great day of the feaſt, Ioh. 7. 37. The law day of the Paſſeover, is called alſo by this name, Deu. 16. 8. And the Hebrew doctors apply the name abſolute to the feaſt of Pentecoſt, often in their writings, whereupon Iſephus ſaith (in b. 5. chap. 10.) at Pentecoſt, which the Hebrewes call Aſarta, and that ſignifieth Pentecoſt. In Amos 5. 21. it is tranſlated in Greeke Paneguris, which word Paul uſeth in Heb. 12. 23. for a generall-aſſembly.

Verſ. 37. a ſacrifice] this may meane the Sin-offring, which daily was to be offered with the Burnt-offrings, by the law, Num. 28. 15. 22. and 29. 5. 11. &c. alſo the Peace-offrings, (and ſo the Chaldee here explaineth it,) which the people offered at the feaſts, 2 Chr. 30. 22. the thing] Heb. the word of a day in his day; whereby is meant, every thing in his due time. This phraſe is alſo uſed of God his adminiſtration to his people, for their help in due time daily, 1 Kin. 8. 59. A like ſpeech is of the yeere, the thing of a yeere in the yeere, that is, a yeerely rate, 1 King. 10. 25.

Verſ. 38. your gifts] hereby may bee meant the firſtborne cattell, and firſt fruits, which they gave unto the Lords Priests, Numb. 18. or ſuch other burnt-offrings, and peace-offrings as the people would would give at the feasts, as Deuter. 16. 10. 17. 2 Chron. 35. 7, 8. vowes] that is, vowed sacrifices, which also they brought at the solemn feasts, Deut. 12. 6, 7, 11, 12.

39 Ver. 39. the revenue] or income, that is, the corne and wine, and oile, &c. Hereupon this is called, the Feast of ingathering, Exo. 23. 16. a sabbatisme] that is, a rest from your labours.

40 Ver. 40. the first day] to weat, of the Feast; which was the fifteenth day of the moneth, ver. 39. So there were foure daies betweene the Feast (or Atonement day) and this feast of Bootheres; as there had beene eight daies betweene the feast of Trumpets, and that Feast. the fruit] this may be understood of branches, with the fruit upon them: as in Ezek. 19. 12. where for fruit, the Gr. tranlateth branches: howbeit, the Hebrewes take it properly for the fruit of the tree. of goodly trees] Hebr. of the tree of goodliness (or of honour,) which the Chaldee, and Targum Ierusalemie tranlateth, of the Pome-citron tree. So the Hebrew Doctors say, The fruit of the goodly tree spoken of in the law, is the Pome-citron tree. Maimony in Shophar and Succah, ch. 7. sect. 2. This tree beareth Apples at all times, some falling-off, some ripe, some springing up continually; as Plinie saith, Nat. hist. lib. 13. cap. 3. Some take this fruit of goodly-trees, to be the branches of Olives, Oile-trees, and Mirtles mentioned in Nehem. 8. 15. wherewith they made the bootheres: but the Hebrew Doctors understand this here, to be the fruit and branches borne in mens hands, at the feast; as after is to be shewed.

boughes] in Hebr. Cappoth, so named of being bowed or crooked: these boughes of Palme-trees, the Chaldee and the Ierusalemie Targum calleth Lulabin, as growing out of the heart of the tree; and the Hebrewes describe them to be the shoots (or stiffe branches) of the palme (or date) tree, when they are budded, before the leaves be spread abroad, whiles it is yet like a rod (or Scepter) and that it is called Lulab. Maimony in Shophar, &c. chap. 7. sect. 1. It is knowne, by humane Writers, that the branches of this tree, were wont to be carried in mens right hand, for signes of victorie; Pausanias in Arcadicis. In like signification, the children of God are said to have palmes in their hands, Rev. 7. 9. and the palme-tree is greene and flourishing, Psalm. 92. 13. of a tall and upright stature, whereto the Church of Christ is likened, in Song 7. 7, 8. These Palme branches or (Lulabin) the Jews used to beare in their hands, at this feast. branches of thicke trees] Hebr. the branch of thicke tree: these the Chaldee Paraphrast interpreteth Hadasin, that is, Myrtles; and in Nehem. 8. 13. Myrtle branches are expressed at that feast of Bootheres, which the Jewes then kept: but branches of thicke trees are mentioned also besides: so that it seemeth to be more generall; but the Hebrewes restraine it here. The branch of the thicke tree, spoken of in the Law, is the Myrtle (branch) whose leaves cover the wood thereof, as when there are three leaves or moe upon one place of the stalke: but if there be two leaves together, and a third leafe above them, it is not thicke, but is called Hadas shoteh. Maimony in Shophar, &c. c. 7. s. 2.

Now to reconcile this with Nehemiah 8. 15. R. Sol. Iarchi (in his Annotations there) saith, Hadas (the Myrtle in Nehemiah 8.) is Hadas shoteh, which is not meet for the Lulab, [the branch to be carried in the hand,] but for bootheres: and the thicke tree; that is, the Hadas (or Myrtle) fit for the Lulab. But this they say to maintaine their traditions, and pompe at this feast, after mentioned. The Myrtle is like the Olive tree, but hath lesser leaves; it is mentioned among other goodly trees, which figured the prosperitie of the Church, in Esa. 41. 19. and opposed unto Briers, Esa. 55. 13. So in Zacharies vision, Zach. 1. 8. willowes of the brooke] or, of the boorne, that grow in vallies, and by rivers sides. Therefore the growth of godly men, is likened to willowes by water-courses, Esa. 44. 4. Of carrying these branches, the Hebrew Doctors sometime call this feast, The Feast of willowes. The Bootheres that they dwelt in, these seven daies, might be made either of these, or of the boughes of any other trees, or of any thing that grew out of the ground: but these foure, they got especially to carry in their hands (so they understood this law) after this manner. These foure kinds (say they) are one commandement, and are called the commandement of the Palme-branch (Lulab.) And they may not have fewer or moe than these. And if they cannot finde any one of them, they may not bring for it of another kinde, like thereunto. They binde the Palme-branch, and Myrtle, and willow-branch, and make of them three, one bundle. And when a man takes them up to goe forth with them; hee blesseth (God) first, for the taking-up of the Palm-branch. This bundle hee carrieth in his right hand, and the Pome-citron in his left; and carrieth them as they grow, with their roots downward to the earth, and their tops upward into the ayre. If he wanted any one of these branches, hee carried them not till hee had all. The Palme-branch might not be lesse then foure hand-bredes long: the Myrtle and the willow-branch, not lesse than three: though they were longer, it was allowable. The Pome-citron might not be lesser in bignesse, than an ege; greater it might be as much as they would. As they carried, they waved (or moved) the branches three times towards every winde (or quarter of the world.) They carried them at the time of reading the hundred and eightene Psalmes. They might carry them any time of the day, but not by night. The commandement to carry these branches, is but for the first day of the feast onely, as it is said (in Levit. 23. 40.) And ye shall take unto you in the first day. And in the Sanctuarie onely, they carried them every of the seven daies of the feast; upon this ground, Ye shall rejoyce before the Lord your God, seven daies, Levit. 23. 40.) Whosoever is bound to (the Law of) the Trumpets, and of Bootheres, is bound to carry the Palme-branch: others are free. The child that knoweth how to wave it, is bound, by the doctrine of the Scribes, to carry the branch, that he may be trained up in the commandements. Every day they went about the Altar once, with the Palme-branches in their hands, and said, O LORD SAVE NOW, (or Hismas) and, O LORD PROSPER NOW, (Ps. 118. 25.) and in the seventh day, they went about the Altar seven times, &c. Maimony in Shophar, chap. 7. s. 5. &c.

Hereby we may see the reason, why at Christs comming into Ierusalem, (though at another time of the yeere) the people and children strowed the way with branches of trees, and tooke branches of Palme-trees, and went forth to meet him, and cryed Hosanna, Matth. 21. 8, 9. &c. Ioh. 12. 12, 13. For all the legall Feasts had their accomplishment in him, and to him the honour and solemnity of every feast, did by right appertain. ye shall rejoyce with spirituall joy, in remembrance of former deliverances, ver. 43. and for the present blessings of God, Deut. 16. 15. and in expectation of future good things to be accomplished in Christ: Zach. 14. 16. &c. The Hebrewes say, Although we are to rejoyce in all the solemne feasts, yet at the feast of Boothes, there was in the Sanctuary a day of more exceeding joy: and thus they did. In the evening of the first good day, they prepared in the Sanctuarie a place for the women above, and for the men beneath, that they might not be together; and they began to rejoyce at the end of the first good day; and so in every other day of the common dayes of the solemnity; they began, after they had offered the daily evening sacrifice, to rejoyce the rest of the day, and all the night. They strooke up the pipe, and played on Harpes; and Psalteries, and Cymbals; and every one with instruments of musick, which had skill to play with his hand, and he that could sing, sang with his mouth. And they skipped, and clapped hands, and leaped, and danced, every man as he could, and sang songs and hymnes. But this mirth, was not on the Sabbath, or on the good day. And it was not the common people that did this, or who so would: but the great wise men of Israel, the heads of the Sessions and Synedrions, and Elders, &c. these were they that leaped, and danced, and played and rejoyced in the Sanctuarie, in the dayes of the feast of Boothes; and all the people, men and women, came to see and heare. The joy which a man rejoyceth in doing a commandement, and in the love of God which commanded it, is a great service, &c. But who so hath a proud minde, and glorifieth himselfe, and is honourable in his owne eyes, in these places; he is a sinner and a foole; and of this Solomon warneth saying, Set not out thy glory in the presence of the King, (Prov. 25. 6.) But who so humbleth himselfe, and maketh himselfe vile in these places, hee is great, and honourable, and serveth of love; and so David the King of Israel said, And I will yet be more vile then thus, and will be base in mine owne eyes, (2 Sam. 6. 22.) And there is no greatnesse or honour, save to rejoyce before the Lord, as it is written, And David the King, leaping and dancing before the Lord, (2 Sam. 6. 16.) Maimony in Schophar, chap. 8. sect. 12.-15. The Iewes had also other traditions at this feast, which they say came from Moses; recorded in Talmud Bab. in Succah, chap. 4. and by Maimony tom. 3. in Tamidin, chap. 10. sect. 6. &c. how all the seven dayes of this feast, they poured water upon the altar. There was a golden vessell containing three Logs, that was filled at Shiloah (a well whose waters ran softly into the brooke Kedron, Esa 8. 6. Nehem. 3. 15.) they brought it to the Water gate, and there they sounded and shawted. Then they caried it to the Altar, where it was poured out with the wine of the daily sacrifice, &c. Upon this occasion it is thought that our Saviour in the last day (of this feast) the great day of the feast, stood up and cried, saying, If any man thirst, let him come unto mee and drinke, he that beleeueth in mee, as the scripture hath said, out of his belley shall flow rivers of living water, Ioh. 7. 37, 38. so calling the people from their carnall pompous observations, to the true spirituall refreshing of their soules.

Verf. 42. dwell in Boothes) or, sit in tabernacles; which after in Ierusalem, they made on the tops of their houses, and in their courtyards, and in the streets, &c. Neh. 8. 16. They were made of the branches of trees, as there appeareth, ver. 15. And by the Hebrew canons, the Boothes might not be covered with any cloth, or other thing, which had not growne out of the earth, or was not cut off from thence, or with any thing that might receive uncleanes, or that had an evill savour, or that was faded, or fallen-off alone: if they covered it with any of these, it was unlawfull. Talmud Bab. in Succah, chap. 1. and Maimony in Schophar, chap. 5. sect. 1, 2. Moreover they set the measure of a booth, to be not lesse in height, then tenne hand bredthes, nor more then twentie cubits: but it might be as wide as they would. If it had not three sides (or walls,) or if it had not a flat rooffe, it was unlawfull. Maimony ibidem, chap. 4. The dwelling (or sitting) in these boothes, was, that they should eat and drinke and dwell in them all the seven dayes, both day and night, as they used to dwell in their houses, other dayes of the yeere. And all those seven dayes, they made their houses empty, and furnished their booths, with all comely vessels, and bedding, drinking vessels, cups, &c. but cauldrons, kettels and such like, were without the booth. If the raine fell, they might goe out of the boothes into their houses, till the raine was over. At all times when they came to sit downe in the Boothes, all the seven dayes, they blessed (God) before they sate downe, who sanctified them by his commandements, and commanded them to sit in Boothes. Maimony ibidem, chap. 6. section. 6. &c. every homeborne] all borne in the land of Israel: the Hebrewes except, women, and servants, and children, and sicke men. But children of five or six yeeres old and upward, were bound hereto, that they might be trained up in the commandements. Such as were watchmen of the city by day, were discharged for the day, but bound to lye in boothes by night; and such as watched by night, were discharged for the night, but bound by day. Maimony in Schophar, ch. 6. section 1.-4.

Verf. 43. your generations] your posterity. to dwell in boothes] so that the first place where Israel camped, after they came out of Egypt, was called Succoth, that is, Boothes, Exod. 12. 37. At the end of every seventh yeere, the Law was commanded to be solemnly read before all the people at this feast; that they might learne to fear the Lord their God: Deut. 31. 10.-13. See the performance hereof, in Nehem. 8. 18. And whereas at this time of the yeere, the people had gathered their fruits into their houses, & filled them with all all good things: lest their prosperity should cause them to forget both God and themselves, this Law was given, that they should then dwell in booths; to remember their miseries past, and to expect a full redemption of their bodies and soules, by Christ Jesus our Lord.

CHAP. XXIV.

1, The Israelites are commanded to bring oile for the Lampes, which Aaron must order. 5, The Shew-bread, with frankincense, to be set on the Table every Sabbath, and eaten by the Priests. 10, 23, Shelomiths son blasphemeth, and is stoned to death. 15, The like law is given for all blasphemers. 17, Death is appointed for murderers. 18, Satisfaction for dammages and blemishes.

1 AND Jehovah spake unto Moses, say-
2 ing; Command the sonnes of Israel;
3 that they take unto thee, pure oile olive, beaten, for the Light: to cause the 4 lampe to ascend up, continually. Without the veile of the Testimonie, in the Tent of the congregation; shall Aaron order it, from evening unto morning, before Jehovah, continually: it shall be a statute for ever, throughout your generations. Vpon the pure candlesticke, shall he order the lamps: before Jehovah, continually.

5 And thou shalt take fine-flowre, and bake it, twelve cakes: two tenth-deales, shall be in 6 one cake. And thou shalt set them, in two rowes, six on a row: upon the pure Table, 7 before Jehovah. And thou shalt put upon each row, pure frankincense: that it may be 8 for the bread, for a memoriall, a Fire-offring unto Jehovah. In the sabbath day in the sabbath day, he shall set-in-order, before Jehovah, continually: from the sons of Israel, an everlasting covenant. And it shall be, for Aaron, and for his sons, and they shall eat it, in 9 the holy place: for it is holy of holies to him, of the Fire-offrings of Jehovah, by an everlasting statute.

10 And there went out, the sonne of an Israelitish woman; and he was, the sonne of an Egyptian man, amongst the sons of Israel:
and the son of the Israelitess, and a man an 11 Israelite, strove-together in the campe. And the Israelitish womans son, blasphemed the Name, and cursed; and they brought him, unto Moses: and his mothers name, was She-lomith the daughter of Dibri, of the tribe of 12 Dan. And they put him in ward: that hee might declare unto them, by the mouth of 13 Jehovah. And Jehovah spake unto Moses,
14 saying; Bring-forth him that hath cursed, out of the campe; and let all that heard him, lay their hands upon his head: and let all the congregation stone him. And thou shalt 15 speake, unto the sons of Israel, saying: Any man, when hee shall curse his God, then hee shall beare his sin. And he that blasphemeth 16 the Name of Jehovah, shall surely be put to death; all the congregation, stoning shall stone him: as well the stranger, as the home-borne; when he blasphemeth the name, shall be put to death.

And a man, when he shall smite, any soule 17 of man: shall surely be put to death. And he 18 that smiteth the soule of a beast, shall recompence it; soule for soule. And a man when he 19 shall give a blemish upon his neighbour: as he hath done, so shall it be done unto him.
Breach for breach, eye for eye, tooth for 20 tooth: as he hath given a blemish, upon a man, so shall it be given upon him. And he 21 that smiteth a beast, shall recompence it: and he that smiteth a man, shall be put to death.
One judgement, shall ye have; as well the 22 stranger as the home-borne, shall have it: for
I am Jehovah, your God. And Moses spake, 23 to the sons of Israel: and they brought-forth him that had cursed, out of the campe; and stoned him, with stones: and the sons of Israel did, as Jehovah commanded Moses.

Annotations.

2 THAT they take] or, as the Greek translateth, and let them take unto thee; that is, take and give (or bring) unto thee; see the like phrase in Gen. 15. 9.
Exod. 25. 2. Numb. 19. 2. As the former lawes in chap. 23. taught Israel the profession of their obedience to God, in the holy times sanctified for his worship: so these here, taught them the like, in respect of the holy things which concerned Gods service in his Sanctuarie. olive] or, of the olive-tree: the oile whereof, figured the graces of Gods spirit; and the beating of the oile, signified the labours & afflictions of Gods people in preaching the word of grace. This law is here repeated from Exo. 27. 20. &c. where it was before given: see the Annotations there. the Lampe] in Chaldee,
the Lampet, meaning the seven lamps, as is explained in Numb. 8. 2. which are interpreted, the seven spirits of God, Rev. 4. 5. that is, the manifold graces of the Spirit: now there are diversities of gracious gifts, but one and the same Spirit, 1 Cor. 12. 5. 11. so the seven lampes are here as one Lamp. Likewise in Ex.
27. 20. and 1 Sam. 3. 3. to ascend-up] that is, to burne, as the Greek and Chaldee expound it: for the flame alwaies ascendeth. continually] this the Hebrewes expound, from night to night, as the continual Burnt-offring, which was not but from day to day. Sol. Larchi on Lev. 24. And in Targum Ionathan it is explained, in the Sabbath day, and in the working

working day. This Law sheweth the ordinary duty of the Church, to provide oile for the Lampe. In times of distresse, the Prophet saw a vision of two olive trees on each side of the candlestick, emptying out of themselves golden oile, through two golden pipes. God teaching, that the worke of grace, is not by humane power or might, but by his Spirit, Zach. 4. 2, 3, 6, 11, 12.

3 Ver. 3. without the veile meaning, without the second veile, (as it is called in Heb. 9. 3.) which parted betwene the most holy place, and the holy. of the Testimonie which is before the Testimonie, Exod. 27. 21. meaning, the Tables within the Arke, called the Testimonie, Exod. 25. 21. before which the veile did hang, Exo. 40. 21. Aaron and his sons, Exod. 27. 21. figuring Christ, who by his seven spirits, with the oile of his grace, causeth his word to shine in the Sanctuary of his Church, Rev. 4. 5.

from evening unto morning] that is, putting in so much oile as may cause it to burne from evening to morning, all the night: the measure (they say) was halfe a Log, (about a quarter of a pinte) of oile for every Lampe, Sol. Jarchi. See Exod. 27. 20, 21. And that the Lamp went out in the morning, appeareth by 1 Sam. 3. 3.

4 Ver. 4. the pure candlestick] made all of pure gold; a figure of Gods Law. See Exo. 25. 31. Or, it may be called the pure candlestick, because it was daily to be purified, and made cleane by the Priests.

before Iehovab] there in the holy place were the lamps to be trimmed; and so might not be trimmed without, and afterward brought in; as Chazkuni here observeth.

5 Ver. 5. fine-floure] of wheat. The making of the shew-bread is said to be thus; They brought foure and twentie Seahs [or Peckes, which are eight Ephahs, or Bushels] of wheat for the Meat-offerings; out of which, being beaten and ground, they boulded foure and twentie tenth-deales, (or Pottles) of fine-floure: and made thereof twelve unleavened cakes. They were kneaded and moulded without the court, but baked within the court-yard, as other Meat-offerings. And they had three formes (or moulds) of gold; one wherein they put the cake, when it was dough; and the second, wherein they baked it; and the third, wherein they put it, after it was taken out of the oven. Every cake was square, ten hand-breadths long, and five broad; and seven fingers high. And the Table, was twelve hand-breadths long, and six broad: they set the length of the cake, on the breadth of the Table, so that the cake was two hand-breadths over the one side, and two over the other, &c. Maimony in Tamidin (or Daily sacrifices) chap. 5. sect. 5, 9. See also the notes on Exod. 25. 29. bake it] not in the Sabbath day, nor on a feast day, but in the evening of the Sabbath, they baked it, and set it in order on the morrow. Maim. ibidem, sect. 10. twelve cakes] answerable to the number of the twelve tribes of Israel, represented by these cakes, and in them all Gods elect, (called his Israel, Gal. 6. 16.) which are as unleavened cakes, 1 Cor. 5. 7. presented unto him in Christ, as upon a pure Table in his Sanctuary; where his favourable face is alwaies upon them. These are called the Shew-bread, whereof see Exod. 25. 30.

Ver. 6. fixe] the Greeke addeth, fixe cakes; and Targum Jonathan, fixe on one row, and fixe on another row. These were not set one by another, (for so the Table could not well containe them, but one upon another, as Maimony sheweth, ibidem, sect. 9. 2. and as is noted on Exo. 25. 29. pure Table] which was of Shittim wood, but overlaid with pure gold, Exod. 25. 24.

Ver. 7. shall put] Hebr. shall give upon (or by) the row, which the Greeke translateth, shall put upon the one row: implying the other also. upon the row] or, by the row, that is, by each of them. The Hebrew ghnal, signifieth upon, or by, as in Gen. 14. 6. and 16. 7. Exod. 14. 9. and in many other places. The Hebrews also say, this was by the bread upon the Table: They set by the side of each row, a vessell wherein was an handfull of frankincense, and the vessell was called Bezik (a Cup or Vial.) So there were two handfulls of frankincense, in two cups: and the cups had verges, that they might rest upon the Table. Maim. in Tamidin, ch. 5. sect. 2. pure frankincense] the Gr. version addeth, and salt. By the Law in Lev. 2. 13. every Meat-offring was to have salt; see the Annotations there. So of this, the Hebrew canons say, the frankincense was to have salt as the other offring. Maimony in Tamidin, chap. 4. sect. 10. for the bread] or, to the bread, for a memoriall: that is, the incense shall be burned on the Altar, (and not the bread) which shall be a memoriall for the bread; as the handfull of the Meat-offring, with the oile and incense thereof, is called the memoriall thereof, Levit. 2. 2. bringing to Gods remembrance, his covenant with his people. The Greeke translateth thus; And the cakes shall be for a remembrance, set before the Lord. a Fire-offring] in Chaldee, an oblation: for these cups of incense were by the Priests burned on the Altar unto God; to teach, that the twelve Tribes of Israel (represented by these twelve cakes of Shew bread) were by faith in Christ, a sweet odour unto him. Wherefore the Church is said to be perfumed with myrrhe, and frankincense, Song 3. 6. And the prayers of the Saints, (likened to incense, Revel. 5. 8.) are as a memoriall, and a sweet smelling odour unto God, Acts 10. 4. Psalm. 141. 2.

8 Ver. 8. In the Sabbath day in the Sabbath day] that is, In every Sabbath: the Greeke translateth, in the day of the Sabbaths. he] that is, the Priest, meaning the Priests in their courses, as they ministred. The Levites assisted the Priests in the making and preparing of the Shew bread, 1 Chronic. 9. 32. and 23. 28, 29. But the Priests onely might come into the Sanctuary, to set it on, and take it off the Table. And they when they were many, alwaies ministred by course, Luke 1. 5. 9. (saying at the feasts) and they entred upon their service, on the Sabbath, 2 Chron. 23. 4. They did this service, thus; Foure Priests went in, two of them had in their hands, the two rowes (of bread) and two had in their hands, the two cups (of frankincense.) And before them, went in foure (Priests) two to take off the two rowes (of bread) and two to take off the two cups (of incense) which were there upon the Table. They that carried in, stood on the North side, with their faces towards to wards the South: and they that carried out (the bread) stood on the South side, with their faces to the North. These took away, (the old bread,) and the other set on (the new:) and the hands of the one, were amidst the hands of the other; [that is, when the one took off, the other set on,] as it is written, BEFORE ME CONTINUALLY, (Exod. 25. 30.) They went out, and set the bread which they brought out, upon another golden Table which was in the porch of Salomons Temple, and burned the cups (of frankincense) and afterward divided the cakes. Maimony in Tamidin, ch. 5. f. 4, 5.

from the sons] understand, receiving it; or, it being taken from the sons of Israel: for many such imperfect speeches are to be found, which sometime the holy Ghost supplieth; as in a void place, 1 King. 22. 10. where it is to be understood, sitting in a void place, as 2 Chron. 18. 9. So, burden, 2 Chron. 2. 18. implieth men that bare burden, 1 Kin. 5. 15. and many the like. See the notes on Exod. 4. 5. and 13. 8. Now this was received from the sons of Israel, in that it was bought with the money which the people gave, Nehem. 32. 33. And it is the Hebrews opinion, that with the halfe shekels, which all the people gave yearly, for the service of the Sanctuary, Exod. 30. 13, 16. they provided the daily sacrifices and offerings for the congregation, salt for the sacrifices, wood, incense, the Shew-bread, the waved sheaf, (or Omer, Levit. 23. 10, 11.) the two wave loaves, Levit. 23. 17. the red heifer, Numb. 19. the scape-goat, Levit. 16. and the like. Maim. treat. of Shekels, c. 4. f. 1.

9 Ver. 9. for Aaron and for his sons] that is, for the high Priest, and for the other Priests, such as did the service; that is, both the Priests that went out, and these that came in on the Sabbath, as before is noted on ver. 8. And the Hebrew canons declare it thus, In the Sabbath when there are the daily sacrifices, and the additions, (Numb. 28. 9, 10.) and the two cups of frankincense, (Levitic. 24. 7.) to be burned; in the morning, the men of that fathers house, (1 Chron. 23. 6. 11. 24.) of the charge (or course) that went out, they offered the daily sacrifice of the morning, and the two lambs of Burnt-offring, which were the additions, &c. and the other course that came in on the Sabbath, offered the daily sacrifice of the evening; and both these and the other, had their part in the Shew-bread. And they did not eat the bread, until the two cups of frankincense were burned on the fire; and the frankincense was to have salt, as the other oblations. And after that they had offered the additions (of the Sabbath) they burned the two cups of frankincense. And every Sabbath throughout the year, they parted the Shew-bread thus; The course (of Priests) that came in, had six cakes; and they which went out, had six. They which came in, parted the bread among them; on the North-side (of the court) because they were prepared to serve; and they that went out, parted on the South-side. But when there was a feast day, of any of the three solemn feasts, on the Sabbath; likewise on the Sabbath that was in the midst of the feast, all the courses (of the Priests) had their parts equally in the Shew-bread, &c. The high Priest, he alwayes took from every course, halfe the cakes, which were his due; as it is written, AND IT SHALL BE FOR AARON AND

FOR HIS SONS, (Levit. 24. 9.) halfe for Aaron, and halfe for his sons. Maimony in Tamidin, chap. 4. sect. 9, 10, 11, 12, 14. in the holy place] within the court of the Sanctuary, but without, they might not eat it. The Hebrews observe, that there were Four and twenty gifts given unto the Priests, all of them expressed in the Law; and concerning them all, was the covenant made with Aaron. And whosoever did eat of a gift, wherein holiness was, they blessed (God) who sanctified them with the sanctification of Aaron, and commanded them to eat so and so. Eight of those gifts, the Priests might not eat off, but in the Sanctuary, within the walls of the Court-yard; and five gifts they might not eat, but in Jerusalem, within the walls of the citie. The eight which might not be eaten, but in the Sanctuary, were the flesh of the Sin-offring, were it fowle or beast, (Levit. 6. 26.) and the flesh of the Trespass-offring, (Levit. 7. 6.) and the Peace-offrings of the congregation, (Levit. 23. 19, 20.) and the remainder of the Sheaf or Omer, (Levit. 23. 10, 11.) and the remnant of the Israelites Meat-offring, (Levit. 2. 3, 10.) and the two loaves, (Levit. 23. 20.) and the Shew-bread, (Levit. 24. 9.) and the Lepers log of oile, (Levit. 14. 10, 12, 13.) These might not be eaten, but in the Sanctuary. Maimony, treat. of First fruits, ch. 1. f. 1, 2, 3, 4. Of all those gifts, see the Annotations on Numb. 18.

Ver. 10. Israelitish] Hebr. an Israelitess, which the Chaldee expoundeth, a daughter of Israel: her name was Shelomish, ver. 11.

Ver. 11. blasphemed] the Greeke here translateth it, named; the Chaldee, expressed. The Hebrew Nakab, properly signifieth, to pierce; or, strike through, Esa. 36. 6. Habbak. 3. 14. Whereupon it is figuratively used for cursing or blaspheming, Numb. 23. 13. 25. which is a striking through with evil words. It is also used for expresse-naming of a thing, sometime in the good part, as Esa. 62. 2. and sometime in the evil, as the Greeke and Chaldee interpret it, in this place. the Name] understand, of Iehovah, as ver. 16. which is here omitted, for the more reverence, and because such wickedness as this; it is even a shame to speake, as Eph. 5. 12. 3. So elsewhere the Scripture sometime omitteth the name of God, for reverence; as, the right hand of the power, Mark. 14. 62. for, the right hand of the power of God, Luke 22. 69. and in common speech among the Jewes, they used to say, the Blessed; for, (the blessed) God, Mark. 14. 61. Mat. 26. 63. And when the High Priest heard words, which hee thought to be Blasphemie, hee rent his clothes, Mat. 26. 65. according to a Canon which they have, (recorded by Maimony, in his treat. of Idolatria, chap. 2. sect. 10.) thus; Whosoever beareth blasphemie of the Name, he is bound to rend (his clothes;) whether hee himselfe beareth it, or beareth from the mouth of him that heard it, he is bound to rend (his clothes.) But he that beareth it from the mouth of an heathen, is not bound to rend (his clothes;) and Eliakim and Shebna had not rent (their clothes) but for that Rabshakeh was an Apostate from the faith, (Esa. 36. 22.) they brought] either the witnesses which heard him, or the inferior judges, who not knowing how to punish this man, brought him to Moses, according to the order set in Exod. 18. 22. 26. Shekimib in Greeke, Salomib, daughter of Dabrei: she being an Hebrewesse, had married an Egyptian whiles she dwelt in Egypt; whose sonne now blasphemed God.

12 Ver. 12. in ward] or, in prison that he might declare] meaning, that Moses might declare, or, that it might be declared unto them. The Hebrew phrase to declare (or expound) may be expressed both these waies, as is noted on Gen. 6. 19, 20. The Chaldees explaineth it thus, until it was declared (or expressed) unto them, by the decree of the word of the Lord; to weet, what punishment the blasphemer should have: therefore the Greeke translateth, to judge him, by the commandement of the Lord. For as men judge not for man, but for the Lord, 2 Chron. 19. 6. so are they to judge, according to his judgements, Ezek. 44. 24. which if they be not manifest, are to be inquired; the cause being brought unto God, Exod. 18. 19. So Moses did in other hard cases, Numb. 27. 1-5. and 15. 34.

14 Ver. 14. out of the campe] or, to (a place) without the campe: because the campe of Israel was holy, and all uncleane persons were to be put out of it, Num. 5. 2, 3. much more the flagitious. lay their hands] both to signifie the truth of their testimonie, and that his blood should be on his owne head. We finde not this rite of imposing hands, commanded for any other malefactors; and the Hebrewes hold it to be peculiar unto this sinne. All the witnesses and the Judges, every one lay their hands on the blasphemers head, and say unto him, Thy blood (be) upon thine head, for thou hast occasioned it unto thy selfe. And of all that are killed by the Synedrion, there is none upon whom they impose hands, save the blasphemer onely, (Levit. 24. 14.) Maimony, treat. of Idolatrie, chap. 2. sect. 10.

15 Ver. 15. Any man] or, Every man: Hebr. Man man: which Targum Jonathan expoundeth, yong man, or old man. Upon this particular occasion, a generall Law is here given, for punishing of blasphemers. beare his sinne] that is, the punishment due for his sinne.

16 Ver. 16. blasphemeth] in Chaldees, expresseth; in Greeke, nameth: see ver. 11. name of Iehovah] Hereupon some of the Hebrewes gather, that the blasphemer is not to be stoned, unlesse he expresse that sacred name Jehovah: but the wiser of them justly mistake that restraint, though themselves doe overmuch restraints it. There be some that expound it, that he is not guiltie (of death) save for the name Jehovah, (that is, Jehovah;) but I say for Adonai also (that is, Lord;) he is to be stoned: saith Maimony, treat. of Idolatrie, ch. 2. sect. 7. And they are long since come unto this, that they hold the name of Iehovah unlawfull to be pronounced in reading of the Scripture, or otherwise; except in the Sanctuarie when the Priest blessed the people, according to the Law in Numb. 6. 23, 27. there (they say) he pronounced the name, as it is written with Jehovah, but out of the Sanctuarie they pronounced it Adonai: for they mentioned not the name, as it is written, but in the Sanctuarie onely. And after that Simcon the just, was dead; the Priests ceased from blessing by the name, as it is written (Jehovah;) though it were in the Sanctuarie, to the end that no man should learne it, which was not of good esteeme, and meet (for to learne it.) And our first wise men, did not learne it their Disciples, or their children, that were meet, (or honest;) save once in seven yeere. Maimony, treat. of Prayer, chap. 14. sect. 10. By this it appeareth, that this custome was taken up of themselves, not commanded of God: the sanctifying of whose name, standeth not in letters and syllables, but in faith and obedience, Numb. 20. 12. and 15. 30. See the Annotations on Exod. 6. 3. and Numb. 6. blasphemeth the name] see ver. 11. the Greeke translateth, nameth the name of the Lord: meaning, with blasphemie and curling, as did this Egyptians sonne.

Ver. 17. shall smite] that is, as the Chaldees translateth, shall kill. See the notes on Gen. 14. 17.

soule] that is, life: see Gen. 19. 17. and 37. 21. and for putting murtherers to death, see Exo. 21. 12.

shall surely be put to death] or, shall be put to die the death: and Targum Jonathan explaineth it, shall be killed with the sword.

Ver. 18. the soule of a beast] that is, the life of it: which the Greeke explaineth thus, he that smiteth a beast, and it die. soule for soule] or, life for life: that is, one living beast for another; as ox for ox, sheepe for sheepe, and the like.

Ver. 19. so shall it be done] by the Magistrate, according to the rigour of Justice: except he buy it off with money. For unlesse it were murther, (which God forbade to be bought off with any ranome, Numb. 35. 31.) the Hebrewes hold all blemishes and hurts might be redeemed with money. Which seemeth also to be warrantable by the Law, in Exod. 21. 18, 19. And for that in some cases it could hardly be done, or not at all. For if a man had smitten his neighbour on the eye, and made him lose halfe, or a fourth part of his sight; or if a blinde man had smitten out another mans eye, how should the like be done again unto him? The Hebrew canons say, *He that hurteth his neighbour, is bound to pay unto him five things; to wheet, for his dammage, and for the paine, and for his healing, and for his resting (from his affaires,) and for the shame: and these five things must all be recompensed with the best of his goods. How for the dammage? If he have cut off his neighbours hand, or his foot; they looke on him, as if he were a servant to be sold in the market, how much he was worth, and how much he is worth now; and what is abated of his price, he must pay; as it is said, EYE FOR EYE; which we have bene taught, to be meant of paying for it with his goods. That which is said in the Law, (Levit. 24. 20.) As he hath given a blemish upon a man, so shall it be given upon him; is not meant that he should be hurt, as his neighbour is hurt, &c. Maimony, tom. 4. in Chotel, ch. 1. sect. 1, 2, 3. See the Annotations on Exod. 21.*

V. 20. Breach for breach] Targum Jonathan saith, The price of breach for breach, the price of an eye for an eye, &c. As there are severall sorts and degrees of hurts and blemishes, so were the penalties rated; which the Hebrewes lay downe thus; He that cutteth off his neighbours hand or foot, or finger, or smiteth smite out his eye, payeth the five things; for his damage, for his paine, for his healing, for his resting, and for his shame. If he smite him on the hand, and it swell, and after it prove well againe, he payeth four things, for his paine, for his healing, for his resting (from his worke) and for his shame. If he smite him on the head, and it swell, he payeth three things, for the paine, for the healing, and for the shame. If he smite him, on a place which is not seene, as on his backe, he payeth two things, for the paine, and for the healing. If he smite him with a cloth that is in his hand, or the like thing; he payeth one thing, for the shame onely. So bee that shaveth off the haire of his neighbours head, payeth but for the shame onely; for it will grow againe; Maimony in Chobel, c.2. f. 2, 4.

[upon a man] The Hebrew Adam, signifieth man and woman, Gen. 5.2. all mankind, of what sort soever; and so this law extendeth to all, even the meaneest. He that hurteth his owne Hebrew servant, is bound to pay all five things (before mentioned) save for his resting. He that hurteth his neighbours Canaanitish (or heathenish) servant; payeth to his master, all the five things. He that hurts his neighbours Hebrew servant, is bound to pay all five, &c. He that hurteth another mans wife, payeth for her resting, and for her healing, to her husband; and for the paine, to her selfe: and for the shame, and for the damage if it be to be seene, as if it be on her face, necke or hand; a third part is payed to her selfe, and two thirds to her husband: if the damage be on a secret place, a third part is payed to the husband, and two thirds to the wife. If an husband hurt his owne wife, he is bound to pay unto her out of hand, all the damage, and all the shame, and the paine; and all is hers, her husband hath no fruit thereof. And if free will, she may give the price to another. And her husband is to heale her, as all sicke persons are wont to be healed. It is unlawfull for a man to hurt either himselfe, or his neighbour: and not be that hurteth onely, but whosoever smiteth a righteous man of Israel, either small or great, man or woman, by way of strife, he transgresseth against a prohibition; for it is said (in Deuteronomie 25. 3.) he shall not adde (or exceed) to smite him: if the Law forbidde to adde in smiting of a sinner, much more (it forbidde) to smite a just man. Though he doe but lift up his hand against his neighbour, it is unlawfull: and whosoever lifteth up his hand against his neighbour, though he smite him not, he is a wicked man. Maimony in Chobel, &c. chap. 4. sect. 10. &c. and chap. 5. sect. 1, 2.

21 Ver. 21. that smiteth] the Chaldee translateth, that killeth a beast: but it extendeth further, even to the hurting or maiming of his neighbours beast, and consequently any other of his goods, according to the Law, Exod. 22. 5, 6. So the Hebrewes expound this Law, saying: He that doth damage to his neighbours goods, is bound to recompence the whole damage, whether he doe it of ignorance, or against his will, it is as if he did it presumptuously: as if he fall from the top of an house, or stumble as he goeth, and falleth on a vessel and breaketh it, he is bound to pay the whole damage; as it is written, AND HE THAT SMITETH A BEAST, SHALL RECOMPENCE (OR PAY FOR) IT; the Scripture putteth no difference, whether he doe it ignorantly, or presumptuously. And whether he kill his neighbours beast, or breake his vessels, or rent his clothes, or cut downe his plants; there is one law for all. But this is to be understood, if it be within the power (or liberties) of him that suffreth the damage: for if it be within the liberties of him that doth the damage, he is not bound to recompence, unlesse he doe the damage presumptuously: but if he doe it of ignorance, or being forced; he is discharged. Likewise, if they be both of them within their liberties, or both of them out of their liberties; and the one doth damage against his will, to his neighbours goods, he is discharged. He that thrusteth his neighbours beast into the water; or it is fallen in; and he will not suffer it to come up out of the water, till it dye there; he is bound to recompence it: and so in all like cases. Whosoever is the cause of doing damage to his neighbours goods, he is bound to recompence the whole damage, with the best of his substance, as others that doe damages. Although he doth not this damage himselfe at last; forasmuch as he was the cause thereof at first, he is bound to pay. Maimony in Chobel, &c. c. 6. f. 1, 2, 3, 12. and c. 7. f. 7.

[smite a man] that is, killeth him, as ver. 17. to the Chaldee translateth it, killeth; and the Greeke addeth, he that smiteth a man, and he dye, shall be put to death.

Ver. 22. One judgement] that is, one manner of law, and punishment. shall ye have] or, shall be to you. as well the stranger] or as the stranger (the Profelyte) so shall the home-borne be.

Ver. 23. and stoned him] the Greeke addeth, and all the congregation stoned him: as ver. 14. Of the manner of stoning, which they used afterward in Israel, it is recorded in Talm. Bab. in Sanhedrin, c. 6. and by Maimony in Sanhedrin, c. 15. that when they came within foure cubits of the place of execution, they stript him that was to be stoned, out of his clothes, and covered his naked-shame before him; and a woman was not stoned naked, but in one linnen garment. The place of stoning, was high, whither he and the witnesses went up, and his hands were tied, & one of the witnesses stroke him behinde on the loines; if he died not with that blow, there was a great stone, so much as two men could beare, which the witnesses cast upon his heart; and if with that he died not, all Israel threw stones upon him, as it is written, The hand of the witnesser shall be first upon him, to put him to death; and afterward, the hand of all the people, Deut. 17. 7.

CHAP. XXV.

1, God commandeth that every seventh yeere should be a Sabbath, and a yeere of rest to the land of Canaan, 4, in which it might neither be tilled nor reaped; 6, and the fruit that grew of their owne accord that yeere, were to be common for all. 8, The Law for the Jubile in the fiftieth yeere; for libertie to the inhabitants of the land, returning to their families and possessions, and rest unto the land. 14, Oppression may not be in selling of possession. 18, A blessing of Obedience. 23, The manner of selling and redeeming lands. 29, Of houses in walled Cities; 31, and of houses in villages. 32, Of the houses and suburbs of the Levites, and the redemption of

of them. 35, Compassions of the poore. 39, The poore Hebrewes might not be sold for bond-men: 43, nor ruled over with rigour. 44, Bondmen were to be of the brethren. 47, The redemption of Hebrew servants out of strangers hands. 54, Their freedom at the Iubile.

1 AND Jehovah spake unto Moses, in 2 mount Sinai, saying; Speake unto the sons of Israel, and say unto them:
When yee come into the land, which I give unto you; then shall the land rest, a sabbath, 3 unto Jehovah. Six yeeres, thou shalt sow thy field; and six yeeres, thou shalt prune thy vineyard: and shalt gather, the revenue thereof. And in the seventh yeere, shall be 4 a Sabbath of sabbatisme, unto the land; a Sabbath, for Jehovah: thou shalt not sow, 5 thy field; nor prune, thy vineyard. That which groweth of-it-owne accord, of thy harvest, thou shalt not reape; and the grapes of thy separation, thou shalt not gather: it shall be unto the land, a yeere of sabbatisme.
6 And the Sabbath of the land, shall be unto you for meat; unto thee, and unto thy man-servant, and unto thy woman-servant: and unto thy hired servant, and unto thy sojour-7 ner; the strangers, that are with thee. And unto thy cattell; and unto the beast, that are in thy land; shall all the revenue thereof be,
for to eat.
8 And thou shalt number unto thee, seven Sabbaths of yeers; seven yeers, seven times:
and the daies of the seven sabbaths of yeers, 9 shall be unto thee, nine and forty yeers. And thou shalt cause-to-sound, the trumpet of-loud-sound, in the seventh moneth: in the tenth day of the moneth: in the day of Atonements, shall yee cause the trumpet to 10 sound, throughout all your land. And yee shall sanctifie, the yeere of fiftie yeeres; and proclaime liberty, throughout the land, unto all the inhabitants thereof: a Jubile it shall be unto you; and ye shall returne, every-man unto his possession; and every-man unto his 11 family, shall returne. A Jubile shall it be, a yeere of fiftie yeeres, shall it be unto you: ye shall not sow; neither shall ye reape, that which groweth of-it-selfe in it; neither shall ye gather the grapes, of the separations ther-12 of. For, it is the Jubile; holinesse, shall it be unto you: out of the field, ye shall eate the revenue thereof. In this yeere of Jubile, ye 13 shall returne, every-man unto his possession.
14 And if ye sell a sale, unto thy neighbour: or buy of thy neighbours hand: doe not ye op-15 presse, any man his brother. According to the number of yeeres, after the Jubile; thou shalt buy, of thy neighbour: according to the number of the yeeres of the revenues, he shall sell unto thee. According to the 16 multitude of yeeres, thou shalt multiply the price thereof; and according to the diminution of yeeres, thou shalt diminish the price thereof: for, (according to) the number of the revenues, doth he sell unto thee. And ye 17 shall not oppresse, any man his neighbour;

but thou shalt feare thy God: for, I am Jehovah, your God. And yee shall doe my sta-18 tutes; and keep my judgments, and do them:
and ye shall dwell on the land, in confident-safety. And the land, shall give her fruit; and ye shall eate, to the full; and dwell thereon, 19 in confident-safety. And if ye shall say, what shall we eat, in the seventh yeere? behold 20 we shall not sow; neither shall we gather our revenue. Then I will command my blessing upon you, in the sixth yeere: and it shall bring forth revenue, for three yeeres. And ye shall sow, the eighth yeere: and shall eat, 21 of the old revenue, untill the ninth yeere, untill her revenue come in, ye shall eat of the 22 old. And the land, shall not be sold for ever;
for the land is mine: for ye are strangers and 23 sojourners, with me. And in all the land of your possession; ye shall grant a redemption, 24 for the land.

If thy brother be waxen poore; and hath 25 sold, some of his possession: then the redeemer thereof, he that is neere unto him, shall come; and shall redeeme, the sale of his brother. And a man, if he have not a redeemer:
26 and his hand hath attained, and found sufficiencie for the redemption thereof. Then he shall count, the yeeres of the sale thereof; 27 and restore the overplus, unto the man to whom he sold it: and he shall returne, unto his possession. And if his hand finde not 28 sufficiencie to restore unto him; then his sale shall be, in the hand of the buyer thereof, untill the yeere of Jubile: and it shall goe-out, in the Jubile: and he shall returne, unto his possession.

And a man, if he sell a dwelling house, in 29 a walled citie; then the redemption thereof shall be, untill the end of the yeere of the sale thereof: a yeere of daies, shall be the redemp-30 tion thereof. And if it be not redeemed, untill a whole yeere be fulfilled thereto; then the house, which is in the citie that hath not a wall, shall be confirmed for ever, to him that bought it, throughout his generati-31 ons: it shall not goe-out, in the Jubile. But the

* Or,

the houses of the villages which have no wall, round-about; shall be every-one counted, as a field of the countrie: redemption shall be for it; in the Jubile it shall goe-out.

32 And the cities of the Levites; the houses of the cities of their possession: a redemption
33 ever, shall be to the Levites. And he which shall redeeme, (shall be) of the Levites; and the sale of the house, and the citie of his possession, shall goe-out in the Jubile: for the houses of the cities of the Levites, that is 34 their possession; among the sons of Israel. And the field, of the suburbs of their cities, shall not be sold: for it is to them, a possession for ever.

35 And if thy brother be waxen poore; and his hand faileth, with thee: then thou shalt strengthen him; even the stranger and the 36 sojourner, that he may live with thee. Take not thou of him; biting-usurie or increase; but feare thy God: and let thy brother live
37 with thee. Thy money, thou shalt not give unto him, upon biting-usurie: nor give him
38 thy meat, upon increase. I, am Jehovah your God; which brought you forth, out of the land of Egypt: to give unto you, the land of Canaan, to be unto you, a God.

39 And if thy brother be waxen poore, with thee, and be sold unto thee: thou shalt not serve thy selfe with him, with the service of a 40 servant. As an hired servant as a sojourner, he shall be with thee: unto the yeare of Jubile, he shall serve with thee. And hee shall goe-
41 out from with thee; he, and his sonnes with him: and shall returne, unto his family; and unto the possession of his fathers, shall he re-
42 turne. For they are my servants; whom I brought, out of the land of Egypt: they shall not be sold, with the sale of a servant. Thou 43 shalt not rule over him, with rigour: but shalt feare thy God. Both thy man servant and 44 thy woman-servant, which thou shalt have: (shall be) of the heathens, that are round-about you; of them shall ye buy, man-servant and woman-servant. And also, of the sons
45 of the sojourners, that doe sojourne with you, of them ye shall buy; and of their family, which are with you; which they beget, in your land: and they shall be to you, for a 46 possession. And ye shall take them-as-an-inheritance for your sons after you, to inherit for a possession; for ever, with them ye shall serve your selves: but over your brethren, the sons of Israel, any-man over his brother; thou shalt not rule over him, with rigour.

47 And if the hand of the stranger and sojourner with thee, doe attaine; and thy brother be waxen-poore, by him: and be sold, unto the stranger the sojourner, with thee; or to the stocke, of the strangers family. After 48 that he is sold, a redemption shall be for him: one of his brethren, shall redeeme him. Ei-

49 ther his uncle, or his uncles sonne, shall redeeme him; or any of the neere-kin of his flesh, of his family, shall redeeme him: or if his hand hath attained, then he shall redeem
50 himselfe. And he shall count, with him that bought him; from the yeere, that he was sold to him, unto the yeere of Jubile: and the money of his sale, shall be according to the number of yeeres: as the daies of an hired 51 servant, shall he be with him. If there be yet many, of the yeeres: according unto them, shall he restore his redemption; out of 52 the money that he was bought for. And if there remaine but a few of the yeeres, unto the yeere of Jubile, when hee hath counted 53 with him: according to his yeeres, hee shall restore his redemption. As an hired-servant of the yeere, by the yeere, shall he be 54 with him: hee shall not rule over him with rigour, before thine eyes. And if he be not redeemed, by these: then he shall goe-out, in the yeere of Jubile, he, and his sonnes with 55 him. For unto me, the sonnes of Israel are servants; they are my servants, whom I brought-forth, out of the land of Egypt: I am Jehovah your God.

Annotations.

DDD These letters signifie the beginning of the two and thirtieth Section, or Lecture of the Law: see Gen. 6. 9.

I N mount Sinai] or, by the mount; that is, in the plaine about it, where Israel camped still, Num. 10. 11, 12. So Manasses is said to be buried in his house, 2 Chron. 33. 20. when it was but in the garden of his house, 2 King. 21. 18. And here God be-
1 ginneeth to teach his people the profession and practise of their obedience unto him, in their land and possessions, sanctified by the Sabbaths and Jubilees. Which were a shadow of things to come, but the body is of Christ, Coloss. 2. 17. 12. Therefore these were the ordinances of mount Sinai, which brought forth children unto bondage: but wee
2 are come unto mount Sion, where the Lambe (Christ) standeth with his 144. thousand, that have his Fathers name written in their fore-heads; and by faith doe enter into his rest, Gal. 4. 25. Rev. 14. 1. Heb. 12. 22. and 4. 3.

Ver[2. rest] or, keepe Sabbath. a Sabbath] or, a rest: the Chaldee calleth it a release or remission; which word Moses useth in Deut. 15. 1. This Law

Law tooke place when they had possession of the land, which was conquered by Ioshua in 7. yeares: so the eight yeare after Moses death, was the first to be reckoned towards the Sabbath yeare, and yeare of Jubile; as appeareth by Jos. 14. 1, 2, 7, 10. &c. For Caleb was 40. yeares old when he was sent to view the land, in the second yeare after their comming out of Egypt, Numb. 13. Deut. 1. and they were 38. yeares under Moses in the wilderness, Deut. 2. 14. and when Caleb was 85. yeares old, the land was given them for inheritance, Jos. 14. 7, 10. and in the 8. yeare of Ioshua, they began the count; and the seventh yeere after, was the first Sabbath yeare, and the fiftieth yeare after, the first Jubile.

3 Ver. 3. the revenue] or in-come, that is, the fruit, as the Greeke translateth. And under those principals, all other worke belonging to husbandry, is implied.

4 Ver. 4. Sabbath of Sabbathisme] that is, of rest: which two words signifie an exact rest, as is noted on Exod. 16. 23. unto the land] which should have rest every seventh yeare, from being ploughed, digged, dunged, or manured; from being reaped or mowen, or the like. As the Sabbath day (wherin men rested) was to teach Israel, that they themselves were the Lords: so the Sabbath yeare was to teach, that the land was the Lords; therefore he addeth, a Sabbath unto Iehovah; meaning, unto his honour, and in signe of homage unto him; which the Chaldee translateth, a release before the Lord. The Sabbath day was a rest from their labours, laid upon man for sin, Gen. 3. 19. the Sabbath yeare was a rest for the ground, which for mans sin, God had cursed, Gen. 3. 17. In this yeare, at the feast of boothes, there was a solemne reading of Gods Law, before all Israel, Deut. 31. 10, 13. and at the end of this yeare, a release of debts, Deut. 15. 1, 2. &c. It was a figure of the Sabbath or rest, which Christ was to give unto his Church; of the understanding, which they should have in his Law; and the remission of their sins, (which were their debts, Matth. 6. 12. Luke 11. 4.) when the time of grace, the acceptable yeare of the Lord should be proclaimed, Esa. 61. 1, 2. Luke 4. 18, 19. &c. 2 Cor. 6. 2. Thus every seventh yeare, was for them to meditate of, and in faith to expect Christ; who is the true Noah, that giveth us comfort and rest from our worke, and from the sorrow of our hands; because of the ground which the Lord hath cursed, Gen. 5. 29. prune] or, cut thy vineyard; meaning, the superfluous branches of the vines, which the husbandman cutteth off, to make the trees more fruitfull. Therefore, to signifie that God would leave the vine of his Church wast, he saith, It shall not be pruned, Esa. 5. 6. And under these, all other worke of husbandry is forbidden. The Hebrew canons shew it thus; It is commanded to rest from tilling of the land, and dressing of trees, in the seventh yeare, Levit. 25. And who so doth worke of tillage of land or trees in that yeare he frustrateb a Commandement, and transgresseth against a prohibition, Levit. 25. 4. They may not plant in the seventh (yeare) though they be trees that beare no fruit; nor cut off knobs from the trees, nor brush off mumbered leaves or boughes, nor binde up the branches, nor make a smoake under them to kill the wormes, nor cover the plants, with any thing wherein dung is, that the fowles might not eat them when they are tender, nor cover the unripe fruits, &c. and so all other culture (or husbanding) of trees. For sowing, or pruning, or reaping, or gathering fruits this yeare, a man was to be beaten; whether they were the fruits of the vineyard, or of other trees; for other workes not expressed in the Law, he was not beaten, but chastised (or scourged.) He that planted in the seventh yeare, either of Ignorance, or presumptuously; (that which he planted) was plucked-up-by the roots. He that ploughed, or dunged his ground in the seventh yeare; that it might be the fitter to sow, when the seventh yeare was out, they came ased, and he might not sow it, at the going out of the seventh yeare. If he removed thornes, or gathered out stonies, to fit it against the seventh yeare went out; forasmuch, as he did that which was not lawfull, he was came ased: but he might sow it, at the going out of the yeare, &c. Maimony, tom. 3. in Iobel (or treat. of the Intermiſſion and Jubile,) ch. 1. The outward rest of Israel from these laborious workes, figured a better rest, which all the people of God should have by Christ, ceasing from their owne workes, and doing the worke of God, believing in his Sonne, by whom they shall finde rest unto their soules, Heb. 4. 9, 10. John 6. 29. Matth. 11. 28, 29. Unless they did thus, the land injoyed not her Sabbaths, Lev. 26. 34, 35.

Ver. 5. That which groweth of it owne accord] called in Hebrew, by one word, Saphiach: which is said to be, All that the earth bringeth forth in the seventh yeare, either of the seed which fell into it before the seventh yeare; or of the roots which were reaped, and did grow and beare againe. Maimony in Iobel, ch. 4. f. 1. shall not reape, to weet, after the manner that they reaped everie other yeare; he that so reaped it, was to be beaten, but he reaped a little at once, and did thresh it out, and eat it. Maimony ibidem, ch. 4. f. 1. of thy separation] which were separated and exempted from the owners, from salt and merchandise, and by the Word of God, made free and common for all. The Gr. translateth, of thy sanctification; the Chaldee, of thy leaving, that is, which thou art to leave in common. Or they may be so called, because the land and trees were to be left unmanured and undressed, and so after a sort separated from the owners care and husbandry. The Hebrews say, The seventh yeare is of more weight than the holy thing: for he that redeemeth an holy thing, it goeth out among the common things, and they take the price for it. But the seventh yeare, not so: for if one sell the fruits of the seventh yeare, they take the price, and make it as the fruits of the seventh yeare: and the fruits themselves (which were sold) are not profaned, or made as the fruits of other yeares. Maim. in Iobel, ch. 6. sect. 6.

Ver. 6. the Sabbath] that is, the fruits of the Sabbath, to weet, of the seventh yeare. for meat] and for drinke, and for anointing, and for such other uses as the creatures naturally served, unto men and beasts. But that which was for mans meat, the Hebrewes say, might not be imployed to other uses, nor sold as merchandise: see the notes on on Exod. 23. 11. thy sojourner] the stranger-inhabitant, that dwelt in the land: and so in common for all indifferently, the owner had no more right in it, than any other man; wherefore whoever locked up his vineyard, or bedged in his field in the seventh yeere, broke a commandment. And so if he gathered all his fruits into his house, but all was to be free, and every mans hand alike in every place. Maimony in Iobel, ch. 4. sect. 24. But they might not carry the fruits out of the land, nor feed the beasts with them, nor hirelings (of the heathens,) except they had agreed to find them meat: but strangers that were guests, might eat of them. Maim. ibid. chap. 5. sect. 13.

7 Verf. 7. the beast] or, as the Greeke translateth, the wilde beasts: under which, the fowles also are comprehended. But, the fowles which are properly mans meat, they might not feed cattell with them. Maimony in Iobel, ch. 5. sect. 5. the revenue] or income, which properly is the fruit when it is ripe, and fit to be gathered into the barne. Whereupon the Hebrewes say, They might not gather in the fruits of the seventh yeere, when they were unripe; they might eat a little of them in the field, before they were ripe, as they did other yeeres, but not bring any to be eaten within their houses, till the season of the tithes. Maimony ibid. chap. 5. sect. 15. for to eat] for meat. From hence the Hebrewes gather, that The fruits of the seventh yeere, might not be eaten, (by men,) save so long as the same kind (of fruits) were found in the field: so long as the beast did eat of that kinde, out of the field, thou maist eat of it that is in the house. If it be all consumed for the beast, out of the field, a man is bound to put that kinde (of meat) out of his house. And after the putting away, it is unlawfull to be eaten, either of poore or rich; Maimony in Iobel, ch. 7. sect. 1. This Sabbath, or rest of the Lords land, and common participation of all the fruits thereof, prefigured the spirituall rest of his Church, which they enter into by the faith of Christ, Heb. 4. and the communion of all graces and good things; as the Scriptures mention the common faith, Titus 1. 4. the common salvation, Jude, verf. 3. and the communion of the mysterie thereof, Ephesians 3. 9. whiles both Jewes and Gentiles are fellow-heires, and of the same body, and partakers of his promise of Christ by the Gospel, Eph. 3. 6. Besides communion also in outward things, as need requireth; as, when all that believed, were together, and had all things common; and sold their possessions and goods, and parted them to all men, as every man had need: and continuing daily with one accord in the Temple, and breaking bread from house to house, did eat their meat with gladnesse, and singlenesse of heart: and the multitude of them that believed, were of one heart, and of one soule; neither said any of them, that ought of the things which he possessed, was his owne, but they had all things common, Acts 2. 44, 45, 46. and 4. 32.

8 Verf. 8. thou shalt number] The Hebrewes hold, that this commandment of numbring seven times seven yeeres, and the commandment of sanctifying the fiftieth yeere, verf. 10. was given to the high Synedrion, (or great Senate of Israel) onely: unto whom, the care of proclaiming the Jubile and liberties of the same, did belong. Maim. treat. of the Intermission and Jubile, chap. 10. sect. 1. seven Sabbaths] in Greeke, seven Rests: in Chaldee, seven Releases (or Intermissions). 49. yeeres] which nine and fortieth yeere was the seventh rest or Sabbath yeere. And the beginning of this numbring, fell out in the 8. yeere of Iosua, as is shewed before on verse 2. but the Hebrewes misse generally in this computation, saying, that The beginning of this count, was fourteene yeeres after they came into the land; for six yeeres (were spent) in conquering the land, and seven yeeres in parting of it; Maim. in Iobel, c. 10. f. 2. But this agreeth not with Calebs speech in Jos. 14. 7, 10. neither was the land so long in parting. Wherefore, as they have missed of Christ, unto whom all their Sabbaths and Jubiles led them: so God hath given them over to misse in the computation of their Jubiles, whereby they are the more hardened in their errour. Even the Stork in the heaven, knoweth her appointed times; and the Turtle, and the Crane, and the Swallow, observe the time of their coming: but the Jewes know not the judgment of the LORD, Jer. 8. 7. O ye hypocrites, ye can discern the face of the skie, yet can ye not discern the signes of the times? Match. 16. 3.

Verf. 9. shalt cause to sound] Hebrew, shalt cause to passe: which word, when it is used of sounds or voices, meaneth to proclaim, publish, or declare, as the Greeke here translateth it; so after, and in Ezra 1. 1. They caused the trumpet to passe, throughout all the borders of Israel; saith Maim. in Iobel, c. 10. sect. 10. the Trumpet] or, the Cornet: see Lev. 23. 24. The Trumpet of the Jubile, and of the beginning of the yeere, is one, in every respect. Maim. in Iobel, c. 10. sect. 11. and Talmud in Rosh hashshanah, chap. 3. of loud-sound] or of alarme, as is englished in Numb. 10. 5. See the notes on Levit. 23. 14. *It is commanded to blow with the Trumpet, in the tenth (day) of Tisri, (that is, September) in the yeere of Jubile, and this commandment is given to the Synedrion first, as it is written, And thou shalt cause to sound, &c. and every particular person is bound to blow, as it is written, Iee shall cause the Trumpet to sound, &c. Maimony ibid. ch. 13. sect. 10.* This blowing with Trumpets, figured the preaching of the Gospel, Luke 4. 18, 19. as is shewed also on Levit. 23. day of Atonement] or, of expiation, which was the Fasting day, when the whole Church every yeere afflicted their soules, and the high Priest made atonement for them in the most holy place, Lev. 16. ch. & 23. 27. And though the yeere began ten daies before, (the first of the moneth) yet as our spirituall bondage was not done away, but by the atonement, made through the death of Christ, Heb. 2. 14, 15. so neither was the type hereof performed in Israel, till the day of Atonement. The Hebrewes say, From the beginning of the yeere, untill the day of Atonement, the servants were not released unto their owne houses, nor from being in servitude to their masters: Neither were the fields returned to their owners; but the servants did eat and drinke, and rejoyce, and wore crownes (or garlands) upon their heads. When the day of Atonement came, the Magistrates (the Synedrion) blew the Trumpet, the servants were released to their owne houses, and the lands returned to their owners.

overlappers. Maimony in Iobel, chap. 10. sect. 14. Verſ. 10. the yeere of fiftie yeeres] an Hebrew phrase, meaning the yeere even the fiftieth yeere: ſo that they miſſe, which count every nine and fortieth yeere to be the Jubile: that was the ſeventh ſeven, the ordinarie Sabbath and yeere of Reſt, and the yeere following was the Jubile, even the fiftieth, ſo two holy yeeres came together. Thus the Hebrew canons declare it; The yeere of Iubile comme: b not in the count of the yeeres of the ſeven; but the nine and fortieth yeere is the Releaſe, and the fiftieth yeere the Iubile; and the one and fiftieth yeere beginneth the fixe yeeres of the Seven (following:) and ſo in every Iubile. Maimony in Iobel, ch. 10. ſ. 7. And againe, The nine and fortieth yeere is ſelfe, in the (yeere of) Releaſe: and after it is the Iubile, in the fiftieth yeere. R. Menachem on Levit. 25. proclaime libertie] for Hebrew ſervants, from their maſters, Jer. 34. 8, 9. Such as went not out at the ſeventh yeere of their ſervitude, but were bored through the eare to ſerve for ever, went out at the Jubile; for then their ever was at an end, as is noted on Exod. 21. 2. 6. and as after followeth in this chap. v. 39, 40, 41. Wherefore the other legall ordinances which are commanded to be kept for ever, had alſo their end at the Jubile of the Goſpel, as the Apoſtle ſheweth, Heb. 9. 9, 10, 11. Colof. 2. 14, 16, 17. And the Jewes which urge the obſervation of them, may be answered from their owne Writers. *It is a knowne thing, that this word (Legnolam.) For ever, is ſometime ſpoken of a time determined, as, Hee ſhall ſerve him for ever, (Exod. 21. 6.) that is to ſay, unto the ever of the Iubile. And ſometime it is ſpoken of length of daies, without knowledge of their limit, but yet they have a limit and an end; as, Let King David live for ever, (1 King. 1. 31.) And ſometime it is ſpoken of a time which hath none end, as, The Lord ſhall reigne for ever and aye, (Pſal. 10. 16.) ſaith R. Menachem on Levit. 25. This yeere of liberty, figured the yeere of grace by Chriſt, who dying in the laſt Jubile that ever the land had, did deliver them who through feare of death, were all their life time ſubject to bondage, Heb. 2. 14, 15. ſuch as were the ſervants of ſinne, whom the Sonne making free, they are free in deed, John 4. 34, 36. Of this time of grace, Chriſt prophcing, calleth it the yeere of his redeemed, Eſa. 63. 4. and, the acceptable yeere of the LORD, Eſa. 61. 2. And the Apoſtle exhorting us, that wee receive not the grace of God in vaine, ſaith, Behold, now is the accepted time; behold, now is the day of ſalvation, 2 Cor. 6. 1, 2. a Iubile] in Hebrew, Iobel, which the Chaldee calleth Iobels; the Greeke here interpreteth it, a yeere of remiſſion of ſignification. In Ezek. 46. 17. it is called, the yeere of libertie. The Hebrews, ſome of them thinke it hath the name (from the Arabicke) of a rammes borne, whereof the Cornets ſounded this yeere, were made: ſo the Trumpets of Iobelim, in Joſ. 6. 4. are in Chaldee expounded, Trumpets of rammes borne. But the Hebrew word ſignifieth neither ramme, nor borne, but hath the name of carrying, or leading-along, Job 10. 19. and 21. 32. Pſal. 60. 11. whereupon Iubal is a fireame, or water courſe, that runneth along, and carrieth things with it, Jer. 17. 8. Eſa. 44. 4.*

And thus R. Menachem, (on Levit. 25.) and the Zohar, derive the name Iobel, from Iubal, a ſtreame, or water-courſe, according to that phraſe in Jer. 17. 8. It ſeemeth alſo to have the name of the long-ſound of the trumpet; as in Exod. 19. 13. Iobel is the ſound of the trumpet: and becauſe this yeere was joyfull to ſervants and poor people, of the joyfull ſhout which they made, and ſound of trumpets, the Latines have borrowed the word Iubilo, which is to make a joyfull ſhout. And in myſterie, the Jubile is ſo named, as carrying men to Chriſt, by whoſe redemption all the faithfull have cauſe to ſhout and rejoyce. When he ſounded the trumpet of his Goſpel, (as God hath ſent him to preach the Goſpel to the poore, to preach deliverance to the captives, and recovering of ſight to the blinde, to ſet at libertie them that are bruised, to preach the acceptable yeere of the Lord.) Then he ſaid, This day is this Scripture fulfilled in your eares; and all have bin witneſſe, and wondered at the gracious words which proceeded out of his mouth, Luke 4. 18, -22. his poſſeſſion] his Tenement, meaning lands and houſes which had beene ſold, and now muſt be returned to the firſt owners: a figure of our reſtoring by Chriſt, into Paradiſe: the poſſeſſion whereof, Adam loſt by ſin, Gen. 3. Luke 23. 43. So there were three things eſpeciall unto this yeere; the ſounding of trumpets, the freedome of ſervants, and the reſtoring of lands or Tenements: but the reſting of the land was one with the ſeventh yeeres reſt, verſ. 4. 11. And here note the accord and the difference between the Sabbath (or ſeventh) yeere, and the Jubile, which the Hebrewes lay downe thus: *The Law of the Iubile, for the reſting of the land, and the Law of the yeere of Releaſe, is one in every reſpect. Whatſoever is forbidden in the ſeventh yeere, concerning the tilling of the land, is forbidden in the yeere of Iubile: and whatſoever is lawfull in the ſeventh yeere, is lawfull in the Iubile: and that worke for which they are beaten if they doe it in the ſeventh yeere, they are beaten for the ſame in the Iubile. And the Law for the fruits of the yeere of Iubile, concerning eating, or ſelling, or putting them away, is as the Law for the fruits of the ſeventh yeere in every reſpect. The ſeventh yeere is above the Iubile, in that the ſeventh yeere releaſeth (debts of) munny, (Deuteronomie 15. 1, 2.) which the Iubile doth not: and the Iubile is above the ſeventh yeere, in that the Iubile letteth ſervants goe out (free,) and releaſeth lands, [which the ſeventh yeere doth not,] Levit. 25. 24. The Iubile releaſeth lands, in the beginning of the ſame: but the ſeventh yeere releaſeth not manies, till the end of the ſame; (Deuteronomie 15. 1.) Maimony in Iobel, chap. 10. ſect. 15, 16. Further, from theſe words, ye ſhall returne every man, &c. they gather, that he which gave his field for a gift, (though he ſold it not) yet it was reſtored unto him in the yeere of Iubile: Maim. ibid. ch. 11. ſ. 19. his family] from which hee was departed whiles through povertie he was ſold unto another family, verſ. 39, 40, 41.) It figured our returning unto God the Father, through our Lord Jeſus Chriſt; of whom the whole family in heaven and earth is named, Ephes. 3. 15.*

be unto you, the yeere of fiftie yeeres; that is, even in the fiftieth yeere. The Greeke translateth it, (A yeere) of remission of signification shall it be unto you; the fiftieth yeere shall the yeere be unto you. of the separations thereof] which the Greeke calleth, the sanctified fruits thereof. They were separated from the owners, and sanctified of God to be common for all; like the fruits of the seventh yeere, as before is noted. See vers. 4, 5, 7.

12 Vers. 12. it is the Inbile] in Greeke, it is the signification of Remission. holinesse] that is, a most holy yeere; to bee hallowed or sanctified unto the Lord, by the obedience of these his precepts, and meditation of a better rest, freedom and holines which should be obtained by Christ, in the acceptable yeere of the Lord, Luk. 4. 18, 19, 21. out of the field] and not out of the barne; see the notes on v. 5. and on Exo. 23. 11. By this, God also led them to depend upon him for their daily bread, and not to care for the morrow, Mat. 6. 31, 34. and to weane them from the world, that they that buy, may be as though they possessed not; and they that use this world, as though they used it not, 1 Cor. 7. 30, 31.

14 Vers. 14. if ye sell] that is, if any of you: the Greek for more plainnesse, changeth the number, if thou sell: so after, the Greeke saith, oppresse (or wring) not thou. not oppresse] or, not vex, not make a prey. This Moses here, and in the next verse sheweth to concerne both buyer and seller: so that if a man sold too deere, the buyer was oppressed; and if a man bought a thing too cheape, the seller was oppressed.

15 Ver. 15. According to] or, By the number of yeeres: which two phrases doe explaine one another, and are used sometime indifferently: as *In (or by) the Word of Gad, 1 Chron. 21. 19. is by another Prophet set down, *According to the word of Gad, 2 Sam. 24. 19. And so the Greeke translateth it here, According to. So after in vers. 50. and in Num. 14. 34. yeeres of the revenues] that is, of the fruits: so that the land properly was not sold, but the fruits thereof, vers. 16. See after on vers. 23, 25. From this word yeeres, the Hebrews gather, that Who so selleth his field, he cannot redeeme it till after two yeeres, because it is said, according to the number of the yeeres of the revenues, he shall sell unto thee. Yea, though he that bought it, would consent, he may not: till after two yeeres from the sale thereof. And the buyer must eat two revenues of two yeeres, and afterward it may be redeemed. Therefore if the seventh yeere be one of the two yeeres, or if it be a yeere of blasting, or milder, it is not reckoned in the number. And if he buy it one yeere before the Inbile, he eateth of it the second yeere after the Inbile; for it is written, THE YEERES OF THE REVENUES. Maimony in Iobel, chapter 11. section 9, 10, 12.

16 Vers. 16. the number of the revenues] that is, according to the number of yeeres of the revenues: as vers. 15.

17 Vers. 17. feare thy God] by abstaining from this evill, and doing the contrary good; for, by the feare of the Lord, men depart from evill, Prov. 16. 8. and whereas it is said, in 1 Kin. 8. 40. shu they may feare thee as long as they live: another Prophet openeth it

thus, that they may feare thee, and walke in thy waies as long as they live, 2 Chronic. 6. 31. But the want of the feare of God, is the fountaine of evill deeds, Deut. 25. 18. Psal. 36. 2. Rom. 3. 18. So Nebemias, blaming crueltie in the Jewes towards their brethren, said, Ought ye not to walke in the feare of our God? Neh. 5. 9.

V. 18. my statutes] the Gr. addeth, all my statutes, and all my judgements: which addition is here implied, as elsewhere the holy Ghost explaineth himselfe: for, to stablish the words of the Law, Deu. 27. 26. meaneth all things written in the booke of the Law, Gal. 3. 10. and, They did eat, Luke 9. 17. Mar. 7. 8. is expounded, They did all eat, Mat. 14. 20. & 15. 37. & many the like. See the notes on Exo. 25. 40. in confident-safety] or, with boldnes, & security. The originall word signifieth both the confidence, or boldnes which men that trust in God, and walk in his waies, have within themselves, and the safety and secure estate, wherein God setteth them, from danger of evill. This promise is often renewed, as in Lev. 26. 5. Deut. 12. 28. & 23. 12, 28. Prov. 1. 33. Ezek. 28. 26. & 34. 27, 28. and under this promise, eternall life is figured, as is shewed on Gen. 12. 5.

19 Vers. 19. give] or yeeld her fruit: which was a signe of Gods blessing, Levit. 26. 3, 4. Psal. 67. 2, 7. and a figure of heavenly blessings in Christ, Eia. 45. 8. Psal. 85. 11, 12, 13. Ezek. 34. 26, 27, eat to the full] or, eat unto satietie: see the notes on Levit. 26. 5.

20 Vers. 20. behold we shall not sow] the Greeke translateth it, if we sow not, nor gather, &c. This saying, or thought of theirs, God approveth not of: for he teacheth men, by the fowles of the ayre, and lilies of the field, to take no thought, what to eat or drinke, or wherewith to be clothed, Mat. 6. 25, 26. &c. But preventeth the objection of humane infirmitle, by promise of extraordinarie blessing, to them that obey his Law. The like he doth in Exodus 34. 23, 24. about their going up to this solemne feast; and in Matthew 6. 33. to all that seeke his kingdome and righteousnesse.

21 Verse 21. will command] that is, will powerfully send: as the Greeke interpreteth, I will send: but it noteth the power and efficacie of Gods word, who sendeth his Edict upon earth, and his Word runneth very swiftly, Psal. 147. 15. So Moses againe speaketh of commanding the blessing, Deuteronomie 28. 8. and David, in Psalm. 133. 3. and of commanding salvation, Psalm 44. 5. and 71. 3. of commanding strength, Psalm 68. 29. and other things, which hee effectually procureth and causeth to come to passe, 2 Samuel 17. 14.

22 Vers. 22. ye shall eat] This promise of blessings, and the fruition of them, was to encourage them in obedience to Gods Law; for, Godliness is profitable unto all things; having promise of the life which now is, and of that which is to come, 1 Timothie 4. 8. And God is able to make all grace abound towards us, that wee alwayes having all-sufficiencie in all things, may abound to everie good worke. And, he that ministrerh seed to the former; will both minister bread for your food, and multiply our seed sown, and increase the fruits of our righteousness, 2 Cor. 9. 8, 10.

23 Ver[23. for ever] or absolutely, precisely: Hebrew, to binding-fast; meaning unto the buyer, as ver. 30. and this the Gr. version favoureth, translating, unto confirmation; that is, to be firme and fast unto him that bought it, as his owne for ever. And as the originall word is sometime used for cutting off, so it may here be englished; and then it meaneth, it should not be sold so, as to be cut off from redemption, (as verse 24.) or to be absolutely cut-off from the first owner. The Chaldee tranlateth, absolutely or properly, for the propriety of him that buyeth the same. Hereupon Naboth would not sell his inheritance to the King, 1 Kin. 21. 3. See also Ezek. 48. 14. where the oblation of land given to the Priests and Levites, they might not sell it, neither exchange, nor alienate the first fruits of the land: because it was holy unto the LORD. is mine] Though the whole earth be the Lords, and the plentie thereof, Psal. 24. 1. yet the land of Canaan was his in more speciall manner, (even as Israel to whom he gave it, was his peculiar people above others, Exod. 19. 5.) because he had sanctified it, to be the inheritance of his Church here on earth, Genesis 12. 7. and a figure of the inheritance of his Saints in heaven, Hebr. 11. 9, 10. Therefore it is called THE LORDS LAND, Hosea 9. 3. and Immanuel (that is, Christ) land, Esa. 8. 8. and the holy Land, Zach. 2. 12. and so being Gods, men had no right to sell it; and it taught them, that the gift of God may not be purchased with money, Acts 8. 20. and that the heavenly heritage which hee hath prepared for his in Christ, cannot be alienated from them; but is surely confirmed in his blood, and reserved in heaven for them; unto which they shall returne at the great Jubile of his second appearing, when the trumpet of God shall sound, Rom. 8. 38, 39. Joh. 10. 28, 29. 1 Pet. 1. 4, 5. 1 Thel. 4. 16, 17. sojourners with me] that is, as the Greeke and Chaldee expound it, before me. Thus David professed, I am a stranger with thee, a sojourner, as all my fathers, Psal. 39. 13. and so he speaketh of all Israel, in 1 Chro. 29. 15. (where in stead of, with thee, he saith, before thee.) So that as the heathens that became Profelytes, had no inheritance in the land, but dwelt therein as sojourners, so was Israel in the sight of God. Hereby he taught them, to desire and seeke a better countrey, that is, an heavenly; where there remaineth a rest for the people of God, Hebr. 11. 13, 14, 16, 9, 10. and 4. 8, 9. See the Annotations on Genesis 12. 5. and 13. 15. Some understand this, with me, as if the Lord himselfe were but as a sojourner in this world, and his people with him; whereupon R. Menachem (on this place) bringeth an exposition of more ancient Doctors, thus: For ye are strangers and sojourners with me; it is enough for the servant, that he be as his master. This may have use, if it be referred unto Christ, and his sojourning here in our flesh; who also himselfe, used this proverbe unto his, saying, It is enough for the Disciple, that he be as his master; and the servant, as his Lord, &c. Mat. 10. 25.

24 Ver[24. grant] or give a redemption, that is, suffer it to be redeemed; (for giving, is often used for suffering, as is noted on Gen. 20. 6.) And this redemption is by the yeere of Jubile, when every man was to let the land returne to the owner, as being redeemed for him by the Lord. Of mens redeeming their lands by money, &c. he speaketh afterward. Hereupon the Hebrew canons say, The land of Israel, which was parted among the Tribes, may not be sold for ever, Lev. 25. 23. And if a man selleth for ever, both of them [the feller and the buyer] doe transgresse against a prohibition: and it availeth them nothing; for in the Jubile, the land returneth to the owner thereof. The Jubile is above the seventh yeere, for that the Jubile letteth servants goe out free, and releaseth land: and this is the right of the sale of fields, spoken of in the Law, and is a thing commanded, as it is written, YE SHALL GRANT A REDEMPTION FOR THE LAND. Maimony in Iobel, chap. 11. sect. 1. and chap. 10. sect. 16. This figured the land and state of grace, which all Gods people by the Jubile of the Gospel doe returne unto by repentance and faith in Christ, though by their former sinnes, they have for a time deprived themselves of their inheritance in his Church, 2 Cor. 2. 7, 8. 1 Joh. 1. 9.

25 V. 25. waxen-poare] or brought low, as the Greeke tranlateth it in ver. 39. though here both the Gr. and Chaldee expound it, waxen-poare. Hereupon the Hebrew canons say, A man may not sell his house, or field of his possession, (although they returne againe unto him after the time,) unlesse he be a poore man, Levit. 25. 25. But sell them for to put the money in his purse, or to make merchandise with it, or to get vessels, or servants, or beasts therewith, he may not, save for food onely. Yet if he transgresse and sell, the sale notwithstanding is confirmed. Maim. in Iobel, c. 11. s. 3. the redeemer] the Hebrew Goel, is also a kinsman, Numb. 5. 8. Ruth 3. 9. unto whom the right of redeeming lands, houses or persons, doth belong, & also the avenging of their blood (if they be slain) Num. 35. 10. Which kinsman, in this work of redemption, was often a figure of Christ, who being neere unto us, and allied in the flesh (in that hee tooke part of the same flesh and blood with us, Heb. 2. 14.) is called our Goel, that is, Redeemer or Deliverer: as, the Redeemer shall come to (and out of) Zion, Esa. 59. 20. Rom. 26. And he it is, that hath redeemed us, and our heavenly inheritance unto us in our low depressed and poore estate, Hos. 13. 14. 1 Thel. 1. 20. 2 Cor. 8. 9. Romans 5. 6, 8, 10. The Hebrews in Tanchuma upon this place, say, The Redeemer thereof, this is the holy blessed (God) as it is said, (in Jerem. 30. 34.) their redeemer is strong, the Lord of hosts is his name, &c. he that is neere unto him, this is the holy blessed (God) as it is said (in Psal. 148. 14.) a people neere unto him. Thus they saw somewhat a far off; though their eyes are darkened, that they cannot perceive how God was in Christ our redeemer, whom they crucified. neere unto him] or next, to weete, in blood: as Lev. 21. 2, 3. Num. 27. 11. the sale of his brother] that which his brother hath sold. This duty of the naturall kinfkinsman, shadowed the dutie of love which all Christians should shew one to another, by spirituall alliance; in helping to recover them that are occasionally fallen, and restoring them with the spirit of meeknesse, Gal. 6. 1, 2. 1 Joh. 5. 16.

26 Verſ. 26. hath attained] in Greeke, aboundeth, or is able; which word is used in Acts 11. 29. Every man according to his ability. From hence the Hebrews conclude, that a man must redeeme it with his owne; for if he borroweth (of another) to redeeme it withall, they bearken unto him. Maim. in Iobel, ch. 11. ſect. 17. found ſufficiencie for] or, even the ſufficiencie of the redemption. This the Hebrews understand to be of ſuch things as he hath gotten after the ſale; wherefore they ſay, He that ſelleth a field of his poſſeſſion, and hath other fields, and ſelleth of them fields, enough to redeeme the field which he ſold; they bearken not unto him: for it is written, AND FOUND SUFFICIENCY FOR THE REDEMPTION; that is, when he hath found ſomething; which was not found with him, at the time of the ſale. Maim. ibid. chap. 11. ſect. 17.

27 Verſ. 27. reſtore the overplus] The Hebrews expaine it thus; As if there remaine unto the Jubile ten yeeres, and he ſelleth him his field for an hundred crownes, and he that bought it, hath eaten of (the fruits) of it three yeere, and then the ſeller would redeeme it, he is to give ſeventy crownes, and the other is to reſtore him his field. And ſo if he have eaten of it ſix yeeres, he is to give him forty (crownes) and the other reſtoreth him the field. If he redeeme it not, but leave it in the hand of him that bought it, untill the yeere of Jubile; then it returneth to the (firſt) owner, without price. Maimony in Iobel, chap. 11. ſect. 5.

28 Verſ. 28. the Jubile] in Greeke, the Remiſſion. to his poſſeſſion] that is, to his land, but trees and the like, are by the Hebrewes excepted. If a man ſell trees, he cannot redeeme them before two yeeres, [as is before noted on ver. 15.] and if he doe not redeeme them, they return not to the owner in the Jubile: for it is written, HE SHALL RETURN to his poſſeſſion, he ſaith not, to the trees. Maimony in Iobel, ch. 11. ſect. 14. See more in Lev. 27. This returning of the poore to their poſſeſſions, figured the grace of God toward us in Chriſt, whereby we are reſtored into his favour, and ſhall be to his heavenly inheritance, Col. 1. 12, 13, 14. and 3. 24. Eph. 1. 10, 11. 18. 1 Pet. 1. 4. compared with Eſa. 60. 21. and 61. 7. & 65. 9. Contrariwiſe it was a ſigne of wrath, when God threatned, the ſeller ſhall not returne to that which is ſold, Ezek. 7. 13.

29 Verſ. 29. a walled citie] Hebr. citie of wall, which the Gr. explaineth, walled; the Chaldee, compaſſed with a wall. the end] or, the perfection, the whole accompliſhment of the yeere; in Greeke, till the yeere be fulfilled; meaning, that it might be redeemed by the owner any time within the yeere; but not after. dayes] underſtand, a yeere of dayes: and the Hebrew ſometime expreſſeth, Gen. 4. 1. 1. meaning an whole or perfect yeere. (as the next verſe ſheweth,) which conſiſteth of 365. dayes and ſixe houres. Thus the ſale and redemption of houſes differed from lands; which in the Hebrew canons is explained thus: He that ſelleth an houſe with in a citie compaſſed with a wall, he may redeeme it all a twelve moneths (ſpace) from the day that he ſold it, at any time that he pleaſeth, yet though it be the ſame day that he ſold it. And when he pleaſeth to redeeme it, he giveth all the price which he tooke, and ſubſcribeth nothing to him that bought it. And his neere kin may not redeeme it, [as they might doe his land, ver. 25.] but the ſeller himſelfe, if his hand can attain to it; and he may ſell his goods to redeeme it: but he may not borrow, and redeeme it therewith. If he that bought it, be dead, he may redeeme it out of the hand of his ſonne: ſo if he that ſold it, be dead; his ſonne may redeeme it all the twelve moneths. If the twelve moneths be out, and it is not redeemed: then it is abſolutely confirmed in the hand of him that bought it. And ſo, if he gave his houſe for a gift, and redeemed it not within twelve moneths, it is abſolutely his to whom he gave it. If it be Leape-yeere, [that is, a yeere of thirteene moneths; as the Hebrews had two Adars or Febraries, by reaſon of odde daies:] it is not abſolutely made away till the end thereof; as it is written, TILL A WHOLE YEERE BE FULFILLED, Lev. 25. 30. to imply the moneth that is overplus. If the twelve moneth day be come, and he cannot be found that bought it, that it may be redeemed from him: then (the owner) leaveth the money with the Synedrion, and breakes open the doore, and goeth into his houſe; and when he comes thit bought it, he goeth (to the Synedrion) and taketh his money. Maimony in Iobel, chap. 12. ſect. 1, -7.

30 Ver. 30. hath not a wall] this, becauſe it ſeemeth contrarie to the former, is written and noted in the Hebrew Margine to be read, hath a wall; there being in the letters a difference, but not in the pronunciation; as the like hath beene before in Ex. 21. 8. Lev. 11. 21. The Greek and Chaldee alſo tranſlate, hath a wall; and that the meaning is ſo, the words fore-going ſhew. Yet is not the text corrupted, (as is obſerved from the Hebrews in Exodus 21. 8.) but it ſeemeth, may thus be reconciled; that if it were in a citie which ſometimes had a wall, but for the preſent had none, or very ruinous (as was the caſe of Ieruſalem, 2 King. 25. 10.) then the order here ſet, ſhould ſtand for the ſale of the houſe. And here I will adde what the Hebrews write concerning this: The citie which is not compaſſed with a wall, at the time when Joſua conquered the land; though it be walled now, yet it is like the houſes of the villages: and the citie which was compaſſed with a wall in Joſua's daies, though it be not walled now, yet it is as if it were walled. And when they went into captivity, at the firſt deſolation (of the Temple, 2 Kings 25.) the holineſſe of the walled cities which had beene in Joſua's time, ceaſed: when Ezra came up, at the ſecond coming into the land, (Ezra 1.) all the walled cities were ſanctified at that time; becauſe their coming in, in the daies of Ezra, which was the ſecond coming, was as their coming in, in the daies of Joſua, &c. Maimony in Iobel, chapter 12. ſection 15. for ever] or, to the cutting off of all redemption; the Greeke tranſlateth, firmly, the Chaldee, abſolutely: ſee verſe 23. And as this is expreſſly ſpoken of the houſe; ſo the Hebrews ſay, that Gardens, and Bathes to waſh in, and Dove-houses, which were within the walls of the citie, these were as the houses: but fields, if any were within the citie, were to be redeemed as fields that were without the citie. So for Jerusalem, they say, no house might be absolutely sold in it: likewise, that an house builded upon the wall, [as was Rahabs, Jos. 2. 25.] was not as the (other) houses of a walled citie. Maim. in Iobel, c. 12. s. 11. in the Iubile.] Greeke, in the remission. Likewise, if one sold an house in a walled citie, and the Iubile came within the yeere of the sale, it was not returned in the Iubile; but remained in the hand of him that purchased it; till it pleased the seller to redeeme it all the yeere of the sale, or that the yeere was fulfilled, and so it was absolutely gone. Maim. in Iobel, chap. 12. sect. 9.

31 Ver. 31. villages] or, open-places; the word is elsewhere used for Courtyards: no wall-round-about] meaning a wall properly, of earth, stone or the like. For, a citie that had the gardens thereof for a wall, or that had the Sea for a wall, was not (counted) a walled citie. No place was called a walled citie, till it had in it three villages (or Courtyards) or moe; and in every of those villages, two houses or moe; and it were compassed with a wall at first, and afterward they builded villages within it. But a place that was first inhabited, and afterward walled about; or wherein there were not three villages with two houses in every of them, it was not a walled citie; but the houses therein, were as the houses of the villages; Maim. in Iobel, ch. 12. sect. 13, 14. redemption shall be to it] that is, it may be redeemed at any time, as the fields before mentioned; or it may be redeemed, as the houses forementioned. Both are shewed by the Hebrewes thus; He that selleth any house in the villages, or in a citie which hath no wall, as it meet for it; it may be redeemed as likeh him best, according to the Law of the field, or according to the Law of the house in a walled citie. As, if he will redeeme it out of hand, he may redeeme it according to the Law for houses: [that is, without abating any thing to him that bought it.] If the 12. months be expired, and he hath not redeemed it; he may redeeme it till the yeere of Iubila, according to the Law for fields. And when he redeemeth it, he is to count with him what he bought it, and abate unto him, for the time that he enjoyed it. If the Iubile come, and he hath not redeemed it; the house returneth (to the owner) without price, after the manner what fields doe. Maimony in Iobel, chap. 12. section 10.

32 Ver. 32. of the Levites] which were the six cities of Refuge, and 42. cities moe, (48. in all) given them to dwell in, and the suburbs of them, for to feed their cattell, Num. 35. Jos. 21. a redemption ever] that is, they may ever, (or at any time) be redeemed by the Levites: so the Greeke explaineth it. And the Hebrewes say, The Priests and Levites may redeeme their houses in walled cities, at any time when they please, though it be after many yeeres. Maimony in Iobel, chap. 13. sect. 7. shall be to the Levites] This caution respecteth the possessions which the Levites enjoyed in their cities; and so doth that which followeth in ver. 33. that the redeemer must be of the Levites. Wherefore the Hebrewes have this rule: An Israelite which is begre to his mothers father, a Levite, he redeemeth as the Levites doe, though he be not a Levite; yet seeing the cities or fields are the Levites, he may redeeme (at any time) for ever. For this right dependeth upon those places, and not upon the owners. And a Levite which is begre to his mothers father an Israelite; he redeemeth as an Israelite, and not as the Levites doe: for it is not said that the Levites may redeeme at any time for ever, but in the cities of the Levites. Maimony in Iobel, chapter 13. section 8, 9.

33 Ver. 33. redeeme, of the Levites] understood, hee shall be of the Levites, and it shall not be redeemed by other Israelites. Some take redeeming here, for buying or purchasing: though I finde not the word so to meane, any other where. the sale of the house] that is, the house which is sold, as ver. 28. and the citie] the Greeke translateth, and the sale of the houses of the citie of their possession, shall goe out: and so it agreeth with the reason following. shall goe out] unto the first owner, as v. 28. out of the hands of any Israelite that had bought it, or of any other Levite that had redeemed it. their possession] whereas the Levites might have no part in the spoiles of the heathens that were conquered, nor inheritance in the houses and lands which were divided to the other Israelites, Deut. 18. 1. God gave them cities and suburbs, for them and their cattell, which was all the possession they had: therefore hee confirmed this gift unto them, with a stricter law both for sale and redemption, then the Israelites had for their possessions.

34 Ver. 34. the field] that is, the fields: as the Greeke translateth. of the suburbs] which were three thousand cubits every way, from the wall of the citie and outward; see Num. 35. 4, 5. with the Annotations. not be sold] this seemeth to be an absolute prohibition, that though the Levites might sell their houses, yet their lands not at all: which yet was but a figurative restraint (as the other legall ordinances,) untill the Jubile of the Gospel; for then Barnabas a Levite, sold his field, that hee might enjoy a better inheritance among the Saints, Acts 4. 36, 37. Howbeit the Hebrew Doctors understand this Law otherwise, and say, The Priests and the Levites, which sell any field of their cities, or any house, &c. doe redeeme them after this manner: they sell fields, though it be neere to the Iubile, and redeeme them out of hand; and they redeeme houses in the walled cities, at any time when they please, though it be after many yeeres, Lev. 25. 32. Maim. in Iobel, chap. 13. sect. 7. And this Law against selling, they expound of alteration or changing, thus: In the Levites cities, they may not make of a citie the suburbs; nor of the suburbs a citie, nor of the suburbs a field, nor of a field suburbs, as it is written, the field of the suburbs of their cities shall not be sold, Levit. 25. 34. We have bene taught, that this which is said SHALL NOT BE SOLD, meaneth, shall not be altered, but the field, and the suburbs, and the citie, shall all three of them be as they are for ever. Maimony ibidem, sect. 4, 5.

35 Ver. 35. weaker-poorer] or brought low, as ver. 25. and 39. hand faileth] or, hand is moved, which the Greeke translateth, and he be weak (or impotent) in his hands by thee, that is, unable to relieve himselfe. This phrase is here once applied to the hand, in Deut. 32. 35. and often otherwhere to the foot, the moving or sliding whereof, is also a decay, or falling into evil. strengthen him] or, take hold on him, and so confirme his weake hands; that is, as the Greeke translateth, helpe or relieve him. So God is said to strengthen, or hold the right hand of Cyrus, when he inabled him to subdue nations, Esa. 45. 1. so of Christ, in Esa. 42. 6. and of his people, when he helpeth them against their enemies, Esa. 41. 12, 13. According to this law, is that in Deut. 15. 7, 8, 10. where God commandeth to open the hand, to lend and to give unto the poore: and it is reckoned for one of the sins of Sodome, that thee strengthened not the hand of the poore and needy, Ezek. 16. 49. even the stranger] that is, though he be a stranger, and none of thine owne nation: or, as the Greeke translateth, thou shalt helpe him as a stranger and sojourner. Whereby God may intend the naturall Israelites, which were but strangers and sojourners with him, verse 23. which is also the state of all the Saints on earth, 1 Pet. 2. 11. that he may] or, and he shall live: so the Gr. saith, and thy brother shall live with thee. By living, is meant the recovering of himselfe out of his miserie, as elsewhere, life is opposed to sickness, ruine, and other miseries, Esa. 38. 9. Neh. 4. 2. 1 Chro. 11. 8. Gen. 45. 27. Therefore God commandeth to let the poore man have sufficient for his need, Deut. 15. 8. see the Annotations there. Hereby also was figured, that such as are poore in spirit, ought to be comforted: and such as are impoverished by sin, should be sought after for their recovery, by admonition, exhortation, prayer, &c. that life may be given them, 1 Thes. 5. 14. 1 Joh. 5. 16. Jam. 5. 16, 20.

36 Ver. 36. biting-usurie] of this, see what is noted on Ex. 22. 25. increase] or multiplication, overplus; that is, when one taketh more then he lent. So in Ezek. 18. 8. 13, 17. Spirituall usury and exaction (which under this law is also forbidden) is when the law is urged upon the conscience of repentant sinners, more then is meet; whereby his life with God (which is by faith in Christ) is impeached: or when the rudiments of the Law (which Christ hath freed his people from) are laid as a yoke upon their neckes, and burthen upon their consciences; both which are hinderances of that true life and joy, which God by the Gospel and spirit of his Son, ministrerh unto his Saints, Mat. 18. 28, 33. Gal. 2. 14, 21. & 4. 9, 10, 11. & 5. 1, 2. &c. Acts 15. 1, 10, 11. Esa. 9. 8.

39 Ver. 39. waxen poore] in Greeke, be humbled, or, brought low; as ver. 25. be sold] for extreame povertie, debt, or theft; as 2 King. 4. 1. Exod. 22. 3. See the notes on Ex. 21. 2. not serve thy selfe] in Greeke, he shall not serve thee. of a servant] of a slave, or bondman, as to compell him to doe base and slavish workes. The Hebrews say, It is unlawfull for an Israelite, when he buyeth any Hebrew servant to make him serve in things vile, which are proper for servants (or slaves) to doe; as to carry his vessels after him to the bath, or to untie his shoes, &c. Lev. 25. 49. Which is to be understood of an Hebrew servant, because his soule is cast downe by his sale: but an Israelite which is not sold, it is lawfull to use his ministerie as a servant; for loe he doth not such worke but willingly, and of his owne mind. Maimony, tom. 4. treat. of Servants, ch. 1. sect. 7. This law Solomon kept, as it is said, but of the sons of Israel did Solomon make no servant: but they were men of war, and his servants, and his Princes, and his Captaines, &c. 1 King. 9. 22.

Ver. 40. as a sojourner] in Greeke, or a sojourner: meaning that he should be used kindly, reverently, and as a brother, ver. 46. The Hebrew canons say, Every Hebrew servant or handmaid, their master is bound to make them equall to himselfe in meat, in drinke, in clothing, and in dwelling; as it is said (in Deut. 15. 16.) because he is well with thee; so that thou maist not eat white bread, and he eat brunnne bread; or thou drinke old wine, and he drinke new; or thou sleepe on a featherbed, and he sleepe on straw, &c. Hereupon they say, who so buyeth an Hebrew servant, buyeth himselfe a master, &c. Neverthelesse, it is necessary that the servant behave himselfe with a servants behaviour, in those services which he doth unto him. Maim. in Servants, chap. 1. sect. 9. yeere of Iubile] which was the yeere of libertie for all manner of Hebrew servants: therefore, No Hebrew maid, or Hebrew manservant was in use (in Israel) but at the time when the Iubile was in use: whether it were a servant that sold himselfe, or that was sold by the Synedrion. Maimony in Servants, chap. 1. sect. 10.

Ver. 41. goe-out from with thee] the Greeke saith, he shall goe out to remission (into liberty.) For what cause, or after what sort soever he hath been sold, the Iubile released him: which was a figure of the time of grace, whereby now Christ hath freed us from the servitude of sin and Satan, Joh. 8. 32, 36. Rom. 6. 14. 18. The Hebrew Doctors say, *He whom the Synedrion sold, served six yeeres, (Exo. 21. 2.) from the day of his sale; and in the beginning of his seventh yeere, he went out a free man. If the yeere of Release (Deu. 15. 1.) fell within those six yeeres, yet he did serve therein: but if the yeere of Iubile fell in them, though he were sold but a yeere before the Iubile, he goeth out free, (Lev. 25. 40, 41.) A man may sell himselfe for more then six yeeres; if he sell himselfe for 10 or 20. yeeres, and the Iubile fall out, though within a yeere, he goeth out at the Iubile. If a man have sold himselfe, or beene sold by the Synedrion, and he runs away: he is bound to make up the six yeeres; but if the Iubile fall, he goeth out free. If he have beene sicke, either by a continued sickness yeere after yeere, or beene sicke by fits; if the whole time (of his sickness) be lesse then foure yeeres, they are reckoned among the six (yeeres service:) but if he have beene foure yeeres sicke, he is bound to make good all the daies of his sickness; as it is written, (Lev. 25. 40.) As an hireling, as a sojourner: if the Iubile fall, he goeth out. Maim. in Servants, ch. 2. sect. 2, 3, 4, 5. his sons with him] that is, his children (as the Greeke translateth) whether sons or daughters. In Exod. 21. 3. there is the like, for his wife. And by the parable in Mat. 18. 25. it seemeth that in Israel men might be sold for debt, they, their wives, and their children, and all that they had: and in 2 King. 4. 1. the creditour would take the children bondmen, for their fathers debt. Howbeit the Hebrew Doctors understand these otherwise, saying; *Every Hebrew servant, his master is bound to finde him wife meat, &c.

and so he is bound to find his sons and daughters meat. Of him whom the Synedrion sold, it is said (in Exod. 21. 3.) if he were the husband of a wife, then his wife shall goe out with him. If thou thinkest that when he was bought, his wife became a servant; it is not so: but to teach, that his master was bound to give her food. And of him that sold himselfe, it is said (in Levit. 25. 41.) he and his sons with him. And of him that was sold to an heathen, it is said (in Levit. 25. 54.) he and his sonnes with him. Whether they were the wife and children which he had at the time when he was sold; or wife and children which he had after he was sold, so that he tooke her with his masters consent; but if he tooke her without his consent, his master is not bound to find her meat. Though his master be bound to find his wife and children meat, yet hath he nothing of the labours of their hands, but the wives labours are her husbands: and whatsoever is due from a husband to his wife, is due to her, forasmuch as he is an Hebrew servant. Maimony, treat. of Servants, chap. 3. sect. 1, 2.

42 Ver. 42. my servants] their redemption from Pharaoh, figured the redemption from Satan by Christ; and their freedome, that of which it is said, Ye are bought with a price, be not the servants of men, 1 Cor. 7. 23. and now being made free from sinne, and made servants to God; ye have your fruit unto holinesse, and the end everlasting life, Rom. 6. 22. the sale of a servant] that is, not after the manner that servants (or slaves) are sold in the market, publicly; but privately, and by way of honour; Maimony in Servants, chap. 1. sect. 5.

43 Ver. 43. with rigour] as the Egyptians ruled over Israel, Exod. 1. 13. The Hebrews describe it thus: What is rigorous service? It is service which is not determined, and service whereof there is no need: but (the masters) purpose is to make him worke, and onely that he should not cease. Hereupon our wise men have said, that (the master) should not say unto him, Digge under the vines untill I come; for loe he giveth him no determined stint: but he is to say unto him, digge till such an houre, or unto such a place. And so he may not say to him, Dig this place, when there is no need to doe it, &c. Maimony in Servants, chap. 1. sect. 6. But this rigour, fiercenesse or crueltie here forbidden, extendeth further, even to all overmuch labour, above that which is meet, and they are able; as the Greeke here translateth, Thou shalt not racke him (or afflict, torment him) with labour: beating, if their worke be not done, Exod. 1. 14. and 5. 7, 8, 14. and threatening with hard words, Ephes. 6. 9. and the like. seve thy God] and thereby abstaine from this evill: see ver. 17.

44 Ver. 44. of the heathens] as the Hebrew servants set at libertie by the Jubile, figured Gods elect, set free by Christ: so the heathens brought into subjection and bondage, may figure the reprobates, whom Christ and his people shall rule with an yron rod, Psa. 2. 9. Rev. 2. 26, 27. Or, being understood of such servants as were bought and brought unto the faith of God, and were circumcised, (as in Gen. 17. 27.) it might foreshadow the conversion of the heathens, & bringing them into the perpetuall service of Christ and his Church; Esa. 56. 3, 6, 7. & 60. 3, 7, 10, 12. Compare that promise made by the Prophet, The Lord will have mercie on Jacob, and will yet chuse Israel, and set them in their owne land; and the strangers shall be joyned with them, and they shall cleave to the house of Jacob. And the peoples shall take them, and bring them to their place: and the house of Israel shall possesse them in the land of the Lord, for servants and handmaids; and they shall take them captives, whose captives they were; and they shall rule over their oppressors, Esa. 14. 1, 2.

Ver. 45. of the sojourners] or, of the stranger-inhabitants; meaning such as were in the land, but not joyned to the Church of Israel; as the Chaldee paraphrast here calleth them uncircumcised sojourners, these sojourners are opposed to the heathens out of the land round about them, ver. 44.

that doe sojourne] or, that are strangers: in Greeke, that are among you. of their family] in Chaldee, of their seed. And this might be, if the mother onely were a stranger. An Israelite, that hath with a Canaanitish bondwoman, for as much as she is a bondwoman, he begetteth a Canaanite in every respect; and he is sold and bought, and made to serve for ever, as other bondmen. Maimony in Servants, chap. 9. sect. 1. which accordeth with that law in Exod. 21. 4.

46 Ver. 46. as an inheritance for your sonnes] the Greeke translateth, you shall divide (or impart) them unto your children. These words, possession and inheritance, applied thus to servants; meane their subjection under their masters; according to which phrase, God is said to inherit in all nations, Psa. 82. 8. and Christ, to have the heathens &c. for his inheritance and possession, Psal. 2. 8. And in saying, for your sons, hee implieth a prohibition to sell them to strangers, especially if the servant were turned to the faith; and by the Hebrew canons, hee that sold his servants to the heathens, the servant went out free, and his master was compelled to redeeme him out of the heathens hand. Maimony in Servants, c. 8. sect. 1. for ever] they and their children after them, are bondmen; untill they be made free. They were free by Gods Law, if their master had maimed them, as Exo. 21. 26, 27. and by the Hebrew canons, their freedome might be bought by themselves, or their friends; Maimony in Servants, chap. 5. sect. 2. serve your selves] or, bring them into servitude, use them as servants. not rule over him] in Chaldee, not serve your selves with him: in Greeke, not racke (or afflict) him with labours; as ver. 43. But might they then rule over the heathens with rigour? The Hebrewes say, It is lawfull to make a Canaanitish servant serve with rigour: but notwithstanding this right, it is the propertie of mercie, and way of wisdom, that a man should be compassionate, and follow justice, and not make his yoke heavie upon his servant, nor afflict him. And to give him meat and drinke of all sorts. The first wise men, used to give their servants of all meat which they did eat themselves; and they gave their beasts and their servants meat, before they themselves did eat. Loe he saith, (in Psalme 123. 2.) as the eyes of servants, unto the hand of their masters, as the eyes of a mayden, unto the hand of her mistresse: Also they used not a servant, contemptuously, by hand, or by words: the Scripture giveth gives them for service, not for shame and contempt. And let him not much cry out against him, or shew indignation, but speak gently to him, and beare his plea. For so it is expressed in the good verses of Job, for which he commendeth himselfe. If I despised the cause of my servant, or of my handmaid, when they contended with me: did not he that made me in the wombe, make him? &c. Job 31. 13, 15. Neither should crueltie and hardness be found, save among the idolatrous heathens: but the seed of Abraham our father, upon whom the blessed God hath poured out the good things of his Law, and commanded them statutes and judgements which are righteous; they shall be mercifull towards all. And so among the properties of the holy blessed God, which we are commanded to imitate, he saith, His tender mercies are over all his works, (Psal. 145. 9.) and who so sheweth mercie, mercie shall be shewed unto him, &c. Maimony, treat. of Servants, chap. 9. sect. 8.

47 Ver. 47. the stranger] which the Chaldee expoundeth, the uncircumcised: so after. doe sit sine in Gr. doe sine, to weet, enough to buy a poore Israelite; that is, if he be rich and able: so in v. 26. and 49. the stocke] or, the stumpe, as this word is englisht in Dan. 4. 15. that is, any of the linage or kindred remaining. The Chaldee translateth, to the Aramite, (that is, to a paynim, or heathen) of the family of a stranger (or Profelyte:) meaning one that was of a Profelytes stocke, but was not himselfe a Profelyte, or of the faith of Israel.

48 Ver. 48. redemption shall be to him] that is, hee shall have right to be redeemed. his brethren] that is, his kindred; as is after explained.

49 Ver. 49. his Uncle] in Greeke and Chaldee, his fathers brother. his hand hath attained] to weet, wealth enough; if he be able of himselfe. The Hebrew canons say, He that is sold to a stranger, if his owne hand attaine not to redeeme himselfe, his kindred are to redeeme him; and one kinsman before another, as it is said, his Uncle, or his Uncles sonne, &c. And the Synedrion are to compell his kindred to redeeme him, that he be not drowned (or swallowed up) among the heathens. If his kindred redeeme him not, or his owne hand cannot attaine to it: every man of Israel is commanded to redeeme him. And whether his kindred doe redeeme him, or any other man, he is to goe out free, [and not to be a servant to him that redeemed him.] And he may borrow, for to redeeme himselfe from an heathen, and he may redeem by the halfe (or in part.) But he that is sold to an Israelite, his kindred may not redeeme him, neither may he borrow to redeeme himselfe; neither is redeemed by the halfe (or part,) but if his hand be able to give according to the yeeres that remaine, he may give and goe out, otherwise he goeth not out. Maimony in Servants, chap. 2. sect. 7. A practise of this we finde in Nehemiah 5. 8. We, after our abilitie, have redeemed our brethren the Jewes, which were sold unto the heathen: and will you even sell your brethren? or shall they be sold unto us?

50 Ver. 50. with him that bought him] This is a common equitie; whether he had sold himselfe to an Israelite, or to an heathen, or had been sold by the Magistrates, he abated of his redemption, and went out; Maimony ibidem, chap. 2. sect. 8. the money] Hebrew, the silver: this the Hebrews hold strictly, to be money, not monies worth, as fruits, vessels, or the like. Maimony ibidem, chap. 2. sect. 8. dayes of an hired servant] that is, a precise or set number of dayes, not more nor fewer. So this phrase elsewhere noteth, as in Job 7. 1, 2. Is there not an appointed-time to man upon earth? and are not his dayes like the dayes of an hireling? &c. And in Esa. 16. 14. In three yeeres, as the yeeres of an hireling: and in Esa. 21. 16. yet a yeere, according to the yeeres of an hireling: that is, precisely, without longer day.

Ver. 52. according to his yeeres] As, if he had sold himselfe for an hundred (crownes,) and there remained unto the Jubile, from the yeere of his sale, ten yeeres: he shall reckon ten (crownes) for every yeere that he hath served him, and abate the price of them, and returne the rest in money; Maim. in Servants, chap. 2. sect. 8.

Ver. 53. As an hired servant of the yeere by the yeere] that is, as a yearly hireling: see ver. 50. before thine eyes] that is, thou shalt not suffer the stranger to rule over him with rigour, and thou winke at it. But every Israelite was bound to forbid him this; and because it was a stranger that dwelt in the land, the Magistrates of Israel, might restrain him from rigour.

Ver. 54. by these] Greek, by these things (or means:) that is, neither by others, nor by himselfe, before the Jubile. of Jubile] Greek, of Remission: which was a yeere of full discharge of all servants from the hands of all other masters, that they might be the Lords, and serve him onely. Which thing Christ hath fulfilled for us in truth, who dying in the last Jubile, the acceptable yeere of the Lord; hath set us free from all sinfull servitude; that sin should reign no more in our mortall bodies, nor wee obey it in the lusts thereof; but present our selves unto God, as those that are alive from the dead; and our members as instruments of righteousness unto God, Rom. 6. 11, 12, 13. Joh. 8. 34. 36. Heb. 2. 14, 15.

CHAP. XXVI.

1, God forbidding Idolatry, commanded true Religion. 3, Promiseth blessings to them that keepe his commandments. 14, Threateneth curses to those that breake them. 21, And as their stubbornnesse increaseth, so shall his plagues. 40, He promiseth to remember his covenant at last, towards them that repent.

YE shall not make unto you, idols; neither shall ye reare up unto you, a graven thing, or a pillar, neither shall ye set, any stone of imagerie, in your land; to bow downe your selves unto it: for I Jehovah, am your God. Ye shall keepe, my Sabbath; and reverence, my Sanctuarie: I am Jehovah.

IF ye shall walke, in my statutes: and keep, my commandments; and do them. Then I will

5 I will give you raines, in their season, and the land shall give her increase; and the trees of the field, shall give their fruit. And your threshing, shall reach unto the vintage; and the vintage, shall reach unto the sowing-time: and ye shall eat your bread, to the full; and dwell in confident-safetie, in your land.
 6 And I will give peace, in the land; and yee shall lye-downe, and none shall make you afraid: and I will cause the evill beast to cease, out of the land; and the sword, shall not passe through your land. And yee shall pursue, your enemies: and they shall fall before you, by the sword. And five of you, shall pursue an hundred; and an hundred of you, shall pursue, ten-thousand: and your enemies shall fall, before you, by the sword.
 7 And I will have-respect unto you, and make you fruitfull; and multiply you: and establish my covenant with you. And ye shall eat old store, very-old; and bring-forth the old, because of the new. And I will set my Tabernacle, amongst you: and my soule, shall not lothe you. And I will walk, among you; and will be to you, a God: and you, shall be to me, a people. I am Jehovah your God, which brought you forth, out of the land of Egypt, from being servants to them: and I have broken the staves of your yoke, and made you goe-upright.
 8 But if ye will not hearken, unto mee: and will not doe, all these commandements.
 9 And if ye shall despise my statutes; and if your soule lothe my judgements: so that yee doe not, all my commandements; that 10 yee breake, my covenant. I also will doe this unto you; I will even appoint over you, sudden-terroure, the consumption, and the burning-ague; that consume the eies, and pine-away the soule: and ye shall sow your seed, in vaine; and your enemies, shall 11 eat it. And I will set my face, against you; and ye shall be smitten, before your enemies: and they that hate you, shall rule over you: and yee shall flee, when none pursueth you.
 12 And if yet for these, yee will not hearken unto mee: then I will adde to chastise you, seven times for you sins. And I will breake, the excellencie of your power: and I will make your heavens as yron; and your earth, as brasie. And your strength shall be spent in vaine: and your land shall not give, her increase; and the trees of the land, shall not give their fruit.
 13 And if yee walke with me, contrarie; and be not willing to hearken unto me: then I will adde plagues upon you; seven times, according to your sins. And I will send among you, wilde beasts of the field, which shall rob you of your children; and cut-off your cattell, and make you few: and your waies, shall be desolate.

And if by these, ye will not be chastised, by me: but will walke with me, contrarie. Then will I also, walke with you, contrarie: and even I, will plague you; seven times, for your sinnes. And will bring upon you, a sword; that shall avenge, the vengeance of the covenant; and ye shall be gathered, into your cities: and I will send the pestilence, among you; and yee shall be given, into the hand of the enemy. When I shall breake unto you, the staffe of bread; then ten women shall bake your bread, in the oven; and they shall returne your bread, by weight, and yee shall eat, and not be satisfied.

And if for this, ye will not hearken unto mee: but will walke with mee, contrarie, Then I will walke with you, in wrath contrarie; and I, even I will chastise you; seven times, for your sinnes. And yee shall eat, the flesh of your sons: and the flesh of your daughters, shall yee eat. And I will destroy your high places; and cut-downe your Sunne-images: and cast your carcases, upon the carcases of your filthy idols: and my soule shall lothe you. And I will make your cities, a wast; and will make-desolate, your Sanctuaries: and I will not smel, the smell of your rest. And I, will make the land desolate: and your enemies, which dwell therein, shall be astonished at it. And you, will I scatter, among the heathens; and will draw out a sword, after you: and your land, shall be desolate; and your cities, shall be a wast. Then, shall the land injoy, her Sabbaths; all the daies that it lieth-desolate; and you, in your enemies land: then, shall the land rest, and injoy her Sabbaths. All the daies that it lieth-desolate, it shall rest: for that it rested not, in your Sabbaths, when ye dwelt upon it. And they that are left of you, I will even bring a softnesse, into their heart, in the land of their enemies: and the sound of a driven leafe, shall pursue them; and they shall flee, as fleeing from a sword, and shall fall, when none pursueth. And they shall fall, every man upon his brother, as before a sword, when none pursueth: and yee shall not have, power-to-stand; before your enemies:

38 enemies. And ye shall perish among the heathens: and the land of your enemies, shall 39 eat you up. And they that are left of you, shall pine away in their iniquitie, in your enemies lands: and also, in the iniquitie of their fathers, they shall pine away with them. And
 40 if they shall confesse their iniquitie, and the iniquitie of their fathers; with their transgression, which they transgressed against me: and also, that they have walked with mee,
 41 contrarie. And that I also, have walked with them, contrarie; and have brought them, into the land of their enemies: if then, their uncircumcised heart, be humbled; and then, they accept of their iniquitie. Then will I
 42 remember, my covenant with Jacob: and also, my covenant, with Isaak, and also my covenant with Abraham, will I remember, and I will remember the land. And the land, 43 shall be left of them, and shall enjoy her sabbaths, while it lieth-desolate, without them; and they, shall accept of their iniquitie: because even for-because, they despised my judgements; and their soules loathed my statutes. And yet for all that, when they be in
 44 the land of their enemies; I will not despise them nor loath them, to consume them; to breake my covenant, with them; for, I am 45 Jehovah, their God. But I will remember unto them, the covenant of their Ancestors: them whom I brought forth, out of the land of Egypt, before the eyes of the heathens; to be unto them, a God; I Jehovah. These,
 46 are the Statutes and the Judgements, and the Lawes; which Jehovah gave, betweene him and the sons of Israel: in mount Sinai, by the hand of Moses.

Annotations.

1 [Dols] in Hebrew, Elilim; that is, Vanities, or things of nought: in Greeke, things-made-with-hands. Of these, and the making of them, see the notes on Levit. 19. 4. and Exod. 20. 4. graven thing] which the Chaldee expoundeth, an image: see Ex. 20. 4. pillar] or statue, or standing-image: which hath the name of setting-up, or standing; and seemeth to have been usually of stone; as Isaac set up a stone for a pillar, Gen. 28. 18. and 35. 14. And pillars were set up either for civill monuments; as was the pillar on Rachels grave, Gen. 35. 20. and A'soloms pillar, 2 Sam. 18. 18. or for religious monuments, as were Altars, Gen. 35. 14. Esa. 19. 19. these later are here forbidden, after that God had appointed the place and ordinances of his worship; and he signifieth his hatred of them, in Deu. 16. 22. Yet were they used, not onely by the heathens, as in Egypt, Jer. 43. 13. but by the idolatrous Israelites, 1 Kin. 14. 23. 2 King. 17. 10. The Hebr. say, Massebah (the Pillar or Statue) which the Law forbiddeth, is a building (or edifice) by which all doe gather themselves together, though it be to serve the LORD; because such was the manner of Idolaters; and who so reareth up a Pillar, is to be beaten. Maimony, treat. of Idolatrie, chap. 6. sect. 6. And Sol. Iarchi on Deut. 16. 22. saith, Massebah (the Pillar) is a stone to offer upon; though it be to (the God of) heaven.

[set] or put, lay; Hebrew, give. Whereby also he may forbid the sufferance of such in their land; for elsewhere they are willed to destroy their pictures, Num. 33. 52. and giving is often used for suffering, see Gen. 20. 6. stone of imagerie] or, stone of picture, or of figure, that is, any pictured or figured stone, or image of stone: the Chaldee calleth it, stone of adoration (or of worship) upon or unto which they used to bow downe. Of this word, pictures have their name, Num. 33. 52. Esa. 2. 16. The Hebrews understand this of such stones as wherewith they used to pave their holy places, and bow downe upon them to serve their Gods. The stone of imagerie spoken of in the Law, although a man bow downe himselfe thereupon unto God, be it to be beaten: because it was the manner of Idolaters, to lay a stone before (the Idoll) and to bow downe upon it: therefore they might not doe so unto the LORD; Maimony, treat. of Idolatrie, ch. 6. sect. 6. in your land] The Hebrews understand this Law, of stones upon which they worshipped; doe by the land here, understand all other places save the Sanctuarie, which was paved with stone, upon which they bowed downe. In the Sanctuarie, it was lawfull to bow downe upon the stones; as it is written, IN YOUR LAND: in your land ye may not bow downe upon stones, but ye may bow downe upon the stones wherewith the Sanctuarie is paved. And for this cause, all Israel are wont to lay mats or some such thing, in the Synagogues which are paved with stone, to make a separation betweene their faces and the stones, &c. Maimony ibidem, sect. 7. But this seemeth to favour of superstition, for God forbiddeth not stones simply, but stones of imagerie, which were pictured or graved with figures. unto it] or, upon it; for so both the Hebr. and Chaldee may be englished; but the Gr. translateth, unto it. And the Heb. Doctors, understanding it to be a prohibition of bowing down upon any such stone, though unto the true God, do determine the punishment to be beating by the Magistrate: whereas, if they bowed upon it to an Idoll, they were stoned to death (according to the Law in Deu. 13. 10.) Maimony, treat. of Idolatrie, c. 6. l. 6. 8.

V. 2. Sabbath] in Chaldee, Sabbath daies: see Lev. 19. 3. 30. reverence] or fear: see Lev. 19. 30. where these Lawes were before given; and are here repeated, as generals implying all other religious duties, because God would by promises and threatnings confirme his whole Law, and binde his people to the more carefull obedience.

DDD Here beginneth the three and thirtieth Section or Lecture of the Law, after the Hebrews computation: see Gen. 6. 9.

Verf. 3. Walk in my statutes] This maketh men just before God, Luke 1. 6. and if the Law could give life, life (and were not weake through the flesh, Rom. 8. 3.) verily justice should have bene by the Law, Gal. 3. 21. but when the commandment cometh, Sinne reviveth, and man dieth, Rom. 7. 9. Therefore by the workes of the Law, there shall no flesh be justified in Gods sight, Rom. 3. 20. but the just shall live by faith, Gal. 3. 11. and by faith this condition here required, is fulfilled; as Enoch walked with God, Gen. 5. 24. when hee pleased him by faith, Heb. 11. 5. 6. This then according to the letter, is legall; and promiseth life to them which do these things, Rom. 10. 5. but spiritually leaderth unto Christ, who is the end of the Law, for justice to every one that beleeveth, Gal. 3. 24. Rom. 10. 4.

4 Vers. 4. your raines in Greeke, raie unto you: he meaneth the raine of the land, the first raine, and the latter raine, whereof see Deut. 11. 14. These none can give but God, Jer. 14. 22. they figured spirituall blessings, by the doctrine of the Gospel of Christ, Deut. 32. 2. Psal. 72. 6. 2 Sam. 23. 4. their season that is, due season; so they make the earth fruitfull: and are of the Lords good treasure, which he openeth unto men, Deut. 28. 12. and should move them to feare him, Jer. 5. 24. her increase or, her fruit; which is an effect of the raine, through Gods blessing; for when the showers of blessing come in their season, the tree of the field yeeldeth her fruit, and the earth her increase, Ezek. 36. 26, 27. And this is spiritually applied to our earthly nature, made fruitfull unto God through the raine and dewes of his graces, and so it receiveth of him a blessing, Psal. 67. 7. & 85. 12, 13. Heb. 6. 7, 8. Of the Hebrews, R. Menachem here saith, The land hath a mysticall signification of the land that is on high.

5 Vers. 5. reach unto the vine age or, to the grape-gathering; meaning hereby large blessings, with abundance, and varietie of fruits, continued one after another. The like figurative promises are given to the Church under the Gospel Amos 9. 13. saying, The plowman shall overtake the reaper, and the treader of grapes him that soweth seed. to the full] or, to satietie: this signifieth abundance from God, Joel 2. 26. and contentation in men; as they that are never content, are said, not to know satietie, Esa. 56. 11. and when God with-holdeth increase, they eat, but not to satietie, Hag. 1. 6. Thus God fed them with Manna to the full, Exod. 16. 8. and promiseth so to feed the poore and meeke under Christ, Psa. 132. 15. and 22. 27. The just eateth to the satietie of his soule, Prov. 13. 25. in confident safetie] or, in hopefull securitie, safely. The Hebrew Betach signifieth trust, hope, or confidence, Act. 2. 26. from Psal. 16. which ought to be in God, Psa. 40. 5. whereupon followeth safetie, through his defence, as the Greeke here translateth, ye shall dwell in safetie; and so men are secure and bold, without feare of disturbance, Gen. 34. 25. and in Psal. 78. 53. He led them with confident safetie, and they dreaded not. This, as it is a blessing which God onely giveth, Psalm. 4. 9. so it is promised to the obedient, Prov. 1. 33. and is performed to such as are in the sheep-fold of Christ, Ezek. 34. 25, 27, 28.

6 V. 6. peace] This, though generally it signifieth all prosperitie, yet sometime it is specially opposed to the sword, Mat. 10. 34. and unto warre, Psal. 120. 7. which seemeth to be that which is intended; as the former was against famine.

shall make you afraid] This God promiseth to fulfill under Christ, Jer. 30. 10. Ezek. 34. 28. Mich. 4. 4. cause the evill beasts to cease] that is, as the Greeke translateth, I will destroy evill beasts; one being put for a multitude, or many; and causing being used for utter abolishing, as in Exo. 12. 15. Psal. 119. vers. 119. or at least, for repressing their rage and furie: for in Israel, Lions, Beares, and the like, sometime destroyed the inhabitants, 2 King. 7. 25, 26. and 2. 24. This promise is applied also to the Church under the Gospel, Eze. 34. 25. So in Job 5. 23. The beasts of the field shall be at peace with thee. The contrary followeth in ver. 22. By the evill beasts, R. Menachem here understandeth mystically vicious lusts, The powers of uncleanness, which flow from the unclean Spirit; that they shall not prevail to pollute the land which is on high. So they seeme to call our nature regenerate, as the Apostle calleth the Church, Jerusalem which is on high, Gal. 4. 25. the sword] used ordinarily for warre, when it is spoken of men; but the Lords sword, is explained to be the pestilence, 1 Chro. 21. 12, which may specially be intended here; and so God promiseth blessings; opposed to his foure sore judgments; which are, the sword (or war) the famine, the evill beasts, and the pestilence, mentioned in Ezek. 14. 21. & Rev. 6. 8. Or, if we understand this sword for warres; then under peace aforesaid, may the promise be implied against the sword of the Lord, the pestilence. These blessings, though they concerne this life, yet the end of them is to leade to life eternall; so the Hebrews of old understood them, as their later Doctors (though wandring out of the way of life) doe witness, saying: The holy blessed (God) hath given us a Law, which is the Tree of life; and whosoever doth all that is written therein, and knoweth him with a perfect knowledge, shall thereby be made worthy of the life of the World to come, &c. And he hath promised us in the Law, that if wee doe it with joy and goodnesse of soule, and exercise our selves in the wisdom thereof continually; he will remove from us, all things that may let us from doing it, as sickness, and warre, and famine, and the like. And he will supply us with all good things, that may strengthen our hands to doe the Law; as satietie and peace, and store of silver and gold; that we be not employed all our daies, in the things which the body hath need of; but may be made fit to learne wisdom, and to doe the Commandments, that we may be worthy of the life of the world to come. Maimon in treat. of Repentance, chap. 9. sect. 1. Thus they followed after the Law of righteousness, but attained not to it; because they sought it not by faith in Christ, but as it were by the workes of the Law; for they have stumbled at the stumbling stone, Romanes 9. 31, 32.

Ver. 8. five of you shall pursue an hundred] This promise is enlarged in Jos. 23. 10. One man of you shall pursue a thousand: and was notably performed in Davids Worthies, 1 Chro. 11. of whom, some one lift up his Speare against eight hundred, and slew three hundred at one time, 2 Sam. 23. 8, 18. 1 Chro.

11.11. Three men brake through the host of the Philistines, 1 Chron. 11. 18. Of the Gadites, there were men that had faces like the faces of Lyons, and were as swift as the Roes of the mountaines, 1 Chron. 12. 8. And David himselfe celebrateth this mercie, I pursued mine enemies, and overtook them: and turned not, till I had consumed them, Psal. 18. 38. 2 Sam. 22. 38. See also Deut. 32. 30.

9 Verſ. 9. I will have respect] or turne my face, in Greeke, I will looke upon you and blesse you: and the Chaldee expoundeth it, I will have respect by my word, to doe good unto you. For this grace David prayed, Psal. 25. 16. and 69. 17. and when God delivered Israel from their enemies, it is said, he had respect unto them, because of his covenant, 2 King. 13. 23. The contrary hereto, is the hiding of Gods face, Deut. 32. 20. fruitfull] or, to increase; as he had done before in Egypt, Exod. 1. 7. This blessing is acknowledged, in Nehem. 9. 23. Their children thou multipliſt, as the ſtarres of heauen: and promised to be againe under Christ; I will bring (my sheepe:) again to their folds, and they ſhall be fruitfull, and increase, Jer. 23. 3. establiſh my covenant] that is, faithfully keepe, and continue to doe the things which I have promised: see the notes on Gen. 6. 18.

10 Verſ. 10. very-old] in Greeke, old of old things: this respecteth the increase of their land, as the former did of their bodies. See Levit. 25. 22. because of] or, as the Gr. translateth, from the face of the new: they should bring forth the old, for want of roomth to lay up the new. This fruitfulness of the land, figured the many graces wherewith God would enrich the hearts of his people: as in v. 4. For however God perswadeth his people, by promise of outward blessings, to keepe his Law; yet the end of the commandement is love, out of a pure heart, and of a good conscience, and of faith unfeigned, 1 Tim. 1. 5. and such as for wordly benefits receive the word of the Lord, When tribulation or persecution ariseth, because of the word, by and by they are offended, Mat. 13. 21. The Hebrews say, All love that dependeth on a thing, when the thing ceaseth, the love ceaseth. He that serveth the blessed God, to the end that his riches may be multiplied, or his life preserved; his service is not perfect; as Satan said (in Job 1. 9, 10.) Doth Job feare God for nought? Hast thou not made an bedge about him? &c. He that serveth God because of bodily things, on which his service dependeth; it shall not be confirmed unto light, in the light of the living. For when those things cease, for which he serveth, his love will cease. And there is no eating and drinking in the state of death, whither thou goest. But he that serveth God out of intire love, his love shall be in life everlasting, and shall not depart for ever, and his reward that loveth God, shall be eternall. R. Elias in Reshrish chochmah, treat. of Love, ch. 2. fol. 77. See also the Annotations on Exod. 20. 6.

11 Verſ. 11. ſet my tabernacle] Hebr. give, that is, ſet and ſtabliſh it; for both these waies, is giving expounded by the holy Ghost, as 1 King. 10. 9. compared with 2 Chron. 9. 8. and 2 Sam. 7. 24. with 1 Chron. 17. 22. Gods Tabernacle was a signe of his dwelling in favour amongst them, Rev. 21. 3.

See the Annotations on Exo. 25. 8. The chiefe signification was concerning Christ, who should dwell in the Tabernacle of our flesh; by whom God built againe the Tabernacle of David, which was fallen downe, Act. 15. 16. and in him God was reconciling the world unto himselfe, 2 Cor. 5. 18. and under this figure, eternall life in heaven was implied; For we know, that if our earthly house of this Tabernacle were dissolved, we have a building of God, an house not made with hands, eternall in the heavens, 2 Cor. 5. 1. And that the Israelites had of old, the true understanding of these promises, that they belonged to the daies of Christ, and the end of them was eternall life in heaven; it appeareth by the footsteps which yet remaine in their later Doctors, though they have quenched the light of grace, in labouring to have it by the works of the Law. For they say, For this cause, have all Israel, their Prophets and their Wise men desired the daies of Christ, that they might have rest from the Kingdomes, which will not suffer them to study in the Law, &c. that they might be worthy of the life of the world to come. For in those daies, knowledge and wisdom, and truth shall be multiplied; as it is written, for the earth shall be full of the knowledge of the LORD; (Esa. 11. 9.) it is also written, And they shall teach no more every man his neighbour, &c. (Jer. 31. 34.) againe it is said, And I will take away the stony heart out of your flesh, (Eze. 36. 26.) For that King which shall stand up, of the seed of David, shall be more wise then Solomon, &c. and therefore he shall learne all the people; and teach them the way of the Lord; and all the heathens shall come to heare him, (Mich. 4. 1, 2.) And the end of all the reward, and later goodnesse which is without ceasing and diminishing, that is the life of the world to come. But the daies of Christ are of this world, and the world goeth after the wonted manner, save that the kingdom shall be restored to Israel, Maimonj treat. of Repentance, chap. 9. sect. 2. Thus they speake, missing the right way, by going about to establiſh their owne righteousnessse, Rom. 10. 3. and mistaking Christs kingdom, which though it be in this world, yet is it not of the same, Joh. 18. 36. my soule shall not loſe you] or, not abhorre, not cast you away as vile and lothſome. Man is by nature lothſome through sin; as it is said, Thou waſt caſt-out into the open field, to the loſing of thy ſoule (or person,) in the day that thou waſt borne, Ezek. 16. 5. But through the grace of God in Christ, our bloods are washed away, and we are adorned with the gifts of his spirit, Ezek. 16. 8, 9, 10. So this promise concerneth such as keepe the covenant of God, that they shall not lothſomely be rejected. For my soule, the Chaldee translateth, my word shall not loſe you. So in verſ. 30. Aben Ezra explaineth it thus; And I will ſet my Tabernacle amongst you, and ye shall not feare that ever ye shall come into want: for my glory resideth with you, and it is not in the ſonne of man, whoſe ſoule loſeth to dwell in one place.

Ver. 12. I will walke among you] the Chaldee paraphraſeth, I will cauſe my divine majeſtie to dwell among you; that majeſtie is Christ, who by his spirit is with his Church all daies unto the worlds end, Mat. 28. 20. who walkeſh in the miſt of the ſeven golden Candle-

Candlesticks, Revel. 2. 1. For his people are his Temple wherein he dwelleth, as it is written, Ye are the Temple of the living God, as God hath said, I will dwell in them, and walke in them, 2 Cor. 6. 16. For Gods walking, was in his Tabernacle, 2 Sam. 7. 6. See also Rev. 7. 15. and 21. 3. Under this eternall life was also promised in heaven, whither Christ went to prepare a place for us, and will come againe to receive us unto himselfe; that where he is, there we may be also, Joh. 14. 2, 3. a God] or, for a God: that is, as the Greeke translateth, your God: of which blessing, see the Annotations on Gen. 17. 7.

Ver. 13. from being servants to them] under whom, all sinfull servitude was also signified; from which the Church is redeemed by Christ, as from Sin, Joh. 8. 34, 36. from Satan, Heb. 2. 14, 15. and from bondage to men, in things concerning God, as it is said, Ye are bought with a price, be not ye the servants of men, 1 Cor. 7. 23. slaves of your yoke] or, barres, of your yoke: meaning the bondage of Egypt, and of sin which they were intangled with there, Ezek. 20. 7, 8. For though bonds and yokes signifie civill bondage, as in Jer. 27. 2, 3, 6, 7. 2 Chron. 10. 4. yet the wicked is also holden in the cords of his sin, Pro. 5. 22. And of this, the Church complaineth, The yoke of my trespasses, is bound by his hand; they are increased, they are come-up upon my necke, Lam. 1. 14. And from this, Christ hath freed us, as it was promised, his yoke (shall be removed) from off thy necke, and the yoke shall be destroyed, because of the Oile, (that is, for Christs sake:) Esa. 10. 27. So in Ezek. 34. 24, 27. Jer. 2. 20. Contrariwise, for their sins, God threatneth them with a yoke of iron, Deut. 28. 48. The Hebrew Mos, is properly a staffe, Numb. 13. 23. and so is used for the staves or barres of yokes, and for yokes themselves, as in Jer. 27. 2. where it is joyned with bonds, wherewith the staves of the yoke are tyed. made you goe upright] or, with upright-stature; not stooping, as under the yoke: so the Chaldee saith, I led you forth into freedom, and the Greeke, I led you with boldnesse. This also figured our redemption by Christ, whereby the Churches stature is made upright and tall, like the Palme trees, Song 7. 7. which grace, when Israel rejected, God bowed-downe their backe away, Romanes 11. 10.

14

Verf. 14. not hearken to me] that is, as the Greeke saith, not obey me; and the Chaldee, not receive my word. So in verse 18. Here followeth many more threatnings, whereby God prophesied of their falling from him, and his judgments upon them, till they should be restored by grace, verf. 44, 45. So in Deut. 28.

Verf. 15. despise] or, contemptuously reject, as Israel did, 2 King. 17. 15. Jer. 6. 19. Ezek. 5. 6. and 20. 13. 24. hate] or abhorre, as after (in verf. 43.) he telleth they would doe; for which he repayed them according, as the Prophet saith; Hath thy soule loathed Sion? why hast thou smitten us, and there is, no healing for us? Jer. 14. 19. all my Commandments] with this also they are charged, in Jer. 32. 23. whatsoever thou commandest them to doe, they have not done. breake] or, make-frustrate, as Gen. 17. 14. and this God forerelleth Moses that Israel would doe, Deu. 31. 16, 20. & complaineth to Jeremy, that they had done it, Jer. 11. 10. & other Prophets charge them with the like, Esa. 24. 5. Eze. 16. 59. To breake the covenant, is expounded by the Apostle, not continuing in it, Heb. 8. 9. from Jer. 31. 32. as on the contrary, to confirm it, is to continue in doing all things commanded, Deut. 27. 26. with Gal. 3. 10.

Ver. 16. appoint] or, constitute, give-charge, as that which should have authoritie over them, shewing the power of Gods judgement. Compare Psalm. 109. 6. sudden-terror] speedy plagues which shall consume in halte: the performance whereof is shewed in Psal. 78. 33. he consumeth their daies with sudden-terror. So in Jer. 15. 8. Zeph. 1. 18. consumption] or, shaking-ague; in Greeke, scabbednesse: so in Deut. 28. 22. and elsewhere the word is not used. the burning-ague] or, fever: the Greeke here translateth it, the Iandife; but better in Deut. 28. 22. the fever, or ague: which hath the name originally of burning. This disease, Christ cured, on such as were ready to dye therewith, Luke 4. 38, 39. Joh. 4. 47, 52. that consume] or make faile; in Chaldee, that darken the eyes: this is referred to all the former diseases; and the Greek interpreteth it by a word that signifieth consuming with unnaturall heat. Of this consuming of the eyes, David complaineth in the person of Christ, Psalm. 69. 4. pine-away] make languish, with sorrow, care, paine and hunger; as in Jer. 31. 25. filling is opposed to the pining soule: the Greek translateth, make your soule to melt away. The word is applied also to the languishing of the eyes, Psalm. 88. 10. but here, and in Deut. 28. 65. to the pining or languishing-sorrow of the soule, meaning of the whole man, or life; as the Chaldee here translateth it, the breathing-out of the soule. enemies shall eat it] The like is threatned in Deut. 28. 33, 51. and by other Prophets; as, Loe I will bring a Nation on you from farre, &c. and they shall eat up thine harvest, and thy bread, which thy sonnes and thy daughters should eat: they shall eat up thy flockes, and thine herds; they shall eat up thy vines, and thy fig-trees, Jerem. 5. 17. The contrarie is promised in Christ, They shall not plow, and another eat, &c. they shall not labour in vaine, Esa. 65. 22, 23. And the Lord hath sworne, Surely I will no more give thy corne, to be meat for thine enemies, Esa. 62. 8.

Verf. 17. set my face] Hebr. give my face, which the Chaldee translateth, mine anger: so face is used for anger, Levit. 20. 5, 6. Psalm. 21. 10. smitten] that is, as the Chaldee expoundeth, broken; in Gr. ye shall fall before your enemies. Contrary to the blessing in verf. 7, 8. and Deut. 28. 7. This judgement was executed, Judg. 2. 14. 1 Sam. 4. 2. and often. rule over you] in Greeke, persecute you. This was verified, Psalm. 106. 41. They that hated them, ruled over them; and in Nehem. 9. 28. After they had rest, they returned to doe evill before thee: therefore thou leftest them in the hand of their enemies, so that they had the dominion over them. But when God sheweth mercie to Israel, he promiseth, They shall rule over their oppressours, Esa. 14. 2. none pursueth] This sheweth great fearfulnesse of heart, through guiltguiltinesse of conscience for sinne; fearing where no feare is, Psal. 53. 6. So in Pro. 28. 1. The wicked flee, when no man pursueth. Hereof there is a lively description in Iob 15. 20, 21. &c. and the contrary in Psalme 27. 1, 2. &c.

18 Verſ. 18. not hearken] or, not obey; in Chaldee, not receive my word: as verſ. 14. Here God, to ſhew his long-ſufferance, and the more to affect his people, chaſtiſeth by degrees, according to the meaſure of their finnes, and prophetieth of their ſtubborneſſe, who would not amend with light puniſhments; whereof he after complaineth thus, In vaine have I ſmiten your children, they received no correſſion: Ieremie 2. 30. ſeven times] a certaine number, for an uncertaine, meaning many times; ſeven is a complete number, as is noted on Gen. 33. 3. Levit. 4. 6.

19 Verſ. 19. the excellencie] or, the pompe, pride, haughtineſſe of your ſtrength; called elſewhere, the excellencie (or pomp) of the ſtrong-ones; Ezek. 7. 24. This is in particular, applied to their Sanctuarie and religion, in Ezek. 24. 21. Behold I will proſane my Sanctuarie; the excellencie of your ſtrength, the deſire of your eyes, and the pitie of your ſoule. Though it implieth generally all other things, wherein ſtrength and excellencie doe conſiſt: ſee Ezek. 30. 6. 18, and 33. 28. will make] Hebr. will give your bea-

views, that is, as the Chaldee tranſlateth, the heavens that are over you: and ſo Moſes expoundeth it in Deut. 28. 23. as yron] the Chaldee explaineth it, hard as yron, that they ſhall not give downe

raie; and the earth that is under you, ſtrong as braſſe, that it ſhall yeeld no fruit. So in Deut. 28. 23. ſave that there Moſes likeneth the heavens to braſſe, and the earth to yron. This is contrary to the bleſſing promiſed in verſe 4. And the complement hereof is ſhewed in Ier. 14. 1, 2. &c. where a dearth is mentioned for which Iudah mourned, her gates languiſhed, the cry of Ieruſalem aſcended; their Nobles ſent their little ones for water, but they found none, they returned with the veſſells empty; the ground was chapt, for there was no raine in the earth: the Hind calved in the field, and forſooke it; the wilde aſſes ſnuffed up the wind, and their eyes fayled, becauſe there was no graſſe.

20 Verſ. 20. her increaſe] the increaſe, or fruit expected; or which otherwiſe it ſhould naturally yeeld; ſo in Genes 4. 12. And this is an effect of the former reſtraining of raine, as Hag. 1. 10. Deuter. 11. 17. The word increaſe, is in Greeke tranſlated ſporon, ſeed ſowne; and ſo Paul uſeth it in like ſenſe, ſaying, hee that miniſtreth ſeed to the ſower, &c. multiply your ſeed-ſowne; (that is, your increaſe;) 2 Corin. 9. 10. the trees] the complement hereof is ſhewed, in Iob 1. 12. The vine is dried up, and the fig tree languiſheth; the pomegranate-tree, the palme tree alſo and the apple-tree, all the trees of the field are withered. their fruit] the fruit which naturally they ſhould bring forth. So another Prophet ſaith; There ſhall be no grapes on the vine, nor figges on the figtree; and the leaſe ſhall fade, and the things that I have given them, ſhall paſſe away from them, Ier. 8. 13.

21 Verſe 21. contrarie] Hebr. in contrarietie, (which word in, is added in verſe 27.) or, at all-adventure,

by chance. The Hebrew Kari, ſignifieth both contrarietie, and chance or accident: the Greeke tranſlateth it contrary (or thwart) as oppoſing themſelves to God and his commandements: the Chaldee expoundeth it, if ye walke before me with hardneſſe, (that is, ſtubbornely.) If we underſtand it for chance or adventure, the meaning is to walke careleſſly, come upon it what will; and to eſteeme the puniſhments not as from the hand of God for their fins, but to come by chance, as the Philiftines ſaid, in 1 Sam. 6. 9. then we ſhall know that it is not (the LORDS) hand that ſmote us; it was a chance that happened to us. This latter the Hebrewes follow; for ſpeaking of tribulations upon them, they ſay, If men cry not to the Lord, but ſay, this thing happeneth to us according to the cuſtome of the world, and this tribulation is a chance that hath befallen us; then is this the way of cruelty, and occaſioneth them to cleave ſtill unto their evil workes, and this tribulation, ſhall adde other tribulations, as it is written (in Lev. 26, 27, 28.) and (if) ye walke with me by chance, then I will walke with you in wrath (or heat) of chance: as if he ſhould ſay, when tribulation cometh on you, to the end you might repent, if you ſay it is a chance, I will adde unto you the hot-wrath of that chance. Maimonides in Mifn. tom. 1. in Taamoth, (or treat. of Humiliation) ch. 1. ſect. 3. not willing to hearken] or, will not obey; which the Chaldee expoundeth, will not receive my word. An higher degree of obſtinacie is here foreſeene and prophesied of this people; the complement whereof, the Prophet bewaileth, ſaying, Oh Lord, thou haſt ſtricken them, but they have not grieved; thou haſt conſumed them, but they have refuſed to receive correſſion: they have made their faces harder then a Rocke, they have refuſed to returne, Ier. 5. 3.

Verſ. 22. wilde beaſts] as God ſent fierie ſerpents, Num. 21. 6. Lions, 2 King. 17. 25. Beares, 2 King. 2. 24. and threatneth other the like, Eſa. 13. 21, 22. And ſpiritually, theſe are wicked rulers, and tyrants that kill and ſpoile, as Prov. 28. 15. Dan. 7. 3, 4, 5, 6. Psal. 80. 13. and falſe Prophets that devoure ſoules, Mat. 7. 15. Rev. 13. 1, 2. &c. So the Prophet (ſpeaking of their puniſhments by Tyrants) ſaith, A Lion out of the foreſt ſhall ſlay them; a Wolfe of the evenings, ſhall ſpoile them; a Leopard, ſhall watch over their cities; every one that goeth out thence, ſhall be torne in pieces, becauſe their tranſgreſſions are many, &c. Ierem. 5. 6. And of their Prophets he ſaith, O Iſrael, thy Prophets, are like the Foxes in the deſerts; Ezek. 13. 4. See alſo Ier. 8. 17. and 15. 3. deſolate] or he-waſte, becauſe there ſhall be none walking in them; Eſa. 33. 8. Ezek. 14. 15. For this Ieremie lamented, The wayes of Sion doe mourne, becauſe none come to the ſolemne-feaſts, Lam. 1. 4.

Verſ. 23. hyme] or to me, that is, ſo as to obey me; the Chaldee ſaith, to my word. contrarie] or, ſtubbornely; or, at all adventures, as verſe 21.

Verſe 24. contrarie] Hebrew in contrarietie; Chaldee in hardneſſe; the Greeke addeth, with contrary wrath, as in verſe 28. GOD dealth with men according to their wickedneſſe and with the ſroward, he ſheweth himſelfe wry, Psal. 18. 27.

Verſe 25. a ſword] the Chaldee explaineth it;

it them that kill with the sword: see before on vers. 6. vengeance of the covenant] meaning the covenant between God and his people, which was the Law; as the Chaldee expoundeth it; and it shall avenge on you, the vengeance for that ye have transgressed against the words of the Law. So in Jer. 50. 28. he mentioneth the vengeance of the Lords Temple, that is, the punishment of the Babylonians, for robbing and burning his Temple. ye shall be gathered] to weat, for feare of the sword, the Greeke translateth, ye shall flee into your cities. the pestilence] in Greeke and Chaldee, death; see the annotations on Exo. 5. 3. It implieth the cutting off by death, of man and beast, as Ezek. 14. 19, 21.

26 Vers. 26. break unto you the staffe of bread] that is, take from you the bread, which is the staffe (or sustentation) of life. So the Greeke translateth, when I shall afflict you with penury of bread. For as to break bread, meaneth to communicate food, Aët. 2. 46. so to break the staffe of bread, meaneth on the contrary, to take away food, and to punish with penury and famine, Psal. 105. 16. Ezek. 4. 16. and 5. 16. and 14. 13. Bread is called a staffe, (or stay) because it upholdeth the heart of man, Psal. 104. 15. then ten] Hebr. and ten, that is, many: so ten often signifieth many, as Gen. 31. 7. Zach. 8. 23. Iob 19. 3. by weight] a signe of scarcitie and want; Revel. 6. 5, 6. So it is said, I will break the staffe of bread in Ierusalem, and they shall eat bread by weight, and with care, and they shall drinke water by measure, and with astonishment: that they may want bread and water, and be astonished one with another, and consume away for their iniquitie, Ezek. 4. 16, 17. not be satisfied] or, not have enough; either for the small quantitie, or for want of Gods blessing on that they eat: so in Hof. 4. 10. Mic. 6. 14. This is opposed to the former blessing, in v. 5. And under it, a spirituall famine is implied, as it is said, I will send a famine in the land; not a famine of bread, nor a thirst for water, but of hearing the words of the Lord: and they shall wander from sea to sea, and from the North even to the East they shall run to and fro, & seeke the word of the Lord, and shall not finde it, Amos 8. 11, 12.

27 Vers. 27. not hearken] or, not obey; in Chaldee, not receive my Word, as in verse 21. contrarie] Heb. in contrarietie; or, by chance: see the notes on v. 21.

28 Vers. 28. in wrath contrary] Heb. in wrath (or heat) of contrarietie (or of all adventures,) which the Chaldee translateth, in strength (or vehementie) of anger: the Greeke, in contrary (or thwart) wrath. And the word wrath here added, sheweth the increase of Gods judgements, as of the peoples finnes. even I] This addition was, lest they should impute their chastisements, to any other then God, (as the heathens did to Chance, 1 Sam. 6. 9.) and to note the certainty and inevitableness of their afflictions.

29 Vers. 29. the flesh of your sonnes] in Greeke, the flesh; and so the word is used plurally in Rev. 19. 18. This threatening is repeated and enlarged, in Deuteronomie 28. 53. 57. mentioned also in Ezek. 5. 10. fulfilled in Iehorams dayes, 2 King. 6. 29. and lamented in Ieremies, who saith, The hands of the pittifull women, have sodden their owne children:

they were their meat, in the destruction of the daughter of my people; Lam. 4. 10.

30 Vers. 30. will destroy your high places] in Greeke, will make desolate your pillars. In high-places, they used to assemble for worship and sacrifice, 2 Chr. 1. 3. 1 King. 3. 4. especially the Idolaters erected and used such, Jer. 32. 35. Ezek. 16. 16. 2 Chro. 11. 15. and 33. 3. though all the Prophets foretold their destruction, as doth Moses; Hof. 10. 8. Amos 7. 9. Ezek. 6. 3, 4, 6. And by high-places, understand buildings erected; as of Iosiah it is said, be burnt an high place, and stamp it small to powder: 2 King. 23. 15. Sum-images] called in Hebrew, Chammamim, of Chammah, the Summe, which Idolaters were wont to worship, 2 Chro. 23. 5. and the Kings of Iudah gave horses to the Sum, and charrets, 2 King. 23. 11. and these Summe-images, they used to set on high, above the Altar, 2 Chronicles 34. 4. And God here threatneth their ruine, as also in Ezek. 6. 4, 6. The Greeke here translateth them wooden-images made with hands; but in Esa. 27. 9. idols.

cast your carcases] or lay; Hebr. give your carcases, that they shall not have seemely buriall, or be suffered to rest in their graves; as in Ezek. 6. 4, 5, 13. he saith, I will cast downe your staine men before your filthy idols; and I will give the carcases of the summes of Israel, before their filthy idols; and will scatter your bones, round about your altars. And in Ierem. 8. 1, 2. At that time saith the Lord, they shall bring out the bones of the Kings of Iudah, and the bones of his Princes, and the bones of the Priestis, and the bones of the Prophets, and the bones of the inhabitants of Ierusalem out of their graves: and they shall spread them before the Sum, and the Moone, and all the host of heaven, &c. they shall not be gathered, nor be buried; they shall be for dung, upon the face of the earth. This judgement Iosiah fulfilled in part, when he burnt the bones of the Priestis upon the altars; 2 Chro. 34. 5. 2 King. 23. 20. But specially it was accomplished by the heathens that destroyed them; Psa. 79. 1, 2, 3. filthy idols] or dawnghit-gods, so called in contempt Gillulim, Excrements or Dung; the Gr. and Chaldee, here and often, translate them idols. my soule] in Chaldee, my Word shall loath (or abhorre) you. This is opposed unto the promise, in verse 11. and it is manifested by Gods judgments on this people, as the Prophet complaineth, Hath thy soule loathed Sion? Why hast thou smitten us, and there is no healing for us? &c. Ierem. 14. 19.

31 Vers. 31. a waste] or, a dry-place, a desert: so in verse 33. This was fulfilled even on Ierusalem it selfe, Nehem. 2. 17. So that not onely their idols and idolatrous monuments, but their common wealth, and most religious places were ruinate. And so by another Prophet he saith, I will make Ierusalem heapes, a denne of Dragons; and I will make the cities of Iudah a desolation, without an inhabitant, Ier. 9. 11. your Sanctuaries] or, as the Greeke translateth, your holy-places: such as were the Tabernacle, (called a Sanctuarie, Exodus 25. 8.) and the Temple, 1 Chronicles 22. 19. and each of them, for the sundry roomths in them, (as the courtyard, holy and most holy place,) was called plurally, Sanctuaries, Psal. 73. 17. and 74. 7. Ier. 51. 51.

The desolation of these is bewailed in Lam. 2. 7. And this judgement is opposed to that blessing in verse 11. I will set my Tabernacle amongst you. The Hebrewes referre this word Sanctuaries, to their Synagogues also, which they had in all their cities for the people to meet in on the Sabbathes, Luk. 4. 16. the ruinating of them, is complained of in Pla. 74. 8. they have burned all the Synagogues of God in the land. They had also Schooles or Academies, for trayning up their youth in the learning of the Law: such scholars of old were called Sonnes of the Prophets, 2 King. 2. 3. and 4. 38. and 5. 22. in ages following, they were named Disciples, Mar. 2. 18. The rites and orders of these, are in the Hebrew canons described thus. Schoolemasters were to be appointed in every province, & in every citie. And the master sate and taught them all the day long, and some part of the night; to traine them up for to learne both day and night. Five and twentie scholars, did learne by one Teacher: if there were more, from five and twenty unto fortie, then they set another with him, to helpe him to teach them: if they were more then fortie, they set them up two schoolemasters. They might not teach the Law, save to a Disciple of honest and good conversation: but if he walked in a way not good, they first converted him unto goodnesse, and guided him into the right way, and made triall of him, and afterwards they received him into the Academie, (which they called in their tongue Beth hammid rash, that is, an House of exposition, or studie,) and did teach him. The master sate in the chiefe place, and the disciples were in a round before him like a crowne; that they might all see the master and heare his words. And the Master sate not on a seat, & the Disciples on the ground: but either all on the ground, or all on seats. If when the Master taught, the Disciples understood him not: he might not bee angry with them, but must againe repeat the thing, though it were many times, untill they understood the matter. Also the Disciple might not say, he did understand, when he understood not: but was to aske againe, though it were many times. Two might not ask together, nor aske the master of any other thing, then that wherein they studied. They might not sleepe in the schoole, nor talke there of any other matter, then of (Gods) Law onely: for the holinesse of the schoole, was greater than the holinesse of the Synagogue. These and other like orders, are shewed by Maimony, in Talmud Thorab, chapter 2. and 4. Now touching the Synagogues, they write, that every place wherein there were tenne men of Israel, it was necessary that they should prepare there an house, wherein to assemble for prayer, at all time of prayer. And this place they called Beth haemesh, an house of Assemblies, (in the Greeke a Synagogue.) And the citizens were to bee compelled to build them a Synagogue, and to buy them a Booke of the Law, Prophets, and (other holy) Scriptures. When they built a Synagogue, it was on the highest place of the citie, and builded higher then all other houses, (as they gather from Proverbs 8. 1, 2.) And they set a pulpit in the house, for him to goe up into, that did read the Law, or was to speake unto the people. They had also in the Synagogue an Arke (or Coffer,) wherein the Booke of the Law (the Bible) was kept. The Elders sate first, with their faces towards the people; and all the people sate, one row before another, and the faces of the one row, towards the backes of the row that was before them: so the faces of all the people, were towards the Elders, and towards the Arke. And when Shelich shibbur (that is, the Messenger, or Minister, of the congregation,) stood at prayer, hee stood one the ground before the Arke, as the rest of the people. In the land of Ganaan, and those parts, they used to lay mattes on the floore, to sit upon: but in the cities of Edom, (so they call the Romane Empire,) they sate in their Synagogues upon bankes or seats. In the Synagogues and Schooles, they might use no lightnesse, laughing, playing, vaine talking, eating, drinking, walking, or the like: neither in hot weather, might they goe into them from the heat, nor in rainy wheather from the raine; nor call up any accounts or reckonings in them; except they were such reckonings as were commanded, as the coffers for almes to the poore, and redemption of prisoners, and the like. If the Synagogue or Schoole had two doores; they might not goe in at the one doore and out at the other, to shorten their way: for it was not lawfull to goe into them, save for the things commanded: But who so went in to pray, or to reade, might goe out at the doore over against him, the neere way. Synagogues and Schooles, though they were ruined, yet they remained (as they say) in their holinesse, as it is written in Leviticus 25. 31. I will make desolate your Sanctuaries: though they bee desolate, yet they continue in their holinesse. They might not pull downe a Synagogue, to build another in the same, or in another place: but first they builded another, and afterward pulled downe the former; lest any violence should befall them, and it should not bee builded. It was lawfull to make a Schoole of a Synagogue, but not a Synagogue of a Schoole: because the holinesse of a Schoole, was above the holinesse of a Synagogue; and they were to ascend in holinesse, but not to descend. And if the citizens sold a Synagogue, they might buy an Arke with the money, or a Bible: But if they sold a Bible, they might buy nothing, with the money save another Bible; for there is no holinesse (say they) above the holinesse of the Booke of the Law (or Bible.) As they might sell a Synagogue, so they might give it for a Gift: but they might not let it out to hire, nor mortgage it, &c. Maimony in Mishneh treatise of Prayer, chap. 11. Of these Synagogues, though there bee no expresse mention in Moses; yet the Apostle James testifieth, that Moses of old time had in every Citie them that preached him, being read in the Synagogues every Sabbath day, Act. 15. 21. And Iesus in the Synagogue of Nazareth, stood up for to read, and there was delivered unto him, the booke of the Prophet Esaias; which when hee had opened and read, hee closed the booke, and gave it againe to the Minister; and hee sat downe, and taught the people, Luke 4.16.17.-20. and in the Synagogues usually on the Sabbaths, there was the reading of the Law and Prophets, and preaching afterwards: Acts 13.14.15.16. &c. And for the Schoole, the name is used in Act. 19. where Paul having disputed and perswaded the things concerning the kingdome of God, for the space of three moneths, in the Synagogue: when divers were hardened, and beleevd not, but spake evill of that way before the multitude; hee departed from them, and separated the Disciples, disputing daily in the Schoole of one Tyrannus, (which the Syriack explaineth thus, hee separated the Disciples from them, and spake daily with them, in the Schoole of a man whose name was Tyrannus: and the Arabick likewise saith, hee instructed them daily, in the house of a man named Tyrannus:) and this continued by the space of two yeares, Acts 19.8.9.10. They are reported to have had of old, above foure hundred Schooles and Synagogues in Jerusalem; and there was a place in the Temple where our Lord Jesus was found, when he was twelve yeares of age, sitting in the midst of the Doctors, both hearing them, and asking them questions: Luk. 2.46. And that there were Synagogues in Jerusalem besides the Temple, appeareth by Pauls words unto Felix, They neither found me in the Temple disputing with any man, nor raising up the people, neither in the Synagogues, nor in the Citie, (speaking of Jerusalem:) Act. 24.12. I will not smell] that is, as the Chaldee openeth it, I will not accept with favour: and so the phrase is used in 1 Sam. 26.19: If the Lord have stirred thee up against mee, let him smell an offering: and in Amos 5.21. I will not smell, in your solemne assemblies; that is, not accept with favour the oblation of your solemne assemblie, as the Chaldee there interprets it. Compare Gen. 8.21. This judgment is opposed to that blessing in ver. 12. I will walke among you. the smell of your rest] that is, of your sacrifices of sweet, and so the Greeke translateth it, the smell (or savour) of your sacrifices: and the Chaldee, the offering of your congregation. So the word fire-offering (or sacrifice) elsewhere expressed, is here to be understood. See Levit. 1.9. and 2.12.

32 Ver. 32. the land] in Greeke, your land. So in Ezek. 33.28,29. I will lay the land most desolate, and the Pompe of her strength shall cease, and the mountaines of Israel shall be desolate, that none shall passe through. And they shall know that I am Iehovah, when I have laid the land most desolate, because of all their abominations which they have committed. The fulfilling hereof is shewed by the Prophets, Esa. 1.7,8. even the mountaine of Zion was desolate, the Foxes walked upon it, Lam. 5.18.

33 V. 33 scatter] or fan, that is, scatter as chaffe. Of this they complaine in Ps. 44.12. Thou hast fanned us among the nations. And in Zach. 7.14. I scattered them with a whirlwinde among all the nations, whom they knew not: thus the land was desolate after them, &c. This is opposed to that blessing in v. 5. Ye shall dwell in confident safetie in your land, a sword] that is, as the Chaldee explaineth it, them that kill with the sword. The like is threatned in Ier. 9.16. and in Ezek. 12.14,15. and 52. This is contrarie to that blessing in v. 6. the sword shall not passe through your land.

V. 34. enjoy] accept, as v. 41. or, pay, accomplish her Sabbaths: meaning her seventh yeeres, which the Chaldee calleth releases, (or remissions) whereof see Lev. 25.2. Deut. 15.1. So the word is used for paying or accomplishing, as in Iob. 14.6. till he accomplish as an hireling, his day; though there also it may meane, a contented-acceptation, and enjoying of that which was desired.

V. 35. it shall rest] or, it shall keep sabbath; both from the people, the unworthy inhabitants; and from their tillage thereof, as the law required, Lev. 25.4. Which being a precept figuring the sanctimonie of the church, was not kept, whiles they defiled the land by their iniquities, as Lev. 18.27. Wherefore whiles the land lay desolate, it should as it were be well pleased, and contentedly enjoy the rest which God would give it, from their sinning upon it. This was fulfilled, when they were 70. yeeres captives in Babylon; as appeareth by 2 Chr. 36.21. where it is said, Vntill the land had enjoyed her Sabbaths: as long as she lay desolate, she kept Sabbath, so fulfill seven tie yeeres. rested not in your sabbaths] This sheweth, that it was not the outward rest and intermission of the land, which God chiefly intended by that law, Lev. 25. (for those Rests, the land enjoyed,) but the resting from sinne, by the people that dwelt thereon: even as the Sabbath day, was also a signe of their sanctification. See the notes on Levit. 25.4.

Ver. 36. a softnesse] or tendernesse, that is, a faintnes or fearesubnesse, and as the Chaldee translateth it, a breaking or discouragement. So softnesse, is used for faintnesse or want of courage in Deut. 20.3. Esa. 7.4. 2 Chron. 13.7. a driven lease] or a tossed lease, which the Greeke translateth caried, meaning with the winde: and as in Targum Jonathan it is explained, a lease that is plucked from the tree. This judgment in Iob 15.21,22. is opened thus, A sound of feares is in his eares; in peace the destroyer will come upon him; he beleeveth not to returne out of darknesse; and he is waited for of the sword: &c. as fleeing from a sword] Hebr. the flight of a sword; which the Greeke explaineth as they that flee from battell; and the Chaldee, as a flight from before them that kill with the sword. So Solomon saith, The wicked fleeth, when no man pursueth, Prov. 28.1.

Ver. 37. shall fall] or, stumble-downe, through weaknesse; or through haste as they flee, they shall fall one on another. before a sword] Chaldee, before them that kill with sword. power-to-stand] Heb. standing or uprightnesse; contrary to the blessing in verse 13. The Greeke translateth, ye shall not be able to withstand your enemies.

Ver. 38. shall perish, &c.] or, shall be lost. The fulfilling hereof is shewed in Ier. 50.6. My people hath bene perishing (or lost) sheepe, their shepheards have caused them to goe astray, &c. Unto this curse of the Law, the promise of grace under the Gospell is opposed in Esa. 27.13. They shall come which are perishing in the land of Assyria, and the Outcasts

in

in the land of Egypt; and shall worship Iehovah, in the holy mount at Ierusalem. eat you up] in Chaldee, consume you: that is, ye shall dye in the land of your captivitie.

39 Verſ. 39. pine-away] in Chaldee, melt away: to pine in iniquitie, is to consume and periſh in the puniſhment for Iniquitie: whereupon this people complained, If our tranſgreſſions and our finnes be upon us, and we pine-away in them; how ſhould we then live? Ezek 33.10. See alſo Ezek. 24.23. It may like- wiſe imply the beginning of grace in them that are left, (the remnant according to the election of grace, Romans 11.5.) who by their chaſtiſements are brought to a ſight and forrow for their ſins: as in Ezek. 36.31. ye ſhall lothe your ſelves in your own ſight, for your iniquities. of their fathers] the Chaldee expoundeth it, in the ſins of their evil fathers, which they retain in their hands, they ſhall melt-away with them.

40 Verſ. 40. And they ſhall] that is, And if they ſhall confeſſe: as the word If is underſtood in Exo. 4.23. Mal. 1.2. and 3.8. Such a confeſſion Daniel made, in Dan. 9.3, 4, 5, &c. and Nehemiah, Neh. 1.4, 5, 6, 7, &c. and 9.1, 2, 29, 30. when with faſting and prayer they confeſſed their owne and their fore- fathers finnes. And from hence the Hebrewes doe gather, that they ſhould humble themſelves and faſt certaine daies in the yeer, for the calamities that have befallen their forefathers; (ſuch dayes as are ſpoken of in Zach. 7.3, 5. and 8.19. & other the like;) wherin they ſtir up their hearts unto repentance, by memoriall of their own evil deeds, & the deeds of their fathers, which cauſed thoſe diſtreſſes to come upo them. Moreover they ſay, Who ſo ſeeeth the cities of Iudah in their deſolation, ſaith, I by holy cities are a wilderneſſe [as in Eſa. 64.10] and rendeth his clothes. If he ſee Ierusalem in her deſolation, he ſaith, Ierusalem is a wilderneſſe &c. If he ſee the Sanctuary deſolate, he ſaith, Our holy and our beautifull houſe, &c. [as in Eſa. 64.11.] and rendeth his clothes. He rendeth them with his hand, all the clothes that are upon him, untill he be naked down to the heart. And he never ſoweth up thoſe rent places more. But all their faſts (they ſay) ſhall ceaſe in the dayes of Chriſt: and not ſo ſoonely, but they ſhall be turned to a good day (or feſtivitye,) and to dayes of joy and mirth; as it is writtten (in Zach. 8.19.) Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts; the faſt of the fourth (month) and the faſt of the fiſt, and the faſt of the ſeventh, and the faſt of the tenth, ſhall be to the houſe of Iudah joy and gladneſſe, and chearefull ſolemne-feaſts: therefore love the truth and peace. Maim. tom. 1. in Taaniot, chap. 5. ſect. 1. 16.-19. Thus are the unbelievers left to mourne and pine away in their iniquities, & they faſt not at all unto the Lord, but as he cried & they would not heare; ſo they cry and he will not heare: be- cauſe they have reſuſed Chriſt who is our Peace; and whoſe glory dwelt amongſt us, full of grace and truth, Zach. 7.5, 13. Eph. 2.14. Ioh. 1.11, 14.

againſt me] in Chaldee, againſt my word. con- trary] Hebr. in contrarietie: Chaldee, in hardneſſe, (stubbornely) as verſ. 21.27.

41 Verſ. 41. uncircumciſed heart] which the Chaldee expoundeth groſſe (or fooliſh) heart; and Targum Iſonathan, their proud heart. It meaneth alſo an unbelieving and diſobedient heart, which reſiſted the Spirit of God; according to that ſaying, Tee ſtiſſe necked and uncircumciſed in heart, and eares, ye doe alwayes reſiſt the holy Ghoſt: Act. 7.51. This he ſpeaketh, becauſe the true circumciſion is in the heart, and in the ſpirit, Romans 2.29. whereup- on the Prophet complaineth, all the houſe of Iſrael, are uncircumciſed in heart, Ierem. 9.26. what uncir- cumciſion is, ſee Genes. 17.

be humbled] or, be bowed downe; which the Greeke tranſlateth, be aſhamed; the Chaldee, be broken. It is oppoſed un- to pride, 2 Chron. 32. 26. Iob. 40. 12. and im- plieth their repentance, and turning to the Lord, as in 2 Chronicles 30. 11. Whereupon God ſaith, If my people, upon whom my name is called, ſhall hum- ble themſelves, and pray, and ſeeke my face, and turne from their wicked wayes: then will I heare from heaven, and will forgive their ſinne, &c. 2 Chronicles 7. 14.

accept of their iniquitie] that is, of the puniſh- ment of their iniquitie; as iniquity and ſinne, is often uſed for puniſhment, Genes. 19 15. Leviticus 20. 17. 19. 20. and to accept of that, is willingly to beare it, and contentedly to injoy it, (the word before uſed in verſe 34. where the land ſhould injoy her Sabbaths;) or pay for the ſame. This phraſe is uſed in Eſay 40. 2. where Ierusalem is comforted, becauſe her iniquitie is accepted of, (or payed;) when ſhe hath received of the Lords hand, double for all her finnes.

Verſ. 42. Then will I] Hebr. And I will remem- ber. This remembrance of God, ſignifieth his perfor- mance of the thing promiſed; as he ſaith, I have remembered my covenant, &c. and I will bring you out from under the burdens of the Egyptians, &c. Exod 6. 5, 6. So our remembering of Gods precepts, is ex- pounded for to doe them, Pſal. 103. 18. And under this promiſe, Gods mercy towards them is impli- ed; as Moſes elſewhere ſaith, For Iehovah thy God, is a mercifull God, he will not forſake thee, neither de- ſtroy thee, nor forget the covenant of thy fathers, which he ſware unto them. Deut. 4. 31. And David: And he remembered for them his covenant: and repented, accord- ing to the multitude of his mercies. Pſal. 106. 45. my covenant with Iakob] the Greeke tranſlateth, the covenant of Iakob, &c. the Chaldee, my covenant that was with Iakob, &c. The remembering of this cove- nant with their anceſtors, meaneth the accompliſh- ment of the gracious promiſes made in reſpect of Chriſt unto forgiveneſſe of ſinns, and Sanctificati- on of the Spirit. Therefore when Chriſt the borne of ſalvation was raiſed up in the houſe of David, God is ſaid to doe mer- cie with our fathers, and to re- member his holy covenant, the oath which he ſware to our father Abraham. &c. Luke 1. 69. 72, 73, 75. The like grace is promiſed in Ezekiel 16. 60. &c. So whiles Daniel was confeſſing his ſinne, and the ſinne of his people Iſrael, the Angel Gabriel came and told him of the coming of Chriſt, to finiſh the tranſgreſſion, and to ſcale up finnes, and to make atonement for iniquitie, and to bring in everlaſting righteouſneſſe: Daniel 9. 20.-24. For the Lord will not caſt-off for ever: but though hee cauſe grieve, yet will he have compaſſion, according to the multitude of his mercies: Lamentation 3. 31. 32.

The Targum called Ionathans, expoundeth this verse thus; I then will I remember in mercie, the covenant which I covenanted with Iakob at Bethel, (Gen. 35.) and also the covenant which I covenanted with I-faak in mount Aforijab, (Gen. 22.) and also the covenant which I covenanted with Abraham, betwene the peeces (of the sacrifices, Gen. 15.) Whereas otherwise the covenant is usually mentioned once, and from Abraham downward to I-faak, and so to Iakob, as is to be scene in Exod. 2. 24. and 6. 3. 4. here God mentioneth his covenant thrice, for more confirmation, and beginning with Iakob, goeth upward to Abraham (the father of the faithfull,) so leading them by degrees to his first and most ancient promises; and in them to Christ, whose Gospel was preached to Abraham; and such as be Christs, are Abrahams seed, and heyres according to the promise, Gal. 3. 8. 29. the land which shall againe be inhabited and tilled; as it is written, In the day that I shall have cleansed you from all your iniquities, I will also cause you to dwell in the cities, and the wastes shall be builded, and the desolate land shall be tilled, whereas it lay desolate in the sight of all that passed by, &c. Ezek. 36. 33, 34. So another Prophet saith, O Lord thou hast bene favourable to thy land, thou hast returned the captivity of Iakob; and, our land shall give her fruit, &c. Psal. 85. 2. 13. And these promises have also their accomplishment in Christ; who pronounced this blessing to the meeke, that they shall inherit the land; Matth. 5. 5. But that earthly land, wherein they and their fathers sojourned, was a figure of a better countrie, that is, an heavenly. Heb. 11. 9. - 16.

43 Ver. 43 and shall enjoy] as in Verse 34. The Greek translateth, then shall the land accept her sabbathes, because even for because the reason is doubled, for the more vehemencie; and to imply their often and manifold sinnes, in the breaking of his covenant. The like phrase is in Ezek. 13. 10.

44 Ver. 44. in the land of their enemies] cast out thither for their sins, and so unworthy of grace, being to be reputed as enemies themselves. This commendeth the mercie and free grace of God in Christ, for when we were enemies, we were reconciled to God, by the death of his Sonne: Rom. 5. 10. to consume them.] This promise, was partly fulfilled at their returne out of Babylon, as is remembered in Nehem. 9. 31. Nevertheless for thy great mercies sake, thou didst not utterly consume them, nor forsake them. But chiefly the complement hereof, is by the Gospel, as the Apostle sheweth in Rom. 11. 26. 28, 29. Like promises are made in Deuter. 4. 29. - 31. Ezek. 14. 22. 23. I am Iehovah] or, I Iehovah, am their God: which on his part, signifieth his power, goodnesse, and readinesse to save them; and for them it is a signe of blessing; for blessed is that people, whose God is Iehovah. Psal. 144. 15. and 33. 12.

45 Ver. 45. of their ancestors] or, of the first; which Targum Jonathan expoundeth, the covenant which I made with their ancient fathers. The Greeke translateth it, their first covenant, when I brought them forth from the land of Egypt. Which deliverance, being a figure of a better by Christ; God, when he would assure them of his grace, if they turne unto him by faith, mentioneth that covenant and redemption. For though the covenant of the Gospel, be another then that which he made with them, when he brought them out of Egypt, as the Apostle sheweth by testimonie of the Prophets, Heb. 8. 8. - 13. from Ier. 31. yet the covenant or law then given, was a Schoolemaster unto Christ, Gal. 3. 14. and Christ is the end of the law for righteousness, to every one that beleeve th; Rom. 10. 4. And thus Mosesendeth the curses of the Law, due to transgressors; with promise of grace to the remnant of the Iews (according to the election of grace, Rom. 11. 5.) which in the latter dayes shall come againe unto him; whom he is able to graffe in againe, and so will, if they bide not in unbeliefe; for as touching the election, they are beloved for the Fathers sakes, Romans 11. 23. 28.

CHAP. XXVII.

A Law for vowes, whereby men sanctifie the estimation of persons: whose value is set, betwene twenty and sixty yeeres old; 5, betwene five, and twenty yeeres old; 6, betwene a moneth, and five yeeres old; 7, from sixtie yeeres old and upward. 8, Of the poore mans estimation, 9, Of sanctifying beasts, 14, and houses, 16, and fields of a mans possession, 22, or fields of his owne buying. 26, The Lords firstlings may not be sanctified by men. 28, No devoted thing may be redeemed. 30, The tith of the land is holy, and the owners may not redeeme it, but by adding a fift part. 32, The tith of beasts may not be changed or redeemed.

And Iehovah spake, unto Moses, say-
ing. Speake unto the sonnes of Israel, and say unto them; A man, when he shall separate a vow; by thy estimation, of soules, to Iehovah. Then thy estimation shall be, of the male; from twenty yeeres old,
and unto sixtie yeeres old: even thy estimation shall be, fifty shekels of silver, by the she-kel of the Sanctuarie. And if it be a female:
then thy estimation shall be, thirty shekels.
And if (it be) from five yeeres old, and unto twenty yeeres old; then thy estimation shall be, of the male, twenty shekels: and for the female, ten shekels. And if (it be) from a mo-neth old, and unto five yeeres old; then thy estimation shall be, of the male, five shekels
of silver: and for the female, thy estimation shall be, three shekels of silver. And if it be from sixtie yeeres old and above, if a male;
then thy estimation shall be, fifteen shekels:
and for a female, ten shekels. And if he be poorer, then thy estimation; then he shall present him, before the Priest; and the Priest, shall estimate him: according to that which the hand of him that vowed can attaine, shall the Priest estimate him.

And

9 And if it be a beast, whereof they offer, an 10 oblation, unto Jehovah: all that he giveth of such, unto Jehovah, it shall be holy. Hee shall not alter it, nor change it; a good for a bad, or a bad for a good: and if changing he shall change, beast for beast; then it, and 11 the exchange thereof, shall be holy. And if it be any unclean beast, whereof they doe not offer, an oblation, unto Jehovah: then he shall present the beast, before the Priest.
 12 And the Priest shall estimate it; whether it be good or bad: according to thy estimation 13 O Priest, so shall it be. And if redeeming he will redeeme it: then he shall adde the fift part thereof, unto thy estimation.

14 And a man; when he shall sanctifie his house to be holy, unto Jehovah; then the Priest shall estimate it; whether it be good or bad: as the Priest shall estimate it, so shall it stand. And if he that sanctified it, wil redeem 15 his house: then he shall adde the fift part, of the money of thy estimation, unto it, and it shall be his.

16 And if a man shall sanctifie unto Jehovah,
 (some part) of a field of his possession; then thy estimation shall bee, according to the seed thereof: the seed of an homer of barley, 17 at fiftie shekels of silver. If he sanctifie his field, from the yeere of Jubile: according to 18 thy estimation, it shall stand. And if he sanctifie his field, after the Jubile: then the Priest shall reckon unto him the money, according to the yeeres that remaine; even-unto the yeere of Jubile: and it shall be abated 19 from thy estimation. And if redeeming hee will redeeme the field, that sanctified it: then he shall adde the fift part, of the money of thy estimation, unto it, and it shall stand unto him. And if he will not redeeme the field; 20 or if he have sold the field, to another man:
 it shall not bee redeemed, any more. And 21 the field, when it goeth-out in the Jubile, shall be holy unto Jehovah, as a field devoted: the possession thereof, shall be the Priests.
 22 And if he sanctifie unto Jehovah; a field of his owne buying; which is not of the field of 23 his possession: Then the Priest shall reckon unto him, the tribute of thy estimation; even-unto the yeere of Jubile; and he shall give thine estimation, in that day; an holy thing, 24 unto Jehovah. In the yeere of Jubile, the field shall returne; unto him of whom he bought it: unto him, to whom the possession 25 of the land (did belong.) And all thine estimation, shall be, according-to the shekel of the sanctuarie: twentie Gerahs, shall be the shekel. But the firstling, which shall be first borne to Jehovah, of the beasts; a man shall not sanctifie it: whether it be ox or sheepe, it is Jehovahs. And if it be of an unclean 27 beast, then he shall redeeme it according-to thine estimation; and shall adde, a fift part of it, thereto: or if it bee not redeemed, then it shall be sold according-to thy estimation.

Notwithstanding, any devoted-thing, that 28 a man shall devote unto Jehovah, of all that he hath; of man and beast, and of the field of his possession; shall not be sold, nor redeemed: every devoted-thing, is holy of hol-29 lies, unto Jehovah: None devoted, which shall be devoted, of man, shall be redeemed:
but shall surely be put to death.

And all the tithe of the land, of the seed of the land, of the fruit of the tree; is Jehovahs: holinesse, unto Jehovah. And if a man 30 redeeming will redeeme, ought of his tithe:
 he shall adde thereto, the fift part thereof.
 And all the tithe of the herd, or of the flock;
 31 of all that passeth, under the rod: the tenth, shall be holy, unto Jehovah. He shall not 32 search, whether it be good or bad; neither shall he change it: and if changing he shall change it: then both it, and the change thereof, shall be holy, it shall not be redeemed.

These are the commandements, which 34 Jehovah commanded Moses, for the sons of Israel: in the mountaine, of Sinai.

Annotations.

A Man] or, Any-one, man or woman, The Lord
 2 having given throughout this booke, Lawes concerning necessary duties appertaining to his service; concludeth it with this Law touching voves and voluntary services, which his people should honour him with, of their owne accord, through the working of his spirit in them: wher-in he requireth a constant minde, that they should not alter their purposes, or change their promises made unto him. separate a vow] in Greeke, vow a vow: the word separate, signifieth to exempt
 after a singular manner from common use. Tarchi
separate and explaine, A vow is a religious promise made unto the Lord, and for the most part was made with prayer, and payed with thanksgiving;
 Num. 21. 2, 3. Pl. 66. 13, 14. And voves were either of abstinence, such as are spoken of in Num. 30. and the vow of Nazarites, Num. 6. or, they were to give something to the Lord, as sacrifices, Lev. 7. 16. or the value of persons, beasts, houses or lands; concerning which the Law is here given. The Hebr.
 say, A vow is parted into two parts: the first is that whereby a man restraineth himselfe from lawfull things;
as when he saith, such or such fruits be unlawfull unto me, all these 30. daies, or for ever, &c. The 2. is that wher-by he bindeth himselfe to give an oblation, which he was not

not (otherwise) bound to give: as when he saith, upon me be it to bring a Burnt-offring, or a Peace-offring, &c. Maimony, tom. 3. treat. of Vowes, chap. 1. sect. 1, 2. by thy estimation] or, of thy estimation, that is, a vow of the valuation (or tax) of the soules (the persons) of man, woman or child, to give unto the Lord the money that any person is to be valued at. So that estimation here meaneth the money of estimation, as is expressed in verse 15. and as the Greeke version here explaineth it, a vow, for the price (or value) of his soule to the Lord. So Iarchi expoundeth it, to give the estimation (or value) of his soule: And Aben Ezra more plainly thus; to say, If God doe so unto me, I will redeeme my soule, according to my value, or the value of my soule, or the value of my beast. And of this the scripture speaketh in 2 King. 12. 4. where Jehoash giving order to the Priests about the receiving & disposing of the hollowed things, mentioneth every mans money of the soules of his estimation. And here the Law being given to all Israel, the speech seemeth to be directed to every man, thy estimation: or, as some thinke, to the Priest. But that which is spoken to the Priest in verse 12. was about such things as God had set no value of, as he had done of all soules or persons, which the Priest might not alter. The Greek and Chaldee omit this word thy, as redundant, though it be continued throughout the chapter: and may distinguish the Israelites, from other peoples, whose vowes of this kinde were of no force; as the Hebrew canons also shew thus. An heathen may be estimated (or valued, to weete, by an Israelite,) but he himselfe estimateth not, As, if an heathen say, my estimation (or value) be upon me; or, the estimation of this Israelite be upon me, (that is, I vow to give the value of this Israelite,) he saith nothing. But if an Israelite say, The estimation of this heathen be upon me, or the estimation of such an heathen be upon me; he is to give according to the yeeres of the heathen that is estimated. Maimony tom. 3. in Erachin (or treat. of Estimate and devote things,) chap. 1. sect. 6. There is also a difference to be noted between estimation or value here spoken of, the rate wherof is determined & set by the Lord; and the price of men, as of slaves that were sold, for so much as a man could get, or they were worth. Whereof see more on verse 6.

of soules.] that is, of persons. Soules, are often put for persons, as is noted on Gen. 2. 5. So that the estimation was to be of the whole man, not of a lim or part: touching which the Hebrewes have these rules. He that saith, the value of mine hand, or the value of mine eye, or of my foot be upon me; saith nothing at all. He that saith the value of mine heart or of my liver be upon me; or the value of such a mans heart or liver be upon me; he gives the value of his whole (person;) and so for every member, which if it be taken away from a living creature, it dyeth; if he say, the value of it be upon me, he is to give the value of the whole: If he say, halfe my value be upon me; he giveth halfe that he is valued at: if he say, the value of halfe of me, be upon me: he giveth his whole value; because it is impossible that halfe of him should be taken away, and he alive. He that saith, the price of my hand be upon me, or the price of such a mans hand be upon me: they set him how much he is worth with his hand; and how much he is worth without his hand; as if he were sold being whole, and were worth fiftie; and without his hand, he were worth but fortie; he is bound to pay unto the Sanctuary, ten: and so all other of like sort. He that saith the price of my head, or of my liver be upon me, &c. is to give his whole price. So if he say, the price of the one halfe of me be upon me; he is to give the price of his whole person. Maimony in Erachin, chap. 2. section. 1. 4. to Jehovah [the Chaldee saith, before the Lord; and Thargum Jonathan, to the name of the Lord. These valuations were to be paid as all other vowes, according to that law in Deut. 23. 21. 23. And for use of them, it appeareth by 2 King. 12. 4, 5. that they were employed about the reparation of God Sanctuary: so the Hebrewes say; that all valuations and prices were simply for the reparation of the house (of God,) and were laid up in a chamber prepared in the Sanctuary for things hallowed to the repairing of the house. Adaim in Erachin, chap. 1. sect. 10.

Verf. 3. Then thy estimation] in Chaldee, Then his estimation (or value:) but the Greeke, without noting any person, translateth, And (or Then) the value shall be of the male, &c. of the male] of every male, without respect of person; for these rates here set of God, might not be changed. It is commanded to judge the judgements of the estimations (or values) so as is expressed in the Law. And whosoever a man say, My value be upon me; or say, This mans value be upon me; or such a mans value be upon me; he is to give the valuation according to the yeeres of him that is valued, and that is the rate determined by the Law; not lesse, nor more. Priests and Levites, doe estimate and are estimated, as other Israelites. Maimony, in Erachin, chap. 1. sect. 2. 15. twenty yeeres old] Hebr. some of twenty yeeres; which phrase signifieth the entry into the twentieth yeer and so forward; as is noted on Gen. 5. 22. But the Hebrewes expound these estimations, from the yeeres full ended, or complete: for thus they write: He that saith, My estimation be upon me, or such an ones estimation (or value) be upon me; giveth the estimation according to the yeeres of the estimated, and that is the precise rate which is in the law, not lesse nor more. If he that is estimated be thirtie dayes old or lesse, there is no estimation of him: and he that saith, the estimation of this (childe) be upon me, it is as if he had said, the estimation of this vessell be upon me, and he is not bound to (give) anything. From one and thirtie dayes old, untill he be five yeeres old complete, the estimation of the male is five shekels; and of the female, three shekels. From his entry into the first day of the sixth yeere, untill hee hath accomplished twenty yeeres, the estimation of the male is twenty shekels, and of the female, tenne shekels. From his entry into the (first) day of the one and twentieth yeere, untill he hath accomplished sixtie yeeres; the estimation of the male is fifty shekels, and of the female thirtie shekels. And from his entry into the (first) day of the one and sixtieth yeere, untill the day of his death, though he live very many yeeres; the estimation of the male is fiftie shekels, and of the female ten shekels. All these yeeres, from time to time, (are) from the day that any is borne. Maimony in Erachin, chap. 1. sect. 2. 4.

[shekel of the Sanctuary] or, shekel of Sanctity, that is, the holy shekel: which after in v. 25. is said to be 20. Gerahs (or pence.) Shekel is the Hebrew name, in the Chaldee it is called Shelangh: the shekel of the Sanctuary weighed 320. gr aines of barley, and was of pure silver; Maim. in Erachin, c. 1. f. 4. But after in Israel they added thereto, and made it a Selangh, (as Maim. there affirmeth) which Selangh weighed three hundred eightie and foure barley graines: see the Annotations on Gen. 20. 16.

4 Verſ. 4. thirtie shekels] That was the value of the servant ſlaine, Exod. 21. 32. the value of our Saviour, ſold to be ſlaine, Zach. 11. 12, 13. Mat. 27. 9. The eſtimation of the females, is little more then the halfe, and for ſome, the juſt halfe of the males; becauſe the woman by nature is the weaker veſſell, 1 Pet. 3. 7. and inferiour to the man, as being formed after him, 1 Tim. 2. 13. created of him, and for him, 1 Cor. 11. 8. 9. and was firſt in the tranſgreſſion, 1 Tim. 2. 14. but now in Chriſt Jeſus, there is not male and female, but all are one in him, Gal. 3. 28.

5 V. 5. from five yeeres old] Hebr. from a ſonne of five yeeres. Sol. Larchi here noteth; Not that he which voweth ſhould be a child, for in a child's words there is nothing: but (he meaneth) a great perſon, that ſhall ſay, the eſtimation of this child of five yeeres old, be upon me. ten ſhekels] the even halfe of the ſet rate for the male.

6 Verſ. 6. a moneth old] Hebrew, ſonne of a moneth: under this age, there was no valuation at all, as is before noted. So in Num. 18. 16. all the firſt borne were to be redeemed from the age of a moneth: and ſo was the praſtiſe, when the firſt borne were firſt numbred, and the Levites taken in their ſtead; everie one was valued at five ſhekels, Num. 3. 40, 47. As the firſtling of the beaſt was from the eight day and forward, offerable to the Lord, and not before, Exod. 22. 30. Lev. 22. 27. for in that time it was ſanctified by the Sabbath that went over it. So for mankind, and the firſt borne, the Lord appointeth a moneth of daies; in which ſpace, the New moon went alſo over it; which was a ſolemn feaſt in Iſrael; and another ſigne of ſanctification and renovation of nature: which figure is accompliſhed in Chriſt, Numb. 28. 11. Pſal. 81. 4. Eſa. 66. 23. Ezek. 46. 3. Col. 2. 16. 17. And as there was no value for ſuch as were under a moneth, ſo from the words, male and female, ſpoken of every one that was valued, the Hebrewes ſay, He that is neither male nor female, and he that is both male and female, there is no valuation of ſuch: becauſe the Law ſetteth no eſtimation, but for the manifeſt male, or manifeſt female. An heathen may be eſtimated, but he himſelf eſtimateth not: as if an heathen ſay, my eſtimation be upon me: or the eſtimation of an Iſraelite be upon me; he ſaith nothing. But if an Iſraelite ſay, the eſtimation of this heathen be upon me; he is to give according to the yeeres of him that is eſtimated. And ſo he that eſtimateth one that is dumbe and deafe, or a ſoule, is bound, and muſt give according to his yeeres. A ſervant is eſtimated, and eſtimateth at other Iſraelites; and if he will redeem, and have wherewith; he is to give the eſtimation which he hath vowed. Whether a man eſtimateth one that is faire, and healthfull, or eſtimateth one that is ill-favoured, red, or ſicke, though he that is eſtimated be ſtricken with boiles, or blind, or maimed, or hath any blemiſh, he is to give according to his yeeres, as is determined by the Law. Prices, are not eſtimations; for, he that ſaith, my price be upon me, or the price of ſuch an one be upon me, though that ſuch an one be a child of a day old, or of neither ſexes, or of both ſexes (male and female) or an heathen; he is to give whatſoever he is worth, one penny, or a thouſand, &c. Maim. in Erachin, c. 1. f. 5, 9.

three ſhekels] This is the loweſt of all the rates ſet by God, as fifty was the higheſt. And by the Hebrew canons, If a man ſay, A valuation be upon me, and expreſſeth not whoſe valuation, but a valuation abſolutely: he is to give the leaſt valuation, which is three ſhekels; Maim. in Erachin, ch. 2. f. 20.

Verſ. 7. sixtie yeeres old and above] In theſe valuations, the Lord divideth mans life into 4. parts, beginning with manhood, or ſtrength of age, which is the beſt of our yeeres; then deſcending to youth, & from youth to childhood; & ending with old age, the rate whereof, is leſſe then of youth, and more then of childhood. But from 60. yeeres and upward, there is no difference of valuation; for the daies of our yeeres, in them are threeſcore yeeres & ten, & if by reaſon of ſtrength they be fourſcore yeeres, yet is their ſtrength, labour and ſorrow: for it is ſome cut off, and we fly away, Pſa. 90. 10. The Apoſtle writing to Fathers, Yong men, and Children; aſcribeth to Fathers, knowledge of him that is from the beginning, unto Yong men, ſtrength, and abiding of the word of God in them, and overcoming of the wicked one; unto children, knowledge of the Father, 1 Joh. 2. 13. 14. ten ſhekels] which were two parts of three, for the ſet rate of the man; ſo that in her age, ſhe came neereſt to the value of a male. And Larchi here noteth an ancient Proverbe amongſt them; An old man in the houſe, is a Captaine in the houſe: an old woman in the houſe, is a treaſure in the houſe, and a good ſigne in the houſe. Of all theſe valuations, the Hebrews ſay thus; The eſtimations that are ſet according to the yeeres, they are the yeeres of him that is eſtimated (or valued) and not the yeeres of him that eſtimateth. As if one of twentie yeeres of age, ſaith to one of ſixtie yeeres, thy eſtimation be upon me: he is to give the eſtimation of one of ſixtie yeeres of age, and ſo all other the like; Maim. in Erachin, ch. 1. ſect. 16.

Verſ. 8. poorer then thy eſtimation] that is, if hee which maketh a vow, or eſtimateth, be poore, that hee cannot give that which hee hath vowed. The Greeke and Chaldee change the perſon, ſaying, poorer then his valuation. he ſhall preſent him] or, ſhall make him ſtand: that is, he which vowed, ſhall preſent either himſelfe, or any other whoſe valuation hee hath taken upon him. Hereupon they have theſe rules; He that ſaith, my eſtimation be upon me, and dieth before he ſtand in judgement, his heires are not bound to give it: for it is written, Then he ſhall preſent him before the Prieſt, &c. If he have ſtood in judgement, and then dyeth, his heires are to give it. And ſo, he that ſaith, Such a mans eſtimation be upon me, and he dyeth that eſtimateth, and he that was eſtimated, after that he who was eſtimated, hath ſtood in judgement: the heires are bound to give it. If he that is eſtimated, dyeth before he ſtand in judgement, although though he that estimateth survive, yet he is free. For there is no estimation of the dead: and he that is estimated must needs stand in judgement. If he say, Such a mans price be upon me; and he stand in judgement, and ye before they have determined his price: loe he is free, or there is no price of the dead. Maim. in Erachin, ch. 1. f. 21. 22. can attaine] that is, according to his abilitie: as in Lev. 14. 21, 22. So the Greeke translateth, is able. Thus God would not suffer his holy name to be abused by any, but even the poorest man that made a vow, was to pay, or remaine a perpetuall debtor: that all might learne not to be rash with their mouthes, not to let their hearts be hasty to utter a word before God; nor suffer their mouth to cause their flesh to sinne: for God hath no pleasure in foolcs, Eccles. 5. 2. 4. 6. Of this the Hebrewes say; All the estimations appointed in the Law; he that estimateth is to give them, if he be rich. But if he be poore, and his hand cannot attaine it; he is to give all that is found in his hand, though it be but one shekel, and he is discharged. Levit. 27. 8. And they make account that he is to give though it be one shekel, if he have but one shekel; for that it is said, (in v. 25.) All thy estimation shall be according to the shekel of the Sanctuary: Loe thou art taught, that in the estimations, there is no lesse then a shekel, neither more then fifty. If there be not found in his hand so much as a shekel, they may not take of him lesse then a shekel, but leave all upon him as a debt, and if he be able, and grow rich, he shall give the whole estimation appointed in the Law. A rich man that estimateth (or voweth) and groweth poore; or that estimateth when he is poore, and groweth rich: he is bound to pay the estimation of the rich. What is the difference betwene him that oweth the estimation of the poore, and him that oweth the estimation of the rich, &c. He that oweth the estimation of the poore, when they have taken of him, all that his hand attaineth to, though but one shekel: if afterward he waxe rich, he is not bound to pay it. But if he owe the estimation of the rich, the rest of the estimation remaineth upon him, till he be rich; and he is to pay the estimation which is upon him. He that expresseth the estimation, and saith my estimation be upon me fifty shekels; or such a mans estimation be upon me, thirty shekels: he is not to be judged according to that which his hand, can attaine: but they take all that is found in his hand, and the rest, lyeth upon him as a debt, till he be rich, then he must give it. He that saith, Loe upon me be an estimation absolute, and expresseth it not, &c. he is to be judged according to his ability, as others that doe estimate. They that owe estimations and prices, men may take pawns of them, and take of them by force, so much as they have vowed: and are not bound to restore them their pawns by day or by night. And they may sell all that is found to be theirs of unmoveable goods and of moveable, of apparell, household stuffe, servants and cattell; and make payment out of them all. But they may not sell his wifes apparell, nor his childrens, &c. Maimony in Erachin. chapter. 3. sect. 2. 3. &c. 14.

9 Ver. 9. a beast] in Greeke, of the beasts whereof a gift is offered, meaning of the bullock, sheep or goat unblemished; which he shall separate by a vow, as in ver. 2. all that be giveth] or, as the Greeke translateth, whosoever giveth of these. shall be holy] for the altar of the Lord: or the price thereof holy for the maintenance of the sanctuary. Thus the Hebrewes understand it; because they thinke that such beasts as were meet for the altar, might not be sanctified to any other use, then upon the altar: but if a man hath sanctified it for other use, then the price of it valued by the Priest, was for that other use, and the beast for the Altar. He that sanctifieth his beasts absolutely, or sanctifieth his goods absolutely, they provide that all perfect beasts meet to be offered on the altar, the males be sold for Burnt-offerings and offered up for Burnt-offerings, and the females be sold and offered for Peace-offerings; and the prices, fall to the maintenance of the Sanctuary; for that which is absolutely sanctified, is for the maintenance of (Gods) house. And of this is that spoken in Levit. 27. 9. Maim. in Erachin, ch. 5. sect. 7.

Ver. 10. not altar] or, not scourse it, nor change it: 10 two words are use of one signification, to shew the weight of this law, whereby God forbiddeth and punisheth mens levity and inconstancy in holy things; whether these vowes here spoken of, or any other. The Hebrew canons say, Whosoever changeth, is to be beaten (by the Magistrate,) for every beast that he changeth, Lev. 27. 10. Mainiony tom. 3. in Temurah (or treat. of Change) ch. 1. sect. 1. or a bad for a good] Though a man would give a better then he had vowed, the Law suffereth him not to change. For (as the Hebrewes say) the nature of man inclineth to increase his wealth, and to spare his goods, and though he have vowed and sanctified, it may be he will turne and repent, and redeeme it for lesse then it is worth, &c. and when he cannot redeeme it, he will change it for a worse then it. And if he should have leave given him to change a bad for a good, hee would change a good for a bad, and say it is good. Therefore the Scripture absolutely forbiddeth, him to change, and mulcteth him if he changeth, saying, Then it and the exchange thereof shall be holy, (Lev. 27. 10.) And all these things are to subdue his evill concupiscence, and to rectifie his minde. And the many judgements that are in the Law, are no other then counsels from farre, from (God) who is great in counsell, to rectifie the knowledge and to direct all workes. And so he saith, (in Prov. 22. 20, 21.) Have not I written unto thee excellent things, in counsels and knowledge: that I might make thee know the certainty of the words of truth; that thou mightest answer the words of truth, to them that send unto thee. Maini. in Temurah, chap. 4. sect. 13.

if changing he shall change] that is, if at all, or any way he change. shall be holy] Hebrew, shall be holiness: that is, both of them shall be the Lords, and neither of them his that through covetize, leightnesse, or for any other respect changeth an hallowed thing. By the Hebrew canons; some changes stood in force, and of some there was a nullity. He that changeth his oblation, for a beast which is not his owne, it is no change, for no man can sanctifie a thing which is not his owne. Priests make no change of a Sin-offering, or of a Trespass-offering: for although they be theirs, yet have they no due unto them whiles they are alive; for they have no right to the flesh, till the blood be sprinkled. Neither doe the Priests make change of the first-

Firstling, for though it be his due whiles he is alive, yet it is not his due from the beginning, for the beginning of it is in the house of Israel. But the owners that change the firstling all the while it is in their house, they make a change. And so a Priest that changeth a Firstling which is borne of his owne, (not a Firstling which he hath received of an Israelite) that is a change. The high Priests Ran, (Lev. 16.) maketh a change; but his Bullocke maketh no change, though it be one of his owne: because his brethren the Priests have their atonement by it, and so are partners in it. Fowles, and Meat-offrings, make no change; for the Law speaketh but of beasts. He that sanctifieth a beast that hath a fixed-blemish, it maketh no change; but he that sanctifieth a beast that hath a transitorie blemish, or sanctifieth a perfect beast, and afterward a fixed blemish commeth upon it; this maketh a change. Whether a man change a perfect beast for a blemished, or a blemished for a perfect, or change an ox for a sheep, or a sheep for an Ox, or a sheep for a goat, or goat for sheep, or males for females, or females for males, or change one for an hundred, or an hundred for one, either at once, or one after another: this is a change, and he is to be beaten, according to the number of beasts which he hath changed. Change is, when the owner of an oblation saith of a beast of the common beasts which are his, This shall be for that; or, This shall be the exchange of that; This shall be for that Sin-offring, or for that Burnt-offring; (having thus said) it is a change. The Law for the offering of exchanges is thus; The exchange of a Burnt-offring shall be offered for a Burnt-offring; and if the exchange of it be a female, it shall feed, till some blemish fall on it, then it is sold, and a Burnt-offring is bought with the price of it. The exchange of a Sin-offring, is to die; of a Trespass-offring, is to feed till it be blemished, and the price they make a voluntary-offring. The exchange of Peace-offrings, is as the Peace-offrings in all respects, &c. The exchange of the firstling, is the Priests; and the exchange of the tithe beast, is the owners, &c. Maim. in Temurah, c. 1. § 3, 9, 14. and c. 2. f. 1. and c. 3, 1. &c.

II Ver. 11. uncleane beast] This may be taken generally for all uncleane beasts which men did vow, except the dogge, the price whereof might not be brought into the house of the Lord, for any vow, Deut. 23. 18. But the Hebrewes understand it also of oxen, sheepe or goats, upon which are blemishes, whereby they are become uncleane for the Altar. He that sanctifieth a perfect beast for the Altar, and there fall a blemish upon it, whereby it is disabled: he this is estimated and redeemed. And of this it is said (in Levit. 27. 11.) AND IF ANY UNCLEANE BEAST, &c. and he is to bring with the price thereof another oblation like it; Maim. in Erachin, ch. 5. f. 11. But that other uncleane beasts might be sanctified also, they grant, ibid. f. 17. present the beast] or, make it stand, as ver. 8. Whosoever sanctifieth a beast, either cleane or uncleane, either of the holy things for (Gods) house, or holy for the Altar, whereupon a blemish is fallne, or which is perfect and meet to be offered:

it is necessary that it be presented in the Judgement Hall, Lev. 27. 11. Therefore if the beast dye, before it be estimated and redeemed; they redeeme it not after it is dead, but doe bury it. But if he sanctifie a slave, or a dead beast for the reparation of the Sanctuary; he that is redeemed as other moveable goods; Maimony in Erachin, chap. 3. sect. 12.

Ver. 12. thy estimation O Priest] The Greeke here changeth the person, saying, As the Priest valuers it; likewise the Chaldee, According to the estimation of the Priest. This rate or value which the Priests set, was (as Sol. Iarchi here noteth) for any other man that would come to buy it. But if the owner would redeeme it, the Scripture layeth more upon him, to adde the fift part: and so for him that sanctifieth his house, or his field, or that would redeeme his second tithe; the owners are to adde a fift part, but not any other man.

Ver. 13. If redeeming he will redeeme it] that is, will at all redeeme it; as repenting of his vow which he hath made, and will not have the beast sold, that the price thereof may be given to the Lord, but reserve it for his owne use. the fift part] and the fift part which is added, he it is as the holy thing it selfe, and there is one Law for them (both.) Maimony in Erachin, chap. 7. sect. 2. For abusing or purloining holy things, the Law otherwhere commandeth a fift part to be added besides the principall, as a mulct upon the offender for his fault, Levit. 5. 16. and 6. 4, 5. and 22. 14. so in this case of vows, when hee that voweth will not stand to his promise, the Lord layeth on him this penaltie for his inconstancie and lightnesse of minde: that men might learne to be faithfull and stable minded, in all things pertaining unto him and his service, though they proceeded at first from their owne voluntarie will. unto thy estimation] unto the value which thou the Priest hast set the beast at, by the estimation: or, unto the money which thou hast valued it at; as in ver. 15, 19. So the owner was to give so much as any other man, and a fift part more.

Ver. 14. his house] so by proportion, any other of his moveable goods. He that sanctifieth his house, or his uncleane beast, or any other of his moveables; they are to be valued according to that they are worth, be they good or bad, and if he that sanctified them, be or his wife, or his heire will redeeme them, he is to adde a fift part, &c. whether it be an house in a walled citie, or an house in a village, it may be redeemed a'waie; Maimony in Erachin, c. 5. f. 3. To sanctifie an house, was by vow, as if a man said, This house be holy unto the Lord, or any like words. so shall it stand] so shall the value be, neither lesse nor more. Onely the owner, if he will redeeme it, must give the fift part more then the value, ver. 15.

Ver. 15. the money] Hebrew, the silver of thy estimation, which the Greeke explaineth, the silver of the price; and the Chaldee, the silver of the estimation thereof, so in ver. 19. From this word Silver, the Hebrews say, Sanctified things might not be redeemed with lands, or with servants, or with bills (of writing) but either with money, or other moveables that are like unto money. Maimony in Erachin, chap. 7. sect. 1.

distinguished from a field of his owne buying: the field which commeth to a man by inheritance, that is called the field of his possession (or tenement) saith Maimony in Erachin, chap. 4. sect. 1. to the seed thereof] that is, the seed which is enough to sow the field. Not according to the worth of (the field) for whether the field were good or bad, the ransom of the holiness thereof was alike. an Homer] the name of a measure, which contained ten Ephahs or bushels, Ezek. 45. 11. The Greeke and Chaldee, translate it a Cor, and that was one with the Homer, Ezek. 45. 14. Of it there is mention in King. 4. 22. where King Solomons daily bread for his house, was thirtie Cors, of fine flowre, and threescore Cors of meale, that is, three hundred Ephahs or bushels of flowre, and six hundred of meale. The Hebrewes likewise explaine it thus. The Homer is a Cor: and it is two Lethek [which Lethek is mentioned in Hos. 3. 2.] and the Lethek is fiftene Seahs [or pecks, whereof see Gen. 18. 6.] So the Homer is found to be thirtie Seahs which are ten Ephahs, every three Seahs an Ephah. Maim. in Erachin. ch. 4. sect. 4. By this we may understand that Iudgment threatened in Esay 5. 10. the seed of an Homer, shall yeeld an Ephah; where ten bushels are sowne, one bushell shall bee reaped. at fiftie shekels] that is, shall be esteemed as 50 shekels, for 49. yeeres, to weet, from Iubile to Iubile, and so the Hebrewes explaine it, Every place which is fit to have an Homer of barley sowne therein, &c. the estimation thereof is fiftie shekels for all the yeeres of the Iubile; but the Iubile yeere is none of the number. And whether he sanctifie the best field that is in all Israel, or the worst of all; the estimation is the same. Maimony in Erachin chap. 4. sect. 2. This estimation God set for a field meet to bee sowne, of which the Hebrewes say further, that if it were full of trees, though he expressed them not, yet he hath sanctified the trees also. If he sanctifie a field which is not fit to be sowne; they redeeme it according to the worth of it: and so if he sanctify the trees one; they are redeemed by the worth of them: Ibidem chap. 4. sect. 15. 16.

17 Vers. 17. to the estimation] in Greeke and Chaldee, to the estimation thereof; meaning the fiftie shekels before mentioned.

18 Vers. 18. abated] or diminished from the estimation, which the Greeke and Chaldee expound, from the estimation (or value) thereof. As, if a man sanctifie the field of his possession, when there remaine eight yeeres to the Iubile, besides the yeere of Iubile, which is none of the reckoning, who so will redeeme it, must give for the seed of every Homer of barley, eight shekels, and eight half Gerahs (which the Rabbines call Pundions.) And if the owners will redeeme it, they must give ten shekels, and ten halfe Gerahs, for they must adde a fift part, v. 19. Thus the Hebrewes open it, in Erachin, ch. 4. f. 5. And Iarchi (on Lev. 27.) saith: A place (to be sowne with) an Homer of barley, is at 50 shekels, so the scripture determineth, when a man cometh to redeeme it from the beginning of a Iubile, (which was every fiftieth yeere:) but if he came to redeeme it in the midst of a Iubile, he gave according to the reckoning, a shekel and an halfe Gerah for a yeere, because there is no sanctifying, but according to the count of the yeeres of the Iubile, for if it be redeemed, it is well: if not, the Treasurer selleth it for this price to another, and it remaineth in the hand of the buyer untill the Iubile, as all other fields that are sold, &c. Of those sales till the Iubile, see Lev. 25. yeeres that remain]

he saith not yeere, but yeeres: whereupon they say, if there remaine but a yeere, he may not give a shekel to redeeme it, it is not redeemed by abating of money, but two yeeres or more before the Iubile. Maimony in Erachin, chap. 4. sect. 7.

Vers. 19. that sanctified it] The Hebrewes say, 19 if either he himselfe, or his wife, or any of his heyres, will redeeme it, they are to adde the fift part thereto: Maimony in Erachin, ch. 4. f. 5. The reason why the owners were to pay more then other men, when they redeemed their lad, seemeth to be in dislike of their lightnesse, (as before is noted,) for that they would vow a thing to God, and so soone change their mindes, as to get it againe into their owne hand: for all rashnesse and levitie in vowes is blamed, Eccle. 5. 2. 4. 5. shall stand unto him] that is, be his, and so continue assured: the Greeke translateth, shall be to him. If he that sanctified it, hath redeemed it, before the Iubile come, then it returneth to the owner: and the estimation which he hath given, falleth to the maintenance of the Sanctuary, as is aforesaid. Likewise if the son of him that sanctified it, hath redeemed it, it returneth to his father at the Iubile. But if his daughter, or some other of his kinne; or a stranger hath redeemed it: then if he that sanctified it, redeeme it againe out of their hand, it returneth to him for ever: but if he redeeme it not out of their hand, but the Iubile come, whiles it is under the band of the daughter, or other of the kinred, or of the stranger; then it goeth out as a sanctified thing, and never returneth to the owner thereof, but is a possession for the Priests: v. 21. And the Priests need not give the price of it, because it is already redeemed, and the estimation is received of another; but it returneth to the Priests, as if they were the owners. Provided, that it be an Israelite; but if a Priest or Levite sanctified it, he may redeeme it at any time, though after the Iubile is gone over it, Lev. 25. 32. 34. Maim. in Erachin, c. 4. f. 20, 21.

V. 20. or if he have sold] Hebrew, and if, &c. but 20 (as Chazkuni here observeth) there is many an And instead of Or. These Hebrewes (as Sol. Iarchi on this place) understand this He have sold, to be meant not of the owner (who having sanctified it, could not then sell it,) but of the Treasurer which in the Sanctuary hath the disposing of such sanctified things.

V. 21. when it goeth out] out of the hand of him that 21 bought it of the Treasurer; as other fields that goe out of the hands of those that bought them, at the Iubile: saith Sol. Iarchi. holy] Hebrew holiness; that is, an holy field: so in v. 23. a field devoted] Hebrew, a field of devotion, or of separation, as the Greek translateth it, a separated land; see after on v. 28. the Priests] but, as the Hebrewes write, not without paying for it to the Lord, to whom it was vowed. He that sanctifieth a field of his possession, and the Iubile come, and he hath not redeemed it, but it still remaineth sanctified; the Priests doe give the price of it, and

and it is a possession unto them: because no holy thing goeth out without redemption. And that price, falleth to be holy, for the maintenance of the Sanctuary. Maimon in Erachin, ch.4.f.19. But if it had been redeemed before by another, they had it free, as is noted on v.20. Now what Priests should have the field, is shewed thus: When a field goeth out to the Priests in the Iubile, it shall be given to the Priests that are in the Ward (or course of ministration) wherein the Iubile falleth. And if the beginning of the yeere of Iubile be on a Sabbath, when one ward goeth out, and another cometh in: it shall be given to the ward that goeth out. Ibidem in Erachin, ch.4.f.24. Of these wards or courses, see 1 Chron. 24.

22 Ver. 22. of his owne buying] not left him by inheritance from his ancestors: and therefore was not his, but farmed by him for terme of yeeres, till the Iubile. of the field] that is, of the fields, or land: for the word field is used for an whole country, Gen. 14.7.

23 V. 23. the tribute] or, the summe, called by the Gr. and Chaldee, the tribute of the value thereof, so much as he was to give as a tribute to the Lord, according as the priest valued it. And hee valued not the land, but the fruits or revenue, according to the number of yeeres: for he that bought it, had no power to sanctifie save the fruits which he had in it, untill the Iubile, saith Chazkuni. This redemption of purchased or farmed land, differed from the redemption of inheritances afore said, thus: They set it at a price, looking how much it was worth untill the Iubile; and who so would, redeemed it. And if hee that sanctified it did redeeme it, hee added not the fift part thereof unto it, for the maintenance of the Sanctuary, as in other estimations and prices (he did, v. 19.) And when the Iubile cometh, it returneth to the first owner that sold it, &c. And it goeth not out to the Priests, because no man can sanctifie a thing which is not his owne, Maim. in Erachin, ch.4.f.26. And we have beene taught in Lev. 25. that Israelites land could not be sold properly, but let out till the Iubile; their sales, were but leases for terme of yeeres.

thine estimation] the Greeke and Chaldee expound it, the estimation (or value) thereof. in that day] and in that place, when and where the thing is estimated. Hereupon they say, that if any man pleaded, this thing would be worth more after such a time, or in such a place, whereas now or here it is worth little, they harkned not unto him, but sold every thing in the place thereof, and in the time thereof, whensoever it was. Excepting lands, for they cryed the sale of them sixtie dayes together, morning and evening, and afterward sold them. Maim. in Erachin, ch.3.f.19; 20. an holy thing] or, estimation of holiness.

24 Ver. 24. the possession] or, the inheritance of the land; that is, the first owner; according to the law in Lev. 25. And this though it had gone through many hands. If (a man) sold his field to the first, and the first sold it to the second, and the second to the third, though it were to a hundred one after another: in the yeere of Iubile, it shall return to the first owner, Lev. 27. 24. Maim. in Ibel, c. 11. f. 15. So the Priests had not this land at the Iubile, as they had the former, in ver. 21.

V. 25. all thine estimation] Greeke, every valuation: of the Sanctuary] Hebrew of sanctity or holiness, which the Greeke translateth holy weights: as the Hebrew Shekel properly signifieth a weight: and in Israel, they used to pay their money by weight; as, I weighed him the money, seventeen shekels of silver, &c. and I weighed him the money in the ballances: Jer. 32.9, 10. twenty Gerahs] The holy shekel was the weight of 320. barley cornes, of pure silver. The Gerah (called of the Hebrew Doctors Megab) weighed sixteene barley cornes. Under the second Temple, they added to the Shekel, and made it the weight of a Selangh, which weighed 384. barley graines, as witnesseth Maim. tom. 1. in shekels, ch. 1.1.2.3. See the annotations on Gen. 20. 16. and Exodus 30. 13. But Ezekiel in the captivity prophesied to those that returned, and that should see the City and Temple of Christ, The shekel shall be twenty Gerahs, Ezek. 45. 12. that all corruption in the holy weights should be done away; and spiritually, the ancient truth in religion restored.

Ver. 26. But the firstling] the Greeke translateth, And every firstborne, (or firstling,) which shall be borne among thy beasts, shall be the Lords; and none shall sanctify it. Because the firstborne were already sanctified by the Law, Exod. 13. 2, 12. and were the Lords; therefore they could not by any man be sanctified or consecrated by vow, because a man cannot sanctifie that which is not his owne. Whereupon the Hebrewes have these rules: No man may sanctify a thing which is not his owne. If he devote his sonne, or his daughter, or his servant, or a field that he hath bought, [for no field was a mans owne, but by inheritance;] yet they are not devoted: for a man cannot sanctify a thing, the body whereof is not his owne. Neither can a man sanctify a thing which is not in his owne power; as if he have left in another mans hand a thing to keepe, and he which had it to keepe denyeth it; the owner cannot sanctify it. But if he deny it not, it is in the owners power, &c. Maim. in Erachin, chap. 6. sect. 21. 22. So because the Law in Lev. 25. 39. &c. forbiddeth the Hebrewes to be sold for servants or slaves, a man could no otherwise devote or sanctifie himselfe, then to pay his valuation or price. And this the Hebrew canons also do aver; He that sanctifieth himselfe, sanctifieth nothing but his price; and he is bound to give the price of himselfe; and it is lawfull for him to doe (his businesse) and to eate, for loe he hath not sanctified his body, as a servant. Maim. ibidem sect. 20. or sleepe] or goat, for that also is implied in the originall word, Exod. 12. 3, 5.

V. 27. of an unclean beast] the Greeke translateth plurally, of unclean beasts. Iarchi expoundeth this of such unclean beasts as were spoken of in v. 11. which a man sanctified unto the reparation of the Sanctuary. to thine estimation] the Greeke and Chaldee translate, the estimation (or value) thereof. So after, and usually in this chapter.

Ver. 28. devoted thing] in Hebrew Cherem, in Greeke Anathema: which word Luke useth in Greeke for the gifts wherewith the Temple was adorned, Luk. 21. 5. It meaneth things devoted, dedicated, and separated from common use to God. And often this Cherem is used for destroying

ing a thing utterly as accursed, Exo. 22. 20. Deut. 7. 2. and 20. 17. and for forfeiting or confiscation of goods, Ezra 10. 8. Here and in Num. 18. and other where it is put for devoted things, wholly given unto God. There is also a difference between the estimation forementioned, and the devoted things, as the Hebrewes observe: that the estimations are determined (or set) by the Law, but the devoted things are not. Maim. in Erachin, c. 1. f. 23. Likewise of devoted things (they say) some were the Lords, some the Priests, Num. 18. 14. He ibid. saith, This be a devoted thing to the maintenance of the Sanctuary, or devoted unto God, &c. it falleth to the maintenance of the Sanctuary: but if he saith, Devoted absolutely, then it is to the Priests; for absolute devoted things are for the Priests, Numb. 18. 14. What differ the devoted things of the priests, from the devoted things of God? Gods devoted things are holy, and may be redeemed by the worth of them, and the price falleth to the maintenance of the Sanctuary, and the goods themselves goe out for common (or prophane) things. But the things devoted for the priests, may never be redeemed, but are given to the Priest as an heave-offring. And of the thing devoted for the Priests, he saith (in Levit. 27. 28.) IT SHALL NOT BE SOLD, NOR REDEEMED: not sold to another, nor redeemed by the owners. Ad. in Erachin, ch. 6. sect. 1. 4. Howbeit, this difference appeareth not by the Law of God; which speaketh of all devote things in generall. of all that he hath Hereupon they say, A man may devote of his herd, and of his focke, and of his servants that are Canaanites, and of the field of his possession: but not devote all his beasts, or all his servants, or all his fields, or all the moveable goods that he hath; for it is written, OF ALL THAT HE HATH. But if he doe devote all his goods; let they are devoted; whether he have devoted them for the priests, or for the maintenance of the Sanctuary. And who so devoteth or sanctifieth all his goods, they take all that he hath, even to the Phylacteries that are on his head, &c. Maim. in Erachin, c. 6. f. 2. 3. And againe, Let a man never sanctifie or devote all his goods: for he that so doth, transgresseth against the meaning of this Scripture, which saith, OF ALL THAT HE HATH; and not, All that he hath. Neither is this pietie, but folly; for he wasteth all his substance, when he hath need of the creatures, &c. Of the sacrifices which a man is bound to bring, let the Law spareth his goods, and saith that he shall bring according to the tribute of his hand, Deut. 16. 10. how much more in things which a man is not bound unto but in respect of his vow; that he should not vow, but as it meet for him, as it is written (In Deut. 16. 17.) Every man according to the gift of his hand; according to the blessing of the LORD thy God, which he hath given thee. Maim. in Erachin, ch. 8. sect. 13. of a man as of his slaves, which were his to sell, or give, or devote, as his beasts; because they were his owne. And thus Sol. Iarchi here expoundeth it, as if hee devote his men-servants or women-servants, that are Canaanites. holiness of holiness Hebrew, holiness of holiness, that is, most holy, meaning in respect of him that devoted them; but the Priests which enjoyed them, used them as their common goods; as the Hebrewes say, At the time when he devoteth devoted things for the Priests, so long as they are in the owners house, let they are holy in all respects, Levit. 27. 28. when he hath given them to the Priest, then they are as common things in all respects; as it is said Num. 18. 14. Every thing devoted in Israel, shall be thine. Maim. in Erachin, ch. 6. sect. 5.

Verf. 29. None devoted shall] or, Any devoted thing shall not, Some understand this of beasts, devoted by men: but it seemeth rather to be spoken of men, (as in the former verse,) which were devoted unto death. Which was not only done by God, as when he devoted Iericho, Ios. 6. 17. & the Amalekites, Deut. 25. 19. 1 Sam. 15. 3. and other the like; but by men, as in speciall vowes, Num. 21. 2. 3. or when they were adjudged to death for sin, Exod. 22. 20. And to this latter, the Hebrewes do apply this law, saying; Who so hath bin judgement decreed by the Magistrates of Israel, that he is to be killed for his transgression committed; if another doe estimate him, or that he estimate himselfe, or saith; My price be upon me, or another saith, the price of this man be upon me; he is not bound (to give) any thing; for this is as a dead man; and there is no valuation or price of the dead. And of this it is said (in Levit. 27. 29.) None devoted which shall be devoted, of man, shall be redeemed: as if he should say, there is no redemption for him, but as a dead man. Maim. in Erachin, ch. 1. f. 13. The like expolition is given by Sol. Iarchi, Chazkuni, and others. shall be redeemed A devotion, was more then a simple vow, whereof there might be redemption, but things devoted had no redemption. And as all vowes were to tend unto the honour of God, and strengthening of mens faith, with manifestation of their thankfulness: so the not redeeming of any thing devoted by vow; nor of other single vowes, without a mulct on him that vowed and afterward would redeem it, was to teach men constancy in all good purposes and words. For if a man had but sworn to his neighbour, though it were to his owne hindrance, he might not change; Psal. 15. 4. how much lesse might he change his solemne promise unto the Lord: who recompenseth abundantly all worldly losses, with heavenly blessings; and often addeth earthly to them also: Mar. 10. 29. 30. Proverbes 3. 9. 10.

V. 30. All the tithe] There are two sorts of tithe in the Law: the first which (after the payment of the first fruits) was given to the Levites, Num. 18. 21. the second which (after the payment of the former tithe) was separated and carried up to Ierusalem, and there eaten by the owners, Deut. 12. 6. 7. 11. and 14. 22. 23. which second tithe every third yeere, was given to the poore, Deut. 14. 28. 29. The Hebrewes understand this Law, not of the first tithe, but of the second, thus they write: after that they have separated the great heave-offring, they separate one of ten out of that which is left: and this is called the first tithe; and of it is spoken in Num. 18. And this tithe is for the Levites both males and females, Num. 18. 20. 21. The first tithe may lawfully be eaten of (common) Israelites, and a man may eat thereof in his uncleanness, for there is no holiness in it at all.

all. And wheresoever any holiness is spoken of tithes, or redemption of them, it is not (meant) but of the second tithe. And they count the first tithes as common things, because it is said (in Numb. 18.27.) And this heave-offring shall be reckoned unto you, as though it were the corne of the threshing-floor, &c. at the corne-store and wine-press are common things, so is the first tithe, Maim. tom. 3. treat. of Tithes, chap. 1. f. 1. 2. of the tree] that is, of all trees, whose fruit was mans meat: and all manner herbes: Luk. 11.42. The Hebrewes say, All meat of man which is kept, whose growth (or nourishment) is out of the ground, oweth an heave-offring. And wee are commanded to separate thereof, the first fruits for the Priest; Deut. 18.4. As corne and wine and oile (mentioned in Deut. 18.4.) are mans meat, and grow out of the earth, and have owners, as it is said, THY CORNE; so all that is like unto them, oweth an heave-offring, and also the tithes. Vetches, though they be not mans meat, forasmuch as they eat them in yeeres of famine, they owe an heave-offring and tithes, &c. Garden seeds which are not eaten, as Rape seede, Radish seed. Onion seed and the like, are free from the heave-offrings, and from tithes, because they are not mans meat: but the seeds of the greene-herbe, owe them. Herbes, though they be mans meat, owe not the tithes, save by the doctrine of the Scribes, &c. Maim. tom. 3. in Trumoth ch. 2. f. 1. 2, 3, 6. Whatsoever is free from the first tithe, is free from the second, and from the tithe of the poore: and whatsoever oweth the first, oweth both the other. Maim. treat. of the second tithe, ch. 1. sect. 1. 2. holiness] in Greek, an holy thing. Therefore the second tithe might not be eaten, save before the Lord, in the place which he should choose: Deut. 12.5, 6, 7, 17. neither might it be eaten by any uncleane, Deut. 26. 12. 14. But the first tithe, and the tenth of it, (which was given to the Priests) might be eaten in every place, Numb. 18.31.

31

Ver. 31. will redeeme] to weete, for himselfe and his owne private use: for if he dwelt far from the place which God had chosen, he might turne his tithe fruits into money, and goe up therewith, Deut. 14.23, 24, 25. so if they were uncleane, they were to be redeemed; but the fifti part was added by such as would redeeme their own tithe for their own use. So the Hebrew doctors say, He that redeemeth his tithe for himselfe, whether it be his owne, or sale to him by inheritance, &c. must adde the fifti part thereto: if it be worth foure, he must give five, Levit. 27.31. If he have redeemed his tithe fruits, and added a fifti part; and would againe redeeme that redemption for himselfe the second time, he is to adde a second fifti part for the principall onely, and not adde a fifti part for the fifti part. But all tithe which he redeemeth not of his owne, he addeh not a fifti part part. Maimony treat. of the Second tithe, ch. 5. sect. 1. 3, 4.

Ver. 32. the herd or of the focke] The Hebrewes understand this law of these onely, saying, We are commanded to separate one of ten of all cleane beasts which are borne unto man every yeere: and this commandement is not in use, but for the herd and the focke onely, Levit. 27.32. The tithe beast is to be payed of common things, but not of things sanctified: and it is due, both within the land, and without the land. All are bound to give the tithe beast; Priests, Levites, and Israelites. And the Law for the tithe beast is, that it be killed in the court (of the Sanctuary,) and the blood sprinkled (on the altar) and the fat burned; and the rest of the flesh is eaten by the owners in Ierusalem, as the other leight holy things, and the Priests have nothing thereof, but it is all for the owners, as the Paschall lamb. And if it be a blemished beast, whether a blemish hath befallne it (after,) or that be separated it at first with a blemish thereon; then it is to be eaten in any place. Maim. tom. 3. in Bechoroth (or treat. of Firstborne,) ch. 6. sect. 1, 2, 3, 4. by payment of the tenth Beast unto the Lord, the people acknowledged their subjection and thankfulness unto him; for the giving of tithes was a signe of subjection, as the Apostle sheweth in Hebrewes 7. And as the giving of the Firstborne, was a thankfull acknowledgment that the beginning of all propagation & increase was from God, without whose blessings all creatures are barren and fruitlesse, Gen. 1. so the giving of the tenthes; was a like acknowledgement, that his blessing made them plenteous in the fruit of their cattell, and other substance, Deut. 28. 11. Gen. 31. 8, 9. Psal. 144. 13. for ten is often used to signifie many; as is noted on Gen. 31. 7. and Levit. 26. 26. And God it is that promised, I will sow the house of Israel, and the house of Iudah, with the seed of man, and with the seed of beast, Ier. 31. 27. that passeth under the rod] this sheweth the manner of tithing not to be at the will of man, but as the beasts of their owne accord went out of the folde or bawne. The Hebrewes declare it thus; Who so hath ten lambs, and separateth one of them for a tithe, or hath an hundred, and separateth ten for tithe; these are no tithe: but thus he must doe: He is to gather all his lambes, or all his calves into the fold; and make thereto a little doore; so that two may not goe out at once. And their dams, must stand without; and as they bleat or bellow and the yong ones heare their voice, they goe out of the fold to meet them; as it is said, THAT PASSETH UNDER THE ROD, (Lev. 27.32.) it must passe of it selfe, and not be caried out by his hand. And as they come out of the fold one after another, he beginneth and counteth them with a rod, one, two, three foure, &c. and the tenth that cometh out, whether it be male or female, perfect or blemished; he marketh it with a red marke, and saith, this is the tithe. He needeth not gather all his beasts which are borne to him, into one fold together, but every focke by it selfe. They may not tithe of the sheepe for the bullocks, nor of the bullocks for the sheepe, but they may tithe of the sheepe for the goats, and of the goats for the sheepe; for (I say) the focke, comprehendeth them both. They may not tithe them that are borne this yeere, from them that are borne in another yeere; even as they may not tithe of the seed of the land, of the new for the old, or of the old for the new. All that are borne in the first of Tisri (September) untill the 29. of Elul (August) are alike, and they may tithe of the one for the other. If five lambs be borne the 29. day of August, and five the first of September, they are not alike (or matches.) If a lamb bring forth a yong within her yeere, then shee and her yong are put into the fold together to be tithed. Maim. in Bechoroth, ch. 7. f. 1. 5. The tithes (as also the First fruits) in Irael, which the Lord

Lord sanctified to himselfe: besides their use for his honour, the sustentation of his minister, and the poor; had also a further signification of Gods elect people, whom he sanctifieth and reserveth unto himselfe for salvation, as the tithes and first fruits of his creatures, Esay 6. 13. Jer. 2. 3. Jam. 1. 18. Heb. 12. 23. Rev. 14. 4.

33 Ver. 33. He shall not search] the Greeke translateth, Thou shalt not change them, a good for a bad, or a bad for a good. the change thereof] that is, the beast put in the place thereof. not be redeemed] under this, the Hebrewes understand also a prohibition to sell it, if it were unblemished: as Maimony in Becoroth, ch. 6. f. 5. &c. saith, It is unlawfull to sell the tithe beast if it be perfect (without blemish): for it is said, It shall not be redeemed. Wee have beene taught, that this is also a prohibition to sell it. And it seemeth unto me, that he that selleth his tithe, doth nothing, [his sale is of no force:] neither shall the buyer receive it. By the doctrine of our Scribes, it is unlawfull to sell the blemished tithe, yea though it be slaine. But if a blemished tithe beast be slaine, it is lawfull to sell the fat, synewes, skin, or bones thereof; and they have forbidden nothing to be sold but the flesh onely. The tithes in Israel being thus sanctified by the commandment of God, unto his honour, the maintenance of his Ministers, and releife of his poore people; it taught them, and teacheth us, to honour the Lord with our substance, Prov. 3. 9. acknowledging him to be the author of all our increase and store, Deut. 8. 13. - 18. Hos. 2. 8. to honour his ministers, and to communicate unto them in all good things, 1 Tim. 5. 17, 18. Galat. 6. 6. that they which sow unto us spirituall things, should reape our carnall things, 1 Cor. 9. 11. and to give almes of such things as wee have, that all things may be cleane unto us, Luk. 11. 41. yea even to sell that we have, and give almes; to provide our selves bagges which waxe not old, a treasure in the heavens that faileth not, Luk. 12. 33. And as we beleewe that the purpose of God towards us, in his election of grace, standeth firme, and unchangeable; and he loveth us unto the end, Rom. 9. 11. Ioh. 13. 1. so ought our love againe unto him and his to be constant for ever: and with purpose of heart, we should cleave unto the Lord, Act. 1. 23.

HEB. 7. 11. 12.

If perfection were by the Leviticall Priesthood, (for under it the people received the Law:) what further need was there, that another Priest should rise, after the order of Melchisedek, and not be called after the order of Aaron? For the Priesthood being changed, there is made of necessity a change also of the Law.

HEB. 8. 1. 2.

We have such an high Priest, who is set on the right hand of the throne of the Majesty in the heavens: a Minister of the Holies, and of the true Tabernacle, which the Lord pitched, and not man.

HEB. 9. 28.

Christ was once offered to beare the finnes of many: and unto them that looke for him, shall he appeare the second time without Sinne, unto salvation.

I will put you in remembrance, though ye once knew this, how that the Lord having saved a people out of the land of Egypt, afterward destroyed them that beleevd not.

Fortie yeeres was I grieved with this generation.

H E B. 3. 17, 18, 19. & 4. 11.

But with whom was he grieved fortie yeeres? Was it not with them that had sinned, whose carcases fell in the wilderness? And to whom sware he, that they should not enter into his rest; but to them that beleevd not? So we see, that they could not enter in, because of unbeliefe. Let us labour therefore to enter into that rest, lest any man fall after the same example of unbeliefe.

THE FOVRTH BOOKE OF MOSES, CALLED NUMBERS.

CHAPTER I.

1, In the second yeere after Israel was come out of Egypt, God commandeth Moses to number all the males of the people, from twentie yeeres old, and upward. 5, The Princes of the Tribes that were joynt with Moses and Aaron for this businesse. 17, The number of every Tribe particularly. 45, The summe of them all together. 47, The Levites are not numbred among the Tribes; 50, but are exempted for the service of the Lord, about the Tabernacle.

AND Jehovah spake unto Moses, in the wilderness of Sinai, in the Tent of the congregation: in the first [day] of the second moneth, in the second yeere; after their comming forth,

2 out of the land of Egypt, saying; Take yee, the summe of all the congregation of the sonnes of Israel; according to their families, according to the house of their fathers: by the number of the names; every male, according to their polles. From twenty yeeres old, and upward, every one that goeth forth with the armie, in Israel: ye shall muster them, by their armies, thou and Aaron. And with you there shall be a man of every Tribe: every man shall be head of the house of his fathers. And these are the names of the men, which shall stand with you: of Reuben; Elizur, the son of Shedeur. 6 Of Simeon; Shelumiel, the son of Zurishaddai. Of Judah; Naasson, the son of Amminadab. Of Issachar; Nethaneel, the son of Zuar. Of Zabulon; Eliab, the son of Helon.

Of the sons of Joseph; of Ephraim, Elisamma, the son of Ammihud: of Manasses; Gamaliel, the sonne of Pedahzur. Of Benjamin; Abidan, the son of Gideoni. Of Dan; Ahiezer, the son of Ammishaddai. Of Aser; Pagiel, the son of Ocran. Of Gad; Eliasaph, the son of Deguel. Of Naphtali; Ahira, the son of Enan. These be the called of the congregation; Princes, of the Tribes of their fathers: heads, of the thousands of Israel. And Moses and Aaron tooke these men, which are expressed, by names. And they assembled all the congregation, in the first day of the second moneth; and they declared their genealogies according to their families, according to the house of their fathers: by the number of the names; from twentie yeeres old, and upward, according to their polles. As Jehovah commanded Moses, so he mustered them, in the wilderness of Sinai.

And the sons of Reuben, the first-borne of Israel, were by their generations, according to their families, according to the house of their fathers: by the number of the names, according to their polles; every male, from twenty yeeres old, and upward; every one, that went forth with the armie. Those that were mustered of them, of the Tribe of Reuben, were six and forty thousand and five hundred.

Of the sonnes of Simeon; by their generations, according to their families, according to the house of their fathers: those that were

Aaaa a mustered

23 mustered of him, by the number of the names, according to their polles; every male, from twentie yeeres old, and upward; every one, that went forth with the armie. Those that were mustered of them, of the Tribe of Simeon, were nine and fiftie thousand, and three hundred.

24 Of the sonnes of Gad; by their generations according to their families, according to the house of their fathers: by the number of the names, from twentie yeeres old, and upward; every one, that went forth with the armie. Those that were mustered of them, of the Tribe of Gad, were five and fortie thousand, and six hundred, and fiftie.

26 Of the sonnes of Judah; by their generations according to their families, according to the house of their fathers: by the number of the names, from twentie yeeres old, and upward; every one, that went forth with the armie. Those that were mustered of them, of the Tribe of Judah, were foure and seventie thousand, and six hundred.

28 Of the sonnes of Issachar; by their generations according to their families, according to the house of their fathers: by the number of the names, from twentie yeeres old, and upward; every one, that went forth with the armie. Those that were mustered of them, of the Tribe of Issachar, were foure and fiftie thousand, and foure hundred.

30 Of the sonnes of Zabulon; by their generations according to their families, according to the house of their fathers: by the number of the names, from twentie yeeres old, and upward; every one, that went forth with the armie. Those that were mustered of them, of the Tribe of Zabulon, were seven and fiftie thousand, and foure hundred.

32 Of the sonnes of Joseph, of the sonnes of Ephraim; by their generations according to their families, according to the house of their fathers: by the number of the names, from twentie yeeres old, and upward; every one, that went forth with the armie. Those that were mustered of them, of the Tribe of Ephraim, were fortie thousand, and five hundred.

34 Of the sonnes of Manasses; by their generations, according to their families, according to the house of their fathers: by the number of their names, from twentie yeeres old, and upward; every one, that went forth with the armie. Those that were mustered of them, of the Tribe of Manasses, were two and thirtie thousand, and two hundred.

Of the sonnes of Benjamin; by their generations according to their families, according to the house of their fathers: by the number of the names, from twentie yeeres old, and upward; every one, that went forth with the armie. Those that were mustered of them, of the Tribe of Benjamin, were five and thirtie thousand, and foure thousand.

Of the sonnes of Dan; by their generations according to their families, according to the house of their fathers, by the number of the names, from twentie yeeres old, and upward; every one, that went forth with the armie. Those that were mustered of them, of the Tribe of Dan, were two and sixtie thousand, and seven hundred.

Of the sonnes of Aser; by their generations according to their families, according to the house of their fathers: by the number of the names, from twentie yeeres old, and upward; every one, that went forth with the armie. Those that were mustered of them, of the Tribe of Aser, were one and fortie thousand, and five hundred.

The sonnes of Naphtali; by their generations according to their families, according to the house of their fathers: by the number of the names, from twentie yeeres old, and upward; every one, that went forth with the armie. Those that were mustered of them, of the Tribe of Naphtali, were three and fiftie thousand, and foure hundred.

These are those that were mustered, which Moses mustered, and Aaron, and the Princes of Israel; twelve men: each one was, for the house of his fathers. And they were, all those that were mustered of the sons of Israel, according to the house of their fathers: from twentie yeeres old, and upward; every one, that went forth with the armie, in Israel. Even all that were mustered, were six hundred thousand, and three thousand, and five hundred, and fiftie. But the Levites, according to the Tribe of their fathers, were not mustered among them.

For Jehovah had spoken unto Moses, saying; Onely the Tribe of Levi, thou shalt not muster; neither take the summe of them, among the sonnes of Israel. But thou, appoint the Levites over the Tabernacle of the Testimonie, and over all the vessels thereof, and over all things that belong to it: they shall beare the Tabernacle, and all the vessels thereof; and they shall minister unto it: and shall encampe round about the Tabernacle. And when the 52 Tabernacle setteth forward, the Levites shall take it downe; and when the Tabernacle is to be pitched, the Levites shall set it up: and the stranger that commeth nigh, shall be put to death. And the sons of Israel shall encampe, every man by his own campe, and every man by his owne standard, 53 throughout their armies. But the Levites shall encampe round about the Tabernacle of the Testimonie; that there be no fervent wrath, upon the congregation of the sonnes of Israel: and the Levites shall keepe the charge of the Tabernacle of the Testimony. 54 And the sonnes of Israel did so: according to all that Jehovah commanded Moses, so did they.

Tabernacle

Annotations.

Numbers] This name is given unto this book, according to the Greeke title: because the first chiefe thing here handled is the numbring of the tribes of Israel. The Hebrews give it no other name then of the first words, Vajedabber, that is, And (the LORD) spake; or Bemidbar, that is, In the wilderness: see the first Annotations on Genesis and Exodus. And here beginneth the 34. Section or Lecture of the Law: whereof see Genesis 6. 9.

1. Vers. 1. Sinai] the mount whereon the Law had beene given, Exod. 19. by which mountaine Israel yet abode, untill the twentieth day of this Moneth, Numb. 10. 11, 12. the Tent] or, Tabernacle of meeting; whither the people were to assemble at the times appointed, and where God met with them, as he promised, Exod. 25. 22. It is called also the Tabernacle of Testimonie, vers. 43. and so the Greeke translateth it here. the first] Hebr. the one, understanding day; as in Mat. 26. 17. compared with Marke 14. 12. see the notes on Gen. 8. 13. And one is often put for first, as is noted on Gen. 1. 5. And every first day of the moneth was a feast, Numb. 28. 11, &c. second moneth] which wee now call Aprill: so in Targum Jonathan it is said, the first of the moneth Ijar (that is, Aprill) which is the second moneth. In the Scripture it is named Ziv, 1 King. 6. 1. of the brightness and beautie of the flowers which then doe spring. But God had spoken before unto them in the first moneth, which is related after in Numb. 9. 1, &c.

after their comming forth] or, of their departing: see the Annotations on Exod. 16. 1. God having given them Lawes for his service, in Exodus and Leviticus; doth now settle their Church and Commonwealth in order.

2. Vers. 2. the summe] Hebrew, the head; which some understand for heads; that is, the Rulers: but the Chaldee expoundeth it, the summe (or count) see the notes on Exod. 30. 12. This people was numbred by Moses, three times; in the first yeere after they came out of Egypt, when every man gave a rancome for his soule; whereby their redemption by Christ was figured, Exo. 30. 11, 12. &c. and 38. 25, 26. In the second yeere, when now they were to be set in order for their encamping about the Sanctuarie, and journeying with it towards Canaan; whereof the 4. first chapters of this book doe treat. The third and last muster was in the fortieth yeere (the last of their travell;) when all this generation being dead, their sons were numbred, for to receive inheritance in the land of promise, a Figure of the Kingdome of Heaven. the sonnes of Israel] the twelve tribes, Gen. 49. 1, 2. 28. So all strangers are excluded from this numbring. The Levites also were numbred apart; ver. 49. &c. families] or kindreds, which next descended of those twelve tribes; of which families, see Numb. 26. 5. &c. house] that is, as the Greeke translateth, houses: and these were the next descent of the families aforesaid. See Jos. 7. 14. Aben Esra here noteth, that it is said, the house of their fathers, because the family of the mother is not called a family. every male] whereby the females are excluded; as also all children, vers. 3. their poller] or, their skulls, that is, as the Greeke translateth, their heads; meaning the particular persons: so in Exod. 38. 26.

Vers. 3. old] Hebr. sonne of twentie yeeres; that is, going in his twentieth yeere; of which phrase, see the Annotations on Gen. 5: 32. So all children and youths under 20. yeeres, were not in this account. upward] some of the Hebrewes limit the time, unto sixtie yeeres old: R. Menachem on Numb. 1. but the Law setteth no such limitation.

that goeth forth] to wit, usually; or is able to goe forth. So all that were unable for the warre, through old age, sicknesse, or other infirmities, are not mustered here with Israel. shall muster] or shall number; which in the Hebrew and Greeke, hath the name of visiting. This numbring of Israel signified Gods providence and care over them, which extendeth not onely to their persons, but to the very haire of their heads, which are all numbred, Luke 12. 7. And in that they are numbred or mustred by their armies, it sheweth whereunto God had called them, even to fight the good fight of faith, 1 Timothie 6. 12. By the word of Truth, by the power of God, by the armour of Righteousnesse, on the right hand and on the left, 2 Cor. 6. 7. Therefore they were to follow the Lord & his Tabernacle, going before them to fight against the Canaanites: as in our spirituall warfare, we are to follow Christ, Rev. 12. 7. & 19. 11, 14. And onely males or men of strength, are mustered: to teach what we ought all to be in Christ; even strong in the Lord, and in the power of his might: putting on the whole armour of God, that we may be able to stand against the wiles of the Devill, &c. Eph. 6. 10, 11, 12, 13. So the Church in her travell, bringeth forth a male or manchild, Rev. 12. 5. Esa. 66. 7, 8.

Vers. 4. a man of every Tribe] Hebr. a man a man of (or for) a Tribe. So there were twelve Princes, besides Moses and Aaron, fourteen in all: as in the Christian Church, there were twelve Apostles, besides Paul and Barnabas. head] that is, chiefe, or Ruler.

- 5 Ver. 5. Of Reuben] understand, from the 10. verse, Of the sonnes of Reuben: and so the Greeke explaineth it, Of those of Reuben. Elizur] in Greeke Elisaur. As the Patriarchs had their names significant in their owne tongue, given them upon speciall occasion, and applied some of them to spirituall use, as is to be seene in Gen. 29. 32. &c. and 30. 6. &c. and 49. 8. &c. so their posterity had names of good notation and use; though the speciall occasions are not noted. As Elizur signifieth, The Rock (Christ) is my God: and his father Shodur, The light of the Almighty.

- 6 Ver. 6. Of Simeon] Gr. Of those of Simeon; that is, of his sons: and so the rest which follow. Shelumiel] in Greeke, Salamiel son of Sourisadai. By interpretation, Shelumiel signifieth, God is my recompense; and Zurishaddai, The Almighty is my Rock.

- 7 Ver. 7. Naasson] so the Greeke writeth him, here and in Mat. 1. 4. in Hebrew Nachshon: by interpretation, Experiment; and Aminadab, My people is noble.

- 8 Ver. 8. Nethameel] i.e. The gift of God: in Greek, Nathanael; and so the name is written in Joh. 1. 46, 47.

- 9 Ver. 9. Zabulon] Hebrew, Zebulun. Eliab] by interpretation, My God is the Father. Helon] or Chelon; in Greeke, Chailon: hee hath his name of strength.

- 10 Ver. 10. Ammihud] Hebr. Gnammihud, written in Gr. Semioud; and so in Num. 7. 48. the Hebrew letter Gnain, being sounded like S. after the Chaldean manner: as Begnor, Numb. 22. 5. is Bosor in 2 Pet. 2. 15. Ammihud signifieth, My people hath the Glorie, and Elishama, My God hath heard.

Gamaliel] so the Greeke pronounceth him, here, and in Act. 5. 34. in Hebrew, Gamliel; that is, God is my reward. Pedabzur] in Greeke Phadassur; by interpretation, The Rock (Christ) red emeth.

- 11 Ver. 11. Abidan] that is, My Father is the Judge. Gideoni] in Greeke, Gadarni, The cutler downe, a warlike name.

- 12 Ver. 12. Abiezzer] or, Achiezer, The Brothers helpe. Ammishaddai] in Greeke, Amisadai; The people of the Almighty.

- 13 Ver. 13. Pagiel] in Greeke Phagiel: by interpretation, God hath met me. The same word is applied to Christs intercession, in Esa. 53. 12.

- 14 Ver. 14. Eljasaph] that is, God hath added: it hath affinitie with Iosephs name. Deguel] in Greeke, Dagonel; afterward he is named Reguel, Num. 2. 14. Deguel signifieth, Know God; as Reguel, The friend of God.

- 15 Ver. 15. Naphtali] in Greeke, Nephthaleim; and so his name is written in Mat. 4. 15. Here the order of the Tribes, as the Princes were chosen out of them, may be viewed thus:

- | | |
|-------------|--------------------------|
| 1. Reuben | } Sonnes of Leah. |
| 2. Simeon | |
| 3. Judah | |
| 4. Issachar | |
| 5. Zabulon | |

- | | |
|-------------|----------------------|
| 6. Ephraim | } Of Rachel . |
| 7. Manasses | |
| 8. Benjamin | |

9. Dan, The 1. son of Billa Rachels maid.

10. Aser, The 2. son of Zilpha Leahs maid.

11. Gad, The 1. son of Zilpha.

12. Naphtali, The 2. son of Billa.

Reuben is first, for being Israels first borne, Gen. 46. 8. Then, Simeon, his next brother. Levi is omitted: because that Tribe was to be numbred by it selfe, not with the other, Num. 1. 47. yet of that Tribe was Moses and Aaron, chiefe numberers of the people, verse 3. Judah, Issachar and Zabulon, were Leahs next sonnes in order, reckoned here, as in Exod. 1. 2, 3. and in their precious stones, Exod. 28. Ioseph Rachels first borne, hath the first birth-right, that is, a double portion, so of him are two Tribes, 1 Chr. 5. 1, 2. Gen. 48. 5, 6. Ephraim the yonger sonne of Ioseph, is set before his elder brother Manasses, according to Isaaks disposition, in Genes. 48. 19, 20. and God made him standard-bearer, Num. 2. 18. and these with Benjamin the freewomans children, are set before all the handmaids sons, as being the most noble. Dan is the first of all the bondwomens seed, both in birth, Gen. 30. 6. and in the high Priests Ephod, Ex. 28. and is one of the standard-bearers, Num. 2. 25. Aser, the second sonne of Zilpha, is (contrary to the usuall order in Exo. 1. & 28.) named next to Dan, Bilhahs sonne; for he was next to his standard in pitching about the Tabernacle, Num. 2. 25, 27. Gad, as hee was the first born of Leahs handmaid, so was he preferred to the higher place, being now joyned unto the standard of Reuben, Num. 2. 10, 14. So Naphtali remaineth for the last place, as he was the last of the Tribes that camped about the Tabernacle, Num. 2. 29. Thus Gods wisdom appeareth in naming the Tribes, according to the present occasion of their employments: that all things might be ordered in peace; for hee is not the author of confusion, but of peace; as in all Churches of the Saints, 1 Cor. 14. 33.

Ver. 16. the called] or, the renowned; that is, states men; such as were men of renowne for age and wisdom, and called to consult about matters of state: see Numb. 16. 2. Sol. Larchi (on Numb. 7. 2.) saith, These were the officers over them in Egypt which had bene beaten for them, Exod. 5. 14. Princes] or Rulers. Nasi, a Prince, Captaine or Ruler, is so named of lifting up, or easing the burdens of the people by their government, as Num. 11. 17. Exod. 18. 22. or, of being lifted up, and preferred above the people. heads] or Captaines of thousands, in Greeke, Chiliarchs. of the thousands] that is, of the bands or companies, which consisted every one of a thousand men: for so the Tribes were divided into thousands, hundreds, fifties, and tens, with captaines over them, Exo. 18. 21, 25. Whereupon such a company and their generation, is called a thousand, as in Judg. 6. 15. My thousand is poore in Manasse, where the Chaldean translateth it, my family. So Bethleem a towne, is called one of the thousands of Judah, Mic.

5.2. where the Greeke (which the holy Ghost alloweth in Mat. 2. 6.) tranſlateth, the Rulers, or Governours.

18 Verſ. 18. the ſecond moneth] called Ziv, with us April, as is noted on verſ. 1. So this aſſembling, was at the new Moone, (which ſignified a renewing or change of the peoples ſtate and order) and on the ſame day that God ſpake unto Mofes out of the Tabernacle, verſ. 1. they declared their Genealogies] of what Tribe and family every man came: or, they were genealogized, that is, were muſtered by Mofes and the Princes, according to their Genealogie and pedigree. So the Greeke tranſlateth, they were viſited or muſtered. their polles] in Greeke, their heads, as in verſ. 2. So after in verſ. 20, 22. &c.

19 Verſ. 19. of Sinai] where the Lawes, Judgements and Statutes were given to Iſrael; there alſo was their order ſet, for encamping about Gods Sanctuary, and marching with it towards Canaan. And this alſo is to diſtinguiſh it from the ſecond muſtering, which was in the plaines of Moab, when all this generation was dead, Numbers 26. 3, 63, 64.

20 Verſ. 20. by their generations] in Greeke, according to their kindreds: ſo after in verſ. 22, 24. &c. that went forth] or, that goeth forth with the hoſt; that is, was able to goe forth to warre. So after.

24 Verſ. 24. Gad] he is ſet in the third place, (in Levites roomth, who was numbred apart, v. 47.) becauſe Gad was joyned with Reuben and Simeon, on the South quarter of the hoſt, Numb. 2. 10, -14. All the other Tribes are muſtered in the order before ſet downe, verſ. 5, -15.

25 Ver. 25. and fiftie] Gad the handmaids ſonne, is the only of all the Tribes, whoſe number endeth with fifty: all the other are by thouſands, and end with hundreds; which ſhewed Gods admirable providence and bleſſing in multiplying them after ſuch a ſort, that no odde or broken number was among all the Tribes; (as when Mofes bleſſed Joſeph, he mentioned the ten thouſands of Ephraim, and the thouſands of Manaſſes, Deuter. 33. 17.) whereas in other numbring, we ſhall finde few but broken numbers, as in the firſt borne of Iſrael, Num. 3. 43. and in thoſe that returned out of Babylon, Ezra 2. 1, -42. Nehem. 7. 6, -45. Here we may behold the number of every Tribe, beginning at the greateſt, and ſo in order to the leaſt, thus;

1. Judah 74600.
2. Dan 62700.
3. Simeon 59300.
4. Zabulon 57400.
5. Iſſachar 54400.
6. Naphtali 53400.
7. Reuben 46500.
8. Gad 45650.
9. Aſer 41500.
10. Ephraim 40500.
11. Benjamin 35400.
12. Manaſſes 32200.

Judah hath the greateſt number, for he was to be celebrated of his brethren, Gen. 49. 8. he was ſtan-dard-bearer in the foremoſt quarter as they camped about the Tabernacle, Num. 2. 3. His ſtandard (Lion-like, Gen. 49. 9.) marched in the firſt place, as they journeyed towards the land of promiſe, Num. 10. 13, 14. He had halfe the firſt birth-right, that of him the chiefe ruler ſhould come, and our Lord Chriſt himſelfe concerning the fleſh, 1 Chron. 5. 2. Heb. 7. 14. Here he hath valiant men of war, moe than double the number of Benjamin or Manaſſes; almoſt twelve thouſand moe than the greateſt Tribe.

Dan the handmaids ſon hath the next number to the moſt, for Rachels ſake; for Jakobs bleſſing, Gen. 49. 16. and for his place in the campe, to be ſtandard-bearer to the reere-ward; which was the greateſt quarter next Judahs, Num. 3. 9, 31. & 10. 25. that the foremoſt ſtandard, and the hindmoſt might have the greateſt number of Warri-ers. And whereas at the firſt, Dan had but one ſon, Gen. 46. 23. (and ſo one family, Num. 26. 42.) when Benjamin had ten, Gen. 46. 21. now God ſo diſpoſed that Dan ſhould be one of the greateſt in number, and Benjamin one of the leaſt. For God is the Judge: he putteth downe one and ſetteth up another, Pſal. 75. 7. The barren hath borne ſeven; and ſhe that had many children is waxed feeble, 1 Sam. 2. 5.

Simeon the ſecond Patriarch, is the third in number of Warri-ers, at this time, but before they came into Canaan, his Tribe was diminished, for their ſin, exceedingly: but being now 59300. it was at the latter muſter, but 22200. men, Numb. 26. 14. ſo that Mofes bleſſing the Tribes, mentioneth not his name at all, Deut. 33.

Reuben, Iſraels firſt borne, as he loſt his dignitie for defiling his fathers bed, Gen. 49. 3, 4. ſo here, his increaſe is none of the greateſt, but ſix of his brethren have moe than he.

Ephraim, as he was bleſſed before his elder brother Manaſſes, Gen. 48. 20. ſo here he is increaſed by thouſands more than Manaſſes, and more than the whole Tribe of Benjamin; and his bleſſing continueth above his brother, Deut. 33. 17. yet Satan to hinder this, had ſlaine by the Philiftines of Guth, the ſons of Ephraim, whiles they dwelt in Egypt, for which their father Ephraim mourned many daies, 1 Chro. 7. 20, 21, 22. And as they travelled in the wilderneſſe, his poſteritie was diminished eight thouſand, Num. 26. 37.

Benjamin, as hee was the yongſt of all the Patriarchs, ſo here his number is one of the leaſt, (though at the firſt, his children were moe than any of his brethren, Gen. 46. 21.) Afterwards in Canaan, his Tribe was almoſt rooted out, Judg. 20. that he hath not without cauſe this attribute, Benjamin the little, Pſal. 68. 18.

Manaſſes hath the laſt place in this count, that Jakobs prophetic might have effect, his yonger brother (Ephraim) ſhall be greater than he, Gen. 48. 19. But God bleſſed this Tribe in their travell thorow the wilderneſſe; that at the next muſter they were increaſed above twentie thouſand moe than at this time; whereas Ephraim his brother was not increaſed at all, but diminished, Numb. 26. 34, 37. Thus the bleſſings of God were diſtributed ted among the Tribes, for their number, and for their order, according as in wisdom hee saw meet. He increaseth the Nations, and destroyeth them: hee enlargeth the Nations, and straighteneth them, Job 12. 23.

32 Verſ. 32. of Ioseph] he, as his blessing was to be like a fruitfull vine, Gen. 49. 22. so of him by his two sonnes, here are moe warriors than any tribe had, saving Indab. And his two sonnes, Ephraim and Manasse, are not families but tribes, as if they had been Jakobs owne, according to his adoption of them, Gen. 48. 5. Thus Ioseph hath a double portion, the first birthright, 1 Chron. 5. 1, 2.

42 Verſ. 42. The sonnes of Naphtali] Of all the other it is said, Of the sonnes, and so the Greeke translateth this here. Some of the Hebrewes (as Baal hatturim upon this place) give a reason, which appeareth not in Moses, that Of Naphtali onely hee saith THE SONNES, because Naphtalies Tribe had moe daughters than sonnes: and therefore in Naphtalies blessing, (Gen. 49. 21.) he is resembled to a female, an Hinde let loose: Therefore also in Numb. 26. it is written of them all, THE SONNES: because the men were dead, (Num. 26. 64, 65.) but the women multiplied.

44 Verſ. 44. each one was] Hebr. one man, for the house of his fathers, were they; which the Greeke explaineth thus, one man for one Tribe, according to the Tribe of their fathers houses were they.

46 Ver. 46. sixe hundred thousand, &c.] a marvellous increase of seventy foules which came into Egypt, Gen. 46. 27. that so many thousands of able men (besides women and children) should in so few yeeres be multiplied, even as the starres of heaven, Deu. 10. 22. and this was the reward of faith, Heb. 11. 11, 12. Eaalam looking upon them with admiration, said, Who can count the dust of Jakob, and the number of the fourth part of Israel? Num. 23. 10. And such is the increase of the spirituall seed of Christ promised to be; that the Church shall say in her heart, Who hath begotten me these? Esa. 49. 21. For by twelve Apostles, and seventie Disciples, Christs kingdome began to be preached: and that immortall seed of the Word, soone begat many ten thousands of Ierms, Act. 21. 20. and many moe of the Gentiles, even innumerable, Rev. 7. 9. And here also we may observe, that whereas the yeere before, when all the Tribes were first numbred from 20. yeeres old and upward, their summe was 603550. men, Exod. 30. 14. & 38. 26. now in the second yeere when they are againe numbred, and the Tribe of Levi not reckoned with them, there are found the same just number of 603550. so there were so many yong men of nineteen yeeres old, as now supplied the want of the Levites, put apart for the Lords service: that Israel might see they should lose nothing by whatsoever was employed in the service of God.

49 Verſ. 49. Onely] or, But the Tribe, it is an exception, which the Greeke translateth thus; See, the Tribe of Levi, thou shalt not muster: to wit, among the other Israelites, but apart by themselves, Num. 3. 15. &c.

50 Verſ. 50. appoin] or constitute, give charge as Bishops, which hereof have their name. the Testimonie] that is, the Tables of the Law, kept in an Arke, within the Tabernacle, Exod. 31. 18.

they shall beare] according as God appointed their burdens, Num. 4. 25, 31, 36. and to help them for some things, six wagons were allowed them, Num. 7. 7, 8, 9. round about the Tabernacle] and next unto the Tabernacle, betwixt the camps of Israel and it: whereof see chap. 2. and 3.

Verſ. 51. setteth forward] being carried after the cloud, when God removed it from place to place, Num. 10. 11, 17, 21. the stranger] any Israelite or other, that is not of the Tribe of Levi. So for the worke of the Priesthood, both Israelites and Levites are counted strangers, save the seed of Aaron onely, Num. 16. 40. put to death] either by men, or by the hand of God, as was Uzzah, for putting his hand to the Arke, 1 Chronicles 13. 10. So in Targum Isathian it is expounded, he shall be killed with fire flaming out from before the Lord.

Verſ. 52. by his owne campe] the Greeke translateth, in his owne order; which is described in ch. 2. by his owne standard] in Greeke, according to his owne Regiment: see Num. 2. 2.

Verſ. 53. no severent wrath] no punishment from God, as was in Uzzahs case, 1 Chro. 13. the charge] or, the custodie; the watch and ward, and doe the workes appointed of God: see Num. 3. 7, 8. &c. and 18. 3. This debarring of the people from the work of the Sanctuary, and committing it to the Levites charge, shewed the separation of all mankind from God, and their unworthinesse to come neere unto him or his holy things, untill they be called and sanctified of God thereunto. Which being not effected by the Law, or rudiments thereof, (for the Mount where the Law was given, might not be touched, Heb. 12. 18.) is now performed unto us by Christ, who hath washed us from our sins, in his owne blood, and hath made us Kings and Priests unto God, and his Father, Rev. 1. 5, 6. so that we have libertie to enter into the Holiest, by the blood of Iesus, Heb. 10. 19.

CHAP. II.

I, The order of the Tribes pitching about the Tabernacle. 3, On the East side, Indab, Issachar and Zabulon. 10, On the South side, Reuben, Simeon, and Gad. 17, The Tabernacle in the midst of the campe. 18, On the West side, Ephraim, Manasse, and Benjamin. 25, On the North side, Dan, Aser, and Naphtali.

AND Jehovah spake unto Moses and unto Aaron, saying; The sons of Israel shall encampe, every man by his standard, with the ensignes, according to the house of their fathers: over against, round about the Tent of the congregation, shall they encampe. And they that encampe formost Eastward,

4 Eastward, shall be the standard of the campe of Judah, according to their armies; and the captaine of the sonnes of Judah, shall be Naasson the sonne of Aminadab. And his armie, and those that were mustered of them, were seventy and foure thousand, and six hundred. And they that encampe next unto him, shall be the Tribe of Issachar and the captaine of the sonnes of Issachar, shall be Nethaneel, the sonne of Zuar. And his armie, and those that were mustered thereof,
were foure and fifty thousand, and foure hundred. The Tribe of Zabulon, and the Prince of the sonnes of Zabulon, shall be Eliab the sonne of Helon. And his armie, and those that were mustered thereof, were seven and fiftie thousand, and foure hundred. All that were mustered, of the campe of Judah, were an hundred thousand, and eighty thousand,
and six thousand, and foure hundred, according to their armies: they shall set forward, first.

10 The standard of the campe of Reuben,
shall be Southward, according to their armies:
and the captaine of the sonnes of Reuben, 11 shall be Elizur the son of Shedeur. And his armie, and those that were mustred thereof, were six and fortie thousand, and five hundred. And they that encampe next unto him, shall be the Tribe of Simeon: and the captaine of the sons of Simeon, shall be She-lumiel, the son of Zurishaddai. And his ar-
mie, and those that were mustered thereof,
were nine and fiftie thousand, and three hundred. And the Tribe of Gad, and the captaine of the sonnes of Gad, Eliasaph, the sonne of Reguel. And his armie, and those that were mustered of them, were five and fortie thousand, and six hundred, and fiftie.
16 All that were mustered, of the campe of Reuben, were an hundred thousand, and one and fifty thousand, and foure hundred, and fiftie, according to their armies: and they shall set forward, second.

17 And the Tent of the congregation shall set forward, the campe of the Levites, in the midst of the campes: as they encampe, so shall they set forward: every man in his place, according to their standards.

18 The standard of the campe of Ephraim,
according to their armies, shall be Seaward:
and the captaine of the sonnes of Ephraim, 19 shall be Elishama the son of Ammihud. And his armie, and those that were mustered, of them, fortie thousand, and five hundred.

20 And next unto him, shall be the Tribe of Ma-nasses: and the captaine of the sonnes of Manasses, shall be Gamaliel the sonne of Pedahzur. And his armie, and those that were 21 mustered of them, two and thirtie thousand, and two hundred. And the Tribe of Benja- 22

min, and the captaine of the sons of Benjamin, shall be Abidan, the sonne of Gideon.
And his armie, and those that were mustered 23
of them, five and thirtie thousand, and foure hundred. All that were mustered, of the 24
campe of Ephraim, were an hundred thousand, and eight thousand, and an hundred,
according to their armies: and they shall set forward, third.

The standard of the campe of Dan; shall be 25 Northward, according to their armies: and the captaine of the sonnes of Dan, shall be 26 Ahiezer, the son of Ammishaddai. And his armie, and those that were mustered of them,
sixty and two thousand, and seven hundred.
And they that encamp next unto him, shall be 27
the Tribe of Aser: and the captaine of the sonnes of Aser, shall be Pagiel, the sonne of Ocran. And his armie, and those that were 28 mustered of them, were one and fortie thousand, and five hundred. And the Tribe 29 of Naphtali, and the captaine of the sons of Naphtali, Ahira the son of Enan. And 30
his armie, and those that were mustered of them, were three and fiftie thousand, and foure hundred. All that were mustered, of 31
the campe of Dan, were an hundred thousand, and seven and fiftie thousand, and six hundred: they shall set forth hindmost, according to their standards.

These are those that were mustered of the 32
sonnes of Israel, according to the house of their fathers: all that were mustered of the camps, according to their armies, were six hundred thousand, and three thousand, and five hundred and fifty. But the Levites were 33 not mustered, among the sonnes of Israel, as Jehovah commanded Moses. And the 34 sonnes of Israel did according to all that Jehovah commanded Moses; so they encamped according to their standards, and so they set forward, every man according to his families, according to the house of his fathers.

Annotations.

2 Shall encampe For, as the Greeke translateth, let them encampe, that is, pitch their Tents, as an armie about the Sanctuarie of the Lord of hostes.
Here God (having in the former Chapter given charge to muster his Warriors) commandeth now to

to set them in order, and under government: as in the Church, all things ought to be done decently and in order, 1 Cor. 14. 40. his standard] or, his banner; which the Greeke translateth, his order, and so the Chaldee calleth it Takes (a word borrowed of the Greeke, Taxis) Order. And this phrase the Apostle useth (from this place) in 1 Cor. 15. 23. every man in his owne order. Here it is properly a standard banner or flag, such as is used in the warres: which fitly denoteth the state of the Church in her spirituall warfare, said therefore to be terrible as an armie with banners, Song. 6. 4, 10. and it signifieth her victorie; whereupon David saith, we will shout, in thy salvation; and in the name of our God, we will set up the banner, Psal. 20. 6. See also Jer. 50. 2. & 51. 27. where the setting up of a standard, is a signe of preparation unto war against Babylon, as here against the Canaanites. with the ensignes] or, with the signes; which were in the standards, for discerning of one from another. What these were, the Scripture sheweth not: it is not unlikely, that they were such colours as the precious stones had on Aarons Brestplate, Exo. 28. on which the Tribes names were engraved. In the Thargum called Ionathans, upon this place, it is said; *The standard of the campe of Judah, was of linnen of three colours, according to the three precious stones in the Brestplate (of the Chalcedonie, Saphir, and Sardonyx) and in it were engraved and expressed the names of the three Tribes, Judah, Issachar and Zabulon; and in the midst thereof was written; (from Num. 10. 35.) Rise up LORD, and let thine enemies be scattered; and let them that hate thee, flee before thee; in it also was portrayed the forme of a Lion. The standard of the campe of Reuben, was of linnen of three colours, answerable to the three precious stones in the Brestplate, (of the Sardine, Topaz and Amethyst) and therein were engraved and expressed the names of the three Tribes, Reuben, Simeon, Gad: and in the midst thereof was written, Heare O Israel, the Lord our God, the Lord is one: (Deut. 6. 4.) Therein also was portrayed, the forme of an Hart, &c. So he proceedeth for the rest. Howbeit, that proportion will not hold in all, seeing Levi (who is not here among the other Tribes) was there one of the twelve; and Joseph, there graved on the Beryll, hath here two Tribes, Ephraim and Manasse; unto whom two colours cannot be allowed from the Brestplate, as the Thargum here would. Others therefore explaine it otherwise, having herein no certaintie. Chazkuni (on Num. 3.) bringeth this exposition, *The portraiture of a man, was as Reubens standard, dyed after the colour of the Sardine set in the Brestplate for his name, in signe of the Mandrakes which he found, (Genes. 30. 14.) which are after the fashion of a man. The portraiture of a Lion, was on Judahs standard, who is called a Lion, (Genes. 49. 9.) and it was dyed into the colour of a Chalcedony. The figure of a Bulloke (or Oxe) was on Ephraims standard, whose father is likened to a Bulloke, (Deut. 33. 17.) It was dyed in colour like a Beryll. The figure of an Eagle was on Dans standard, dyed like an Hyacinth: &c. To this Aben Ezra (on Num. 2.) agreeth, saying; *There were signes in every standard; and our Ancestors have said, that in Reubens standard there was a figure of a Man, &c. in Judahs standard, the figure of a Lion, &c. in Ephraims, the figure of a Bulloke, &c. and in the standard of Dan, the figure of an Eagle: so they were like the Cherubims which the Prophet Ezekiel saw, (Ezek. 1. 10.) Whatsoever the signes were, (which the holy Ghost here concealeth) this ordering of the people under their standards with ensignes, taught all, to abide in that state wherein God placed them; and not to run from Tribe to Tribe, or from ensigne to ensigne; but to continue every one under his governour: for to stand for an ensigne of the people (as is prophesied of Jesus the root of Jesse, Esa. 11. 10.) is expounded by the Apostle, to rule over the Gentiles, Rom. 15. 12. house] in Greeke, houses. over against] or, from before it: whereby is meant, aloofe, or, a farre off, (as this word is explained in Psal. 38. 12. they stand from before my stroke: and my neighbours stand a farre off;) yet so, as they should view it, and have their faces towards it; as the like phrase sheweth in 2 King. 3. 7. Deuter. 32. 52. Gen. 21. 16. So that the doores of all their tents were to be inward towards the Tabernacle, to shew due respect thereto; and yet aloofe in reverence of the holy place, (as in Exod. 3. 5.) And the distance may be guessed to be two thousand cubits, that is, an English mile, a Sabbath daies journey, (whereof see the notes on Exod. 16. 29.) for such a space was betweene the Arke and the people, in Jos. 3. 4. So R. Solomon here expoundeth it, Over against, that is, a farre off, a mile distance, as it is said in Josua, yet there shall be a space betweene you and it, about two thousand cubits by measure.*

round about] so that the Lord dwelt in the midst of his people, and the tents of the Saints, were as a wall round about Gods Sanctuarie to guard it. For as in Jeremie 50. 29. the camping against Babylon round about, was that none thereof might escape: so here they encamped about Gods Sanctuarie, for the safety therof. According to which type, the Christian Church is described in Rev. 4. 2, 4. &c. where there is a Throne in the midst, answerable to the Tabernacle and Temple called Gods throne, in Ezek. 43. 7. and round about the throne, are foure and twentie thrones; which is double the number of the twelve Tribes here camping, because the Church is increased under the Gospel, and the place of her Tents enlarged, Esa. 54. 2. And between the throne, and the circuit round about the throne are foure living creatures full of eyes, &c. Rev. 4. 5. the Watchmen or Ministers of the Church; as here betweene the Lords tent and the tents of Israel, the Levites camped in foure quarters, whereof see Num. ch. 3. & ch. 1. v. 50. Hereupon the Church is described to be those that are round about the Lord, Psal. 76. 12.

Ver. 3. foremost] or, on the fore part, that is, as followeth, Eastward, or towards the Sun rising: for the East is said to be before, and the West behinde, Esa. 12. the South is called the right side of the world, Psal. 89. 13. and the North the left, all which which Iob describeth by these names, in Job 23. 8, 9. So R. Sol. Larchi noteth on this place, foremost or before, is the East quarter, and the West is called behinde. the captaine] or, the Prince, Ruler; as in Num. 1. 16. so after in this chapter. Iudab] the father of our Lord Christ after the flesh, Luke 3. he, as he was most in number of all the Tribes, Num. 1. 27. so as a Lion whom none durst rouse up, Gen. 49. 8, 9. he is the chiefe standard-bearer and chiefe captaine of all the captaines of Israel; camping in the first place; as did Moses and Aaron the chiefe of the Levites, in the same quarter betweene Iudab and the Sanctuary, Num. 3. 38. Also when they marched, Iudab went foremost, Num. 10. 14. And after Iosuahs death, Iudab went first up to fight against the Canaanites, Judg. 1. 1, 2. He figured Christ the Lion of the Tribe of Iudab, who also is Michael, that with his Angels fighteth against the Dragon, and goeth before his heavenly armies; Rev. 5. 5. & 12. 7. & 19. 11, 14.

5 Verf. 5. Issachar] and with him Zabulon, verf. 7. both yonger brothers to Iudab, that they might the more willingly be under his regiment: all of them sonnes of Leah the free woman, placed in this first quarter.

7 Verf. 7. The Tribe of Zabulon] understand from v. 5. shall encampe next: so the Greeke explaineth it. And they that encampe next, &c. So in verf. 14, 22, 29.

9 Verf. 9. an hundred thousand, &c.] the greatest number of Warriors, by many, were in this first quarter, where Iudab was standard-bearer; almost thirty thousand more than in any other quarter. The next in number to him, was the last squadron, where Dan beare the standard: so they that went foremost, and came hindmost, had the greatest armies, for the more safetie of the Sanctuary (which marched in the midst) and of all Israel. The number of every one, may be viewed thus:

1. In the campe of Iudab, 186400. East.
2. In the campe of Reuben, 151450. South.
3. In the campe of Ephraim, 108100. West.
4. In the campe of Dan, 157600. North.

set forward first] or, march and journey first, when the host removeth, Num. 10. 14. as they encamped in the first place, Eastward, before the doore of Gods Tabernacle.

10 V. 10. Southward] the order proceedeth from East to South, and so to the West and North; according to the course of the Sun, and climates of the world. And this second place is given to Reuben, because he was the first borne, though he lost his first birth-right, Gen. 49. which Iudas and Joseph had shared betweene them; and he is put downe to the second place.

Verf. 11. Simon] next brother to Reuben, and of the same mother: with whom is joyned Gad the first-borne of that mothers maid Zilpha, (v. 14.) both for to keepe them the more easily in subjection, and to nourish brotherly love.

Verf. 14. Reuel] in Greeke Ragonel: he was before called Deuel, Num. 1. 14. because these Hebrew letters are like one another, and often changed; as is noted on Gen. 4. 18.

As it is written of the Church, God is in the midst of her, she shall not be moved, Psal. 64. 5. See also Song 3. 7, 8. The manner and order of carying the Tabernacle, is shewed in Num. 10. 17. &c. the campe] the order of the Levites camping, is shewed in Num. 3. their marching in Num. 10.

Verf. 25. Dan] Hee was the first borne of the handmaids children, and Isaiah fifth son, Gen. 30. 6. and by prophesie he was to judge his people as the other Tribes, Gen. 49. 16. so God here appointeth him the standard; and he hath the greatest number of Warriors, saving Iudab.

V. 27. Aser] the yongest son of the other handmaid Zilpha; yet set next unto Dan, as is noted on Num. 1. 15. with whom Naphthali Dans brother is joyned, ver. 29. so the three handmaids children, were in the Northerne and hindmost quarter: that in Gods ordering of the Tribes, his wisdom might appeare. Wee may behold the order of the Lords armies, as they encamped, thus:

1. JUDAH, Issachar, and Zabulon: in whose Camps were 186400 Warriours.

The Sanctuarie and the Court-yard about it, were in a long square, twice so long as they were broad, as their description in Ex. 26. & 27. sheweth. But in what forme the campe of Israel was, the Scripture expresseth not, save that it was round about the Tabernacle, Num. 2. 2. It is likely therefore to be in a square; and so many thousand tents as Israel had, could not be pitched in a little roomth. Iosephus (in Antiq. Ind. l. 3. c. 11.) saith, that between every Tribe, in the foure quarters, there was a distant space, and like a mart or faire, to buy and sell in their boothcs, with Artificers in their shops, as if it had been a Citie. Jonathan in his Thargum on Num. 2. 3. saith, The campe of Israel was twelve miles long, and twelve miles broad. Unto this forme of the Church in the wilderness, the Scriptures after have reference, both in the name, calling the beloved Citie, the campe of the Saints, Rev. 20. 9. (as in 2 Chron. 31. 2. the Temple is called the Camps of the LORD;) also for the manner of situation, the heavenly Jerusalem is four square, the length as large as the bredth, Revel. 21. 16. which forme was likewise shewed in vision to Ezekiel, Ezek. 48. 20. and is the most firme and settled, against all troubles. And as here, Gods Sanctuarie is walled about with the twelve Tribes of Israel: so the new Jerusalem hath a wall with twelve gates, and names written thereon, of the twelve Tribes of the sonnes of Israel: and the wall hath twelve foundations, and in them the names of the twelve Apostles of the Lambe, Rev. 21. 12, 14. As here there were three Tribes on every quarter; so Jerusalem hath three gates on the East, three on the North, three on the South, and three on the West, Rev. 21. 13. Ezek. 48. 31, 34. As these twelve Tribes, (the walls of Gods Tabernacle) had their fathers names graven on twelve sundry precious stones, Exod. 28. so the foundations of the wall of the heavenly citie, is of the like stones, Rev. 21. 19, 20. As here betwene the Sanctuarie and the Tribes of Israel, were foure companies of Levites, to watch and ward the holy place: so betwene Gods Throne, and the foure and twenty Elders compassing it, there are foure Living creatures full of eyes, glorifying God night and day; after whom, the twentie foure Elders fall downe and worship God, Revel. 4. 6, 10. Finally, as into this campe of the Lord in the wilderness, no unclean persons might enter, but were shut out, Num. 5. 2, 3, 4. so into the new Jerusalem, there may in no wise enter anything that defileth, &c. Rev. 21. 27. And the earthly Jerusalem (called the holy holy Citie, Mat. 4. 5. Luke 4. 9.) was in the ages following (when Israel dwelt in Canaan) answerable in holiness to this campe of Israel, as the Hebrewes record, saying, As was the Campe in the wilderness, such was the Campe in Ierusalem. From Ierusalem (gates) to the mountain of the House (of the Lord:) the campe of Israel. From the Mountain of the House, to the gate of Nicanor (which was the East gate of the Temple,) the campe of Levi. From thence and forward, the campe of the Divine Majestie; answerable to the tapestrie-hangings (of the Lords court) that were in the wilderness. Thalmud Bab. in Zebachim. ch. 14. in Gemara. See also the annotations on Exod. 40. 33. In the second Temple, the East gate of the court was called the gate of Nicanor; as the comment on the foresaid place of the Thalmud sheweth. And Maimony in Mishna toms. 3. in Beit habehirab, ch. 5. sect. 5. saith of it thus; Every of the gates was ten cubits broad, and twenty cubits high, and had doores covered with gold, except the East gate, which was covered with brasse, like gold, and that gate was called the high gate [2 Chron. 27. 3.] and that was the gate of Nicanor.

29 Verf. 29. And the tribe in Greeke, And they that campe next, shall be the tribe of Naphtali. See verf. 7. Thus God adjoynd to every of the four standards, two tribes; and those the next of blood inferiour unto them, for to maintaine order, and nourish love, and to afford mutuall helpe. Our Saviour also ordained among his Apostles a kinde of combination and fraternitie, as is to be seene by the rehearfall of their names, in Mat. 10. 2, 3, 4.

1. Simon Peter, and Andrew his brother.
2. James (or Jacob) sonne of Zebedee, and John his brother.
3. Philip, and Bartholomew.
4. Thomas, and Matthew the Publican.
5. James sonne of Alpheus, and Lebbaeus (or Judas his brother, Luk. 6. 16. Iude v. 1.)
6. Simon Kananites. (or the zealous,) and Judas Iscariot.

And these did Christ send forth by two and two, Marke 6. 7. to warre the warfare of his Gospell, (as 1 Tim. 1. 18.) And when Iscariot lost his office, Matthias was chosen in his place, Act. 1. 26. Afterward there were added Paul and Barnabas, Act. 13. 2.

32 Verf. 32. These are they ministered in Greeke, This is the muster (or visitation) from the house that is, as the Greeke saith, the houses; so in verf. 34. 600. thousand &c.] the summe that was mentioned before, in Num. 1. 46. See the notes there.

34 Verf. 34. so they camped or pitched their tents. The holy Ghost commendeth unto us the obedience of Israel, as before in the making of the Sanctuary, Exod. 39. 42, 43. so here in their orderly camping about, & marching before and after it. That as Order in all things is beautifull, and desirable, so especially in the Church, & things pertaining to the service of God: wherefore the Apostle joyed to behold the order of the Church in Colosse, and the steadfastness of their faith in Christ, wherein he exhorted them still to walk in him, Coloss. 2. 5, 6. And Balaam when he beheld this Campe of Israel, from the top of the Rocks, did not onely admire the multitude of them, and the presence of the Lord among them; but said, How goodly are thy Tent, O Iakob; thy Tabernacles, O Israel! As the vallies are they spread forth, as gardens by the rivers side &c. Num. 23. 9. 10. 31. and 24. 5, 6. And Solomon describeth the church to be beautifull, as Tirzah, (a pleasant place where the King of Israel dwelt, 1 King. 14. 17.) comely as Ierusalem, (which was also beautifull for situation, Psal. 48. 2. and compact together, Psal. 122. 3.) terrible as an armie with banners, Song. 6. 4.

CHAP. III.

1, The sonnes of Aaron, the Priests. 5, The Levites are given to the Priests, for the service of the Tabernacle, 11, In stead of the first-borne of Israel. 14, The Levites are numbered by their families. 21, The families, number and charge of the Gersonites. 27, Of the Kohathites. 33, Of the Merarites. 38, The place and charge of Moses and Aaron. 40, The first-borne of Israel are freed by the Levites. 44, The overplus are redeemed.

AND these are the generations of Aaron, and Moses, in the day that Iehovah spake with Moses, in mount Sinai. And these are the names of the sonnes of Aaron; Nadab the first-borne, and Abihu, Eleazar, and Ithamar. These are the names of the sonnes of Aaron: the Priests, which were anointed: whose hand he filled, to minister in the Priests office. and Nadab and Abihu died before Iehovah, when they offered strange fire before Iehovah, in the wilderness of Sinai: and they had no sons: and Eleazar and Ithamar ministred in the Priests office, in the sight of Aaron their father.

And Iehovah spake unto Moses, saying; Bring neere the tribe of Levi, and present it before Aaron the Priest: and they shall minister unto him. And they shall keepe his charge, and the charge of all the congregation, before the Tent of the congregation, to serve the service of the Tabernacle. And they shall keepe all the instruments of the Tent of the congregation, and the charge of the sonnes of Israel, to serve the service of the Tabernacle. And thou shalt give the Levites to Aaron, and to his sonnes: they are given are given, unto him, out of the sonnes of Israel. And thou shalt appoint Aaron and his sonnes; and they shall keepe their Priests office: and the stranger ger that commeth nigh shall bee put to death.

11 And Iehovah spake unto Moses, saying;
12 And I, behold I have taken the Levites from among the sonnes of Israel, in stead of every first-borne, that openeth the wombe, of the sonnes of Israel: and the Levites shall be 13 mine. Because every first-borne is mine: in the day that I smote every first-borne in the land of Egypt, I sanctified unto mee every first-borne in Israel, from man unto beast:
mine they shall be, I am Iehovah.

14 And Iehovah spake unto Moses, in the 15 wilderness of Sinai, saying; Muster the sons of Levi, according to the house of their fathers, according to their families; every male,
from a moneth old and upward, shalt thou 16 muster them. And Moses mustered them, according to the mouth of Iehovah, as hee 17 was commanded. And these were the sons of Levi, by their names: Gershon, and Ko-18 hath, and Merari. And these were the names of the sonnes of Gershon, according 19 to their families: Libni, and Shimei. And the sonnes of Kohath, according to their fami-20 lies: Amram, and Izhar, Hebron, and Vzziel.
And the sonnes of Merari, according to their families, Mahli, and Musi: these are the families of the Levites, according to the 21 house of their fathers. Of Gershon, was the familie of Libni, and the familie of Shimei:
these are the families of the Gershonites.
22 Those that were mustered of the, by the number of every male, from a moneth old & upward, the mustered of them were seven thou-23 sand, and five hundred. The families of the Gershonites shall encampe behinde the Ta-24 bernacle, Seaward. And the Prince of the house of the father of the Gershonites, shall 25 be Eliasaph, the son of Lael. And the charge of the sons of Gershon; in the Tent of the congregation, shall be the Tabernacle, & the Tent, the covering thereof, and the hanging veile for the doore of the Tent of the 26 congregation. And the tapestrie-hangings of the Court, and the hanging veile for the doore of the Court, which is by the Tabernacle, and by the altar round about, and the cords thereof, for all the service thereof.

27 And of Kohath was the familie of the Amramites, and the familie of the Izharites, and the familie of the Hebronites, and the familie of the Vzzielites: these are the fami-28 lies of the Kohathites. By the number of every male, from a moneth old and upward,
eight thousand, and six hundred, keeping the charge of the Sanctuary. The families of the sonnes of Kohath shall encampe

on the side of the Tabernacle, Southward.
And the Prince of the house of the father of the families of the Kohathites shall be Eli-30 zaphan, the sonne of Vzziel. And their charge shall be the Arke, and the Table, and 31 the Candlesticke, and the Altars, and the vessels of the Sanctuary, with which they shall minister, and the hanging veile, and all the service thereof. And the Prince of the Princes of the Levites shall be Eleazar, 32 the sonne of Aaron the Priest, having the oversight of them that keepe the charge of the Sanctuary.

Of Merari was the familie of the Mah-33 lites, and the familie of the Musiites: these are the families of Merari. And those that 34 were mustered of them by the number of every male, from a moneth old and upward, were six thousand, and two hundred. And 35 the Prince of the house of the father of the families of Merari shall be Zuriel the sonne of Abihail: they shall pitch on the side of the Tabernacle, Northward.
And the oversight of the charge of the sons of Merari shall be the boards of the Taberna-36 cle, and the barres thereof, and the pillars thereof, and the sockets thereof, and all the vessels thereof, & all the service thereof; And 37 the pillars of the Court round about, and their sockets, and their pins, and their cords.
And they that encampe before the Taber-38 nacle, foremost before the Tent of the congregation, Eastward, shall be Moses, and Aaron and his sonnes, keeping the charge of the Sanctuary, for the charge of the sons of Israel: and the stranger that commeth nigh shall be put to death. All that were 39 mustered of the Levites, which Moses mustered and Aaron, at the mouth of Iehovah, according to their families, every male, from a moneth old and upward, were two and twentie thousand.

And Iehovah said unto Moses, Muster
40 every first-borne male of the sonnes of Israel, from a moneth old and upward, and take the number of their names. And thou shalt 41 take the Levites for me, I am Iehovah; in stead of every first-borne of the sonnes of Israel; and the cattle of the Levites, in stead of every firstling among the cattle of the sonnes of Israel. And Moses mustered, as 42 Iehovah commanded him, every first-borne among the sonnes of Israel. And all the first-43 borne males by the number of names, from a moneth old and upward, of those that were mustered of them, were two and twentie thousand, two hundred, and seventie and three.

44 And Iehovah spake unto Moses, saying;
45 Take the Levites in stead of every first-borne among the sonnes of Israel, and the cattle of the Levites, in stead of their cattle: and 46 the Levites shall be mine, I am Iehovah. And for those that are to be redeemed of the two hundred, and seventie and three, which are more than the Levites, of the first-borne of 47 the sonnes of Israel, Thou shalt even take five shekels a peece by the poll: after the shekel of the sanctuarie, shalt thou take;
48 the shekel is twentie gerahs. And thou shalt give the money to Aaron and to his sons, of the redeemed that are more, among them.
49 And Moses tooke the redemption money, of those that were more than the redeemed of the Levites. Of the first-borne of the sonnes
50 of Israel, tooke he the many: a thousand, three hundred, and sixty & five shekels, after the shekel of the sanctuarie. And Moses 51 gave the money of them that were redeemed, to Aaron and to his sonnes, according to the mouth of Iehovah, as Iehovah had commanded Moses.

Annotations.

1 THe generations] that is, the children of Aaron; and genealogie of the Levites, and the things that befell unto them; for so the word generations is used for accidents that fall out unto any, as is noted on Gen. 5. 1. In this and the next chapter, he sheweth the numbring of the Levites, and their order in administration: who were numbred apart, and not with the other tribes, because they were to attend the service of the Tabernacle, and encampe about it, not with the other twelve tribes, Num. 1. 49. 50. and 3. 8, 9, 10. 23. 38. And they were to be numbred after an other manner, not from twentie yeeres old, as the tribes were, Num. 1. 3. but from a moneth old, as touching their tale, Num. 3. 15. and from thirtie yeeres old to fifty, as touching their service, Num. 4. 3. And also, because there was no inheritance given them, among the sonnes of Israel, Num. 26. 62. but the Lord was their inheritance, Deut. 10. 8, 9. Now to be numbred apart, and not with others, signified some speciall favour towards such, and care over them; as Num. 23. 9. Aaron] the elder brother of Moses, and both Levites: therefore their names are mentioned here.

3 V. 3. be filled] that is, consecrated (or perfected) as the Greeke translateth. See the annotations on Exod. 29. 9. and Levit. 8.

4 V. 4. dyed] by a fire from the Lord, Levit. 10.

1, 2. This is mentioned againe, in Num. 26. 61. 1 Chron. 24. 1, 2.

bad no sonnes] the Hebrewes (as Chaskuni upon this place,) say, if they had had sonnes, those sonnes had beene before Eleazar and Ithamar: for whosoever is foremost in inheritance, is foremost for honour (or dignitie.) in the sight of Aaron] or, before the face, that is, whiles Aaron lived; as before the face of Tharah, Gen. 11. 28. is, while Tharah lived; before the Moone and Sunne, Psal. 72. 5. 17. is, whiles they continue to give light. The Greeke translateth With Aaron. Elsewhere it is said, by the hand of Aaron, 1 Chron. 24. 19. Of these two, there were so many Priests in Davids dayes, that he distributed them into 24. courses, sixteene of Eleazar, and eight of Ithamar, 1 Chron. 24. 3. 4. The Hebrew Doctors say, Moses divided the Priests into eight wards (or courses,) foure of Eleazar, and foure of Ithamar: and so they were untill the Prophet Samuels dayes. Then Samuel and David the King parted them into 24. courses. And over every course (or ward) there was one chiefe Provoost. And they went up to Ierusalem to serve by course every weeke. And every sabbath day they changed, one course went out; and the next after them, came in, &c. Maimony tum. 3. treat. of the Instruments of the Sanctuarie, chap. 4. sect. 3. Compare 1 Chron. 9. 22. 25. 2 King. 11. 5. 7.

V. 6. present it] or, cause it to stand; speaking of the tribe. In Greeke, present them.

Verf. 7. his charge] Hebr. his custody (or observation;) that is, that which he commandeth them to observe. See this phrase in Lev. 18. 30.

of all the congregation] the Greeke explaineth it, of the sonnes of Israel, as in verf. 8. So in 2 Chron. 35. 3. serve the Lord your God, and his people Israel. It meaneth also such things, as they were charged to keepe: but the Levites now were taken in their stead. to serve the service] in Greeke, to worke (or doe) the workes of the Tabernacle: which in Num. 8. 11. is said, to serve the service of the Lord. After, in the 8. verse, the Greeke translateth, according to all the workes of the Tabernacle. The Hebrewes write thus; The seed of Levi are all of them separated for the service of the Sanctuarie. And it is commanded that the Levites be prepared and readie for the service of the Sanctuarie, whether they be willing or not willing; (as in Num. 18. 23.) And the Levite, he shall serve the service of the Tent of the congregation. And the sonne of Levi which will take upon him all the Levites commandments saving one thing, they receive him not in, till he take all upon him. Maimony treat. of the Instruments of the Sanct. chap. 3. sect. 1.

V. 9. are given are given] that is, as the Greeke here, and Moses himselfe in Num. 18. 6. explaineth it, are a gift given: or, they are wholly given. So the Ministers of the Gospell are called gifts, Ephes. 4. 8. 11. unto him] for his helpe, in the charge and worke of the Sanctuarie: they ministering unto him, and he and his sonnes ministering before the Tabernacle, Num. 18. 2. 6.

V. 11. shalt appoint] or, constitute, set in office as Bishops, or Overseers. The Greeke explaineth it, thou shalt constitute over the Tabernacle of Testimonie. their Priests Office] for every thing of the Altar, and within the veile, Numb. 18. 7. the stranger] that is, whosoever is not of Aarons seed, as is explained in Numb. 16. 40. for no man taketh the honour unto himselfe, but hee that is called of God, as was Aaron, Hebrewes 5. 4. So Chazkuni here expoundeth stranger to bee Israelite or Levite that cometh neere to minister. And Maimony in Bialb hamikdash, chap. 9. sect. 1. saith, Who is the stranger? Whosoever is not of the seed of Aaron, the males. And after, God himselfe forbiddeth the Levites to come nigh the vessels of the Sanctuary and the Altar, on paine of death, Numb. 18. 3. put to death] by the Magistrate, or by the hand of God, as was Korah, for presuming to do the Priests office, Num. 16.

12 Verſ. 12. every first-borne] which (before the Levites were taken in their stead) did minister to the Lord, as is noted on Exod. 24. 5. And upon what occasion God tooke the Levites in stead of the first-borne, is to be seene in Exod. 32. 26, 29. Deut. 33. 9. shall be mine] to minister before me, as the Chaldee expoundeth it.

13 Verſ. 13. I smote] in Chaldee, I killed: see Exod. 12. 29, 30. The Lord having slaine all the first-borne of Egypt, & spared the Israelites, did therefore challenge for his owne, and sanctitie to himselfe all Israels first-borne, Exod. 13. 2. but tooke the Levites & their cattell, instead of Israels first-born men and cattel, Num. 3. 45. and gave them as a gift to Aaron, to minister unto him. Who being in his Priesthood a type of Christ, all these rites are in him fulfilled: For unto Christ, God gave children, Heb. 2. 13. and they are a congregation of first-borne written in heaven, Hebr. 12. 23. being of Gods owne will begotten by the word of truth, that they should be a kinde of first-fruits of his creatures, Iam. 1. 18. to whom he also giveth the first-fruits of his spirit, Rom. 8. 23. These wait on, and follow the Lambe (Christ) being bought from among men, and first-fruits unto God and to the Lambe, Rev. 14. 4. These were brought for an offering unto the Lord, out of all nations; and of them the Lord hath taken for Priests and for Levites, Esai. 66. 20, 21. and Christ hath made us Kings and Priests unto God and his Father, that we may serve him day and night in his Temple, Rev. 1. 6. and 7. 15.

15 Verſ. 15. Muster] or, Number, Hebr. visit. This was done by Moses and Aaron, verſ. 39. and by the Princes of the Congregation, Numbers 4. 34. though here the commandement is directed unto Moses onely. house] in Greeke, houses. olde] Hebr. some of a moneth. The cause why the Levites were numbred from this age, was for that they came in place of the first-borne of Israel, whose redemption is appointed from a moneth old, Num. 18. 15, 16. And they were counted after the houses of their fathers, not of their mothers; for if a woman of Levi were married to a man of Iudah, or any other tribe, her sonne was not a Levite. The Hebrew Canons say; Priests and Levites, and Israelites may lawfully goe in (that is, marrie) one to another, and that which is borne, goeth after the male, &c.

V. 25. the charge] or the custody, the holy things which they were to carry, keepe and looke unto: whereof see more in Numb. 4. Tabernacle] the curtaines of the Tabernacle, Num. 4. 25. for the boards were under Meraries charge, Num. 3. 36.

Tent] made of ten curtaines: see Exod. 26. 1, &c. covering] made of goats haire, Exod. 26. 7. And here is to bee understood, the other coverings also made of rammes skinner, and Tachash skinner, Exo. 26. 14. for they belonged to the Gersonites charge, Numb. 4. 25. hanging veile] whereof see Exod. 26. 36.

Verſ. 26. Tapestry hangings] whereof see Exod. 27. 9, &c. hanging veile] mentioned in Exodus 27. 16.

Verſ. 28. of the Sanctuary] Hebr. of the sanctitie, or Holinesse: meaning, the holy things; as the Greek saith, of the Holies: what they were is expressed in v. 31. See Num. 4. 4, 15. and 10. 21. Here the Families of the Levites may bee viewed by their numbers;

1. Of the Gersonites 7500.
2. Of the Kohathites 8600.
3. Of the Merarites 6200.

By their situation when they camped about the Tabernacle;

1. Gersonites, behind westward, v. 23.
2. Kohathites, Southward, v. 29.
3. Merarites, Northward, v. 35.

And to make up the square, Moses and Aaron with the Priests encamped foremost Eastward, v. 38.

By their charges, for there was committed unto the care and carriage of the

1. Gersonites, the Tent, Coverings, veile, hanging of the Court, &c.
2. Kohathites, the Arke, Table, Altars, and Instruments

struments of the Sanctuary.

3. Merarites, the boords, barres, pillars, sockets, &c.

Among these families of Levi, wee may observe the speciall prerogatives of Kohath the second sonne.

1. He excelleth in multitude of families, or chiefe fathers, having foure, when as each of his brethren had but two.

2. He excelleth in multitude of children, ha-8600. that is, 1100. more than his elder brother Gerson, and 2400. more than Merari.

3. Of him came Moses the King, Aaron the Priest, and Mary the Prophetesse; and so all the Priests were of this family, Exod. 6. 18. 20. Numb. 26. 58. 59.

4. His families have the chiefe place about the Sanctuary, the South quarter, next unto Moses, Aaron, and the Priests, Numb. 3. 29.

5. They have the charge of the most holy things within the Sanctuary, as the Arke, Table, Candlesticke, Altars, &c. Numbers 3. 31.

6. Whereas the tribe of Levi had 48. cities allowed them in Canaan, Kohaths posterity had 23. of them; for the Priests had 13. cities, and the other Kohathites ten; and so he had in a manner a double portion, as much as both his brethren, Ios. 21.

7. Of the Prince of these Kohathites Elizaphan (Numb. 3. 30.) there were 200 Levites to helpe home the Arke in Davids dayes, (no such mention being made of the other two Princes) besides 312. Kohathites of other families: when of Gershon and Merari, there were not so many; 1 Chron. 15. 5. 8. 9. 10.

29 Vers. 29. Southward] the south is in Psal. 89. 13. called the right side; and in this place it hath a name in Hebrew derived also of the right hand; because so it is when men stand with their faces to the East: see the notes on Numb. 2. 13.

30 Vers. 30. Elizaphan sonne of Uzziel] hee was of the fourth and youngest familie of the Kohathites, yet preferred to be Prince over them. This (as the Hebrewes thinke) was offensive to Korah who was of the second family of Izhar; and occasioned him to rebell. See the notes on Num. 16.

1. Elizaphan is by interpretation; My God hath stored up; and Uzziel, God is my strength.

31 Vers. 31. All the service thereof] in Greeke, all the workes of them.

32 Vers. 32. of the princes] the Greeke saith, over the princes; and the Chaldee addeth, appointed over the princes. of the Levites] Heb. of Levi, whose name is put for all his posterity, as the Greeke and Chaldee translate Levites. So Aaron is used for the Aaronites, 1 Chron. 12. 27. Eleazar] by interpretation, The helpe of God; having the oversight] or, the Bishop, having the Bishops office, which hath the name in Hebrew, of Visitacion; in Greeke, of Oversieing; and so this word is translated by the holy Ghost, Episcopus, that is, a Bishops office or charge, in Act. 1. 20. from Psal. 109. 7. And in Num. 4. 16. the Greeke translateth it Episcopus, Bishop. So in Ezek. 44. 11. having charges (that is, Bishops) at the gate of the house; where the Greeke translateth it Porters. In Thargum Jonathan it is explained thus: Hee inquired by Urim and Thummim, under his hand were they appointed that keepe the custody of the Sanctuary. As Aaron the high Priest figured Christ; Heb. 5. 1. 4. 5. so Eleazar in his office being Prince of Princes, shadowed the office of our Lord Iesus, who is the Prince of the Kings of the earth, Revel. 1. 5. the Arch-pastor, 1. Pet. 5. 4. the great Pastor of the sheep, Hebr. 13. 20. and Bishop of our soules, 1. Pet. 2. 25. And hence arose the distinction of the high Priest, and the second Priest, as in 2 Kings 25. 18. And when Aaron was dead, and Eleazar high Priest in his place, Numbers 20. 26. 28. then Phinehas Eleazars sonne, was Governour over the Levites, 1 Chron. 9. 20.

Vers. 35. Zurriel] in Greeke Souriel, which signifieth God is my Rocke. Abibail] or Abichail, as the Greeke pronounceth it: by interpretation, The fathers strength.

Vers. 36. the oversight of the charge] that is, as the Chaldee expoundeth it, that which shall bee committed to the charge (or custodie) of the sonnes of Merari. the service thereof] in Greeke, the workes of them. And because these things were heaveie to beare, the Lord allowed them four wagons, according unto their service, for to ease the cariage, Numb. 7. 5. 8.

Vers. 38. foremost] or, as the Greeke translateth it, Eastward: see Numb. 2. 3. Moses and Aaron] The Hebrewes (as Baal-hatturim upon this place) doe observe, that here is a pause (or, distinction) betweene Moses and Aaron; to teach that Moses (pitched) in one place by himselfe; and Aaron and his sonnes in another place by themselves. Thus Moses a Levite of Kohath, was King in Ieshurun, Deut. 33. 5. and Aaron his brother, Priest: as for Moses two sonnes, Gershon and Eliezer (Exod. 18. 3. 4.) here is no mention of them, neither in Numbers. 26. neither had they any prerogative, but were among the other Kohathites, and named of the tribes of Levi, that is, common Levites, 1 Chronicles 24. 14. the charge] or, the custody, the watch of the Sanctuary: the Levites being assistants under them, Numbers 18. 2. 3. Of the watch which was wont to be kept in the Sanctuary, see the annotations on Numbers 15. 8. the stranger] that is any saving Aaron and his sonnes; see verse 10.

Vers. 39. and Aaron] in the Hebrew, there are many extraordinary pricks over the name of Aaron, for speciall cause: R. Sol. Irchi saith, they were to signifie that Aaron himselfe was not among the number of the Levites, none of the 22000. here mentioned. Observe Aarons dignity: Hee was the elder brother unto Moses the King, Exod. 7. 7. Hee was by marriage brother to Naasson Prince of Judah, for hee had to wife Elizabeth his sister, Exod. 6. 23. Hee was joyned with Moses, in the government of Israel, Psal. 77. 20. Hee had the prerogative to sacrifice for the whole church, 1 Chron. 23. 13. But Christ our King and Priest after the order of Melchisedek, farre excelleth him, Heb. 7. and 8. chap. two and twenty thousand.] This summe accordeth not with the former particulars; for there were of Gershon, 7500. of Kohath, 8600. of Merari, 6200. which make in all 22. thousand and three hundred. But Aaron & the Priests, as also the first-borne of the Levites, were the Lords after a peculiar manner, Exod. 13. 2. and therefore deducted from the rest, which were all taken in stead of the first-borne of Israel. So there were so many thousand Levites, as there are Hebrew letters: because they were above others, to apply the study of Gods Law, Deut. 33. 10. which because they did not according to their duty, God so disposed that Ibozadab the Priest, in the 22. generation after Aaron, was carried captive with the people into Babylon, 1 Chron. 6. 3. — 15. And here againe Gods providence appeareth, that the Levites increase should be by iust thousands, & the Priests and first-borne of Levi, by hundreds: without any broken number, such as was among the first-borne of Israel, vers. 43. See the notes on Numb. 1. 25. Again, whereas the least of all the other tribes of Israel, from twenty yeeres old and upward, had 32000. and 200. Numb. 1. v. 34. 35.) and the greatest, 54000. and 600. (v. 27.) here the Levites which were counted from a moneth old and upward, were but 22000. so the Lords portion was the least. Yea of these 22. thousand, there were found but eight thousand five hundred and foure score, that were fit to doe service in the Sanctuary, Numb. 4. 47. 48. so small was the number of those that served God in his ministerie, in comparison with the camps of Israel.

41 Vers. 41. for me] or, unto me, as the Chaldee expounds it, thou shalt bring neere the Levites before me. every first-borne] or, all the first-borne, which being appointed unto the Lords service, the Lord taketh the Levites to serve him in their stead. This was for the first-borne males of man and beast which the Israelites now had: all the first-borne that came after this, were to be redeemed, or given to the Priest, Num. 18. 15. See the notes on verse 12. and 13.

43 Vers. 43. and seventy and three] Gods special providence appeareth againe in this number of the first-borne, that it should be so neere unto the number of the Levites taken in their stead: whom God destinated from the womb unto his service, and made the summes of them so neere. A like worke of God is observed by Moses in Deut. 32. 8. how he had appointed the borders of the peoples, according to the number of the sonnes of Israel. And whereas six hundred thousand men & more (Numb. 1. 46.) had but 22. thousand and 273. first-borne males in all their families, it appeareth, that the far greater number of Israels first-borne were females, who by reason of their sex were not fit to serve God in his Sanctuary.

Which figured the small number of Gods elect, among the many that are called, Matth. 22. 14. Rom. 9. 6. 7. 8. For the elect are such as doe serve God day and night in his Temple, Revel. 7. 15. and are Priests unto God, Rev. 5. 10.

Vers. 45. shall be mine] which the Chaldee explaineth, shall minister before me.

Vers. 46. those that are to be redeemed] Hebr. And the redeemed; or, as the Greeke translateth it, And the redemptions (or ransomes.) So after in verse 48. 49. 51. Here the overplus of the first-borne of man, is reckoned, and the summe of their ransom, verse 50. but the overplus of cattle is not reckoned.

Vers. 47. five shekels a peece] Hebr. five five shekels: which the Greeke translateth five shekels by the head. These five shekels (the price set here, and in Numb. 18. 16.) was the value set in Lev. 27. 6. from a moneth old to five yeeres old; and it was the least of all the valuations: so that God burdened the Israelites with the ransomes as little as might be. twenty gerahs] or, twenty pence; the gerah was a peece of silver that weighed sixteene barley graines; so the shekel weighed three hundred and twenty graines; see the notes on Exod. 30. 13.

Vers. 48. the money] Hebr. the silver: so in verse 49. 50. 51. of the redeemed] understand, the money of those that are redeemed: or, as the Greeke translateth, the redemptions of those that are mee.

Vers. 50. Of the first-borne] in Hebrew, Eechor the First-borne is singular, as spoken of one; but translated in Greeke plurally, as implying all. And this seemeth to be taken, not of particular persons (as, of them that were last numbred, or any other) for so the burden should have lien unequally upon a few: but of the Church in general. Or, to cut off contention, it was done by lot; as R. Solomon Larchi saith, he brought 22000. scrolles or papers (according to the number of the Levites, verse 39.) and on every of them was written, A son of Levi: and 273. papers, (according to the number of the First-borne Israelites more than the Levites, verse 46.) and on every of them was written five shekels; they mingled them and put them in a basket; then said hee unto them, come draw your papers according to your lot.

Vers. 51. of them that were redeemed] the Greeke translateth, the silver, the ransomes of them that were overplus: this was given to Aaron, because the Levites were given to him, verse 9. and when Levites failed, this money was in their stead; not the first-borne themselves, but their ransomes, for which the other Levites supplied their place and service. This redeeming of men by silver, foreshadowed a better redemption by Christ; as it is written, Ye know that ye were not redeemed with corruptible things, as silver and gold, &c. but with the precious blood of Christ, 1 Pet. 1. 18. 19. according to the moneth] that is, the word, as the Chaldee translateth; and the Greeke, by the voice of the Lord.

CHAP. IV.

1. The Age and Time of the Levites Service. 4, The carriage of the Kohathites, when the Priests have taken down the Tabernacle. 16, The charge of Eleazar. 17, The office of the Priests. 21, The carriage of the Gershonites. 29, The carriage of the Merarites. 34, The number of the Kohathites that served, 38, of the Gershonites, 42, and of the Merarites.

1 AND Jehovah spake unto Moses, and
2 unto Aaron, saying; Take the summe
3 of the sonnes of Kohath, from among
4 the sons of Levi, according to their families,
5 according to the house of their fathers. From 6 thirtie yeares old, and upward, even untill 7 fiftie yeares old, every one that entreth into 8 the army, to doe the worke in the tent of the 9 Congregation. This shall be the service of 10 the sonnes of Kohath, in the tent of the con-11 gregation, the holinesse of holinesses. And 12 Aaron shall come and his sonnes, when the 13 Campe setteth forward; and they shall take downe the Veile of the covering, and cover with it the Arke of the Testimonie. And they shall put thereon a covering of Tachash skin, and shall spread a cloath wholly of blew, above; and shall put in the barres thereof. And upon the Table of Shewbread they shall spread a cloath of blew, and put thereon the dishes, and the cups, and the bowles, and the covers to cover withall; and the continuall bread shall be thereon. And they shall spread upon them a cloath of scarlet, and cover it with a covering of Tachash skin, and they shall put in the barres thereof.
And they shall take a cloth of blew, and cover the Candlesticke of the light, and the lampes thereof, and the tongs thereof, and the snuffe-dishes thereof, and all the oile vessels thereof, wherewith they minister unto
it. And they shall put it, and all the vessels thereof, within a covering of Tachash skin, and shall put it upon a staffe. And upon the Altar of gold they shall spread a cloath of blew, and cover it with a covering of Ta-chash skin, and shall put in the barres thereof. And they shall take all the instruments of ministry, wherewith they minister in the Sanctuarie, and put them in a cloth of blew, and cover them with a covering of Tachash skin, and shall put them on a staffe. And they shall take away the ashes from the altar, and spread upon it a cloath of purple. And 14

they shall put upon it all the vessels thereof, wherewith they minister about it; the fire-pans, the flesh-hooks, and the shovels, and the basons; all the vessels of the Altar: and they shall spread upon it a covering of Ta-chash skin, and put in the barres of it. And 15 Aaron and his sonnes shall make an end of covering the Sanctuarie; and all the vessels of the Sanctuarie, when the campe is to set forward; and after that, the sonnes of Kohath shall come to beare it; and they shall not touch the holinesse, lest they die: these things shall be the burden of the sonnes of Kohath, in the Tent of the congregation. And 16 to the oversight of Eleazar the sonne of Aaron the Priest (persainesh) the oyle of the light, and the incense of sweet spices, and the continuall meat-offering, and the annointing oyle; the oversight of all the Tabernacle, and of all that therein is, in the Sanctuarie, and in the vessels thereof.

And Jehovah spake unto Moses and unto 17
Aaron, saying; Cut yee not off the tribe of 18
the families of the Kohathites from among the Levites. But this doe unto them, that 19
they may live and not die, when they approach unto the holinesse of holinesses: Aaron and his sonnes shall goe in, and appoynt them every man unto his service, and to his burden. But they shall not goe in to see 20 when the Sanctuary is covered, lest they die.

AND

And Jehovah spake unto Moses, saying; 21
Take the summe of the sonnes of Gershon, 22 of them also; according to the house of their fathers, according to their families. From 23
thirtie yeares old, and upward, unto fiftie yeares old, shalt thou muster them, every one that entreth to warre the warfare, to serve the service, in the Tent of the Congregation. This shall bee the service of the fa- 24 milies of the Gershonites, to serve, and for the burden. And they shall beare the Cur- 25 taines of the Tabernacle, and the Tent of the Congregation, the covering thereof, and the covering of Tachash skin, that is upon it above, and the hanging veile for the doore of the Tent of the Congregation. And the 26 Tapestry hangings of the Court, and the hanging veile for the doore of the gate of the Court, which is by the Tabernacle, and by the Altar, round about; and their coards, and all the instruments of their service, and all that is made for them; and they shall serve

27 Ierve. At the mouth of Aaron and his sons shall be all the service of the sonnes of the Gershonites, in all their burden, and in all their service; and yee shall appoint unto them in charge all their burden. This is the service of the families of the sonnes of the Gershonites, in the Tent of the congregation; and their charge shall be under Ithamar the sonne of Aaron the Priest.

29 The sonnes of Merari, according to their families, according to the house of their fathers, shalt thou muster them. From thirty yeeres old and upward, even unto fifty yeeres old, shalt thou muster them, every one that entred into the army, to serve the service of the Tent of the congregation. And this shall be the charge of their burden, according to all their service in the Tent of the congregation: the boords of the Tabernacle, and the barres thereof, and the pillars thereof, and the sockets thereof. And the pillars of the Court round about, and their sockets, and their pinnes, and their coards, with all their instruments, and with all their service: and by names shall yee reckon the instruments of the charge of their burden.

33 This is the service of the families of the sons of Merari according to all their service in the Tent of the congregation under the hand of Ithamar the son of Aaron the Priest. And Moses and Aaron, and the Princes of the congregation, mustered the sonnes of the Kohathites, according to their families, and according to the house of their fathers. From thirty yeeres old and upward, even unto fifty yeeres old, every one that entred into the Armie, for the service, in the Tent of the 36 Congregation. And those that were mustred of them, according to their families, were two thousand, seven hundred, and fifty.

37 These were they that were mustered of the families of the Kohathites, every one that served in the Tent of the congregation, which Moses and Aaron did muster according to the mouth of Iehovah by the hand of Moses. And those that were mustered of the sonnes of Gershon, according to their families, and according to the house of their fathers. From thirty yeeres old and upward, even unto fifty yeeres old, every one that entred into the armie, for the service in the Tent of the congregation. Even those that were mustered of them, according to their families, according to the house of their fathers, were two thousand and six hundred and thirty. These were they that were mustered of the families of the sonnes of Gershon: every one that served in the Tent of the congregation, whom Moses and Aaron did muster, according to the mouth of Iehovah.

And those that were mustered of the families of the sonnes of Merari, according to their families, according to the house of their fathers. From thirty yeeres old and upward, even unto fifty yeeres old, every one that entred into the armie for the service in the Tent of the congregation. Even those that were mustered of them, according to their families, were three thousand, & two hundred. These were they that were mustered of the families of the sonnes of Merari, whom Moses & Aaron mustered, according to the mouth of Iehovah, by the hand of Moses. All those that were mustered, whom Moses and Aaron, and the Princes of Israel mustered, of the Levites, according to their families, and according to the house of their fathers. From thirty yeeres old and upward, even unto fifty yeeres old, every one that entred to serve the service of service, and the service of burden, in the Tent of the congregation. Even those that were mustered of them, were eight thousand, and five hundred, and eighty. According to the mouth of Iehovah mustered he them by the hand of Moses, every man according to his service, and according to his burden: and they were mustered of him, as Iehovah commanded Moses.

Annotations.

Take the summe] Hebr. To take (of which phrase see the notes on Exod. 13. 3.) the head, and that in number, is the summe, as the Greeke translateth it: and the Chaldee saith, the Count (or reckoning) of the sonnes of Kohath; whose families are here first reckoned, because they were to carry the holiest things. Of Kohaths preheminance, see the notes on Num. 3. 28. Of him Chazkuni here observeth, Though Gershon was the first-borne, yet Kohath is first reckoned, because hee carried the Arke. house] in Greeke houses: so after sundry times in this chapter.

Verf. 3. thirty yeeres old] Hebr. a sonne of thirty yeeres old of which phrase see the notes on Gen. 5. 32. Here the beginning of their service is at thirty yeeres of age; in Numbers 8. 24. it is said to be at five and twenty yeeres; (according to which, the Greeke here, and in verf. 23. 30. translateth it five and twenty:) and in Davids time it began at twenty, 1. Chron. 23. 24. and so in Ezekiah

ahs dayes, 2 Chron. 31. 17. and after in Ezraes time the Levites were appoynted from twentie yeares olde and upward, Ezra 3. 8. The places in Moses may thus be accorded, that here he speaketh of entring upon their full ministration, which being laborious, to carry the Sanctuary, &c. required full strength of body, and discretion of minde, and began therefore at 30. But in Num. 8. 24. hee appoynteth 25 for the beginning of their learning to doe the workes. So Maimony saith; A sonne of Levi cometh not into the Court unto his service, untill they have first learned him five yeares; as it is said (in Num. 8. 24.) FROM FIVE AND TWENTIE YEERES OLD; and another Scripture saith, (in Numb. 4. 3.) FROM THIRTIE YEERES OLD; hee five are for him to learne. And hee entrah not upon his service, till hee be grown great, and bee a man; as it is sayd (in Numb. 4. 49.) EVERY MAN ACCORDING TO HIS SERVICE. Mizne 10m. 3. treat. of the Instruments of the Sanctuary, cha. 3. f. 7. Chazkuni (on Num. 8.) reconcileth it thus; at 25 yeares old, they entred all of them to doe the lighter workes, as to watch that no stranger came into the Sanctuary, &c. and at 30 yeares of age, they were in their strength, and did beare the Sanctuary, &c. Now this age of thirtie yeares for the numbring of the Levites, continued also in Davids time, 1 Chron. 23. 3. But then the Levites were no more to carry the Tabernacle, nor any vessels of it, verse 26. so by the last wordes of David, the Levites were numbred from twentie yeares old and above, verse 27. which David did by direction from the Lord, 1 Chron. 28. 13, 19. that beginning to learne sooner, they might bee the fitter at thirtie to serve the Lord and his people. And it is probable, that the multitude of people, and so of sacrifices increasing, the Levites if they had not ministred till thirty yeares old, would not have sufficed for the service of the Temple; therefore God then by David altered the time of their entrance. This age of thirtie yeares, was by Gods providence in Ioseph when he began to governe Egypt, Gen 41. 46. in David, when he began to reigne, 2 Sam. 5. 4. Iohn the Baptist (a Levite) began also his Ministerie at that age; and Christ (fulfilling all Figures) at the same age began the preaching of the Gospel, Luke 1. 35, 36. and 3. 2, 3, 23, &c. It taught them also, that the Ministers of the Lord should be no Novices (or young Schollers,) as 1 Tim. 3. 6. untill fiftie yeares old] Hebr. and untill a sonne of fiftie yeares, at what time naturall strength usually beginneth to decay; therefore GOD would have them then leave off the harder service; but still they ministred with their brethren in the Tabernacle, to keepe the charge, &c. Num. 8. 26. into the armie] or, to the warfare. as is further explained in verse 23. to warre the warfare, which the Greeke translateth, to minister. Hereupon the Apostle calleth the worke of the Ministerie, to warre a good warfare, 1 Tim. 1. 18. and mentioneth the weapons of their warfare, 1 Cor. 10. 4. and calleth Timothee a good souldier of Iesus Christ, 2 Tim. 2. 3, 4. because by the sword of the spirit, and other weapons of righteousness, they were to cast downe imaginations, and lusts that warre in mens members, Eph. 6. 17. 2 Cor. 6. 7. and 10. 5. Iam. 4. 1. Compare Exo. 38. 8. to doe the worke] in Greeke, all the workes; in Chaldee, to serve the services this explaineth the former warfare, to be holy and spirituall. So the Bishops office is called a good worke, 1 Tim. 3. 1. for it is to labour in the word and doctrine, 1 Tim. 5. 17.

Verf. 4. the holinesse of holinesses] that is, the most holy things; as the Arke, Table, Candlestickes, Altar, &c. which the Kohathites were to beare, ver. 5, 7, 9, 11, 15. These are generally named the Sanctuary, Num 10. 21. and 3. 28.

Ver. 5. setteb forward] or, removeth journeyeth from mount Sinai towards Canaan; and this was when the cloud was taken up from off the Tabernacle, by the Lord, Num. 10. 11, 12. the veile of the covering] called in Greeke, the shadowing veile; by the Apostle, the second veile, Heb. 9. 3. which was made of blew, purple, scarlet, and fine linnen, with Cherbims, and was hanged between the holy place and the most holy, Exod. 26. 31, 33. This veile figured the flesh of Christ, Heb. 10. 20. as the Arke principally signified Christ also, & Gods presence with his church in him. See the notes on Exod. 25. 10, 17. the Testimony] the tables of Gods law, which were in the Arke, as in the heart (or bowels) of Christ, Ex. 25. 16. Psa. 40. 8. This Arke of the testimony was covered with the veile, whiles the Tabernacle did stand, Exod. 40. 3. and now when the Tabernacle is to be taken down and removed, the Arke is covered with the same veile.

Verf. 6. shall put] Hebr. shall give; in Greeke, put over, to wit, over the Arke and veile. Tachash skin] in Greeke, byacinth (or blew colour) skin: see Exod. 25. 5. This was to cover it from all injury of weather, as raine or the like; even as the whole Tabernacle, when it stood, was covered with such, Exod. 26. 14. Eia. 4. 5, 6. It was also to signifie the hiding of these mysteries for a time: see after on verf. 13. a cloath wholly of blew] these were those clothes or garments of ministerie mentioned in Exod. 31. 10. above] upmost: and heerein the Arke had the preeminence of glory above all the other holy things; for their upmost coverings were of skin; but the Arke had above the skinnie a cloth of blew, or skie colour, for the honour of Christ whom it figured. the barres thereof] made to beare the Arke with them, Exod. 25. 14, 15. See the annotations there.

Verse 7. of Shew-bread] Hebr. Talle of faces, or of Presence: meaning, of the bread of Presence, (or Shew-bread) as the Chaldee heere explaineth it, and Moses elsewhere expresseth. They were twelve Cakes, representing the twelve Tribes of Israel, or whole Church: see the annotations on Exodus 25. 30. and Levit. 24. 5. of blew] the Greeke here translateth it purple. to cover withall] Hebr. of covering, or, of pouring out: of these, see the notes on Exodus 25. 29. continually bread] or, bread of continuance; so called, because it was alwayes upon the table; and when the old was taken off, new was set on, every Sabbath, as is noted on Levit. 24. 8.

- 8 Verf. 8. of scarlet] Onely the Arke (representing Christ,) & the Table with Shew bread (representing the church) had three coverings; all the other holy things, had but two. And none was covered with scarlet, but this Table onely.

- 9 Verf. 9. of the light] in Greeke, inlightning (or shinning) candlestick: see the notes on Exod. 35. 14. This was a figure of Gods Law, Psal. 119. 105. Prov. 6. 23. 2. Pet. 1. 19.

- 10 Verf. 10. upon a staffe] or, upon a lever, or barre; such as things are removed and caried with betweene two, or moe, Num. 13. 23. The Greeke tranlateth it, upon barres; so in vers. 12. Chazkuni noteth here, that it is said, upon a staffe, and not under a staffe, lest that which was caried should bee dragged on the ground.

- 11 Verf. 11. Altar of Gold] the Incense altar, which stood within the holy place: a figure of Christs mediation for his church, and of their presenting their prayers unto God by him. See the notes on Exod. 30. 1. 5-6.

- 12 Verf. 12. instruments] or vessels of ministerie; Censers, cups, &c. or such as are mentioned in 2 Kin. 25. 14. 15. Sanctuarie] Hebr. sanctitie; in Greeke, the holies. a staffe] in Greeke barres, as vers. 10.

- 13 Verf. 13. the ashs from the altar] This the Greeke tranlateth, They shall put a covering upon the altar. The Altar of brasce, which stood in the courtyard, is here meant. of purple] Onely the brazen altar was covered with purple; as the Table onely with scarlet, vers. 8. and these two colours are sometime used one for another; as, They put on him a scarlet robe, Mat. 27. 28. for which in Luk. 19. 2. is written, they put on him a purple robe: so in Mark. 15. 17. they clothed him with purple: all these colours signified the heavenly dignity of these holy things, by the blood of Christ. And although the Altar of brasce stood in the open court, where all might see it, yet when they removed, it also was covered as the other holy things.

- 14 Verf. 14. Vessels] or instruments, as vers. 12. fire-pans] of these and the rest, see the notes on Exod. 27. 3. At the end of this verse the Greeke version mentioneth the Laver, Exod. 30. 18. (which in Moses is here altogether omitted) thus; And they shall take a purple cloib, and cover the Laver and the base (or foot) thereof, and shall put them into a covering of hyacinth skin; and shall put (them) upon barres. It seemeth to be not without mystery, that Moses mentioning fire-pans, flesh-bookes, and other lesse things, should quite omit the Laver, which usually is reckoned among the holy things of the Sanctuarie, Exod. 35. 16. and 38. 8. and 39. 39. and 40. 30. And as in Melchisedeks history in Gen. 14. he omitted his parentage, kindred, birth and death; from which silence in the holy story, the Apostle reasoneth as if he had beene without parents or kindred, beginning of dayes, or end of life, Heb. 7. So here (if it may be lawfull to conjecture the like) the Laver is left uncovered, and alwaies open to the eyes of the people, that it might be a lively representation of Gods grace in Christ, continuing & opened as an ever-springing fountaine: that by the washing of the new birth, by repentance & faith in the blood of Christ, we may in all our travels, at all times, cleanse our hands & feet, (our workes and wayes,) as the sacrificers did from the Laver, Ex. 30. 19. 20. That albeit the face of the church is sometime hid, (as the Tabernacle wrapped up,) and the Light of the Word shineth not, nor publike worship performed: yet alwaies Gods elect, having faith in him, may wash and purge themselves in Christ his blood, unto forgiveness of sinnes, sanctification of the spirit, & salvation.

Verf. 15. the sanctuary] Hebr. Sanctity, or Holinesse, that is, as the Greeke explaineth it, Holy things: see Num. 3. 28. This covering of the Sanctuary, besides that it was for the honour and defence thereof, had also a further mystery. For as Moses put a veil upon his face, Exod. 34. 33. that the sonnes of Israel could not steadfastly looke to the end of that which is abolished, 2 Cor. 3. 13. so the Tabernacle (which our fathers caried with Iesus into the possession of the Gentiles, Act. 7. 45.) was folded up, and veiles and coverings were cast upon the holy things, that the Israelites could not behold the end of those types, whose end & accomplishment we now clearly see by the Gospel, by the revelation of the mystery which was kept secret since the world began: but is now made manifest; and by the scriptures of the Prophets, according to the commandment of the everlasting God, made knowne to all nations, for the obedience of faith, Rom. 16. 25. 26. Therefore we have Gods Throne and true Tabernacle set forth without veiles or covers, Rev. 4. 2. &c. The Temple of God is opened in heaven; and there is seene in his Temple, the Arke of the Testamentall covenant, Revel. 11. 19. not touch the holinesse] that is, the holy things, as the Greeke tranlateth. This restraint, was like that concerning mount Sinai, which by reason of Gods presence thereon, might not be touched, upon paine of death. Exod. 19. 12. Heb. 12. 18. lest they dye] Hebr. and dye: which the Chaldoe expoundeth, and not dye: the Greeke, that they dye not: the word not before used, being here againe to be understood, as it is in Iob. 30. 20. 25. and 31. 20. Psal. 9. 19. Prov. 30. 3. Dent. 7. 26. and often elsewhere. The Scripture it selfe sheweth this want, and supplieth it; as in 2 Chron. 9. 20. none were of silver, it was accounted of: that is, it was not accounted of; as is expressed in 1 King. 10. 21. This judgement here threatned, was executed upon Uzzah a Levite, who putting his hand to the Arke of God, was therefore smitten of God, and died, 1 Chron. 13. 10. shall be the burden] that is, as the Greeke tranlateth, they shall beare these things, to wit, on their owne shoulders, and not by wagons, or any other meanes, Num. 7. 9. Therefore it was a fault in Davids dayes, that the Arke was caried upon a cart, 1 Chron. 13. 7. for they fought not the Lord, after the due order, 1 Chron. 15. 12. 13.

Verf. 16. to the oversight] the Bishops office, or charge: 16

charge the Greeke translateth, Bishop Eleazar; the Chaldee, that which shall be committed to the charge (or custodie) of Eleazar. oyle of the Light] that is, off (or for) the golden candlestick. These foure particulars, the Hebrewes say, Eleazar was to cary himselfe: for Chazkuni (on this place) writeth, The oyle of the Light, and the oyle of Anointing, the one in his right hand; and the other in his left. And the Incense in his bosome; and the Meat-offring on his shoulder. R. Elias, in Reshith choemab, treat. of Feare, ch. 16. noteth the like from the Ierusalem Thalmud, adding withall, Behold, according to his high place was his humility, to honour the Lord, to beare all this burden at one time. of the Sanctuary] Hebr. the sanctity: Greeke, the Holy. Eleazar had besides the charge of the oyle, incense, &c. the care of all the sanctuarie also, and of the burdens of the Kohabites, Num. 3. 37. vessels] or instruments; in Greeke, the workers thereof. In this office, Bishop Eleazar was a figure of Christ (the Bishop of our soules, 1 Pet. 2. 25.) unto whom it pertaineth to give grace (the oyle of the Spirit) for understanding of the Scriptures, Luk. 4. 18. and 24. 45. Job. 1. 16. To put odours of sweet incense unto the prayers of all Saints, by his mediation, Revel. 8. 3. 1. Tim. 2. 5. To present his Church as a pure Meat-offring and sacrifice unto his Father, Ephe. 5. 26, 27. 1. Cor. 5. 7. To give the anointing oyle of the holy Ghost for our sanctification, & rejoicing of our hearts, Job. 7. 39. 1. Job. 2. 27. To oversee all Churches and Ministers, and all actions in Churches, where he is present, and walketh among them till the worlds end, Mat. 28. 20. Rev. 1. 13. and 2. 1. 2. 8. &c.

18 Ver. 18. Cut ye not off] or, Cause not to cut off; in Greeke, destroy not, that is, Cause not, or occasion not by your default, them to be cut off, whiles you not looking to your charge, they haply transgresse, and so I destroy them, as I did Nadab and Abihu, Lev. 10. the families] understand, any of the families: the Greeke translateth, Destroy not of the tribe, the family of Kohab.

19 Ver. 19. live and not die] of this phrase, see Dent. 33. 6. Thargum Jonathan expounds it, live in the life of the righteous, and not die with flaming fire: having reference to Levit. 10. 2. of holiness] that is, the most holy things; in Greeke, the holies of holies. every man] Hebr. man man, to his service, that is, each one to his severall worke, that so disorder and confusion might be avoided, & none might intrude into anothers worke. The Hebrew canons say, The Levites are to be warned that they doe not one anothers worke; as that the Singer helpe not to doe the Porters worke, or the Porter the Singers; as it is written, EVERY MAN UNTO HIS SERVICE, AND TO HIS BURDEN. The Levites that doe the Priests service, or a Levite that employeth himselfe in that worke which is not his owne worke, are in danger of death by the hand of God, Num. 4. 19. Maimony in Adisa, treat. of the Instruments of the Sanct. ch. 3. sect. 10. 11.

20 Ver. 20. to see] so in Exod. 19. 21. the people were charged not to breake through unto the LORD to see: and because the men of Bethshe-

mesh looked into the Arke of the Lord, he smote of the people fiftie thousand and seventy men, 1 Sam. 6. 19. This restraint taught them what discord there is betweene God and finfull men, and how great need wee have of a Mediatour. And as the Priests themselves might not alwaies enter into the most holy place, Lev. 16. 2. whereby the holy Ghost this signified, that the way into the holy of holies was not yet made manifest, while as the first Tabernacle was yet standing, Hebr. 9. 8. so in that the Levites bare things which they might not touch nor see, it signified a concealing in part of the mystrie of the Gospell, which in other ages was not made knowne unto the senses of men, as it was afterward revealed unto his holy Apostles and Prophets by the Spirit, Ephe. 3. 5. the mystrie which was hid from ages and from generations, but now is made manifest to his Saints, Coloss. 1. 26. is covered] Hebr. is swallowed up; which word is often used for destroying and abolishing, Job 2. 3. Num. 16. 30. 31. Esai. 9. 16. and 3. 12. applied here to the hiding and covering of the holy things, which was done suddenly, and is by the Chaldee interpreted, when they cover the vessels of the Sanctuary. It signified the abolishing that after should be of this worldly sanctuary, and shadowes therein, by Christ, Heb. 9. 1. ——— 11. whose death was a destroying of the true Tabernacle and Temple, Job. 2. 19. 21. The Apostle also treating of the death of the Saints useth this similitude; If our earthly house of this Tabernacle were dissolved, we have a building of God, a house not made with hand, eternall in the heavens. For we that are in this Tabernacle doe groane, being burdened, not for that wee would be unclothed, but clothed upon; that the mortall thing might bee swallowed up of life, &c. 2. Cor. 5. 1. 4. So Peter calleth his death, the putting off of his Tabernacle, 2 Pet. 1. 14. And this similitude is very fit: for as here in Moses Tabernacle, the most holy things were first covered and taken away, so the soules & powers thereof are first withdrawn from the body by death. Then, as the curtaines and coverings were taken off, and folded up; so the flesh and skin of our bodies are pulled off, and eaten with wormes. And as the boards of the Tabernacle were lastly disioyned and pulled asunder, so shall our bones & finewes. Compare the description of mans making in Job 10. 8. ——— 12. & of his dissolution, Eccl. 12. And as the Tabernacle dissolved, was afterward set up againe, Num. 10. 21. so shall our bodies at the day of resurrection, 1 Cor. 15. lest they die] Hebr. and die: in Chaldee, and not die; as before in ver. 15.

Here beginneth the 35 section of the Law: see Gen. 6. 9.

Ver. 22. Take] Hebr. to take: see ver. 2: of them also] in Gr. shef also Though the Kohabites (of the second brother) were first numbred, because they were to cary the holy things on their shoulders; yet God would not have the other families neglected, or to administer confusedly, but counted & appointed also to their charges: wherein his providence shineth no lesse than before.

23 Verſ. 23. to warre the warfare] which the Greeke explaineth, to miniſter: ſee the notes on verſ. 3. to ſerve the ſervice] in Greeke, to doe the workes: this is an explanation of the former warfare.

24 Verſ. 24. the ſervice] in Greeke, the miniſterie, and for the burden] in Greeke, to ſerve and to beare. By the ſervice, underſtand their miniſterie in the Tabernacle when it ſtood, wherein they aſſiſted the Priests; as alſo the taking downe and ſetting up of it, Num. 10. 21. and by the burden, their carying of the Sanctuary, when it removed.

27 Verſ. 27. At the mouth] or, according to the mouth; in Chaldee, At the word. So after in verſ. 37. and 41. and 45. and 49. in all their burden] in Greeke, according to all their miniſtrations, and according to all their workes. ye ſhall appoint] in Greeke, thou ſhalt appoint (or number) them. in charge] or, in cuſtodie; in Greeke, by names, as in verſ. 32. all their burden] in Greeke, all their workes.

28 Verſ. 28. their charge] or, their cuſtodie, their obſervation. under the hand] or, in the hand, that is, under the government and direction of Iſthamar: ſo in verſ. 33. The Priests being the chiefe in the Sanctuary, and figures of Chriſt, were to appoint and overſee all the workes of the inferiour miniſters; and ſo Chriſt and his Apoſtles did unto the miniſters of the chriſtian Churches, Mat. 28. 20. 1 Cor. 12. 4, 5, 6. Tit. 1. 5. &c. 1. Tim. 1. 3. and 3. 1. — 15.

30 Verſ. 30. thirty yeeres] in Greeke, twenty five yeeres: the reaſon of this difference is noted on ver. 3. So after, in v. 35. into the armie] or, warfare; that is, ſervice in the Tabernacle; as the Greeke tranſlateth it, to miniſter: ſee verſ. 3.

31 Verſ. 31. the charge] or, cuſtodie; in Greeke, obſervations. the ſockets] which were an hundred, made of an hundred talents of ſilver, Exod. 38. 27. of the boards, and bars, ſee Exod. 26. 18. — 27. By reaſon of the weight of theſe things, the Merarites had foure wagons allowed them; for the carriage, Num. 7. 8.

32 Verſ. 32. their ſockets] which were of braſſe, Exod. 27. 10. — 17. by names.] in Chaldee, by their names: the Greeke ſaid the like of the Gerſhonites charge, in verſ. 27. Whereas the ſockets, pillars, pinnes, cords, and other inſtruments were many, and ſeemed of leſſe importance than the other holy things within the Sanctuary; the Lord appointeth to have them delivered by names, leſt any ſhould be neglected, or left, or to ſeek when the Tabernacle ſhould be ſet vp againe. Signifying hereby the care that he hath of his Church, and of every member, even the leaſt; and ſo of all his ordinances. Thus the good Shepheard is ſaid to call his owne ſheepe by name, Iob. 10. 3. And David gave unto Solomon, both the pattern of all things to be made in the Temple, and gave gold and ſilver by weight, for every table, candleſtick, lampe, ſheſh-hook, bowle, cup, baſon, &c. 1 Chron. 28. 11. — 17.

35 Verſ. 35. into the armie] or, to the warfare; in Greeke, to miniſter: ſee verſ. 3. So after, in verſ. 39. and 43.

Verſ. 36. two thouſand, ſeven hundred, and fifty] there were of the Kohathites in all; eight thouſand and ſix hundred, Num. 3. 28. of which, not a third part were able men for the Lords ſervice, as here we ſee.

Verſ. 40. two thouſand and ſix hundred and thirtie] In all there were ſeven thouſand and five hundred Gerſhonites, Num. 3. 22. of which little more than the third part were ſit to ſerve in the Tabernacle.

Verſ. 44. three thouſand and two hundred] So of ſix thouſand and two hundred Merarites (Num. 3. 34) there were moe than halfe ſit to ſerve the Lord in his Sanctuary. The numbers of them all, and of ſuch as were able to ſerve the Lord, and contrary, may be viewed thus;

Kohathites,	In all,	8600.
	Able men,	2750.
	Vnable,	5850.
Gerſhonites,	In all,	7500.
	Able men,	2630.
	Vnable,	4870.
Merarites,	In all,	6200.
	Able men,	3200.
	Vnable,	3000.

The wiſdome and providence of God appeareth in theſe numbers. The Kohathites, that were moſt in the whole ſumme, are feweſt for the ſervice of God: the Merarites, that were feweſt in number, yeeld moſt for his ſervice. And whereas the greateſt burde was for the Merarites, as the boards of the Sanctuary, overlaid with gold, the pillars, the ſockets, ſome of ſilver, & ſome of braſſe, leſt they ſhould murmur at their charge, God furniſheth them with moe able men than any of the other families, beſides wagons given to eaſe them. And whereas commonly in families, the yonger & the aged ſort are many moe than men of middle years; it is here otherwiſe, that the greater halfe of the Merarites are ſtrong men, betweene thirty & fifty yeares of age. By this diverſitie of number among the Levites families, God ſheweth his wiſdome in fitting men for the worke whereto he hath appointed them, whether it requireth multitude, or gifts: for, To one is given by the Spirit, the word of wiſdome; to another the word of knowledge; by the ſame Spirit; to another, faith, by the ſame Spirit; to another, the gifts of healing, by the ſame Spirit; &c. dividing to every man ſeverally as he will. 1 Cor. 12. 8. — 12. David being employed in warres, had many valiant Worthies, and ſtrong men for that purpoſe, rehearſed in 1. Chron. 11. and 12. &c. So had Iudah, and the other tribes, as we ſee in Num. 2. Moſes was furniſhed with wiſdome and knowledge, but wanted ſpeech and utterance; therefore Aaron was given to bee his mouth and ſpokes-man, Act. 7. 22. Exod. 4. 10. 14. 16. yet Moſes by his writings, ſpeaketh now eloquently in all Churches, and ſhall doe to the worlds end, when Aaron is ſilent. The like was in Paul, whoſe weakneſſe in ſpeech was his reproach among the false Apostles, 2. Cor. 11. 10. and 11. 13. though he excelled in knowledge & other graces, the fruits whereof the world still reapeth from his Epistles.

47 Ver. 47. that entered] to wit, into the warfare, or army, as ver. 3. the service of service] the worke of ministry, assisting the Priests, when the Tabernacle stood; and taking it downe, and setting it up: the Greeke translateth it, the worke of worker. the service of burden] the worke of bearing the Tabernacle, when it was removed: in Greeke, the worke that were to be borne.

48 Ver. 48. eight thousand and 500. and 80.] Behold the small number of such as warred the spirituall warfare of God in his Sanctuary, that of the whole tribe of Levie, there were but 8580. fit men: when the tribe of Iudah afforded 74. thousand and 600. for the outward warfare, in the host of Israel, Numb. 1. 27.

49 Ver. 49. the mouth] in Chaldee, the word; in Greeke, the voice. mustered be] or, be numbered: meaning Moses and the Princes, as ver. 34. spoken of as of one man.

CHAP. V.

1. The unclean are removed out of the Campe. 5. Confession and restitution is to be made in trespasses. 11. The law of jealousy. 15. How the suspected woman is to be brought unto the Priest, with an oblation, 19. is to be abjured by the Priest, 24. and is to drinke of the bitter water that causeth the curse. 27. The events following if shee be defiled, or not defiled.

1 AND Iehovah spake unto Moses, saying; Command the sonnes of Israel, that they send away out of the campe, every leper, and every one that hath an issue, and every one defiled by a soule. Both male and female shall yee send away; without the campe shall yee send them that they defile not their camps, in the midst whereof I dwell. And the sonnes of Israel did so, and sent them away without the campe; as Iehovah spake unto Moses, so did the sonnes of Israel.

5 And Iehovah spake unto Moses, saying; 6 Speake unto the sonnes of Israel: A man or a woman, when they shall doe any of all the sinnes of men, to transgresse a transgression against Iehovah, and that soule bee guilty; 7 Then they shall confesse their sinne which they have done, and he shall restore his trespass in the principall thereof; and the fifth part thereof shall hee adde unto it, and shall give it to him against whom he hath trespassed. And if the man have no kinsman, to restore the trespass unto him, the trespass shall be restored unto Iehovah, unto the Priest, beside the ram of the atonements; whereby atonement shall be made for him. And every heave offering of all the holy things of the sonnes of Israel, which they shall bring neere unto the Priest, shall bee his: And every mans hollowed things shall be his: that which any man giveth to the Priest, his it shall be.

And Iehovah spake unto Moses, saying; 11 Speake unto the sonnes of Israel, and say unto them: Any man, if his wife goe aside, and transgresse against him a transgression; 12 And a man lye with her, with seed of copulation, and it be kept close from the eyes of her husband, and shee hath hid her selfe, and shee is defiled; and there is no witnesse against her, and shee is not taken: And the spirit of jealousy passe upon him, and hee be jealous of his wife, and she bee defiled; or the spirit of jealousy passe upon him, and he be jealous of his wife, and she be not defiled: Then shall the man bring his wife unto the Priest, and hee shall bring her offering for her, the tenth part of an Ephah of barley meale: he shall not powre oyle upon it, nor put frankincense thereon, for it is a Meat-offering of jealousies, a Meat-offering of memoriall, making memoriall of iniquity. And the Priest shall bring her neere, and make her stand before Iehovah.

And the Priest shall take holy water, in an earthen vessell; and of the dust which is in the floore of the Tabernacle, shall the Priest take, and put it into the water. And the Priest shall make the woman to stand before Iehovah, and shall uncover the womans head, and put in her hands the Meat-offering of memoriall; it is the Meat-offering of jealousies: and in the hand of the Priest shall bee the bitter water, that causeth the curse. And the Priest shall charge her by an oath, and say unto the woman; If no man hath lien with thee, and if thou hast not gone aside so uncleanesse, under thy husband, bee thou free from the bitter water that causeth the curse. But thou, if thou hast gone aside under thy husband, and if thou be defiled, and some man hath had his copulation with thee, beside thine husband: And the Priest shall by oath charge the woman, with an oath of cursing; and the Priest shall say unto the woman; Iehovah give thee, to be for a curse, and for an oath, among thy people, when Iehovah doth give thy thigh to fall, and thy belly

- 22 belly to swell. And this water that causeth the curse, shall enter into thy bowels, to make the belly to swell, and the thigh to fall: and the woman shall say, Amen, Amen.
- 23 And the Priest shall write these curses in a booke: and hee shall blot them out, into the bitter water. And hee shall cause the woman to drinke the bitter water, that causeth the curse: and the water that causeth the curse, shall enter into her to bitternesse.
- 24 And the Priest shall take out of the womans hand, the Meat-offering of jealousies, and shall wave the Meat-offering before Iehovah, and offer it upon the Altar. And the Priest shall take an handfull of the Meat-offering, even the memoriall thereof, and burne it upon the Altar; and afterward hee shall cause the woman to drinke the water.
- 25 And when hee hath caused her to drinke the water, then it shall be if she be defiled, and have transgressed a transgression against her husband, that the water that causeth the curse, shall enter into her to bitternesse; and her belly shall swell, and her thigh shall fall, and the woman shall be for a curse among her people. And if the woman be not defiled, but be cleane, then she shall be free, and shall conceive seed. This is the law of jealousies, when a woman goeth aside under her husband, and is defiled. Or a man, when the spirit of jealousie passeth upon him, and he be jealous of his wife, and shall make the woman to stand before Iehovah; and the Priest shall doe unto her all this law. And the man shall be free from iniquity: and that woman shall beare her iniquitie.

Annotations.

1 Command] After that God had set his Church and ministry in order, he next giveth lawes for the purity and holinesse of his Church in that order, by removing all sin and uncleannesse from among them; and after, by appointing the exercises of godlinesse. Of this he saith, Command: whereby the weight of the things here spoken of, is signified. that they send away] or, as the Greeke translateth, and let them send away, that is, put out of the campe; and there were three Camps, the Sanctuary, called the Campe (or tents) of the LORD, 2. Chron. 31. 2. the Campe of the Levites, Numbers 3. and the Campe of Israel, the twelve tribes, Numb. 2. See the annotations on Exod. 40. 33. And as the unclean were to be put out of the Camp, pitching about the Sanctuary: so out of the camp which went to warre against their enemies, Deut. 23. 10. 11. The Campe of the Lords Sanctuary was most holy: none which was unclean in any thing, might enter in, 2 Chron. 23. 19.

Lepre] who was defiled and unclean, all the dayes that the plague was upon him, and was to dwell alone, without the Campe, Lev. 13. 46. see the annotations there.

an issue] the Law of their uncleannesse is given in Levit. 15, a soule] that is, a dead soule, as Numb. 6. 6. meaning a body; the Chaldee here translateth, by the bones of the soule of a man; taking the soule for a dead carcasse; as in Levit. 21. 1. there the Chaldee hath, the dead. Who so touched any dead man, was unclean seven dayes, Numb. 19. 11. &c. whereas for touching other dead creatures, they were unclean but until evening, Levit. 11. 24. 39. 40. These legall pollutions, figured our pollution by sinne of all sorts, (as in their places is shewed) and the removing of such out of the Lords campe, figured the removall of unrepentant sinners out of the Church, into which any thing that defileth may in no wise enter, Revelations 21. 27. the unclean may not come into it, Esay 52. 1.

Verf. 3. male and female] Hebr. From male unto female, whereby he meaneth both sorts: and as Chazkuni here observeth, hee saith not man and woman, to teach that in case of uncleannesse, the great and the small are all alike. Upon this Law, Mary the sister of Moses and Aaron, being stricken with leprosie, was put out of the Campe, Numb. 12. 14. 15. without the Campe] or, to without, that is, to a place without the Campe. But were they all to be together in one place? seeing the Lepers were to remaine alone, Levit. 13. 46. The Hebrew doctors expound this Law thus; There were three camps; the campe of the Divine Majesty (that is, the Sanctuary:) about that the campe of the Levites, and from thence unto the end, the campe of the standards on all foure quarters, that was the campe of Israel. The Leper was put forth out of them all: he that had an issue might bee in the campe of Israel, but was put forth out of the second: and he defiled by the dead, hee might bee even in Levies campe, and was not put forth save from the campe of the Majesty (of God) Sol. Iarobi. on Numb. 5. This, though it seemeth contrary to Moses, is the common opinion of the Hebrewes, as may bee seene in Talmud. Bab. in Pesachim, chap. 6. and Maimony in Misn. in Biah hamikdash, chap. 3. where he rendreth this reason; The Leper because his uncleannesse is greater, hee is sent away further than his fellowes; for every one whose uncleannesse is greater, his putting forth is further than his neighbours. Therefore they send forth the Leper out of the three camps, which is out of Ierusalem, because hee defileth by entrance, whereas hee that hath an issue, defileth not so. And they send forth men and women that have issues, the menstruous, and women in childbed, out of the two camps, which is, out of the mountaine of the house (of God:) because they defile bed, and seat, which the unclean by the dead doe not. The Chel] that is, the Rampart or Courtyard, in the Temple, which was more outward than the womens court, as the womens was more than the mens court; they put forth out of it, beathens, and such as are defiled by the dead, and defiled defiled by lying with the menstruous. If a Leper come into Ierusalem hee is bound (with forty stripes,) if hee come into the mountaine of the house (of God) hee is beaten with fourescore stripes, &c. Wee may here note the difference and degrees of places, and their holinesse, which the Hebrewes say were ten, within the Land of Canaan; Ierusalem, and the Temple. 1. The walled townes; 2. The citie Ierusalem; 3. The mountaine of Gods house, (mount Sion;) 4. The Chel, or outmost court; 5. The womens court, (which some thinke to be that which is called the new court, 2 Chron. 20. 5.) 6. The mens court. 7. The Priests court, (2 Chron. 4. 9.) 8. The place betweene the Porch and the Altar; (2 Chron. 8. 12.) 9. The Temple, or House it selfe. 10. And the most holy place, or Oracle within the Temple; 1 King. 6. 16. 17. 19. Of these it is written in the Bab. Talmud in Celim, chap. 1. sect. 6. &c. and by Maimony in Misna in Beth habehirab, chap. 7. sect. 12. &c. thus: All the Land of Israel is holy above all other lands; for they bring out of it, the Sheafe, and the two loaves, (Levit. 23. 10. 17.) and the First-fruits which they bring not out of other lands. Ten holinesses are in the land of Israel one above another. The walled townes are holier then the rest of the Land, for out of them they put the leprous: neither doe they bury the dead within them, without consent of seven good men of the city, or of all the people of the city, &c. Ierusalem is holier then other walled cities; for they eat the light holy things, and the second tithes, within the walls thereof. The mountaine of (Gods) house, is holier then it; for none that have issues, are menstruous, or in childbed, may come in thither. The Chel (or Rampart) is holier than it, for no heathens, or defiled by the dead, or that hath lien with the menstruous, may come in thither. The womens court is holier then the Chel; for none that is washed (from his uncleannesse) that day (before Sunne setting, as Levit. 15. 6.) may come thereinto. The court of (the men of) Israel, is holier then the womens court, for none that hath not brought his offering for atonement (though hee be otherwise cleane, as Levit. 12. 6. 7. and 14. 9. 10. and 15. 13. 14. 15.) may come into it. And the uncleane that commeth thereinto, is guilty of cutting-off. The Priests court, is holier then that, for no Israelites may come in thither, save at the time of their necessities, for imposing of hands, or for atonement, or for slaying, or for waving (the Sacrifices.) Betweene the Porch and the Altar, is holier then that, for none that are blemished, or bare headed, or have their clothes rent, may come thither. The Temple is holier then betweene the Porch and the Altar: for none may come thereinto, but hee that hath his hands and feet washed. The Holy of holies is holier then it; for none may come in there, but the high Priest, on Atonement day, at the time of service, Levit. 16. For the better understanding of these things, wee may further observe touching the Temple in Ierusalem, how they say, The mountaine of the house (of God,) which was mount Morijah, (2 Chron. 3. 1.) was five hundred cubits (long) and five hundred (broad) and was inclosed with a wall. And it had five gates, one on the West, and one on the East, and one on the North, and two on the South: and the breadth of a gate was ten cubits, and the height twenty: and they had doores. Within that was a (woodden) fence compassing round about, the height whereof was ten hand breadths, and within that fence was the Chel (or Rampart) ten cubits high, and of that it is said in Lam. 2. 8. Hee made the Rampart and the wall to lament: this was the wall of the court. Within the Rampart was the court, and all the court was in length 187. and in breadth 135. (cubits) and had seven gates, &c. The Sanctuary was not all of it in a plaine, but in a cliffe (or ascent) of the Mount. When a man went in at the East gate of the Mountaine, hee went to the end of the Chel (or Rampart) in a leuell ground. And hee went up from the Chel to the womens court by twelve steps: the height of every step was halfe a cubit, and the breadth halfe a cubit. And all the womens court hee went on a leuell: and from it to the court of Israel (the mens court) by fifteen steps; and all the court of Israel hee went on a leuell. Thence hee went up to the Priests court, which was two cubits and an halfe higher than Israels. And hee went all the Priests court, and betweene the Porch and the Altar in a leuell. Thence hee went up to the porch by twelve steps. And the Porch and the Temple was all on a leuell. So the height of the flore of the Temple was above the flore of the East-gate of the mount of the house, two and twenty cubits. Maimony in Beth habehirab, chap. 5. & 6. that they defile not] or, and let them not defile (or make uncleane) their camps: for the least of these three, namely the uncleane by the dead, whatsoever hee touched was uncleane, Numb. 19. 22. Hag. 2. 12. This taught them sanctification, in abtaining from communion with sinne and sinners; as the Apostle sheweth in 2. Cor. 6. 17. Come out from among them, and be ye separate, saith the Lord, and touch not the uncleane thing, and I will receive you, &c. And in Heb. 12. 15. Looking diligently, &c. lest any root of bitterness springing up, trouble you, and thereby many bee defiled. I dwell] in Chaldee, my divine presence (Shecinah) dwelleth. This reason respecteth not onely the former uncleanneses, but the finnes also that follow, of transgression, vers. 6. and secret adultery, vers. 12. 13. So the Hebrewes also acknowledge; as Chazkuni (on this place) saith, Forasmuch as the Divine presence (of God) is among them, and they encampe round about the Tabernacle: it is necessary that they purifie their camps from uncleannesse, and cleane themselves from robbery, and from doubtfull wickednesse, as of the woman that goeth aside; and to observe the things decreed for purification.

Verf. 6. the finnes of men] in Greeke, hamartia 6 sinnes, that is, any such sinne as men use to fall into through their frailty. to transgresse a transgression] that is, to commit (or by committing) a transgression: so in Levit. 6. 2. where this Law is more explained. The Chaldee expoundeth it, to falsifie a falsehood, that is, to speake (or deale) falsely: the Greeke, despising despised; in Hebrew Magbhal: wherof see the notes on Lev. 5. 15. This is the second Law of Israels purity, & it is against morall sin & pollution thereby; which the sinner was to purge by confession of sin, restitution of damniage;

and sacrifice. against Iehovah] in the Chaldee, before the Lord. This is meant in regard of his deni-niall or oath before the Lord; as Lev. 6. 2. 3. that soule] in Chaldee, that man: it meaneth man or woman, as before is expressed. be guilty] or, be in trespasse.

7 Ver. 7. shall confesse] This, though it be here ad-joyned to this particular, belongeth to all sinne,
which hee that confesseth and forsaketh shall have mercy, Prov. 28. 13. for God looketh upon men; if any say, I have sinned and perverted that which was right; and it profited me not; hee will deliver his soule from going into the pit, and his life shall see the light, Job 33. 27. 28. The Hebrewes set downe this duty thus; All the precepts in the Law, whether they command or forbid a thing, if a man transgresseth against any one of them, either presumptuously, or ignorantly, when he maketh repentance, and turneth from his sinne, hee is bound to confesse before the blessed God, as in Numb. 5. 7. This confession is with words; and it is commanded to be done. How doe they confesse? Hee saith, Oh God I have sinned, I have done perversely, I have trespassed before thee, and have done thus and thus; and loe I repent, and am ashamed of my doings, and I will never doe this thing againe: and this is the foundation of confession. And who so maketh a large confession, and is long in his thing, hee is to be commended, and so the owners of sinne and trespass offerings, when they bring their oblations for their ignorant, or for their presumptuous sinnes, atonement is not made for them by their oblation, untill they have made repentance, and confession by word of mouth. Likewise, all condemned to death by the Magistrates, or condemned to stripes, no atonement is made for them by their death, or by their stripes, untill
they have repented and confessed. And so hee that hurteth his neighbour, or doth him damage, though he pay him whatsoever he oweth him, atonement is not made for him till hee confesse, and turne away from doing so againe for ever, as it is written (in Numb. 5. 6.) OF ALL THE SINS OF MEN. Maimony in Mishn.
treat. of Repentance, chap. 1. sect. 1. his trespass]
or, his guiltinesse, Hebr. Asham: meaning the thing for which he is guilty: as is explained in Lev. 6.
4. & noted on Levit. 5. 16. The Asham (Guiltinesse) here spoken of, is the thing taken by rapine, or the price thereof, saith Maimony, in treat. of Robbery, and lost things, chap. 8. sect. 6. in the principall] or, in the
summe (the head) thereof; that is, every whit of it:
so in Lev. 6. 5. the fift] see the notes on Levit.
5. 16. and 6. 5. Of this point the Hebrewes say, Hee that sweareth upon deni-all of goods, payeth not the fift part, untill hee confesse it of himselfe: but if there come witnesses, and he stand still in his deni-
all, hee payeth
the principall onely upon the mouth (that is, the testimony) of the witnesses: but payeth not the fift part, because the fift part with the sacrifice, doe come for atonement, and hee bringeth not them, but upon his owne mouth (or confession)
Maimony treat. of Robbery, chap. 7. sect. 8.

8 Ver. 8. no kinsman] Hebr. Goel; which is generall for any kinsman, that redeemeth, avengeth, or to whom a thing appertaineth when the other is dead. Hereupon the Hebrewes apply this law to the stranger; for they say, there is no man in Israel without kinsmen, either brother, or child, or other of his blood, &c. but this is (meant of) the stranger that dieth and hath no heires: Sol. Iarchis on Numb. 5. and Maimony in treatise of Robbery, &c.

chap. 8. sect. 6. the trespass] or guiltinesse, the thing for which hee is guilty; as verse 7.

unto the Priest] who being the Lords minister,
should receive it for him. The holy blessed (God)
is the Father of the stranger, and meet to inherit that which is his, therefore it should be given to the summe of his house, which is the Priest, saith Chas-kuni on Numbers 5. If (a man) have done rapine unto a stranger, and sweare unto him (falsly) and the stranger dye, then hee is bound to pay the princi-pall, and the fift part, unto the Priests of that custodie (or ward.) If a Priest rob a stranger which hath no heires; and sweare unto him, and the stranger dye;
this Priest hath no right to his robbery, which is under his hand; but it goeth out from under his hand, to all his brethren the Priests, the summe of the custody (that is, which serve in that ward) Maim. treatise of Robbery, &c. chap. 8. section 4. 9.

ramme of
atonements] whereby atonement was made for him with God, by the Priest: whereof see Leviticus 6. 6. 7. Here also they say, the trespass offring is not offered, untill hee that hath done the rob-berie have restored the principall to the owners, or to the Priests, if hee have robbed a stranger that hath no heires. If hee have given the principall, and offered his trespass-offring, atonement is made for him, and the fift part bindeth not the atonement; and hee is bound to give the fift part, after the atonement.
Maimony treatise of Robbery, Chapter 8. Sect. 13.

Ver. 9. heave-offring] or oblation, in Chaldee, separation (or separated thing) of all] or,
with all the holy things: according to which sense the Greeke translateth, and all the hollowed things. So in Ezek. 44. 30. the first of all the first fruits of all things, and every heave-offring of all, of all your heave-offrings shall be the Priests, and the first of your dough shall yee give unto the Priest, that hee may cause the blessing to rest in thine house.

shall bring neare] or, shall offer to the Priest,
and so unto God by him: therefore the Greeke translateth, shall offer to the Lord, to the Priest, to him shall it be. Of the gifts which God appointed to the Priests, see Numbers 18. In that the Lords offrings were given to the Priest, it figured, that all things were given of the Father unto Christ, whom hee had made heire of all things, Heb.
1. 2. And it taught the people their duty, for the maintaining of his ministers, Malac. 3. 8. 9. 10.
1. Cor. 9. 13. 14.

Ver. 10. shall be his] that is, shall be the Priests, as in Ezek. 44. 30.

Ver. 12. Any man] Hebr. man, man, that is, whosoever. This is the third Law, for the sanctification of the Church, in case of sinne suspected, and not manifest, which God would have to be looked unto, and purged. goe aside] to wit, from him to another man, and commit adultery. A figurative speech, taken from going aside out of the right way: so in Prov. 7. 25.

transfesse] disloyally and unfaithfully, as the Hebrew Magical signifieth, Leviticus 5. 35. The Greeke translateth it depose; the Chaldee, deale falsly.

Verf. 13. A man] in Greeke, any: meaning another man besides her husband. from the eyes] that is, from the knowledge. Of the way of an adulterous woman, it is said, Shee eateth, and wipeb her mouth, and saith; I have done no wickednesse, Prov. 30. 20. hath hid her selfe] or hath bin hidden, hath beene in secret; meaning either that shee hath dissembled her iniquity, or, hath beene in a secret place with some other man, whereby shee may justly bee suspected, and her husband hath cause to be jealous. In this latter sense, the Hebrewes understand it, and make it the ground of the Law following, for her tryall. They say, The jealousie spoken of in the Law, Num. 5. 14. is when (the man) hath said unto his wife before witnesses, bee not in secret with such a man. The hiding [or secrecie] spoken of in Numb. 5. 13. is, when shee hath beene in secret with that man, touching whom hee hath said unto her before two witnesses, bee not in secret with him: if shee hath stayed with him so long as till shee might be defiled, then it is unlawfull for her husband to company with her, untill shee hath drinke of the bitter water, and the thing bee tryed. And at such time as there is no water for her that goeth aside (to drinke) shee is unlawfull for him for ever, and is put away from him without a bill of dowry. If hee be jealous of her for two at once, and have said unto her, bee not in secret with such and such: if she have beene in secret with them two together, and taried so long as till she might be defiled, though they were both her brethren, or her father and her brother, shee is unlawfull (for her husband) untill shee have drinke. If hee have said unto her before two, speake not with such a man; this is not jealousie; yea, though shee have beene in secret with him by (by testimony of) witnesses, and taried till shee might be defiled, shee is not unlawfull (for her husband) neither doth shee drinke for this jealousie. Likewise, if hee have said unto her, bee not in secret with him; and shee be scene speaking with him, this is not to bee in secret, neither is shee unlawfull (for her husband) neither is shee to drinke. Also, if there have not beene jealousie before, though two doe come and testifie, shee was in secret with this man, and taried till shee might be defiled, shee is not unlawfull for her husband, neither is shee to drinke. If hee have beene jealous of her before two (witnesses) and hee hath scene her in secret with him touching whom hee was jealous, and that shee taried till shee might be defiled; hee shee is unlawfull for her husband, and is put from him, and hee shall give a bill (of dowrie) for hee cannot cause her to drinke upon his owne mouth (or testimony.) Maimony in Sotab. tom. 2. in Sotab. chap. 1. sect. 1. - 8. These and the like cautions they put concerning this Law: some of which seeme to be uncertaine traditions. no witness] that she is defiled: for upon testimony, or if she were taken with the manner, shee was not to drinke, but to dye by the Magistrate, Leviticus 20. 10. Job. 8. 4. 5. And whereas hee speaketh here singularly of a witness, the Hebrewes observe, that if there bee but one witness against her, who saith, shee is defiled, shee is not to drinke, Sol. Tarchi, on Numbers 5. Shee is unlawfull (they say) for her husband (to company with her) for ever; and doth not drinke, but is put away without a dowry.

If two witnesses come together, and one say, shee is defiled, another say, shee is not defiled: or, if one say, shee is defiled, and afterward two other come and say, shee is not defiled; then shee drinketh, Maimony in Sotab. chap. 1. sect. 14. 17.

Verf. 14. the spirit of jealousie passe upon him] or, passe over him: the Greeke saith, come upon him, that hee be affected with a jealous mind; as the wind is said to passe over the grasse, when it is smitten or blasted with the wind, Psal. 103. 15. 16. which in Esay 40. 7. is said to blow upon it. And the spirit of jealousie, meaneth a jealous motion or affection of the mind, wherewith it is caried, as the Scriptures elsewhere speake, of the spirit of wisdom, the spirit of counsell, the spirit of knowledge, Esay 11. 2. Ephes. 1. 17. the spirit of fornications, Hof. 4. 12. the spirit of feare, 2. Tim. 1. 17. the spirit of meeknesse, Gal. 6. 1. the spirit of slumber, Rom. 11. 8. And in 1. Cor. 14. 12. spirits are put for the gifts and motions of the spirit. jealousie] or, after the Greeke, Zealousie, a zealous affection, which is sometime used in the good part, sometime in the evill; as Zeale also is sometimes good, Job. 2. 17. 2. Cor. 7. 11. sometime evill, Gal. 5. 20. called bitter zeale, Iam. 3. 14. So the Hebrewes have one word Kinah, for zeale, jealousie, envy, and emulation; as Phineas was zealous for the Lord, Numb. 25. 11. Elias was zealous for him, 1. King. 19. 10. Ioshuah enried for Moses sake, Numb. 11. 29. And jealousie is an affection hard (or cruell) as the grave; the coales thereof are coales of fire, Song. 8. 6. it is the rage of a man; therefore hee will not spare in the day of vengeance, Prov. 6. 34. This affection is said (after the manner of men) to be in God himselfe, Exod. 20. 5. and Paul was zealous for the Corinthians, fearing lest they should be corrupted, 2. Cor. 11. 2. 3.

upon him] the husband, who only had the power to bring his wife to this triall. Wherefore the Hebrewes write, that if a man be out of the countrey, or in prison, or the like; and his wife have an evill report for lightnesse, &c. the Magistrates are to call her, and say unto her, bee not in secret with such a man. If witnesses afterward come, that shee was with him in secret, so long as that shee might be defiled; the Magistrates are to forbid her her husbands company ever after, and rend her bill (of dowry.) And when her husband comes home, or out of the prison, hee gives her a bill of divorce; but hee cannot cause her to drinke, because himselfe was not jealous of her. Maimony in Sotab. chap. 1. sect. 11.

Verf. 15. his wife unto the Priest] who was in his office a figure of Christ, by whom God will judge the secrets of men, Rom. 2. 16. the order of this action is said to bee this; The husband cometh to the Magistrates of his citie (where hee dwelleth) and saith unto them; This my wife, I am jealous of her for such a man, and shee hath beene in secret with him, and these are witnesses; and hee, shee saith that shee is cleave, and is willing to drinke, for triall of the thing. Then the Magistrate shall heare the words of the witnesses: and they appoint two to bee with the man, to keepe him that her company not with her, before shee have drinke: for, shee is unlawfull for him, untill shee have have drunke. And they send him to Ierusalem: for they cause not the suspected woman to drinke, but in the great counsell of seventy Elders in the Sanctuary. When they are come to Ierusalem, the great Counsell set her among them, and they terrifie her, and make her sore afraid, that shee should not drinke, &c. If shee say, I am defiled; or, I will not drinke; shee is put from her husband without a dowry. But if shee stand in her cause that shee is cleare, they bring her to the East-gate of the Court-yard, which is over against the most holy place, &c. If shee be arrayed in white garments they put upon her black: or if shee haib faire blacke clothes, they put upon her clothes that are not faire; and take off all ornaments of silver and gold that are on her. And they gather a great company of women unto her; for all the women there present are bound to see her; as it is said (in Ezek. 23. 48.) That all women may bee taught not to doe asier your lewdnesse. And every man that will come and see, may come and see. And shee standeth among them without scarfe or veile, onely in her clothes, and her coiffe that is on her head, as a woman within her house, &c. and afterward the Priest adjureth her, in the language that she knoweth, and understandeth. Maimon in Sotah. chap. 3. sect. 1. 2. &c.

of barley] it might bee of no other graine, nor any other quantity than the tenth of an Ephah, neither more nor lesse: see the annotations on Levit. 2. 1. The Prophet Hoseah, in a myserie, bought an Adultresse for fiftene peeces of silver, and an homer and an halfe of barley; Hos. 3. 1. 2. The Hebrewes here note, Meale, not floure; barley, not wheat; shee haib done the act of a beast, and her oblation is the meat of a beast. Sol. Iarchi, on Num. 5.

not put] Hebr. nor give frankincense: oile figured grace, which was wanting in her actions; frankincense gave a sweet savour, which her workes did not before God; therefore both must be wanting, as in all meat-offrings that were for sinne. See the notes on Levit. 5. 11. and 2. 2. The Hebrewes make these two distinct precepts: so that hee which transgresseth and putteth oile, and frankincense, is beaten for the oile in particular, and for the frankincense in particular. Maim. in Sotah. chap. 3. sect. 13.

a meat-offring of jealousies] Hebr. a Minchab (whereof see Levit. 2. 1.) in Greeke, a sacrifice of jealousy. From this word the Hebrewes say; If a man be jealous of his wife for many men, and shee haib been in secret with every one of them; hee is to bring but one Meat-offring for them all, when hee causeth her to drinke; for it is said, IT IS A MEAT OFFRING OF IEALOVSIES: one Meat-offring for many jealousies, Maimon in Sotah. chap. 4. sect. 16.

making memoriall] or, causing iniquity to be remembered. And this is the reason why it might have neither oile nor incense, which other Meat-offrings had, Levit. 3.

16 Verf. 16. make her stand] present her before the Lord, for the judgement was his, not mans: by standing, some understand, her staying there, till the Priest went into the Tabernacle, to gather up dust to put in the water, (verse 17.) For hee went into the Tabernacle to take dust from thence: but shee went not in. Chazkuni on Numbers 5.

Verf. 17. holy water] the Chaldee expoundeth it, Water of the Laver (whereof see Exod. 30. 18.) the Greeke translateth it, pure living water. The quantity, Moses mentioneth not: the Hebrewes say, halfe a log of water out of the Laver, and hee measured it by the halfe log which was in the Sanctuary. Maimon in Sotah. chap. 3. sect. 9. The halfe Log contained as much as three egges: see the notes on Exod. 30. 24. and Levit. 14. 10.

earthen vessell] this they say, was to be a new vessell, where-with no worke had ever beene done. Maim. in Sotah. chap. 3. sect. 9. And they make this use of it, Shee had drunke with the adulterer, good wine in faire goblets: therefore shee is to drinke bitter water; in a contemptible earthen dish. Sol. Iarchi. on Num. 5. and Ionathan in Targum.

dust] in all use, dust was a signe of basenesse, sorrow and affliction, Iob 2. 12. Psal. 7. 5. and 22. 15. Lam. 3. 29. it was the food of the cursed Serpent, Gen. 3. 14. Esay 65. 25. This was given her to drinke, that if shee had hearkned to the Serpents tentation, shee should be partaker of his curse. Yet being the dust of the Sanctuary, it was in respect thereof, holy, (as the ground whereon Moses and Iosua stood where God appeared, was holy, Exod. 3. 5. Ios. 5. 15.) so it taught her to feare judgement from the Lord.

the water] or, upon the water: as the Hebrewes say, hee put it upon the top of the water, that it might be seen on the upper part of the water. And againe, If hee put in the dust before the water, it was unlawfull. Maim. in Sotah. chap. 3. sect. 10. and chap. 4. sect. 12.

Verf. 18. to stand] the same was said before, in verse 16. Hereupon the Hebrewes say, the woman was led about from place to place in the court, to weary and tyre her, to see if shee would confesse. Sol. Iarchi. on Num. 5. and Maim. in Sotah. ch. 3. sect. 3. uncover the womans head.] The covering on the womans head, is a signe of her subjection to the man, 1 Cor. 11. 5. 6. 7. 10. so the uncovering of her head might be a signe, that now she was in her owne power, to cleare or condemne her selfe. It was also a signe of sorrow, Levit. 21. 10. so this her case and action was sorrowfull; and for a woman to have her head bare in such an assembly, was shamefull, 1 Cor. 11. 5. 6. Of this action the Hebrewes write: that one of the Priests came and tooke hold on her clothes before, and rent them downe to her heart; and uncovered her bayre, and untied the locks of her head, for to make her unseemely. Maim. in Sotah. chap. 3. sect. 11.

the Meat-offring] which being brought by her husband for her, vers. 15. shee was to take, as by that signe offering her selfe to the Lords tryall, unto whom this Meat-offring was by her presented. in the hand of the Priest] All the while that her hand is bare, and the Meat-offring in her hands, the water is to lee in a vessell in the Priests hand, that shee may see the water. Maim. in Sotah. ch. 3. f. 14. the bitter water] or water of bitterness, in Greeke, water of convictions; because it convinced her if she were guilty: but how was it bitter? By reason of the effect, for it killed her if she were guilty, and death is said to be bitter, 1 Sam. 15. 32. Eccles. 7. 28. and afflictions are bitter, Esay 38. 17. The Hebrewes thinke also it was bitter in taste taste, and that the Priest put into the water some bitter thing, as wormwood, or the like. Maimony in Sotab. cap. 3. sect. 10. Salomon, speaking of an harlot, saith, that the end of her is bitter as wormwood, Prov. 5.4. as it is to others, so unto her selfe. that causeth the curse] or, the bitter-curse bringing water: so called, because it brought the curse into her, if she were guilty, vers. 22. This similitude David useth, praying against the wicked, let (the curse) come into his bowels like water, Psal. 109.18. Jonathan in his Thargum expoundeth it, the bitter water of tryall; because it tryed her honesty: But Onkelos the Chaldee paraphrast expoundeth it, that causeth the curse, or maketh cursed.

19 Veri. 19. charge her by oath] or, adjure her, make her to sweare. In ages following, when Israel in dispersion lost their language, this adjuration was to be in that tongue which the woman knew and understood. Maimony in Sotab. cap. 3. sect. 7.

If no man] that is, no other man, besides thine husband: Rom. 7.3. as in Gen. 36.6. unto a land, is by the Chaldee expounded, to an other land.

under thy husband] that is, since thou wast married: for a married woman is in Scripture phrase, said to be under an husband, Rom. 7.2. Or, in stead of thine husband, that is, beside him. The Hebrewes say, The husband may deale by oath with her, that shee hath not committed whoredome with that man concerning whom he is jealous of her, nor with any other man. And that shee hath not committed whoredome under him, after she was betrothed, before hee married her, or after. But he may not deale with her, that shee did not commit whoredome before they were betrothed, neither after shee was put away, if shee had beene put away, and returned to him againe: for if shee committed whoredome in that time, shee is not unlawfull for him. Maim. in Sotab. cap. 4. sect. 17.

be thou free] or, be guiltlesse, cleare, innocent: that is, thou shalt have no hurt by this bitter water. From this example, the Hebrewes hold that in all judging of persons, they should first see if they may be cleared.

20 Verf. 20. had his copulation] or given his copulation, that is, his seed of copulation] or, given his copulation, as is expressed in Levit. 15.18.

21 Verf. 21. by oath charge] or, adjure the woman, lay on oath upon her: as Ios. 6.26. 1. Sam. 14.24. oath of cursing] or, of execration: in Greeke, with the oathes of this curse. give thee to be for a curse] that is, make thee a curse and an oath: that thy name and punishment may be mentioned for an example & terrour to others: as in Ier. 29. 22. 23. of them shall be taken up a curse by all the captivity, &c. saying; The LORD make thee like Zedekiah and like Ahab, whom the King of Babylon rosted in the fire; because they committed villany in Israel, and committed adultery with their neighbours wives. So if any tooke an oath upon themselves, they might likewise say, the Lord make me like such a woman, whose belly did swell, &c. If I have done this thing. And as for a curse, so for an oath; as in Esay 65.15. yee shall leave your name for an oath; unto my chosen; meaning for an oath of execration, as in this place. thy thigh to fall] Hebr. thy thigh falling: in Greeke, thy thigh fallen: in Chaldee, thy thigh dissolved. The thigh is used for the place or instrument of generation, as in Gen. 46.26. the souls that came out of Iakobs thigh. Falling is often used for dying, as in 1 Chron. 24.11. there fell of Israel; which is expounded in 2. Sam. 24.15. there dyed. So the falling of the thigh, may be understood of the dying and rotting of the thigh or wombe: or properly of the falling downe of the wombe out of the place, whereby it became unfit for generation. belly to swell] in Greeke, the belly burst: so in vers. 27. It is a tradition of the Iewes, that the water which Moses made the Israelites to drinke with the powder of their golden calfe, Exod. 23. 20. had like effect in such as were guilty of that sinne, and could not be convicted by witnesses, that their bellies swelled. Sol. Iarchi. on Exod. 32. and R. Menachem.

Verf. 22. shall enter] or, let it enter. and the thigh] that is, thy thigh, as the Greeke explaineth it. Amen Amen] in Greeke, So be it, So be it,

Amen is an Hebrew word, but retained by the Apostles in Greeke, 1. Cor. 14. 16. and so is now used in all languages. By interpretation it signifieth Truth, Verity, or faithfulness, as in Esay 65.16. the God Amen, is the God of Truth: and so Christ is called Amen, which is expounded the faithfull and true witnesse, Rev. 3.14. And in speech unto men, it is an earnest asseveration, as Amen I say unto you. Matt. 24. 47. which another Evangelist interpreteth in Greeke Alethos, that is Verily, or Of a truth, Luke 12. 44. It is also interpreted in Greeke Nai, that is Yea, as in Matt. 23.36. Amen I say unto you; for which in Luke 11. 51. is written Yea (or Verily) I say unto you, wherefore both Hebrew and Greek are joyned together in Rev. 1. 7. yea Amen: so in 2. Cor. 1.20. And when it is added to the end of prayers, or of curses, as here and in Deut. 27.15. it is an approbation & confirmation with desire that the thing may so bee, which is explained by adding the word Lord unto it; as in Ier. 11. 5. I answered and said, Amen O LORD: and more fully in Ier. 28.6. Amen, the LORD doe so, the LORD performe the words, &c. Wherefore in the prayers of the Church, they used of old (and so at this day) to answer and say Amen, 1. Cor. 14.16. and sometime twice Amen Amen, Neh. 8.6. and in other constant affirmations, it is also used, in 2. Cor. 1.30. all the promises of God are in Christ, yea and are in him Amen. Thus the woman by her answer, confirmed the oath and curse, and tooke it upon her selfe if shee were defiled; or testified her faith in God, that he would cleare her being not defiled; and therefore the word is doubled.

Verf. 23. write these curses] all these words wherewith hee adjured the woman. in a booke] or, in a scroll. The Hebrewes use to call all writings, bookes, whether they be large or brieve, all bills, bands, letters or epistles, and the like; as in Deut. 24. 1. a booke (that is a bill) of divorcement; and in 2. Sam. 11. 14. David wrote a booke (that is, a letter, an epistle) to Iosab, in Esay 39.1. Merodack sent bookes (that is, letters, as the Greeke translateth it epistles) to Ezekias. The manner of writing writing this, is by the Hebrewes thus described; He (the Priest) brought a roll of parchment zellan, as the looke of the Law, and wrote thereon in the holy tongue (that is, in Hebrew) the womans name, as in the bill of divorce, and all the words wherewith hee adjured her, letter by letter, word by word; but hee writeth not Amen Amen. Maimony in Sotah. chap. 3. sect. 8. They have moreover divers observations, without which they say the writing was unlawfull; as that it must not be written by night, but by day, as her drinking, and oblation was in the day time; nor written backward, or confusedly, but in order; nor written before she had taken the oath upon her; for it is said (in verſe 21.) hee shall adjure her, and then (in verſe 23.) the Priest shall write. Nor written on paper or any thing save parchment: nor written by a (common) Israelite, or a young Priest, but by a Priest that miniteth; nor written with such inke, or any such thing, as leaveth a marke or impression upon the parchment; but with such as may be all wiped (or scraped) off into the water: and other like rites, Ibid. chap. 4. sect. 7. 8. 9.

blot them out] or, wipe out, scrape them into the water, that no word, letter, or marke of the writing should remaine on the booke: if there remaine on the scroll any marke of the writing which may be knowne, it is unlawfull; untill hee have wiped it out well and thoroughly. Maim. in Sotah. chap. 4. sect. 10. It signified, that all the words of the curse should enter into her, that if she were guilty, her name might be blotted out of Israel, with infamy, by the iudgement of God, the swift witness against adulterers. Mal. 3. 5. if shee were guiltlesse, the curses written against her were blotted out, and should not appeare to her reproach. So this word is used in the defacing of sinne, through the mercie of God, as in Eſay 43. 25. 1. I am he that blotteth out thy transgressions for mine owne sake, and will not remember thy finnes.

24 Verſe 24. to bitterness] in Chaldee to cursing: meaning that they shall bee evill and bitter in their effect unto her.

25 Verſe 25. wave the Meat-offering] that is, move it to and fro: see the notes on Exodus 29. 24. The Hebrewes write, that the Priest tooke the ministring vessell wherein the Meat-offering was, and put it upon her hands; and the Priest put his hand under hers, and waved it. Maimony in Sotah. chap. 3. sect. 15. upon the altar] hee brought the Meat-offering to the south-west borne of the altar, like the other Meat-offerings of particular persons; and tooke an handful thereof, and burned it on the altar, and the residue was eaten by the Priests. Maim. in Sotah. chap. 3. sect. 15. Of this they further say, If the Meat-offering be polluted before it bee put into a ministring vessell, it is to bee redeemed as all other Meat-offerings that are polluted before they bee sanctified by a ministring vessell, and bee is to bring another Meat-offering. If it bee polluted after it is sanctified in a ministring vessell, then it is burnt. And so if shee say, I am defiled, before the handful bee taken of it; or if shee say, I will not drinke; or if her husband will not have her drinke, or if there come witnesses that shee is defiled, or if he die, or if shee die, then the Meat-offering is all burnt. And if any of these things happen after the handful is offered, the remainder is not eaten. If her husband bee a Priest, the remainder of the Meat-offering is not eaten, because her husband hath a part therein, &c. but the handful is offered by it selfe, and the remainder is scattered upon the place of the ashes, Ibid. chap. 4. sect. 14. 15. That which is spoken of burning it when it is polluted, is not meant of burning it upon the altar: but in another place, where uncleane things were burnt, which might neither be offered to God, nor eaten by men.

Verſe 27. to bitterness] with most bitter effect; in Chaldee to cursing; as verſe 24. The Hebrewes say, that if she be defiled, immediately her face will turn yellowish, her eyes will sticke out, &c. and they carry her out of the womens court wherein shee standeth; and first her belly will swell, and after that her thigh will fall, and shee shall dye. And in the same house that shee dieth, the adulterer shall die also, by whose meanes shee was made to drinke, wheresoever hee bee. Maimony in Sotah. chap. 3. sect. 16. 17. shall fall] or rot, see verſe 21. This judgement is according to the transgression; that as with that part she sinned, so therein she should be punished. And thus the curse entred into her bowels like water, (as in Psal. 109. 18.) not by any naturall effect of this drinke, but by the power of God; who often bringeth great things to passe, by unlikely means as with clay made of spittle, Christ opened the eyes of the blind, Iob. 9. 6. 7.

Verſe 28. shall be free] not have any harme by the drinke: as in verſe 19. conceive seed] Hebr. shall be sown with seed; which the Chaldee expoundeth, shall prove with child. This setteth forth Gods power and goodnesse, in effecting such things for clearing the innocent; and working by one drinke such contrary effects, according to the uncleannesse or cleannesse of the party that receiveth it. Even as his word is to one, the favour of death unto death; and to another the favour of life unto life, 2. Cor. 2. 16. The Hebrewes write of this woman, When she hath drunke the bitter water, if she die not out of hand, shee is lawfull for her husband (to company with) though he be a Priest. And although sickness beginne to come upon her; and she have paine in other parts of her body; yet forasmuch as her belly swelleth not, nor her thigh begins to fall, shee is lawfull; but if her belly begin to swell, and her thigh to fall, shee is certainly unlawfull. And if shee bee undefiled, when shee hath drunke shee will waxe strong, and her face waxeth cleare; and if shee have any sickness it will leave her, and shee shall conceive and beare a man child. And if shee were wont to have hard travell, shee shall have speedy travell; and if shee were wont to bring forth females, shee shall bring forth males. Maimony in Sotah. chap. 3. sect. 21. 22.

Verſe 29. under her husband] that is, being married: in Greeke, being under an husband: see v. 19.

Verſe 30. shall make the woman to stand] or, shall present her. The Hebrewes hold that some women might not drinke; & that none was ever forced ced to drinke, except shee would her selfe. They say, A woman of whom (her husband) is jealous, and shee hath bene in secret (with another man) they compell her not to drinke: but if shee agree, and say, I am defiled: shee is put away without dowry, and is unlawfull for her husband ever after; and drinkeb not. Likewise if shee say, I am not defiled, neither will I drinke; they compell her not to drinke, but shee is put away without dowry. Also if her husband say, I will not cause her to drinke, or if shee hath been with her after that shee was in secret (with another) shee drinkeb not, but takes her dowry, and goes her way, and is unlawfull for him ever after. Some women (they say) are not meet to drinke, though they be willing, and their husbands also would have them drinke, but are put away without dowries: as shee that is wise to a man blind, or lame, or dumb, or deafe, or that wanteth a hand: likewise if the woman her selfe be lame, or dumb, or blind, or wanteth an hand, or is deafe; or shee that is but betrothed, and not married. But if a man be jealous of his betrothed wife, and shee be in secret (with another man) after shee is married, then shee drinkeb as all other women. A woman that standeth to drinke, if her husband dye before shee doe drinke, then shee drinkeb not, neither receiveth shee any dowry. Maimony in Sotah. chapter 2. sect. 1.2. &c. These and the like exceptions they make, some of which seeme to be devised for to favour divorcement, whereunto the Iewes have bene overmuch addicted, as appeareth by Mal. 2. 16. Math. 19. 3. - 8. 9. Moreover they say, If a woman have drinke of the bitter water, and have bene cleared thereby, and her husband bee jealous againe of her concerning the man for whose sake shee was made to drinke, and shee hath bene in secret with him; he cannot make her drinke for his sake the second time, but shee is unlawfull for her husband ever after, and is put away without dowry. But if shee be jealous over her for another man, and it be proved by witnesses, that shee hath bene in secret with that other, shee is made to drinke the second time; yea though it bee many times, if shee cause her to drinke for severall men. Maimony in Sotah. chap. 1. sect. 12.

30 Verſ. 30. free from iniquity] or, guiltlesſe, innocent from iniquity, by doing what in him lyeth for to find out and purge this sinne in his wife, and not nourishing jealousy in his mind still. Whereas by not doing this, hee partaked after a sort with his wives sinne. So Chazkuni on this place saith, The man shall be free for that hee letteth not his wife alone playing the whore under him. The Thargum called Ionathans, translateth it thus; And if the man be free from sinnes, that woman shall beare her sinne. And the same exposition others give of these words, saying, Any man that hath used unlawfull copulation in his dayes after that hee is waxen great, the curse-bringing water doth not try his wife, Numb. 5. 30. When the man is free from iniquity, the woman beareth her iniquity. Moim. in Sotah. chap. 2. sect. 8. and ch. 3. sect. 17. 23. Therefore among the Israelites it is said, that no man which had himselfe bene guilty that way, could bring his wife to this triall. And of their care about this case of jealousie, it is thus recorded: On the fiftenth day of Adar (which was the Hebrewes twelfth moneth, Esdr 9. 1. (called now February,) the Magistrates looked unto the necessities of the multitude, and made examination of such as were meet to drinke, to cause them to drinke; and of such as should bee jealous of a woman, and to cause her to be put away without dowry. And at all times they made the suspected woman to drinke. The wisemen commanded the sons of Israel to bee jealous of their wives, &c. but not in the midst of laughter, or lightnesse, nor in the midst of contention, nor to bring terror upon them, &c. It is not meet for a man to contemne himselfe, and to bee jealous before witnesses at the first, but betwixt him and her, in gentlenesse and by way of purging and admonition, that shee may guide her in the right way, and remove scandall. And whosoever is not carefull of his wife, and children, and family, to admonish them and visit their wayes continually, until hee knowe that they are at peace from all sinne and iniquity, hee is a sinner; as it is written (in Job 5. 24.) AND THOU SHALT KNOW, THAT THY TENT shall be in PEACE: AND THOU SHALT VISIT THINE HABITATION, AND SHALT NOT SIN AGAINE. in Sotah. chap. 4. sect. 1. 18. 19. [shall beare her iniquity] that is, the punishment of her iniquity, Lev. 20. 17. 19. 20. Ezek. 4. 4. 5. And this tended to the glory of God (who findeth out and punisheth all sin, and adultery in speciall, Ezek. 13. 28. Mal. 3. 5.) to the purging of the Church, (which should be as a new lump without the leaven of fornication, 1 Cor. 5. 7.) and to the pacifying of meane jealous spirits, with peace in their families. By this severity of God against secret whoredome, above other sins, we are taught what judgement remaineth for such as commit idolatry, which is spirituall whoredome, Ezek. 23. 37. & often done in secret, Ezek. 8. 12. for which sin, God is jealous, to visit the iniquity of the Fathers upon the children, Exod. 20. 5. and will give them blood, in wrath and jealousy, and they shall beare their lewdnesse and their abomination, Ezek. 16. 38. 58. and 23. 35. so that the curse of the Law entrench as water into their bowels, Dan. 9. 11. Psal. 109. 18.

CHAP. VI.

1. The Law of the Nazarite, what hee must abstaine from in his diet, habit, and conversation, whiles the vow is upon him. 9. How when hee is defiled he shall make an atonement by sacrifices, for all fall which was done before, and begin againe to observe his vow. 19. What sacrifices the Nazarite must bring, when his vow is fulfilled, and what rites hee is to performe withall. 22. The Law how the Priests should blesse the people of the Lords.

AND Iehovah spake unto Moses, saying; Speake unto the sonnes of Israel, and say unto them: A man or woman, man, when he shall separate, to vow a vow of a Nazarite, to separate himselfe unto Iehovah: Hee shall separate himselfe from wine and strong drinke; he shall not drink vineger of wine, or vineger of strong drink; neither shall he drink any liquor of grapes, nor eat grapes moist or dried. All the daies of his Nazariteship, hee shall not eat of any thing that is made of the wine vine-tree, from the kernels even to the husk. All the daies of the vow of his Nazariteship, the rasour shall not passe upon his head; untill the daies be fulfilled, which he separateth himselfe unto Iehovah, he shall be holy, letting the locks grow, the haire of his head. All the daies that hee separateth himselfe unto Iehovah, hee shall not come at a dead soule. For his father, or for his mother; for his brother, or for his sister; he shall not make himselfe uncleane for them, when they die: for the Nazariteship of his God, is upon his head. All the daies of his Nazariteship, hee shall be holy unto Iehovah. And if the dead dieth by him, unawares suddenly, and he hath defiled the head of his Nazariteship, then he shall shave his head, in the day of his cleansing, in the seventh day shall hee shave it. And in the eighth day hee shall bring two turtles, or two young pigeons, to the Priest, to the doore of the tent of the congregation. And the Priest shall doe the one for a Sin-offring, and the other for a Burnt-offring, & shall make atonement for him, for that he sinned by a soule; & he shall sanctifie his head in that day. And he shall separate unto Iehovah the dayes of his Nazariteship, and shall bring a lambe of his first yeare, for a Trespasse-offring: & the former dayes shall fall, because his Nazariteship was defiled.

And this is the Law of the Nazarite: in the day, when the dayes of his Nazariteship are fulfilled, he shall bring him to the doore of the Tent of the congregation. And hee shall offer his oblation unto Iehovah, one he lambe of his first yeare, perfect for a Burnt-offring: and one she lambe of her first yeer, perfect, for a Sin-offring: and one ram perfect, for Peace offerings. And a basket of unleavened cakes, cakes of fine flowre mingled with oyle, and wafers of unleavened cakes, anointed with oyle: and their Meat-offring & their drinke-offrings. And the Priest shall bring them neere before Iehovah, and shall make his Sin-offring, and his Burnt-offring. And the ram, hee shall make a sacrifice of Peace offerings, unto Iehovah; with the basket of unleavened cakes: and the Priest shall make his Meat-offring & his drinke-offring. And the Nazarite shall shave, at the doore of the Tent of the congregation, the head of his Nazariteship: and hee shall take the haire of the head of his Nazariteship, and put it on the fire, which is under the sacrifice of Peace offerings. And the Priest shall take the sodden shoulder of the ram, and one unleavened cake, out of the basket, and one unleavened wafer, and shall put them on the palmes of the hands of the Nazarite, after he hath shaved himselfe of his Nazariteship. And the Priest shall wave them for a wave-offring before Iehovah; it is holy, for the priest, with the wave brest, and with the heave shoulder: and after the Nazarite may drinke wine. This is the Law of the Nazarite, who shall vow his oblation unto Iehovah, for his Nazariteship, besides that, that his hand shal attain: according to his vow, which he shall have vowed, so shall he doe, according to the law of his Nazariteship.

And Iehovah spake unto Moses, saying; Speake unto Aaron, and unto his sonnes, saying; Thus shall yee blesse the sonnes of Israel: saying unto them;

Iehovah blesse thee, and keepe thee.

Iehovah make his face shine upon thee, and be gracious unto thee.

Iehovah lift up his face upon thee, and give unto thee peace.

And they shal put my name upon the sons of Israel: and I will blesse them.

Annotations;

V Hen hee shall separate] to wit, himselfe. This word separate, signifieth to exempt, after a speciall and marvellous manner, from common estate, as is noted on Levit. 27. 2. The Greeke translateth it, Who so shall greatly vow a vow. The Lord having before given order for the purification of the Campe of Israel, in necessary duties and things commanded, doth the like here for voluntary service, which he would accept at their hands. And this Law for abstinence from wine and strong drinke, is set next the Law for the defiled or suspected woman; because by drinking such things, people doe often fall into fornication, Gen. 19. 32. 35. as it is said, Looke not upon the wine when it is red, &c. thine eyes will behold strange women, Prov. 23. 31. 33. But by abstaining therefrom, the body and mind may be kept chaste and pure. a vow] which is a religious promise made made unto God: see the annotations on Lev. 27. 2. And whereas he spake of man or woman, it is to be understood of such as are free, & in their owne power; for they that were under the power of another, their superiour might disanull their vow, if he would, by the Law in Num. 30. 4. &c. So in this speciall vow, as the Hebrew canons say, The father (of a child) or the husband (of a wife) may disanull the Naziriteship of his wife, if he will, or in other power. Maim. in Misli. tom. 3. in Naziruth. chap. 2. sect. 17. [a Nazirite] this name we retaine of the Hebrew Nazir; (whom the Greeke sometime calleth Nazareus after the Hebrew, Iudg. 13. 5. sometime expoundeth Sanctified or Consecrated, Amos 2. 12.) and Nazir by interpretation is one Separated or exempt unto some speciall sanctity, or dignity, as Ioseph is called a Nazirite, or, separated, Gen. 49. 26. Deut. 33. 16. and Nazir is used for a Crowne: see Exod. 29. 6. And whereas our Saviour Christ is called a Nazarene, Matth. 2. 23. it was not of this name Nazir, nor of this vow (for hee both dranke wine, and was polluted by the dead, Luke 7. 33. 34. and 8. 49-54. which the Nazirites might not doe:) but because hee was Neiser the Branch out of the roots of Iesse, Esay 11. 1. and was brought up in the citie Nazareth (or Natfraith) Mat. 2. 23. therefore he was called a Nazarene, or (according to the Greeke pronounciation) a Nazarene: which title the Evangelists give him sundry wayes, Nazareus the Nazaren, Mar. 16. 6. Nazaraios the Nazarean, Mat. 2. 23. and 26. 71. Nazarais, the Nazarean, Act. 2. 22. and 6. 14. and Iesus of Nazaret, Act. 10. 38. all which differ from Nazareus, the word by which the Greeks sometime expresse the Nazir or Nazirite, mentioned in this Law. Notwithstanding though Christ was no Nazirite according to this carnall commandement (as the Apostle speaketh of the Priesthood, Heb. 7. 16) yet the truth of this type was fulfilled in him, by the spirit of sanctification, and after the power of an endlesse life. to separate himselfe] or, to make himselfe a Nazirite; for thereof here it hath the name, and differeth from the word separate used before, which was more generall. The Greeke translateth to sanctifie (or purifie himselfe: which word the Holy Ghost useth in Act. 21. 24. sanctifie (or purifie) thy selfe with them, that is, be a Nazirite with them. Nazirites were some appointed of God, as Samson, Iudg. 13. 5. and John the Baptist, Luke 1. 15. some by men, and they were either Nazirites all the dayes of their life, as was Sam. 1. Sam. 1. 11. or but for certaine dayes, as the lawes here given by Moses, shew. And for the vow of a Nazirite, the Hebrewes have these rules: Hee that saith, I will not depart out of this world untill I be a Nazirite; hee is to be a Nazirite out of hand, lest hee dye presently: and if hee deferre his Naziriteship hee transgresseth against (this law in Deut. 23. 21.) Thou shalt not delay to pay it. When a man hath purposed in his heart, and uttered with his lips, words which carry this sense that he will be a Nazirite; though they carry this sense a farre off (not plainly) hee is a Nazirite. Hee that saith, he I will be a Nazirite from the kernels of grapes onely, or from the husks onely; or a Nazirite from shating, or from uncleannesse onely; hee is a full Nazirite; and all the particular (rites) of Naziriteship are upon him; yea though it was not in his heart to separate himselfe but from that thing onely; forasmuch as hee hath spoken that hee will separate from that which is forbidden the Nazirites, hee is a full Nazirite. If they fill him a cup of wine, and give it him to drinke, and hee say, I am a Nazirite from it; hee is a full Nazirite. But if hee have a grieved soule, or mourning; and they request him to drinke that hee may forget his sorrow, and he say, I am a Nazirite from it; then that cup onely is unlawful unto him, and hee is no Nazirite; for there was no further intendment than that hee would not drinke this cup. Hee that saith, I will be a Nazirite, upon condition that I will drinke wine; or be polluted by the dead, or shave my haire; hee hee is a Nazirite, and is forbidden these all; because hee conditioneth against that which is written in the Law, and who so conditioneth against that which is written in the Law, his condition is frustrate. Hee that saith, I will be a Nazirite when I have a son; when a sonne is borne unto him, hee is a Nazirite. Hee that voweth Naziriteship in ignorance, or by constraint &c. is free, as for other vowes. But hee that is by perswasion brought to vow Naziriteship, is a Nazirite. If a father say to his little sonne, Thou shalt be a Nazirite, and the sonne be silent, then hee is a Nazirite, and the father is bound to direct him in all the particulars of Naziriteship; if the sonne will not, &c. hee is no Nazirite. Maimony in Naziruth, chap. 1. sect. 4. &c. and chap. 2. sect. 1. 3. 14. unto Iehovah] to be holy unto him, as verse 8. in Chaldee, before the Lord; and Jonathan explaineth it, to the name of the Lord. This sheweth the end and use of these vowes to be religious, for the strengthening of faith, and increase of vertue, and for honour and thankfulness unto God, after men have obtained his blessings, as 1. Sam. 1. 11. 27. 28. Wherefore it was a favour of God unto his people, when hee raised up such among them, whereby they might be incited unto holinesse of life; as he saith, I raised up of your sonnes for Prophets, and of your young men for Nazirites, Amos 2. 11. Hereupon the Hebrewes teach; Hee that saith, Lo I will be a Nazirite if I doe so or so; or, if I doe it not, and the like; hee is a wicked man, and such Naziriteship is like wicked mens. But hee that voweth to the Lord by way of holinesse, is honest and commendable; and of him it is said (in Numb. 6. 7.) The Crowne of his God is upon his head: and the Scripture compareth him with a Prophet. Amos 2. 11. Maimony in Naziruth, chap. 10. sect. 14. It appeareth by 1. Maccab. 3. 49. that in publike calamities they used to make and keepe this vow more specially; for there, when they warred against Antiochus, they stirred up the Nazirites, who had accomplished their dayes.

Verse 3. separate from wine] or, be a Nazirite, (in Gr. be sanctified) from wine, that is, abstaine from drinking it. God giveth order for the Nazirites not to abstaine from all fruits of the vine-tree; for their habit, to abstaine from cutting their haire, & for their conversing with others, that they abstaine itaine from all pollution by the dead, verse 5. 6. Al which figured out mortification, as in the particulars shall appeare. and strong drinke] in Hebrew, Shecar, so called for that it causeth drunkenesse; and hereof the Greeke borroweth the name Sikera; but the Chaldee expoundeth it, old wine; saying, From wine new and old bee shall separate himselfe: and in Psal. 69. 13. the Greeke calleth Shecar wine: but the Holy Ghost in Luke 1. 15. keepeth the name Sikera. And it generally comprehendeth all strong drinke made of any fruit: howbeit the Hebrewes restraine it here to such onely as is made of the fruit of the vine, saying, Three sorts of things are forbidden the Nazarites; pollution, and swearing, and the fruit of the vine: but strong drinke made of Dates, or such like, is lawfull for the Nazarite; and the strong drinke which is forbidden him by the Law, is strong drinke made with mixture of wine. Maimony in Nazir. chap. 5. sect. 1. But this restraint may bee their owne tradition. By this prohibition, God taught the Nazarites sanctification in mortifying the lusts of the flesh; for the drinking of these indangereth men to forget the Law of God, Prov. 31. 45. to mock, and to rage, Prov. 20. 1. they take away the heart, Hos. 4. 11. the Priest & the Prophet erred through these in vision, and stumbled in judgement, Esay 28. 7. Therefore Daniel in his mourning dranke no wine, Daniel 10. 3. Iohn Baptist the Nazirite dranke no wine, and is therefore counted a mourner, Luk. 7. 32. 33. and the Nazirites by this abstinence were taught, in stead of wine, to be filled with the Spirit, Ephes. 5. 18. and with the love of the Lord, which is better then wine, Song. 1. 2. Vinegar of strong drinke] in Chaldee, vinegar of old wine. liquor] or moisture, the Greeke translateth, whosoever things are wrought (or made) of the grape, tho mixed with water, or other drinke; for generally any thing that cometh of the vine, is forbidden, as the Angel explaineth this law in Iudg. 13. 14. which notwithstanding the Hebrew doctors do restrain to that which cometh of the fruit of the vine only, holding the juice of the leaves, or the like to be lawfull. And further they say, if a little wine bee mingled with honey, or the like, so that there be no taste of the wine, that is lawfull for the Nazirite to drinke. Yet for the things here expressed, as wine, grapes ripe or unripe, greene or dry, huske or kernell, whosoever did eat any one of them presumptuously, was to be beaten by the Magistrate. Maimony in Nazir. chap. 5. sect. 2. 6. 8.

4 Verf. 4 of his Nazariteship] or of his separation, ansteration, meaning the vow thereof, as verse 5. so the Greeke here translateth of his vow. made of the wine vine-tree] that is, any of the fruit thereof: for a tree is said to make fruit, when it yeeldeth or bringeth it forth, as in Gen. 1. 11. therefore in Iudg. 13. 14. it is explained, that cometh of (or proceedeth from) the wine vine-tree: and the word wine is added to the vine, onely here and in that place, to signifie that wine, or the fruit of the vine (which choareth God and man, Iudg. 9. 13.) is in speciall manner forbidden the Nazarite, for the myserie before touched. And by Iudg. 13. it ap-peareth, that such as God sanctified to be Nazarites from the wombe, their mothers also (whilen they went with child of them) were to abstaine from these things; because by the mothers meat the child is nourished. So it figured a full and whole renunciation of worldly pleasures, even from the time of our new birth, untill the accomplishment of our sanctification. from the kernels] that is, either kernell or huske of the grape, which though they have not such force as the liquor to affect the mind, yet God here forbiddeth to teach an exact care to avoid evill, and danger, occasion, provocation, yea or appearance of evill, as 1 Theff. 5. 22. as we are also to hate not only pollution of the flesh, but even the garments spotted by the flesh, Inde vers. 23, not Idols only, but also their coverings and ornaments, Esay 30. 22. And for this, the Hebrewes say, that All things forbidden of the vine are equall one with another: so that if he put greene grapes with dry, or with unripe grapes, and with kernels and husks, and eat of this mixture but so much as an olive, hee is to be beaten. Likewise if he drinke a quartier (of a Log) of the mixture of wine with vinegar, he is beaten. If hee eat the like quantity but of the husks, which are the outward skins, or of the kernels which are the seeds within, hee is beaten. Maim. in Nazir. chap. 5. sect. 32. Moreover they teach, that it is unlawfull for a Nazirite to stand in the company of them that drinke wine, but hee is to keepe himselfe farre away, for there is a stumbling-block before him: our wise men have said, he should not come neere a vineyard. Ibid. chap. 5. sect. 10. As the Nazirites were to abstaine from al that cometh of the vine, so from eating any unclean thing, Iudg. 13. 4. 14. which also was a signe of their sanctification: see Levit. 11.

5 Verf. 5. of his Nazariteship] or separation, in Greeke, of his sanctification (or purity,) not passe] in Greeke, not come upon his head; that is, hee shall not cut his haire. The Nazirite that shaveth his head, is to be beaten; whether it be with rasour or with sizers; likewise if hee pluck off his haire with his hand, hee is to be beaten. Maimony in Naziruth. chap. 5. sect. 11. till the dayes bee fulfilled] The Scripture setteth no number of dayes how long a man shall be a Nazirite; but as he vowed, so was he to performe. Howbeit the Hebrew doctors write, A Nazariteship absolutely is thirty dayes: as hee that saith, I will be a Nazirite, hee is one not lesse then thirty dayes; and though hee say, I will be a Nazirite with a very great Nazariteship, hee is one but thirty dayes, because hee expressed no time. If hee expresse a time lesse than thirty; as if he say, I will be a Nazirite one day, or ten, or twenty dayes; yet is hee a Nazirite thirty dayes: for there is no Nazariteship lesse than thirty dayes. This thing we have by tradition. If hee expresse a time more than thirty dayes, as 31. or 40. or 100. dayes, or 100 yeares, then hee is to bee a Nazirite according to the time which hee expresse, neither lesse nor more. If hee say, I will bee a Nazirite for an houre, hee is to be a Nazirite thirty one dayes. If he say, I will be a Nazirite thirty dayes and an houre, hee is to be a Nazirite thirty one dayes; for there are no hournes determined. Hee that saith, I will be a Nazirite two Nazariteships, or four, be

he is to be a Nazarite according to the number which he hath mentioned; every Nazariteship of them shall be 30 daies. And at the end of every 30 daies, he is to shave his haire, and bring his offerings, and begin to count for his second Nazariteship; though he have spoken of 100 thousand Nazariteships: though it be impossible he should live so long, he is to count one after another untill he die, or untill he have accomplished the number of his Nazariteships. He that saith, I will be a Nazarite for ever, or all daies of my life; he is a Nazarite for ever. If he say, I will be a Nazarite 1000 yeeres: he is a Nazarite for the time determined, although it is impossible for a man to live 1000 yeeres. And what differeth a Nazarite for ever, from a Nazarite for a determined time? A Nazarite for a determined time, may not shave his haire, till the end of the daies of his separation, Num. 6. 5. But a Nazarite for ever, if his haire be too beavie for him, may lighten it with a rasor at every twelve-months end, and bring three beasts for his oblation, when he shaveth himselfe: as it is written of Absalom, (2 Samuel 14. 26.) at every yeeres end he polled, &c. And Absalom was a Nazarite for ever; as we have beene taught by tradition. Samson was not a full Nazarite: for hee vowed not to be a Nazarite, but the Angell separated him from uncleannesse. And what was required of him? He might not drinke wine, nor shave his head; but he might be polluted by the dead; this also we have by tradition. Therefore he that saith, I will be a Nazarite like Samson; he is to be a Nazarite from polling his head, and from wine, for ever; but may be defiled by the dead, Maimony in Neziruth, chap. 3. And Thalmud Bab. in Nazir. chap. 1. He that saith, I will be a Nazarite one day before my death, it is unlawfull for him to drinke wine, or to defile himselfe, or to shave his head for ever, Maimony ibidem, chap. 4. sect. 10.

the locks] or, the haire, as after is explained by another word of like signification. The haire is an ornament and a covering by nature: and as by washing of garments, the cleansing from impuritie was shadowed, Exo. 19. 10. so by keeping them white and cleane, the continuance of sanctification is signified, Rev. 3. 4. & 17. 14, 15. & 19. 8. Such was the keeping of the head from the rasor: for when the Nazarite, (w. 9.) or the Leper, (Lev. 14. 8, 9.) was cleansed from impuritie, their haire was shaven off: so the keeping it from shaving, signified, that they had kept themselves from uncleannesse. Therefore when the Lord would figure out the rejection of Israel, as being uncleane before him, he did it by this signe of cutting off the haire with a rasor, Esa. 7. 20. Eze. 5. 1, 10. The growing of the haire signified also the growing of the graces of Gods Spirit in them, as in Samson, who with the losse of his haire, lost also the power of God: and as his haire grew againe, so his strength in God renewed, Judg. 13. 25. & 14. 19. & 16. 17, 19, 20, 22, 28. This strength came not by the growth of the haire, (for long haire rather weakneth the body than strengthneth it naturally) but by the Lord, who sanctifieth to his people outward signes, whereunto himselfe only addeth grace: as he sanctified the waters of Jordan to wash away Naamans leprosie, which of themselves had no such efficacy, 2 Kin. 5. 10, 14. Moreover, as the womans long haire, is noted as a signe of her husbands power over her, and her subjection unto him, 1 Corinth. 11. 5, 10. so the Nazarites haire might be the like signe of their subjection to the Lord, under whose power they had by this vow, in speciall manner committed themselves for further sanctification in his sight.

Verf. 6. as a dead soule] that is, a dead person, whereby he should be defiled: the soule is often used for the whole man, living or dead, see Lev. 19. 28. & 21. 1. and so Iovianian in his Targum here explaineth it, as the soule of man that is dead. Thus the soule is put for the body, for at death the soule departeth, Gen. 35. 18. and by the Hebrew Canons, the dead defileth not, untill his soule be departed; Maimony in Tmab meib, ch. 1. sect. 15. Of pollution by the dead, see Num. 19. 11. &c. This refraining from the dead, (in whom the image as it were of Gods curse for sin, was to be seene, for the wages of sinne is death, Rom. 6. 23.) figured our abstaining from sinfull and dead works, and such as live in them (which are dead while they are alive, 1 Tim. 5. 6.) that we may keepe our selves unpolluted of the world, Jam. 1. 27.

Verf. 7. not make himselfe unclean] or, as the Greeke translateth, not be defiled for them; namely in touching, mourning for, or burying them. For this, as for the former, the Nazarite if he did it presumptuously, was to be beaten by the Magistrate, Maim. in Nezir. c. 5. f. 15. This also taught them to moderate their affections and sorrow, for their earthly parents, that they might be holy unto their father which is in heaven. Here the Hebrews have their traditionall exceptions, saying, It is lawfull for a Nazarite to have the pollution by the dead, which is commanded, as if walking by the way, he light upon a dead body, and there is none there to bury him, then is he to defile himselfe for him, and to bury him. If two Nazarites light upon a dead, the one a Nazarite for 30 daies; the other for an hundred; he that is a Nazarite for 30 daies shall make himselfe unclean, (and the other not.) The like they say for shaving his head, that it is lawfull for him, if it be a shaving commanded; as, if a Nazarite prove a Leper, and be healed of his leprosie within the daies of his Nazariteship, he is to shave off all his haire, for the shaving of him is commanded in Leviticus 14. 8. And wheresoever thou findest a commandement to doe a thing, and a prohibition from doing it, if a man can keep them both, he doth well; and if not, the commandement is to be done, and the prohibition is to be let passe. Maimony in Neziruth, chap. 7. sect. 11, 12, 14, 15. and Thalmud in Nazir, chap. 7. the Nazariteship] or, the separation, Hebrew, Nezer, in Greeke, the vow; in Chaldee, the crowne of his God, (as the word Nezer here used, is elsewhere a crowne, Leviticus 21. 12.) This is the reason why he must mortifie his affections, and rather follow his vow in honouring the Lord, than to follow naturall dutie in honouring his dead parents. So unto him that would have had leave to bury his father, Christ said, Follow me, and let the dead bury their dead, Matthew 8. 21, 22. And here we may compare the Nazarites with the high Priests, for sanctimonie. The Priests might drinke no wine, or strong drinke, when they went to minister before the Lord, Lev. 10. 9. so the Nazarite might drinke no wine, or strong drinke, whiles he was separated to be holy to the Lord. The high Priest might not goe in to any dead body, nor defile himselfe for his father or for his mother, Lev. 21. 10, 11. so neither might the Nazarite. The high Priest had on his head (the Nezer (or crowne) of the anointing oyle of his God, Lev. 21. 12. the Nazarite here hath the Nezer (or crowne) of his God, upon his head. These both of them in their office and sanctimonie, were types of Christ, on whose head, his Nezer (or crowne) was to flourish, as is promised in Psal. 132. 18. And Christians, made Kings and Priests unto God, Rev. 1. 6. have on their heads, crownes of gold, Rev. 4. 4.

8 Verſ. 8. holy] thus God, besides the former outward obſervations, requireth inward and spirituall holineſſe; without which, all the other were but vanitie.

9 Verſ. 9. unawares] or, on a ſudden, which is by another word after repeated, to ſhew that whatſoever ſudden unexpected death it were, he was thereby defiled. And here is the ſecond part of the Nazarites Law, when his ſanctimonie begun, ſhould be by uncleanneſſe nullified, and fall; till by ſacrifice he was reconciled unto God, and began anew through his grace in Chriſt. and he hath defiled] or, then he hath defiled, &c. ſhall ſhave his head: ſo the Greeke explaineth it, defiled ſhall be the head of his vow, and he ſhall ſhave, &c. Because all the daies of his Nazariteſhip he ſhould be pure from pollution by the dead. ſhave his head] this ſhaving was to cleaſe him from pollution; and differeth from the ſhaving, when he had fulfilled his vow, verſe 18. which was to be at the doore of the Sanctuary; and the haire burned there. When the Nazarite ſhaverh himſelfe for his uncleanneſſe, he need not ſhave him at the doore of the Sanctuary, nor caſt his haire into the fire. But whether he be ſhaved without or within the Sanctuary, his haire is unlawfull to be put to any uſe, but muſt be buried, ſaith Maimony in Nezir. ch. 6. ſ. 14. This had like myſterie, as the ſhaving of the Leper when he was cleaſed, in Lev. 14. and ſignified the renouncing of his owne righteouſneſſe by the workes of the Law, as being defiled by ſin: compare Phil. 3. 8, 9.

the ſeventh day] which was the day when all defiled by the dead, were cleane, being ſprinkled with the holy water, Num. 19. 11, 12.

10 Verſ. 10. two Turtles] This accordeth with the Law, for making atonement for ſuch as had uncleane iſſues, when they were cleaſed, Levit. 15. 14. &c. ſee the Annotations there. The Hebrews ſay, When a Nazarite is defiled with any uncleanneſſe, for which he is to ſhave himſelfe, one is to ſprinkle upon him on the third day, and on the ſeventh day, (Numb. 19. 12.) and he is to ſhave off the haire of his head, in the ſeventh day, and to waſh in the ſeventh day, after he is ſprinkled, as doe all that are defiled by the dead, (Num. 19. 19.) and when his ſin is ſet, he ſhall bring his offerings on the eighth day, and they are two turtles, or two young doves, &c. Maim. in Nezir. ch. 6. ſect. 11.

Verſe 11. ſhall doe] or make ready, that is, offer unto God: as that which is ſaid in 1 Chro. 21. 23. let my lord the King doe; is by another Prophet explained, let my lord the King take and offer up, 2 Samuel 24. 22. If a Nazarite be uncleane with many uncleanneſſes, he bringeth for them but one oblation; to wit, if he be uncleane the ſecond time, before he bring his oblations for the firſt uncleanneſſe; yea though he delay many daies after his cleaſing, before he bring his ſin-offering, and is defiled in theſe daies, he bringeth but one oblation. But if he be uncleane, and then cleaſed, and have brought his ſin-offering, and is defiled the ſecond time after that hee hath brought his ſin-offering, although he hath not as yet brought his treſpaſſe-offering, and his burnt-offering, he is bound to bring other oblations. Maimony in Neziruth, chap. 6. ſect. 15. he ſinned by a ſoule] in Chaldee, by the dead: that is, for that he miſſed of his ſanctification or Nazariteſhip, having beene polluted by the dead. So, ſinning is uſed for miſſing of the thing aimed at or intended, Judg. 20. 16. This taught the contagion of ſin, which a man unawares, and inevitably often falleth into, (for in many things we offend all, Jam. 3. 2.) for which, when we know that we have ſinned, we are to make confeſſion unto God, and by faith to apprehend the ſacrifice of Chriſt, whereby atonement is made for us, 1 Joh. 2. 1, 2. ſanctifie his head] that is, the head of his Nazariteſhip, as verſ. 9. by beginning anew, the daies of his vow of Nazariteſhip, during which, the haire of his head muſt grow, and he keepe himſelfe from uncleanneſſe. So Sol. Iarchi here explaineth it, ſanctifie his head, to begin againe the count of his Nazariteſhip. And the verſe following confirmeth this.

Verſ. 12. ſhall ſeparate] to wit, as a Nazarite, 12 for ſo the Hebrew word meaneth, which the Greeke tranſlateth, ſanctifie. Hereby God taught, that as he hath given Chriſt to be an atonement for our ſins; ſo when we are cleaſed by faith in him, we muſt not continue in ſinne, that grace may abound, but endeavour anew to fulfill our vow, and walke in newneſſe of life, and yeeld our ſelves unto GOD, as thoſe that are alive from the dead, Rom. 6. 1, 4, 13. And as by ſacrifices figuring Chriſt, the Nazarite was cleaſed for his former uncleanneſſe; ſo by a treſpaſſe-offering, which alſo figured Chriſt, he was prepared for the obſervation of his vow renewed: becauſe all grace and abilitie to doe good, is of God, obtained by Chriſt Jeſus our Lord, James 1. 17. John 15. 5. the daies of his Nazariteſhip] in Greeke; all the daies of his vow; that is, ſo many daies as hee had vowed at the firſt. And when beginneth hee to reckon? From the time that hee bringeth his ſinne-offering: but his burnt-offering and his treſpaſſe-offering, binder him not from reckoning [if they be not brought.] Maimony in Nezir. chap. 6. ſect. 12. of his firſt yeere] Hebr. ſonne of his yeere, ſo in verſe 14. of which phraſe, ſee the notes on Gen. 5. 32. Exod. 12. 5. and of the treſpaſſe-offering; ſee Levit. 5. ſhall fall] that is, ſhall be loſt and counted as none; as the Greeke tranſlateth, ſhall be uncounted, or, not reckoned; in Chaldee, frustrate. Thus one little pollution unawares, unawares, nullifieth many daies puritie; for the Law requireth perfect obseruation, and curseth him that continueth not in doing all things commanded, Deuteronomie 27. 26. Galatians 3. 10. and, whofoeuer shall keepe the whole Law, and yet faileth in one point, hee is guiltie of all, James 2. 10. And here this nullitie of the former daies is added onely to the third dutie of the Nazarite, that he should not defile himselfe by the dead; and not to either of the former two, which might seeme to be greater. Of this the Hebrewes have these observations. A Nazarite that drinketh wine, or eateth that which commeth of the vine, though many daies, he destroyeth not (or frustrateth not) the daies of his Nazariteship, no not one day. And so if he shall shave off a little haire of his head, or either ignorantly or presumptuously shave all his head, &c. he frustrateth (but) 30 daies, till he have lockes againe, and after that he beginneth to reckon: As if he vowed to be a Nazarite an 100 daies, and after 20 daies his head is shaven; then he must wait 30 daies, till the haire of his head be growne: and after 30 daies, he is to reckon 80 daies, for the complement of the daies of his Nazariteship. And all these 30 daies, all the particular daies of a Nazarite, he upon him; onely they come not into his reckoning. A Nazarite that is defiled, whether presumptuously or ignorantly, yea; though it be by the pollution of an Heathen, by constraint, he frustrateth all; and must be shaven with the shaving for uncleannesse; and bring the oblations for uncleannesse; and is to begin againe to reckon the daies of his Nazariteship, Numb. 6. 12. Yea though he be defiled in the day, when the daies of his Nazariteship are fulfilled, and in the end of the day, all is frustrate. If he be defiled the day after the fulfilling, that is, the day when he bringeth the oblations of puritie; he frustrateth 30 daies onely: and thus he is to doe. He is to bring the oblations for uncleannesse, and shave for uncleannesse, and begin to reckon the Nazariteship of 30 daies; and then he is to shave for cleannesse, and bring the oblations of cleannes [mentioned in v. 14. &c.] And if he be defiled after any one of the bloods be sprinkled for him, he frustrateth not a whit, but bringeth the rest of the oblations for cleannesse. If he vow to be a Nazarite, while he is uncleane by the dead, his Nazariteship beginneth upon him: and if he defile himselfe the second time, or drinke wine, or shave his head, he is to be beaten. And if he continue in his uncleannesse many daies, they profit him not (for his account) untill he be sprinkled the third day and the seventh, and be washed in the seventh: and that seventh day goeth into his account of Nazariteship, for him that voweth while he is uncleane: but a cleane Nazarite which is defiled, he beginneth not to reckon till the eighth day, and forward. If he have an issue in his flesh, be he man or woman, all the daies of their issue, goe in their reckoning, although they be uncleane, (Leviticus 15.) and this was taught Moses at Mount Sinai. And I need not speake, how if a Nazarite be uncleane with other uncleannesses, the daies of his uncleannesse goe on in his reckoning, and he loseth not any. Maimony in Nexir. ch. 6. sect. 1. - 8. and ch. 7. sect. 9. 10.

13 Vers. 13. the Law] the third part of the Nazarites Law, how he should shew himselfe thankfull unto God, when through his grace he hath fulfilled his vow, and is orderly to be discharged of the same. he shall bring him] he shall present himselfe to the Lord by the Priest; or, the Priest shall bring him. It appeareth by Acts 21. 26. that the Nazarite was to goe into the Sanctuary, to signifie the accomplishment of the daies of the sanctification, or Nazariteship. Some translate, he shall bring it, the oblation after mentioned; and this the Greek Version favoureth. Sol. Iarchi expoundeth it, he shall bring himselfe.

Verf. 14. shall offer] or, shall bring neere, as the Greeke translate, he shall bring his gift. perfect] in Greeke, without blemish: see Exodus 12. Peace-offerings] in Greeke, Salvation. Of these sacrifices, see Lev. 1. & 3. & 4. chap. for according to the rites there specified, were they to be offered. And whereas the Nazarite, though he had fulfilled his vow without any pollution, is here commanded notwithstanding to bring a sin-offering, &c. it taught the secret and unseene guiltinesse which cleaveth to the most holy men, in their best and most perfect workes; which without atonement by the blood of Christ, cannot be pure and pleasing in the sight of God. For though a man know nothing by himselfe, yet is he not hereby justified; but he that judgeth him, is the Lord, 1 Cor. 4. 4. in whose sight no man can be justified by the works of the Law, Gal. 2. 15, 16. These three sacrifices Chazkuni here saith, were to lose the three prohibitions of the Nazarite, the fruit of the vine, his shaving, and defiling by the dead. R. Menachem applieth the male Lamb for a Burnt-offering, to the propertie of mercie; and the female for a Sin-offering, to the propertie of judgement; and the Peace-offerings to the glory of Israel, that setteth peace in the world.

Verf. 15. and wafers] The Hebrewes (as Sol. Iarchi) here say, there were ten of each sort, ten cakes and ten wafers; which Maimony in Nexir. chap. 8. sect. 1. declareth thus: And he bringeth with the ram for Peace-offerings, six tenth-deales of flowre, &c. of them be baked twentie cakes, ten cakes of unleavened bread, and ten wafers of unleavened bread, and annueth the twentie, with the fourth part (of a Log) of oyle; and he bringeth the twentie in one vessell. See Levit. 7. 12. their Meat-offering] besides the former extraordinary cakes and wafers, he was to bring the ordinary Meat-offering, and drink-offerings appointed for all sacrifices, whereof see Num. 28.

Verf. 16. shall offer them] or, shall bring them neere; which words doe one explaine another, in the Hebrew Text, as, they brought neere burnt sacrifices, 1 Chronic. 16. 1. that is, offered burnt sacrifices, 2 Sam. 6. 17. For the order, it is said, He killed the Sin-offering first; and after that, the Burnt-offering; and after that, the Peace-offerings; and after that, he was shaven. And if he were shaved after the killing of the Sin-offering, or of the Burnt-offering, it would serve. Maim. in Nexir. chap. 8. sect. 2. shall doe] that is, shall offer, (as ver. 11.) his Sin-offering, whereby the Nazarite acknowledged himselfe a sinner, even in the most sanctified time and actions of his life; and that hee could have no access unto God, but by the sacrifice of Christ, so mans best workes have no place in justification, Rom. 3. 20.

17 Verſ. 17. ſhall make] or, ſhall doe, that is, offer (as verſe 16) for, a ſacrifice of Peace-offerings, to give thanks unto God, by whoſe grace he had fulfilled his vow. Therefore he rejoyced, keeping a feaſt before the Lord; for the fleſh of the Peace-offerings was eaten by him that brought the ſacrifice, when the Lord and his Prieſt had their portions, Levit. 7. 14, 15.

18 Verſ. 18. the Nazarite] in Greeke, be that vowed; in Hebr. Nazir. ſhave] this the Hebrewes call, the ſhaving of puritie (or, for cleannesse) and it differeth from the former ſhaving, in v. 9. which was for uncleannesse; and figured the purging of his uncleannesse; but this ſhaving was in thankfullneſſe, to ſignifie that he had the perfection of his Nazariteſhip from God, and therefore burned his haire under his ſacrifice. This ſhaving was to be of all his haire: the Hebrewes ſay, If he left but two haires, he had done nothing, neither had he kept the commandement of ſhaving, whether he were a cleane Nazarite, or an unclean. If he had left two haires, he was to let all his haire grow, and ſhave it all againe, with thoſe two haires, [after thirtie daies.] Maim. in Nezir. chap. 8. ſect. 6, 7. at the doore of the Tent] afterward when the Temple was built, they ſay it was in the womens Court, in the Nazarites chamber, which was there in the South-Eaſt corner, and there they boyled their Peace-offerings, and caſt their haire into the fire. And if he ſhaved in the Citie, it would ſerve: but whether it were in the Citie or Sanctuarie, under the Cauldron he was to caſt his haire; and he might not ſhave, till the doore of the Court were opened; as it is ſaid, at THE DOORE OF THE TENT: not that he ſhaved before the doore, for that were a contempt of the Sanctuarie. Maimony in Nezir. chap. 8. ſect. 3. Compare herewith, that in Act 18. 18. where it is ſaid, having ſhaved his head in Cenchrea, for he had a vow; by which it ſeemeth, the ſhaving was not of neceſſitie to be in the Sanctuarie, or in the Citie of Ieruſalem. of his Nazariteſhip] in Greeke, of his vow: ſo the vow in Act 18. 18. and 21. 23. meaneth Nazariteſhip. under the ſacrifice] to burne it there, and conſume it, ſignifying the end of his vow, performed acceptably to God in Chriſt, and preſented unto him by the Spirit, which is like unto fire, Mat. 3. 11. The Hebrewes ſay, If he be ſhaved by the Peace-offerings, and he be found diſallowable, his ſhaving is diſallowable, and his ſacrifices profit him not. If he be ſhaved by the ſinne-offering, and it be found that it was not ſlaine by the name of a ſin-offering; and afterward he bring the Peace-offerings and burnt-offering, and oblations as they are commanded, his ſhaving is diſallowable, and his ſacrifices profit him not. If he be ſhaved by the burnt-offering, or by the Peace-offerings, and they be ſlaine not by their name, and afterward he bring the other oblations to offer them by their name, his ſhaving is diſallowable, and his ſacrifices profit him not. If he be ſhaven by them three, and any one of them be found right, his ſhaving is right; And he is to bring the other ſacrifices, and offer them after their manner. And whereſoever we ſay, his ſhaving is diſallowable, it fruſtrates 30 daies; and he is to count 30 daies after his diſallowed ſhaving, and bring his offerings. Maimony in Nezir. ch. 8. ſect. 8. 11. of Peace-offerings] in Greeke, of ſalvation; in Chaldee, of Sanctifications: ſee Lev. 3. Though every Nazarite was to fulfill his vow, and bring his owne ſacrifices, yet are there certaine obſervations by the Hebrewes, which are of uſe for underſtanding ſome things in the new Teſtament. They ſay, If a man vow to be a Nazarite, he may bring his fathers oblations for himſelfe, and be ſhaved for them: but a woman is not ſhaved for her fathers offerings; this we have learned by tradition. As, be whoſe father was a Nazarite, and he ſeparated money to buy oblations therewith, and he die, and leave the money absolute (without expreſſing for what ſacrifice it is) and the ſonne ſay after his fathers death, I will be a Nazarite upon condition that I may bring my offerings with the money which my father ſeparated for his offerings; loe, he may bring his offerings with that money. And ſo, if he and his father were Nazarites, and his father ſeparated money absolutely, and die; and the ſon ſay after his fathers death, I will ſhave for my fathers money: loe, he may bring his offerings with the ſame: but if he ſay not ſo, the money falleth to a voluntary offering. If the father die, and leave many ſons, they ſhove the money among them, for it is their inheritance, and every one of them muſt be ſhaved for his portion; and the firſt borne hath a double portion. He that ſaith, Upon me be the ſhaving of a Nazarite, he is bound to bring the offerings of ſhaving for cleannesse, and may offer them by the hand of what Nazarite he will. If he ſay, upon me be halfe the oblations of a Nazarite; or, on me be the halfe of the ſhaving of a Nazarite; then he bringeth halfe the offerings by what Nazarite he will; and that Nazarite payeth his offerings out of that which is his. But if he ſay, Upon me be the offerings of halfe a Nazarite; then he is to bring the offerings of a full Nazarite: for we have no halfe Nazariteſhip. Maimony in Nezir. chap. 8. ſect. 15, 18. By this, we may ſee the reaſon of that which James ſaid unto Paul, though he had no Nazarites vow upon him; We have ſoure men which have a vow on them; them take, and ſanctifie thy ſelfe with them, and be as charges with them, that they may ſhave their heads, &c. Then Paul tooke the men, and the next day ſanctifying himſelfe with them, entred into the Temple, to ſignifie the accompliſhment of the daies of Sanctification. [or, Nazariteſhip] untill that an offering ſhould be offered for every one of them; Act 21. 23, 24, 26. For though Paul had not vowed or fulfilled a Nazariteſhip himſelfe, yet might he contribute with them, and they be partakers of his charges about the ſacrifices.

Verſ. 19. the ſodden ſhoulder] or, ſodden arme, meaning the left ſhoulder, for the right ſhoulder was due unto him raw, of all Peace-offerings, Leviticus 7. 32. this was peculiar of the Nazarites Ram onely, and not due to the Prieſt from any other ſacrifice. The manner of this ſervice, was thus; The Ram was killed, and the blood ſprinkled, and the beaſt ſlayed, and the fat of the intralls taken out. After this, the fleſh was cut in pieces, and the breaſt and the ſhoulder were put apart: and the reſt of the Ram was ſodden in the womens Court. And the Prieſt tooke the ſodden ſhoulder of the Ram, with one of ten of the cakes brought therewith, with the breaſt and the (other) ſhoulder, shoulder, and the fat: and he layeth them all on the Nazarites hands; and the Priest put his hands under the owners hands, and waved all before the Lord. Maimony in Maaseh hakorbanoth, chapter 9. section 6, 9. After the waving, the fat was salted, and burned upon the Altar: the brest and shoulder was meat for the Priests; but they had no right unto them, till after the fat was burned. And the cake which was waved, and the sodden shoulder were eaten by the Priests; and the rest of the bread, with the residue of the flesh, was eaten by the owners; as is shewed by Maimony in Maaseh hakorbanoth, chap. 9. sect. 6, 9, 12. See the notes on Leviticus 3. & 7. chapt. In that the other shoulder (besides the ordinary gift) was here given to the Lords Priest, it taught the Nazarites as they had received more speciall grace of God, to performe their vowes, so they should give him more speciall thanks.

Verf. 20. wave them] this shoulder was waved (of which word, see the Annotations on Exod. 29. 24.) the other was heaved upward, called therefore the beave shoulder, by which motions, performed by the Priests hands under the Nazarites, God taught them that the perfection and acceptation of all their actions, was through the mediation of our great Priest, Christ Jesus, by whom we are to offer the sacrifice of praise to God continually, that is, the fruit of the lips, confessing to his Name, Heb. 13. 15. holy] Hebr. holiness, that is, an holy portion for the Priest to eat; so the Nazarite was taught to give the glory of his Sanctification unto Christ, whom the Priest here figured. wave brest] Hebr. brest of waving, and, shoulder of heaving; those which the Priest had of all the Peace-offerings, Levit. 7.

may drinke wine] or shall drinke, if he will, and also shave his head when he will, and be uncleane by the dead; for now hee was discharged of his vow. Though here speciall mention is made of drinking wine, which being for the comfort and cheering of mans heart, might signifie the fruit and comfort which followeth affliction and humiliation, when sorrow and mourning shall be done away. And where it is said, and after; hee may drinke; it sheweth, that before the shaving and sacrifices here appointed, he might not drink wine, though the time of his vow were expired. The Hebrews say, A Nazarite that hath fulfilled the daies of his Nazariteship, and is not shaven with the shaving for cleanness, it is unlawfull for him to be shaven, or to drinke wine, or to be defiled by the dead, as he was before: and all the particulars of Nazariteship are upon him; and if he be shaven, or drinke wine, or be defiled, he is beaten. Maim. in Neziruth, chap. 4. sect. 12.

Verf. 21. his oblation] understand, this is his oblation; or, as the Greeke saith, his gift. for his Nazariteship] in thankfulness to God for giving him grace to fulfill his Nazariteship, and so make atonement for his sinnes committed under that his vow. This ordinance of Nazarites, was a speciall glory in Israel, Amos 2. 11. where their Nazarites were purer than snow, they were whiter than milk, they were more ruddy in body than Rubies, their polishing was of Sapphir, Lam. 4. 7. all which denote the heavenly graces wherewith the Saints that faithfully kept this vow, were indued. Yet was it but a legall service, which by Christ is taken away; in whom we have obtained a more glorious state, being washed from our sinnes in his owne blood, whereby we are whiter than snow, Revel. 1. 5. Psal. 51. 9. and being sanctified by his Spirit, we have our conversation in Heaven, from whence also we looke for our Saviour, the Lord Iesus Christ, Philip. 3. 20. The abolishing of this ordinance is declared in Act. 21. 25. As touching the Gentiles which beleeve, we have written and concluded, that they observe no such thing: and it is a Canon of the Hebrew Doctors, that The Samaritan (or Gentile) hath no Nazariteship; Talmud in Nazir. ch. 9. And by the overthrow of the Citie and Temple of the Jewes by Nebuchadnezzar, the Nazarites visage became blacker than a coale, they were not knowne in the streets, their skin cleaved to their bones, it was withered, it became like a sticke, Lam. 4. 8. that they might be taught to looke for a better sanctification, which Christ should give in the heavenly Jerusalem, in the light whereof, the nations of them which are saved do walk; and into which, nothing that defileth shall enter, Rev. 21. 24, 27. where that is fulfilled which the Hebrews say of the Nazarite, that he is warned not to defile himselfe by the dead, because the power of uncleanness may not enter into the holy Temple; as it is written (in Song 4. 7.) Thou art all faire, my Love, there is no blemish in thee. R. Menachem on Num. 6.

Verf. 22. Iehovah shake] after that the people were instructed with Gods Covenant, set in order round about his Sanctuarie, and sanctified in that their order; the Law is here given for the blessing of them in that holy state of life. For, who so looketh into the perfect law of libertie, and continueth, he, being not a forgetfull hearer, but a doer of the works, he shall be blessed in his doing. Jam. 1. 25.

Verf. 23. his sinnes] the Priests to whom this office of blessing the people is in speciall manner committed; as it is said, them hath Iehovah thy God chosen, to minister unto him; and to blesse in the name of Iehovah, Deuteronomie 21. 5. And Aaron was separated, that he should sanctifie the most holy things, he and his sinnes for ever; to burne (incense) before Iehovah, to minister unto him, and to blesse in his name for ever, 1 Chron. 23. 13. Herein the work of Christ (a Priest for ever after the order of Melchisedek, Psal. 110.) was figured; whom God sent to blesse us, in turning away every one of us from his iniquities, Act. 3. 26. whose first Doctrine began with manifold blessings, Matth. 5. 2, 12. who also having fulfilled his ministerie here on earth, lifted up his hands and blessed his Disciples, and so was carried up into heaven, Luke 24. 50, 51. Therefore when he was to come into the world, the Priest of Aarons seed, when he should have blessed the people, was spechelesse, Luke 1. 21, 22. to signifie that the end of his Priesthood was at hand, and that the people should looke for another Priest, in whom all nations should be blessed, Galat. 3. 8. And in this respect wee may have use of the Jewes tradition, that their Priests (of Aarons stocke) were to lift up their hands and blesse the people in the Adorning, but not at the Min-

chab (or Evening sacrifice,) Maimony, treat. of Prayer, chap. 14. sect. 1. for in these last dases (the Evening of times) God hath spoken unto us by his Some, whom he hath appointed beire of all things, Hebrews 1. 1, 2. The Hebrewes also say, The reason why this blessing is mentioned when the Tabernacle was erected, was, because from the Tabernacle that is above the abundance of blessing is spread abroad on them that are beneath: R. Menachem Rakanat, on Num. 6. Which is indeed fulfilled in Christ, the Minister of the true Tabernacle, which the Lord pitched, and not a man: who, if he were on earth, should not be a Priest; but, through the veile that is his flesh, he is entred into heaven in selfe, now to appeare unto the face of God for us: Heb. 8. 2, 4. & 10. 2, 20. & 9. 24.

Thus shall ye blesse] The Priest blessed standing, as it is written, To stand before Iehovah, to minister unto him, and to blesse in his name, Deut. 10. 8. And it was with lifting up of hands, as it is said, And Aaron lift up his hand towards the people, and blessed them, Leviticus 9. 22. which gesture our Lord Christ also used, when he blessed his Disciples, Luke 24. 50. The Hebrew Doctors understand the word Thus, to imply both matter and manner, whereof they have sundry Traditions; as, Thus shall ye blesse, standing; Thus, with lifting up of hands; Thus, in the holy Tongue [that is Hebrew]; Thus, with your faces against (the peoples) faces; Thus, with an high voice; Thus, by (Gods) expressed name [Jehovah] if (ye blesse) in the Sanctuarie. It is not lawfull for the Priests in any place, to adde any blessing unto these three verses; as to say (like Deuteronomie 1. 11.) The Lord God of your fathers, make you a thousand times so many more as ye are, or any the like. Maimony in treat. of Prayer, chap. 14. sect. 11, 12. The manner they also say was thus, The Priests went up to the banke (or Stage) after that the Priests had finished the daily Morning service, and lifted up their hands on high above their heads, and their fingers spread abroad; except the high Priest, who might not lift his hands higher than the Plate, (whereof see Exodus 28. 36.) and one pronounced (the blessing) word by word, till the three verses were ended. And the people answered not after every verse, but they made it in the Sanctuarie one blessing, and when they had finished, all the people answered, Blessed be the Lord God, the God of Israel, for ever and ever. And he pronounced Gods name, as it is written with Iuh: but in the citie (or countrey) they pronounced it Adonai (Lord) for they mention not the name as it is written, save in the Sanctuarie onely. And after Simeon the just was dead, the Priests left off blessing by Gods proper name [Jehovah] even in the Sanctuarie, so the end that no man which was not honest and of good esteeme, might learne it. The Priests blessing is not pronounced in any place, but in the holy (Hebrew) Tongue, as it is said, THUS SHALL YE BLESSE, &c. The lifting up of hands, is by ten Priests of the number. A Synagogue which is all of Priests, they all lift up hands, and the women and children answer Amen. If there remaine ten Priests more than they which are gone up the banke, the ten answer Amen. A Congregation wherein there is no Priest, but a Minister onely, he lifteth not up his hands: but when he is come to conclude with peace, he saith,

Our God, and the God of our fathers blesse us with the threefold blessing in the Law written by Moses thy servant, which was pronounced out of the mouth of Aaron and his sonnes the Priests with thy Saints, as it is said, THE LORD BLESSE THEE AND KEEPE THEE, &c. A Priest that hath lift up his hands in one Synagogue, and goeth to another Synagogue, and findeth the Congregation at prayer, and they are not come to the Priests blessing, he lifteth up his hands for them, and blesseth them, though it be oft times in a day. Maimony, treat. of Prayer, chap. 14. sect. 9, 10, 11. and chap. 15. sect. 9, 10, 11. By these their Traditions it appeareth, that the not pronouncing of Gods name Iehovah, as it is written, was a device of their owne, first restraining it to the Sanctuarie and blessing onely; at last, omitting it in the Sanctuarie also, lest it should be by the unworthy polluted, as they supposed. Yea so far went they in this their precipitance, as they say, that their first wise men taught not this name to their Disciples or sonnes which were of honest conversation, but once in seven yeeres: Maimony, ibid. ch. 14. sect. 10. And this it seemeth they did because the nations corrupted the name, calling him, Iao, Iave, Iabe, Ievo, Iovia, and sundry other waies, (as in humane Writers is yet to be seene,) and applied those names sometime to false gods. Of the meaning of this name Iehovah, see the Annotations on Gen. 2. 4. and Exod. 6. 3. and of blessing, see Gen. 14. 19, 20.

Verf. 24. Iehovah blesse thee] The name Iehovah thrice repeated in this blessing, is a mystery of the Trinitie in the Godhead, the Father, the Son, and the Holy Ghost, into whose name we are baptised, Mat. 28. 19. which Iehovah is one, and his name one, Deut. 6. 4. Zach. 14. 9. So the Apostle beginneth wishing Grace and Peace, from him which Is, and which Was, and which Is to come, [that is, Jehovah God the Father] and from the seven Spirits which are before his Throne [that is, the holy Spirit, whose graces are seven, that is, manifold and plentiful; but though there be diversities of gracions gifts, yet it is the same Spirit, 1 Cor. 12. 4.] and from Iesus Christ, Rev. 1. 4, 5. And another Apostle concludeth, The grace of the Lord Iesus Christ, and the love of God, and the communion of the holy Spirit, be with you all, Amen, 2 Cor. 13. 14. Which, as all other blessings, are derived from this set downe by Moses: who sheweth the grace of God the Father, in blessing, that is, giving all good things, both for this life, & that which is to come, as it is written, Blessed be the God and father of our Lord Iesus Christ, who hath blessed us with all spirituall blessings, in heavenly (things) in Christ, &c. Eph. 1. 3. This blessing God offered the Jewes, when he sent his Son Iesus to blesse them, in turning away every one of them, from his iniquitie, Act. 3. 26. The Hebrew Doctors (as R. Menachem Rakanat on this place) have also noted how this name of God [Jehovah] is thrice mentioned, and every time with a different accent in the Hebrew, implying a mysterie: which cannot better bee applied, than to the three distinct persons of the holy Trinitie. keepe thee] in grace and good estate, and safe from evil, as it is said, Iehovah will keepe thee from all evill, he will keepe thy soue, Psal. 121.7. And for good, it is spoken in 1 Chron. 29. 18. So our Saviour prayeth, Hol. Father, keepe through thine owne name, those whom thou hast given me, that they may be one, as we are: and, keepe them from the evill: John 17. 11, 15.

25 Vers. 25. his face to shine upon thee] or, his countenance to shine (to be lightsome) unto thee. For face, the Chaldee putteth Shecinab, the Divine Majesty: whereby Christ seemeth to be meant, as is noted on Exod. 34.9. Gods face, sometime signifieth his anger, as Lev. 20.6. Psal. 21. 10. & 34. 16. sometime his favour, Psal. 21.7. But the light or shining of his face, usually meaneth his loving favour and salvation in Christ; as, Cause thy face to shine, and we shall be saved, Psal. 80. 4, 8, 20: and, The light of thy face, because thou didst favour them, Psalm. 44. 4. So this second branch respecteth Christ, the Lamb which is the light of the world, and of the heavenly Jerusalem, Joh. 8. 12. Rev. 21. 23. whose face shined as the Sonne, Rev. 1. 16. of whom it is said, God who commanded the light to shine out of darknesse, hath shined in our hearts, (giving) the light of the knowledge of the glory of God, in the face of Iesus Christ, 2 Corinthians 4. 6. So in him is that saying fulfilled, In the light of the Kings face is life: and his favour is as a cloud of the latter raine, Proverbs 16. 15. And this blessing implieth deliverance out of miserie, as appeareth by Psal. 80. and Daniel 9. 17. who saith, Cause thy face to shine upon thy Sanctuarie, which is desolate. be gracious] or, as the Greeke translatheth, be mercifull. This Grace is opposed to all mans workes, with which it cannot stand, Romanes 11. 6. and 4. 4. and it is bestowed on whom God will, Exod. 33. 19. Romanes 9. 15, 16. by which grace, we are saved, through faith, God having shewed the exceeding riches of his grace, in his goodnesse towards us, through Christ Iesus, Eph. 2. 7, 8. by whom grace reigneth through righteousness, unto eternall life, Rom. 5. 21. Therefore the Apostle blesteth the Churches, with the grace of our Lord Iesus Christ, Rom. 16. 20. 2 Cor. 13. 13. For the Law was given by Moses, but grace and truth came by Iesus Christ, Joh. 1. 17.

26 Vers. 26. lift up his face] this in men, signifieth a comfortable and cheerfull countenance and carriage, Job 29. 24. 2 Sam. 2. 22. So here in God towards his people; and by face understand as before, the light of his face, that is, his favour; as in Psal. 4. 7. Iehovah lift thou up the light of thy face upon us, and it signifieth the applying and communicating of Gods foresaid grace, to mans conscience and feeling, as after it is said, Thou hast put gladnesse in mine heart, &c. Psal. 4. 8. Thus the first branch of the blessing (in vers. 24.) implieth the love of the Father; the second (in vers. 25.) the grace of the Sonne; and this third, the communion of the Holy Ghost; as the Apostle distinctly expoundeth this blessing, in 2 Cor. 13. 14. And by this Spirit, all gracious gifts, of wisdom, knowledge, faith, prophesie, and the like, are given to the Church, 1 Cor. 12. 8, -11. The word face sometime meaneth anger, as before is noted; and the Hebrew Nasa, Lift up, is sometime used for taking away, as in Ex. 10. 19. and so the Chaldee translatheth this here, The LORD remove (or take away) his anger from thee. The same exposition the Zobar also giveth of this place, that wrath may be taken away, and not found in the world. and give] Hebrew, and put (or dispose) unto thee, that is, communicate with thee: which the Gr. translatheth, give: and in the Scriptures, one of these words is used for another: as, he hath put thee, 1 King. 10. 9. or, he hath given thee, 2 Chron. 9. 8. So, put glory, Jos. 7. 19. that is, give glory, and to put mercie, Esa. 47. 6. is to give, or communicate the same. Peace] this word generally signifieth all prosperitie; and the perfect injoying of all good things; it is opposed to war, Eccles. 3. 8. to discord and enmitie, Ephes. 2. 14, 15. Luke 12. 51. to tumult and confusion, 1 Cor. 14. 33. and to all adversitie, Gen. 43. 27. 2 King. 4. 26. Joh. 16. 33. and is therefore added for a conclusion of blessings, Psal. 29. 11. & 125. 4. 1 Pet. 5. 14. This peace is obtained by Iesus Christ, Ephes. 2. 14, 15, 17. Rom. 5. 1. and enjoyed by the Holy Ghost, Rom. 8. 6, 9. & 14. 17. And the peace of God which passeth all understanding, shall guard our hearts and minds through Christ Iesus, Philip. 4. 7. And the Hebrew Doctors expound this peace, to be the kingdome of the house of David; R. Nathan in Siphri: which is true, for when the Angel said, Unto you is borne this day, in the citie of David, a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord; then the heavenly host sang, Glory to God in the highest, and on earth Peace, Luke 2. 11, -14. and one part of his name is, THE PRINCE OF PEACE, Esa. 9. 6.

27 Vers. 27. And they shall] the Priests in all ages, such as were meet to serve in the Sanctuarie, performed this as the other services. The Hebrew Canons have here their limitations; they say, Six things doe let from lifting up the hands (to blesse) 1, the tongue, 2, blemishes, 3, transgression, 4, yeeres, 5, wine, 6, and uncleannesse of hands. The tongue, as if they stammer and cannot pronounce the letters aright, or lispe, &c. Blemishes, as if they have any blemishes in their face, hands, or feet; as if they have crooked fingers, &c. Transgression, as if a Priest hath killed a man, though unknowing; and though he have repented for it, yet may he not lift up his hands, Esay 1. 15. Or, if the Priest have served Idols, &c. though he have repented for it, he may never lift up hands; as it is written (in 2 King. 23. 9.) The Priests of the high places came not up to the Altar, &c. and blessing is as a service, Deuteronomie 21. 5. Yeeres, as a young Priest listeth not up his hands till he be fully come to his age. Wine, as if he have drunke a quarter (of a Log) of wine, he may not lift up his hands, till he hath put away his wine from him, Leviticus 10. 9. Uncleannesse of hands, as a Priest that hath not washed his hands, may not lift them up (to blesse) but he must wash his hands, as they use to sanctifie them for service, and afterwards he blesseth. Maimony treat. of Prayer, chapter 15. section 1, -5. put my name] or, impose my name; which the Chaldee expoundeth, shall put the blessing of my name; and Chazkuni saith, the memoriall of my name is in every blessing. It seemeth to be meant of the Priests gesture, that they should lift up their hands towards the people, as did Aaron, Lev. 9.22. for a signe that the name and blessing of God was imposed upon them; and, The name of Iehovah is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it and is safe, Pro. 18. 10. So now in Baptisme, the name of the Father, Sonne and Holy Ghost, is put upon us, Mat. 28. 19. and they that inhabit Jerusalem which is from above, see the face of God, and his name is in their fore-heads, Rev. 22. 4. I will blesse them] the Greek addeth, I the LORD will blesse them: and Ionaian in his Targum paraphraseth, I by my word will blesse them; and Chazkuni explaineth it, that the Priests should not say, We have blessed Israel. God here annexeth a promise to this ordinance, for to strengthen the faith of Israel walking in his feare; and so the word them is to be understood, both of people and Priests; as it is said, He will blesse the house of Israel, he will blesse the house of Aaron; he will blesse them that feare Iehovah, the small with the great, Plal. 115. 12, 13. and his blessing, it maketh rich; and he addeth no sorrow with it, Prov. 10. 22. And whereas the Priests were sometime simple, and sometime wicked men; as, the sonnes of Eli, were sonnes of Belial, 1 Samuel 2. 12. lest any should despise the ordinance of God for their unworthinesse, this promise is here added. And in the Hebrew Canons, they have this rule; Doe not marvell and say, what availeth the blessing of this simple (Priest?) For the receiving of the blessing dependeth not on the Priests, but on the holy blessed God; as it is written, They shall put my name upon the sonnes of Israel, and I will blesse them, Numbers 6. 27. The Priests doe the commandment which is commanded them; and the holy blessed God, in his mercie blesseth Israel, according to his pleasure, Maimony, treat. of Prayer, chapter 15, section 7.

CHAP. VII.

1, When the Tabernacle was set up, anointed and sanctified, the Princes of the Tribes give six wagons and twelve Oxen, for the service of the Sanctuarie, which were given to the Levites of Gershon and Merari. 10, The twelve Princes offer every one in his day, vessels of silver and gold, and cattell for sacrifices of all sorts, at the dedication of the Altar. 84, The summe and weight of all the vessels, and number of all the sacrifices which the Princes did offer. 89, God speaketh unto Moses from the Mercie-seat in the Tabernacle.

1 AND it was, in the day when Moses had finished the rearing up of the tabernacle, and had anointed it, and sanctified it, and all the instruments thereof; and the Altar, and all the instruments thereof; and 2 had anointed them, & sanctified them: Then offered the Princes of Israel, heads of the house of their fathers; they were the Princes of the Tribes: they were those that stood over them that were mustered. And they brought their oblation before Jehovah; six covered wagons, and twelve oxen; a wagon for two of the Princes, and an ox for one: and they brought them neere, before the tabernacle. And Jehovah said unto Moses, saying; Take it of them, that they may be to serve the service of the Tent of the congregation: and thou shalt give them unto the Levites, to every man according to his service. And Moses tooke the wagons and the oxen, and gave them unto the Levites. Two wagons and foure oxen, he gave unto the sons of Gershon, according to their service. And foure wagons and eight oxen, he gave unto the sons of Merari, according to their service, under the hand of Ithamar, the son of Aaron the Priest. But unto the sonnes of Kohath he gave none, because the service of the Sanctuarie was upon them, they should beare with shoulder.

And the Princes offered, for the dedication of the Altar, in the day that it was anointed: and the Princes offered their oblation, before the Altar. And Jehovah said unto Moses; One Prince for a day, one Prince for a day shall they offer their oblations, for the dedication of the Altar.

And he that offered his oblation in the first day, was Naasson the son of Amminadab, of the Tribe of Judah. And his oblation was one silver dish, an hundred and thirty shekels was the weight therof; one silver bason, of seventy shekels, by the shekel of the Sanctuarie: both of them full of fine floure mingled with oile, for a Meat-offring. One cup, of ten shekels of gold, full of incense. One bullock, a yongling of the herd; one ram, one lamb of his first yeere, for a burnt offering. One goat-bucke of the goats, for a sin-offering. And for a sacrifice of Peace-offerings, two oxen, five rams, five he-goats, five lambs of the first yeere: this was the oblation of Naasson, the sonne of Amminadab.

In the second day, offered Nethaneel the son of Zuar, the Prince of Issachar. He offered his oblation, one silver dish, an hundred and thirty shekels was the weight therof; one silver bason of seventy shekels, by the shekel of the Sanctuarie: both of them full of fine flowre mingled with oyle, for a Meat-offring. One cup of ten shekels of gold, full of incense. One bullock, a yongling of the herd; one ram, one lamb of his first yeer, for a burnt-offering. One goat-bucke of the goats, 23 goats, for a sin-offering. And for a sacrifice of Peace-offerings, two oxen, five rammes, five he-goats, five lambs of the first yeere: this was the oblation of Nethaneel the son of Zuar.

24 In the third day, the Prince of the sons of 25 Zabulon: Eliab, the sonne of Helon. His oblation was, one silver dish, an hundred and thirty shekels was the weight therof: one silver bason of seventy shekels, by the shekel of the Sanctuarie: both of them full of fine

26 floure mingled with oile, for a Meat-offring. One cup of ten shekels of gold, full of incense.
27 One bullocke, a yongling of the herd; one ram, one lambe of his first yeere, for a burnt offering. One goat-bucke of the goats, for 28 a sin-offering. And for a sacrifice of Peace-offerings, two oxen, five rams, five he-goats, 29 five lambs of the first yeere: this was the oblation of Eliab, the son of Helon.

30 In the fourth day, the Prince of the sons of 31 Reuben: Elizur, the sonne of Shedeur. His oblation was one silver dish, an hundred and thirty shekels was the weight therof; one silver bason of seventy shekels, by the shekel of the Sanctuarie: both of them full of fine 32 floure mingled with oyle, for a Meat-offring. One cup of ten shekels of gold, full of 33 incense. One bullocke, a yongling of the herd; one ram, one lambe of his first yeere, 34 for a burnt-offering. One goat-bucke of the goats for a sin-offering. And for a sacrifice of 35 peace-offerings, two oxen, five rams, five he-goats, five lambs of the first yeere: this was the oblation of Elizur, the son of Shedeur.

36 In the fift day, the Prince of the sonnes of 37 Simeon: Shelumiel the sonne of Zurishaddai. His oblation was one silver dish, an hundred and thirty shekels was the weight therof; one silver bason of seventy shekels, by the shekel of the Sanctuarie: both of them full of fine floure mingled with oyle, for a 38 Meat-offring. One cup of ten shekels of gold, full of incense. One bullocke, a yongling of the herd; one ram, one lambe of his 39 first yeere, for a Burnt-offering. One goat-buck of the goats for a sin-offering. And for 40 a sacrifice of Peace-offerings, two oxen, five rammes, five he-goats, five lambs of the 41 first yeere: this was the oblation of Shelumiel, the sonne of Zurishaddai.

42 In the sixth day, the Prince of the sonnes of 43 Gad: Eliafaph the son of Deguel. His oblation was, one silver dish, an hundred and thirty shekels was the weight therof; one silver bason of seventy shekels, by the shekel of the Sanctuarie: both of them full of fine floure mingled with oile, for a Meat-offring. One cup of ten shekels of gold, full of incense. One bullocke, a yongling of the herd, one ramme, one lambe of his first yeere, for a Burnt-offring. One goat-buck of the goats for a sin-offering. And for a sacrifice of Peace-offerings, two oxen, five rams, five he-goats, five lambs of the first yeere: this was the oblation of Eliafaph, the son of Deguel.

In the seventh day, the Prince of the sons of Ephraim: Elishama, the sonne of Ammihud. His oblation was, one silver dish, an hundred and thirtie shekels was the weight thereof; one silver bason of seventy shekels, by the shekel of the Sanctuarie: both of them full of fine floure mingled with oile, for a Meat-offring. One cup of ten shekels of gold, full of incense. One bullocke, a yongling of the herd; one ramme, one lambe of his first yeere, for a Burnt-offring. One goat-bucke of the goats, for a sin-offring. And for a sacrifice of Peace-offerings, two oxen, five rams, five he-goats, five lambs of the first yeere: this was the oblation of Elishama, the son of Ammihud.

In the eighth day, the Prince of the sonnes of Manasses: Gamaliel, the sonne of Pedahzur. His oblation was one silver dish, an hundred and thirtie shekels was the weight thereof; one silver bason of seventy shekels, by the shekel of the Sanctuarie: both of them full of fine floure mingled with oile, for a Meat-offring. One cup of ten shekels of gold, full of incense. One bullocke, a yongling of the herd; one ramme, one lambe of his first yeere, for a Burnt-offering. One goat-bucke of the goats, for a sin-offring. And for a sacrifice of Peace-offerings, two oxen, five rams, five he-goats, five lambs of the first yeere: this was the oblation of Gamaliel, the son of Pedahzur.

In the ninth day, the Prince of the sons of Benjamin: Abidan, the son of Gidioni. His oblation was one silver dish, an hundred and thirty shekels was the weight therof; one silver bason of seventy shekels, by the shekel of the Sanctuarie: both of them full of fine floure mingled with oile, for a meat-offring. One cup of ten shekels of gold, full of incense. One Bullocke, a yongling of the herd; one ramme, one lambe of his first yeere, for a Burnt-offering. One goat-buck of the goats, for a sin-offring. And for a sacrifice of peace-offerings, two oxen, five rammes, five he-goats, goats, five lambs of the first yeere; this was the oblation of Abidan, the sonne of Gideoni.

66 In the tenth day, the Prince of the sonnes of Dan: Ahiezer, the son of Ammishaddai.

67 His oblation was, one silver dish, an hundred and thirty shekels was the weight thereof; one silver bason of seventie shekels, by the shekel of the Sanctuary: both of them full of fine flowre mingled with oile, for a Meat-offering. One cup of ten shekels of gold, full of incense. One bullocke, a yongling of the herd; one ramme, one lambe of his first yeere, for a burnt-offering. One goat-bucke of the goats, for a sin-offering. And for a sacrifice of Peace-offerings, two oxen, five rammes, five he-goats, five lambes of the first yeere: this was the oblation of Ahiezer, the sonne of Ammishaddai.

72 In the eleventh day, the Prince of the sons of Aser: Pagiel, the sonne of Ocran. His oblation was, one silver dish, an hundred and thirty shekels was the weight thereof; one silver bason of seventy shekels, by the shekel of the Sanctuary: both of them full of fine floure mingled with oile, for a Meat-offring.

74 One cup of ten shekels of gold, full of incense. One bullocke, a yongling of the herd; one ram, one lamb of his first yeere, for a burnt-offering. One goat-bucke of the goats, for a sin offering. And for a sacrifice of Peace-offerings, two oxen, five rams, five he-goats, five lambes of the first yeere: this was the oblation of Pagiel, the sonne of Ocran.

78 In the twelfth day, the Prince of the sons of Naphtali: Ahira, the son of Enan. His oblation was, one silver dish, an hundred and thirty shekels was the weight thereof; one silver bason of seventy shekels, by the shekel of the Sanctuary: both of them full of fine floure mingled with oile, for a Meat-offring. One cup, of ten shekels of gold, full of incense. One bullocke, a yongling of the herd; one ram, one lamb of his first yeere, for a burnt-offering. One goat-bucke of the goats for a sin-offering. And for a sacrifice of Peace-offerings, two oxen, five rams, five he-goats, five lambes of the first yeere: this was the oblation of Ahira, the son of Enan.

84 This was the dedication of the Altar, (in the day when it was anointed;) by the Princes of Israel: twelve silver dishes, twelve silver basons, twelve cups of gold. Every silver dish weighed an hundred and thirty shekels, and every bason, seventy: all the silver of the vessels, weighed two thousand and foure hundreds shekels, by the shekel of the Sanctuary. The cups of gold, were twelve, full of incense: every cup weighed ten shekels, by the shekel of the Sanctuary: all the gold of the cups, was an hundred and twentie shekels. All the oxen for the Burnt-offering, were twelve bullocks; the rams twelve, the lambes of the first yeere, twelve; and their Meat-offering: and the goat-bucke of the goats, twelve, for the sin-offering. And all the oxen for the sacrifice of Peace-offerings, were twentie and foure bullockes; the rams sixtie, the he-goats sixtie, the lambes of the first yeere, sixtie: This was the Dedication of the Altar, after that it was anointed. And when Moses was gone in, into the Tent of the congregation, to speak with him; then he heard the voice of him speaking unto him, from above the Covering-mercie-seat, that was upon the Arke of the Testimonie, from betweene the two Cherubims: and hee spake unto him.

Annotations.

Finished the rearing up] that is, had fully set up the Tabernacle, which was reared the first day of the first moneth of the second yeere after their comming out of Egypt, Exod. 40. 17, 18. &c. anointed it] as was commanded, Exod. 40. 9. (with the holy oyle appointed to be made, in Exod. 30. 23, 26, 27, 28.) the performance whereof is mentioned in Levit. 8. 10, 11. Because the Sanctuary and Altar were the chiefest things, and sanctified the oblations, Mat. 23. 17, 19. therefore the Princes performed not this homage following, till they were set up and anointed.

Verf. 2. Then offered] Hebr. And the Princes, &c. offered. This offering was in the second moneth of the second yeere after they were come out of Egypt, after that the Princes had beene appointed with Moses and Aaron, to number the people, Num. 1. 1, 2. &c. and the Tribes had beene set in order about the Tabernacle, Numb. 2. according to which order, they here bring their offerings for the dedication of the Altar. And so the first note on Exo. 40. 2. is to be corrected, where the offerings of these Princes are said to be in the first moneth, which should follow after in the second.

heads] that is, Governours, as the Greeke translates, the twelve Rulers (or Princes) of their fathers houses: see Num. 1. 16. stood over them that were mustered] or, that were numbered: the Greeke saith, over the visitation, (or muster:) of whom it was said to Moses, in Numb. 1. 5. these are the names of the men which shall stand with you. So at the making of the Tabernacle, the Rulers brought precious Be-ryll stones, and filling stones for the Ephod, &c. Exodus 35. 27. And for the building of the Temple, the Princes offered willingly, and gave for the service of

of the house of Gold, gold, silver, brasse, &c. 1 Chron. 29. 6, 7, 8.

3 Verſ. 3. their oblation] Hebrew, their Korban; in Greeke, their gifts. This oblation was for the publike service of the Tabernacle, to carry it when it removed, verſe 5. Chazkuni here ſaith, it was to make atonement, for that they had numbred Iſrael, as in Numbers 31. 49, 50. Theſe ſervants have taken the ſumme of the men of warre, &c. and there lacked not one man of us; we have therefore brought an oblation for the L O R D, &c. to make an atonement for our ſoules before the L O R D. covered wagons] or, coach wagons, according to the Greeke verſion: and ſo the Hebrew T ſabim is uſed for coaches, in Eſa. 66. 20. The Chaldee and other Hebrews expound them, covered wagons. In Levit. 11. 29. T ſab is a Tortoy, ſo called of the ſhell that covereth it: accordingly here they may be called wagons T ſab, of the Tortoy, (or of covering) becauſe they were like to a Tortoy, covered above. Chazkuni expoundeth T ſab for T ſaba an hoſt (or armie) by cutting off the laſt letter, and ſo they were named, wagons that went in the armie for the ſervice of the Tabernacle: to which one Greeke verſion agreeeth, tranſlating it Dunamos. a wagon] that is, one wagon for two Princes. for one] that is, as the Greeke tranſlateth, for every one. Thus in their gifts they were partly ſeverall, partly joyned in communion, two and two, for a wagon. The Hebrews compare the number of ſix, with the ſix ſeverall bleſſings, in Num. 6. 24, 25, 26. and the twelve oxen, according to the number of the twelve Tribes: R. Menachem on Numb. 7. before the Tabernacle] to preſent them there unto God. Jonathān in his Chaldee paraphraſe addeth, Moses would not receive them of them, and they brought them mere (or offered them) before the Tabernacle. And Sol. Iarchi ſo explaineth it, becauſe Moses received them not from their hand, till hee was commanded by the mouth of God.

5 Verſe 5. that they may be to ſerve] or, and let them be to ſerve the ſervice, that is, to doe the worke; as the Greeke tranſlateth, and they ſhall be for the miniſteriall worke of the Tabernacle of Teſtimonie.

8 Verſe 8. ſoure wagons, &c.] Becauſe the ſervice of the Merarites was heavier than the Gersonites, as having the charge of the boards, bars, pillars, and ſockets of the Tabernacle; whereas the Gersonites carried but the curtaynes, coverings and hangings, Numb. 4. 25, 31. therefore the Merarites had as many more wagons and oxen, as the Gersonites. in the hand] that is, under the guidance and government of Ithamar: ſee Num. 4. 28, 33.

9 Verſ. 9. of the Sanctuary] or of the holy things, Hebr. of the holineſſe: meaning, the Arke, Table, Candleſticke, Altars, &c. ſee Numb. 4. 5, 15. was upon them] the Greeke tranſlateth, they have the miniſteriall things of the holy. with ſhoulder] that is, as the Greeke explaineth it, they ſhall beare them on (their) ſhoulders, and no otherwiſe; therefore when the Arke was carried on a wagon, God was angry, and killed Uzzah, 2 Sam. 6. 37: then David acknowledged that the Lord had made a breach among them, becauſe they ſought him not in due order, 1 Chron. 15. 13.

10 Verſ. 10. the dedication] or, the initiation, conſecration; called in Hebrew, Chanuceah, which when it is ſpoken of men, meaneth the Catechiſing, initiation, information and training up to any new thing which they were not accuſtomed to before: when of other things, as of Temples, Altars, Houſes, or the like, it meaneth the firſt uſing of them, or dedication and conſecration to their firſt uſe, which was done with ſolemnitie; as Solomon dedicated the houſe of God, 2 Chron. 7. 5. and kept the dedication of the Altar ſeven daies, 2 Chron. 7. 9. and at the returne out of Babylon, they kept the dedication of the houſe of God, with joy, and offered at the dedication thereof, 100 bullockes, 200 rammes, 400 Lambs, &c. Ezra 6. 16, 17. So they kept the dedication of the wall of Jeruſalem, with gladneſſe, thanksgiving, ſinging, Cymbals, Pſalteries, Harpes, &c. and with offering of ſacrifices and great joy, Nehem. 12. 27, 43. And David made the 30 Pſalme, for the dedication of his houſe. And all the Iſraelites uſed to dedicate their dwelling houſes, Deut. 20. 5. Likewise in the Macabees time, they kept the dedication of the Altar eight daies, with ſacrifices and gladnes, and ordained it to be ſo kept yeerly, 1 Mac. 4. 54, 56, 59. which ordinance was kept in Chriſts time, Joh. 10. 22. The like obſervation is found alſo among the Heathens, who dedicated their Idols with muſicke and ſolemnitie, Dan. 3. 2, 3. This Dedication is named in Greeke, Egeaniſmos, and the feaſt is called Egeania, Joh. 10. 22. of new making or uſing, or in memorie of the new making of any thing. So the ſolemnitie of the Law at mount Sinai, in Ex. 24. was a dedication; as the Apoſtle ſaith, it was not dedicated without blood, Heb. 9. 18. and Chriſt is ſaid to have dedicated for us a new and living way into the holy heavens, Heb. 10. 20. And now, that the Altar might be conſecrated for the oblations of all Iſrael at all times, the Princes of the twelve Tribes dedicate the ſame with gifts and ſacrifices of all ſorts, and great ſolemnitie 12 daies; ſo teſtifying their faith and joy in Chriſt (whom the Altar figured) by whom they ſhould offer the ſacrifice of praife to God continually, Heb. 13. 10, 15. And this was a diſtinct thing from the former oblation, as S. Iarchi here obſerveth; After they had voluntarily given the wagons and oxen to carry the Tabernacle, their hearts ſtirred them up to offer voluntary offerings for the Altar, to dedicate it. before the Altar] to preſent them there unto the Lord: whereupon Iarchi againe ſaith, that Moses received it not from their hand, until he was commanded by the mouth of the Power: that is, of God. And here we may obſerve the Hebrewes phraſe, which call God the Power; as doe the Evangelists, ſaying, Ye ſhall ſee the Sonne of man ſitting on the right hand of the Power, Matthew 26. 64. and Marke 14. 62. which is explained in Luke 22. 69. the power of God. So, the Sonne of the Bleſſed, Marke 14. 61. that is, the Sonne of God, Matthew 26. 63.

Verſ. 11. One Prince for a day] this ſentence twice written, is for more plainneſſe and exactneſſe, and and solemnitie of the action: as also to shew an equall right that all the Princes and Tribes had in the Altar now to be dedicated; and how the Lord esteemed of the religious dutie now to be performed, which he would have done in distinct daies. Wherefore he also writeth their particular offerings at large, repeating the same things twelve times together.

12 Verſ. 12. Naasson] Hebrew, Nachson: so in Numb. 1. 7. of the Tribe] or, for the Tribe; in which sense the oblation was not for his owne person, but for the whole Tribe whereof he was Governour: but the Greeke translateth, Prince of the Tribe of Iudas. Here the Captains of the Tribes offer every one in his day, not according to their births, or as they are named in Num. 1. but according to the order wherein God had set the round about his Sanctuary, in Num. 2. beginning at the East quarter, proceeding to the South, then to the West, and ending at the North, according to the course of the Sunne, as may be viewed thus; of

Thus God would have that order kept in their oblations, which he had appointed for their situation, Num. 2. and so likewise for their journeyings, Num. 10. 14, 17. to shew that he is not the author of confused tumult, but of peace, 1 Cor. 14. 33. And Iudah in Naasson his son, was first in these oblations (as in many other things) for to type out the honour of Christ, who was to be his sonne according to the flesh, Heb. 7. 14.

13 Verſ. 13. dish] or, charger, platter; in Hebrew, Kaghanarab; in Greeke, Trublion: which word is used for a dish, in Matth. 26. 23. Such dishes were used to set the Shew-bread in, on the golden Table, Exo. 25. 29. and thirtie shekels] the word shekels is expressed in the Chaldee version, and rightly, as the next words manifest: the shekel spoken of in the Law, weighed three hundred and twentie barley cornes, saith Maimony in treat. of Shekels, ch. 1. sect. 2. See the notes on Gen. 20. 16. bason] or viall; called in Hebr. Mizrak, of powring out; in Greeke Phiale, a viall: which word is used in Rev. 16. where the vials of Gods wrath are powred out. Such basons or vials were used to carry the blood of the sacrifices to the Altar, where it was powred out: of them mention is made in Zach. 14. 20. the pots in the LORDS house, shall be like the basons before the Altar. shekel of the Sanctuary] or, of Sanctitie, that is, the holy shekel, as the Greeke translateth it; which weighed twentie Gerahs, Num. 3. 47. and Exod. 30. 13. Meat-offring] or, Minchab: of this see Levit. 2.

Verſe 14. of gold] touching this, Chazkuni noteth, the cup it selfe was of gold, and the weights of it was by silver shekels. So Jonathan in his Targum, saith, One cup weighing ten shekels of silver, and it (the cup) was of gold. This is plaine by the 86 verſe following: there Sol. Iarchi saith, that the shekels of gold weighed not so much as the silver shekels.

of incense] or perfume, in Hebr. Ketoreth: everie Meat-offring of floure as it was mingled with oyle, so it had frankincense (Lebanah) upon it, Levit. 2. 1. but the incense (Ketoreth) was for the golden Altar, the making whereof is described in Exo. 30. 34. &c. Sol. Iarchi here noteth, We find no incense for any particular person, nor for the outward (braſen) Altar, but for this onely. So it was an extraordinarie oblation for this present action.

Verſ. 15. bullocke] in Chaldee, a bull; in Hebr. Par, which is a yong bull of the second or third yeere: see the notes on Exod. 29. 1. yongling] Hebrew, sonne of the herd, (or oxe;) see Exo. 29. 1.

ramme] which also was of the second yeere, as lambs were of the first: see the notes on Lev. 1. 10.

his first yeere] Hebrew, sonne of his yeere: of which phrase, see the notes on Gen. 5. 32. Exo. 12. 5. Burnt-offering] the law and signification hereof, see in Lev. 1.

Verſ. 16. goat-bucke] a goat of the second yeere: such was the ordinare Sin-offring for a Ruler; see Lev. 4. 22, 23. But this is brought for sin in generall, not for any speciall sinne, which Levit. 4. treateth of: and so it was also extraordinarie, as Chazkuni here observeth, This (man) bringeth voluntarie incense, whereas no particular person bringeth voluntarie incense: this bringeth a sinne-offring, which is not for sinne, whereas no particular person bringeth a sin-offring, but for sinne.

Verſ. 17. of Peace-offrings] in Greeke, of salvation; in Chaldee, of sanctifications: see Levit. 3: where the law of this sacrifice is opened. Thus by sacrifices of all sorts, figuring the death of Christ, and benefits to be reaped thereby, they reconciled, and made themselves and theirs, acceptable to God, and were made partakers of his grace, to remission of sins, justification and sanctification through faith, and by the worke of the Holy Ghost; in the communion and feeling whereof they rejoyced before God.

Verſ. 18. Nethanel the sonne of Zuar] called in Greeke, Nathanael the sonne of Sogar: see Num. 1. 8.

Prince] this title is given to all the twelve, except Naasson of Iudah, who offered first: whereof Chazkuni giveth this reason, He is not called Prince, that he might not be put up because he offered first: and all the other are called Princes, for that they submitted themselves and offered after him.

Verſ. 19. He offered] in the Chaldee of Jonathan there is added, He offered his offering after Iudah, by the mouth of the Holy One. Sol. Iarchi here writeth thus; Why speaketh the Scripture of (the Prince of) the Tribe of Issachar, HE OFFERED; when the like is not said of all the other Tribes? Because cause Reuben came, and made a stirre, and said, It is enough that my brother Iudab offered before me, I will offer after him. Moses answered, It was said unto me by the mouth of the Almighty, that they should offer according to the order of their journeying by their standards. Therefore is it said, Hee offered his offering: and the word [Hikrib offered] wanteth the letter jod; that after the plains writing (by the consonant letters) it is Imperative [Hakreb, offer thou] for that by the mouth of God hee was commanded to offer.

42 Verſ. 42. Deguel] in Numb. 2. 14. hee is called Reguel; and so the Greeke here hath Elisaph the sonne of Rigovel: see Num. 1. 14.

48 V. 48. the seventh day] the Hebrewes note this to be extraordinary, that on the Sabbath day the same course of offering was kept as on the other dayes without intermission. Anmibud] in Greeke, Semiond: see the notes on Num. 1. 10.

54 Verſ. 54. Gamaliel] in Hebrew, Gamliel, Pedalsar] in Greeke, Phaddasur: see Numbers 1. 10.

72 Verſ. 72. In the eleventh day] so the Greeke translateth it, which in the Hebrew and Chaldee phrase is, In the day of eleven dayes. So in verſ. 78. In the day of twelve dayes; which the Greeke expoundeth, In the twelfth day. Pagiel] in Greeke, Phageel the sonne of Eeran.

84 Verſ. 84. dedication of the Altar] The Chaldee called Ionathans expoundeth it, the dedication of the anointing of the Altar. Here God summeth up the offerings of the Princes, the number of vessels, and the weight of them, and the number of all their sacrifices; to shew how acceptable this their service was unto him, which hee so largely set downe in the particulars and in the generall. And as the Altar now dedicated, was a type of Christ: so the oblations of the Princes of the twelve tribes, shewed the faith, hope, and love of Israel towards God in Christ; of whom the Apostle giveth this testimony; Nam, I stand and am judged, for the hope of the promise made of God unto our fathers: unto which promise, our twelve tribes instantly serving [God] day and night, hope to come, Act. 26. 6, 7. And they are an example unto all Princes of the earth, how they should honour the Lord with their persons and substance, and willingly offer to the maintenance of his continuall publike service: as is promised unto Ierusalem, They shall bring gold, and incense, and they shall shew forth the praises of the Lord. All the flocks of Kedar shall be gathered together unto thee; the rams of Nebaioth shall minister unto thee: they shall come up with acceptance upon mine Altar, and I will glorifie the house of my glory. And the sonnes of strangers shall build up thy wals, and their kings shall minister unto thee, Esay 60. 6, 7, 10. And the Nations of them which are saved, shall walke in the light of it: and the kings of the earth doe bring their glory and honour unto it; Revel. 21. 24. See the example of the like liberality, in Neb. 7. 70, 71, 72. Ezek 2. 68. 69. 1 Chron. 29. 6, 7, 8.

85 Verſ. 85. Every] Hebr. one. 2400. shekels] The reason of this exactnesse of their weight severally and joyntly, was for the honour of the Lords Sanctuary, and vessels of the same, all which were holy: for which cause also at the returne of the Iewes out of Babylon, the vessels of the house of God, were delivered by weight, and received againe at Ierusalem by weight; for they were holy, and therefore warily to be kept, and they were taken by number, and by weight of every one: and all the weight was written at that time, Exr. 8. 25, 27, 28, 29, 30, 33, 34.

Ver. 86. an hundred and twenty] so there was just the twentieth part of the weight of all the silver vessels in these twelve golden cups. And Ionathan in his Thargum maketh these 120 shekels, answerable to the 120. yeeres of Moses life.

Verſ. 87. Their Meate-offering] the Greeke version addeth, their meate-offerings, and their drinke-offerings: which though they were not mentioned before, yet were to be understood by the sacrifices that were offered. For by the law every burnt offering was to have with it a meate-offering of flowre mingled with oyle and wine for a drinke-offering: the appointed measure of them, is to be seene in Numb. 15. 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12.

Verſ. 88. sixtie] so all the beasts which the 12. Princes offered at this dedication, were two hundred fifty and two: of which two hundred and foure were Peace-offerings; whereof themselves with the Priests did eat, and so kept a feast with joy before the Lord, for his mercy towards his people. See Levit. 7. 15, 29, 34.

Verſ. 89. to speake with him] that is, with God: of him speaking] or, of one speaking; which the Greeke translateth, of the Lord speaking. And Thargum Ionathan expoundeth it, of the Spirit speaking. Herein Moses excelled all other Prophets; in that the Lord spake so familiarly with him. See the notes on Numb. 12. 8.

the covering mercy seat] thus the promise was fulfilled, I will meet with thee there; and I will speake with thee from above the covering mercy seat, Exod. 25. 22. And hereupon the most holy Place of the Sanctuary, where the Arke and the Mercy-seat was, is called Debir, the Oracle or speaking place, 1 King. 6. 23. And the Covering mercy seat (or Propitiatorie) being a figure of Christ, Romanes 3. 25. (as it is noted on Exod. 25. 17.) it was a Testimony of Gods grace to his Church in Christ his Sonne, by whom hee alwayes spake unto our fathers, but more clearly unto us in these last dayes, Heb. 1. 2. And whereas it is said in Levit. 1. 1. the Lord spake unto Moses out of the Tabernacle; this place sheweth how it is to be understood; as Sol Iarchi here saith, Two Scriptures contradict one another, the third commeth and decideth the case betweene them. One Scripture saith, The Lord spake unto him out of the Tabernacle which was without the veile; and another Scripture saith, I will speake unto thee from above the Mercy-seat. This commeth and decideth it betweene them; Moses went into the Tent, and there hee heard the voyce that came from above the Mercy-seat. The voyce came out from heaven to betweene the Cherubims; and from thence it came out into the Tent of the congregation. From hence also some of the Hebrewes gather (as Chazkuni here noteth) that the beginning of the booke of Leviticus, was when the dedication (here spoken of)

was

was finished. and hee spake unto him] the Hebrewes observe how this, HEE SPAKE VNTO HIM, is doubled; to shew that the voice came from heaven to the mercie-seat, and from thence spake with him: for all the speech with Moses was from heaven, in the day time, and was heard from between the two Cherubims, according to that (in Deut. 4. 36.) Out of heaven hee made thee to heare his voice, &c. and thou heardest his words out of the midst of the fire. R. Menachem on Numb. 7.

CHAP. VIII.

1 How the Lampes were to be lighted, and what was the workmanship of the Candlestick. 5, A commandment to cleanse the Levites, with sprinkling, shaving, and washing of clothes. 8, To offer two bullocks for a Burnt-offering and a Sin-offering to make atonement for them. 10, The Israelites were to impose hands on them. 11, And Aaron to wave them. 14, The Levites are separated to serve in the Tabernacle, in stead of all the first-borne of Israel. 20, The commandment is performed concerning the Levites, and they enter upon their service. 23, The age and time when they were to begin, and when to leave off their service.

1 AND Jehovah spake unto Moses, saying; Speake unto Aaron, and say unto him: when thou makest the lampes to ascend up, the seven lamps shall give light over against the face of the Candlestick.

3 And Aaron did so; hee made the lampes thereof to ascend up over against the face of the Candlestick, as Jehovah commanded
4 Moses. And this worke of the Candlestick was of beaten worke of gold; unto the shaft thereof, unto the floure thereof, it was beaten work: according to the pattern which Jehovah had shewed Moses, so he made the Candlestick. And Jehovah spake unto Moses,
9 saying, Take the Levites from among the 7 sons of Israel, and cleanse them. And thus shalt thou doe unto them to cleanse them; Sprinkle upon them the sinne water, and let them cause a razor to passe over al their flesh, and let them wash their clothes and cleanse themselves. And let them take a bullocke,
8 a yongling of the herd; and his Meate-offering, fine flowre mingled with oyle: and a second bullock, a yongling of the herd 9 shalt thou take for a Sin-offring. And thou shalt bring neere the Levites before the tent of the Congregation; and thou shalt gather together the whole Congregation of the sons of Israel. And thou shalt bring neer the Levites, before Jehovah: and the sonnes of Israel shall lay their hands upon the Levites.

And Aaron shall wave the Levites for a wave-offering, before Jehovah, offered of the sonnes of Israel; that they may bee to serve the service of Jehovah. And the Levites shall lay their hands upon the head of the bullocks, & make thou the one a Sin-offring, and the other a Burnt-offering, unto Jehovah, to make atonement for the Levites.

And thou shalt set the Levites before Aaron, and before his sonnes; and wave them for a wave-offring unto Jehovah.

And thou shalt separate the Levites from among the sonnes of Israel, and the Levites shall be mine. And after that shall the Levites goe in to serve the Tent of the Congregation, and thou shalt cleanse them, and wave them for a wave-offring. For they are given, are given unto me from among the sons of Israel; in stead of such as open every wombe, in stead of the first-born of every one of the sons of Israel, I have taken them unto me. For every first-borne of the sons of Israel, is mine; of man, and of beast: in the day that I smote every first-born in the land of Egypt, I sanctified them unto me. And I have taken the Levites, in stead of every first-born of the sonnes of Israel. And I have given the Levites as given to Aaron and to his sonnes, from among the sons of Israel, to serve the service of the sons of Israel, in the Tent of the Congregation, and to make atonement for the sonnes of Israel, that there be no plague among the sonnes of Israel, when the sonnes of Israel come nigh unto the Sanctuary. Then did Moses and Aaron, and all the Congregation of the sonnes of Israel to the Levites; according to all that Jehovah commanded Moses, concerning the Levites, so did the sonnes of Israel unto them. And the Levites purified themselves, and washed their clothes; and Aaron waved them for a wave-offring before Jehovah: and Aaron made atonement for them to cleanse them. And after that went the Levites in to serve their service in the Tent of the Congregation, before Aaron and before his sonnes: as Jehovah had commanded Moses concerning the Levites, so did they unto them.

And Jehovah spake unto Moses, saying, This is it, that belongeth unto the Levites, from five & twenty yeeres old, and upward; he shall goe in to war the war-fare in the service

25 vice of the Tent of the Congregation.
 26 And from the age of fifty yeares, he shall returne from the warfare of the service, & shall not serve any more. But hee shall minister with his brethren in the Tent of the Congregation, to keepe the charge; and shall not serve the service: thus shalt thou doe unto the Levites in their charges.

Annotations.

Here beginneth the 36. Lecture of the Law; see the annotations on Gen. 6.9.

2 Lampes to asceru] that is, to burne, as the Chaldee translateth: so in Exod. 25. 37. and 27. 20. Levit. 24. 2. The Greeke interpreteth, when thou shalt set up the lampes, to wit, upon the branches of the Candlestick: howbeit in the next verse, the Greeke translateth, be kindled. As the Princes of the twelve tribes (in the former Chapter) offered to the dedication of the Altar; whereby the sanctified workes of the body of the Church was signified: so here followeth the like, touching the Ministers, both Priests and Levites, which tribe offered nothing at the former dedication. over against the face of the Candlestick] that is, towards the middlemost of the seven branches: for this word Candlestick, sometime comprehendeth the whole, consisting of the shaft and seven branches joyntly, Exo. 25. 31. sometime the middle branch which went right up from the shaft, out of which the six other bowed branches proceeded, Ex. 25. 34. 35. So the meaning is, that al the lamps should be lighted on that part which was toward the midst, as looking all to it, from whence they first arose and had their light. For they used to light the middlemost lamp, from the fire on the Altar, and all the other lamps were lighted from the middle lampe, and others next them, as is noted on Ex. 27. 21. The Hebrewes say, The six lamps that were fastned unto the six branches that went out of the Candlestick, all of them had their faces towards the middlemost lampe which was on the branch of the Candlestick: and this middlemost lampe, the face of it was towards the most holy place, and it is called the Westerne Lampe, Maimony in Mishn. tom. 3. in Beth. babehirah, chap. 3. sect. 8. Accordingly Sol. Larchi here explaineth this, Over against the face of the Candlestick, that is, the middle lampe, which is none of the branches but of the body of the Candlestick. The seven lampes shall give light; six which are upon the six branches, the three that are Eastward, having the wickes in them turned towards the middlemost; and so the three that are Westward, having the tops of the wickes towards the middlemost. This Law God briefly gave before in Exodus 25. 37.

4 Ver. 4. And this worke] or, And this was the worke of the Candlestick; or of the Light vessell. The making hereof is described in Exod. 25. 31-39. and 37. 17. 24. beaten worke] in Greeke, strong (or solid,) meaning, it was sound, not hollow, beaten with the hammer out of one peece, not of many peeces; understanding the whole Candlestick with the branches, bowles, knops, and flowers. But the Lampes were made apart, (as were the tongs and snuffe dishes) Ex. 37. 23. and were set upon the tops of the seven branches. So Chazkuni noteth on Ex. 25. that the lampes were vessels by themselves, and might be removed from the branches.

unto the shaft, &c.] that is, both the shaft and the flower (which the Chaldee calleth Lili, and the Greeke Lilies) were of beaten worke. This Sol Larchi expoundeth thus, as if hee should say, the body of the Candlestick all of it, and all that pertaineth thereto. Maimony in Beth babehirah (or treatise of the Temple) chap. 3. describeth the manner of the Candlestick thus; that it had foure bowles (or cups) and two knops, and two flowers in the branch of the Candlestick, Exodus 25. 34. and moreover a third flower was next to the shaft of the Candlestick, Numbers 8. 4. And it had three feet. And three other knops were on the branch of the Candlestick, from which knops there proceeded six branches, three on the one side, and three on the other: and in every of them branches were three bowles, and a knop, and a flower, and all made like Almonds. So there were in all, two and twenty bowles, and nine flowers, and eleven knops. And they all were requisite, so that if there wanted one of these two and forty, it hindered all the rest. The bowles were like the cups of Alexandria, wide at the mouth, and narrow at the buttome. The knops were like the apples (or beads) of leeks, somewhat long like an egge. The flowers were like the flowers of Anmudims, which are like a dish whose lip is doubled on the outside. The height of the Candlestick were eighteen hand bredths [that is three cubits.] The feet and the flower were three hand-bredths: then two hand-bredths smooth, then a hand-bredth wherein was a bowle, a knop, and a flower. Then two hand-bredths smooth, and then a hand-bredth knop; and out of it issued two branches, one on this side, and another on that, which went up as high as the Candlestick. Then an hand-bredth smooth, and an hand-bredth knop, with two branches issuing out of it as high also as the Candlestick. Then an hand-bredth smooth, and an hand-bredth knop, with two branches issuing from it as high as the Candlestick. Then two hand-bredths smooth, so there remained three hand-bredths, wherein were three bowles, a knop, and a flower. And there was a stone before the Candlestick, wherein were three steps, on which the Priest stood and trimmed the Lampes; and upon it be set downe the vessell of oyle, and the tongs, and the snuffe dishes, when hee trimmed the Lampes. Other things touching the manner of trimming them, and the measure of oyle in every one, are noted on Exod. 27. 21. This Candlestick figured the Law of God shining in the Tabernacle of his Church, with the oyle of grace, in the seven lampes which are the seven spirits of God, Revel. 4. 5. The Commandement is a Lampe, and the Law a light, Proverbes 6. 23. so is the prophetical word, as a light shining in a darke place, 2 Pet. 1. 19. And as the Candlestick was of solid beaten worke and the oyle of beaten olive, Levit. 24. 2. so is the preaching and practise of the Law, laborious & with much affliction, 2 Tim. 1. 8. and 2. 3. And the worke of Christ, and of his Ministers, was signified by the Priests continuall ordering & trimming of these lamps; & the lighting of one Lamp from another, shewed the opening and inlightning of one place of Scripture by another; and the middle Lamp: lighted from the fire of the Altar, signified that the fountaine of all light & knowledge commeth from Christ, who hath the seven spirits of God, Rev. 3. 1. figured by the seven lamps of fire, Revel. 4. 5. The variety of cups, knops and flowers, taught the sundry things that are in the Scriptures, histories, precepts, prophecies, parables, &c. And as seven is the number of perfection: so by the seven branches & lamps, the full perfection of the Scriptures is shewed, which are able to make us wise unto salvation, through the faith which is in Christ Iesus; and perfect, thoroughly furnished unto every good worke, 2 Tim. 3. 15. 16. 17. This Candlestick, might also be a figure of the Church, shining as lights in the world, and holding forth the word of life, Phil. 2. 15. 16. (as the seven golden Candlesticks, in Revel. 1. 20. were the seven Churches in Asia, in the midst of which, Christ our great high Priest walked to order their light, and to powre the oyle of his grace into their lamps:) which Church is in nature one in Christ, though it hath many particular Churches, as branches out of one stock; the chiefe branch whereof was the Church of Israel; from whose light we all receive light, they having first received the Oracles of God. See Rom. 3. 2. and 11. 16. 17. 18. &c. 2 Pet. 1. 19. So the state of the Church by the word & spirit of God is set forth by a vision of the Candlestick, whose lamps are filled with oyle from two olive trees, Zach. 4. Rev. 11. and Iohn the Baptist a preacher of the word of grace, is called a burning and shining lamp, Ioh. 5. 35. the patterne] Hebr. the shew or vision, appearance, that is, the patterne shewed, as Exod. 25. 40. This teacheth that no other ground or forme of doctrine, or of the Church, is to be brought in, than that which is shewed of God, 2 Tim. 1. 13. 1 Tim. 1. 3. 4. & 3. 15. Mat. 28. 20. Eccl. 12. 11. 12.

6 Vers. 6. Levites] the residue of the tribe of Levi, besides the Priests, whose consecration is described in Levit. 8. unto whom the other Levites were adjoynded to assist them in the service of Gods Sanctuary, as was signified before, in Numb. 3. 6. &c. but their consecration is shewed in this chapter. from among the sinners] hereupon the Levites, as in office, so in name are distinguished from the other Israelites, as are also the Priests from the Levites, 1 Chron. 9. 2. the Israelites, the Priests, the Levites, and the Neibinims. cleanse them] or purifie them, after the manner following. This though it were the duty of all the people, to be clean and pure when they came to the Sanctuary, 2 Chron. 23. 19. 2 Cor. 7. 1. yet in speciall manner it belonged to the ministers, which did bear the vessels of the Lord, Esay 52. 11. Ezr. 6. 20. so the Apostles among other graces whereby they approved themselves as the ministers of God, nameth one to be by purenesse, 2 Cor. 6. 4. 6.

7 Vers. 7. Sin-water] that is, the water of purification from sinne, which was made with the ashes of an heiffer, wherof the Law is after given in Num. 19. As the sacrifice that maketh expiation for sin, is called the sin (offring); so this purifying water is called the water of sinne, which the Greeke expoundeth the water of purification. And this water sprinkled on the uncleane, sanctified to the purifying of the flesh: but figured the blood of Christ, which purgeth the conscience from dead works, to serve the living God, Heb. 9. 13. 14. all their flesh] in Greeke, all their body, that is, shave off all their haire; which was another signe of purification, as in the cleansing of the Leper, he shaved off all his haire, Levit. 14. 8. 9. and in the cleansing of the polluted Nazarite, Numb. 6. 9. So the Levites which were in themselves as lepers, that is, sinners, are cleansed through faith in Christ. their clothes] their garments; an other rite is used in purifying the uncleane, Exod. 19. 10. Levit. 14. 9. and 15. 5. By these three rites were signified the purifying from sinne of all sorts, inward and outward; from all filthinesse of the flesh and spirit, 2 Cor. 7. 1. of the heart and conscience, of the body, and of the conversation, Heb. 10. 22. Which purenesse is in speciall required of the ministers, whom the Lord taketh for his service, as he did the Priests and Levites, Esay 66. 21. and generally of all Christians, called also the Priests and Ministers of God, Esay 61. 6. Revel. 1. 6. whose garments are washed and made white in the blood of the Lamb (Christ) that they may serve him day and night in his Temple, Revel. 7. 9. 14. 15. and cleanse] or, purifie themselves, by repentance and faith in God; without which all outward rites availed nothing. Or, cleanse themselves by washing their bodies in water, as did other uncleane persons, Levit. 14. 8. and 15. 5. so the Chaldee called Ionathans, expoundeth it of cleansing in water. The Greeke translateth, and they shall be pure.

Vers. 8. youngling of the herd] or, young ox, of the second yeare: see the notes on Exod. 29. 1. where the like was brought for the Priests. This was for a Burn-offring, to make atonement for the Levites, verse 12. and as Chazkuni here observeth, for the consecration of their service. The former cleansings were to take away sinne: these sacrifices after, were also to reconcile them unto God in Christ, whom all sacrifices figured, Heb. 9. 12. and 10. 5. 10. his Meat-offring] speaking as of a thing knowne: now the ordinary Meate-offering for a bullock, was three tenth deales of fine flour mingled with oyle, and for a drinke-offring, halfe an Hin of wine, Num. 28. 12. 14. See the annotations there. And of the Meat-offring, see Lev. 2. a second bullocke] that is, an other bullocke, which though it is the second here named, yet was it first offred, ver. 12. Lev. 8. 14. 18. and 14. 19. And no bullock was offered for sin, save the sin of the high Priest, or of the congregation, Lev. 4. 3. 13. 14. 22. 23. & the Levites now take for al the first-born of Israel, offred such a sinoffring as the whole cōgregation should.

Vers. 9. the whole] or, all the congregation, because the thing concerned them all to know and to approve, the Levites being now taken in stead of their first-borne, verse 18. 19. So all the congregation

Congregation was assembled at the Consecration of the Priests, Levit. 8. 3. 4.

10 Verſ. 10. the ſonnes of Iſrael] that is, ſome of the chiefe of them, (as the firſt-borne) in the name of the reſt, ſhall lay or impoſe hands on the Levites: which rite was kept at the ordination of officers, both in the Old Teſtament and in the New, Act. 6. 6. and 13. 3. Chazkuni here expoundeth it thus, The ſonnes of Iſrael, that is, the firſt-borne which were in Iſrael; for the Levites gave an atonement for them; and every firſt-borne layed on (hands) on (the Levite) that was for him. This ordinance fitted the preſent buſineſſe, for the Levites being taken to ſerve the ſervice of the ſonnes of Iſrael, and in ſtead of every firſt-borne, and to make atonement for them, verſe 18. 19. and offered by them, verſe 11. they were by this ſigne, to put the charge and ſervice of the Church upon them, and to conſecrate them unto God in their name. And herein they figured the Church of Chriſt, called the generall aſſembly and Church of the firſt-borne, which are written in Heaven, Heb. 12. 23.

11 Verſ. 11. wave the Levites] this waving the Greeke expoundeth ſeparate; which word is uſed for the miniſters of Chriſt; as Separate me Barnabas and Saul, for the worke wherunto I have called them, Act. 13. 2. ſo in Rom. 1. 1. And here in verſe 14. God ſaith, thou ſhalt ſeparate the Levites. But waving is uſed for offering, as the ſacrifices that were waved or moved to and fro; whereby the troubles and afflictions of the miniſters of God were figured: ſee the annotations on Exod. 29. 24. 27. Wave-offring] in Greeke, a gift. So the miniſters of the Church are called gifts, Eph. 4. 8. 11. to ſerve the ſervice] in Greeke, to worke (or doe) the workes of the Lord; ſo in verſe 15. This phraſe the Apoſtle uſeth, hee worketh the worke of the Lord, as I alſo doe, 1 Cor. 6. 10. ſo of the Priests and Levites, he ſaith, that they did worke (that is, miniſter, or ſerve about) the holy things, 1 Cor. 9. 13.

12 Verſ. 12. the head] that is, the heads of the bullocks, as the Greeke tranſlateth: but called head, becauſe it was to be done on each of them ſeverally: ſo Chazkuni explaineth it, on the head of every one of the bullocks. By this rite they teſtified their faith in Chriſt (figured by theſe ſacrifices) from whom they expected forgiveness of finnes, and ſanctification unto the worke of their miniſtery. make thou] in Greeke, thou ſhalt make, that is, offer to God by the hands of Aaron the Prieſt. to make atonement] this ſheweth the unworthineſſe of all fleſh, to miniſter before God, untill reconciliation be made for their finnes by Chriſt. So Paul ſheweth mans inſufficiencie (or unworthineſſe) for ſuch things, and ſheweth our ſufficiencie to be of God, 1 Cor. 2. 16. & 3. 5. 6.

13 Verſ. 13. ſhalt ſet] or, ſhalt preſent, ſhalt make to ſtand, as a ſigne that they were given to him and his ſonnes; as in verſe 19.

14 Verſ. 14. ſhall be mine] which the Chaldee explaineth, ſhall be miniſters before me. See the notes on Numb. 16. 9.

15 Verſ. 15. to ſerve the Tent] in Greeke, to doe the the workes of the Tent: this is explained in ver. 19.

to ſerve the ſervice of the ſonnes of Iſrael in the Tent. A like phraſe in Ezek. 48. 18. 19. to ſerve the citie: and in 2. Chron. 24. 18. they ſerved the groves. and wave them] in Gr. and give them before the Lord. This is the third time that the waving of the Levites is commanded, Sol. Iarchi ſaith, that the firſt (in verſ. 11.) reſpected the Kaathites; the ſecond (in v. 13.) was for the Gershonites; and this third for the Aſerarites.

16 Verſ. 16. are given, are given] that is, as the Greeke tranſlateth, they are a gift given; or, the doubling of the word meaneth, they are wholly given: and the gift confirmed, and now preſently they were to be employed in Gods ſervice; ſee Gen. 41. 32. Giving is ſometime uſed for confirming, as, Thou haſt given thy people, 1 Cor. 17. 22. which is the ſame that Thou haſt confirmed thy people, 2 Sam. 7. 24. So in Eſay 33. 16. his bread ſhall be given, his waters ſhall be ſure. Chazkuni applieth it thus, Given of the ſonnes of Iſrael unto God, and given of God unto Aaron: Sol. Iarchi referreth it to their divers workes, given for the bearing (of the Tabernacle) girth for the ſing: as in 1 Chron. 25. ſuch as open] Hebr. the opening of every ramble: whereof ſee Exod. 13. 2. this is explained after, to mean the firſt borne. unto me] or, for me: which the Chaldee expoundeth for my ſervice.

17 Verſ. 17. the day that I ſmite] in Chaldee, the day that I killed: by day, comprehending the night alſo, as in Gen. 1. where the day conſiſteth of evening and morning; for properly the firſt borne of Egypt were ſmitten at midnight, Exod. 12. 29. I ſanctified them] as is to be ſeene in Exod. 13. 2. 12. 13. The prerogative of the firſt-borne, was from the beginning before the ſmiting of the Egyptians, Gen. 25. 31. and 49. 3. but upon that deliverance in Egypt, the ordinance was renewed: that they might know the heavenly birth-right ſhould be of grace, not by nature, Jam. 1. 18. and obtained through faith in the blood of the Lambe Chriſt, Heb. 11. 28. & 12. 16. 17. 23. Rev. 14. 4. 5. So the firſt-borne, & the Levites taken in their ſtead, were figures of the Eleſt, whom God of his grace hath choſen out of many, unto himſelfe.

19 Verſ. 19. as given] in Greeke, a gift given to Aaron: who being a figure of Chriſt, theſe Levites (in ſtead of the firſt-borne) figured the Eleſt children given of God the father unto Chriſt, Job. 17. 6. 9. 11. Hebr. 2. 13. to ſerve the ſervice] in Greeke, to doe the workes of the ſonnes of Iſrael; that is, which the firſt-borne of Iſrael ſhould have done themſelves, and not the Levites beene taken for them. to make atonement for the ſonnes of Iſrael] this the Levites did, not by offering ſacrifices for the peoples finnes, (which was done by the Priests only) but by their other ſervice in the Tent; which being performed according to the will of God, he was pleaſed with the people, and ſent no plague upon them, either for neglect of his ſervice, or for doing it amiſſe: and this the words following doe confirme, that there bee no plague among the ſonnes of Iſrael, &c. Thus Phineas, when hee had killed the Whoremongers, whereupon the Plague was ſtayed from the Iſraelites, is ſaid to have made atonement for the sonnes of Israel, Numb. 25. 7. 8. 13. no plague] which the Chaldee expoundeth, no death. into the Sanctuary] Hebr. into the Holinesse; that is, the place and things of Holinesse, which the Greeke translatheth, the Holies. Vnto which if they came neere, and should performe the worke amisse, they were in danger of death, as there bee examples in Nadab and Abihu, Levit. 10. 1. 2. in Vzzah, 1 Chron. 13. 10. and the like. Chazkuni explaineth it thus; If all the first-borne should have served, there might have beene a plague amongst them. For the father of a first-borne perhaps was no first-borne himselfe, nor his fathers father, neither were they inured with the service: so when (the sonne) came to serve, hee should have no experience or skill therein; and doing that which was not meet, hee should bee plagued, as wee find in Nadab and Abihu. But the Levites when they were chosen, they and their sonnes, and their sonnes sonnes throughout their generations, they were inured and instructed in the service to doe as was meet. And therefore the Scripture saith, The Levite shall have no part nor inheritance, &c. (Deut. 18. 1) that they might not imploy themselves in any worke, save in the service of the Sanctuary: lest if he should learne his hands profane worke, his armes and fingers should thereby become hard, and unfit to be applied to minister on the Psalterie, Harpe, &c.
Eccc 3 for

20 Verſ. 20. Then did Moses] Hebr. And Moses did, &c. Moses set; or presented the Levites, verſe 13. Aaron waved them, verſe 11. and the sonnes of Israel laid their hands on them, verſe 10. every one his worke as God had commanded.

21 Verſ. 21. purified themselves] from sinne, as the originall word implieth; the outward rite whereof, was by sprinkling the sinne water upon them, verſe 7. waved them] the Greeke saith, gave them for a gift: see verſe 11. made atonement] by offering their sacrifices, verſe 12.

22 Verſ. 22. to serve their service] in Greeke, to minister their ministry (or liturgie.)

24 Verſe 24. from twenty five yeeres old] Hebr. from a sonne of twenty five yeeres: so in verſe 25. In Num. 4. 3. it was said, from thirty yeeres old: there hee spake of their entrance upon their full administration; here, of their beginning to learne the service: see the notes on Num. 4. 3. bee shall] that is, every of them shall; as the Greeke translatheth, they shall goe in: so in verſe 25. to war the warfare] in Greeke, to minister the ministry (or liturgie.) Why their service is called a warfare, see Numb. 4. 3. 23.

25 Verſ. 25. from the age] Hebr. from a sonne of fifty yeeres. bee shall returne] that is, every of them shall returne, or cease; in Greeke, shall depart from the liturgie, and shall not worke any more. Meaning of the hard labour in bearing the Sanctuary; but not of other ministration, as the next verſe sheweth. Maimony (in treat. of the Implements of the Sanctuary, chap. 3. sect. 8.) saith, That which is spoken in the Law of the Levites, From fifty yeeres old, bee shall returne, &c. is not meant but for the time that they carried the Sanctuary from place to place; and it is not a commandement of force in the generations (following.) But in the ages (following) a Levite was not disallowable by yeeres, neither by blemishes, but by voyce, when his voyce failed through much age, hee was disabled from serving in the Sanctuary. And it seemeth to mee, that hee is not disallowable, save for singing the song, but hee might be of the Porters.

Verſ. 26. the charge] or, the custodie, the watch or ward; in Greeke, the custodies. not serve the service] in Greeke, not worke the worke. This the Hebrewes (as Sol. Iarebi and Chazkuni on this place) expound to bee the service of bearing (the holy things) on the shoulders; but hee was to keepe the charge, to encampe round about the Tent; and to sing, and to beware that no stranger came into the Tabernacle. Hereby God taught, that his Ministers should be both for yeeres and graces, fitted for the worke wherein they are imployed; and no longer continued therein, than they have ability to performe their duty, but imployed in more easie service.

CHAP. IX.

1, Passeeover is commanded againe to be kept in the first moneth, 5 and so it was. 6, Upon occasion of some that were uncleane, and could not keepe it, a second Passeeover is allowed in the second moneth, for them that were before uncleane or absent, 13, but not for others. 15. The cloud that covered the Tabernacle, guideth the removings and encampings of the Israelites.

1 ANd Iehovah spake unto Moses in the Wildernesse of Sinai, in the second 1
yeare after they were gone out from 2
the land of Egypt, in the first moneth, say- 3
ing; And let the sonnes of Israel doe the 4 Passeeover in his appointed season. In the 5 fourteenth day in this moneth, between the 6
two Evenings, yee shall doe it in his appointed 7 season: according to all the statutes of 8
it, and according to all the judgements of 9
it, yee shall doe it. And Moses spake unto 10
the sonnes of Israel to doe the Passeeover. 11
And they did the Passeeover in the first 12
moneth, in the fourteenth day of the moneth, 13
betweene the two evenings, in the Wilder- 14
nesse of Sinai: according to all that Iehovah 15 commanded Moses, so did the sons of Israel.

9 And there were men who were uncleane 9
by the soule of a man, that they could not 10
do the Passeeover in that day: and they came 11
neere before Moses, and before Aaron in 12 that day. And those men said unto him, 13
Wee are uncleane by the soule of a man. 14
wherefore are wee kept backe, that we may 15
not offer the oblation of Iehovah in his appointed season among the sonnes of Israel?

And

8 And Moses said unto them, Stand still, and I will heare what Iehovah will command concerning you.

9 And Iehovah spake unto Moses, saying;
10 Speake unto the sons of Israel, saying; Any man when he shall be uncleane by a soule, or 11 be in a journey a farre off of you, or of your generations; yet hee shall doe the Passeeover unto Iehovah. In the second moneth, in the 12 fourteenth day, betweene the two evenings, they shall doe it: with unleavened cakes and bitter herbs shall they eat it. They shall not
13 let ought remaine of it untill the morning; and they shall not breake a bone thereof: according to every statute of the Passeeover they shall doe it. But the man that is cleane, 14 and is not in a journey, and forbeareth to do the Passeeover; even that soule shall bee cut off from his peoples: because hee offered not the oblation of Iehovah in his appointed season, that man shall beare his sinne. And if
15 a stranger shall sojourne with you, and will doe the Passeeover unto Iehovah, according to the statute of the Passeeover, and according to the judgement thereof, so shall hee doe: yee shall have one statute, both for the stranger, and for the home-borne of the land.

16 And in the day, that the Tabernacle was reared up, the cloud covered the Tabernacle, even the Tent of the Testimonie: and in the evening there was upon the Tabernacle, as the appearance of fire, untill the morning.
17 So it was continually, the cloud covered it: and the appearance of fire by night. And when the cloud was taken up from off the Tent; then after that, the sonnes of Israel journeyed: and in the place where the cloud abode, there encamped the sons of Israel.

18 At the mouth of Iehovah the sonnes of Israel journeyed; and at the mouth of Iehovah they encamped: all the dayes that the cloud abode upon the Tabernacle, they encamped.

19 And when the cloud tarried long upon the Tabernacle, many dayes; then the sons of Israel kept the charge of Iehovah, and journeyed not. And it was when the cloud was a few dayes upon the Tabernacle, according to the mouth of Iehovah they encamped; and according to the mouth of Iehovah they journeyed. And it was when the cloud was from evening untill morning, and the cloud was taken up in the morning, then they journeyed, either by day or by night, when the cloud was taken up, then 22 they journeyed. Or two dayes or a moneth, or a yeere of dayes, when the cloud tarried long upon the Tabernacle, abiding upon it; the sonnes of Israel encamped and journeyed not: but when it was taken up they journeyed. At the mouth of Iehovah they encamped; and at the mouth of Iehovah they journeyed; they kept the charge of Iehovah, at the mouth of Iehovah, by the hand of Moses.

Annotations.

IN the first moneth.] This Commandement to keep the Passeeover, was in time before the numbering and ordering of the tribes, mentioned in the former part of this booke: for that was commanded in the first day of the second moneth, Num. 1.1.2. Whereupon the Hebrewes (as Sol. Iarchi here) doe observe, that there is no order of former and latter in the Law; but things done after, are sometimes set before. The reason why it is mentioned here, is because of the second Passeeover kept the 14. day of the second moneth, verse 17. which was after the foresaid muster, after the dedication of the Altar, and ordination of the Levites. And the cause why God commanded them to keepe the Passeeover in the Wildernesse, was for that by the first institution they were bound to keepe it, when they come into the land of Canaan, Exod. 12. 25. and therefore without speciall warrant, they would not have kept it in the desert: neither kept they any moe but this, till they came into the land, Ios. 5.

Verf. 2. doe the Passeeover] that is, keepe, offer, or sacrifice the Passeeover, called in Hebrew Pesach, in Greeke Pascha; so named because the Lord when he smote all the first-borne in the houses of the Egyptians, passed over the houses of the Israelites (whose doore-posts were sprinkled with the lambs blood) and slew not their first-borne. Hereupon the Lord appointed a yeerely feast in remembrance thereof, which should continue till Christ came, who is our Passeeover (or Paschal Lambe) sacrificed for us, in whom we keepe the feast in spirit and truth, 1 Cor. 5. 7. 8. See the annotations on Exod. 12. in his appointed season] every fourteenth day of the first moneth, as verf. 3. which the Greeke here calleth the house thereof; and in verse 3. the season thereof, and the Hebrewes expaine it, though it be on the Sabbath. So all the feasts in Israel were to be kept at the times appointed of God, Levit. 23. 4. &c. Therefore Ieroboam keeping the feast of Tabernacles in the eighth moneth, which God had appointed in the seventh, Levit. 23. 34. it is said to be the moneth which hee had devised of his owne heart, 1 King. 12. 32. 33.

Verf. 3. betweene the two evenings] that is, in the afternoone; Sol. Iarchi (on Exodus 12) saith, from the first house (which is at mid-day) and upward, it is called betweene the two evenings, for that the Sunne inclineth towards his going downe, &c. between the evening of the day, and the evening of the night: the evening of the day is in the beginning of the seventh houre, and the evening of the night, is when the night beginneth. See the notes on Exod. 12. 6. where the houres of killing the Paschever are observed. It figured the time of Christs coming, in these last dayes, Hebr. 1. 1. 2. as towards the evening of the world, and the houre of his death, which was the ninth houre, that is, three a clocke in the afternoon, Matth. 27. 46--50. all the statutes]

that is, all the rites and ordinances prescribed, which the Greeke translateth the Law thereof: So in Exod. 12. 43. where it is shewed who were to eat the Paschever. the judgements]

this the Hebrewes referre to the unleavened cakes which were to be eaten with it, and seven dayes after; also to the putting away of Leaven, &c. Exod. 12. 8. 15. &c. But here are to be accepted the speciall rites which belonged onely to the first Paschever in Egypt, as the sprinkling of their posts with blood, the eating of it standing, &c. of which see the annotations on Exod. 12. 6. 7. 11.

4 Verf. 4. to doe] that is, to keepe (or offer) the Paschever, as ver. 2. This was for the sanctification of the whole Church in their persons; as the Priests and Levites were before sanctified to their ministries.

6 Verf. 6. by the soule] the soule is here put for the body; and that dead, as often other-where; see Levit. 19. 28. and Numb. 5. 2. sometime the Scripture explaineth it, calling it a dead soule, Num. 6. 6. The Chaldee, Greeke, and Latine, keepe the Hebrew phrase. They that were uncleane by the dead, were uncleane seven dayes, Numb. 19. 11. and such might not come into the Lords Sanctuary, Numb. 5. 2. nor eat of the holy things, Levit. 7. 20. Hereupon they came to Moses and Aaron, to inquire what they should doe: for unto them the Law touching the uncleane was commanded, Levit. 11. 1.

7 Verf. 7. wherefore are wee kept backe] the Greeke explaineth it, shall wee be kept backe (or deprived?) A religious demand how they could performe their duty unto God, being in their legall pollution. the oblation of Iehovah] the Paschever is so called, as being commanded by the Lord, and kept unto his honour; and it is called a sacrifice, Exod. 12. 27. The Greeke translateth it, a gift unto the Lord. So Korban, an Oblation, is by the Holy Ghost interpreted, a gift, Mat. 7. 11.

8 Verf. 8. Stand still] or, Stay: which the Chaldee explaineth, Tarry till I beare. A religious answer, signifying that he might doe nothing without word from the Lord: so Christ spake not, neither did any thing of himselfe; but spake things as his father taught him, Ioh. 7. 16. 17. and 8. 28. From this, and other the like examples of Moses, Ionathan in his Chaldee paraphrase on this place, saith, That the Iudges of the Sanhedrin (or courts) should not bee ashamed to aske concerning the judgement which is too hard for them; for Moses who was the Master of Israel, had need to say, I have not beard.

Verf. 10. Any man] Hebr. Man man; that is, whosoever; and by man understand the woman also. Ionathan expoundeth it, young man or old man, when he shall] or, though he be uncleane. by a soule]

the Greeke and Chaldee adde the soule of a man, meaning a dead man, as verfe 6. and so Ionathan explaineth it, by pollution of a man which is dead. This one kind of uncleanness, seemeth to be named for all other that continued any number of dayes, so the Hebrewes understand it. *Who is the uncleane that is put off to the second Paschever? Whosoever may not eat the Paschever in the fifteenth night of (the first moneth) Nisan, because of his uncleanness: as men or women that have running issues (Levit. 15.) the menstruous and women in child-bed, and men that be with the menstruous. But who so toucheth a dead beast, or creeping thing, or the like, in the fourteenth day; hee is to wash, and they kill (the Paschever) for him after hee is washed; and in the evening when his soune is set, hee eateth the Paschever. [The reason hereof is, that such uncleanness by the Law, continued but till the evening; so that having washed himselfe, he was cleane at even, and might eat, Levit. 11. 24. 25.] Hee that is uncleane by a dead man, and his seventh day [which is the day of his cleansing, Numb. 19. 11. 12.] beginneth to be on the fourteenth day (of the first moneth;) though hee wash and be sprinkled (with the purifying water, Numb. 19. 19.) so that hee is fit to eat the holy things at evening; yet they kill not (the Paschever) for him, but hee is put off to the second Paschever, Num. 9. 6. 11. wee have bene taught by tradition that it was their seventh day (who then came unto Moses and Aaron;) and hereupon they asked if (the Paschever) should be killed for them, and they should eat at evening; and it was told them that they should not kill for them. But hereby is meant, when hee is defiled with such uncleanness, as a Nazarite is to shave himselfe for it (Numb. 6. 9.) for if hee be defiled with other uncleanness by the dead, such as the Nazarite shaveth not himselfe for; then they kill for him in his seventh day, after that hee is washed and sprinkled, and when his Soune is set, hee eateth the Paschever. They kill not for the menstruous in her seventh day, because shee is not washed till the eighth night, and so shee is not fit to eat the holy things, untill the ninth night. Who so searcheth in a well to find a dead body, they kill not (the Paschever) for him, lest hee find the dead there in the well, and so hee uncleane at the killing time. If they have killed for him, and hee find not the dead there, then hee may eat it at evening, &c. Maimony in Korban Pesach. chap. 6. f. 1. &c. *a journey]

or, a way farre off. The Hebrew of this word farre off, hath extraordinary pricks over it, for speciall consideration. Hereby the Lord might signifie that wee Gentiles which were uncleane, even dead in trespasses and sinnes, and farre off, Ephes. 2. 1. 13. should be made nigh by the blood of Christ, and so partakers of him the second Paschever, who now is sacrificed for us, 1 Cor. 5. 7. But touching this legall ordinance, the Hebrewes say, What is this journey farre off? Fifteene miles without the walls of Ierusalem, [and so by proportion fifteene miles from the Campe of Israel.] Who so is distant from Ierusalem

Ierusalem, on the 14. day (of the first moneth) when the Sunn: riseth, 15. miles or moe; loe this is a journey farre off: if lesse than this, hee is not in a journey farre off, for hee may be come to Ierusalem by after mid-day, though hee goe on foot easily, Maimony in Korban Pesach. ch. 5. sect. 8. 9.

your generations] that is, your posterity hereafter: so this was not a temporary Law, but perpetuall.

11 Verſ. 11. In the second moneth] of this second Pasſeover the Hebrewes say; It is a commandement by it ſelfe, and therefore to be done even on the Sabbath: for the second is no recompence for the first, but is a feast by it ſelfe; therefore they are guilty of cutting off ſot the breath of it. Maimony in Korban Pesach, chap. 5. sect. 1. betweene the two evenings] in Greeke, towards evening; see verſe 3. unleavened cakes] which figured ſincerity and truth, 1 Cor. 5. 8. See the annotations on Exod. 12. 8. Sol. Iarchi here ſaith, There is no prohibition of Leaven, ſave with it when it is eaten. But hee might have leavened bread with him in the houſe. Otherwiſe than at the first Pasſeover, Exod. 12. 15. 19. which therefore needeth further inquiry. bitter herbs] Hebrew, bitterneſſes: the Latine verſion counted Hieroms, expoundeth it wilde lettices; which are ſaid to be bitter in taſte. Dioſcorid. lib. 2. chap. 166. though it is not to be reſtrained to that herbe onely; ſee the annotations on Exod. 12. 8. So the Greeke tranſlateth it Picridoon, which are herbs of bitter taſte, as wild cichorie and endive. See Exod. 12. 46. The Hebrew Doctores ſay, that for breaking a bone a man was to bee beaten. But he is not guilty, ſave for breaking a bone, whereupon ſome fleſh is, or whereon is ſome marrow. For breaking any other bone hee is not guilty. But if there bee any fleſh upon it, though hee breake the bone in any other place than where the fleſh is; hee is guilty; altho though that place of the bone where hee breaketh it bee bare without fleſh. Alſo hee that breaketh it after another hath broken it, is to bee beaten. Maimony in Korban Pesach, chap. 10. sect. 1. 3. 4. every ſtatute of the Pasſeover] in Greeke, The Law of the Paſcha. This ſeemeth to be meant of the first Pasſeover, the Law whereof is given in Exodus 12. Howbeit here, the Hebrewes have their exceptions and differences, but how warrantable, I leave to bee conſidered. What differeth (ſay they) the second Pasſeover from the first? At the first there is a prohibition that no leaven bee ſeene or found (in their houſes) neither may it bee killed with leaven (in them:) neither may they carry any of it out of the company: and they muſt uſe the Prayſe (or hymne) in the eating of it: and doe bring with it the Chagigah (or Feaſt-offering ſpoken of in Deut. 16. 2.) And it may bee kept in uncleauneſſe, if the moſt part of the Church be uncleane

by the dead. But the second Pasſeover, may have leavened and unleavened bread with it in the houſe: and they are not bound to uſe the hymne in the eating of it: and they may carry it out of the houſe where it is eaten: neither bring they the Chagigah with it: neither may it bee kept in uncleauneſſe. But both of them put away the Sabbath (that is, are to be kept even on the Sabbath day) and the prayſe (or Hymne) is to be uſed in the doing of them, and they muſt bee eaten roſted in one houſe, with unleavened cakes and bitter herbes: and they muſt not leave ought of them (till the morning) nor breake a bone of them. And why is not the second (Pasſeover) equall to the first in all things, ſeing it is ſaid (in Numbers 9. 12) according to every ſtatute of the Pasſeover they ſhall doe it. Becauſe there are expreſſed in it ſome of the ſtatutes of the Pasſeover: to teach that it is not equall to the first, ſave in the things that are expreſſed concerning it: and they are the commandements concerning the body (or ſubſtance) of it: and they are the ſtatutes of the Pasſeover. For this is a generall rule, that their diſperſion in Egypt, their taking of the Paſchall Lambe on the tenth day, and the charge to ſtrike the blood with a bunch of hyſſope on the upper doore-poſt, and on the two ſide-poſts, and to eaſe it in haſte: they were not things to be obſerved in the generations following, but in the Pasſeover of Egypt onely. Maimony in Korban Pesach, chap. 10. sect. 15. Touching the eating of the Pasſeover by the uncleane (forementioned) thus they ſay of it) and of other the like: All the offerings of the Congregation, their time is ſet, (Leviticus 23.) therefore they all doe put away the Sabbath and uncleauneſſe by the dead. And every oblation of them which is offered in uncleauneſſe, is not eaten; but they burne on the Altar ſuch things thereof as are to be burned thereon, and the reſidue which ſhould bee eaten, are burnt as other holy things that are deſiled, (Leviticus 7. 19.) How doth it put away uncleauneſſe? If the time of that oblation bee come, and the moſt part of the Church that offer it be uncleane by the dead: or if the Church bee cleane, and the Priests that ſhould offer it be uncleane by the dead: or if the people and Priests be cleane, and the miniſtring veſſels be uncleane by the dead: loe then it is performed in uncleauneſſe; and the uncleane and the cleane are employed therein together, and come all of them into the court (of the Sanctuary.) But they are uncleane by other uncleauneſſe, as by running iſſues, &c. or by creeping things, or dead beaſts, and the like; they are not employed thereabout, neither come they into the court; altho though it be performed in uncleauneſſe. And if they tranſgreſſe and doe it, or come into the court, they are guilty of cutting off for committing in; and of death for ſerving: for nothing is put off but uncleauneſſe by the dead (man) onely, &c. Uncleauneſſe by a dead man, is put away concerning the Congregation; as it is written in Numbers 9. 16. And there were men who were uncleane by the ſoule of a man: wee have bene taught by word of mouth that they are particular men which are put off to the ſecond Pasſeover, if they bee uncleane. But if the congregation bee uncleane by the dead, they are not put away, but the uncleauneſſe is put away, and they doe the Pasſeover with uncleauneſſe. And the ſame Law is for every oblation, which hath the time appointed therefore with the Pasſeover, that it putteth away uncleauneſſe. And loe the thing is expressed in the Scriptures, for it is said (in 2 Chron. 30. 17) For there were many in the Church that were not sanctified; therefore the Levites (had the charge) of the killing of the Passovers, for every one that was not cleane, to sanctifie (them) unto the LORD. For a multitude of the people, many of Ephraim and Manasses, Issachar, and Zabulon, had not cleansed themselves. And what is that which is said (in 1 Chron. 30. 18) yet they did eat the Passover otherwise than it was written? Because they made an intercalation of that yeere (that is, added a moneth) because of uncleanness, as it is said (in 2 Chron. 30. 2) And the King consulted, and his Princes, and all the Congregation in Jerusalem, to keepe the Passover in the second moneth; for they could not keepe it at that time, because the Priests had not sanctified themselves sufficiently. And elsewhere I have shewed that they are to make no intercalation of the yeere at all, because of uncleanness. There was also an other thing in that yeer, that King Ezekias made intercalation of the yeere, in the 30. day of Adar (or February) which should have been the beginning of the moneth Nisan (or March) and he made that moneth Adar the second: but the wise men agreed not unto him, for they are to make no intercalation in that day, as I have shewed in the treatise of sanctifying the New Moone. And for these things which hee did not according to the custome, it is said, they did eat the Passover otherwise than it is written. And he besought mercy for himselfe and for the wise men that consented to his doings, as it is said (in 2 Chron. 30. 18, 19.) The good LORD pardon every one, that prepareth his heart, &c. and it is said (in vers 20.) and the LORD hearkned to Ezekias, and healed the people, that their offering was acceptable. Maim. in Biath hammikdash, cap. 4. sect. 10. &c. The same man, in Korban Pesach, ch. 7. writeth thus: Many that are unclean by the dead at the first Passover, if they be the lesser part of the Church, they are put off to the second Passover, as other unclean persons: but if the most of the Church be unclean by the dead, or if the Priests, or the ministering vessels be unclean by pollution of the dead, they are not put off, but doe all of them offer the Passover in uncleanness, the unclean with the cleane. As it is said, And there were men that were unclean, &c. Num. 5. 5. particular persons are put off, and not the congregation; and this thing is for uncleanness by a dead (man) onely. If the Church be halfe of them cleane, and halfe unclean by the dead, they all keepe it in the first (moneth) and the cleane keepe it by themselves in cleanness, and the unclean keepe it by themselves in uncleanness, and doe eat it in uncleanness. And if they that be unclean by the dead, be more than the cleane, though but one, they all keepe it in uncleanness, &c. If the most part of the Church have running issues, be lepers, &c. and the lesser part be defiled by the dead; those that are unclean by the dead, keepe it not in the first (moneth) because they are the lesser part; neither keepe they the second (Passover,) for no particular persons keepe the second, save in the time when the most of the Church have kept the first. If the most part of the Church be unclean by the dead, and the lesser part have running issues, or the like; the unclean by the dead keepe the first (Passover;) and those that have running issues or the like, keepe neither the first nor the second; for there is no keeping of the second Passover, save when the first is brought in cleanness; if the first be kept in uncleanness, there is no second Passover. If a third part of the Church be cleane, and a third part have running issues, or the like, and a third part be unclean by the dead; those that are unclean by the dead, keepe neither the first Passover nor the second: not the first, because they are the lesser part in respect of the cleane, with those that have issues; nor the second, because the lesser part kept the first Passover. How doe they estimate the Passover, to know whether the most of the Church be unclean or cleane? they estimate it not by all that eat; for it may be that 20. are reckoned for one Paschall lamb; and they send it by the hand of one to kill it for them: But they estimate it by all that come to the court (of the Sanctuary;) and whiles they are yet without, before the first company cometh in, they estimate them.

Vers. 13. not in a journey] the Greeke explaineth it, in a far journey, as ver. 10. Here other like necessary and inevitable hindrances are likewise implied, by reason whereof they could not keepe the first Passover, but might the second, or were discharged of both, without sinne or danger: as the Hebrew Doctors note, if a man be forcibly letted, or if he have ignorantly erred, & not offered it in the first (moneth) then he is to bring the Passover in the 14. day of the second moneth. Whoso hath ignorantly erred, or hath bene violently hindred, so that he offered not in the first moneth; if he presumptuously neglected to offer in the second, hee is guilty of cutting off: but if he ignorantly erred, or was violently hindered in the second also, he is free. If he presumptuously neglected to offer in the first, then hee offereth in the second: and if he offer not in the second, though he faileth of ignorance, he is guilty of cutting off; because hee offered not the Lords offering in the appointed time, and neglected presumptuously, Maim. in Korban Pesach. ch. 5. sect. 1. 2. Now for instances, they give these; If a man in a journey bee travelling towards the Sanctuary, and reacheth not thither, because he is hindred by the beasts which hee driveth: or being (come) to Jerusalem, is sore on his feet, that he cannot come to the court (of the Sanctuary) till the time of the offering be past, this is force (or a constrained let.) Ibidem ch. 5. sect. 9. Five men that have the skins of their Paschall lambs mixed together, and there is found a wart [which is a signe of uncleanness] in the skin of one of them; all those lambs are to be carried out to the place of burning; and if they were mixed before their blood was sprinkled on the Altar, the men are bound to keepe the second Passover: but if they were mixed after the sprinkling, they are discharged from keeping the second Passover, Ibidem ch. 3. f. 9. If the owners of a Paschall lambe be defiled, after that the lambe is killed for them; the blood thereof may not be sprinkled on the Altar, and if it be sprinkled it is not acceptable, therefore they are bound to keepe the second Passover, Ibidem chap. 4. sect. 2. CHAP. X.

1, The Lord commandeth to make two ſilver trumpets, and to uſe them for calling of the aſſembly, and for the journeying of the camps, and when they went to warre, and when they offered ſacrifice in their ſolemnities. 11, The cloud riſing, the Iſraelites remove from Sinai to Paran. 14, The order of their march. 29, Hobab is intreated by Moſes not to leave them. 33, The prayer of Moſes at the removing and reſting of the Arke.

1 AND Iehovah ſpake unto Moſes, ſaying; Make unto thee, two trumpets of ſilver; of beaten worke ſhalt thou make them: and they ſhall bee unto thee, for the calling of the aſſembly, and for the journeying of the camps. And they ſhall blow with them; and all the aſſembly ſhall aſſemble themſelves unto thee, at the doore of the Tent of the congregation. And if they blow with one, then the Princes, the heads of the thouſands of Iſrael, ſhall aſſemble themſelves unto thee. And (if yee blow an alarme, then the camps, that encampe on the Eaſt-ſide, ſhall take their journey. And if ye blow an alarme the ſecond time, then the camps, that encampe on the South-ſide, ſhall take their journey: they ſhall blow an alarme for their journeyes. And when yee gather together the Congregation, yee ſhall blow, and ſhall not ſound an alarme. And the ſonnes of Aaron the Priests, ſhall blow with the trumpets; and they ſhall be unto you, for a ſtatute for ever, throughout your generations. And if yee goe to warre in your land, againſt the diſtreſſer that diſtreſſed you; then yee ſhall ſound an alarme with the trumpets, and ye ſhall be remembered before Iehovah your God, and ye ſhall be ſaved from your enemies. And in the day of your gladneſſe, and in your ſolemn feaſts, and in the beginning of your moneths, then ye ſhall blow with the trumpets, over your Burnt-offrings, and over the ſacrifices of your Peace-offerings: and they ſhall be unto you for a memoriall before your God; I, am Iehovah your God.

And it was in the ſecond yeare, in the ſecond moneth, in the twentieth day of the moneth, the cloud was taken up from off the Tabernacle of the Teſtimony. And the ſonnes of Iſrael journeyed, by their journeyes, out of the wilderneſſe of Sinai; and the cloud reſted in the wilderneſſe of Pharan. And they journeyed, at the firſt, at the mouth of Iehovah, by the hand of Moſes. And the ſtandard of the campe of the ſonnes of Iudah, journeyed in the firſt (place) according to their armies: and over his army was Naaſſon the ſonne of Amminadab. And over the army of the tribe of the ſons of Iſſachar, was Nathaneel, the ſon of Zuar. And over the armie of the tribe of the ſons of Zabulon, was Eliab, the ſonne of Helon. And the Tabernacle was taken downe: and the ſons of Gershon, and the ſons of Merari journeyed, bearing the Tabernacle. And the ſtandard of the campe of Reuben journeyed, according to their armies: and over his army was Elizur, the ſonne of Shedeur. And over the army of the tribe of the ſons of Simeon, was Shelumiel, the ſon of Zurishaddai. And over the army of the tribe of the ſons of Gad, was Eliaſaph, the ſon of Deguel. And 21 And the Kohathites journeyed, bearing the 22 Sanctuarie: and they set up the Tabernacle against they came. And the standard of the camp of the sons of Ephraim journeyed, 23 according to their armies; and over his army, was Elishama, the son of Ammihud. And over the armie of the tribe of the sons of Ma-nasses, was Gamaliel, the sonne of Pedahzur.

 24 And over the armie of the tribe of the sons of Benjamin, was Abidan, the son of Gide-25 oni. And the standard of the campe of the sons of Dan journeyed; the rereward
 of all the camps throughout their armies:
 and over his armie, was Ahiezer, the sonne 26 of Ammishaddai. And over the armie of the tribe of the sons of Aser, was Pagiel, the 27 son of Ocran. And over the armie of the tribe of the sonnes of Naphtali, was Ahira, 28 the son of Enan. These were the journeyings of the sons of Israel, according to their armies, when they journeyed.
 29 And Moses said unto Hobab the son of Reguel the Midianite, the father in law of Moses; We are journeying unto the place, of which Iehovah said, I will give it unto you; goe thou with us, and we will doe thee
 good, for Iehovah hath spoken good con-30 cerning Israel. And he said unto him, I will not goe: but unto my land and unto 31 my kinred, I will goe. And he said, Leave us not I pray thee; forasmuch as thou know-est our encamping in the wilderness; and 32 thou maist be to us for eyes. And it shall be, If thou wilt goe with us; yea it shall be,
 that that good, wherewith Iehovah shall doe good unto us, we also will doe good unto 33 thee. And they journeyed from the mountaine of Iehovah, three daies journey:
 and the Arke of the covenant of Iehovah
 journeyed before them, the three daies jour-34 ney, to search out for them a rest. And the cloud of Iehovah was over them by day,
 when they journeyed out of the campe.
 35 And it was, when the Arke journeyed, that Moses said; Rise up, Iehovah, and let thine enemies be scattered; and let them 36 that hate thee, flee from thy face. And when it rested, hee said; Returne Ieho-vah, (unto) the ten thousands thousands of Israel.

 pets, that in Solomons time there were 120. Priests sounding with trumpets, 2 Chron. 5. 12. From which places compared, the Hebrew canons shew, that there never might be in the Sanctuarie at Gods publike worship there, fewer than two trumpets, nor more than 120. Maimony in Cle hammik-dash, ch. 3. sect. 4. of silver] which was the purest metall, and fittest for sound; fit also for sig-nification, for the word of God, and lively graces of his spirit, were figured by these trumpets, as *Esa. 58. 1. and 27. 13. Ezek. 33. 3. Rev. 4. 1. 1 Cor.
 14. 8.* So the Hebrewes say, the trumpets were to be made of silver, if of any other kinde of me-tall, they were unlawfull, Maim. in Cle hammik-dash, ch. 3. sect. 5. The tongue of the just, is as dooife silver, Prov. 10. 20. and, the words of the LORD, are pure words, as silver tried, &c. Psalm. 12. 7.

beaten worke] wrought with the hammer, beaten into a plate, of one whole peece: so the golden Candlesticke was, Exod. 25. 31. It signified the labour of the ministers of God, giving themselves continually to prayer, and to the ministerie of the word, Alt. 6. 4. that the trumpets may give a cleare and certaine sound, for and unto the people.

for the calling] for to call together the congregation. This was the first of the foure speciall uses of these trumpets, when the people rested, to assemble them unto the Lord in his Sanctuarie, for to heare his word, to pray, & to doe him worship.
As, Blow the trumpet in Zion, sanctifie a fast, call a solemn assembly, Gather the people, sanctifie the congregation, &c. Joel. 2. 15, 16. and, Blow the trumpet in the new moone, &c. Psalm. 81. 4. It signified that all the meetings of the Church should be sanctified by the word of God and prayer.

for the journeying] to cause the camps, (that is,
 the people in their camps or tents) to take their journeyes. This was the second use of the trumpets, to sanctifie by their sound, the journeyes & travels of Gods people; that as their rest, so all their motions might be in God, by the conduct of his word and spirit. Thus were there three things to be observed at their removings; the Lords taking up of the cloud, Num. 9. 18. 22. the sound of the trumpets, Num. 10. 2. 5. 6. and the prayer of Moses, Num. 10. 35.

Verse 3. And they] that is, the Priests shall blow,
 as is expressed in vers. 8. The Greeke translateth, thou shalt blow, meaning Moses, by the Priests whom he appointed thereto. with them] with both of them: for when but one was blowne,
 the Princes onely assembled, vers. 4.

F f f f

Verse 4.

4 Verse 4. with one] the Latine translateth it, once: but the Greeke better, with one trumpet-heads] that is, captaines (governours) of thousands; in Greeke, Chiliarchs: see Exod. 18. 21. Thus was there one trumpet for the rulers, and one for the people, that all their assemblies might be in the name, and by the signe of the Lord: and the Governours might have their meeting apart, but not the people without the Governours presence; for whatsoever concerned the people, it belonged also to the Princes with them, in resting or journeying, peace or warre. And all assembled unto Moses the chiefe, and figure of Christ. Heb. 3. 1, 2.

5 Verse 5. And if ye blow] or, And ye shall blow an alarme, and the camps, &c. So after: and thus the Greeke translateth it. an alarme] or, a broken sound; in Hebrew, Trugnab, which is generally any loud broken ringing noise, either with trumpets, as here; or with mens voices and shoutings, as in 1 Sam. 4. 5. and this, either a ioyfull shout, and triumphant noise, as Num. 23. 21. Psal. 47. 6. Ezr. 3. 11, 12. or a mournfull cry, as Jer. 20. 16. See the notes on Levit. 23. 24. This broken sound or alarme, was fittest to stir vp and encourage the mindes of the people to rise and march forward to battell against the Canaanites: as the former continued equall sound, was for their quiet assembling vnto the seruice of God, and hearing of his Law. And unto this difference the Apost'e hath respect, when he saith, If the trumpet give an uncertaine sound, who shall prepare himselfe to the battell? 1 Cor. 14. 8. And therefore also the Greeke here and often otherwhere, translateth it signe, or signification, because by it, the people distinctly perceived what they were to doe. And it signified, how God by his trumpeters the Prophets and Apostles, hath distinctly signified his will unto his Church, for all things needfull, to furnish them unto all good works, 2 Tim. 3. 16, 17. and such should be the teaching of all his Ministers. The Hebrew Doctors have understood the former blowing with an equall continued sound, to be a signe of mercy to Israel; and this alarme or broken sound, to be a signe of judgement against their enemies. R. Menachem on Num. 10. saith, The blowing (of trumpets) signified merces; therefore in the time of assembling the people, he saith, And they shall blow with them, and all the assembly shall assemble themselves unto thee, Num. 10. 3. for the gathering of them is in mercy, as it is written, Returne, O LORD, unto the ten thousand thousands of Israel, Num. 10. 36. Likewise, And he was King in Isuram, when the heads of the people, the tribes of Israel were gathered together, Deuter. 33. 5. But their journeying was an with alarme, Num. 10. 5. because the diuine Majestie went before them; and it is written, Rise up, LORD, and let thine enemies be scattered, Numbers. 10. 35. So the walles of Iericho fell with an alarme (or shout) Iosua 6. 20. because Gods Majestie went before them to consume their enemies, &c. on the East side] which were Indub, Issachar and Zabulon, Num. 2. 3-7.

6 Verse 6. on the South side] Reuben, Simeon, and for their journeyes] or, according to their journeyings; that is, not for these two quarters onely, but for the other also: as Chazkuni observeth, for all the foure camps. Here therefore the Greeke version addeth by way of explanation, And ye shall sound the third alarme, and the camps that encampe towards the West shall take their journey: and ye shall sound the fourth alarme, and the camps that encampe towards the North, shall take their journey. The like is signified also by Fl. Iosephus, in Antiq. Indae. lib. 3. c. 11. Where the Latine version misseth, interpreting Notan, the backe part of the Tabernacle (which was westward,) when it meaneth the South: and the third, east Liba, westward he turneth Southward, when Liba is one of the westerne winds, as sheweth Aul. Gellius, in Noct. Attic. 1. 2. c. 22.

Gad, Num. 2. 10. &c.

8 Vers. 8. a statute for ever] an everlasting ordinance: the outward rite continuing till Christs comming, the spirituall use abiding still for ever; that by the preaching of the word, and prayer, the Ministers of God should guide their people in all their affaires.

9 Vers. 9. ye goe to warre] Hebr. ye come to warre, which the Greeke translateth, come forth. But coming is often used for going: as in Ion. 1. 3. coming (that is, going) to Tharshish, the distresser] in Greeke, the adversaries that resist you. This was the third use of the trumpets, to be sounded in time of warre and tribulation: whereof there be examples in Israels warre against the Midianites, Num. 31. 6. in the Iewes war against the Apostate Israelites, when they said, Behold God is with us, for a captain; and his Priests with sounding trumpets, to cry alarme against you, 2 Chron. 13. 12. and sundry the like. This one distresse of war, is of some thought to be named for all other calamities; as the Hebrew canons declare, saying; It is commanded by the Law, to cry out, and to sound an alarme with trumpets, for every distresse that shall come upon the Congregation; as it is written, Against the distresser, that distresseth you, Num. 10. 9. as if he should say, every thing that shall distresse you, as famine, and pestilence, and locusts, and the like; ye shall cry out for them, and sound an alarme. And this thing belongeth unto repentance; for when distresse cometh, and they cry out because of it, and make an alarme; all doe know, that for their evill deeds, they are afflicted; as it is written, Your iniquities have turned away these things, and your sinnes have withheld good things from you, (Jeremiab 5. 25.) &c. And by the Exposition of our Scribes, we are to humble our selves for every distresse that shall come upon the Congregation, till merces bee stowed from heaven. Maimony in Mishn. tam. 1. in Taanith, or, treat. of Fasts (or Humiliation) chap. 1. sect. 1. &c. with the Trumpets] with which sound, they were also to lift up their voyce in supplication to the Lord, to fast, and pray, as in Joel 2. 15, 17. Blow the Trumpet (or Cornet) in Zion, sanctifie a Fast, call a solemn Assembly, &c. Let the Priests the Ministers of the LORD, wepe betweene the Porch and the Altar; and let them say, Spare thy people, O LORD, &c. So in the warre of Abijah, they cried unto the LORD, and the Priests sounded with the trumpets, and the men of Judah gave a shout, &c. 2 Chron. 13. 14, 15. And Iehosaphat in his warre, proclaimed a fast, and prayed, 2 Chron. 20. 3. 6. &c. The order and manner of such fasts, the Hebrewes describe thus: In these daies of Humiliation, men are to cry out with prayers and supplications, and to sound an alarme with trumpets onely. But if they be in the Sanctuarie, they sound an alarme with trumpets and with cornes; and not with both of them together, save in the Sanctuarie; as it is written, With trumpets and voice of the corne, sound an alarme before the King the LORD, Psalm. 98. 6. These Fasts (or Humiliations) which they have decreed for the Congregation, because of distresses, are not day after day, for the multitude of the congregation cannot continue in so doing. Neither doe they decree the fast to begin, save on the second day of the weeke, and then on the fift day after that, and in the second day (of the weeke) after that againe; and so after this order, on the second day, and the fift, and the second, till mercy be shewed them. They decree no fasts for the congregation, on the Sabbath, or Feast-daies, neither blow they in them with corne or trumpets, nor cry out and make supplications in them; unlesse it be in a Citie that is besieged by beathens, or invaded by a flood, or in a ship ready to be cast away in the sea, &c. Neither decree they that a fast shall begin at the new Moones, or at the Feast of the Dedication of the Temple, or feast of Purim, or in the working day of any solemne feast. But if they have begun the Fast, though but one day, and any of these daies fall out, they fast, and accomplish the day in humiliation. These Fasts which are for distresse, women with child, and that give sucke, and little children fast not. And it is lawfull to eat in the night, when the fast is on the morrow. As the congregation is to fast for their distresse: so is a private man to doe for his; as if he be sicke, or wander in the wilderness, or be imprisoned, he is to humble himselfe, and seeke mercy by prayer (to God.) Every fasting day decreed for the congregation, the Judges and Elders sit in the Synagogue, and make inquirie of the deeds of themen of that Citie, from after morning prayer till mid-day; and remove the stumbling blocks of transgressions; and doe admonish, and inquire, and search concerning injurious persons and transgressors, and separate them; and concerning violent persons, and humble them, &c. These are the distresses, for which the congregation are to fast and sound an alarme. For the enemies of Israel that come against Israel; and for the sword that passeth by the land, as of beathens warring with beathens; and for the pestilence; and for evill beasts; and for Locusts; and for Caterpillers; and for blasting of fruits; and for milderew; and for ruine or downfall of buildings, by earthquake, winds, or the like; and for sicknesses that spread among the people; and for meanes of livelihood failing, to the decay of trading; and for raine, if it be too excessive, or too scarce: Every Citie that is distressed with any of these, is to fast, and sound an alarme, untill the distresse be taken away; and all that are round about that Citie, are to fast, but not to sound an alarme; but to request mercy for them. Ma-

mony in Taanith, ch. 1. & 2. That humiliations in times of distresse, were appointed of God, the Prophet Iool sheweth us, in whose time, Palmer-worms, Locusts, Canker-worms, Caterpillars, walked the fruits of the earth; and drought, as fire & flame, burnt up the pastures, and trees of the field: for which the people were exhorted to fast and pray, which was performed with blowing of trumpets, and sounding alarme, &c. Iol. 1. 4, 5. 13. 14. 19. 20. and 2. 1. 12. 13. 15. 16. &c. yet shall be remembered] the Chaldee explaineth it, the remembrance of you shall come up for good before the Lord. This is a promise of grace, annexed to the signes, the trumpets: for remembrance is sometime for evill, to punish iniquitie, Nebem. 6. 14. Ier. 14. 10. sometime for good, as Neb. 5. 19. and 13. 22. See the notes on Gen. 8. 1. Thus the silver trumpets signified the Ministers dutie, by preaching of the Law, to call men unto repentance for their sinnes, Esa. 58. 1. Ezek. 33. 3. -- 7. 8. Hof. 8. 1. Iol. 2. 1. 15, 16. and to stirre them up to fight the Lords battels against Satan, sinne, Antichrist, &c. 2 Chron. 13. 12, 15. Ier. 51. 27. Iof. 6. 8. Rev. 8. 6, 7, &c. In which battels, the Lord himselfe will be with his people, and blow the trumpet before them, Zach. 9. 14.

Verse 10. day of your gladnesse] in Greeke, daies; one named for all. This is the fourth use of the trumpets, for joy and triumph before the Lord. And by the day of gladnesse (distinguished from the solemne feasts) Baal hatturim understandeth the Sabbath day: or, it may be meant of any extraordinary day of rejoycing for any speciall mercy received, or deliverance from evill. As at the first dedication of Solomons Temple, 3 Chr. 5. 12, 13. also at the returne out of captivitie, and at the foundation of the second Temple, they set the Priests in their apparell with trumpets, &c. and praised the Lord, whose mercy endureth for ever towards Israel, Eze. 3. 10, 11. and likewise at the dedication of the wall of Ierusalem, Nebem. 12. 27. 35.

solemne feasts] the ordinary feasts appointed of God, whereof see Levit. 23. beginnings] called in Greeke New Moones, which were in Israel at the beginning of every moneth, and were among the Solemnities, Num. 28. 11, &c. at which times trumpets and cornets were blowne, as appeareth also by Psalm. 81. 4. with the Trumpets] Afterward God by David and the Prophets ordained other instruments whereon the Levites played, called the instruments of musick of the LORD, 2 Chron. 7. 6. and they were, Psalteries, Harps, Cymbals, 1 Chron. 15. 3, 6. Flutes (or Pipes) and Timbrels, Psalm. 149. 3. David also and the Prophets made Psalmes and Songs, which some of the Levites sung, whiles other played on the instruments, 1 Chron. 25. and 16. 7, 8. &c. And the Hebrewes recording the manner of service in the Temple, say, There might not be fewer than twelve Levites, standing upon the stage every day, to sing the song over the sacrifice alwayes. And they sing the song with mouth, without instrument. There might not be fewer Psalteries than two, nor more than six: not fewer Pipes than two, nor more than twelve: not fewer Trumpets than two, nor more than an hundred and twenty: not fewer Harpes thinnine, but as many more alwaies as they would: and but one Cymbal onely, Maimony tom. 3. in Cle hammikdash, chap. 3. sect. 3, 4. over your Burnt-offrings] a practise of this is shewed in Ezekiahs time; for he set the Levites in the house of the Lord, with Cymbals, with Psalteries and with Harps; according to the commandment of David, and of Gad the Kings Seer, and of Nathan the Prophet, (for the commandment was by the hand of the Lord, by the hand of his Prophets;) and the Levites stood with the instruments of David, and the Priests with the Trumpets. And Ezekiah commanded to offer the Burnt-offering upon the Altar, and when the Burnt-offering began, the Song of the Lord began, with the Trumpets and with the instruments ordained by David King of Israel. And all the Congregation worshipped, and the singers sang, and the trumpeters sounded: all (this continued) untill the Burnt-offering was finished, 2 Chron. 29. 25.—28. So when Solomon sacrificed at the dedication of the Temple; the Levites that were singers, and others with Cymbals, Psalteries and Harps, were arrayed in white linnen, and stood at the East end of the Altar, and with them 120. Priests, sounding with trumpets. And the trumpeters and singers were as one, to make one sound to be heard, in praising and thanking the Lord; and they lift up their voice with the trumpets, and cymbals, and instruments of musick, and praised the Lord; For he is good, for his mercy (endureth for ever, 2 Chron. 5. 12, 13. of your Peace-offrings] The Hebrewes say, they used to sing the Song, over all the Burnt-offrings of the Congregation, which were due (to be offered;) and over the Peace-offrings of the solemn assembly, at the time when the wine (the drink-offering) was poured out. But the voluntary Burnt-offrings which the Congregation offered, &c. they sang not the song over them. Maimony in Cle hammikdash, ch. 3. sect. 3. So they understood this Law, not for private mens sacrifices, but for the publike Churches: they did not blow, save onely at the Congregations offering which was appointed them, saith Chazkuni on Numb. 10. This use of the trumpets signified the spirituall graces and joy that Gods people should shew forth in his service, directed thereto by his Ministers, Psal. 98. 6. and 150 3. and 81. 3, 4. Ezr. 3. 10. 2 Chron. 5. 12, 13. Coloss. 3. 16. Ephes. 5. 18, 19. Blessed are the people that know the shouting-sound (or alarme of the trumpet,) Psal. 89. 16.

11 Verse 11. second yeere] after Israel was come out of Egypt, Numb. 9. 1. second moneth] which we now call Aprill, the Hebrewes called it Ijar. twentieth day] the second Paschever being ended, Numb. 9. 11. when by Mount Sinai (where the Law was given them,) they had abidden twelve moneths, lacking ten daies, as appeareth by comparing Exod. 19. 1, 2. the cloud was taken up] by the Lord, which was a signe that now the people should remove, Numb. 9. 17. But they had withall, word from the Lord, who spake unto them, saying; Yee have dwelt long enough in this mountaine; turne you, and take your journey, and goe to the mount of the Amorites, &c. Behold I have given the land before you; goe in, and possesse the land which I have sworn unto your fathers, Deut. 1. 6, 7, 8. So both by word and signe, God called them from Sinai, the place of bondage, by reason of the Law there given, Gal. 4. 24, 25. unto the land of promise, which figured the state of grace and freedom by Iesus Christ: see the notes on Gen. 12. 5.

Verse 12. by their journeyes] from Sinai to Taberah and Kibroth-hattaavah, Numbers 11. 3, 34. and 33. 16. from Kibroth-hattaavah to Hazeroth, and from Hazeroth, into the wilderness of Pharan, Num. 11. 35. and 12. 16. Pharan] or Paran, the name of a wilderness and mountaine in it, mentioned againe in Deut. 1. 1. and 33. 2. In this wilderness Ismael dwelt, Gen. 21. 21.

Verse 13. at the mouth] that is, the word, as the Chaldee saith, or, by the voice, as the Greeke translates: see Num. 9. 18, 23. the band] that is the ministerie of Moses, who ordered the blowing of the trumpets, and sanctified the journey by prayer, v 35. Thus they had foure things (at this first removall) to confirme their faith in their travell through that terrible wilderness; the word of God commanding them, and the lifting up of his cloud, for a signe visible; the word of Moses in praier, and the sound of the trumpets for a signe audible. And thus they were furnished with all good meanes to conduct them into their promised inheritance: wherefore amongst other mercies of God to Israel, the memoriall of this was after celebrated, that he led his people in the wilderness, for his mercy endureth for ever, Psal. 136. 16. Deut. 8. 15. Esai. 63. 14. Jer. 2. 6.

Verse 14. according to] or, with their armies, that is, with the armie of Issachar, & armie of Zabulon, both which were under the standard of Iudah, Num. 2. 2, 3, 9. So the Lion of Iudah as standard-bearer, and figure of Christ, goeth before them all, to fight in the forefront of the battell against the Canaanites: see Gen. 49. 8. Iudg. 1. 1, 2.

Verse 17. was taken downe] after that the Priests had with veiles and clothes, covered the Arke and other holy things in the Tabernacle, as is prescribed in Numb. 4. 5. &c. The taking downe of the Tabernacle, and removall thereof, & setting it up in another place, signified (among other things) the instabilitie of that legall figurative worship, which Christ at his comming was to abolish, Heb. 12. 27, 28. Also the unsettled estate of the Church, and all the members thereof, in the wilderness of this world, 2 Cor. 5. 1.—4. 2 Pet. 1. 14. Likewise the removall of the Church from one place and nation to another, from the Jewes to the Gentiles, Matth. 21. 43. In regard of this unstayedness, Moses said unto them, Yee are not yet come to the Rest, Deut. 12. 9. But in Davids time he said, The Lord hath given rest unto his people: and, the Levites shall no more carry the Tabernacle, nor any vessels of it, for the service thereof, 1 Chron. 23. 25, 26. See further in the notes on Numb. 4. 20. bearing the Tab.] having six wagons on which they laid the boards and coverings; as is shewed in Numb. 7. 5, 7, 8, 9.

Verse 18. of Reuben] who was standard-bearer bearer to the second quarter, Numb. 2. 10. -- 16.

20 Vers. 20. Daguel] called sometimes Reguel, Numbers. 2. 14. so here the Greeke nameth him Raguel.

21 Vers. 21. the Sanctuaries] that is, (as the Greeke translateth) the holy things, as the Arke, Candlestick, Table, Altar, &c. which they were to beare on their shoulders, Numbers. 4. 5. -- 15. and 7. 9, and they] that is, the Gershonites and Merarites foretold of, in vers. 17. who therefore went before, that the house or tabernacle might be set up ready, to receive these holy things; for which the Tabernacle was made, and not they for the Tabernacle.

22 Vers. 22. Ephraim] the standard-bearer to the third quarter: see Numb. 2. 18. -- 24.

25 Vers. 25. the re-reward] or, the gatherer, (in Greeke, the last of all the camps,) that gathered up and tooke care of the weake ones and hindmost, (such as Amalek had before smitten, Exod. 17. Dent. 25. 17, 18.) as also of the Leprous and uncleane, such as had beene put out of the host, Num. 5. 2. (as in Num. 12. 15.) the people journeyed not, till Mary, (who had beene a Leper) was gathered. This shewed Gods love & care of the most weake among his people, in taking such order for their safetie. And unto this order of march, the Prophet hath reference in Esa. 52. 12. Iehovah will go before you, and the God of Israel will be your re-reward (or gatherer.) And David professing his faith in God, saith, Though my father and my mother should forsake me; yet Iehovah would gather me, Psal. 27. 10. In like manner at the siege of Iericho, armed men went before the Priests that blew with the trumpets; and the re-reward came after the Arke, Ios. 6. 9. 13.

28 Vers. 28. These were the journeyings] in Greeke, These were the hosts (or armies.) By These, is meant the order of their marching in their journeyes, which God, by this repetition, would have men to observe; & we may summarily view thus. When God tooke up the cloud, Moses prayed, & the Priests with the trumpets blew an alarme, then Iudah (the first standard) rose up, with Issachar and Zabulon; in which campe were 186. thousand and 400. men of warre (Numb. 2. 9.) and they marched foremost. Then followed the Levites of Gershon, and Merari, with six wagons bearing the boards and coverings of the Tabernacle.

The trumpets sounded an alarme the second time, then Reuben, Simeon and Gad, (with their armie of 151. thousand, 450. fighting men,) rose up, and followed the tabernacle.

After them went the Levites, sons of Kohath, in the midst of the twelve tribes, bearing on their shoulders, the Arke, Candlesticks, Table, Altar, and other holy things:

At the sound of the trumpets third alarme, rose up the standard of Ephraim, under which were of Ephraim, Manasses and Benjamin, 100. thousand and 8000. and an hundred men of war; and these followed the Sanctuary going before them: unto which the Psalmist hath reference, when he praieth, Before Ephraim and Benjamin and Manasse, stir up thy strength, and come for salvation unto us, Psal. 80. 3.

At the fourth alarme, the standard of Dan arose, in whose campe were one hundred fifty seven thousand, and six hundred fighting men, of Dan, Aser and Naphtali; who not guarding the tabernacle, had charge of gathering all, and looking to the feeble, &c. that nothing should be lost, or left behind. Thus the Sanctuary had the middest, most safe and honourable place: the greatest campe went foremost, the next in greatnesse went hindmost, for to resist all enemies, before and after. But the Lord himselfe was he that went before, and gathered behind, (Esa. 52. 12.) who when he rose up, his enemies were scattered, and they that hated him, fled before him, Numb. 10. 35. when he marched before his people in the wilderness, the earth quaked, and the heavens dropped, and he confirmed his inheritance when it was wearied, Psal. 68. 2. 8, 9, 10.

Verse 29. Hobab] or, Chobab, called in Greeke, Iobab, son of Raguel the Midianite. Hee was also called Ietro, Exod. 3. 1. and Sol. Iarchi here expoundeth it Hobab he is Ietro: but Aben Ezra is of another minde, that it was the brother of Zippora Moses wife, and so not father in law, but brother in law to Moses. This speech of Moses to his father in law, some thinke was before, when he came to him with Zipporah, Ex. 18. 1, 2 &c. and so it may be translated, And Moses had said unto Hobab.

Verse 30. I will not go] This deniall is thought to be but for the present; and that Hobab went to his owne country first, & after returned againe to Moses in the wilderness; because there is mention of the posteritie of Hobab dwelling among the Israelites in Canaan, Iudg. 1. 16. and 4. 11. 1 Sam. 15. 6. Or, if he returned not into the wilderness, yet at the least, his posteritie came unto Israel in Canaan, as the Scriptures forementioned shew.

Verse 31. for eyes] in stead of eyes, to guide us by thy counsell and providence. The Greeke translateth it, Thou shalt be an Elder amongst us. Or, by eyes, may be meant deare, loved, and tendered, as men doe their owne eyes.

Verse 33. mount of Iehovah] the Chaldee explaineth it, the mountaine whereon the glorie of the Lord had been revealed: that was Mount Sinai, where the Law had beene given.

three dayes journey] or, three dayes way; which was both by Gods direction, & by his speciall power enabling the people to travell so long. The like journey was mentioned from Egypt, Ex. 3. 18. and after from the red Sea, Ex. 15. 22. and now from mount Sinai where the Arke of the covenant journeyed before them: which was a figure of Christ, and of his conducting and strengthening of the people; and his resurrection from the dead was the third day, 1 Cor. 15. 4. which was for our justification, and so for rest and peace unto our soules, Rom. 4. 25. and 5. 1, 2, 3. who said of himselfe, Behold I cast out Devils, and I doe wres to day and to morrow, and the third day I shall be perfected, &c. Luke 13. 32, 33. Of the myserie of this number three, and of the third day, see the annotations on Gen. 22. 4. journeyed before them] The Arke was carried by the Levites in the midst of them, as appeareth by verse 14. 21. but the eyes of all the people were unto the cloud conducting them, and to the Arke amongst them; the journeying and resting whereof was sanctified by Moses prayer, before that the people might either set forward, or pitch their tents: and therefore it is said to journey before them. to search out] or, to espie; which the Chaldee expoundeth to prepare; the Greeke, to consider: it meaneth a diligent search and looking about for to know and finde out the estate of a place, as Num. 13. 2. 17, 18, 19, 20. So God is said to have searched out (or espied) the land of Canaan which he gave unto Israel, Ezek. 20. 6. And that which is here spoken of the Arke, Moses speaketh of God himselfe, in Dent. 1. 33. that he went before them to search out a place for them to pitch their Tents in. So Gods love and providence towards his Church in Christ, is hereby signified. Wherefore that which Moses said to Hobab, Thou mayest be for eyes unto us, verse 31. was not meant that hee should appoint the a place to pitch & rest in; but that he being acquainted with the places in that Wildernesse, might signifie the conditions, commodities or discommodities of the places which God should designe them for to pitch their camps in. a rest] that is, as in Esai. 66. 1. a place of rest: so the Chaldee expoundeth it, a place of encamping, or resting. Thus rest, is often used for a resting place, Psal. 132. 8. Gen. 8. 9. 1 Chr. 28. 2. Mic. 2. 10. Zac. 9. 1. This outward rest which God prepared for his people, figured the spirituall rest which we find for our soules, by following Christ in faith, Mat. 11. 29 Hebr. 4. 3. 10, 11.

Verse 34. the cloud of Iehovah] which had conducted them from Egypt to mount Sinai, Ex. 13. 21, 22. the same guided them still. The Chaldee calleth it the cloud of the glory of the Lord. was over them] or, upon them; the Chaldee understandeth, went (or journeyed) over them: the Greeke saith, did over-shadow them: and David teacheth that it was spread for a covering, Psal. 105. 39. namely to shadow them from the heat of the Sunne; & in Num. 14. 14. Moses saith it stood over them. It signified unto them the glorious grace, guidance, and protection of God: and figured the like unto the Church after in Christ, who by his Word and Spirit, guideth & protecteth all his people, Esai. 4. 5, 6. For as God now led his people like a flocke in the Wildernesse; Psal. 78. 52. So Christ the good Shepheard calleth his owne sheepe by name, and leadeth them out, goeth before them, and the sheepe follow him, for they know his voyce; and goe in and out and finde pasture, Ioh. 10. 3, 4, 9, 11. See also the notes in Ex. 13. 21. by day] that is, in the day time, and daily, continually: for by day it was a cloud, and by night a fire: and this continued till they came to the promised land, Exod. 14. 20. 24. and 13. 22. Nehem. 9. 12. 19. Psal. 78. 14. Num. 14. 14.

Verse 35. Rise up] or, Stand up: it is opposed to sitting still, and is meant here for the helpe & comfort of his people whom he conducted, & for the destruction of his enemies, as the words following manifest: & thus David often useth it, as in Psal. 3. 8. and 7. 7. and 10. 12. and 17. 13. and 44. 27. But specially in the 68 Psalme, (which is a prophesie of Christ, his resurrection, & ascension into heaven, and which he beginneth with these words of Moses, Let God rise up, let his enemies be scattered, &c. which sheweth that the fulfilling of all these mysteries, is by Christ & his rising from the dead, for the justification and salvation of his Church. Onkelos translateth it in Chaldee, Be thou reveiled, O Lord: and Jonathan paraphraseth, Be thou reveiled now, O Word of the Lord, in the strength of thine anger. thine enemies.] Jonathan in Chaldee saith, the enemies of thy people: and after, those that hate them: for the enemies and persecutors of the Church, are the enemies of God himselfe, Act. 9. 4. Matth. 25. 45. Zach. 2. 8. This David sheweth, when saying unto God, thine enemies and thine haters; he annexeth, Against thy people they have craftily taken secret counsell, &c. Psal. 83. 3, 4. scattered] as broken asunder: so the word signifieth, Psal. 2. 9. The effect of Christs death and resurrection, is the breaking & scattering of the conjoined forces of his enemies, Psal. 68. 23. 13. 15. and the contrary gathering together in me, of the children of God that were scattered abroad, Ioh. 11. 51, 52. Esai. 11. 10, 12. Returne Iehovah (unto) the ten thousands] that is, as the Chaldee paraphraseth, Returne LORD, dwell with thy glory, among the ten thousands thousands of Israel, Or, without supplying the word unto, as the Greeke translateth it, Returne, Lord, the thousands the ten thousands in Israel: that is, cause them to returne unto their rest from their travels. For the word Returne, may meane either Gods action in himselfe, returning to his people: or his action in them, returning, reducing & bringing them againe; as in Dent. 30. 3. Psal. 14. 7. and 136. 1. In both senses rest and quietnesse is implied, which Moses intreateth God to give unto his people, and himselfe to remaine with them. So R. Menachem here expoundeth it to meane quietnesse; according to Esai. 30. 15. In returning and rest shall ye be saved. But the first interpretation seemeth most fitting, that as when the cloud, Arke, and hoast remoued, he prayed God to Rise up and goe with them against their enemies: so when the Arke & people rested, he prayeth God to returne & remaine among them: for in his presence their chiefe joy and safety consisted, as hee elsewhere sheweth, Exod. 33. 14, 15, 16. And that there is often a want of such words necessary to be supplied, the Scripture elsewhere sheweth, as in 2 Sam. 4. 2. two men were Sauls forme, that is, were unto Sauls forme, or, hee had two men: and such wants are many times supplied by other prophets: as the pillars that were the house, 2 King. 25. 13. that is, which were in the house, Ierem. 52. 17. The Arke continued the house, 2 Sam. 6. 11. that is, continued in the house, 1 Chron. 13. 14. and sundry the like. See Dent. 32. 43.

CHAP. XI.

1 The people complaining, God punisheth them with fire, which at Moses prayer is quenched. 4 They lust for flesh, and loath Manna: 10 Moses grieved at their murmuring, complaineth to God of his charge. 16 God divideth his burden unto severie Elders which beare it with him, 18. and promiseth to give the people flesh. 24 The severie Elders have the spirit of prophesie. 31 God by a winde bringeth Quails into the Campe, which the people gathering and eating, doe die of a plague at Kibroth-hatsavah. 35 The Campe removeth to Hazeroth.

1 ANd the people was when they were complainers, evill in the cares of Iehovah: and Iehovah heard, and his anger was kindled; and a fire of Iehovah burnt among them and consumed them in the utmost part of the campe. And the people cryed out unto Moses, and Moses prayed unto Iehovah, and the fire sunke downe. And he called the name of that place Taberah, because the fire of Iehovah burnt among them. And the mixt multitude that ~~was~~ among them lusted with lust, and the sonnes of Israel also returned and wept; and said, Who shall give us flesh to eat? We remember the fish which we did eat in Egypt for nought: the cucumbers and the melons, and the leekes, and the onions, and the garlicke. But now our soule is dried away, ~~there is~~ nothing at all, onely our eyes ~~are~~ unto the Manna. And the Manna was as Coriander seed, & the colour of it as the colour of Bdellium. The people went about and gathered it, and ground it in milles; or beat it in a mortar; and baked it in pannes, and made cakes of it; and the taste of it was, as the taste of the best moisture of oyle. And when the dew fell downe upon the campe in the night, the Manna fell downe upon it. And Moses heard the people weeping throughout their families; every man in the doore of his tent; and the anger of Iehovah was kindled greatly, and in the eyes of Moses it ~~was~~ evill. 11 And Moses said unto Iehovah; Wherefore hast thou done evill to thy servant? and wherefore have I not found grace in thine eyes, that thou layest the burden of all these people upon me? Have I conceived all this people? have I begotten them, that thou shouldest say unto me, Beare them in thy bosome, as a nursing father beareth the sucking child, unto the land which thou swearst unto their fathers? Whence should I have flesh to give unto all this people? for they weepe unto me, saying; Give us flesh that wee may eat. I am not able my selfe alone to beare all this people, for it is too heavie for me. And if thou doe thus unto me, kill me I pray thee, kill me, if I have found grace in thine eyes, and let mee not see mine evill.

And Iehovah said unto Moses; Gather unto me severie men of the Elders of Israel, whom thou knowest, that they are the Elders of the people and the officers of them, and take them unto the Tent of the Congregation, that they may stand there with thee. And I will come downe & will speake with thee there, and I will take of the spirit which is upon thee, and will put it upon them, and they shall beare with thee the burden of the people, and thou shalt not beare it thy selfe alone. And say thou unto the people, sanctifie yourselves against to morrow, and ye shall eat flesh; for you have wept in the cares of Iehovah, saying; Who shall give us flesh to eat? for it ~~was~~ well with us in Egypt; therefore Iehovah will give you flesh, and ye shall eat. Ye shall not eat one day, nor two dayes, nor five dayes, nor ten dayes, nor twentie dayes. Vntill a moneth of dayes, untill it come out at your nostrils, and it bee unto you loathsome, because that you have despised Iehovah who is among you, and have wept before him, saying; Wherefore now came we forth out of Egypt? And Moses said, The people amongst whom I ~~am~~, are six hundred thousand footmen; and thou hast said, I will give them flesh, and they shall eat it a moneth of dayes. Shall the flocks and the herds be slaine for them to suffice them? or shall all the fishes of the Sea be gathered together for them to suffice them?

And Iehovah said unto Moses, Is Iehovahs hand waxed short? thou shalt see now, whether my word shall come to passe unto thee, or not. And Moses went out, and spake unto the people the words of Iehovah, and he gathered the severie men of the Elders of the people, and made them stand round about the Tent. And Iehovah came downe in a cloud, and spake unto him, and tooke of the Spirit that ~~was~~ upon him; & gave it unto the severie men the Elders; and 26 & it was when the Spirit rested upon them, they prophesied, & did not adde. And there remained two of the men in the campe; the name of the one was Eldad; and the name of the second, Medad; and the Spirit rested upon them; and they were of them that were written, but went not out unto the Tent, and they prophesied in the campe.

27 And there ran a young man, and told Moses, and said; Eldad and Medad doe prophesie in the campe. And Ioshua the sonne of Nun, the minister of Moses, one of his choise young men, answered and said; My lord Moses, forbid thou them. And Moses said unto him; Enviest thou for me? but O who shall give that all the people of Iehovah were prophets; that Iehovah would give his spirit upon them. And Moses gathered himselfe into the campe; he, and the Elders of Israel. And there went forth a winde from Iehovah, and brought Quailes from the sea, and let them fall by the campe, as it were a dayes journey on this side, and as it were a dayes journey on that side, round about the campe: and as it were two cubits above the face of the earth. And the people stood up all that day, and all the night, & all the next day; and they gathered the Quailes; he that gathered least, gathered ten homers: and spreading they spred them for themselves, round about the campe. The flesh was yet betweene their teeth; it was not yet cut off, when the anger of Iehovah was kindled against the people, and Iehovah smote the people with a very great plague. And hee called the name of that place Kibroth-hattaavah, because there they buried the people that lusted. From Kibroth-hattaavah, the people journeyed unto Hazeroth: and they were in Hazeroth.

Annotations.

1 And the people] Witherto in this booke, Gods grace to his people hath beene manifested in the ordering, directing, and governing of them in the Wildernesse, towards their promised inheritance: now followeth their unthankfulnesse, and unworthy carriage among so great blessings, by their many murmurings and rebellions; whereby both the disobedient nature of man, and the impossibilitie of the Law to bring men unto God, is declared. when they were complainers] or, as complainers; that is, even complainers, very murmurers; grudging, and shewing themselves discontented with their estate; and (as is likely) for their so long travell in that Wildernesse, three dayes journey before they came to a resting place, Num. 10.33. and thus Sol. Iarchi here expoundeth it. So whereas they should have rejoyced in the Lord now among them, they shewed themselves as mourners, sorrowfull, and (as the Greeke translateth) murmuring. Of such murmurers and complainers, the Apostle also speaketh, Iude verse 16. evil] this seemeth to have reference to the first, the people were evil, that is, wicked, and so displeasing the Lord: the Greeke referreth it to the latter, the people murmured evil things before the Lord. a fire of Iehovah] that is, as the Greeke expoundeth it, from the Lord, and the Chaldee, from before the Lord: though it may also meane a great and vehement fire. Their rebellions before the Law was given at Mount Sinai, God punished not, Exod. 14. 11-15. and 15. 24, 26. and 16. 23, 4, 9, 20, 27, 28. and 17. 2-5. save onely when they made the molten Calfe at the mount, Exod. 32. 27, 28, 35. But their sinnes committed after, hee punisheth severely, as here and after is to be seene: for, the Law worketh wrath, Rom. 4. 15. And all these things happened unto them for ensamples to us, 1 Cor. 10. 5-11. consumed] or, devoured, Hebr. did eat. The Greeke translateth, devoured a part of the campe. In that the fire consumed in the utmost part, it is probable that there the sinne began among them that were faint and weary with travell; as Deut. 25. 18.

Verse 2. sinke downe] that is, went out, or, was quenched; in Greeke, ceased. Their seeking to the Lord in their afflictions, and his mercies towards them, are mentioned in Psal. 78. 34-38.

Verf. 3. be called] that is, Moses called: or, as the Greeke translateth, the name of that place was called: see the notes on Gen. 16. 14. Taberah] that is, Burning: which name was given to imprint a memoriall of their sinne and of Gods judgements in their hearts, as Moses after mentioneth them, in Deut. 9. 7. 22, 24.

Verf. 4. the mixt-multitude] or, the gathered-multitude; so called in Hebrew of gathering; in Greeke and Chaldee, of mixture: and in the Chaldee said to be Ionathans, they are called, the strangers that were gathered among them. These were that mixed-people that came up with Israel out of Egypt, mentioned in Exod. 12. 38. lusted with lust] that is, lusted greatly and greedily.

returned and wept] that is, again wept, the Greeke saith, they saie and wept. The Israelites that a little before complained, were punished, and repented; now againe, by the example of the strangers among them, returne to their sinfull course. Chazkuni here saith, After this (the sons of Israel) had murmured already themselves alone, (verse 1.) they turned and murmured with the mixed-multitude, and wept for desire of flesh. So this was another mutinie, differing from that forespoken of, though in time & place neere together. who shall give] a wish, meaning O that some would give us flesh: and a temptation, as not beleeving that God could doe it. This their lusting is rehearsed, in Psal. 106. 14. and 78. 18, 19, 20. they tempted God in their hearts, asking meat for their soule (or lust:) and they spake against God,

they

they said: Can God furnish a Table in the Wilderness? Behold he smote the Rock, and the waters gushed out; and fire came out of the Rock: can he give bread also? or can he prepare flesh for his people?

5 Verse 5. we remember] they stirred and inflamed their lust, with remembrance of their former Egyptian diet. for nought] this may be referred to the fish which they had for nought, without price, getting them out of the rivers freely; or, for nought, that is, for very little, very cheape; as nothing is used for very little, Act. 27. 33. Job. 18. 20. none, for very few, Jer. 8. 6. 1 Cor. 2. 8. It may also have reference to the former, we remember for nought, that is, in vaine: so the Hebrew, Chinnam; and Greeke, Dorean, sometime signifieth a thing done or spoken in vaine and without effect, as Pro. 1. 17. Ezek. 6. 10. Gal. 2. 21. garlick] these grosse meats used to be eaten by the poorer sort in Egypt, and by the Israelites when they were slaves there; they now remember, (forgetting their slavery; and preferre before the Manna which God gave them from heaven, which was both pleasant and wholesome. Of the things here spoken of, and other the like, the Hebrewes themselves say: Some meats are exceeding evil, and it is not meet that a man should ever eat of them, as great fishes that are salted and old, &c. and some meats are evil, but not so bad, therefore it is not meet for a man to eat of them, save a little and very seldom; and hee may not use to make them his meat, or to eat them with his meat continually, as great fishes, cheese, &c. and leekes, and onions, and garlick, &c. these meats are nought, which a man should eat of but a very little, and in winter dayes, but in summer not at all. Maim. in Misn. tom. 1. in Degmab chap. 4. sect. 9.

6 Verse 6. our soule is dried] The soule is often put for the body, or whole man, and for the appetite or desire of meat, drinke, and other things: so here they complaine that they had no nourishment by the wheat of heaven (as Manna is called, Psal. 78. 24.) neither was their appetite satisfied: & hereupon it is said, they asked meat for their soule, Psal. 78. 18. to satisfie their fleshly lust. our eyes are] or, our eyes behold onely the Manna; that is, we see no other food; neither can we expect for any other, but depend upon Manna onely. For the eyes into any, signifie hope and expectation, as Psal. 25. 15. and 141. 8. Manna was unto them both a corporall food, and a spirituall, figuring Christ himselfe, with his word & grace, Job. 6. 31, 32, 33. 1 Cor. 10. 3. So the loathing of Manna, and longing for the meats of Egypt, figured the rejecting of Christ and his graces, for to have nourishment and life by the workes and righteousness of men, Gal. 3. 3, 10. and 4. 9. Such mens eyes cannot see the Manna which is hid, Rev. 2. 17.

7 Verse 7. Manna] in Hebrew, Man: the reason of this name, see in the notes on notes Ex. 16. 14. Chazkuni on that place saith, Man, in the Egyptian tongue, is Mah, (that is, What) in the Hebrew tongue: and they asked one of another, Man, what is this? Coriander] of it, see Exod. 16. 31. These are the words of Moses, convincing the peoples ingratitude, by the description of Manna, which they disdained. the colour] Hebr. the eye, that is, the colour, or appearance, as the Greeke and Chaldee explaine it: so eye is used for colour, &c. in Lev. 13. 55. Ezek. 1. 16. and 8. 2 and 10. 9.

Bdelium] in Hebrew Bdolach, in Greeke, (and by Sol. Larchies exposition) Crystall: which is white and transparent: so Manna is said to be white, Ex. 16. 31. Of Bdelium, see Gen. 2. 12.

8 Verse 8. went about] or, went to and fro, to search, finde, espie, as in Ier. 5. 1. Amos 8. 12. Dan. 12. 4. therefore this word is applied sometime to the eye, as in 2 Chron. 16. 9. It figured the labour & diligence that men should use to get the meat which endureth unto everlasting life, John. 6. 27. ground it] the grinding & beating of it, &c. figured also the afflictions of Christ, whereby he was prepared to be for us the bread of life, John. 6. 48. 51. Heb. 2. 9, 10. 1 Pet. 3. 18. But though the Manna was thus hard as wheat to be ground, yet it used to melt as it lay on the earth, with the heat of the Sunne, that they gathered it onely in the morning, Ex. 16. 21. baked] or, boyled, coyned: the word is sometime used for baking, as in 2 Sam. 13. 8. though usually it signifieth to boile. the best moisture of oyle] fresh oyle, which hath no ranke savour. The Hebrew Leshad, is the best oily moisture in mans body, Psal. 32. 4. so here it is the best sweet moisture of oyle, which is the uppermost part. It had also the taste of wasers with honey, Ex. 16. 31. And here the Greeke translateth it wasers of oyle, and the Chaldee paste, (or cakes) with oyle. So it was both pleasant and wholesome food, and the taste of oyle and honey figured the sweetness of grace, which we by faith perceive in Christ the true Manna, Psal. 119. 103. Song. 5. 16. 1 Pet. 2. 3.

9 Verse 9. fell downe upon it] and upon the Manna fell dew againe, which when it was drawne up by the Sunne, then the Manna appeared, Exod. 16. 13, 14. so the Manna lay as it were hidden between two dewes. But after was manifested, and given them of God freely every day: a wheat which they sowed not, nor laboured for, but had for the taking up, a meat which they knew not, neither had their fathers knowne it: whereby they were taught, that man liveth not by bread onely, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of the Lord, Deut. 8. 3.

10 Verse 10. throughout] or, by their families; so the sinne was generally spread among the people. in the doore] that is, openly; and sinned not in secret onely, but as it were proclaimed their iniquitie, and stirred up themselves, & one another, to follow their lusts.

11 Verse 11. done evil to thy servant] that is, afflicted me: for evil when it cometh from God, meaneth trouble & affliction wherewith he chastiseth his servants, and exerciseth their faith and patience, as Ier. 18. 8. Esai. 45. 7. Amos 3. 6. that thou layest] Heb. for to lay, or to put: so it hath reference to the former part of the speech. See the notes on Gen. 6. 19. the burden] the weighty care and charge: so in Deut. 1. 12. The Greeke here translateth it anger, but after in vers. 17. violence, or assault. This sheweth the great charge that lieth upon upon governours: so Paul mentioneth the care of all the Churches, which came upon him daily, 2 Cor. 11.28.

Verse 12. Have I conceived] so also the Greeke translateth it; but the Chaldee saith, Am I the father of all this people? are they my sonnes? begotten them] Hebr. begotten is; or, brought forth it; speaking of the people, as of one man, begotten, as by a father; or brought forth, as by a mother. So the Apostle applieth both families to himselfe, saying to the Corinthians, Ye have not many fathers; for in Christ Iesus I have begotten you through the Gospell, 1 Cor. 4.15. and to the Galathians, My children of whom I travel in birth againe, untill Christ be formed in you, Gal. 4.19. In this complaint of Moses, the weaknesse of the Law is signified, which begetteth no children to God, Rom. 7.4, 5. &c. and 8.3. but by the word of Truth, the Gospell, and by beleefe in Christ, we are borne of God, Jam. 1.18. 1 Pet. 1.23. 25. 1 Iob. 5.1.

in thy bosome] that is, lovingly, tenderly, carefully: which Moses the Lawgiver could not doe as is done by Christ, of whom it is said, He shall feed his flocke like a shepheard, he shall gather his lambs with his arme, and beare them in his bosome, he shall gently lead those that are with young, Esai. 40.11. a nursing father] This sheweth the love, mildnesse, gentlenesse which should be in governours; and so it is said unto the Church, Kings shall be thy nursing fathers, &c. Esai. 49.23. And the Apostle saith, Wee were gentle among you, even as a nurse cherisheth her children: we exhorted, and comforted, and charged every one of you, as a father doth his children, 1 Thes. 2.7.11. Accordingly the Hebrewes have this rule for all governours of the Church, *It is unlawfull for a man to governe with statelynesse over the congregation, and with haughtinesse of spirit, but with meeknesse and feare. And every pastour that bringeth more terror upon the congregation than is for the name of God, he shall be punished, and shall not see himselfe to have a learned wise son: as it is said, (in Iob 37.24.) Men do therefore feare him; he respecteth not any that are wise of heart. And so it is not lawfull for him to governe them with contemptuous carriage; although they be the (common) people of the land: neither may he tread upon the heads of the holy people, although they be unlearned and base, they are the sons of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, and the armies of the Lord that brought them out of the land of Egypt by great might, and by strong hand; but he must beare the toyle of the Congregation, and their burden; as Moses our Master, of whom it is said, AS A NURSING FATHER BEARETH THE SVCKING CHILD, &c. Maim. in Mifn. tom. 4. in Sanhedrin, ch. 25. sect. 1.2. That which Moses speaketh of a Nursing father, the Chaldee that goeth in the name of Jonathan, & Targum Ierusalem, calleth Pedagogus, which word Paul useth, when he saith, the Law was our Pedagogue (or Schoolemaster) unto Christ, Gal. 3.24. whose graces were figured by that Land whither Moses now was to lead them; as is shewed in the annotations on Gen. 12.5.*

Verse 13. flesh to give] By these complaints Moses sheweth his insufficiencie to governe this people, and to supply their wants: neither indeed could he bring them into the promised Land, but died ere they came thither, Deut. 34. whereby the impossibility of the Law was signified, that it could not bring men unto God, or satisfie, or restraine the lusts that reigne in our members, though the Law it selfe is holy, Rom. 7.5. 12. But what the Law could not doe, in that it was weake through the flesh, God (hath done) sending his owne Son, Rom. 8.3. who giveth us not flesh to satisfie our carnall lusts, but his owne flesh to be the food of our soules, which he hath given for the life of the world, &c. which who so eateth, hath eternall life, Iob. 6.51. 54.

Verse 15. if thou doe thus] to leave the whole burden upon me still. Here the word thou, spoken to God, is of the feminine gender, contrary to common rule of speech, At, for Attab: which some thinke doth intimate Moses trouble of mind, as if he could not perfectly utter his words: and the like is in Deuter. 5.27. where the people terrified with the Majestie of God when he gave his Law, said unto Moses, Speak thou (At) unto us. Sol. Iarchi here saith, The strength of Moses became feeble as a woman, when the holy blessed (God) shewed him the punishments that he would bring upon them (the people) for this he said before him, If thou, kill me first. kill me] or, killing me: that is, kill me quite, and out of hand; the word is doubled, for more vehemency and speed. see mine evil] that is, my misery and affliction. By seeing evil, is meant the feeling or suffering of miserie; as to see death is to dye, Luke 2:26. Psal. 89. 49. and as on the contrary, to see the salvation of God, meaneth the fruition or enjoying thereof, Psal. 50.23. and 91.16. Compare with this, Elijahs speech, 1 Kings 19.4.

Verse 16. Gather unto mee] in Chaldee, Gather before me; and Targum Jonathan explaineth it, Gather in my name seventy worthy men. This is answerable to the number of the seventy soules of the house of Israel, which went downe into Egypt, Gen. 46.27. Exod. 1.5. Deuter. 10.22. and to the 70 Elders which went up unto the Lord at mount Sinai, Exod. 24. 1.9. From hence the Hebrewes in their commonwealth, continued their chiefeest Senate in Ierusalem of 71 Elders, as here there were 70, and Moses the Prince. So they record in Talmud Bab. in Sanhedrin, ch. 1. and Maimony in Sanhedrin, ch. 1. sect. 3. 4.5. explaineth it thus; there was in Israel, first a great court (or judgement hall) in the Sanctuary; and that was called the great Synedrion, and their number was 71, as it is written, Gather to me 70 men, &c. and Moses was chiefe over them, as it is said, And let them stand there with thee, Numbers 11.16. loe here are 71. The greatest in wisdom among them all, they set him for head over them, and he was called Nasi (the Prince) in every place, and he stood in stead of Moses our Master. And they placed the greatest among the 70, next unto the head, and he sate on his right hand, and was called Ab beth din (the father of the judgement hall) And the residue of the 70 sate before him, according to their yeares and according to their dignitie: who so ever was in wisdom greater than his fellow, was nearer unto the Prince on his left hand. And they sate

as in the forme of an halfe circle round, so that the Prince, with the Father of the Court, might see them all. Moreover they set two Judgement halls, each of 23. Judges, the one at the doore of the Court (of the Sanctuary,) the other at the doore of the mountaine of the Temple. And in every cite of Israel wherein were 120. (fathers of families) or more, they set a lesse Synedrion, which sat in the gate of the cite, as it is written, And establish judgement in the gate, (Amos 5.15.) And their number was 23 Judges, and the wisest among them was head of them; and the residue sat in a round like halfe a circle, that hee which was head might see them all. If it were a cite which had not 120 men in it, they set therein three Judges, for there is no judgement hall of lesse than three, that there might be more or fewer, if there happened to be among them dissension in judgement. But every cite which had not in it two wise men, the one fit to teach the whole Law, and the other skillfull to heare, and skillfull to demand and make answer, they set no Synedrion therein, although it had in it two thousand Israelites, &c. the officers in Greek, the Scribes, and Thargum Jonathan addeth, in Egypt: as if these were such as are mentioned in Exod. 5.14. and of them Sol. Iarchi also understandeth it. What these Officers were after in the common-wealth of Israel, is noted on Deut. 16.18. Here it seemeth to be meant of such Elders and Officers as were well knowne and had approved themselves for wisdom and good carriage, for which they might with comfort be preferred to this high Senate: for they that have ministered well, (as the Apostle saith) purchase to themselves a good degree, 1 Tim. 3.13. Afterwards in Israel about the choise of these chiefe Magistrates, it is thus recorded; Our wise men have said, that from the great Synedrion they sent into all the land of Israel, and made diligent inquirie; whom soever they found to be wise, and afraid to sinne, and meke, &c. they made him a judge in his cite. And from thence they preferred him to the gate of the mountaine of the house (of the Lord:) and from thence they promoted him to the gate of the Court (of the Sanctuary,) and from thence they advanced him to the great judgement-hall. Maimon in Sanhedrin, chapter 2. section 8, stand there] or, present themselves there with thee. They were to stand before the Tabernacle, to present themselves unto God, and to receive authoritie from him; and with Moses, who was to be chiefe over them. The Hebrewes from this word with, gather a likenesse unto Moses, saying, They constitute none in the Synedrion but Priests, Levites and Israelites whose genealogie is knowne, &c. as it is said (in Num 11.16.) WITH THEE; which are like thee in wisdom, religion, and genealogie. Maimon in Sanhedrin, ch 2. sect. 1.

17 Ver. 17. I will come downe] to wit, in signe or apparition; as the Chaldee translateth, I will reveale my selfe; and Thargum Jonathan addeth, I will reveale my selfe in the glory of my Majestie; this was in the cloud, ver. 25. I will take,] or, will separate; in Chaldee, will increase of the spirit that is on thee; meaning, the gifts of the Spirit, as prophesie, ver 25. and other meet for their charge:

for there are diversities of gifts, but the same Spirit, 1 Cor. 12.4. So spirits are named for spirituall gifts, 1 Cor. 14.12.32. and the Holy Ghost, for the gifts of the Holy Ghost, Ioh. 7.39. Act. 19.26. Thus the spirit of Elijah rested on Elisha, 2 King. 2.15. when he had the same gifts and power of prophesie, miracles, &c. Neither was Moses spirit hereby diminished; for as Sol. Iarchi saith, Moses in that houre was like unto the Lamp that was left (burning) on the Candlestick, (in the Sanctuary) from which all the other lamps were lighted, yet the light thereof was not lessened any whit. God shewed hereby, that none without gifts of his Spirit, are fit for office and government, Ex. 18.21. Deu. 1.13. Act. 6.3. The Hebrewes have this rule, Any Synedrion, King, or Governour, that shall set up a Judge for Israel, that is not fit, and is not wise in the wisdom of the Law, and meet to be a Judge; although he be wholly amiable, and have in him other good things, yet he that setteth him up, transgresseth &c. Maimon in Sanhedrin, chap. 3. sect. 8.

V. 18. Sanctifie] in Chaldee, prepare your selves: 18 so to sanctifie warre, is to prepare therefore, Ier. 6.4. and 51.28. It meaneth an holy preparation to receive the gifts that they desired Sol. Iarchi expoundeth it, Prepare your selves for vengeance; and so he saith (in Ier. 12.3.) Sanctifie (that is, prepare) them for the day of slaughter. The 20 verse sheweth that this may be implied. wept in the eares] in ver. 20 wept before the Lord; and so the Chaldee turneth it here. It meaneth, that the Lord had seene and heard their complaint: for weeping is often joyned with lifting up the voyce, or crying out; as Gen. 27.39. Iudg. 2.4. and 21.2. 1 Sam. 11.4. and 24.16. and 30.4.

Verse 20. Vntill a moneth of dayes] to wit, yet 20 shall eat, as the Greeke expresseth. Meaning a whole moneth; as a yeare of dayes is an whole yeare, 2 Sam. 14.28. So in Gen. 29.14. loathsome] Hebr. to loathsomnesse or alimation; which the Greeke translateth, to choler; the Chaldee, to offence, that is, offensive. have despised] or, contemptuously refused, set at naught; which the Greeke translateth, disobeyed the Lord; the Chaldee, rejected the Word of the LORD. who is] the Chaldee saith, whose Majestie (or Divine presence) remaineth among you.

Ver. 22. so suffice them] so the Greeke and Chaldee expound the Hebrew Maisa, which usually signifieth to finde; but here is used for obtaining that which is sufficient: so in Ios. 17.16. Iudg. 21.14. Here Moses sheweth that the thing promised was impossible in mans judgement; both in respect of the multitude of men, and length of time; and therefore he mentioneth beasts and fishes which also are flesh, 1 Cor. 15.39. but speaketh not of fowles, as thinking least of all that they should be filled with them: yet God sufficed them with such, ver. 31. So Philip said unto Christ, Two hundred pennyworth of bread is not sufficient for (this multitude) that every one may have a little, Iob. 6.7.9.

Verse 23. hand waxed short] that is, power abated; the Greeke expoundeth it, Shall not the Lords hand be sufficient? the Chaldee thus, Shall the word of

of the Lord be hindered? Hand is often used for power, as being the instrument wherewith power is shewed, Deut. 32.36. Ios. 4. 24. and 8. 10. shortnesse signifieth lessening; and is applied sometime to the Lords Spirit, as in Mic. 2. 7. is the spirit of Iehovah shortened? Sometime to his hand, as here, and in Esa. 59. 1. Behold Iehovahs hand is not shortened, that it cannot save: and in Esa. 50. 2. Is my hand shortened at all, that it cannot redeeme? or have I no power to deliver? where the latter sentence explaineth the former.

25 Verse 25. they prophesied] this was a gift and effect of Gods Spirit vpon them: and is elsewhere so explained; as, upon the handmaids in those dayes, I will poure out my spirit, Ioel 2. 29. that is, I will poure out of my spirit, and they shall prophesie, Act. 2. 18. So in Act. 19. 2. 6. And when Saul was annointed to be King, the Spirit of God came vpon him, and hee prophesied, 1 Sam. 10. 6. 10. Propheying was not onely a foretelling of things to come, but sometime a declaring of the word of God vnto the people; see Ex. 7. 1. Gen. 20. 7 And thus Paul saith, He that prophesieth, speaketh vnto men to edification, and exhortation, and comfort, 1 Cor. 14. 3. Sometime it was a singing of praises vnto God; as they that prophesied with Harps, with Psalteries and with Cymbals; to confesse and to praise the LORD, 1 Chron. 25. 1. 3. did not adde] that is, prophesied no more but that day, as God spake the ten commandments, and added not, that is, spake no more, or after such a manner to the people, Deut. 5. 2. Thus the Greeke here translateth, and they added no more: and Sol. Iarchi saith, they did not adde, 3. they prophesied not save that day onely; so it is expounded in Siphre. Howbeit the Chaldee translateth it, ceased not; in a contrary signification, which sometime is in the Hebrew words. But seeing the Chaldee so expoundeth that also in Deut. 5. 22. that the Lord ceased not, which seemeth to meane a continuance till all those ten words were finished; we may likewise vnderstand him here to meane a continuance for that day; (as Saul in Naioth prophesied all that day and all that night, 1 Sam. 19. 24.) & not a continuance alwayes; for this seemeth to be a temporary gift & miracle for confirmation of their Office; as in 1 Sam. 10. 6. 11.

26 Verse 26. Medad] in Greeke, Medad. the spirit] in Chaldee, the spirit of prophesie. that were written] by Moses in a booke; or in papers (as the Hebrews thinke) & so were appointed among the rest to come to the Tabernacle, ver. 16. 24. but went not out] for what cause, the Scripture sheweth not: but by comparing this their fact with others, it is probable, that as Saul when hee should have bene made King, withdrew and hid himselfe among the stuffe, 1 Sam. 10. 22. so these two, unwilling to take the charge vpon them, withdrew their shoulders, and came not to the Tabernacle: yet the Lord by his Spirit found them out: for whither shall men goe from his Spirit? or whither shall they flee from his presence? Psal. 139. 7. The Hebrewes have here their uncertaine conjectures: Sol. Iarchi saith, They were all written expressly by their names, and should have bene taken by Lots. For the count was made for the twelve tribes, out of every tribe six, except two tribes, of which were but five. Moses tooke seventy two papers (or scrolls) and on seventy of them he wrote AN ELDER, and on two, A PART: and he chose six out of every tribe, so there were seventy and two. Then he said vnto them, take up your papers out of the basket. Who so tooke up with his hand (a paper on which was written) AN ELDER, he was sanctified (to that office): but he in whose hand came up A PART; vnto him he said, The Lord will not haue thee.

Verse 28. of his choise young men] in Greeke, his chosen one; the Chaldee saith, of his young men. The originall word signifieth also youth: whereupon some translate it, the minister of Moses, from his youth: but this seemeth not fit; for Moses shepherds life in Midian, from which he came but a litle before this, argueth the contrary. forbid them] This he spake of envious zeale for his master Moses sake, (as the verse following sheweth;) that he would not haue the use of the gift of prophesie common; or, because they obeyed not Moses to come out as he commanded. So the disciples forbade one that cast out devils in Christs name, because he followed not with them, Luk. 9. 49. 50. Marke 9. 38. Targum Ionathan explaineth it; My Lord Moses request mercy from before the Lord, and forbid them the spirit of Prophesie.

Verse 29. Enuieest thou] or, Hast thou envious zeale, or ielousie for my sake? which is a prohibition, Have it not: as, Thinke ye that I am come to give peace on earth? Luke 12. 51. that is, Thinke it not, Mat. 10. 34. but O who shall give] or, and O who, &c. this is an earnest wish, as would God, or the like: the word and, setteth forth the earnestnesse of his passion, as Act. 23. 3. Psal. 2. 6. his spirit] that is, the gifts of his spirit; as the Chaldee saith, his spirit of prophesie. So Paul wisheth that all the Church could prophesie, and saith, Follow after love, and zealously desire spirituall gifts; but rather that ye may prophesie, 1 Cor. 14. 1.

Verse 30. gathered] that is, gat himselfe, or, as the Greeke saith, departed. the Elders] who were authorized of God to be of the high Councell or Synedrion with Moses, & his assistants: and thus they differed from those inferiour Magistrates, which had bene appointed before by Iethroes advice, Exod. 18. 21. 25. And as then all hard causes were brought vnto Moses, Exod. 18. 26. so after this, such causes were brought to the high court or Synedrion, first ordained here. This is shewed by the Hebrew Canons in Talmud Bab. Sanhedrin, c. 1. and Maimony in Sanhedrin, c. 5. thus: They set up no King, but by the mouth of the Senate of 71. (Elders:) neither make they any lesser Synedrion for every tribe and for every citie, but by the Senate of 71. Neither judge they a whole tribe revolted (to idolatry,) nor a false Propheet, nor the high Priest in judgement of life and death, but by the great Synedrion. But money-matters are judged by the Court of thres Judges. Likewise they make (or judge) no Elder rebellious (Deuter. 17.) nor any citie drawne to idolatry (Deuter. 13.) neither cause they the suspected woman to drinke the bitter waters (Num. 5.)

but in the great Synedrion. Neither doe they adde unto (or enlarge) the Citie or the Courtyard, neither goe they forth to permitted warre, &c. [whereof see the notes on Deut. 20. 1.] but by the great Synedrion; as it is said, (in Exod. 18. 22.) Every great matter they shall bring unto thee.

31 Verse 31. a wind] God made an East wind to passe forth in heaven; and brought on a South wind by his strength, Psalm. 78. 26. brought Quails] such Fowles as he had fed them with before, in Exod. 16. 13. then now God againe brought swiftly, and as with violence; which the Chaldee translateth; made to flie. let them fall] or, spred them abroad; so this word is Englished in 1 Sam. 30. 16. duo cubitis] Sol. Tarchi saith, they flew so high as against a mans heart, that he was not toyled in getting them, either by reaching high, or by stooping low.

32 Vers. 32. ten homers] or, ten heapes, as the Chaldee translateth: for the Hebrew homer sometime signifieth an heape, as in Ex. 8. 4. sometime a kind of measure containing ten Ephahs or Bushels, Ezek. 45. 11. the which measure is called also a Cor, Ezek. 45. 14. and so Targum Ierusalem interpreteth it here. Thus also the Greeke translateth it, ten Cors; (for of the Hebrew Cor, the Greeke Coras, in Luke 16. 7. and Latine Cors are derived.) And Chazkuni here explaineth it, ten homers; there are in an Homer, thirtie Seahs (or Peckes); so ten Homers containe three hundred Seahs: so he that gathered least, had every day ten Seahs. Of the Seah or Pecke, see the notes on Gen. 18. 6. This abundance of Fowles was miraculous, whereupon it is said, God rained flesh upon them as dust; and feathered fowles as the sand of the Sea, Psa. 78. 27. And with these they filled their greedy lust; (feeding themselves without feare, as Jude, verse 12.) though the Lord had threatned to punish them, verse 20.

33 Ver. 33. not yet cut off] to wit, from their mouth; that is, not taken from them, which the Greeke translateth, before it (that is, the flesh) failed. Thus the phrase is opened in Joel 1. 5. the new wine is cut off from your mouth; that is, taken away from you. Or, by cutting, may be meant chewing. The Psalmist alleaging this, saith; They were not estranged from their desire; the meat was yet in their mouth, when the anger of God came up against them, &c. Psa. 78. 30, 31. And here Chazkuni observeth, how they were plagued of God, after that he had sufficed all of them with flesh; that men should not say, he had not plagued them, but because he was not able to suffice them all with flesh. a very great plague] or, rebemem great finiting: Abr. Ezra writeth, that it was the pestilence: God gave them their request, when they lusted for flesh; but sent leawesse into their soule, Psa. 106. 14, 15. The anger of God came up against them, and slew of the fat of them; and smote downe the choise young men of Israel, Psa. 78. 31.

34 Verse 34. be called] meaning, Moses called, and by the name of the place, left a memorill of their sin and punishment, for a warning to them after, Deut. 9. 22. and to us, that we should not lust after evill things as they lusted, 1 Cor. 10. 6. Or, as the Greeke translateth it, the name of the place was called; see verse 3. Kibroth-hattavah] that is, as the Greeke expoundeth it, Graves (or monuments) of lust. Where lust may be used for the men that lusted; as circumcision, in Rom. 2. 26. is for men circumcised; Pride, for the proud man, Jer. 50. 31, 32. Psalm. 36. 12. and many the like. See the notes on Genesis 45. 7.

V. 35. were in Hazeroth] or, Chazeroth; in Greeke, Aferath; here they were, that is, abode, or continued (as Daniel was, that is, continued, Dan. 1. 21. and they were, that is, continued there, Ruth 1. 2.) The cause of which abode, was a new trouble which Moses sister and brother raised against him, Num. 12.

CHAP. XII.

1, Mary and Aaron speake against Moses, about his wife and Office. 4, The Lord calleth them all before him, justifieth Moses, magnifieth his Office, rebuketh the murmurers, and departeth in anger. 10, Mary is made a Leper, Aaron confesseth sinne, Moses prayeth God to heale her. 14, The Lord commandeth her to be shut out of the campe seven daies. 15, The peoples journey is stayed till she was brought in againe; then they goe on into Pharan.

AND Mary and Aaron spake against Moses, because of the Ethiopian woman, whom he had taken: for he had taken an Ethiopian woman. And they said; Hath Jehovah spoken onely indeed by Moses? hath he not spoken also by us? And Jehovah heard it. Now the man Moses, was very meeke, above all the men which were upon the face of the earth.

And Jehovah said suddenly unto Moses, and unto Aaron, and unto Mary; Come out ye three unto the Tent of the congregation; and they three went out. And Jehovah came downe in the pillar of the cloud, and stood in the doore of the Tent, and called Aaron and Mary; and they two came forth. And he said, Heare now my words: If there shall be a Prophet among you, I Jehovah will make my selfe knowne unto him in a vision; I will speake unto him in a dreame. My servant Moses is not so, he is faithful in all mine house. Mouth to mouth will I speake with him, and in vision, and not in darke speeches; and the similitude of Jehovah shall hee behold: and wherefore were yee not afraid to speake against my servant, against Moses? And the anger of Jehovah was kindled against them, and hee went away. And the cloud departed from off the Tent; and behold, Mary became leprous as snow: and Aaron looked upon Marie, and behold she was leprous. And Aaron said unto Moses; Alas my lord, I beseech thee, lay not the sin upon us, wherein we have done foolish.

Gggg

ly,

12 ly, and wherein we have sinned. I beseech thee, let her not be as one dead; of whom 13 halfe his flesh is even consumed. And Moses cried unto Jehovah, saying; O God, I beseech thee, heale her now.

14 And Jehovah said unto Moses; And if her father had spitting spitted in her face, should she not be ashamed seven daies? let her be shut seven daies out from the campe; and 15 after let her be gathered in. And Mary was shut out from the campe seven daies; and the people journeyed not till Mary was gathered in againe. And afterward the people 16 journeyed from Hazeroth, and encamped in the Wildernesse of Pharan.

Annotations.

1 Marie] in Hebrew, Mirjam; in Greek, Mariam; she was a Prophetesse, sister of Moses and Aaron, Ex. 15. 20. & she it was that began the quarrel, as in the originall it appeareth, Mary she spake: therefore she, not Aaron, was plagued with leprosy, v. 10. As Satan prevailed first with Eve, then by her with Adam, Gen. 1. 3. so here first with Mary, and then by her, with Aaron the high Priest. And as the former sin of lust for flesh, began among the baser sort, Num. 11. 4. so this sin of ambition and vaine glory, began among the chiefeest of the Church: for these three, Moses, Aaron and Mary, were the chiefe guides, whom God sent before his people, Mic. 6. 4. because] or upon occasion, for the sake. Æthiopian] Heb. Cushite, which the Gr. translatheth, Æthiopian. This seemeth to be no other than Zipporah the Midianitess, whom Moses had married, Ex. 2. 16, 21. and because the Midianites dwelt in Cush his land, they were called Cushites (or Æthiopians;) and it may be also because they were tawny coloured like them. For otherwise Cush was the son of Cham, Gen. 10. 6. whereas Midian was the son of Abraham, the son of Sem, Gen. 25. 1, 2. The Chald. in stead of Cushite, saith Faire, which may be spoken by the contrary. Iosephus, Philo, & some others, take this wife not to be Zipporah, but another Æthiopian. taken] to wit, to wife; that is, married: so in 1 Chr. 2. 19, 21. 2 Chro. 11. 20. Neh. 6. 18. & 10. 30. By this it seemeth, the marrying of that woman, (who was not of the stock of Israel, & who hindred him from circumcising his son, Exo. 4. 24, 25, 26.) was the occasion of their murmuring. Howbeit, the Hebrew Doctors make his not companying with his wife, to be the occasion: for that hee being a Prophet, daily conversant with the Lord, and frequenting his Tabernacle, abstained from her, lest he should have legal pollution, which would have kept him from the Sanctuary, Lev. 15. 16, - 31. Compare also Exo. 19. 15. Thus the Chaldee expoundeth it, for he had put away (or abstained from) the faire wife which he had taken. And Sol. Iarchi thus, for he had taken a Cushite woman, and had now put her away.

2 Verse 2. by Moses] or, in Moses; as speaking of inward revelation by the Spirit: The Targum called Jonathans, paraphraseth thus; Hath the Lord spoken onely indeed with Moses, who is separated from copulation of the bed, meaning with his wife. also by us] or, in us: as David said, The spirit of Jehovah spake in me, 2 Sam. 23. 2. Here Sol. Iarchi addeth for explanation, hath he not spoken also by us, and yet we have not separated our selves from the way of the earth: meaning, from mutuall societie, such as is between man and wife; a phrase taken from Gen. 19. 31. But it may be understood, as before is noted, that they would not have Moses esteemed the only Prophet, who had so stained himselfe by marriage with a strange woman. Their drift was by disgracing Moses for his infirmitie, to grace and advance themselves; against which it is said, Let us not be desirous of vaine-glory, provoking one another, envying one another, Gal. 5. 26. heard it] that is, tooke notice of this their speech, to reprove and punish it. So of Reubens sin, it is said, Israel heard it, Gen. 35. 22. Or, God is said to bear it, as a witness of that which it may be they murmured in secret: as in Psal. 59. 8. Swords are in their lips, for who (say they) doth beare? and in Psal. 55. 20. God will beare and afflict them. See also Psal. 94. 7, 8, 9.

3 Verse 3. mecke] the originall word hath affinitye with affliction and lowliness; for by affliction, this vertue is furthered, Lam. 3. 27, 28, 29, 30. & is seated in the heart and spirit, as the Apostle mentioneth a mecke and quiet spirit, 1 Pet. 3. 4. As Moses, so Christ is set forth for an example of meeknesse, Matth. 21. 5. & 11. 29. It is a vertue which keepeth a meane in anger, and avenging of our selves when we are offended, wronged, and contemned. above all the men] or, more than any man. This commendation the Spirit of God giveth of Moses, though by Moses own Pen, (as the Apostle also writeth in his owne behalfe, 2 Cor. 11. 5, 6, 10, 22. &c. & 12. 11, 12.) although Moses is noted to have bene very angry, sundry times, Exod. 11. 8. & 16. 20. & 32. 19. Levit. 10. 16. Numb. 16. 15. & 31. 14. & 20. 10, 11. compared with Psalm. 106. 32, 33.

4 Verse 4. said suddenly] so shewing the greatnesse of his displeasure against them, which suffered no delay, Psal. 64. 7. Prov. 6. 15. Esa. 30. 13. and preventing any that might think Moses complained to God and sought revenge. Thus God who will be a swift witness against evill doers, Mal. 3. 5. suddenly rose to pleade the cause of his meekest servant. Compare Psal. 50. 19, 20, 21. yee three] both parties are judicially summoned to appeare before the Lord, in the Tent of his habitation: as he riseth up to judgement, to save all the meeke of the earth, Psal. 76. 9. So in Num. 16. 16.

5 Verse 5. came downe] in Chaldee, revealed himselfe: see Gen. 11. 5. of the cloud] as the throne of his glory, out of which hee used to appeare, and speake unto them, Psal. 99. 7. Numb. 16. 42. Unto these apparitions, those visions of Iohn hath reference, Rev. 10. 1, 2, 3. and 14. 14, &c.

6 Verse 6. a Prophet among you] or, of you; Hebrew, your Prophet: which the Chaldee expoundeth, If there shall be Prophets to (or among) you. What this this word Prophet meaneth; see in the notes on Gen. 20. 7. Exod. 7. 1. [I Jehovah] so the Chaldee also explaineth it: or it may be interpreted, of Jehovah; that is, a Prophet of the L O R D: so the Greeke translateth, a Prophet of you to the Lord.

in a vision] or, by a vision, or sight; that is, as the Chaldee saith, in vision: so God appeared to Abraham the Prophet, in a vision, Gen. 20. 7. & 15. 1. and to Jacob, Gen. 46. 2. to Ezekiel, Ezek. 1. 1. to Daniel, Dan. 8. 2. and others, Job 4. 13. 2 Cor. 12. 1. Acts 17. whereupon a prophesie is called a vision, Esa. 1. 1. Obad. 1. 1. Nahum 1. 1. [in a dream] Chald. in dreames: another way by which God revealed his words to the Prophets, Gen. 31. 11. Deut. 13. 1. 1 Kings 3. 5. Jer. 23. 25, 28, 32. Dreames are in the night, and then as it were in darknesse God spake with the other Prophets; but as R. Menasse here noteth, it was not so with Moses, for (God) spake not with him but by day. Moreover, dreames and visions doe soone vanish and flie away, Job 20. 8.

7 V. 7. not so] is not such a Prophet, that I should speake to him by dreames and visions, [faithfull in all mine house] that is, in all my Church; for the house of God, is expounded, the Church of the living God; 1 Tim. 3. 15. and so the Chaldee here translateth it, in all my people; and Jonathan, in all the house of Israel my people: and Chazkoni explaineth it thus, all the men of my house hold him for faithfull. This is further opened by the Apostle, saying; Consider the Apostle and high Priest of our profession, Christ Iesus, who was faithfull to him that made him, as also Moses was in all his house, &c. And Moses verily was faithfull in all his house, as a servant, for a testimonie of those things which were to be spoken after, but Christ as the Son over his owne house; whose house we are, if we hold fast the confidence, and the rejoycing of the hope firme unto the end, Heb. 3. 1, -6. Touching Moses faithfulness, and the confidence that Israel reposed in him, see the notes on Exod. 19. 9.

8 Verse 8. Mouth to mouth] that is, familiarly, plainly, in mine owne presence, without any interpolated meane; as the Chaldee translateth, Speech with speech. So when Ioseph spake without an interpreter, he said, it is my mouth that speaketh unto you, Genes. 45. 12. and the Apostle opposeth it to speech by writing; as, I would not write with paper and inke, but I trust to come unto you, and speake mouth to mouth, that our joy may be full, 2 Joh. ver. 12. and 3 John 14. A like phrase is in Exod. 33. 11. Jehovah spake unto Moses face to face, as a man speaketh unto his friend: and in this manner of communication, Moses excelled all other Prophets, Deut. 34. 10. The Hebrew Doctors have explained this matter thus; It is one of the foundations of the Law, to know that God maketh the same of men to prophesie; and prophesie resteth not but on a wise man, great in wisdom, mightie in his vertuous qualities, that his affections (or naturall corruption) prevaile not over him, in any thing in the world, but he prevaieth by his knowledge over his affections continually, &c. On such a man the holy Ghost dwelleth, and when the Spirit resteth upon him, his soule is associated to the degree of Angels which are called men, and he is turned to another man, and perceiveth in his own knowledge that he is not so as he was, but that he is advanced above the degree of other wise men, as it is said of Saul, And thou shalt prophesie with them, and shalt be turned to another man, (1 Sam. 10. 6.) The Prophets were of divers degrees: as in wisdom one wise man is greater than another, so in prophesie one Prophet was greater than another. And all of them saw not the vision of prophesie but by dreames, by vision of the night, or in the day time, after that a deepe sleepe was fallen upon them, Num. 12. 6. and all of them when they prophesied, their joynts trembled, and strength of body failed, and their thoughts were troubled, and the minde was left changed to understand that which was seene; as is said of Abraham, And loe a terror, a great darknes fell upon him, (Gen. 15.) and as is said of Daniel, And my vigor was turned in me into corruption, and I retained no strength, (Dan. 10. 8.) The things that were made knowne to a Prophet by vision propheticall, were made knowne to him by way of parable, and forthwith the interpretation of the parable was written in his heart, and he knew what it was. As the ladder that Jacob our father did see, and the Angels ascending and descending on it, (Gen. 28. 12.) and the living creatures which Ezekiel saw, (Eze. 1.) and the seething pot, and Almond rod which Jeremie saw, (Jerem. 1.) and the Ephah which Zachary saw, (Zach. 5.) and so the other Prophets, of whom some spake the parable and the interpretation thereof, some the interpretation onely; and sometimes they uttered the parable onely, without the interpretation, as part of Ezekiels and Zacharies words: and they all prophesied by parabes and after the way of darke speeches. None of the Prophets prophesied at all times when they would; but prepared their understanding, and sate joyfull, & with cheerfull heart, and with contemplation. For prophesie cometh not upon men, either when they are sorrowfull: or when they are slothfull, but when they are joyfull: therefore the sons of the Prophets had before them Psalteries, and Timbrels, and Pipes, and Harps, (1 Sam. 10. 5.) & they sought for prophesie; & this is that which is written, AND THEY PROPHE- SYING, (1 Sam. 10. 5.) as if he should say, walking in the way of prophesie, untill they do prophesie. Those which sought to prophesie, are called sons of the Prophets: and although they prepared their wits (or understanding;) it might be the holy Ghost would come downe upon them, and it might be not. All these things that we have spoken of, were the way of prophesie for all the former and latter Prophets, except Moses our master, the master of all the Prophets. And what difference was there betwene the prophesie of Moses, and of all the other Prophets? All the Prophets prophesied by dreames or by vision: but Moses prophesied when he was waking and standing; as it is written, And when Moses was gone into the Tent of the congregation, to speake with him, then he heard the voice of one speaking unto him, (Num. 7. 89.) All the Prophets prophesied by the hands of an Angell, therefore they did see that which they saw in parabes and darke speeches: Moses prophesied not by the hands of an Angell, as it is said, Mouth to mouth, I will speake with him, (Numbers 12. 8.) it is also said,

The Lord spake unto Moses face to face, (Exod. 33. 11.) and againe it is said, And the similitude of the LORD shall be beheld, (Numbers 12. 8.) as if he should say there is no parable there, but he seeth the thing concerning his Creator, without darke speech, without parable. He it is of whom the Law testifieth, APPARANTLY, AND NOT IN DARKE SPEECHES, (Numbers 12. 8.) for he prophesied not by darke speech, but apparantly, for he saw the thing concerning his Creator. All the Prophets were afraid, and troubled, and fainte, but Moses was not so; for the Scripture saith, As a man speaketh unto his friend, (Exodus 33. 11.) as if he should say, as a man is not troubled to heare the words of his friend, so there was strength in the minde of Moses, to understand the words of prophesie, and he stood on his place safe and well. None of the Prophets prophesied at all times when they would: but Moses was otherwise, for at any time when he would, the holy Ghost clothed him, and prophesie came upon him; and he needed not to prepare his minde, and make himselfe ready for it: for he was prepared and ready, and stood as the Angels of Ministerie, therefore he prophesied at all times, as it is said, Stand still, and I will heare what the LORD will command concerning you, (Numbers 9. 8.) And this God caused him to trust upon, as it is said, But as for thee, Stand thou here with me, &c. (Deuteronomie 5. 31.) whereby thou mayest learne, that all the Prophets, when prophesie was taken up from them, returned to their Tents, which was for things necessarie to the body of them all, as the rest of the people; therefore they were not separated from their wives: but Moses our master returned not to his first Tent, therefore he was separated from his wife for ever; and his minde was fast bound unto God the Rocke everlasting, and his glory was never taken up from upon him, but the skime of his face shined, and he was sanctified as the Angels. Maimony in Misi. tom. 1. in Iesude batorah, chap. 7. sect. 1. - 6. Now as the Apostle compareth Christ with Moses, and preferreth him before Moses, Heb. 3. so in this gift of prophesie he did excell him: for, the Lord gave him the tongue of the learned, that he knew how to speake a word in season, Esa. 50. 4. and this he learned not by dreames or visions, nor by Angels, nor by speech communicated mouth to mouth; but by cleare seeing of God, (which no man ever did at any time;) and being in the bosome of the Father, Joh. 1. 18. and having the Spirit, not by measure, he testified what he had seene and heard with his Father, Joh. 3. 32, 34. and 8. 38. and in him all fulnesse dwelt, even the fulnesse of the Godhead bodily, Colos. 1. 19. and 2. 9.

will I speake] that is, I usually speake: the time to come is used to signifie a continued action. in vision] or, by sight, or appearance, that is, apparantly: the Greeke translateth, in an appearance, or sight: which word is opposed (in 2 Cor. 5. 7.) to faith, which is of things not seene, Hebr. 11. 1. and here the Lord opposeth it to darke speeches, so it meaneth an apparant or cleere revelation. Aben Ezra explaineth it thus; I will shew him the thing as it is, as the forme of the Tabernacle (Exod. 25. 40.) and not in a darke speech, (or riddle) like that (in Ezek. 17. 2.) a great Eagle with great wings, &c.

darke speeches] or, hidden speeches, riddles: a darke speech is called in Hebrew Chidah, of sharpnesse, because it requireth sharpnesse of wit, both to propound and expound the same; as we have example in Samsons riddle, Judg. 14. 13, 14, &c. and it is of the nature of a parable, as in Eze. 17. 3, 33. Son of man put forth a riddle, and speake a parable to the house of Israel; A great Eagle with great wings, long winged, full of feathers, which had rivers colours, came into Lebanon, &c. And all close and hidden Doctrine is called a riddle, Psalm. 49. 5. And the holy Ghost translateth it in Greeke, sometime Atigma, a riddle, 1 Cor. 13. 12. (as the common Greeke version here hath) sometime hidden things, Matth. 13. 35. from Psal. 78. 2. and so the Chaldee of Iouan ex-poundeth it here. The Apostle sheweth the meaning of this word, when he saith, Now we see through a glasse, in a riddle, (that is, darkly) but then (we shall see) face to face, 1 Corin. 13. 12. the similitude] or the likeness, image, which the Greeke interpreteth the glory of the Lord: Sol. Iarchi saith, This is the sight of (Gods) back-part, mentioned in Exod. 33. 23. And this prerogative Moses had above all Israel, which saw no similitude of God, Deut. 4. 12, 15. and above all Prophets, who saw no vision of God so cleere as hee did. For even Moses himselfe could not see the face of God, Exo. 33. 20. No man hath seene God at any time, John 1. 18. neither can see, 1 Tim. 6. 16. against my servant, against Moses] a manner of speech both earnest and elegant, like that in Genesis 21. 10. with my sonne, with Isaac; and that in 2 Sam. 7. 23. like thy people, like Israel. Sol. Iarchi noteth, He saith not, against my servant Moses; but, against my servant, against Moses; against my servant, though he were not Moses; against Moses; for though he were not my servant, it were meet ye should feare before him, how much more seeing he is my servant? According to this the Apostle speaketh in 2 Pet. 2. 10. They are not afraid to speake evill of dignities.

Verf. 9. he went away] withdrew the signe of his glorious presence, not vouchsafing to heare their answer; which was a token of his great displeasure.

Verse 10. the cloud departed] the cloud of the glory of the divine presence of the Lord, saith Thargum Iomathan. leprous as snow] that is, leprous white as snow; and this was the worst leprosie, and most incurable, see Exod. 4. 6. 2 King. 5. 27. and they that had this disease, were put out of the Lords campe as uncleane, Lev. 13. and therefore God departed now away, for (as Chazkuni here saith) It is not the way of the earth, that holinesse should stay in an uncleane place. This punishment was very memorable, both for the suddennesse and sorenesse of it; wherefore it is after said, Remember what Iehovah thy God did unto Mary by the way, after that ye were come forth out of Egypt, Deut. 24. 9. And if God did thus unto so great a woman for Moses sake, what will he doe to such as rebell against Christ, who is counted worthy of more glory than Moses, Heb. 3. 3. For if they escaped not, who refused him that spake on earth; much more shall not we (escape) if we turne away from him that (speaketh)

from

from heaven, Heb. 12. 25. For Christ is not the servant, but the Sonne, even the Lord from heaven, 1 Corinth. 15. 47.

11 Verse 11. Alas my lord] or, Oh my lord, Hebrew, unto me, to wit, have respect; the Chaldee explaineth it, We pray thee, my lord: see this phrase in Gen. 43. 10. Aaron as unworthy of access to himselfe unto God now departed, maketh request unto Moses, honoureth him (though Aaron himselfe was both the elder brother, and the high Priest) with the title of his lord, confesseth their sinne against him, craveth pardon; and by Moses mediation, to have their sister cured. finne] that is, the punishment of sin, (as Lev. 22. 9. Num. 18. 32. which he desireth that by Moses intercession, it might not be laid upon them of God. wherein we have done foolishly] or, because we are become foolish: the Greeke translateth, because we have done ignorantly in that we have sinned: in which sense it is a lessening of their sinne, as done through unadvisednesse and oversight, not maliciously.

12 Verse 12. as one dead] by continuance of the leprosie upon her, whereby she should be shut out of the communion of the Church, Num. 5. 2. should defile all that touched her, as doe the dead; and in the end be consumed, and die utterly with that fretting plague, as the words following shew. The Chaldee expoundeth this verse thus, Let her not now be separated from among us, for she is our sister: pray now for this dead flesh that is in her, that it may be healed. is even consumed] or, is even eaten, to wit, with the disease: and by coming out of his mothers wombe, the Greeke understandeth and translateth, an untimely birth and coming out, &c. for as of such a dead birth the flesh is halfe consumed, so is the flesh of a Leper.

13 Verse 13. cried out] that is, as the Chaldee translateth, prayed, but earnestly, and as grieved for her affliction; so the word usually signifieth. O God] Hebr. El, which is one of Gods names, signifying his Might, and together implying his mercie; as is noted on Gen. 14. 18. So in Thargum Ionathian, it is here explained; And Moses prayed, and besought mercie before the Lord, saying; I beseech for mercie of the mercifull God, I beseech God that hath power of the spirits of all flesh, heale her I beseech thee.

14 Verse 14. had spitting spitted] that is, had but spitted, to wit, in anger. The Chaldee expoundeth it, had rebuked. Spitting on the face, is a signe of anger, shame and contempt, Job 30. 10. Esay 50. 6. which if it had beene from her earthly father, should have made her ashamed and sorrowfull seven daies: how much more now that it is from her father which is in heaven? seven daies] so long every Leper was to be shut up by the Law, for every triall, and also at his cleansing: see Lev. 13. 4, 5. 21, 26. & 14. 8. So long was he uncleane, that touched a dead man, Num. 19. 11. gathered] that is, received in, or as the Greeke translateth, enter in. So gathering is used for receiving or taking in, after that one is neglected or forsaken, Judg. 19. 15. Jos. 20. 4. Psal. 27. 10. Here Thargum Ionathian addeth this paraphrase, And I will cause to stay, for thy sake, the Cloud of my Glorie, and the Tabernacle, and

the Arke, and all Israel, untill the time that she is healed, and afterward she shall be gathered in.

Verse 15. Mary was shut] in Greeke, was separated: this was an example of justice against sinners, without respect of persons: therefore they are after willed to remember this, Deuteronomie 24. 9. And even Kings when they were Lepers, were separated, and dwelt apart, 2 Chron. 26. 20, 21. the people journeyed with] but stayed mourning for her, till shee was recured; which was a speciall honour unto Mary above other Lepers, for whom there was no such stay, Num. 5. 2, 4. Because this Mary was one of those whom God sent before his people, Mic. 6. 4. Exo. 15. 20. Sol. Larchi saith, The Lord imparted this honour unto her, because she once stayed for Moses when he was cast into the river, as it is written, and his sister stood a farr off, &c. Exod. 2. 4.

Verse 16. Wildernesse of Pharan] or, of Paran, which had beene Ismaels habitation, Gen. 21. 21. and the place where they pitched in this Wildernesse was called Rishmah, Num. 33. 18. and Cades barmes, Num. 13. 3, 26. Deut. 1. 19. &c.

CHAP. XIII

1, The Lord biddeth Moses send one man of every Tribe, to search the land of Canaan. 4, Their names and Tribes. 17, Their instructions. 21, Their ascent and returne after fortie daies. 26, Their relation of the goodnesse of the land, and strength of the inhabitants. 30, Caleb encourageth the people, but the other discourage them, and bring up an evil report upon the land.

DDD

And Jehovah spake unto Moses, saying; Send thou men, that they may search the land of Canaan, which I give to the sonnes of Israel: one man, one man for a Tribe of his fathers, shall ye send every one a ruler among them. And Moses sent them from the Wildernesse of Pharan, at the mouth of Jehovah: all those men were heads of the sons of Israel. And these were their names: Of the Tribe of Reuben, Shammua the sonne of Zaccur. Of the Tribe of Simeon, Shaphat the son of Hori. Of the Tribe of Judah, Caleb the sonne of Jephunneh. Of the Tribe of Issachar, Jigal the son of Joseph. Of the Tribe of Ephraim, Hoshea the sonne of Nun. Of the Tribe of Benjamin, Palti the sonne of Raphu. Of the Tribe of Zabulon, Gaddiel the sonne of Sodi. Of the Tribe of Joseph, of the Tribe of Manasses, Gaddi the son of Sufi. Of the Tribe of Dan, Ammiel the sonne of Gemalli. Of the Tribe of Aser, Sethur the sonne

Gggg 3 of

14 of Michael. Of the Tribe of Naphtali; Nah-15 bi the sonne of Vophsi. Of the Tribe of 16 Gad; Gevel the son of Machi. These are the names of the men which Moses sent to 17 spie out the land: and Moses called Hoshea the sonne of Nun, Joshua. And Moses sent them to search the land of Canaan, and said 18 unto them; Goe up this way Southward, and goe up into the mountaine. And see the 19 land what it is, and the people that dwelleth thereon, whether they be strong or weake, whether they be few or many. And what 20 the land is that they dwell in; whether it be good or bad, and what the Cities be that they dwell in: whether in Tents or in strong holds. And what the land 21 is, whether it be fat or leane, whether there be wood therein or not: and be ye of good courage, and take of the fruit of the land; (Now the daies were the daies 22 of the first ripe grapes.) And they went up and searched the land, from the Wildernesse of Zin, unto Rehob, to the entrance of 23 Hamath. And they went up by the South, and he came unto Chebron: and there were Ahiman, Sheshai and Talmi, the children of Anak: now Hebron was built seven 24 yeeres, before Zoan in Egypt. And they came unto the bourne of Eshcol, and cut downe from thence a branch, and one cluster of grapes; and they bare it on a staffe,
 by two: and (they brought) of the Pomgra-25 nates, and of the figs. That place was called the bourne of Eshcol, because of the clu-26 ster which the sons of Israel cut down from thence. And they returned from searching the land at the end of fortie daies. And they went and came to Moses and to Aaron, and to all the congregations of the sonnes of Israel, unto the Wildernesse of Pharan, to Kadesh: and brought back word unto them and unto all the congregation; and shewed 27 them the fruit of the land. And they told him, and said; We came unto the land whither thou sentest us: and surely it floweth 28 with milke and honey, and this is the fruit of it. Neverthelesse, the people is strong that dwelleth in the land; and the Cities fenced very great: and moreover, we saw the chil-29 dren of Anak there. Amalek dwelleth in the land of the South: and the Chethite, and the Jebusite, and the Amorite dwelleth in the mountaine; and the Canaanite dwelleth 30 by the sea, and by the coast of Jordan. And Caleb stilled the people before Moses, and said, Going up, let us goe up and possesse it;

for wee are well able to overcome it. But the men that went up with him, said; We be not able to goe up against the people: for they are stronger than wee. And they brought up an evill report of the land which they had searched, unto the sons of Israel, saying; The land, thorow which we have gone to search it, is a land that eateth up the inhabitants thereof; and all the people that we saw within it, are men of stature. And there we saw the Giants, the sons of Anak, which come of the Giants: and wee were in our owne eyes as Grasshoppers; and so wee were in their eyes.

Annotations.

Here beginneth the 37. Section of the Law: see Genesis 6. 9.

[Eboab spake] By Moses relation after, it appeareth, that when God had led his people from mount Horeb to Cadish Barnea, through the great and fearfull Wildernesse, and they were come to the mountaine of the Amorites; then Moses said, See, the LORD thy God hath given the land before thee; Goe up, possesse it. And all the people came neere unto Moses, and said; We will send men before us, and they shall search out the land for us, and bring us word againe, by what way we shall goe up, &c.
 That word liked Moses well; and he took of them
 twelve men, and sent them to spie out the land, Deut. 1. 19, 24. So where here it is said, Eboab spake, &c. it is not meant, that this motion came first from the Lord; but the people first spake of it to Moses, he consulted with the Lord about it;
 and the Lord approved; or at least, permitted
 the thing which they desired.

Verse 2. Send thou] or, Send for thee: which Sol. Iarchi expoundeth to this sense; I command thee not; if thou pleasest, send: forasmuch as Israel came and said, we will send men, &c. Deuter. 1. 22.
 that they may search] or, and let them search, or espie, by searching round about: and the word implieth the action of the heart & minde, not of the eyes onely, Eccles. 1. 13. & 7. 25. Thus God let them goe search or espie the land, which he himselfe before had espied for them, Ezek. 20. 6. and went before them in the way, to search them out a place to pitch their tents in, in fire by night, and in a cloud by day, Deut. 1. 33. of Canaan] that is, as the Greek translateth, of the Chanaanites: named as the chiefe, for it was the land of 7. mightie nations, Deut. 7. 1. I give] or, am giving:
 so he speaketh as of a thing present, for more assurance. one man one man] an Hebrew phrase, meaning, of every Tribe one man, excepting the Tribe of Levi, for of them none was sent; because they were to have no inheritance in the land, Deut. 18. 1.
 a Ruler] or, a Prince; not of the baser sort, because the

the businesse was weightie: whereupon their rebellion following was of the more note.

3 Verse 3. at the mouth or, according to the mouth, that is, the word of the L. O. R. D., as the Chaldee translateth; and the Greeke, by the voice of the Lord: and this Sol. Iarchi expoundeth, by his permission. So in the commentarie called Psephisa, fol. 47. it is said, The election of the Spies, was according to the mouth of the L. O. R. D.; not that God commanded them to send them. If thou sayest, why did he not forbid them to send? To accomplish their desire, and to render them their recompense, and to give unto Joshua and Caleb a good reward. heads] that is, as the Greeke saith, Chieft-rulers; and Chazkuni expoundeth them, Captains over thousands: as in Exodus 18, 25.

7 Verse 7. Figal] in Greeke, Igad.

8 Verse 8. Hoshea] in Greeke, Auses son of Nave.

11 Verse 11. of Ioseph] He was father of Ephraim in verse 8, as well as of Manasseh here; and sometime Ioseph is named for Ephraim, Ezek. 37. 16, 19. Revel. 7. 8. Here he is named as father of Manasseh, who was his first-borne, Jos. 17. 1. although the Hebrews give another reason; namely, Because both of them uttered an ill report; Ioseph, of his Brethren, (Gen. 37. 2.) and the Prince of Manasseh, of the land: which Hoshea of Ephraim did not. 14 Verse 14. Nabbi] or Nachbi; in Greeke, Naabi some of Sabi.

15 Verse 15. Geul] in Greeke, Goudiel.

16 Verse 16. These are the names] Chazkuni here observeth, He sent no spie of the Tribe of Levi, because he had no portion in the land. Nun] called also, Naz, 1 Chron. 7. 27. in Greeke, Nave. Ioshua] or, Iehoshua, called sometime Ieshuah, Neh. 8. 17. in Greeke, Iesus, and so the New Testament writeth him, Act. 7. 45. Heb. 4. 8. that signifieth a Saviour, Mat. 1. 21. And this name Moses gave him by the Spirit of God; either as foreseeing that he should be his successor, and save the people from their enemies the Canaanites; or, (as Sol. Iarchi here noteth) praying for him, that the Lord would save him from the counsell of the (wicked) spies. But Chazkuni expoundeth it, Moses had called Hoshea the son of Nun, Joshua, not that he now first called him Joshua, but before when he was made his minister, and found grace in his eyes. We find him called Ioshua, before they came to mount Sinai, Exod. 17. 9. and after this, when Moses is ready to die, he is called Hoshea, in Deuter. 32. 44. Where Chazkuni saith thus; At the first when he was taken to be Moses Minister; Moses called him Joshua; for so is the manner of Kings; to change the name of their Ministers, Gen. 41. 45. Dan. 1. 7. But now when he is made King himselfe, his first name is restored: nevertheless, thorough all the Scripture he is called Joshua, because he was accustomed thereto already. By this reason, the change of his name should seeme to diminish from his dignity; whereas it was changed for his honour; as were the names of Abram, Sargi, Isaac, and others; Genes. 17. 5, 15. & 32. 28. Nehem. 9. 7. Esay 62. 2. Marke 3. 16, 17.

17 Verse 27. Southward] or, by the South, as in vers. 22. meaning, the South part of the Land of Canaan, as Chazkuni explaineth it. For that was nearest unto them, and the worst part of the land, because it was wilderness, and waterlesse, as the originall word Negh, signifieth Drie ground: and Caleb daughter said to her father, Thou hast given me a South (that is, a drie) land, give me also springs of water, Judg. 1. 15. and, Rivers in the South, Psa. 126. 4. meaning, refreshing after bondage and affliction. The Greeke here translateth, Go up by this wilderness; and so in that part was a wilderness, Jos. 15. 4, 3. And Sol. Iarchi saith, Go up this way by the South; that was the worst part of the land of Israel: for so is the manner of Merchants; they shew the worst things first, and afterward they shew the best. the mountaine] which was inhabited by Amalekites, Canaanites, and Amorites, Num. 14. 40, 45. Deut. 1. 44. Of this, Chazkuni giveth a reason thus; And when ye shall know how to subdue the mountain, the valley will be easie to subdue.

18 Verse 18. the land what it is] This is againe repeated in verse 19. and the third time in verse 20. which may thus be distinguished: by the land here, is meant, the people of the land, as after Moses explaineth it; by the land, in verse 19, is meant, the ayre of the country, and the cities, villages, tents, which were by the hand of man set thereon; and by the land, in ver. 20. is meant, the soile or ground it selfe, and fruits that grew thereon. and the people] and is here for explanation, that is, or, I mean the people: see the notes on Gen. 13. 15. So in Psa. 66. 4. Let all the earth bow downe to thee, that is, all peoples of the earth: likewise in Psa. 110. 1. & 96. 1. and often in the Scriptures. So, house for household, or people in it, Gen. 45. 11, 18. Citizens for Citizens, Jos. 17. 12. whether they] Hebrew, whether it be strong, &c. speaking of the people, as one in multitude.

19 Verse 19. good or bad] This seemeth to respect the wholsomnesse of the country, for aire, waters, &c. as in 2 King. 2. 19. the situation of this country is good, but the water is bad, and the land causeth to miscarie. To this, Chazkuni referreth it, saying, or bad, if it cause the inhabitants thereof to miscarie (or to be barren) as 2 King. 2. 19. and hereupon they answered, It is a land that eateth up the inhabitants thereof, Numb. 13. 32. in Tents] or, in campes, troopes; the Chaldee calleth them Villages (or unwalled Townes) the Greeke changeth the order, saying, in walled or in unwalled Townes.

20 Verse 20. fat or lean] This respecteth the soile

it selfe, which if it be fat, is fertile; if leane, barren. The Chaldee changeth the metaphor, saying, whether it be rich or poore. So in Neh. 9. 25, 35. They tooke strong cities, and a fat land; and in Ezek. 34. 14. fat pasture.

wood] or, Trees, as the Greeke and Chaldee interpret it, and Targum Jonathan, Trees of food; that is, of fruit to be eaten.

be ye of good courage] or, strengthen, encourage your selves. the first ripe grapes] or, the first fruits of grapes. And then, as Chazkuni observeth, They had need to have courage, because the keepers (of the vineyards) watched them there.

21 Verse 21. of Zin] or, of Tsin: there was a wilderness into which they came before, called Sin, so named of an Egyptian citie Sin neere it, Ex. 16. 1. Ezek. 30. 15, 16. This desert of Zin, seemeth to be so named, as being a Thornie wilderness; for Zinnim (in the forme plurall) signifieth thornes, Job 5. 5. And as the former Sin bordered upon Egypt, so Zin bordered on the land of Canaan, Num. 34. 3, 4. Jos. 15. 3. Rebob] or Rebob, called in Greeke, Reob, (as Reobabham or Reboboam, 1 King. 12. 1. is written in Greeke by the Holy Ghost, Roboam, Mat. 1. 7.) This Rebob was a citie in the West part of the land of Canaan, neere unto Sidon, which fell by lot to the Tribe of Aser, Jos. 19. 28. Judg. 1. 31. to the entrance] or, to the entering in of Hamath: so in Numb. 34. 8. Jos. 13. 5. Judg. 3. 3. Amos 6. 14. and so the Chaldee here translateth it, Hamath or Chamath, called also Hamath the great, Amos 6. 2. was a citie on the North part of Canaan, and on the East side, (as Rebob was on the West) Num. 34. 8. Jos. 13. 5. By this description of their voyage, they went from South to North, and from West to East, so viewing the whole land. This Hamath is in Targum Jonathan called Antiochia, (and so Hamath was after named of K. Antiochus;) and it was situate under mount Lebanon, by the river Iabok.

22 Vers. 22. by the South] or Southward; Or, by the wilderness: see verse 17. and he came to Chebron] or, unto Hebron; a place in the South parts of Canaan, where Abraham, Isaac and Isaak, with their wives, had bene buried, Gen. 23. 2, 19. and 49. 31. see the notes on Gen. 13. 18. By he came, Sol. Iarchi and others, understand Caleb onely; as if the twelve Spies went not in one company, but one or two of them together: and Caleb's coming thither is specially mentioned in Jos. 14. 9. the land whereon thy feet have troden, shall be thine inheritance; and in verse 12. now therefore give me this mountaine, whereof the Lord spake in that day; and in verse 14. Chebron therefore became the inheritance of Caleb. Others understand he came, that is, they came; as Chazkuni saith, It is the manner of the Scripture, to speake of many spies and hers in wait, in the singular number; as (in Joshua 8. 19.) The her in ambush rose quickly out of his place. The Greeke translateth, they came; the Chaldee hath in some copies Alha, he came; in other some Asbo, THEY came.

Abimam] or as the Greeke writeth him, Abimam: he was one on the Heathen Giants dwelling in Chebron: the Hebrews interpret his name, Who is my brother? and that he was so called, because none in the world was brother to him (that is, like unto him) in strength: yet Caleb slew him and his two brethren; Jos. 15. 14. Judg. 1. 10. Shebsai] in Greeke; Sesai. Talmai] in Greeke, Telamai.

children of Anak] in Greeke, generations of Anak: in Chaldee, sonnes of the Giant (or, of the mighty man.) Anak was the sonne of Arba, whereupon Chebron was in former times called Kirjath Arba, that is, the citie of Arba, Jos. 15. 13. Gen. 23. 2.

before Zoan] or Tsoan, called in Greeke and Chaldee, Tanes: (as of Tfor or Zor, is Tyrus in Greeke.) This declareth not onely the antiquity of Chebron, but by consequence the goodnesse of the land. For the Anakims which reigned over all, seated themselves in the best places. Sol. Iarchi saith; It may be that Cham builded Chebron for his younger sonne Canaan, before he builded Zoan for Mizraim his elder sonne, &c. Of all countries, none excelled Egypt; as it is written, Like the garden of the Lord, like the land of Egypt, (Genes. 13. 10.) And Zoan was the most excellent in the land of Egypt, for there the Kings dwelt, as it is written, For his Princes were at Zoan, (Esay 30. 4.) but Chebron was seven times better than it.

Verse 23. bourne] or vallie, brooke. The Hebrew Nachal signifieth both a valley, Gen. 26. 17, 19. and a river or brooke running in a valley: our English word bourne, answereth to them both. Esau signifieth a cluster; and of the Israelites cutting of the cluster, this place had the name, for a memoriall, verse 24. The Greeke translateth it, the vallie of the cluster: This place is reported to have bene in the Tribe of Dan, within a little of the vallie Sarek mentioned in Judg. 16. 4. a branch] to wit, of a vine, and one cluster of grapes upon it, as the Greeke version saith; and so Iarchi explaineth it, a branch of a vine, and a cluster of grapes hanging upon it. on a staffe] or, on a barre; the Greeke translateth, on barres (or leavers) and omitteth the words following, by two: which seemeth to favour the exposition that Chazkuni giveth here, they bare it on a barre of the branch, with two other bars. But the more simple and plaine meaning is set downe in Targum Jonathan thus, on a barre, on the shoulders of two of them.

Verse 25. at the end of fortie daies] in Greeke, after fortie daies. In Targum Jonathan there is added, in the moneth of Ab (which we call July) at the end of fortie daies. And Chazkuni explaineth it further, that they began on the 29. of Sivan (which we name May) and ended on the eighth of Ab (or July.) So many daies, our Lord Christ after his resurrection, viewed his Disciples, being seen of them fortie daies, Acts 1. 3. And according to this number of daies, the Israelites had yeeres allotted them to wander and perish in the Wilderness, because they beleevd not God, but refused to goe into the good land proffered them, Numb. 14. 33, 34. Of the myserie in this number 40. see more in the notes on Deut. 25. 3.

Verse 26. to Kadesh] called also Kadesh barnea, Deut. 1. 19. There was a citie of the Edomites called Kadesh, Num. 20. 16. whereupon the wilderness by it was called also Kadesh, Psal. 29. 8. and and the same was called the wilderness of Zin, Num. 33. 36. Chazkuni here saith: The wilderness of Pharan, and the wilderness of Zin, and Hazeroth, and Kadesh barnea, and Rithmah, (Num. 33. 18.) were one neere to another. This Kadesh (in Greeke, Kades) The Chaldee nameth Reham.

27 Verse 27. they told him] to wit, Moses, in the hearing of all the congregation. and honey] that is, with all good things: see the notes on Exod. 3. 8. Thus they acknowledged the truth of Gods promises; they said, It is a good land which the Lord our God doth give unto us, Deut. 1. 25.

28 Verse 28. Nevertheless] or, But that. This latter part of the speech, was from the ten spies (not from Caleb or Iosua) who here take occasion to terrifie the people from going to possesse the land, Deut. 1. 28. fenced] with strong holds, high wals and munition; the Greeke expresseth it by two words, fenced, walled: in Deut. 1. 28. and 9. 1. it is said, fenced up to heaven: and in Deut. 3. 5. fenced with high walls, gates and barres. children of Anak] in Greeke, the generation of Enak, in Chaldee, sons of the Giant: so in Deut. 1. 28. the Greeke translateth them, sonnes of the Giants; see before on vers. 20. Of these there went a proverbe, Who can stand before the sonnes of Anak? Deut. 9. 2. And of the Greekes borrowed the word Anakes, to signifie Kings: and by interpretation Anak signifieth a chaine, Proverbs 1. 9. which is an ornament for Kings and great personages, and of old, upon their beasts neckes also, Judg. 8. 26. And many such men were chained with pride, as Psal. 73. 6.

29 Verse 29. Amalek] that is, the Amalekites, the posteritie of Amalek the sonne of Esau; of whom see Exod. 17. 8, &c. Because they had bene smitten by Amalek (Deuteron. 25. 17, 18.) the spies doe now make mention of him, to make them afraid, saith Iarchi on Num. 13. This Amakk (who was the first of the nations, Numb. 24. 20. and anemie to Israel) would hinder, as they thought, their entrance on the South side. in the mountaine] that is, the mountaines, or, as the Greeke translateth, the mountainie part, for these nations here reckoned, were the most mightie; and the Chethites possessed mount Thabor, the Jebusites Ierusalem and mountaines about it, the Amorites mount Heres, &c. Judges 1. 21. 34, 35, 36. and these Amorites were high as Cedars, and strong as Oakes, Amos 2. 9. so the land seemed in their eyes impossible to be conquered. the coast] or side, Hebrew, the hand of Jordan; which was towards the East, as the Sea was to the West.

30 Verse 30. Caleb] and Iosua with him afterward, Num. 14. 6, 7. though now at first it may be Iosua purposely held his peace in prudence, because he was Moses minister, and let Caleb speake. stilled the people before Moses] or, made the people to keepe silence before (or unto) Moses: that is, the people beginning to murmur and speak unto Moses and against him, Caleb stilled them. The Chaldee expoundeth it, he made the people to attend (that is, to hearken) unto Moses: and Iouathas in his Thargum saith, he stilled the people, and caused them to attend unto Moses. And it appeareth by Deut. 1.

29, 30. that Moses himselfe spake to encourage the people; but they would not obey. and said] that is, Caleb said; as the 31. verse manifesteth; and the Greeke addeth, he said unto him. we are well able to overcome it] or, prevailing we shall prevail over it; meaning the land; which the Gr. explaineth, over them, the people. And this was a speech of faith, beleeving in the power & promise of God; for Caleb now spake as it was in his heart, Jos. 14. 7.

Verse 31. But the men] Hebr. And the men; meaning ten of the twelve, all the other spies except Iosua, Numb. 14. 6.

Verse 32. an evill report] an infamie, or defamation: of which Solomon saith, he that uttereth it, is a foole, Proverbs 10. 18. And for this their sinne, these men dyed by a plague, before the Lord, Num. 14. 37. This infamie, the Chaldee calleth an evill name: the Greeke here, a dread of the land, but in Numb. 14. 36. the Greeke expoundeth it, evill words. And whereas the Hebrew Dibbah, signifieth but a speck or report, though commonly of faults, which may be done without sinne; the word evill is added by Moses, in Numb. 14. 37. to shew that this their defamation was very sinfull. eateth up] consumeth; in Chaldee, killeth the inhabitants; which may be understood of their civill wars, whereby they devoured one another. For the Amorites had conquered the Moabites, Numb. 21. 28, 29. the Caphtorims (or Philistines) had destroyed the Avims, Deut. 2. 23. This phrase was after used against the land, when the Heathens had destroyed the Israelites in it, Thou (land) eateth up men, and hast bereaved thy nations, Ezek. 36. 13.

of stature] or, of dimensions, of measures; that is, of great stature, tall and big; as the Gr. translateth, exceeding tall men. And as the Prophet openeth it, high as Cedars, strong as Oakes, Amos 2. 9. An example of such a man of stature, we have in 2 Sam. 21. 20. that had on every hand six fingers, and on every foot six toes, &c. and another of an Egyptian five cubits high, with a Speare in his hand like a weavers beame, 1 Chro. 11. 23. So in Jer. 22. 14. an house of measures, (or of stature) is for a large high house.

Verse 33. Giants] Hebr. Nephilim, such as were before Noahs flood; see Gen. 6. 4. with the Annotations. as Grasshoppers] or as locusts, that is, low, weake, base in comparison with them. So it is said of God, He sitteth upon the circle of the earth, and the inhabitants thereof are as Grasshoppers, Esay 40. 22. in their eyes] that is, they so esteemed us. And by reason hereof, it may be the spies passed thorow their land more safely, whiles these mightie men despised and neglected them; as the Philistine disdained to meddle with little David, 1 Samuel 17. 24. The Hebrew Doctors to shew this, feigne this explanation; We heard them say one to another, there are Pismires in the vineyards, like unto men. Chazkuni on Num. 13. 33.

CHAP. XIV.

1, The Israelites wepe and murmur at the newes that the spies brought out of Canaan; and speake of returning into Egypt. 6, Iosua and Caleb labour to still and encourage them, but the Israelites would have stoned them. 11, God threateth to destroy the people. 13, Moses intreateth for them, and obtaineth pardon. 23, The murmurers are deprived of entering into the land, and condemned to wander fortie yeeres in the wilderness, and die there. 36, The spies who raised the evill report, die by a plague. 39, The people hearing the sentence of God against them, mourne, and offer themselves to goe up; but Moses forbiddeih them. 44, Yet they presume to goe up, and are smitten by their enemies.

1 ANd all the congregation lifted up,
 2 and gave their voice, and the people wept that night. And all the sons of Israel murmured against Moses and against Aaron: and all the congregation said unto them; Oh that we had died in the land 3 of Egypt, or in this wilderness, oh that wee might die. And wherefore doth Jehovah bring us unto this land, to fall by the sword?
 our wives and our little ones shall be for a prey: were it not better for us to returne in-4 to Egypt? And they said, every man unto his brother: Let us make a captaine, and let 5 us returne into Egypt. And Moses and Aaron fell on their faces, before all the assembly of the congregation of the sonnes 6 of Israel. And Joshua the sonne of Nun, and Caleb the sonne of Jephunneh, which were of them that searched the land, rent 7 their clothes. And they said unto all the congregation of the sons of Israel, saying;
 The land which we passed thorow to search 8 it, is an exceeding good land. If Jehovah delight in us, then he will bring us into this land, and will give it unto us, a land which 9 floweth with milke and honey. Onely rebell not ye against Jehovah; and you, feare not the people of the land, for they are bread for us: their shadow is departed from them, and Jehovah is with us, feare them 10 not. But all the congregation said, to stone them with stones: and the glory of Jehovah appeared in the Tent of the Congre-11 gation, before all the sonnes of Israel. And Jehovah said unto Moses; How long will this people provoke mee? and how long will they not beleve in me, for all the signes which I have done amongst them?
 12 I will smite them with the pestilence, and disinherit them, and will make of thee a 13 nation greater and mightier than they. And Moses said unto Jehovah; Then the Eryptians shall heare it; for thou broughtest up 14 this people, in thy might, from among them. And they will say to the inhabitants of this land, for they have heard, that thou Jehovah art among this people, that thou Jehovah art seene eye to eye, and that thy cloud standeth over them, and in a pillar of a cloud thou goest before them by day, and in a pillar of fire by night. Now 15 if thou shalt kill this people as one man, then the nations will say, which have heard the fame of thee, saying; Because Jehovah was 16 not able to bring this people into the land, which he sware unto them; therefore he hath slaine them in the wilderness. And now, 17 I beseech thee, let the power of the Lord be great, according as thou hast spoken, saying;

 Jehovah is long suffering, and much in mer-18 cie, forgiving iniquitie, and trespasses: and clearing will not cleare (the guilty;) visiting the iniquitie of the fathers upon the sonnes, unto the third, and unto the fourth gene-19 ration. Pardon I beseech thee, the iniquitie of this people, according unto the greatnesse of thy mercie, and as thou hast forgiven this people from Egypt, even untill now. And 20 Jehovah said, I have pardoned, according to thy word. But assuredly, as I live, all 21 the earth shall be filled with the glory of Jehovah. For all the men which have seene 22 my glory, and my signes, which I did in Egypt, and in the wilderness, and have temp-23 ted me these ten times, and have not hearkned to my voice; If they shall see the land which I sware unto their fathers, neither shall any of them that provoked me, see it.
 24 But my servant Caleb, because there was another spirit in him, and he followed me fully; even him will I bring into the land, whereinto he went, and his seed shall pos-25 sesse it. (Now the Amalekite, and the Canaanite, dwelt in the valley:) to morrow, turne ye, and journey you into the wilder-
 nesse, by the way of the red sea.

And Jehovah spake unto Moses and unto 26 Aaron, saying; How long (shall I pardon)
 27 this evill congregation, which murmure against me? I have heard the murmurings of the sonnes of Israel, which they murmure against me. Say unto them, As I live, assu-28 redly saith Jehovah, if I do not so unto you, as ye have spoken in mine eares. Your car-29 kasses shall fall in this wilderness; and all that were mustered of you, according to your whole number, from twenty yeeres old and upward, which have murmured against me.
 If you shall come into the land, concerning 30 which I lifted up my hand, to make you dwell
 therein, save Caleb the sonne of Jephunneh,
 and

31 and Joshua the son of Nun. And your little ones, which ye said should be for a pray, even them will I bring in; and they shall know the land, which yee have despised.
 32 But as for you, your carcases shall fall in 33 this wilderness. And your children shall feed in the Wilderness forty yeeres, and shall beare your whoredomes, untill your carcases be consumed in the Wilderness.
 34 After the number of the daies in which yee searched the land, forty daies; a day for a yeere, a day for a yeere, ye shall beare your iniquities, forty yeeres; and ye shall know my breach (of promise.) I Jehovah have spoken, If I doe not this unto all this evill congregation, that are gathered together against me; in this wilderness they shall be consumed, and there they shall die. And the men which Moses had sent to search the land, and which returned, and made all the congregation to murmur against him, by bringing up an evill report upon the land:
 37 Even the men died that did bring up the evill report of the land, by the plague, before Jehovah. But Joshua the sonne of Nun, and Caleb the sonne of Jephunneh, lived, of those men that went to search the land.
 39 And Moses spake these words unto all the sonnes of Israel, and the people mourned greatly. And they rose up early in the morning, and went up unto the top of the mountaine, saying; Loe we be here, and will goe up unto the place, which Jehovah hath said, for we have sinned. And Moses said, Wherefore now do you transgresse the mouth of Jehovah? But it shall not prosper.
 42 Goe not up, for Jehovah is not among you, that ye be not smitten, before your enemies.
 43 For the Amalekite and the Canaanite is there before you, and yee shall fall by the sword; for because ye are turned from after Jehovah, and Jehovah will not be with you.
 44 But they loftily presumed to goe up to the top of the mountaine: but the Ark of the covenant of Jehovah, and Moses, departed not from within the campe. And the Amalekite came down, and the Canaanite, which dwelt in that mountaine; and smote them, and discomfited them, even unto Hormah.

Annotations.

1 L Isied up] to wit, their voice, as after followeth, and as is exprest in Gen. 21. 16. she lifted up her voice, and wept. Or, all the congregation tooke up, that is, received, to wit, the evill report which the Spies gave of the land, Numb. 13. 32. So the phrase is used, in Exod. 23. 1. Thou shalt not take up a vaine report. This latter, the Greeke version favoureth. gave their voice] that is, cried out. This manner of speech is used to signifie any loud voice, noise or crie, of any creature, or of God himselfe; as in Psal. 18. 14. the Most high gave his voice; in Jer. 2. 15. the Lions gave their voice; in Psal. 104. 12. the fowles give the voice; in Psal. 77. 18. the skies gave a voice; in Habak. 3. 10. the deepe gave his voice; and in 2 Chron. 24. 9. men are said to give a voice, when they made a Proclamation thorough Judah and Jerusalem. So this people here openly rebelled, and uttered their evill hearts without feare, or shame. that night] Hebr. in or through that night; which the Greeke explaineth, that whole night.

2 Vers 2. and against Aaron] which were the Lords ministers, therefore their murmuring was not against them onely, but against the LORD, as Moses told them, in Exod. 16. 2. 8. and as after appeareth in vers. 3. Oh that we might die] or (Would God) that we were dead: they are words of unbeliefe and despaire, and of great unthankfulness: compare Exod. 16. 3. Psal. 106. 24, 25. The Greeke translateth, If we were dead: which is a forme of wishing, both in the Greeke and Hebrew tongues, as in 1 Chro. 4. 10. If thou wilt blesse me; that is, Oh that thou wouldest blesse me; so in Luke 12. 49. If it were (for, Oh that it were) already kindled; and so the Syriack version there explaineth it.

3 Vers 3. to fall] i. e. that we should fall, that is, die by the sword? Here they murmur against God himselfe through unbeliefe; as David saith, They contemptuously refused the land of desire, (the pleasant land;) they beleevd not his word, but murmured in their Tents; they heard not the voice of Jehovah, Psal. 106. 24, 25. were it not better] or, were it not good? The Greeke changeth the phrase thus, Now therefore it is better for us to turne backe into Egypt. So, are they not written, 2 King. 20. 20. is explained thus, Behold they are written, 2 Chronicles 32. 32.

4 Vers 4. Let us make a Captaine] Hebr. Let us give a head: where by give, is meant make or appoint, as the Chaldee expoundeth it; and by head they meane a Captaine or chiefe Governour; as in Num. 35. 4. 1 Chro. 4. 42. & 12. 20. and as the Greeke here explaineth it. Thebargum Iamsthan paraphraseth thus; Let us appoint a King over us for head. Of this their sinne, the Scripture saith, They dealt proudly, and hardened their neckes; and hearkned not to Gods Commandements; and refused to heare, and were not mindfull of the wonders that hee had done among them: but hardened their neckes, and in their rebellion appointed a Captaine (or made a head) to returne to their bondage. Nehem. 9. 16, 17. So their evill words and purpose, is counted unto them as the deed done. Sol. Iarobi openeth their words thus, Let us appoint a King over us; and he saith, the Rabbines have expounded this, as meaning Idolatry. The same is also noted by R. Menachem, who further likeneth this sin, to theirs that builded ded the tower of Babylon, Gen. 11. So their sinne was against God, who is exalted as head above all, 1 Chron. 29. 11.

5 Verse 5. fell on their faces] as much affected with the murmuring of the people: and they fell downe, either to pray unto God for them, as in Numb. 19. 22. or to intreat them, not to proceed in their rebellion, as it followeth, before all the assembly. And elsewhere it appeareth, that Moses spake to encourage the people, saying, Dread not, neither be afraid of them: Iehovah your God, who goeth before you, he shall fight for you; &c. Deuteronomie 1. 29, 30.

6 Verse 6. that searched the land] as appeareth in in Num. 13. 7, 9, 17. rent their clothes] in signe of sorrow, for the peoples rebellion and blasphemie; for they said, the Lord had brought them out of Egypt, because he hated them, &c. neither did they beleeve the Lord their God, for all that Moses spake unto them, Deut. 1. 27, 32. Of rending garments in sorrow, see Gen. 37. 29. Lev. 10. 6. in the Annotations.

9 Verse 9. Onely] or, But rebell not yet; which the Greeke interpreteth, But be not yet Apostates (or revolters) from the Lord: the Chaldee; But rebell not yet against the Word of the LORD. are bread for us] or, shall be our bread, our food; that is, we shall devoure and consume them. The Chaldee expoundeth it, They are delivered into our hand. So Balaam prophesied of Israel, He shall eat up the nations, his enemies, Num. 24. 8. And in Psal. 79. 7. He hath eaten up Jacob; that is, consumed: and in Psal. 14. 4. They eat my people, as they eat bread. Also in Deut. 7. 16. Thou shalt eat (that is, consume) all the people. their shadow] that is, God their defence, covert, protection; which the Chaldee expoundeth, their strength; so in Esay 30. 2. the strength of Pharaoh, and the shadow of Egypt, doe explaine one another: and shadow is used often for defence: as, The shadow of the Almighty, Psal. 91. 1. and, Iehovah thy shadow, Psal. 121. 5. and God saith, I have covered thee in the shadow of mine hand, Esay 51. 16. and 49. 2. Iehovah is with us] the Chaldee explaineth it, The Word of the LORD is for our helpe.

10 Verse 10. said, to stone them] that is, spake one to another, that they should stone Isua and Caleb. An example of notorious obstinacie and outrage; and at another time, they had almost done the like unto Moses, Exod. 17. 4. So after this, Ierusalem stoned the Prophets, which spake the things pertaining to her peace, Mat. 23. 37. appeared in the Tent] the Greeke explaineth it, appeared in the cloud over the Tent of the Testimonie. This is confirmed by the like apparition in Num. 16. 42. and Sol. Iarchi here saith, The cloud descended there. It was an extraordinary appearance, to re-straine the peoples furie, and to helpe his faithfull witnesses.

11 Verse 11. provoke me] or, despite, blaspheme, contemptuously provoke mee. So the Apostle expoundeth this word, blaspheme, in Rom. 2. 24. from Esa. 52. 5. and it implieth also a contempt or despising, Prov. 1. 30. and 15. 5. Esay 5. 24. not believe in me] in Greeke, not beleeve me; which the Chaldee explaineth, not beleeve in my word. This unbeliefe is noted as a chiefe cause of their rebellion, and so of their destruction after in the wilderness, Deut. 1. 32. Heb. 3. 18, 19. for all the signes] though many signes and wonders had been shewed, yet they beleeved not: so of their posteritie it is said, Though (Jesus) had done so many signes before them, yet they beleeved not in him, Joh. 12. 37. among them] Hebr. in the mids thereof, to wit, of the people.

Verse 12. smite them] Hebr. smite him, that is, the people, spoken of as one man: see verse 15. pestilence] in Greeke and Chaldee, death: see the notes on Ex. 5. 3. disinheris them] deprive them of the land promised unto their fathers: the Greeke and Chaldee translate, destroy them. make of thee] Hebr. make them, to a nation: the like speech God used, when they had made the golden calfe, Exod. 32. 10. The Greeke here addeth, I will make thee and thy fathers house, &c.

Verse 14. they will say] that which after followeth in verse 16. to the inhabitants] or, with the inhabitants, meaning the Canaanites; so both the one and the other people, will take occasion to blaspheme. The Hebrew word which usually signifieth unto, is sometime used for with, as in 1 Sam. 23. 23. Ezra 2. 63. thou Iehovah art] the Chaldee expoundeth it, that thy divine presence (or Majestie) abideth among this people. art seene] or, hast beene seene eye to eye; that is, visibly, apparently, plainly, according to the like phrase in Num. 12. 8. mouth to mouth; and in Exod. 33. 11. and Deut. 5. 4. face to face. The Chaldee here explaineth it thus, that with their eyes they have seene the Majestie of thy glorie; and by Thargum Ionathan, this is referred to the giving of the Law upon mount Sinai.

standeth over them] as protecting them from evil; which in Thargum Ionathan is explained, that they should not be hurt with heat or with raine. Compare Exod. 13. 21, 22. Num. 9. 17, &c.

Verse 15. as one man] that is, all of them together, and suddenly. the same of thee] the hearsay or report of thee; which the Greeke translateth, thy name; the Chaldee, the fame of thy might.

Verse 16. was not able] elsewhere Moses sheweth, that he had respect unto two things, by which Gods name & glory might be impeached among the Gentiles; because he could not, or because he would not, but hated his people, Deut. 9. 28. Exod. 32. 12. And this is the first argument of Moses supplication, that Gods name might not be blasphemed among the Heathens.

Verse 17. the power of the Lord] or, the might, as in verse 13. that is, as the Greeke explaineth it, the power of thee O Lord. Lord is here in Hebrew Adonai, which the Chaldee expresseth by the letters for Iehovah, and it signifieth my stayes, or sustainers: see the notes on Gen. 15. 2. be great] that is, be shewed to be great; the Greeke translateth it, be exalted.

Verse 18. long-suffering] Hebr. long of anger; that is, long ere he be angrie. Here Moses mentioneth that Name of God, which was proclaimed at mount mount Sinai, when the people had formerly sinned in making the golden calfe, Exod. 34. 5. 6. 7. in mercy] the Greeke addeth, and true; from Ex. 34. 6 forgiving] or, as the Greeke translateth, taking away iniquities] in Greeke, iniquities, and unrighteousnesses and sins; the Chaldee also addeth the word sinnes, as was in Exod. 34. 7. This is the second reason of Moses request, from the nature and covenant of God. the guilty] this word is supplied also in the Greeke version. The Chaldee paraphraseth, being mercifull unto them that turne to his Law; but not clearing them that turne not. visiting] that is, punishing; in Greeke, recompensing; see Exod. 20. 5. upon the sinnes] or children; in Chaldee, upon the rebellious sinnes. the third] in Chaldee, unto the third generation, and unto the fourth generation. Thus Moses requested an absolute pardon for all; but that God would in wrath remember mercy, though in Iustice hee punished the chiefe transgressors.

19 Verſ. 19. even until now] or, hitherto; as for example, when they sinned in making the calfe, Exod. 32. (besides other times) at which time God destroyed them not as they deserved, but some of them only perished.

20 Verſ. 20. I have pardoned] or, I doe pardon, as the Greeke explaineth it, in the time present. Howbeit Chazkuni understandeth it of the time past, that God should say, hee had pardoned them once, when they made the calfe; but now hee would not pardon them, but execute vengeance. The former sense seemeth best, with the limitation following, according to thy word, viz. that hee would not destroy them all as one man, at once with the pestilence, having respect to the glory of his Name. For which cause, hee spared them at other times also, both before & after, as he sheweth by the Prophets, Ezek. 10. 8. 9. 13. 14. 21. 22. &c. Psal. 106. 7. 8. And hereupon the people after confessed, I thou art a God of pardons, gracious, and mercifull, long-suffering, and of great kindnesse, and forsookeſt them not; Neh. 9. 17.

21 Verſ. 21. as I live] Heb. and assuredly I live; and all the earth shall be filled: which is a forme of oath, often used of the Lord, Ezek. 18. 3. and 20. 33. and 5. 11. Whereupon it is said, And thou shalt sweare Iehovah liveth, &c. Jer. 4. 2. and where hee saith in the Prophet, I have sworn by my selfe, Esay 45. 23. the Apostle expresseth it with these words, I live, saith the Lord, Rom. 14. 11. And the signe of an oath, was the lifting up of the hand; so both of them are joyned in Deut. 32. 40. I lift up my hands to heaven, and say, I live for ever: Wherefore the oath which God here sware, is signified by the lifting up of his hand, in Psal. 106. 26. and Ezek. 20. 15. filled with the glory] that is, all peoples of the earth shall see and acknowledge the powerful and just administration of the Lord, unto his glory and honour. Compare Esay 6. 3. and Psal. 72. 19. where Christs kingdome is prophesied of, with whose glory all the earth is full.

22 Verſ. 22. my glory] under this, all Gods glorious workes are comprehended; as powers are used for powerfull workes, Matth. 7. 22. and 11. 20. 1. Cor.

12. 10. 2. Cor. 12. 14. signes] that is, miracles, miraculous and significant workes. ten times] hereby may be meant no certain number, but many times, as in Gen. 31. 7. Iob. 19. 3. so ten is for many, in Levit. 26. 26. It may also be taken properly; for now they had sinned ten times; First, at the red sea, Exod. 14. 11. 12. then in Marah, Exod. 15. 23. 24. againe in the wilderness of Sin, Exod. 16. 2. then twice about Manna, Ex. 16. 20. 27. 28. after that at Rephidim, Exod. 17. 1. 2. 3. then by the Calfe at Horeb, Ex. 32. at Taberah, Num. 11. 1. & againe, at Kibroth Hattaavah, Num. 11. 4. & now the tenth time by their rebellion in Pharan.

Verſ. 23. If they shall see] that is, as the Greeke translateth it, Surely they shall not see. This also is an oath, wherby God sweareth they shall not see, that is, not goe in to enjoy the land, as is explained by David, in Psal. 95. N. I sweare in my anger, if they shall enter into my rest; which the Apostle openeth thus; Hee sweare that they should not enter into his rest, Hebr. 3. 18. So, If a signe be given, Marke 8. 12. is more plainly expounded, A signe shall not be given, Matth. 16. 4. which I sweare unto] that is, which I sweare to give unto your fathers, Deut. 1.

35. this was the land of Canaan, Gen. 12. 5. 7. called the holy land, Zach. 2. 12. the land of Iehovah, Hof. 9. 3. the land of Immanuel, that is, of Christ, Esay 8. 8. for it was a signe of the heavenly inheritance to be obtained by Christ, Hebr. 11. 9. 10. therefore the keeping of them out of this land, figured also the excluding of them, and of all unbelievers out of the kingdome of heaven, Hebr. 3. 12-19. and 4. 1. 2. 3. - 11.

Verſ. 24. spirit in him] or, with him; that is, hee was guided by another spirit than the ten spies. The same is to be understood of Ioshua, as appeareth by Num. 32. 12. though not here mentioned. This other spirit, was the spirit of faith, which the Law cannot give, Gal. 3. 2. the spirit of adoption of sonnes, not of bondage to feare againe, Rom. 8. 14. 15. by the guidance of this spirit, Caleb constantly followed the Lord, and obtained the promised inheritance. hee followed me fully] Heb.

be fulfilled after me: so in Deut. 1. 36. and Ios. 14. 8. 9. 14 By this manner of speech, is meant a full and constant following and obedience unto the end; the contrary whereof was in Solomon, of whom it is said, be fulfilled not after the LORD, as did David his father, 1 King. 11. 6. and in this people of Israel now generally, of whom God saith, they fulfilled not after me, Num. 32. 11. The Greeke translateth it, hee followed me; the Chaldee, be fulfilled (or accomplished) after my feare. Chazkuni expoundeth it, be hath accomplished the word after me; and compareth it with that phrase in 1. Kings 1. 14. I will come in after thee, and fulfill (that is, confirme) thy words. his seed] in Chaldee, his sons.

shall possesse it] shall inherit it: thus both the Greeke & Chaldee doe interpret it: or, shall cause to inherit it, that is, leave it to that posterity for an inheritance; as it is written, I shall be thine inheritance, and thy childrens for ever, Ios. 14. 9. The word is also used in a contrary meaning, to disinherit, as before in v. 2 & so it may be translated, shall disinherit it, that is, disinherit and drive out the inhabitants of it, and seize upon it, as in Ios. 8. 7. ye shall disinherit (or seize upon) the citie: and thus it agreeth with Calebs speech, If so be the LORD will be with mee, then I will disinherit them (or drive them out) as the LORD said, Ios. 14. 12. In this latter sense, Sol. Iarchi here expoundeth it, drive it out, that is, they shall drive out the Anakims and people that are therein. This promise Moses related unto Caleb, and in the name of the Lord, he swore unto him for the performance of it, Ios. 14. 9.

H h h b disin

25 Ver. 25. Now] Hebr. And. dwell] or, dwell leth, Heb. sitteth in the valley: after in ver. 45. they are said to dwell (or sit) in the mountaine; and sitting as it is often put for dwelling, so sometime for lying in wait, as in Ios. 8. 9. which may be meant here. Chazkuni expoundeth this place thus; that as the spies were afraid of Amalek (Numb. 13. 29.) so with them the holy blessed (God) made them afraid. And whereas it is here said, in the valley, and in ver. 45. in that mountaine, he accordeth them thus, that the most of them sate in the valley, and some few of them in the mountaine, and those few warred against them; and therefore it is written, WHICH SATE IN THAT MOUNTAINE, to imply that there were of them which sate in another place; or it may be they dwelt in the valley, and when they heard that the sons of Israel came against them, they went up into the mountaine, and lay in wait for them there: and wee find that sitting sometime, meaneth lying in wait, as it is written (in Psalm. 10. 8.) Hee sitteth in the waiting place of the villages. to morrow tyme] The people were now in Kadesh, from whence they sent the spies, Numb. 13. 26. Deut. 1. 19. and after this their rebellion, and the slaughter following, they abode in Kadesh many dayes, and then turned and journeyed into the wilderness, by the way of the red sea, Deut. 1. 46. and 2. 1. Chazkuni here saith, To morrow meaneth after this time; for loe they abode in Kadesh many dayes before they began to compass about mount Seir: and it is like that (phrase in Exod. 12. 34.) when thy sonne shall aske thee to morrow. journey you] or, journey for you, which some understand, to mean, for your good, see Gen. 12. 1. the way of the red sea] that is, the way towards the red sea; see the notes on Exod. 13. 17. In this red Sea the people had been baptised, 1 Cor. 10. 1. 2. Ex. 14. Baptisme was unto repentance, and with confession of sinnes, and into the death of Christ, Mat. 3. 6. 11. Rom. 6. 3. so this sending them backe into the wilderness, towards the red sea, was to humble them by repentance, that through faith in Christ they might have entrance into the Kingdome of heaven; otherwise they should perish for ever, as their carcases perished in this wilderness.

27 Ver. 27. How long] to wit, shall I pardon, (as in ver. 19. 20.) or, shall I beare with. An unperfect speech, such as men use in passion of mind, when through griefe they utter not all their words; as may be seene in Moses, Exod. 32. 32. Psal. 90. 13. in David, Psal. 6. 4. and sundry the like. which murmur] or, which cause (the people) to murmur, as in ver. 36. Thus Sol. Iarchi expoundeth it, referring the congregation forementioned, to the ten spies; but the Greeke and Chaldee translate, which murmur; so in the sentence following.

Ver. 28. I live] it is an oath, as in v. 21. where by the Lord sweareth in his anger, that they should not enter into his rest, Psal. 95. 11. Hebr. 3. 18. Numb. 32. 10. 11. assuredly saith] or, the faithfull saying; see Gen. 22. 16. If I do not] that is, as the Greeke explaineth it, surely I will doe: see before on v. 23. spoken in mine eares] in Chaldee, spoken before me: this hath reference to their words, in ver. 2. where they wished they might die in the wilderness.

Ver. 29. your carcases] the Greeke calleth them Eola, that is, members, which word the Apostle also useth in Hebr. 3. 17. for carcases, or dead bodies. So in Levit. 26. 30. fall] that is, die, being destroyed of the destroyer, 1 Cor. 10. 10. numbered] numbred as able men for the war, Numb. 1. This sentence was executed upon them, as is after shewed in Numb. 26. 64. 65.

Ver. 30. I lifted up my hand] that is, swore, as the Chaldee expoundeth it, I swore by my word: see Deut. 32. 40. and the notes before on ver. 21. and Gen. 14. 22.

Ver. 31. your little ones] your children under twenty yeares of age: see ver. 3. shall know] in Greeke, shall inherit, rightly explaining the sense: for to know the land, is to enjoy the same. And so Moses relating this promise, saith, they shall possesse the land, Deut. 1. 39.

Ver. 32. But as for you, your carcases] Hebr. And your carcases, you: where the latter you, is for explanation, to exempt their children, you, or yours only.

Ver. 33. shall feed] or, shall be feeding, so likewise the Greeke translateth it: by feed, meaning wander as sheepe for pasture in the wilderness: the Chaldee of Onkelos expoundeth it, tarry or abide; but Jonathan saith, wander; and Chazkuni explaineth it, feed as sheep sometimes here and sometimes there, so your sonnes shall remove hither and thither; till their carcases be consumed. Thus may we understand that in the Prophet, The LORD will feed them as a lambe in a large place, Hof. 4. 16. that is, will let them wander to destruction. So in other languages, wander is used for feeding, as in Virgil. Bucol. eclog. 3. mille mee Siculis errant in montibus agne. forty years] implying the time past also, from their coming out of Egypt: for one whole yeare, and part of the second, were now past already, when God gave this sentence against them, Num. 10. 11.

beare your whoredomes] that is, beare the punishment of your sinnes; as the Chaldee, for whoredomes translateth sin; though this name whoredome, is commonly used for idolatry, Ier. 3. 9. Ezek. 16. 15. 16. 17. &c. See Exod. 34. 15. 16. Levit. 17. 7.

Ver. 34. After] or, According to the number; in the Hebrew, In is used for As, or according to, as the Greeke translateth it: see the notes on Levit. 25. 15. a day for a yeare, a day for a yeare] that is, each day for a yeare, or a yeare for every day: so in Ezek. 4. 6. where the Prophet in a figure, bare the iniquity of Israel so many dayes as they had sinned yeeres. Hereupon in prophetics, dayes are put for yeeres, Dan. 9. 24. &c. Revel. 11. 3. ye shall know my breach] breach] to wit, of promise; or simply, my breaking off: that is, ye shall know and have experience by the punishment which you shall suffer, how great your sin is in breaking promise, and disannulling your word and covenant with me, & in breaking off from me. Thus my breach may be understood, breach, or breaking with me; or from me; as, bee that eateth my bread, Psal. 41. 10. is expounded, bee that eateth bread with mee, Ioh. 13. 18. Or, my breach, that is, when I brake promise with you, or breake off from you, yee shall know how great evil is upon you. For when men forsake God, he also forsaketh them, and breaketh his covenant with them, that is, performeth not his promise, which is conditionall, if men continue in his faith, Deut. 31. 16. 17. Zach. 11. 10. Iude v. 5. Rom. 11. 22. The Greeke translateth, ye shall know the wrath (or indignation) of mine anger: the Chaldee, ye shall know that ye have murmured against me. Sol. Iarchi expoundeth it, my breach, in that yee have broken (that is, turned away) your heart from (following) after mee. This word is after used by Moses, in Numb. 32. 23. Wherefore breake yee the heart (that is, discourage yee) the sonnes of Israel from going, &c. and in Numb. 30. 5. if her father breake (that is, disallow) her, disannull her promise.

33 Verſ. 35. have spoken] the Chaldee explaineth it, have decreed by my word. If I doe not] that is, surely I will doe, as the Greeke expoundeth it: it is an oath, as before in verse 23. This sentence decreed, seized upon them, that all this generation died in the Wildernesse, Numb. 26. 64. 65. and upon this occasion, Moses made the 90. Psalme, wherein he bewaileth the shortnesse and misery of mans life, being finished now in 70 or 80 yeeres; and intreateth God for mercy. And of this and other the like punishments, the Apottle saith, they happened unto them for ensamples; and they are written for our admonition, upon whom the ends of the world are come, 1. Cor. 10. 11. So we see that they could not enter in (to the rest of God) because of unbeliefe: let us studie therefore to enter into that rest, lest any man fall, after the same example of unbeliefe, Heb. 3. 19. and 4. 11.

36 Verſ. 36. the men] the ten spies. made to murmur] and murmured themselves; as the Hebrewes signifieth both their owne act, and that which they caused in others. So the Greeke translateth it, murmured against it, unto (or before) the congregation. against him] against Moses, as in verſ. 2. or, as the Greeke translateth, against it; for they murmured also against the land, Num. 13. 32. and 14. 3. evill report] or, defamation: in Greeke, evill words; in Chaldee, an evill name. The word evill, is expressed in the next verse: see the notes on Numb. 13. 32.

37 Verſ. 27. the plague before Iehovah] that is, by an extraordinary plague from the hand of God: either the pestilence before-threatned, v. 12. or some other death. And before Iehovah, may mean sudden death there by the Sanctuary, where the glory of Iehovah appeared, v. 10. as it is said of Vzza, there bee died before God, 1 Chron. 13. 10. which another Prophet explaineth, there he died by the Ark of God, 2. Sam. 6. 7. The Hebrewes (as Sol. Iarchi and Targum Jonathan on this place) report these mens death to have beene by an inflammation of their tongues, and wormes issuing out of them; as a just recompence, because with their tongues they had sinned.

Verſ. 38. lived] that is, remained alive, safe and in health. So the Iudge of all the earth did judgement, and would not slay the righteous with the wicked; as Gen. 18. 25. And they survived, not only the other spies, but all the rebellious Israelites, and went in and possessed the land of promise, Ios. 14. 10. & 19. 49. This sheweth the small number of Gods Elect, though many be called to the profession of the faith. The Hebrew Doctors speaking of Ier. 3. 14. where it is written, I will take you one of a citie, and two of a family, and I will bring you to Zion, doe say, As of sixe hundred thousand Israelites, onely two entred into the Land of promise, to wit, Ioshab and Caleb; so shall it also be in the dayes of Christ. Talmud. in Sanhedrin, chap. 11. wherein they beare witnesse against themselves, that they fulfilled the measure of their fathers, in rebelling against Christ, and despising the Gospell of their salvation.

Verſ. 40. and went up] that is, girded their weapons of warre about them, and pressed forward of themselves to goe up, as Moses explaineth it, in Deut. 1. 41. For things which men endeavour and are ready to doe, are said to be done by them, as Reuben delivered Ioseph out of his brethrens hand, when hee endeavoured by exhorting and perswading with them, that he might deliver him, Gen. 37. 21. 22. See also the annotations on Exod. 8. 18. will goe up] and fight, Deut. 1. 41. we have sinned] against Iehovah, Deut. 1. 41. Thus they shewed a kind of repentance and sorrow for their sinne, which was not sincere, nor a godly sorrow; for they turned from one evill to another, and overthrew themselves.

Verſ. 41. Moses said] being first commanded of the Lord, so to say, Deut. 1. 42. the mouth] that is, as the Greeke translateth, the word of the Lord: and the Chaldee addeth, against the decree of the word of the LORD. But it] or, for it, that is, the thing which ye doe, shall not prosper, that is, not have good successe: in Greeke, It shall not be prosperous unto you. R. Menachem referreth this word It, to Shecinah, the divine Majesty which would not prosper them; and compareth here with a like phrase in Ezek. 1. 13. it went up and downe among the living creatures.

Verſ. 42. Iehovah is not among you] thus God bade him say, for I am not among you, Deut. 1. 42. The Chaldee expoundeth it, for Shecinah (the Majesty or presence) of the LORD is not among you. not smitten] in Chaldee, not broken; in Greeke, and yee shall fall before your enemies.

Verſ. 43. from after Iehovah] in Chaldee, from after the service of the LORD; which the Greeke translateth, disobeying (or not believing) the Lord, Chazkuni explaineth it thus, Because the spies made you afraid of the Canaanite and Amalekite that abide there, yee are turned from after the LORD, and are afraid to goe into the land, and you trust not in him, therefore hee will not bee with you; if you transgresse his mouth, so goe to fight, till after 40 yeares.

Iehovah will not be with you] this the Chaldee expoundeth, the Word of the Lord will not be for your helpe.

44 Verſ. 44. they loftily presumed] or, tooke upon them by violence, with a lofty presumptuous mind: in the Chaldee, they dealt wickedly, or, turbulently. The originall word Aphal, (from which Ophe a Tower, or Fort is derived, 2 Chron. 33. 14.) signifieth lifting up, as in Abak. 2. 4. which the Apostle sheweth, to meane a drawing back from God by unbeleeſe, Heb. 10. 38. 39. So here in this their presumptuous enterpriſe, their ſoules were lifted up in them, but withdrawn from God. And Moſes explaineth this by two other words, ye preſſed forward, Deut. 1. 41. and ye were presumptuous, Deut. 1. 43. The Hebrew Commentary Tan-chuma, compareth it with another like word which ſignifieth darkneſſe, and explaineth it, they went darke (or obſcure) for that they went without leave from God: and Targum Ionaſhan, thus; they ſet forward in the darke, before day dawning: to which the Latine verſion agreeth, translating it darkened.

departed not] in Greeke, moved not. The Arke removed not, but at the removall of the cloud, Numb. 9. 15. &c. which God not taking up, ſhewed thereby his diſlike of their action. Moſes obeying the Lord, would not accompany the presumptuous ſinners: ſo they went without the Lord, and without the ſignes of his grace, or company of his miniſters.

45 Verſ. 45. The Canaanite] that is, the Amorite, Deut. 5. 44. which was of the poſterity of Canaan, Gen. 10. 15. 16. which dwelt] or, which ſate, lay in wait. diſcomfited them] pursued them as Bees doe, and deſtroyed them, Deut. 1. 44. Because they rebelled againſt God, and vexed his holy Spirit, therefore he was turned to be their enemy, he fought againſt them, Eſay 63. 10. unto Horſhab] in Greeke Herma, the name of a place, ſo called of the event, ſignifying alter deſtruction, or Anathema: ſo after in Num. 21. 3. After this diſcomfiture, the Iſraelites returned and wept before the LORD: but he would not heare their voice, nor give care unto them; ſo they abode in Kadeſh many dayes, Deut. 1. 45. 46. Theſe things which happened unto them for types, 1 Cor. 10. 11 doe ſhew the nature of man, of his free-will, and workes without faith, that they procure nothing but wrath from God, and deſtruction unto men. And as Iſrael carried themſelves under Moſes, ſo did they under Chriſt: for the Lord Ieſus himſelfe, and Iohn the Baptiſt (as Ioſhua and Caleb) faithfully teſtified the truth of Gods promiſe, & perſwaded the people to enter into the kingdome of God, Mat. 3. 1. 2. 3. and 4. 17. But the Prielts, Scribes, and Pharifees (like the unfaithfull ſpies) diſcouraged the people, and would neither goe themſelves into the kingdome of heaven, nor ſuffer them that were entering, to goe in, Mat. 23. 13. but pretended worldly feares, Ioh. 11. 48. Yet after they would ſeeme to entoe by force, going about to ſtabliſh their own righteousneſſe, but not ſubmitting themſelves unto the righteousneſſe of God, Rom. 10. 3. ſo they pleaſed not God, but filled up their ſinnes alway, and wrath came upon them to the uttermoſt, 1 Theſſ. 2. 15. 16.

CHAP. XV.

1 The Lord teacheth Iſrael how they ſhould ſacrifice unto him in the land of Canaan, and what meaſure of Meat-offerings and Drinke-offerings ſhould bee for every ſacrifice. 13, The ſtranger is under the ſame Law. 17, The Law of the firſt of the dough for an Heave-offring. 22, The ſacrifice for ſinne of ignorance, done by Iſraelite or ſtranger. 30, The puniſhment of ſinne done with an high hand. 32, A man that was found gathering ſticks on the Sabbath, is by the commandement of God ſtoned to death. 37, The law of fringes on the borders of their garments, and uſe that the people ſhould make of them.

And Iehovah ſpake unto Moſes, ſaying; Speake unto the ſons of Iſrael, and ſay unto them: When yee bee come into the land of your habitations which I give unto you. And yee will make a Fire-offring unto Iehovah, a Burnt-offring or a ſacrifice, to ſeparate a vow, or a voluntary offering; or in your ſolemne feaſts, to make a favour of reſt, unto Iehovah, of the herd, or of the flock. Then he that offereth his oblation unto Iehovah, ſhall bring neere a Meat-offering of a tenth part of fine flowre, mingled with the fourth part of an Hin of oyle. And the fourth part of an Hin of wine for a drinke-offring, ſhalt make ready for the Burnt-offring, or for the ſacrifice, for one lambe. Or for a ram thou ſhalt make a Meat-offring of two tenth parts of fine flowre, mingled with the third part of an Hin of oyle. And for a drinke-offring, the third part of an Hin of wine ſhalt thou offer for a favour of reſt unto Iehovah. And when thou ſhalt make a youngling of the herd, a Burnt-offring or a ſacrifice, to ſeparate a vow or Peace-offrings unto Iehovah; Then ſhall he bring neere with the youngling of the herd, a Meat-offring of three tenth parts of fine flowre, mingled with halfe an Hin of oyle. And thou ſhalt offer for a Drinke-offring, halfe an Hin of wine for a Fire-offring of a favour of reſt unto Iehovah. Thus ſhall it bee done for one bullocke, or for one ram, or for a lambe of the ſheepe, or of the goats. According to the number that ye ſhall make ready, ſo ſhall ye make ready for (every) one, according to their number. Every home-borne of the countrey ſhal thus do theſe things, to offer a Fire-offring of a favor of reſt unto Iehovah.

And if a ſtranger ſojourne with you, or whoſoever be among you in your generations,

15 ons, and will make a Fire-offring of a favour of rest unto Iehovah; as yee doe, so he shall
 doe. Yee of the Church, one statute shall bee
 for you, and for the stranger that sojourneth:
 a statute for ever in your generations; as yee
 16 are, so shall the stranger be before Iehovah.
 One law, and one manner shall be for you,
 & for the stranger that sojourneth with you.
 17 And Iehovah spake unto Moses, saying;
 18 Speak unto the sonnes of Israel, and say unto them; When ye come into the land whither 19 I bring you; Then it shall be, when yee eat of the bread of the land, ye shall heave an 20 heave-offering unto Iehovah. Of the first of your dough, a cake shall yee heave for an heave-offering, as the heave-offering of the 21 threshing-floore, so shall ye heave it. Of the first of your dough, ye shall give unto Iehovah
 an heave-offering in your generations.
 22 And when ye shall have sinned ignorantly, and have not done all these commandements which Iehovah hath spoken unto Mo-23 ses: Even all that Iehovah hath commanded you by the hand of Moses, from the day that Iehovah commanded Moses, & hence-24 forward, throughout your generations: Then it shall be, if ought bee done by ignorance, from the eies of the congregation, that al the congregation shall make ready one bullock, a youngling of the herd, for a Burnt-offering, for a favour of rest unto Iehovah; and his Meat-offering, and his Drink-offring, accord-25 ing to the manner: & one goat-buck of the goats, for a Sin-offring. And the Priest shall make atonement for all the congregation of the sons of Israel, & it shal be mercifully forgiven them: for it is an ignorance, and they have brought their oblation, a Fire-offring 26 unto Iehovah, & their Sin-offring before Iehovah, for their ignorance. And it shal bee mercifully forgiven, all the congregation of the sons of Israel, and the stranger that sojourneth among them, because al the people was in ignorance.
 27 And if one soule sin through ignorance, then it shall bring neer a she-goat of her first 28 yeare for a Sin-offring. And the Priest shall make atonment for the soule that sinneth ignorantly, when it hath sinned by ignorance,
 before Iehovah, to make atonement for him, 29 and it shall be mercifully forgiven him. For the home-borne amongst the sons of Israel, and for the stranger that sojourneth among them, one law shall be to you for him that 30 doth through ignorance. But the soule that shall doe with an high hand, whether bee be home-born, or a stranger, the same reproach-eth Iehovah; and that soule shall bee cut off from among his people. Because hee hath despised the word of Iehovah, and hath broken his commandement, that soule shall utterly be cut off, his iniquity shal be upon him.

And the sonnes of Israel were in the Wil-dernesse: and they found a man gathering sticks on the Sabbath day. And they that found him gathering sticks, brought him neere unto Moses, and unto Aaron, and unto all the congregation. And they put him in ward, because it was not declared what should be done to him.

And Iehovah said unto Moses; The man shall be made to die the death: all the congregation shall stone him with stones without the campe. And all the congregation brought him forth without the campe, and stoned him with stones, and he dyed, as Iehovah commanded Moses.

And Iehovah said unto Moses, saying;
 Speake unto the sonnes of Israel, and say unto them; that they make unto them a Fringe on the skirts of their clothes, throughout their generations; and that they put upon the Fringe of the skirt, a ribband of blue.
 And it shall be unto you for a Fringe, that yee may see it, and remember all the com-mandements of Iehovah, and doe them: and that yee seeke not after your owne heart, and after your owne eyes, after which you goe a whoring. That ye may remember and doe all my commandements, and bee holy unto your God. I am Iehovah your God, which brought you forth out of the land of Egypt, to be unto you a God; I am Iehovah your God.

Annotations.

SPeake unto Moses] After the judgement upon the disobedient Israelites, who should perish
 in the wilderness, God now repeateth and enlargeth
 the Law of sacrificing, which their children should observe in the land of Canaan: whereby their reconciliation unto him, and his grace towards them in Christ, was figured: thus after the curse of the Law for sinne, is annexed the grace of the Gospell through faith. In like manner after the destruction of twenty foure thousand for the sinne of Baal Pehor, in Numb. 25. the Lord causeth the people to be mustered, Numb. 26. and appointeth the land to be given them for inheritance, and repeateth againe the Law of sacrificing at the solemne feasts, in Numb. 28. and 29.
 that upon the example of wrath on the sinfull parents, he might shew his remembrance of mercy
 in Christ, unto the repentant beleiving children.

2 Verse 2. Land of your habitations] wherein you shall dwell: not in the wilderness, but in the land of promise, (which figured the state of grace in Christ) did God require the sacrifices of his people, and promiseth to accept them. So after by the Prophet Ezekiel, he saith, I will bring you into the wilderness of the peoples, and there will I plead with you face to face. Like as I pleaded with your fathers in the wilderness of the land of Egypt, so will I plead with you, saith the Lord GOD. And I will cause you to passe under the rod, &c. and I will purge out from among you the rebels, and them that transgress against me, &c. For in the mountaine of mine holiness, in the mountaine of the height of Israel, saith the Lord GOD, there shall all the House of Israel, all of them in the land, serve mee: there will I accept them, and there will I require your offerings, and the first fruits of your oblations, with all your holy things; with a savour of rest will I accept you, &c. Ezek. 20. 35, 36, 37, 38, 40, 41.

3 Verse 3. a Fire-offering] in Chaldee, an oblation before the LORD. Burnt-offring] the Law whereof was given in Levit. 1. a sacrifice] to wit, of Peace-offerings, as the Chaldee explaineth it: the Law concerning them, see in Levit. 3. And the word sacrifice being put absolutely, is often used for Peace-offerings; as in Exod. 18. 12. Lev. 17. 5, 8. and 23. 37. Deut. 12. 27. So it is meant here; for the meat and drink-offerings following, were not added to the Sinne or Trespasse-offerings. The Hebrew Canons say, They are not charged with Meate and Drinke-offerings, save for the Burnt-offering of beastes, and for Peace-offerings onely; whether they be the Oblation of the Congregation, or of a private person, or the Lambe of a woman after Child-birth (Leviticus 12. 6.) and those that the High Priest offereth, forasmuch as they are Burnt-offerings, they are charged to have Meate and Drinke-offerings. But the (Burnt-offerings of) fowles, and the Trespasse and Sinne-offerings, they bring no Meate or Drinke-offerings with them, save with the Sinne-offering of the Leper, and his Trespasse-offering, whose Meate-offerings are expressed in the Law (Levit. 14. 10.) Maimony in Magnaf. bakorbanoth, chap. 2. sect. 2. to separate] or, in separating a vow: whereof see the notes on Lev. 27. 2. voluntary offering] what these are, and how they differ one from another, is noted on Levit. 7. 16. After in vers. 8. it is called Peace-offerings. And from hence the Hebrewes gather, that Sinne and Trespasse-offerings were not required to have Meat and Drink-offrings with them; for, Sin and Trespasse-offerings, and First-fruits, and Tithes, and the Paschever, for as much as they come not by vow or voluntary offering, they are not charged with the Meate and Drinke-offerings. Maim. in Magnaf. bakorb. chap. 2. sect. 3. solenne feasts] whereof see Lev. 23. So the Peace-offerings of the Chagigah (or Paschever mentioned in Deut. 16. 1, 2, &c.) and the Burnt-offerings, were to have Meat and Drinke-offerings with them: Maim. ibidem chap. 2. sect. 3. savour of rest] that is, of sweet smell, as the Greeke translateth it; which the Chaldee expoundeth, to bee accepted with savour: see the notes on Gen. 8. 21. and Levit. 1. 9. or of the flocke] to except the burnt-offering of fowles, as before is noted.

4 Verse 4. his oblation] in Greeke, his gift: so the Hebrew Korban, is interpreted, a gift, in Marke 7. 11. shall bring neere] or, shall offer: so after. Meat-offering] in Hebrew, Minchab: of it, and the signification thereof, see the notes on Lev. 2. a tenth part] to wit, of an Ephah, as is expressed in Num. 28. 5. and as the Greek version here addeth: of the Ephah or Bushell, see Exod. 16. 36. Hence the Hebrewes gather, as Chazkuni here noteth from R. Nathan) that whoever would voluntarily offer a Meat-offering, might not bring lesse than a tenth deale. an Hin] a measure in the Sanctuary for liquid things. The Hin is twelve Logs, saith Maim. in Magn. bakorbanoth, chap. 2. sect. 7. The Log was as much as six egges, as is noted on Levit. 14. 10. and Exo. 30. 24. so the Hin contained as much as 72 egges: the fourth part of an Hin, as much as 18 egges. oyle] to wit, oyle olive, as in Targum Jonathan is expressed.

5 Verse 5. wine] expounded in Targum Jonathan, red wine of the grapes. So in those that follow. It is called Sbecar, or, strong wine, in Numb. 28. 7. a drinke-offering] or, an effusion, a poured out offering, because it was poured out upon the Altar, but not upon the fire, as Maimony sheweth, in Magn. bakorbanoth, chap. 2. sect. 1. or for the sacrifice] to wit, of Peace-offerings, as the Chaldee expoundeth it; and by this word or, he sheweth that he is to bring for the one by it selfe, and for the other by it selfe; saith Chazkuni on Numb. 15. for one] that is, for every one severally, as in vers. 12.

6 Verse 6. Or for a ramme] The Greeke interpreteth it, And for a ramme. A ramme was of the second yeare, or upward: the lambe of the first yeare. two tenth parts] two Omers; which was double the measure for a lambe, vers. 4. and this the Hebrewes understand for the ram onely, not for the ewe, or goat; as they write, The quantity of the meat and drinke-offrings, for an bee-lambe, or shee-lambe, is a tenth of flowre, and the fourth part of an Hin of wine. Likewise for a goat, whether it be little or great, male or female; also for an ewe, though she be great. But for a ramme, two tenth deales of flowre, &c. and the third part of an Hin of wine. Maimony in Magn. bakorb. chap. 2. sect. 4.

7 Verse 7. of rest] in Greeke, of sweet smell, or good odour: as in vers. 3.

8 Verse 8. when thou shalt make] in Greeke, if yee shall make; that is, shall sacrifice. youngling] Hebr. a sonne of the herd: meaning a bullocke: as in Exod. 29. 1. And here is no difference betweene young or old, as was before betweene lambe and ram; but one quantity is for the calfe, and for the bull. The bullock or the calfe, be it male or female, hath for the meat-offring three tenth deales of flowre, &c. Maim. Ibidem, chap. 2. sect. 4.

9 Verse 9. bee bring] or, bee offer: here the person is changed; before he said, when thou, vers. 8. now he saith, then shall he: the Greeke keepeth the person as before, then shall yee offer. three tenth parts] three Omers; that is, three times so much as for a Lambe, vers. 4.

Verse

10 Verf. 10. a Fire-offering] in Chaldee, an oblation. This is meant, as Sol. Iarchi saith, but of the Meat-offering and of the oyle: for the wine was no Fire-offering, because it was not put upon the fire.

11 Verf. 11. of the goats] bee it kid, or goat-bucke, male or female, old or young; for the Law putteth no difference, as is before observed; and so noted by Chazkuni here. As for the manner of offering these Meat-offerings, the Hebrew canons say, that they were not charged to bring frankincense with them (as they were with the Meat-offerings that were brought alone, Levit. 2. 1.) but they were charged to have salt, (according to the Law in Levit. 2. 13.) and this Meat-offering was all of it burnt upon the Altar in the Courtyard; (whereas of all the other Meat-offering, an handfull onely was burnt, and the residue eaten by the Priests, Levit. 2. 2. 3.) and the wine was poured upon the Altar. Maimony in Magu. hakorbanoth, ch. 2. sef. 1.

12 Verf. 12. so shall yee make ready] or, thus shall yee doe: The Hebrewes say, These Meat and Drinke-offerings, whether they be for Burnt-offerings or Peace-offerings, must bee according to this measure for every one; (Numbers 15. 12.) they may not adde more to these measures, nor diminish ought from them: and if they doe diminish, or adde more, the whole is made unlawfull. Except it be the Lambe of Burnt-offering which they bring on the day that they wave the Omer of first-fruits (Levit. 23. 12. 13.) for the Meat-offering thereof is two tenth deales of fine flowre, mingled with the third-part of an Hin of oyle: but though the flowre thereof bee doubled, yet is not the wine doubled, but the wine for the drinke-offering, is the fourth part of an Hin. When they measure the Meate or Drinke-offering, either of a particular person; or of the congregation, they mete it not by a measure of three tenth deales for a bullocke, or of two for a ramme; but they measure all in one tenth deals, which is in the Sanctuary, and likewise the oyle &c. The flowre with the oyle of the Meat-offerings, hinder not the wine; neither doth the wine hinder them: neither doe the meate or drinke-offerings hinder the sacrifice. But a man may bring his oblation to day, and his meate and drinke-offerings ten dayes after; provided, that bee have not sanctified them in a ministring vessell. For if bee have put them into a ministring vessell (of the Sanctuary) if they abide all night, they become thereby unlawfull. They may bring no Meat or Drinke-offerings, save of the common things; they may not bring them of the heave-offering, nor of the second tithe, nor of the first-fruits, but of common things only. Maimony in Magu. hakorbanoth, chap. 2. sef. 5. 8. 12. 13. The Burnt and Peace-offerings, served (as other sacrifices) to make atonement for the house of Israel, Ezek. 45. 17. Levit. 1. 4. and figured Christs oblation of himselfe, to reconcile us unto God his Father, and to be our Peace, Hebr. 9. 14. and 10. 8. 10. Ephes. 2. 14. 15. 16. The Meat-offering (besides the signification that it had of Christ, Eph. 5. 2.) figured in speciall manner the faith and sanctimonie of his people, and of their service of God; Esay 66. 20. Rom. 15. 16. Psal. 141. 2. Mal. 1. 10. 11. So the Lord by this addition of the Meate-offering to the other sacrifices in Canaan, taught his people sanctity in the faith and profession of the Gospell, both touching their persons & actions: and the Drinke-offerings, of wine powred out upon, and sanctified by the Altar, were not only a type of Christs blood shed for remission of sinnes, Mat. 26. 28. 29. but of our fellowship with him in his afflictions, even to be powred out upon the sacrifice and service of Christians saith, Philip. 2. 17. 2 Tim. 4. 6. See the annotations on Levit. 2.

Verf. 13. home-borne] the naturall Israelite. Verf. 14. stranger] in Greeke, Proselyte: the Gentile converted to the Jewes religion. in your generations] or, throughout, that is, in all ages successively: so in verse 15.

Verf. 15. Yee of the Church] or, O Church, or congregation: or, Concerning the Church; which in Targum Jonathan is expounded, the whole Church before Iehovah] in the exercises of religion before the Lord: for in civill things, there was not one law for both Israelites and strangers.

Verf. 16. one manner] that is, one manner of practise & obedience, and one punishment for transgression: Hebr. one judgement. So in verse 24.

Verf. 17. And Iehovah spake] A second ordinance by the Lords authority, is here imposed upon them that should come into the land of Canaan; that they should give him a cake of the first of their dough: which law is nowhere mentioned by Moses, save in this place. And as the former law for sacrificing, taught them holinesse by faith in Christ, who should be sacrificed for his Church; so this commadement of First-fruits, taught them to shew forth the fruits of faith, by good workes, which God appointed his people to walke in.

Verf. 18. When yee come into the land] As a promise is here included, that God would bring them into that good land: so a duty of thankfulness is commanded, that they might remember and acknowledge his mercie, and have his blessing continued upon them. The Hebrewes doe observe, that This COMMING, differeth from all the COMMINGS mentioned in the Law: for, in them all it is said, When thou art (or shalt) come; When yee are come, meaning, after the possession thereof, and dwelling therein: but here it is said, When yee come, meaning, after they were entred into it, and did eate of the bread thereof, they were bound to give the cake, saith Sol. Iarchi on Numb. 15. Now this they did, before the land was parted for inheritance, as appeareth in Ios. 5. 11. 12 where they did eate of the old corne of the land; and then the Manna ceased. And as an Omer of Manna was reserved before the Lord, for the generations of Israel, that they might see and thankfully remember the bread which God gave them to eate in the wilderness, Exod. 16. 32. 33. so a cake of the bread which he should give them in Canaan, was to bee given unto him, that they might acknowledge him, to be the preserver and nourisher of them in the land; for it is he that giveth bread unto all flesh, because his mercie endureth for ever, Psal. 136. 25.

whether I bring you] or, am bringing you thither. Hence the Hebrewes say, They were not bound by the Law to give the cake save in the land of Israel only.

only, and when all Israel were there, &c. Fruits without the land, that are brought into the land, owe the cake: but the fruits of the land, that are carried out of the land, are discharged; as it is said, W H I T H E R I B R I N G T O V: there are you bound, both concerning the fruits of the land, and the fruits without the land. But by the doctrine of the Scribes, they were to separate a cake also out of the land, that the Law of the Cake might not be forgotten out of Israel. Maimony in Biccuring (or treatise of First-fruits) chapter 5. sect. 5. 6. 7.

19 Ver. 19. of the bread] that is, of the bread-corne, as in Esay 28. 28. Bread (that is, Corne) is bruised; and out of the earib commeth bread, Iob 28. 5. Psal. 104. 14. The Chaldee of Jonathan here paraphraseth thus; Of the bread of the revenue of the land: and not of rice, and millet, and lesser seeds. So by the Hebrew canons; Nothing oweth the Cake, but the five kinds of graine onely; which are, Wheat, and Barley, and Rye, and Fox-eare barley, and Oats: for nothing is called B R E A D, save that which is made of these. But hee that maketh meat of Rice, Millet, or other like pulse (or seeds) they owe no Cake at all. Maimony in Biccuring, chapter 5. section 2. and Talmud Bab. in Challah. chap. 1.

ye shall heave] that is, shall offer up; or, as the Greeke and Chaldee translate, shall separate; for it was separated by the owner, and offered to the Lord; and so was one of the heave-offrings which God gave unto his Priests, Numbers 18. 19. Wherefore it was holy, and whosoever separated a Cake, hee first blessed God who sanctified them by his commandements, and commanded them to separate a cake. Maimony in Biccuring, chap. 5. sect. 11. An heathen that separated a Cake, though in the land of Israel, it was no cake. Ibidem chap. 6. sect. 10. unto Iehovah] in Chaldee, before the L O R D. Not that it was brought into the Sanctuary, or offered on the Altar, but given to the Lords minister: as it is written, Yee shall also give unto the Priest, the first of your dough, Ezek. 44. 30. By the Hebrew canons, The first-fruits, and the heave-offrings, and the Cake, and the principall, and the first part, [spoken of in Numbers 5. 7. 8.] and the gifts of the beast [that is killed, Deut. 18. 3.] these are the Priests goods: with them hee may buy servants, and lands, and uncleane beasts, and pay his debts, or wives dowry, and buy bookes, Maimony in Biccuring, chap. 4. sect. 14.

20 Ver. 20. Of the first] or, The first-fruits: with the first-fruits of all things, God was to be honoured, Prov. 3. 9. that thereby all the rest of their food might be sanctified unto them: For if the first-fruits be holy, the lump (or dough) is also holy, Rom. 11. 16. and a promise of plenty is added to them that thus doe, Prov. 3. 10. as of this particular it is said, ye shall also give unto the Priest, the first of your dough, that hee may cause the blessing to rest in thine house, Ezek. 44. 30.

of your dough] of your paste, or lumpe. They gave of their corne, first-fruits and tithes, and other gifts, to the Priests, Levites, and poore, when they first reaped and threshed it, Exod. 23. 19. Numbers 18. 12. 26. Levit. 23. 22. After them, when they made bread of it, they separated also this cake. And as the Levites separated an heave-offering, out of their tithe, Num. 18. 26. so the poore that glained, separated of their dough; as the Hebrewes write, That which is glained, and which is forgotten (Deut. 24. 19.) and the corner, Levit. 19. 9. &c. though they bee free from the Trumah (or heave-offering) yet they owe the cake. Likewise the first tithes, &c. Maimony in Biccuring, chap. 6. sect. 3. And though other seeds or pulse, owe not the cake, as is before noted, yet they say, Hee that mixeth the meale of wheat, and the meale of rice, and maketh dough of them, if it have the taste of the wheat, it oweth the cake; and if not, it is discharged. Though it bee but the leaven of wheat among dough of rice, if it have any taste of the wheat, it oweth the cake. Dough that is kneaded with wine, or oyle, or honey, &c. if they bake it in an oven, or on the hearth, or pan, or in a frying pan, &c. oweth the cake. But hee that maketh dough to dry it in the Sunne onely, or to boyle it in a cauldron, it is discharged of the cake, &c. Also parched corne, that is kneaded with water, or honey, and eaten without baking, is discharged; for nothing oweth the cake, but dough, the end whereof is to be bread baked for mans meat. Ibidem sect. 11. 12. And for the quantity of dough, out of which a cake is to be given, they say, An Omer full of meale, whether it bee of one of the five sorts of graine, or of all of them mixed together, the dough thereof oweth a cake. And it is unlawfull for a man to make his dough of a lesser quantity, that it may be free from paying the Cake. Ibidem Section 15, 16. What the Omer is, see Exodus 16. 36. And from that measure of manna which God gave every one for a day, did they gather their quantity, that an Omer of meale should pay a cake to the Lord, as Sol. Iarchi on this place sheweth. a cake] or, loafe, made of the dough aforesaid. Hee that separateth meale for his cake, it is no cake: but the residue of the dough oweth a cake. When they put water to it, and the meale is mixt with the water, they separate a cake of the first thing which is kneaded, as it is written, T H E F I R S T O F T O V R D O U G H. That dough which oweth a cake by the Law, hee that eateth thereof is to be beaten. Maimony in Biccuring, chap. 8. sect. 1. 2. 5. of the threshing-floore] that is, of the corne in the threshing-floore; as it is your duty religiously to separate first-fruits of your corn in the floore; so of the dough in your houses. Thus the floore is used for the corne therein; in Deut. 16. 13. Sol. Iarchi understandeth it thus; as the heave-offering of the floore, of which there is no stined measure (by the Law;) and not as the heave-offering of the tithes, whereof there is a stined measure: So for the quantity, it should be voluntary, so much as men would give. Howbeit, their wise men (they say) set a measure; viz. that they should separate the foure and twentieth part of the dough, that it might be a gift meet to be given. But the baker, that maketh bread to sell in the street, separateth the eight and fortieth part: for because his dough is much, there is in this quantity sufficient for a gift. Maimony in Biccuring, chap. 5. sect. 2. So the Chaldee of Jonathan expoundeth this verse, The first-fruits of your dough, a cake, one of 24. (that is, the foure and twentieth part) shall yee separate as a separated-offring for the Priest, &c.

21 Verſ. 21. ye ſhall give] The repeating of the commandement ſheweth it to be of importance; and though the Priſt had it, yet was it given to the LORD, whoſe bleſſing therefore was promiſed to the obſervers of this Law, Ezek. 44. 30. And as all things giuen unto God, were to be holy, pure and cleane; ſo of this the Hebrewes write, A man may not make his dough in uncleaſneſſe at all; but is to be admoniſhed, and muſt be carefull that bee be cleane, both bee and his veſſels, that bee may ſeparate a pure cake. Maimony in Biecurim. chap. 9. ſect. 11. in your] or, throughout your generations, in all ages: wherefore this ordinance was kept by Iſrael, after they were returned out of Babylon, Nehem. 10. 37. And beſides that all their bread was ſanctified unto them by theſe firſt-fruits, and God was honoured, by whoſe word man liveth, and not by bread only, Deut. 8. 3. it ſeemeth to have a further ſignification of the choſen people of God, as Paul applyeth this phraſe of the firſt-fruits, and of the lump of dough, unto the ſtate of Iſrael, Rom. 11. 16. as the Prophet ſpeaking of the firſt-fruits alſo ſaith, Iſrael was holineſſe to the LORD, the firſt-fruits of his increaſe; all that eat him, ſhall be guilty, &c. Ier. 2. 3. And thus the Iewes of old underſtood this commandement of the Cake, that it ſignified in myſterie the congregation of Iſrael, called the firſt-fruits of the world; which when it is put into the oven that burneth with the fire of the holy bleſſed God, it is neceſſary to ſeparate there-from a cake, that it be not partaker of ſevere judgement; and there-from is a bleſſing reſerved in the world, (Ezek. 44. 30.) R. Me-nachem on Numb. 15.

22 Verſ. 22. when ye ſhall have ſinned ignorantly] or, if ye have erred, that is, done unadviſedly of ignorance, error, or over-ſight; whereto is oppoſed ſinning with an high hand, verſe 30. See the annotations on Levit. 4. 2. As in the two former Lawes, the Lord repeated and enlarged the doctrines of faith, and of good workes: ſo here he doth the like concerning the forgivenenſe of ſins, which his people through infirmity do fall into; that all the chiefe points of Chriſtian religion, are here renewed unto them. have not done all] The words of this Law differ from the former in Levit. 4. 2. 13. which ſpake of doing that which ſhould not be done; whereas this ſpeaketh of not doing all which ſhould be done. There alſo, the ſacrifice, which the congregation ſhould bring, was a Bullocke for a Sin-offering, Lev. 4. 14. here (in verſe 24.) they are willed to bring a Bullock for a Burnt-offring; and a goat-bucke, for a Sin-offering. Whether is this difference, in reſpect of the commandements, forbidding evill workes, and requiring good, as the words ſeeme to import? Or, as the Hebrewes expound it, doth this here reſpect the ſin of idolatry only? Or, as others underſtand it, is that for all the tribes generally, and this for the ſeverall tribes, cities and townes as they were ſeſerved in the land of Canaan? Or, is this (in myſterie) an increaſe of the ſacrifice in Canaan; as in propheſie of the dayes of the Goſpell, the Meat and Drinke-offerings (which Chriſtians ſhould ſpiritually offer with their ſacrifices) are of greater quantity, than thoſe which were offered under Moſes, Ezek. 46. 5. 11. compared with Numb. 15. 4, 5, 6, 7, and 28. 20. &c.

23 Verſ. 23. Even all] This ſheweth the large extent of this Law, and the weight thereof, by repeating things ſo expreſſly. The Hebrewes, which underſtand this of idolatry only; ſay, that that one commandement, is at all the commandements, &c. and that this ſheweth, that whoſoever profeſſeth idolatry, it is as if hee denied all the Law wholly, and all that the Prophets have propheſied; as it is written, AND HENCE FORWARD: Sol. Iarchi on Numb. 15. and Maimony tom. 1. treat. of Idolatry, chap. 2. ſect. 4.

24 Verſ. 24. by ignorance] in Greeke, unwillingly: ſee Levit. 4. 2. from the eyes] underſtand, bidden from the eyes, as is expreſſed in Lev. 4. 13. This the Hebrew Doctors underſtand of things erroneouſly taught by the governours, and practiſed by the people, concerning idolatry; as is ſhewed in the annotations on Levit. 4. 13. and ſo Sol. Iarchi expoundeth here this place. ſhall make ready] that is, ſhall offer for a ſacrifice, Levit. 4. 14. And thus the Hebrewes underſtand not of one ſacrifice for the twelve tribes, but for every tribe ſo much.

*If the error be in Idolatry, that they (the governours) have erred, and taught it: they bring a Bullocke for a Burnt-offring, and a goat-bucke for a Sin-offering, for every tribe, and this oblation is that which is ſpoken of in Numb. 15. ſaith Maimony in Shegagoth, chap. 12. ſect. 1. and Talmud in Horajoth, chap. 2. See the notes on Levit. 4. 14. This expoſition for the number, may ſeeme probable, becauſe the people returned from captivity, offered for all Iſrael, in Burnt-offerings twelve bullockes, and twelve goat-buckes for a Sin-offering, according to the number of the tribes, Ezer. 8. 35. youngling] Hebr. ſome of the herd: a bullocke was alwayes of the ſecond yeare or upward: ſo, the goat-bucke following.*

Burnt-offering] which ſignified atonement and ſanctification by the death of Chriſt, as is ſhewed on Lev. 1. of reſt] that is, of ſweet ſmell, as the Greeke tranſlateth: the Chaldees ſaith, to be accepted with favour before the LORD.

to the manner] or, right, ordinance: Hebr. to the judgement: meaning, the meaſure preſcribed of God, in v. 9. 10. for a Sin-offering] in Greeke, for ſin. This word in Hebrew is written with want of a letter, which elſewhere uſually is expreſſed: whereupon Sol. Iarchi noteth, that it is not as other Sin-offerings; for all Sin-offerings that are by the Law brought with the Burnt-offering, the Sin-offering is before the Burnt-offering, as it is ſaid, (in Levit. 5. 10.) And the ſecond bee ſhall make a Burnt-offering, but this Burnt-offering is before the Sin-offering. The manner of offering this Sin-offering was like the bullocke, in Levit. 4. it was killed in the court-yard, the blood was carried into the Sanctuary, & ſprinkled ſeven times before Lord; the fat was burned on the Altar in the court-yard, and the body of the beaſt was carried forth, and burnt without the campe: ſo figuring Chriſt, who ſhould be ſlaine for the finnes of his people, and by his own blood enter into heaven; his body being crucified with-without the gate of Ierusalem, Heb. 9. 11. 12. 24. and 13. 11. 12. If the great assise (of Magistrates) ignorantly sinne in teaching idolatry, the whole congregation bringeth twelve bullockes for Burnt-offerings, and twelve goats for Sin-offerings, and they are burned, because their blood is carried into the Sanctuary, &c. Though but one tribe onely commit (the sinne) if it bee the most part of the Church, then all the congregation bring, for idolatry, twelve bullockes, and twelve goats. Maimony in Shegagoth, chap. 12. sect. 1.

- 25 Ver. 25. for all the congregation] or, for every congregation; whereby may bee implied the severall tribes, cities, townes, and synagogues. So in verse 26. an ignorance] or, an error, in Greeke, and unwilling Sin, so in v. 26. brought their oblation] in Greeke have brought the gift thereof. a Fire-offering] in Chaldee, an oblation before the L O R D: and this is meant of the Bullocke, the Burnt-offering, as Sol. Iarchi noteth, their Sin-offering] this is the goat, saith Sol. Iarchi. before Iehovah] R. Menachem from former authours speaketh of these phrases here used, unto the L O R D, and before the L O R D, that it is meant of him and his judgement hall; whereby it appeareth that the mylerie of the Trinitie in the Godhead, was of old beleevd by the Iewes, though now they oppugne the same. For there was no Court or Iudgement hall in Israel, lesse than of three Iudges: and being by them here and in other places applied unto God, and in case of sacrifice and expiation of sinne, which they did hold peculiar unto God alone; it sheweth that they once acknowledged a Trinitie of persons in the Godhead, to whom sacrifices for the finnes of men were offered.

- 26 V. 26. and the stranger] the beleeving Gentile, as the Greeke translateth, and the proselyte that cometh unto you. Thus the Lord sheweth himselfe to bee the God of the Gentiles also, Rom. 3. 29.

- 27 Ver. 27. of one soule] or, any soule; that is, any person: the Chaldee expoundeth it one man. So in Levit. 4. 27. through ignorance] in Greeke, unwillingly. This also by the Hebrewes (as Sol. Iarchi here) is expounded of the sinne of Idolatry. of her first year] Hebr. daughter of her year, in Greeke, a yearling: see the notes on Exod. 12. 5. in Levit. 4. 32. he might also bring an ewe-lambe for his sinne; which may likewise be understood here. But Sol. Iarchi saith, For other transgressions, a particular man bringeth an ewe-lambe, or a shee-goat: but for this (of idolatry) a shee-goat is appointed.

- 29 Ver. 29. one law shall be to you] that is, yee shall have one law: the Greeke translateth, one law shall be among them, (or for them.) that doth] or, that committeth, to wit, the sinne, through ignorance: in Greeke, whosoever doth unwillingly. Thus the Law promisseth grace in Christ, in that it appointed sacrifices and Priests that can have compassion on the ignorant, and on them that erre, Hebr. 5. 2. In this faith, David prayeth unto God, Ignorance (or, Unadvised errors) who doth understand? cleanse thou me from secret finnes, Psal. 19. 13.

- 30 Ver. 30. the soule] in Chaldee, the man. with an high hand] that is, boldly, proudly and presumptuously, as the Greeke translateth, with the hand of pride; and Targum Jonathan, with pride, (or presumption.) This phrase, when it is spoken of good workes, meaneth boldnesse, courage and magnanimity, in heart and carriage; as, Israel went out of Egypt with an high hand, Numb. 33. 3. Exod. 14. 8. but here of evill, it meaneth pride and presumption shewing it selfe openly and boldly; which Onkelos in Chaldee expoundeth, with an uncovered head, as being not ashamed of the deed (for when men were ashamed, they used to cover their heads, Ier. 14. 4.) Of like sort, is the high arme, in Iob. 38. 15. (where the Greeke also expoundeth it, the arme of the proud:) and the high (or lofty) eyes, Psal. 18. 28. and 131. 1. reproacheth] or, blasphemeth; which the Greeke and Chaldee translate, provoketh to anger. It meaneth a reproaching with words, as 2. King. 19. 6. 22. and is applied here unto deeds, as also in Ezek. 20. 27. yet in this your said have reproached (or blasphemed) me, in that they have trespassed a trespass against mee. So a presumptuous sinner is counted as a blasphemer of God, and hath no sacrifice for his sinne, but is to bee cut off. And this word Christ hath respect unto, in Luke 12. 10. unto him that blasphemeth against the holy Ghost, it shall not be forgiven. that soule] in Chaldee, that man. cut off] in Greeke and Chaldee, destroyed: which phrase the Apostle useth in Act. 3. 23. shall bee destroyed from among the people. That word meaneth destruction by the hand of God, as in 1. Cor. 10. 10. Hebr. 11. 28. So the Hebrew Doctors understand the cutting off, mentioned in the Law of Moses: which sometime is so explained, as in Levit. 17. 10. God saith, I will cut off him from among his people. But if there were witnesses of the fact, the Magistrates punished them, either by death, or beating: see the notes on Deut. 25. 2.

Ver. 31. despised the word] or, contemned, set it at nought, as vile; dishonoured it. Hereupon is that proverbe, Hee that despiseth the word, shall be destroyed; but hee that feareth the commandment, shall be rewarded, Prov. 13. 13. broken] or, disannulled, frustrated, made void: it is opposed unto stablishing or confirming. This word Christ useth in Marke 7. 9. Full well yee frustrate the commandment of God. Vtually it is applied to the breaking of the covenant of God, as in Gen. 17. 14. Leviticus 15. 44. and often in the Prophets; sometime of the Law and commandments, Psalme 119. 126. Ezz. 9. 14. Hebr. 10. 28. shall utterly bee cut off] or, shall bee cut off with cutting off: the doubling of the word, is for more certainty, and speed; and as the Hebrew Doctors gather from it, in this world, and in the world to come: See the annotations on Gen. 17. 14. So R. Menachem here saith, Although wee find Apostates (from God) to live more than 50. yeares, and that they are not cut off from the life of this world; yet know that their deserts hang upon them in this world, and vengeance shall bee taken on them abundantly in the world to come. his iniquity] or, the iniquity of it, (of the soule, that is, of the person) shall bee upon it; or, in it; or, with it: By iniquity, understanding punishment for iniquity, as in Gen. 19. 15. and as Sinne, is for the punishment nishment of sin, Levit. 24. 9. Or, we may take iniquity properly; as Sol. Iarchi expoundeth it, when iniquity is in him, that hee repenteth not. R. Menaschem here allegeth an exposition of the ancients, that sin shall be cut off; and the iniquity thereof with it: as if hee should say, the iniquity shall cleave unto it after it is cut off, to be punished for ever; according to that (in Esay 66. 24.) Their worme shall not die; which Jonathan (the Chaldee paraphrast) expoundeth, Their soule shall not die. And our Doctors have said, It shall be cut off in this world; it shall be cut off from the world to come. So the Chaldee on Moses, which goeth under the name of Jonathan paraphraseth, that man shall be destroyed in the world that is to come, and shall give account of his sinne as the great day of judgement.

32 Vers. 32. were in the wilderness] For so (saith Chazkuni) it was decreed concerning them, that they should not come into the land (of Canaan.) In the former commandments of the drinke-offerings, and Cake, it was written, When ye be come into the land, &c. to teach that they were not to practise them save in the land: but the Sabbath was to be kept both within the land and without, though it were in the wilderness; and therefore it is written concerning it; IN THE WILDERNESSE.

34 Vers. 34. in ward] that is, in prison. So they dealt with the blasphemers, in Lev. 24. 12, it was not declared] in Greeke, they had not judged, or determined. Wherefore was it thus? seeing the Law had twise said, that the breaker of the Sabbath should die, Exod. 31. 4. and 35. 2. Sol. Iarchi saith, it was not declared what manner of death hee should dye: but they knew that hee that prophaned the Sabbath was to die. And the Chaldee called Ionathans paraphraseth thus; This judgement was one of the foure judgements that came before Moses the Prophet, which hee judged according to the word of the holy (God.) Some of them were judgements of lesser moment, and some of them judgements of life and death. In the judgements of lesser moment (of pecuniarie matters) Moses was ready, but in judgements of life and death hee made delays. And both in the one and in the other, Moses said, I have not heard, [viz. what God would have done.] For to teach the heads (or chiefe) of the Synedrions (or Assises) that should rise up after him, that they should be ready to dispatch inferior causes (or money matters) but not hasty in matters of life and death. And that they should not be ashamed to enquire, in causes that are too hard for them; seeing Moses who was the Master of Israel, had need to say, I have not heard. Therefore he imprisoned him; because as yet it was not declared, what sentence should passe upon him. The foure judgements which hee speaketh of, were about the uncleane that would keep the Paschever, Numb. 9. 7. 8. and the daughters of Zelophead that claimed possession in the land, Numb. 27. 4. 5. (these were the cases of lesse importance:) about the blasphemers, Levit. 24. and the Sabbath-breaker here: both which hee kept in ward, till he had answer from the Lord.

35 Vers. 35. stone him] This was esteemed the heaviest of all the foure kinds of death, that malefactors suffered in Israel: see the notes on Exod. 21.

12. without the campe] Hereupon they used to carry such out of the cities, and execute them far off from the judgement Hall, as Sol. Iarchi noteth. So they dealt with Stephen, calling him out of the city, and stoning him, Act. 7. 58. likewise with Naboth, 1 Kings 21. 13. also with the blasphemers, Levit. 24. 15. which was a circumstance that aggravated the punishment, being a kind of reproach, as the Apostle noteth, Heb. 13. 11, 12, 13. And this severitie sheweth of what weight the commandment touching the Sabbath is, the profanation whereof, God would have thus to be avenged. And it further signified the eternall death of such as doe not keepe the Sabbath of Christ, entering into the rest of God by faith, and ceasing from their owne workes, as God did from his, Heb. 4. 1, 2, 3, 4, 10, 11.

37 Verse 37. And Iehorab said] After the violating of the Sabbath, and punishment for it, God giveth a Law, and ordaineth a signe of remembrance, to further the sanctification of his people, that they might thinke upon his commandments, and doe them.

38 Verse 38. summes of Israel] This Law for Fringes, concerned Israel onely, not other nations; and as the Hebrews say, men onely were bound to weare them, not women. Women and servants, and little children, are not bound by the Law to weare the Fringe. But by the words of the Scribes, every child that knoweth to clothe himselfe, is bound to weare the Fringe, to the end he may be trained up in the commandments. And women and servants that will weare them, may so doe, but they blesse not [God, as men doe when they put them on:] and so all other commandments which women are not bound unto, if they will doe them, they doe them without blessing first. Maimon, tom. 1. in Zizith, (or treat. of Fringes) chapter 3. section 9. that they make] they themselves, and not Heathens for them: a Fringe which is made by an Heathen, is unlawfull; as it is written, Speake to the summes of Israel, that they make unto them. Maimon, in Zizith, ch. 1. sect. 12. a Fringe] that is, Fringes, as in Deut. 22. 12. Moses speaketh of many; and so the Greeke and Chaldee translate it here. A Fringe is in Hebrew called Tzitzith (or Zizith) which in Ezek. 8. 3. is used for a locke of haire of the head; and is here applied to a Fringe, the threads whereof hang downe as lockes of haire. And the Hebrew Doctors call it also Gnanaph, that is, a Branch, because it hangeth as branches or twigs of a tree. The Branch which they make upon the skirt of a garment, is called Tzitzith, because it is like to (Tzitzith) a locke of the head, Ezek. 8. 3. And this Branch is called White, because we are not commanded to dye (or colour) it. And for the threads of this Branch, there is no set number by the Law. And they take a thread of wolle, which is dyed like the colour of the Firmament, and tyo it upon the Branch (or Fringe;) and this thread is called Blue. Maimon, in Zizith, ch. 1. sect. 1. 2. The Fringe is called in Greeke, Crasseda, and this word is used by the Holy Ghost in Mat. 23. 5. and of it, the Chaldee also calleth it Crassedin. The word Gedilim, used for Fringes, in Deut. 22. 12. were the thrums of the cloth which was woven:

woven: and Isisish the Fringe here spoken of, were threads tyed unto those thrums with knots.

on the skirts] Hebr. on the wings. This is expounded in Deut. 22. 12. on the four skirts (or wings.) The skirt end, or border of a garment, is usually called a wing as in Ruth. 3. 9. 1 Sam. 15. 27 and 24. 5. 11. Deut. 32. 30. Zach. 8. 23. Ezek. 5. 3. Hag. 2. 13. so the four ends or corners of the earth, are called the four wings thereof, Esa. 11. 12. Eze. 7. 2. Job 37. 3. and 38. 13. The garment which a man is bound to make the Fringe on by the Law, is a garment which hath four skirts, or more than four: and it is a garment of woollen or of linnen only. But a garment of other stuffe, as of silke, or cotten, or camels haire, or the like, are not bound to have the Fringe, save by the words of our wise men, that men may be admonished to keepe the precept of the Fringes. For all clothes spoken of in the Law absolutely, are not, save of woollen and linnen only. When he maketh a fringe on a garment that hath five or six skirts, he maketh it but on four of the skirts, as it is said, Vpon the foure skirts, Deut. 22. 12. A garment that is borrowed, is not bound to have the Fringe for 30. dayes; after & thenceforward it is bound. A garment of wooll, they make the white thereof of threads of wooll: and a garment of flax (or linnen) they make the white thereof of threads of flax; and so of every garment after the kind thereof, &c. Every man that is bound to doe this commandment, if hee put upon him a garment which is meet to have the Fringe, must put on the Fringe, and then put the garment on; and if he put it on without the Fringe, he breaketh the commandment. But clothes meet to have the Fringe so long as a man puts them not on, but foldeth & layeth them up, they are not bound to have the fringe: for it is not a duty in respect of the garment, but in respect of the man which hath the garment. Maim. in Zizith, ch. 3. sect. 1. - 5. 10. upon the Fringe] or, with the Fringe. a ribband] or a threed, as the word is Englished in Iudg. 16. 9. or, a lace, as in Exod. 39. 31. it hath the name of twisting or wreathing. The Greeke & Chaldee translate it, a threed: & so it is explained by the Hebrew Doctors; who also say, whether they were threads of white, or threads of blew, if he would make them of twisted threads, he might so doe; and though the threed were twisted of eight threads, & a ribband made of them, it was counted but one threed. The threads of the fringe, whether white or blew, must be spun for the fringe by name. Marmony in Zizith, c. 1. f. 11. of blew] or, of skie-colour. The Hebrewes say, the blew spoken of in the law in every place, is wooll dyed, and like the clear firmament. And the blew for the Fringe must be died in a knowne die that will continue in the faire color and not change: & whatsoever is not so died, is unlawfull for the Fringe, though it be like the colour of the firmament. The die for this blew was made (they say) with the blood of the Chalazion, which is a fish of blew colour, & the blood of it is black as inke, & it is found in the salt sea. And with that blood they mix vermilion, &c. Also it must be died for the fringe by name. Maim. in Zizith, ch. 2. sect. 1. 2. 3. and Talmud in Menachoth, ch. 4. As for the Fringe, (which they usually call the White, because it was not commanded to be died, it might be of any colour, as the garment it selfe, except blew: whereof they write thus; The garment which is all red, or Greene, or of other died colours, they make the white threads (or Fringe) thereof, like the died colour thereof; Greene, if it be Greene; or red, if it be red. If it be all blew, then they make the white (the Fringe) thereof of other colours, any save blacke, for that will turne and appeare blackish: and they tie upon all, one threed of blew, like as they doe in other Fringes which are not died. Maim. ibidem, chapter 2. section 8. By reason of this different colour, they also say, There are found in this commandment (of the fringe) two commandments; that a man make on the skirt, a branch issuing out of it; and that hee tie upon the branch a threed of blew. (Numb. 15. 38.) And the blew bindereth not the white; neither doth the white binder the blew. As if a man have no blew, hee maketh the white alone, &c. Though, one bindereth not another, yet are they not two commandments, but one. Our former wise men have said (from these words) And it shall bee unto you for a Fringe, Numbers 15. 39. this teacheth that both of them are one commandment. And the foure Fringes (on the foure skirts) doe binder one another [so that one may be without another] for they foure are one commandment (Deut. 22. 12.) And hee that weareth a garment wherein is the white (Fringe) or the blew (ribband) or both of them together, hee keepeth one commanding precept. Maimony in Zizith, chap. 1. sect. 3. 4. 5.

Verf. 29. for a Fringe] By the institution of 29
God it was made unto them a Fringe, and so a religious signe to helpe their memories, and to further their sanctification: wherefore they used to sanctifie this, as all other like divine ordinances, by prayer; and when they put on this garment, they blessed the Lord their God, the King of the world, which sanctified them by his commandments, and commanded them to array themselves with Fringes. And whensoever they clothed themselves herewith in the day-time, they blessed for them before they put them on. But they blessed not for the Fringes at the time of the making of them, because the end of the commandment is, that they should bee arrayed herewith. Maim. in Zizith, chap. 3. sect. 8. that yet may see it] or and yet shall see (or looke upon) it; on your selves, and on one another. Wherefore the Hebrewes say, A blind man was bound to weare the Fringe: for though hee saw it not, others did see it. Maim. in Zizith, ch. 3. sect. 7. By many meanes of sundry sorts, God warned his people of old, to walke religiously and holily before him; and it is observed by some of themselves, that The holy blessed God left nothing in the world, wherein hee gave not some commandment to Israel: if they went out to plow, (hee said) Thou shalt not plow with an ox and an asse together, Deut. 12. 10. if to sow; Thou shalt not sow with divers kinds, Levit. 19. 19. if to reape; Thou shalt not wholly reape the corner of thy field, &c. Levit. 19. 9. if to knead their dough; Of the first of your dough, yee shall offer a cake, Numbers 15. 20. if they killed (a beast;). They shall give unto the Priest, the shoulder and the two cheeks, &c. Deut. 18. 3. if they found a birds nest; thou shalt send away the Damme, Deut. 22. 6. 7.

if they caught wild beast or fowle; He shall poure out the blood thereof, and cover it with dust; Levit. 17. 13. if they planted; Ye shall count, or uncircumcised the uncircumcision thereof, &c. Levit. 19. 23. if they had a man-child borne, the fore-skinne of his flesh shall be circumcised, Lev. 12. 2. if they buried the dead; Ye shall not cut your selves, &c. Deut. 14. 1. if they shaved themselves; Ye shall not round a corner of your head, &c. Lev. 19. 27. if they builded an house, Thou shalt make a battlement, &c. Deut. 22. 8. And thou shalt write them upon the posts, &c. Deut. 6. 9. if they clothed themselves; Ye shall make ye a Fringe, &c. Chazkuni on Num. 15. and remember all] This was the spirituall use of this ordinance, that it mought lead them unto a continuall remembrance & practise of all the Law, without which, the out ward rite was vaine. The many threads of the Fringes on the foure skirts of their garment, signified the many commandements of God which they should put upon them, to be it as were clothed with them, and to walke in them: the heaven-coloured ribband, taught them an heavenly affection to all the Law, & an holy conversation; and led them spiritually to put on the wedding garment, Matth. 22. 11. the Lord Iesus Christ, Rom. 13. 14. the whole armour of God, Ephes. 6. 11. and the new man, which after God is created in righteousness and holiness of truth, Ephes. 4. 24. that their conversation might be in heaven, Phil. 3. 20. From these worde, The Hebrew Doctors say; A man should alwayes be carefull to array himselfe with such a garment as was bound to have the Fringe, that he might keepe this commandement: and in the time of prayer, he is to be warned hereof more specially. It is a great shame for wise men, that they should pray, and not be arraigned herewith. A man must for ever be warned of this commandement of the Fringe, for the Scripture maketh it of great weight, and all the commandements, every one depend upon it. Maim. in Zizith, ch. 3. sect. 11. 12. But they abused this, as other divine ordinances, to superstition & hypocrisy; & were reprov'd by our Saviour for making their Phylacteries broad, and enlarging the borders (or Fringes) of their garments, Mat. 23. 5. And this their vanitie (neglecting the spirituall end) appeareth in their writings; for unto the thrums or threads of the garment, which were three inches, they fastned threads doubled in the midst, whose length (they say) might not be lesse than foure inches, but more than so they might be, though a cubit, or two cubits. Maim. in Zizith, ch. 1. sect. 6. And for the vertue hereof, they say, Who so diligently keepeth this Law of Fringes, is made worthy, and shall see the face of the Majesty of God: (Baal hatturim on Num. 15.) and when a man is clothed with the Fringe, and goeth out therewith to the doore of his habitation, hee is safe, and God rejoiceth, and the destroying Angell departeth from thence, and the man shall be delivered from all hurt, and from all destruction, &c. (R. Menachem on Num. 15.) Thus easie it is for men to abuse holy things, and to pervert the right use & end of them by their owne inventions. See the annotations on Exod. 13. 9. And although they put so great religion in these Fringes, yet as they have lost the spirit & life of this commandement, so God hath deprived them of the outward rite, that they have not at this day, (by their owne confession) the blew or heaven-coloured ribband; The blew (Tecceith) is not found in our hands at this day, because we know not to make the die (or colour) of it: for every blew in wooll is not called Tecceith. But the Tecceith (or Blew spoken of in the Law,) it is knowne that it is impossible to make it at this day; and therefore we make the white onely, saith Rambam (or Maimony) in his exposition on Talmud Bab. in Menachoth, ch. 4. and that ye seeke not] or, and ye shall not seeke, (or search, as Num. 14. 36.) which word Solomon applieth to his heart, searhing out things by wisdom, Eccles. 1. 13. and 7. 25. The Greeke here translateth it, turne aside; the Chaldee, erre, (or goe astray.) your heart] in Chaldee, the imagination of your heart. Here God calleth men from their owne wisdom and inventions to his Law onely; for every imagination of the thoughts of mans heart, is onely evill every day, Gen. 6. 5. And, he that trusteth in his owne heart, is a foole, Prov. 28. 26. your eyes] in Chaldee, the sight of your eyes. So the holy Ghost saith, Walke in the wayes of thine heart, and in the sight of thine eyes; but know thou, that for all these things God will bring thee into judgement, Eccles. 11. 9. And the Apostle mentioneth the lust of the eyes, as that which is not of the Father, but of the world, 1 Iohn 2. 16. The Hebrewes say, The heart and the eyes are the spies of the body, and brokers to bring it into transgression; the eye seeth, and the heart lusteth, and the bodie acteth the transgression. Sol. Iarchi on Num. 15. The Lord condemning the heart which is the most noble of all the inward parts, and the eyes which are the most excellent of all the outward, teacheth that the whole man is corrupted thorowout, and to be reformed by the Law and Spirit of God. For, except a man be borne of water and of the Spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God, Iohn. 3. 5. you goe a whoring] in Chaldee, you erre (or goe astray.) To goe a whoring after other gods, is an usuall phrase for idolatrie, Exod. 34. 15. Deut. 31. 16. 1 Chron. 5. 25. Iudg. 2. 17. the same is implied here, as God saith, I am broken with their whorish heart, which hath departed from me; and with their eyes, which goe a whoring after their idols, Ezek. 6. 9. but it meaneth also all other sinnes which mens unclean hearts and impure eyes carry them unto, with consent and delight: see Lev. 20. 5. 6. Psal. 106. 39. Iam. 4. 4. The Hebrewes say; If any man be drawn after the thoughts of his heart, he will be found a waster of the world, because of the slenderesse (or shortnesse) of his understanding. As, sometimes he will search after idolatrie, and sometimes will thinke peculiarly of the Creator, whether there be any or none: What is above, and what beneath; what was before, and what shall be after. And sometimes of prophesie; whether it be truth or no; and sometimes of the Law, whether it be from heaven or no. And hee knoweth not what to judge of them, till he know the truth concerning his Creator, but will be found a revolter unto heresies. Concerning this thing is that warning in the Law, where it is said, said, And ye shall not seeke after your heart, and after your eyes, after which ye goe a whoring, Num. 15. 39. as if he should say, there shall not any one of you be drawne after his owne slender understanding (or knowledge,) as to imagine that his cogitation can attaine to the truth: so have our wise men said, AFTER YOVR HEART; this (meaneth) heresies; and AFTER YOVR EYES, this is whoredome. And this is an occasion for a man to deprive himselfe of the world (or life) that is to come. Maimony treat. of Idolatrie, ch. 2. sect. 3.

CHAP. XVI.

1 Korah, Dathan, Abiram, and On, with 250 Princes, rise up against Moses and Aaron, about the Priesthood & government of the Church. 5 Moses referreth the triall of the cause unto God, and reproveth Korahs ambition. 12 He sendeth for Dathan and Abiram, who reproach him, and will not come up. 15 He prayeth against them, 16 and gathereth Korah and his company with their censers, before the Tabernacle. 20 The Lord threatneth to consume the rebels, and commandeth the people to separate from them. 31 The earth swalloweth up Dathan, Abiram, and all Korahs men, and a fire from the Lord devoureth the 250 that burned incense. 36 The censers are reserved to cover the altar, for a signe unto Israel. 41 All the congregation murmure against Moses and Aaron, as they that had killed the Lords people. 44 The Lord killeth 14700 of them with a plague. 46 Aaron by incense stayeth the plague.

1 And Korah the sonne of Izhar, the son of Kohath, the sonne of Levi, he tooke men; and Dathan and Abiram the sonnes of Eliab, and On the sonne of Peleth, 2 sonnes of Reuben. And they rose up before Moses, and men of the sonnes of Israel, two hundred and fiftie, Princes of the congregation, the called of the assembly, men of name. 3 And they gathered themselves together, against Moses and against Aaron, and said unto them; Yee take too much upon you; for all the congregation, all of them are holy, and Jehovah is among them; and wherefore lift ye up your selves above the Church of Jehovah? And Moses heard it, and fell upon his face. 4 And hee spake unto Korah, and 5 unto all his congregation, saying, Even in the morning Jehovah will make knowne him that is his, and who is holy, and whom he will cause to come neere unto him: even him whom he hath chosen, hee will cause to come neere unto him. 6 This doe yee: take unto you censers, Korah and all his congregation. 7 And put ye fire in them, and put incense on them before Jehovah to morrow, and it shall be, that the man whom Jehovah doth choofe, he shall be holy: yet take too much upon you, ye sons of Levi. And Moses said unto Korah, Heare I pray you, ye sons of Levi. 8 Is it a small thing for you, that the God of Israel hath separated you, from the congregation of Israel, to bring you neere unto him, to serve the service of the Tabernacle of Jehovah, and to stand before the congregation to minister unto them? And he hath brought thee neere, and all thy brethren the sonnes of Levi with thee; and seeke yee the Priesthood also? For which cause, thou and all thy congregation are gathered together against Jehovah: and Aaron what is he, that ye murmur against him? And Moses sent to call Dathan and Abiram, the sons of Eliab: and they said, We will not come up. 9 Is it a small thing that thou hast brought us up out of the land that floweth with milke and honey, to kill us in the wilderness: that thou makest thy selfe a Prince over us, even making thy selfe a Prince? Moreover, thou hast not brought us into a land that floweth with milke & honey, & givest unto vs an inheritance of field & vineyard: wilt thou dig out the eies of these men? we will not come up. And 10 Moses was very wroth; and he said unto Jehovah, Respect not thou their offering; I have not taken one asse from them, neither have I hurt one of them. And Moses said unto Korah; Thou and all thy congregation, be yee before Jehovah; thou and they, and Aaron, to morrow. And take yee every 11 man his censer, and put incense on them; and bring ye neere before Jehovah, every man his censer, two hundred and fiftie censers: & thou and Aaron, each man his censer. And 12 they tooke every man his censer, and put fire on them, and put incense on them: and they stood at the doore of the Tent of the congregation, and Moses and Aaron. And 13 Korah gathered against them, all the congregation, unto the doore of the Tent of the congregation, and the glory of Jehovah appeared unto all the congregation. 14

And Jehovah spake unto Moses, and unto Aaron, saying; Separate your selves from among this congregation, and I will consume them, as in a moment. And they fell upon their faces, and said; O God, the God of the spirits of all flesh, shall one man sin, and wilt thou be fervently wroth with all the congregation? 15

And Jehovah spake unto Moses, saying; 16 Speake unto the congregation, saying: 17 Get 25 Get you up from about the Tabernacle of Korah, Dathan, and Abiram. And Moses rose up and went unto Dathan and Abiram: and the Elders of Israel went after him.

 26 And he spake unto the congregation, saying; Depart, I pray you, from the tents of these wicked men, and touch not any thing that is theirs, lest ye be consumed in all their sinnes.
 27 And they went up from the Tabernacle of Korah, Dathan, and Abiram, on every side; and Dathan and Abiram came out and stood in the doore of their Tents, and their wives, and their sonnes, and their little ones.
 28 And Moses said, Hereby ye shall know that Iehovah hath sent me to doe all these workes: for (I doe them) not of mine owne heart. If these men die, as all men die, and they be visited after the visitation of all men, Iehovah hath not sent me. But if Iehovah create a new thing, and the earth open her mouth, and swallow up them, and all that appertaine unto them, and they goe downe alive unto hell; then ye shall know, that these men have provoked Iehovah. And it was as he had made an end of speaking all these words, that the ground clave asunder which was under them. And the earth opened her mouth, and swallowed up them and their houses, and all the men that appertained unto Korah, and all their substance. And they, and all that appertained unto them, went downe alive unto hell: and the earth closed upon them, and they perished from among the Church. And all Israel that were round about them, fled at the voice of them: for they said, Lest the earth swallow up us. And a fire came forth from Iehovah, and devoured the two hundred & fiftie men that offered incense.

36 And Iehovah spake unto Moses, saying;
 37 Speake unto Eleazar the sonne of Aaron the Priest, that he take up the censers out of the burning; and scatter thou the fire yonder, for they are hallowed. The censers of these sinners against their owne soules, and let them make them broad plates, for a covering of the Altar; for they offered them before Iehovah, and they are hallowed, & they shall be for a signe unto the sonnes of Israel. And Eleazar the Priest tooke the brazen censer, which they that were burnt had offered, and they were made broad plates, for a covering of the Altar. A memoriall unto the sonnes of Israel, that not any stranger, which is not of the seed of Aaron, come neere to offer incense before Iehovah; that he be not as Korah, and as his congregation, as Iehovah spake by the hand of Moses unto him.

And on the morrow, all the congregation of the sonnes of Israel murmured against Moses, and against Aaron, saying; you have killed the people of Iehovah. And it was when the congregation was gathered against Moses, and against Aaron, that they looked towards the Tent of the congregation; and behold the cloud covered it, and the glory of Iehovah appeared. And Moses and Aaron came before the Tent of the congregation.

And Iehovah spake unto Moses, saying; Get you up from among this congregation; & I will consume them as in a moment: and they fell upon their faces. And Moses said unto Aaron; Take the censer, and put fire thereon from off the Altar, and put on incense, and goe quickly unto the congregation, & make atonement for them: for fervent wrath is gone out from before Iehovah, the plague is begun. And Aaron tooke as Moses had spoken, and ranne into the midst of the Church, and behold the plague was begun among the people: and he put on incense, and made atonement for the people. And he stood betweene the dead and the living, and the plague was stayed. And they that died in the plague, were fourteene thousand and seven hundred, beside them that died about the matter of Korah. And Aaron returned unto Moses, unto the doore of the Tent of the congregation, and the plague was stayed.

Annotations.

¶ Here beginneth the 38 Lecture of the Law, which the Hebrewes call Korah, because his rebellion is the principall thing here treated of: see Gen. 6. 9.

Verse 1. Korah] or Korah; in Greeke, Kore, Iude, ver. 11. Inbar] in Greeke, Isa. Korah] in Greeke, Kaath. he tooke] to wit, men with him: so Korah is noted as the principall in the rebellion, which the Apostle therefore calleth the gaine-saying of Kore, Iude ver. 11. and in Num. 27. 3. onely Korahs company is mentioned, where speech is of this mutinie. The Greeke translateth, he spake, to signifie that he tooke others by perswading them to his faction. The Chaldee understands it of taking, that is, withdrawing of himselfe, saying, And Korah separated himselfe: Thus Sol. Iarchi also expoundeth it, he took himselfe a side to be a part from the congregation. and Dathan and Abiram] this may be understood, that they

they also tooke men & separated themselves: or rather, that Kore tooke these men unto him, & so to reade it, he tooke Dathan and Abiram, or he tooke both Dathan and Abiram; for the word and in Hebrew, may sometime be omitted in our English speech, as is shewed on Gen. 8.6. or be interpreted both, as explaining the former words: see the annotations on Gen. 36.24. And thus Chazkuni expoundeth it, And Korah tooke: it meaneth the taking of men; and whom tooke he? Dathan and Abiram, &c. AND before DATHAN is redundant here, as often elsewhere. Abiram] in Greeke, Abeiron. Eliab] in Greeke, Eliam: hee was son to Phallu the sonne of Reuben, Num. 26.7, 8, 9. Gen. 46.9. On] in Greeke, Aun, and Aunan. Peketh] in Greeke, Phaleth. sonnes of Reuben] Dathan, Abiram, & On, were all sonnes, that is, of the posteritie of Reuben, who was the first-borne of Israel, but lost his honour by his sinne, 1 Chron. 5.1. which his sonnes by unlawfull meanes seeke to recover. And these Reubenites camped next unto Korah and the Kohathites, on the Southside of the Tabernacle, (as is shewed in Num. 2.) and so being neighbours in situation, associated themselves in evill, which Sol. Iarchi observing, saith thereupon, Woe be to the wicked, and woe unto his neighbour. Korah being a Levite of the Kohathites, which was the chiefe familie of the Levites, as is noted on Num. 3. 28. he tooke offence, (as Iarchi on this place saith,) and envied at the preferment of Elizaphan the sonne of Vzziel, whom Moses had made Prince over the sonnes of Kohath, Num. 3. 30 when he was of the youngest brother Vzziel, and Korah himselfe was of Izhar, elder than he: see Num. 3. 27. 30. But by the sequell here it appeareth, that he lift up himselfe not onely against Elizaphan, but against Moses and Aaron, and sought the Priesthood also, verse 10.

3 Verse 2. and men] that is, Korah and men, as appeareth by verse 5. 16, 17. where these are called Korahs congregation. the called of the assembly] Senators called to the assemblie (and as the Greeke translateth it, comcell) of the governours: in Chap. 1. 16. such are named the called of the congregation, and in Chap. 26.9. Dathan and Abiram are named the called of the congregation, who strove against Moses, &c. so these were States-men, famous and renowned, whereby the conspiracie was the stronger. men of name] that is, of renowne; this title is given to the Giants before the Flood, Gen. 6. 4. Whereupon Baal hatturim here noteth, Men of name for wisdom and wealth, and they condemned themselves: as did the generation of the Flood, which were of old, men of name.

3 Verse 3. Ye take too much upon you] or, Let it suffice you, as this phrase is translated in Deut. 3. 26. Hebr. much to you: or, enough for you: which Sol. Iarchi expoundeth thus, ye have taken to your selves greatnesse, much more than enough. So after in verse 7. holy] and therefore may approach unto God and offer their sacrifices. This they meant, as Moses answer sheweth in verse 5. and 10. So the presumption of their owne holinesse, brought them to ambition and affectation of the Priesthood: an honour which no man should take to himselfe, but he that is called of God, as was Aaron, Hebr. 5. 4. Iehovahis] in Chaldee, the divine presence (or Majestie) of the LORD dwelleth among them.

Verse 4. fell on his face] as affected with their words, humbling himselfe, and (in likelihood) praying unto God, as in verse 22. Chazkuni saith, He was abashed, and cast downe his face on the ground unto prayer: and there it was said unto him (of God) what he should say unto Korah. Like gesture he used at their former murmuring, Num. 14. 5. and after in Num. 20. 6.

Verse 5. Even in the morning] or, the morning (shall come) and Iehovah will make knowne, &c. Judgement is deferred till the morrow morning, so they had that time to consider of their fact: and the morning is usually the time of judgement, both by men, as, In the mornings I will suppress all the wicked of the land, Psal. 101. 8. Judge judgement in the morning, Jer. 21. 12. and by God himselfe, as, Morning by morning doth he bring his judgement to light, Zeph. 3. 5. and, my rebuke is in the mornings, Psal. 73. 14. So in the morning judgement came upon Sodome, Gen. 19. 23, 24. and the plagues of Egypt, Exod. 7. 15. and 8. 20. and 9. 13. and 10. 13. and the pestilence on Israel, 2 Sam. 24. 15. and so shall evill come upon sinners, and they shall not know the morning thereof, Esai. 47. 11. Baker, the morning, is derived of Baker, he inquired, or looked out; whereupon the Greeke Interpreters reading without vowels, translated it, The Lord hath looked out and knowne those that are his: but the Chaldee saith, in the morning, shew the LORD wil make knowne, &c. make knowne him] or, make knowne those that are his; so the Greeke translateth, knoweth, (or hath knowne) those that are his: which very words Paul (from this history) applieth to Gods knowledge, care and love of his Elect whom he sanctifieth, & keepeth from falling away, as did certaine heretikes in those dayes, 2 Tim. 2. 17, 18, 19. 20.

This therefore is a speech of faith, whereby Moses testifieth his confidence in God, who had separated Aaron unto the Priesthood, & himselfe unto the government in Israel; and would maintaine their cause and calling against all opposers. And because these two offices figured the grace given by Christ unto his Elect, whom he hath made Kings and Priests, even a kingly Priesthood, and an holy Nation, Revel. 1. 6. and 5. 10. 1 Pet. 2. 9. therefore the Apostle (in 2 Tim. 2.) fitly citeth these words for the comfort of the Saints, and faithfull ministers of Christ, against revolters: even as an other Apostle applieth also against such, the way of Cain, the error of Balaam, and the contradiction (or rebellion) of Kore; wherein they perish, Jude verse 11. The Chaldee translateth it, and will make knowne him that is fit for him. and who is holy] or, and the holy one, that is, him whom hee hath sanctified and separated unto the Priests office. So David (speaking of this rebellion) calleth Aaron the holy one (or Saint) of Iehovah, Psal. 106. 16. and he wore on the golden plate, this engraving, Holinesse to Iehovah, Exod. 28. 36. for he figured our high Priest

Priest, Christ, who was holy, harmlesse, undefiled, separate from sinners, & made higher than the heavens, Heb. 7. 26. and who glorified not himselfe to be made an high Priest, but had the honor given him of his Father, Heb. 5. 5, 6. and Korahs rebellion against Aaron was a type of mens rebellion against Christ, as the Apostles have taught us. The Greeke translateth (as before) plurally, saying, and the holymes he hath brought neere unto himselfe. cause to come neere] or, bring neere, to wit, to minister unto him, as the Chaldee interpreteth it. And this honor of Priesthood, given now unto all Saints, who are to offer up spirituall sacrifices, acceptable to God by Iesus Christ, 1 Pet. 2. 5. is commended by David, when he saith, Blessed is he whom thou chooseth and causest to come neere unto thee, that he may dwell in thy courts, Ps. 65. 5. Which bringing neere, (or, access) we all have through Christ by one spirit unto the Father, with confidence by the faith of him, Ephes. 2. 18. and 3. 12. This latter part of the verse, is by the Greeke interpreted thus; And those whom hee hath not chosen to himselfe, he hath not brought neere unto himselfe.

6 Verse 6. centers] or, fire vessels, as the Greeke translateth it, fire pans, whereof see Exod. 27. 3. called sometime incense-vessels; (because incense was burnt in them,) 2 Chron. 26. 19. Ezek. 8. 11. which name the Apostle followeth in the Greeke, Heb. 9. 4.

7 Verse 7. put ye fire] Hebr. give ye fire, and put incense. shall choose] or, shall choose, that is, declare by manifest signes that hee chooseth and liketh. he shall be holy] that is, shall be declared to be holy, and so to be a Priest unto God. Because the burning of incense in the center, was the meanes of atonement and expiation before God, as after is shewed by Aarons fact, in verse 46, 47, 48. and was the peculiar worke of the Priest, Levit. 16. 12, 13. 2 Chron. 26. 18. wherein they that transgressed were in danger of death, as the example of Nadab and Abihu sheweth, Lev. 10. and it figured in speciall manner the prayers and mediation of Christ for his Church, Psal. 141. 2. Rev. 8. 3. 1 John 2. 1. therefore the trial of the Priesthood, is put upon this worke, rather than on any other sacrifice, and the holinesse whereof Korah boasted, verse 3. should either be approved or reproved of God. For no man hath right to the honour of Priesthood, unless it be given him of God, Heb. 5. 4, 5. nor can without divine authoritie, that is, without the commandement and promise of God, please him, or appease his wrath to wards himselfe or others. Therefore it is a great prerogative & comfort unto all Saints, that they are by Christ made Priests unto God, and through him may bodily offer up their prayers and praises unto the Father, Revel. 1. 6. 1 Pet. 2. 5. Heb. 13. 15. 1 John 5. 14-16. ye take too much upon you] or, Let it suffice you, that you have thus farre provoked the Lord, and now leave off. Thus Moses returneth the blame upon themselves, which they had unjustly laid upon him, in verse 2. So Elias doth upon Achab, 1 Kings 18. 17, 18.

9 Verse 9. Is it a small thing] or, Seemeth it too little for you: meaning on the contrary, that it was a great thing, & that they should therewith have beene contented; for the Tribe of Levi were in the place of all the first-borne of Israel, Num. 3. 41. So here he reproveth their unthankfulnesse to God.

separated you from the congregation] as Israel was separated from all other peoples, to be the Lords peculiar, Lev. 20. 26. 1 Kings 8. 53. so were the Levites separated from the sonnes of Israel, to be the Lords, Num. 8. 14. And hereupon the Scripture speaketh of the Levites, as distinct from the Israelites, 1 Chron. 9. 2. Psal. 135. 19, 20. So the Ministers of Christ are said to be separated unto the Gospel of God, Rom. 1. 1. Gal. 1. 15. Acts 13. 2. the service of the Tabernacle] the workes belonging to the service of God therein, being assistants to the Priests, see Num. 8. 11, 15, 16. and 18. 21, 23. to stand before the congregation] standing is a signe of service, and used for it; as the Scripture in one place saith, which stood before the King, Jerem. 52. 12. and in another, a servant of the King, 2 King. 25. 8. Whereupon the standing of the Levites is used for their service, in Nehem. 12. 44. and as they were to stand before the Lord, to minister unto him, Deuter. 10. 8. so here it is said, to stand before the congregation, to minister unto them: thus they were servants of God, and of his Church; as Iosiah said unto them, Serve now the Lord your God, and his people Israel, 2 Chron. 35. 3. See also Ezek. 44. 11.

Verse 10. the Priesthood] in Chaldee, the high-Priesthood; in Greeke, to doe the Priests Office. That was in degree above the Levites, who were to minister unto the Priests, but not to come nigh the Altar, as did the Priests, Num. 18. 2, 3. For the Levites were appointed unto all manner of service of the Tabernacle of the house of God; but Aaron and his sonnes offered on the Altar of Burnt-offering, and on the Altar of incense, (and were) for all the worke of the most holy place, and to make atonement for Israel, 1 Chron. 6. 48, 49. And Aaron was separated [to wit, from the other Levites] that he should sanctifie the most holy things, bee and his sonnes for ever, to burne (incense) before the Lord, to minister unto him, and to blisse in his Name for ever, 1 Chron. 23. 13. To usurpe, affect or seeke this office of Priest-hood, without the calling of God, was a great sinne against divine order and authoritie, severely punished here in Korah and his company, in King Vzziah, 2 Chron. 26. 19.-21. and others.

Verse 11. against Jehovah] because it was against his ordinance and minister, it is said to be against the Lord himselfe. So when the people refused Samuels government, God said, They have not rejected thee, but they have rejected me: that I should not reign over them, 1 Sam. 8. 7. and Christ said to his ministers, He that beareth you, beareth me; and he that despiseth you, despiseth me; and he that despiseth me, despiseth him that sent me. He that receiveth whomsoever I send, receiveth me; and he that receiveth me, receiveth him that sent me, Luke 10. 16. 1 John 13. 20. Aaron, what is he? to wit, other than the Minister of God. So the Apostle saith, Who is Paul? and who is Apollos? but Ministers by whom ye beleeved, 1 Cor. 3. 5. And thus had Moses laid in their former murmurings, What are wee that ye murmur against us? your murmurings are not against us, but against Iehovah, Exod. 16. 7. 8.

12 Vers. 12. We will not come up] An obdinate answer, & refusall of the meanes of their bettering by Moses debating the matter with them; so might they have been perswaded to desist from their evill course, and have found mercie. By coming up, is meant unto the publike place of judgement, whither (in the Scripture phrase) men are said to goe up, as in Dent. 35. 7. Ruth. 4. 1. And in Ezra 10. 7. 8. whosoever would not goe to Ierusalem at the time appointed by the Princes and the Elders, all his substance should be forfeited, and himselfe separated from the Church of those that had been in captivitie. Of Dathan and Abiram, Sol. Iarchi here observeth, that Their owne mouth caused them to offend (or signified their fall:) they were not but to goe downe, to wit, alive into hell, verse 33.

13 Vers. 13. out of the land] of Egypt, as is added in Targum Jonathan: which having beene the place of their bondage and miserie, an iron furnace unto them, Dent. 4. 20. they here call it a land flowing with milke and honey: so despising their redemption, & God their Redeemer, who laid their bringing from thence, for a ground of their obedience unto him, Exod. 19. 4. 5. and 20. 2. even making] or, also making thy selfe a Prince; that is, without God, of thine own presumption advancing thy selfe onely, wholly, & continually. The doubling of the word, is to aggravate their crimination. This latter branch the Greeke translateth, Thou art a Prince: as if it were spoken in derision.

14 Vers. 14. not brought us] according to promise, Exod. 3. 8. and 33. 3. Lev. 30. 24. of field] that is, as the Chaldee explaineth it, of fields and vineyards: one named generally for many, as is noted on Gen. 3. 2. dig out the eyes] that is, make them blinde, as the Chaldee expoundeth it: so in Iudg. 16. 21. 1 Sam. 11. 2. of these men] or, as the Greeke translateth it, of those men; which may be meant, of the whole congregation, as if they were so blinde that they could not espie his fraud; or it may have speciall reference to Korah and his company. And thus Chazkuni here explaineth it; Thou hopest to dig out the eyes of Korah, and of all his congregation; as though they had no eyes to see and understand this offence, that thou hast brought us up from the good land of Egypt, and hast not performed unto us that which thou promisedst, to bring us into a land that floweth with milke and honey; but hast said, In this wilderness they shall be consumed, and there they shall die, (Numbers 14. 35.) Moreover, thou hast perverted judgement against us, and therefore we will not come up unto thee, for we beleeve thee not, concerning the triall of this matter.

15 Vers. 15. very wroth] or, very much grieved; see the notes on Gen. 4. 5. Respect not] or, Looke not, Turne not the face unto; which the Chaldee expoundeth, Accept not with favour their oblation, their offering] or, their Meat-offring, their Minchah, whereof see the annotations on Levit. 2. and on Gen. 4. 3. This Sol. Iarchi expoundeth, their incense which they shall offer before thee to morrow: so it hath reference to Korah & his company, v. 7. and 17. But others (as he saith) explaine it thus; I know that they have a part in the daily sacrifices of the congregation, let not their part be accepted before thee. And thus some understand this imprecation to be against Dathan and Abiram onely; as Chazkuni saith, The reason why Moses cursed Dathan and Abiram, was because when Moses sent to call them, they said, we will not come up. It was not their intent to convert; for though the Lord should have said, I have chosen Aaron, yet they would have maintained against the Priesthood. But Korah and the 250 men which took upon them to take every man his censur, because they were in hope that the Lord had not sent him concerning his brother Aaron, but that he had done it of his owne minde, he would not curse. one asse] that is, not the vilest beast; the Greeke translateth it, the desire of any of them, that is, any desirable thing. They mistooke and read Chamud for Chamur, because the Hebrew letters a D and b R be one like another, as is also noted on Gen. 4. 18. But Iosippus noteth it to be one of the 13 places which the Lxxij Interpreters changed purposely, lest Ptolemie the King (at whose request they turned the Law into Greeke) should say, Hee took no asse, but some other gift he did take.

16 Vers. 16. Thou and all thy congregation] The Greeke expoundeth it, Sanctifie thy congregation, and be ye ready before the Lord, &c. Because their rebellion was against God, verse 11. therefore Moses committeth the deciding of the controversie unto God.

18 Vers. 18. at the door] in the court-yard of the Sanctuary. and Moses and Aaron] Targum Jonathan explaineth it, they on the one side, and Moses and Aaron on the other side.

19 Vers. 19. assembled against them all] not onely the 250 forementioned, but the generall multitude, too ready to incline to his faction. See verse 41. glorie of Iehovah] in the cloud over the Sanctuary, as it did at other times in the like cases, verse 42. Num. 12. 5. and 14. 10.

21 Vers. 21. as in a moment] or, even in a moment; suddenly, and as the Greeke translateth, at once. So in verse 45. and thus God had before threatned, after they had made the calfe, Exod. 33. 5.

22 Vers. 22. God of the spirits of all flesh] By all flesh, is meant, all mankind; as in Gen. 6. 13. Esai. 40. 5. 6. Ezek. 20. 48. and 21. 4. 5. Ios. 2. 28. and so it is explained in Iob 12. 10. the spirit of all flesh of man. And the Lord is called God of the spirit of men, both as he is creator of them, who formeth the spirit of man within him, Zach. 12. 1. called therefore the Father of spirits, Heb. 12. 9. and as the preservation, ordering and government of them is in his hand, both in life and death; In whose hand is the soule of all living, and the spirit of all flesh of man, Iob 12. 10. Therefore Moses useth the like phrase, when he prayeth that a governour might be substituted in his stead, Num. 27. 16. Targum Jonathan explaineth it, God thou possidest the spirit of the soule, in the bodies of all the summes of men: and Targum Ierusalem thus; God which ruleth over the soules of all flesh; Chazkuni saith, which knowest the spirit of every one of them. The Greeke translateth, God of the Fathers, and of all flesh; understanding (as it seemeth) by spirits, such as the Apostle calleth the spirits of just men made perfect, Heb. 12. 23. the spirits of the Fathers which were returned to God who gave them; as Eccles. 12. 7.

shall one man sinne] in Greeke, if one man hath sinned: as if they should say, All have not sinned, why wilt thou be wroth with all? Vpon this intercession, the Lord spareth the people, that would depart from the rebels, verse 24.

24 Verse 24. the tabernacle] this seemeth to be put for tabernacles, or dwellings; the Greeke translateth it, the congregation: so in verse 27. where the Greeke also keepeth the word Tabernacle, which in verse 26. is called Tents.

25 Verse 25. the elders] the Greeke addeth, all the elders. went asier him] in Greeke, went with him, that is, accompanied him.

26 Verse 26. these wicked men] in Greeke, these hard men: the originall word properly signifieth restlesse, turbulent, and such as for their finnes are worthy to be condemned: see the notes on Psal. 1. 1.

touch not any thing] because as they themselves, so all things of theirs were uncleane and execrable, and therefore to perish with them, verse 32.

27 Verse 27. came out and stood] Heb. came out standing; which the Greeke explaineth, came out and stood: and these two phrases are one; as where it is said that Iesus blessed, and breaking gave to the disciples, Mat. 14. 19. the other Evangelists explaine it, he blessed, and brake, and gave, Luke 9. 16. Mark. 6. 41. so, Saying unto them, Matth. 21. 2. is, And saith unto them, Mark. 11. 2. This their standing up, argueth their boldnesse in so bad a cause: for standing up is a gesture denoting courage, Job 33. 5. and 41. 10. 1 Sam. 17. 8. 16. Thus Pride went before destruction, and an haughty spirit before a fall; as Prov. 16. 18.

28 Verse 28. all these workes] both the former, in appointing Aaron to the Priest-hood, and the Levites in stead of the first-borne; and these latter, in appointing Korah and his company to bring their censers with incense, &c. of mine owne heart] which the Chaldee explaineth, of mine owne will; the Greeke, of my selfe. For things devised of ones owne heart, are noted for evill, 1 King. 12. 33. Ezek. 13. 17.

29 Verse 29. as all men die] their ordinarie naturall death; which the Greeke translateth, after the death of all men.

30 Verse 30. create a new thing] Hebr. create a creature, that is, doe a new and wonderfull worke, to kill them with such a death as never man died before them. Of this word create, see the notes on Gen. 1. 1. it is applied here to a strange and extraordinarie worke of judgment, as in Esai. 45. 7. God is said to create evill; and in Exod. 34. 10. to create marvels; and in Esai. 48. 6. 7. new and hidden things God would create. And as evill, so good things which are new & strange, are said to be created of God, Esai. 65. 18. alive] living haile and sound; not consumed with sicknesse, as ordinarily men are before death and buriall. into bell] into the grave, or state of death: see the notes on Gen. 37. 35. To this iudgement the Prophet hath reference, praying against his enemies, Let them goe downe alive to bell, Psal. 55. 16.

Verse 32. swallowed up them] to wit; Dathan and Abiram, as in Psal. 106. 17. The earth opened and swallowed up Dathan, and covered over the congregation of Abiram. So David prayed against his enemies, swallow them up O Lord, Psal. 55. 10. their houses] that is, households; as the Chaldee expoundeth it, the men of their houses.

appertained unto Korah] The Greeke translateth, and all the men that were with Kore: and the Chaldee, the men that pertained to Korah, But the sonnes of Korah are to be excepted, for they, either not partaking with, or forsaking their Fathers sinne, died not: see Num. 26. 11. And whereas mention was made of On, the sonne of Reuben, in verse 1. but not here nor any where of his death, neither in verse 12. of his calling, or refusall to come up; it is to be thought, that either he repented upon Moses reproofe, and so was spared from destruction; or if not so, he is implied among the rest, though not named in particular.

their substance] or, their goods; which the Greeke translateth, their cattell; and so the originall word implieth, as in 1 Chron. 27. 31. 2 Chron. 31. 3. and 35. 7. See the notes on Gen. 12. 5. And not their cattell onely, but all their other goods, even their tents, were swallowed into the earth, Deut. 11. 6. Here wee may behold the truth of that Proverbe, Riches profit not in the day of wrath: but justice delivereth from death; Prov. 11. 4.

Verse 33. closed upon them] or, covered over them: so there was no hope left for their recoverie. Against such judgement David prayeth, Let not the gulfe swallow me, neither let the pit shut her mouth upon me, Psal. 69. 16.

Verse 34. at the voice of them] at their crie or noise, which they made when they perished. So in Jer. 49. 21. At the voice (or noise) of their fall, the earth is moved, &c. and, I made the nations to shake, at the noise of his fall, Ezek. 31. 16. Left the earth swallow us] an unperfect speech, through feare: such as is often used in dangers; as in Psal. 38. 17. Rom. 11. 21. Thus the present judgement terrified them; and, When the scorner is punished, the simple is made wise, Prov. 21. 11.

Verse 35. devoured] or, did eat the 250. men They sinned In burning incense, which belonged to the Priests onely; and with burning they were punished, like the judgement on Aarons sonnes, that transgressed also therein, Levit. 10. 1, 2. Of this, David singeth, A fire burned in their congregation, a flame burnt up the wicked, Psal. 106. 18.

Verse 37. unto Eleazar] Chazkuni here observeth, that God would not have Aaron to be defiled (by going among the dead,) because he was one of them that offered, verse 17.

out of the burning] that is, as the Greeke well explaineth it, from among those that are burnt. So in Num. 21. 1. captivité, is for a company of captives; and in 2 King. 24. 14. Feverit, for a company of poore people; and

and many the like. the fire which is in the censers, vers. 7. The Greeke saith, the strange fire; as Lev. 10. 1. yonder in Greeke, there; which Sol. Iarchi expoundeth, on the earth, out of the censers: others, out of the court of the Sanctuarie. By calling away the fire, the Lord signifieth the rejecting of their service as profane. So in Rev. 8. 5. the Angell took the censer, and filled it with fire of the Altar, and cast it into the earth; and there were voices, and thundings, &c. Which being compared with vers. 3, 4. seemeth to teach likewise a rejecting of the service of Antichristians, which abuse and despise Christs mediation; and therefore it is turned unto them to judgement.

38 Vers. 38. sinners against their soules Sinners are here & often used for notorious wicked persons; as, Destroy the sinners the Amalekites, 1 Sam. 15. 18. and, the men of Sodom were evil and sinners, Gen. 13. 13. And they sinned against their soules, in causing their owne death and destruction: for the soule is often used for the life, as in Gen. 19. 17. and 37. 21. So he that provoketh a King to anger, sinneth against his owne soule, Prov. 20. 2. broad plates Hebr. out-spreadings of plates, that is, plates beaten out and spread broad, to cover the brazen altar with them. and they are hallowed or sanctified: & so (as Sol. Iarchi explaineth it) unlawfull for common use, because they had made them for vessels of ministerie. Or, they were now sanctified of God (before whom they sinfully offered them,) to bee an holy signe unto the people. for a signe and a memoriall to the finnes of Israel, vers. 40. to make them remember the transgression of these sinners, & to warne them that none hereafter doe the like. So Aarons rod was kept for a signe, Num. 17. 10. and God threatneth by destroyng the wicked, to make him a signe, and a proverbe, Ezek. 14. 8. Now all these things hapned unto them for ensamples: and they are written for our admonition, upon whom the ends of the world are come, 1 Cor. 10. 11.

40 Vers. 40. not any stranger or, no man which is a stranger. seed of Aaron that is, sons, or, posteritie of Aaron: so all Israelites or Levites (save Aarons sonnes onely,) are counted strangers in this case of priesthood. that he be not Hebr. and he be not as Korah, like him in rebellion, and in punishment. Therefore Moses afterward rehearseth this historie, to keepe the people in obedience, Deut. 11. 6, 7, 8. unto him or, of him; having reference to Moses speech in vers. 29, 30. that the truth of the judgement denounced might be manifest. So the Apostle pronounceth woe unto such, and saith they perish in the gaine-saying of Korah, Jude vers. 11.

41 Vers. 41. you have killed or, as the Chaldee explaineth it, you have caused the death. Though they had prayed for the people, v. 32. and the strangeness of the punishments shewed unto all that they were of God, and the judgements were still even before the eyes of the congregation; yet doe they thus breake out into a new rebellion.

42 Vers. 42. the glorie of Iehovah It appeared to help his servants, & to repress and punish the rebellious, now as in former times, Num. 12. 5. and

14. 10. and 16. 19.

Vers. 45. Get you up that is, Depart, or Separate your selves; as he said before, in vers. 21. as in a moment in Greeke, at once; see the notes on vers. 21. fell on their faces to pray, as Targum Jonathan addeth, and as they did before, in vers. 22. So did David and the Elders of Israel, in 1 Chron. 21. 16.

Vers. 46. from off the Altar of this, Chazkuni saith, he warned him hereof, that he might not erre through haste, and offer strange fire, as Nadab and Abihu (Levit. 10.) and these other had done.

incense Incense that caused death, when it was not in the hand of the Priest, giveth life when it is in the Priests hand, saith Chazkuni on this place. Hereby the mediation of Christ for sinners was figured; who is represented by the Angell standing at the Altar, having a golden censer, and much incense given unto him, to offer it with the prayers of all Saints, &c. Rev. 8. 3. goe quickly or, make to goe with speed; that is, as the Chaldee and Greeke translateth, carie quickly, or in haste. the plague in Chaldee, death; the Greeke translateth, he hath begunne to breake (that is, destroy) the people.

Vers. 47. he put on incense to make atonement, and to appease Gods wrath; as it is said of the Priests, They shall put incense in thy nostrill (or, in thine anger) &c. and favourably accept thou (O Lord) the worke of his hands; Deuter. 33. 10. 11. Herein he figured Christ our Mediatour, who made intercession for the transgressors, Esaï. 53. 12. Luk. 23. 34. So the Hebrewes (as R. Menachem on Num. 16.) applie that prophesie of Esaïas touching Christ, unto this worke of Aaron, saying, The meaning of this, And he stood betweene the living and the dead, is like that (in Esaï 53. 12.) he hath powred out his soule unto death, &c.

Vers. 48. betweene the dead and the living so interposing, and as it were exposing himselfe to the wrath of God for the people; that by the atonement which he now made, the plague might be stayed from the living which yet remained. For to him that is joynd to all the living, there is hope, &c. but the dead know not any thing, &c. neither have they any more a portion for ever, in any thing that is done under the Sunne, &c. There is no worke, nor device, nor knowledge, nor wisdom, in the grave whither thou goest, Eccles. 9. 4, 5, 6. 10. The dead praise not the Lord, neither any that goe downe into Silence, Psal. 115. 17. They that goe downe into the pit, cannot hope for the truth (of God) Esaï 38. 18. for after death, commeth the judgement, Heb. 9. 27. And so by the Hebrew Doctors it is said, There is no atonement for the dead. Maimony in Misn. tom. 3. in Pesulei hamukdashim, chap. 15. sect. 9. And the Chaldee paraphrast on Ecclesiast. 1. 15. hath this saying; A man whose wayes are rebellious in this world, and he dieth in them, and turneth not by repentance, he hath no power to reforme himselfe after his death: and a man that faileth of the Law and Precepts while he liveth, he hath no meanes, after his death, to be reckoned with the just men in the garden of Eden, (or Paradise of God.) And on Eccles. 6. 6. the Chaldee paraphraseth thus; yea though the dayes

of the life of a man be two thousand yeares, if he have not exercised himselfe in the Law, and haib not done judgement and justice; by the oath of the Word of the LORD which (shall be) in the day of his death, his soule gearb down to Gehenna (or Hell torments,) unto one place, whither all sinners doe goe. So there was no estimation, nor price of the dead, for any vow, in Israel, as is noted on Levit. 27. 8.

the plague was stayed] This sheweth how greatly the prayers & actions of his servants doe prevaile with God, when they are faithfull, fervent, and according to his will, Iam. 5. 16. 1 Job. 5. 14. and foreshewed the power & efficacie of Christs mediation; for God heareth him alwaies, Iob. 11. 42. and hee is the Atonement for our sinnes, 1 Iohn. 2. and for his sake, God before whom the pestilence goeth, in wrath remembreth mercie, Habak. 3. 5. 2. And as the blood of the Paschall lamb (figuring the blood of Christ, 1 Cor. 5. 7.) stayed the Angell which destroyed the Egyptians, from touching the Israelites, Exod. 12. 23. Heb. 11. 28. so the smoke of Aarons incense (figuring the mediation of Christ, Psalms. 141. 2. Revel. 8. 4.) stayed the plague here from the Israelites which survived; that as it is written of the pestilence in Davids time, the LORD repeated him of the evil, and said to the Angell that destroyed the people, It is enough, stay now thine hand; 2 Sam. 24. 16. so in this case. Some footsteps of the understanding of this myltery may be scene in the Hebrews, though superstitiously depraved: as when they say, that all hurtfull and destroying (spirits) flee away at the odour of the incense of sweet spices. Targum on Song. 4. 6.

49 Ver. 49. about the matter] or, as the Greeke explaineth it, for the cause of Kora; which the Chaldee calleth the division of Korah.

50 Ver. 50. unto the doore of the Tent] into the courtyard of the Sanctuarie, where Moses remained; both to signifie unto Moses the effect and fruit of his action, through the mercifulnesse of God; and to give thanks unto the Lord, who had so graciously accepted the worke of his hands. As David offered Burnt-offerings and Peace-offerings; after that the Lord was intreated for the land, and the plague was stayed from Israel, 2 Sam. 24. 25. 1 Chron. 21. 26, 27.

CHAP. XVII.

1 Twelve rods of the tribes of Israel being laid in the Tabernacle, on the morrow Aarons rod among them all, onely flourisheth and beareth almonds. 10 It is left in the Tabernacle for a monument against the rebels. 12 The people shew Moses their feare of death.

1 AND Jehovah spake unto Moses, saying; 2 Speake unto the sonnes of Israel, and take of them, a rod for every fathers house, of all their Princes, according to the house of their fathers; twelve rods: every mans name thou shalt write upon his

rod. And Aarons name thou shalt write 3 upon the rod of Levi: for, one rod shall be for the head of the house of their fathers. And 4 thou shalt lay them up, in the Tent of the Congregation, before the Testimony, where I will meet with you. And it shall be, that 5 the man whom I shall chuse, his rod shall bud; and I will make to cease from me, the 6 murmurings of the sonnes of Israel, where-with they murmure against you. And Moses spake unto the sons of Israel; and all their 7 Princes gave unto him, a rod for one Prince, a rod for one Prince, according to the house 8 of their fathers, twelve rods; and the rod of Aaron was among their rods. And Moses 9 laid up the rods before Jehovah, in the Tent of the Testimony. And it was on the morrow, 10 that Moses went into the Tent of the Testimonie; and behold, the rod of Aaron for the house of Levi, had budded, & brought forth buds, and bloomed blossomes, and 11 yeelded almonds. And Moses brought out all the rods from before Jehovah, unto all 12 the sons of Israel; and they saw, and tooke every man his rod. 13

And Jehovah said unto Moses; Bring Aarons rod againe before the Testimony, to be kept for a signe, against the sons of rebellio: and thou shalt quite take away their murmurings from me, that they die not. And Moses did as Jehovah commanded him: so did he. And the sonnes of Israel said unto Moses, saying, Behold, we give up the ghost, we perish, we all of us perish. Every one that cometh neare, that cometh neare unto the Tabernacle of Jehovah, shall die: Shall we be consumed in giving up the ghost?

Annotations.

2 Speake unto] When God saw the continuall murmurings of the people, how they ceased not, he commandeth this that followeth to be done, that so by miracle the Priesthood of Aaron might be confirmed, and a full end put to all strife thereabout; as vers. 10. a rod for every fathers house Hebr. a rod a rod, for (or according to) the house of a father: which the Greeke explaineth thus; Take of them a rod, a rod of all their Princes, according to their fathers houses. A rod (or staffe) was such as men used to carrie in their hands; Gen. 38. 18. Exod. 4. 2. the same word (called in Hebrew Mar-ib) is often used for a Tribe, as in Num. 1. 4. 16. 21. &c. either because of this writing of their names upon rods, or because the twelve tribes grew out of the Rocke of Israel, as rods or branches out of a tree. The Princes also caried staves in their hands.

hands, as appeareth by Num. 21. 18. And with this may be compared that in Eze. 37. 16, 17. &c. where the Prophet wrote the names of tribes upon sticks, which were joynted together as one in his hand, to signifie the uniting of the divided tribes.

the house] that is, as the Greeke expoundeth it, the house: see the notes on Num. 1. 2.

3 Verf. 3. for one rod shall be] The Greeke explaineth it thus; for it is one rod: according to the tribe of their fathers house shall they give. The tribe of Levi, though they were distinguished into Priests & Levites, yet as all came by one father Levi, so one rod was for them all. So Iarchi here expoundeth it; Although I have divided them into two families, the familie of the Priests & the familie of the Levites; notwithstanding it is one tribe. Of this their division, see Num. 3. and 18. 1. - 7.

4 Verf. 4. lay them up] or, leave them, or as the Greeke translateth, put them. Tent of the congregation] or, Tent of meeting. the Testimonie] that is, the Arke, wherein the Tables of the Law, (called the Testimonie) were kept. See the notes on Exod. 25. 16. where I will meet] that is, where I use to meet with you; according to the promise in Exod. 25. 22. and 30. 36. And this is the reason why the Tabernacle was called the Tent of meeting, or of congregation.

5 Verf. 5. I shall consume] that is, shall like of, and approve to administer the priesthood; as in Targum Jonathan this is added, to minister before me rod shall bud] or, shall flourish: see vers. 8. will make to cease from me] in Greeke, will take away from thee. This word is spoken of the ceasing or asswaging of waters, Gen. 8. 1. and of wrath, Eph. 2. 1. and is here applied to the murmurings of the people, which were like raging waters, foming out their owne shame.

8 Verf. 8. blossomes] or flowers. yielded] or, ripened (as the word is Englished, in Esa. 18. 5.) that is, brought forth ripe almonds. almonds] in Greeke, & in Targum Jonathan, Nuts. An almond, in Hebrew, Shaked, is named Shaked, which signifieth with care, haste & watchfulnesse, to looke unto and performe a thing. And because the almond tree blossometh & beareth fruit sooner than other trees, therefore hath it this name. And Solomon for the same cause, likeneth the white haire which soone grow upon us in age, to the flourishing of the Almond tree, Eccles. 12. 5. By this miracle, God did confirme the Priesthood unto Aaron; as by the vision of the vine-branches budding, blossoming, & bringing forth ripe grapes, &c. hee signified the confirmation of office unto Pharaohs butler, Gen. 40. 10. - 13. He signified further by the buds, the continuance and propagation of the Priesthood to his posteritie; who should sprout and grow out of him, by the blessing of God, who maketh the drie tree to bud (or flourish), Ezek. 17. 24. as also it is prophesied of the church, He shall cause them that come of Iakob, to take root; Israel shall blossom and bud, and fill the face of the world with fruit, Esa. 27. 6. And the originall word for buds, is also used for younglings or youth; as in Iob. 30. 12. The blossoming (or flourishing) of this rod, figured also the comfortable and glorious effect of the administration of the Priests office: as Christ is said to looke forth as the window, flourishing throny the latterst. Song. 2. 9. that we all with open face may behold as in a glasse the glorie of the Lord, 2 Cor. 3. 18. and this, to the shame of his enemies, Psal. 132. 18. The Almonds figured the fruits of his administration, which hastily should shew forth themselves, to the comfort of the Saints, and punishment of all that should resist him; as unto Ieremie (one of Aarons sonnes) God shewed in a vision, the rod of an Almond tree, (which hath the name of blossoming), and opened the same unto him thus; Thou hast well seen, for I will hasten my word, to performe it, Ier. 1. 11, 12. Therefore as soone as Vzziah the King rose up to usurpe the Priests office, the leprosie even rose up in his forehead, 2 Chron. 26. 18, 19.

Verf. 10. Bring againe] or, Returne Aarons rod before the Testimonie] in Greeke, the Testimonies; meaning the Tables of the covenant in the Arke; as is noted on vers. 4. before which it was laid up, and not in it: for nothing was in the Arke, save the two tables of stone, 1 Kin. 8. 9. The Hebrewes record how in Salomons Temple, there was a stone in the most holy place, in the west part thereof, on which they set the Arke: and before it, was the golden pot of Manna, and the rod of Aaron. Maim. tom. 3. in Beth habchirah, chap. 4. sect. 1.

to be kept] Hebr. for a keeping (or reservation.) As the Manna was kept in the golden pot within the most holy place of the sanctuary, for a reservation & monument to the Israelites, that the generations after might see the bread which God had given their fathers to eat in the wilderness, Exod. 16. 32. - 34. so this rod was kept in the same place for a reservation, and for a signe, that all generations might know the confirmation of their Priesthood in Aarons line. Both did lead them unto Christ; the Manna figuring the flesh of Christ, the true bread from heaven, wherewith the faithfull should be nourished unto life eternall, Iohn. 6. 31, 32, 33, 51. and the rod, the Priesthood of Christ, whereby they should be reconciled unto God, Heb. 9. 11, 12. Therefore the Apostle mentioneth this budding rod, with the pot of Manna, among the most memorable things that were kept in the Holy of holies, Heb. 9. 3, 4. the sonnes of rebellion] which the Greeke translateth, the disobedient sons; meaning the Israelites, called sonnes (or children) of rebellion, because they were so much addicted thereto, as if rebellion it selfe had bene their mother: so that Moses testified, Yee have bene rebellious against the LORD, from the day that I knew you, Deut. 9. 24. This phrase is common in the Scriptures, as, a sonne of injurious evil (or of wickednesse) Psal. 8. 23. for an injurious or wicked person: and sonnes of affliction, Prov. 31. 5. for afflicted persons: so, sonnes of Belial, Deut. 13. 13. 1 Sam. 2. 12. sonnes of disobedience, Ephes. 2. 2. and 5. 6. sonnes of the light and of the day, 1 Thes. 5. 5. children of wisdom, Matth. 11. 19. children of obedience, 1 Pet. 1. 14. and sundry the like. thou shalt quite take away] or, shalt consume, shalt wholly end end their murmurings: the Greeke translateth it, and let their murmuring cease from me, and they shall not die.

12 Verſ. 12. we give up the ghost] or, have given up the ghost, that is, died: or, as the Greeke translateth, are consumed. This may be taken as an unjust complaint of theirs, for the punishments that they had felt, & should still feeble for their finnes. Or rather, as a serious complaint of their owne miserie, being under sin, and so by the Law under punishment and wrath: like that which the Apostle saith, I was alive without the Law once; but when the commandment came, sinne revived, and I died; and the commandment which (was ordained) unto life, I found (to be) unto death, Rom. 7. 9, 10. The Chaldee paraphraseth upon their words, thus; Behold the sword hath killed some of us, and behold the earth hath swallowed some of us; and behold some of us are dead with the pestilence. And Targum Jonathan thus; Behold some of us are consumed with flaming fire, and some of us are swallowed up into the earth and perished; behold we thinke that as they, so we all shall perish.

13 Verſ. 13. that commeth nere] in Greeke, that toucheth the Tabernacle. Shall we be consumed in giving up the ghost?] that is, shall wee die every one? This seemeth to be a deprecation; whereby acknowledging their finnes to be worthy of death, they pray for mercy: for so questions are often used in earnest deprecations; as, Wilt thou be angry with us for ever? &c. Psal. 85. 6. Wilt thou utterly reject us? Lam. 5. 22. Wilt thou hold thy peace, and afflict us very sore? Esay. 64. 12. and many the like.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 The different charges of the Priests, and of the Levites adjoynd unto them. 9 The Priests portion of the peoples offerings, and hallowed things; and the use of them. 21 The Levites portion in the tithes of the Israelites, but no inheritance in the land. 26 The Levites must give unto the Priests the tenth of their tithes, as the Lords heave-offring: and the rest themselves should enjoy, for a reward of their service.

1 AND Jehovah said unto Aaron; Thou, and thy sonnes, and thy fathers house with thee, shall beare the iniquity of the Sanctuary: and thou, and thy sonnes with thee, shall beare the iniquity of your Priesthood. 2 And thy brethren also, the tribe of Levi, the tribe of thy father, bring thou neere with thee, that they may be joynd unto thee, & minister unto thee: but thou, & thy sonnes with thee, (shall minister) before the Tent of the Testimony. 3 And they shall keepe thy charge, and the charge of all the Tent: but they shall not come nigh unto the vessels of holinesse, and unto the Altar; that they die not, both they and you. And they shall be joynted unto thee, and shall keep the charge of the Tent of the Congregation, for all the service of the Tent: & a stranger shall not come nigh unto you. 5 And ye shall keep the charge of the Holy place, and the charge of the Altar, that there be no fervent wrath any more upon the sonnes of Israel. 6 And I, behold I have taken your brethren the Levites, from among the sonnes of Israel: to you they are given as a gift for Jehovah, to serve the service of the Tent of the Congregation. 7 And thou and thy sons with thee, shall keepe your Priests office for every thing of the Altar, and within the veile, and ye shall serve: I have given your Priests office, as a service of gift; and the stranger that commeth nigh, shall be put to death.

8 And Jehovah spake unto Aaron; And I, behold I have given unto thee the charge of mine heave-offrings, of all the holy things of the sonnes of Israel; unto thee have I given them, for the anointing, and to thy sons, by a statute for ever. 9 This shall be thine, of the Holy of Holies, (reserved) from the fire: every oblation of theirs, of every Meat-offering of theirs, and of every Sin-offring of theirs, & of every Trespass-offring of theirs, which they shall render unto me; it shall be holy of holies, for thee and for thy sonnes. 10 In the holy of holies shalt thou eat it: every male shall eat it; holy shall it be unto thee. 11 And this shall be thine; the heave-offring of their gift, with all the wave-offrings of the sonnes of Israel; unto thee have I given them, and to thy sonnes & to thy daughters with thee, by a statute for ever: every cleane person in thine house shall eat it. 12 All the fat of the new oile, and all the fat of the new wine, and of the corne; the first fruits of them, which they shall give unto Jehovah, them have I given unto thee. 13 The first-fruits of all which shall be in their land, which they shall bring unto Jehovah, shall be thine: every cleane person in thine house shall eat it. 14 Every devoted thing in Israel shall be thine. 15 Every thing that openeth the wombe, of all flesh, which they shall bring neere unto Jehovah, of man or of beast, shall be thine: but redeeming thou shalt redeem the first-borne of man; and the firstling of the unclean beast shalt thou redeem. 16 And those that are to be redeemed of him, from a moneth old, shalt thou redeem, by thy estimation; for the silver of five shekels, by the shekel of the Sanctuary, which is twenty gerahs. 17 But the firstling of a cow, or the

the firstling of a sheepe, or the firstling of a goat thou shalt not redeeme, they are holy: their blood thou shalt sprinkle upon the Altar and their fat thou shalt burne, for a Fire-offering, for a savour of rest unto Jehovah.

18 And the flesh of them shall be thine: as the wave breast, and as the right shoulder, shall it be thine. All the heave-offerings of the holy things, which the sonnes of Israel shall offer unto Jehovah, I have given to thee, and to thy sons, and to thy daughters with thee, by a statute for ever: it is a covenant of salt for ever before Jehovah, to thee and to thy seed with thee. And Jehovah said unto

20 Aaron; Thou shalt have no inheritance in their land, neither shalt thou have a part among them; I am thy part, and thine inheritance, among the sons of Israel. And to the sonnes of Levi, behold I have given all the tenth in Israel, for an inheritance, for their service which they serve, the service of the

22 Tent of the congregation. And the sonnes of Israel shall not come nigh henceforth, unto the Tent of the congregation, to beare sinne, to die. But the Levite, he shall serve the service of the Tent of the Congregation; & they shall beare their iniquitie: it shall be a statute for ever throughout your generatiōs, that among the sonnes of Israel they shall 24 not inherit any inheritance. But the tithe of the sonnes of Israel, which they shall offer up unto Jehovah, for an heave-offering, I have given to the Levites for an inheritance: therefore I have said unto them; among the sons of Israel they shall not inherit any inheritance.

25 And Jehovah spake unto Moses, saying;

26 And unto the Levites thou shalt speake, and say unto them; When ye take of the sons of Israel the tithe, which I have given unto you from them, for your inheritance, then ye shall offer up thereof, the heave-offering of Jehovah, the tithe of the tithe. And your heave-offering shall be counted unto you as the corne of the threshing floore, and as the fullnesse of the wine-presse. Thus you also

28 shall offer the heave-offering of Jehovah, of all your tithe which ye receive of the sonnes of Israel, and ye shall give thereof the heave-offering of Jehovah, to Aaron the Priest.

29 Out of all your gifts ye shall offer every heave-offering of Jehovah, of all the fat thereof, the hallowed part thereof out of it. And

30 thou shalt say unto them; When ye have heaved the fat thereof from it, then it shall be counted unto the Levites, as the revenue of the threshing floore, and as the revenue of the wine-presse. And ye shall eat it in every place; you, and your house: for it is a reward unto you for your service in the Tent of the congregation. And ye shall not beare sin for it, when ye have heaved the fat thereof from it: and ye shall not profane the holy things of the sons of Israel, that ye die not.

Annotations.

S Aid unto Aaron] Because of the peoples feare and complaint, in the end of the former chapter, God here taketh order for the watch of the Sanctuary, that the care thereof should lie upon the Priests, that the people might not transgresse and perish. So the remedie for terrours of conscience, wrought by the Law, is faith in Christ, whose Priesthood was fore-shadowed in Aarons, and which should deliver them who through feare of death, were all their life-time subiect to bondage, Heb. 2. 15. thy fathers house] the house or posterity of Levi, who was father to all the Priests and Levites. the iniquitie of the Sanctuary] that is, shall beare the punishment for all iniquitie that is done in the Sanctuarie; at your hands will I require it. Thus Iarchi expoundeth it; Vpon you I will bring the punishment of the strangers that shall sinne concerning the sanctified things that are delivered unto you. And as the Sanctuarie comprehended both the Tabernacle and the Court-yard, with all things in them: so this is generally spoken concerning the Priests and Levites (which were of Aarons fathers house,) who were all toward the Sanctuarie, though in distinct places, as shall after bee shewed. iniquitie of your Priesthood] that is, the punishment for all iniquitie done about your Priests office. And this is speciall concerning the Priests, whose care and charge was over the Levites also, which might not come neere some things belonging to the Priesthood. R. Menachem here saith, that By this admonition was signified, how the Priests should not intermeddle with the service of the Levites, nor the Levites with the service of the Priests. Whereof see more on verse 3.

Verse 2. the tribe] The Hebrew here hath two words, Matteh (the tribe) of Levi, and Shebet (the tribe) of thy father: of which, the former signifieth a staffe; the latter, a rod: both of them applied to a tribe or kindred, which did spring and grow out of Levi, as rods, staves or branches from the stocke of a tree. Of this name tribe, see what is noted on Gen. 49. 16. that they may be joyued] or, and let them be joyued; as the Greeke translateth, and let them be added unto thee. Here is an allusion to Levies name, which signifieth joyued. The Father Levi had the name, because at his birth his mother said, Now my husband will be joyued unto me, Gen. 29. 34. his children (called of him Levites,) are according to the notation of their name, made Adjoints to the Priests. And this word is after used and applied to such as adjoynd themselves to the Lord, and to his people, Esai 56. 3. 6. Ier. 50. 5. Esb.

Esth. 9. 27. so in the New Testament, Aet. 5. 14. & 11. 24. & 2. 41, 47. minister unto thee] so in Num. 3. 6. the Levites are appointed to minister unto Aaron: elsewhere they are said to minister unto the congregation, Num. 16. 9. and unto the Lord, Deut. 10. 8. 1 Sam. 3. 1. 2 Chro. 29. 11. and in the name of the Lord, Deut. 18. 6, 7. and are called the ministers of his house, Ezek. 45. 5. before the Tent] herein is the difference between the Priests and Levites office, that the Priests served at the Altar, and in the holy place; the Levites served the outer services, helped to kill, slay, take the blood, &c. and gave it to the Priests, who sprinkled the blood received from their hands, 2 Chro. 30. 16. & 29. 34. 1 Chron. 23. 28, 32. of the Testimonie] that is, of the Law, written on the two Tables kept in an Arke within the Tent or Tabernacle; and thereof it had this name, as is noted on Exod. 25. 16.

3 Verse 3. shall keepe thy charge] or, observe thy observation; thy custodie, or, thy ward; at thy appointment doing their service: see Numb. 3. 7. the vessels of holiness] in Greeke, the holy vessels: to come nigh unto them, to serve with them at the Altar, or in the holy place the Levites might not: which the Hebrew Canons explaine thus; All the Levites are forbidden the service at the Altar, as it is said (in Num. 18. 3.) But they shall not come nigh unto the vessels, &c. They shall not come nigh to the service; but to touch them it was lawfull. Maimony, tom. 3. in Cle hamikdash, chap. 3. sect. 9. So in Num. 3. 8. the Levites were appointed to keepe all the vessels of the Tabernacle. both they and you] they for doing so, you for suffering it. But from these words the Hebrews say, As the Levites are forbidden to doe the service of the Priests; so the Priests are forbidden to doe the service of the Levites, as it is written, Both they and you. Maimony in Cle hamikdash, chapter 3. section 10.

4 Verse 4. the charge] or, the custodie; in Greeke, the custodies, or the wards, watches: for so the word is used for keeping watch by night also, as in Psa. 90. 4. See the notes on Exo. 14. 24. a stranger] any of Israel that is not a Levite, is counted a stranger in this businesse: and in the Priests affaires, the Levites themselves were counted strangers, v. 7. See the notes on Num. 3. 10.

5 Verse 5. keepe the charge of the holy place] Hebrew, observe the observation of the holiness; which the Greeke translateth, of the holies: by this name the Apostle calleth the first Tabernacle, wherein was the Candlestick, Table, and Shew-bread; as the inmost part of the Tabernacle is called holy of holies, that is, the holiest of all, Heb. 9. 2, 3. To keepe the charge, or observe the observation, is to have continuall care day and night, that all things be kept pure and uncorrupted, and administered according to the wil of God: as they that kept the charge (or ward) of the house of Saul, were such as endeavoured to keep & maintain the kingdom in Sauls family, 1 Chron. 12. 29. This duty of the Priests and Levites in the Tabernacle, continued also in the Temple, where some were Porters, keepers of the gates, and lodged round about the house of God;

some had charge of the ministering vessels; that they should bring them in & out by tale: some of the fine flowre, and the wine, and the oil, and the frankincense, and of the spices, and of the Shew-bread: some were singers, employed in that worke day and night, &c. 1 Chron. 9. 19, 23, 33. Of their manner of keeping the Temple, the Hebrewes have thus recorded: The keeping of the Sanctuary, is a thing commanded, yea though there be no feare of enemies, or of thieves; for the keeping thereof is but for the honour thereof. And this keeping is commanded to be all the night: and the keepers are the Priests and the Levites, as it is said, And thou and thy sonnes with thee (shall be) before the Tent of the Testimonie, (Num. 18. 2.) as if he should say, you shall be the keepers (or watchmen) thereof. Moreover it is said of the Levites, And they shall keepe the charge of the Tent, (Numbers 18. 4.) It is also said, And they that encampe before the Tabernacle, fore-most before the Tent of the Congregation Eastward, (shall be) Moses and Aaron, and his sonnes, keeping the charge of the holy place, (Num. 3. 38.) And if they leave off the keeping of it, they transgresse against a prohibition. The commandment of keeping it, is that the Priests be the keepers in the inner (places) and the Levites in the outer. And twentie foure companies kept it every night continually in twenty foure places; the Priests in three places, and the Levites in one & twenty places, &c. The Priests that warded, slept not in their priestly garments, but folded them up, & laid them at their heads, and put on their own garments, and slept on the ground, as is the manner of all that ward Kings courts, that they sleepe not on beds. And they set one Provost over all the wards (or custodies) of the keepers, and he was called the man of the mountaine of the house (of God) And he went round about unto every ward, all the night, with torches burning before him; and every warder that did not stand and say, Thou man of the mountaine of the house, Peace be unto thee, it was knowne that he was asleepe, and he did beat him with his staffe. And he had authoritie to burne his garment, so that (sometimes) they said in Jerusalem, what noise is in the Court? It is the cry of a Levite that is beaten, and his garments burnt, because he slept at his watch. In the morning the Provost of the Sanctuary came and knocked at the gate for the Priests that were in the place of burning (the holy things,) and they opened unto him. He tooke a key and opened the little gate, that was between the place of burning and the courtyard, and went from the burning place into the courtyard, and the Priests went in after him. And two torches of fire were in their hand, and they divided themselves into two companies; one company went Eastward, and another Westward; and they searched and went thorow all the courtyard, till both companies came to the place where they made the Priests Meate-offering (spoken of in Lev. 6. 30, 21.) When both sides came thither, they said, Peace, all is peace, and they set those that made the Meate-offering, to make the same. After this order did they every night, save the nights of the Sabbath: for then they had not fire (torches) in their hand, but searched with the lamps that were lighted there on the evening of the Sabbath. Maimony in tom. 3. in Beth habehirab, chap. 8. no fervent wrath any more] for transgressing, as in former time, when fervent wrath went out from the Lord, Num. 16. 46. See also Numb. 8. 19.

- 6 Vers. 6. I have taken] in stead of all the first-born of Israel, who otherwise should have ministered unto me: see Num. 3. 12. and the Annotations there. a gift for Jehovah] or, unto Jehovah, as the Greek faith, to the Lord; the Chaldee, before the LORD. See Num. 3. 9, 12. and 8. 13, 16, 19. where they were offered unto the Lord, and given unto him, and by him given unto Aaron.

- 7 Vers. 7. within the veile] not only the second veile (as it is called in Heb. 9. 3.) but the first veile, within which the Priests went alwaies, accomplishing the services, Heb. 9. 6. as to burne incense, Luke 1. 9. to trim the lamps, Exod. 27. 20, 21. to set on the Shew-bread every Sabbath, Lev. 24. 8, 9. and the like. I have given] Hebr. I will give; which form of speech, noteth a continuance of the gift. a service of gift] a service freely given you; which Sol. Iarchi and Chazkuni explaine thus; I have given it unto you by gift, that none should say, ye are come into it of your selves. the stranger] any Israelite, Levite, or whosoever is not of Aarons seed: see the notes on Numb. 3. 10.

- 8 Vers. 8. I have given] after the office of the Priests & Levites prescribed, God here provideth for their maintenance and livelyhood, which they should have from the people for their service. The equitie whereof remaineth perpetuall, as the Apostle observeth, saying, Doe ye not know that they which minister about holy things, eat of the things of the Temple? and they which wait at the Altar, are partakers of the Altar? Even so hath the Lord ordained, that they which preach the Gospel, should live of the Gospel; 1 Cor. 9. 13, 14. the charge] Hebrew, the keeping (or observation) of mine beave-offerings; which the Greeke translateth, the keeping of my first-fruits; in Chaldee, the keeping of my separated things. They are said to be a charge or keeping, because they were carefully to be taken, and used holily, as gifts from the Lord. Sol. Iarchi explaineth it, which thou must keepe in cleanness (or purity.) Therefore they are called holy things, and were to be eaten (some of them) in the holy place, and by cleane persons onely; as in vers. 9, 10, 11, &c. And in the Hebrew Canons it is said, It is unlawfull to defile the beave-offering (or first-fruits) of the land of Israel, like as other holy things, or to bring it into the estate of uncleanness; but it is to be eaten being cleane, and to be burnt if it be unclean. Maimony, tom. 3. in Trumoth, c. 12. f. 1. of all the holy things] or, with all the holy things, as Chazkuni here explaineth it: see the notes on Num. 5. 9. The Greeke translateth, of all things sanctified unto mee by the statutes of Israel. for the anointing] that is, for the office sake whereunto thou art anointed: that as thou art consecrated with the holy oile, to attend upon mine holy things, Lev. 21. 10, 12. so thou shalt have mine holy things to keep and live upon. Thus anointing is also used in Lev. 7. 35. This is the anointing of Aaron, and the anointing of his sons.

For this cause the nation of the Jewes was cursed with a curse, as having robbed God, because they kept backe their tithes and offerings, which they should have brought into the store-house, that there might have been meat in the house of God, for his ministers, Mal. 3. 8, 9, 10.

Vers. 9. of the holy of holies] Hebr. of the holiness of holinesses, that is, of the most holy things, which the Greeke translateth, of the hallowed (or sanctified) holy things. Some oblations in the Sanctuary are called holy, (and by the Hebrew Doctors, light holy things) some holy of holies, that is, most holy things: of which difference, see the Annotations on Lev. 6. 17. With these he here beginneth, which the Priests only were to eat, and that within the Sanctuary, v. 10. then he proceedeth to the light holy things, which the Priests & their families were to eat within the campe, (and in ages following, within the wals of Jerusalem:) last of all he speaketh of other gifts, which were common, & might be eaten by any, and in any place, v. 14, &c. from the fire] in Chaldee, left (or remaining) from the fire, meaning the fire of the Altar, where some part of the most holy things were burned to the Lord.

every oblation] This may be understood as the generall; and the Meat-offering, Sin-offering, &c. as the particulars thereof; or, if it be meant of things different, it may be referred to those oblations appointed for the Congregation, in Lev. 23. 17, 20. Thus Iarchi here explaineth it, the Peace-offerings of the Congregation. And there were no Peace-offerings of the Congregation, but onely those mentioned in Levit. 23. as is noted on Lev. 4. 14. and 23. 19. But Chazkuni understandeth it of the two loaves, in Levit. 23. 17. and of the Shew-bread, saying, What oblation is this? We find afterward the Sin-offering, (to be expressed) and after that the Trespasse-offering, which were holy of holies. If (we understand it) of the Burnt-offering, that was not eaten: if of the Peace-offerings, they were not holy of holies. Behold he speaketh not but of the two loaves, (Leviticus 23.) and of the Shew-bread. Now both these were most holy, and for the Priests onely to eat, as is shewed on Levit. 23. 20. & 24. 9. Meat-offering] the remainder whereof was most holy, for the Priests onely to eat in the holy place, by the Law in Lev. 6. 16, 17. Sin-offering] which the Priests were to eat also in the holy place, as in Lev. 6. 26. Trespasse-offering] which likewise was most holy, and for the Priests onely to eat, as the Law sheweth in Lev. 7. 1, 6. which they shall render] or, shall returne (shall restore) unto me. This may be referred to the sacrifice forementioned: and by reason of this word render (or restore) and for that the Greeke translateth it, whatsoever things they shall render to me; it may in speciall be understood of that ram of atonement which was given for a Trespasse-offering, when a man restored unto the Lord the thing which he had robbed; according to the Law in Num. 5. 8. compared with Lev. 6. 2, 6. And unto that particular, doe Iarchi and Chazkuni here referre it. Now that ram was most holy, because it was a Trespasse-offering: but the thing it selfe which was stolen, and restored restored to the Priest, was of the common things, as after shall be shewed.

Verf. 10. In the holy of holies] Observe how the Court of the Sanctuarie is here called the holy of holies, or most holy place in respect of the Campe of Israel, and citie Jerusalem, which were holy places, for the light holy things, as the Passover, Peace-offerings, and the like, to be eaten in; as also in comparison with the great court for the people which was without the Priests court, 2 Chr. 4. 9. Ezek. 42. 14. For that which is commonly called the holy of holies, or most holy place, (which was in the Tabernacle after the second veile) was not a place to eat in, or for any to come into, save for the high Priest once in the yeere to make atonement, Lev. 16. Heb. 9. 3, 7. Neither might they eat in the Tabernacle, but in the Court; and that is here meant, as the Law sheweth, In the holy place, in the court of the Tent of the Congregation they shall eat it, Levit. 6. 16. And in the Court of the Temple there were chambers for such uses, Nehem. 13. 5, 9. whereupon in Ezek. 42. 13. hee speaketh of holy chambers, where the Priests that approach unto the LORD, shall eat the most holy things; there shall they lay the most holy things, and the Meat-offering, and the Sin-offering, and the Trespasse-offering, for the place is holy. And whereas Ezekiel there prophesieth of the third Temple, the Temple of the Gospel, which Christ should build, at which time the legall Priesthood of Aaron should have an end, Heb. 7. these ordinances did signifie (besides the Ministers maintenance forespoken of, 1 Cor. 9. 13, 14.) that they which should by Christ be made Priests unto God his Father, Rev. 1. 6. (as all true Christians are, 1 Pet. 2. 5, 9.) should be made partakers of Christ (who is both our Meat-offering, our Sin and Trespasse-offering,) and feeding on his flesh by faith, should be nourished unto life eternall, Joh. 6. 35, 50, 51. compared with Heb. 13. 10, 15. every male] and not the female: for the Priests wives and daughters might not eat of the most holy things, as they did eat of the holy and common things, v. 11, 13, 19. Lev. 6. 18, 29. & 7. 6. But now for our partaking of Christ, there is neither male nor female, for we are all one in Christ Iesus, Gal. 3. 28. holy] Hebr. holiness; in Greeke, holy things shall they be unto thee: meaning that only the Priests, and they in their holiness and cleanness should eat thereof. The blemished Priests might eat, but the unclean might not, Lev. 21. 21, 22. & 22. 3, 6. The flesh it selfe also must be holy, for if any unclean thing touched it, it was burnt and might not be eaten, Lev. 7. 19.

Verf. 11. And this] Here hee passeth on to the light holy things, which might be eaten by the Priests, male and female, without the Sanctuarie. the beave-offering of their gift] that is, which the Israelites give to the Priest out of their beave-offerings: such were (as Iarchi also here explaineth) the beave-offering of the sacrifice of confession, and of the Peace-offering, and of the Nazarites ram: whereof see Lev. 7. 11, 12, 14, 32, 34. & Num. 6. 17, 20. In Deut. 12. 6, 17. there is mentioned the beave-offering of your hand, which is meant of the first-fruits spoken of in Deut. 26. See the Annotations on those places. the wave-offerings] as the brest of the Peace-offerings, Lev. 7. 30, 31, 34. for that was waved, as the shoulder was heaved. thy daughters] understand, whiles they remained in their fathers house: but being married to strangers, they might not eat of the holy things; see Lev. 22. 12, 13. every cleane person] though the Priests slave, bought into, or borne in his house; but no stranger, nor hired servant, Leviticus 22. 10, 11. neither might any unclean person eat of it, Leviticus 7. 20, 21.

Verf. 12. All the fat] that is, as the Chaldee expoundeth it, All the best; which the Greeke translath, All the first-fruits. The fat is often used for that which is good, and best of things, not of beasts onely, but of wheat, as Deut. 32. 14. Psal. 81. 16. & 147. 14. and here, of oil and wine; and so of the land in generall; as Gen. 27. 28. & 45. 18. And as after God saith to the Levites, in ver. 30. when yee have beaved the fat thereof: so this concerned all the people, that they should doe the like. They beave not up any, but the fairest; saith Maimony in Trumoth, ch. 5. f. 1. See the Annotations on Gen. 4. 4. the new oile] in Greeke, the oile: so after, of the wine. The Law concerning these, is repeated in Deut. 18. 4. thus; The first-fruits of thy corne, of thy new wine, and of thy new oile, &c. shalt thou give unto him, that is, unto the Priest. Under these three, all other of like sort are comprehended; which the Hebrews explaine thus: All mans meat that is kept, which groweth out of the earth, is bound (to pay) the Heave-offering (or first-fruits.) And it is a commandment to separate out of it the first-fruits for the Priest, Deut. 18. 4. As corne, wine oile, are mans meat, and grow out of the earth, and have owners, as it is written, THY CORNE: so whatsoever is of like sort, is bound (to pay) the beave-offering, and likewise the tithes. Maimony in Trumoth, ch. 2. f. 1. See after on v. 21. for the tithes. As for the first-fruits which the owners brought into the Sanctuarie, Deut. 26. the Hebrewes say, they were but of seven things only, as is noted on Ex. 22. 29. Observe therefore a difference between the first fruits left for the Priests, and the first-fruits brought before the Lord, and there given to the Priest: for these were two gifts, as after shall be shewed. the first-fruits] called in Hebrew, Reshith, that is, the first or the beginning: after in v. 13. he speaketh of first-fruits, called in Hebrew Biccurim; of them he saith, which they shall bring unto Iehovah, to wit, into the Sanctuarie, according to the Law in Deut. 26. 2, 3, &c. of these he saith, which they shall give unto Iehovah; for they were not bound to bring them out of their place, but the Priests came where they were, and took them. These (for distinctions sake) the Hebrewes call the great beave-offring; the other they call the first-fruits. So in this place, Sol. Iarchi saith, the first-fruits of them, this is the great beave-offring. And of these, the Hebrew Canons say, The Israelites are not bound to take paines about the beave-offring, and to bring it from the corne-store to the Citie, or from the wilderness to the inhabited land; but the Priest goe out to the Corne-stores, and the Israelites give them them their portion there. And if (the Priests) come not, then he separateth it, and leaveth it in the corne-floor. And if there be wilde beasts or cattell that will devour it there, and there bee none to keepe it from them, our wise-men have ordained, that they should then bring it to the citie, and be payed of the Priest for the bringing of it. For if he separate it, and leave it for the beasts, he profaneth the name (of God.) Maimony in Trumoth, chap. 12. sect. 17. For the practise of these ordinances, see Nehem. 10. 35, 39. how the people brought their first-fruits and Tithes to the house of God. which they shall give] The Law saith not how much they should give, but leaveth it to the peoples liberalitie. Howbeit, in Ezek. 45. 13. it is written, This is the Heave-offering which ye shall heave up; the sixth part of an Ephah of an Homer of wheat, &c. that was the sixtieth part; for an Homer contained ten Ephahs, Ezek. 45. 11. whereupon the wise-men of Israel ordained that none should give for his first-fruits, lesse than the sixtieth part. The great Heave-offering hath no set measure by the Law; for it is said (in Deut. 18. 4.) The first (fruits) of thy corne, &c. But a man may not separate, save according to the measure which our wise-men have set, &c. And what measure is that? A good eye [that is, a liberall person] one of forty, and a mean (eye) one of fifty; an evil [eye, that is, a niggard] one of sixty. And he may not give lesse than one of sixty. Maimony in Trumoth, ch. 3. sect. 1, 2. The like measure they set for the other First-fruits brought into the Sanctuary. Maimony in Bicurim (or First-fruits) ch. 2. sect. 17. See the notes on Exo. 22. 29. According hereunto is that saying of Ben. Syrach, give the Lord his honour with a good eye, and diminish not the first-fruits of thine hands, Ecclesi. 35. 8. unto Iehovah] They were given unto the Lord; in that they were given by his appointment to his Priests, for their anointing (ver. 8.) and service in his Sanctuary: therefore they were holy. For this cause the Priests were not to receive them after any base or servile manner, but as gifts due to the Lord, and to them from him; and as the Hebrew Canons shew, the Israelites were to give them their portion with honour. And it was unlawfull (for the Priests or Levites) to snatch away the heave-offerings, or the Tithes: yea if they did aske their portion with their mouth, it was unlawfull; but they were to receive them with honour. For at the Lords Table they did eat, and at his Table they did drinke; these gifts were the Lords, and he did vouchsafe them unto them; as it is written, I have given unto thee the charge of mine heave-offerings, (Numbers 18. 8.) Maimony in Trumoth, chap. 12. sect. 18, &c. given unto thee] namely, for the Priest to eat, drinke, and anoint himselfe with them, according to the ordinary use of the creatures. The (great) Heave-offering is given for meat, and for drinke, and for anointing: for, anointing is as drinke, as it is said, And let it enter as water into his inward part, and as oile into his bones, (Psal. 109. 18.) And drinke is comprehended under eating; that he is to eat that which is wont to be eaten, and drinke that which is wont to be drunke, and anoint with that which they use to anoint with, not with wine or vinegar. But they anoint with oile that is cleane, and burne (in lamps) that which is unclean. Maim. in Trumoth, ch. 11. sect. 1. Who they were that might eat, and who might not eat of these Heave-offerings, is shewed in Levit. 22. 3, &c.

Verse 13. The First-fruits] These were another gift, which the people brought into the Sanctuary, made confession over them to the Lord, and then gave them to his Priest: whereof see Deut. 26. 2, &c. These were paid before all other duties, before the great Heave-offering forementioned, or the Tithes after spoken of in ver. 21. The Hebrews say, When men separate the Heave-offering, and the Tithe, they are to separate them in order: as, he separateth the First-fruits [spoken of in Deut. 26.] first of all; and after them, the great Heave-offering; and after that, the first Tithe [which was given to the Levites, ver. 21.] and after that, the second Tithe, or Tithe of the poore, [whereof see Deut. 14. 22, 23, 28, 29.] Maim. in Trumoth, ch. 3. sect. 23. shall eat it] in Greeke, shall eat them. Of the cleane person in the Priests house, see v. 11. The eating of these first-fruits, was to be onely in Ierusalem, the holy Citie: and whosoever eateth of that gift wherein holinesse is, blesseth (God) who sanctified them with the sanctification of Aaron, and commanded them to eat so or so. Maim. in Bicurim, ch. 1. sect. 2.

Ver. 14. devoted thing] in Hebr. Cherem: of this the Hebrews say, some things were devoted absolutely; and such are spoken of here, and given to the Priests: some things were devoted in speall unto God, or to his Sanctuary; and they, or the price of them, went to the Sanctuary. See the Annotations on Levit. ch. 27. ver. 28, &c. shall be thine] The use of these is not restrained to the Sanctuary, or holy Citie, or to the Priests alone; but (by the Hebrews) these were the Priests due in every place, and were common things. Maimony in Bicurim, ch. 1. sect. 7.

Verse 15. that openeth the wombe] Hebr. every opening of the wombe; which the Greeke translateth, every thing that openeth every wombe (or matrice.) Hereby the first-borne onely is meant, as the Law sheweth in Exod. 13. 2. and such as were males, Deut. 15. 19. Exod. 34. 19. redeeming thou shalt redeeme] that is, thou shalt surely, or in any case redeeme: the father was to give, the Priest to take the redemption money. It figured the redemption of Gods people, called the Church of the first-born, which are written in heaven, Heb. 12. 23. who are not redeemed with corruptible things, as silver and gold, &c. but with the precious blood of Christ, 1 Pet. 1. 18, 19. So being bought from among men, they are the First-fruits unto God, and to the Lambe, Rev. 14. 4. of the unclean beast] this is translated in Greeke, of unclean beasts, as implying all sorts, elsewhere the Law mentioneth the Ass, it may be for an instance, Exo. 13. 13. & 34. 20. But the Hebrews say, The unclean beast spoken of here, is the Ass onely. Maim. in Bicurim, chap. 12. sect. 3. thou shalt redeeme] the Ass was to be redeemed with a Lambe, or else the owner was to breake the necke of the Ass: see the notes on Exodus 13. 13. and 34. 20. The Hebrews say, These two Commandements (of redeeming it with a Lambe, or of breaking the necke of it) were of force in every place, and at every time: and the commandment of redeeming it, was before the commandment of breaking the neck of it. The Lambe wherewith it was redeemed, was given to the Priest, Numbers 18. 15. The first-borne Ass was unlawfull to be used (or made profit of) till it were redeemed. And if he sold it before it were redeemed, the price of it was unlawfull, &c. Priests and Levites are freed from redeeming the first-borne Ass; for it is said (in Numbers 18. 15.) The first-borne of man, and the first-borne of the unclean beast, thou shalt redeem. Whosoever was charged to redeem the first-borne of man, was likewise for the unclean beast: and he that was free from the one, was free from the other. Maim. in Bicurim, cha. 12. See other things noted hereabout, on Exod. 34. 20.

16 Ver. 16. Redeemed of him] or of them, meaning the men fore-spoken of: the Greek translateth, the redemption of him: and Thargum Jonathan addeth for explanation, of the son of man. from a moneth old] Hebr. from the son of a moneth. See the Annotations on Levit. 27. 6. the silver of five shekels] that is, five shekels of silver. This sum was before given for every first-born, Num. 3. 45, 46. twenty Gerahs] The gerah weighed 16. barley-cornes, the shekel of the Sanctuary (or holy shekel) weighed 320. barley-cornes, as is before noted on Levit. 27. 25. The Hebrews hold, that this redemption of the sonne, might be either with money, or moneyes worth, so as it were of moveable goods, but not with lands, nor with servants, nor with bills (or writings;) and if he redeemed his sonne with them, he was not redeemed. Maimony in Bicurim, chap. 11. sect. 6. Now because the tribe of Levi was taken in stead of all the first-borne of Israel, Num. 3. therefore they and their seed were free from this redemption: and so the Hebrew Canons say, Priests and Levites are freed from the redemption of their sonnes. And further, an Israelite that cometh of a woman of Levi, is free; for the case dependeth not on the father, but on the mother; as it is said, That which openeth the wombe, &c. Maim. ibidem, chap. 11. sect. 9.

17 Ver. 17. the firstling] or, the first-borne: in Greeke, the firstlings of cornes, &c. understand, being a male firstling, as Ex. 34. 19. otherwise it was not sanctified, or given to the Priest. A firstling which is both male and female, hath no holiness in it at all; but is as a female, whereto the Priest hath no right. Maimony in Bechoroth, ch. 2. sect. 5. [shalt not redeem] thou maist not give the worth of it, or any other for it; but the beast it selfe is to be given: neither may the owner use, or make profit of it, or of the wooll, or any thing thereon, Deut. 15. 19. they are holy] and therefore must be hallowed (or sanctified) to the Lord, Exod. 13. 2. The Hebrews say, A man is commanded to sanctifie the first-borne of his cleane beast; and to say, Behold this is holy. All are bound (to sanctifie) the firstling of a cleane beast; both Priests, Levites, and Israelites: although the firstling is the Priests. If he have a firstling borne, he is to offer the blood and fat (on the Altar) and to eat the rest of the flesh, according to the Law of the Firstlings. Maim. in Bechoroth, ch. 1. sect. 4, 7. a savour of rest] that is, as the Greek translateth, of sweet smell; which the Chaldee explaineth, that it may be accepted with favour before the LORD. But if it were blemished, it might not be offered by the Law, Leviticus 22. 20, 21, &c. What did they then with their blemished firstlings? The Law sheweth in Deuteronomie 15. and the Hebrews explaine it, The firstling of the cleane beast is slaine in the Court-yard (of the Sanctuary) as other light holy things: they sprinkle the blood, and burne the fat; and the residue of the flesh is eaten by the Priests. If the firstling have a blemish, whether it be borne with his blemish, or a blemish fall on it after it is perfect, yet it is the Priests. If he will, he may eat it in any place, or he may sell it, or feed others with it, whom he will, though it be an Hebræen: for it is a common thing; as it is written (in Deuteronomie 15. 21, 22.) And if there be any blemish therein, &c. thou shalt eat it within thy gates; the unclean and the clean shall eat it alike, as the Roe-bucke, and as the Hart; and loe that is the Priests goods. Maimony in Bechoroth, chap. 1. sect. 2, 3.

Ver. 18. as the wave brest] the parts of the Peace-offerings given to the Priests, Leviticus 3. 34. See also before, on verse 11.

Verse 19. All the heave-offerings] the Greeke and Chaldee expound it, Every separated thing. This conclusion implieth all other holy gifts, expressed in other places of the Law, though not particulated here. And this sheweth Gods bounty to his Priests, in allowing them so large meanes of livelihood, for their service of him; that they might be encouraged in the Law of the Lord; as is said in 2 Chron. 31. 4. There was none of them that did shut the doores of Gods Sanctuary, or kindle fire on his Altar for nought, Malachie 1. 10. And when the people neglected their dutie, in not giving such things as were appointed, then was the house of God forsaken: and the godly Governours looked to the redresse hereof, Nehem. 13. 10, 11, 12, &c. The Hebrew Doctors write of 24. severall gifts, which God bestowed on the Priests, with the order and use of them all, Fourte and twenty gifts were given to the Priests, and they are all expressed in the Law: and concerning them all, was the covenant made with Aaron. And whosoever eateth of any gift wherein holiness is, blasphemeth (God) who sanctified him with the holiness of Aaron, and commanded him to eat so and so. Eight of these gifts, the Priests did eat no where but in the Sanctuary, within the wall of the Court-yard. And five gifts they did not eat but in Jerusalem, within the walls of the citie. And five gifts were not due unto them by the Law, but in the land of Israel onely. And five gifts were due unto them, both within the land, and without the land. And one gift was due unto them from the Sanctuary. The eight gifts which they did not eat but within the Sanctuary, were these:

- 1 The flesh of the Sin-offering, whether fowle or beast, (Levit. 6. 25, 26.)
- 2 The flesh of the Trespass-offering, (Lev. 7. 1, 6.)
- 3 The Peace-offerings of the Congregation, (Levit. 23. 19, 20.)
- 4 The remainder of the Omer (or Sheaf, Levit. 23. 10, &c.)
- 5 The remnants of the Meat-offerings of the Israelites, (Levit. 6. 16.)
- 6 The two Loaves, (Levit. 23. 17.)

7 The Shew-bread, (Levit. 24. 9.)

8 The Lepers log of oyle, (Levit. 14. 10, &c.)

These were not eaten but in the Sanctuaries.

The five which they might not eat but in Jerusalem, [and before that, within the Campe of Israel, to which Jerusalem afterward was answerable, as is noted on Num. 2. 27.] were these:

1 The brest and shoulder of the Peace-offerings, (Levit. 7. 31, 34.)

2 The heave-offering of the sacrifice of confession, (Levit. 7. 12, 14.)

3 The heave-offering of the Nazorites Ram, (Num. 6. 17, 20.)

4 The Firstling of the cleane beast, (Numb. 18. 15. Deut. 15. 19, 20.)

5 The First-fruits, (Num. 18. 13.) These were not eaten but in Jerusalem.

The five things due from the land of Israel onely, were:

1 The Heave-offering (or First-fruits, (Numbers 18. 12.)

2 The Heave-offering of the Tithe, (Numbers 18. 28.)

3 The Cake, (Numbers 15. 20.) And these three were holy.

4 The First-fruits of the Fleece, (Deut. 18. 4.)

5 The field of possession, (Num. 35.) and both of these were common. These were not due unto them by the Law, save in the land of Israel.

The five things due to the Priests in every place, were:

1 The gifts (of the beasts slaine, Deut. 18. 3.)

2 The redemption of the First-borne son, (Numb. 18. 15.)

3 The Firstling of the Ass, (Exodus 4. 20. Num. 18.)

4 The restitution of that which is taken by rapine from a stranger, (Num. 5. 8.)

5 The devoted things, (Num. 18. 14.)

These five are common things, in all respects.

The gift due unto them from the Sanctuaries, was:

1 The skins of the Burnt-offering, (Levit. 7. 8.) And the same Law was for the skins of the other most holy things: they all were the Priests.

The gifts which the females had part in, as well as the male (Priests) were five. 1 The Heave-offering (or First-fruits.) 2 The Heave-offering of the Tithe. 3 The Cake. 4 The gifts of the beast, (Deut. 18. 3.) 5 And the first of the Fleece. Maimony in Bicurim, ch. 1. f. 1, &c. a covenant of salt] that is, a stable, firme and incorruptible covenant. So the kingdome over Israel was given to David and to his sonnes, by a covenant of salt; 2 Chronicles 13. 5. and there the Greeke explaineth it, an everlasting covenant.

20 Verf. 20. Thou shalt have] This concerneth not so much Aaron himselfe, (who died before hee came into the land, Num. 20. 28.) as his posterity; and not them onely, but all the Levites; as after Moses sheweth in Deut. 18. 1. The Priests the Levites, all the Tribe of Levi, shall have no part nor inheritance with Israel. inheritance in their land] which was divided by lot to the other Tribes, according as God numbred them, when the Tribe of Levi was numbred apart, Num. 26. 53, 55, 57, 62. Notwithstanding, they had cities to dwell in, and suburbs given from the other Tribes, Num. 35. and in Ezek. 48. 10, &c. an holy oblation, out of the spirituall land, is given to the Priests and Levites.

[part] or, a portion, a share among them. This word, though often it be spoken of a part or portion of land, as in Jos. 15. 13. & 19. 9. & 18. 5. &c. yet also it is meant of a part in the spoiles or prey, as in Num. 31. 36. 1 Sam. 30. 24. And so it seemeth to be intended here, of the spoiles gotten by war of the Canaanites, which were of great worth, as appeareth by Deut. 2. 35. & 3. 7. & 6. 11. so that Iosua said to some of the people, Returne with much riches unto your Tents, and with very much cattell, and with silver, and with gold, and with brasse, and with iron, and with very much rayment, &c. Iosua 22. 8. yet Levi might have none, because the Lord had given him his portion in the holy things; and he was to war another warfare in the Lords Sanctuaries, Numbers 4. 23. and according to the Apostles Doctrine, No man that warreth, intangleth himselfe with the affaires of this life; that he may please him who hath chosen him to be a souldier, 2 Timothie 2. 4. Of this matter the Hebrews say; All the Tribe of Levi are warned that they have no inheritance in the land of Canaan; likewise they are warned that they take no part of the spoile, at the time when they conquer the cities, Deuteronomie 18. 1. And a some of Levi; that taketh a part of the spoile, is to be beaten: and if he have received an inheritance in the land; they are to take it away from him. It seemeth unto me, that these things are not spoken but of the land, which was promised by covenant to Abraham, Isaak, and Jacob, &c. But all other lands, which any of the Kings of Israel should subdue, the Priests and Levites were for those lands, and the spoiles of them, like all other Israelites. And why had Levi no right of inheritance in the land of Israel, and spoiles thereof, with his brethren? Because he was separated to serve the LORD, and to minister unto him, and to teach his right waies, and his just judgements unto many, as Deuteronomie 33. 10. Therefore were they separated from the waies of the world; they wage not war, like other Israelites, neither have they inheritance, &c. but they are the Lords power, as it is written, Blesse, Lord, his power, Deuteronomie 33. 11. and the blessed (God) himselfe is their reward, as he saith, I am thy part and thine inheritance. Maimony, tom. 3. treat. of the Release and Iubilee, chap. 13. sect. 10, 11, 12. So in Ezek. 44. 28. God saith of the Priests, They shall give them no possession in Israel, I am their possession.

I am thy part] both by the gifts fore-appointed, (as is said in Deut. 18. 1. the Fire-offerings of Iehovah, and his inheritance, shall they eat;) and by other blessings, wherewith he would abundantly recompence their worldly want, administering unto them his heavenly graces. Hereupon the godly testified their faith, and hope in God, by these and such like speeches; God is my part for ever, Psalm. 73. 26. Thou art my part, in the land of the living, Psalm. 142. 6. Iehovah is my part, saith my soule; therefore will I hope in him, Lament. 3. 24. I rejoyce at thy word, as one that findeth great spoile, Psalm. 119. 162.

Verfe

- 21 Verf. 21. And to the summes of Levi] Now followeth the Law concerning the Levites, who were joynted to the Priests in service, & so in provision for their maintenance. And this word And, Chazkuni here noterh as an addition to that which went before, saying that the covenant of salt for ever, was to the Levites also. all the tenth] or, all the Tithes. This is the first Tithe which the Israelites payed to the Levites; after which they separated a second Tithe, which they themselves did eat before the Lord, the first yeere and the second, and every third yeere gave it to the Levites and poore: wherof see Deut. 14. 22, 23, &c. Touching this, the Hebrews say, that the Israelites, After they had separated the great Heave-offering (or First-fruits spoken of in Num. 18. 12.) they separated one of ten out of that which remained, and this is called the first Tithe; and it is that which is spoken of in Numbers 18. 24. and this Tithe was for the males and females of the Levites. They pay no Tithe but of the choise (or best) as it is said (in Numbers 18. 30.) Which ye have beared the fat thereof, &c. as the Tithes which the Levites separate, is to be of the fat thereof; so the Tithes which the Israelites separate from the floore or wine-presse, is to be of the fat. They pay not the Tithe but by measure, or by weight, or by number. He that separateth this Tithe, blesseth (God) first, as they use to blesse for other commandements: so he blesseth for the second Tithe, and for the poore mans Tithe, and for the Tithe of the Tithe, he blesseth for every one severally. Maimony, tom. 3. treat. of Tithes, ch. 1. sect. 1, 13, 14, 16.
- 22 Verf. 22. not come nigh any more] to serve in the Tabernacle, as they did in the rebellion of Korah, Num. 16. to beare sinne] that is, lest they suffer the punishment for their sin. So in v. 23. beare their iniquitie; as in ver. 1. to die] or, and die; see the notes on Gen. 2. 3. this sheweth the punishment to be death: the Greeke translateth it, deadly (or death-bringing) sinne.
- 23 Verse 23. beare their iniquity] that is, beare the punishment of their own iniquity, if they transgresse; and of the peoples, if they suffer them to transgresse. Thus Sol. Iarchi expoundeth it; They the Levites shall beare the iniquity of the Israelites; for it is their dutie to warne strangers from coming neere unto them.
- 24 Verse 24. Heave up] in Greeke and Chaldee, separate unto the Lord: so in verse 26. This sheweth the Tithes to be an oblation to the Lord, and a signe of the Israelites homage, subjection and thankfulness unto him for his blessings. And upon this ground, the Apostle proveth Melchisedek to be a greater Priest than Abraham, or Aaron; because Abraham (and all the Levites and Priests in his loynes) payed Tithes to Melchisedek, Gen. 14. Hebr. 7. Now consider how great this man was, unto whom even the Patriarch Abraham gave the tenth of the spoiles, Heb. 7. 4.
- 26 Ver. 26. the Tithe of the Tithe] or, a tenth part of the tenth.
- 27 Verse 27. as the fulnesse] or, as the plentie, that is, the plentifull increase; or, the full, that is, ripe liquor: the Greeke translateth it, as the separated thing. Sol. Iarchi saith, Fulnesse meaneth the ripe fruit, which is full. See the notes on Exod. 22. 29. where this word is also used for Full-ripe fruit. From hence the Hebrewes gather, that seeing the Levites first tithes (out of which they payed the Priests tithes) were as the corne of the floore, and liquor of the presse; therefore they were as common things. The first tithe is lawfull to be eaten by Israelites, and lawfull to be eaten in wicketnesse, for there is in it no holnesse at all: and wheresoever holnesse, or redemption of the tithe is spoken of, [as in Levit. 27.] It is not meant but of the second tithe. And they count the first tithes as common things, because it is said, And your beave-offerings shall be reckoned unto you as the corne of the floore, &c. as the floore and wine-presse are common for every thing, so the first tithe (out of which the beave-offering is taken) is common for every thing. Maimony Treatise of Tithe, chap. 1. sect. 2. This is to be understood, after the Levites had separated the tenth of the tithe, then the rest should be common, like the corne of the floore, as is explained in verf. 30.

Verf. 28. Thus you also] or, So you also; you Levites as well as other Israelites, though you have no inheritance in the land, yet shall you honour the Lord with an heave-offering out of your first tithe: and it shall be reckoned or imputed unto you, as if you had lands and possessions, and offered tithes out of them. to Aaron] and so to his posterity the Priests, as was observed in the ages following, as it is written, And the Priest the sonne of Aaron, shall be with the Levites, when the Levites take tithes; and the Levites shall bring up the tithe of the tithe, unto the house of God, to the chambers in the treasure-house, Nehem. 10. 38. Thus also are we to understand the Apostle, when he saith that the Priests, the summes of Levi who receive the office of Priest-hood, have a commandement to take tithes of the people according to the Law, &c. Hebr. 7. 5. that the Levites tooke them of the people immediately, and the Priest mediately, in taking the tithe of the tithe from the Levites, as this place sheweth, compared with Nehem. 10. 37, 38.

Verf. 29. Out of all your gifts] This is more general and seemeth to imply, besides the tenth of their tithe, the tenth also of other things, as of their owne ground, the suburbs and fields which were given to the Levites, Numb. 35. 4. So Chazkuni here saith, Out of all your gifts, ye shall beare up to teach that even of the fruit that grew in the fields of the suburbs of the Levites cities, they were bound to give unto the Priests, &c. And it is proportionable, that as God was to be honoured with the tithes of other mens lands, so of the Levites, that they also hereby might signifie their homage and thankfulness to God. Yea the Hebrewes bring the Priests themselves also under this duty, saying; Levites and Priests doe separate the first tithe, for to separate out of it the beave-offering of the tithe. And so the Priests doe separate the other beave-offerings & the tithe for themselves, that the Priests may receive of all. Lest they should eat their fruits unbidden, the Scripture saith, Thus you also shall beare up (Numb. 18. 28.) which we have heard expounded thus; T O U, these are the Levites; A L S O T O U, this implieth the Priests. Maim.

Maim. treat. of Tithes, ch. 1. sect. 3. the fat] that is, as the Chaldee expoundeth, the best, or fairest: in Greeke, the first-fruits: see before on vers. 12. & 21. So Chazkuni here saith, Of all the best, and of all the fairest thereof, yee shall separate out of it the hallowed part thereof, that it may be an heave-offering.

30 Vers. 30. the revenue] in Greeke, the fruit of the threshing-floor. This word revenue, as the Hebrews distinguish it, is corne after it is eared; and after it is threshed and fanned, it is called (dagan) corne. Maimony, tom. 1. in Beracoth, ch. 3. sect. 1.

31 Vers. 51. in every place] Sol. Iarchi explaineth it, though it be in the place of buriall; and that was an unclean place. The first Tithes therefore which were paid to the Levites, might be eaten by them as common things, in every place: but the second Tithe (which the owners separated after the first, and did eat themselves) might not be eaten every where, but before the Lord onely, that is, within the cite of Ierusalem, after the Temple was built therein. See Deut. 14. 22, 23, &c. your house] that is, your household; as the Chaldee translateth it, the men of your house. a reward] or wages; and so your due for your service: so the Apostle speaking of the honour due to the Ministers of Christ, saith, The labourer is worthy of his reward, 1 Tim. 5. 17, 18. and Christ himselfe, sending his Disciples to preach, said unto them, And in the same house remaine, eating and drinking such things as they give: for the labourer is worthy of his reward. Goe not from house to house, Luke 10. 7.

32 Vers. 32. beare sinne for it] that is, beare the punishment of sin for the Tithe; which the Levites should doe, if they heaved (or separated) not a tenth part of the best of that Tithe from it, as is before commanded. profane the holy things] Hebr. the holinesses. This is a generall warning both to Priests and Levites, that the holy things of the people be not profaned by them, nor suffered to be profaned by others. And holy things might be profaned, if either they were eaten out of the time limited by God, as in Lev. 19. 7, 8. or if the Priests were unclean when they did eat them, as Lev. 22. 2, 3, 9. or if others did eat them, to whom they did not pertain; as Lev. 22. 10, 15, 16. or if other the like unlawful actions were done or suffered. The Ministers of God therefore had this charge upon them, by all meanes to sanctifie the Lord, his Tabernacle & holy things; that so they might procure the welfare and salvation both of themselves and others; as 1 Tim. 4. 16.

CHAP. XIX.

1, The Lord commandeth a red heiffer to be slaine by the Priest, some of her blood to be sprinkled, the residue with her body to be burned, together with Cedar wood, hyssope and scarlet; and the ashes of all these to be gathered up and kept for the congregation, to make therewith a water of separation and purification from sinne. 11, The Law for the use of it, in purification of the unclean by the dead.

DDD

1 ANd Jehovah spake unto Moses, and
2 unto Aaron, saying; This is the or-3 dinance of the Law, which Jehovah hath commanded, saying: Speake unto the 4 somes of Israel, that they take unto thee a red heiffer, perfect, wherein is no blemish, up-5 on which never came yoke. And yee shall 6 give her unto Eleazar the Priest, and he shall 7 bring her forth, without the campe; and one 8 shall slay her, before his face. And Eleazar the Priest shal take of her blood, with his fin-9 ger, and shall sprinkle of her blood directly before the Tent of the Congregation, se-10 ven times. And one shall burne the heiffer, in his eyes: her skinne, and her flesh, and 11 her blood, with her dung, shall he burne.
And the Priest shall take Cedar wood, and 12 hyssope, and scarlet, and shall cast them into the midst of the burning of the heiffer.
And the Priest shall wash his cloathes, and 13 he shall bathe his flesh in water, and afterward he shall come into the campe, and the Priest shall be uncleane untill the evening.
And hee that burneth her, shall wash his 14 cloathes in water, and bathe his flesh in water, and shall be uncleane untill the evening.
And a man that is cleane shall gather up 15 the ashes of the heiffer, and lay them up without the campe in a cleane place; and it shall be for a reservation for the congregation of the sons of Israel, for a water of separation, it is a purification for sin. And he that gathe-16 reth the ashes of the heiffer, shall wash his cloathes, and shall be uncleane untill the evening: and it shall be unto the sons of Israel, and unto the stranger that sojourneth among 17 them, for a statute for ever. He that toucheth the dead of any soule of man, he shall be even uncleane seven daies. He shall purifie 18 himselfe with it in the third day, and in the seventh day he shall be cleane; and if he purifie not himselfe in the third day, and in the seventh day, he shall not be cleane. Who-19 soever touched the dead, the soule of a man that is dead, and purifieth not himselfe, he defileth the Tabernacle of Jehovah, and that soule shall be cut off from Israel: because the water of separation was not sprinkled upon him, he shall be uncleane; his uncleanness is yet upon him. This is the Law: When a 20 man dieth in a tent, all that come into the tent, & all that is in the tent, shalbe uncleane 21 seven daies. And every open vessell, which hath no covering bound upon it, it is uncleane.

- 16 cleane. And whosoever toucheth in the face of the field, one that is slaine with the sword,
or a dead body, or a bone of a man, or a grave, 17 he shall be uncleane seven daies. And they shall take for the uncleane person, of the dust
of the burnt heiffer of purification for sinne;
and he shall put thereto living water in a ves-18 sell. And a cleane man shall take hyssope, and dip it in the water, and shall sprinkle it upon the Tent, and upon all the vessels, and upon the soules which were there, and upon him that touched a bone, or one slaine, or 19 one dead, or a grave. And a cleane person shall sprinkle upon the uncleane, in the third day, and in the seventh day; and he shall purifie him selfe in the seventh day, and shall wash his cloathes, and bathe (his flesh) in 20 water, and shall be cleane at evening. And the man that shall be uncleane, and shall not purifie himselfe, that soule shall even be cut off from among the Church, because hee hath defiled the Sanctuarie of Jehovah; the water of separation hath not bene sprink-21 led upon him, he is uncleane. And it shall be unto them for a statute for ever; and he that sprinkleth the water of separation, shall wash his cloathes; and he that toucheth the water of separation, shall be uncleane untill 22 the evening. And whatsoever the uncleane person toucheth, shall be uncleane; and the soule that toucheth, shall be uncleane untill the evening.

Annotations.

Here is the 39. Section of the Law, after the Hebrews account: see Gen. 6. 9.

- 2 THe ordinance] or, the statute, constitution, the prescript ordinance; in Greeke, the distinction of the Law. As in the former Chapter God gave order for his Ministers, the Tribe of Levi, by whom the service in his Tabernacle should be performed, and his people should come neere unto him, to offer all their sacrifices: so here hee giveth a Law for all men generally, how they should be purified from their uncleannes, when-soever they were to come into his Sanctuarie with their sacrifices, and for the service of his holy Majestie; that their hearts might be confirmed in his grace, against their owne infirmities.
take unto thee] that is, take and bring unto thee: see the like phrase in Gen. 15. 9. & Ex. 25. 2.
& Levit. 24. 2. This heiffer was taken of the people, to shew the interest that they all had in it;
and by faith, in that which it figured, Christ.

a red heiffer] Targum Jonathan addeth, a three yearling: so in the Hebrew Canons they say, It is commanded that the red heiffer be of the third yeere, or of the fourth yeere, and is my be older. Maimony in Pharab adammah (or treat. of the Red heiffer) ch. 1. sect. 1.

perfect] in Greeke, without blemish. As all sacrifices were to be unblemished, Lev. 22. so this;

but the perfection here spoken of, the Hebrews referre to the colour also, that it be perfect in rednesse, because if it have but two haire blacke, it is unlawfull, saith Sol. Iarchi. The same is affirmed also by Maimony, If it have two haire white, or blacke, &c. it is to be refused. Maimony in Pharab, ch. 1. sect. 2.

no blemish] If it hath had a worm (or wart) and it be cut off, through red haire be growne in the place, yet is it disallowable. All blemishes that disable the holy things, disable this heiffer. If it have bene cut out of the mothers body, or bene the price of a dog, or hire of an whore, (Deuteronomie 23. 18.) or bene torne, or bene abused by mankind, (Leviticus 20. 15.) it is unlawfull. For whatsoever maketh holy things unlawfull for the Altar, maketh the heiffer unlawfull. Maim. in Pharab, ch. 1. sect. 6, 7. yoke] that is, which hath not bene used of men for any worke: and this is peculiar to this heiffer, for other sacrifices were not disabled by the yoke, or any worke, save the heiffer for expiation of murther, Deuter. 21. 3.

This heiffer excelleth other holy things, for worke done by it, disableth it. As the yoke spoken of, concerning the heiffer, (Deuter. 21.) maketh all other worke like the yoke:
so in this heiffer, &c. But the yoke disableth her, whether it be in the time of working, or not: where as other worke disable her not, save in the time of working. As, if one binde a yoke upon her, although she hath not ploughed with it, she is unlawfull: but if one tooke her in to tread out corne, (as Deuteron. 25. 4.) she is not made disallowable, until she tread out corne with her; and so in all like cases. Maim. in Pharab, ch. 1. sect. 7. As other sacrifices of beasts prefigured Christ, so this in speciall figured him; red, in his humane nature and participation of our afflictions, Esa. 63. 1, 2.
Heb. 2. 14, 17, 18. perfect and without blemish of sin,
both in his nature and actions, Luke 1. 35. 1 Pet.
1. 19. & 2. 22. without yoke, as being free from the bondage of sin and corruption, and from servitude to the ordinance of men in religion, and as doing voluntarily the things that pertained to our redemption, Lam. 1. 14. Joh. 8. 33, 34, 35, 36.
1 Tim. 6. 1. 1 Cor. 7. 23. Joh. 10. 17, 18.

Verse 3. unto Eleazar] hee was Aarons sonne,
and by doing this worke, he was uncleane, v. 7.
wherefore Aaron himselfe, who was the high Priest, did it not. Hence the Hebrews say, that An ordinary Priest was fit for to burne the heiffer: for it is said, Give her unto Eleazar the Priest, and yet Aaron himselfe was living. And by word of mouth we have bene taught, that this was done by Eleazar; and all other heiffers (were done) either by the high Priest, or by a common Priest. And he that did it, was arrayed with the foure ornaments of a common Priest, whether he were the high Priest, or an ordinarie Priest that did it. Maimony in Pharab, chapter 1. section 11, 12.
It figured, that the worke of our redemption and purification from sinne, should be the worke
of Christs Priestly office, Hebrews 9. 9, 13, 14.
He in performing the truth of this type, was both Priest and sacrifice. be shall bring] The

Greeke

Greeke translateth, they shall bring; and so after, they shall slay; as if, not Eleazar himself, but some other at his appointment did it. And the words following, he shall slay her before his face, seeme to imply so much, that some other man did slay her before Eleazars face. And it is frequent in Scriptures to make one the doer of a thing, which he commandeth to be done; as Pilate gave the body of Christ to Ioseph, Mark. 15. 45. that is, commanded it to be given, Matth. 27. 58. See the Annotations on Exod. 7. 17. Gen. 39. 22. and 48. 22. without the campe] which figured Christs suffering without the gates of Jerusalem, Hebr. 13. 11, 12. So in ages following, they burned this heiffer without Jerusalem, as in the Hebrew records it is said, They burne not the Heiffer, but without the mountaine of the house (of God,) as it is written, And he shall bring her forth without the campe, (Numb. 19. 3.) and they use to burne it on mount Olivet. Maimony in Pharab, ch. 3. sect. 1. Without the Campe, malefactors were to be put to death, Levit. 24. 10. Num. 15. 36.

one shall slay her] a stranger (or other man) did slay her, and Eleazar beheld it, saith Sol. Iarchi on this place. So in verse 5. he shall burne the heiffer, in his eyes; that is, another man shall burne her in Eleazars sight: which is confirmed by ver. 7, 8. where first the Priest (Eleazar) is commanded to wash his cloathes, and after, hee that burned her was to wash his cloathes; so that these were divers men. Hence also the Hebrews say, They may not slay two red heiffers at once, for it is written, And he shall slay her. Maim. in Pharab, chap. 4. sect. 1.

4 Verse 4. with his finger] figuring the finger, that is, the Spirit of our Priest Christ Jesus, whereby he hath sprinkled the way for us into heaven, and our hearts from an evill conscience, that we may have access thither by his blood, Heb. 9. 22, 23, 24 & 10. 19, 20, 22. For as the finger of God, Luke 11. 20. is interpreted the Spirit of God, Mat. 12. 28. so the finger of the Priest here, signified the Spirit of our high Priest Christ, by the power whereof, our way is prepared into the kingdome of GOD, through the applying and sprinkling of his owne blood, Heb. 12. 24. & 10. 19. 1 Pet. 1. 2. 1 Cor. 6. 11. The Hebrews gather from this precept, that it was unlawfull to receive the blood in a vessell, because it is said, the Priest shall take of her blood with his finger. Maim. in Pharab, chap. 4. sect. 4. directly before the Tent] that is, towards the fore-part, or doore of the Tabernacle. The Priest stood without the campe, where the heiffer was slaine, and there sprinkled towards the Sanctuarie seven times, (which is a full and complete number, as is noted on Levit. 4. 6.) and that place being a figure of Heaven, Heb. 9. 24. this sprinkling thitherward, typed out how liberty should be procured for Gods people, to enter into the holiest by the blood of Iesus, by the new and living way, which he hath consecrated for us, Heb. 10. 19, 29. By the Hebrew Canons, if he sprinkled (the blood) and not towards the Sanctuarie, it was unlawfull. Likewise, if he did slay or burne her, and not over against the Sanctuarie, it was unlawfull. Maim. in Pharab, chap. 4. sect. 5.

5 Ver. 5. one shall burne] that is, some shall burne

in Eleazars sight; or, Eleazar shall cause it to be burnt before his eyes. For another man burned it, as appeareth by v. 8. wherefore Targum Jonathan explaineth it, another Priest shall burne. The burning of the heiffer without the campe, figured how Iesus, that he might sanctifie the people with his owne blood, should suffer without the gate (of Jerusalem) Heb. 13. 11, 12.

Ver. 6. Cedar wood] this, with the hyssope and scarlet following, were used in the cleansing of Lepers that were healed, Levit. 14. 4. See the Annotations on that place. The Cedar is one of the greatest and tallest trees (opposed to the hyssope as the lowest, 1 King. 4. 33.) it is durable wood and rotteth not, being choise (or excellent) Song 5. 15. figuring the perpetuall efficacy of the death of Christ, who by one offering hath perfected for ever them that are sanctified, Heb. 10. 14. ezop] or hyssope, whereof see Exod. 12. 22. As here it was burned with the heiffer, so after in v. 18. a sprinkle was made with it, figuring the vertue and odour of Christ death, to purge our sins, and to sprinkle our hearts from an evill conscience, Heb. 1. 3. and 10. 22. scarlet] or, twice died scarlet, called in Hebrew Sheni tholagnath; whereof see Exod. 25. 4. This bloody colour sometime signifieth Sinnes, Esa. 1. 18. and it is the death and blood of Christ, that cleanseth us from all sin, Rom. 6. 10. 1 Joh. 1. 7. the preaching hereof maketh the lips like a threed of scarlet, Song 4. 3. into the midst of the burning]

The manner of burning this heiffer in the ages following, is described by the Hebrews thus: They made a banke (or causey) from the mountaine of the house of God (in Jerusalem) unto mount Olivet; [the mountaine which our Lord Jesus used to frequent, Luke 21. 37. Joh. 18. 2. whither he went the night that he was betrayed to death, Luke 22. 39, 40, &c. and it was over against the Temple, Mar. 13. 3. and from thence, after his resurrection, he ascended up into heaven, Act. 1. 9, 12.] and the heiffer, and he that burned her, and all that assisted him in the burning of her, went out of the mount of the Temple, unto mount Olivet, upon that banke. The Elders of Israel went before them on their feet to mount Olivet, and there was a place to baptise (or wash) in: and the Priest and they that assisted him to burne the heiffer, went on the banke, and came to mount Olivet, &c. and the Elders imposed their hands upon the Priest, and said unto him, wash once. He went downe and washed, and came up and wiped himselfe. And there was wood laid in a row, wood of Cedar, and Oke, and Firre-tree, and Fig-tree, which they tooke and made a pile of, like a tower, &c. and the fore-part was towards the West; [that was towards the Temple.] Then they bound the heiffer, and laid her upon the pile of wood, with her head to the South, and her face to the West; and the Priest stood on the East-side, with his face to the West. He killed her with his right hand, and tooke the blood in his left hand, and sprinkled with the finger of his right hand, of the blood that was in the paim of his left hand, seven times towards the most holy place (of the Temple.) At every sprinkling, he dipped his finger in the blood, and the residue of the blood bloud which was on his finger, was unlawfull to sprinkle with; therefore at every sprinkling he wiped his finger on the body of the heiffer. When he had made an end of sprinkling, he wiped his hands on the heiffers body, and came downe from the pile, and kindled the fire with small sticke, which he put under the sticke of the pile, and the fire began to burne, and the Priest stood a farr off, and observed it, till the fire burned upon her, and her belly cleft asunder. And afterward he tooke Cedar wood and hyssope, not lesse than an handbreadth, and woul died in scarles, five shekels weight, &c. And he bound the hyssope with the Cedar, with the tongue [or long-piece] of scarles, and cast them into her belly, (Numbers 19. 6.) And he cast them not in, before the fire was kindled upon the bulke of her body, nor after that she was burnt to ashes; and if he did, it was unlawfull; for it is said, into the midst of the burning, not before the fire is kindled on her body; nor after she is turned to ashes. Maimony in Pharah adummah, chap. 3. sect. 1, 2.

7 Verse 7. Wash his clothes] which was a signe of purification from uncleannes, as is noted on Lev. 11. 25. & 15. 5. The same was concerning him that burned the heiffer, v. 8. and the cleane man that gathered up her ashes, vers. 9, 10. Hereby the imperfection of the legal Priesthood was shewed, in that the Priests which prepared the meanes of sanctification for the Church, were themselves polluted in the preparing and doing of them, as may be gathered by proportion from Heb. 7. 27, 28. & 10. 1, 2, 3. The sinne also of the Priests, and others that procured the death of Christ (though it was the life of the world) seemeth hereby to be signified, Mat. 26. 65, 66, &c. Act. 1. 22, 23, 38. & 3. 14, 15, 17, 18, 19. Albeit, by the tradition of the Hebrewes, they were very carefull about the cleanness of the Priests, when they did this worke: for, the Priests that burned this heiffer, they separated him (from his house) to a chamber prepared in the Court (of the Temple) which was called the Stone chamber, because all the vessels thereof were of stone, which doe receive no uncleannes, and he ministred in a vessell of stone, all the seven daies that he was separated, and his brethren the Priests might not touch him, for the more care of his cleanness. Seven daies before the burning of the heiffer, they separated the Priest that burned her from his house, as they separated the high Priest for his service on Atonement-day, (whereof see the notes on Leviticus 16. 37.) Also they separated him from his wife, lest he should have her disease, and so be uncleane seven daies, (as Leviticus 15. 24.) Every of those seven daies of his separation, they sprinkled him with the water of purification (lest he should be uncleane by the dead, and not know it.) and with the ashes of the heiffer that had bene burned already (before.) Maimony in Pharah, ch. 2. Notwithstanding all this care, Whosoever busie themselves about this heiffer, from the beginning to the end, doe make their garments unkeane, and are bound to wash themselves, and are uncleane till the evening. And wheresoever the Law speaketh of washing of clothes for uncleannes, it is to teach us, that not the clothes onely upon him are unkeane, but every cloth or vessell which this unkeane person shall touch, whiles his un-cleanness is on him, is made unkeane. And not this heiffer onely, but all Sin-offerings that are burnt (without the campe) whether bullockes or goats; he that burneth them, defileth his clothes, the time of the burning of them, till they be turned to ashes: (Leviticus 16. 28.) Maim. ibidem, chap. 5.

9 Vers. 9. a man that is cleane] this man is said in Targum Jonathan, to be a Priest. the ashes] It is reported, that After they had finished the burning of her, they beat her with slaves, her and all the wood of the pile wherewith she was burned, and sifted all with sieves: and whatsoever was blacke, which possible they could pound and make it ashes, either of her flesh, or of the wood, they pounded it till it was made ashes; and that which had no ashes in it, they left the same; and every of her bones that remained unburnt, they pounded. Maimony in Pharah, chap. 3. sect. 3. As the burning of the heiffer signified the sufferings of Christ, Heb. 13. 11, 12. so the ashes were the monument of his most base and utmost afflictions; for ashes were used as greatest signes of sorrow and misery, 2 Samuel 13. 19. Job 30. 19. & 42. 6. Jer. 6. 26. and to be brought to ashes upon the earth, is noted for the extremitie of Gods fiery judgements, Eze. 28. 18. But the memoriall of Christs most ignominious death, is to be kept as a most glorious monument of our life, justification & sanctification through faith in his name, 1 Cor. 11. 24, 26. Gal. 6. 14. Phil. 3. 8, 9, 10. without the campe] to signifie, that they which would have part in the death of Christ, must goe forth unto him, without the campe, bearing his reproach, Heb. 13. 13. in a cleane place] figuring a cleane heart, and pure conscience, in which onely the monuments of Christs death are reserved by faith, Act. 15. 9. Hebrews 10. 22. Ephes. 3. 17. The Hebrewes say, They gathered not any of her ashes to lay up in the Court (of the Sanctuarie:) but they divided all the ashes into three parts. One part they put in (the place called) the Cheil, [the Fort or Frontier] and another part, in mount Olivet, and the third was parted to all the Wards (or Custodies of the Levites.) That which was parted to all the Wards, the Priests sanctified therewith; and that which was put in mount Olivet, the Israelites sprinkled with it: and that which was put in the Cheil, was reserved and laid up, as it is written, AND IT SHALL BE FOR THE CONGREGATION FOR A RESERVATION; to teach that they laid up (some) of it. And thus they laid up some of every heiffer which they burned, in the Cheil. And they did (burne) nine red heiffers, after they were commanded this Precept, till the desolation of the second Temple. The first was done by Moses our master, the second by Ezra, and seven after Ezra, till the Temple was destroyed. And the tenth shall be done by the King Christ, who be revealed with speed, Amen. So be the good will of God. Maimony in Pharah, chap. 3. section 4. This last speech of the Jew, sheweth their zeale without knowledge; for, we know that the Sonne of God is come, and hath given us an understanding, that we may know him that is true, and we are in him that is true, even in his Sonne Iesus Christ, 1 Joh. 5. 20. and by him was this legal type type (as all other) accomplished; as it is written, If the ashes of an heiffer sprinkling the unclean, sanctifieth to the purifying of the flesh, how much more shall the blood of Christ, who through the eternall Spirit offered himselfe without spot to God, purge your conscience from dead workes, to serve the living God? Heb. 9. 13, 14. Wherefore Christ the King hath beene revealed, and they have done unto him whatsoever they would: but even unto this day, when Moses is read, a veile is laid upon their hearts, so that they cannot stedfastly looke to the end of that which is abolished; nevertheless, when it shall turne to the Lord, the veile shall be taken away, 2 Cor. 3. 15, 16. Then shall they looke upon him whom they have pierced, and they shall mourne for him, as one mourneth for his only sonne, and shall be in bitterness for him, &c. Zach. 12. 10. And this day, God cause to come with speed, Amen. for a reservation] or for an asseveration, a keeping, that is, to be reserved or kept: See the like phrase in Exod. 16. 32, 33, 34. Num. 17. 10. Sol. Iarchi here saith, That which was in the Cheil (or Fort) was put there for a reservation, according to that fore-noted out of Maimony. But this may be understood of all the ashes, (and not of a third part onely) which was kept for the use of Israel, as after followeth. for the congregation] Hence the Hebrews say, that all Israelites were fit to keepe it. Therefore any of the common people, which bringeth a vessell out of his house, though an earthen vessell, and saith, This vessell is cleane for the Simme (water,) loe it is cleane, they sanctifie in it, and sprinkle out of it; though that vessell is unclean for the Sanctuary, and for the heave-offering. And so any of the common people that shall say, I am cleane for the Sim-water, or that hath the Sim-water by him, and saith it is cleane, he is to be trusted: for there is no man of Israel too vile for it. Maim. in Pharah, chapter 13. section 12. water of separation] that is, water to be sprinkled for separation, to be sprinkled on such as are separated and removed, because of uncleanness; from other people. This appeareth by v. 13. where it is said, because the water of separation was not sprinkled upon him. The Hebr. Niddah, which properly signifieth a separation or remouall for uncleanness, is sometime figuratively used for uncleanness it self, which is to be done away; as in 2 Chro. 29. 5. Ezra 9. 11. Whereupon the water which cleanseth it, is called the water of separation; which the Greeke and Chaldee version call water of sprinkling, because it was sprinkled on the unclean to purifie him; v. 18, 19. According to which phrase, Christs blood is called the blood of sprinkling, Heb. 12. 24. because it purifieth the conscience, and was figured by this sprinkling water, Heb. 9. 13, 14. a purification for sin] Hebr. a sin: which word as it is often used for a Sin-offering, or sacrifice that expiateth sin, as in Levit. 4. 3, &c. so here it is the name of that water which purified sin, as after is manifested in v. 12, &c. Wherefore the Greek translateth, it is a sanctification, or a purification. And these two names here given to this water, the Prophet useth, when he foretelleth the grace of Christ; In that day there shall be a fountaine opened to the house of David, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, for Sinne, and for Separation, Zacharie 13. 1. that is, for a purification for sinne, and for a water of separation for uncleanness, which the Greeke there interpreteth, for a remouall away, and for a sprinkling.

Verf. 10. shall wash] as when any blood of the Sin-offring was sprinkled on a garment, it was to be washed, Lev. 6. 27. so here he that gathered up ashes was to wash his cloathes, for it could not be but some of the ashes would light upon them. See the notes on v. 7. the stranger that sojourneth] in Greeke, the Profelytes that are adjoynd.

Verf. 11. of any soule of man] that is, of any dead man, or any corpe of man: the soule is here used for the dead body, as is noted on Levit. 19. 26. and Num. 6. 6. and this is an explanation of the former dead, that it is meant of man only: for he that touched a dead beast, was not unclean seven daies, but one day only, Lev. 11. 24, 27, 39. neither was he to be sprinkled with these ashes. Sol. Iarchi here saith, it is spoken to except the soule of a beast, for the uncleanness thereby needeth no sprinkling. unclean seven daies] during which time of his uncleanness, he might not come into the Sanctuary, nor touch any holy thing, Levit. 7. 19, 21. nor be in the Lords Campe, Num. 6. 2. (unto which the citie Ierusalem was answerable in the ages following, called therefore the Holy citie, Nehem. 11. 1, 18. Mat. 4. 5.) And hereby was figured, such as were dead in trespasses and sins, Ephes. 2. 1. and such as have their consciences defiled by dead workes, Heb. 9. 13, 14. which may not enter, during their uncleanness, into the city of God, Rev. 21. 27. Of this legall pollution, the Hebrews have these sayings; A dead person defileth by touching, and by bearing, and by the Tent, with seven daies uncleanness. The uncleanness by touching, and by the Tent, are expressed in the Law, Num. 19. 11, 14. Uncleanness by bearing, is by Tradition [gathered by consequence.] For if a dead beast, which maketh one unclean but till evening, and defileth not by the Tent, doth defile by bearing, as is written in Levit. 11. 25. how much more doth a dead man. And as a dead beast which by touching defileth till evening, defileth also till evening by bearing; so a dead man which by touching defileth seven daies, defileth also seven daies by bearing. Uncleanness by touching, spoken of in every place, whether of a dead man or other unclean things, is when a man with his flesh toucheth the unclean thing it selfe, whether it be with his hand, or with his foot, or with any other part of his flesh, &c. Uncleanness by bearing, spoken of in any place, either of a dead man, or of other unclean things, is when a man beareth the unclean thing, although he touch it not; although a stone be betwixt him and it. Forasmuch as he beareth it, he is unclean; whether he beare it on his head, or on his hand, or with any other part of his body: Yea, though the unclean thing hang by a thread, or by an haire, if he hang the thread on his hand, and lift up the unclean thing by it, loe he beareth it, and is unclean. Nothing is defiled by bearing, save man onely: not vessels. As, if a man hold in his hand ten vessels, one above another, and a dead carcasse, or any the like thing be

be in the uppermost vessell, the man is unclean by bearing the earthen vessel, and the vessels upon his hand are all cleane, save the uppermost vessell which the unclean thing toucheth; and so in all like cases, &c. There is no kind of living thing, which is defiled while it is alive, or that doth defile while it is alive, save man onely, and he that is of Israel, &c. A dead man defileth not till his soule be departed from him, as it is written, The soule of a man that is dead, Numb. 19. 13. A dead untimely birth, &c. defileth by touching, by bearing, and by tent, as a great man which is dead; as it is written, Hee that toucheth the dead of any soule of man, Numb. 19. 11. Likewise so much as an olive of a dead mans flesh, either moist or dry as a posserd, defileth as doth a whole dead man. A limbe cut off from a living man, is as an whole dead man, and defileth by touching, by bearing, and by tent, though it be but a little limbe of a child of a day old, &c. A limbe separated from a dead man defileth also by touching, by bearing, and by tent, as doth the dead man, &c. Maim. tom. 3. in Tumath meth, ch. 1. & 2. These and other the like legall pollutions, teach Gods people how carefull they should be, that they defile not themselves with sin, or communion with dead & sinfull works; as the Apostle saith, Touch not the unclean thing, 2. Cor. 6. 17. Be not partaker of other mens sins, keepe thy selfe pure, 1 Tim 5. 22.

12 Vers. 12. Hee shall purifie himselfe] by sprinkling the foresaid water; as the Chaldee expoundeth it, He shall sprinkle; the Greeke, Hee shall be purified. The originall word signifieth to purifie from sin; which sheweth that this outward uncleannes figured the pollution of the soule by sin, and the purification here commanded, signified repentance from dead works, and faith towards God, which purifieth the heart, Heb. 6. 1. A. & 15. 9. with it] with the water fore-spoken of v. 9. and the ashes, as Targum Jonathan here expresseth: the manner whereof followeth. be shall be cleane] that is, as the Greeke translateth, and he shall be cleane. and in the seventh] Chazkuni here observeth, Left any should thinke, if he forget and be not sprinkled in the third day, he may be sprinkled twice on the seventh day, and it will serve the turne as if he were sprinkled on the third day, and on the seventh; therefore the Scripture saith, If hee purifie not himselfe in the third day, and in the seventh, &c. for it is necessary that there be three dayes between sprinkling and sprinkling.

13 Vers. 13. the soule] that is, the corps, as before is shewed. that is dead] in Gr. if hee be dead. From these words the Hebrewes gather, that the dead defile not, till his soule be departed. Maim. in Tumath meth, chap. 1. sect. 15. For death is the departing of the soule from the body, Gen. 35. 18. Psal. 146. 4. be defileth the Tabernacle] if hee come in that estate into the court of the tabernacle: yea though he have washed himselfe, yet if he have not bin sprinkled the third day and the seventh day, he defileth it, as Iarchi here noteth, and Moses after sheweth. that soule shall be cut off] in Chaldee, that man shall be destroyed. This is meant if he come in presumptuously; but if he do it ignorantly, he is to bring a sacrifice, Levit. 5. 3. -- 6. So the Hebrewes explaine this Law. Maim. in Biath hamikdash, ch. 3. sect. 12. See the notes on Numb. 6. the water of separation] in Greeke and Chaldee, the water of sprinkling. This signified, that when any have sinned he cannot be cleansed from it before God, by any of his owne workes, nor satisfie by his owne sufferings, but only by having his conscience sprinkled with the blood of Christ by his spirit; for that is it which cleanseth us from all sinne, 1. Ioh. 1. 7. Heb. 9. 13. 14.

14 Vers. 14. in a tent] and so by proportion, in a house, as the Greeke here translateth it; for a tent is named, because the people then dwelt in tents in the wilderness. But for uncleannes the Hebrewes say, that onely a tent was unclean, and to be sprinkled, as is after noted on vers. 18. and all that is in the tent] the pollution by the dead is in this respect above all other pollutions, as the Hebrewes say, The uncleannes of the tent is not like other uncleanneses, but by the dead onely. And whether there come into the tent (of the dead) man or vessell, or the dead be brought into the tent where men or vessels are, or that the dead be with men or vessels under the same tent, they are unclean. Whether hee come wholly into the tent of the dead, or come but some part of him, hee is unclean by the tent. Though hee doe but put in his hand, or the tops of his fingers, &c. hee is all unclean, &c. Whether the dead person be an Israelite or an heathen, hee defileth by being touched or carried, but an heathen defileth not by tent. This is by tradition, for loe hee saith of the warre of Midian, who-soever hath touched any slaine, Numb. 31. 19. and hee mentioneth not there the tent. Likewise an heathen is not made unclean by the dead, but an heathen that toucheth the dead, or beareth him, or commeth into the tent where (the dead) is, loe hee is not as if hee had not touched him. And why? because hee is as a beast that toucheth the dead, &c. And this is not for the dead onely, but for all other uncleanneses every one, heathens and beasts are not made unclean by them. Maim. in Tumath meth, chap. 1. sect. 10. 11. 12. 13. unclean seven dayes] This is the ordinary time for the uncleannes of men or of vessels that are defiled by the dead; but those which touch such a defiled man, are unclean but untill evening, vers. 22.

15 Vers. 15. every open vessell] The Chaldee translateth it, every open earthen vessell (or vessell of potters clay:) and so the Hebrew Doctors expound this Law, as Iarchi saith, The Scripture speaketh of an earthen vessell which receiveth no uncleannes in the outside of it, but in the inside, &c. So Maimony in Tumath meth, chap. 21. Of vessels and their uncleannes, see the annotations on Levit. 11. 32. 33. no covering bound upon it] in Gr. not bound with a bond upon it: by covering, some understand a cloth upon it. The vessell was so to be stopped, that the aire of the tent might not goe into it: then both it and all things in it were cleane, otherwise they were unclean. From hence the Hebrewes gather also by proportion, that if another tent were within the tent of the dead, the things in it were cleane, because they were hid or covered; & likewise, if the unclean thing were swallowed up by a living creature. But nothing put up in vessels was free from uncleannes, except the vessell had a covering bound upon it. Neither was any thing cleane by being buried in the ground under the tent or house:

house: but if an house were uncleane, and vessels were hidden in the floore thereof, though an hundred cubits underneath, they were uncleane. Maim. in Tumath meth, chap. 20.

16 Verſ. 16. in the face of the field] that is, in the open field where no tent is, there pollution is by touching onely. slaine with the sword] or with any other instrument; the sword is named for an instance. Therefore in Numb. 31. 19. the law saith more generally, whoſoever hath killed any perſon, and whoſoever hath touched any ſlaine, &c. Targum Iona- than here addeth, one that is ſlaine with the ſword, or the ſword wherewith hee was ſlaine. So in the Hebrew Canons it is ſaid, the ſword is as the dead perſon, to wit, for deſiling him that touched it. Maim. in Tumath meth, chap. 5. ſect. 3. The word ſometime is uſed for wounded, though not dead, as in Pſalm. 69. 27. and 109. 22. Hereupon the Hebrewes ſay, A limbe cut off from a living man, it is as an whole dead man, and maketh uncleane by touching, by bearing, and by tent, though it be but a ſmall limbe of a child of a day old. For there is no ſtinted meaſure of limbes; as it is written, whoſoever toucheth in the face of the field, one that is ſlaine with the ſword, and it is a knowne thing that it is all one, whether hee be ſlaine with the ſword, or with a ſtone, or with other things. This teacheth that he is uncleane, which toucheth a limbe that the ſword hath cut off; provided that it be a whole limbe as it is created of fleſh, ſinewes and bones. Maimony in Tumath meth, chap. 2. ſect. 3. or a dead body] though not ſlaine by violence, but dying alone. a bone of a man] By reaſon of this uncleanneſſe by dead mens bones, the Prophet ſaith, When any ſeeb a mans bone, he ſhall ſet up a ſigne by it, till the buriers have buried it, &c. Eze. 39. 15. The Hebrewes write that the blood alſo of a dead man deſileth as doth the dead man: but the blood of a living man (they ſay) is cleane, ſo long as hee is alive. Maim. in Tumath meth, c. 2. a grave] or a ſepulchre, to wit, wherein any dead have benee buried. A grave, all the while that uncleannes is within it, deſileth by touching and by tent, as doth the dead perſon, by the ſentence of the law, Num. 19. 16. And whether one touch the top of a grave, or touch the ſides of it (he is uncleane.) A field wherein a grave is plowed up, and the bones of the dead are conſumed into duſt, the duſt deſileth by touching and by bearing. Maim. in Tumath meth, c. 2. ſ. 15. 16. Thus the pollution by mankind being dead, is above al other legall pollutions whatſoever: which lively ſheweth the fruit and effect of ſin, which cauſed death, Rom. 6. 23. & the horror of death, holding men in ſubjection, untill by the voice of Chriſt they be raiſed and brought out of their graves, Ioh. 5. 28. 29. The Hebrewes ſay, The cauſe of the uncleannes of the dead, is by meanes of the Angell of death [the devill] that brought poiſon into man. R. Menachem on Numb. 19. Hereby alſo was figured the eſtate of ſuch as are dead in ſinne, even dead whiles they are alive, Col. 2. 13. 1. Tim. 5. 6. whoſe throat is an open grave, Pſalm. 5. 10. ſo that their corrupt words and ſinfull workes doe infect others, 2 Tim. 2. 17. 18. 1. Cor. 5. 6.

17 Verſ. 17. And they ſhall take] that is, ſome ſhall take, ſome cleane man, as v. 18. for the uncleane to cleaſe him. of the duſt] that is, of the aſhes, as the Greeke explaineth it. of the burnt heifer of purification for ſin] Hebr. of the burning of ſinne, that is, of the Sin-offering (the heifer) that is burned, v. 9. be ſhall put] that is, ſome cleane man ſhall put. living water] that is, as the Chaldee expoundeth it, ſpring (or welling) water, which for the continuall motion is called living water, as is noted on Levit. 14. 5. and Gen. 26. 19. in a veſſel] Touching the manner of performing this rite, the Hebrewes have many obſervations. The water on which the heifers aſhes are put, is not filled but in a veſſel, and out of fountains that ſpring, or of rivers derived from them: and the putting of the aſhes upon the water that is filled is called ſanctifying. And the water on which the aſhes are put, is called the water of purification from ſinne, and ſanctified water. and the Scripture calleth it water of ſeparation (Numb. 19. 9.) It is lawfull for any to fill the water, ſave for the deaf, and the ſoule, and the child: & lawfull for any to ſanctifie, ſave for the deaf, the ſoule, & the child: and they ſanctifie not but in a veſſel, neither doe they ſprinkle, but out of a veſſel; and the filling & ſanctifying may be done by night, but they do not ſprinkle, nor waſh, but by day; and all the day long they may ſprinkle or waſh. In any veſſel they may fill, and ſprinkle, and ſanctifie, though veſſels of ſtone, of earth, &c. Hee that turneth a ſpring into his wine-pretſe, or into a ciſterne, and then filleth a veſſel out of that pretſe or ciſterne, it is unlawfull: for it is neceſſary to take the water out of the Spring into a veſſel at the firſt. The maine ſea, as the gathering together of water, is not as a ſpring: therefore they fill not out of it to ſanctifie, &c. When they ſanctifie the water with the aſhes, hee putteth the water which is filled by the name of ſin-water, into a veſſel, and putteth the aſhes upon the face of the water, and mixeth all together; and if hee put in the aſhes firſt, and afterward the water, it is unlawfull. And where as it is ſaid in the Law, And hee ſhall put thereto living water, (Numb. 19. 17.) it is meant to mixe the aſhes with the water. Hee that ſanctifieth, muſt doe it purpoſely, and put the aſhes with his hand on the water; as it is ſaid, And they ſhall take for the uncleane perſon; ſo that hee muſt have an intent to ſanctifie, and to fill, and to ſprinkle, &c. Hee that delivereth ſanctified water, or water filled for ſanctification, to an uncleane perſon to keepe it, it is become unlawfull. Hee that is hired is unlawfull to ſanctifie or to ſprinkle, but not unlawfull to fill the water, &c. hee may receive wages for filling, or for carrying the water; but hee muſt ſanctifie for nothing, and hee that ſprinkleth muſt ſprinkle for nothing. Maimony in Pharah adummah, chap. 6. ſect. 1. &c. and chap. 9. ſect. 1. &c. and chap. 7. ſect. 2.

18 Verſ. 18. A cleane man] either hee that took the aſhes and put them on the water, or any other: ſee the notes on v. 9. He that filleth the water for ſanctification, it is not neceſſary that it be hee himſelfe that ſanctifieth, and that ſprinkleth; but one may ſanctifie, and another may ſprinkle. Maimony in Pharah, chap. 19. byſſope] that herbe which was uſed in cleaſing of the Leper, whereof ſee Levit. 14. 4. A cleane man taketh three ſtalles of byſſop, and bindeih them in a bunch, &c. and dippeth the tops of the branches in the water of ſeparation which is in a veſſel, and purpoſely ſprinkleth on the man, or on the veſſels, &c. Maim. in Pharah, rah, ch. 11. sect. 1. dip it in the water] He that sprinkles, needeth not to dip for every sprinkling, but dipper the hyssope, and sprinkles one time after another, till the water be ended. And he may sprinkle with one sprinkling on many men, or on many vessels at once, though they be an hundred: whatsoever the water toucheth, it is cleane every whit; if so be he that sprinkles doe intend to sprinkle upon it. Maimony in Phorab, ch. 10. sect. 8. upon the Tent] in Greek, upon the house. The tent was uncleane by the dead, though it touched it not, as this Law sheweth. The Tent it selfe, whereinto the uncleannesse came, though the uncleannesse touched it not, yet is it uncleane with seven daies uncleannesse by the Law, and is as clothes that touch the dead corpse; for it is said, And he shall sprinkle upon the Tent, Maim. in Tumaib meib, ch. 5. sect. 12. all the vessels] nothing but this water could purifie the vessels; though they were melted in the fire, yet they were in part uncleane, as it is said, Every thing that may abide the fire, ye shall make it goe thorow the fire, and it shall be cleane: neverthelesse it shall be purified with the water of separation, Num. 31. 32. the soules] the living persons, or men, as Targum Imaiban explaineth it. And this is spoken largely without limitation, though they had other uncleannesse upon them, than by the dead. And so the Hebrews explaine it largely, saying; All that are uncleane doe receive the sprinkling; as men or women that have running issues, women separated for their disease, and women in child-bed, which are defiled by the dead, they sprinkle upon them in the third day, and in the seventh, and loe they are cleansed from the uncleannesse by the dead, although they are uncleane still with other uncleannesse. For it is said (in Numbers 19. 19.) And a cleane person shall sprinkle upon the uncleane, &c. whereby thou maist learne, that the sprinkling is available for him, though he be uncleane. And so an uncircumcised person receiveth the sprinkling; as an uncircumcised person that is uncleane by the dead, and one sprinkles upon him in the third day and in the seventh, he be is cleane from uncleannesse by the dead; and when he is circumcised, he washeth (or baptiseth) and eateth of the holy thinge at evening. Maimony in Phorab, chap. 11. sect. 3. And for the effect of this sprinkling, they say, A man defiled by the dead, and one hath sprinkled on him, when any of the water of separation hath touched any place of the skin of his flesh who was uncleane, the sprinkling is available for him, though it fall but upon the top of his finger, or of his lip, &c. And so for an uncleane vessel sprinkled, when any whit of the water toucheth the body of the vessel, the sprinkling is available for it. Maimony ibidem, chap. 12. sect. 1. a bone] that is, a mans bone, as the Greeke translateth, and as was expressed in verse 16.

19 Verse 19. in the third day] to wit, after his uncleannesse being certainly knowne. Who so is uncleane by the dead, and tarryeth many daies without sprinkling, when he cometh to be sprinkled, he counteth before him three daies, and they sprinkle on him in the third day, and in the seventh, &c. Maim. in Phorab, ch. 11. sect. 2. and in the seventh] which is the day of the accomplishment of his purification: the third day was mysticall, having reference to the resurrection of Christ, which was on the third day after his death, 1 Cor. 15. 4. whereof see the Annot. on Gen. 22. 4. The seventh day was also mysticall, as being the number of perfection of the Sabbath, and of accomplishing a work, as is noted on Gen. 2. 2. Exo. 12. 15. & Lev. 4. 6. and so it figured our full cleansing, and ceasing from our sinful and dead works, after that we are sprinkled with the blood of Jesus, and water of his Spirit, Heb. 4. 9, 10. & 9. 13, 14. wash his clothes] which was a common rite, for all that were defiled with other uncleannesses; whereof see Lev. 11. 25. & 14. 8, 9. & 15. 5.

bathe his flesh] in Gr. wash his body: the word flesh is expressed before in v. 7. and it is meant of his whole body, or all his flesh, as Lev. 15. 16.

cleane at evening] after the Sun is set, at what time a new day beginneth; and so in mystery, a new life to begin. This cleansing of the defiled by the dead, figured Christs worke of grace upon dead and sinfull men; of him it is prophesied, He shall sprinkle many nations, Esa. 52. 15. and of him doth the Apostle open this figure, saying, If the blood of Bulls and Goats, and the ashes of an Heiffer, sprinkling the uncleane, sanctifieth to the purifying of the flesh; how much more shall the blood of Christ, who through the eternall Spirit offered himselfe without blemish unto GOD, purge your conscience from dead works, to serve the living God? Heb. 9. 13, 14. The sprinkling of the ashes of the Heiffer, figured the applying unto us of Christs death, whereunto we was delivered for our offences, and was raised againe for our justification, Rom. 4. 25. The living water wherewith the ashes were mixed, figured the Spirit of God, which they that beleeve in Christ doe receive, Joh. 7. 38, 39. of which he gave this promise, Then will I sprinkle cleane water upon you, and ye shall be cleane, Eze. 36. 25. These being applied unto our consciences by faith (as with hyssope) which purifieth the heart, Act. 15. 9. and by the preaching thereof, Gal. 3. 2. doe baptise us into Christs death, that like as hee was raised up from the dead, unto the glory of the Father; even so we also should walke in newnesse of life, Rom. 6. 3, 4. And so we draw neer unto God, with a true heart, in full assurance of faith, having hearts sprinkled from an evill conscience, and bodies washed with pure water, & our robes washed, and made white in the blood of the Lambe, Heb. 10. 22. Revel. 7. 14. & cleansing our selves from all filthinesse of the flesh and spirit, we perfect holinesse in the feare of God, 2 Cor. 7. 1. Of these mysteries the Hebrew Doctors, though estranged from the true life and light of Christ, retained some knowledge; for they say, When the living water is mixed with the ashes, it purifieth the uncleane, whereas before that, while the ashes were alone, they defiled all that were imployed about them. And behold, the living water signified the water that is on high, which taketh away uncleannesse from the ashes, &c. And loe when it is sprinkled on the uncleane, the uncleannesse flecth from him, &c. and a cleane spirit resteth upon him, and purifieth him. R. Menachem on Num. 19.

Verse 20. uncleane] by any of the things afore-said, about the dead. not purifie himselfe] or, not be purified, to wit, by having the water sprinkled upon him, as the Chaldee explaineth it; and the latter part of this verse manifesteth. that soule] in Chaldee, that man. cut off] in Greeke and Chaldee, destroyed. defiled the Sanctuary] by comming into it before he hath beene purified. For such were shut out of the host, Num. 5. 2. how much more out of the Sanctuary? Therefore Porters were set there at the gates, that none which was unclean in any thing should enter in, 2. Chron. 23. 19. An unclean person that commeth into the Sanctuary presumptuously, his punishment is cutting off, Num. 19. 20. if ignorantly, then he is to bring the sacrifice appointed, Lev. 7. Maim. in Biath hamikdash, chap. 3. sect. 12. See the annotations on Lev. 5. 2. 3.

21 Verſ. 21. wash his clothes] as being unclean, and so to continue untill evening; likewise hee that toucheth the water of separation shall wash his cloathes, and be unclean untill evening. This interpretation Chazkuni here giveth of it; that in the former branch uncleanness is implied untill evening; and in the latter branch, the washing of his clothes also is implied, though not expressed. This is one of the mysteries of this Law, that a cleane man (as he is called in v. 18. 19.) was made unclean, by sprinkling or touching the holy water, which sanctified those that were unclean, and so it had contrary effects to purifie the unclean, and to pollute the cleane; as the Sun melteth wax, and hardneth clay. Hereby the Holy Ghost seemeth to signifie the imperfection & insufficiencie of these legall rites, which in their greatest vertue did but sanctifie to the purifying of the flesh, as the Apostle saith, Heb. 9. 13. & yet even then also, left the purifier himselſe in uncleanness, which he had not before. That by consideration of these effects, the people might bee led unto Christ and his Spirit, who is able to purge the conscience from dead workes, and to save them to the uttermost that come unto God by him, Heb. 9. 14. & 7. 25. The Hebrewes understand this of such as sprinkled or touched the water, when there was no need, as when no unclean person or vessell was to bee sprinkled with it. Maimony in Pharah, chap. 15.

22 Verſ. 22. whosoever] or whomsoever; Hebr. all, implying men, vessels, &c. the unclean] to wit, by the dead, of whom was spoken before. shall be unclean] to wit, untill evening, as the end of the verse sheweth: and this is an inferiour degree of uncleanness; for the man or vessell polluted by the dead, was unclean seven dayes, ver. 11. 14. but that which such an unclean man or vessell touched, was unclean till the end of that day. So in the Hebrew Canons, A man which is defiled by the dead, and the vessels which that man toucheth, are unclean seven dayes, as it is said. And yee shall wash your clothes in the seventh day, and yee shall be cleane (Num. 31. 24.) But a man that shall touch a man which is defiled by the dead, whether hee touch him after that hee is separated from the things that defiled him, or touch him while hee toucheth the dead, hee this second man is unclean till the evening, as it is said, (in Num. 19. 22.) And the soule that toucheth, shall be unclean untill the evening. Maim. in Tumath meth, chap. 5. sect. 2. the soule] in Chaldee, the man. that toucheth] to wit, him that is defiled, as before is noted; or, the thing which is defiled by the touch of an unclean man. Thus pollution passed from one thing to another, and from that other to a third; whereby God figured the congregation of sinne, spreading abroad, and infecting where it goeth; leaving uncleanness till the end of that day, and beginning of a new: then washing ourselves by repentance and faith in the blood of Christ, we are cleane. For we are buried with him by baptisme into death, that like as Christ was raised up from the dead, unto the glory of the father, even so we also should walke in newnesse of life, Rom. 6. 4.

CHAP. XX.

1 The children of Israel come to Zin, where Marie dieth. 2 They murmur for want of water. 7 The Lord biddeth Moses speake to the Rocke, and it should give forth water. 11 Moses smiteth the Rocke, and water commeth out. 12 The Lord is angry with Moses and Aaron for their unbelieve. 14 Moses at Kadesh desireth passage thorow Edom, which is denied him. 22 At mount Hor, Aaron resigneth his place to Ekazar his sonne, and dieth.

And the sons of Israel, even the whole congregation, came into the wilderness of Zin, in the first moneth; and the people abode in Kadesh, and Marie died there, and was buried there. And there was no water for the congregation; and they gathered themselves together against Moses and against Aaron. And the people contended with Moses; and they said, saying; And oh that wee had given up the ghost, when our brethren gave up the ghost, before Jehovah. And why have yee brought the Church of Jehovah into this wilderness to die there, we and our cattell? And why have ye made us to come up out of Egypt to bring us in, unto this evill place? it is no place of seed, or of figs, or vines, or of pomgranates, neither is there any water to drink. And Moses and Aaron went from the presence of the Church unto the doore of the Tent of the Congregation, & they fell upon their faces, and the glorie of Jehovah appeared unto them. And Jehovah spake unto Moses, saying; Take the rod, and gather together the Congregation, thou and Aaron thy brother, and speake yee unto the Rocke before their eyes, & it shall give forth his water: and thou shalt give forth to them water out of the Rocke; and thou shalt give the congregation and their cattell drink. And Moses took the rod from before Jehovah, as he commanded him. And Moses and Aaron gathered together the Church before the Rocke, and he said unto them, Heare now ye rebels, shall we bring forth water for you out of this rock?

And

- 11 And Moses lifted up his hand, and he smote the Rocke with his rod twice; and much water came out, & the Congregation drank, and their cattell.
- 12 And Iehovah said unto Moses and unto Aaron, Because ye beleevd not in mee, to sanctifie me, in the eyes of the sonnes of Israel, therefore ye shal not bring this Church into the land which I have given them. This is the water of Meribah, because the sonnes of Israel contended with Iehovah: and hee was sanctified in them.
- 13
- 14 And Moses sent messengers from Kadesh, unto the king of Edom: Thus saith thy brother Israel; Thou knowest all the travell that hath found us. And our fathers went downe into Egypt, and we have dwelt in Egypt many dayes, and the Egyptians did evill to us, and to our fathers. And wee cryed out unto Iehovah, and he heard our voice, and sent an Angell, and hath brought us forth out of Egypt; and behold, we are in Kadesh, a citie in the uttermost of thy border. Let us passe, I pray thee, thorow thy countrey; wee will not passe thorow the fields, or thorow the vineyards, neither will we drinke of the water of the well: we will go by the kings way, we will not turne aside, to the right hand or to the left, untill we have passed thy border.
- 17
- 18 And Edom said unto him; Thou shalt not passe thorow mee, lest I come out against thee with the sword. And the sonnes of Israel said unto him; Wee will goe up by the high-way; and if we drinke of thy water, I and my cattell, then I will give the price of it; only without doing any thing else, I will passe thorow on my feet. And he said, Thou shalt not passe thorow: And Edom came out against him with much people, and with a strong hand. And Edom refused to give Israel, to passe thorow his border; and Israel turned aside from him.
- 21
- 22 And they journeyed from Kadesh, & the sonnes of Israel, even the whole congregation, came unto mount Hor. And Iehovah said unto Moses and Aaron, in mount Hor, by the border of the land of Edom, saying;
- 23
- 24 Aaron shall be gathered unto his peoples: for hee shall not enter into the land which I have given unto the sons of Israel, because ye rebelled against my mouth at the water of Meribah.
- 25
- 26 Take Aaron and Eleazar his son, & bring them up unto mount Hor. And strip Aaron of his garments, and put them upon Eleazar his son, and Aaron shal be gathered and shall die there. And Moses did as Iehovah commanded, and they went up into mount Hor, in the eyes of all the congregation.
- 27

And Moses stripped Aaron of his garments, and put them upon Eleazar his son; and Aaron died there in the top of the mountaine; and Moses and Eleazar came down from the mountaine. And all the congregation saw, that Aaron had given up the ghost: and they wept for Aaron thirty daies, even all the house of Israel.

Annotations.

THe whole Congregation] to wit, of the next generation of the Israelites, when their fathers (according to the judgement threatned in Num. 14. 29, &c.) were for the most part now dead in the wilderness, as appeareth by Deut. 2. 14. 15. Zin] or Tsin: whereof see the notes on Num. 13. 21. Betweene Hazereth, mentioned in Num. 12. 16. and this place in Zin, where now they camped, there were eighteen other stations or resting places, whither the Israelites had come, Num. 33. 18. -- 36. the first moneth] to wit, of the fortieth year, after they were come out of Egypt, as appeareth by Num. 33. 38. compared with the 28. verse of this chapter, and Deut. 2. 1. -- 7. So this was the last year of Israels travel in the wilderness: and from the sending of the spies, Num. 13. unto this time, was about 38. yeares, Deut. 1. 22. 23. and 2. 14. In all which space, wee see how few things are recorded concerning Israel; and the things that are mentioned, are partly their murmurings & rebellions, by which they provoked God, & for which they were punished: partly the means of grace, reconciliation and sanctification, taught them of the Lord, to be obtained by Iesus Christ, figured by the sacrifices and ordinances which Moses shewed them; that it might appeare, that where sinne abounded, grace did much more abound, Rom. 5. 20. abode in Kadesh] about foure moneths they staid here; then removing to mount Hor, there Aaron died; the first day of the fift moneth, Num. 33. 38. This Kadesh (which the Chaldees nameth Reham;) was either another wilderness, or another place in the wilderness, than that from which the spies were sent, Num. 13. 26. called Kadesh barmia, Deut. 1. 19. Chazkuni here saith, This is not the Kadesh whereof it is said, and yee abode in Kadesh many dayes (Deut. 1. 46.) for that Kadesh is El-Pharan (Gen. 14. 6.) and is called Kadesh-barmia, and from thence the spies were sent; but this Kadesh in Num. 20. is in the wilderness of Zin, in the border of the land of Edom. After the rebellion of the spies, God sent the people backe againe thorow the wilderness towards the red Sea, Num. 14. 25. (where they might renew the memoriall of their baptisme, 1. Cor. 10. 2.) and from Ezion gaber (which is a port on the shore of the red sea, 1. Kin. 9. 26.) they removed next to this Kadesh, Nu. 33. 36. So Iephthah saith, Israel walked thorow the wilderness unto the red sea, & came to Kadesh, Iudg. 11. 16.

Marie] Hebr. Mirjam; in Greeke, Mariam: she was sister to Moses and Aaron, and a Prophetesse, by whom God guided the Israelites in their travels, as it is written, I sent before thee, Moses, Aaron, and Marie, Mic. 6.4. Of her, see Exod. 15. 20, Numb. 12. In this fortieth year of Israels travell, God tooke from them by death, Marie their Prophetesse, in the first moneth; Aaron their Priest, in the fift moneth, Numb. 33. 38. and Moses their King in the end of the yeare, Deut. 1. 3. and 34. 5. When these three ministers of the Law were deceased, Iesus the sonne of Nun (a figure of Iesus the sonne of God) bringeth them into the promised land, Ios. 1. 1. 2. &c. so after the abrogating of the Law, our Lord Iesus Christ bringeth us into the kingdome of God, Mar. 1. 15. Rom. 7. 4. 5. 6. Dan. 9. 24.

2 Vers. 2. there was no water] In the first yeare, when they were come out of Egypt to Rephidim in the wilderness, they wanted water, Exod. 17. and in this last, the fortieth yeare, they wanted water againe: here God tried the children, as hee had done the Fathers, and they also rebelled against him. And many things were like in both places. That Rephidim was the tenth encamping place or station from Egypt: this in Kades was the tenth encamping place before they entred Canaan, as by their rehearfall of their journies in Numb. 33. is to be seene. There the people in their thirst, in stead of praying unto God, contended with Moses, and murmured for that hee had brought them out of Egypt, Exod. 17. 2. 3. here they doe the same, verse 3. 4. There Moses cried unto the Lord for the outrage of the people, Exod. 17. 4. here Moses & Aaron fall downe before the Lord, ver. 6. There God promised and gave them water out of the Rock, Exod. 17. 6. here he doth likewise, v. 8. There God willed Moses to take his rod: here also hee commandeth him, Take the rod. There the Lord promised to stand before Moses, Exod. 17. 6. here his glory appeareth unto him and Aaron, v. 6. There Moses by commandement smiting the Rock with his rod, waters came out of it: here he smiting the Rock without commandement, waters came out. There the place was named Meribah or Contention, Exod. 17. 7. here the place is named Meribah, ver. 13. That was the peoples sixt rebellion, after they were come out of Egypt, as is noted on Num. 14. 22. this was their sixt rebellion after they were come from mount Sinai, (if we except the private murmuring of Marie and Aaron against Moses, Num. 12.) For the first was at Taberah, Num. 11. 1. 3. the next at Kibroth battaavah, Num. 11. 24. then in the wilderness of Pharan, Numb. 14. 1. 2. after that followed the rebellion of Korah and his company, Num. 16. and after it, of al the cōgregation, for the death of those rebels, Num. 16. 4. 1. now the sixt is in Kadesh.

3 Vers. 3. contended] chode with bitter and reproachfull words, which the Greeke translateth, reviled: see Exod. 17. 2. And ob] or, And would God. The word And, sheweth the passion of mind, out of which they spake abruptly: see the notes on Gen. 27. 28. and Num. 11. 29. we had given up the ghost] in Chaldee, wee had died: in Greeke, we had perished in the perdition of our brethren, before the Lord: whereby they seeme specially to meane the pestilence (the last plague wherewith their brethren died, Numb. 16. 49.) which pest, above other judgements, commeth most immediately from the hand of God, as David acknowledgeth, 2. Sam. 24. 14. 15. And this evill they wished, as being easier than to perish with hunger or thirst: as the Prophet also complaineth, They that be slaine with the sword, are better than they that bee slaine with hunger: for these pine away, stricken sorrow for the fruits of the field; Lam. 4. 9. Wherefore they here use the word giving up (or breathing out) the ghost; which seemeth to meane a more easie kind of death, than that which is by force of sword, or by hunger, or thirst, or other like violent meanes. So the Hebrewes explaine, giving up the ghost, to be a death without paine or long sickness.

Vers. 4. to die there] understand, that wee should die there with thirst; the Greeke translateth, to kill us and our children, which words they spake in Exodus 17. 3.

Vers. 5. of seed] to sow seed in, or to plant fig-trees, vines, &c. for the wilderness was a land of deserts and of pits, a land of drough, and of the shadow of death, a land that no man passed thorow, and where no man dwelt, Ier. 2. 6. Otherwise had there beene commodiousnesse of place, the Israelites might have sown and reaped, planted and gathered fruits in those 38. yeares, which they abode therein, Deut. 2. 14.

Vers. 6. from the presence] or, from the face, for feare of them, and because of their outrage: so in Revel. 12. 14. Psal. 3. 1. fell on their faces] in prayer unto God, whose glory dwelled in that Sanctuary: so in Exod. 17. 4. Moses cried unto the LORD. See Numb. 16. 4. 45. appeared] in the cloud, as Num. 12. 5. a signe that hee heard their prayer, and would save them: see Num. 14. 10. and 16. 19. 42.

Vers. 8. Take the rod] in Greeke, Take thy rod: so God spake before, in Exodus 17. 5. but here, some gather from verse 9. that it was the rod of Aaron which had budded, and was laid up before the Testimony, Num. 17. 10. Chazkuni saith, *This was Aarons rod, for loe it is here written (in verse 9.) And Moses took the rod from before the LORD, and this was the rod of Aaron, as it is written (in Numb. 17. 10.) Bring Aarons rod againe before the Testimony, to be kept for a signe against the finnes of rebellion: and forasmuch as Aarons rod was a signe against the finnes of rebellion, hereupon Moses said (in verse 10.) Heare now yee rebels. Howbeit Moses rod (which is also called the rod of God, Exodus 4. 20. and 17. 9.) might be kept also in the Sanctuary: and after in verse 11. it is said, Moses smote the Rocke with his rod. speake yee unto the Rocke] Hee saith not, smite the Rocke: yet in verse 11. Moses smote the Rocke; and in verse 10. he spake to the people; but it is not said that he spake to the rocke, as here hee was commanded. Some others thinke, that Gods intendment in bidding him, Take*

Take the rod, was to smite the Rock with it; and that hee sinned not in smiting it, but in unbeliefe, for which he is blamed in verse 12. it shall give forth his water] or, the waters of it: this promise of God, was that whereon the faith of Moses and Aaron should have rested. thou shalt bring forth] God was he that brought forth, and gave water to the people, as is often mentioned to his glory; He clave the Rock in the wilderness, and gave drinke, as out of the great deeps, and brought forth streames out of the Rock, &c. Psal. 78. 15. 16. So in Psal. 105. 41. and 114. 8. Deut. 8. 15. Nehem. 9. 15. 20. But that worke is here ascribed to Moses ministerially, for that the waters should come out at his speaking. So in other workes of grace, the Ministers of the word are called Saviours, Obad. vers. 21. for in the faithfull performance of their office, they both save themselves, and those that heare them, 1 Tim. 4. 16.

9 Vers. 9. from before Jehovah] that is, out of the Tabernacle; for so the phrase importeth, as in Num. 17. 7. Exod. 16. 13. 34.

10 Vers. 10. Hear now ye rebels] As here hee speaketh to the people, who was bidden speake to the Rock, verse 8. so the manner of his speech sheweth great passion of mind, more than at other times: and the Scripture noteth, that now the people had bitterly provoked his spirit, so that he spake unadvisedly (uttering his anger) with his lips, Psal. 106. 33. shall we bring forth water] a speech of doubting and unbeliefe, both in Moses and Aaron, as in verse 12. God blameth them because they beleeved not in him. So before, when Moses said, Shall the flocks and the herds be slain for them, &c. he was blamed with this answer, Is the Lords hand waxed short? Num. 11. 22. 23. Moses was fore moved against this latter generation of Israelites, who had scene so many miracles, & their fathers perished for rebellion, and yet they were not bettered: hee might feare, lest for their sinning like their fathers, the Lord would leave them, as hee after speaketh in Numb. 32. 14. 15.

11 Vers. 11. lifted up his hand] another signe of indignation, being joyned with smiting. twice] the doubling of his stroke shewed also the heat of his anger. Sol. Iarchi (on this place) conjectureth, that he smote it twice, because at first it brought forth but drops, (of water) because God had not bidden him smite it, but speake unto it. much water] or, many waters. Hee clave the rocks in the wilderness, and gave drinke, as out of the great deeps, Psal. 78. 15. The unbeliefe of man maketh not the faith of God without effect, Rom. 3. 3. Moses and Aaron beleeved not God, to sanctifie him, verse 12. yet he faithfully kept his promise, & sanctified himselfe, verse 13. the Congregation drinke] Thus the Lord knew his people in the wilderness, in the land of droughts, Hof. 13. 5. And they thirsted not, when hee led them thorow the desert; he caused the waters to flow out of the rocks for them: hee clave the rocks also, and the waters gushed out, Esay 48. 21. The water out of the Rocke, besides the refreshing which it gave unto their bodies, was also a spirituall drinke, from that spirituall Rocke Christ, 1 Cor. 10. 4.

who being smitten for our transgressions, Esay 53. with the rod of the Law, which worketh wrath, Rom. 4. 15. from him proceed the living water, wherewith the Israel of God may quench their thirst for ever, Ioh. 4. 10. 14. For who so *beleeve*th in him, out of his belly shall flow rivers of living water, even the waters of the holy Ghost, Ioh. 7. 38. 39. To these waters, every one that thirsteth is called to come freely, Esai. 55. 1. Rev. 22. 17. their cattell] that water, which was both a naturall and spirituall refreshing to the people, is given also to the beasts for their naturall thirst, because the signes and seales of Gods grace are such in respect of the use of them, to those unto whom they are sanctified of God for that purpose. So the waters of Iordan were sanctified for Baptisme, unto repentance and beleeving sinners, Matth. 3. 6. which out of that use were common waters. And now, not only the Israelites cattell, but the wild beasts also of the wilderness, had benefit by this mercy of God to his people: whereunto the Lord hath reference, when he saith by his Prophet, The beasts of the field shall know me, the dragons and the owles, because I give waters in the wilderness, rivers in the desert, to give drinke to my people, my chosen, Esay 43. 20.

V. 12. ye beleeved not in me] the Chaldee expoundeth it, ye beleeved not in my word. Thus unbeliefe was here the chiefe sinne, and cause of other sins, as before in the people, Numb. 14. so here in Moses and Aaron, who were both partners in the transgression. And this their sinne is called a rebellion against the mouth of the Lord, Numb. 27. 14. and a transgression, Deut. 32. 51. which word, as R. Menachem here noteth, implieth, falsehood, as in Levit. 6. 2. it is joyned with false deni- all: and the Apostle saith, *Hee that beleeve*th not God, hath made him a lye, 1 Ioh. 5. 10. to sanctifie me] inwardly in the heart by faith, outwardly by obedience, to doe that which I commanded, and by both to ascribe unto me the glory of my truth and power. So when it is said, Sanctifie the Lord of hosts, Esay 8. 13. the Apostle expoundeth it, Sanctifie the Lord God in your hearts, 1 Pet. 3. 15. in the eyes] the Greeke translate it, before the sons of Israel. This seemeth to be the reason of Gods severity at this time against Moses and Aaron, more than before, when Moses bewrayed also his unbeliefe, in Numb. 11. 21. 22. 23. because he now publicly dishonoured God before all the people, (which did aggravate the sin) whereas the former time he did it not in their eyes, but in private before the Lord. therefore] Chazkuni obser- veth, that this word implieth an oath. Neither indeed could Moses repentance or prayer get this sentence to be reversed: for when the Lord hath sworne, he will not repent, Psal. 110. 4. ye shall not bring] This chastisement was grievous unto Moses, so that he besought the Lord that hee might goe over, & see the good land; but the Lord was wroth with him for the peoples sakes, & would not hear him, Deut. 3. 23. 16. And as God here spake, so it came to passe; for Aaron died in mount Hor, Num. 20. 24. 28. and Moses on mount Nebo, after he had seene the land with his eyes, but might not goe over thither, Deut. 34. The Psalmist saith, Thou wast unto them a God that forgiveth, and taking vengeance on their practises, Psal. 99. 8. Moses the Minister of the Law, though hee guided Israel thorow the wilderness, to the borders of the promised land, yet could not bring the people thereinto; but Iesus (or Iosua) his successor, gave them the possession of it, to signifie, that the Law (which worketh wrath, Rom. 4. 15.) and the workes thereof (by which no flesh shall be justified, Gal. 2. 16.) cannot bring us into the kingdome of God; but Iesus Christ (who hath loved us, and given himselfe for us) giveth us by faith the inheritance of the heavenly kingdome, Rom. 4. 24. 25. and 5. 1. 2. &c. Gal. 2. 16. and 3. 13. 14. &c.

he

13 Ver. 13. of Meribah] that is, of Contention, or Strife; which the Greeke translateth, of Contradiction; so called for a memoriall of their sinne, and for a warning to ages following, not to doe the like; whereupon it is said by David, Harden not your heart, as in Meribah, Psal. 95. 8. The same name was given to the former place in Rephidim, Exo. 17. 7. To distinguish betweene them, the Scripture calleth this, Meribah of Kadesh, in the wilderness of Zin, Deut. 32. 51. contended with Iehovah] in that they contended with Moses, verse 3. it is accounted as contention against the Lord himselfe, as he told them before, in Exod. 16. 8. The Greeke translateth, reviled before the Lord. hee was sanctified] or, hee sanctified himselfe in them. Though Moses and Aaron sanctified him not by faith and obedience, yet was he sanctified among the people, by the worke of his grace, in giving waters for their thirst. Or, hee was sanctified in them, that is, in Moses and Aaron, as Targum Jonathan explaineth it: for by punishing their rebellion, hee sanctified himselfe in them; as it is written, That the heathen may know me, when I shall be sanctified in thee, O God, before their eyes; where it is understood of punishment; as it followeth, And I will plead against him with pestilence, and with blood, &c. thus will I magnifie my selfe, and sanctifie my selfe, and I will be knowne in the eyes of many nations, Ezek. 38. 16. 22. 23. See also the Annotations on Levit. 10. 3. And thus Sol. Iarchi expoundeth it, in them, for Moses and Aaron died because of them; for when the holy blessed God doth judgement, &c. hee sanctifieth himselfe before his creatures; and so it is said, Fearefull art thou, O God, out of thy Sanctuaries, Psalme 68. 36.

14 Ver. 14. Edom] the Edomites, the posterity of Esau, who was surnamed Edom, Gen. 25. 30. and 36. 1. This message which Moses sent unto Edom, and all things about it following, were done by the direction and word of God, as appeareth by Deut. 2. 1. 2. 4. &c. thy brother Israel] so the whole nation is called, because Iakob, whose name was called Israel, Gen. 32. 28. was naturall brother to Esau: and this title of brotherhood continued long after, as in Obad. ver. 10. 12. Also the Law saith, Thou shalt not abhorre an Edomite, for he is thy brother, Deut. 23. 7. travell that hath found us] the wearisome molestation that hath befallen us. See the like phrase in Exod. 18. 8. Nehem. 9. 32.

Ver. 15. into Egypt.] The history hereof is in Gen. 46. dwelt] Hebr. sitten, that is, continued; in Greeke, sojourned. Many dayes] see Exod. 12. 40. Did evill] afflicted with rigorous bondage, and other cruelty: see Exod. 1. &c.

Ver. 16. Wee cried out] as is recorded in Exod. 2. 23. an Angell] This was Christ: See Exod. 3. 2. and 14. 19. and 23. 20. with the Annotations. Some of the Hebrewes understand it of Moses, because the Prophets are called Angels or Messengers, as in Iudg. 2. 1. 2. Chron. 36. 15. 16. Hag. 1. 13. in Kadesh a citie] or, by Kadesh, to wit, in the wilderness lying neere, and having the name of Kadesh the citie, Num. 33. 36. The Chaldees here and usually nameth it Rekam.

Ver. 17. thorow thy countrey] because it was the neere way: therefore when Edom refused to let them goe thorow, they turned and passed by the way of the wilderness of Moab, Deut. 2. 8. Iudg. 11. 17. 18. the vineyards] to rob, or make spoile of any mans goods. water of the well] that is, of the wells, or, of any well: the Greeke translateth, of thy well: Meaning either that they would not drinke without paying for it, as in verse 19. or, that they would drinke of the rivers which were common, not of wells which were private, and digged of men for their owne use. the kings way] that is, the high way, which is common for all to passe by, verse 19. So againe in Numb. 31. 22.

Ver. 18. Not passe thorow me] that is, thorow my countrey, verse 17. as the Chaldees explaineth it, thorow my border. See the like phrase in Deut. 2. 30. Rom. 15. 28. lest I come] it is a threatening which the Greeke explaineth, otherwise I will come: See the Annotations on Gen. 3. 3. with the sword] the Chaldees expoundeth it, with them that kill with the sword; the Greeke, in warre. It had beene the dutie of Edom, to have met their brother Israel with bread and with water in the way, as God speaketh of the Moabites, Deut. 23. 4. but by this unkindnesse the Lord would have his people to see, how all worldly friends and kindred after the flesh will faile them, yea and oppose them, that their hope and strength may be in him alone, Mat. 10. 21. 22.

Ver. 19. the high way] or causey; that which before was called the Kings way, verse 17. the Greeke here translateth it, the mountaine. the price] Hebr. the sale; which both Greeke and Chaldees translate, the price. This was so commanded of God, Yee shall buy meat of them for money, that ye may eat: and yee shall also buy water of them for money, that ye may drinke. For Iehovah thy God hath blessed thee in all the worke of thine hand, Deut. 2. 6. 7. without doing any thing else] Hebr. without a word, that is, without any thing; which the Chaldees explaineth, any evill thing (or word.)

Ver. 20. with much people] Hebr. with an hevie people; which the Chaldees expoundeth, a great army. The Scripture confirmeth this; as that which in 1 King. 3. 9. is written an hevie (or weighty) people, is in 2 Chron. 1. 10. expounded a great people. This coming out was to resist Israel by force & strong strong hand, for Edom was afraid of them, Deut. 2.4. and trusted not their words.

21 Ver. 21. to give] that is, to suffer, or to give Israel leave to pass, as the Chaldee expoundeth it. Notwithstanding, as they went along their coast, the Edomites suffered them to buy victuals of them, as appeareth by Deut. 2.28.29.

turned aside] and went along thorow the wilderness, and compassed the land of Edom, Iudg. 11.18. For the Lord had charged them that they should not meddle with the sonnes of Esau, or their possession, Deut. 2.4.5. So Targum Jonathan here paraphraseth, they were commanded by the word of (the God of) heaven, that they should not wage warre with them, because the time was not yet come, when he would execute vengeance on Edom by their hands. Thus Israel suffered patiently the unkindnesse of Edom, and obeyed the Lord herein, though the way which they after went thorow the wilderness, was very grievous unto them, and their soules were discouraged because of the same, Numb. 31.4.5.

22 Ver. 22. mount Hor] a mount in the edge of the land of Edom, and the next resting place which they came unto from Kadesh, Num. 33.37. The name it selfe signifieth a mount, for Hor in Hebrew is a mountaine; and Sol. Iarchi here explaineth it, a mountaine upon a mountaine: Targum Jonathan nameth it, mount Omanos.

24 Ver. 24. gathered unto his people] that is, die, and be buried, and his soule be among the spirits of just men made perfect, as Hebr. 12.23. Gathering signifieth here taking away by death, as in verse 26. and in Esay 57.1. mercifull men are gathered, that is, taken away: and that which is gathered, is the spirit of man, as in Psalm. 104.20. thou gatherest their spirit, they give up the ghost, and returne unto their dust. The peoples meane the Fathers deceased, as is spoken of David in Act. 13.36. and in Iudg. 2.20. all that generation were gathered unto their fathers. So his peoples here, are Aarons godly fore-fathers: as David desireth the contrary, Gather not my soule with sinners, Psalm. 26.9. See the Annotations on Gen. 25.8. rebelled against my mouth] that is, against my word, as the Chaldee expoundeth it: the Greeke saith, ye provoked me. See before on verse 12.

26 Ver. 26. strip Aaron] or, disaray Aaron of his garments, meaning of his Priestly robes, the garments of holinesse, which Moses had made him for honour, and for beautifull glory, Exod. 28.2. and which at his consecration to the Priesthood Moses had put upon him, Levit. 8.7.8.9. So Targum Jonathan expoundeth it, strip Aaron of the honourable garments of the Priesthood. The taking off of these garments, and putting them upon Eleazar, signified the taking away of his office & dignity, and giving the same to another: as by alike similitude God said unto Shebna the treasurer, I will drive thee from thy station, and from thy state shall be pulled thee downe. And it shall be in that day, that I will call my servant Eliakim, the sonne of Hilkiah, and I will cloath him with thy robe, and strengthen him with thy girdle, and I will commit thy government into his hand, and hee shall be a father to the inhabi- tants of Ierusalem, &c. Esay 22.15.19.20.21. As by Aarons offering for his own sins first, and then for the sinnes of the people, Levit. 16.6.11.15. the holy Ghost shewed the inability of the legall Priesthood (in comparison with Christs) to reconcile men unto God, Heb. 7.26.27.28. so by this disaray and death of Aaron, hee signified the disanulling of that Priesthood, for the weaknesse and unprofitablenesse thereof, Heb. 7.11.—13. When therefore the same hands of Moses, which had put on the garments, did pull them off, and now at this time for the sin which the high Priest had committed, verse 12. Deut. 32.50.51. they and all the people were taught to expect a better Priesthood of the Son of God, who is perfected for evermore, Heb. 7.28.

Eleazar his sonne] This was a comfort to all, especially to Aaron the father, that the Priestly function ended not with the death of the Priest, but was derived to his posterity, & so continued thorow all ages, till Christ came, who is a Priest for ever, after the order of Melchisedek the true Eleazar, that is, the Helpe of God; who is made, not after the law of a carnall commandment, but after the power of an endlesse life, Hebr. 7.11.16. Wherefore to signifie the continuance of his grace and love to the Church, God promised that the Priests the Levites should not want a man before him, to offer Burnt-offerings, and to kindle Meat-offerings, and to doe sacrifice continually, Ier. 33.18. So Aaron did behold in the cloathing of his sonne, a type of his owne, and of all Israels salvation, that his death might not be bitter unto him, but hee might depart in peace, because his eyes did see (though as a farre off) the salvation of God, as Luke 2.29.30. shall be gathered] unto his peoples, verse 24.

and shall die] Hee that before in the worke of his Priesthood, made atonement for the people, and stood betweene the dead and the living, and the plague was stayed, Numb. 16.47.48. now dieth himselfe, for his owne sinne: an evident demonstration of the insufficiencie of the Leviticall Priesthood. Whereupon the Apostle teacheth, that they were many Priests, because they were not suffered to continue by reason of death. But Christ, because hee continueth ever, hath a Priesthood which passeth not from one to another: wherefore hee is able also to save them to the uttermost, that come unto God by him, seeing hee ever liveth to make intercession for them, Heb. 7.23.24.25.

28 Ver. 28. Moses stripped Aaron] The actions of Moses signified the effects of his ministry and Law, 2. Cor. 3.13. Whereas therefore he unvested Aaron, by reason of sin and death which was to ensue, it shewed that no Priest who was a sinner, and under the power of death, could satisfie the justice of the Law, and avoid the wrath of God: so the legall Priesthood now might say, Hee hath stripped me of my glory, and taken the crowne from my head, Iob 19.9. Again in putting the priestly garments upon Eleazar (who was before this, the Prince of the Princes of the Levites, Numb. 3.32.) he signified, that the Law had a shadow of good things to come, Hebr. 10.1. and therefore the blessings figured thereby, should not be frustrate, but continued under hope by succession, till he should come unto whom whom the right of the high Priesthood belonged, even the Branch that should build the Temple of the Lord, and should bear the glory, and sit and rule upon his throne, and should be a Priest upon his throne, and the counsell of peace be betweene them both, Zach. 6. 12. 13. Ier. 33. 18. Thus the Law was a Schoolemaster unto Christ, Gal. 3. 24. It may also be observed, how among the Gentiles, their prophets and prophetesses, who did weare some ornaments and ensignes of their dignity, used solemnly to put them off before their death, as resigning them up unto God, and judging it an unmeet thing to die in them, as appeareth by the example of Cassandra, in the Greek Poet Æchylus, and of Amphiaras the Prophet, in Statius Papinius, Thebaid. 7. top of the mountaine] Things that were very memorable and significative, are oftē noted in Scripture to be done in mountains, as being conspicuous, remarkable, and implying high and heavenly mysteries. So the Arke of Noe rested on mount Ararat, Gen. 8. 4. Abraham sacrificed his sonne on mount Morijah, Gen. 22. 2. &c. as the Sonne of God was sacrificed on Calvary, Luke 23. 33. The Law of Moses was given upon mount Sinai, Exod. 19. the Law of Christ came from mount Sion, Mic. 4. 1. 2. and on a mountaine he preached the Gospell, & expounded the Law, Matth. 5. 1. &c. Ezekiel in a vision was shewed the city called The Lord is there, upon a very high mountaine, Ezek. 42. &c. & 48. 35. Iohn was also shewed the same citie upon a great high mountaine, Rev. 21. 10. &c. Moses himself on the mountaine of Nebo, viewed all the promised land, & died there, Deut. 34. 1. - 5. & was with Christ when he was transfigured, and spake of his death, upon an high mountaine, Mat. 17. 1. 2. 3. Luke 9. 30. 31. and now he was with Aaron at his death, & translation of the Priesthood from him unto Eleazar, where he also beheld the levitical Priesthood a far off, and so the translation of it, & of the law thereof, unto Christ, whose day he desired, Heb. 11. 22.

29 Verf. 29. saw that Aaron had given up the ghost] seeing is here for perceiving by knowledge and understanding, as by the relation of Moses and Eleazar, as also that Aaron came not down with them. So Iakob saw that there was come in Egypt, when he heard thereof, Gen. 42. 1. Act. 7. 12. The people saw the voices, Exod. 20. 18. and sundry the like. Here also they might see the hand of God, chastising their sinne upon Aaron, who died now not onely for his owne transgression, but for their sakes, as Moses after speaketh of himselfe, The Lord was wroth with me for your sakes, Deut. 3. 26. yet in beholding his Priesthood continued in his son, they might also behold Gods mercy towards them in Christ, who should perfectly reconcile them unto God, when the Priesthood of the Law, which now began to die away, should utterly be abolished. they wept] that is, they murmured. For publike persons, the whole congregation mourned, as here for Aaron, so for the death of his sons, Lev. 10. 6. and for the death of Moses, Deut. 34. 8. thirty dayes] See the Annotations on Gen. 50. 10. Mourning for the dead is honourable, & here the people mourne for Aaron thirty dayes, whom they had dishonoured by rebelling against him forty yeares. So long also they wept for Moses, Deut. 34. 8. and it is the lot of many of the servants of God, to have more honour after their death, than in their life. As Mary the sister, the prophetesse of Israel, died in the first moneth, verse 1. so Aaron the high Priest died in the first day of the fifth moneth, in the fortieth yeare after their comming out of Egypt, when he was 123. yeares old, Num. 33. 38. 39. His buriall also (though here omitted) is spoken of in Deut. 10. 6.

CHAP. XXI.

1 The Canaanites fight with Israel, and captive some of them; but Israel by a vow, obtaine helpe of God, and destroy them and their cities. 4 The people murmuring because of their wants in the way, are plagued with fiery serpents. 7 They repenting, are healed by a brazen serpent. 10 Sundry journeyes of the Israelites. 16 Their song at Beer, for water which God gave them. 21 They requesting passage thorow the Amorites country, are denied it. 24 Israel vanquisheth them, and Sihon their King, and possesseth their cities. 27 Proverbs or Prophecies of Sihons overthrow. 33 Og King of Basan fighteth against Israel, and is also vanquished, and Israel possesseth his land.

AND the Canaanite the King of Arad, which dwelt in the South, heard that Israel came, the way of the spies: and he fought against Israel, and tooke captive of them, a captivity. And Israel vowed a vow unto Iehovah, and said: If giving thou wilt give this people into my hand, then I will utterly destroy their cities. And Iehovah hearkened to the voice of Israel, & gave up the Canaanite, & they utterly destroyed them and their cities: & he called the name of the place Hormah.

And they journeyed from mount Hor, by the way of the red sea, to compass the land of Edom; and the soule of the people was shortned, because of the way. And the people spake against God, and against Moses; Wherefore have ye brought us up out of Egypt, to die in the wilderness: for there is no bread, neither is there water, & our soule loatheth this light bread. And Iehovah sent among the people fiery serpents, & they bit the people, & much people of Israel died. And the people came to Moses, & said; We have sinned: for we have spokē against Iehovah, & against thee; Pray unto Iehovah, that he take away the serpents from us; & Moses prayed for the people. And Iehovah said unto Moses, Make thee a fiery serpent, & put it upō a pole; & it shal be, that every one that is bitten bitten, when hee looketh upon it, shall live.

9 And Moses made a serpent of brasse, and put it upon a pole; and it was, that if a serpent had bitten a man, when he bee held the serpent of brasse, he lived.

10 And the sonnes of Israel journeyed, and 11 encamped in Oboth. And they journeyed from Oboth, and encamped in Ije Abarim, in the wilderness which is before Moab, toward the Sunne-rising. From thence they journeyed, and camped in the valley of Zared. From thence they journeyed, and 13 camped on the other side of Arnon, which is in the wilderness, which commeth out of the border of the Amorite; for Arnon is the border of Moab, betweene Moab and the Amorite.

14 Wherefore it is said in the booke of the wars of Iehovah, Vaheb in a whirlewind, and 15 the brookes of Arnon. And the stream of the brookes, which declineth to the situation of Ar, and leaneth upon the border of Moab.
16 And from thence to Beer, that is, the Well whereof Iehovah said unto Moses, Gather together the people; and I will give them water.

17 Then sang Israel this Song: Spring up O
18 Well, answer ye unto it. The Wel, the Princes digged it, the Nobles of the people delved it, with the Law-giver, with their staves: And from the wilderness, (they journeyed) to 19 Mattanah. And from Mattanah to Nahaliel, and from Nahaliel to Bamoth. And from 20 Bamoth to the valley which is in the field of Moab, the head of Pisgah, and it looketh toward Iehimon.

21 And Israel sent messengers unto Sihon
22 King of the Amorites, saying: Let me passe thorow thy land; we will not turn aside into field, or into vineyard; we will not drinke of the waters of the wel; we wil go in the kings
23 way until we be past thy border. And Sihon would not grant Israel to passe thorow his border: but Sihon gathered together all his people, and went out against Israel into the wilderness; and hee came to Iahaz, and 24 fought against Israel. And Israel smote him with the edge of the sword, and possessed his land, from Arnon unto Iabbok, even unto the sons of Ammon; for the border of the 25 sons of Ammon was strong. And Israel took all these cities, and Israel dwelt in all the cities of the Amorite, in Heshbon, and in all 26 the daughters thereof. For Heshbon was the citie of Sihon, the King of the Amorites: and he had fought against the former king of Moab, and taken all his land out of his hand, even unto Arnon. Wherefore they that 27 speak in proverbs, say, Come into Heshbon, let the city of Sihon be built and prepared.

For a fire is gone out from Heshbon, a 28 flame from the citie of Sihon; it hath consumed Ar of Moab, the Lords of the high places of Arnon. Woe to thee, Moab, thou 29 art perished, o people of Chemosh: he hath given his sonnes that escaped, & his daughters into captivity, unto Sihon, the king of the Amorites. And their lamp is perished
30 from Heshbon, even unto Dibon; and wee have laid them waste even unto Nophah, which reacheth unto Medeba. And Israel
31 dwelt in the land of the Amorite. And Moses sent to spy out Iazer, and they tooke the daughters thereof, and drove out the Am-32 orite that was there. And they turned, & went up the way of Bashan; and Og the king of Bashan went out against them, he and all his 33 people, to the battell at Edrei. And Iehovah said unto Moses, Feare him not, for into thy 34 hand have I given him, and all his people; and his land; and thou shalt doe unto him as thou diddest unto Sihon king of the Am-35 orites, which dwelt in Heshbon. And they smote him, and his sonnes, and all his people, untill there was none left him remaining; and they possessed his land.

Annotations.

King of Arad] Arad seemeth to be the name of the citie where the King reigned, as in Ios. 12. 14. and so the Chaldee here explaineth it.
in the South] the South part in the land of Canaan, Numb. 33. 40. the way of the spies] or, the way of Atharim, as the Greek version retaineth the Hebrew name, as proper; and it might be a way so called, and well knowne in that time. But the Chaldee translateth it, the way of the spies; meaning that they came towards Canaan, after they had beene turned back towards the red sea, Num. 14.
25. and had beene at Ezlon-gaber, Numb. 33. 35.
they returned towards Canaan againe, along by Edoms coast, to come unto the land which the spies had searched, Num. 13. a captivity] that is, some captives, or prisoners. So captivity is used for captives, or people taken in warre, in Num. 31. 12.
Iudg. 5. 12. 2. Chron. 28. 5. & often: as poverty, for a company of poore people, 2. Kin. 24. 10. & spoile, for spoiled people, Amos 5. 9. thanksgivings, for a company of thanksgivers, Neh. 12. 31. and many the like. The Canaanites having heard of the overthrow which was given Israel, 38. yeares before, Numb. 14. 45. & of the hand of God against them so long in the wilderness, were hardned & emboldned to encounter them now when they heard

heard againe of their comming; and Satan endeavoured hereby to discourage Israel, that as their fathers through unbeliefe being afraid, entred not into the promised land, Deut. 1. 27. 32. 35. so the children also might be deprived. And God for a chastisement of their sins, and for the triall of their faith, suffereth the enemy at first to prevaile, that his people might know that they should not conquer the land by their own strength or for their own worthinesse, Pl. 44. 3. 4. Deut. 9. 4.

2 Verſ. 2. vowed a vow] calling upon God for helpe, and religiously promising to devote unto him their enemies and all their substance. See the Annotations on Gen. 28. 20.

If giving thou wilt give] that is, if thou wilt indeed give; and it implyeth a prayer, which often is uttered after this manner: as, Iabez called on the God of Israel, saying, If blessing thou wilt blesse me, &c. 1. Chron. 4. 10.

utterly destroy] or, devote; in Greeke, anathematize: things devoted after this manner, the persons were to die, their goods confiscate to the Lord, Levit. 27. 28. 29. So when Iericho was devoted, the people and beasts were killed, the citie burnt, the goods carried into the Lords treasury, Ios. 6. 17. 19. 21. 24.

3 Verſ. 3. hearkned to the voice] that is, as the Chaldee explaineth it, received the prayer of Israel.

gave up the Canaanite] to wit, into their hand, as the Greeke here repeateth from verſe 2.

they utterly destroyed] Hebr. bee utterly destroyed, or devoted, speaking of Israel, as of one body. But how could they being so farre off in the wilderness, destroy their cities, lying within Canaan, Num. 33. 40. into which they came not, till after Moses death? It seemeth the accomplishment of this vow was performed long after, when they were come into the land. For the King of Arad is reckoned for one of those that Iosua conquered, Ios. 12. 14. See also Iudg. 1. 16. 17. They now conquered the Canaanites army that came out against them, and devoted the spoiles which they tooke; and when their cities came into their possession, they utterly destroyed & devoted them, and so payed their vow, which now they promised.

bee called] or, they called, meaning Israel, unlesse it be applyed in speciall to Moses. The Greeke translateth they called.

Hormab] or Chormab; in Greeke, Anathema, that is, Devotement, or utter destruction. By this name they both set up a memoriall of Gods mercy, who gave their enemies into their hand; and of their duty, to keepe the vow which they had promised.

4 Verſ. 4. to compass the land] because Edom had denied them passage thorow it, Num. 20. 18. 21. by reason whereof their travell was increased.

soule of the people was shortned] or, was strained, that is, was grieved, or discouraged. This word, when it is applyed to the hand, signifieth inability, as in Numb. 11. 23. Esay 37. 27. 2. King. 19. 26. unto the soule (as in this place) it meaneth griefe, vexation, or discomfort; so in Iudges 16. 16. Samsons soule was shortned (that is, vexed) unto death; and in Iudg. 10. 16. the Lords soule was shortned, (that is, grieved) for the misery of Israel: and sometime it is with a kind of loathing, as in Zach. 11. 8. my soule was shortned for them, that is, loathed them. A like phrase is of the shortnes of the spirit, which also signifieth anguish, trouble, and vexation, as in Exod. 6. 6. Iob 21. 4. and want of power, as in Mic. 2. 7. The Greeke here translateth, the people was feeble minded, or of small soule, or courage.

because of the way] or, in the way: but In often noteth the cause of a thing; as, the Lords soule was grieved in (that is, for, or because of) the misery of Israel, Iud. 10. 16. or according to the like phrase in Zach. 11. 8. their soule loathed the way, both for the longsomnesse of it, and for the many wants and troubles that they found therein, as in verſ. 5. So the Greeke interpreteth it, for the way: and Iarchi in like manner, saying, Because it was hard unto them, they said, wee were now weere to enter into the land, and wee turne backward: so our fathers turned, and lingered 39. yeares unto this day; therefore their soule was shortned for the afflictions of the way. This way into the land of promise, figured the way into the kingdome of God, thorow the wilderness of this world (the wilderness of peoples, as in Ezek. 20. 35.) into which kingdome wee cannot enter, but through much tribulation, Act. 14. 22. because the gate is strait, and the way is narrow that leadeth unto life, Matth. 7. 14. and wee are to goe thorow fire and thorow water, Psalm. 66. 12. The discouragement of this people, sheweth humane frailty and infirmity, through want of faith and patience: for as they erred in heart, and knew not the Lords wayes, Psalm. 95. 10. so many, when tribulation or persecution ariseth because of the Word, by and by they are offended, Matth. 13. 21.

Verſ. 5. spake against God] the Chaldee expoundeth it, murmured before the Lord, and contended with Moses, and so in verſe 7. This was their wonted carriage, in their tentations: see Exod. 14. 11. and 15. 24. and 16. 2. 3. and 17. 2. 3. Numb. 11. 1. 4. 5. & 16. 13. 14. and 20. 3. 4. 5. By God here is meant Christ, the Angell of Gods face or presence, in whom his name was, Exod. 23. 20. 21. Esay 63. 9. as the Apostle openeth this place, saying, Neither let us tempt Christ, as some of them also tempted, and were destroyed of Serpens, 1 Cor. 10. 9.

this light bread] meaning Manna; as the Chaldee explaineth it, this Manna the light meat: in Greeke, this vaine (or empty) bread. So they call it, either because it was light of digestion, that they felt it not in their hot stomackes; or in contempt, counting it base and vile, in comparison with other meats: See Numb. 11. 5. 6. 8. This Manna being rained upon them from heaven, Psalm. 78. 23. 24. was both corporall and spirituall food unto them, a figure of the hidden Manna, which Christ feedeth his people with, unto life eternall, Revel. 2. 17. Iob. 6. 48. 49. 50. 51. So the contempt thereof, was the contempt of Christ and his grace: and into this sinne doe all they fall, that loath and leave Christ and his Gospell, for the momentary pleasures of this life; the enemies of the Crosse of Christ, whose end is destruction, whose God is their belly, and whose glory is in their shame, who mind earthly things, Philippians, 3. 18. 19.

Verſe

6 Verf. 6. fierie serpents] or, burning serpents, as the Chaldee tranſlateth: the Greeke in this place calleth them deadly (or killiſh) ſerpents. In the Hebrew they are named Seraphim, that is, Burners, becauſe when they bite a man, hee burneth with extreme heat and thirſt: it may be alſo in reſpect of their colour, for ſome ſerpents are of a fiery colour; Nicander in Tiberiack. Of the Hebrew Saraph, the Greeke by changing the order of letters, have borrowed the name Proſer, which is a kinde of venomous ſerpent, called alſo Dipſa, and Cauſon, of which it is reported, that who is ſtung therewith, he hath ſuch a vehement thirſt, that he cannot be ſatisfied, but is tormented with it continually, and though he drinke never ſo largely, yet is he preſently as thirſty as before. And againe, that the bitings of theſe ſerpents were left of the moſt ancient (Philiſtians) as altogether incurable. Dioſcorid. lib. 6. cap. 38. & 40. They are ſaid to be like unto Vipers, but their biting more hurtfull; for the heart of a man is inflamed with their biting, & his lips are parched, and drie with thirſt, as Nicander writeth of them. Sal. Iarchi ſaith, they are called Seraphim (burners) becauſe they burned men with the venom of their teeth. The Prophet Eſay mentioneth the ſying fiery ſerpent, in Eſay 14. 29. and 30. 6. whereby it ſeemeth to be a kinde of ſerpent with wings. With theſe and other ſerpents, the wildeſnes thorow which they went, did abound, as Moses ſheweth in Deut. 8. 15. but God, who guided them thorow it, kept them from hurting his people, till now for their ſinne, he gave them power to bite and kill them: as he ſaith otherwhere, I will command the ſerpent, and he ſhall bite them, Amos 9. 9. Here alſo there was a remembrance of the firſt ſinne that came into mankind by the ſerpent, and the death that followed thereupon, Gen. 3. for as the venom of ſerpents killeth the body; ſo the venom of Satan, which is ſinne, killeth both body and ſoule: and as the Serpent biting any one part, the venom and contagion ſpreadeth over all the body, and killeth the whole man: ſo the poiſon of ſin, which entred by one man, hath infected and killed all the lump of mankind, Rom. 5. 15, 18.

died] The judgements of God are both inevitable and incurable of man, Jer. 8. 17. Amos 5. 19, 23. & 9. 1, 2, 3. Deut. 28. 27. And as no ſalve or medicine could heale the bodies of thoſe that were bitten: ſo can no worke of man cure the biting of that old Serpent or ſting of ſinne, but the venom thereof rageth and raigneth, tormenting the conſcience unto death, Rom. 5. 12, 14, 21. & 3. 20.

7 Verſe 7. We have ſinned] The afflictions which God layeth upon his people, are a mean (through his grace) to bring them to the ſight & acknowledgement of their ſins, and ſeeking unto him, as it is ſaid, When he ſlew them, then they ſought him: and they returned, and enquired early after God, Pſalm. 78. 34. Yea the wicked are often forced hereby, to confeſſe and ſeeke helpe of God, as did Pharaoh, Exod. 9. 27, 28. that he take away] or, and let him take away the ſerpents; in Hebr. the ſerpents, put for the multitude of them; as in Exo. 8. 6. the frog, is for frogs; and in Exod. 8. 17. the louse, for lice, and many the like. They deſire the removing of the puniſhment, after repentance and confeſſion of ſin; without which, plagues are not only continued, but increaſed, Lev. 26. 21, 23, 24, 28. Howbeit God did not preſently take away the ſerpents, but gave a remedy for ſuch as were bitten, v. 8, 9.

Moses prayed] As at other times, ſo kill he ſheweth himſelfe an example of meekneſſe, unmiſericoſie of injuries, and readineſſe to forgive the wrongs done unto him. Thus Samuel alſo did in like caſe, and ſaid, Far be it that I ſhould ſinne againſt the Lord, in ceaſing to pray for you; but I will teach you the good and the right way, 1 Sam. 12. 19, 23.

8 Verſe 8. Make thee a fierie ſerpent] or, a burning ſerpent, Hebr. Saraph, which the Greeke tranſlateth, a ſerpent: hereby is meant, a ſerpent of braſſe, v. 9. a ſimilitude of one of thoſe fierie ſerpents, a figure of Chriſt, as himſelfe hath opened it, ſaying, As Moses lifted up the ſerpent in the wildeſneſſe, even ſo muſt the Son of man be lifted up, Joh. 3. 14. For as this had the ſimilitude of a ſerpent, but had no venom; ſo Chriſt had the ſimilitude of a ſinfull man, yet without ſin, Hebr. 4. 15. upon a pole] or, for a ſigne; the originall Nes ſignifieth an enſigne or banner, lifted up on high, and is here by the Greeke and Chaldee tranſlated a ſigne, meaning a pole or perch, which is uſually ſet up for a ſigne or ſignification of ſome thing. And hereupon our Saviour uſeth the word of lifting up, or ſetting on high, in Joh. 3. 14. meaning of his croſſe, upon which hee was lifted up at his death, or of the preaching of him crucified: as elſewhere hee likewiſe ſaith, When ye have lifted up the Son of Man, Joh. 8. 28. and againe, when he ſignified what death he ſhould die, he ſaid, And I, if I be lifted up from the earth, will draw all men unto me, Joh. 12. 32. So the ſetting of this Serpent on a pole or ſigne, was a figure unto them of Chriſt to be crucified, and preached unto the world for ſalvation. when he looketh upon it, ſhall live] or, then he ſhall ſee (or looke upon) it, and he ſhall live; ſo implying both a commandement and a promiſe. And this was the reaſon of the putting it upon a pole, that the people which were far off might preſently ſee it, every man from his place. As the Serpent lifted up, was a figure of Chriſt; ſo the looking upon it ſignified faith in Chriſt, as it is written, At that day ſhall a man looke to his Maker, and his eyes ſhall have reſpect to the holy One of Iſrael, Eſay 17. 7. And thus our Lord himſelfe expoundeth it, As Moses lifted up the Serpent in the wildeſneſſe, even ſo muſt the Son of Man be lifted up; that whoſoever BELIEVETH in him ſhould not periſh, but have eternall life, John 3. 14, 15. Likewiſe among the Hebrews, Targum Jonathan explaineth it thus, He ſhall looke upon it and live, if his heart be attent unto the name of the Word of the LORD. And Sal. Iarchi ſaith, when they ſubmitted their hearts unto their Father which is in heaven, they were healed, otherwiſe they periſhed. ſhall live] that is, ſhall be healed, and have his life and health continued; as in Eſay 38. 21. he ſhall live, that is, ſhall recover, or be cured. And by this recovery and continuance of natural life, was figured life eternall to all that believe ved in Christ, John 3. 15. who is the root of Jesse, standing up for an Ensign of the people, wherunto the nations should seeke, Esay 11. 10. And the worke of grace was hereby lively signified. As they that were bitten with these serpents, if they looked upon their sores, and not to the signe erected of God, they died: so they that are bitten with sin, if they fix their eyes thereon, though with repentance, and look not unto Christ, doe despaire and die, Mar. 27. 3, 4, 5. As they, if they sought to Surgeons or Physicians, or used salves or medicines of their owne or others, perished: so whosoever seeketh to any but Christ, or endevoureth by his own workes or sufferings to have life with God, dieth in his sins, Joh. 8. 24. Gal. 5. 4. As the brazen serpent was an unlikely thing in humane reason, to heale such deadly wounds: so Christ crucified, is unto the Jewes a stumbling block, and unto the Greekes foolishnesse; but unto them which are called, both Jewes and Greekes, Christ is the power of God, and the wisdom of God, 1 Cor. 1. 23, 24.

- 9 Verse 9. a serpent of Brasse] which mettall, besides that it is of a fiery colour, Ezek. 1. 7. Revel. 1. 15. and so might resemble the colour of the serpents; it is also strong and durable, and in that respect might figure out the strength of Christ, who was inabled by the power of the God-head to indure and overcome all his tribulations, otherwise than any man could: whereupon Iob saith in his sorowes, Is my strength the strength of stones? or is my flesh of brasse? Job 6. 12. But unto the Prophet Christ shewed himselfe a man, whose appearance was like the appearance of brasse, Ezek. 40. 3. upon a pole] or, for a signe, as in ver. 8. This was the worke of Moses; whereupon it is said, As Moses lifted up the Serpent in the wilderness, John 3. 14. and it signified how Moses Law was our Schoolmaster unto Christ, that we might be justified by faith, Gal. 3. 24. by his writings, Christ is lifted up as an Ensign unto all peoples, for he wrote of Christ, Joh. 5. 46. and by the rigour of his Law, which urgeth satisfaction for sin, and curseth all transgressours, Christ was lifted up upon the Crosse, God sending his owne Sonne in the likeness of sinfull flesh, who by his sacrifice for sinne, condemned sinne in the flesh, Gal. 3. 10, -13. Rom. 8. 3. if a serpent] or, as the Greeke translateth, When a serpent bit a man; so that the serpents were not taken away from the people, as they desired, in v. 7. but continued still as a chastisement, to nurture the disobedient people: only God provideth a remedy to heale the repentant and beleeving sinners. Wherefore also the brazen serpent was not left standing in that place, but they caried it along thorow the wilderness, even into the land of Canaan, where it continued many yeeres, 2 King. 18. 4. Such is the worke of grace towards us in this life, for neither are our sins utterly taken from us in this life, but we have forgiveness of them by the blood of Christ, 1 John 1. 7, 8, 9, 10. Jam. 3. 2. neither are our tentations and afflictions wholly removed, though wee beseech the Lord therfore; but we receive grace from him, which is sufficient for us; and his strength is made perfect in weaknesse, 2 Cor. 12. 7, 8, 9.

when he be held] or, and if he be held (or looked unto) the serpent of brasse, then he lived: where T bargum Isnatban addeth againe, and directed his heart to the name of the word of the Lord, then he lived. And the Author of the Booke of Wisdom, speaking of this serpent, (which he calleth a signe of salvation) saith, He that turned himselfe towards it, was not saved by the thing that he saw, but by thee [O GOD] that art the Saviour of all, Wisdom 16. 6, 7. This sheweth the truth of Gods promises and signes, that they give life to them that obey and beleeve in Christ: and when God promiseth to powre out the Spirit of grace upon his people, it is with these words; They shall look upon me whom they have pierced, Zacharie 12. 10. Thus the just shall live by his faith, Habbak. 2. 4. and he that heareth the word of Christ, and beleeveeth on him that sent him, hath everlasting life, and shall not come into condemnation; but is passed from death unto life, Joh. 5. 24. For the wages of sinne is death; but the gift of God is eternall life, through Iesus Christ our Lord, Romans 6. 23.

Verse 10. Obab] Of these places and journeyes, see Numbers 33. where they are reckoned in order; for here some are named, and other some omitted.

Verse 11. before Moab] before the Moabites countrey. The posteritie of Moab and Ammon the sons of Lot, Gen. 19. 36, -38. had vanquished the Giants (called Emims and Zamzumims) which before dwelt in those parts, and succeeded them, and dwelt in their stead, Deut. 2. 10, 11, 20, 21. Through the wilderness, along by their coasts did Israel passe, but were forbidden to war with them, or with the Edomites, Deut. 2. 5, 9, 19.

Verse 12. The valley of Zared] or, the bourn of Zared, or Zered: which word bourn (as also the the Hebrew Nachal) is both a valley, and a river running thorow a valley: and so this Zared was a river or brooke also, over which Israel passed: see Deuter. 2. 13.

Verse 14. it is said] Hebrew, it shall be said. The time to come, noteth a continued or common saying; so he speaketh as of a knowne speech. the booke] or, the narration, (the rehearfall) of the wars of Iehovah: what booke this was, is uncertaine; whether some writing of Israel, not now extant; or, some writing of the Amorites, which contained songs and triumphs of their King Sihon victories; out of which Moses may cite this testimony, as Paul sometime doth out of Heathen Poets, Aët. 17. 28. Tit. 1. 12. Vabab] this is thought by some to be the name of the King of Moab, whom Sihon vanquished, v. 26. by others, to be the name of a place or Citie. The Greeke Interpreters here mistaking a Z. for a V. (which in Hebrew are one like another) read it Zob, and give this sense, Therefore it is said in the booke, The warre of the Lord hath set on fire (or burned) Zob, and the brookes of Arnon. The Chaldee Paraphrast (whom others also follow) taketh it for no proper name, but expoundeth it thus: The wars that the Lord did at the red Sea, and the mightie workes at the brookes of Arnon. in a whirle-winde] or, with

with a tempest; understand, the Lord (by the warres of Sihon against Moab) hath consumed Vaheb in a whirle-wind, or with a tempest. So warres are often set forth by the similitude of fire, tempest, whirle-winds, and the like; as, I will kindle a fire in the wall of Rahab, and it shall devoure the palaces thereof, with shouting in the day of battell, with a tempest in the day of the whirle-wind, Amos 1. 14. and, Thou shalt be visited of the Lord of hosts with thunder, &c. with whirle-winde and tempest, and the flame of devouring fire, Esay 29. 6. and againe, The Lord will come with fire, and with chariots like a whirle-wind, Esay 66. 15. So in Nahum 1. 3. Esay 5. 28. Jerem. 4. 13. And thus the Greeke explaineth it, The war of the Lord hath set Zoob on fire. Some take the Hebrew Suphab (which usually signifieth whirle-wind or storme) to be here the name of a place, the same that is called Suph in Deut. 1. 1. which also is the name of the red sea, as is noted on Exod. 10. 9. so the Chaldee interpreteth it, the red sea. and the brookes] or, the bournes of Arnon, to weet, the Lord hath consumed, or (as in verse 28.) the flame hath consumed the bournes of Arnon. It may also be expounded, The Lord warred with Vaheb in a whirle-wind, and with the brookes of Arnon. Moses intendeth by this testimony, to shew how the Israelites had right to this country: for it being sometimes Moabs land, with whom Israel might not meddle, Deut. 2. 9. the Lord had before Israels coming, stirred up the spirit of Sihon K. of the Amorites, to fight against the King of Moab, and to take this part of his country from him, as is after mentioned, Num. 21. 28, 29. Then Israel coming, and being commanded of God to war against the Amorites, Deut. 2. 24. took it againe out of Sihons hand, and so became lawfull possessor of this land by conquest. This right Iephthab defended for Israel, when after many yeeres the Ammonites (brethren to Moab) required these lands to be restored againe; see the storie in Judg. 11. 12, 13, 27. For the Moabites and Ammonites were neighbours; and Chazkuni noteth on Num. 21. 23. that As Sihon had taken the land of Moab on the South-side, from Jordan unto the river Arnon; so he had taken on the North-side, the land of the sons of Ammon unto Jabbok: and for this cause it was unlawfull for Israel (to possesse it:) and this is that which our Doctors have said, Moab and Ammon were purified by Sihon.

15 Verse 15. And the streame] or, the shedding, the effusion of the brookes. This verse seemeth to be a continuance of the former testimonie, out of the booke of the warres of Iehovah; to shew the limits and bounds of this countrey which Sihon had won, and how it was distinguished from Moabs land. Ar] a citie of Moab, verse 28. called in Greeke, Er. leaseth upon the border] that is, as the Greeke explaineth it, lieth by, or is adjoynted to the borders of Moab.

16 Verse 16. From thence to Beer] or, to the Well; for so Beer signifieth; and the Greeke translateth it, from thence the Well (or pit.) Some understand here, from thence they journeyed to Beer: the Chaldee Paraphrast expoundeth it, from thence was given unto them the Well. Of this Beer there is no mention among the journies of the people in Num. 33.

I will give them water] The Greeke addeth water to drinke. The Lord, who before had suffered the people to thirst, and gave them water when they murmured against him, Exod. 17. Num. 20. doth now of his grace give them a well of water, when they murmured not, to teach them to depend upon him by faith, for they that seeke the Lord, shall not want any good thing, Psal. 34. 10. Wherefore the people were to be assembled, that all might behold the goodnesse of God, and sing his praise. And this water of the Well had also a like spirituall signification, as the waters of the Rocke; for as the Rocke was Christ, 1 Cor. 10. 4. so the Well figured him, who is the fountaine of the gardens, the Well of living waters, Song. 4. 15. and the waters signified the Spirit, which they that beleeve on him shall receive, John 7. 38, 39. Esay 44. 3. of which water, whosoever drinketh, shall never thirst, but the water that Christ shall give him, shall be in him a well of water springing up into everlasting life, John 4. 14. This grace he promised of old to his people, saying, The poore and needy seeke water, and there is none; their tongue faileth for thirst: I Iehovah will heare them, I the God of Israel will not forsake them. I will open rivers in high places, and fountains in the midst of the valleys; I will make the wilderness a poole of water, and the dry land springs of water, &c. That they may see, and know, and consider, and understand together, that the hand of Iehovah hath done this, and the Holy One of Israel hath created it, Esay 41. 17, 18, 20. And againe, A fountaine shall come forth of the house of the LORD, and shall water the valley of Shittim, Joel 3. 18.

Verse 17. Then sang Israel] Singing here was in them a signe of mirth and joy, as in Jam. 5. 13. and of beleefe in God, and thankfulness, as in Psal. 106. 12. and signified the spirituall joy which the faithfull have in Christ: concerning which it is prophesied, With joy shall ye draw water out of the wells of salvation. And in that day shall ye say, Praise Iehovah, call upon his name, declare his doings among the people, &c. Esay 12. 3, 4. Spring up] or Ascend O Well. Answer ye to it] that is, sing (or shout) ye to it, or sing ye of it. The word Answer, here meaneth to sing one after another, as when they sung at the red Sea, Maria answered them, that is, sung after the men, Exod. 15. 21. and in 1 Sam. 18. 7. the women answered one another, as they played on instruments, and sung the victory. So in Psal. 147. 7. Answer ye (that is, Sing ye) to Iehovah with confession. And the order of the words may be thus, Answer (or Sing) ye unto it, Spring up O Well.

A like phrase is in Esay 27. 2. A vineyard of red wine, answer ye unto her; or, Answer, (that is, Sing) ye unto her, A vineyard of red wine. For the Scripture it selfe often changeth the order of words and sentences; as, I will put my lawes into their minde, and write them on their heart, Hebr. 8. 10. or, put them into their heart; and write them on their minde, Hebr. 10. 16. So in Esay 6. 1. compared with Rom. 10. 20. and Deut. 5. 16. with Eph. 6. 2. Mat. 21. 13. with Marke 12. 8. and many the like. See the notes on

Gen. 5. 6. By this song they celebrate the miracle and memory of the Well which God gave them: and if they sung it at first, when they assembled to dig it, it shewed also their faith in the promise of God, who had said, he would give them water; and so they speake unto the Well (as Moses was bidden speake to the Rocke, Numb. 20. 8.) that it should ascend or spring up, according to the word of the Lord. Thus Targum Jonathan explaineth it, Ascend O Well, ascend O Well, did they sing unto it, and it ascended. Or if they sang it after, it is a memoriall and celebration of Gods goodnesse and faithfulness, as he had spoken unto them: Ascend O Well, that is, come up into our heart or memory; answer (or sing) ye of it, that it may never be forgotten. And ascending or coming up, is often used in this sense, as in Jer. 3. 16. neither shall it ascend (or come up) on the heart, neither shall they remember it: and in Jer. 51. 50. Remember the Lord afar off, and let Jerusalem ascend upon your heart, that is, come into your mind.

18 Verse 18. The Well, the Princes digged it] or, O Well, which the Princes digged, which the Nobles of the people delved: where digged and delved are two words of the same meaning, as in the Hebrew Gaphar and Carah. The Princes and Nobles of Israel digging this Well, and the memory thereof thus celebrated by the song of Israel, setteth forth the glory of this gracious gift of God unto his people, and figured the labours and industry of the Governours of the Church, to bring forth the waters of the Spirit, by the preaching of the Word, and opening of the Scriptures, 2 Chron. 17. 7, 8, 9. Gal. 3. 2. 1 Tim. 5. 17, 18. Heb. 13. 7, 17. 1 Pet. 1. 10, 11, 12. So in ages following, this Well was renowned, being called Beer Elim, that is, the Well of the Mightie ones, Esay 15. 8. with the Law-giver] or, by the Law-giver, that is, together with him, and by his direction, as in verse 16. understanding by the Law-giver, Moses, as in Deut. 33. 21. or God himselfe, as in Esa. 33. 22 the LORD is our Law-giver, and the Law-giver in Israel was a figure of Christ, Gen. 49. 10. Jam. 4. 12. The Chaldee taketh one here to be used for many, and translateth it the Scribes, as Ezra the Priest is called a Scribe of the words of the commandements of the Lord, and of his statutes to Israel, Ezr. 7. 11. with their staves] a staffe or rod in the hand of Governours, was a signe of their power and authority from God; wherefore the Scripture useth these words for such signification, Num. 17. 2, 3, &c. Psal. 23. 4. & 110. 2. Jer. 48. 17. 1 Cor. 4. 21. So the Gr. translateth this here; when they ruled over them. The Hebrews have feigned many things of this Well, of the springing and running of it from place to place, and of the mysteries of it concerning Israel: but our Saviour is the best Expositor, who hath taught us to apply the Brazen Serpent fore-spoken of, to himselfe and his dying for the people, Joh. 3. 14. and this Well of water (which was the next token of grace to Israel in the wildernes) to the waters of the Spirit, which is a Well springing up to eternall life, in such as beleeve in him, Joh. 4. 10, 14. & 7. 37, 38, 39. Also the Hebrewes themselves do thus far testifie in Midrash Koheleth, on Eccles. 1. 9. As the first Redeemer (Moses) brought downe Manna, Exo. 16. so the last Redeemer (Christ) shall doe, Psal. 73. 16. And as the first Redeemer caused a Well to spring up: so the last Redeemer shall cause waters to spring up; as it is said, And a fountain shall come forth of the house of the LORD, and shall water the valley of Shittim, Joel 3. 18. to Mattanah] which is by interpretation a Gift, and is likely to be the name of a place (as the Greeke version also confirmeth) though neither it, nor those that here follow, are rehearsed by these names in Num. 33. where all their journeyes are told: neither is it here expressed by Moses, that they journeyed to these places; but such words may well be understood. Chazkuni (on this Scripture) saith, this is added to that before (in verse 13.) They camped on the other side of Arnon, which is in the wilderness, &c. and from that other side which is in the wilderness, which (in Numb. 33. 46.) is Almon Diblathaim, they came to Mattanah, called in Numb. 33. 47. the Mounts of Abarim before Nebo, the name of a place on the North side of the river Arnon, in the beginning of the land of Sihon; and it is called Mattanah (a Gift) because there began the gift of the land unto Israel, (Deuter. 2. 24, 31.) But afterward he sheweth another interpretation, that from the wilderness, a place of drought, water was given them for a gift: and so the Chaldee interpreteth it, from the wilderness it was given unto thee: and Targum Jonathan, from the wilderness it was given them for a gift.

Verse 19. to Nabathiel] by interpretation, the valley (or bourne) of God: the Greeke calleth it Naadiah. Chazkuni saith, this is that which in Numb. 33. 48. is called, the plaines of Moab. to Bamoth] by interpretation, High places: that is called Beth Jesimoth (saith Chazkuni) in Numbers 33. 49.

Verse 20. in the field] that is, in the country of Moab. This valley, as Chazkuni saith, is called in Numb. 33. 49. Abel Shittim in the plaines of Moab. the head of Pisgah] by head, may be understood the top of the mount Pisgah, or the beginning of the same: the Greeke translateth it from the top. Chazkuni expoundeth it thus, That Samah (or High place) which is in the field of Moab, is the head of Pisgah (or of the Hill) that looketh toward Jesimoth, which is a great wilderness. and it looketh] that is, the Hill Pisgah looketh; and so the Greeke version referreth it thereto. And Sol. Iarchi saith, That Pisgah looketh toward the place named Jesimoth, which signifieth a wilderness, because it is desolate. Jesimoth] in Greeke, the Wildernes, and so the word is used for a wildernes, in Deut. 32. 10. Psal. 68. 8. & 78. 40. and otherwhere. All these places are by the Chaldee paraphrast referred to the Well aforesaid, thus; And from (the place) where it was given unto them, it descended with them to the valleys, and from the valleys it ascended with them to the High places, and from the High places to the valley that is in the field of Moab, &c. So Targum Jonathan to the like, and others.

Verse 21. Israel sent Messengers] in Greeke, Moses sent Messengers: which seemeth to be taken from Deut.

Deut. 2. 26. where Moses saith, I sent messengers. For it is very frequent, when things are done by a multitude, where one is chiefe, that the action is ascribed either to the multitude, or to him that is chiefe, indifferently: as, They made peace with David, and served him, 1 Chron. 19. 19. or, They made peace with Israel, and served them, as another Prophet recordeth it, 2 Samuel 10. 19. So Iehojada, he brought forth the Kings sons, and he put the crowne upon him, 2 King. 11. 12. or, They brought forth the Kings sons, and they put upon him the crowne, 2 Chron. 23. 11. and, they offered burnt-offerings, 1 Chron. 16. 1. or, David offered burnt-offerings, 2 Sam. 6. 17. and many the like. The occasion of this message now sent by Israel, was the commandment of God, who willed them to goe war against Sihon, and to possesse his land, Deut. 2. 24, 25. Sihon or Sihon, in Greeke, Seon King of the Amorites; his chiefe citie was Hesbon, Deut. 2. 26. saying] the Greeke version addeth (from Deut. 2. 26.) with peaceable words, saying.

22 Verse 22. Let me passe] in Greeke, Let us passe: which phrases are often used indifferently, when they are spoken of a multitude: and so the Scripture setteth this downe both waies, Let me passe, as here, & in Deut. 2. 27. and, Let us passe, Judg. 11. 19. iborow thy land] that so I may come into the land of Canaan; unto my place, Judg. 11. 19. Deut. 2. 29. we will not turne] in Deut. 2. 27. I will not turne, speaking of the multitude as of one man. into field, or into vineyard] to the right hand, or to the left, Deut. 2. 27. See Num. 20. 17. of the well] in Gr. of thy well, meaning of any of his wells, for nought; but they would buy their water of him for money, Deut. 2. 28. the Kings way] the high way, common for all, which in Deut. 2. 27. is set down thus, by the way, by the way. See also Num. 20. 17.

23 Verse 23. would not grant] Hebr. granted (or gave) not: that is, would not give or suffer: as where it is said, David removed not the Arke, 1 Chron. 13. 13. another Prophet openeth it thus, David would not remove the Arke, 2 Sam. 6. 10. And so Moses explaines this in Deut. 2. 30. But Sihon king of Hesbon would not let us passe iborow him. The cause why he would not, was feare and distrust, as it is written, But Sihon trusted not Israel to passe iborow his coast, Judg. 11. 20. but chiefly it was of the Lord, who purposed to destroy the Amorites, as Moses saith, For Iehovah thy God hardened his spirit, and made his heart strong, that he might give him into thine hand, Deut. 2. 30. Iabaz] or Iabaz; in Greeke Iassa; in Latine Iasa; the name of a citie mentioned also in Deut. 2. 32. Judg. 11. 20. Eley 15. 4. Jer. 4. 21, 34.

24 Verse 24. Israel smote him] for, Iehovah the God of Israel, delivered Sihon and all his people into Israels hand, Judg. 11. 21. Deut. 2. 23. Therefore the glory of this victory is ascribed unto God, in Psa. 135. 10, 11. & 136. 17, 18, 19. And in Amos 2. 9. God saith, I destroyed the Amorite before them, whose height was like the height of the Cedars, and he was strong as the Oakes; yet I destroyed his fruit from above, and his roots from beneath. was strong] by reason that it was fenced with Iabbok which was a river, and by mountaines and cities on them, Deut. 2. 37. therefore the Ammonites held their territories beyond Iabbok, so that Sihon tooke them not from them: and as for Israel, they might not war against the Ammonites, Deut. 2. 19.

25 Verse 25. tooke all these cities] utterly destroying men, women, and children of every citie, but the cattell and spoile of the cities they tooke also, Deut. 2. 34, 35. the daughters] that is, as the Chaldee explaineth it, the townes or villages thereof: for the chiefe cities are counted as mothers, the villages about them as daughters, thorowout the Scriptures, Ezek. 16. 44, 45, 46, 48, 53. Therefore as here it is said, Hesbon and her daughters: so elsewhere we reade, Hesbon and all her cities, Jos. 13. 17. And that which is called a citie, and a mother in Israel, 2 Sam. 20. 19. is in the Greeke interpreted, a citie and a mother citie (Metropolis), in Israel. These daughters Moses calleth unwalled cities, Deut. 3. 5.

27 Verse 27. that speake in proverbes] or, that speake parables; in Greeke, Enigmatists, they that speake riddles: such in Israel were the Prophets, they used to speake by parables, as Ezek. 17. 2. & 20. 49. But it is also used for Proverbs and by-words, to the reproach of persons that are brought downe from high estate to misery; as Deut. 28. 37. 2 Chro. 7. 20. Jer. 24. 9. Habak. 2. 6. and so it is meant in this place. The Hebrews Tanchuma, and Sol. Iarchi, expound these that spake in proverbes, to be Balaam and Beor his father, (as wee reade that Balaam took up his parable against Amalek and others, when he prophesied their destruction, Numb. 24. 20, 23.) Iarchi saith, that Sihon was not able to subdue them, and he went and hired Balaam to curse them; and hereupon Balak said unto him, (in Numb. 22. 6.) I know that he whom thou blestest is blessed, &c. But this is an uncertaintie, and it may be also understood of the Israelites, that they used these parables in rehearsing the workes and wars of the Lord. Come into Hesbon] or, into Cheshbon; in Greeke, Esebon. Chazkuni expoundeth it, Come to dwell in Hesbon, for now it shall be established, after that Sihon hath the dominion of it: for so long as it was in the hand of the King of Moab, they were afraid to dwell within it, because the King was weak. Let the citie of Sihon] in Greeke thus, that the citie of Seon may be built: by which it appeareth, that this proverbe was first taken up after that Sihon had won Hesbon out of Moabs hand. prepared] or, firmly established; meaning more than in former times it had beene; or, as Iarchi saith, prepared in Sihons name, for to be his citie.

18 Verse 28. a fire] by fire and flame, warres that consume are usually meant, as in Eley 47. 14. Dan. 11. 33. Amos 1. 7, 10, 12, 14. & 2. 2, 5. Obad. 1. 18. Psal. 78. 63. So this is spoken of Sihons wars against the Moabites. The Chaldee expoundeth it, A strong Eastwind like fire, and warriors like a flame; and the Ierusalemie Targum thus; A people strong, and burning like fire, and warriors like a flame of fire.

from the citie of Sihon] from the citie which now is Sibens, as Chazkuni explaineth it. These parables are after by Jeremie applied against the Moabites, They that fled, stood under the shadow of Hesbon, because of the force (of the enemy:) but a fire is gone out of Hesbon, and a flame from the midst of Sihon, [that is, of the citie of Sihon] and hath consumed the corner of Moab, &c. Jer. 48. 45. consumed Ar] or eaten up (devoured) Ar of Moab. The Chaldee explaineth it, hath killed the people of Lechajath of Moab. And this seemeth to be right, that the people was destroyed, and not the citie or countrey. For Ar (which the Chaldee calleth Lechajath) remained still the possession of the Moabites, Deut. 2. 9, 18, 29. Esay 15. 1. In stead of this, Jeremie saith, The corner of Moab, Jer. 48. 45. Ar is the name of that countrey in the Hebrew tongue; and in Syriack it is called Lecajath, saith, Sol. Iarchi on Numb. 21. the Lords] or, the Masters (patrons) of the high places of Arnon. These the Chaldee expoundeth Chemarims (or Priests) which served in the Gods house (or Temple) of the high place of Arnon: the Greeke translateth it, the pillars of Arnon. The Prophet calleth them, the crowne of the head, (that is, the chiefe or principall) of the sonnes of tumult, Jer. 48. 45. high places] where they used to serve their God; as appeareth also by the Prophet, saying, I will cause to cease in Moab, saith Jehovah, him that offereth in the high place, and him that burneth incense to his God, Jer. 48. 35. So Thargum Ierusalem expoundeth this place of Moses thus, Killed the Priests that sacrificed before their Idols in Arnon.

29 Verse 29. Woe to thee Moab] in Chaldee, Woe to you Moabites. It is a continuance of the parable taken up against them. people of Chemosh] in Greeke, of Chamos; which the Chaldee explaineth, people that serve Chemosh. So in Jer. 48. 46. Woe to thee Moab, the people of Chemosh is perished. This Chemosh was the god of the Moabites, 1 King. 11. 33. and as it seemeth also of the Ammonites, Judg. 11. 24. for their service of which Idoll, they are called the people of Chemosh, as the Israelites are usually called the people of Jehovah. he hath given] that is, Chemosh hath given; or suffered his sonnes that escaped the sword, to be taken captives. Thus Moabs Idolatrie is here upbraided as the cause of their ruine: and so Jeremie after saith of them, Moab shall be ashamed of Chemosh, as the house of Israel was ashamed of Bethel their confidence, Jer. 48. 13. And againe, Chemosh shall goe forth into captivity, with his Priests and his Princes together, Jer. 48. 7. Likewise another Prophet saith, When it is seen that Moab is wearie on his high place, he shall come to his Sanctuary to pray, but he shall not prevaile, Esay 16. 12. And though Chemosh was an Idoll, and so nothing in the world, as the Apostle saith, 1 Cor. 8. 4. and therefore could not doe evil, neither was it in him to doe good, Jer. 10. 5. yet thus it is spoken of him, he hath given according to the speech and opinion of the Idolaters; as Iephtah also said to the King of Ammon, Wilt not thou possess that which Chemosh thy god giveth thee to possess? Judg. 11. 24. But indeed the God of Israel was he that brought this judgement upon the Moabites for their Idolatrie, Jer. 48. 12, 13.

30 Verse 30. their lampe is perished] their light is lost, that is, as the Greeke translateth it, their seed is perished; by seed, meaning such as should inherit the kingdome; and so the Chaldee paraphrast explaineth it, the kingdome is ceased from Hesbon: and Thargum Ierusalem giveth the same exposition, the kingdome is ceased from Hesbon, and ruler from Dibon. The like metaphor is elsewhere used; as, And unto his sonne will I give one Tribe, that David my servant may have a lampe alway before me in Jerusalem, that is, a seed, or son to reigne in Jerusalem, 1 King. 11. 36. So in 1 King. 15. 4. for Davids sake, did the Lord his God give him a lampe in Jerusalem, to set up his sonne after him; where the lampe is expounded, his sonne. Thus the Hebrews here also expound it, their lampe is perished, that is, saith Iarchi, their kingdome is perished. And Chazkuni thus, the citie Hesbon hath lost her beire, from over all the land unto Dibon, so that no beire of Moab shall inherit it any more: a Lampe meaneth an beire, as in 1 King. 11. 36. To this sense the old Latine version saith, Their yoke is perished from Hesbon: for a yoke signifieth dominion, as in Jerem. 27. 8, 11. and 28. 2, 14. A lampe signifieth a kingdome, and a yoke, and dominion, saith Sol. Iarchi. It may also be translated, And we have sown at them: so it agreeth with that which followeth, and we have laid them waste; and they are the words of Sihon and his favourites, triumphing for their conquest over Moab. Dibon] one of the high places and cities in Moabs countrey, Esay 15. 2. Jerem. 48. 18, 22. The Chaldee expoundeth it, the dominion is departed from Dibon. which reacheth unto Medeba] the Chaldee saith, which is adjoynt unto Medeba, that was another citie in Moabs land, Esay 12. 2. The word which, (in Hebrew asser) is noted extraordinarily in the Hebrew, with prickles over it, for some hidden meaning. Baal-batturim saith of it thus; R (in asser) is pricked, and there remaineth (that letter being taken away) ash (that is, fire) because it was burnt with fire, and the R of it is taken away. The Greeke version favoureth this, for it translateth, yet they kindled fire upon Moab.

31 Verse 31. the land of the Amorite] in Greeke, all the cities of the Amorites. This countrey, which before had beene the Moabites, was conquered by the Amorites, and so became their land; and was taken from them by Israel, and inhabited; as is after shewed in Num. 32. 33, 34, &c.

32 Verse 32. Tazer] a citie also that had beene sometime the Moabites, Jer. 48. 32. but now the Amorites; the land about it was goodly pasture ground, and was after given to the Tribe of Gad, Numb. 32. 1, 3, 34, 35. daughters] that is, the townes or villages, as the Greeke and Chaldee explaine it: see verse 25.

33 Verse 33. the way of Basan] that is, as the Greeke translateth, the way which (leadeth) unto Basan. This Basan (which the Chaldee calleth Matnan) was a goodly soile, the pastures nourished strong and fat cattell, whereto the Scripture hath often reference, as in Deut. 32. 14. Amos 4. 1. Mic. 7. 14. Jer. 50. 19. Og] another King of the Amorites, a Giant of great stature: See Deut.

Deuteronomie 3. where this Historie is repeated and enlarged.

35 Verse 35. they possessed or, they inherited his land. These countries God gave unto Israel, as the first-fruits of their inheritance, after their wearisome travels and troubles in the wilderness; by which they were to be encouraged against the residue of their enemies beyond the river; as Moses afterward saith, I mine eyes have seen all that Jehovah your God hath done unto these two Kings; so will Jehovah doe unto all the Kingdomes whither thou passest: ye shall not feare them; for Jehovah your God he will fight for you. And Jehovah will doe unto them as he did to Sihon and to Og, Kings of the Amorites, and the land of them whom he destroyed, Deut. 3. 21, 22. and 31. 4. For which also they were to be thankfull unto God, and sing his praises, as David after teacheth them, saying, Confesse ye to Jehovah, for he is good, for his mercie endureth for ever. To him which smote great Kings, for his mercie endureth for ever. And slew famous Kings, for his mercie endureth for ever. Sihon King of the Amorites, for his mercie endureth for ever. And Og the King of Bashan, for his mercie endureth for ever. And gave their land for an heritage, for his mercie endureth for ever. Even an heritage unto Israel his servant, for his mercie endureth for ever, Psal. 136. 1, 17, 22.

CHAP. XXII.

1 Balak King of Moab, sendeth for Balaam a Prophet, to curse Israel. 8 Balaam consulting with the Lord, is forbidden to goe. 15 Balak sendeth the second time, and Balaam asking againe of the Lord, is permitted to goe. 22 An Angell would have slaine him, if his Ass had not turned aside, which dumbe beast speaking with mans voice, forbade the Prophet's foolishnesse. 31 Balaams eyes being opened, seeth the Angell, confesse his sinne, and offereth to turne backe, but is willed to goe forward. 36 Balak goeth forth to meet Balaam, and entertaineth him royally.

1 ANd the sonnes of Israel set forward and encamped in the plaines of Moab, on this side Jordan, by Jericho.

2 And Balak the sonne of Zippor, saw all that Israel had done to the Amorites. And Moab was sore afraid of the people, because they were many, and Moab was irked because of the sonnes of Israel. And Moab said unto the Elders of Midian; Now will this company lick up all that are round about us, as the oxe licketh up the greene grasse of the field: And Balak the son of Zippor, was King of Moab at that time. And hee sent messengers unto Balaam the sonne of Beor, to Pethor, which is by the river of the land of the sons of his people, to call him, saying, Behold a people is come out from Egypt, behold they cover the eye of the land, and they abide over against mee. Now therefore come I pray thee, curse me this people, for they are mightier than I, peradventure I shall be able to smite them, and shall drive them out of the land: for I know that hee whom thou blestest is blessed, and he whom thou curstest is cursed. And the Elders of Moab, and the Elders of Midian went, and divinations in their hand, and they came unto Balaam, and spake unto him the words of Balak. And hee said unto them; Lodge here this night, and I will bring you word againe, as Jehovah shall speake unto me: and the Princes of Moab abode with Balaam. And God came unto Balaam, and said, 9 What men are these with thee? And Balaam said unto God, Balak the sonne of Zippor, King of Moab, hath sent unto me. Behold, a people is come out from Egypt, and covereth the eye of the land: now come, curse me them, peradventure I shall be able to fight against them, and shall drive them out. And God said unto Balaam, Thou shalt not goe with them, thou shalt not curse the people, for they are blessed. And Balaam rose up in the morning, and said unto the Princes of Balak, Goe you unto your land, for Jehovah refuseth to give me leave to goe with you. And the Princes of Moab rose up and came unto Balak, and said, Balaam refuseth to come with us. And Balak yet againe sent Princes more, and more honorable than they. And they came to Balaam, and said to him, 16 Thus saith Balak, the sonne of Zippor; Be not thou letted, I pray thee, from comming unto mee. For honouring I will honour thee very greatly: and whatsoever thou shalt say unto mee, I will doe: come therefore, I pray thee, curse me this people. And Balaam answered, and said unto the servants of Balak; If Balak would give me his house full of silver and gold, I cannot goe beyond the mouth of Jehovah my God, to doe lesse or more. And now, I pray you, tarry you also here this night, that I may know what Jehovah will speake unto me more. And God came unto Balaam by night, and said unto him, If the men be come to call thee, rise up, goe with them: but yet the word which I shall speake unto thee, that shalt thou doe. And Balaam rose up in the morning, and saddled his Ass, and went with the Princes of Moab. 21

22 Moab. And Gods anger was kindled because he went, and the Angell of Jehovah set himselfe in the way for an adversarie against him: and hee was riding upon his Asse, and two of his yong men were with him. And the Asse saw the Angell of Jehovah standing in the way, & his sword drawn in his hand; and the Asse turned aside out of the way and went into the field: and Balaam smote the Asse to turne her into the way.

23 And the Angell of Jehovah stood in a path of the vineyards, a wall being on this side, and a wall on that side. And the Asse saw the Angell of Jehovah, and shee thrust herselfe unto the wall, and thrust Balaams foot against the wall; and he smote her againe.

24 And the Angell of Jehovah went further and stood in a narrow place, where was no way to turne aside, to the right hand, or to the left. And the Asse saw the Angell of Jehovah, and she fell down under Balaam; and Balaams anger was kindled, and he smote the Asse with a staffe. And Jehovah opened the mouth of the Asse, and she said unto Balaam, What have I done unto thee, that thou hast smitten me these three times? And Balaam said unto the Asse, Because thou hast mocked me; I would there were a sword in mine hand, for now I would kill thee. And the Asse said unto Balaam, Am not I thine Asse which thou hast ridden upon ever since I was thine unto this day, was I ever wont to doe so unto thee? And he said, Nay. And Jehovah uncovered the eyes of Balaam, and he saw the Angell of Jehovah standing in the way, and his sword drawne in his hand, and he bended downe the head, and bowed himselfe downe on his face. And the Angell of Jehovah said unto him, Wherefore hast thou smitten thine Asse these three times? Behold, I came out to be an adversarie, because thy way is perverse before mee. And the Asse saw me, and turned aside before me these three times: unlesse she had turned aside from me, surely now also I had slain thee and saved her alive. And Balaam said unto the Angell of Jehovah, I have sinned, for I knew not that thou stoodst against me in the way: and now if it be evil in thine eyes, I will get me backe againe. And the Angell of Jehovah said unto Balaam, Goe with the men, but onely the word that I shall speake unto thee, that shalt thou speake: and Balaam went with the Princes of Balak.

36 And Balak heard that Balaam was come, and he went out to meet him, unto a citie of Moab which is by the border of Arnon, which is in the utmost of the border. And Balak said unto Balaam, Did not I sending send unto thee to call thee? Wherefore camest thou not unto me? Am I not able indeed to honour thee? And Balaam said unto Balak, Lo, I am come unto thee; now am I able at all to speak any thing? the word that God shall put in my mouth, that shall I speak. And Balaam went with Balak, and they came unto Kirjath-huzoth. And Balak slew oxen and sheep, and sent to Balaam, and the Princes that were with him. And it was in the morning that Balak tooke Balaam, and brought him up into the high places of Baal, that he might see from thence the utmost part of the people.

Annotations.

SEt forward] removed their campe from the mountaines of Abarim, Numb. 33. 48. the plaines of Moab] or, champion countrey, which sometime had beene Moabs, afterward the Amorites, and now Israels by conquest. These plaines reached unto the river Jordan, in that part which was neere to, or over against Iericho, (the first city which they conquered in Canaan, Josua 6.) and therefore it is called Jordan of Iericho: and here they remained till Moses died, encamping in these plaines from Bethjesimoth unto Abel Shittim, Num. 33. 49. Here many notable things fell out, even all that are recorded from this place to the end of Deuteronomie, and in the beginning of Josua; their deliverance from Balaams curse, their mustering for the inheritance of Canaan, their victorie over the Midianites, the addition of sundry divine Ordinances, especially the repeating and explaining of the whole Law, and renewing of the covenant betweene God and them, by Moses in Deuteronomie, and the like: whereupon God saith unto their posterity, O my people, remember now what Balak King of Moab consulted, and what Balaam the sonne of Beor answered him, from Shittim unto Gilgal, [that is, the many good things which fell out betweene Shittim where now they were, and Gilgal where Iosua circumcised them, Josua 5.] that ye may know the righteousness of the Lord, Mic. 6. 5.

Here beginneth the fortieth Lecture of the Law, as it was divided to be read in the Jewes Synagogues: see Gen. 6. 9.

Verse 2. Balak the sonne of Zippor] In Greeke, the sonne of Sepphor. This Balak was now King of Moab, verse 4. a man of note, both for policie and power, Micah 6. 5. Judg. 11. 25. he saw all that Israel had done, but with an evill eye, and looked not upon it to receive instruction, as doe the wise, Prov. 24. 32.

Verse

3 Verse 3. afraid of the people] or, because of the people. Thus the prophesie was fulfilled, The mightie men of Moab trembling, shall take hold upon them, Exod. 15. 15. Moab travailed] that is, grieved, distressed in themselves, pricked in their hearts with a loathing of this people. The same is spoken of the Egyptians, they were irked because of the sons of Israel, Exod. 1. 12. There was no cause for the Moabites thus to fret: for Israel passed by them in peace, and touched not their border, being forbidden of God, Deut. 2. 9. They had also by the slaughter of the Amorites, freed them from evil neighbours, which had before taken away a part of their land, and were likely in time to have taken more, Num. 21. 26. And they were allied unto Israel, for Moab was the posteritie of Lot, unto whom Abraham the father of Israel was Uncle, and whom Abraham had rescued out of captivity, Gen. 19. 36, 37. & 14. 12, 16. But being now degenerate from the faith of their father Lot, and fallen to idolatry, Num. 31. 29. they feared (as doe the wicked) where no feare was, Psal. 53. 5. and doe loath the people of the God of Abraham, and Lot their father.

4 Verse 4. Elders of Midian] in Greeke, the Senate of Midiam. These Elders were Senators, such as governed the State, called afterward Princes, verse 7, 8. and the Midianites were by nature the children of Abraham, Gen. 25. 1, 2. and so brethren unto Israel; but now conspired against them; being also fallen from Abrahams faith to idolatry with Baal-Pehor, Num. 25. 17, 18. They were neighbours to the Moabites, and as it seemeth had bene confederates with them in former wars; as when Hadad King of Edom, smote Midian in the field of Moab, 1 Chron. 1. 46. These were not the people against whom Israel should war; neither had they occasion to be offended at the Amorites overthrow, who held them in subjection: for the five Kings of Midian that combined with Moab, and perished for the same, Num. 31. 8. are called the Dukes of Sihon, Jos. 13. 21. They had cause therefore to have bene thankfull unto Israel, who freed them from Sihons tyrannous yoke, and to have rejoyced with the joy, and for the prosperity of their brethren. this company] or, the Church; in Greeke, this Synagogue or Congregation. licke up] that is, devoure, or consume, as the Chaldee explaineth it. So fire that consumeth, is said to licke up in 1 King. 18. 38. but here the similitude is taken from oxen that licke up the grasse as they feed. And not unfitly doth Moab hereby, as it were, prophesie of their owne destruction: for the strength and beauty of Israel may well be likened hereto, as Iosephs was by Moses to his first-borne bullocke, Deut. 33. 17. and the wicked are as grasse, and shall soone be cut downe, and wither as the green herbe, Psal. 47. 2. And though at this time Israel might not meddle with Moab, (for they had other enemies to prey upon, and the ox loweth not when he hath fodder, Job 6. 5.) yet Balaam their Prophet foretold of a Star and Scepter that should rise out of Israel, and smite the corners of Moab, Num. 24. 17. which was fulfilled in part by David, who smote Moab, and they became his servants, 1 Chron. 18. 2. And God further prophesieth their destruction afterward, I have broken Moab, like a vessell wherein is no pleasure, saith the LORD, Jer. 48. 38.

5 Verse 5. Balaam] so written after the Greeke, and the New Testament, Rev. 2. 14. in Hebrew, Bilham. Hee was a Diviner, or Soothsayer, as is said in Jos. 13. 22. Balaam also the sonne of Beor, the Diviner, did the sonnes of Israel slay with the sword: where the name Diviner, (or Soothsayer) is to be understood of the son Balaam, not of the father Beor; as the like phrase in Esay 37. 2. sheweth, where it is said, Unto Esaias the sonne of Amos the Prophet: which another Scripture explaineth thus, Unto Esaias the Prophet, the sonne of Amos, 2 King. 19. 2. And that Balaam was indeed such a kinde of man, is after shewed by Moses, in Num. 24. 1. The Apostle calleth him a Prophet, 2 Pet. 2. 16. and false Prophets are called Diviners, Jer. 27. 9. and their prophesying, Divination, Ezek. 13. 6, 7, 23. What a Diviner was, is shewed on Deut. 18.

sonne of Beor] so the Greeke here writeth that which in Hebrew is Bezhmor: But the Apostle Peter writing from Babylon, 1 Peter 5. 13. calleth him sonne of Bosor, 2 Pet. 2. 15. For in the Babylonian or Chaldee language, the Hebrew letter * Ghnajm, is often pronounced like S, whereupon the Greeke Interpreters sometime put S in stead thereof; as Gnammiud, Numb. 1. 10. is in Greeke Semioud, and in Jer. 46. 17. Saon beglmebir, the Interpreters (taking it for a proper name) expresse it in Greeke thus, Saoneesbeir: so Iehojadab, in Jer. 29. 26. is in Greek, Iodese; Hosbeangb, in Num. 13. 8. is Aufes; and Ieshuangb, Ezra 2. 2. is Iesus, and many the like. Pethor] in Greeke, Phaithourra; it was a citie in Mesopotamia, or Aram, Num. 23. 7. Deut. 23. 4. the countrey where Abraham first dwelt, Act. 7. 2. Gen. 24. 4, 10. and there he served strange gods, Jos. 24. 2. In this countrey all the Patriarchs (except Benjamin) the heads of the Tribes of Israel were borne and brought up, Gen. 35. 26. till Iakob their father fled the land, after he had there served for a wife, and for a wife had kept sheep, Hos. 12. 12. Gen. 31. 21. Iakobs posteritie hereupon professed their father to be an Aramite, or Syrian, Deut. 26. 5. and from Aram is Balaam now sent for to curse them. And as it was in the East countrey, Num. 23. 7. so the Easterne land was infamous for Divination and such like arts: see Esay. 2. 6. by the river] to wit, Euphrates, called the river by excellencie, because it was the greatest, Gen. 15. 18. so in Jos. 24. 2, 15. 2 Sam. 10. 16. 1 King. 4. 24. 1 Chron. 19. 16. And thus the Chaldee here explaineth it, to Pethor of Aram which is by Euphrates. they cover] Hebr. it covereth, speaking of the people as of one. The Scripture useth the singular or plurall number indifferently, as is noted on Gen. 22. 19. the eye] that is, the face, or sight (as the Greeke translateth) of the land (or earth.) See the like phrase in Exod. 10. 5, 15. abide] sit, or dwell over against mee. These words implied reasons to periwade Balaam to come; for their comming out of Egypt, intimaterh mateth that they being strangers, had no right to invade the land; their covering the face of the land, shewed their number to be great; and they having subdued the Amorites, and filled their land, could not easily be resisted; their abiding over against Moab, was a signe (as they thought) that Israel would next invade their countrey. But in all this, the truth of Israel's case and carriage was concealed; for here is no mention how God had of old promised them the land of Canaan, Genes. 15. 18. or, how the Canaanites wickednesse was grown so great, that their land should spue them out, Lev. 18. 24, 25. neither speaketh he of their wrongfull oppression and bondage in Egypt, and miraculous deliverance from thence, Exo. 1. &c. nor how Israel being come, had not harmed either Edom or Moab, but passed by them in peace, Deut. 2. 4, 8, 9, 13. and warred onely with the cursed Canaanites devoted unto destruction. Though Moab could not but know these things as well as Edom, Num. 20. 14, 15, &c. yet would he mention none of them; neither was he content that his brother Israel should doe to the Canaanites, as Moab him selfe, and Edom, and Ammon had done before to the Emims, Horims, and Zamzummims, whom they had cast out of their inheritances, and dwelt in their steads, Deut. 2. 9, 10, 12, 20, 21. For this conspiracie with Balaam, and his endeavour to destroy Gods people, it is said, Balak arose and warred against Israel, Jos. 24. 9.

- 6 Verse 6. Now therefore come] Hebrew, And now come. His purpose being by a curse upon them, to bereave them of Gods favour and protection, he would have him to come, that by nearnesse of his person, and by beholding them, his speech might have more vehemencie of spirit, and better effect, as he supposed. So Elisba the Prophet turned backe and looked on the children whom hee cursed in the Name of the Lord, 2 King. 2. 24. And on the contrary, when Isaak would blesse his son, he called him neere and kissed him, and smelling the favour of his garments, hee uttered a more powerfull blessing, Gen. 27. 26, 27. and so did Isaak to Joseph's children, Gen. 48. 9, 10, &c. And for this cause Balak led Balaam (when hee was come) unto high mountaines, from whence hee might view them whom hee was to curse, Num. 22. 41. & 23. 9, 14, 28. curse me this] or, curse for me this people. The curse was first laid upon the creatures by God him selfe for sinne, Gen. 3. and heave effects followed thereof: the earth cursed, brought forth thornes & briars in stead of wholesome fruits, Gen. 3. 17, 18. and cursed againe for Cains wickednes, it yeelded no more the strength thereof, Gen. 4. 12. the fig-tree cursed by Christ, suddenly withered, Marke 11. 21. And when the curse is duly pronounced by Prophets, and men of God, it wanteth not effect; as the curse bringing water of jealousie, which should cause the belly of the polluted to swell, and her thigh to rot, Num. 5. 21, 22, 27. and the children cursed by Elisba, were rent in pieces of Beares, 2 King. 2. 24. Wherefore the plot which Balak laid, was most dangerous and wicked, and the most likely course to obtain his desire. For those whom God blesseth, their enemies flee, and fall before them, Deut. 28. 7. but they whom he curseth, are exposed to all misery, and made a prey unto their enemies, Deuteron. 28. 25, 33. And if now the King could have obtained from God a curse upon Israel, he might soone have vanquished them, for they that are cursed of him shall be cut off, Psalm. 37. 22. How curses were pronounced by the Prophets of God, may be seen in Gen. 9. 25. Psa. 109. -6, 20. Jos. 6. 26. Jer. 17. 5, 6. they are mightier] Hebr. it is mightier than I; meaning both in number and strength, and so too mighty for him to encounter with. This was upon Israel a fruit of Gods blessing, who had promised that Abraham should be a mightie nation, Gen. 18. 18. and performed it, whiles in the land of their affliction, he made them mightier than their enemies, Psalm. 105. 24. as their enemy him selfe acknowledged, Exod. 1. 9. And Balak heere confessing him selfe unable to match them in might, seeketh therefore to weaken them first by magical execrations, peradventure] or, if so be; or, as the Greek translateth it, if perhaps; which phrase Peter useth in A& 8. 22. if perhaps the thought of thine heart may be forgiven thee. It is a word that implieth difficulty in a thing, but with good hope to be attained. See the notes on Exo. 32. 30.

I shall be able to smite them] or, I shall prevail, and we shall smite them, and I shall drive them, &c. The Greek translateth, I shall be able to smite of them, and cast them out. In verse 11. it is repeated thus, I shall be able to fight against them, (or, overcome them in battell) and so the Chaldee explaineth it here, I shall be able to fight against them. Wars were wont to be taken in hand holily; and the Lord useth this phrase, Sanctifie warre against her, Jer. 6. 4. he commandeth that the camp of his people should be holy, and no uncleannesse in it, Deut. 23. 9, 10, -14. he appointed Priests with holy instruments, and silver trumpets, to sound an alarme, Numbers 10. 9. and 31. 6. and they were to fight the battels of the Lord, 1 Sam. 25. 28. and he was with them as their Captaine, as it is said, And behold, God is with us for our Captaine, and his Priests with sounding trumpets to cry alarme against you: O children of Israel, fight ye not against Iehovah the God of your fathers, for ye shall not prosper, 2 Chon. 13. 12. Hereupon his people were wont to aske counsell of him, and to have his direction in their warres, Judg. 1. 1. and 20. 18, 27, 28. 1 Chro. 14. 10, 14, 15, 16. And after victories, they used to praise the Lord with songs, Judg. 5. Psalm. 18. and to honour him with the spoiles of the enemies, consecrated to his house and service, Numb. 31. 50. 1 Chon. 26. 26, 27. And this the nations of the world after a sort practised, save that in stead of seeking to the Lord according to his word, they sought by divination and unlawfull arts, as Balak now did by Balaam the Soothsayer; Nebuchadnezzar by divination consulting with Teraphims, and looking in the liver and entrails of beasts, Ezek. 21. 21. Agamemnon by sacrifice to Jupiter, and praying to him for victorie over the Trojans, Homer, Iliad. 2. and other the like. Moreover, as Balak

Balak sought to turne the favour of God from Israel, and to bring his curse upon them by Balaams meanes: so other nations are said to use, before they warred against any people, to endeavour by prayers, sacrifices and enchantments, to turne the favour of God from them. Before the Heathen Romans besieged any Citie, their Priests called out the god, under whose tutelage the Citie was, and promised him more ample honor or place among them, Plin. nat. hist. l. 28. c. 2. The same is also testified by others; and the manner of doing it is recorded to be first with a supplication to the gods, and that god specially which had taken upon him the defence of the city, that he would forsake the people, Citie, places, Temples, and holy things; and having stricken a feare and forgetfulness in that people and Citie, would come into Rome to accept of them, their places, Temples, holy things, and Citie, and to be Provost unto them, their people & souldiers, vowing if so he would do, to honor him with Temples & games. When thus they did, they offered also sacrifices, & looked for divination in the entrailles of beasts. And having thus called out the gods, the Dictator or Emperor devoted (or cursed) the enemies Citie and armie, that they might be filled with flight, feare, terror; and that whosoever of them carried armes against their legions or armie, might both they, their countries, fields, cities, &c. be deprived of light from above, and reputed for devoted and consecrated, as any the greatest enemies whosoever, &c. Macrobi. Saturnal. lib. 3. cap. 9. Hereupon their Poets, when countries were conquered, ascribed it to the departure of their gods from them; as in Virgil. Aeneid. 2.

*Excessere omnes, aditum, arisque relictis,
Dii quibus imperium vos steterat.*

In which heathenish opinions & practises, there may some footsteps be seene of the ancient true Religion: for when God would deliver up Jerusalem into the hands of the Chaldeans, he first by a signe to his Prophets, signified his departure from, & forsaking of his Temple that stood herein, Ezek. 10. 1, 4, 18, 19. & 11. 22, 23. When Caleb and Iosua would incourage the people to war against the Canaanites, they used this Argument, They are but bread for us, their Shadow (meaning God their defence) is departed from them, and Jehovah is with us, feare them not, Numbers 14. 9. So when the Heathens carried Images and Idols with them in their armies (as the Philistims did their gods, which David burnt with fire, 1 Chron. 14. 12.) they foolishly imitated Gods people, who sometimes carried the Arke of his covenant (the token of his presence) before them in their battels, 1 Sam. 4. 3, 4, 8. Numb. 14. 44. be whom thou blessest or, whom thou shalt blesse, the Greeke translates it plurally, thy whom thou blessest, are blessed; and they whom thou cursest, are cursed. By this it appeareth of how great reputation Balaam was among men, as Simon Magus in Samaria was esteemed The great power of God, Act. 8. 10. But the Lord doth curse the blessings, and blesse the curses of his owne Priests and people, when they doe them amisse, Mal. 2. 2. Psal. 109. 28. how much more when they are done by Soothsayers and prophane. The curse canstesse shall not come, Pro. 26. 3. and if Balaam had cursed Israel without the Lord, it had no more prevailed than Goliath words, who before he fought, cursed David by his gods, 1 Sam. 17. 43.

Verse 7. divinations that is, the wages or reward of divinations was in their hand; the wages of unrighteousnesse, as the Apostle calleth it, 2 Pet. 2. 15. being for a wicked art, and to an unrighteous end; so Targum Jonat ben expoundeth it, The fruits of divinations sealed in their hand. And thus Beserah, i.e. Good tidings, is used for the reward of good tidings, in 2 Sam. 4. 10. In Israel, when the heads judged for reward, the Priests taught for hire, and the Prophets divined for money; the Lord threatneth that for their sake Zion should be ploughed, as a field, and Jerusalem become heaps, Mic. 3. 11, 12. Balamites see their reward in this world in the hands of men, and that they follow; but the people of God walke by faith, not by sight; and their reward is in heaven hid with God, not in the hands of man, 2 Cor. 5. 7. Mat. 5. 11, 12.

Verse 8. I will bring you word againe or, I will returne you word; which the Greeke explaineth, I will answer you the things which the Lord shall speake unto me. Hee would have them lodge there that night, because he would aske counsel of God, who used to speake to the Prophets by dreames and visions of the night, Num. 12. 6. Job 4. 13. & 33. 14, 15. Jer. 23. 25, 28. He consulteth with Jehovah the true God, whose Prophet he would seem to be, and calleth him his God, verse 18. and because the businesse concerned the people of Jehovah, of him he was to enquire. But his promise to bring them word what Jehovah said, he performed not faithfully, as appeareth by comparing v. 13. with v. 12. the Princes of Moab and also of Midian, which are here to be understood from v. 7. where they were called Elders.

Verse 9. God came to wit, by night, as in v. 20. which the Chaldee expoundeth, word came from before the LORD. So God came to Abimelech in a dreame by night, Gen. 20. 3. and God came to Laban the Syrian in a dreame by night, Gen. 31. 24. Sometimes for his peoples sake, & sometimes for their owne, God revealed his counsels of old unto men that were wicked, Gen. 41. 25. Dan. 2. 45. & 4. 21, 22. So still he giveth gifts of knowledge and understanding in his Word, to men that are none of his, Mat. 7. 22, 23. & 24. 24. 2 Tim. 3. 8. the eye the face, as ver. 5. curse me them the word curse here, is another word in the originall, than that before used in v. 6. but of the same signification, as appeareth also after in Num. 23. 7, 8. It meaneth a piercing or striking thorow with evil speeches, and so is used for cursing or blaspheming: see the notes on Levit. 24. 11. be able to fight or prevail in fighting (or warring) against them, as the word is used for prevailing, in Esay 7. 1. see before on verse 6. Here Balaam having to deale with God that knoweth all things, would not corrupt their their speech, but fully related the message sent unto him: but in his answer to the Princes, hee dealeth otherwise, verse 13.

- 12 Verse 12. not curse] As the message had two branches, to goe, and to curse; so God answereth unto, and forbiddeth both, adding a reason, because they were blessed. And as he forbade him to goe to any other place, so he forbade him to curse them in any place, or where now he was. So that Balaam here might know the whole will of God about this businesse, and needed not to enquire what the Lord would speake unto him more, as he did in ver. 19. And though Israel had often provoked the Lord by their sins in the wilderness, yet would hee not suffer the wicked to curse them, but made them heires of that blessednesse which belongeth to those whose iniquities are forgiven, and whose sins are covered, Rom. 4. 6, 7. are blessed] and therefore may not be curied of any; for the gifts and calling of God are without repentance, Rom. 11. 29. And when Jacob the father of this people had got the blessing of Isaac unawares, Esau could not get him to reverse it, but Isaac said, I have blessed him, yea and he shall be blessed, Gen. 27. 33. neither could Balaam, with all his Altars and sacrifices, procure God to change, but was himselfe forced also to blesse them three times, Numbers 24. 10. Wherefore they are after, put in minde of this mercie, The LORD thy God would not hearken unto Balaam, but the LORD thy God turned the curse into a blessing unto thee, because the LORD thy God loved thee, Deut. 23. 5.

- 13 Verse 13. Iehovah refuseth to give me] the Chaldee explaineth it, it pleaseth not the LORD to suffer me; and in Greeke, God permitteih me not. Here Balaam telleth them but the first part of Gods speech, concealing the other, and the reason which God gave, wherein the weight of the answer lay. If hee had faithfully shewed them the whole counsell of God, it might have stayed this evill enterprise, and cut of all occasion of further sending. But as a man loth to displease, and loving the proffered gaine, he useth a faint and favourable speech, as if hee should have said, I could be content and glad to gratifie the King herein, but God will not suffer me at this time to goe, the fault is not mine, therefore I pray thee have mee excused. The contrary dutie is shewed in Jer. 23. 28. The Prophet that hath the dreame, let him tell the dreame; and he that hath my word, let him speake my word faithfully, &c. and in the Apostles practise, who saith, I have not shunned to declare unto you all the counsell of God, Act. 20. 27.

- 14 Verse 14. Balaam refuseth to come] in Greeke, Balaam will not come. Observe Satans practise against Gods word, seeking to lessen the same, and that by degrees from hand to hand, til either he bring it to nothing, or at least pervert it to a wrong purpose. Balaam told the Princes lesse than God spake to him; and they relate to Balak lesse than Balaam told them; that when the answer came to the King, it was not now the word of God, but of man: it was onely Balaam refuseth to come; as if God had not forbidden or hindered this action, but onely there wanted a will in the Prophet; there being no word brought either of the Lords will touching his people, or of their blessed estate, as was signified in v. 12. Hereupon grew occasion for this mischief to be further followed; and Balaam was the second time solicited with stronger tentations than before, v. 15, 16, &c.

Verse 15. more, and more honourable] or, greater and more honourable. Of the Hebrews, Sol. Ierehi gathereth from Balaams words, to goe with you, v. 13; that he being haughty and of a proud spirit, insinuated thereby, as if with them he might not go; but with other greater then they he might; but this is uncertain. The holy Ghost sheweth rather, how Balaams words (as it was related) was so far from causing the King to leave off his wicked purpose, that it was as a whetstone to sharpen it; and caused him to attempt it a fresh with stronger assaults both in persons and proffers.

Verse 16. Be not letted] or, be not forbidden, or withbalden; the Greeke translateth, I pray thee delay not (or slacke not) to come unto me: which phrase is used in Act. 9. 38. where the Disciples send to Peter, desiring him that he would not delay to come to them. It meaneth here, that Balaam neither of his owne will, nor by any other meanes would be stayed or hindered from comming.

Verse 17. Honouring I will honour thee] that is, I will surely and highly honour thee, which the Greek explaineth, I will honourably honour thee. This offer, as it agreed with the majestie of the King, so with the ambition and covetousnesse of the Prophet: and Satan so caried the matter between them, as made most for his advantage. By this bait he allured the woman to eat of the forbidden fruit, promising unto her opening of eyes, and likenesse unto God, Gen. 3. and by it he hoped to have taken Christ himselfe, when he promised to give him all the kingdoms of the world, and the glory of them, Mat. 4. 8, 9. and now with it he prevaileth over Balaam, and still doth over Prophets of Balaams spirit. I will doe] in Greeke, I will doe unto thee. The Kings of the earth, if they may have their desires fulfilled, will honour their Prophets, and doe all that they say. Thus the Prophets of Baal were fed at Izebels table, when the Prophets of the Lord were fed in caves, with bread and water, 1 King. 18. 13, 19. and the witnesses of Christ prophesie in sackcloth, Rev. 11. 3.

Verse 18. I cannot goe beyond] or, I may not transgresse. The word signifieth sometimes inability, whereby a man cannot; sometime unlawfulness, whereby one may not, and consequently will not doe a thing; as in Gen. 34. 14. and 43. 32. and 44. 26. Balaams speech here, seemeth to imply all; for as hee might not lawfully, being forbidden of God; so neither could hee, being restrained of God, who would not suffer him to curse Israel. But for Balaams will, it was corrupt, being in love with the wages of unrighteousnesse, 1 Pet. 2. 15. therefore he sought of God that he might have done it, Num. 23. 1, 14. but the Lord would not heare him, Deut. 23. 5. the mouth] that is, as the Gr. openeth it, the word; in Chaldee, the decree of the word.

word of the LORD. Iehovah my God] by this it appeareth, that Balaam the Syrian (and so the people to whom he was a Prophet,) did know and worship the true God, though corruptly, and it may be other gods also with him. And that other peoples, as the Temanites, Shubites, Naamatites and Fuzites, kept the knowledge and service of the true God, is manifest by Iobs history, Iob 2. 1. and 32. 2. and 42. 7, 8, 9. Also the Name of God Iehovah was both knowne and pronounced by Balaam, and other peoples, together with the Hebrewes, who now many ages since have abstained from pronouncing of it, as is noted on Numb. 6. 24. lesse or more]
